

Russian Drive Against Kharkov Outshines Nazi Kerch Assault

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
With American-made tanks blazing the way, Russian armies were reported to have crashed through the inner defenses of Kharkov in at least two places today after sweeping seven miles beyond the Donets river and smashing more than 150 German tanks in two days.

London diplomatic quarters said they heard Adolf Hitler was so stunned by the unexpected power of the Soviet offensive that he had instructed his ambassador to Tokyo to increase pressure on Japan for an attack against Russia.

The broadcast said that during the past 24 hours Gen. Bock had tapped his reserves heavily in a futile attempt to stem the Soviet drive against Kharkov, Russia's "Pittsburgh" in the Ukraine.

The Germans claimed they were inflicting severe losses on the Russians and asserted they had destroyed 145 Red army tanks in the Kharkov fighting so far.

The newspaper said both sides threw in powerful tank forces and that Soviet tanks forced a water barrier, split the Germans' troop concentration and drove a wedge into the enemy defenses.

A British spokesman said Adolf Hitler's high command already had thrown German reserves into the conflict without stemming the Russian assault. The Red armies, he said, had penetrated Nazi lines "in considerable depth."

On the Crimean front, 380 miles below Kharkov, a Soviet communiqué acknowledged that the Russians again had "retreated to new positions" in the seven-day-old battle of Kerch peninsula.

London military quarters said the Russians were retiring in good order, and added: "They are not licked." Meanwhile, the Germans issued a special communiqué asserting that Nazi warplanes yesterday sank a United States cruiser of the 9,100-ton Pensacola class and a destroyer in an attack on "an American squadron" in the Arctic ocean, off Far Northern Norway.

PAMPA GETS BOMBER FIELD

Celebration Lunch Tuesday Announced

British Army Crosses Over Into India

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce is going to "throw a celebration luncheon" Tuesday noon in the basement of the First Methodist church to celebrate the securing of a huge twin-engine bomber training school and everyone's invited.

"Come one, come all, and bring your sugar and eat with us," President Crawford Atkins said today. "We'll tell you all how the school was secured and who worked tirelessly to bring Pampa into the war picture."

Because of anticipated interest in the luncheon, reservations should be made in advance by calling the phone 383, immediately. Not more than 300 tickets will be available so they'll go to the first 300 persons making reservations.

The monthly luncheon will be for April and May because last month's meeting had to be postponed because of activity of members in working on the training school program.

Pledge cards have been mailed to members who are asked to sign them and return them immediately. Pledges have been increased slightly because of added expenditures in Pampa's war efforts. President Atkins said today.

At last reports, Gen. Stilwell's forces were stubbornly resisting a Japanese advance up the Burma road some 125 miles into China proper.

In eastern China, a Tokyo broadcast credited Japanese forces with inflicting a heavy defeat on the

Nazis Claim Destroyer, Cruiser Sunk

BERLIN (From German broadcasts), May 15 (AP)—The German high command announced today that its air force, flying into battle on the Arctic supply line to Russia, had destroyed a United States cruiser and destroyer as well as a 3,000-ton icebreaker and a 2,000-ton merchant vessel.

The special communiqué also said that a 10,000-ton freighter was set afire from stem to stern in a connected action while at a southern English port bombed destroyed four British merchant ships that totaled 7,500 tons.

The communiqué said the cruiser was the 9,100-ton Pensacola class (which normally carries 963 men) and identified the naval formation as an American squadron operating between the North Cape of Norway and the Arctic island of Spitzbergen.

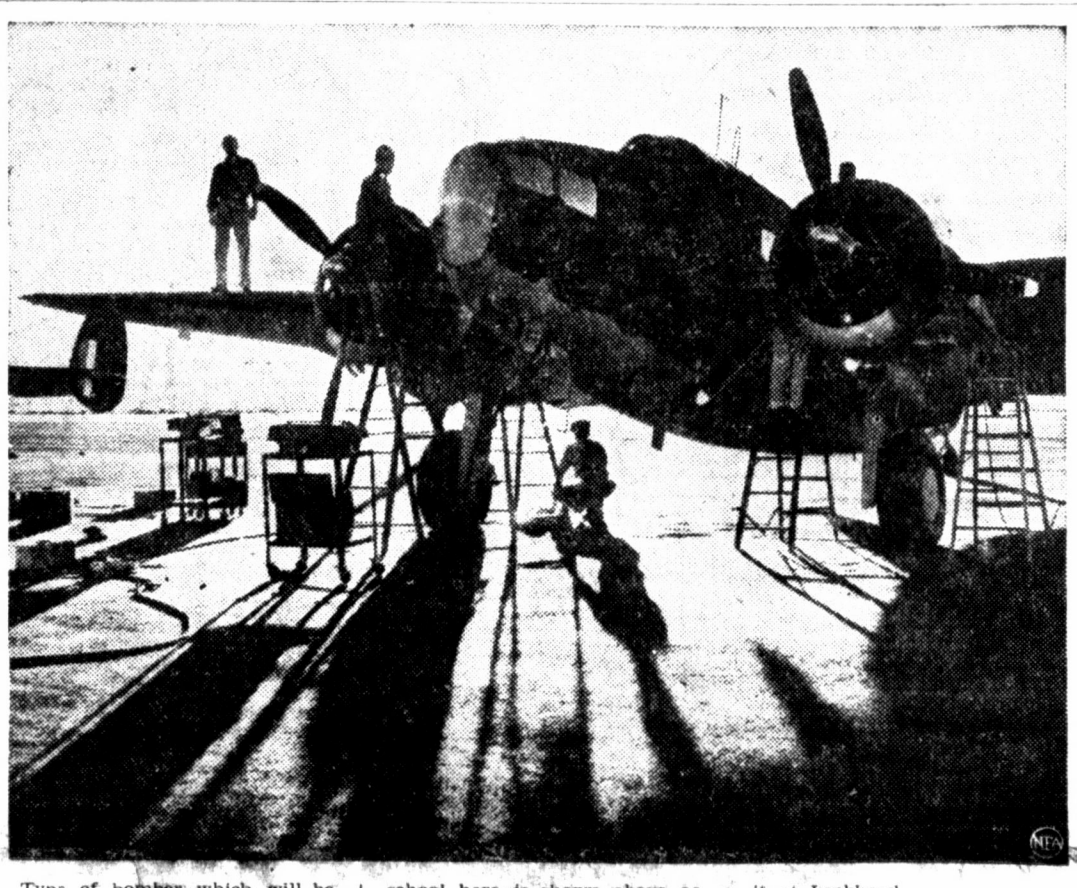

(The locale of the action—apart from the German claims, which might have been made to gain information on disposition of United States naval power—was the first indication that American fleet units were operating so deeply on the supply route to Murmansk and Archangel.)

The communiqué gave no details. DNB, the news agency, however, said that the cruiser was bombed on Thursday, took fire and sank at midnight last night. One of several accompanying destroyers was hit and sunk, the agency reported.

DNB said that the icebreaker and the 2,000-ton merchant vessel were bombed in a fjord at Spitzbergen, whereas the high command gave no locale.

(This might be taken to suggest some move pivoting on the large Norwegian island, 400 miles off northernmost Norway, which Canadian, British and Norwegian shock troops raided last September.)

(Only last month reports circulating in Scandinavia and reaching London said the Germans had land-

Worley Office Announces Big Flying School

The war department today announced that an air force installation, costing approximately $3,000,000, had been authorized for Pampa. The Pampa Board of City Development, which has been active on the project for several months, said that it would be a twin-engine bomber training school.

News of the training school was received by The Pampa News in a telegram from the office of Congressman Gene Worley and signed by his secretary, Miss Altavene Clark. She also telephoned the chamber of commerce here releasing the war department's report.

Although no figures have been released, it is believed that anywhere from 2,000 to 5,000 officers, cadets, ground crew personnel, and construction crews will come to Pampa with the training school.

The flying field will be located 12 miles east of Pampa on State Highway 152. Not only Pampa but Miami, LeFors, Mobeetie, Wheeler, and possibly other nearby towns are expected to benefit from the school.

Today's announcement ended weeks of rumors and anxiety in Pampa. Pampanians have known that "something" was in the wind and rumors were rife.

The land, some 2,500 acres, is located three miles east of Heaton.

Mayor Fred Thompson, County Judge Sherman White and other city, county and chamber of commerce officials were present.

Army Turns Down West

HOUSTON, May 15 (AP)—Federal Judge James V. Alred, informed that the army had rejected Charles Peter West as a "psychopathic personality" who was under two felony convictions, placed the former University of Texas medical school pretender under supervision of the federal probation office today.

West, who masqueraded on the medical school faculty under the name of Dr. David Fell, was convicted recently of false draft registration and narcotic law violations—accusations growing out of his tenure at the Galveston medical branch.

Judge Alred imposed a sentence of five years, suspended on condition that West enter the army.

The impostor was refused by the army, and the case was referred back to the court for advice on procedure.

William Eckhardt, Jr., assistant district attorney who prosecuted the case against West, opened the session by remarking Judge Alred of the condition under which the sentence was suspended.

Leo Baldwin, federal probation officer, told the court West was rejected because he was "a psychopathic personality," and was under two felony convictions.

West then said he had been examined by civilian physicians, not army doctors, and asserted he had passed a physical examination earlier in New York City.

Judge Alred commented, "Well, you've offered your services and they've refused them. That's all you can do. I believe you'll get in yet."

West said he wanted to get in the army and asked the judge if it would be all right for him to go to Canada in an effort to enlist in that dominion's forces.

Married Men To Be In June 1 And 8 Quotas

Down in the ranks of the 3-A men—married men—the selective service board here will reach to fill the June 1 and June 8 quotas from Gray county.

Nearly all of the 1-A selectees have been exhausted from the lists, leaving the 3-A's to fill the gap for the 1-A's.

Number of men to be sent is still deemed a military secret, although permission is granted to publish the list of men chosen. June 1 is the date of the call for negro selectees; June 8 for white.

"There'll be no foolin' this time about its being the greatest number of men called from this county at one time. This held true the last time, May 8, 9, and 11, but credit for enlistments cut down the total. Now enlistments, like 1-A, are almost exhausted.

Advance notice of the call for married men was contained in an Associated Press story from Washington, when Major General Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, told the house military committee it might soon be necessary to induct into the army more single men who have been deferred and married men with working wives.

But, he indicated, selective service has no intention of disrupting

Opposition Develops Against Tax Scheme

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Opposition developed in the senate today to a proposal tentatively approved by the house ways and means committee to induct millions of low-income citizens into the ranks of federal income tax payers.

Four top ranking members of the senate finance committee voiced objection to a move by the house group to reduce the taxing level to $500 per single and $1,200 for married persons, and Chairman George (D-Ga.) gave it only lukewarm support.

Labeled "absolutely unfair," also was a proposal to require all persons who file federal returns to pay a nominal tax of from $2 to $5 to cover administration costs.

Senators Brown (D-Mich.), LaFollette (Prog-Wis.), Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Taft (R-Ohio) said they were opposed to the lowered exemption method of attempting to extract revenue from the low income groups. George said he would accept it if necessary, but doubted that much additional revenue would be collected as a result.

Clean-Up Parade To Be Held Tomorrow

Pampa's clean-up brigade—the mowers, trucks, and other equipment—will be seen in a parade signaling Clean-up week, along with hundreds of Pampanians who will ride in private cars in a procession tomorrow extending from the water wells at the intersection of Ward and West streets all the way down N. Cuyler.

Clean-up week, May 17-23, is sponsored by the Pampa Garden club and members of this club have taken the lead in working for a successful campaign.

Weed wardens are to ride in the parade. Also, Pampanians who are hayfever victims are invited to be in the parade which will form at 10:45 o'clock tomorrow morning at the city water wells, located in the area bounded by N. West, N. Ward, and Montagu.

There has been a quick response from the wardens. Walter Biery and Mrs. Rufe Thompson have organized their blocks and appointed their deputies on N. Gray, as has Mrs. Mel Davis on her block in Christine.

Similar progress has been reported by J. L. Wheatley, warden of an East Francis block, and Mrs. Ivy

Baptist Churches Pay Off Ten Millions

SAN ANTONIO, May 15 (AP)—Churches in the Southern Baptist convention have paid off approximately $10,000,000 indebtedness within the last six years, E. P. Alldredge, statistics officer of the convention, said today.

Alldredge, whose home is in Nashville, Tenn., is here to attend the annual meeting of Southern Baptists opening Saturday.

The Baptists, he said, increased the value of their property within the last six years by $39,842,901, or an average of $5,168,480 a year.

Although there was an increase in the number of churches and in church membership in 1941, there was a decrease in the number of baptisms, Alldredge reported.

Records show he pointed out, that the largest number of new ministers were ordained in 1941 than in any previous year in the convention's 96-year history.

Total contributions for 1941, he said, amounted to $44,857,607, of which $37,035,267 went for local church work, while $7,822,340 went to missions and benevolences.

"This is the largest amount ever given since the depression," he said.

The same evils that caused the fall of the great Roman empire today threatens to topple modern civilization, the Rev. Roland J. Lewell, pastor of First Baptist church of Tampa, Fla., said in an address last night at the pastors' conference of the Southern Baptist convention.

Ship Survives Three Torpedoes And Shelling

NEW ORLEANS, May 15 (AP)—A sturdy medium size cargo ship survived three torpedoes and a prolonged shelling from an Axis submarine and was safe in a Gulf of Mexico port today with loss of one life.

The ship had gaping torpedo holes in its sides and at least 9 shell hits.

Holgar K. Mikkelsen, chief mate, of State Island, N. Y., died of shrapnel wounds and shock aboard a life raft. One other man, Radio Operator Sam A. Tremino of Simpson, West Virginia, was injured by shrapnel and hospitalized. The other 36 crewmen are safe.

Captain William H. Sheldon of Quapaw, Okla., said the first torpedo struck his ship on the starboard side at 3:35 a. m. central war time. Although the ship began taking water it proceeded at 10 knots trying to escape the sub which was not sighted.

Bulkheads were closed to, regain an even keel. A general alarm went out and an SOS was sounded. At 3:55 a. m. another torpedo hit the

Free Liquor Served Pearl Harbor Boys, Says Baptist Cleric

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—American soldiers and sailors were served free liquor the night before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, Dr. Charles E. Madry of Richmond, executive secretary of the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission board, told Baylor university students yesterday.

The Southern Baptist missionary, who witnessed the assault on Pearl Harbor, warned that "God is on our side but our hands are not clean. God will not entrust victory to us until we clean up these things."

Dr. Madry was on his way to San Antonio to report on foreign missions at the forthcoming Southern Baptist convention.

Diplomatic sources in London said they had heard that Adolf Hitler was so taken aback by the unexpected power of the Soviet attack that he had instructed his ambassador to Tokyo to increase pressure on Japan for an attack on Russia.

Mexico Furious Over Tanker Torpedoing

MIAMI, Fla., May 15 (AP)—Mexico efforts to preserve neutrality in the present war were strained today after an Axis submarine stalked at night a fully-lit oil tanker and sent a torpedo crashing into the illuminated Mexican flag painted on her side.

Fourteen men died, including the captain and deck officers who had gathered on the bridge when the torpedo finally came. Twenty-two survivors reached shore, but Rodolpho Chagnon, 54-year-old seaman, died at a hospital of internal injuries.

The ship, the 7,500-ton Futuro del Llano, became an inferno. Thousands of persons gathered on the sands of Miami Beach, after the torpedoing Wednesday night, and for hours watched the flames and towering pillar of smoke from the tanker before it sank.

In Mexico City, the government addressed a note to Germany, Italy and Japan last night demanding "complete satisfaction and a guarantee of damage reparations" by May 21, threatening otherwise to "take a position in accordance with Mexican honor."

There were calls for a declaration of war on the Axis. Foreign Minister Ezequiel Padilla called the sinking an "outrage to the Mexican flag." It was the first Mexican ship to be lost in this war.

The nation's naval ministry had attempted to avoid such attacks by ordering all Mexican ships to keep lights burning at night and the flag flying by day.

Cowboy Costume Party Given By 20th Century

Ranch bosses, wranglers, cooks, and cow-punchers mingled freely Tuesday evening and fed themselves typical ranch-style food when Twentieth Century club members entertained their husbands with a cowboy costume party and dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Calvin Jones. Hostesses were Mrs. Paul Kasahke, Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald, and Mrs. Jones.

The husbands did the cooking at the outdoor fireplace and later provided much of the entertainment. Dinner was served at tables covered with checked table cloths and on tin and pottery dishes. Color pictures were made of the group as dinner was served.

For the occasion, each husband presented a gift to his wife. Mrs. J. B. Massa as program leader introduced Mrs. J. C. Richey, who briefly gave the most interesting facts about the King, J. H., and ZIT ranches.

Four husbands, Roger McConnell, Roy McMillen, Joe Gordon and Lloyd Stallings, sang the cowboy ballads, "A Cowboy's Dream" and "Home on the Range," accompanied by Mrs. Stallings at the old-fashioned organ.

Boss Wrangler Ivy Duncan made a few remarks to prove that "The Cowboy is a Gentle Guy." Citing typical cowboys of the past generation, those who worked on the range ranches at the turn of the century and who were bold, brave, daring, but who were truly "gentle guys," he listed J. S. Wynne, H. B. Lovett, Jim Williams, John Henry, Dave Pope, Lee Ledrick, and P. C. Ledrick.

"The cowboy of the plains had to be bold and daring and brave—circumstances required it. But at heart he was gentle," Mr. Duncan stated. Quoting the poem, "Out Where the West Begins," Mr. Duncan closed his remarks with words of Mrs. Williams in telling of his enjoyment of cowboy and his campfire—"I think my favorite artist is a blazing mesquite clump."

Mrs. Massa gave a few points concerning Texas music and musicians and their importance.

"When we can elect a governor with music, the state music must be very important. Former Governor O'Daniel composed the song, "Beautiful Texas," which is popular today. Several Texas musicians were named, including Radie Brittain, a cousin of Lloyd Stallings.

Dr. Clifton High read two poems, Margaret Locke Kirk's "Prairie Dog" and Norman H. Crowell's "Branded." Mrs. Hol Wagner led the group in pledging allegiance to the flag, then Dr. High played old-time music on the organ, which is more than 80 years old, while the members and guests sang.

A brief business session was conducted at the close of the evening. Members and guests present were Messrs. and Mmes. Clifford Braly, Jr., Ivy Duncan, Ray McKeenan, Joe Gordon, Roger McConnell, Ray Hagan, Raymond Harrah, I. B. Hughey, J. B. Richey, Paul Kasahke, J. B. Massa, F. L. Stallings, Clifford High, and Mmes. Clifford Braly, Sr., Hol Wagner, J. M. Fitzgerald, and Roy McMillen.

Mortals, Immortals To Be Sermon Topic

"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, May 17.

The Golden Text is: "They that are after the flesh do mind the things of the flesh; but they that are after the spirit the things of the spirit" (Romans 8:5).

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-sermon is the following from the Bible: "For we are laborers together with God: ye are God's husbandry, ye are God's building. According to the grace of God which is given unto me, as a wise masterbuilder, I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon. But let every man take heed how he buildeth thereon" (I Corinthians 2, 9, 10).

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Mortals must gravitate Godward, their affections and aims grow spiritual,—they must near the broader interpretations of being, and gain some proper sense of the infinite,—in order that sin and mortality may be put off" (page 285).

Gasoline Rationing: Gasoline rationing went into effect in 17 Eastern states today, and while there has been a lot of confusing talk about general rationing over the nation by July, there is no official word yet that such action will be taken.

Autoists in the affected states are allowed only 3 gallons of gas a week unless their cars are being used in work vital to the war effort.

Vacationists will be hit hardest. Here in Pampa, for instance, delegates to an international convention to be held in Cleveland, Ohio, next month are worrying about the situation.

A lot of people do not understand why it is necessary to ration gasoline. Washington has not officially announced the news yet, but the main reason for it is that Uncle Sam has quietly countered the submarine menace along the Atlantic coast by withdrawing all tanker vessels from those dangerous waters.

Henceforth every ton of petroleum and gasoline moved into the highly congested areas of the East will be hauled by the railroads, barge lines and trucks. The chief victim of this strategy for foiling the U-boats, of course, must be the motorist.

A simple study of transportation statistics demonstrates that auto fuel must be rationed far more severely than has been admitted heretofore.

The facts are inescapable: In ordinary times the ships driven from the coastwise channels by Hitler handled 95 per cent of the oil delivered from Texas and other oil producing states into the East Coast territory from Maine to the Carolinas.

So, that's why rationing is in effect in the East Coast states. That, of course, is not a reason why rationing should go into effect here in Texas. The only complaint set forth so far has come from the people in the rationed states. Their basis for that complaint is that no section of the nation should be able to get something in war time that is banned to other sections.

Official Washington looks at it in another way. Their reason for rationing gasoline in all sections of the country, if any, would be based on the general thesis that it would conserve the country's much-needed rubber reserve, now on the wheels of American automobiles.

His doghouse plight is easily understood. In his action since Juland. The returning men arrived unheralded and no one met them except hospital attendants.

Common Ground

By E. C. HOLLES

"I speak the pass-word primal. I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which I cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."

CONFUSION OF A PROFESSOR OF SOCIOLOGY A professor of sociology in one of the larger Eastern universities writes thusly: "You are apparently a business man, and you must know that if your workers got all they produce you would quickly have to go out of business."

When a college professor is so confused, it is little wonder that a man who has not made a study of social problems does not understand the fairest and only way to determine what each man produces.

Of course, what a worker produces and, thus, earns is confusing to all people who will not agree that all people should be equally free to produce on equal terms. The only other alternative to a free market, if there is to be any semblance of order, is to have the government be the final judge of what each worker must get.

However, what each man produces is not a problem to men who believe that all men should be equally free to produce anything anyone else has a right to produce on the same terms.

They contend there is only one way to rationally measure what each worker produces; that way is that every worker should get an amount equal to what the highest bidder will pay for the workers' services.

A worker is not a free man unless he gets all he produces; that is all the highest bidder for his services will voluntarily pay him.

The business man should never make any profit on any man. Every worker should get all he produces; but by working together and the business man furnishing tools and management, more is produced than by working separately and the worker gets more than he could get working without tools and the employer gets more than he could get if the tools were not used, so both are benefited.

So, when an employer is paying an amount equivalent to what other workers will do the same identical work for, and more than the worker can sell his services to others for, then the employer is not making any profit on his workers. The best business men pay their workers more than they can get working for others and still have a large reward left for their own services.

If the employer does not produce the part that he gets, then the employer is foolish to have the employer around and give any part of what they produce to him. They should do the whole thing and take all the rewards.

Let us illustrate what each worker produces and, thus, what each worker should get. How much does the man produce who milks a cow that belongs to another and is fed by another? Under a true democratic or Christian way of life, that is under the capitalistic or free enterprise system, he produces an amount equivalent to what any other man will pay him for an equivalent amount of labor and skill in the location in which the labor is performed.

Thus, every person has a right to bid for the product of this man's labor. The worth of his labor for a time might even be more than what he produces would exchange for, provided some entrepreneur was unwise enough to contract with him for more than he could exchange the products of his labor. When an oil operator produces a dry hole, the worker gets more than what the operator can sell what the worker has produced. This is as it should be. The worker did what he was ordered to do.

The true value cannot be arrived at unless all workers are equally free, (not equally capable) to help establish the value or worth of all labor.

But our trouble is that we have passed law after law that has interfered with this free exchange. We have passed laws giving certain groups the right to combine, to restrain other people from having the right to help establish value. This has so confused us that we pass additional laws in an attempt to try to protect those whom these laws have harmed.

Unless we reverse our direction, we will come to complete stateism and the government, or a bare majority, will be the final arbitrary judge of the relative value of all labor.

happy-go-lucky days he battled with Harry Hopkins when the latter headed WPA and the interior secretary headed PWA. Time and again he clashed with Cordell Hull about problems that had no connection with the department supposedly concerned only with domestic affairs.

Others were shielded only by blankets. Some showed evidence of severe burns. It was a slow, sad procession but some men waved an unbandaged arm or hand to hospital nurses on a nearby balcony.

A few men who came through unscathed were given shore leave—and that was how the three at the bar broke the news that the first men were back from the Coral sea triumph.

ANOTHER PRESIDENT SAID . . .

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Wide World War Analyst. Herr Hitler's spring "offensive" is strongly reminiscent of the old Chinese proverb that he who rides a tiger finds it difficult to dismount.

Der fuehrer is compelled to get ahead with his increasingly difficult business of trying to break through into the Caucasus, but this far he is continuing to encounter what to him is the phenomenon of an enemy which, taking the picture as a whole, retains the initiative.

While his operation on the Kerch peninsula has met with considerable success, yet in the far more important Kharkov sector to the north, where he really ought to be attacking with his 2,000,000 men, he himself is being flung back by a fierce Red drive.

The important fact is that the Nazi chief is finding the Russian tiger plenty tough to ride. However, having stated this he should pause and not rush headlong into any conclusion about the immediate future of the titanic Russo-German struggle.

Hitler is tough himself, and is going to cause a lot of trouble. The position at the moment is this: Hitler's offensive against the Kerch peninsula, which is the Crimean Panhandle, is forcing the fiercely resisting Bolsheviks slowly back towards the Kerch strait.

The battle is continuing and nothing decisive had happened at the time of this writing. The purpose of this Nazi attack was twofold: 1. Before the fuehrer could undertake his major offensive against the vital sector between Kharkov and the Sea of Azov (please use your maps), which is the logical route to the Caucasus, he had to smash the strong Red forces in the Crimea, since these would be a perpetual threat against his right flank.

2. If the Nazi chief could clear the Reds off the peninsula, and if he could get across the Strait of Kerch, and if also he could annihilate Russian opposition on the other side of the strait, then he would have opened up a short-cut to the Caucasus. However, Leander swimming a tranquil Hellespont is one thing, and Hitler putting an army across Kerch strait in the face of heavy enemy opposition is another. Hurdling these big ditches is one of the most difficult of military operations. Anyway, we don't need to cross this strait until we come to it.

The Moscow answer to Hitler's Crimean drive is a fine piece of strategy. The Reds in their attack along a 35-mile front in the Kharkov sector are (1) compelling Hitler not only to look troops and equipment there, thus preventing him from using them in developing his Crimean show but are forcing him to rush up reinforcements, and (2) are threatening his key position and communications which he needs for any attack against the Caucasus gateway lying between Kharkov and Rostov.

Of course, should the Bolshevik offensive achieve a deep penetration of the Nazi line about Kharkov it would develop in due course into a turning movement which would threaten the German right flank on the Sea of Azov. However, such an advantage would be so great that we are not justified in going far with speculation about it until the Russian offensive has proceeded further.

People You Know

By Arch Fullingim

One of the best football players Pampa ever had is now carrying the ball for Uncle Sam. He is Pvt. Roy E. Showers, Jr., and for the benefit of those people who have been asking for his address, it is 405 T. S. Sq., Barrack 201, Sheppard Field, Tex. That field, you know, is at Wichita Falls. Roy is enlisted in the air corps. He was sent from the replacement center at Fort Sill to Sheppard field. Roy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Showers who live at the British-American lease, tried desperately to get in as a flying cadet, but his eyes wouldn't make the grade so he volunteered for the air corps. . . . When they get young men like Roy in the army, boy, they have something. When he played football he could not only take it but he could dish it out, and he was cheerful about it. Roy is popular because of his sense of humor and gay disposition, and one can bet that Roy will make that army team just as he made the Harvesters' . . .

Joe Burrow, who still calls Pampa his home, is no longer a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army at Fort Sill. He's now a first lieutenant. Joe, a reserve officer before the selective service act was passed, was called back before Pearl Harbor. He and Mrs. Burrow were home last week visiting in the home of his parents . . . and it was quite a task to get to Pampa. He was ten hours on the road from Lawton, normally a four-hour trip. He was delayed by four flats, and his last piece of bad luck came at Laketon when a wheel caught on fire. It all wound up by Joe's old pal, Crawford, coming to his aid. . . . The irony of it is that Joe was a big fire and tube man in Pampa before he joined the army. . . . Joe, upon questioning, admitted there are a number of Japs in the army at Fort Sill. One of them hands out uniforms to recruits. Joe is in charge of the motor pool at Fort Sill. Another Pampa in the same department is Dude Balthrope. . . .

You will hear more and more about a "task force." What is a "task force"? It is a varied group of men, chosen for their ability to carry out a specific job. It has become the sea weapon of World War II. Modern naval warfare in the Pacific has kept the slow-footed battleship in port, made the carrier the center of task-force operation. The airplane has so changed sea warfare that its apostles think they will soon see the day when the plane will drive the battleship completely from the seas (so says Time magazine).

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

Some of the loveliest fights in Washington don't get in the papers. Maybe it's just as well, for the hardest fights are apt to be the longest fights and the longest fights have a tendency to develop like chess matches, where a move has to be made only once every half hour, or a British cricket match, where the spectators stand around in gray toppers, leaning on their canes for days at a time without any more signs of life than someone occasionally opening his mouth to say "Haw!"

Among the better and bitter battles that have been fought in Washington this past winter have been some of the closed session hearings before panels of the War Labor Board. Clarence E. Randall of Chicago, Inland Steel vice president who presented his company's case before the WLB recently, told about a few of the fast rounds fought in this case, and they make an interesting chapter on one phase of the war effort that isn't generally known.

Much to-do was made over the announcement that WLB was to make its full board meetings open to the public, but this does not apply to the panel meetings, where the real arguments are presented before three members representing the public, one labor, one management. In the Inland Steel case, Arthur S. Meyer, chairman of the New York state mediation board, presided as panel chairman, and at its opening session on Feb. 16, it was agreed that no one would talk until after the hearings were concluded. At first that was considered a gag rule, but as the hearings progressed it became apparent that this was probably for the best.

Interested for the two sides had been permitted to spout openly there would have been daily grandstanding and attempts to grab headlines that would have made this controversial dispute over closed shop union maintenance exceedingly dirty.

RESPECTS MURRAY

Randall himself is never at a loss for a word, and he pays full respects to Phil Murray, president of the Steel Workers Organizing committee who presented the case for the union, as his opponent. Murray's rich Scotch burr, his sense of the dramatic and his timing make him an extremely forceful speaker. In one session he talked for more than three hours without stopping, beginning at noon and so making everyone miss lunch. In another session, Murray, in objecting to a ruling of Chairman Meyer's, said bitterly, "I do not think you are fit to preside over this panel!" It threw the session into an uproar, though a week later, Meyer and Murray were laughing about it when Murray had occasion to remark with mock meekness and sugary humility, "May I enter my usual mild objections?"

Murray and Randall had one of their hottest rounds when Murray at one stage in the proceedings demanded the right to another session. Randall countered with a demand to audit the union books and charges that there were plenty of things in the union record which would not stand the light of publicity. They called the round a draw.

Those are just samples of what goes on in session after session as these labor disputes are argued out. The Inland Steel negotiations have been going on eight months. There were 17 sessions of direct company-SWOC negotiations from September through December, disposing of all questions but closed shop and check-off. In mid-January, SWOC asked for $1 a day increases. In February the case was certified to War Labor Board. Panel hearings were concluded toward the end of April. The panel—Meyer, Cyrus Ching and Richard Frankenstein—has since been reviewing the record. They will call back the union and management representatives for questioning. They will make their findings. Then will come sessions before the full War Labor board—public sessions in which there will be oratory and legal arguing to tire the patience of the gods themselves. It will be June or July by then, and the end will not yet be in sight.

The record of the labor board in the Walker-Turner, International Harvester and Kearny ship-yards decisions might lead anyone to believe that Inland and the other "Little Steel" companies—Republic, Youngstown and Bethlehem—are in for a licking on this union maintenance or closed shop issue. Four things might happen then: The companies can comply and yell. The companies can refuse to accept the decision, which would lead naturally to a takeover by the government. The companies might decide to take the issue to court, on the principle of equity that the courts have the power to review the findings of the War Labor board. No such right is admitted in the President's executive order setting up the War Labor board under the war emergency powers acts. If the courts should accept jurisdiction, a legal battle longer than the fightin' war itself might ensue.

PROBABLY you have heard the story about the Pampa doctor who is working for the Nazis in Pampa getting ready to blow something up, or something. . . . At any rate this doctor is supposed to have a short wave radio in his possession with which he keeps his Nazi cohorts elsewhere informed of what's going on in defense work in Pampa.

First of all, we'd like to tell you that there is absolutely no basis for the story. . . . It is untrue. . . . The names of several doctors are being used to fill the story, all depending upon where it is being told. . . . So the next bird that steps up to you with some confidential inside dope on a Pampa doctor, tell him he's nuts. . . . It's highly unfair, but just goes to prove the silly yarns that get going. . . . It's practically the same story that maligned a patriotic Pampa doctor many months ago. . . . He is now deceased.

PERHAPS you had noticed that mosquitoes have moved into the Panhandle. . . . Maybe it's because they want to get some dive-bomber practice at that aviation training base "somewhere in Texas." . . . We finally got the answer to that question about what's going on east of town. . . . The answer is on Page 2 of today's paper, as you probably noticed. . . . It's a great relief to us and should enable the telephone company to lay off a few hands, judging from the calls we've had on it in the past week.

We have had a request for another bunch of short shorts. . . . So, here they are. . . . If people could keep promises like they can secrets there wouldn't be any sense in making any. . . . Opportunity is on every corner, but it's perfectly willing to put up with. . . . Every time mother mentions moving pictures these days, dad thinks it's spring cleaning. . . . As a patriotic suggestion, if men must keep on striking, let them do it at the enemy, not at factories.

THERE are wives who use enough powder to make their husbands blow up. . . . Money doesn't go quite so far these days—but it stays away long in. . . . You never know how well off you are until you are not. . . . It's hard to sell some men washing machines because they think they married one. . . . Half the work done in the world is done in an effort to dodge work. . . . Look at the bright side. . . . Grover Seitz Will Bring Pioneers Here Tomorrow

Grover Seitz will bring his Clovis Pioneers to Pampa tomorrow night for the first time this season. Game time will be 8:30 o'clock and five cents tax. A special attraction will be the awarding of a $25 defense bond to some fan.

ALTHOUGH GROVER SEITZ, above, still calls Pampa his home, it doesn't make him sentimental when he brings his Clovis Pioneer baseball team here for games.

Clovis will also be here for a Sunday afternoon game, at 3 o'clock, when another defense bond will be given away.

Powell Pickering, sent here by the Fort Worth Cats via Muskogee, is scheduled to take the mound for the Oilers tomorrow night.

Seitz' Pioneers is leading the league while the Oilers are in sixth place.

BIG SPRING, May 15—Bernard Schmidt's string of victories for the Pampa Oilers was stopped last night when the Wichita Falls Spudders, playing a trial series here, beat the Oilers 15 to 1 behind the steady seven-hit pitching of George Milsed, manager of the Spudders and former Texas league star.

Milsed also won his own game with two home runs, driving in six runs in all. Ashcraft and Peterson also hit for the circuit.

Lloyd Summers led the Pampa attack with two doubles. Walter Buckel and Bob Cunningham bagged two singles each with the other hit going to Surratt, rightfielder and pitcher.

The Spudders jumped on Schmitt for two runs in the first inning and added six more in the third. Schmitt left the game in the fifth and Surratt relieved. Andy Mohrbach, purchased by the Oilers from Lamesa, will be on the mound tonight against the Spudders.

A former Oiler was at the mound for the Spudders last night and he played at second without an error. He was Robert "Pepper" Martin, Big Spring boy.

Youth Removed From Rock Tunnel Where He Had Been Pinned

PORTLAND, Ore., May 15 (AP)—Alive but injured critically, 16-year-old James Harper was removed at 6 a. m. Pacific war time, today from a rock tunnel in which he had been pinned for 13 hours.

The boy had lain under a shaky arch of rocks, with a 1,500-pound boulder on his lap pinning his legs. For hours after the slide he had joked with rescuers.

Captain Louis J. Glick, army medical corps, remained with the boy throughout the night as rocks tumbled over their heads, administering sedatives to dull the youth's pain.

A group of miners working under Fred J. Rosenberg, mining engineer, lifted the heavy boulder with a jack and then pulled Harper through a narrow, twisting passage by a rope under his arms. He was then passed from hand to hand down a boulder strewn slope where his mother, Mrs. Opal Harper, was waiting.

(Since 5 p. m. Pacific war time) yesterday the Hill Military academy student from Yakima, Wash., lay in a tunnel-like aperture formed by rocks which had fallen from a sheer cliff of Rocky Butte, on which the academy is located.

He was trapped there when the rocks closed the hole— forbidden to students—75 feet from its entrance. Two companions crawled to safety.

William Mahan, 18, son of a Fort

Miamian Best Aggie In Freshman Class At Texas A. & M.

MIAMI, May 11—Wallace L. Locke, of Miami, has been chosen as the outstanding agricultural freshman of A. and M. college, it was recently. He will be awarded

Lewis student, said he, Harper and another student, named only as "Red," were exploring one of the many openings into the rocks.

Wallace will go as representative of A. and M. to Camp Minwanona on Lake Michigan, August 10-30, where the award to the most outstanding agricultural freshman of North America will be made.

Wallace is a member of the senate of A. and M. and was elected to the position of agricultural freshman of North America will be made. This camp is famous for its development of boys in physical and mental advancement.

The scholarship and trip comes as the climax of a year of worthwhile achievement in A. and M. for the Miami boy. He was winner of the freshman livestock judging contest with the high record of 544 points out of a possible 600.

In the 1942 Little Livestock show, he won grand champion of the sheep department with the ewe he had fitted and shown in the contest, and was also named grand champion showman of the entire show. These accomplishments, of course, had a large part in placing him in line for the award as outstanding Aggie freshman.

The house had written into the farm bill a provision prohibiting any sale of government farm stocks at less than a full parity price or one computed to give a farm product the same relative purchasing power it had in a past period, usually 1909-14.

The senate appropriations committee then voted to allow below parity sale of 125,000,000 bushels of wheat and unlimited amounts of corn, barley and other grains for feeding purposes under an agreement with agriculture department officials that these sales would not be used to force corn prices below 85 per cent of parity, the level of past government corn loans. The farm groups were said to be opposing this action.

Release Of Stored Grain Protested

WASHINGTON, May 15 (AP)—Grain belt farm group leaders were reported today to be rushing to Washington in protest against a pending war measure to release millions of bushels of stored grain for livestock feeding at cut-rate prices.

An influential member of the senate farm bloc said a number of farm organization leaders expected to reach here Saturday for a conference with senators in charge of the annual farm appropriations bill, in which the proposal is contained.

The grain belt spokesmen were said to be protesting an agriculture department bloc compromise for below-parity sale of government grain surpluses for livestock feeding only. The administration backs the compromise as a means of meeting the United Nations' needs for more beef, pork and mutton.

SERIAL STORY CARIBBEAN CRISIS

BY EATON K. GOLDTHWAITE

THE STORY—Bill Talcott is accused of a serious shortage in his accounts by an auditor arriving with his successor, Halsey, who is taking over the management of an American chemical plant on a Dutch island in the Caribbean.

He didn't stand around staring at and through her, didn't withdraw into a hard shell when she tried to flirt. And he didn't try to order her around as if she were only 16 years old.

They were on a strip of beach, the elbow of a deep lagoon. The sand was gray in the darkness, and dark iridescent water lapped at their feet.

It is true that she was spoiled. But she could not have been expected, then, to realize that her defense against masculine attack had been carefully woven about a memory.

She felt his arm groping for her and did not draw away. "You've treated me as well as I deserved. I had no business coming here. I've caused a great deal of tension."

HE said it bluntly, biting off the words, and suddenly the implication was clear to June Paterson. Bill Talcott was suspected of peculation with the firm's money.

Boarders Should Turn Their Sugar Ration Books Over To Landladies

DALLAS, May 11 (AP)—A department store owner may remodel parts of his building without asking permission, provided not more than $5,000 is spent for such work.

THE STORM WARNING

RUSSIAN

The Germans said the cruiser was bombed Thursday north of North Cape and caught fire and sank at midnight last night—thus apparently allowing adequate time for removal of the crew.

In the Crimea, a Soviet communiqué reported that "stubborn fighting" continued, but gave no indication that the Germans had reached the gates of Kerch City, as claimed by the Nazi command.

A German spokesman last night declared Axis troops had crossed the "Tartar Ditch," an old line of fortifications only 13 miles from the city, after a 37-mile advance in six days.

While the defenders of Kerch fought with their backs to the sea, the garrison at long-besieged Sevastopol, Russian Black sea naval base 150 miles west of Kerch, was reported slashing at Nazi lines in an attempt to ease the pressure on their beleaguered comrades.

In between the two main battle sectors of Kerch and Khar'kov, Axis reports acknowledged that the Russians had launched a new attack toward German-held Tapanagrad on the Sea of Azov. These reports said Nazi troops repulsed the Russians at the town of Pokrovsk, 15 miles north of Tapanagrad and 40 miles northwest of Rostov-on-Don.

Other developments: Battle of Australia—Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that long-range Allied bombers again heavily pounded Japanese ships in the harbor of Rabaul, New Britain, and scored a smashing victory over enemy fighters which tried to intercept them.

A communiqué said gunners in the big bombers—presumably including giant American flying fortresses—shot down seven out of 17 Japanese planes attacking them. All Allied planes returned safely.

Other United Nations bombers raided the Japanese seaplane base in the Louisiade archipelago, off the southeast coast of New Guinea, sinking an enemy seaplane and leaving shore targets in flames.

The Japanese countered with two heavy raids on Port Moresby, key Allied base in Southern New Guinea, first attacking the airfield with 13 fighter planes and then striking at ships in the harbor with 26 heavy bombers.

In all, Pampa will make and fill 360 of these kits, but 100 of them will be filled with funds from the war relief drive to which you and you contributed last fall. That leaves 260 bags to be filled by donations, and you are not limited to $1—you can give any number you want to.

And when you give, you can be dead sure that the money is going for the specific purpose of giving aid and comfort to some good old soldier boy from Texas, Oklahoma or any of the other 48 states. This little gift from you will be personal and not to a million guys, but to one soldier.

You haven't got any time to lose in giving because these kits must be ready to turn over to the men by June 1.

Mrs. Roche, who is Mike's wife, and her committee will purchase the articles to fill the kits as soon as

CLEAN-UP

Work Already Underway Some of these have already cleaned up their blocks and cleared weeds off vacant lots.

Also, some Pampans have already paid the city to have lots mowed. This cannot be done at once, but the work will be accomplished as soon as possible.

New weed wardens, supplementing the original list have been named: Mrs. A. E. Doucette, 211 N. Frost; Bob Thompson, 425 Yeager; J. D. LaFard, 523 S. Hobart.

An added incentive to the campaign is the announcement today that Pampa has been selected as the site of a twin-engine bomber training school.

A large sign has been hung across the front of the fire station, reading: "Clean-Up Week, May 17-23; Sponsored by the Pampa Garden Club; Do Your Part and Look After Your Own Back Yard."

City Manager Steve Matthews, commenting on the drive, said today: "This campaign is certainly getting results. You'd be surprised at the response we've had. It just goes to prove my idea that a town can be just what its citizens want it to be."

"I'm going to do some real work in this drive, too. Come around Saturday and I'll show you how I am going to cut down the dandelions and other weeds, and clean up around my place.

"There'll be no extra trash picked up except in the period beginning Tuesday and ending Saturday. Residents should be careful in putting out their trash for collection that no fires are burning nearby or that any danger from fire is removed.

"An outline of the route trucks will follow in picking up trash will be published in the newspaper."

Over the radio next week, programs in conjunction with clean-up will continue. On Monday, City Manager Steve Matthews will conduct a quiz program on the why and how of the campaign with four weed wardens being interviewed.

Dr. N. L. Nichol, assistant health officer, will tell how the city collects and disposes of garbage in a program Wednesday.

Another program has been tentatively planned for Friday. General theme of all the radio speeches will be in answer to the question, "What am I supposed to do in this clean-up movement?"

MARRIED MEN

(Continued from Page 1) "established" families if this can be avoided, although it may be necessary to shift heads of families into necessary industrial war work.

Hershey joined army and navy officials in endorsing, with reservations, the general provisions of a bill to provide for compulsory allotments of part of service men's pay toward the upkeep of their dependents, with the government supplementing the allotment.

None of the three services represented endorsed a section of the bill that would allow the federal security administrator to make unlimited payments in "hardship" cases, although all emphasized they did not oppose it.

Hershey said there was an "immediate and pressing" need for the pending legislation, under which monthly would be deducted from the pay of enlisted men with dependents and the government would add to this $20 for a wife and $10 additional for each child.

Besides saving the government "embarrassment" in certain cases "which we must continue to take," such as men who married recently, Hershey said, the legislation would "make a great deal of difference" in morale.

It would, he said, remove much worry over financial matters, which now naturally disturb a drafted man with dependents.

The house voted to raise a proposed $42 a month scale of pay for privates and apprentice seamen to $50 and increase from $48 to $54 the rating proposed for first class privates and second class seamen.

Chairman May (D-Ky.) of the military committee conceded that complications would arise from this action.

In order to prevent thefts of tires, police in some localities will demand to see the motorist's registration card when they come upon him in the act of changing a wheel.

FLYING SCHOOL

TULSA, Okla., May 15. (AP)—D. E. Buchanan, a member of the staff of the office of petroleum coordinator, said today "It is possible that no additional installations for the manufacture of 100 octane gasoline will be authorized, at least in the near future."

"That parade may have gone by but the line is forming for synthetic rubber and toluol," he said in a speech prepared for the 21st annual convention of the National Gasoline association of America.

Buchanan advised the natural gasoline men to make a thorough study of the feasibility of producing 100 octane gasoline—"and don't stop at 100," he added—as well as butadiene and styrene for synthetic rubber, and toluene.

The super aviation fuel of the future is being developed from natural gasoline derivatives, he said, "but not by the natural gasoline industry."

"Tests have shown appreciable toluol content in certain natural gasolines," he continued, "and it is quite possible some of them may prove more desirable for toluol extraction than crude oils currently being processed. There is also the

President Crawford Atkinson of the Pampa Board of City Development, revealed today that Manager Garnet Reeves, members of the aviation and industrial committees, and county and city officials, have been working on the prospect for several months.

Pampa's excellent location, the ideal weather of this area, the city's excellent housing facilities, churches, schools and water system were all factors taken into consideration by the government in announcing the school.

Supt. L. L. Sone revealed today the Pampa schools can accommodate an additional 1,200 students without overcrowding.

The city's water supply is adequate to care for an influx of residents. Lights and gas are also available in abundance.

Date of starting on the project has not been announced but it will probably be immediately.

On May 5 the Cabot Shops, Inc., announced that it had received through the ordnance department of the United States army a large gun forge tubing contract. Construction of an entirely new plant will be started immediately within five miles of Pampa, Cabot officials announced.

The war department also announced training schools for Childress and San Marcos today. Senator Tom Connally also announced the good news. His telegram said, "War department announced today authorization for construction of an air force installation at Pampa to cost less than three million dollars. Construction will be supervised by the Tulsa Oklahoma district office of the corps of engineers."

The people, he said, will understand. He said he was inclined to think there was an increasing necessity in this country for curtailing private plane travel.

Asked whether his words should be taken to mean that he thought there would be no shortage of railway coach traveling facilities, the President remarked that people could stand up. He said, however, he should not think there would be any problem for the time being, particularly since more people would be sticking at their jobs this summer and not going away, either by automobile or train.

BRITISH NAZI CLAIM (Continued from Page 1) ed forces there. Spitsbergen was not under German occupation when the Allies raided. Commenting on the April report, the London Daily Sketch said the information "should be treated with reserve."

"The island has no strategic importance," the Sketch said. "It is likely that the Nazis are trying to lure another British expedition there with the object of attacking it at sea."

The long interval between the reported hitting and sinking of the cruiser suggests adequate time for removal of personnel. The site is on the Allied supply line from Britain to Murmansk and Archangel, Northern Soviet ports.

NEW YORK, May 15. (AP)—The black and white silk scarf which police found under the body of the slain Mrs. Susa Flora Reich was identified today as the property of Madeleine Webb, 28-year-old model, on trial for her life in general sessions court.

The identification was made by Detective John B. Kaiser, who took the witness stand as the first day's murder trial of Miss Webb, Stillwater, Okla., model and college graduate; F. L. Shonbrun, her alleged lover, and John D. Cullen, entered its fifth day before Judge Jonah J. Goldstein and an all-male jury.

Kaiser testified that the scarf he shown to Miss Webb in the district attorney's office shortly after she and her two co-defendants were arrested.

"She identified it by saying 'That's mine,'" the detective said.

Ontario, Calif., May 15. (AP)—Unable to dodge an onrushing truck, 6-year-old Betty Bowers seized the front bumper and clung for dear life.

The truck rolled several hundred feet down the street, but before the driver could come to a complete halt, Betty lost her grip, and disappeared beneath the vehicle.

Anxious spectators found the girl pinned to the pavement by one wheel which had come to rest on the hem of her dress.

With the ship listing badly, the captain ordered it abandoned, and the crew left aboard a lifeboat and two life rafts. A few minutes later the submarine surfaced and began shelling the vessel with two guns. 17 and 20 shells were fired, and the ship showed at least 9 direct hits, but did not sink. Captain Shelton said the sub circled the ship rapidly, and that it was possible two submarines engaged in the attack. The crew heard German voices from the submarine they saw. Just before daybreak the submarine left hastily with approach of a plane that signaled that help was coming. At 9 a. m. patrol boats from the Eighth Naval district inshore patrol arrived and took the survivors aboard. A coast guard cutter also came and put a line aboard the disabled ship and took it safely to port. The crew found a large porpoise on the bridge when they went back aboard the ship. A torpedo had flung it 50 feet into the air and aboard the ship. The crew members were all American, with residences scattered throughout the United States.
