Ickes Asks That Panhandle Be Given Increase In Allowable But Culberson, Sadler Refuse

Opposition to a proposal by Federal Oil Coordinator Harold I. Ickes that Texas Panhandle district crude production be increased grew from one member of the Texas Railroad commission to a majority of the state oil regulatory agency today, according to an Associated Press report.

Member Jerry Sadler of the commission returned to Austin to agree with his colleague Olin Culberson that Ickes' proposal was unfeasible. Commission Chairman Ernest O. Thompson was out of the city.

Culberson asserted that Panhandle crude was not aviation grade by Ickes' own standards and added that if his suggestion did not meet needs outlined by Ickes that the coordinator increase his recommendation of 1,124 barrels daily statewide production for Texas.

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Wide World War Analyst

Some hope that India might still be persuaded to accept the offer of dominion status was injected into the crisis today by British Envoy Sir Stafford Cripps, who announced in New Delhi that "with good will we may be able to solve the difficulties."

Thus, the world has an eleventh hour reprieve from a possible tragedy, which would be as much military as political. In view of the danger of failure to reach agreement many readers are asking what is likely to happen if that unhappy position is reached. Well, the answer to that is rather a tall order to fill, especially when we are talking about a country so inflammable as India, but there are some things which stand out starkly. For instance:

Since the Indian Nationalists have made cooperation with Britain in the war effort dependent on solution of their claim for independence, they presumably would return to passive resistance. This would create a grave weakness in one of the most important Allied bases.

Non-cooperation would cut down the number of native troops available to Britain to stand off invasion. Moreover, it might affect the war industries—and India is one of the great and strategically situated arsenals of the United Nations.

All this naturally would encourage the Japanese to try invasion of India, and they need mighty little encouragement. Should they be successful it would create the possibility of a junction between them and Hitler in the Middle East—a nasty situation for the Allies.

In short, it would represent a set-back of unpredictable proportions to the Allies, and a corresponding victory for the Axis.

Several readers of this column are asking whether there is danger of a revolution in India. I should say that the chances are against any widespread revolt so long as Gandhi retains his grip on his vast following. He is against the use of force in any form.

Of course, in a country as vast as India, with a population of 390,000,000, there is always possibility of trouble in one place or another. In this connection one recalls that on March 10 Mohammed Ali Jinnah, president of the All-India Muslim league, announced that if Britain's proposals were detrimental to Moslem interests, there would be a Moslem "revolt." His statement was widely regarded in London as being made in deadly earnest.

My observation is that the most troublesome spot is in Bengal province, of which the great metropolis of Calcutta is the capital. Here lies most of the sedition which is to be found in India. It is unfortunate that Bengal is just across the bay from Burma, where the Japs are continuing their successes, since it is likely that Bengal would be the place they would try to land if they should attempt invasion. They naturally would hope that they would encounter slight resistance from the natives, and might even get help.

Another danger would be along the northwest frontier, up to the Khyber Pass, from the wild tribesmen. The Nazis have been working on these barbaric warriors, who are all set to take advantage of any trouble in India for an attack on the frontier settlements.

A brighter side is presented by the native princes, whose peoples constitute close to a quarter of India's population, as they might be expected to stand solidly with Britain. As a matter of fact, these vastly rich potentates undoubtedly would be happy to escape the establishment of dominion status in British India. Many of them are virtually absolute rulers, so far as concerns their internal affairs, and have the power of life and death over their subjects. Democracy wouldn't please a lot of them, although some of the great princes are very liberal and progressive.

One also would expect the Sikhs, the great warrior race, to stand by the British. They total 4,335,000 and are among the world's most

Senator Opposes Business Aid Bill

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Senator Brown (D-Mich) predicted today that a large proportion of government loans for war production would be lost if a pending $100,000,000 small business aid bill was enacted.

He said the entire basis for government loans by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation as well as the proposed new small war plants corporation was changed by the pending measure.

"There are going to be heavy losses," Brown declared in an interview. "A large part of this new $100,000,000 fund will be lost."

When the RFC first began making loans to business, he recalled, congress ordered a policy of "full and adequate security." He said this later was liberalized to "reasonable assurance of repayment."

The senate bill, Brown said, authorized RFC loans "for any purpose deemed to be advantageous to the national defense" while loans to small plants and factories for war production "open the doors of the treasury."

Despite these criticisms, the Michigan senator said he was ready to go along with other sponsors of the measure approved by the senate committee on small business and banking and currency.

Texas Baptists To Give $40,000 Sunday

DALLAS, April 2 (AP)—Texas Baptists were called on today by Dr. W. W. Melton, executive secretary, to give $40,000 on Sunday for the relief of "hungry, suffering, freezing, starving people in war ravaged lands of Europe and Asia."

Dr. George W. Truett, Dallas, chairman of the Baptist world emergency committee which authorized a $300,000 appeal to all the churches of the Southern Baptist convention, said "The needs were so imperative that the foreign mission board has already sent forward sizable sums, at the committee's suggestion, in order to save human life, without further delay."

Dr. Melton said the call is more urgent because "The prolonged assault of Japan on China has deprived most of the country to direct poverty. Hundreds are dying daily of starvation and hundreds more of disease, due to lack of nourishment. Our missionaries have not escaped the pangs of hunger or the oppression of our foes."

In any event, as already stated, with peace-minded leaders like Gandhi in the saddle, there is no present reason to anticipate any widespread trouble.

Admiral Calls Axis Subs Worst Menace

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., April 2 (AP)—Rear Admiral M. E. Sims, commandant of the fifth naval district, said today that the activity of Axis submarines on the Atlantic seaboard was hitting "in a very vital spot," but declared that the Axis had "paid a terrible price in both submarines and men."

He described the submarine activity as "our worst menace" on the Atlantic seaboard at present and said it was perfectly simple for critics to sit in their homes and offices and "call our armed forces insufficient because they permit these submarines to sink so many tankers."

"These same citizens can, if they wish, criticize the Japanese inefficiency in permitting such a thing to happen."

All-Out Sub Campaign To Be Started

By ROY E. BLANCK
WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—America's anti-submarine campaign is being stepped up rapidly to meet an expected all-out summer drive by 300 to 400 U-boats, reliable sources said today.

The navy announced late yesterday that 28 Axis submarines had been sunk or presumed sunk by U. S. forces thus far. Naval observers said, however, that the rate of destruction was still too low to check the German drive. They gave this picture of the situation:

Germany had at the very least 128 ocean-going submarines before Dec. 7 and 180 more building for service by mid-summer. New evidence indicates that this figure is ultra-conservative, and salvaged parts of destroyed submarines show the Germans have developed very rapid methods of construction.

Although Germany has suffered heavy U-boat casualties thus far, the rate of sinking has not slowed the present U-boat campaign and would be of dubious effectiveness against a more intense drive.

Even so, the Germans have failed to divert U. S. naval strength from more vital war-fronts to form convoys in American waters—the second line in the ocean battle. The number of merchant craft sunk off the Atlantic and Caribbean coasts is approaching the 80 mark, but this rate might prove far more crippling in view of the tremendous ship-building program and development of land transportation facilities to bear some of the load.

The United States is making large increases in patrol forces, particularly in the air, and is developing new methods of locating and destroying U-boats.

Naval observers emphasized that while the battle of the American coast is far from won, it is almost far from lost. The real fight is just beginning.

Of the total of 28 Axis submarines announced sunk or presumed sunk, seven were in the Pacific.

Hemphill Gathers Scrap Iron, Steel

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
CANADIAN, April 2—The drive to collect scrap metal for defense projects is being sponsored in Hemphill county by the county war board, Triple-A committee, and the land use planning board, with E. E. Meek of Gageby as head of the general committee.

B. M. Bryant mailed 225 postal cards and John Stovall had letters sent from the Triple-A office to farmers in Hemphill county explaining the necessity and urging them to bring in all scrap iron and other metal no longer of use.

The plan as worked out is for farmers to take their scrap to the co-op grain and elevator in Canadian where metal will be sorted and different values weighed separately, a weight ticket being given each one bringing metal. When a carload has been assembled, it will be sold at market price, each one receiving the same price.

Anyone may sell direct to a junk dealer if they prefer.

Tuesday night, E. M. Bassett stated that 68,000 pounds had been received and weighed and the committee members are confident that there will be at least one carload by Saturday night when it is hoped the scrap will all be assembled and the drive completed.

CANADIAN, April 2—Rotarians were treated to a surprise at their weekly luncheon Tuesday when their Ann's arrived with a prepared program.

Mrs. Frank Phillips was toastmaster for the occasion. Mrs. E. H. Snyder gave the classification talk, "Doctor's Wife," and Mrs. S. E. Allison discussed the "Busyness of Rotarians." Both talks proved to be witty and humorous.

The ladies quartet, Misses W. A. Fite, E. M. Hooley, R. N. Matthews, and H. S. Wilbur, sang several numbers. A chorus composed of a score of Ann's entertained with group singing, with Mrs. J. M. Carpenter at the piano.

Frank Phillips is Rotary president, and E. H. Morris program chairman. Fifty enjoyed the occasion.

Houston Editor To Be Buried Today

HOUSTON, April 2 (AP)—Funeral services will be held at 5 p. m. today for M. E. (Memo) Foster, 71, widely known newspaper editor.

He died suddenly yesterday at his home while he was seated with his wife in their living room, preparing to listen to a radio program.

Memo was active in newspaper work until March, 1941, when he retired. Seven hundred persons attended a testimonial dinner in his honor.

Foster joined the Houston Post's staff at the age of 25. Three years later he was managing editor of the paper.

Prospering in oil ventures when the Spindletop field opened, he left the Post and founded the Houston Chronicle, working for 25 years as writer and business executive.

He sold the Chronicle in 1926, moved to California and later returned to Texas as editor of the Houston Press.

Foster gained national fame as a crusading journalist; his sharp attack upon the Ku Klux Klan was credited with bringing about the decline of that organization in Texas.

Survivors include his widow, two daughters, Mrs. Nell Masterson of New Orleans and Mrs. C. O. Lambert, Jr. of Salt Lake City, Utah; one brother, A. B. Foster of Houston; one niece, Mrs. Guy Blount of Beaumont; and three grandchildren.

Gray Tire Quota For April Set

Gray county's tire, tube, and re-tread quotas for April, announced today by the Gray County Rationing board, show that Uncle Sam is still wanting motorists to use re-treads.

The re-tread allotment, for both passenger and truck classes, totals 206, while the new tire quota in both divisions totals 121.

Trucks are still favored, as the quota for trucks and buses is 87 new tires as compared with only 34 new tires for passenger cars.

On tubes, the quota is 83 for trucks and buses, 76 for passenger cars.

Re-treads for passenger cars is 129, on trucks and buses 77.

Smart Not Guilty In Third Trial

DUMAS, April 2 (AP)—Charles Smart, charged with the slaying of Richard Jones in a Dalhart cafe May 8, 1940, was found innocent by a Moore county jury yesterday.

In the first trial, Smart, 29-year-old resident of Dalhart, was sentenced to life imprisonment but the case was reversed and a second trial, a year ago, resulted in a hung jury.

Lubbock Flying Field To Be Open Monday

LUBBOCK, April 2—In keeping with the nation's observance of Army Day, the large new Lubbock Army Flying school here will hold open house for south plains visitors from 1 to 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, April 6. Col. Thomas L. Gilbert, commanding officer, announced today.

The general public is invited, but because of the army's normal wartime precautions, visitors cannot be permitted to bring cameras onto the post, Col. Gilbert said.

During the afternoon flight training of the school's cadet classes will go on uninterrupted, and visitors may observe the training in progress. Several types of air corps training planes will be exhibited.

Col. Gilbert pointed out that in the near future there will be a formal dedication of the new field, to which the public will also be invited.

CAN'T KEEP GRANDMA IN HER CHAIR

She's as Lively as a Youngster—Now her Backache is better

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 quarts a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, migraines, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, indigestion and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

War Sweeps Into Jungles of Australia's New Guinea

War shattered the paradise of head-hunting, spear-throwing, cannibalistic natives in the practically impassable interior of New Guinea when Jap invaders plunged through their volcanic mountains and swampy jungles. Map portrays the difficult terrain of the Australian mandated section of the island, into whose high, cool mountainous regions the white man only in recent years had dared to venture in search of hidden gold and other untapped resources.

Taft Proposes War Profit Ceiling Board

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Senator Taft (R.-Ohio) proposed today creation of a board to fix ceilings on war profits, while administration leaders moved to compromise a 6 per cent profit limitation inserted by the house in a pending military appropriations bill.

Taft told reporters he had little doubt that the senate appropriations committee would strike the house amendment out of the $18,301,000,000 military measure. However, Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board and army and navy officials were working on a substitute which they planned to present to the committee.

Nelson was reported to have told the committee yesterday that flat limitation was unworkable. Agreeing with Nelson's conclusion, Taft said he was drafting an amendment which would set up a board of army, navy and war production experts, charged with fixing the margin of profit that could be made on individual military items.

For instance, he said, this board could establish a fair profit for the manufacture of a medium tank or of a certain type of airplane, making all revenue above that amount returnable to the treasury.

Rotarians Hear Talk By Galloway

W. H. Galloway, head of diversified occupational training in Pampa High school, was the principal speaker at the Pampa Rotary club's regular weekly luncheon at noon yesterday.

Preceding Mr. Galloway's speech, Ernest W. Cabe, Jr., supervisor of instruction in the Pampa schools, gave a background talk on vocational courses in the schools.

First ballots for the election of seven new directors has been presented. The complete roster of the club has been prepared. A committee will put the leading 15 on a ballot and from the latter list the seven directors will be chosen.

Directors are to meet on July 1. Attendance at yesterday's luncheon was 36. Guests were John E. Hill, visiting Rotarian from Amarillo, and Clifford Braly, Pampa lawyer.

Dr. Hicks Issues Statement On His School Candidacy

A petition having been circulated and filed presenting me as a candidate for school trustee, then some of the petitioners having called on me to notify me of this action, I will have to admit I am not a volunteer for this very responsible office but, so to speak, a draftee.

Therefore, I have no platform, but do feel obligated to the signers of said petition, and the voters in general, to make a statement.

From a personal standpoint, I am vitally interested in our school system, as I have children who will be students in our schools soon and for sometime to come; and as a citizen of Pampa, I should be interested in our schools.

I am certainly interested in our schools having the highest scholastic standing it would be possible to attain, and this can be done if everyone will cooperate and personally interest themselves in the school system.

I feel that due to the national emergency we should operate our schools as conservatively as possible, keeping in mind that we are heavily burdened and will continue to be during these trying times.

Naturally, I am definitely interested in a well-planned health program in our schools.

I will say that if the citizens of the school district see fit to place me in this responsible office I will study our school problems and get familiar with the duties of a school trustee so that I may function with the present board with this one thing in mind: to have a school system of which we citizens will be proud. I will perform my duties as conscientiously and intelligently as I am able.

'Veteran' At 17 Enlists Again

HOUSTON, April 2 (AP)—At 17 years of age, Robert Neal Ely of McAllen, Tex., has been in two armed services and narrowly missed being killed in the Japanese attack on Hawaii.

The youth is believed to be the United States' youngest veteran of foreign wars.

Ely enlisted in the army in August, 1941, at Brownsville and was sent directly to the Schofield barracks in Hawaii. He said he told the recruiting officer he was 18.

As a conscientious and intelligently as I am able.

H. H. HICKS.

because "I knew I was too young to enlist."

Officers at Schofield barracks insisted on a birth certificate and the paper, sent by Ely's mother, Mrs. Irene Johnson of McAllen, revealed he was under-age.

He was given an honorable discharge and returned home. In the interim, however, the Japanese attacked Hawaii.

"I didn't even get a scratch, but less than a block from where I was standing guard, 700 men were killed by the attack at Wheeler field."

Yesterday Ely enlisted in the marine corps, which admits 17-year-olds.

Sergt. W. M. Feige of the recruiting station said he believed Ely was the youngest veteran in the United States. "To be a veteran of foreign wars," he said, "you must return to this country."

Whiskey Cures Heebie-Jeebies

BOSTON, April 2 (AP)—It is better to drink whiskey than water if you want to avoid the kind of heebie-jeebies which doctors call polyneuritis.

This was shown in a report today to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology by J. V. Lowry, W. H. Sebrell, F. S. Dart and L. L. Ashburn of the National Institute of Health, Bethesda, Maryland.

These heebie-jeebies, which run to anything from wobbly eyes to pink elephants, afflict chronic drinkers. Until a few years ago these woes were attributed to strong drink. Then doctors discovered that the cause was not alcohol but the fact that the hard drinkers didn't eat enough, especially not enough vitamin B-1. On a quart of whiskey a day they were cured simply by making them eat.

Now comes the pay-off. The National Health Institute doctors gave the heebie-jeeby diet to rats. Some of the animals were given water to drink with this deficient diet, some alcohol and some whiskey.

The animals all got the heebie-jeeby condition. But without exception the rats drinking only water got it earlier than their mates who drank either whiskey or alcohol.

The rate state of seeping pink could be prevented, no matter what they drank, by giving them vitamin B-1.

Oil Gets Preferred Rating On Railroads

CHICAGO, April 2 (AP)—Petroleum products and tank cars on western lines will receive preferred handling to assist in easing the oil crisis, C. E. Johnston, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives announced today following a meeting of the association.

"Problems in connection with the movement of great quantities of fuel oil from the Western and Southwestern states were discussed," Johnston reported, "while there was some apprehension regarding withdrawal of sufficient tank cars to fill eastern needs, we hope that car requirements may be reduced through speeding up of unloading of train-load lots of petroleum at eastern refineries so that cars may be returned promptly to originating lines."

Bride Of 10 Months Dies Mysteriously

NEW YORK, April 2 (AP)—Police looked today to an autopsy to explain the mysterious death of a 19-year-old bride of 10 months whose pajama-clad body was found bent over her half-filled bathtub with the head submerged.

A trail of blood from the bedroom to the bathroom of Mrs. Sylvia Stern's Bronx apartment, discovered when the young matron's mother, Mrs. Edith Gooding, found her dead yesterday, caused the homicide squad to list the death as "undecided."

Although Dr. Louis Lefkowitz, assistant medical examiner, said he believed death was from natural causes, he ordered the autopsy on finding a bruise inside Mrs. Stern's lower lip and another on her chin, both suffered before death.

Colorado had a tuberculosis death rate of 60.7 per 100,000 of the population during 1939.

Will Japs Strike at Siberia Next?

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The state department reported sharp skirmishes on the Philippines' Bataan peninsula today in the wake of the latest large-scale Japanese attack on the American-Filipino defenders there.

Enemy artillery and dive bombers shelled and bombed the defenders' positions but no general action followed yesterday's battle, a communique said.

American-Filipino commando troops have raided two Japanese bases on the southern Philippine island of Mindanao, and military observers predicted today that the invaders would be attacked frequently by the thousands of native fighters hidden in teak and ebony forests on the island.

One raid was on the hamlet of Digos, 23 miles south of the main Japanese base at Davao. A small force of U. S. troops burned 22 warehouses of food, gasoline, and Russia may be the next target of Jap attack if Tokyo seeks to eliminate Siberia as a potential United Nations base. Great distances involved in further thrusts at Australia, India, Hawaii or the Aleutians would put additional strain on Jap supply lines.

American-Filipino Troops Smash 22 Jap Warehouses

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—The state department reported sharp skirmishes on the Philippines' Bataan peninsula today in the wake of the latest large-scale Japanese attack on the American-Filipino defenders there.

Enemy artillery and dive bombers shelled and bombed the defenders' positions but no general action followed yesterday's battle, a communique said.

American-Filipino commando troops have raided two Japanese bases on the southern Philippine island of Mindanao, and military observers predicted today that the invaders would be attacked frequently by the thousands of native fighters hidden in teak and ebony forests on the island.

One raid was on the hamlet of Digos, 23 miles south of the main Japanese base at Davao. A small force of U. S. troops burned 22 warehouses of food, gasoline, and ammunition, destroyed military equipment, and escaped to the forest of Cotabato, some 10 miles to the west, without losing a man.

The supplies were believed to be part of the stores the Japanese are accumulating for the drive against New Guinea and Australia, and such raids may upset the enemy's timetable. Units engaged were identified in the army's communique yesterday as merely "our troops," with no indication of whether they were American or Filipino.

Meanwhile intermittent air attacks continued around the clock on the Manila bay harbor defenses, but the war department said the Japanese bombers were forced to fly at such altitudes their bombing was ineffective. At the same time the big guns of Fort Mills on Corregidor island engaged in a duel with Japanese batteries on the south shore of the bay.

The communique said neither bombing nor shelling inflicted damage on the forts.

Japanese broadcasts in Tokyo quoted imperial headquarters today as claiming that anti-aircraft batteries, an airfield, barracks, and other military establishments on Corregidor had been damaged beyond repair by repeated Japanese naval air attacks between March 24 and 31.

Some 250 miles west of Digos, across the Moro gulf, a native Suluh unit fought to the heart of the important Japanese-occupied city of Zamboanga in a surprise raid. The Suluh destroyed several machine-gun nests, inflicted heavy casualties, and withdrew unscathed, apparently to the forests just north of Zamboanga.

Mindanao has thousands of miles of rough country where native fighters can mass for sudden attacks—mountains, swamps, and forests of ironwood, rattan, teak, ebony, and juniper. The Lanao Moros of the island already have 10,000 bolomen sworn to the Koran to drive out the Japanese or die.

There will be two companies of the Texas Defense Guard in the parade, Company D of Pampa, commanded by Captain E. J. Dunigan, Jr., and Company B, Borger, whose commanding officer is Charlie Mal-sel.

Chickens Raid Victory Gardens At Hobbs

HOBBS, N. M., April 2. (AP)—Police Chief Sam Young, wearying in his struggle against sabotage, issued this final ultimatum: "If the owners of these saboteurs don't keep 'em penned up, the police department is going to roast some of them and send them to the army camps."

Chickens have been going all out in raids on Hobbs' Victory gardens.

siderable aerial reinforcements, threatening to challenge the air superiority won by United States and Australian fliers in the battle for the approaches to Australia.

A British broadcast said American and Aussie fighters had destroyed or crippled 96 Japanese planes with a loss of only 12 of their own since March 10.

Way of the stiff Allied defenses, Japanese planes made their first night attack on Darwin, Australia's north coast port, last night, after suffering heavy losses in previous daylight raids.

In the Philippine theater, a war department bulletin reported sharp skirmishes on Bataan peninsula in the wake of yesterday's big-scale assault, in which Japanese troops captured some American-Filipino outposts but failed to reach the main defense lines.

The war department said enemy artillery and dive-bombers attacked Lieut.-Gen. Johnathan W. Wainwright's Bataan positions and Japanese planes continued their round-the-clock assaults on fortresses in Manila Bay. However, the Japanese were forced to fly at such high altitudes that their bombing was ineffective.

Big guns on Fort Mills on Corregidor island duelled with Japanese batteries on the south shore of the bay.

On the critical Burma front, British headquarters reported no substantial change in the situation, indicating that the Japanese had been at least temporarily checked in their two-pointed drive from the south toward Mandalay and the Burma oil fields.

In India, Britain's special envoy, Sir Robert Cripps, revived hopes for a settlement of the all-important question of Indian self-rule, announcing that he would prolong negotiations into next week.

OPC Director To Address Oil Men

E. O. Buck, acting director of the Houston district of the Office of Petroleum Coordinator, will address a meeting of oil and gas producers and others directly or indirectly interested in the oil business at 8 p. m., April 8. Mr. Buck will speak from the Red and Gold room of the Amarillo hotel and will be introduced by Lawrence R. Hagy.

After a brief introduction, Mr. Buck will give an explanatory talk on federal regulatory orders at present governing the oil and gas business—how they are written, their purpose, and how to make application to obtain preference ratings for the same.

At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Buck will invite statements of the problems of the operators and any other questions concerning government orders, and it is suggested that if you have a question or questions, that you be prepared to state them as briefly as possible.

All producers, royalty owners, supply men and others interested in the oil and gas business are urged to attend.

Nazi Warships Sink Norwegian Vessels

STOCKHOLM, April 2. (AP)—German warships blocking the Skagerrak were declared today to have battered or sunk two and possibly four of 11 British-chartered Norwegian merchant ships which risked a daring dash to England from Gotenburg, Sweden, and although several others were reported turned back the possibility was held out that some might yet be at large and racing toward safety.

The merchantmen which slipped out of Gotenburg in a blinding snowstorm Tuesday night ran into a blockade of Nazi warcraft which had laid in wait for them since the Germans found themselves unable to seize control of the ships through action in the Swedish courts.

From the stories of fishermen and residents of the little coastal towns which shook with cannonading Tuesday night and yesterday, Swedish newspapers compiled this record of the fate of the ships:

Two of the merchantmen, the 12,358-ton whale oil ship Skytteren, and the 6,222-ton Buccaneer, were sunk by German gunfire almost as soon as they passed the three-mile territorial limit outside Gotenburg.

One ship went aground; one was seen burning at sea and perhaps sank; two, cut off from hope of escape, turned back into a Swedish port yesterday afternoon. At least two more were said to be returning, perhaps damaged.

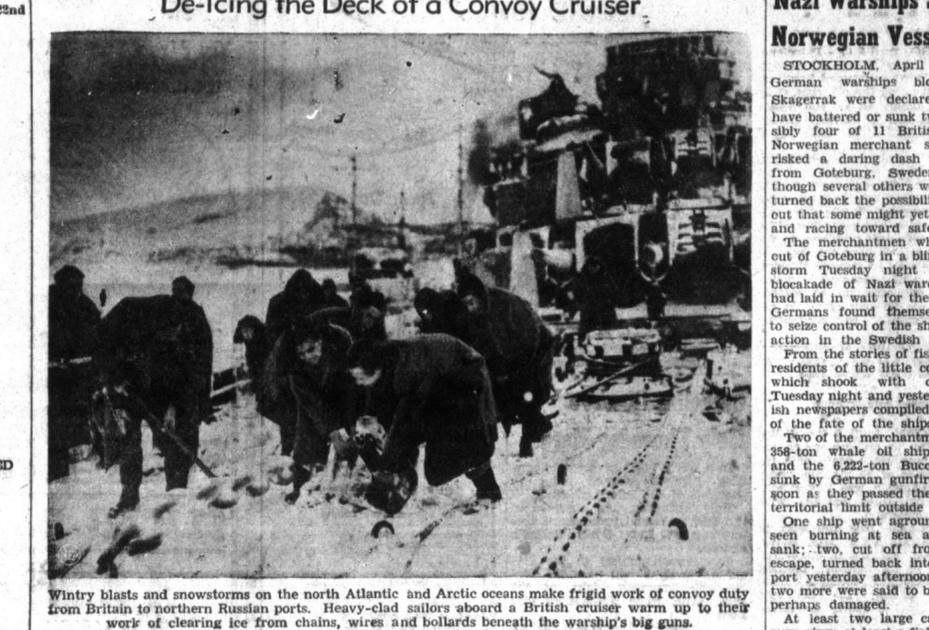

At least two large cargo vessels were given at least a fighting chance of breaking through. Fishermen said they were last seen yesterday, undamaged and racing for the open sea.

WASHINGTON, April 2. Disney Claims House Favors Sales Tax Bill

WASHINGTON, April 2 (AP)—Representative Disney (D-Okla.) said today a survey he had made showed that an overwhelming majority of the house would vote for a sales tax rather than for big increases in individual and corporation taxes proposed by the treasury.

Asserting that congress could not raise $7,000,000,000 from corporations and individuals, Disney said in a statement that "we will be compelled to go to a sales tax, much as we dislike it."

Disney, member of the House Ways and Means committee, which has been studying new sources of revenue for a month, said in his statement:

"I have made a general survey of the house which convinces me that an overwhelming majority will vote for a sales tax, rather than to increase income taxes six-fold in two years as would be the case under the treasury's recommendations on average incomes."

The 1941 tax bill trebled the average tax paid by low and middle income brackets and the administration's new proposals would double existing levies.

Secretary Morgenthau presented a $7,810,000,000 tax program to the committee March 3, with $3,000,000,000 to be obtained from individuals and $4,810,000,000 from corporations.

Disney said that he favored a graduated sales tax with high rates on luxuries, low rates on necessities, and "very low rates" on cheaper food and clothing. That system would be more difficult to administer than a straight percentage on all items but "would be fair," Disney said. He added that 22 states and Canada have a sales tax and it had been found easy to collect with no undue hardship such as a withholding tax like the treasury proposed would cause.

Formally charged with murdering Barber, his former employer, and wanted as suspect in the other two shootings, Piccone had been sought since Tuesday night. It was then that Barber and Potter had been killed.

Early today a state police car containing Trooper Perkins and companion officers was cruising in the vicinity of Otisville, a Genesee county town some 45 miles from here. A car drove by with its tail light out.

A few minutes later, Perkins said, the short-wave radio from headquarters instructed them to look for such a car as one suspected to be bearing Piccone and Roy Thorpe, 56, a neighbor of the Oxford victims who was believed being held as a hostage by the killer.

Trooper Perkins said the car was overtaken and stopped. Piccone was seized without a struggle and both he and Thorpe, whom Perkins described as "very nervous," were returned to Pontiac.

Trooper Perkins said that his youthful prisoner spoke little at the time of his arrest but admitted he had shot Barber because "he had something against him" and then had to kill Potter for fear that the latter might identify him.

"The confession went on to say that Thorpe was then seized and his car commandeered, Perkins said.

The third man to die, McKenzie, was shot on his farm yesterday afternoon because he had seen the license number of the automobile, Perkins said the young man told him.

Thorpe, a Pontiac defense worker, was a neighbor of Potter and Barber.

PAMPA SCRAP

the All-States Iron company of Dallas.

This company is buying the scrap metal from local dealers, not from individuals. They are shipping out of Pampa a total of 150 tons a week. The amount would be more if more cars were available for this purpose. Another handicap has been a lack of a sufficient number of machines used in loading the scrap. Now, however, these machines are easier to obtain as the government has given it a high priority defense rating.

In one lot alone, the Dallas firm is moving 2,500 tons from a location on West Third street.

Junk yards already are overflowing with huge piles of iron, which will be supplemented with the collection raised in the current drive.

Supt. L. L. Sone, chairman of the local Salvage-for-Victory campaign, said today that "lots of persons besides the students are taking an interest in the campaign and we expect to have a lot of scrap metal to turn in."

"This afternoon the trucks will make their final trips collecting the scrap. There will be two city and one county truck making the hauls. Then on tomorrow morning there will be four trucks that will move all the scrap metal collected at the various schools to the central location on the Junior High school campus.

"Friday afternoon, the committee headed by Charles Lamka will meet with the junk dealers and decide the final disposition of the material."

the Amarillo parade. Well they're going to be someone in Amarillo because Sheriff Cal Rose said that everybody he saw, and he knows everybody who has horses, was going to ride in the Pampa parade.

There will be 125 soldiers manning the guns in the artillery division of the second battalion, 39 in the anti-tank gun division, 39 in the band, 28 in battalion headquarters, and 10 in the medical corps, which will include an ambulance.

Persons who expect to be in the parade are urged to read the order of the parade which appears on this page to determine where they should go. The parade will assemble at 1:30 o'clock and begin moving at 3 o'clock.

Who has a beautiful horse, preferably white, for Rep. Ennis Favors, grand marshal, to ride in the parade? Maybe a horse of a different color would be better. Anyway, if you have a horse for the popular legislator, get in touch with him.

Here's what Frank King, chief of the Associated Press Bureau of Dallas, which sends out news by teletype to all papers in Texas, including the Panhandle, says about the Pampa parade: "The best angle (of the Pampa parade) is the 50 parents of boys on Bataan and Corregidor. I wonder if any town in the country the size of Pampa could muster 50 parents of boys on Bataan." Mr. King is at the top of the list among Texas newspapermen, and covered the King and Queen of England on their visit to America. So if he says the Bataan division in our parade is the best, then it is, and let's don't forget to cheer and cheer and cheer when the Bataan parents go by.

City Manager Steve Matthews announced that Cuyler street from Central park to the underpass would be cleared at noon Monday, and persons who park cars there in the morning are urged to move them by noon. If they are not moved the police will jack them up and tow them out. The street will be blocked after the cars cleared out.

Who have you got to thank for the Army Day parade and the mammoth demonstration of patriotism that is developing into? Well, Doug Wilson of Canadian in a letter to The News. He said, why doesn't Pampa have an Army Day? Well, Bill Fraser called a meeting of the good-will committee and others and said we ought to have an Army Day, and practically everybody agreed with him. Then he appointed a committee, including L. R. Franks and D. H. Coffey, and they got the ball to rolling.

The American Legion, always in the lead when stressing patriotism, is not neglecting calling attention to Army Day. J. M. Johnson of Canadian, 18th district American Legion commander, has issued a circular letter to all post commanders containing this paragraph: "April 6 is Army Day and we want every post in the district to hold appropriate meetings for this occasion, parades, and the like. This day should always have cooperation from the Legion at all times but especially so now. Each post is requested to definitely tie up with civilian defense and to give special effort at this time to making this so outstanding Army Day."

five days of deliberation, was reported to be detailed in reasons for the rejection.

It was understood to criticize the British proposal that direction of Indian defense remain entirely in British hands rather than Indian military men, and to question both the opinion which Britain would give certain provinces to remain outside the future Indian union and the representation of the Indian principalities in the future constitution-making body.

It was possible that the text of the resolution of rejection would not be published immediately. Thus, before it is brought into the open, the Cripps could devote further efforts to narrowing the difficulties he referred to in the press conference in which he announced delay of his departure, first scheduled for Monday.

The Congress party's decision not to turn down the Cripps offer without suggesting an alternative was considered a hopeful sign, especially as Cripps had indicated there might be a chance of compromise on the defense issue.

ments from the time it leaves Abilene.

The troops will set up display kitchens as soon as they arrive. Commanding officers will be Lt. Colonel Garrison, Major Angel, Warrent Officer McPherson, Adjutant, Lt. Ritchie.

Battery A of the 171st field artillery will man the big guns in the artillery unit.

The four companies of infantry will march in the parade followed by the artillery, anti-tank guns, machine gun crews, anti-aircraft, medical corps and other units. The regimental band will lead the entire group. The band will fall out when it reaches a point where it will be opposite the reviewing stand.

Major Atkinson and Lt. Compton left today to make further arrangements at Abilene.

Col George R. Barker of the Third Army Headquarters at San Antonio last Monday evening in a telephone conversation with Archer Fullington said that the army would be glad to send a battalion here for Army Day, and that it was the desire of President Roosevelt who is commander in chief of the army that units be sent to Army Day parades. Then next morning, Col. Barker confirmed his announcement of Monday in another telephone conversation with Mr. Fullington. Then he announced that he would send an army officer to Pampa to complete arrangements for encamping the troops here Sunday and Monday.

At the meeting yesterday in the city hall, Major Atkinson and Lt. Compton discussed the probable route of the parade, but the major emphasized that complete plans could not be made until the arrival of Lt. Col. Garrison.

After the meeting, the two army officers were accompanied on inspection tours of Recreation park and the high school grounds by Capt. E. J. Dunigan, Jr., of the Defense Guard, City Manager Steve Matthews, Garnet Reeves, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and others. The officers picked the practice field at Harvester park for their camping site. They then obtained permission to use the shower bath facilities of the high school.

Fighter planes also attacked objectives in Belgium and northern France.

In a dramatic side phase of the European conflict, at least two of 11 British-chartered Norwegian merchant ships which boldly attempted to run the German blockade from Sweden to England were given a fighting chance of breaking through.

Stockholm dispatches said Nazi warships guarding the Skagerrak between Norway and Denmark had crippled or sunk two and possibly four of the daring craft after they slipped out of Goteburg, Sweden.

Texan Saves Life Of Commanding Officer

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 2 (AP)—The navy today credited Aviation Chief Machinist Mate Hoyt Holbrook of El Paso, Tex., with the rescue of a fellow navy pilot, trapped under water in the crumpled wreckage of a crashed patrol bomber.

Holbrook brought his unconscious commander, Lt. Comdr. Francis R. Jones, to the surface after their bomber sank in shallow water off Oahu, Hawaii.

The 38-year-old Texan, superstiting at the U. S. naval hospital here from injuries suffered in the crash, explains casually that the rescue was "just one of those things."

"We had been on patrol duty," he said in an interview, "and something went wrong when we came in for a night landing. Before we knew what was happening, we hit the water.

"The plane skipped on a wave, then plummeted sharply to the bottom of the bay. Fortunately, the water was only 10 feet deep, so one of the wings was awash, but the rest of the plane was under water.

"Three of the men never had a chance—they were hopelessly trapped."

daughter. Magistrate Thomas Aurelio tries to stop them.

Now the girl cries: "I earn $18 a week and Rudy earns $35. We could live on that. But my parents, who are on home relief, take $16 of my money and they won't even buy me a pair of silk stockings."

As the parents refuse to withdraw their complaint, Judge Aurelio is forced to commit the girl to a home pending another hearing April 23. Magistrate Curran also has tried to talk the parents out of their stand, unavailingly.

The future looked black until Judge Aurelio casts out a ray of hope.

"Well," he says, with a meaningful glance at Rudy, "in about two months he and the girl will be of legal age and nothing can prevent them from spending 10 cents carfare and getting married in New Jersey.

"There is no escape from love," he pleads. "Love will find a way. It will be sinful to separate these two worldly-wise lovers."

For an hour and a half he begs the girl's parents to have a heart for their daughter and Rudy.

Don't miss the next installment of this engrossing love tale. Will the girl's parents relent? Will Rudy get the girl?

Woman Candidate Explains Views On School Operation

EDITOR'S NOTE: Mrs. V. P. Sheldon, candidate for school trustee in Saturday's Pampa Independent school district election, today issued the following statement on her views about school operation.

In my article last Monday it was stated that I believed that a high school graduate should have prerequisites of college entrance and that I also believed that the present vocational program should be expanded. At first thought it might seem that the two ideas are conflicting. However, upon examination it is seen that both things can be accomplished.

In Texas most colleges will admit a high school graduate having 15 credits, three of which must be in English, two in mathematics (algebra and plane geometry), and four in either history, civics, economics, and one of the natural sciences, or a foreign language. These are the very basic studies and to deprive the student of any one of them detracts from his education. Indeed, it is more important for the child who does not go on to college to have these subjects. The college student will have another opportunity to study these things.

That if the graduate can spell, punctuate, and properly construct a sentence the office routine can easily be mastered. Most machine shops, printing offices, etc., would rather have an apprentice with enough mathematical knowledge to figure out the problems encountered everyday than to have one who already knows how to turn the machine on, but who does not know how to figure.

There is no real reason for dropping either the fundamentals or the vocational subjects. The needs of the student who is going to college and the needs of the one who is not going to college, are so nearly alike that proper planning could result in a curriculum offering both things. It is often forgotten that the student who continues his education in college should also have a certain amount of vocational work. Unforeseen events may demand that college be temporarily given up and a living earned. It is also forgotten that the ability to use one's hands and the knowledge of how to do physical work will be an asset to the college graduate as well as to the high school graduate.

Have You Made Reservations?

BUFFALO, N. Y., April 2 (AP)—If Peter Gust Economou, host at the Park Lane hotel, doesn't find his wedding and party reservation book soon, he is afraid "something" is going to happen.

For without the book, which disappeared from his banquet rooms, Economou doesn't know how many reservations have been made, how many waiters to have on hand or what dishes to prepare.

Through newspaper advertisements he is asking his patrons: "If you have any reservations with us or know of anyone that has, please call us."

Canadian farms had a total of 5,882,000 hogs at the first of June, 1940, compared with 4,294,000 a year earlier.

PAMPA GOES OVER TOP IN BASEBALL CLUB DRIVE

Ratiff Sets April 7 Date For Training

When Pampans start out to do something, they do it in a big way. They over-subscribed the Red Cross, War Relief, Salvation Army, Boy Scout and Girl Scout quotas and last night they went over the top in a drive to raise money to purchase the Big Spring baseball franchise and move it to Pampa. With commitments, the drive total reached $5,200 up to last night. The goal was $5,000 in cash.

A telegram was sent to President Milton Price of the West Texas-New Mexico league last night stating:

DALLAS, April 2 (AP)—Membership of the West Texas-New Mexico league has been definitely determined and the schedule will open April 28 without change although Pampa has replaced Big Spring, President Milton Price announced today.

Pampa business men last night over-subscribed the quota necessary to purchase the Big Spring franchise. Price said that the league board of directors had given approval to the transfer contingent on last night's action so official approval of the change now is a mere formality.

The league will be made up of Amarillo, Lamesa, Pampa, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, and Borger, Texas, and Albuquerque and Clovis, New Mexico.

Pampa will take Big Spring's place in the schedule without a single change being necessary although there will be some increase in travel as a result of the transfer, Price said.

ing that Pampa had raised its quota and requesting transfer of the Big Spring franchise to Pampa.

Dick Ratiff of Big Spring, from whom the franchise was purchased and who came along with the franchise, arrived in Pampa yesterday afternoon, driving the team bus. The fact that the bus had arrived wasn't exactly news, but the fact that it was equipped with six nearly new tires certainly was news, and glad news to the stockholders.

Ratiff was named acting manager of the team at last night's meeting. He was instructed to send out a call for players to report for spring training at Road Runner park on April 7. Ratiff told the fans present that he had received contracts from Buck Huckabee, left-handed pitcher, Ed Janicki, young catcher, Don Lang, second baseman, and Walter Buckel, third baseman, from last year's Lamesa team which he purchased and moved to Big Spring. He has contracts out to four other members of the team. Five others are in the army or in defense industries and will not be available.

Eight contracts have been mailed to highly-recommended players and six rookies have written Ratiff that they're ready to report, on their own time and expense, for a trial.

"I'll have at least 20 in uniform by the time practice gets under way," Ratiff said.

Ratiff is no youngster and no LIST your property with M. P. Downs. He will find a buyer for you and handle all details.

Browns Might Inject Little Pepper Into League Race

By GAYLE TALBOT
TAMPA, Fla., April 2 (AP)—This is getaway week in the baseball training camps, and as the sun-tanned athletes hit the exhibition trail leading to opening day on April 14 there is talk of only one team that might possibly inject a little pepper into an otherwise unpromising Yankee-dominated American league. That club is the St. Louis Browns.

Every manager who has met the Browns this spring says they are a good, fast outfit that "might cause a lot of trouble." A couple of pilots, whose opinion the writer respects highly, say that Luke Sewell's outfit is a cinch to climb into the first division. It was one of the three teams in the American league to play last year's season after the other on day last season, the others being the Yankees and Washington.

Here is the order, then, in which the coming war-time campaign might wind up:

(1) New York, (2) Chicago, (3) Boston, (4) St. Louis, (5) Cleveland, (6) Detroit, (7) Washington, (8) Philadelphia.

The Yankees, winners last year by a lop-sided 17 games, are fundamentally so much better than any other team in the junior circuit that there is no real comparison. Sure, they haven't been looking like world champions this spring, so what? By mid-summer they will have some rival club owners pining secretly for a split season.

The Chicago White Sox, who were third last year with exactly a 500 average, appear to have the pitching to boost them up to second place this time, say about 25 games off the pace. If they make it, then the loud and persistent group which insists that Jimmy Dykes is the greatest manager in the world—not bar-rookie. He is 33 years old and doesn't care who knows it. He is married and has an 11-year-old daughter. He started his professional baseball career in 1927 when he played for Tyler in the old Lone Star league. Then he started to see the country. He was with Lubbock in 1928, Midland in 1929, Wichita Falls in 1930, Galveston in 1931, Akron, Ohio, in 1932, Williamsport, Pa., in 1933, Henderson in 1934, 1935 and 1936, managed Littlefoot's semi-pro team in 1937, Clovis, N. M., in 1938 and 1939, Amarillo in 1940, and Big Spring in 1941.

During all those years he was a catcher and he's still able to go through a full season behind the plate. He came out of retirement last season to play the final 28 games with Big Spring. Although not in condition he batted at a .265 clip. In 1940 he hit well over the coveted .300 mark.

The Oilers will appear in new grey uniforms trimmed in red with large name and numbers in red.

Stockholders in the club will be called to meet soon for election of permanent officers and to select a business manager. Ray McKernan as chairman and Jack Hanna as secretary have been guiding the drive for funds.

Cleaning the Cuff

The Yanks and Giants games will be aired again this season after being off last year. Press release from Duke's Add Penfield says wants to do that.

Governor J. Melville Broughton of North Carolina will "lend official dignity" to the opening of the National Badminton tournament today by batting out the first shuttlecock. He'd better not miss if he meets the 13 champions who will meet the the state collected $25,000 last year.

Fourth does not appear too high a goal for the Browns considering the quality of the opposition. Sewell has a pair of good-looking south paw rookie pitchers, Stan Ferrans and Frank Biscan, and another youngster named Vernon Stephens at short who might turn out to be the freshman of the year. The club, however, is very susceptible to the draft.

Cleveland has a popular new manager in 24-year-old Lou Boudreau, and the club is saturated with harmony, but that almost sums up the assets since the great Bob Feller climbed into navy blue, barring a possible find or two among his rookies, Lou is painfully short on pitching and catching.

Detroit has lost weight steadily since it won a pennant only two seasons ago, and with the departure of 222-pound Buck Newsom the other day the Tigers' ribs began to show sure enough. Del Baker scarcely has enough pitchers left to set up an inter-club game. Bill Richardson, the team's new shortstop from Kansas City, appears to be a jewel.

Washington's hopes, if any, were shot when Cecil Travis and Buddy Lewis went into the service. That was all the hitting the club had, and even if Newsom is retained he can't help the situation much unless they convert him into an outfielder for his batting punch.

The selection of Philadelphia to finish eighth is purely by instinct. It is the position the A's have won in five of the last seven years.

Sports Roundup
By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wife World Sports Columnist
NEW YORK, April 2—Green light day: Pacific Coast league season opens today, and maybe we'll see what effect the war will have on baseball crowds instead of just guessing. Anticipating a shortage of baseballs, as well as players and customers, the San Diego club will give two 25 cent defense stamps and a grandstand pass to each patron who returns a ball knocked into the stands. First acceptance of invitations to fight in Washington for the navy relief fund came from Steve Belleo and Al Nettlow of the Jacksonville, Fla., naval station. The Seaview club, where the P. G. A. tourney will be played, keeps a spray gun on every tree loaded with something to ward off those Jersey skaters.

Today's Guest Star
Shirley Povich, Washington Post: "We don't know whether it was Scythians or Conquistadors who first said, 'Be nice to the people you meet on the way up because you may have to meet 'em again on the way down.' Anyway, Buck Newsom could have used that tip."

Service Dept.
When the Giants and Indians played at Hattiesburg, Miss., the other day, Zeke Bonura sat on the New York bench and took a dozen balls and one of Dick Barilli's bats back to Camp Shelby with him. Don McNeill must have been pretty good as a tennis "good will ambassador" to South America. His new job in the navy intelligence department will take him right back there. Most of them are officers, including Capt. Mortimer Marks of the marines, who was captured at Guam, and Boob Newman, who was recently cited for rescuing a seaman who fell overboard from a destroyer.

Settled In Court
When Troy Gordon of Coffeyville, Kas., finished scoring and playing basketball games this season, he added up his own score and found the total was 123 games. He was official scorer of the local Y. M. C. A. league, refereed high school and "Y" games, coached a Sunday school team, played with an independent quintet and covered school and junior college games for the Coffeyville Journal. On his nights off he went to basketball games just for fun.

Shots and Shells
Freddie Fitzsimmons is planning a unique cooling system for his Flat-bush bowling emporium—and it won't be anything served in schooners. During the final game of the Iowa High school basketball tournament, a bald-headed customer rushed up to Lyle Quinn, tourney manager, and said, "This sure is a hair-raiser, isn't it?" New Jersey, which heard about a million dollar racing take before betting on horses was legalized a couple of years ago, has cut the estimate to $250,000 for 1942-43. With only the Freehold trotting track operating,

Wanted: Accurate Map, Showing Location Of Honeymoon Lane

BRENDA MARSHALL, honeymoon hunter.

By NEA Service
NEW YORK, April 2—Honey-moon trouble is hounding lovely Brenda Marshall, the Hollywood actress.

When she told about it recently, she was misty-eyed. Here's what happened:

Three days after she was married last July to Bill Holden, the actor, she received a telephone call from Warner Brothers studio and had to dash up to Canada immediately for the filming of "Captains of the Clouds." Three and a half weeks later she arrived back in Hollywood just as Bill left for location in Nevada.

Eight days later Bill returned, had an appendicitis attack the first day and was operated on. The day he was released, Brenda had an attack and was operated on immediately at the same hospital.

OOPS! STILL MORE BAD LUCK

When both patients recovered, Bill was called off to do a picture, which was immediately followed by work in a second picture.

Then Brenda had a relapse just as they were preparing to go on a trip into the desert.

Recovering, finally, her studio sent her to Washington for the President's Birthday Ball—then to New York for the opening of her picture.

Just when Bill arrived and they were making plans for their long-delayed honeymoon, there came the pay-off.

Brenda's bridegroom has been DRAFTED!

MEMO FOR RIGHT NOW: A soft ruffle to swath the neck and swish up a wardrobe for spring. These have a touch of color, too, and there's your answer to enhancing a basic dress of vibrant hue which you thought mightn't be so versatile as black. The "innocent" collar for a V-neck, right, is made of mousseline de soie, with a band of American garland embroidery in pastel pink, blue, and maize. The round-necked bit of ruffled net left, also has an inset floral decoration, bordering the close-tucked "V" in winsome profusion.

GLORIFYING YOURSELF

By ALICIA HART

In order to appreciate the outstanding style news of the current designers' openings which set American fashions for spring and summer, get yourself a pencil and draw two ice-cream cones, one above the other. There you have the perfect geometrical picture of the basic lines of the most different-looking silhouette that has been shown. It is the peg-top skirt silhouette—tough on oversized hips and thighs!

Slimmer dresses have been coming for some time, but until now they have been the kind that concentrated attention on the upper part of the figure, especially the bust and waistlines. Now the spotlight moves; the dress tends to conceal the top and accentuate the lower part of the body.

So if you want to start a really practical spring beauty regime, begin with your hips and thighs. If they're in proportion, or have only slight bulges in the wrong places, it's quite possible your new volunteer-for-victory activity will get them in proper shape. If they're too big all over, exercise, and more exercise is your answer.

HIPS AND STOMACH WILL BE BENEFITED

Swimming and skipping rope are excellent thigh-conditioners, and so is your shopping bicycle. For a workout in your own room, try rolling—simply lie on the floor, bend arms up comfortably, and over you go to the left; then roll back to where you started.

Keep it up for five or ten minutes. Now, this simple one. Lie on the floor with back relaxed and flat, never arched. Bring knees upward to chest, taking care not to move the torso. Repeat 15 or 20 times. These two will do a job for hips and thighs, and will keep your stomach flat too.

Mind Your Manners

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Is it good manners for a person to spread his bundles over an empty seat in a street car or bus?
2. If a child is too young to pay street car fare, should he be held on the lap of the grown-up accompanying him if the car becomes so crowded there are persons standing in the aisles?
3. When riding in another person's car should you make suggestions as to the route?
4. If a husband and wife are entertaining friends at dinner in a restaurant, should the hostess let the host give all the orders to the waiter?
5. Should one playing tennis on a clay court be sure that his shoes have no smooth rubber heels and no lift at the heel?

What would you do if—

You are playing golf with others and your game is not as good as theirs—

(a) Keep making excuses for your poor playing?

(b) Do the best you can and don't alibi?

Answers

1. No.
2. Yes.
3. Not unless the driver is a stranger in the city.
4. Yes.
5. Yes. Don't dig up the court.

Best "What Would You Do" solution—(b).

—BUY VICTORY BONDS—

Try a "toast stack" when breakfast interests lags. You can then quickly get a lot of nutriment into a small space. Stack up 4 slices of hot, buttered toast with fillings between, of jam or jelly, honey and brown sugar with cinnamon. Top with 3 slices broiled bacon and cut the stack in 3 slices, giving a piece of bacon to each slice.

AAU Diving And Swimming Meet Opens

By LOU BLACK
 NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 2 (AP)—With an eye on the first Pan-American Olympic committee insists will take place next November, more than 100 of the greatest swimmers and divers in this country anxiously awaited today the start of the three-day National A. A. U. championships in Yale's swank natatorium.

The lure of a probable trip to South America has provided an added incentive to the aquatic stars who have flocked here to compete for 11 titles, one more than usual. The victors are almost certain choices should the United States send a swimming team to Buenos Aires.

The cooperate to the limit, the A. A. U. swimming committee, headed by Larry Johnson of Boston, decided to add the 1500-meter race to the program for the first time, and to run it off as the sole event this afternoon even though it means extending the championship an extra day. The long grind occupies a feature spot in the South American games.

Originally, it was a Friday and Saturday meet.

For a change, Coach Bob Kipphut's mighty Yale squad which in recent weeks mopped up 15 of 22 individual and relay titles in the eastern and national collegiates, appears to be in for some punishing opposition. Even so, and in the face of entries from 32 other leading colleges and clubs, the sons of Eli are heavy favorites to win their first A. A. U. team championship.

The beautiful Yale water babies make their first title bid today when Rene Chouteau of St. Louis, Mo., the N. C. A. A. champ, goes out for the 1500-meter diadem. Most of the opposition to the Blue paddler, voted outstanding collegiate swimmer of the year, is expected to come from Otto Jaretek of the Medinah A. C., Chicago, the National A. A. U. 100 and 200-yard freestyle title-holder. Paul Herron, formerly of Stanford who is here chiefly to defend his 440-yard freestyle crown, and John MacLons of Philadelphia, an ex-Yale captain.

The program calls for the 2200-yard freestyle and breast stroke, 300-yard individual medley, 400-yard relay races and one-meter dive competition tomorrow.

On Saturday, the 100-yard freestyle, 150-yard back stroke, 440-yard freestyle, 300-yard medley and three-meter dive titles will be decided.

11 Matches On Wrestling Card Here Friday Night

Wrestling, the oldest sport in the world, has been added to the physical development program at Pampa High school and tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the high school gymnasium, finals in the elimination contest will be staged. Eleven matches will be on the program. Admission will be 15 cents for students and 30 cents for adults.

The boys in high school wrestle under amateur rules which is the employing of no body-punishing holds or bone-breaking maneuvers. Amateur wrestling depends on leverage and requires much skill, strength, balance, and endurance.

Wrestling dates back 5,000 years. The history of wrestling has been handed down in stone carvings which show many of the present day amateur holds.

Coach Oscar Hinger has been instructing 135 boys in the art of wrestling. Fifty of the boys decided to compete in a tournament. Eliminations have been conducted during the week until competition is down to two boys in each weight. There will be two divisions in the tournament, one for juniors and seniors and the other for sophomores.

Pairings for the tournament follow:

Cotton-Eyed Joe Knows His Fish In Creeks Of Texas

By DAVE CHEAVENS
 Associated Press Staff
 Cotton-eyed Joe is a vicious old cuss, but he is the fellow to see if you want to get your mind off the war for a while.

Joe's ugly mug has never been featured in the state department of public safety's weekly bulletin advertising the wanted or missing, although he is known under several aliases. At the various forks of the creek over Texas he is referred to as bowfin, grindle, cypress trout or scaly cat. Old Joe is a fish.

Although the state law says you may not fish at all with artificial baits during March and April, or for certain game fish such as bass and crappie with any bait, there is all the sport you want during closed season on the so-called rough fish that thrive in Texas waters.

Best-known among them is the carp. This lovely mud-sucker deserves a chapter to himself, but not today. One of the gamiest of all the fishes is the grindle, but he is not so classified in the statutes. You can fish for him anytime. He abounds in East and Central Texas waters, especially in such streams as the Trinity, the Neches, Angelina and their smaller tributaries.

Old Joe is a prehistoric monster, a prehistoric relic who behaves just as if he did not inhabit a civilized world.

The grindle nurses a perpetual grudge. Beyond the pale, there is no known state or county law to protect him from fishermen. Probably here should be a law to protect fishermen from grindles. This predator is shaped like a torpedo, and acts like it.

Uneducated and devoid of knowledge in international ethics, the grindle will take any bait offered. Watch him, or he'll snatch that cane pole or casting rod right out of your hands. He strikes without warning. The grindle has an insatiable appetite as well as a nasty disposition. There is no telling how many small game fish Old Joe will destroy in a year either in hunger or just because he is downright cussed and strong and fast enough to get away with it. You will be pleasuring admires the Sweetwater flash so much he named his young son for the former T. C. U. passing wizard.

The Aggies believe Leo Daniels will take Derrace Moser's place in '42, will be an all-time Cadet immortal. Wilbur Evans of the Austin American sums up Texas' 1942 football prospects thusly: "Passing could be better, but you can count on speed and power and expert defensive play."

Owls Fly High But Get Wings Clipped

AUSTIN, April 2 (AP)—The tenure of the Rice Owls as leaders of the Southwest conference baseball race was short and sweet.

Southern Methodist beat Baylor A. & M. and Rice trimmed Baylor Tuesday and that put the Owls on top.

But yesterday the University of Texas Longhorns go back into the groove by trouncing Rice 9-6 and that sent A. & M. back into the lead.

Rice could gain the top rung again today, however, by downing Texas in the second game of the series.

The Aggies will be playing Texas Christian at Fort Worth to finish out the schedule for the week.

Texas capitalized on walks and errors to beat Rice in yesterday's game. The Owls outthit the Longhorns.

SPORTS IN WARTIME

By RICHARD WEST
 Associated Press Staff
 Good ole war: How'd you like to have a cute little blonde for a caddy? Well, an Eastern golf course, finding it hard to get boys, is hiring girls. That ought to get a guy's mind off his score, anyway.

Exclusive: Don't be surprised if Jim St. Clair, S. M. U.'s physical education director, returns to his old basketball coach to fill the spot vacated by White Bacca, now in the navy. St. Clair brought the Ponies their only basketball title in 1937.

Fightin' men: Paul Hancock, former Rice Institute griddle, is in the air corps and is supposed to have landed in Australia not long ago, one of the first American flyers who arrived way down under.

Tom "Bunk" Ater, the Texas Golden Glover who hits like a trip-hammer, may go into the navy as a boxing instructor. Lefty Bumpers, star Texas Aggie hurler of recent years, now throws 'em for the Henry Field (Army) Naval Air Cadets.

Linnon Blackmon, handsome Abilene boy who was a fullback at Texas Christian, at last reports was a lieutenant in the air corps.

Bo Cohenour, Julian Garrett and Hal Jungnickel, tank-like linemen on Texas' great 1941 team, work in the Orange shipyards.

Quotable Quotes: "If the conference fathers do not vote to let (Southwest) varsity teams use freshmen next fall, then Baylor may win the enough capable men to have a team."—Jinx Tucker, Waco News-Tribune.

While some of his professional associates held out for salaries ranging from $17,000 to $40,000 a year, Red Davis, former Houston third baseman who finished the 1941 season with the New York Giants, gave up baseball for the time being, hoping to become a bombardier at the Savannah, Ga., air base. Says Davis: "I want to learn to throw strikes at those Japs with bombs instead of wild throws to first base."

Drouth on the Track: Jack Linnhan, S. M. U. track captain, laments "approximately 1,000 male students" in an article in the S. M. U. school paper, bemoaning the fact that only 10 men are out for the Pony track team when "many are seen in school with much ability." It seems that a lot of athletes capable of making the Mustang track team are playing with their fraternities in intramurals.

Grid Grabs: A communique from an unimpeachable source says that Gene Hill, passing wizard for the champion Coyotes of Wichita Falls in '41, is going to Texas. You coaches who were ready to lay it on the line for Jack White, scrapping Paris guard, can skip it; they are ready in Baylor.

Bob Seymour, former Oklahoma back, thinks Sammy Baugh is tops with the pigskin,

Some well-informed country folks know the grindle not as cotton-eyed Joe, but simply as the cotton fish. The reason for this is that the flesh is somewhat fluffy, and gets fluffier the longer the fish stays out of water. But your correspondent once fished with a negro guide in East Texas who was given his choice of fish from a heavy string. On it were several nice bass, two or three white perch, several Georgia bluegills and cherry bream, and a three-pound grindle that had come near wrecking a good fly rod.

The guide thoughtfully selected Old Joe. He called Joe a scaly cat. He said he didn't mind the meat being softish because he and his old woman had lost their chewing tools.

Personally, your correspondent would not make even a tentative recommendation that you carry your grindle fishing as far as the frying pan. A grindle in the water and bending your cane pole double is all the sport you could ask. But dead, he looks like fertilizer to me.

Vast Man-Power

Better health and longer life play an important but invisible part in our military situation. The longer the average life term, the more military service may be obtained from a given population, because their potential service period is longer than it used to be. Thus, with legal provision for registering young men at 18, and with the top level for military registration raised to 64, it is possible in theory, at least, for citizens to be eligible for service over a period of nearly half a century.

Such official extension of service or eligibility would matter little if only a few men were living to the age of 50 or beyond, a situation which prevailed not many generations ago. But with life expectancy now said to have risen above 60 years, the effect on military figures is evident. This selective service registration merely in the age brackets of 45 to 64 is expected to make 13,000,000 more men theoretically eligible, and the total number listed from 18 upward to 64 might be three times that many.

Of course such figures are merely theoretical. The highest estimates of men now expected to serve in this war run to about 10,000,000. But the additional numbers available for collateral use are reassuring.

Don't Tell MacArthur

"So live that you can look MacArthur in the eye." Leaders of the United Auto Workers have just won an arbitration decision in Detroit. It gives them double time in all General Motors plants when the men work on Sundays or holidays, even though this work is merely part of a 40-hour week.

Where would they look if they met MacArthur?—San Francisco News.

The Nation's Press

A MOTHER'S REQUEST (By Mrs. Vernon L. Parsons) (Columbus, O. Dispatch)

As I read of strikes and labor disputing over wages, eight hour days and 40 hour week; our government upholding the CIO and AFL, our government also crying "we cannot lose our social gains," I think "How about our boys in camps? In the hot jungles and swamps, in the frigid temperature of Iceland."

They too, many of them, belonged to unions, had high paying jobs, eight hour days and overtime pay. But they realize now, "we are at war." They have a job to do and are doing it. Chins up, grim-faced boys, many never away from home before, are doing their part, hoping the folks back home won't let them down, and we mothers who love our sons and our country, must see that they are not let down.

The nation is demanding sacrifices from us. Higher taxes, lower standards of living, and most of us are doing this willingly, and we have the right to demand that labor, and labor unions forget their differences, and keep defense plants running.

The boys can't defend us without guns and materials with which to fight. I recently visited my son in an aeronautics school on the Atlantic coast. The school has from 800 to 900 boys. Those boys rise at 5 a.m. new time, take their setting up exercises, march nearly a mile to eat breakfast, and back to school before most people are awake. Their school day ends at five in the evening.

They do all their studying at night, six days a week and take their turn standing guard. As I lay there in my hotel room listening to those marching feet below—"left, right, left, right, march," my face was wet with tears, as one of those boys was my baby—now 21. The commotion they go on from day to day for this is war.

And the people back home talk of social gains! France clung to her social gains, 40 hour weeks and idealistic dreams. How much do they mean to her now?

Washington: We are all in this now. Please don't play favorites. Forget the New Deal and see that the much-talked of complacency isn't in the government itself!

HAS THE PRESIDENT ADOPTED? (Daily Oklahoman)

Immediately following a long visit to the White House by Phillip Murray, president of the C.I.O., and William Green, president of the A. F. of L., the president announced that he did not want any labor legislation nor any anti-strike laws. He followed this up by sending four of his satellites, Lieut. Gen. William S. Knudsen, Assistant Secretary of War Robert R. Patterson, Assistant Secretary of the Navy Ralph A. Bard and Administrator Emory S. Land of the maritime commission to testify before a senate committee on labor policy.

Each of these "yes" men for the president testified in effect that drastic legislation to outlaw strikes and to extend the 40-hour week might create a recalcitrant, Bolshevick feeling among union labor workers; that if union members adopted this "to hell with it" attitude they would slow down their work and intentionally curtail the output of the nation.

This was equivalent to a plain, bald admission on the part of cabinet officials that the A. F. of L. and C. I. O. are more to be feared and more powerful than the U. S. A.

It is a bald statement that members of union labor are unpatriotic and cannot be depended upon to furnish the necessary guns and ammunition to enable the flower of American youth who are now serving in the army, navy and air corps to fight off the attacks of our barbarous enemies. It means that the president and these representatives of his cabinet believe that American citizens who are members of union organizations put the pennants of the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. above the emblem of the stars and stripes. Apparently the president assumes that the solid rank and file of good American citizens who compose 90 per cent of the membership of the unions are just as greedy, as unprincipled and unpatriotic as the racketeers who usually are responsible for the strikes and slow downs which are now sabotaging many of our war efforts.

"I speak the pass-word principle. I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart on the same terms."—WALT WHITMAN.

PROFITS OUT OF WAR

There is one phrase in modern use that has a double meaning. With one meaning, it represents justice and progress; and the other, it represents tyranny and poverty.

The expression is "profits out of war." If profits are to be had from conquering another nation and taking from them the fruits of their labor, then profits out of war can only lead to tyranny and poverty.

On the other hand, if profits out of war mean that the man who invents or produces means of winning a war should not be rewarded for so doing, that is have profits, then the belief that he should not will only result in helping lose the war rather than winning it. This would mean subjugation to the tyranny of our enemies. It would mean that they would have the profits out of war. They would make us serfs and slaves.

If a man risks his fortune, his time and his energy in producing tools to defend us and protecting us, he should be rewarded just as any policeman, or as any man in private enterprise is rewarded by profits for producing a service that benefits mankind. This bugaboo of profits out of war leads to socialism, communism and to a weakened nation. If there were no capital most of us would perish.

The only way those, who claim there should be no profits from exceptional service in helping win the war, can justify their contention is from another error we have made. And, of course, we can justify anything by starting with an error. When we first begin to believe that the government has a right to pass discriminatory laws, as we do in drafting our capable soldiers and compelling them to work for less than they are worth, then we can justify any other discriminatory law by the first discrimination.

When we start to disregard the inherent rights of every human soul in our country, there seems to be no end to destroying the inherent rights that belong to other men. And the pity of it is that in doing things like confiscating the fruits, or the profits, of men who are serving us the best, we are hurting ourselves, we are destroying the very rocks and foundation that protects us from tyranny.

The whole belief that men should not be rewarded for serving most efficiently in winning the war comes from plain, old-fashioned covetousness. If there is anything in the world that wrecks a country, it is reformers coveting the power to distribute the fruits—the profits—of those who have served us the best, in a material way rather than permitting those who served us the best and, thus, had the profits, to do their own distributing.

ROOSEVELT SIDES WITH STRIKERS

Ordering the Toledo, Peoria and Western Railroad to be taken over by the government, shows how far the President will go to curry favor with labor unions. Of course, the railroad should run when we are at war. The President of the road, George P. McNear, jr., however, had reported that the road was already giving full service.

To have a government step in and discharge the faithful workers who stayed with our country and rendered service when we needed it, is in effect telling all workers to quit rendering service if the union leaders tell them to quit and they will be rewarded and taken care of by the government better than those who continue to give service.

Of course, it will be the stockholders and owners of the railroad who will suffer for the time being. But every owner of private property and every consumer will also suffer, when the government disrespects the inherent rights of property, as they have done in this case.

Instead of taking over the road by the president, he should have called out every soldier training in the United States to protect those loyal men who were willing to give service.

Germany, Russia and Italy went collectivistic on the same kind of basis that Roosevelt is sending this country to collectivistic. Those who have eyes can see it, but those who believe we can have the government regulate every minute human relation and still have the right of choice. What an absurdity!

We believe that the president has terribly maligned and libeled 90 per cent of the membership of American industrial unions. We believe that a majority of most unions would be glad to have a law that no strike could be called without a secret ballot of all union members and which would require a two-thirds vote for approval.

The president would not deny that at least 90 per cent of the American public are passionately patriotic citizens, ready to do or die for the American flag, but by implication he excepts union members from belonging to the loyal group. The president has virtually admitted that the American government has no power to guide or control American citizens who have formed themselves into industrial unions.

Every American on this continent should hang his head in shame that now the pennants of the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. are hoisted to the top of the flag pole above the stars and stripes forever.

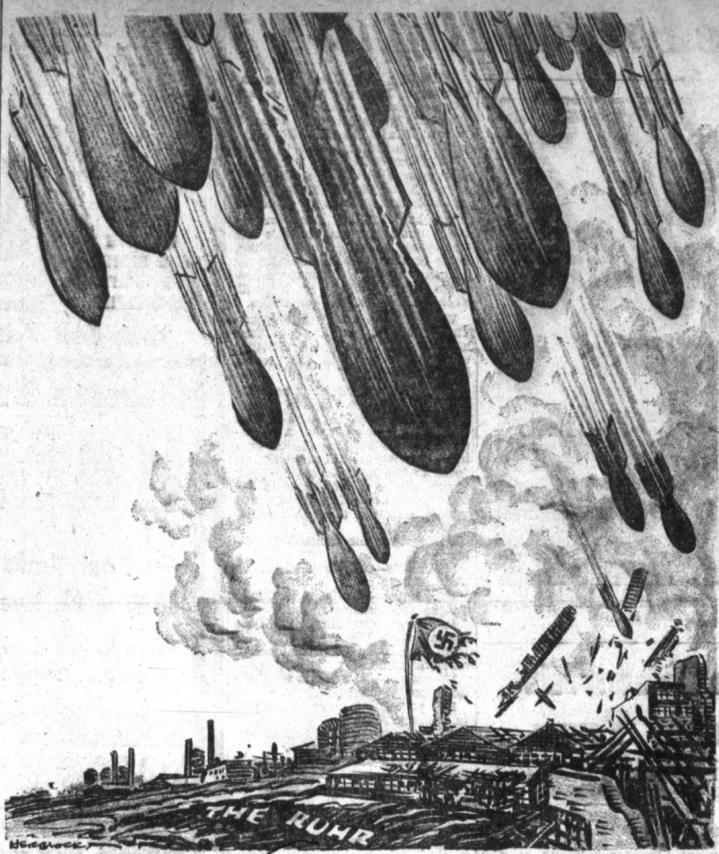

If any citizen and particularly a union man is not content to have the president abdicate in favor of Phillip Murray and William Green, then send him a postcard or telegram, asking him to restore the stars and stripes to the nation's pinnacle.

BOWLING WHILE BOMB BURNS (Cleveland Plain Dealer)

Putting Jack M. Willem of Chicago on the civilian defense roster as "bowling coordinator" is almost the straw that will break the camel's back. Sen. Byrd's disclosure that OCD is squandering time and money on a plan to enroll 25,000,000 men, women and children in a nation wide bowling fiesta reveals that the unpleasant job of cleaning up civilian defense has not been finished.

No matter how important ten pins might be in developing muscle and morale, the government has no excuse for taking over the sport. Bowling alleys abound in every city. Washington already is weighted down by its multiplicity of duties. Therefore, to take on more nonessentials borders on sabotage. In the bowling, acting, dancing period civilian defense succeeded only in confusing the people who stood ready to do their part. Now it becomes apparent that the OCD mad at once clear the slate and convince the nation that all "frills and furbelows" have been cut off. If revelations of the dancing-bowling type continue to crop up civilian defense will fall of its own weight.

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, April 2—An interview with Miss Alma Carroll: Q.—Besides being a movie actress, Miss Carroll, you also hold the title of Miss National Defense. How did you win that?

A.—Well, I was just sitting around the house all last summer and one day my mother said: "Why don't you do something—enter a beauty contest or something?" So there was a contest down at the beach, and the judges were a sailor and a marine, and I put on a bathing suit and won it.

Q.—I see. You weren't wrapped in bunting, or in dungarees and swinging a wrench. Why do you suppose the contestants wore bathing suits to symbolize military preparedness?

A.—I don't know, except that maybe it was to indicate that things were in pretty good shape.

MUCH TRAVELED

Q.—You made a tour, I recall. What did you do to entertain people?

A.—Oh, I didn't do anything—they were entertaining me. There were luncheons and dinners and dances and parades, and we traveled 9,000 miles, all at the expense of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, visiting camps and navy bases and marine barracks. It was wonderful. And when I got back I did some professional modeling, and my agent brought me here to Columbia studios for a test, and I got a contract, and right away—

Q.—We'll get to that, Miss Carroll. First I'd like to know more about this defense business. How are we doing, do you think?

A.—If you mean the country, we are doing just fine. I have a brother who's an ensign in the navy, and six of my friends are in the army and air corps and navy. I write to them every week.

Q.—As Miss National Defense, do you correspond with Donald Nelson?

A.—I don't believe I know a Donald Nelson. But as Miss National Defense, I did have a date with a soldier who works in one of these airplane bearing places. It was arranged through the USO, and my mother went along.

Q.—Without wishing to be too personal, Miss Carroll, may I ask whether you have any advice regarding defense to offer other girls? For instance, have you ever had a date during a blackout? And what do you do when an escort suggests parking to save gasoline and tires?

A.—My defense against Hollywood wolves is just to ignore them. I never had to sock a man, but I could, all right. When I was a kid I was an awful tomboy and used to beat up all the little bullies in the neighborhood.

SHE ALSO KNITS

Q.—Are you doing any other war work besides writing letters?

A.—Oh, yes, I buy bonds, a certain amount each month. And I've been knitting on a sweater for over a year. And I decided to join the Y. We don't really grow hay in the Victory garden, but the photographer thought it would look nice that way. You can have one of the pictures.

Q.—Thank you, Miss Carroll. Now how about your acting career?

A.—It's wonderful—the movies, I mean. My first picture was "Submarine Raiders," and I was in a night club sequence. In this one, "He Kissed the Bride," I'm a bridesmaid. The next is a real war picture, "Parachute Nurse," and 10 of us will be parachute nurses—only we won't have to make real jumps. My mother won't let me fly. She went up with

It was a coincidence that Price Chapman, son of Mrs. Ellen Chapman, left for the army yesterday exactly one year to the day after his brother, Dr. Wilks Chapman, joined the army as a dentist in the medical corps. That leaves only Mrs. Chapman and her daughter, Miss Bernice Chapman, at home.

We'll forgive Mrs. W. H. Davis for not being in the parade Monday. She's eligible to be in the parade because her son, Bill Davis, is a lieutenant in the army air corps, but Mrs. Davis is allergic to being in parades. She breaks into cold sweat, chills, fevers and is attacked with dizziness at the very thought of parading, and it's too much to ask her to be carried around the length of the parade. She has a horror of being the cynosure of all eyes so we let her off this time. As for me, I'm different, and I like to be in parades, and the entire V. E. Davis family is going to ride with me in my car in the Bataan section, honoring their son, George, who is on Corregidor.

HIGH LIFE And low life in The BIG City

By Stella Halit

Ghosts are in the phone book and they are perfectly down-to-earth people. If you need a ghost you can call one of several large agencies and make an appointment.

Ghosts make nice livings writing other people's memoirs, articles, speeches and surveys. Anybody can be an author but writing is a profession.

All sorts of people seek ghosts. A tenor hands a ghost some faded clippings and old photos, rambles on at a great rate about his triumphs and by and by he is the author of "My Forty Years in Opera." A man who has built a fortune in steel wishes to pay tribute to his friends and slap his enemies publicly. A ghost turns the idea into a book.

People who engage ghosts have no literary pretensions. Most of these people have led exciting lives. Their friends say, "You ought to write a book." They come to a ghost agency for "just a little help," but they soon tire and are glad to turn the whole thing over to a ghost. Adventurous people want to be up and doing but ghosts are sedentary, patient men and women willing to play away hour after hour with other people's stories.

I was a ghost for a brief season in which I did a doctor's thesis on Russian economics in the middle ages, the memoirs of an illegitimate daughter, and a long book on a captain's experiences in sail and steam.

Ghosting goes on in the night, far into the morning. It is legitimate business but I don't like it. When I see a man's name on a book I want to think that he wrote it, even after my association with Ghosts, Incorporated.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 2—Mailing out of the four-page "Occupational Questionnaire" to the nine million men from 20 to 44 who registered for selective service Feb. 16 is only the beginning. It will be some weeks before the data obtained from these cards can be put into use and it will be months before the job is completed for all of the 40 million men who have registered in the first and second drafts and will register in the fourth and later. What will have to happen is this:

The cards will be mailed out April 1. It will take five days or so for the local draft boards to complete the job of addressing the cards and mailing them, so if a registrant doesn't get his card by April 2, this will be why.

Within 10 days after a registrant gets his occupational questionnaire, he will be required to have it filled in and returned to his local board. Here is where the first headache will come, for no matter how simple a questionnaire is, it's a formidable obstacle. As there are nearly 8x15 inches, has 34 principal questions, requires a check on 228 trades and has to be filled in duplicate, with coupons and stubs torn off and disposed of according to directions, there is bound to be confusion.

Many of the registrants will need help in filling out the forms. To provide this help, the 6,500 local draft boards and the 1,500 offices of the United States Employment Service have asked employers and labor unions for help. To foreign-born workers and those with the lower I. Q., the listing of special skills may be difficult, but that doesn't necessarily mean a man is no good as a dynamic balancer, internal keysetting machine operator, steel pulpit man, or tent plate maker, to name just four of the 228 trades in which there is a shortage of workers.

CLOSE CHECKUP

When the forms are filled out, one goes to the local draft board and the other to the nearest United States Employment Office. Then comes the checkup. Every man must be interviewed and tested to prove that he filled out his questionnaire correctly.

A man who has been a grease monkey isn't a mechanic, a tinsmith isn't a dynamic balancer, an internal keysetter isn't an usher, a pulp mill man isn't a preacher and a template maker isn't a dentist. So employment office tests must be given to see that every man is correctly classified. What happens next is interesting. If a man is classified as a drill press operator but isn't working at it, and there is a shortage of drill press operators, the Employment Service will tell the man where he can get such work and if he takes the job, he will be building up his own deferment status. If he is performing essential work in a war production industry, or if a man is qualified for training in an essential industry, he can be given the opportunity to build up his skill so that in time he may be given deferment.

WILL WATCH SHORTAGES

The Employment Service will keep local draft boards advised on those trades in which there may be labor shortages. Maybe, at a given time, there will be a shortage of farm labor. Farmers coming up for induction into the armed service may then be given temporary deferment.

The emphasis will thus be put upon keeping out of the army men who are more urgently needed in war production, of replacing workers who can do military service with workers who because of age or physical disabilities may not be able to pass army tests, of speeding up war production by transferring workers from nonessential to essential industries.

In all this cataloguing of workers there will be of course be millions of men in whom the war production machinery will not be interested. They'll go into the army, if they can pass physically. For those workers who do have special skills, provision is made for putting them on jobs where they will be the most

WASHINGTON SCIENTIFIC ROSTER

Of the 228 occupations listed on the selective service occupational questionnaire, 35 are professional or scientific, such as architect, biologist, chemist, and so on, concluding with veterinarian. Only a few registrants will have anything to fill in on the stub part of the questionnaire listing these 35 professions. Stubs from men who are qualified to make entries on this top part of the questionnaire will be sent to Washington for the government's Civil Service National Roster of Scientific and Specialized Personnel. Bureau of Census will tabulate these cards.

Then, when civil service has a call for, say, mathematicians or metallurgists, it can run through the cards and pick out prospects. Professionals people may thus see a bid to a government job out of this roster.

TEX'S TOPICS

AFTER you tell them where he is and what he has done in the war, Gen. MacArthur is a hero to most boys and girls. But, not too many of them know too much about him off-hand. We are speaking now of high school pupils.

Had occasion yesterday to ask a group of 25 or 30 boys and girls to name the Allied Nations commander-in-chief in Australia. Only three or four of them could do it. Of course, it was "Kid Day" at the school, there was a breath of spring in the air, and perhaps they thought I had a pack of nerve usurping powers of their teacher by asking questions. Maybe they knew the answer but couldn't see any percentage or higher marks on their cards by giving it to an outsider. I can't remember just how smart I was when I was in high school, but I must confess to those boys and girls that I didn't know anything about MacArthur, either.

Pampa's Army Day celebration scheduled for next Monday is shaping into one of the biggest things of its kind ever staged in the Panhandle. Thousands of persons from over the Panhandle are coming to see the parade which will be highlighted by more than a score of parents of Bataan peninsula fighters and that big army unit from Camp Barksdale in Texas. We can't believe that story in an Amarillo paper this morning which stated that "many from Pampa" are going to take part in the Army Day celebration at Amarillo. We are sure the registrants will be glad to see the parade. IT SEEMS SORT OF CHILDISH TO US like the newspaper in a "big town" like Amarillo should be envious of what Pampa is doing. Yesterday they cracked wise on their sport pages that Pampa was too small a town to have a big team in the West Tex-New Mex league. Today they write in their paper that "many Pampans" are going to take part in Amarillo's Army Day celebration (leaving the inference that Pampans are going to Amarillo instead of taking part in Pampa's Army Day program—we'd just like to say here that Pampa has plate maker, to name just four of the 228 trades in which there is a shortage of workers.

When the job is completed for all the 40 million selective service registrants, however, the country should have a pretty good idea of what its manpower situation is going to be for fighting the war.

WHITE DEER, April 2—Gail Smith has been employed as head coach and instructor in physical education and assumed his duties at the White Deer High school Monday.
 Mr. Smith received a B. S. degree from T. C. U. in 1940, having majored in physical education and social science. He not only played the end position on the college football team but had an unusually high academic and professional record.
 For the past two seasons he has been coach at Bloomington, near Corpus Christi. He instituted football at that school and won the district championship last fall.
 He will teach one class in social studies and four classes in physical education. Spring training will start soon.
 Mr. and Mrs. Smith arrived in White Deer Saturday.

Hogan To Defend His 'Sky' Title

ASHEVILLE, N. C., April 2 (AP)—Ben Hogan, who is just as serious as he looks out there on the golf course, was under pressure again today as he began defense of his title in the 72-hole Land of the Open Sky open.
 Hogan, for all his icy nerve, feels under pressure as much as any man playing golf; and he's been under it so much that he feels the difference when it is off. Leading the North-South last week by a wide margin, Hogan took sixes on number 10 in both rounds of the final day. He was so far ahead that he couldn't concentrate. "I had to shake myself on the 11th tee, to get rid of the letdown," he said. The result in the afternoon was a birdie three on the next hole.
 Today the pressure was on again, because Belting Ben was the favorite and defending champion.
 But it was not all concentrated upon him. Byron Nelson got a share, not only because he was favored back of Hogan but also because he was seeking to finish in the money for the 34th straight tournament.

In Major League Training Camps

ORLANDO, Fla., April 2 (AP)—Clark Griffith of the Washington Nationals is in the market for a hitting outfielder and a third baseman. His theory is that a winning team will mean big gates this season in boom-town Washington, especially with 21 night games scheduled at Griffith stadium. Since buying Buck Newsom, Griffith is satisfied with the pitching staff and he thinks the Nats may finish in the first division with more power at the plate.
CHARLESTON, S. C., April 2 (AP)—Pitcher Charlie Wagner of the Boston Red Sox will try to go the distance against Buck Walters and Paul Derringer of the Cincinnati Reds today in the first of an eight-game exhibition series between the two teams. Manager Joe Cronin also hopes to have Dick Newsome, Joe Dobson, and Hank Terry ranked as his other starters, go the route before the team reaches Boston.

ALEXANDRIA, La., April 2

Manager Mel Ott of the New York Giants is worried about the lost poundage of Pitcher Bill McCoot who had yielded only two runs in 16 innings before he was blasted for eight hits and six runs in three frames yesterday by Cleveland. McGee is 25 pounds lighter than last season and is so serious about keeping his shape that Ott has to order him to eat more.
HOUSTON, April 2 (AP)—With a record of five out of six against the New York Giants, the Cleveland Indians squared off to add another notch to their victory chain by picking veteran Al Smith and rookie Ray Poat for the first day of a double billing in the Lone Star state. In yesterday's 10-8 victory, the Indians collected 15 hits for their most impressive show at the plate this spring.

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 2

LAKELAND, Fla., April 2 (AP)—Several Detroit Tiger rookies have found out—to their chagrin as well as wear and tear on their bank rolls—that it doesn't pay to violate the be-in-by-midnight rule. They were fined $100 for not getting in on time and so far there have been no second offenders.
DAYTONA BEACH, Fla., April 2 (AP)—President Larry MacPhail of the Brooklyn Dodgers is urging Joe Medwick to "keep that bat out of your hand and do some running." MacPhail told Joe he never wanted to get any of his extra weight off just swinging a bat. "I've got him on a diet," MacPhail disclosed.

Harder's Comeback May Put Him In The 200 Club

By HARRY GRAYSON
 NEA Service Sports Editor

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 2—Name of Melvin Leroy Harder does not appear on the Cleveland club's roster this spring for the first time in 14 years.
 But Mel Harder remains on the payroll.

The stylish Harder will as long as he cares to and the present owners prevail. Leroy Bradley offered to make Harder a coach when he was released last September, but the Nebraska ball left in his cunning right arm.
 Harder submitted to an operation, had bone chips removed from beneath his elbow.
 There is some sentiment in professional baseball. Harder could have made an arrangement with a dozen clubs whereby he would have been paid a bonus for signing a new contract to join Pat Fitzgerald's team. But outside of the minors, Cleveland is the only outfit for which Harder has pitched. He has made his home in Cleveland since he first reported as an 18-year-old kid with a fast one and a sweeping curve.
 "It's Cleveland or nowhere," he said. "This club has treated and paid me well."
 Roger Peckinpaugh offered Harder a $1 contract, but he would have none at all until he had demonstrated he could pitch. He has done that at Clearwater and has signed a conditional contract, under which he will be re-compensated according to the number of games he wins.

MEL HARDER finds medicine prescription for mended elbow.

Five others approach membership in the 200 club. They are Paul Deager, Vernon Gomez, Tommy Bridges, Lon Warneke and Larry French.
 It was feared that the 33-year-old French wouldn't stick with the Brooklyns this spring, but he has been a pleasant surprise after accepting $6,000 less than he was paid by the lush Cubs. The southpaw needs 18 victories to attain the glamorous 200.
 French's case parallels that of Freddie Fitzsimmons in that in 13 campaigns with the Pirates and Cubs he never knew a 20-game season. Fitzsimmons reached 200 although he enjoyed only one 20-game effort—with the Giants in 1928.
 Derringer, 34, has copped 180 decisions, despite several seasons with the weak Reds of the middle '30s.
GOMEZ SHOULD MAKE IT
IF MURPHY HOLDS OUT
 Provided Johnny Murphy holds out and rushes to his rescue often enough, Lefty Gomez, 31, should share the 17 triumphs that stand between him and the charmed circle.
 Bridges may have some trouble getting there. He is 35, has to be employed sparingly and requires 29 more box score listings as winning pitcher.
 It should be a breeze for Warneke, who has 177. Pitching well at 33 and after 12 National League seasons, the Arkansas Humming Bird should easily corral the other 23.
 The National League lost a 200 Club man this spring when Charlie Root returned to the Pacific Coast League.
 The American League lost one of the mighty few 300 Club men when Robert Moses Grove hung up his tack following a 17-year run on his big time.
 Old Moses Grove joined Rube Waddell and Eddie Plank as an all-time left-hander.

CLEARWATER, Fla., April 2—Though he finished one season like the proverbial prairie fire and closed another as the star of the world series, Ernie Bonham confesses that he is just getting over being nervous while pitching.
 Tiny Bonham stresses the importance of synchronization in the box—even to the chewing of gum.
 "Chewing gum cured my nervousness," exclaims the Yankees' big right-hander. "I tried chewing gum last season, but had a little difficulty."
 It could not seem to synchronize the movement of my jaws with the movement of my arm. I'm just getting the hang of it. Now I chew with the same rhythm as that of my pitching motion, and I hope this season to be calm, cool, and collected.
 It is just as well that Tiny Bonham doesn't chew tobacco.
 He then would have to synchronize his spit.

 The Dodger management rides high on this wave of adulation—perhaps a little too high.
 Among the pet Dodger tub-thumping instruments are associations. The Brooklyns have associations for everyone and everything from the guy who checks the showers to the chap who works behind the scoreboard.
 That's why Master Mind Larry MacPhail had the brass to reply to a telegram from one of the Dixie Walker associations with a 150-word collect sizzler telling them that Leo Durocher ran the ball club, to mind their own business, etc.

 In Philadelphia and St. Louis they frame those sort of telegrams.

Old Bob Quinn accounts for managers coaching on the baselines.
 The president of the Boston Braves agreed with the late John McGraw, who contended that a manager's place was on the bench, although his pilot, Casey Stengel, is one of the more conspicuous in the coach's box.
 "A manager should remain in the dugout, where he can plan his attack and watch the entire setup," explains Magnate Quinn.
 "But if they don't get out there on the lines they're afraid the fans will think they're scared to show up."

 There were times last season when Doc Prothro of the Phillies wished he could run away and hide.
 Nor are things always pleasant in the dugout.
 Remember when the Cleveland cry-babies weren't speaking to Oscar Vitt?

Rangers Score Goal A Minute But Lose
FORT WORTH, April 2 (AP)—A goal a minute in hockey would be a freak but the Fort Worth Rangers didn't miss it far.
 With little more than six minutes remaining in their game with Kansas City last night in the A.H.A. playoffs, the Rangers poured four goals through the nets.
 The effort was in vain. They lost the game, 6 to 7.
