YOUR WAR

A summary of news from Washington prepared by the Division of Information Office for Emergency Management.

Are you distressed by the rationing or by the fact that you can't buy a new automobile? In Britain there haven't been any new cars for civilians for a long while and so few mechanics not caught up in the war effort that comparatively minor auto repairs require months. In Britain there are no new tires to be had either, and you will be lucky if you are permitted to buy as much as eight gallons of gasoline in a whole month.

Are you concerned about profits and taxation? British income taxes range from 50 per cent to 97.5 per cent for individuals, and excess profits taxes on corporations amount to 80 per cent. These taxes on corporations are based on an average of earnings over a pre-war period. Actually the government takes 100 per cent of profits above that pre-war scale, but 20 per cent of this may be redeemed by the corporations affected with the war to tide them over the period of readjustment.

Britain has pooled all her industrial facilities, leaving a few plants not readily convertible to supply civilian needs. British rationing everything to feed the war. Some time ago British tobacco companies combined in an advertisement urging the public to smoke 20 per cent fewer cigarettes. British labor, during a long period after the debacle of Dunkirk, worked twelve hours a day, seven days a week.

We may not have to go as far as Britain has in the process of stripping for action, but it is apparent that all of us, industry, labor, farm and home, realize now that we must go much further than we have gone in the way of sacrifices and fierce realistic effort. An example that Yankee ingenuity is being applied to some of our problems: machine tools are again a bottleneck. The OPM's machine tool section reports that not more than $1,250,000,000 of these machines that make the weapons are scheduled to be produced in 1942, although the war effort demands at least $2,350,000,000 of them. During this shortage one automobile manufacturer, sitting in on the automotive conference, suggested that the automobile industry, one of the greatest users of machine tools, might help out the machine tool industry by manufacturing parts for new tools of some of the tools themselves.

Other indications of trend today are the total absence of strikes in important war industry and the increasing insistence on the necessity for subcontracting. "Farm out the easy pieces and do the tough ones yourself," OPM advised automobile manufacturers, whose total production will soon be military—guns and airplane engines and scout cars and tanks, at a five to six billion dollar annual volume. To help manufacturers change over to war work the OPM's Contract Distribution division continues to expand its nation-wide

Second-Hand Cars Being Re-Evaluated

(By The Associated Press)

Second-hand automobiles are being re-evaluated, now that there are no more new cars to be had because of the war.

Many Texas dealers are de-emphasizing prices, or omitting them altogether, and advertising used cars for sale, a glance at the newspapers shows.

There is an increase, too, in ads reading, for example "highest cash prices paid for good used cars."

The Texas war picture also includes: Staff Sergeant Clyde P. Vandergift, chief clerk in the morale and recreation section, combined those two classifications when stranded in his Sherman quarters, seven and a half miles from the Grayson basic flying school, by ice and snow.

He borrowed a young's sled, coasted most of the way to the airfield and reported for duty on time.

The South Main Baptist church of Houston turned a fund of $3,242, being saved toward construction of an education building, into defense bonds.

At Camp Bowie, Captain Jack P. Ferguson of the 133rd Field Artillery, was promoted to major. For person is from Besseville, Chaplain Andrew W. Broadus of Caldwell was transferred from the 11th Engineer regiment to the corps area engineer command. He holds the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Ross Lawhon, Bexar county courthouse custodian, asked San Antonio's City Attorney Victor Keller whether it would be all right to hitch his horse to parking meters, Lawhon said as soon as he could get the parking problem clarified, he would bring his horse to work in order to conserve his automobile tires.

Mark McGee, state tire rationing administrator, recommended freezing of prices on used and rereaded automobile tires to halt price rises to exorbitant levels. McGee's recommendation was addressed to the Office of Price Administration in Washington.

Crossman, inspector in charge of the Houston immigration service, took down a large American flag that had been hanging in his office for two years. The flag was presented to him four years ago by the Japan foreign trade bureau.

Sugar Rationing Proposed To Foil Hoarding Epidemic

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The government may order sugar rationing for consumers, authoritative sources said today, in order to halt an unwarranted hoarding epidemic. Disclosing that such action was being considered, these sources declared that the supply situation in itself did not require rationing, but that regulation appeared necessary to assure an equitable distribution among all users. Present supplies were said to be ample, and prospects were that they would continue sufficient throughout the year.

Nevertheless, officials are reporting many consumers have been buying in excess of normal needs and storing the extra supplies for use in event of a shortage and higher prices, such as occurred in the first World War. It was explained that these practices, if allowed to continue much longer, might result in actual shortages later for non-hoarders.

Agriculture department sugar experts said heavy purchases for hoarding began last year. Distribution increased from an annual average of about 100 pounds in the 1933-40 period to almost 130 pounds per person in 1941.

Nutrition authorities, on the other hand, say an average of only about 65 pounds is ample for a good, palatable diet.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—The war department said today combat operations have dwindled to minor skirmishes in the Philippine battle front, with the Japanese continuing to move troops up in apparent preparation for a heavy attack.

The department's morning communique, based on reports received here up to 9:30 a. m., EST, said that air activity by the Japanese was limited to reconnaissance.

The text of the communique: "Philippine theater: Combat operations have dwindled to desultory skirmishes in various sections of the front. The enemy continues to move troops into the forward areas, apparently in preparation for a renewed attack in force."

"Hostile air activity was limited to reconnaissance flights."

"The outlook continued dark for the United States and British forces in the Philippines and the Malay peninsula."

In the Philippines the Japanese, pouring in a steady stream of reinforcements to multiply their numerical superiority, massed for an attack against the remnants of General Douglas MacArthur's weary army northwest of Manila.

On the Malay peninsula the imperials were being forced back relentlessly by the weight of unceasing enemy drives which carried the battle flags of Nippon ever closer to the great Singapore stronghold.

Somber as the situation was, the capital found a few rays of comfort. The navy reported the sinking of four Japanese army ships. Advances from Burma credited American volunteer pilots with new successes in attacks on enemy bases in Thailand. And belated details of Wake's defense added fresh glory to the marines' laurels, as well as two more enemy ships to the toll they took before the island fell.

The submarine report was the first in many days from the long-silent undersea units of the Asiatic fleet. The navy communique last night said that one of the Japanese ships sunk was a transport, and three others were supply ships. Each was estimated at 10,000 tons.

Much had been expected from the crevice submarine force that was in the Far East at the outbreak of the war, but the announced results to date have not been numerous. However, naval officials stressed that the dangerous missions of the submarines make reports in the foothold while operations are proceeding. They also pointed to the elaborate precautions the enemy has taken to guard against submarines, which make it necessary for the pigboats to stalk their prey until the opportunity for attack occurs.

In the air attacks on Japanese bases in Thailand, American volunteers who are operating with the Royal Air Force, destroyed seven or eight enemy planes ever since the raiding planes got back to their base in Burma safely.

While the results of the raid were gratifying, the capital attached more importance to the fact that in one theater, at least, Japan's hitherto one-sided command of the air was being disputed.

In a stirring postscript to the already memorable defense of Wake, the navy last night disclosed that

Civilian Defense Responsibility Given To Landis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—A partial reorganization of the Office of Civilian Defense to give a large share of its responsibility to Dean James M. Landis of the Harvard law school, but with Mayor LaGuardia of New York continuing as director, was announced today by the White House.

Present Secretary Stephen Early said Landis would have the title of "executive" of the OCD and that he and La Guardia would fashion, in consultation, broad matters of policy.

Landis is to be responsible for the creation of the necessary organization to make effective the policies decided upon and for personnel to put the policies into effect.

Considerable criticism had developed in Congress and elsewhere because LaGuardia was retaining both his job as mayor of the nation's largest city and directing the OCD. Many persons had contended he was unable to devote sufficient time to civilian defense needs, and only yesterday the house voted to turn over funds for civilian defense to the war department.

Japs Boast Armies Will Invade U. S.

Japan got a preview taste today of the thing she dreads most—a possible blockade of her densely-populated island empire—as Imperial headquarters acknowledged an Allied submarine raid within 100 miles of Tokyo in which the 2,225-ton freighter Unkai Maru No. 1 was torpedoes and damaged.

The nationality of the attacking craft was not given.

Previously, a U. S. navy bulletin reported that submarines of the American Asiatic fleet had sunk a 10,000-ton Japanese transport and three 10,000-ton Japanese supply ships.

In the Philippine campaign, the war department reported that "combat operations dwindled to minor skirmishes" as the Japanese moved up troops for a climactic drive against Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces on Bataan Peninsula.

The navy's communique was the first report in many days from the sizeable undersea force operating in Far East waters at the start of the year. It said that naval officials emphasized that the dangerous missions of the submarines made prompt reports foolhardy while operations are proceeding.

Imperial Tokyo headquarters said the attack in Japanese waters occurred early yesterday morning off the Izu Shichito Islands, 100 miles south of Tokyo and Yokohama.

Official acknowledgement that the war has been brought to Japan's own doorstep came in the victory-flashed Nipponese boasted of the possibility of outright conquest of the United States.

"The contention that the United States cannot be invaded is as absurd as the notion that the Marshall line could not be taken, or that Singapore and Pearl Harbor are impregnable," said the government-controlled Japan Times and Advertiser.

On the Malay fighting front, a Tokyo communique asserted that Japanese troops had driven the British out of defense lines in Triloka, on the north-south Singapore railroad, 50 miles north of Kuala Lumpur, 240 miles above Singapore, where the British had taken a new stand.

Front-line dispatches to Domei, the official Japanese newspaper, declared that the Japanese army was ever closer to Kuala Lumpur, rubber capital of the world, and the British in general retreat.

Domei said the British were hastily destroying bridges and roads and that the Japanese were moving toward the state of Selangor, south of Kuala Lumpur.

British Far East headquarters said a violent all-day battle raged yesterday in the Slim river sector, 50 miles above Kuala Lumpur, as waves of tank-paced Japanese infantry attacked on the main road to Singapore.

Heavy casualties were reported on both sides.

The outcome of the battle was not disclosed, but earlier reports said the British were "holding fast" in their newly-formed lines.

Singapore dispatches acknowledged the Mikado's invasion forces still were infiltrating through Selangor State, in a wilderness of mangrove swamps and steaming jungles southwest of the main battle sector, threatening Kuala Lumpur and the British rear.

East Texas Needs Farm Laborers

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)—Representative Beckworth (D-Tex.) told Secretary of Agriculture Wickard that a shortage in farm labor exists in East Texas.

CHARLES BRYAN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Bryan who live on the Merton lease, was stationed on Corregidor Island in Manila bay the last time his parents heard from him in a letter written by Charles Nov. 24. At that time he wrote, "from the way it looks now we will be trying to find Jap planes before long." Charles, a member of the Harvesters band when he attended Pampa High school, enlisted last year. In his last letter he mentioned that Kenneth Nelson and Mervin Suttle, two other Pampa boys on "the Rock," Corregidor, had come over to help him read a big bundle of

Bomber Crashes And Seven Parachute To Safety In Wyoming

HANNA, Wyo., Jan. 9 (AP)—One member of an army bomber crew of eight men who took to parachutes before their ship crashed and burned last night was still missing today.

Sheriff's officers and miners of the Union Pacific Coal company were searching the hills surrounding the crash scene, seven miles south of Hanna, in the belief the man probably was deposited safely some distance away.

The pilot and other crewmen were safe, although two were brought to the Hanna hospital for treatment of minor injuries. No names were released, under army orders, and details of the crash were withheld.

The plane fell at 10 p. m. (MST) and several Hanna residents said it burst into flames.

Postage Lowered On Armed Forces Mail

A bulletin was received at the local postoffice today announcing that air mail to and from personnel of the United States armed forces serving outside of the continent and in points served by air mail, other than Alaska, has been reduced to six cents per half ounce or fraction thereof.

The air mail postage has been 20 cents to points outside of the continent. The new rate is available only if sent to persons serving in the armed forces and from persons in the armed service, and not to persons working on defense projects or in private business.

In order for a letter to take the new rate the address or return must carry the rank of the individual and the military or naval unit to which he is assigned.

Both Sides Report Heavy Casualties

All-Day Fighting Rages; British 'Holding Fast'

(By The Associated Press)

SINGAPORE, Jan. 9 (AP)—Waves of Japanese infantry and tanks attacking on the main Singapore road less than 300 miles north of the British stronghold fought a severe all-day battle with British and imperial troops in the Slim river area yesterday, the British Far Eastern command announced today.

Casualties on both sides were reported heavy.

The decision was not given in the communique but earlier reports said the British were "holding fast" on newly-formed lines on the Slim river 50 miles north of Kuala Lumpur, crude rubber capital of the world and Japan's immediate objective.

Simultaneously, the British announced seven casualties in a Japanese night raid on Singapore Island and said British planes scored several hits on two enemy vessels in Malayan waters and the China Sea, and also narrowly missed a smaller vessel.

Of the Slim river action, the communique said "our troops were heavily engaged with the enemy all day yesterday."

"After a preliminary infantry assault, the enemy attacked down the main road with tanks, followed by infantry in trucks.

"Reports to date indicate that the fighting was severe and casualties on both sides were heavy."

Kuala Lumpur is 240 miles north of Singapore.

The British had nothing to report from the Eastern Malay coast, where the action has been obscure for several days. "Some of the British announced they were withdrawing from Kuantan, 190 miles north of Singapore.

Apparently seeking to soften the defenses of Kuala Lumpur, the Japanese air force raided the city of Klang, about five miles west of the rubber center. The Far Eastern command said a few casualties were reported there.

Some slight damage to civilian property was caused in the Singapore island raid, the communique said. "The British announced that they were withdrawing from Kuantan, 190 miles north of Singapore.

Five Texas Youths Seriously Injured

TUCSON, Ariz., Jan. 8 (AP)—Five youths traveling from Tucson to San Diego, Calif., to enlist in the navy were injured seriously last night when their automobile overturned on an overpass north of here.

They are Derwood Pennington, 18, Bob Stroud, 20, Edward White, 16, all of San Angelo, Texas; Charles Churchill, 21, Sterling City, Texas, and Jack Cochran, 18, San Diego.

Another occupant of the car, F. C. Hudman, 41, of San Angelo, who was en route to Phoenix, Ariz., was hurt.

At a Tucson hospital the injured were reported in "fairly good" condition today.

Mrs. Smith Named Head Of Parent Education Club

Mrs. Frank D. Smith was elected president of the Parent Education club this week when the group met in the city club rooms with Mrs. M. E. Lamb as hostess.

Other officers elected for next year were Mrs. Fred Thompson, vice-president; Mrs. L. N. Atchison, secretary; Mrs. R. G. Herring, treasurer; Mrs. Foster Fletcher, reporter; and Mrs. J. W. C. Tooley, parliamentarian.

The meeting opened with Mrs. W. A. Rankin presiding. The group gave the pledge to the flag after which Mrs. M. E. Lamb led in prayer.

As requested by the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, the club voted to keep a record of the bonds and stamps the members have bought and will buy. Mrs. Hugh Anderson was appointed chairman.

Plans were discussed for the lectures by Dr. and Mrs. Gary C. Meyers, which the club is sponsoring on February 20. These lectures will be opened to the public. Dr. Meyers has won national reputation as a psychological consultant, newspaper columnist, and editor. He is editor of the "Children's Activities" magazine. Mrs. Meyers has specialized in child development and parent education. She has lectured widely and is associate editor of the "Children's Activities" magazine.

Roll call was answered by the members telling ways of developing pride in their children.

Mrs. Thompson spoke to the group on the subject, "How Appearance Affects Personality." She gave illustrations showing that in every stage of a person's life his appearance has a decided effect on his personality. She concluded by reading the selection, "A Day in School." The meeting closed with the reading of the club constitution.

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mrs. Hugh Anderson, L. N. Atchison, R. F. Bielefeldt, J. K. Conits, Wiley Day, Joe Gordon, Perry Gant, R. G. Herring, M. E. Lamb, Carlton Nance, R. H. Neppel, Fred Radcliff, W. A. Rankin, Frank D. Smith, Aubrey Steele, Fred Thompson, and J. W. C. Tooley.

Presbyterians Begin Study Of National Mission Books

Study of the national mission books, "Christian Roots of Democracy in America" and "Thoroughfare for Freedom" was begun by members of First Presbyterian Woman's Auxiliary in their regular meeting at the church Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. J. C. Richey was leader of the program. During the devotional hour, Mrs. George Briggs concluded a series of lessons interpreting the Lord's Prayer.

Mrs. W. S. Dixon was named general chairman of arrangements for the annual meeting of the Amarillo Presbyterian which will be held at the Pampa church in April.

Mrs. John Andrews was hostess during the social hour to 21 members.

LaRosa Sorority Buds Will Have Dance Tonight

A weekly meeting of LaRosa sorority and sorority buds was held in the home of Miss Sara Florence Parker Thursday evening.

Plans were completed for an informal dance to be given tonight at 9 o'clock in the Schneider hotel by the LaRosa buds. Arrangements were made for a formal presentation dance to be given at the Country Club on February 13.

Sorority members and sorority buds will attend First Baptist church in a group Sunday morning after meeting at Creney Drug at 10:30 o'clock.

Next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock the club will meet in the home of Miss Robbie Lee Russell.

B. G. K. Club Has Business Meeting In Member's Home

A weekly meeting of B.G.K. club was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Pagan.

In the business session, a report was given on the family adopted by the club at Christmas time.

Present were Mmes. Jack Smith, George Pollard, Allen Evans, Charles Lamka, George Hoffes, Fred Barrett, Bob Trippehorn, Paul Schneider, Bill McCarty, Gerald Fowler, H. E. McCarty, and Misses Betty Jo Townsend, Gloria Posey, Lucille Bell, Billie Barry, Barbara Ziegler, Jane Kerbow, Elizabeth Mullinax, and Mary Price.

The next meeting of the club will be held Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. Hoffes, 615 East Kingsmill street.

Monthly Steward Dinner Served At Canadian Church

Special To The NEWS
CANADIAN, Jan. 9.—The monthly stewards' dinner was held in Fellowship hall of Methodist church, on Tuesday night, Mrs. H. H. Marks, Mrs. J. P. Strader, and Mrs. C. H. Vaughn were hostesses for the dinner.

The regular business session followed. The annual contribution to the Methodist Children's home at Waco, was sent this week.

The Children's Home has spacious grounds, many buildings, and cares for 400 children. It is supported entirely by freewill offerings throughout the Methodist churches.

Last fall, five new buildings were placed upon the campus, these were gifts by interested people. One was a hospital building, three were dormitories, and another a chapel.

EASY PAN WASHING
Long, difficult scrubbing of roasting pans can be avoided if they are put to soak immediately after the roast and gravy are transferred to serving dishes. Fill the pan with warm, soapy water and, if the outside of the pan has also been browned, place the whole roaster in a large dishpan of warm suds. Unless the roaster is really badly scorched, by the time dinner is over, the pan should be soaked sufficiently so that it can be easily washed. Rubborn dried spots may be scoured off with a little fine steel wool dipped in soap suds. Rinse well and dry.

Warning to Mothers: WORMS CAN CAUSE TROUBLE
Learn the truth! Anybody, anywhere, can have roundworms. And they can cause great distress inside your child without your even knowing what is wrong.

Many pale, nervous, underweight children have bowel worms. Other innocent-looking warning signs are uneasy stomach, fidgeting, lanky seat, nose-picking.

Don't take chances with roundworms! Get Jay's Vermifuge today! It is America's best known proprietary worm medicine, used by millions, for over a century. Jay's equals stubborn roundworms, yet acts gently. If there are no worms, it works just as a mild laxative. Insist on Jay's Vermifuge.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART

Are you armed for a good time at all the parties you'll be attending as weather gets cooler, and your social doings dresser with it.

Nothing mars the appearance of a lovely gown and an otherwise beautifully groomed woman so much as darkened, rough elbows, or chapped arms.

So be sure to use your bath brush on elbows, arms, and shoulders, every single day. This not only keeps them scrupulously clean, but it also stimulates the circulation and removes bits of dry skin. Remember your lemon juice bleach, too, and when you apply it to your hands, go over the elbows and shoulders also.

If your skin is very dry (but, by the way, not all the women who think they suffer from dry skin actually do), get yourself a good body lotion and slap it on generously after your bath. Any inexpensive hand lotion will be satisfactory. However, in order to protect your clothes, be sure the lotion sinks into the skin quickly.

When you do a large, careful job of making up for an evening party, put some foundation lotion on arms, shoulders, and back, as well as on your throat. Powder carefully, pressing on the powder firmly. Let it set, and dust off the excess. You'll stay powdered smoothly all evening, and you won't leave a blaze of smudges on every dancing partner's dinner jacket.

KEEP MAKEUP AT A MINIMUM
Don't be persuaded to rouge in the hollow of your throat. Rouge is used only to enhance natural color, and that does not appear at the throat—unless you're a perpetual blusher.

Apply your eye makeup sparingly, even for the most formal occasion. Mascara should make lashes look longer, lovelier—not smeared and weighted down. When you use eye-shadow at all, blend it lightly and smoothly, too. It can give depth and seemingly add to the size of

KEEP LOVELY LINGERIE LOVELY
Frequency in washing and correct washing methods are two important factors in keeping lingerie lovely and long-wearing. Pre-washing before wearing new lingerie is suggested for daintiness. Use a very mild soap well dissolved in lukewarm water. Handle gently, supporting the weight of the garment as much as possible with the hands while you douse it in the suds. Any extra soiled spots should be rubbed gently between the hands. Rinse in clear lukewarm water, squeezing the excess water out, not wringing, wrap in absorbent towel. Press while still damp with a moderately warm iron.

LACY EVENINGS
Night falls and the modern woman goes lacy. After a strenuous day in defense activities, she switches to the most feminine and alluring dress she can find. It makes no difference whether the evening is formal or not.

Lace even goes to her head as she dons her saucy little hat to yoke the black Chantilly dress with yoke of white marquisette.

Pastors Suggest Prayer Minute

The Pampa Ministerial Alliance suggests the following prayer for the use of those persons who are observing the one minute period of prayer at 6 o'clock each evening. A prayer of similar nature will be published in The Pampa News each Friday.

Prayer for week of Jan. 11
O God, merciful and compassionate, who art ever ready to hear the prayers of those who put their trust in thee; graciously hearken to us who call upon thee and grant thy help to us in this our need; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen

Sacrament To Be Subject Of Sermon

"Sacrament" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, January 11, 1942.

The Golden Text is: "Let us keep the feast, not with old leaven, neither with the leaven of malice and wickedness; but with the unleavened bread of sincerity and truth" (1 Corinthians 5:8).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "Let us draw near with a true heart in full assurance of faith, having our hearts sprinkled from an evil conscience, and our bodies washed with pure water" (Hebrews 10:22).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "In proportion to his purity is man perfect; and perfection is the order of celestial being, which demonstrates life in Christ, life's spiritual ideal" (page 337).

Scientists Breeding Bug To Exterminate Boal Weevil, Worm

AUSTIN, Jan. 9. (AP)—Scientists are breeding a new kind of bug they expect to exterminate the boll weevil and pink boll worm, destroyers of millions of dollars worth of growing cotton.

The bug warrior is microbracon. It is a parasite which destroys the weevil and worm by boring into their lairs.

Dr. C. W. Goldsmith, botany professor and University of Texas cotton research laboratory director said today he believed discovery of the insect had provided a means of controlling the weevil and worm.

And too, he said, development and maintenance of the parasite is comparatively cheap and efficient. Breeding experiments show that during the winter it lives and multiplies on a diet of flour moths which, with the weevil and worm, apparently rounds out its last meal.

This, says Dr. Goldsmith, indicates there will be no danger of microbracon becoming a pest itself, as have other artificially-introduced insects.

He and his assistants hope to breed and, with the aid of federal and state agencies, unleash microbracon in huge numbers on cotton fields throughout the south not later than the spring of 1943.

Today's War Analysis

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

The greatest stroke of good fortune that could come to the Allies would be a revolt in Germany and the consequent collapse of Herr Hitler.

That perhaps accounts for the avidity with which a lot of folk are seizing on reports of disaffection in the Hitlerian ranks and trying to squeeze over-much juice out of this curly. The tendency to wishful thinking probably has been increased by the seriousness of the Allied position in the opening days of the battle of the Pacific—the effort being to offset the uncomfortable facts that for the moment we apparently must take it in the neck from the Japs.

Because of the danger that Allied peoples may get a distorted view of the military position, and become too confident, a spokesman for the British foreign office has warned that reports of impending revolt in Germany should be treated with extreme reserve. That's good advice. We shouldn't forget the adage about counting our chickens, et cetera.

The reports in question cover two points. One is that there is disaffection among Hitler's army officers and men. His recent shelving of several of his high command is cited in substantiation. The other is that there is growing discontent among the German people because of privations and military reverses. London newspapers have published a statement that the Nazi government has set up machine-gun posts throughout Berlin and other key cities as a precaution against any possible attempt by the army to overthrow the regime.

Of course, the Allies have been working overtime ever since the war started to bring about a revolution in Germany. That has been one of their cardinal points of strategy. They haven't forgotten that the German army and people cracked in 1918. However, the Allied command never for a moment has lost sight of the fact that there must be a combination of military and economic pressure to achieve victory. The present position as I see it is this:

Hitler's regime is as delicately balanced as an egg on the end of a pencil. Its strength lies not in the Nazi doctrines but in the leadership of just one man—Der Fuehrer. Hitler's hold on his people has been, and may well still be, one of the most remarkable phenomena of our time. Even those who have condemned many of his policies, such as his persecution of the churches and the Jews, still have held that he has done great things for the fatherland. I encountered that attitude throughout Germany generally.

However, Germans as a whole have been following not ideals or political doctrines but their faith in the capabilities of an individual to achieve what he set out to do. Undoubtedly some of this has been just faith in Hitler's upstart good luck, which has accompanied his unquestionable skill.

Thus we have a situation in which the people of the Reich will have lost everything if they lose their faith in this one man. This loss of faith would mean the downfall of Hitler and consequently the annihilation of the house that Adolf built. Goering and the rest of his key-workers are but shadows which must disappear when the sun goes down.

The German public probably is just beginning to learn the truth about the Nazi reverses in Russia and the very terrible loss of life. If and when they have enough facts in hand to recognize the full significance of the Russian campaign, they will realize that the omnipotent Hitler as he has led them into a morass of disaster. They cannot help realizing that their Fuehrer and his grandiose scheme are on the down grade.

Coupled with this are the disease and hunger and other trials which are sweeping a tormented Europe, and which inevitably will engulf Germany. A people which is hungry and crushed by war will fight on if it has a great spiritual cause for which to battle. But those who are hungry and desperate won't fight if they lack a great cause.

It would be a mistake to assume that Hitler has lost his grip, but it isn't going too far to say that he is in a precarious position.

Jap Surrenders Weapons
SEATTLE, Jan. 9. (AP)—T. T. Hayashi was apologetic when he came to police headquarters three days after the deadline for surrender of weapons denied to enemy aliens. He explained that he didn't know they were classed among the forbidden implements. He surrendered two longbows and two quivers of arrows.

Court Cancels Two Weeks Jury Panel

Second and sixth weeks of the January term of 31st district court will be non-jury weeks. District Judge W. R. Ewing said today. Both weeks had been designated as jury weeks, and a list of 45 petit jurors for each had been announced.

The second week will start Monday, Jan. 12; the sixth, Feb. 9. Elimination of these two as jury weeks leaves five jury weeks on the term.

Judge Ewing said reason for dropping of the two weeks as jury weeks was that there was no business before the court to justify the summoning of jurors.

Each time a panel of petit jurors is summoned it costs the county about $100, the judge said, and he stated it was his desire to avoid needless court expense whenever possible.

Jap Army Officers Have Grown Rich From Selling Opium In China

(As a war correspondent for the Associated Press during the first two years of the Chinese-Japanese war, Lloyd Lehrbas had a close-up of the Japanese exploitation technique. He reports on it here.)

By LLOYD LEHRBAS. WASHINGTON, Jan. 9 (AP)--The Japanese army has an elite corps called the "special service section" which on the basis of its record in past Japanese conquests--can be expected to play a major role in exploitation of the Philippines.

What the SSS is doing in Manila is yet to be disclosed, but the known record of its widespread operations in occupied China shows the possibilities.

The "special service section" is the army's hand-picked and powerful unit for accumulating vast funds for operations for which no accounting ever made, and for permitting high-ranking officers to feather their own nests in the process--all at the expense of the conquered peoples.

The Japanese army itself maintains direct its operations down to the smallest detail, and Japanese "ronin" (gangsters) and Korean camp-followers do the dirty work.

Profits in occupied China--which still bring up--amount to millions of dollars annually from special taxes, fees, monopoly, exactions, protection payments, cuts on narcotics sales, and ransoms from kidnappings.

Within a few days after Japanese troops occupied areas around Shanghai, a gigantic Japanese-dominated opium monopoly sprang up, with the "special service section" providing the opium and other narcotics, furnishing protection, and handling all finances.

A special U. S. treasury agent in Shanghai forwarded to Washington a comprehensive report on the opium operations, naming the Japanese SSS officers.

Opium smoke curled in the wake of the advancing Japanese army. Madame Chiang Kai-shek, wife of the generalissimo, charged that the Japanese had set out on a deliberate campaign to drug the Chinese into a nation of slaves.

An American missionary, in a detailed survey of the Japanese-sponsored narcotics business in Nanking, counted more than 600 opium dens which were licensed and protected by the SSS, and estimated that one in eight of Nanking's population had become users of narcotics.

Los Angeles Strike Ordered Called Off

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (AP)--Threat of a strike designed to tie up street cars and buses used by nearly 1,000,000 Angelenos daily was removed just before last midnight's deadline by intervention of John R. Steelman, director of the U. S. conciliation service.

A mass meeting of 400 members of the CIO transport workers union was discussing strike procedure against the Los Angeles Railway Co. and Los Angeles Motor Coach Co. when this telegram was relayed from Dr. Steelman.

"On behalf of the public, I am compelled to request, one that the transport workers union postpone calling any work stoppage for at least five days x x x."

"Two, that the company agrees no further discharges of employees is to occur during that period.

"Three, that during that period the company operations be maintained and all employees discharged for failure thus far to comply fully with the contract in controversy, be reinstated immediately."

"The members voted to comply. The CIO, claiming 1200 members among the company's 3500 employees, demanded a preferential election and rehiring of 100 men it asserts were discharged for refusing to join the AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees of America."

The AFL has a closed shop contract with the company.

62 Texas Fields Produce Aviation Grade Petroleum

AUSTIN, Jan. 8 (AP)--Sixty-two of Texas 60 oil fields today were classified as those producing aviation grade petroleum and refiners were under order not to process any production from the fields unless they obtain the maximum reasonable amount of aviation grade naphtha.

The order came from the railroad commission, state oil regulatory agency, in line with a request from the office of the petroleum coordinator which is seeking to turn the maximum crude production into military channels.

The order also applied to additional fields producing crude with at least 5 per cent by volume of a dehydrated naphtha with the requisite qualities of aviation grade naphtha.

Refineries processing crude from all of the fields were instructed to keep and present to the commission records on the amount of crude processed, aviation grade naphtha produced, 100 octane gasoline turned out, naphtha blended into 100 octane gasoline and 91 octane gasoline produced.

The 62 fields listed, mostly in the Southwest Texas and Gulf coast districts were: Amelia, Anahuac, Hitchcock, Batson, Cedar Point, Clear Lake, Conroe, Cotton Lake, Fairbanks, West Hardin, Hastings, Hagle, Hull, Lolla, Lovell's Lake, Magnite, Old Ocean, Raccoon Bend, Raccoon Bend, Rowan, Sengo, Sheridan, South Cotton Lake, South Houston, Withers, Tom Ball, Turkey Creek, White Point, Heyser, Turkey Creek, Orange Grove, Bridwell, O'Hern, Conoco, Driscoll, Pizzimmonis, Hoffman, Loma Nova, Benavides, Rincon, Sun, Yveta, Lulling, Gnyuga, Long Lake Government Wells, Colorado, Kelsey, South Alice, Saxet, Luby.

Scarcity of materials from which we have been barred by Japanese aggression or of which the greater part is required for military purposes brings a steady shrinking in the number of consumer durables, as the experts put it, which can be manufactured. Eventually this process forces the closing of plants unless they can be converted to war production.

A cut which affects America's housewives has just been announced by OPM. There'll be from 25 to 40 per cent fewer vacuum cleaners manufactured (those with output of over 5,200 units a month in 1941) taking the greater curtailment.

"There'll be fewer machines turned out to vend cigarettes, candy nuts, chewing gum and beverages, too. OPM announced sharp curtailment of critical materials used in their manufacture. Exempt from the order is U. S. postage stamp machines, automatic ("auto-mat") restaurants.

The OPM has cleared the way for a national inventory of hog bristles. Anyone having title to pig and hog bristles must file a report with the bureau of census by January 15.

The Office of Price Administration has announced premiums on four kinds of cloth which must meet rigid army specifications.

JAPS BOAST

 Manila and steady approach to Singapore, the Tokyo foreign office's newspaper giddily envisioned the probability that "the armed forces of this country will land on the American continent."

The newspaper said the British invaded the United States in 1812 because "the American navy was not strong enough," and declared "it will be invaded again."

Speaking even before the Tokyo threat was published here, Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, new U. S. army commander in Hawaii, told newspapermen yesterday that a new attack on Hawaii "may happen any time."

"But we will not be surprised again," "and we will hold the islands."

With the exception of the central China campaign, where the Japanese were said by the Chinese to have lost another 2,000 men killed and wounded during an attempted retreat to Yochow in northern Hunan province, there were grounds for the "banzais" swelling in Japanese throats.

The outlook for General MacArthur's American and Filipino troops cornered on Luzon island was the bleakest yet. The last word from MacArthur was that the invaders were obviously massing men for a terrific onslaught against the last, tittery-defended positions fanning out from the Corregidor Island fortress in Manila Bay to the Olangapo naval base on the west coast and a line reaching southeast to the region immediately northwest of captured Manila.

A navy department announcement of the sinking of a Japanese transport and three 1,000-ton transports by an American submarine, however, brought its cheers.

CHICAGO, Jan. 9 (P)—Delegates from 33 states were ready to act today on football rules for 1942 as drawn up by the National Interscholastic Football committee.

Although the prospective rule changes occupied the interest of most of the representatives, a report was awaited on injuries during the 1941 season, with debate expected on methods of curbing mishaps to a greater extent next fall.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Jan. 9 (P)—Howard college announced today suspension of its intercollegiate football program for the duration of the national emergency.

Civilians are training enlisted men at Patterson Field, near Dayton, O. They will be skilled workers to form mobile units that can be sent anywhere to keep U. S. fighting planes ready for action.

Rubber From Gas A

Myih, Johnson Says
AUSTIN, Jan. 9 (AP)—An associate professor of chemistry today branded as bunk an announcement of a University of Texas process for making synthetic rubber out of natural gas.

Dr. C. R. Johnson's statement followed one by Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex.) that Texas might save the rubber industry through perfection of the university discovery.

"In my opinion," Dr. Johnson said, "this announcement of the discovery of a new process for synthetic rubber is just a cheap attempt to obtain publicity as a result of the situation created by the present rubber shortage."

"I don't see why any honest scientist would hesitate to brand this report a more or less complete fake."

Dr. E. P. Schoch, head of the university's industrial chemistry bureau, has been working on the experiment.

He reiterated earlier comment that "There has been too much talk already."

Senator O'Daniel had announced he would seek congressional appropriations for constructing rubber processing plants in Texas.

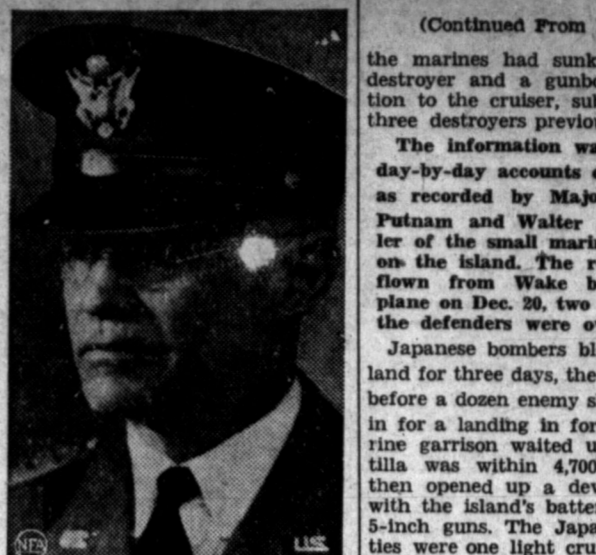

Dr. Johnson declared that "no rubber has been produced by Dr. Schoch's research staff."

"In fact, no commercially practical method of making acetylene has been worked out here, and I doubt if one ever will be," he continued. "Electro-chemical processes of the kind proposed are notoriously inefficient and uneconomical."

Dr. Schoch's staff has been working several years on a laboratory method of obtaining acetylene from which rubber can be made, from natural gas.

Coast Commander MARINES

Lieut. Gen. John L. DeWitt commands all U. S. military forces in the far west and Alaska under new Pacific Coast defense setup. His headquarters are at San Francisco.

The marines had sunk a Japanese destroyer and a gunboat in addition to the cruiser, submarine, and three destroyers previously claimed.

The information was based on day-by-day accounts of the sleep as recorded by Majors Paul A. Putnam and Walter L. J. Bayler of the small marine air force on the island. The reports were flown from Wake by a patrol plane on Dec. 20, two days before the defenders were overwhelmed.

Japanese bombers blasted the island for three days, the reports said, before a dozen enemy ships steamed in for a landing in force. The marine garrison waited until the flotilla was within 4,700 yards, and then opened up a devastating fire with the island's battery of 3- and 5-inch guns. The Japanese casualties were one light cruiser, two destroyers, and one gunboat.

The reports also told of the indefatigable resourcefulness and ingenuity which kept marine planes in the air almost to the bitter end. Parts and assemblies were traded back and forth. Engines were switched from plane to plane, junked, stripped, rebuilt, and all but created. Planes that were bombed on the ground yielded salvaged parts that kept others flying.

The navy communique which recited this never-say-die story also announced that President Roosevelt had cited the defense of Wake as something which had aroused the admiration of the nation and the civilized world "and will not be forgotten so long as gallantry and heroism are respected and honored."

ROYAL OAK, Mich., Jan. 9 (P)—Teddy Burton, 11, wrote to the president:

"I am 11, and can't get in the marines but am sending you $428.88 to help win the war."

The sum, his entire bank account, was withdrawn yesterday with the permission of his parents, turned into a cashier's check and mailed to the president.

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Jacob (Buddy) Baer, having been guilty of knocking Champion Joe Louis clear out of the ring in Washington last spring, probably will pay for his sins, with interest, tonight in Madison Square Garden.

This time the towering Californian faces a perfectly conditioned, fight-keen Joe Louis, impatient to wipe out any stigma that might have attached to his victory over Bob May, when Buddy was disqualified for refusing to come out for the seventh round.

So impressive has the big negro been in his workouts that the book-makers are offering only 1-5 odds that he is successful in the 20th defense of his world title; 1-2 that he stops Baer inside the 15 rounds. A good even bet is that Buddy doesn't wear as well as he did in Washington.

A crowd of perhaps 20,000, unusually rich in ermine, social distinction and uniforms, is expected to wedge itself into the big arena and contribute more than $100,000 to the Naval Relief society. They have been lured into paying a top price of $30 by the cause, rather than by the prospect of seeing a great fight.

Louis, possibly making his final ring appearance before induction into the army, isn't getting a cent, nor is Promoter Mike Jacobs. Only Baer is taking a slight cut, for fighting is his means of making a living and he has not been in the big money. It is successful in a few real benefit fights ever arranged for him.

As usual, the referee will not be named until just before the principals enter the ring. Chances are it will not be the most noted of the arbiters, Arthur Donovan, because it was Arthur who disqualified Baer in the Washington battle and incurred the terrible wrath of Buddy's manager, Ancil Hoffman. However, it is entirely possible that our boxing commissioners will put Donovan in there just to prove that they can't be intimidated by Hoffman or anybody else.

It obviously was a lucky swat that upset Joe and made him go back on his feet. He got a second wind, beating Baer with a heavy right, unable to defend himself at the end of the sixth round when Louis hit him a final paralyzing blow after the bell, not having heard the signal because of the uproar.

And Louis that night was a tired, listless fighter, worn ragged by the most arduous campaign ever undertaken by a heavyweight champion. If Buddy couldn't whip him under those conditions, then it is difficult to imagine his standing up for more than three or four rounds against the eager, perfectly tuned Louis who will face tonight.

Buddy was expected to weigh in at about 245 pounds at the athletic commission today, while Louis had planned his training to bring him into the ring between 204-5, the heaviest since he became champion.

Jack Curtice Becomes Texas Mines Mentor
EL PASO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Mack Saxton's successor as athletic director and coach at Texas College of Mines will be Jack Curtice, football coach at West Texas State college, Canyon.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Mines president, made the announcement yesterday. Saxton resigned at the end of the 1941 football season.

LeFors Cagers Will Play Panhandle Five Tonight

LEFORS, Jan. 9 (NS)—The LeFors Pirates will play their fourth conference game of the season tonight when they meet the Panhandle Panthers in the home gymnasium. The game will begin at 8 o'clock and will be the second game

Pampa Will Play Sunset Of Dallas Here Sept. 26

The Pampa Harvesters will play the Sunset Bisons of Dallas here on the night of Sept. 26. Coach Buck Prejan announced today upon completion of terms for home-and-home games. The Harvesters, under the terms, will go to Dallas for a night game in 1943.

Sunset was the team that went to the state quarter-finals last season to the Naval Relief society. They were successful in the 20th defense of their world title; 1-2 that he stops Baer inside the 15 rounds.

Coach Prejan also announced the scheduling of the Chickdross Bobcats to play here on the night of Oct. 2. The Harvesters nosed out the Bobcats last season in a real thriller.

Athletic Director J. R. Kidd of the Texas Interscholastic league re-named names of teams to play in Class AA ranks next year but listed only Pampa, Amarillo, Borger, Plainview and Lubbock in District IAA, which is scheduled to join the district and for which teams left places in their conference schedule.

When contacted, Director Kidd said that Brownfield has decided not to join the district but plans to play in Class A ranks. At the district meeting last month Supt. Emmet Smith of Brownfield said that his school lacked only six scholastics of automatically becoming a Class AA school and that he knew enrollment would go over the top in February.

Coach Prejan said today that he had not received any word from Brownfield cancelling their scheduled game on Oct. 23, at Brownfield.

California's Winter Golf Trail Begins

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (AP)—California's rich winter golf trail opened the 1942 season today as America's greatest players started over the green acres of Hillcrest Country club in the first round of the annual Los Angeles open.

Seventy-two holes of play stretched over four days awaited the field. The tournament has produced more than its share of color and gained its reward of respect since it was first staged sixteen years ago.

Packed in the array of talent, shooting for the $10,000 prize money, were the names familiar to followers of tournament golf: Byron Nelson, the Smiths (Horton and MacDonald), Ben Hogan, Sammy Snead, Denny Shute, Ralph Guldahl and their brothers of the professional ranks were listed, and so were many more not quite so renowned.

Out of the star division probably will come the winner, for only twice has a comparatively unknown captained the top laurel here.

Harry Cooper was the first, and he did it in the first tournament in 1926. Little known outside of Texas until that day, Cooper swept through the last nine holes in a brilliant duel with George von Elm, then at his peak as an amateur, won the tournament and a nickname that has stuck ever since—Lighthouse Harry.

Johnny Bulla of Chicago, hardly a household name at the time, made it another dark-horse triumph last year with a 281 that was three shots better than Craig Wood could muster.

Bulla and Cooper were back in the firing today, but Lighthouse Harry is no longer a dark horse and Bulla is a threat for a repeat victory.

Benny Hogan, top money winning pro and Vardon Cup winner in 1941, and runner-up Sam Snead were neck and neck in pre-tournament predictions. Experienced Horton Smith, shy of a major win in many months, appeared to be in great form in practice rounds.

Hillcrest, home club of many motion picture luminaries, boasts a long par-72 course. Hogan, Smith and some of the boys took it apart earlier this week, but whether they can put it back together again remains to be seen.

of the night, the "B" teams from the two schools playing at 7 o'clock. Coach Francis Smith will send an undefeated Tiger team to the floor to oppose a strong team coached by Jack Adkins who always comes up with great teams at Panhandle High school.

So far this season the Pirates have defeated Canadian, Phillips, and White Deer. Perryton is the other team in the district. Coach Smith will send his five iron men—Bowman, Oldham, Cole, Hamrick, and Clemmons—to the floor.

War Closes Market On New York Yankees For Duration

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Jake Ruppert, in whose heart baseball occupied a place as big as his gigantic brewery, may get his wish long after death—that the New York Yankees remain in his estate.

The war closed the market on the world champions, not only "for the duration," but probably for a much longer time.

Byron Clark, Jr., who was the late colonel's personal attorney and is the active trustee for the ball club, said today that all prospect of a sale had vanished with the advent of war.

"I haven't heard anything from Jim Farley in a long time and no one else has shown any interest," he explained. "It would be impossible to raise any considerable amount of money under present conditions, so the whole thing is dead."

"Maybe it will turn out the way the colonel wanted, after all." When the 71-year-old bachelor Jacob Ruppert died three years ago this month, he left his entire fortune to three women—two of them nieces and the other a friend. The bulk of the estate, estimated at $10,000,000, was in brewery stock and real estate with his baseball holdings, including an elaborate minor league farm system, believed worth $5,000,000.

The colonel separated the ball club from his other property in his will, however, and made express plans for its continuance under the Ruppert banner.

He directed that inheritance taxes on the ball club be paid out of the other portion of the estate and he set up a trusteeship to control the Yankees not only through the lifetime of his heiresses, but for as long as their children live.

In spite of all these provisions, the executors of the colonel's will decided soon after his death that the tremendous tax complications of the estate could best be solved by surrendering the ball club. But nobody has been able to get together enough money to swing the deal.

Clark said the government had not yet forced the issue on the taxes that are due.

"The law provides that the estate may be granted an extension from year to year while the payments, but that no more than 10 years may be allowed for the payment," he explained.

"Last year, for instance, it was found that we had overpaid $300,000 in taxes in one phase of the transaction. So instead of taking a refund we were given credit for that as an installment. Of course, those figures aren't precise, but they show that we are making out. Perhaps we can continue to do so."

Today's Guest Star John N. Sabo, Detroit Free Press: "Consolation: Louis Norman Newsom, the Mr. Bo-Bo of Hartsville, N. C., will have one thing to console him when he sees his Tiger contract. His 1942 income tax will not be as big as the one in '41."

Service Dept. Junior Andres, who was a basketball star at Indiana U. before he started to play third base for the Louisville Colonels, entertained two sets of fans when he helped the Great Lakes Naval Training station court squad lick Western Kentucky Teachers at Jeffersonville, Ind., the other night. He rang up 11 points for the home folks.

For the opening of the new bowling alleys at the Corpus Christi (Texas) naval air school, two special sets of pins were provided—one bearing pictures of Hitler, the other pictures of Mussolini.

Old Gargy Street, who fought through two wars and innumerable baseball seasons, is looking for someone with influence enough to get him back into the army.

Visiting the Sugar Bowl, Cameron Gamble, former Southeastern conference light heavyweight champion, reported he hadn't lost a fight in five starts as a marine.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. (Wide World Sports Columnist)

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (Wide World)—If you like Buddy Baer against Louis tonight you can practically write your own ticket with the betting boys, who aren't doing any business. Or you can follow the football system, as reported by E. T. Bales of the Chattanooga (Tenn.) News-Free Press. He heard a guy offer to take Baer and 11 rounds.

For the benefit of the navy boys who can't listen in on the broadcast, Mike Jacobs is giving a free copy of the films for shows on shipboard and at the naval stations.

Following up Buck Weaver's idea of buying "tickets" for the football bowl broadcasts, Chris R. Valley of New Orleans suggests that fight listeners should contribute either cash or defense stamps to the Navy Relief Fund.

Fastest-selling tickets for tonight's scrap were the $30 ones.

Justified Complaint

Walter (Rip) Van Winkle, Miami University (Ohio) basketball coach, went to Cincinnati the other night to scout both teams in the Hanover-Cincinnati U. game. The regular referee failed to show up so Van Winkle was drafted for the job. He got the usual fee but he complained, "I was so darned busy I didn't get much scouting done."

Sportpourri Abe Green, the N.B.A. president, has asked boxing commissions in the 37 states in his organization to stage benefit shows for the infantile paralysis fund.

Another suggestion is that they set aside a month when every club and every fighter on the cards will contribute one per cent of the take. That wouldn't cost anybody much and likely would bring in more dough.

After 11 years as a professional football player, Mel Hein is negotiating for a coaching job with one of the bigger eastern colleges.

Add hardships of war: The major league baseballers hear from the railroad folks that they won't all get lower berths on this year's jaunts.

Sergt. Freddie Mills, the British youngster who looks so good in pictures talking about bringing them over here for a benefit fight, was given just 24 hours off from the Royal Air Force to fight Jack London. He won, which may interest some of our fighters who want a months furlough to train.

Today's Guest Star John N. Sabo, Detroit Free Press: "Consolation: Louis Norman Newsom, the Mr. Bo-Bo of Hartsville, N. C., will have one thing to console him when he sees his Tiger contract. His 1942 income tax will not be as big as the one in '41."

CHAPTER V

FOUR... ely looking lads came in at nine-fifteen...

"THEY saluted like wooden soldiers. 'Trusting to be favored with your continued patronage, we are and-so-forth.'"

"We found an upper passage where it was cool and quiet, with a door overlooking the dance floor..."

"Pause for station identification," he said, and they opened up with a song...

"I think we ought to know. Just for curiosity, lady, are you alive?"

"I was never with them. They kept me in school..."

"I suppose this is some Freshman prank..."

"I know. But it's the only way I could get you..."

"My theory is I'd better get back into circulation..."

"What did you expect?"

TCU To Open Against Bears Saturday Night

PORT WORTH, Jan. 9—Victors in seven of its 11 pre-season contests, Texas Christian university's 1942 basketball team will open its 12-game Southwest conference schedule against the Baylor Bears in Waco Saturday night.

The Frogs, playing their first season under Coach Hub McQuillan, have improved steadily since they began competition in early December.

They dropped three of their first four games—two of these to the strong Denton Teachers—then came along fast, to take six of their last seven starts, against such competition as the Sam Houston Teachers, Warrenburg (Mo.) Teachers, Washington university (St. Louis), and the Durant (Okla.) Teachers.

Three junior college transfers, a senior and a junior now appear to be Coach McQuillan's choice for a starting line-up.

As forwards are Nick Brook, Iola, Kans., and Lonnie Dowell, Parsons,

Harvesters Win Two, Lose Three In New Mexico

Roswell Game Is Most Exciting

Eight tired but happy Harvester basketball players returned from a 1000 mile trip through New Mexico Friday with a record of two wins and three defeats which brings their season's total up to six up and five down.

Clovis was the first foe of the Green and Gold. It was in this game that according to Coach Oscar Hinger "the Harvesters couldn't hit the broad side of a barn," losing by a score of 24-12.

After spending the night at Clovis, they left for Roswell. Soon after starting out of Portales the bus ran out of gas and consequently breakfast was postponed until 11 o'clock. The night was spent in a tourist court at Roswell.

The game at Roswell was vastly different from the one at Clovis. The Harvesters were leading 22-21 up until the last 30 seconds of play when Roswell sunk a field goal and froze the ball until the game was over. The game was played in a new gymnasium before a large crowd.

Bus Hills Snow

The long trek to Santa Fe was completed with a minimum of trouble including the bus almost getting stalled in the snow but finally managing to limp into Santa Fe at five miles per hour. The team put up for the night at the La Vargas Hotel.

The next day was spent at the ski slide near Santa Fe where, although none of the boys were able to get up, they served well enough.

In the game with Santa Fe High the Harvesters began to hit their stride and were able to win 31-21. Halter was high point man with 11 points. This game was on New Years Day.

Indians Treat Harvesters

The Santa Fe Indian School, next foe of the Harvesters put them up for the night and treated them royally, even to losing to the Pampanas 47-22. It was in this game that Flanagan began to hit the basket, scoring 17 points. The boys agreed that the Indian school had the best team.

Raton's Tigers were the next scheduled foe of the Harvesters. Coach Hinger intended to go to Raton by way of Taos but the recent snow prevented this, so back down through Las Vegas and then north to Raton was the only solution.

In Raton, Flanagan pulled a "Price Brookfield" and scored another 17 points to lead the way to a 37-22 victory for the Harvesters.

On the entire trip the Harvesters won two, lost three, and scored 149 points over their opponents 114. This brings their season's total up to six wins, five defeats and a total of 306 points over their opponents 281.

The trip was organized with Leslie Burge acting as amusement director, Tom Cox as conduct director, Wayne Ott as food administrator, and L. J. Halter in charge of lodging.

Intramural Sports

Forty players wound up the sophomore ping pong tournament Wednesday at noon after 84 games were played. Tommy Joe Atkins won the finals over Glenn Coats both of room 100, Coach Genger.

The junior-senior tournament will start with ping Monday, January 12, while the sophomore volleyball tournament will also begin at that time. Junior-senior volleyball will start immediately after the ping pong tournament.

Awards will be given to the winners in volleyball, coach Hinger said.

Room 217 in the junior-senior division and room 100 in the sophomore division lead in points.

Truth Is Principle Of Quill and Scroll

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free" is the motto of the International Honor Society for High School Journalists, Quill and Scroll, with which members of Pampa High School were recently affiliated.

A group of high school journalism teachers more than 15 years ago, organized an honor society to recognize high school students for their writing achievements. It has since been a profitable organization in its effort to give recognition to outstanding students of journalism.

Quill and Scroll was founded April 10, 1926. There are 2500 chapters in the society and they are found in almost every state in the union, Hawaii, Alaska, Canada, England, New Zealand, and China. More than fifty thousand young journalists wear the world famous insignia.

Joe And Defense

Here's Joe that unassuming fellow back again. Now Joe doesn't work anywhere except on Saturdays. His folks give him a small allowance once in a while. Joe likes to have dates and good times just as well as any other fellow, but recently Joe heard the president say it was going to take several billion dollars to win this war; so Joe is doing his part in the victorious movement by purchasing defense stamps from his home room president. Well, anyway Joe has the right idea. Even if he can't make a big dent in that group of billions he can do a little and if more guys and gals would do as Joe is doing it would help a lot.

Defense Stamps To Be Sold At Booth In Hall

Rating Of Rooms To Be On Chart

For the selling of defense stamps, a booth will be placed in the front hall of the high school building so that students can buy stamps at all times. The booth was given to the school by C. P. Benefield.

Jerry Alexander, chairman of the finance committee of the Student Council, is in charge of council members who will sell stamps before school, at noon, and after school.

A chart that will show the rating and number of students of each home room will be placed on the bulletin board. Miss Ruby Foster is in charge of the chart.

Ninety-two per cent of the Diversified Occupations students have purchased defense stamps over a period of six weeks. W. H. Galloway, instructor, said Thursday.

Miss Annie Louise Jones, Student Council sponsor, urges that all students awaken their patriotic instincts and come to the aid of their country by buying all the defense stamps that they possibly can.

In addition to the booth, defense stamps will still be sold in home rooms by the home room president.

The amount of defense stamps purchased by the D. O. classes totalled $52.90, Mr. Galloway said.

Many students enrolled in the D. O. classes have moved or made changes in their employment. Oton Riley and Richards Stevens have moved. Oton worked at the General Supply company and joined the navy during the Christmas holidays. Richard enlisted in the navy before the holidays and was employed by the Chevrolet garage.

Eat Your Beans With A Knife—Modern Etiquette

"Johnny, don't eat your beans with a knife," is a statement that is often heard at the table.

Ever since we have been able to sit at the table we have continually been reminded of our table manners. Some rules are disagreed with, however. Here are some rules on table manners which are modified to fit the situation.

When a person sits down at a table, he will undoubtedly have chewing gum in his mouth. This can easily be disposed of by dropping it on the floor.

Take the napkin and tuck it in your collar. Or if you are not wearing a collar, stick the napkin in your belt.

A good time to serve yourself is during the blessing. Reach quietly and quickly and leave a little for the rest.

One good thing to do while at the table is to laugh and talk with your mouth full—this makes you seem intellectual.

A good prank between courses is to tip your spoon into your water and then read across the table.

Peas should be eaten with the knife, but syrup to stick them on is advised.

When the finger bowl comes around, don't be foolish and wash your hands in it; drink it and set the pace for others.

Basketball Trophy Now In Show Case

Don't be an old fogey! Keep up with the times and look at the new trophy in our show case, which the Harvester basketball team won at the Perryton Basketball Tournament, December 13.

Judges for all conference players chose Tom Cox, forward and L. J. Halter for the position of guard.

These two players were chosen because of their ability, good sportsmanship and the cooperation with team mates.

The Harvesters defeated a strong Memphis team in the semi-finals with the final score being 30-25. In the finals they romped on the hard fighting Perryton squad to win the trophy which was presented soon after the tournament.

Do we have girls in Pampa High like this?
His face may be freckled,
His ears may stick out,
His teeth may be crooked,
He may be stout,
He may not be a student,
Or a great football star,
But I'll stick to him always;
He's got a cute car!

I'm well convinced
That broken hearts,
Unlike most animals,
Anatomical parts,
Can be reassembled as good as new
After the lapse of a day or two.

"Death Takes A Holiday," a three-act comedy by Alberto Casella, has been selected by Robert S. Ratcliffe, dramatics instructor, as the junior play. The play, a Broadway hit, will be presented in the Junior high school auditorium in February.

Try-outs for the play will be held at 3:15 and 7 o'clock Wednesday, and again at 7 o'clock Thursday to allow all junior students to try for parts in the play.

"I would like to see every member of the junior class try out," Mr. Ratcliffe said. "The play belongs to the junior class and it is necessary to have the cooperation of the entire class to make the play successful. No experience is necessary."

The plot of the play is built around Death, Prince Sirk, who suspends his duties as death for three days and takes the form of a mortal. During his stay, he falls in love with a girl and wants to take her back with him when he again assumes the character of Death.

The characters are: Alda, a slender woman of 28; Duke Lambert, a fair man of 45; Duchess Stephanie, a dark, mysterious woman; Princess Sara Luca, fair and maternal; Baron Cosarova, a bluff man of 75; Rhoda Penton, a handsome girl of 24; Corrado, a young man of 22; Eric Penton, an intelligent-looking Englishman; Grazia, a lovely girl of 18; Prince Sirk (shadow), a distinguished man of the world; Major Whitread, distinguished soldier of 40; Cora, a maid; and Fedele, a manservant.

Thought Stimulated As Students Ponder 'How To Do Part'

"America is at war!" This news burst forth on a startled Pampa High as well as a surprised United States.

Pampa High like every school, factory, and shop is ready to turn its interest toward the defense of our country.

This question "How can you aid in America's defense?" received the following answers:

R. L. Edmondson, "to cut down on taking girl's places or in other words to omit some luxuries."

Jean Chisholm, "Buy defense stamps and bonds."

Bill Bell, "By economizing on everything in general."

Everyone can help in some way America's defense program. Students can save pencils, paper, chalk, everything that the average boy or girl wastes. You may take your girl walking instead of using the family car, and save the all important gasoline.

The American Red Cross has asked for fifty million dollars, you may help by joining. Each contribution, no matter how small, may save a life in China or Britain. A bandage costs only one cent, by donating fifty cents to the Red Cross you may save many lives and much suffering. Students who can work together and follow orders may be of great service in coming years.

Pampa High Debaters To Attend Plainview College Tournament

Four Pampa High school debate teams, accompanied by Miss Pearl Gaven, debate coach, will attend a debate tournament at Wayland College, Plainview, January 30.

The question is, Resolved: That the federal government shall adopt the policy of equalizing educational opportunity throughout the nation by means of annual grants through the various states for public elementary and secondary schools. This is the Texas question.

Two girls' teams and a two boys' will debate both the negative and the positive sides of the question.

The winning team will receive a cup and medals will be awarded to winners in individual debates.

Debate teams have been practicing from 3 until 4 o'clock for the past week, Miss Gaven said.

Electric Switches Are To Be Installed

Electric switch boxes which have been holding up shop during the first semester are expected to arrive soon, Fred Brownlee, instructor, said.

The boxes which are the source of electricity for machine shop projects were shipped December 22, according to word received by Mr. Brownlee.

First Air Raid Drill To Be Next Week

How it feels to be a fugitive from an airplane bomb will be experienced by Pampa High school students as they dash for shelter next week when the first air raid drills are held.

Pupils should not be permitted to leave the building. When an alarm is sounded students should take their books and go into the halls where they should remain quietly until the all-clear sign is given. Teachers should not send pupils home.

Consolation: Teachers have to work on examinations too.

Semester Tests Are Scheduled For January 21

Exam Reviewing To Begin Monday

Into the wee hours of the morning the midnight oil will be seen burning in the various Pampa homes as students prepare for the great but dreaded semi-annual affair. Final semester examinations will begin Wednesday, January 21, and will continue through Thursday, Mrs. Lou Roberts, registrar, has announced.

Students are requested to come to school only at the time of their scheduled examinations, Mrs. Roberts said.

"Examinations for the same department of work will be given at the same time," Mrs. Roberts said. The examination schedule will be announced next week.

School officials have requested school organizations to refrain from social activities during the next two weeks. The purpose of this is to give the students studying time before examinations.

Test reviews will begin Monday, January 12. Your teachers will then clear up doubtful points by answering your questions.

All students will report to home rooms when they return to school Monday January 26. At this time enrollment for the second semester will begin.

Classes To Study Interest On Loans

Have you ever had to borrow money? If so did you know whether you were getting a fair deal?

These questions could be answered by members of B. G. Gordon's advanced arithmetic classes, who have been studying interest for the past few weeks. Students are studying the different rates and rates of interest on loans.

Plans include visiting three loan firms and a study of rates of interest.

High School Paper Begins In June, 1829

More than a hundred years ago the small of printers ink was in the air. The editor and the sponsor were busy editing and printing the first high school paper, which was printed June 21, 1829, in Boston Massachusetts by the Latin High school.

The paper was two large columns wide, and consisted entirely of editorial. It was approximately 10 inches by 14 inches in size.

The history of this paper was published in the December-January issue of the Quill and Scroll magazine.

Five Newspapers At Disposal Of Students

"The Sunday edition of The New York Times and The Christian Science Monitor are two out-of-state papers to which the library subscribes," Miss Frances Munson, librarian, said.

The library also receives daily the Amarillo Daily News, Pampa Daily News, and Dallas Morning News.

The purpose is to inform the students of worldly news according to the papers. The papers provide information also for history, English, and other subjects.

The students read the Pampa Daily News and Amarillo Daily News more than any other paper, Miss Munson said.

Jack and Charley are looking sorta blue lately. Could it be that Ruthie and Frances Shier are moving to Carlsbad?
Could be.

Dorace Caldwell Named Little Harvester Editor

Dorace Jean Caldwell, versatile junior, has been chosen editor-in-chief of the Little Harvester for the coming semester. Miss Margaret Tomberlin, Little Harvester sponsor, announced today.

Dorace Jean served on the junior high school staff as feature editor, (Dick Many) for two years a reporter, and later became a reporter on the Little Harvester. Dorace proved her ability to act last year in the one act play "Happy Journey," in which she played the part of Caroline Kirby.

Dorace Jean was named assistant-editor of The Little Harvester last semester, a position she maintained until her present one.

She has a scholastic rating of 97 at the present time and was salutatorian when graduated from junior high school. The West Texas Scholastic Press Clinic elected her as vice-president at their annual meeting in November. She is secretary of the Junior class and vice-president of Quill and Scroll, honorary journalism organization.

Definitions Of War Words Published For Sophomores

Do you know what you are talking about when you use a big word? Here are some "big words" used in the newspapers pertaining to the war and their definitions. There are many definitions of various words but below are some, which are constantly used.

Abnegate—to deny.
Cache—a hiding place for food or supplies.
Distraction—anything that draws away the attention.

Eliminate—to cast out; remove.

Communique—an official report of news or intelligence, as published in time of war.
Dispensary—a place where medicines are made up.

Augmenting—increasing; enlargement.
Surlough—leave of absence for a soldier.

Belligerent—waging war; warlike. Minimize—to reduce to a small portion.
Leathernecks—marines.

Immobilize—to move an army.
Espionage—spy work; interference with government activities in time of emergency.

Principal Speaks At Woodrow Wilson

"Tightening the Belts," is the subject on which Principal D. F. Osborne spoke before the Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher's association Thursday afternoon.

Ways and things we can do to help conserve our resources and materials that will be useful in winning the war was especially stressed by Principal Osborne.

Another point stressed was the comparing of the wages of one hour of labor in the United States to that of other countries.

"One hour of labor in the United States will purchase at least four times as much in groceries and in rent as in Germany, nine times as much as in Russia, and if we want to keep our standards of living at our present high level we must learn to cooperate for the common good during war time and probably even more during the period of depression following the war," Mr. Osborne asserted.

Bible Class To Learn Philosophy Of Living

Have you ever wondered what students do in Bible class? The students are writing themes and selecting a hundred verses of scripture, which explain to them the best philosophy of living. Rev. Newton Stars, Bible teacher announced.

Bible students have five subjects from which to choose. These are the Patriarchal Period, Life of Moses, Life of David, Life of Saul or Modern Message of the Psalms.

Bible students are selecting a hundred verses of scripture from the Old Testament, that could be applied to our lives.

New Stamp Campaign Is Begun By Council

"A stamp a week" is the motto of the Pampa High School Student Council.

A drive is being launched by the Student Council to have every student buy at least one stamp each week. The home rooms will get the credit but the stamps will not be checked out to home room presidents. The presidents will take down the amount the students wish to buy and get the exact amount instead of checking out uncertain amounts.

The defense bank will be set up in the front hall. The bank will be open from 8:30 to 8:45, 30 minutes at noon, and from 3 o'clock until 3:15.

Boy snacks girl—Necking bee.
Wheels leave road—Car snacks tree.

Bergin, Leonard And Cline Chosen School Beauties

Other Personalities To Be Chosen Soon

Betty Lou Leonard, Charlotte Cline, and Colleen Bergin are three of the happiest girls in high school. They were nominated from more than 400 girls as the three most beautiful girls in school. It was formerly announced that there would be eight girls chosen but these three had such a majority of the votes of the student body that it was impossible to have more than three. A group of local business men will compose the judges who will choose the most beautiful girl of these three.

Brunettes seem to be the favorites with the majority of the students, as all three are brunettes. Versatile Betty Lou, who is a junior, not only is beautiful but she also has an outstanding personality. She has gone to school in Pampa for two years and has made many friends during that time. She likes red and chocolates.

She prefers blue, sweaters and skirts, and ice cream—that's Colleen Bergin. She hates spinach so she can't attribute her beauty to eating her spinach when she was little. The youngest of the trio of beauties, Colleen is only 14. She has gone to school in Pampa off and on ever since she started to school. She is a sophomore and was one of the football queen's attendants.

A newcomer to Pampa high who has made a name for herself is Charlotte Cline. Skirts and sweaters are also "elegant" in her opinion. Her beautiful black hair is even more beautiful whenever she wears her favorite color, red. She loves to eat everything but still has an attractive figure. When told that she had been elected, she exclaimed, "Oh, that's wonderful!"

The girl chosen from this group will have a full-page picture in the annual. Other personalities who will have full-page pictures in the annual are the Personality Queen, Best All-Around Boy, and the Boy and Girl Most Likely to Succeed.

The Personality Queen and the Best All-Around Boy will be elected next Wednesday in home room. The characteristics that are to be considered in the selection of the Personality Queen are her personality, how well she makes friends, and how well she gets along with people. Characteristics in the Best All-Around Boy to be taken into consideration are his leadership ability, character, how well he makes friends, what he has done to help the school, cleanliness, and other good habits.

Dorothy Drescher, senior, plans to help design the division pages, although she is not taking art this year. Football figures will be the theme of her design.

Fly Grave Yard Is Original Hobby Of School Senior

Of all the hobbies a student could have, John Chessner chose to keep and maintain a fly grave yard.

The idea came to John one day last summer. He was trying a siesta, but was painfully interrupted when a large horsefly appeared for battle practice. For nearly 30 minutes, he was pestered until finally he let out a war-whoop and crushed the foe.

This first victim was the largest that he ever bagged.

More than 100 victims are buried in 20 cigar boxes. He has horseflies, cowflies, houseflies, grassflies, flies of all colors, and gnats. Fleas dig out or else they get lost, so John doesn't fool with them.

All of his flies have interesting names and a few have a little personal comment on their grave stones (a match with paper attached).

Burge, Moyer, Gallopin, Pete, Amarillo, Bulldog, Jim, 20-yard-dash, Hitler, Mussolini, and Suicide Joe are only a few of the names of the occupants in this weird hobby.

F. F. A. Will Attend Panhandle Meeting

The Future Farmers of America will attend a district meeting in Panhandle, Saturday, Jan. 10.

There will be a contest between the chapters. The Pampa F.F.A. chapter has entered judging and will send two teams. Judging dairy cattle are Jack Sloan, Harry Duany, Calvin Scaggs, and Claude Taylor. Judging meat will be W. L. Morse, Jack Lane, Lloyd Zmotony, and Phil McGrate. Mr. Hood Wills, agriculture instructor, made the announcement Thursday.

Students May Buy Candy After School

The cafeteria will be open 15 minutes before and after school to allow students to purchase cokes and candy. The Student Council has announced. Because of many requests from students the council asked that the cafeteria be opened at this time.

It was granted on condition the students observe the time limits and do not keep the cafeteria workers overtime.

Freddie Nell Beckham and Mary Nelson were appointed to keep a yearbook for the Student Council at the meeting Tuesday.

Meeting Is Attended By Sone In Austin

State Superintendent L. A. Woods called a special meeting of all school superintendents for Jan. 8 to be held at Austin. The main topic of discussion was "Conservation of Natural Resources."

Superintendents from all over Texas attended the meeting.

Those going from this district were L. L. Sone, superintendent of Pampa schools; Mr. McIntosh, superintendent of Borger schools; Chester Strickland, superintendent of White Deer schools, and W. B. Weathered, county superintendent.

Physics Class Orders New Scientific Films

Scientific films, which will coincide with the material now being studied by the physics class have been ordered and will be shown to the students each Friday until the last of April, Miss Lorraine Bruce, physics teacher, stated.

The pictures will consist of the following subjects: Liquid air, water power, steam power, aluminum, fabricating process, aluminum—mining, metal, transportation, ocean liners, and simple machines.

The physics class has now completed the coefficient of linear expansion, computed of iron, copper, glass, and aluminum. To compute the expansion of these various materials, a rod of one of these metals is placed in a jacket and is heated by the use of steam.

BAER LIKELY TO PAY TONIGHT

Louis Due To Avenge Being Knocked Down

By GAYLE TALBOT
NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Jacob (Buddy) Baer, having been guilty of knocking Champion Joe Louis clear out of the ring in Washington last spring, probably will pay for his sins, with interest, tonight in Madison Square Garden.

This time the lowering Californian faces a perfectly conditioned, fight-keen Joe Louis impatient to wipe out any stigma that might have attached to his victory over Baer last May, when Buddy was disqualified for refusing to come out for the seventh round.

So impressive has the big negro been in his workouts that the book-makers are offering only 1-6 odds that he is successful in the 20th defense of his world title; 1-2 that he stops Baer inside the 15 rounds. A good even bet is that Buddy doesn't wear as well as he did in Washington.

A crowd of perhaps 20,000, unusually rich in fame, social distinction and uniforms, is expected to wedge itself into the big arena and contribute more than $100,000 to the Naval Relief society. They have been lured into paying a top price of $80 by the cause, rather than by the prospect of seeing a great fight.

Louis, possibly making his final ring appearance before induction into the army, isn't getting a cent, nor is promoter Mike Jacobs. Only Baer is taking a slight cut, for fighting is his means of making a living and he has not been in the big money. It is one of the few real benefit fights ever arranged.

As usual, the referee will not be named until just before the principals enter the ring. Chances are it will not be the most noted of the arbiters, Arthur Donovan, because it was Arthur who disqualified Baer in the Washington battle and incurred the terrible wrath of Buddy's manager, Ancil Hoffman. However, it is entirely possible that our boxing commissioners will put Donovan in there just to prove that they can't be intimidated by Hoffman or anybody else.

Despite the fact that Baer propelled Louis through the ropes and onto his shoulder blades with a left hook in the first round of their previous fight, at no time did the ponderous Buddy look like a true match for the champion.

It obviously was a lucky swat that upset Joe, and once he got back on his feet he gave Buddy an awful beating. Baer was helpless, unable to defend himself at the end of the sixth round when Louis hit him a final paralyzing blow after the bell, not having heard the signal because of the uproar.

And Louis that night was a tired, listless fighter, worn ragged by the most arduous campaign ever undertaken by a heavyweight champion. If Buddy couldn't whip him under those conditions, then it is difficult to imagine his standing up for more than three or four rounds against the eager, perfectly tuned Louis he will face tonight.

Buddy was expected to weigh in at about 245 pounds at the 10 o'clock commission today, while Louis had planned his training to bring him into the ring between 204-5, the heaviest since he became champion.

Jack Curtice Becomes Texas Mines Mentor

EL PASO, Jan. 9 (AP)—Mack Saxton's successor as athletic director and coach at Texas College of Mines will be Jack Curtice, football coach at West Texas State college, Canyon.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, Mines president, made the announcement yesterday. Saxton resigned at the end of the 1941 football season.

Dr. Wiggins said Curtice will accept the position immediately. Curtice will be assisted until the end of the spring term by Saxton who has not revealed his plans for next year.

In border conference play last season, Curtice's West Texas State eleven won four games and lost only to Hardin-Simmons. In full season play the Buffaloes won seven and lost two. Texas A. & T. having bested them in a non-conference go. Curtice left here last night for

Pampa Will Play Sunset Of Dallas Here Sept. 26

The Pampa Harvesters will play the Sunset Bisons of Dallas here on the night of Sept. 26. Coach Buck Prejean announced today upon completion of terms for home-and-home games. The Harvesters, under the terms, will go to Dallas for a night game in 1943.

Sunset was the team that went to the state quarter-finals last season, only to be knocked off by the state championship Wichita Falls Coyotes. Sunset is expected to be one of the strong teams in the state next season.

Coach Prejean also announced the scheduling of the Childress Bobcats to play here on the night of Oct. 2. The Harvesters needed not to join the district but plans to play in Class AA ranks. At the district meeting last month Supt. Emmet Smith of Brownfield said that his school lacked only six scholastics of automatically becoming a Class AA school and that he knew enrollment would go over the top in February.

Coach Prejean said today that he had not received any word from Brownfield cancelling their scheduled game on Oct. 23, at Brownfield.

Athletic Director J. R. Kidd of the Texas Interscholastic league released names of teams to play in Class AA ranks next year but listed only Pampa, Amarillo, Borger, Plainview and Lubbock in District IAA, making no mention of Brownfield, which is scheduled to join the district and for which teams left places in their conference schedule.

When contacted, Director Kidd said the Brownfield had decided not to join the district but plans to play in Class AA ranks. At the district meeting last month Supt. California's Winter Golf Trail Begins

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 9 (AP)—California's rich winter golf trail opened the 1942 season today as America's greatest players started over the green acres of Hillcrest Country club in the first round of the annual Los Angeles open.

Seventy-two holes of play stretched over four days awaited the field. The tournament has produced more than its share of color and gained its reward of respect since it was first staged sixteen years ago.

Packed in the array of talent, shooting for the $10,000 prize money, were the names familiar to followers of tournament golf. Byron Nelson, the Smiths (Horton and MacDonald), Ben Hogan, Sammy Snead, Denny Shute, Ralph Guldahl and their brothers of the "professional ranks" were listed, and so were many more not quite so renowned.

Out of the star division probably will come the winner, for only twice has a comparatively unknown captained the top laurel here.

Harry Cooper was the first, and he did it in the first tournament in 1926. Little known outside of Texas until that day, Cooper swept through the last nine holes in a brilliant duel with George von Elm, then at his peak as an amateur, won the tournament and a nickname that has stuck ever since—Lighthorse Harry.

Johnny Bullis of Chicago, hardly a household name at the time, made it another dark-horse triumph last year with a 281 that was three shots better than Craig Wood could muster.

Bullis and Cooper were back in the firing today, but Lighthorse Harry is no longer a dark horse and Bullis is a threat for a repeat victory.

Benny Hogan, top money winning pro and Vardon Cup winner in 1941, and runnerup Sam Snead were neck and neck in pre-tournament predictions. Experienced Horton Smith, shy of a major win in many moons, appeared to be in great form in practice rounds.

Hillcrest, home club of many motion picture luminaries, boasts a long par-72 course. Hogan, Smith and some of the boys took it apart earlier this week, but whether they can put it back together again remains to be seen.

War Closes Market On New York Yankees For Duration

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (AP)—Jake Ruppert, in whose heart baseball occupied a place as big as his gigantic brewery, may get his wish long after death—that the New York Yankees remain in his estate.

The war closed the market on the world champions, not only "for the duration," but probably for a much longer time.

Byron Clark Jr., who was the late colonel's personal attorney and is the active trustee for the ball club, said today that all prospect of a sale had vanished with the advent of war.

"I haven't heard anything from Jim Farley in a long time and no one else has shown any interest," he explained. "It would be impossible to raise any considerable amount of money under present conditions, so the whole thing is dead."

"Maybe it will turn out the way the colonel wanted, after all." When the 71-year-old bachelor Jacob Ruppert died three years ago this month, he left his entire fortune to three women—two of them nieces and the other a friend. The bulk of the estate, estimated at $100,000,000, was in brewery stock and real estate—with his baseball holdings, including an elaborate minor league farm system, believed worth $5,000,000.

The colonel separated the ball club from his other property in his will, however, and made express plans for its continuance under the Ruppert banner.

He directed that inheritance taxes on the ball club be paid out of the other portion of the estate and he set up a trustship to control the Yankees not only through the lifetime of his heiresses, but for as long as their children lived.

In spite of all these provisions, the executors of the colonel's will decided soon after his death that the tremendous tax complications of the estate could best be solved by surrendering the ball club. But nobody has been able to get together enough money to swing the deal.

Clark said the government had not yet forced the issue on the taxes that are due.

"The law provides that the estate may be granted an extension from year to year while paying in installments, but that no more than 10 years may be allowed for the payment," he explained.

"Last year, for instance, it was found that we had overpaid $300,000 in taxes in one phase of the transaction. So instead of taking a refund we were given credit for that as an installment. Of course, those figures aren't precise, but they show that we are making out. Perhaps we can continue to do so."

Today's Guest Star John N. Sabo, Detroit Free Press: "Consolation: Louis Norman Newsom, the Mr. Bo-Bo of Havville, N. C., will have one thing to console him when he sees his Tiger contract. His 1942 income tax will not be as big as the one in '41."

Service Dept. Junie Andres who was a basketball star at Indiana U. before he started to play third base for the Louisville Colonels, entertained two sets of fans when he helped the Great Lakes Naval Training station court squad lick Western Kentucky Teachers at Jeffersonville, Ind., the other night. He rang up 11 points for the home folks.

For the opening of the new bowling alleys at the Corpus Christi (Texas) naval air station, two special sets of pins were provided—one bearing pictures of Hitler, the other pictures of Mussolini.

Old Sarge Gabby Street, who fought through two wars and innumerable baseball seasons, is looking for someone with influence enough to get him back into the army.

Visiting the Sugar Bowl, Cameron Gamble, former Southeastern conference light heavyweight champion, reported he hadn't lost a fight in five starts as a marine.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. (Wide World Sports Columnist)

NEW YORK, Jan. 9 (Wide World)—If you like Buddy Baer against Louis tonight you can practically write your own ticket with the betting boys, who aren't doing any business.

Or you can follow the football system, as reported by E. T. Baker in the Ontonagon (Tenn.) News-Free Press. He heard a guy offer to take Baer and 11 rounds.

Following up Buck Weaver's idea of buying "tickets" for the football bowl broadcasts, Chris R. Valley of New Orleans suggests that fight listeners should contribute either cash or defense stamps to the Navy Relief Fund.

Fastest-selling tickets for tonight's scrap were the $30 ones.

Justified Complaint Walter (Rip) Van Winkle, Miami University (Ohio) basketball coach, went to Cincinnati the other night to scout both teams in the Hanover-Cincinnati U. game. The regular referee failed to show up so Van Winkle was drafted for the job.

He got the usual fee but he complained, "I was so darned busy I didn't get much scouting done."

Sportsworld Abe Green, the N.B.A. president, has asked boxing commissions in the 37 states in his organization to stage benefit shows for the infantile paralysis fund.

Another suggestion is that they set aside a month when every club and every fighter on the cards will contribute one per cent of the take. That wouldn't cost anybody much and likely would bring in more dough.

After 11 years in a regular with the football Giants, Mel Hein is negotiating for a coaching job with one of the bigger eastern colleges.

Latest reports on the pro tennis tour is that the crowds have been just about half as big as anticipated.

Add hardships of war: The major league baseballers hear from the railroad folks that they won't all get lower berths on this year's jaunts.

Sergt. Freddie Mills, the British yeomanster who looks so good they're talking about bringing him over here for a benefit fight, was given just 24 hours off from the Royal Air Force to fight Jack London. He won, which may interest some of our fighters who want a months furlough to train.

Insuring Fighting Men

A man who joins the fighting forces of the United States in time of war offers to his country the most precious thing man possesses—life itself.

He can be given no security in the full sense, for the taking of life is implicit in war. Nevertheless, every possible effort should be made to protect those dependent on him, and his own status if he returns safely.

The United States has a Social Security system, begun six years ago in time of peace. This it did not have when the country last went to war. Already its effects are being felt. Survivors' insurance benefits are already being rushed to widows and minor children of men who have given their lives in the Pacific fighting.

Already 37 states and Hawaii have amended their unemployment compensation acts to "freeze" such benefits standing to the credit of men at the time they enter service. On their return, in other words, they will be entitled to the same status they held when they entered service, with no lapse, though naturally they have not continued their contributions. Federal Security Administrator McNutt will try to get congress to forbid lapse of old age and survivors' insurance under the same conditions, or for those who leave covered employment to work in arms industries which are not covered, such as those of the federal government.

If the army is increased to the size which now seems likely—that is, to five or six million men, or even more, it will be necessary to look to dependents. In Canada, for instance, a married man who enters service and who assigns part of his pay to the support of his wife, sees that assignment increased by a direct grant from the government which lifts much of the burden from dependents left behind.

During the World War, a system of war-risk insurance was devised aimed at giving some protection to the surviving family of men who died in service. The original thought was to avoid future pension demands, in which it was not entirely successful.

These problems must be met and solved. Unless they are met promptly, much unnecessary suffering will be caused among dependents, and the future bonus and pension demands may well be imagined. Congress has its own full share of work to do in support of the war, and the problem of security for soldiers and their dependents is going to be one of the most important.

Lafayette Returns

In 1777 the Marquis de Lafayette came to America and offered his sword in the service of liberty. In 1942 another Lafayette joins the American forces in another struggle for liberty. Today's Lafayette is a ship, the great liner built as the Normandie, now being transformed into a naval auxiliary.

The first Lafayette was a harbinger of victory in a troubled time. They have named the great French liner well, in the hope that she too will fight for the liberty that has been torn away from the land where she was built. May she prove, like her namesake, a harbinger of victory.

The Nation's Press

FOOD OUR STRONG SUIT (Springfield (Mass.) Republican) The housewives who fear a food shortage worry needlessly.

Our surplus wheat supply is so large that the United States would have enough all next year if not a single acre of wheat were grown the coming season. Total wheat supplies at this year-end are about 1,300,000,000 bushels and we consume annually about 700,000,000 bushels. Prior to the war of 1914-1918 the United States exported wheat in large quantities. Now we export none, except under lend-lease conditions.

Canned vegetables are abundant. The sugar situation is excellent. Says the Wall Street Journal: "Sugar delivered in the United States this year will total about 7.5 million tons. Actual consumption is estimated at 7.2 million. That will leave 600,000 tons (industrial users have big reserves) to be carried into 1942. Next year's supplies, excluding the Philippines, should be about 7.1 million tons, with the 600,000 carryover bringing the total to 7.7 million. Even if Hawaiian shipments were cut in half—slashed by 500,000 tons—the total amount would still be 7.2 million tons."

Heavy food shipments are going to Britain, but these leave sufficiency at home of dairy products, pork, and lard, and eggs. American farmers are raising more hogs than ever before, and even the hams of America are rising to the emergency. Cold storage stocks of eggs in October were 12 per cent above a year ago, and 18 per cent above the 1936-40 average.

If the United States should send an army abroad several millions strong, the soldiers would have to be fed. But, for the present, no American food is being shipped to the European continent, as food was shipped to France and Italy in 1917-1918, not only for our armies but for the native populations.

THE PURPOSE OF JAP AIR RAIDS (Chicago Tribune) Submarines have sunk ships off our Pacific coast and their presence is suspected in the neighborhood of Atlantic ports. The Pacific coast has had a succession of air raid alarms and practice blackouts. It seems to be established that on at least one occasion there were Japanese planes over California.

Unless the purpose of these raids is recognized they will be successful in hampering our war effort to a serious degree. Their purpose is distraction. The navy can be expected to protect shipping in coastal waters as elsewhere, but unless the submarine warfare off our coast becomes

Common Ground

"I speak the peace-world prayer. I give the sign of democracy. By God I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms." WALT WHITMAN.

NO SUCH THING AS IMMUTABLE PRINCIPLES SAYS CRITIC OF "COMMON GROUND"

A critic of this column says there are no such things as immutable principles which cannot be changed by the will of man.

It is of course difficult to reason or come to any understanding with a man who contends there is nothing but the changeable will of man from which to reason; that there are, in short, no principles, no laws, no rules, no standards of rightness that do not change.

Evidently this man believes that the law of gravity changes; that the law of action and reaction changes; that the axiom, that things that are equal to the same thing are equal to each other, changes; that men are not known by their fruits; that if men wanted to they could change the law that "sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust"; that knowing the truth does not make men free if man says it does not.

Of course, no one can write anything that will please a man who believes there are no immutable principles, no standards of goodness and rightness, except the changeable will of man. If there are no eternal principles, then Jesus did not know what he was talking about when he said, "Think not that I am come to destroy the law (immutable principles) or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill."

For verily I say unto you, till heaven and earth pass, one jot or one tittle, shall in no wise pass from the law till it is fulfilled."

Then Jefferson was wrong and did not know what he was talking about when he said, "all men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Then Jefferson was wrong when he said, "The God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time."

It is because too many people believe there are no eternal truths, no ever-lasting, unchangeable principles—in short no God, but the changeable will of man, as this critic contends—that we have retarded our progress and had ten years of the worst unemployment in our history.

If there be no immutable principles, as this critic says, then there can be nothing but laws established by force and compulsion. In short, there can be nothing but anarchy.

Yes, certainly there are immutable principles, laws, order, sequence, that happen in spite of the will of man.

It is these people who say there are no immutable principles who illustrate the danger of a little learning about which Pope spoke. They think that God was not wise enough to establish any laws and that they have to revise the eternal, immutable laws of God. No wonder we have confusion.

This critic is confused. He seems to think that because man's understanding of eternal, immutable laws change, that the laws themselves change. But man's changing conception of these immutable laws has nothing to do with their immutability.

LOYALTY OF UNION MEMBERS TO U. S.

Now that we are at war, the oath that some national labor organizations require their members to take should be of interest to every man who is loyal to our government.

Few people realize the divided loyalty labor unions require. I do not know the oath required from all members of all unions. I want to repeat the oath that the printers' union requires of its members. It is as follows:

"I will not allow my allegiance to the union, or the members thereof, to be interfered with by any other allegiance that I may now or hereafter owe to any other organization, social, religious, political, secret or otherwise."

Here we have a labor union requiring that members take an oath that puts the will of the labor union above the command of government, church and family.

It is little wonder that slacker printers stay on a picket line rather than go into a factory and help support the soldiers who defend our country, after they have been obliged to take an oath like the above.

And these same printers demand the right that they educate all the apprentices. It is evident from the oath they require that they are not at all qualified to direct the education of apprentices. Their motive is to put themselves above every other person and even the apprentices and their government.

It is time that people realized the dangers lurking back of organized labor. It is the same kind of principle that is back of Hitler and Stalin—their own personal advancement without any regard whatsoever to the rest of the workers.

more serious than seems likely from the naval resources of our enemies it will be a mistake to let public outcry divert too much naval strength from urgent tasks farther from our shores. Of the two divisions by the enemy the threat of air raids is the more dangerous, not because it threatens the greater damage, but because it may cause, as it is intended to cause, greater public outcry with consequent interruption of the real business of warfare.

The Pacific coast is nightly excited over the danger of air raids. The results of this excitement have been so unfortunate that Rep. Carl Hinshaw, elected from Los Angeles county, found it necessary to arise in congress the other day to suggest that the mayor of New York return to his home city and practice his blackouts there. The practice blackouts in southern California, Congressman Hinshaw said, have already resulted in the loss of between a million and a million and a half man hours of labor, a large part of it on defense production. Mr. Hinshaw's objection was well taken. It is not that the Pacific coast is free of danger from air raids. It is in danger of such raids, at least on a sporadic basis, but that danger must be weighed against the interruption of our military production.

It is no novelty by now that the civilian population must in modern war accept many of the risks which formerly were confined to the armed forces. Every sensible precaution which will lessen casualties in the event of air raids must be taken, but some risks must also be taken. The purpose of the raids, if they come, will not be primarily to kill civilians but to inspire terror and interrupt production. It will be playing the enemy's game to divert hundreds of thousands of tons of steel, for instance, to air raid shelters when that steel should be used for weapons to strike the enemy and make it impossible for him to raid California.

The plane factories and other centers of essential munitions manufacture should, of course, be moved as quickly as possible to those parts of the country which are secure against raids.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 6.—So now, and so help us all, they're going to exhumate the life and loves and legends of poor old Rudolph Valentino. It seems Victor Mature is headed for the top spot. Anyway, it's a spot, all right.

I haven't read the script, and I suppose it may be possible the Valentino story could be handled acceptably today as an astonishing document of a gilded and completely goofy era. Somehow, though, thinking of Vic Mature, with his sad eyes and masculine comph, I have a hunch the thing is going to be punched straight as belated glorification of a tragic hero.

OLD WIVES TALES

Rudolph Valentino has been dead 15 years, since Aug. 26, 1926. In that time a new generation has been hearing about him occasionally from elder sisters and parents and sighing spinsters—about how the Great Lover could have taken all the gals away from today's Boyers and Gables. They've heard (the youngsters) Valentino was a great actor, too, as well as a wondrous and mystery-shrouded figure in real life. And in testimony to these things they may have read something about that ghastly, stage-managed demonstration of mass hysteria when he died in New York. Also accounts of his visits of heavily veiled mystery women to the mausoleum each year—stunts arranged by a cemetery priest.

A couple of summers ago, when movies were in the dulllest of their doldrums, a local theater tossed out a silly clothes Adolphe Menjou wore and put in some old Valentinos. They did business, but not in the way the star would have chosen.

The first youngsters who attended came away whooping with derision and advising all their friends to get a load of this disinterested ham. In the 15 to 15 elapsed years, photography had improved a lot, and sound had brought realism to the screen. Direction had improved, as had writing, makeup and everything else. Likewise changed was the technique of romance. When Valentino wiggled his eyebrows, shrugged and tossed his graceful hands about, the customers laughed. They also snickered at Agnes Ayres, and at the silly clothes Adolphe Menjou wore. They like to die at some of the melodramatic and soppy subtleties.

LONG SINCE PAST

Even to Hollywood, Valentino is not a happy memory. He is the symbol of a long-lost era when a whooper-dooer movie cost maybe half a million dollars and could be counted on to bring back $3,000,000. It was his time when the average movie star was happy with $1,000 a week; a time when almost anybody could write a script, and when directors had not discovered they were important. If Valentino and his full-fledged fanatic fame were alive tonight, the swarthy ex-egitolo couldn't be shown as the wolf in a one-reeler of "Red Riding Hood" for less than $250,000.

Unless Hollywood is prepared to poke fun at itself and to smash the idolatry of a decade of ingenious moviegoers, offending some of them at the same time, it had better let sleeping lies lie. I'll bet if the new movie dares to include any actual clips from original Valentino movies, lots of old fans will write in to charge that the stuff has been satirized and that their Rudy never was so sorry.

However much the star was worshipped, people never were really kind to him. When he lay dying the New York Graphic, in a copy-right story, exposed the whole thing as a publicity stunt. Valentino had to die to prove his illness was a hoax, and his funeral was a brawl, with wild-eyed fans breaking windows.

People You Know

By Archer Fullingim

The day that Hitler invaded Poland and Britain declared war on Germany, Mrs. E. M. Montgomery knew, as most of you did, as she sat by the radio that the U. S. would eventually get into the war, and knowing that she knew her son would be in it. Yesterday her son came home from Dallas where he works for Magnolia and announced that he had enlisted in the navy. . . . Franklin taught school for two years at Skellytown after he was graduated from Rice Institute. His father has worked for Magnolia for many years.

Coach Odus Mitchell of Marshall sends his best regards to the Harvester basketball team which played and won under his tutelage last season. "How is our basketball team?" he asked. "I am sure they are going good." We (Marshall) will get going before long I think," he wrote. "I have played only four games, lost one by one point and one by two points, and we won the others by about 30 points." His bunch lost nearly every game last year, and some of them by 30 or 40 points.

"I suppose old Buck is all set for another year now. I am glad for him and the boys, too, that they beat Amarillo," the coach wrote.

If it seems to you that we have too much in this column about soldiers, marines, sailors, fliers, seamen and the boys, and the fact that the most important people in the world today and the most significant are members of the armed forces. . . . So with that said, I quote from an interesting letter from that great letter-writer, Thomas Dewey, a U. S. naval signalman stationed at Little Creek, Va. Dewey made me promise not to quote from his letters when he was home before Christmas, but I can't resist the naïveté of this excerpt and I am sure that you can't either: . . . "Well, I was on liberty the other night with a Limey (English sailor). Boy we had a time. He got talking too fast and so I said, 'Say, Bud, slow down so I can understand you. He said the people over here had more life in them than the people back home. I could hardly keep him away from me. He said he had seen three ships sunk from under him. He said that they got 14 days survivors leave every time their ship went out from under them. Well, so much for the Limey. Monday is payday and I guess I'll go throw a shoe."

THINK IT OVER, BOYS

War Secretary Stimson's debunking of the stories that the Japanese army invading the Philippines was made up of untrained boys has served as warning for the amateur admirals who have been screaming for the bombing of Tokyo, quick.

If the Japs are as thoroughly prepared for defense of their homeland as they were for offense against the Philippines, right down to the last detail of detail work, then the Japs may have anti-aircraft defenses and coast defenses that will make invasion of Nippon just as tough an assignment as an expeditionary force can be given.

Sunday School Lesson

SIMEON, DEVOUT AND RIGHT-

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D. Editor of Adver

This is a beautiful lesson. Its chief character is not the infant Jesus, but the saint in Israel, Simeon, to whom the parents brought the child Jesus to fulfill the ritual requirements of the Jewish law.

What a noble figure appears in the very brief description of Simeon! We are told that he was right when he said that he looked for what Luke called "the consolation of Israel," and that the Holy Spirit was upon him. Could anything greater be said of any man?

We know what it means to be righteous. A righteous man is true and honest in all his ways; there is no guile in his character or in his deeds for anything mean or shabby. Here is the foundation of everything that is truly worthwhile. No matter how beautiful a man's life may appear or what fine qualities he may possess, his life is like a building on a flimsy and unsound foundation unless he is fundamentally righteous. Simeon was righteous.

What does it mean to be devout? It means that one's life has a certain quality and direction. It is devoted to something. A man may be righteous, but his righteousness may move in a very narrow sphere. No great love or loyalty may dominate his thoughts and words and deeds, but the devout man is not so. Perhaps we have a very good description of him in the first Psalm, which tells of the man who is blessed by God, "who walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly." "In His law doth he meditate day and night." The devout man is thoughtful. He aspires always to a better knowledge of God and a greater strength to do God's will. Simeon was devout.

A righteous and devout priest, we versed in the Jewish Scriptures, would have found it impossible not to have his life filled with vision, and hope, and expectation. These Scriptures told of a Messiah who was to come, a great Savior and Deliverer, the glory of whose coming was described in rich and beautiful terms. All his life Simeon had lived in the devoutness of this hope, "looking for the consolation of Israel."

A strong spiritual conviction had developed in Simeon, some mystic words of God, that he should not be dead until he had seen "the Lord's Christ," this Messiah of his faith, his longing, and his expectation. When Joseph and Mary brought the child to Simeon, this same mystic feeling assured him that the day he had looked for had come. Glory filled his soul. Life had nothing greater to offer, and he poured out his soul to God in blessing and in that beautiful prayer which we call the Nunc Dimittis. Could there be anywhere, in a few simple words, a more adequate expression of the meaning of this hope of the Messiah and its fulfillment?

The greatest experiences of joy are touched with sorrow, and Simeon suggested something of the suffering as well as the glory and satisfaction of Mary through the coming mission of her Son. These words were among the things that Mary "kept and pondered in her heart" as she and Joseph returned to Galilee, prepared to do their part in the care and training of the child who grew and waxed strong, and who was filled with the wisdom and grace of God.

Surely the hearts of many parents may respond to this beautiful scene! And the hope of many who still look for the consolation of humanity, despite the sad and violent times, may be quickened anew. We know that the Lord Jesus, the Prince of Peace, has come, though the world has not recognized Him.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, Jan. 9.—All kinds of strange new tax proposals will be expected from the new Congress as potential producers of war revenue, but one that seems certain to receive more support than in the past is the idea of a general manufacturers' sales tax.

Experts on national taxation have splied away from this proposal in the past because of the difficulty of collection, the exemptions which would have to be granted, the belief that it has not been necessary, the reluctance to resort to more hidden taxes, the inflationary tendencies of a pyramided manufacturers' tax and finally the fact so many states are already relying on retail sales taxes as a principal source of income. The practical experience of the states with a retail sales tax shows it works, which is one of the main reasons for revival of the idea that the federal government should use the sales tax principle to a greater degree.

California's record is pointed to particularly. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1941, California collected $110 million in sales taxes. For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1942, the total may reach $130 million. If it does, the state indebtedness can be entirely wiped out and by June 30, 1943, the state director of finance estimates California might have a $50 million surplus.

Figures like that add a lot of fuel to the flames of the federal sales tax torch carriers. The federal government has assumed "This would include such non-defense expenditures as public welfare, grants for education, public health, old age and unemployment assistance and federal aid for peas," the states.

Two Brookings Institution research men, Henry P. Seidemann and Lewis H. Kimmel, have completed a study of this idea and they present the figure of $732 million which the federal government might have saved in the present fiscal year by permitting the state and local governments to assume these expenses during the war, and this figure does not include WPA appropriations.

Herbert Hoover at the beginning of the depression was a strong advocate of letting local government bear the relief burden. The financial condition of the state and municipal governments was so shaky, however, that this had to be abandoned and devolved to the federal government. The tendency has been all in the other direction. Federal government has assumed more and more of the local burden, reducing state and local governments to positions of less and less importance. In 1938 federal aid totaled $947 million—the principal items being $51 million for education, $249 million for charitable and humanitarian grants, $559 million for public works, $62 million for unemployment compensation and employment service.

UNSTRETCHED TRUTH

OPM officials are still afraid the general public had appreciated the seriousness of the continuance of the rubber shortage, in spite of the drastic nature of the tire rationing order. The reaction has been too much to the tune of, "Oh! It can't possibly be that bad." Or, "We may be a little short now, but things will get better before I need new tires next fall."

The rubber experts insist that this rubber rationing business is the McCoy. There is no Ickes gasoline shortage smell here, at all. It's a dead serious reality and they don't mean maybe.

Actual figures on the reserves of raw rubber now in the country, the tire stocks on hand and the Army's requirements for rubber are now considered military secrets and unpublished. But it is permissible to say that the visible rubber supply is only one-third sufficient to meet all demands. Military requirements being what they are, the poor civilians can figure for certain just

TEX'S TOPICS

By Tex Weeese

THERE were eight or ten of us sitting around the room drinking coffee, eating cracker and cheese snacks and fruit cake. . . . The conversation shifted soon to that inevitable topic wherever men get together these days—the war. . . . In this group were a lawyer, oil men, utility man, insurance broker, public relations man, merchant, and a couple of newspapermen. . . . For the most part, these men were taking turns mapping war strategy. . . . It was a most interesting discussion and while we listened until midnight as it was, nothing would have pleased us more than to have continued far into the morning.

One of the oil men came up with a good question. . . . He asks why England, now literally full of bombers and fighting planes, doesn't bomb the hell out of Germany proper and thus enable the Russians to smash the Nazis still harder than they now are smashing the Germans. . . . His thought that the German homeland is getting off with too little taste of actual war horror.

He believes there are many military objectives in the heart of Germany that are going untested. . . . He longs for grand scale air raids on Germany, and points out that at no time since the war began has there been any continuing bombing over Germany such as the Germans dealt out to England.

STILL another of the night's conferees came up with the belief that licking the Japanese will not lick Hitler, but licking Hitler will knock the Japs out in a hurry. . . . It was his idea that all the heat should first be turned on Germany and that with the fall of Hitler and the Nazis, Japan will be comparatively easy. . . . This man believes if the Allies do not take advantage of Hitler's weakness in the winter, that Hitler will push back into Russia again when spring comes. . . . It was pointed out that the German war machine now uses synthetic gasoline and oil. . . . The oil will not flow in the machines in cold weather.

That's why, he says, Russia is smacking the German army so hard now. . . . Unless the Allies act quickly, this man believes, warm weather will switch the tide back to the Nazis. . . . Our argument against this was that Hitler has plenty of warm weather in Libya where the British are doing the same thing to him in desert heat that the Russians are doing in sub-zero cold.

P. S. A beautiful discussion came to an abrupt end on the stroke of 12 when one fellow had to open his big trap and switch the subject to the relative merits and demerits of radio newscasters and commentators.

OUT OUR WAY

By J. R. WILLIAMS

THE ONLY THING OL' DAVE AINT DONE TO LOOK YOUNG AGAIN IS TO HAVE HIS FACE LIFTED! HE SEES HOW TH' YOUNG GUYS ARE GETTIN' TH' BIG JOBS AN' HE EVEN HANGS OUT WITH 'EM!

IF HE'S THAT AMBITIOUS, WHY DIDN'T HE DO SOMETHIN' ABOUT THAT BEFORE HE GOT A TURKEY NECK AND CANCERS IN HIS BROW?

WELL, THEM DAYS YOU HAD TO LOOK OLD TO GET ANY PLACE, AND JUST WHEN HE GOT SHRIVELED UP ENOUGH TO BE SOMEBODY, TH' TREND CHANGED!

Reapers Drop Exhibition Game 27-22

Coach C. P. McWright's Junior high Reapers dropped an exhibition game to Horace Mann Juniors yesterday afternoon in Amarillo by a 27 to 22 score.

Independents Beat Skellytown 37-10

Three Heiskells, two Mitchells, and an Irving made up Pampa's independent basketball team which last night defeated the Skellytown Independents 37 to 10.

BITS ABOUT BOWLING

National Tank of Pampa won two out of three games from Diamond Shop of Borger but Dr. Pepper of Pampa lost three straight to Schlitz of Borger in the Borger City Bowling league Wednesday night.

Schedule for the Pampa Junior high conference will be arranged at a meeting early next week and play will probably begin the following week.

Coach McWright's Reapers ran into a zone defense which had them baffled for a while. His kids missed a lot of shots but never quit trying.

Harvesters Win Two, Lose Three In New Mexico

Roswell Game Is Most Exciting

Eight tired but happy Harvester basketball players returned from a 1,000 mile trip through New Mexico Friday with a record of two wins and three defeats which brings their season's total up to six up and five down.

Clovis was the first foe of the Green and Gold. It was in this game that according to Coach Oscar Hinger "the Harvesters couldn't hit the broad side of a barn," losing by a score of 28-12.

After spending the night at Clovis, they left for Roswell. Soon after starting out of Portales the bus ran out of gas and consequently breakfast was postponed until 11 o'clock. The night was spent in a tourist court at Roswell.

The game at Roswell was vastly different from the one at Clovis. The Harvesters were leading 22-21 up until the last 30 seconds of play when Roswell sunk a field goal and froze the ball until the game was over. The game was played in a new gymnasium before a large crowd.

Bus Hits Snow

The long trek to Santa Fe was completed with a minimum of trouble including the bus almost getting stalled in the snow but finally managing to limp into Santa Fe at five miles per hour. The team put up for the night at the La Vargas Hotel. The next day was spent at the ski slide near Santa Fe where, although none of the boys had skis, Pat Flanagan took the heels off of his shoes and they served well enough.

In the game with Santa Fe High the Harvesters began to win their stride and were able to hit 31-21. Halter was high point man with 11 points. This game was on New Years Day.

Indians Treat Harvesters

The Santa Fe Indian School, next foe of the Harvesters put them up for the night and treated them royally, even to losing to the Pampans 47-22. It was in this game that Flanagan began to hit the basket, scoring 17 points. The boys agreed that the Indian school had the best team.

Raton's Tigers were the next scheduled foe of the Harvesters. Coach Hinger intended to go to Raton by way of Taos but the recent snow prevented this, so back down through Las Vegas and then north to Raton was the only solution.

In Raton, Flanagan pulled a "Price Brookfield" and scored another 17 points to lead the way to a 37-22 victory for the Harvesters.

On the entire trip the Harvesters won two, lost three, and scored 149 points to their opponents 114. This brings their season's total up to six wins, five defeats, and a total of 306 points to their opponents 281.

The trip was well organized with Miss Burge acting as amusement director, Tom Cox as conduct director, Wayne Ott as food administrator, and L. J. Halter in charge of lodging.

Intramural Sports

Forty players wound up the sophomore ping pong tournament Wednesday at noon after 84 games were played. Tommy Joe Atkins won the finals over Glenn Coats both of room 100, Coach Oscar Hinger said.

The junior-senior tournament will start with a ping Monday, January 12, while the sophomore volleyball tournament will also begin at that time. Junior-senior volleyball will start immediately after the ping pong tournament.

Awards will be given to the winners in volleyball, coach Hinger said. Room 217 in the junior-senior division and room 100 in the sophomore division lead in points.

Truth Is Principle Of Quill and Scroll

"Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make ye free" is the motto of the International Honor Society for High School Journalists, Quill and Scroll, with which members of Pampa High school were recently affiliated.

A group of high school journalism teachers more than 15 years ago, organized an honor society to recognize high school students for their writing achievements. It has since been a profitable organization in its effort to give recognition to outstanding students of journalism.

Quill and Scroll was founded April 10, 1926. There are 2500 chapters in the society and they are found in almost every state in the union, Hawaii, Alaska, Canada, England, New Zealand, and China. More than fifty thousand young journalists wear the world famous insignia.

Joe And Defense

Here's Joe that unassuming fellow back again. Now Joe doesn't work anywhere except on Saturdays. His folks give him a small allowance once in a while. Joe likes to have dates and good times just as well as any other fellow, but recently Joe heard the president say doing his part in the victorious movement by purchasing defense stamps from his home room president. Well, anyway Joe has the right idea. Even if he can't make a big dent in that group of billions he can do a little and if more guys and gals would do as Joe is doing it would help a lot.

'Death Takes A Holiday' Selected As Junior Play

Defense Stamps To Be Sold At Booth In Hall

Rating Of Rooms To Be On Chart

"Death Takes a Holiday," a three-act comedy by Alberto Casella, has been selected by Robert S. Ratcliffe, dramatics instructor, as the junior play. The play, a Broadway hit, will be presented in the Junior high school auditorium in February.

Try-outs for the play will be held at 3:15 and 7 o'clock Wednesday, and again at 7 o'clock Thursday to allow all junior students to try for parts in the play.

"I would like to see every member of the junior class try out," Mr. Ratcliffe said. "The play belongs to the junior class and it is necessary to have the cooperation of the entire class to make the play successful. No experience is necessary."

The plot of the play is built around Death, Prince Sirki, who suspends his duties as death for three days and takes the form of a mortal. During his stay, he falls in love with a girl and wants to take her back with him when he again assumes the character of Death. Thirteen characters, six girls and seven boys, will be chosen for the cast.

The characters are Alda, a slender woman of 28; Duke Lambert, a fair man of 45; Duchess Stephanie, a dark, mysterious woman; Princess of San Luca, fair and maternal; Baron Casarea, a bluff man of 75; Rhoda Penton, a handsome girl of 24; Corrado, a young man of 22; Eric Penton, an intelligent-looking Englishman; Grazia, a lovely girl of 18; Prince Sirki (shadow), a distinguished man of the world; Major Whitread, distinguished soldier of 40; Cora, a maid; and Fedele, a manservant.

Thought Stimulated As Students Ponder "How To Do Part"

"America is at war!" This news burst forth on a surprised Pampa High as well as a surprised United States.

Pampa High like every school, factory, and shop is ready to turn its interest toward the defense of our country.

This question "How can you aid in America's defense?" received the following answers:

R. L. Edmonson, "to cut down on taking girls' places or in other words to omit some luxuries."

Jean Chisholm, "Buy defense stamps and bonds."

Everyone can help in some way America's defense program. Students can save pencils, paper, chalk, everything that the average boy or girl wastes. You may take your girl walking instead of using the family car, and save the all important gasoline.

The American Red Cross has asked for fifty million dollars, you may help by joining. Each contribution no matter how small, may save a life in China or Britain. A bandage costs only one cent, by donating fifty cents to the Red Cross you may save many lives and much suffering. Students who can work together and follow orders may be of great service in coming years.

Pampa High Debaters To Attend Plainview College Tournament

Four Pampa High school debate teams, accompanied by Miss Pearl Garen, debate coach, will attend a debate tournament at Wayland College, Plainview, January 30.

The question is, Resolved: That the Federal government shall adopt the policy of equalization of national opportunity throughout the nation by means of annual grants throughout the various states for public elementary and secondary schools. This is the Texas question.

Two girls' teams and two boys' will debate both the negative and the positive sides of the question.

The winning team will receive a cup and medals will be awarded to winners in individual debates.

Debate teams have been practicing from 3 until 4 o'clock for the past week, Miss Garen said.

Electric Switches Are To Be Installed

Electric switch boxes which have been holding up shop work during the first semester are expected to arrive soon, Fred Brownlee, instructor, said.

The boxes which are the source of electricity for machine shop projects were shipped December 22, according to word received by Mr. Brownlee.

First Air Raid Drill To Be Next Week

How it feels to be a fugitive from an airplane bomb will be experienced by Pampa High school students as they dash for shelter next week when the first air raid drills are held.

Pupils should not be permitted to leave the building. When an alarm is sounded students should take their books and go into the halls where they should remain quietly until the all-clear sign is given. Teachers should not send pupils home.

Consolation: Teachers have to work on examinations too.

Semester Tests Are Scheduled For January 21

Exam Reviewing To Begin Monday

Into the wee hours of the morning the midnight oil will be seen burning in the various Pampa homes as students prepare for the great but dreaded semi-annual affair. Final semester examinations will begin Wednesday, January 21, and will continue through Thursday, Mrs. Lou Roberts, registrar, has announced.

Students are requested to come to school only at the time of their scheduled examinations, Mrs. Roberts said.

"Examinations for the same department of work will be given at the same time," Mrs. Roberts said. The examination schedule will be announced next week.

School officials have requested school organizations to refrain from social activities during the next two weeks. The purpose of this is to give the students studying time before examinations.

Test reviews will begin Monday, January 12. Your teachers will then clear up doubtful points by answering your questions.

All students will report to home rooms when they return to school Monday, January 26. At this time enrollment for the second semester will begin.

Classes To Study Interest On Loans

Have you ever had to borrow money? If so did you know whether or you were getting a fair deal?

These questions could be answered by members of B. G. Gordon's advanced arithmetic classes, who have been studying interest for the past few weeks. Students are studying the different rates and rates of interest on loans.

Plans include visiting three loan firms and a study of rates of interest.

High School Paper Begins In June, 1829

More than a hundred years ago the smell of printers ink was in the air. The editor and the sponsor were busy editing and printing the first high school paper, which was printed June 21, 1829, in Boston Massachusetts by the Latin High school.

The paper was two large columns wide, and consisted entirely of editorials. It was approximately 10 inches by 14 inches in size.

The history of this paper was published in the December-January issue of the Quill and Scroll magazine.

Five Newspapers At Disposal Of Students

"The Sunday edition of The New York Times and The Christian Science Monitor are two out-of-state papers to which the library subscribes," Miss Frances Munson, librarian, said.

The library also receives daily the Amarillo Daily News, Pampa Daily News, and Dallas Morning News.

The purpose is to inform the students of worldly news according to the papers. The papers provide information also for history, English, and other subjects.

The students read the Pampa Daily News and Amarillo Daily News more than any other paper, Miss Munson said.

Jack and Charley are looking sorta blue lately. Could it be that Ruthie and Frances Shier are moving to Carlsbad? Could be.

Sagebrush

Well, now that old Kris Kringle has "come and went" here is your old friend the Sage back with a little artificial and real snow glistening in her hair to bring you a few grains of gossip to chuck over.

No, you weren't still feeling your Christmas spirit if you thought you saw double when you ran into Betty Lou Leonard, that was just another beautiful Leonard—Martha—Betty Lou's sister from Kansas City, Kans.

Band members felt the loss of their red hot drummer, Wiley Bunting, who joined the marines and left Saturday. Others who have enlisted in some branch of the service, who are former members of Pampa High school are Clyde Small, Troy Boyles, and Clarence Smiles.

Congratulations are in order for Corilla Coach Jack Davis, who was named to Miss Betty Lee Cozart, physical education teacher at Junior high school.

Elizabeth Roberts, back from the bright light of the city of Chicago, was wearing a Carman bracelet but she has failed so far to disclose the donor.

Another Carman bracelet with a locket to match is being worn by Virginia Lee West. St. Nick was certainly nice to more than one girl this year.

Gretchen Ann Bruton was playing the role of Robin Hood, so thought R. D. Redus the other day when Gretchen Ann was wearing the new green corduroy slacks recently.

Alma Watkins was feeling of Leslie Burges "soft-as-silk" cheek the other day. We wonder if she was trying to see what kind of after-shave lotion she was using.

Forrest Vaughn likes the Gurlies, that is, Mary, at least.

Our nomination for the average school girl is Joyce Wanner. Joyce wears skirts, sweaters, and big hair bows as well as anklets and oxfords, P. S. She makes most of her sweaters, too.

Colleen O'Grady was just bursting with pride the other day when she learned that her poem of the Amarillo-Pampa football game had been reprinted in the Amarillo Herald.

Full-length cotton hose seems to be making headway on the campus, especially since it has been so cold.

Mrs. Waters to Billy before she leaves for a date: "Well, goodbye, son. Be good and have a nice time."

Billy: "Well, Mother, make up your mind."

On the health chart posted in the front hall it seems that the shop homeroom has a grade of 90 per cent so maybe Pampa High school will produce a lot of good carpenters.

Ottis Davis hasn't lost any time in getting acquainted with the new girl, Billie Louise Crawford, from Hereford. Well, congratulations, Ottis, and welcome to our school, Billie Louise.

By this time next week the Sage hopes that you all know who the most beautiful girl is. So, so long for now as I have to go out and stuff the ballot box.

Registrar Asks For Pupils' Credit Books

All credit books (little red books) containing the credits and grade points for each year the students have been in high school should be turned in to the office as soon as possible, Mrs. Lou Roberts, registrar, announced this week.

"These books should be turned in to me so that the credits earned this semester can be recorded before the beginning of next semester, as the books will be given to the students to add them in their enrolling at that time," Mrs. Roberts stated.

If the books are lost 10 cents will be charged to gain another book.

Dorace Caldwell Named Little Harvester Editor

Dorace Jean served on the junior high school staff as feature editor, (Dick Manry) for two years, and later became a reporter on the Little Harvester. Dorace proved her ability to act last year in the one act play "Happy Journey," in which she played the part of Caroline Kirby.

Dorace Jean was named assistant-editor of the Little Harvester last semester, a position she maintained until her present one.

She has a scholastic rating of 97 at the present time and was salutatorian when graduated from junior high school. The West Texas Scholastic Press Clinic elected her as vice-president at their annual meeting in November. She is secretary of the junior class and vice-president of Quill and Scroll, honorary journalism organization.

Definitions Of War Words Published For Sophomores

Do you know what you are talking about when you use a big word? Here are some "big words" used in the newspapers pertaining to the war and their definitions. There are many definitions of various words but below are some, which are constantly used.

Abrogate—to deny, collect. Cache—a hiding place for food or supplies.

Distraction—anything that draws away the attention.

Eliminate—to cast out; remove.

Communicate—an official report of news or intelligence, as published in time of war.

Dispensary—a place where medicines are made up.

Augment—to increase; enlarge.

Furlough—leave of absence for a soldier.

Belligerent—waging war; warlike.

Minimize—to reduce to a small portion.

Leathernecks—marines.

Sabotage—to move an army.

Interference with government activities in time of emergency.

Principal Speaks At Woodrow Wilson

"Tightening the Belts" is the subject on which Principal D. F. Osborne spoke before the Woodrow Wilson Parent-Teacher's association Thursday afternoon.

Ways and things we can do to help conserve our resources and materials that will be useful in winning the war was especially stressed by Principal Osborne.

Another point stressed was the comparing of the wages of one hour of labor in the United States to that of other countries.

"One hour of labor in the United States will purchase at least four times as much in groceries and in rent as in Germany, nine times as much as in Russia, and if we want to keep our standards of living at our present high level we must learn to cooperate for the common good during war time and probably even more during the period of depression following the war," Mr. Osborne asserted.

Bible Class To Learn Philosophy Of Living

Have you ever wondered what students do in Bible class? The students are writing themes and selecting a hundred verses of scripture, which explain to them the best philosophy of living. Rev. Newton Starns, Bible teacher announced.

Bible students have five subjects from which to choose: These are the Patriarchal Period, Life of Moses, Life of David, Life of Saul or Modern Message of the Psalms.

Bible students are selecting a hundred verses of scripture from the Old Testament, that could be applied to our lives.

New Stamp Campaign Is Begun By Council

"A stamp a week" is the motto of the Pampa High School Student Council.

A drive is being launched by the Student Council to have every student buy at least one stamp each week. The home rooms will get the credit but the stamps will not be checked out to home room presidents. The presidents will take down the amount the students wish to buy and get the exact amount instead of checking out uncertain amounts.

The defense bank will be set up in the front hall. The bank will be open from 8:30 to 8:45, 30 minutes at noon, and from 3 o'clock until 3:15.

Bergin, Leonard And Cline Chosen School Beauties

Other Personalities To Be Chosen Soon

Betty Lou Leonard, Charlotte Cline, and Colleen Bergin are three of the happiest girls in high school. They were nominated from more than 400 girls in school. It was formerly announced that there would be eight girls chosen but these three had such a majority of the votes of the student body that it was impossible to have more than three. A group of local business men will compose the judges who will choose the most beautiful girl of these three.

Brunettes seem to be the favorites with the majority of the students; as all three are brunettes. Versatile Betty Lou, who is a junior, not only is beautiful but she also has an outstanding personality. She has gone to school in Pampa for two years and has made many friends during that time. She likes red and chocolates.

She prefers blue, sweaters and d skirts, and ice cream. Colleen Bergin. She hates spinach so she can't attribute her beauty to eating fish spinach when she was little. The youngest of the trio of beauties, Colleen is only 14. She has gone to school in Pampa off and on ever since she started to school. She is a sophomore and was one of the football queen's attendants.

A newcomer to Pampa high who has made a name for herself is Charlotte Cline. Skirts and sweaters are also "colossal" in her opinion. Her beautiful black hair is even more beautiful whenever she wears her favorite color, red. She loves to eat everything but still has an attractive figure. When told that she had been elected she exclaimed, "Oh that's wonderful!"

"The girl chosen from this group will have a full-page picture in the annual. Other personalities who will have full-page pictures in the annual are the Personality Queen, Best All-Around Boy, and the Boy and Girl Most Likely to Succeed. The Personality Queen and the Best All-Around Boy will be elected next Wednesday in home room. The characteristics that are to be considered in the selection of the Personality Queen are her personality, how well she makes friends, and how well she gets along with people. Characteristics in the Best All-Around Boy to be taken into consideration are his leadership ability, character, how well he makes friends, what he has done to help the school, cleanliness, and other good habits.

Air Raid Conduct Rules Are Set Down

What should students and teachers do in case of an air-raid? Is it so absurd that Pampa would be subject to an air-raid? To the west and south of our city we have oil storage tanks, oil wells, and carbon black plants; and to the east we find the Danziger refinery, all of which would be possible objectives for an air-raid.

If attacked observe:

1. You should not under any circumstances leave your school building. It is more dangerous to be in the streets than in the school because of flying splinters and rocks.

2. In the classroom, go on with study to prevent wild panic and hysteria.

3. Teachers should not allow students to leave the room during the attack. All exits of the building should be locked of similar precautions taken to prevent students from leaving building.

4. If attacked while attending assembly, pupils should be directed to rooms to prevent mass casualties.

5. Keep cool and calm.

Commercial Classes Study War Problems

Could all the countries in the world be self-sustaining if the trade of the whole world should suddenly cease?

This question and other vitally important ones are the subject of study in the commercial geography classes, Miss Ruby Foster is the teacher.

The shortage of rubber in the United States is due to the fact that all the rubber plantations are in the center of the war zone. If they are captured by the enemy Americans would be empty handed except for the synthetic rubber that a few American rubber companies are manufacturing. This form of rubber is not yet up to standard students learn.

Physics Class Orders New Scientific Films

Scientific films, which will coincide with the material now being studied in the physics class have been ordered and will be shown to the students each Friday until the last of April, Miss Lorraine Bruce, physics teacher, stated.

The pictures will consist of the following subjects: Liquid air, water power, steam power, aluminum, fabricating process, aluminum mine to metal, transportation, ocean liners, and simple machines.

The physics class has now completed the coefficient of linear expansion, computed from iron, copper, glass, and aluminum. To compute the expansion of these various materials, a rod of one of these metals is placed in a jacket and heated by the use of steam.

Meeting Is Attended By Sone In Austin

State Superintendent L. A. Woods called a special meeting of all school superintendents for Jan. 8 to be held at Austin. The main topic of discussion was "Conservation of Natural Resources."

Superintendents from all over Texas attended the meeting.

Those going from this district were L. L. Sone, superintendent of Pampa schools; Mr. McIntosh, superintendent of Borger schools; Chester Strickland, superintendent of White Deer schools, and W. E. Weathered, county superintendent.
