

SUGAR RATION 'CENSUS' TOMORROW TO INCLUDE EVERYONE

Typewriters will click out a new kind of "sugar blues," and Gray county residents will learn more about "sweet" mystery when registration is held over the county tomorrow in the mass application for war ration book 1.

It will be a "sweet" day for Pampa students who will have a holiday while teacher and others check up on the number of pounds of "Henderson vitamins" you have in your kitchen.

Greatest registration in the history of Gray county, and of the United States, will be the registration for war ration books to be held tomorrow, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

Technically, the registration is the "consumer sugar" registration, a sequel to the "trade" sugar listing held over the county on April 28-29; actually, it is the time when individuals will be issued war ration books for sugar; and for other commodities that may later be rationed.

In Pampa, there'll be 400 "sweet" census takers, alone, not counting the ones at LeFors, McLean, Alanreed, Back, Webb, Hopkins, Grandview, Laketon, Farrington.

Technically, this "bitter with the sweet" day is for the purpose of letting your Uncle Sam know how much sugar you have on hand; and to provide you with a book containing stamps which you will need to purchase sugar in the future.

If you want to "keep sweet" with the "sweet" census takers, you'll register tomorrow, even if you are also permitted to register Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday.

In case you feel like moaning about having to have your sugar rationed, remember the less sweets for "sweet little you" the more sour for the Japs, the swastika-morons, and Hitler's black-shirt stooges.

No One Excluded

Whether you have a "sweet little nest" of your own, or eat in the nearest "ham and" emporium, whether you are a "grand old man" or youth, "sweet child" or infant cherub, you must have a war ration book.

Housewife, banker, merchant, laborer, high school girl, career woman, school boy—you must have your ration book, for it's Uncle who says so.

Know These Facts

As has been stated before, it is not necessary for all persons in a family to come and register to get a ration book for each, one person can register and get the books for all the family, but that one person must know and must tell the registrar for each person to whom a book in that family unit is to be issued:

1. Name, address, and description.
2. Last name, first name, middle

3. Street number, postoffice box number, city or town.
4. County, state.
5. Height, weight, color of eyes, color of hair, age.
6. Number of persons in family unit.
7. Relationship of person named to person applying for book.
8. Total number of pounds of brown and white sugar in any form which is owned by the family unit name.

or its members; or, if person named is not a member of the family unit, the number of pounds of brown and white sugar owned by such person.

Single persons, of course, will answer the questions applicable in their own case.

What's Sugar?

AMARILLO, May 2 (AP)—J. R. Barnhill, chairman of Potter county draft board No. 1, today accused Brig.-Gen. J. Watt Page, state director of selective service, of inefficiency and incompetence in the administration of his office and called for a complete investigation.

Barnhill, who demanded Gen. Page's resignation in a letter replying to one from Gen. Page which requested Barnhill's resignation, said he was making a formal demand to Brig. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national director, that a complete investigation be made of "the state of affairs under your (Page's) administration."

A copy of Gen. Page's letter to Barnhill, as released by Barnhill, said in part:

"The seriousness with which you have taken the work, together with the fact that the observance of the various rules and regulations of the selective service system is irksome to you, has, I believe, influenced you toward an unfavorable attitude with respect to the system.

"No reflection of any kind is intended upon the work that you have done when I say to you that I believe it would be to the best interests of all concerned if you would submit your resignation as a member of the board," the copy of Page's letter concluded.

Barnhill said that Gen. Page's letter gave no specific reasons for asking his resignation and said the request was made "apparently for no other reason than an effort on my part to add one badly-needed assistant clerk to the payroll of this office."

Price-Selling To Be Explained At Meeting Thursday

Why and how of the price-setting by the federal government for the war's duration on retail and wholesale prices will be explained to Pampa and other Panhandle business men at a regional meeting to be held at 8 p. m. Thursday in the Crystal ballroom at the Herring hotel in Amarillo.

Summarized, the meeting is for the purpose of making full information available for business men to learn all about the general maximum price regulations. Officials from the regional OPA office in Dallas will be present as speakers.

Business men of the Austin area will have their meeting in Austin on the same day. Similar regional meetings will be held in the period May 4-26 at Denison, Wichita Falls, Lubbock, Corpus Christi, Abilene, Big Spring, Laredo, Texarkana, Harlingen, Paris, Tyler, Waco, San Angelo, Lufkin.

Joe C. Cooley assistant manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, writes that the meeting is a three-way affair sponsored by the Amarillo chamber, the OPA, and the state board of vocational education, and is being held in advance of the new price regulations which become effective May 18.

Called a "clinic" the meeting will explain:

- A. Selective price control in effect now.
- B. Over-all price control to be in effect beginning week of May 18.
- C. General maximum price regulations for retailers and wholesalers.
- (a) What items are under price control now and after May 18.
- (b) How the maximum prices are established.
- (c) What items are excluded from the orders.
- (d) Records which must be kept by the retailers.

Charleston Has Blackout

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 2 (AP)—Charleston had a 20-minute blackout tonight.

The sirens wailed an alarm at 11 p. m., and at 11:20 the all-clear signal sounded.

There was no explanation from official quarters.

THE NEW COMMANDER of Pampa chapter, Veterans of Foreign Wars, is Fred L. Fender, above, who lives at the Pampa-Phillips camp 10 miles south of Pampa. He was installed at a meeting last week.

He is also technical sergeant of the 14th battalion, medical detachment, Texas Defense Guard. The battalion includes the companies at Pampa, Amarillo, Borger and Dalhart. He has been active in veterans work here for four years. Commander Fender has pledged cooperation of his organization to city and county officials and to civic clubs as has been a practice in the past.

He is also well pleased with the new patriotism being shown by Pampans. That was shown in the Army Day parade when everyone removed hats when the colors passed. He urges all veterans to get behind the organization and help build it up to receive new members from this war. Also, the government programs call for veterans organizations for assistance. Commander Fender said his organization would continue to cooperate with the American Legion, of which he is a member, and with auxiliaries.

Jap Diplomats Arrive In Vichy

VICHY, France, May 2 (AP)—The highest ranking Japanese diplomats in Europe started a series of conferences here today.

Vice Admiral Naokuni Nomura, head of the Japanese delegation to Berlin, and Rear Admiral Aoki, chief of the Japanese diplomats in Rome, arrived by plane during the morning. They conferred during the entire day with Takonobu Mitani, Japanese ambassador to Vichy France.

Later they were expected to confer with French political leaders.

The meeting will be a prelude to Axis pressure for Japanese control of the great island of Madagascar, at the main Allied supply lines around the Cape of Good Hope.

Despite Vichy denial, a Japanese mission has been reported at Madagascar for several weeks.

The conference followed closely a meeting of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini at Salzburg, at which Japan—the third major Axis partner—did not participate officially.

17 Killed In Crash Of Giant Transport

SALT LAKE CITY, May 2 (AP)—Army trucks crawled over soggy and rough terrain today to a ridge at the city limits and returned with the broken bodies of 17 persons killed in a midnight transport crash.

A crew of three and 14 passengers, one a child, died in the flaming wreckage of the United States Airlines sleeper that struck a storm-lashed ridge within sight of the Salt Lake city airport.

Scars on the hillside showed the giant airliner struck the ground,

Australia On Guard After Plane Flight

By C. YATES McDANIEL, ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, May 2 (AP)—The entire region of Townsville, far north on Australia's east coast, was put on guard against a surprise invasion or air assault today as the result of the first appearance of mysterious scouting planes over that strategic area and numerous signs that the Japanese are preparing new blows in the Australian theater.

The flight of the two suspect planes over Townsville at 30,000 feet altitude in good observation weather yesterday was reported by General Douglas MacArthur's headquarters.

Allied anti-aircraft batteries opened fire and interceptor planes took the air, but were unable to overhaul the strangers.

This first appearance of presumably hostile planes in the Townsville area followed a warning yesterday by Gen. Sir Thomas Blamey, the Australian chief of Allied land forces in Australia, that "increased enemy

Giraud Returns To Vichy With Two Custodians

By The Associated Press, NEW YORK, May 2—General Henri Honoré Giraud, the elusive French officer whom Germany captured but couldn't hold in two wars, was reported in custody near Vichy tonight, the center of an argument between Vichy and the Germans over his return to the Nazis after his latest spectacular escape from Koenigstein fortress.

First reports from highly reliable European informants said he actually had been handed over to the Germans during the day but later was returned to detention near Vichy with his future in considerable doubt.

The Germans, who offered a 100,000-mark reward for his capture before he made his way to unoccupied France by way of Switzerland, were said to be exerting considerable pressure in discussions under way at Vichy to regain their former captive.

The general was said to have left Vichy tonight in the company of two custodians, whom reliable informants identified as Germans.

These informants said he was being taken to Paris.

However, after several hours he was returned to a place of detention just outside Vichy.

The 63-year-old general escaped from the German prison camp of Koenigstein late last month and

U. S. Charges 2 Wichita Men With Sedition

KANSAS CITY, Kas., May 2 (AP)—A father and son—publishers of a Wichita, Kas., weekly newspaper—were indicted today by a federal grand jury on a charge of sedition.

The indictment accused Elmer J. Garner, 70, and his son, James, 45, with acts "tending to discourage the recruiting for the enlisted service of the United States and to cause insubordination, disloyalty and mutiny in the armed forces."

S. S. Alexander, U. S. district attorney for Kansas, asserted the indictment developed from articles published in the newspaper, "Publicity," since the declaration of war by this country.

Neither the father nor son would comment on the charges on their arrest at Wichita, where they quickly posted bonds of $1,000 each.

The indictment included 11 counts, listing what the government charged was seditious writing and editorial comment of a character to reflect against the government's war effort and to excite disloyalty in the armed forces.

The elder Garner is a pioneer newspaperman of the Southwest. He went to Oklahoma, two years after its statehood, to become managing editor of a Guthrie, Okla., newspaper, the New State Tribune.

Later, he established what is believed to be the first Populist paper in Kansas, the "Farmer's Advance," at Norton. He returned to Guthrie and published a newspaper there for a while, coming to Wichita 12 years ago.

Conviction of the charge carries a penalty of a prison sentence not to exceed 20 years or a fine not to exceed $10,000 or both.

Wheat Market Quota Carries Gray 336 To 22

By a 15 to 1 vote, Gray county wheat farmers last night said "yes" to the question of wheat marketing quota on the 1942 crop. Total was 336 for, 22 opposed.

It was the second time that farmers of Gray, as well as farmers in other wheat growing counties of the nation had voted on the question.

Heaviest vote in Gray Saturday was at the Pampa box, where the total was 248 for, 19 opposed. Grandview had 44 for and by coincidence the affirmative vote at Laketon was the same. Voted at Grandview were two; at Laketon 1.

College Station reported that first results on the wheat referendum in Texas showed 11 counties out of 134 gave 174 for and 28 against wheat quotas.

Over the nation incomplete returns gave a favorable majority for the agriculture department proposal to continue rigid marketing quotas for wheat.

Partial returns from 14 of the 40 wheat-growing states gave 28,835 votes for quotas and 9,420 against. This was a majority of about 72 per cent. Approval by at least two-thirds of the farmers voting was required.

Represented in these returns were Colorado, Delaware, Georgia, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kentucky, Maryland, Michigan, New Mexico, Ohio, Virginia, New Jersey and

Ickes Refuses Sadler Request For More Oil

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes today rejected a request of the Texas Railroad commission that the state's May petroleum production be increased from 960,000 to 1,500,000 barrels daily.

Ickes said such a boost would work "in direct opposition to the best interests of the war program."

Commissioners Jerry Sadler and Olin Culberson balked yesterday at Ickes request for the lower production figure, saying it was a starvation allowable and would not even supply local needs.

Ickes said that crude stocks in Texas were in excess of those of other states, even on a relative basis, and that there was no evidence to indicate the transportation situation would improve much in the immediate future.

China, India Or Both May Be Invaded

Australians Note Signs Of New Nip Activity

By E. C. DANIEL, LONDON, May 2 (AP)—Mandalay, the pagoda-crowned city made famous by a song, was claimed today by the invading Japanese army, which apparently was driving ever-wider wedges between the British and Chinese defenders of the fragment of Burma which remains in Allied hands.

Lashio, the terminus of the famous Burma road to China 135 miles northeast of Mandalay, was captured from the Chinese on Wednesday in a push which now has carried the invaders north of Hsenwi, only 45 miles from the border of China.

A Chungking communique said the Japanese had been repulsed with heavy casualties at an undisclosed point north of Hsenwi.

Today imperial headquarters in Tokyo, in one of its rare communiqués on the long months of bitter battle in Burma, claimed that Mandalay was taken from the British yesterday and that the occupying forces had destroyed all the city's vital military establishments.

While the Allies did not acknowledge the loss, informed quarters said the metropolis of upper Burma probably soon would fall if it had not already done so.

A British communique from New Delhi, India, made the plight of the Allies gloomily evident.

It said all British troops on the Mandalay front were being withdrawn "from a position north of the Irrawaddy." Significantly, Mandalay is on the south bank of the river, which flows west at that point.

The British also announced defensive destruction of road and rail bridges across the tributary Myingye river and that two spans of the famous Ava bridge had been demolished.

Fighting was in progress in and around Monywa, across the Irrawaddy some 50 miles west of Mandalay, indicating that the British withdrawal may have progressed that far in the face of the breathtaking Japanese thrusts.

The Japanese drive northward from there was regarded by some observers as an indication that the invaders were aiming at China primarily, rather than at India.

With the famous Burma road already cut and Japanese troops within 40-odd miles of the Chinese border, Emperor Hirohito's high com-

McMurray Candidate For Gray Sheriff

A seventh candidate for one particular office, and the 39th candidate to add his name to the political calendar today with the announcement by Roy McMurray that he was a candidate for sheriff.

McMurray would have been the 40th name on the political calendar had it not been for the announcement yesterday of the withdrawal of Roy Pearce from the constable's race.

Pearce, named Friday as undersheriff to Sheriff Cal Rose, said yesterday that he had decided to withdraw as a candidate for constable of precinct 2, for business reasons.

McMurray, latest to announce in the race for sheriff, has been a resident of Pampa since 1934, is married, has one son, is in the wire rope supply business. He has a wide acquaintance among both men and has never been a candidate before for public office.

CHINA

mind was on the verge of disclosing a fateful decision. Whether to try to knock China out of the war by invasion from the west, to march eastward toward the tempting land of India, or to attempt both simultaneously.

The situation rendered comparatively insignificant all other developments on the far fronts where the United Nations oppose the Axis.

These developments included the appearance of Japanese reconnaissance planes 700 miles down the east coast of Australia; reports that the Russians were driving deeper wedges into German positions on the front west of Moscow; and official announcement that American army service troops are supporting the British in North Africa in steadily increasing numbers.

It was in ravaged Burma that the war burned fiercest as the Japanese sped ahead in the face of the first violent breezes and showers of the imminent monsoon season.

The Chinese announced that the Japanese had reached a point somewhere north of Hsienwei, which is only 45 miles from the frontier of China's Yunnan province, but said they had repulsed the enemy there in hard fighting.

Chinese reinforcements were reported hastening down to bolster the defense which the Japanese have thrust back more than 180 miles from the positions they occupied one scant week ago.

Since Rangoon fell on March 9, the invaders have pressed northward nearly 500 miles through some of the world's most forbidding country, a land of mountains and jungles.

Neither the British nor Chinese confirmed the loss of Mandalay, but the last Chinese report from that front was three days old, and British sources conceded the city probably would fall if it had not already done so.

A communique from New Delhi indicated the magnitude of the Allied problem. It told of defensive demolition of road and railroad bridges or tributaries of the Irrawaddy river around Mandalay, declared British troops on the north of the river—the opposite side from Mandalay—were withdrawing, and told of fighting already in progress around Monywa, 50 miles west of Mandalay.

A Chungking communique said that a Chinese force left far south around Tuangyvi, had repeatedly raided the Japanese, killing 1,350 of them, destroying six tanks and capturing much booty, but it was believed this force was isolated, fighting on because there was little else left to do.

The immediate Japanese aim apparently was to separate irretrievably the British and Chinese forces on the west and east, respectively. A British communique acknowledged that no reports had been received from the Chinese sector.

But whether the Japanese would press against China or India remained a question in view of a Japanese naval air raid on Akyab, the remaining useful Allied seaport near the border of India.

Confronted with this threat, the politically dominant all-India congress, whose course curious to western eyes. The congress working committee urged Indians to resist any Japanese invasion with "non-violent non-cooperation."

The congress, which was instrumental in the recent Indian refusal of Britain's offer of dominion status, contended its non-violence policy was chosen because "the British government prevented organization of national defenses by the people in any other way."

On the Australian front the Japanese faced a different sort of resistance entirely.

Appearance of Japanese scouting planes over Townsville on the east coast served to put the commonwealth on a sharper guard against an invasion threat.

The Australians also noted indications that Japan may have reinforced her invasion bases in the New Guinea-New Britain area recently.

An Australian correspondent said more planes, bombs and men were needed quickly if Port Moresby, chief city of New Guinea, was to be held. Port Moresby is one of the chief sources of the continuing American-Australian raids on Japanese positions.

In relation to Russia, which is an ally of the United Nations in the war against Germany and Italy but has preserved schizolous neutrality toward Japan, the Japanese radio broadcast a report that an American or other Allied submarine had sunk a Russian merchant ship in Japanese waters.

The Russians themselves were reported fighting the Nazi invaders around Bryansk, Orel and Kursk and southwest of Kharkov. The first three positions were an apparent German flank guard for Hitler's long-expected but never-started drive in the Ukraine.

On the North African front, where the British and the German-Italian forces so long have battled over the Libyan desert, there was only patrol and bombing activity, but it was announced that the U. S. army was there to support the British imperials.

The troops are in service corps—mechanics, supply specialists, trainers and technical experts—said Maj. Gen. Russell L. Maxwell, head of the American North African mission.

They already have turned over to the RAF a school for training in handling American planes, he said, and construction of the big U. S. built arsenal in Eritrea is "well under way," with operations hoped for soon.

German, made his way to the Swiss border by regular train, talking during the trip with a German colonel who sat next to him.

After crossing the Swiss border General Giraud identified himself and after expressing a wish to continue to unoccupied France was permitted to proceed.

Since reaching unoccupied France he had been staying at a village outside Vichy. He had hoped to see his old comrade in arms, Chief of State Marshal Petain, but whether the audience actually was held could not be established.

Upon his escape from Koenigstein fortress the Germans offered a 100,000-mark reward for his capture and announced that anyone caught assisting him would be shot.

University Of Chicago Favors 2-Year Degree

CHICAGO, May 2 (AP)—The University of Chicago's revolutionary plan to award the bachelor of arts degree at the end of the sophomore year instead of at the finish of the senior term was lauded and lambasted today by leaders in the academic field.

It was viewed variously, in a symposium before the American council of education, as something that was needed in peace and even more so in war time and as a step that likely would lead to general chaos and hairpulling among school people.

Robert M. Hutchins, Chicago's president and champion of the system recently adopted there, reported that his university determined to provide a liberal education by the end of the sophomore year in a program which squeezes out "wasted water and duplication." He contended that such a course was desirable at any time but was imperative during the war.

"Young men are going to have to leave us at the age of twenty," he added. "It is our duty to give them before they go the education every citizen should have."

legheeny college termed the idea "the expression of an inferiority complex of Americans dazzled by the educational systems of the old world."

President Homer P. Rainey of the University of Texas suggested that his colleagues might consign the junior college and the B. A. degree to the realm of secondary education and "place our emphasis upon the getting of a higher education leading to the master's or some other degree."

"It now seems obvious that the end of the present junior college is the best terminal point for universal public education," he concluded. "A rigid selection should be made at this point."

SUGAR

do, the office of price administration gives you a 51-word definition: "Sugar means all types of cane and beet sugars in all forms, including granulated, confectioners, powdered, tablet, brown, and soft sugars, as well as liquid sugars, invert sugar, and sugar syrup. Molasses is not included. The weight of sugar in liquid form is computed as the weight of sugar solids."

Rules On Excess Sugar
In connection with the registration, James B. Massa, chairman of the Gray County Rationing board, said Saturday:

"People that have an excess amount of sugar, that is, more than six pounds a person, will not be issued war ration books upon registration, however, they should go ahead and register and declare the amount of excess sugar they possess so that the board will be able to help them make legal disposition of it, and to enable them to get a war ration book at the earliest possible date."

"By making such a disposition of excess sugar, these persons won't be inconvenienced if other articles are rationed later on. In this registration the amount of sugar on hand, which registers, will be as of midnight, May 3."

Chairman Massa repeated the previous statement for emphasis on getting everyone to register Monday—in order to disrupt school schedules as little as possible.

Administrator Gives Answers
Numerous last minute questions regarding registration were answered yesterday by Max L. McCullough, region administrator of the OPA in Texas and Oklahoma.

Some of the answers:
There is no penalty for having an over-supply of sugar except that a person in that circumstance will not be able to buy more sugar until the over-supply is reduced to a reasonable amount.

College students living away from home possibly eight months of the year should not be registered as members of a family unit, but should be registered separately.

If a student eats 12 or more meals a week in an establishment such as a fraternity, sorority, dormitory or boarding house, and if that establishment is registered as an institutional user, then the student's war ration book should be turned over to the manager of the establishment, and the manager should have cancelled by the local ration board the stamps which expire during the school period. In this way the student can use the war ration book while at home during a vacation period.

A traveling salesman who is away from home for temporary periods, or a person in a hospital, should be registered with his family unit. However, a hospital patient should turn his war ration book over to the hospital if the period of hospitalization exceeds 10 days.

Any person—with the permission of the book holder may take a war ration book to a store to make a sugar purchase for a book holder.

Place Of Kiwanis Club Picnic Kept Secret

Climaxing an attendance contest held during March and April, members of the Pampa Kiwanis club will hold a stag picnic on Friday night. Place of the picnic is being kept a "military secret" until the time the Kiwanians meet at 8:30 o'clock Friday night at the city hall.

"Sheep" proved superior to "Wolves" in the attendance contest. M. F. Downs captained the "Sheep," whose attendance percentage was 99 as compared with the 97 of Jim Nation's "Wolves."

Announcement of the picnic was made at the club's regular weekly luncheon at noon Friday. On the program was the declamation given by Billy Waters, "We Are Proud," and observance of Canadian Good-Will week, in conjunction with the relations between the Kiwanis clubs of America and Canada.

Young Waters, high school student, was the winner of the regional contest in declamation. Attendance at the luncheon was 50. Ed Ireland of Dallas was a visitor.

Congress Of Parents And Teachers Opens At San Antonio Today

By WILLIAM T. RIVES

SAN ANTONIO, May 2 (AP)—Dedicated to the protection of American children in wartime and the preservation of the educational system despite the great stress imposed by world conflict, the national congress of parents and teachers opens its annual convention here tomorrow.

Officers declared it would be the most important session in the history of the 2,600,000-member organization, the largest service group of men and women in the nation.

Mrs. William Kletzer of Portland,

Ore., president, said "we find ourselves confronted with new and unpredictable demands in carrying out the great obligation we have assumed."

"The war has brought new physical hazards to which children may be exposed; health hazards are more pronounced, and emotional and social hazards beset us on every side."

The convention, which opens with a vesper service tomorrow evening at the Alamo, shrine of Texas liberty, will probe for the answer to every war-induced problem relating to children.

Evacuation of children, salvage campaigns, advice to parents, interpreting the war to children, the importance of recreation, encouragement of home gardening—these subjects will be discussed in the general sessions and clinics.

At the pre-convention meetings,

Mrs. Albert L. Gardner of Perth Amboy, N. J., was elected chairman of the national chairmen's conference. Donald W. MacKay of Santa Fe, N. M., was elected vice-chairman.

Mrs. Benjamin Kendrick of Newmarket, N. H., was elected president of the state presidents' conference. Mrs. Fagan Cox of Monroe, La., was chosen vice president and Mrs. C. C. Clark of Gulfport, Miss., secretary.

WHAT IS SUGAR?

Sugar means all types of cane and beet sugars in all forms, including granulated, confectioners, powdered, tablet, brown and soft sugars, as well as liquid sugar, invert sugar, and sugar syrup. Molasses is not included. The weight of sugar in liquid form is computed as the weight of sugar solids.

Gray County schoolhouses will have a full crew of registrars Monday only. A skeleton crew of registrars will be maintained at the schoolhouses, only, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 5-6-7. It is desired that practically 100% registration be made Monday when all registration places will be open and a full crew of registrars at the schools. If an applicant has more than two pounds and not more than six pounds per person, stamps for excess pounds above the two pounds allowable will be detached from the rationing book. If they have more than six pounds per person, they will not be issued a rationing book at time of registration. Applicants owning excess sugar must use it at the allowable rate of one-half pound per week per person and will not be eligible to receive rationing books until their supply of excess sugar has been consumed at the allowable rate per week.

Fishing For Cat To Be Allowed In May, June

Fishing for cat fish will be allowed in the east half of Lake McClellan during the months of May and June, biological department officials announced yesterday. The west half of the lake will be closed as a spawning bed.

Date of opening the lake, and other government lakes in the Panhandle, for game fishing has not been set, officials said.

Worms and cut bait only can be used for catching cat fish during the two months. No limit has been set nor has a size limit been designated. It is against the law to use seines, trotlines and artificial bait.

If any other type of fish is caught, it must be returned to the lake immediately. In releasing a fish the hands should be wet. The best method is to release the fish under water. Fish touched with dry hands or dry objects usually die.

Spawning beds have been designated in all government lakes in the Panhandle and fishermen should find out from lake concessionaires where fishing is allowed before "going to work."

At Lake McClellan in Gray county the restricted area is west of a line from the sail boat docks on the north shore to the sail boat starting pole on the south shore.

MUELLER WINS AGAIN
BEAUMONT, May 2 (AP)—Lee Mueller continued his sensational pitching here today as he blanked the Oilers in five hits for a 3-0 victory to increase the Exporters' Texas league lead to two and a half games.

Mueller, who in 51 innings has allowed only two runs, one of which was earned, tied up with Henry Wood for Oilers in an old-fashioned hurling duel before the Exporters exploded with four hits in the eighth for their three tallies.

Mueller set down seven Oilers on strikes, boosting his total for the 51 innings to 47.

Cut In Gasoline Production Recommended By R. Davies

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Immediate readjustment of refinery operations in the east and middle-west to increase industrial fuel oil output—which would mean a reduction in gasoline production—was called for today by the Office of Petroleum Coordination in a new move to relieve the heavy oil supply situation along the Atlantic seaboard.

The announcement made no mention of a possibility that the reduced motor fuel output might mean new curtailment of gasoline consumption.

One official previously had said, however, that readjustment of transportation facilities to meet the eastern petroleum emergency might spread gasoline consumption curtailments to all states east of the Mississippi.

The refinery readjustment request was sent by Deputy Petroleum Coordinator Ralph K. Davies to all refineries operating in the two districts. He asked specifically:

1. That eastern refineries so adjust their runs, effective immediately, "as to produce the maximum volume of fuel oil at the expense of other products that can physically be manufactured."
2. That midwestern refineries increase immediately their production of heavy oils by reducing gasoline output to a percentage which will not exceed 80 per cent of each refinery's "average motor gasoline percentage yield per barrel of crude for the year 1941."

At the same time, Davies sent telegrams to the operators of 112 refineries in the Gulf Coast region requesting them to process crude oil during May at a daily rate which does not exceed a maximum of 70.5 per cent of the average daily crude processing rate for the last six months of 1941.

"Because of transportation difficulties leading to serious interference with war effort, and in order that large and small refineries operating in areas furthest removed from the normal large consuming markets may be treated equally,"

Davies said, "it is necessary that crude runs in such areas be curtailed uniformly, with exceptions accorded only to those refineries where it is imperative that a different rate of production be authorized to sustain maximum output of critical war products."

To other refineries in the same area, he sent telegrams setting a specific figure as their recommended maximum average daily crude processing rate for May.

Elimination Of 'Luxury Equipment' On Roads Imminent

WASHINGTON, May 2 (AP)—Reduction or elimination of "luxury equipment" on railroads, such as club, lounge, parlor and sleeping cars is "imminent," Joseph B. Eastman, defense transportation director, said today.

Declaring that essential military and civilian travel must not be impeded, Eastman said ODT was planning restrictions on passenger travel, elimination of duplication services on competing railroads, lengthening of limited schedules to include more stops and diversion to more important runs of such branch line equipment as can be made available.

The gasoline and rubber shortage, he explained, has caused a 50 per cent increase in passenger travel on buses and railroads since Pearl Harbor.

Expensive Focus Headlights

The total annual cost of illness in U. S. families with incomes of $2,500 a year or less, is approximately $2,400,000,000, according to estimates. Of this amount, $900,000,000 represents wage loss, and the remainder goes for medical care.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. McWilliams of Austin and his brother E. P. McWilliams of Long Beach, Cal. They are enroute to Long Beach.

Burglars entered Harvester Service station, 201 North Ballard street, some time Friday night but took only a $1 bill and 200 pennies. Entry was gained by smashing a small hole in a rest room window and then turning the latch. City officers are investigating.

Pvt. Walter R. Mitchell, son of J. E. Mitchell, Pampa, was graduated recently from the Chanute Field branch of the U. S. Army Air Corps technical school at Chanute field, Ill.

Regular volunteer drill of Company D, Texas Defense Guard, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at Harvester pdfr.

Using orange and blue paint donated by the Pampa Rotary club, John V. Andrews, park superintendent, directed city employees yesterday in painting the wade pool at Central park. Five gallons of paint were used. The pool is to be open early in June.

A man who gave his name as G. G. Slaton, paid a fine and costs totaling $122.25 Friday in county court on a charge of transporting liquor in a dry area.

Due to William C. Fowler, drivers license examiner, here being called for service in the army, there will be no regular license examination here tomorrow. Sergeant W. H. McFarlin, recently transferred from Dallas to Amarillo, has been examiner here for the past week, and hopes to be in Pampa Friday, or to have someone else here, to conduct the semi-weekly examinations at the court house. The draft has made heavy inroads on the Texas Highway patrol personnel over the state.

disposition. It was believed the decision rested with Canadian authorities.

The aviator, who was shot down by British anti-aircraft fire Aug. 28, 1940, and later transferred to a concentration camp at Bowmanville, Ontario, escaped April 16.

His experience in the United States heightened his Nazi-induced belief that Americans are "stupid," Acers said the youth told him.

"The majority are utterly stupid," Krug said, "and gullible."

He said he had been stopped about eight times for investigation but that he was always released when he produced his forged papers, which disguised him as a carpenter who had worked on the fire-gutted liner Lafayette, formerly the Normandie.

A soldier riding with him on a bus asked him why he didn't join the army and Krug replied he was on route to enlist.

Because of his youthful appearance a waitress once refused to serve him beer, Krug Acers, but relented when he showed her his forged papers.

In his two traveling bags, the Nazi lieutenant carried tins of food, chocolate bars, a home-made knife, and a pistol, German officer's epaulets, and a map which detailed his route—from Detroit, where he was assisted by a German native who is a naturalized American citizen to Chicago, New York, Harrisburg, Pa., Louisville, Nashville, Texarkana, Dallas and Brownwood, Tex.

The baby, Othul, Jr., and two of the other children, Lucille, 8, and Frankie, 5, disappeared in the swirling current. Mrs. Spence and two daughters, Noreta, 15, and Mary, 13, were rescued by Eugene Coleman, 14-year-old Boy Scout, who took a raft into the stream.

"I held onto the baby as long as I could," Mrs. Spence sobbed as she was rushed up the house, carried 300 feet through the air and dropped it into rain-swollen Bird creek.

activity means he has some further plan," and reports that a considerable Japanese naval force is concentrated around Jiluit in the Marshall islands northeast of New Guinea.

Transports and supply ships also have been reported landing new forces in the New Guinea and New Britain areas in recent days.

Townsville, 700 miles below the northern tip of Cape York, might well be the first objective, if the purpose of such enemy concentrations is to strike at Australia's populous east coast instead of attempting a laborious and time-consuming campaign across the arid western or northern regions.

The small city of Townsville is behind the Great Barrier reef, but if the Japanese safely penetrate the mined off-shore waters and made a landing they would find themselves on the coastal railway which reaches southward 800 miles to Brisbane and 1,200 miles to Sydney. Small lines also extend inland behind the great dividing range, opening the possibilities of flanking attacks against the eastern defenses.

Indications that the recent Japanese reinforcements in the New Guinea-New Britain area may have been large was seen today in the warning of the Port Moresby correspondent of the Melbourne Herald that American and Australian armies at that base were up against heavy odds.

More planes, bombs and men are urgently needed if Port Moresby is to be held, he said.

Osage nation, killing three persons and injuring 32. Sixteen homes and a church were demolished and several other structures damaged.

Charles E. Prentice, publisher of the Osage County News, reported that a residential district six blocks long and two blocks wide was swept by the twister. The Red Cross was directing relief work with the aid of highway patrol units.

Three children were missing and believed to be dead after a tornado cut a mile-wide path across northern Tulsa county, mowing down rural homes and farm buildings.

Mrs. Othul Spence huddled in her little four-room home with her baby in her arms and her four other children gathered around her as the wind picked up the house, carried it 300 feet through the air and dropped it into rain-swollen Bird creek.

The baby, Othul, Jr., and two of the other children, Lucille, 8, and Frankie, 5, disappeared in the swirling current. Mrs. Spence and two daughters, Noreta, 15, and Mary, 13, were rescued by Eugene Coleman, 14-year-old Boy Scout, who took a raft into the stream.

"I held onto the baby as long as I could," Mrs. Spence sobbed as she was rushed up the house, carried 300 feet through the air and dropped it into rain-swollen Bird creek.

A Tulsa fire department crew rushed to the scene and was dragging the creek in an effort to find the missing children.

Another tornado roared across the countryside two miles northwest of Dewey, killing George Nichols, 58-year-old farmer. About 30 injured persons were taken to hospitals in Bartlesville and a number of others received first aid treatment at Dewey.

Mrs. Anna Weese, 67, was killed, and several injured in a twister which ravaged the farming community of Fisher, 10 miles west of Tulsa. Ambulances carried the injured to Tulsa hospitals, where some were reported in critical condition.

Ten persons were killed and upwards of 40 injured by a tornado at Childsville, near Okemah.

Frank Stewart, advertising man for the Okemah Leader, said there were nine bodies at a Boley funeral home, all of them negroes. They were identified as Mrs. Ninever Williams, 50, and her two children, Rowena Washington and Alvin Washington; Mrs. Blister Johnson, 29, and her three small children; Mrs. Kizile Jefferson, 65, and Sherman Tease, 28.

The 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Obell Hamilton was taken to a funeral home at Okemah.

At Pawhuska, apparently the hardest hit community, the injured were taken to city and county hospitals and the American Legion hut.

Walter B. Johnson, state safety commissioner, reported that several persons were injured at McCloud. Farm homes, school houses and filling stations were wrecked in the northwest corner of Pawnee county and between Turley and Sperry on State Highway 11.

Disruption of communications systems in the storm areas prevented immediate surveys of the damage.

F. F. Agee of Tulsa, arriving in Tulsa over Highway 11 from Sperry, reported that farm buildings and filling stations were swept away by the tornado and that flying debris peppered his car as he raced away from the storm.

The tornado in Pawnee county destroyed the Oak Grove rural school house and at least four farm homes.

A tornado late today struck the Dewey area north of Bartlesville, killing George Nichols, 58-year-old farmer of two miles northwest of Dewey and injuring at least 15 persons in the vicinity.

The injured were taken to hospitals at Bartlesville, where the condition of the area was not critical.

WHEAT

Arkansas. Returns were still to come from such major wheat states as Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, North Dakota, South Dakota and Nebraska.

The early vote in Ohio, Maryland, and New Jersey gave quotas less than a two-thirds majority.

Tabulation of the returns was started as soon as polls closed, that hour being determined by local custom in the 40 states in which the referendum was conducted. Officials expected the outcome to be known late tonight.

Officials expected the strongest opposition to the quotas from Ohio and Oklahoma. In the former state the 1941 quotas encountered sharp criticism.

In Oklahoma there has been farmer criticism of recent government wheat-selling policies. Some growers have charged that the department has sought to depress prices unnecessarily.

On the other hand, the department announced yesterday a tentative wheat price-supporting program which was expected to influence some farmers to vote for quotas. The department offered loan rates averaging $1.15 a bushel for farm-stored wheat. The loan program is subject, however, to grower approval of quotas in today's voting.

Soviet Tanks Move Forward In Ukraine

LONDON, May 2. (AP)—Red army tanks, smashing forward on firming ground against a Nazi army which has not yet been able to get an offensive underway, are driving deeper wedges between the German "hedgehog" positions Bryansk, Orel, and Kursk, dispatches from Stockholm said today.

Bryansk, 210 miles southwest of Moscow, and Orel and Kursk, 200 and 280 miles south of the capital respectively, form a triangle guarding the flank of the Germans' Ukraine front, and the dispatches said the fighting in those sectors had been particularly fierce in the last few days.

Some of the Russian troops, penetrating between Orel and Kursk, recaptured a number of strong points about Fatezh, 30 miles northwest of Kursk.

The Russians also struck heavy blows at the Germans southwest of Kharkov in an effort to forestall any German offensive toward the Caucasus.

"The Soviet" information bureau said the Soviet forces on the northern front at Leningrad were killing Germans at a rate of 1,000 a day.

JUST BETWEEN US GIRLS

[By JOHNNIE DAVIS]

Attachment

The garden seems more dear
Because I gave a drink
To thirsty flowers.
The birds that winter here
Sing sweeter in the spring, I think.
Because I made the barren hours
Less so with sustenance.

To give something of one's self
Makes attachment dearer—
Flowers or song or one beloved
Lives forever nearer.

—Clara Hood Rugel.

Congratulations today to Anne and Jimmy Myers on their first wedding anniversary. . . . Other couples who will observe their first anniversaries this month are Dell and Charles Launka, May 4; Donna Jo and Clinton Evans, May 24; Roberta and Ralph Hamilton, May 25; and Mary Katherine and Ferrell Heard, May 27.

Just leave it to the Sub Debs to take advantage of every holiday. . . . Because the teachers will assist in registering Pampans for sugar rationing cards tomorrow, school will be dismissed until Tuesday. . . . So Monday morning between 4:30 and 8 o'clock, the Sub Deb club will entertain with a sunrise dance at the Country club for high school students who are "early risers." . . . The club members are to have a slumber party at the home of Dorothy Drescher so that they will be sure to get up in time for the dance.

"You can buy a lot of happiness with a mighty small salary, but fashionable happiness always costs more than you are making."—George Horace Lorimer.

One of the most beautiful young matrons in Pampa is brunette Mrs. Earl Leley. . . . Especially becoming is the red turban and matching bag which offset Mrs. Leley's plaid spring coat. . . . While in school she received numerous beauty contest honors.

Two persons, who never tire of discussing flowers are Mrs. R. F. Dirksen and Mrs. Gladys Acklam. . . . One of the most colorful yards in town throughout the entire spring and summer is that at Mrs. Acklam's home. The bright spot in her front yard now is an attractive arrangement of yellow tulips. . . . Also, the yellow tulips in Mrs. E. L. Tarpley's front yard are pretty. . . . Mrs. R. W. Tucker, who never fails to win awards at the Garden club flower exhibits, has unusually large tulips and yellow and purple iris in her garden. . . . Industrious Cleora and Kenneth Carman set out more than 100 petunias along their driveway and in the yard at their new home last week.

Marguerite Kirchman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Kirchman, 600 North Gray street, was elected to take part in the All-College event at Colorado Woman's college in Denver last Friday. . . . She helped represent the art department as an artist. . . . Another Pampa student, Mildred Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Martin, 800 North Frost street, took part in the revue by helping to represent the music department in the orchestra and ensemble. . . . The revue was a new activity for Colorado Woman's college and was staged for the first time this year. It was composed of two parts, the first picturing the gay carnival spirit of America before the war; the second, showing America after the declaration of war and in particular how Colorado Woman's college is fitting itself to meet the situation. Every department in school was represented through some skit, musical number or pageant and a cast of 175 students took part.

We Americans are so used to having things come easy that we haven't even bothered to stir our coffee. . . . We put the lumps of sugar in and expect the warmth of the coffee to do the rest. And it doesn't. Nine times out of ten, there's sugar left in the bottom of the cup after you've finished drinking your coffee. . . . We waste tons of sugar each year, just because we don't stir.

From now on, we're going to have to stir. . . . With 12 ounces of sugar a week per person, we'll need to get all the sweetening value out of our sugar lumps. . . . The sugar sacrifices we're asked to make aren't very great. Over in any country of Europe, 12 ounces of sugar a week would be considered a generous ration.

We might have been asked to make far greater sacrifices. . . . If we had been wholly dependent on tropical off-shore sources for our sugar, we'd be facing a real sugar famine. Fortunately, however, we have sugar grown right here inside our borders. . . . Sugar beets are being grown on approximately a million acres in 19 states from Ohio to California, and manufactured in 45 factories. In 1942 the beet sugar industry will furnish us with 1,750,000 tons of sugar.

Save sugar and stir your coffee, but don't hoard.

Indicative of the approaching season are the vacation plans already made by several Pampans. . . . Ernestine Francis can hardly wait until next week-end arrives when she will leave for Fort Smith, Arkansas, where she will spend her vacation. . . . In two weeks Helen Houston will leave for El Paso to visit with her sister and to go through Carlsbad Cavern for the first time.

The following lines were written and read by Mrs. Paul Kasishke at the meeting of Twentieth Century club in tribute to the late Mrs. Tom Rose, a charter member and former president of the club. . . . Also a copy of the poem was sent by the club to the Rose family:

Although her song is sweet
Through all the years it will resound
To guide our every foot
Fourteen years we met together
With twenty in our hand
And from our club's inception
We've felt the guidance of her hand.
With a friendly gracious manner
And an understanding heart
Faith and beauty, love and culture
Are the notes which played her part.
From her life of inspiration
Comes a strength we'll treasure long.
And to you whom she loved so dearly
Time will never still her song.

Youngsters surely catch on quickly. . . . Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ledrick, Jr., have a young son, who has adopted the idea of calling his mother "Honey." . . . Only recently when Mrs. Ledrick spanked her son, he informed her, "Honey, I've had enough of that."

That millions of men will be away from their homes next Monday, May 10, with the armed forces of their country, makes the 1942 Mothers Day a day of deep emotional significance, not only to the women who have dear ones in the service and to those who are comforting them at home, but to the men who are away. . . . It looks as though Mothers Day for many will be Mother-and-Son Day this year.

The sentiment that will inspire the observance of Mothers Day hasn't changed. . . . In President Roosevelt's proclamation setting the date, he calls upon us to "express the love and reverence which we feel for the mothers of our country by the customary display of the flag at our homes and other suitable places and by tokens and messages of affection." That's the same sentiment that inspired Whistler's "Mother" and has made reproductions of that tender picture favorites as "messages of affection" on Mothers Day for over a quarter of a century. . . . But mother herself has changed. She still personifies the enduring and patient love that "forgives you anything you may do" but she's discarded the traditional little bonnet and shawl and steps out of the picture frame in the latest spring number. She's streamlined, up-to-date, a pal to her children but ultra-feminine at the same time.

Faye Lynne Hartman, new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Hartman, has more than her share of grandparents. . . . She has two grandmothers and grandfathers, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gilbert of Pampa and Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Hartman of Wilkes Barre, Pennsylvania, a great grandmother, Mrs. Rebecca Iddings of Wilkes Barre, and another great grandmother and great grandfather, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Dills, of Gardena, California. She was named for her mother, the former Myrtle Faye Gilbert.

"There are some people whose smile, the sound of whose voice, whose very presence, seems like a ray of sunshine, to turn everything they touch into gold."

Church Women To Have Fellowship Luncheon Friday

Mrs. Edgar W. Henshaw, chairman of world relations, with a committee member from each church of the council, has planned a program to be presented when Pampa Council of Church Women observes the annual fellowship luncheon at the First Baptist church next Friday at 1 o'clock.

Each church will represent a country observing a fellowship meeting. A table will be decorated to represent the chosen country and a speaker at each table will wear a costume of that country.

The First Christian church has chosen China; First Presbyterian, Mexico; the Church of the Nazarenes, Africa; First Baptist, South America; First Methodist, Japan; Harrah Methodist, Alaska; McCullough Methodist, the Philippines; St. Matthews Episcopal, Hawaii; and Church of the Brethren, India. Other churches may choose countries later.

All races and creeds are participating in many places and are invited here. In fact, every woman in Pampa, who is interested in her church and the work it is doing, is invited to attend. It is hoped that this day will present exactly what the words convey, "A World-wide Fellowship of Church Women."

The president of the Pampa Council, Mrs. S. A. Hurst, is calling a meeting of the executive board at 12:30 o'clock in the south room of the church. The lunch to follow will be served promptly at 1 o'clock.

War Relief Dance Given By LaRosa Buds At Hotel

One of the most colorful social events of the season was the War Relief benefit dance given by LaRosa Buds fraternity at the Schneider hotel Friday night.

Patriotic posters, flags, and banners were used in decorating the ballroom.

Music was furnished by Glenn Dawson.

Members of the club are J. V. Adams, Melvin Clark, Bill Forman, Harris Lee Hawkins, Wayne Hillard, Richard Hillard, Don Johnson, Bill Rice, Buddy Simmons, John Smith, and Forrest Vaughn.

Registering were R. D. Redus, Pauline Johnson, Otis Davis, Patlye Hollingshead, Tino Crawford, Bob Smith, Sally Simmons, Katharine Hoover, Burt Crawford, Doris Adams, June Marie Amick, Stogie Crain, Robbie Lee Russell, Marjorie Gillis, Jean Chisholm, Jack Stephens, Velma Osborn, Carl Hills, Jack Vermillion, Calvin Skaggs.

Bill Ward, Jack Fade, Hugh Monroe, Leon Holmes, Bert Isbell, Kenneth Lard, Earl Ketter, Fern Simmons, Willetta Stark, Ernest Miller, Gene Harlan, Harry Kerbow, and Mollie Kennedy.

Theta Kappa Gamma Members To Have Reception Tuesday

A reception will be given Tuesday night in the home of Mary Jean Evans, 228 North Nelson street, for members of Theta Kappa Gamma club.

Plans for the entertainment were made last week when the group met in the home of Miss Evans after bowling. Miss Maurine Riley, a new member, bowled the highest score. Refreshments were served to Mrs. Riley, new sponsor, Wanda Rose, Mary Ann Speed, Martha Jaynes, Patty Hollingshead, Patty Gossett, Elaine Ellison, Mary Jewell, and two new members, Kathleen Epps and Maurine Riley.

Annual Flower Display And Guest Day Will Highlight Spring Season For Pampa Garden Club On Friday Night

Highlight of the season for Pampa Garden club members will be the annual spring flower display and guest day next Friday evening in the city club rooms.

All flower growers except professionals may enter their flowers in the show, which will include four main sections; specimen, displays, arrangements, and corsages. Flowers to be entered in the show must be placed in the club rooms between 2 and 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Judging will be done between that time and 7 o'clock, when the show will be open for garden club members and their guests.

Main feature of the program will be an address on "Cooperation for Victory," by the Rev. E. W. Henshaw, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Paul Jones will provide music during the hour preceding the address. Continuing the study of flower arrangements, Mmes. R. A. Webb, R. B. Saxe, B. C. Fahy, and Paul Tabor will demonstrate iris in four major line arrangements.

Horace Mann Girl Scout Troop Has Investiture Hour

Girl Scouts at Horace Mann school held their investiture ceremony last week.

Carmen Hoy and Betty Dulaney introduced Miss Sallie Cahill, local director, and she in turn presented pins to Joyce Kinnard, Donna Jean Robinson, Verma Frary, Carol Jean Lindsey, Peggy Lake, Fori May Rorert, Frances Ross, Sarah Spears, Dorita Canada, and Marita Sue Wright.

Mrs. Paul Tabor, representing the Garden club, explained the forming of the Banner club, and Mrs. Mel Davis showed moving pictures of the day camp held last summer. Girls of the troop presented a skit, "Educating Mothers on Girl scouting."

National Anthem Should Be Sung At Show, Church

PORT WORTH, May 2 (AP)—Mrs. Gustav Ketterer of Philadelphia, urged the women of America today to demand that the Stars and Stripes be thrown on the screen of every motion picture theater in the nation and that the National Anthem be played before each showing of the feature picture.

Speaking at the final business session of the 51st annual meeting of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Ketterer also urged that women see to it that "The Star Spangled Banner" is played or sung at each service in all churches of the country.

Mrs. Ketterer, chairman of the Federation's war service department, said the 2,000,000 club women should make a movement to educate the younger generation in real Americanism, patriotism, and a higher regard for religion.

"As Hitler has changed the thinking of the German youth," she said, "it is up to us to guide the thinking of the youth of this nation toward a stronger American democracy."

Annual Flower Display And Guest Day Will Highlight Spring Season For Pampa Garden Club On Friday Night

Highlight of the season for Pampa Garden club members will be the annual spring flower display and guest day next Friday evening in the city club rooms.

All flower growers except professionals may enter their flowers in the show, which will include four main sections; specimen, displays, arrangements, and corsages. Flowers to be entered in the show must be placed in the club rooms between 2 and 4 o'clock Friday afternoon. Judging will be done between that time and 7 o'clock, when the show will be open for garden club members and their guests.

Main feature of the program will be an address on "Cooperation for Victory," by the Rev. E. W. Henshaw, at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Paul Jones will provide music during the hour preceding the address. Continuing the study of flower arrangements, Mmes. R. A. Webb, R. B. Saxe, B. C. Fahy, and Paul Tabor will demonstrate iris in four major line arrangements.

AAUW To Sponsor Review Of Pearl Buck Best-Seller

"Dragon Seed," Pearl Buck's best-selling novel about the present war in China, will be reviewed Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock in the city club rooms under the auspices of the American Association of University Women. Mrs. Hol Wagner will be the reviewer. The public is invited.

Because she has spent most of her life in China and has gone through war and revolution there, Miss Buck writes with sympathy and understanding of the Chinese in their desperate war against the Japanese invaders. Mrs. Wagner says she believes that the chief significance of the book is not that it deals with the present struggle but that it shows the effect of war on individuals. The book is also a study of Chinese family life. Critics consider it her best novel since "The Good Earth."

Released from the press last week in January, "Dragon Seed" still tops the best-seller list. It was the February Book-of-the-Month club selection, the sixth of Miss Buck's books to be chosen by that club. It shows the influence of the war on the life of the Ling family from the summer of 1937 up to the meeting of Roosevelt and Churchill at sea.

The review will be open to the public for a small admission charge. Members of A. A. U. W. will be expected to pay only the federal tax.

Notes RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

By Mrs. FRED ROBERTS Mrs. Roy Bourland, knitting chair-

We have never made any of the turtle-neck sweaters before and Mrs. Bourland is asking that only experienced knitters and those who are in the habit of getting their work in on time take these out.

The sleeveless sweaters are the same as we have made before and checks will be required on those who will knit one of them for the first time.

The helmets are knit on the four double-pointed needles, size 4, and the steel needles are the best because 100 stitches have to be cast on and it is hard to manage that many on the small bone needles.

The watch caps are easier to make. They take the four double-pointed needles, size 3, and the directions for 4-ply yarn have to be cast on the needles.

This order for the navy has priority over all other knitting and Mrs. Hol Wagner and Mrs. Bourland are hoping that our knitters will answer this emergency call immediately.

in now and get one of these garments for our men in the navy.

Clubs and other groups may take out gowns to make at one of their meetings if they would like to. Mrs. Wagner asks however that they comply with two requests that are very important.

Robes and bed jackets can only be issued to individuals.

For the time being, we will not need any more diapers. We are grateful to Mrs. Lee Cody for a donation of three-dozen and to the Wednesday Morning club for four dozen.

The Euzelian club of First Baptist church has just finished two comforters for us. They made them out of the scraps of the robe material and tacked them with bright colored yarn. They really are very attractive.

We wish that more people would come down to the production room in the basement of the Post Office and see some of the very fine work that is being done.

Thanks are due those women who responded to our call to get their garments in for shipment this week. It is so encouraging to those in charge when everyone is so eager to cooperate.

We will need helpers on Tuesday to finish cutting the bed jackets.

Mrs. Bourland is calling a meeting of all knitting assistants Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock in the production room.

There have been some changes among the assistants in the production room. Mrs. C. W. Andrews is taking the place of Mrs. V. O. Wyatt while Mrs. Wyatt is taking a home nursing course on Friday

U. S. Troops Stationed In North Africa

By EDWARD KENNEDY
 CAIRO, May 2 (AP)—United States service troops in steadily increasing numbers are in positions supporting the main British desert army and air forces ranged against the threatening German Africa corps of Marshal Erwin Rommel.

Major Gen. Russell L. Maxwell, commander of the North African mission, permitted disclosure of their presence from here for the first time today, although American uniforms and huge trucks bearing the "U. S. A." letters have been seen in growing strength for several weeks.

One officer of the U. S. mission is Major Elliott Roosevelt, son of the President, who started his military career as a captain in Ohio less than two years ago.

Gen. Maxwell emphasized that the soldiers stationed in this arid area, barring the Axis conquest of Egypt and the Suez Canal, were entirely service personnel—mechanics, technical experts, supply specialists and trainers.

Their job is to support combat troops of the British, Indians, South Africans, Free French and New Zealanders poised on the desert front 80 miles west of Tobruk in Mussolini's colony of Libya.

Swarms of American-made fighter planes and bombers are fighting daily in the battle of Libya and most of the British pilots have been trained in a technical school in Egypt.

Kermit Roosevelt To Take Treatment
 HARTFORD, Conn., May 2 (AP)—Kermit Roosevelt, 52-year-old son of the late President Theodore Roosevelt, has entered the neuropsychiatric institute of the Hartford retreat for a four-month course of treatment under a voluntary agreement reached in probate court here.

Roosevelt joined the British army at the beginning of the war, but resigned his commission as a major about a year ago.

Corpus Naval Base Will Be Expanded
 CORPUS CHRISTI, May 2 (AP)—The naval air station here, already the world's largest, will continue to expand as long as the war lasts, Secretary of the Navy Knox said today.

The secretary left this afternoon for the West coast for an inspection aimed at increasing the security of harbors and ports against sabotage or sea attack.

Asked about expansion of the air station here, he said:

"That's a question. When will the war end? We will continue to grow here as long as we continue to fight."

Knox said the aviators being turned out here are "fine," and "just exactly what we need now."

Lumbermen Declare Building Not Stopped

If you have an idea that all building in the United States has stopped because the government has "frozen" materials, you're wrong.

That was the information gleamed by Pampa lumber dealers yesterday, after making a careful study of the national legislation.

Use of materials is restricted only in general and certain types of unnecessary construction prohibited, local lumbermen say.

Any structure destroyed by fire, flood, storm, or public enemy since Dec. 31, 1941, can be completely replaced. This applies to both city and rural homes.

Any person desiring to make additions to existing structure or to build new ones may make application for a special permit, through their lumber dealer. Sufficient cause for such expenditure must be shown for such a permit to be issued.

Repairs and maintenance construction on already existing buildings is not limited by the new order, as long as the contemplated expenditure is necessary to keep the structure in "sound working condition." Change of design in the original plan of the building is not allowed, however.

Construction of new homes, or remodeling jobs to present residential structures, is allowed without special permit if the total cost of the work—including materials, labor, fees, etc.—does not exceed $500 within any calendar year.

Farm or ranch construction, with the exception of homes, is allowed up to a cost of $1,000. A farmer may add to, or build new, any barn, storage facility, or other units, the total cost of which is less than $1,000 without any special permit during any 12 month period.

Business concerns are allowed to build new, add to, or improve any present structure costing less than $5,000 in any 12 month period. This same applies to school and public institutions.

The term "cost," according to the regulations sent local dealers, is meant to include the total cost of labor and material including equipment, architects', engineers', and contractors' fees, insurance charges and financing costs.

AS DEMURE a load of dynamite as ever blasted the screen. It's Ginger Rogers as "Roxie Hart," the good little girl who could do no wrong—but how she tried! The 20th-Fox picture, at the LaNora, Friday and Saturday, is a gay and rollicking burlesque of Chicago's early 20's. Foreword of the film which dedicates the picture to all beautiful women who have shot their lovers in pique sets the tempo for what follows.

Adolphe Menjou and George Montgomery have the leading male roles. An article by Robin Coons, Associated Press writer, reveals Ginger's reputation as a baby-talk girl.

HOLLYWOOD—Ginger Rogers was back where she started from; a shiny-faced little girl with her hair slicked back, a big sailor hat on the back of her head.

She was popping her gum—smack! smack!—and drawing excruciating noises from her big red balloon, rubbing her fingers over its screeching surface to the great joy of fellow passengers on the train.

Ginger used to be a baby-talk girl. Remember? She was lip-sin and hoop-a-dooing her songs on the vaudeville circuits in the late twenties before pictures got her (or vice versa) and she never has worked the baby-talk out of her system. This is strange predilection for a tragic-comedienne who wins Oscars, but when she feels like it Ginger can convulse a roomful by lapsing into her act.

Moving With Spirit

against a background of eye-filling vistas in "Valley of the Sun," REO outdoor action film, showing today, tomorrow, and Tuesday at the Crown, Lucille Ball, James Craig, above, and Sir Cedric Hardwicke are the principals in the film version of the Clarence Budington Kelland story. Setting is the Taos Indian country and best part of the picture deals with the Indian problem of the 1860's.

As the blood brother of the Indian chief, James Craig does a swell job as the Indian scout who prevents the crooked administrator of Indian affairs, Dean Jagger, from sipping the Indians and marrying Lucille Ball, looking mighty attractive in blonde tresses.

There is a good share of action underlined by a fine score and some entertaining comedy. Highlight of the film takes place at the Indian camp where Craig and one of the braves go through a contest to determine who has the rabbit heart. Worth of mention is an interesting tribal dance performed with loops.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, May 2 (AP)—Further quiet strength in utilities and assorted specialties kept the stock market on the recovery path today and enabled the averages to close the best week's showing since early January.

The Associated Press composite of 40 stocks was up 3/4 of a point at 23 1/2 and on the week was ahead 1 1/2 points. Dealings were negligible throughout, transfers totaling 150,910 shares compared with 166,490 last Saturday.

American telephone was up 2 1/2 after its annual dive to new lows since 1935. Others given a broad lift included Westinghouse, Eastman and General Electric. American Can and J. I. Case. Modest improvement was retained by General Motors, Chrysler, Montgomery Ward, Santa Fe, Western Union, Consolidated Edison and North American.

Ethelberg Steel was a loser, along with U. S. Rubber preferred, Kennecott, United Aircraft Chemical, Union Carbide and Yellow Truck.

ACQUITTED OF CHARGE
 WITH THE U. S. ARMY IN NORTHERN IRELAND, May 2 (AP)—A court martial today acquitted Sergeant William V. Clipham of Narbeth, Pa., of a manslaughter charge in the death of an Irish bus driver April 17.

Testimony was given that the driver, Albert Rodden, 30, drove into a column of military vehicles escorting high United States officials and raced with Clipham's armored car.

The defense said a machine gun, which it demonstrated to be defective, was discharged accidentally when the car was jarrd in trying to keep Rodden's bus out of the convoy. Three bullets struck Rodden.

Bedridden Parents Send Fifth Son To Uncle Sam's Army
 SOMERSET, Pa., May 2 (AP)—A graying mother and a father thin and bed-ridden with an incurable disease cheerfully sent their fifth and last unmarried son—their last means of support—off to Uncle Sam's army today, saying "we're glad we have five sons to help defend our country."

"This works a hardship on us," said Mrs. Martin Pyle. "But when we think of how people live in Germany, Italy, and Japan we are glad our sons are fighting. We don't want to live like those people."

One by one, their sons—Benjamin, 18, Frederick, 22, Hamilton, 25, Glenn, 28, and Joseph, 30—answered the call to colors. Joseph, the last to keep the family budget going, could have been deferred to support his parents but he decided "I owe my country something."

A sixth son, married, said he'd be off to war, too, if it weren't for his three children.

Few Tires, Tubes Issued By Board

Yesterday was about an all-time low on the number of tire and tube permits granted by the local board.

Totals were five tires, five tubes, six retreads, and one new automobile.

Hitting the new car "jackpot" was T. R. McGuire, a wholesale meat salesman. It was the third new car permit granted in the county since the car rationing system went into effect; actually, however, it was car No. 4, as the board issued a permit to the Texas Railroad commission.

The latter, however, did not count on the Gray quota.

New tire and new tube permits: Vance Rhea, Pampa, tearing contractor, two tires, two tubes; Norman Walberg, Pampa, farmer, two tires, two tubes; G. W. Schaffer, Pampa, one tire, one tube.

Recapping, C. W. Stiefers, and J. E. Kenney, both of Pampa, one each; John King Taylor and L. E. Wilson, Pampa, two each.

A stepping-up of retreat authorizations for trucks and buses and a corresponding cut in permits to be granted for new tires and tubes for passenger cars was noted Saturday by James B. Massa, chairman of the Gray County Rationing board, as he called attention to the tire, tube, and retreat quotas of the county for May as compared with April.

For this month, the quotas are: Passenger car tires and tubes, 17 tires, just half of April's quota; 49 less than April.

April quotas, passenger car tires and tubes, 34 tires, 76 tubes, 129 retreads.

Truck and bus quotas, May, 87 same as last month on tires; 113 tubes, an increase of 30; 140 retreads, an increase of 62.

April's quotas were 87 tires, 83 tubes, 77 retreads.

Trinity Reaches 52-Foot Level In Riverside Area

LUFKIN, May 2 (AP)—J. B. Nabers, highway department engineer, tonight advised persons living in the Trinity river bottoms near Riverside to get out immediately in view of rapidly rising water.

Nabers toured the area flanking State Highway 45, and said that the river had reached 52 feet near Riverside, which is about 15 miles northeast of Huntsville. This level is three feet below the record mark reached in 1908.

"There is a very definite danger to people residing in the Trinity lowlands beyond Riverside," he said. "There water is moving swiftly and is expected to reach the area around Livingston tonight."

Highway 45 was still open to travel and will remain so unless the river continues to rise, Nabers said.

Common Ground

I speak the password primer. I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms.

WALT WHITMAN.

COLLECTIVE BARGAINING LEADS TO INFLATION

To students of cause and effect, the theory that inflation can be prevented when union labor laws and practices are in operation, is absurd. Union labor, setting arbitrary rewards for those whom the labor union will permit in, eventually so lowers the standard of living and the real wages of those whom they keep out, that inflation is necessary in order to relieve the deplorable condition of those workers whom labor unions are crushing.

Of course, if inflation is stopped when collective bargaining is operating then the other alternative is that the government must determine what each worker must receive and what each worker must do.

It is absurd to believe that one group of workers can arbitrarily set a reward and receive more for their services than millions of other people are able to get for the same service and not eventually have loss of all free enterprise, or inflation.

The public will have to eventually make up its mind as to whether or not it wants wild inflation, and regimentation, or whether or not it wants to go back more nearly to free enterprise where all people are equal before the law.

Then, all people would pay to the government an exact proportion per unit of service the government renders to them. Then all people would be free to help stop any gougers from exploiting other workers.

But this is not the case under collective bargaining. Under labor union or federal government interference, only certain people are permitted to help establish values.

The eventual result of collective bargaining is either inflation or complete loss of liberty as has happened in France and as is happening in England and the United States.

NOT BEING UNDERSTOOD

I ran across an interesting sentence in the book, "The Five Great Philosophies of Life," by William DeWitt Hyde. It is under the chapter headed, "Aristotelian Friendship." He says that Aristotle defines friendship as a "unanimity on questions of the public advantage and on all that touches life." He points out that this unanimity is very different from agreement in opinion. Aristotle's whole philosophy which it seems is largely the same philosophy as that of Christianity, is to develop individuality—to make each man different from every other man.

As the author of the book states it: "Conventional people are all alike. But the people who have cherished ends of their own, and who make all their choices with reference to these inwardly cherished ends, become highly differentiated. The more individual your life becomes, the fewer people there are who can understand you. The man who has ends of his own is bound to be unintelligible to the man who has no such ends, and is merely drifting with the crowd.

DARKEN YOUR GARAGE

I have seen most every suggestion for saving tires, other than keeping your garage dark by closing the doors and putting black-out paper over the windows.

It is generally claimed by authorities on rubber that it will last much longer when kept in the dark than when exposed to light. It costs little to black out your garage windows and keep the doors closed.

The American Bar association's section on patent law, asking what all the shooting's about. If the government needs authority for patent seizure, he asks, what is wrong with proceeding under a law of 1918, of which Mr. Roosevelt was himself the author? Mr. Roosevelt, then assistant secretary of the navy, proposed an amendment to the patent law to permit the invention covered by any patent to be used or manufactured by or for the United States without license from the patent owner. This was enacted by congress, and it is still on the statute books.

To cap the climax, Mr. Roosevelt finally discovers that he already has the authority to seize foreign owned or controlled patents under the war emergency power voted him by congress. Sen. Bone interprets the seizure authority to stop short of domestic patents, but in that case what becomes of Mr. Hackley's citation of the blanket powers of the law of 1918? The spectacle is curiously reminiscent of three men on a horse, all riding it in different directions.

A further clinical note on the mysteries of government relates to the accusations made by the War Production Board that Jones & Laughlin and Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporations violated priority orders "repeatedly and deliberately" by diverting large quantities of critically needed iron and steel to private customers at the expense of the armed services. On the very day, however, that the justice department asks injunctions to restrain the two corporations from continuing these asserted violations, the WPB is found officially commending Carnegie-Illinois for aiding in the "beat the Axis" campaign, while the navy department is hastening to congratulate Jones & Laughlin for setting a new production record.

The appropriate reward to the bureaucrats responsible for these fine flowers of confusion would seem to be the navy E pennant, signifying that everybody has passed his I. Q. test with flying colors.

PAPA HAD A HARD DAY AT THE OFFICE

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, May 2—Wilkie Mahoney, who thinks up funny lines and situations for the movies, is a tall, unobtrusive man who slouches around in a vast gabardine coat and looks something like a tent wrecked by a high wind. His house has a sod roof, and he says he works hard to keep a patch of ground over his head.

Mahoney is the only gag specialist still flourishing in the movie industry. Hollywood used to be full of joke-writers, most of whom have moved into the booby-hatch or radio. Mahoney survived the padded-cell school of vaudeville and radio scripwriting and has escaped into the film studios. He now is regularly under contract to M-G-M, where he functions as a consultant in peppering up sequences or whole screen plays which have gone flat.

Just now, his services are being rented to Warner Brothers to brighten up the screen version of "George Washington Slept Here." The play was mostly sprightly dialog written by George Kaufman and Moss Hart, but motion pictures require movement as well as bluish-proof lines, and Mahoney is helping to provide some. "I keep having to change the whole picture to work in Wilkie's gags," grumbled William Kelgley, the director. He seems pleased, though, and so are Ann Sheridan and Jack Benny, the principals.

I saw a brief sample of the Mahoney touch during a visit to the sound stage. Benny and Miss Sheridan drove up to the ramshackle house that she had bought sight-unseen. As they walked to the tin-blowdown porch he reminded him: "You know, the Constitution of the United States was signed just a few miles away."

And Benny, surveying the immediate premises, retorted: "That seems to be the only thing that has stood up around here!"

In a part of the world which is excessively populated by people who think they're funny and spend most of their time shouting second-hand quips to prove it, Wilkie Mahoney is unique. He speaks softly, and then mostly of serious things. If there is any true science in honor, Mahoney is a scientist, because his idea of a day is to settle down with a book on semantics or psychology.

Other gag-men whom I know boast of their criss-cross-indexed libraries of all the jokes ever uttered, and how they merely select and twist these cracks to fit required situations. Mahoney never has play in the thin disguises provided by back humorists.

He came up the hard way—along a route that parallels the rise from lowly burlesque of some of today's greatest comedians. After graduating from Santa Clara university, Mahoney hurried to Hollywood "and hammered around for a few years in the hope of being a new Slim Sumnerville." His natural diffidence probably licked him.

Anyway, during one of his intervals of starvation, he thought up a couple of jokes and submitted one to Judge and one to Captain Billy's Whizzbang. To his amazement, each replied with a check for $5, and Mahoney thereupon became a gag-man. The jokes were filled. More of Mahoney later.

Dynamic Mary Jane Davis who was one of the best addresses Pampa high school ever had, and three of her friends yesterday announced a plan to make the life of the boys in the armed forces happier, and this plan should be supported by one and all. It is surprising that somebody hasn't started it here before. For some time Mary Jane, Frances Crocker, Jean Chisholm, Doris Alexander, have been writing to the boys in the armed forces, telling them the news about what's going on back home, and writing them the kind of a letter a soldier boy wants to get. Well, for a week now the girls have been swamped. They have more letters than they can write, so they are asking for help. They plan to organize a Soldiers Pen club. They have a long list of names of boys in the armed forces who need letters from home, who get few letters when the mail is distributed at camp. The four girls are looking for volunteers who will write these soldier boys. They think that writing these boys is just as important as knitting for them, and this column believes they are right. The boys want letters from home and the club is going to see that they get them. If the time spent in playing bridge, rummy, etc., were spent in writing letters to the boys in camp there would be few lonesome soldier boys. So if you will volunteer to write such a boy call up Mary Jane at 1403 or see her at 333 N. Faulkner, and she will give you the name and address of a boy who needs mail from home.

She's always insisted that she has no favorite son. Nor has she ever admitted a favorite daughter-in-law. Yet her youngest has always been a little closer. And now he is going off to the army, volunteering to leave his beloved wife and five months old daughter. Going off on Saturday she writes and adds that the weather is cold and the flowers look miserable. Can't make out why he has to go and volunteer instead of waiting for his number. He's done so well and worked so hard and owns such a pretty home. And how can he leave such a sweet baby, she asks me.

All I know is he's the volunteering type. Always made it a point to drive around and see his folks. Shucks, why wouldn't he. All the rest of the kids scattered around and him right there in the same town. Never says much, just drives up and sits on the porch and looks around. And sometimes when he gets up to his eyes in work he says to the little woman, "Honey, how'd you like to try up a lot of folks and take it over to the folks. I'll come and get you when I'm through work."

She doesn't say she'll miss him. She says she feels sick and maybe it would be better if the magnolia tree would bloom but maybe it won't be her time. She just says she'd like to get a swat at the Japs. He's always been a little more attached to home than the others. Always a little more faithful. Maybe that's why he won't be going round to sit on the porch for a spell.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, May 1—The way a government agency can be a hero today and a heel tomorrow was never better illustrated than in the case of the Civilian Conservation Corps, the well and once so favorably known CCC. Three or four years ago, no one had enough praise for the CCC, but today there seems to be about as many hot spots in the government out gunning for CCC as the CCC has camps, the latter number being around 600.

If you want to make a little side bet, just lay a buck or so that before long there will be more statesmen clamoring for restoring or enlarging the CCC than there are now clamoring in the name of economy for its discontinuance. These fellows will in fact come from farm belt congressmen when they find out from their constituents that CCC soil erosion and conservation projects are discontinued by the hundreds.

The story of how the CCC was exiled to the dog house is one of those things. It goes back to the time CCC was first set up. It was labeled then as a relief agency, and $22 of every boy's $30 monthly wage was handed to the folks to help keep the corner grocery going during the depression. CCC is still considered a relief agency by most of its critics and as relief in any form is now unpopular, the CCC suffers from that association.

When defense talk began to get a little hot, there was agitation from some militarists to make the CCC a purely military training school. CCC Director James J. McEntee spiked that one before the select committee. Enlarged family portraits. Brass beds. Blue serge suits. Pants cuffs. Wash bowl and pitcher. Hand churns. Gourd dippers. Roller towels. Bull Durham signs?

When defense talk began to get a little hot, there was agitation from some militarists to make the CCC a purely military training school. CCC Director James J. McEntee spiked that one before the select committee. Enlarged family portraits. Brass beds. Blue serge suits. Pants cuffs. Wash bowl and pitcher. Hand churns. Gourd dippers. Roller towels. Bull Durham signs?

Then CCC was taken from the army, which had administered it, and put in the Federal Security agency along with the National Youth Administration. That was fatal. NYA had a bad name and was open to criticism on so many counts that the association of CCC did it more harm than good. And when economy programs were advanced, the two outfits were put under the same axe.

There have been some charges that CCC was recruiting its members, but this CCC denies. The organization has never spent a dime of its own funds on recruiting, leaving the enrolling of its members entirely to the state welfare agencies, who were charged with picking out boys from relief families, boys who could not get jobs in private industry. And any CCC enrollee must have been offered a job.

If congress had changed the selective service law to take in boys from 18 to 20 years old as army officers wanted the law changed, there would probably be no CCC today. But congress has repeatedly refused to lower the draft age below 20, and for that reason there is still the problem of what to do with the boys of from 17 to 20, of which there are some nine million. There is, too, the problem of what to do with the younger men who are turned down by the army for physical deficiencies. CCC directors claim they can help these men, particularly those who are illiterate or uneducated. CCC makes them good material for the army.

CCC's main justification for its own continuance, however is that it sincerely believes it has a job to do. Today, there are some 600 CCC camps in operation. At the height of the depression, there were 2,500 camps, with 200 men to the camp. CCC has cut down. It will cut down further, perhaps to 350 camps. Furthermore, CCC is making itself as much of an army auxiliary as it can. It has built army camps and military roads and airports. It

IF YOU'RE honest about it, you'll recall when (and the files are the best proof) it was written in this space that Hitler was slipping.

The statement was made at a time when Hitler apparently was going strong, and everybody said that the Russians, who were beginning to show signs of life, didn't have a chance. Remember those days many months ago? Well, to keep the record straight, here it is again: Hitler is slipping. Only now you can get a lot more people to agree with you about it. The Axis powers don't have a Jap's chance of coming out on top, and they know it. Right now the odds are stacked so greatly against them that it's pitiful from an Axis point of view. The best part of it is, too, that there is going to be no let-up until the world-rapists of the world are brought to their knees in humble submission (ears pinned back, to you).

Don't look now, but have you noticed these moonlight nights. As I have said before, the Panhandle really "has got 'em." IT WAS one of the first warm days of spring and a little earth worm shoved a lead out of the way and thrust its head into the warm May sunlight. He blinked a little, and looked around. "Flowers," he said, "and all the trees have new green twigs. Ah, this is wonderful."

Just then he spied another little earth worm who had apparently just thrust its head into the warm sunlight. "Isn't this wonderful?" he cried to the newcomer. "The warm sunlight and the roses and the dandelions. . . . " "Yes," agreed the other little earth worm. "Spring is doing something to me. I went on in the first warm. "I feel romantic. . . . Let's get married."

Whereupon the other worm cried, "You small 'I'm the rest of you!"

has 115 camps on military reservations today, doing labor battalion jobs that relieve soldiers for strictly military duty. CCC's second big job is in the forest areas, largely in the west, where it has 177 camps for reforestation and fire fighting. These camps and the ones on military reservations account for about half of the present CCC strength. All other types of CCC camps are being discontinued as fast as their current soil conservation, park area, wildlife area, grazing or reclamation projects are completed. The fun will begin when the congressmen begin to find out about that.

Independent Oil Men To Meet In Dallas Tuesday

On March 31, the East Texas Oil association sponsored a statewide meeting of independent refiners, oil producers and royalty owners for the purpose of discussing the chaotic condition existing in the oil business in the state of Texas. As a result of that meeting, a committee consisting of Mr. E. E. Germany, chairman; Roy D. Golsch, W. M. Fridley, Marion S. Church, Jack Wraether, Jr., M. E. Wilson, Jerry C. Hawkins, and H. P. Nichols was appointed to formulate some plan to break the transportation bottle neck and to obtain a better price for crude oil.

This committee drew up strong resolutions, etc., which were sent to various Washington officials, senators and congressmen and the suggestions of the committee have attracted nation-wide attention.

This committee now is calling a second statewide meeting of all interested parties to be held in the Texas Room, Baker hotel, Dallas, at 1:30 p. m., Tuesday, May 5, and all independent refiners, producers and royalty owners are urged to attend. Among other things, the committee has recommended the immediate construction of two 10 inch pipe lines across the north end of Florida, these lines to be used to transport crude oil, or products, moved through the Intercoastal Canal by barges from Corpus Christi, Houston, Beaumont, Port Arthur and other barge loading points, to a point on the Florida west coast; then pumped through the pipe lines to a point on the St. John's river near the Florida east coast, and moved thence by barge to consuming centers on the Atlantic coast. Washington leaders are favorably impressed and have expressed willingness to render quick assistance.

It is further proposed that there are many empty large steel tanks which could be cut down and used to build steel barges. The committee has been asked to furnish quickly all available information with reference to empty steel storage tanks that might be used for such purposes, and also to furnish information as to large pipe lines that could be made quickly available to supply needed pipe.

It is also suggested that one or more crude oil carrying pipe lines be built to proper points on the Mississippi river and barges used to carry the oil to refineries, or to Pittsburgh, to be delivered there to pipe lines, which might move the oil to eastern refineries.

The subject matter is one of vital importance to all independent producers, refiners, and others directly and indirectly interested. It is rumored that Texas will be allowed only six producing days during May. Texas public schools, our merchants, our highways and our industries, large and small, are vitally interested and should get behind the movement to break the transportation bottle neck and obtain a better price for Texas crude oil.

It is estimated that the value of May Texas crude oil production will be over $22,000,000 under the value of the January production, which will mean a loss to the state, in gross production taxes, exceeding $900,000. Should such transportation bottle neck continue for one year, Texas pocket books will suffer to the staggering sum of $270,000,000 and the state treasury will lose, in gross production taxes, etc., exceeding $11,000,000.

The entire state is vitally affected, therefore, remember the time, place and object of this statewide meeting.

Crude Purchases In Southwest Texas Slashed By Humble

HOUSTON, May 2 (AP)—A 50 per cent reduction in the purchase of all kinds of crudes in Southwest Texas was announced today by the Humble Oil and Refining company. The cut in purchases became effective at 7 a. m. today. It will continue until further notice.

On February 20, the company cut its purchases of high grade, low octane grades of crude in Southwest Texas by 50 per cent.

The announcement of the general reduction in purchases was made in a statement issued by H. C. Wiess, president of the company.

Mr. Wiess pointed out that the February reduction was made because of "the acute shortage of transportation facilities and the accumulation of excessive stocks of high gravity, low octane crudes in Southwest Texas."

On the general reduction, Mr. Wiess said:

"The transportation situation is now even more acute and the physical limitations upon our storage capacity requires that this program of reduced purchases be extended to all other crudes in Southwest Texas."

"Accordingly, effective 7 a. m. May 2, 1942, and continuing thereafter until further notice, we will purchase only 50 per cent of the current allowable production from all fields to which we are connected in Southwest Texas, being railroad commission districts 2 and 4," the statement said.

"This reduction, of course, applies to takings from our own properties as have all previous similar reductions."

Wildcat To Be Drilled In Sherman

Last week was the first in the 19 year life of the Panhandle oil field that not a single new well was gauged and given open flow potential by the Pampa office of the Texas Railroad commission. There are only 20 active wells in the Panhandle field at the present time, because of the 40-acre spacing rule.

Only one new location was staked last week, setting another new, but not enviable, record for the field. The latest location was a wildcat in Sherman county, made by Hagy, Harrington and Marsh, located 2,771 feet from the east and 2,664 feet from the south lines of section 44, block 3-B, GH&H survey, and listed as No. 1 Bivins-Sherman.

The latest wildcat is 18 miles east and 12 miles south of the town of Stratford and is on the bank of famous Coldwater creek. The test is 20 miles north of nearest production, in the Moore county gas field. It is not the first test in the territory, however, a test having been drilled within a few miles of the new test several years ago.

There was considerable controversy as to whether the first test could have been completed as a commercial gas well after showings had been found and passed.

The Panhandle's only other wildcat test will be plugged and abandoned. Devore, Slade and Gourley have made application to the Texas Railroad commission to plug their No. 1 Klein, section 12B, block M-10, BS&M survey, in Swisher county. The hole is bottomed at 5,226 feet. Salt water encroachment necessitated the plugging of the test before contract depth, which was 5,500 feet.

Oil Industry To Help Overcome Rubber Shortage, Says Rodgers

The automobile is so interwoven with our national economy that its necessary civilian use should and must be continued, declared W. S. S. Rodgers, president of the Texas Company, at the company's annual stockholders' meeting held in New York. Prompt action, he added, should be taken to supply synthetic rubber for use in manufacturing tires to keep essential civilian automobiles on the road.

"Although the government has announced a program for the manufacture of approximately 700,000 tons of Buna-S rubber annually," he said, "this will not become completely available until 1944. This supply, moreover, is intended solely for military and other essential uses."

The oil industry will probably play an important part in overcoming the rubber shortage, Mr. Rodgers said. He added that the industry was a dominant factor in bringing synthetic rubber to this country's attention, and has now appointed a committee with himself as chairman "to make recommendations for increasing the announced program so as to include some rubber for what we consider essential civilian use."

Texasco's president announced the estimated earnings of the company and subsidiaries, excluding European subsidiaries, as $7,900,000 or 73 cents per share for the three months ending March 31. This is, of course, after charges for depreciation, depletion, amortization and provision for federal income and excess profits taxes at 1941 rates, and compares with $6,600,000, or 61 cents per share for the first quarter of 1941. Earnings for the first quarter of this year are after a charge to income of $5,000,000, which has been set aside as a reserve for additional taxes and other contingencies due to the war. Mr. Rodgers said that he was hopeful that the proposed crude oil and products lines from Texas to the eastern seaboard would be approved by the War Production board.

"It is our belief," he said, "that a large number of the automobiles now on the road can be kept in operation through the next three years or longer, if car owners will exercise due care of their automobiles, and provided a small amount of rubber for retreads can be made available. Every automobile owner should realize that his car is a national asset and is part of the stream of transportation that takes all America to work, to school, and to market, and that it is necessary for him to conserve his car and the tires upon which it runs."

Referring to the company's industrial interruptions, Mr. Rodgers said that there had been no "material interruption" in operations in recent years because of differences between management and employees. Bargaining has been carried on with a number of labor organizations affiliated with the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O. and with other organizations not so affiliated, according to the employee's own choice. He pointed out that 50 per cent of the company's 25,000 employees in the United States have been with the company for 10 years or longer.

no parallel in ancient or modern warfare.

Ben McCulloch, Ben's brother, also served. Ashbel Smith was colonel of the 2nd Texas Infantry; T. N. Vaul led Waul's Legion; J. W. Whitfield commanded the First Texas Legion; John B. Hood commanded the Fourth Texas Regiment of Infantry and was famous for his fighting in the Virginia campaign.

General John Greig, whose brigade led the Battle of Wilderness, was killed in 1864; John A. Wharton was a brigade commander; F. F. Terry led the famous "Terry Rangers"; O. M. Roberts was colonel of a regiment; Tom Green was a hero in the Revolution; the Mexican War and the Civil War.

Albert Sidney Johnson was killed in the Civil War; Col. Middleton T. Johnson served in the Mexican War and the Civil War; Hugh McLeon was commander of a regiment in Hood's Brigade; H. P. Bee was a Civil War brigadier general; Bee's brother, Benard E. Bee, was secretary of war under President Houston and colonel Stonewall Jackson's nickname by commenting in battle "Look how the general is standing like a stone wall."

General Crook's Camp was a hero of the Confederacy; David B. Culbertson was a colonel in the 18th Texas Infantry; General Horace Randall was killed in the Civil War; Col. George R. Reeves served in the Civil War; John W. F. Upton, early settler in the Pampa country area served in the Civil War; William Cook Young, a Texas Ranger, joined the Confederate army and served with distinction.

Many Texas counties are named after Civil War heroes.

Texas' roster of World War heroes jams many sections of a cabinet in the adjutant general's department in Austin. It records hundreds of citations for soldiers from buck privates to ranking generals.

Brig. Gen. John A. Hulen of Houston, who served in the Mexican War, is one. A veteran of the Spanish War, he came out of the First World War with the French Croix De Guerre and the United States Distinguished Cross for superior courage and energy during operations near St. Mihiel.

Texas has no Sergeant York but Corporal Randle L. York of Giddings was cited for leading a section of men forward in the face of violent machine gun fire until it cleared the woods of enemy.

They still sing the praises of Sergeant Alfred B. Hayes, who was awarded the French Croix De Guerre, the French Croix De Guerre, the Distinguished Service Cross and the Italian Croce De Guerra.

Every Texan joined him. Milan was killed in the battle, but the inspired Texas army defeated the Mexicans.

James Bonham was sent by William B. Travis at San Antonio to Goliad and Gonzales to ask aid to hold the Alamo. On the return journey Bonham was accompanied by John B. Smith. The Alamo was surrounded by Santa Anna's army.

"It will be like taking our lives to go on," Smith said, "for the doom of the Alamo is fixed; it is useless and foolish to go further."

"I will report the result of my mission to Travis or die in the attempt," Bonham replied.

He fought his way through the bullets and bayonets of the Mexicans and the Alamo gates opened and admitted him.

Travis, who was 28 years old at the time, sent a message to the citizens of Texas saying that his force of 182 men was besieged by a thousand or more Mexicans, that he had sustained a bombardment for 24 hours without losing a man and that the enemy had demanded his surrender—otherwise the garrison would be put to the sword if the fort were taken.

Travis told the people he had answered that demand with cannon shot. "I shall never surrender nor retreat," he said.

Calling for aid, the Texas commander added, "If this call is neglected, I am determined to sustain myself as long as possible and die like a soldier who never forgets his own honor and that of his country. Victory or death."

General Sam Houston, who led a Texas army to victory over the Mexican Santa Anna at San Jacinto, rode ahead of his men, shouting, "Come on, my brave fellows, your general leads you."

Houston's horse fell under him during the battle when the general was wounded in the leg.

At San Jacinto Mirabeau B. Lamar, the father of Texas education, Thomas Rusk, William Motley (killed in action), and Edward Burleson also fought.

George Collingsworth was in command at the first battle of Goliad. Richard Andrews was killed in the Revolution, and the immortal David Crockett perished in the Alamo.

"Texas' Sul Ross entered the Confederate army as a private and rose to the rank of brigadier general. At the Hatchie river in Mississippi his force of 1,000 held off 10,000 Federals while the Southerners reformed and retreated in order. Ross later was governor of Texas and president of Texas A. & M. college.

Captain Dick Dowling led 42 men in cotton-barricaded vessels that captured two Federal blockading ships at Sabine Pass, thereby preventing the landing of 6,000 Northern troops whose objective was the invasion of Texas.

Of this feat, President Jefferson Davis of the Confederacy wrote: "Rocked in the cradle of revolution, the history of Texas is full of heroic deeds, from the self-sacrificing band of the Alamo to the intrepidity and extraordinary success, I think, must be admitted to have for the present war, it was recalled that he was a Texas hero in the last great conflict.

Ashburn, wounded in battle against the Germans, would not stay in the hospital. He went back to the front and was wounded again the next day.

Lieut. Tobin Rose of San Antonio, in the Battle of St. Mihiel, captured a machine gun and its crew single-handed.

Lieut. Bryan Mudgett and two squads in an advance slipped through the German lines and found themselves surrounded. They attacked and captured a battery, with the officer in charge and a crew of seven, then fought their way back to their own lines, losing only one prisoner.

Sergeant Frank B. Loescher of Seely led a platoon to the right of a German position and forced the garrison to yield. Seventy Germans were rounded up and 14 machine guns were captured.

Corporal Thomas W. Butcher of Fort Worth, after being wounded, included three machine guns.

Sergeant Cleo Brown of Dallas participated in the battles of Champagne, Soissons, Chateau Thierry, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne with such distinction that he was awarded the Croix De Guerre and a personal citation from General Pershing.

Sergeant Horace Stewart Lowrey of Mesquite was in the battles of Chateau Thierry, Soissons, Champagne and Meuse-Argonne. Wounded at Chateau Thierry, he slipped out of the hospital and returned to the front and was again wounded at Soissons.

Lowrey was cited for bravery for delivering an important message under heavy artillery fire.

Other Texas World War heroes include: Lieutenant Joseph Balley of Waco; Pvt. David B. Barkley of San Antonio after whom Camp Barkley, near Abilene, was named; Sgt. George H. Bigden of Laredo; Lieut. Duke M. Davis of Dallas; Pvt. Frank Ellis of Beaumont; Pvt. W. W. Fuller of Abilene; killed in action; Capt. David T. Hanson of Amarillo, also killed in action; Pvt. James C. Huddleston of Denison; Sgt. Elsie E. Marshall of San Antonio; Pvt. Walter B. McIntire of Fort Worth; Pvt. Arthur O. McLean of Amarillo; Capt. Norman E. Taylor of San Antonio; Pvt. Henry M. Pruitt of Tyler; Corp. Cloncius Rounmelatis of El Paso, who died of wounds; Capt. Arthur P. Thyer of Brownsville; Pvt. Carl W. Willis of Sherman; Lieut. John L. Green of San Antonio and Lieut. Leroy Hayes of Houston.

As the United States begins its part in another war, Texans in daily increasing numbers keep alive the heroic traditions of their state.

Second Lieutenant Harry W. Plano, He was cited for heroism by the war department.

That is just the beginning. New names join Brown's almost every day.

Getting Around The Law
During the Gay Nineties, a North Carolina law forbade the operation of freight trains on Sunday unless they carried livestock. In order to comply with the law and still keep its train running, one railroad carried a mule on each freight.

SLEEPING BEAUTY

CHAPTER XVI

"Oh!" shrieked Peggy as she saw Baldy, registering with Fay the intimation that she would have been less surprised to see the Nizam of Hyderabad on a purple elephant.

"Bright girl," was Baldy's mental note, as Peggy had intended it should be. Fay camouflaged a slight frown as she saw Baldy. A nuisance, if she had to resume the whole argument with him all over again, and the concert party idea would best be promoted with the rest of the party for moral support and Baldy conscious of the limelight. She moved to go, but Baldy caught her hand and drew her down beside him.

"Listen, honey, we got to talk this thing over. I'm getting out of here this afternoon, driving straight down to New York. We gotta get this thing clear. You needn't come. All you gotta do is sign a bit of paper and I'll get out and leave you. You can stay up here—stay up here a week if you like," he offered, magnanimously. "Then we'll get together and work out the details."

Fay was coolly silent and Peggy looked around hopefully. Sure enough, her brother came round into the rockery and his face lit up as he saw them sitting there. What co-operation! With a quick glance at his sister he caught her wink and made his attack. "Hullo Fay, hullo Baldy." He caught Fay's hand and pulled her from the seat. She came with great willingness. She saw her escape from Baldy made simple by compliance.

"I've just been looking at the aerial map of this place and there should be a wonderful view from a spot near here."

"Good," said Fay. "I'd love a walk. Coming Baldy?"

"You'll ruin your shoes if you do," said Michael. "And those pants."

Peggy laid a restraining hand on Baldy's sleeve as the other two moved off.

"I did my best," she said. "I'll fix it again for you."

"Aw!" jerked Baldy. "Forget it. I'm getting out."

"Ungrateful, that's what she is," said Peggy. "After all you've done for her."

"That's not all," said Baldy, glad of some sympathy. "I've tramped my feet to the ankles for that girl and talked my hair and teeth out to get her where she is . . . or where she was. I've sat in at parties till I was under the table getting the boys to give her the right stuff in the press, lost a couple of hundred bucks at poker with Pinchell to get her in his column with the right slant—and what do I get for it?"

"Ingratitude," said Peggy.

"Ingratitude," echoed Baldy. At that opportune moment Marie came into the rockery, a cool delf of flowers sunk in the hillsides. She was carrying a tray with two tall glasses, one with a Collins and the other with lemonade. Ice tinkled invitingly, Baldy's eyes popped hopefully.

"Is this what you wanted, Miss?"

"Yes, thank you, Marie," said Peggy. She turned to Baldy. "I ordered this just to help you along with Fay, but since she is gone I might as well take the lemonade."

"You've got brains," said Baldy grudgingly.

"I've got more than brains," said Peggy.

"Hey," said Baldy to the retreating Marie. "Same again!" He turned to Peggy. "You gotta have brains to think of that."

"I'm not like some people," said Peggy. "Always thinking of themselves and what suits them. I think a girl has to think of others."

"You said it," granted Baldy, taking a long drink and feeling better for it. "How long do you reckon it takes to get to Montreal from this place?"

"An hour for a man like you, two for most," grinned Peggy. "But Marie will be back in a minute."

"MARIE was. When she came back the third time Baldy was telling Peggy the whole story of his life. Peggy was listening as though she was hearing for the first time a story for which she had waited all her teens. She had learned from Myra, who had impressed upon her at various times that the only way to make a deep impression on a man is to listen to him attentively at the very times when you'd rather not. A handy trick for her bag of conspiracies, she decided.

Two in one day, thought Peggy, was quite good going.

NIGEL woke up from his afternoon nap and looked around for companionship for the afternoon, feeling sure he would find Fay where he had last seen her. He was disappointed. Only Ferd's aunt was knitting on the deserted veranda. He looked around for Peggy but she was missing. No, Aunt Deborah didn't know where she had gone. He picked up an illustrated magazine, put it down again, picked up a book and tossed it aside. He felt the need of company. The morning on the island had been fun, and he frowned at thought of the afternoon stretching ahead in loneliness.

Marie came to tidy the veranda. "Have you seen Miss Ransom, Marie?"

"She went off with Mr. Mack, sir."

"Have you seen Mr. Lorton?"

"He went off with the elder Miss Mack, sir."

"Well, where is everyone?"

"The younger Miss Mack is in the rockery, sir."

When Nigel arrived there, Peggy was putting a handkerchief over the face of the sleeping Baldy to keep the flies off him.

She saw Nigel and put her fingers to her lips. "Sh!" she said. "Don't disturb him, his voice needs a rest." Then she took Nigel's arm. "Let's go exploring."

Peggy congratulated herself as she and Nigel tip-toed from the rockery. She congratulated herself on a neat piece of organizing, but she realized that it was still too soon to monopolize Nigel. If only they could explore and find Fay and Michael. If Michael was all his eyes promised underneath his reserve and if he had the initiative that was a common possession of the rest of the Mack family, there was a distinct chance that they would find him with Fay in such close proximity that Nigel would be further discouraged.

Baldy, with luck and protection from the flies, would sleep until it was too late to think of returning to New York that day and meanwhile she would get some new ideas. As if she needed them!

Today's War Analysis

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON

Wide World War Analyst

Developments in the Washington-Vichy crisis precipitated by return of Axis-minded Pierre Laval to political power may be impending with the arrival of Admiral William D. Leahy in this country.

Fresh from personal contacts with all members of the new Vichy triumvirate, the American ambassador left the capital of unoccupied France Friday on his way home.

President Roosevelt, in his recent fireside broadcast, left no doubt he or in France that any French yielding to Nazi pressure for military aid against the United Nations would lead to reprisals. Leahy was called home "for consultations" as a gesture to emphasize the Washington view that Laval is a Nazi stooge, a virtual quisling.

Before he left Vichy, however, the former American chief of naval operations talked at some length with Marshal Petain, still nominally the sole source of authority at Vichy, with Laval and above all in importance, with Admiral Jean Darlan. What Admiral Darlan may have said or implied to his fellow statesman could greatly clarify Vichy-Washington relations one way or the other.

For it is Darlan, not Laval, who is designated heir-parent to Petain as chief of state. It is Darlan, not Laval, who commands all Vichy military forces of land, air and sea. And Darlan's last public word on the question of surrender of the French fleet or French colonial bases to Hitler was "never."

That was almost a year ago when there was no apparent possibility of Franco-American hostilities as a result of whatever action Vichy might take in implementing "collaboration" with Nazi conquerors. The United States was not then at war with the Axis.

The situation is now altered. American warcraft and battle planes, Mr. Roosevelt has said, are operating in combat over all oceans and all continents against the Axis. The Mediterranean as well as the southeastern Atlantic are included. Mr. Roosevelt's reference to American warships in the Mediterranean was particularly pointed for French ears.

In his broadcast Mr. Roosevelt noted that American heavy bombers, the flying fortresses that are striking heavy blows at Japan, also soon would be joining the British Royal Air force in "fighting for the liberation of the darkened continent of Europe."

"The United Nations will take measures, if necessary, to prevent to what the Laval reinstatement under Nazi pressure portends, or what the attitude of Petain and, most of all Darlan, may now be toward linking France militarily with the Axis war effort could go far to shape American policy toward Vichy France in the immediate future.

Hensley Instructor Killed Near Denton

DALLAS, May 2 (AP)—Ensign R. B. Hamby, 27, naval flight instructor at Hensley field, was killed and a companion seriously injured today when their training plane crashed while attempting to take it off the Denton airport.

Technical Sergt. Irving R. Hayden of Brooklyn, N. Y., a marine, was taken to a Denton hospital in a serious condition.

Hensley field officers who investigated the accident said the pair were on a routine training flight. Ensign Hamby died on the air field of his home town. Reared in Denton, he attended school there until entering the University of Texas from which he was graduated in 1940. He finished his naval flight training at Jacksonville, Fla., in Sept., 1941, and had been at Hensley field since April 2. His mother, Mrs. H. Wright, still lives in Denton.
