Soldier Slain By Military Police

HATTIESBURG, Miss., May 9 (AP)—Corporal Beoul J. Bernard, 25, of Cameron, La., was shot and killed by military police when he tried to escape while being placed in an automobile to be taken to Houston, Texas, to face a murder charge in the tourist camp slaying of a Houston nurse.

Col. George M. Halloran, base camp commander, said the prisoner, who was arrested in bed here yesterday, attempted to escape and was shot by the military police. He declined further comment.

Bernard, attached to the medical detachment of the stationery company, was charged with murder in the shooting of Mrs. Martha Elizabeth Daily, 29, whose body, attired in a pink nightgown, was found in bed in a Houston tourist court at noon Tuesday.

Deputy Sheriff Jake Colca and District Attorney Edgar T. Walsh from Houston were putting Bernard in their car when he broke and ran. They fired no shots.

McGee Appointed Price Administrator

AUSTIN, May 9 (AP)—State Rationing Administrator Mark McGee of Fort Worth, today was appointed Texas director for the Office of Price Administration.

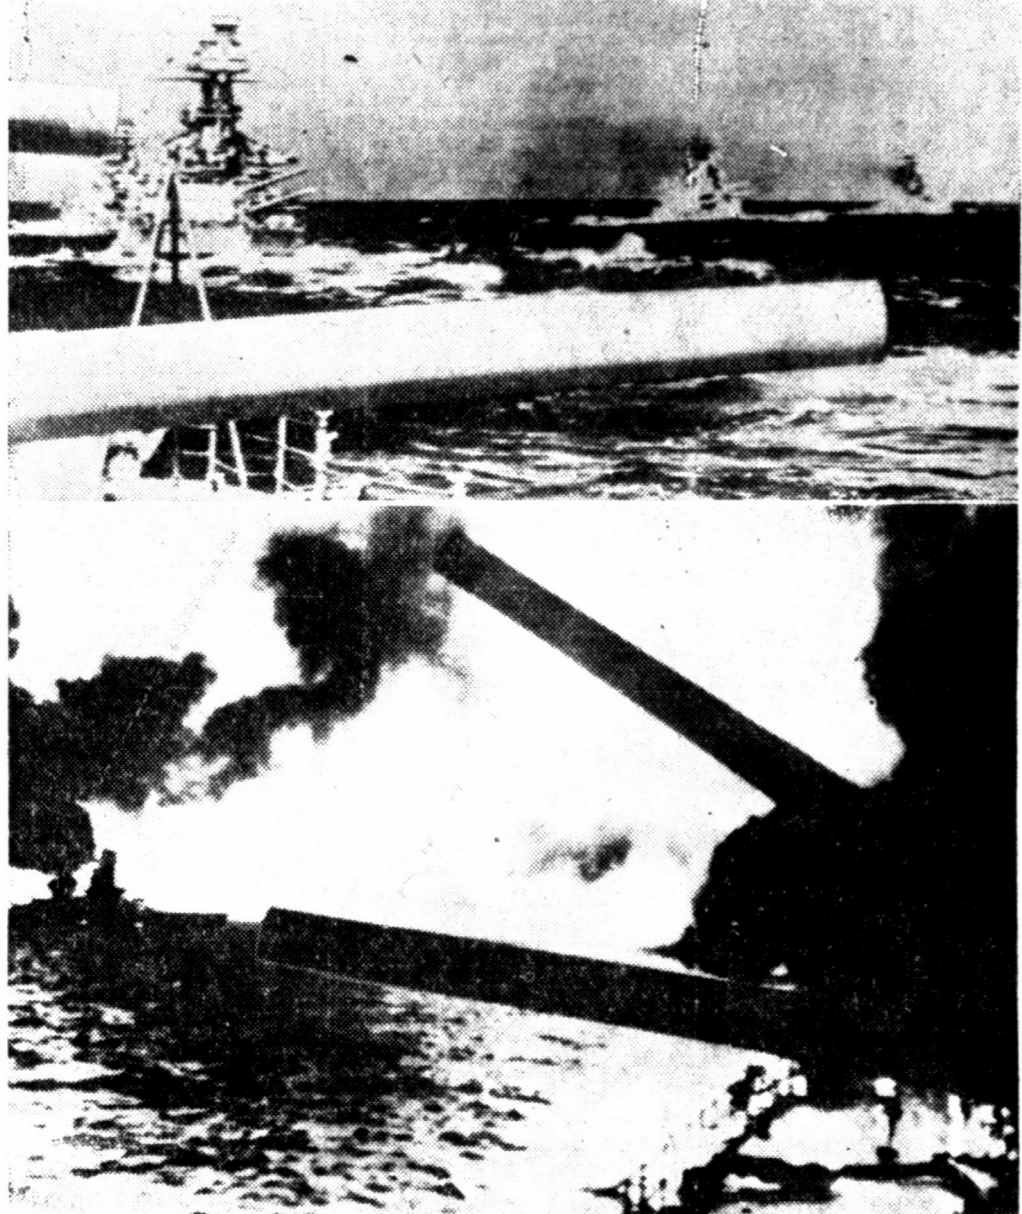

Governor Coke R. Stevenson, who announced the appointment, which was made by Leon Henderson, director of the OPA, said McGee would be placed on salary and given state direction of all rationing and price control measures.

As rationing officer for Texas McGee has served voluntarily. Headquarters for the rationing administration are in Austin, but officials would not comment on reports the rationing division would be transferred to Dallas and combined with regional OPA office already established in the north Texas city.

LeFors Youth Killed On 'Rock' April 30

A Gray county man gave his life for his country on the "rock" known as Corridor, according to word received here yesterday. He was C. L. Hall, 25, of LeFors was killed in action on April 30.

Word of Hall's death was received by his uncle, Bruce Hall of the Champlin Refinery, west of LeFors. Mr. Hall was notified of the death of his nephew by Hall's wife, the former Maxine Archer of Pampa, now a resident of Wichita, Kan. Other survivors are his mother, Mrs. Helen Harris of Tishomingo, Okla., a brother, Stanch Hall, Russell, Kan., and his grandparents, residing in Arkansas.

Hall attended school at LeFors where he was a high school football star for two years. He enlisted in the coast artillery on February 1, 1941. He arrived at Corridor two months before war was declared.

All Men With Dependents To Be Drafted

AUSTIN, May 9 (AP)—Many selective service registrants deferred from military service because of dependents eventually will be inducted unless they become engaged in activities essential to the war. General J. Watt Page, state selective service director, asserted today.

"We are rapidly approaching the stage where everyone must be either working or fighting to win this war," General Page said.

War requirements—the demand for manpower by essential industries and the armed forces—will compel many local boards within the next several months to find selectees for their quotas among registrants who have dependents, he declared.

Local boards are reconsidering all registrants with dependency deferments for two major purposes: To eliminate from this class all men who cannot prove their dependents need their earned income for support in a reasonable manner.

Alfred Sends West To Army Instead Of Pen

HOUSTON, May 9 (AP)—Federal judge James V. Alfred today suspended a general five-year sentence imposed upon Charles Peter West, former pretender on the University of Texas Medical school faculty, conditioned on West's appearance before his Galveston draft board for induction into the army.

West has been ordered to report to draft board No. 11 in Galveston Monday. J. Leo Baldwin, federal probation officer, said.

In the event West is not accepted for induction, Baldwin said, he will return to his New York home under the suspended sentence.

After the court session, West returned to the Wharton county jail, where he had been held, to get some clothes.

West, adjudged guilty of false draft registration and violation of the narcotic laws during the time he was posing on the medical school as Dr. David Fell, made a courtroom plea for mercy which impressed the judge.

The defendant said he knew he had erred but begged the court to give him another chance. He said he wanted to redeem himself by getting into the army as a common soldier.

Judge Alfred told West "you have done a very reprehensible thing. You took the name of a good man and misused it and you have treated the University of Texas very badly. These things are serious and you must get tough."

Dan Challenges Sen. O'Daniel To Public Debate

(By The Associated Press)
AUSTIN, May 9 (AP)—Baritone-voiced Dan Moody today challenged U. S. Senator W. Lee O'Daniel to meet him in debate on issues Moody intends to raise in a campaign to unseat O'Daniel.

The challenge was directed also at Federal District Judge James V. Alfred, a third candidate in the race for the Democratic nomination as junior senator from Texas.

"If Senator O'Daniel thinks he can defend his record as governor and United States senator, I challenge him to meet me in joint debate in any community or communities in Texas where he thinks the going will be good for him," Moody declared.

The challenge was made coincidentally with his announcement of a town-to-town campaign tour. "I want to go to the cities and towns of Texas and speak in the auditoriums, on the courthouse squares and in the parks," the veteran stump speaker explained.

Aussies Avert Invasion For Time Being

By C. YATES McDANIEL
ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Australia, May 9 (AP)—Australia counted herself saved tonight from the dread menace of immediate Japanese invasion, under which she has lived the past week, as General Douglas MacArthur announced that the enemy had been thrown back in the war's greatest sea and air battle at "relatively slight" cost to 4th victorious defending forces, chiefly American.

The battle of the Coral sea, at least its first phase, a roaring, flashing, swirling combat spread over six days and great reaches of the waters just northeast of this continent, had "temporarily ceased."

MacArthur's war bulletins told categorically of Allied success, the enemy repulsed, the initiative to attack still in Allied hands.

United Nations leaders warned, however, that this probably was only the first round with greater battles "yet to be fought." As Prime Minister John Curtin put it, "as part of a struggle which must continue until the enemy is defeated or we are conquered."

From advanced bases near the scene of battle, from which land-based United States army bombers took off to join the fight, came authoritative word that it was not at all certain that Japanese forces in this area had been accounted for.

Authorities there insisted the situation still was serious. It was not known how far the enemy had withdrawn, perhaps to gather strength for a new and greater smash into the Coral sea.

One bomber unit found a Japanese carrier off the south of New Britain, north of the battle area, only yesterday.

But the United Nations had MacArthur's word for it that the Mikado's armada had been repulsed with eleven of his ships sunk and six others gravely crippled and that "our attacks will continue."

Further they had his assurance that Tokyo's claims as to Allied losses were "fantastic," its accounts of the battle "entirely fictional."

The feeling here at headquarters was that at the least the United States and Australian sea and air power had blunted if not broken the spearhead of the first major Japanese attempt to resume the southward drive since the conquest of Malaya and the Dutch East Indies.

Further news was awaited before experts could conclude whether this battle should rank with Jutland as one of history's turning points, and

Tokyo Claims 'Fictional'; Chinese Trap Burma Army

By RICHARD McMURRAY
Associated Press War Editor
A crippled Japanese armada limped desperately away from Nippon's greatest naval defeat Saturday night but even in the flush of victory, the United States and its Allies warned that the enemy might return in greater strength to Australia's approaches and attempt to convert his disaster into triumph.

Other heartening news came from Burma where a Chinese force far behind the front lines smashed 90 miles forward to capture Maymyo and then turned to a fierce attack on devastated Mandalay. A Chungking communique said other troops commanded by Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, U. S. A., were advancing on Lashio, railroad of the Burma road, threatening the Japanese, who had pushed 50 miles into China, with imminent annihilation.

The Japanese naval force broke off the great six-day battle in the Coral sea, fleeing in a long, curling wake like the thrashing of a wounded snake after the powerful plane-ship teams of the predominating American forces had sent 11 of the Mikado's proud ships in tortured wreckage to the bottom and gravely damaged six others. Best of the derelicts were bodies of thousands of Japan's best fighting men, fliers and seamen.

Japanese claims of sinking a U. S. battleship and two carriers were flatly denied by the navy department in Washington as well as MacArthur's headquarters which called them "entirely fictional." Allied losses were described officially as "relatively slight."

Reports received in the navy department to date fail to substantiate the loss of any U. S. aircraft carrier or battleship in that action.

The Japanese bombed the Indian port of Chittagong, 220 air miles from Calcutta, twice, but the damage was slight: At the opposite end of the Indian ocean, the British proceeded to mop up scattered Vichy resistance in Madagascar and secure its strategic position against Adolf Hitler's Oriental Axis partners. The French said two forces still were resisting.

The African battlefield remains quiescent in sweltering desert sunshine, and Malta's defenses claimed 10 more German planes.

In the Coral sea graveyard lay a Japanese aircraft carrier, two cruisers, two destroyers, four gunboats, and two supply or transport ships. Another carrier probably was sunk, but the Allies said officially it was damaged along with two other cruisers, a sea-plane tender, and two transport or supply ships.

The Japanese, indeed, acknowledged the loss of a carrier and 31 planes, but claimed the sinking of an American battleship, two carriers, and a destroyer. The Japanese said

Chinese Cut Off Jap Line Of Retreat

By SPENCER MOOSA
CHUNGKING, China, May 9 (AP)—A strong Chinese army force which the advancing Japanese by-passed in Central Burma has smashed hard into the exposed rear of the Japanese, recapturing the former Allied headquarters of Maymyo and driving against both Lashio and Mandalay, the Chinese announced tonight.

This sudden maneuver, involving a forced march of more than 90 miles north from Taunggyi, already has cut off the main communication route and line of retreat of the Japanese units that pressed so quickly along the Burma road into Yunnan province, China, said a communique.

The Japanese in Yunnan had split into two columns to try to outflank the Chinese, but one of these columns has already been wiped out and the other is vainly trying to break out of an encirclement, said the Chinese communique.

Giving a broad picture of a startling reversal for the hitherto uniformly-successful Japanese campaign in Burma and Southwest China, the Chinese communique said a military spokesman said that when the Japanese rushed northward thru Burma they sent one force eastward along the Burma road and another west to complete occupation of the Lashio-Mandalay railroad and cut off Chinese troops still in the Mandalay area.

But suddenly the supposedly trapped Chinese became very active, said the communique, and the Japanese forces which had rushed ahead to cut Chinese communications now are faced with

Pampa Gold Star Mother Honored At Boger Celebration

BORGER, May 9 (AP)—Three hundred twenty mothers who have sons in the armed forces in the United States participated today in a two-mile long parade that was witnessed by a throng of 6,000.

The mothers were from Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

The parade was halted momentarily in front of the reviewing stand as Mrs. Stella Pollard of Pampa, Gold Star mother of the other world war, presented white roses to the following Gold Star mothers of the new world war:

Mrs. A. W. Hope of Borger, Mrs. Long English of Dumas, Mrs. Samuel David Johnston of Gray, Okla., and Mrs. A. M. Stoddard of Plainview. Another Gold Star mother, Mrs. C. E. Hewitt of Hereford, arrived too late for the parade which was staged as a tribute to the veterans of the other world war to the mothers of the present war.

More than 500 delegates of the American Legion, Auxiliary and Sons of the American Legion were here for a convention, and the parade was a feature of the program.

Mrs. George Baker of Friona, one of the four-six-star mothers in the United States, was a special guest and occupied a place of honor in the parade. She has six sons now in the U. S. army.

A CAPPELLA CHOIR TO SING AT API MEETING TUESDAY NIGHT

Discovery Of New Fields To Be Discussed

The Pampa High school A Cappella choir will present a program to open the regular monthly meeting of the Panhandle chapter, American Petroleum Institute, Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the Junior high school auditorium here. The choir, directed by Miss Helen Martin, consists of 40 members.

A topic of major interest to not only oilmen but the public in general will be discussed at the meeting when Don Hughes of Amarillo, consulting geologist and district representative of the Panhandle Geological Society, speaks on exploration methods in the finding of new oil reservoirs.

With drilling in proven field practically at a standstill because of lack of material oil companies are turning to the discovery of new fields. That program has been approved by the government.

Although Mr. Hughes will discuss discovery methods that have complicated nature, his talk will be as non-technical as possible and he will use charts to illustrate his talks. He will explain the seismograph, torsion balance, magnetometer, soil analysis and surface geology methods of discovering new fields.

New methods of discovering oil fields has reduced the number of dry holes per field from 15 dry holes to one new field to five dry holes to one new field.

The public is invited to attend the meeting which will be free.

RAF Blisters Rostock Area

LONDON, May 9.—With the avowed intention of smashing Nazi submarine nests and the German air force as the necessary preliminary to invasion of the continent, the heaviest British bombers returned in a blistering assault on the ravaged Rostock area along the Baltic last night, the air ministry announced today.

From 400 and 800 foot levels the big war birds bombed Warnemuende, leaving fires sweeping an aircraft plant and other objectives in that area, but 10 miles from Rostock for which it is both a port and seaplane base. The Germans announced that Rostock also was bombed again, indicating that the British raid had spread over all the busy Baltic war supply center.

The big Lancasters, Manchester, Wellington, Hampden, and four-motored Stirlings paid the heaviest toll—19 planes lost—in five months for the daring low-level attack into an intense anti-aircraft defense, particularly at Warnemuende.

At nearby Rostock, 7,000 or 8,000 persons were reported killed recently in four nights of heaviest bombing of a single town that Britain ever has done.

Continuing the daylight phase of their offensive, RAF bombers attacked Huzbrock, a occupied France and Bruges, occupied Belgium, and all bombers returned safely. The British reported losing seven fighters, however, while downing one German fighter.

The German radio quoted the high command as saying German fighters intercepted 100 British Hurricanes and Spitfires and six Boston bombers over Northern France in the course of the day and shot down nine fighters in a fierce dog-fight. The Germans admitted the loss of two planes.

Germany bombed Britain but lightly, scattering a few explosives over East Anglia and causing some casualties. Four raiders were reported shot down.

FDR Calls Conflict A 'Planetary War'

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt asked American citizens tonight to honor the peoples of all the United Nations in observing Flag Day this year because the United States was only one of 26 nations "fighting in the greatest cause the world has known" and "unless all triumph, all will fall."

In a proclamation urging the people to display the American flag and where feasible to fly the joint emblems of all freedom-loving nations on June 14, the chief executive said America was dedicating "all that we have and all that we are to the combat" and pledged: "We will not stop this side of victory."

The president described the current conflict as a "planetary war" in which the United Nations were fighting together as the "massed, angered forces of common humanity" to free the people of the earth from the most powerful, ruthless and savage enemy ever known to mankind.

While tomorrow is Mother's Day, Mr. Roosevelt asked that the people again express their devotion on Flag Day to "our courageous mothers, many of whom are sending out their sons to do battle with the enemy and all of whom are so loyally contributing to the waging of the war on the home front."

Six New Wells Completed In Panhandle Oil Field

Six of the few wells now drilling in the Panhandle field were completed last week, adding 1,113 barrels of new oil to the potential. It is doubtful if more than 15 or 20 wells can be considered active drilling wells at the present time.

With only one location this past week, only one the previous week, all drilling wells will soon be completed and the field will be about dormant as far as new activity is concerned. That condition in the Panhandle has been brought about by Order M-68, designating one oil well to 40 acres and one gas well to 640 acres. The Panhandle field has been drilled on a 10-acre spacing order and as a result of the new order, very few wells can be drilled.

Only one new location was staked last week, by John Turner on his Ellis Cockerell lease in Hutchinson county. It is on a 40-acre plot and can be drilled. To date this year a total of 108 new locations have been filed but not more than 85 have been started.

A total of 134 new wells have been gauged and given open flow potentials with nearly 100 of them carry overs from last year.

Oldham county is scheduled to get some oil play. The Humble Oil and Refining company is reported to have leased 90,000 acres on the Matador ranch in the central part of the county. Stanolind Oil and Gas company has a lease on the Alamo ranch on the west. Stanolind also leased 85,000 acres in the same county some time ago. No locations have been announced by any of the companies, however.

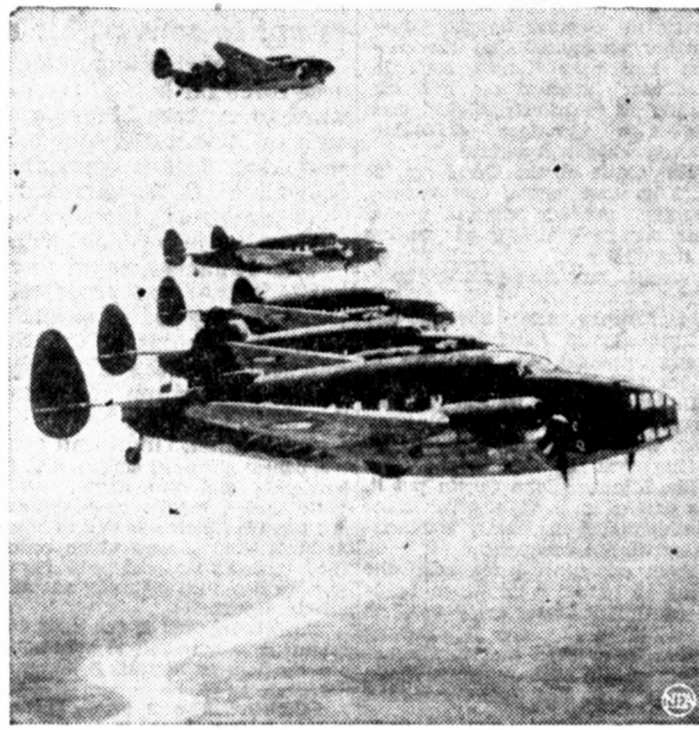

Completions last week by counties follow:

In Gray County
The Texas co., No. 13 Chapman "A," section 50, block A-9, H&GN survey, tested 215 barrels.

In Hutchinson County
Phillips Petroleum co., No. 64 J. A. Whitburn, section 57, block 46, H&GN survey, gauged 197 barrels. Gulf Oil corp., No. 111 Dial et al, section 2, block 1, H&GN survey, was given a potential of 173 barrels.

Intentions to Drill
John Turner, Ellis Cockerell No. 1, 600 feet from the west and 1,550 feet from the north lines of NW/4 of section 2, block Y, M&C survey, Hutchinson county.

Three Political Mastodons Reached Governorship By Similar Routes

AUSTIN, May 9 (AP)—The three political mastodons in the U. S. Senate race—James V. Alfred, Dan Moody, and W. Lee O'Daniel—reached the gubernatorial pinnacle by strikingly similar routes.

One of them will branch out on a new road when the final votes are tabulated this summer but up to now there are many parallels in their careers.

They wallowed established political figures in the muck of defeat to win the governorship, emerged from obscurity to win their first state offices, tumbled the Ferguson's from comeback attempts and dominated Texas politics by sheer force of personality.

They won second terms as governor without runoff campaigns. They were urged by friends to run for a third term before stepping out of the governorship. Alfred and Moody into political retirement. O'Daniel into the senatorship. They returned from the governorship with thousands of devoted followers.

A political nonentity in 1924, Moody was the political darling of Texas by 1926. After one term as attorney general, he tackled the seemingly impregnable Ferguson duo, knocking Gov. Miriam Ferguson out of a second term March 1927. The arch-foe of Fergusonism and the Ku Klux Klan, Moody ran rough-shod over a Ferguson-backed entry in 1928 to win a second term without a runoff.

Urged by friends to try for a third term in 1930, he retired to the private practice of law in Austin, but tacitly supported the candidacy of Ross Sterling against Mrs. Ferguson's third try for the governorship.

Like Moody, Jimmie Alfred shot for the attorney generalship as a political unknown. Elected out in 1926 by 4,000 votes, Alfred bounced back in 1930 to defeat incumbent Robert Lee Bobbitt, by 130,000 votes.

After breezing through minor opposition with a 600,000-vote total in 1932, Alfred headed a potent list of candidates shooting for the governorship in 1934.

He led the ticket in the first primary with 298,000 votes over a field including the lieutenant governor, a state senator, and a Ferguson-backed entrant.

After an acrimonious duel with Tom Hunter, Alfred won the nomination in the second primary, polling 499,000 ballots. In 1936 he won without a runoff with 533,000 votes.

Political history was made in Texas one sultry summer day in 1938 when a Fort Worth flour salesman told his listeners he had received 50,000 postcard requests to run for governor.

Wilbert Lee O'Daniel was on his way.

At the outset, the governor's race looked like a touch-and-go affair between Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson and Attorney General Bill McCraw.

But Texans flocked by thousands to hear O'Daniel's guitar-strumming hillbilles. Crooning and pouring out wailing mountain ditties, O'Daniel's entourage swamped

Ceiling Prices Go Into Effect Monday, May 18

One week from tomorrow night, which will be on May 18, the overall March ceiling takes effect on the prices that Pampa's 246 retail establishments, and that America's 1,900,000 retail establishments may charge the buying public for virtually everything consumers eat, use, or wear.

Tomorrow, government controls will be clamped on the prices charged by virtually every manufacturer and wholesaler in the United States.

Just what these prices will be and what articles they will cover is not explained by the office of price administrator. A representative Pampa merchant, asked last night of what the price-fixing meant and its effect here, said he had some information on it, but declined to be either quoted or to specify what information he had.

The government has had about 50 per cent of the wholesale price structure under controls imposed by more than 100 separate regulations and price schedules, and many retailers have thus benefited.

For the vast majority of retailers, however, the wholesale price controls effective tomorrow will mark their first experience with OPA ceilings on the cost of their merchandise.

They will have a week to stack up at March wholesale prices, before they, in turn, must adjust their selling prices to that level.

Marking a revolutionary phase of the nation's economic history, each wholesale and manufacturer will become at the same time a government licensee, privileged to do business only so long as he sells his goods and his services at prices no higher than those fixed by the Office of Price Administration.

21,091 Ration Books Issued In County

A total of 21,579 applications were made in Gray county in the period beginning Monday and ending Thursday for war ration books. Total number of books issued was 21,091. Stamps removed from books, each stamp representing one pound of sugar, were 4,995 James B. Massa, chairman of the Gray County Rationing board, said yesterday.

Over the state war rationing books were issued to 6,109,127 Texans during the same period. This compares with 6,414,824 counted by 1940 census authorities in Texas, indicating over 300,000 did not register for one purpose or another.

Chairman of the local board has announced that Gray county residents, who did not make application in the four-day period last week, can begin making applications on May 21. Office of the rationing board is in the chamber of commerce in the city hall here.

'Non-Essential' Motorists To Be Limited To Three Gallons Weekly

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration announced today that motorists whose automobiles use is classed as "non-essential" would be allowed three gallons of gasoline a week under the rationing plan beginning May 15 in eastern seaboard states.

The decision to make three gallons the basic rationing unit was reached, OPA said, on the basis of supply figures furnished by Petroleum Coordinator Leles.

Under the program approved by Henderson, pleasure drivers who hold seven-unit "A" rationing cards will be entitled to buy a total of 21 gallons of gasoline during the 47 day period from May 15 to July 1, when a permanent and more elaborate rationing plan will go into effect.

OPA estimated that, under war production board orders curtailing gasoline deliveries 50 per cent in the eastern area, about 401,794,000 gallons would be available for use in private passenger cars in the rationed area during the 47 days. The figure does not include estimated requirements of trucks, buses, other commercial vehicles, and non-highway users, all of which are exempt from rationing.

All automobile owners who need their automobiles in connection with their work will be given additional rations, depending on individual need, OPA said.

Meanwhile W. R. Boyd, Jr., chairman of the petroleum industry, war council asserted that a new pipe line, sufficiently large to supply the shortage, was the only answer. The pipe line committee of the council, he said, therefore recommended construction of a 24-inch line from the east Texas area, through Salem, Ill., to the New York-Philadelphia refining area. Construction of such a line would require about a year, he estimated.

Of changes in existing pipe lines, Boyd said that one line starting in the Baton Rouge, Louisiana, area would have its flow increased 50 per cent by installing intermediate pump stations.

The line now ends in North Carolina, he said, but would be extended to a point somewhere north of Norfolk, Va. The program also involves the extension of some lines from the Texas, Louisiana and Arkansas fields to the Mississippi river to facilitate inland waterway shipments, he said.

Hold Meeting In Borger Producers Association To

Much interest is being shown in the annual meeting and barbecue of the Panhandle Producers & Royalty Owners association at Borger on Saturday. This meeting, which has been held in Amarillo in previous years, has become quite a looked-forward-to event among the oil fraternity in the Panhandle and the state generally. While the event is sponsored by the independent oil men of the Panhandle, major company representatives, and civic leaders generally, from this and other sections are always welcomed and a considerable number of them generally attend this gathering.

This year's meeting at Borger promises to be one of the best and most widely attended yet held. A prominent group of Borger citizens has taken hold of the event and there isn't a dull moment in store for anyone who plans to attend.

The meeting will open with a luncheon at the Black hotel at noon. George Gibbons, executive vice president of the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Assn. will speak on the subject of "Oil Field Theft." Mr. Gibbons and his organization have done considerable work along this line and he has some very interesting and timely comments to make on the subject. Berry Brown, tax consultant of Abilene, will speak on the subject of "Taxes and their local application."

Immediately following the luncheon a business meeting of the directors will be held, at which time officers will be elected for the coming year and other business transacted. All directors and members of the Association are urgently requested to be present at the luncheon and business meeting.

In the afternoon those who wish to do so, may play golf at the Huber golf course. A committee will be present to make arrangements for matches. Other entertainment has been provided for those not interested in golf.

At 7 o'clock a barbecue will be held at the Huber golf course. Following this will be a talk by Jeff Williams of Chickasha, Oklahoma. Mr. Williams, who has spoken in the Panhandle on a number of occasions, has very aptly been called

Truckers May Keep Reserve Tire Stock

A way to end the clumsy method of furnishing tire certificates to trucks that operate over several states has been developed by the office of price administration.

In the past, when a truck in that class had a blow-out 500 miles from home, and in another state, for example, the only way the driver could get a new tire was by means of a tedious ring-around-the-rosy "contacting" the rationing board in that area who in turn would "contact" the board in the driver's "home port."

Now it has been decided that the way to end this inefficient system is to allow truckers operating under Interstate Commerce commission certificates to keep up a reserve stock of tires.

However, the OPA is laying down the law on when all this will be possible. You have to have your application in and approved (the latter word has been stressed) before Friday, May 15, James B. Massa, chairman of the Gray County Rationing board, said Saturday.

TODAY IS MOTHER'S DAY

The world is at war. Think what that means to millions of mothers all over the world—mothers whose sons are fighting in that war. The "sitting and waiting" job isn't easy—sitting and waiting perhaps for months at a time for just one word from those sons.

It is for this reason that Mother's Day achieves an even greater importance this year. It is up to us remaining at home to show mother the love and admiration she is winning for the fine way she is doing her job.

Show your mother how much she means to you. Mother has spent years protecting and tutoring you. And on this, Her Day, show your appreciation for her un-failing love.

We Must Have Ships

It can not be stressed too much or too often that ships will win or lose this war. Shipping is the bottleneck which slows down production, because we can't bring enough raw materials into the country. Shipping is the bottleneck which slows down our preparation for taking the offensive, because we can't transport and service enough expeditionary forces.

Nobody ever has stated the menace of shipping shortage better than the army's brilliant supply chief, Lieut.-Gen. Brehon Somervell, who said: "Dead soldiers can't use the things that are delivered too late."

Exact figures on the shipping problems are military secrets. But from data approved by censors it is possible to point out some pertinent factors.

In World War I the Allies had use of the combined tonnage of Britain, the United States, Italy, Japan, France, Belgium and Greece, plus those of smaller Allies and benefit from much neutral cargo space.

Now Japan and Italy, whose combined tonnage at the beginning of 1941 was greater than that of the United States, are against us. France having fallen, we have lost the use of much of her shipping. The same is true of Greece.

Ignoring the enormous losses from sinkings, the United Nations have 7,500,000 tons less of cargo space because Japan and Italy now are on the wrong side of the fence; 1,700,000 tons less because France has fallen.

During World War I our principal oceanic supply line was only about 3000 miles long. Now we must transport material 4000 miles to Russia, 10,000 miles to Australia, 12,000 miles to Egypt and Libya.

These long hauls expose our vessels more to submarine attack. They triple the time required to carry a cargo to its destination and get back for another.

In World War I 34 gross tons of cargo capacity were required for each soldier we serviced in France. In view of the long haul and modern mechanization, this figure has been multiplied several times. Probably nobody will argue that we can get by, in World War II, with less than 10 gross tons of capacity for each soldier in our expeditionary forces.

Such a computation can not be authoritative. But it can point the way to three conclusions: First, we need more shipping, fast, with which to bring raw materials into the United States.

Second, we need more shipping, fast, with which to transport and service the expeditionary forces that eventually will defeat Hitler and the Japs.

Third, civilians must cheerfully accept transfer to war use of every possible ton of cargo space, and must pass up everything dispensable which would divert shipping that is badly needed for the benefit of United Nations fighting forces.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

This being the time of year when people go fishing, listen to a big fish story from Washington.

The fish concerned is the menhaden. It's a member of the herring tribe. It breeds—oh boy, how it breeds—in the warm waters of the Caribbean. It is virtually the most prolific of all fish and all the menhaden taken out of the sea by the ton haven't lowered the water level by so much as a Death Valley drop.

Come spring, the menhaden starts north with the ball clubs, only being confined to the sea, the fish stick to the warm water currents, swimming close to the shore so they can pick up the scores of fish that go as far as Long Island Sound, taking in the smart resorts—Palm Beach, Sea Island, Virginia Beach, Atlantic City, and Newport, though they never round Cape Cod to Boston.

They stay north all during the baseball season, but by world series time, they're usually heading south for the winter.

It would be a nice life for the menhaden, except that they're rather small. About five inches for the yearlings on the northbound trip. They grow considerably in the benign backwaters of Bailey's beach, Buzzard's bay, and such smart watering places, and by the time they're much better catches. Full grown, a menhaden may reach two and a half pounds, or up to 18 inches.

The menhaden schools are attacked by practically everything—barracuda, blue fish, sharks, dog fish, tuna. Yet the little fish aren't very good eating. What the menhaden apparently provide is a kind of castor oil for all the fish in the sea. That's nature for you.

Other things that attack the menhaden are men. Fishermen. That brings us to the reason for this story.

The fishermen don't catch the menhaden to eat either. They catch the menhaden to make into vitamins and fish-meal and fertilizer and such stuff. A 2 per cent to 4 per cent mix of menhaden oil in poultry feed is supposed to make hens lay like nobody's business. It's practically magic.

That being so, menhaden fish catching is an important business. Before P. H. a lot of this fish oil and fish meal was imported from Japan. But that's out now, so the menhaden fishing season is more important than ever.

The sovereign states whose shores are hugged by the waters through which the menhaden migrate have long realized, however, that menhaden fishing was a good thing, and they passed laws to protect menhaden fishermen of their states from being competed with by those of other states. Every sea-going state, you remember, is supposed to state its ocean for three miles out and its menhaden travel in shallow water, the states can practically dictate who catches 'em.

SEVENTEEN STRICT Seventeen states have passed laws restricting menhaden catching. They restrict the size of boat owned by residents of other states. They charge higher license fees from fishermen from other states. For example, Delaware has no restrictions. Rhode Island prohibits non-residents from fishing for menhaden. Connecticut charges a non-resident license fee of $200. New Jersey charges $750 license for residents and $1,200 for non-residents. And so on.

These barriers now provide a bottleneck that is interfering with the war effort by golly. And look what has happened. This piece that started out to be just another fish story has developed into something of political and economic and social significance. British babies are dried egg shipments are down because there aren't enough vitamins in the hen food because production of fish meal is limited because New Jersey has a law that won't let Delaware fishermen catch menhaden off Sandy Hook and Raritan.

Congressman Philip A. Traynor of Wilmington, Del., introduced a bill to provide wartime suspension of state laws restricting menhaden fishing, but politicians from some of the other states ganged up on it, called it unconstitutional, and have apparently killed it deader than a herring. And that's the end of today's fish story.

PRICES 85 PER CENT PRESENT LABOR

Few people realize the difficulty in attempting the principal component of prices—labor—is not controlled.

And for the state to control labor's wages, would be collectivism and tyranny just as it is in Russia and Germany.

The value or the cost of everything is 100 per cent labor. Eighty-five per cent of it is for present labor and 15 per cent for the past labor or the use of the tools.

So when the government proposes to fix the selling price of an article, 85 per cent of the cost of which is not fixed, then the man who is in business is simply at the mercy of labor or of the government and the labor unions.

And when the government permits certain groups of labor to establish an arbitrary price for labor and will not protect all men in having the right to help establish the value of labor, then the entrepreneur is at the absolute mercy of the government.

And the government realizes that there are more workers than there are entrepreneurs. That if those in office want to stay in they have to make decisions in favor of the group that has the most votes. So the private entrepreneur has little chance, if any, of surviving.

Quality And when the government puts a maximum price on goods, it will also have to determine the quality. There will be little incentive to improve the quality of goods if the manufacturer and merchant can sell all they can produce or get without a better quality at the price set.

So, in order to determine prices or whether the seller is violating the law, the government will have to be the judge of the quality of thousands and thousands of different articles. Practically no two items are exactly alike. Setting prices will lead to untold corruption and bootlegging. It is a step leading us in the opposite direction from free enterprise. It can only mean complete stateism.

The hundreds of thousands of bureaucrats attempting to check up and regulate prices will be doing nothing constructive to win the war. Truly, as Dr. Robert Hutchins of the University of Chicago writes in the Christian Century, "victory begins at home". We must learn how to keep the highways and byways open so that price is the guide of what people want done, rather than the government being the guide of what people want done.

"WAR OF SURVIVAL" OF WHAT?

News dispatches report that the President likes the name of "War of Survival" for this war.

But he does not say what he wants to have survive. He has already said that he is unalterably opposed to piece-work; that is, to people being paid or receiving rewards in proportion to the service they render to humanity.

If he is opposed to this system, which was the foundation on which this country was based, then what kind of a system does he want to survive? Does he want a system where the government distributes the wealth produced by private enterprise in the manner that will keep those doing distributing in power?

His acts indicate that he is not interested in the survival of equality before the law, but is interested in the survival of himself remaining in power to distribute the fruits of labor, as he sees fit.

Today's War Analysis

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON Wide World War Analyst

Dramatic war developments in the Indian ocean and the Coral sea have tended to obscure to American eyes a significant change in tone in Moscow and London comment as to the probabilities of the immediate future of the Russian and Libyan fronts.

The long-range importance of the Coral sea naval battle cannot yet be fully assessed. But there is no longer any doubt that Hitler's "victory" offensive in Russia is badly off schedule. Weather conditions even in the Leningrad area, are no longer an insurmountable obstacle to mechanized attack.

The snow is disappearing even that far north and the roads are beginning to dry out. Yet there is no sign of the opening of Hitler's promised annihilation drive anywhere along the vast front.

Out of that Russian commentators are increasingly advancing the possibility that Hitler has been beaten to the punch by the Red army's winter offensive. One Moscow radio voice says that "spring is more likely to see a general offensive opened by the United States, Britain, and the Soviet Union on all fronts than any particular German offensive."

London assessment of the strategic effect of Britain occupation of Madagascar is that it removes the possibility of an Axis offensive of major consequence in Libya in the near future.

An informed British observer is quoted as saying Britain's position in Libya has been "secured for the summer" by the Madagascar axis. Axis failure to snuff out Malta's 2,000 bombing raids, and the steady toll being taken in the Mediterranean of Libya-bound Axis troop and supply ships. The British, he added, are strong enough now on the ground and in the air to halt anything Rommel (the German general in north Africa) can throw at them.

"Hot weather has started (in Libya) and unless Rommel disregards all rules and attacks a superior force under bad conditions, there will be no (Axis) offensive campaign this summer," he predicted.

The British authority was careful to add that his conclusion did not cover a possible Nazi surge through Turkey to reach oil resources in Iraq or Iran or effect a "junction" somewhere with Japan. He obviously regarded, however, the Madagascar operation by the British as having made realistic the possibility of such German-Japanese contact, as well as having fortified Allied supply lines in the Indian ocean and helped forestall an Axis drive in Libya.

Whether these Russian and British analyses are well founded or not time alone will tell. They certainly mark, however, so decided a change of tone as to be noteworthy.

People You Know

By Arch Fullingim

All I am, or can be, I owe to my angel mother.—Abraham Lincoln

The greatest battle that ever was fought—shall I tell you where and when? . . . On the maps of the world you will find it not, but in the hearts of the mothers of men.—Joaquin Miller.

On this day in the blood-splashed year of 1942 you hardly need to be reminded that the greatest battles are being fought in the hearts of the mothers of men in the armed forces and of men who will soon join them . . .

This column is dedicated to all mothers and especially to mothers of boys in the armed forces, including particularly the anxious parents of the boys killed and captured on Bataan and Corregidor. . . The poet knew as every mother knows, that a mother is fighting a continuous battle in her heart, and especially when she sends her son off to battle. He also knew that not every mother wins that battle. . . It is the prayer of every son that his mother may win the constant battle that she fights in her heart, and that she will be as brave as he strives to be. . .

As I sit here at this desk looking out on the bright, green May afternoon there comes into vision a troop train packed with boys in khaki—all of whom have a mother somewhere, one mother whose mind never strays from thoughts of her son. The troop train is moving slowly through Pampa. Boys' heads are sticking out every window. I go out to the sidewalk and wave. They wave back. I'm not the only one watching that troop train. There is one woman in Pampa who watches every troop train come through. She lives right next to the railroad tracks, at 607 E. Atchison. She is Mrs. Marian Sowders, one of the kindest women I ever knew. . .

"Have you got anything to read?" The boys on the troop trains will say to Marian as they pass by or as the train stops briefly. For weeks Marian has been out of magazines and the dearest man is more than she can supply. Marian has given the boys cookies too. . . but there are so many boys! . . . Need I say more? Why not cook up a batch of cookies, why not take your last issue of Life or Time or Collier's or your issue of the News or whatever reading matter you have—and take them down to Marian to distribute to the boys on the troop trains?

You needn't worry about the cookies drying up. There are too many of them. Why not take those cookies and magazines down to Marian today? You couldn't make the mothers of those boys happier if they knew? Maybe some other mother is befriending your son . . . your brother. . .

Let's see, it's about 3,000 miles, more or less to Sarasota, Fla. There's where Cpl. Mickey Ledrick is stationed in the air corps. . . Last week, Mickey got a telegram from his beloved pop, Lee Ledrick, that Mickey's pal, mine mare had felled. "The Yankees from Jersey and New York, who predominate at Sarasota, were astounded. "You really own a horse?" You can put two and two together but Mickey arrived in Pampa yesterday. Mickey and his pop are going out to the Ledrick ranch on Chicken creek and Mick is going to don Levis and ride his horses. They're going to have all the horses up, and the land-scape will be like a green sky, and the cottonwoods on the creek will be out. . . Yessir, it will be worth coming 3,000 miles to see. . .

Pampa's Company D of the 14th battalion, Texas Defense Guard was represented by 19 members in the Mother's Day parade in Borger yesterday afternoon, held in conjunction with the 18th district American Legion and Legion Auxiliary convention.

First Lieutenant Dan E. Williams was the commanding officer of the parade unit, which comprises both Borger's Company B as well as the Pampa company.

In the reviewing stand was Major Thomas Hagahan, state inspector of the Texas Defense Guard. (AP)—State prison inmates in every part of the country today got the word they have been waiting for, and made ready to turn license-plate presses into production lines for steel helmets, and their souvenir shops into pup-tent outfit.

Immobilized until now with respect to direct war production by the interstate commerce ban of 1933, prisoners in the state institutions received a go-ahead signal, according to the Central Howard association, when Attorney General Biddle advised President Roosevelt yesterday there was nothing in federal law to prevent the government from buying war materials made either in federal or state prisons.

MONTE STRATTON TO BRING HUBBERS HERE THIS AFTERNOON

Oilers Lose Slugfest To Berger 20-10

Monty Stratton, former big league mound star, will bring his Lubbock Hubbers to Pampa this afternoon for the first of a two-game series with the Pampa Oilers. Stratton pitched for the Chicago White Sox until three years ago when he lost a leg in a hunting accident. Although handicapped, he still takes his turn on the mound. Game time this afternoon will be 3 o'clock at Road Runner park.

Starting pitchers for this afternoon's struggle had not been announced last night. Both managers decided to wait and see how the Saturday night tussle came out before deciding.

D. Isaac, little mound artist from Vaposs, Okla., might be manager Dick Ratliff's choice. He is a brother of Joe Isaacs. Oiler left fielder.

The Oilers secured three new players from the Pampa club in the Western association yesterday. They were Walter Barnett, pitcher, who stands 6 feet 5 inches and weighs 215 pounds; Robert Cummings, infielder, and Rich Rhodes, outfielder. Two and maybe all three will be in action this afternoon.

Lubbock will also have tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. On Tuesday and Wednesday night's Dixie Howell, former Alabama football All-American star, will bring the Albuquerque Dukes, formerly the Pampa Oilers, here for games.

15-Year-Old Wins Track Meet For San Antonio

By RAY NEUMANN

AUSTIN, May 9 (AP)—Blond Charles Parker, 15-year-old wing-footed sophomore, today won high-point honors and the 1942 state interscholastic track and field meet for Thomas Jefferson High school of San Antonio.

The flashy sprinter won the 100 and 200-yard dashes and anchored Jefferson's quarter-mile relay team to a new record of 43.1 seconds. The Mustangs totaled 17 points, also taking fourth place in the 880-yard run and the mile relay.

Sunset High school of Dallas won second place with 13 points. Jefferson's quarter-mile relay team was fourth with 12 points. The Mustangs of Houston was third with 12-1-5, John Reagan of Houston was fourth with 12, Alamo Heights of San Antonio was fifth with 10 points and Brackenridge of San Antonio was sixth with nine.

DeWitt Couther, mighty shot putter from Masonic Home in Fort Worth, wrote another new mark in the record book with a heave of 56 feet even, bettering his own 54 feet, 6-7-8 inch effort in yesterday's preliminaries which smashed the old mark of 54 feet, 3-8 inch, set by H. B. Pendleton of Woodboro last year.

Jefferson's record-shattering 400-relay team, composed of Adkie Cole, Paul Creamer, Bill Eagle and Parker, bettered the 43-2-second mark set last year by a Jefferson quartet which included Parker as the second man.

Sunset annexed runner-up meet honors with Bill Hamman winning the 200-yard low hurdles, Jim Hoff taking the gruelling 880-yard run, Bill Brackenridge coming in third in the 100-yard dash and Hamman, Connally Ludwig, Hoff and Brackenridge combining to take fourth honors in the quarter-mile relay.

Steve Lobue, all-around expert who won second high point honors with 10.7 points, placed Jeff Davis in third place for the meet. Lobue won the broad jump with a leap of 22 feet, 6 inches, tied for first with four others in the high jump, was second in the 120 yard high hurdles and anchored the mile relay quartet to third place.

Thomas Tope, Brackenridge of San Antonio's top-flight hurdler, won the high in 14.7 seconds and was second in the 200-yard lows. A fourth place by Jack Nipper in the mile gave the school nine points for six prizes.

Tied with Lobue for top honors in the 100-yard dash were Ed Griffin of Paschal (Fort Worth), an unheralded entry, won the gruelling mile run, while Leonard Swafford of Bayou school of Calhoun county took top honors in the rural pentathlon.

Harvesters Show Fire And Zip In Intra-Squad Game

Pampa Harvester football prospects showed fire and zip that was heartening to coaches Friday afternoon when the first intra-squad scrimmage of the season was staged at Harvester park. A team captained by Jerry Kerbow won a 14-0 decision from a team captained by Jimmie Berry.

Every boy in uniform saw action and the play of some of them was tops.

The play of several boys up from the Gorillas and Reapers and a couple of boys out for their first football, although they're seniors, was promising and Coaches Buck Frejman and Mac Best said after the scrimmage that they might be able to develop some promising reserve strength.

Play for the most was ragged but at times there was brilliant blocking, tackling and ball carrying.

Boys from last year's squad naturally looked good. But it was the play of reserves that was watched carefully by the coaches.

The work of Richard Casey and Richard Hyman, tackles; Dempsey Davis and George Cree, ends; A. C. Enloe, Dick Manry and Billy Coy Sheehan, backs, was pleasing to coaches.

The Greens scored first when Bill Arthur skirted end for 20 yards. Then the Whites went into action and Jake Halter crashed off tackle for a score. Bobby Dunham gave the Greens their other touchdown, also on an off tackle smash. Bobby Etson kicked both points after touchdowns.

Spring training will last two more weeks and several stiff intra-squad scrimmages and scrimmages with last year's ex-Harvesters are planned.

Rice Stars But Texas Wins Meet

DALLAS, May 9 (AP)—Rice won most of the first places and Texas as A. & M. furnished the upsets but the University of Texas ruled along to another Southwest conference track and field championship here today.

The Longhorns scored in every event except the broad jump, and shot put to pile up 57-1-4 points, nine more than Texas A. & M. which finished second ahead of Rice. The Aggies made 48 1-4 and Rice got 41-2.

Not a single record was so much as approached but Joe Vajdos, Aggie sophomore, furnished a thrill by beating the conference champion and half-mile record-holder, Mac Umstadt, with a driving finish.

Billy Cummins, the sensational Rice sophomore, was high point man, getting first in the 120-yard high hurdles and the broad jump, taking second in the low hurdles, tying for fourth in pole vault and running on the second-place sprint relay team. His total was 14 points, two more than Harold Hall, the dash star.

Cummins and Roy Bucke of A. & M., the defending champion hurdler, ended their season's feud in a deadlock with the Rice ace taking the high hurdles and Bucke the low.

Defeat of Umstadt by Vajdos was a distinct surprise. Umstadt led until the last 100 yards when the Aggie sophomore flashed forward and won going away. The time was 1:56.2, almost three seconds over the record. Umstadt also was upset in his other specialty, the 440-yard dash, by his teammate, Jan Wren.

Jack Wilson, Baylor's great all-around athlete, got two first places, making the shot put and javelin throw, to tie Al Ribes of the Aggies for third place in individual points.

Johnny Zeigler, Aggie sophomore, finished 220 yards ahead in the two-mile run and the crowd got a laugh when Hall, running anchor lap for Rice in the mile relay, overhauled Wren of Texas then loped along beside him and talked to the Longhorn runner until they reached the tape. Hall won by about three yards.

Baylor finished fourth with thirteen points, Texas Christian fifth with nine and Arkansas and Southern Methodist tied for sixth with two each.

Seitz Slugs It Out With Duke City Team - And How!

Extra Base Hits Scarce As Four Oilers Hit Above .300

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., May 9 (AP)—Proving there's never a dull moment in the West Texas-New Mexico league, the playing managers of the Albuquerque Dukes and Clovis Pioneers were nursing cuts and bruises today while an over-enthusiastic fan was out on bond.

Dixie Howell, skipper of the Dukes and Manager Grover Seitz of Clovis squared off in the infield after Dixie had taken issue with the umpire. As they argued the umpire had ordered Catcher Mack Quillan of Clovis to leave the field. Quillan vociferously declined, nor would he throw the ball back. Howell asked the ump to toss Quillan out of the park and get along with the game. What the umpire retorted was not recorded, but about then Seitz charged in from the outfield. Then bedlam!

As they hauled the fan away to jail on charges of disturbing the peace, he protested that he had hit the wrong man and was sorry. Incidentally, Clovis won 11 to 9.

Southwest Champions Must Play In Cotton Bowl Or Not At All

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS, May 9 (AP)—The Southwest conference football champion either will play in the Cotton Bowl or not appear in any bowl game under a rule passed by the faculty committee at its spring meeting today.

Six of the seven members voted to continue the champion to the Dallas classic. The other member, the University of Texas, did not join in the movement, pointing to a faculty rule of its own that prohibits post-season football games.

The conference fathers also made provision for football games with the Dallas classic. The other member, the University of Texas, did not join in the movement, pointing to a faculty rule of its own that prohibits post-season football games.

The proposed rule to make freshmen eligible for varsity competition was shelved until a special meeting later in the year. A decision will be reached. The committee decided to wait until it was determined whether or not 18-year-olds would be drafted for army service.

In connection with the majority decision on committing the gridiron to the Cotton Bowl, the committee ruled that any team other than the champion might play in a bowl game if permission is obtained from the conference. However, if the champion declines the Cotton Bowl bid, the discussion was won by the team that was granted permission to play in any other bowl game.

The conference fathers found it scholastically undesirable to have freshmen on varsity squads, pointing out that this would be a handicap to first-year men who would spend all their time to make their courses instead of going on trips with the football team.

The conference fathers literally "threw the book" at service teams, voting to raise the limit of freshman football games from three to six per season with the hope that Shut Out, stopped cold and was eighth; William Woodward's Apache was a tired ninth after cutting out the pace, for three-quarters of a mile, and the English-bred Domingo, from the barn of movie-man Louis B. Mayer, chased all the others home.

Although he was second to Shut Out a week ago, even the bettors knew Alasb was hot today. They knuckled him down to the favorite's slot at $2.05 to $1 and let the Whitney double-throat ride at $2.40 to $1.

In picking up $58,175 for his first victory this year, "the Sab" boosted his all-time earnings to $182,075.

Alasb will go to Belmont park Tuesday to run in the Withers and Belmont stakes.

The dead-heat for second turned up some peculiar odds in the place and show pools, although Alasb was $3.70 in the second "hole," a n d $3.40 in third. Requested was $6.10 for place and $8.70 for show, and Sun Again was $4 and $5.10.

Alsab Captures Preakness; Dead Heat Recorded

By SID FEDER

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Baltimore, May 9 (AP)—Alsab came back today.

With the same thunder in his legs and iron in his heart that carried him to greatness a year ago, the little colt reared down Pimlico's stretch to win the classic Preakness stakes and end the jinx on him all this year.

He did it the hard way, too, as a record crowd of 42,000 fans roared him on. He came from far back and on the outside to run over eight of the nine other horses in the field in the last quarter mile and finish on top by a length.

Ben Whitaker's Requester from Texas and Warren Wright's Sun Again, the big youngster who was a doubtful starter until two hours before post-time, battled it out for second honors.

They left the tape so close, first neck and neck, then head and head, and finally nose and nose on the wire that not even the camera could split them and they finished in a dead heat. A length back of them came Maryland's pride, R. Sterling Clark's Colchis.

Half a length back of him was Shut Out.

Fair Call, owned by Mrs. Barclay Douglas of Long Island, was eighth. Emerson F. Woodward's Valdina Orphan, the long-legged Texan who ran third in the derby, was seventh; Mrs. Whitney's "glamor boy" Devil Diver, supposed to be better than Shut Out, stopped cold and was eighth; William Woodward's Apache was a tired ninth after cutting out the pace, for three-quarters of a mile, and the English-bred Domingo, from the barn of movie-man Louis B. NEW YORK, May 9 (AP)—Like Joe DiMaggio and Ben Hogan, boxer Lulu Costantino stubbed his toe on No. 57.

He did it the hard way, too, as a record crowd of 42,000 fans roared him on. He came from far back and on the outside to run over eight of the nine other horses in the field in the last quarter mile and finish on top by a length.

Ben Whitaker's Requester from Texas and Warren Wright's Sun Again, the big youngster who was a doubtful starter until two hours before post-time, battled it out for second honors.

They left the tape so close, first neck and neck, then head and head, and finally nose and nose on the wire that not even the camera could split them and they finished in a dead heat. A length back of them came Maryland's pride, R. Sterling Clark's Colchis.

Half a length back of him was Shut Out.

Fair Call, owned by Mrs. Barclay Douglas of Long Island, was eighth. Emerson F. Woodward's Valdina Orphan, the long-legged Texan who ran third in the derby, was seventh; Mrs. Whitney's "glamor boy" Devil Diver, supposed to be better than Shut Out, stopped cold and was eighth; William Woodward's Apache was a tired ninth after cutting out the pace, for three-quarters of a mile, and the English-bred Domingo, from the barn of movie-man Louis B. Mayer, chased all the others home.

BENTON WINS FIRST

DETROIT, May 9 (AP)—Hard Luck Al Benton, top 1941 Detroit Tiger pitcher who had some without a victory in five starts, today notched his first triumph by blanking the Cleveland Indians, 4 to 0, in an abbreviated game. The contest was called in the Detroit half of the sixth because of weather.

In extending Detroit's home winning streak to eight games, Benton yielded two hits, both by Manager Boudreau of the Indians. His mates gathered seven off the veteran Red Harder, who was charged with his second defeat against two victories by Jimmy Bloodworth smirled home the lone marker in the fifth.

The defeat, fifth in succession since Cleveland's 13-game winning streak was broken, dropped the Tribe back into a tie for second place in the American league with the Boston Red Sox. Detroit still holds fourth place.

Harvesters Show Fire And Zip In Intra-Squad Game

Pampa Harvester football prospects showed fire and zip that was heartening to coaches Friday afternoon when the first intra-squad scrimmage of the season was staged at Harvester park. A team captained by Jerry Kerbow won a 14-0 decision from a team captained by Jimmie Berry.

Every boy in uniform saw action and the play of some of them was tops.

The play of several boys up from the Gorillas and Reapers and a couple of boys out for their first football, although they're seniors, was promising and Coaches Buck Frejman and Mac Best said after the scrimmage that they might be able to develop some promising reserve strength.

Play for the most was ragged but at times there was brilliant blocking, tackling and ball carrying.

Boys from last year's squad naturally looked good. But it was the play of reserves that was watched carefully by the coaches.

The work of Richard Casey and Richard Hyman, tackles; Dempsey Davis and George Cree, ends; A. C. Enloe, Dick Manry and Billy Coy Sheehan, backs, was pleasing to coaches.

The Greens scored first when Bill Arthur skirted end for 20 yards. Then the Whites went into action and Jake Halter crashed off tackle for a score. Bobby Dunham gave the Greens their other touchdown, also on an off tackle smash. Bobby Etson kicked both points after touchdowns.

Spring training will last two more weeks and several stiff intra-squad scrimmages and scrimmages with last year's ex-Harvesters are planned.

Borger Beats Oilers 14-7

Borger walloped the Oilers 14 to 7 in the second of a two-game series last night at Borger.

Pampa started off in good shape, getting four runs in the first inning and two in the third when the score was tied 6 all, but Borger came back in the fourth with an avalanche of seven runs, then added another in the fifth.

The Oilers made one more run in the seventh, but couldn't overtake the Borger lead.

His was nearly even, Borger getting 17 to Pampa's 14, but Pampa errors were six to Borger's one.

Dodgers Peace Loving People, Says MacPhail

BROOKLYN, May 9 (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers cause a lot of confusion and make a lot of noise, but they really are a peace-loving people, President Leland Stanford MacPhail insisted today.

"I've been hearing that I am feuding with Ford Frick about the National League's new rule against managers arguing with umpires and about our players going around making trouble all the time," he declared in his best booming baritone, "but that's a lot of bosh."

"Actually I am in entire agreement with Frick on his rule. I have talked to the president of the National League about this only once. That was after Manager Leo Durocher, Whit Wyatt, Dolph Camilli, and Fred Fitzsimmons all were thrown out of the game in a game once in five years."

"Now as soon as I found out players like Wyatt, Fitzsimmons, and Camilli were thrown out I figured something was wrong because those fellows don't get thrown out of a game once in five years."

"So I called Frick and asked him what had happened and I asked him if the umpire had ordered Durocher out of the game before he came up to the plate and said anything, just on the umpire's assumption that my manager was going to put on a scene. Frick didn't know, because he read me the umpire's report and it didn't say."

"But he agreed with me that an umpire has no right to throw somebody out for what he reads in his mind and I agreed with him that if Durocher went up to the plate and talked to the catcher in an effort to embarrass the umpire, then he should have been ordered out."

The Oklahoma construction will be supervised by the Denison, Tex., corps of engineers district office. No further details were given on the projects.

SPORTS IN WARTIME

By RICHARD WEST Associated Press Staff

Tokyo open: The other day, Flint Dupre of The Dallas News says, Calvin Wheat of Dallas wrote to his son, Pvt. William Wheat at Fort Sam Houston, telling him of the Glen Lakes golf tournament he entered in Dallas. The elder received the following reply from his son: "Lots of luck to you in the tournament. Incidentally, I am entered in the big Japanese open to be played in Tokyo some time soon. Their rules do not specify any particular clubs, so right now I am playing with a neat precision registered 155 mm. howitzer driver, which does not hook or slice."

Censored: There's a new weather bureau in Austin—one the censors cannot control. The bureau is Ralph Park's ankles. Park is a Texas U. football halfback. He's got what's called twinging ankles. When it's going to shower they have little twinges; when it's going to downpour—big twinges. Recently the day before the Texas baseball team was to play Sheppard field it was pouring in the sky, then squinted down at his ankles. He had the big twinges. "There'll be no game tomorrow," he predicted. Sure enough—it poured. And the weather bureau proper predicted only showers. Now they consult Park's ankles.

Fightin' men: Moose Hartman, greatest tackle in Rice's history, is in Norfolk as a navy physical education instructor. . . . Ditto for Garland Adair, Texas' great javelin thrower. . . . Of Texas' dream 1941 backfield, not a man is left on the university campus: Jack Crain and Noble Doss are in the navy, Pete Layden in the air corps, and Vernon Martin working in Amarillo.

Signs of the times: If you have been playing on the front nine at Tenison in Dallas the other day you would have seen: One man wading a creek up to his waist on the fifth hole, another climbing a tree, another hung up in a barbed wire fence. All were hunting golf balls and incidentally—they were moneyed boys who used to pull out a new one when they sliced out of bounds.

Prophecy: Bruce Laver, sports ed of The Houston Post, tells this one: Eddie Dyer, manager of the Houston Buffs, told Laver back in 1939 he (Dyer) did not have a pitcher capable of winning in the Texas league. All he had were Ernie White, Harry Brecheen, Murry Dickson, Howard Krist, and Red Barrett. Brecheen won 18 games, White 15, Dickson 22, Krist 5, White, Dickson, and Krist, the boys capable of winning in the Texas league, are playing for the St. Louis Cardinals now and may lead the Red Birds to the world series.

The Texas schoolboy sports program has managed to come through without serious curtailment. But what of next year? What's going to happen to the athletic program that gives 50,000 boys a chance for development of physical stamina, mental alertness, coordination, endurance, initiative, and emotional control? Those are the things that armed forces want for better soldiers.

Transportation is the problem. A number of counties did not hold track and field meets for that reason. As R. J. Kidd, athletic director of the Texas Interscholastic league points out: "In all probability the boys in those areas without the stimulation of competition spent a great deal of their leisure time in activities that were not developing them physically."

South Side Grocer Gives Sugar Away
INDIANAPOLIS, May 9 (AP)—A south side grocer did a land office business in sugar sales after the week-long "freeze" ended.

He handed out sugar and took the consumers' stamps in return. Today he took the stamps to a wholesaler for more sugar, but when he learned he had to purchase it he asked: "Why should I have to pay you? My customers haven't been paying me. I've just been taking in their stamps."

Poison Gas Charged By HENRY C. CASSIDY
MOSCOW, May 9 (AP)—Tass, official Soviet news agency, distributed for the first time in the Russian-German war today a dispatch reporting that the Germans had used poison gas on the Crimean front and the official Communist party newspaper Pravda published the bulletin under a two-column headline.

DENTON, May 9 (AP)—Claude, Armstrong county, edged out Paul Rock of Concho county by half a point for the state Class B track and field championship today.

Claude totaled 25 points, Paul Rock 24 1/2. Merton, Irion county, took third with 20 points.

Gulf Sinkings Cause U. S. No Surprise

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The first reports today of submarine attacks on shipping in the Mexican Gulf caused no surprise in naval circles here.

It had been expected since the undersea fleet appeared off the Atlantic coast last winter that at least a few Axis submarines would venture into the gulf in attempts to pick off merchant shipping as it entered or left ports on operation close to port narrows the field of hunting and increases the chance of finding targets (as American submarines have proved by their successes near the shores of Japan).

Distance from base is little handicap to modern submarines. The first class undersea boats of all the big naval powers can stay at sea 40 to 60 days and hunt thousands of miles from their home ports. The primary fact that limits the range of operation is the physical endurance of the crews; where they operate is, to a large degree, governed by the nerve of the crew and officers.

Both elements, particularly the latter, enter into the case of Axis submarine operations in the Gulf of Mexico. That inland sea is surrounded by unfriendly territory. To get into the gulf an enemy submarine must run the outer barrier of islands guarding the Caribbean sea, then nose through either the Strait of Florida (between Florida and Cuba) or through the Yucatan channel (between Cuba and the peninsula of Yucatan). Both these channels, however, are more than 100 miles wide and present no problem under cover of darkness or bad weather.

The federal census calls any town with 2,500 inhabitants or more a city.

London Waits For "Profit And Loss"
LONDON, May 9 (AP)—Headlines proclaiming "Invasion Fleet On The Run" and "Tokyo Claims Fantastic" told London newspaper readers tonight of the repulse of Japanese naval forces in the great Coral sea battle.

Editorials contained a note of caution, however, pending receipt of the final "profit and loss" report on sinkings and damage.

JUST BETWEEN US GIRLS

[By JOHNNIE DAVIS]

MOTHER'S DAY

I wonder—does Heaven give mothers
A sort of a separate place
With clothing to mend
And tears on a very small face?

And do you suppose there are kitchens
With boys seeking something to eat,
And pies, cakes, and jells,
And heavenly smells,
Sought out by small pattering feet?

There must be, for how else would mothers
Find joy that is promised Above,
When all of their days
Are spent finding ways
Of serving the children they love?
—Arthur Frederic Otis.

How we feel about our loved ones and the institutions that we cherish has a way of coming to the surface in time of war. We want to put into words these emotions that danger heightens. So today when we celebrate Mother's Day, there'll be a new intensity in the expressions of our love. In his proclamation designating the day, President Roosevelt suggests "messages of affection" as a way of expressing "love and reverence for the mothers of our country."

The custom of holding a festival in honor of motherhood is not new. It dates to ancient times when the Greeks worshipped Cybele, Mother of the Gods, paid tribute to her with rites held in forests and caves. Later the custom spread to Rome where a three-day festival was held, beginning each year on the Ides of March. Credit for originating the idea of setting aside a certain day each year to honor and give thanks to Mother goes to Anna M. Jarvis of Philadelphia. An act of Congress made the second Sunday in May the day. Rightfully, Mother's praises should be sung from dawn to sundown 365 days a year—not just on one special day.

While attending the state convention of Texas Federation of Women's clubs at Fort Worth, Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Joe Key visited with Mrs. L. L. McCollm, a former Pampian, who now lives in Fort Worth. Mrs. McCollm attended some of the convention sessions with the Pampians. Although active in club work while here, Mrs. McCollm has not become affiliated with any Fort Worth clubs but she is doing church work. Mrs. Key represented the Twentieth Century Culture club and Mrs. Smith was a delegate from the Parent Education club.

Mother-and-Daughter Fashions. If your small daughter has a penchant for wandering, dressing her in a small exact replica of the costume you are wearing is almost as good as an identification tag. It's such an attractive idea that specialty shops are featuring entire summer wardrobes of mother-and-daughter fashions—charming calico prints, quaintly trimmed with rickra, candy striped cottons with full skirts, frothy white pique frocks brightly appliqued, blue cotton slacks and jackets, as well as cleverly-fitted and flared bathing suits of cotton knit trimmed with applique.

Some husbands will have to "sing for their supper" Tuesday night when Twentieth Century club members entertain with a Husband's Night dinner and Texas program. A quartet of husbands will sing cowboy ballads in keeping with the ranch setting of the affair.

For good sportsmanship, personable Betty Jo Holt, a pledge of Kit Kat Klub and popular high school student, will receive a bracelet from the club at the presentation dance to be given on July 3. Betty Jo is one of six pledges who will be formally initiated, soon. She was chosen as the best pledge during "Hell Week."

Homemakers who have been in doubt as to just what supplies would be available for canning this year's fruits and vegetables, are now assured of all really necessary materials and equipment, the OPA Consumer Division announced today. With an immediate allowance for canning of five pounds of sugar for every person in the family, and with a fairly adequate supply of jars, jar rings, and jar tops, tin cans and pressure cookers, it is expected that pantry shelves will be well-stocked with home-canned foods for the coming year.

Word has been received here that Miss Marguerite Kirchner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Kirchner, and a freshman student at Colorado Woman's college, was a recent Sunday dinner guest of President and Mrs. James E. Hutchinson of the college in Denver.

American women can help the war effort by saving the increasingly precious metal containers in which they buy their lipsticks, their toiletries and other beauty aids. Adequate supplies of lipsticks, cleansing creams, powders, and other beauty items probably will be available, the War Relocation Authority's cosmetics branch said, but women must make certain that there is no waste of containers, many of which will no longer be manufactured because of metal and plastic shortages. The branch urged women not to throw away a lipstick container made of metal or plastic after the lipstick itself is used up. This has been the procedure adopted in England since the outbreak of the war, and is a practice which has generally been followed on the European continent for many years.

Other cosmetic containers which women were urged to save are cleansing cream and cold cream jars, all types of bottles, including nail polish bottles. Especial care should be given to preserving the caps which most often are made of metal or plastic. If the necessity for use of nearly all kinds of metals in the war effort requires that jars be made only with paper, cellophane, or other non-permanent lids, the woman who has saved her old jar can transfer the cream or other preparation into it. In addition, the branch said that women should save mascara cases, vanities, and rouge and powder compacts, since only refills will be available in quantity in the near future. The supply of lipsticks and most cosmetics items themselves will probably be adequate if women use no more than they need.

Bringing to a close another year of study, most of the federated clubs will have their last meetings of the season next Tuesday afternoon. In connection with the concluding program of El Progresso club are the following lines:

"Little by little the time goes by—
Short, if we sing thru it; long, if we sigh.
Little by little—an hour, a day,
Gone with the years that have vanished away.
Little by little the race is run;
It's not how long, but how well we have done."

Hats into helmets. Four dollars will buy a new felt hat; it will also buy a steel helmet. A new flower or feather would perk up your old bonnet, but there's a soldier boy out in some no-man's land who might use that tin hat. And that money will help Gray county maintain its war bond quota. Modern jewelry are ocean gems. Fifty cents would buy a piece of metal costume jewelry, but costume jewelry made of metal will be scarce. If you have a box full of it in your dresser drawer, polish up the old and wear it—for that 50 cents, put into a war savings stamp, would buy enough fuel oil to permit a destroyer to cruise one mile seeking out a Japanese target. And to defeat the Japs, remember that each state must meet its war bond quota.

One section of flower shows which always interests this writer is the miniature arrangements. At the annual spring display of the Garden club Friday night in the club rooms many attractive entries were shown. Mrs. R. T. McNally's winning arrangement of pansies was in a 200-year-old pewter butter dish, a family heirloom. Some of the most delicately colored iris ever grown in Pampa were exhibited, also.

A MOTHER'S MORNING PRAYER

Dear Lord, forgive the errors I have made, and help me to be strong and brave each day. Help me to be kind and true to each one and greet all with a smile who pass my way.
May I be faithful to the home I keep. Help me to fill each hour with hope divine.
When trifles annoy, O, be Thou nearby. Strengthen and show me the way that is Thine. May love prompt my actions all through the day. May the heat of a trusting child be mine. Let faith be my pillow each day through my life. And teach me, Lord, the way that is right.

BEAUTIES CHOSEN BY CAMP WOLTERS SOLDIERS—A military service rendered Texas State College for Women at Denton by Camp Wolters men was revealed when the four college beauties, chosen several months ago by men at the camp, were presented at the annual senior formal prom. All four girls, whose identity was kept secret until the date Saturday night, will receive full-page pictures in the Daedalian yearbook. They are Dorothy Middleton, Orange, senior; Betty Buchanan, junior; Grapevine; Lena Marie Adams, Bryson, sophomore; and Jo Marie Ridgway, San Antonio, freshman. Camp Wolters soldiers picked the T.S.C.W. beauties several months ago when the college put on a stage show in the service club for men at the camp. Over 200 couples danced to the music of Carol Lofner in the new student union building with boys from all over Texas and neighboring states in attendance.

Tulips and iris dominated the spring flower display held by the Pampa Garden club in the city club rooms Friday evening as a part of its annual guest day program. Notes RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

By MRS. FRED ROBERTS
Knitting for navy still has priority over everything else we are doing. Mrs. Roy Bourland is appealing again for knitters so that these garments may be finished and shipped within this month. The sleeveless sweaters went fine, of course, because we were familiar with them. Now we must get busy with the turtle-neck sweaters, helmets, and watch caps. These sweaters are really not hard to knit, but they are large and will take more time than anything else we have done. However, when we fully appreciate how badly they are needed by our Iceland patrol, we realize that we must get at them right now.

The helmets and watch caps are not hard to make if you can knit with four needles. They are no harder than socks—the watch cap really is easier. Mrs. Bourland has made a helmet and a watch cap which are on display at the production room.

Mrs. J. B. White, executive secretary, has just had a letter asking whether we would accept a quota of 220 women's and 112 children's cotton blouses. You will remember that Mrs. Hol Wagner said she hardly believed we would have to sew this summer. But she had no way of knowing when she said that such a request would be made of us. Of course she told us to get rough on it. Our sport robes, and bed jackets should be out of the way before hot weather really sets in and then we surely won't mind working on cotton blouses.

Our knitting instructors say that too many of us are casting on and binding off too tightly. They say that the boys are going to have a hard time pulling on many of the socks without tearing them. Many of the better knitters cast on on a needle at least a size or two larger than the one they are going to knit with. We should watch the necks and sleeves of sweaters too and not bind off too tightly.

We had word this week that all the thread for the demolition mittens was already exhausted. So we will not be crocheting unless more is available.

Our thanks to Your Laundry and Dry Cleaners for the cards of buckles and matching buttons. There must be at least 100 cards!

Entre Nous club turned in a pretty quilt this week. They pieced it out of some of our scraps and donated the back and the filling.

With robes, gowns, bed jackets and 300 pounds of yarn on hand, no one in Pampa should lack for something to do for the Red Cross. In fact everyone who can knit or sew at all should be busy, for this is that part of the war program that can and must be done by those of us who of necessity must stay at home.

Mrs. Jas. T. Nicholson, vice-chairman of the American Red Cross, in charge of the Junior Red Cross, in an address at the American Association of School Administrators' convention in San Francisco, told very graphically of the assistance our children are giving to those of war-torn lands. We want to quote just two paragraphs that are representative.

"In a school in Cracow, Poland, children of the city, together with refugee children uprooted from those western provinces annexed to the German reich, had come through drifts of snow six and ten feet high. In sub-zero weather, many of them were garbed only in the summer clothing they had been wearing when the war started. Some no longer had shoes. Around their feet they had wrapped pieces of old rags, strips from discarded rubber inner tubes. To them we gave shoes, warm underwear, sweaters, stockings, dresses, many of the articles made by American Junior Red Cross members in the classrooms of American schools. Other American school boys and girls had also given their pennies to provide articles of clothing which we had to purchase. The gratitude of those Polish children and of their parents and teachers was indescribably pathetic to me. In saying their thank-yous, they would breathe over our hands a Polish prayer. Few among us could stand by to receive such gratitude. We had seen tragedies too great and many. Our emotions were losing masculine restraint. On the walls of that school building were Polish Junior Red Cross posters—gay, vivid. They were familiar to me. A copy of them had once adorned my office back home, sent to me during the Ohio and Mississippi valley floods when Polish children through their Junior Red Cross had contributed from their limited grocetsches a large sum of money for help to child victims of that flood—our own American children."

"In England, last fall, while en route to Moscow and the Middle East, I saw some of the nursery homes located in areas reasonably safe, for children under five years of age driven from homes destroyed by the bombardments of English cities and civilians. These homes had been established by our Junior Red Cross members who in doing so had shared with English children their allowances, their savings, and their practical sympathy. Through their National Children's Fund, our American boys and girls had provided also toys, books, games, occupational materials, that their friends across the sea might have some degree of the normal, happy childhood which is a right of children."

Young Summer Formals
Splashy patterns, striking shades, are fashion highlights for young formalists during the summer season. New York shops are featuring fresh, charming creations made up in lustrous washable glazed chintz in such flattering predominant colors as apple green, clover pink, English pottery, turquoise. They're cool, retain their crispness and luster after laundering.

The Girl Scouts of the United States are celebrating 30 years of experience in preparing girls for emergencies and everyday living, she pointed out.

Poppy Day Will Benefit Victims Of Two World Wars

Dimes, quarters and dollars dropped into the coin boxes of the "Poppy Girls" this year will aid the victims of the present war, as well as those of the first World War, according to Mrs. E. Osborne, Poppy Day chairman of the Pampa unit of the American Legion auxiliary.

The auxiliary is rapidly completing arrangements for the annual observance of Poppy Day on May 23 when memorial poppies will be distributed throughout the city by auxiliary members. A large corps of volunteers is being formed under Mrs. Osborne's leadership to work the entire day bringing the flowers of patriotic remembrance to everyone in the city.

"This year," said Mrs. Osborne, "the poppy not only honors and aids the men who defended America 24 years ago and their wives, but also those defending America today and their families. Funds collected on Poppy Day will be used in the work the Legion and Auxiliary are doing for the disabled of both wars, and for needy families of men in the service as well as those of veterans."

"The Legion and Auxiliary have had 20 years of experience in aiding service men and their dependents. They are able to make every dollar do maximum service in this field. Their volunteer workers have had long training and know the quickest and best methods of bringing relief to veterans and their families found in need.

"Victims of the present war are naturally turning to the Legion and Auxiliary for aid, and we want to give them the benefit of our service. The increased burden calls for increased funds. We hope that the public will be generous on Poppy Day this year because from the contributions made for the poppies comes the principal means of support for our work during the entire year ahead."

Varied Program Of Piano Numbers Given At Recital

A large and enthusiastic audience heard the youthful performers in the pianoforte recital given by pupils of Mrs. May Foreman Carr in the First Christian church this week.

Much showmanship and artistic ability was displayed; all of the players exhibited poise and played with vigor. Mrs. Carr pointed out the victims of the present war, as well as those of the first World War, according to Mrs. E. Osborne, Poppy Day chairman of the Pampa unit of the American Legion auxiliary.

The Cathedral English by DeBussey, played by Martha Pierson, the Liszt Rhapsody number eight by Betty Culberson, the Solferino (Bach-Busoni) played by Ernestine Holmes, and the Concerto in B by Haydn, played by 12-year-old Sharyn Rose Pocock, all won special recognition.

The favorite of the evening, however, was the famous Tchaikowsky Concerto in B Flat from the popular number, "Tonight We Love," which was played by Margaret Bull, New Mexico.

Prizes for the most outstanding work of the year were given to Sharyn Rose Pocock and Margaret Burlyon and second to Betty Culberson and Phyllis Ann Parker.

Von Spiegel Believed In Gulf Waters

NEW ORLEANS, May 9 (AP) — Standing on the bridge of a German submarine that had just torpedoed their ship a deeply tanned, shorts clad officer called out Wednesday to the survivors "sorry we can't help you. Hope you get ashore OK."

This farewell in what was described as "perfect American" and other circumstances of the first announced sinkings of two ships by U-boats in the well-protected waters of the Gulf of Mexico today brought speculation that Baron Edgar Von Spiegel, hard-bitten Nazi, had returned to fight the United States in the waters he knows best.

Von Spiegel, former German consul general for the entire gulf coast from Florida to Texas, with headquarters here, commanded a U-boat in the world war and it is recorded that he never sank a ship with loss of life, which earned him the title of "Germany's most chivalrous U-boat captain." The British captured Von Spiegel in 1917.

Although several officers were injured by shrapnel in Wednesday's sinkings, announced today, no lives were lost and survivor stories indicated that after their ships were stopped there was a deliberate attempt to let them get off safely before the ships were sunk. They were permitted to proceed with best wishes and without molestation

Von Spiegel is best remembered for his utterance on June 14, 1940, a few days before Paris fell, that "Germany will not forget that when she was waging a struggle for her very life that the United States did everything in its power to aid her enemies."
This statement caused a sensation. Eventually he was withdrawn with other German consuls last year, and returned home.
Survivors stories indicated the gulf submarines may be new and better than any Germany was known

Jinx Falkenburg

HOLLYWOOD—The years are so short:

She was a pretty youngster of 16, and Samuel Goldwyn saw her at a tennis match, and partly because she looked like Norma Talmadge, partly because Sam then was signing tennis players, he put her under contract.

For six months she went to school on movie sets, and watched Sam's stars work. Sam gave some thought to changing her name—which was and is "impossible" for the movies—but then she was lost in the shuffle.
We heard no more of her until she began showing up on magazine covers and billboards and in ads, and then there was a line or two about her going into a show with Al Jolson, and then into summer stock, and then she was back in Hollywood, doing Spanish pictures because, though an American, she was born in Spain and could speak the language.

She's 22 now, and doesn't look like Norma Talmadge any more, but like Jinx Falkenburg, which is very pretty, too. Jinx has been "discovered" for other pictures—"Two Latins in Manhattan" and the current "Sing for Your Supper" with Charles (Buddy) Rogers. She expects to keep her "impossible" name, not caring for a Daisy Delicious, Dearie Delight, or Honey Bunny substitute. She won't even shorten it to "Jinx Falken."
All of which goes to show that you never can tell what gangly adolescent kid of today is going to be a movie name six years from now. . . . And neither can Samuel Goldwyn.

NOT SINCE "HONKY TONK" has so exciting a screen team been offered the movie public as M-G-M presents in its new drama, "Johnny Eager," which opens today on the LaNora screen with Robert Taylor and Lana Turner appearing together for the first time. Story of a gangster and a girl who tries to straighten him out—too late—the new picture is hailed as the most powerful gangster saga since "Little Caesar," and was made by the same director, Mervyn LeRoy.

The gangster roll of Eager has been outlined with telling, dramatic effect. It is altogether a convincing character delineation played by Robert Taylor with ease and sureness. Taylor's performance will probably rate as his best. At any rate, he will win a new flock of supporters in addition to cementing himself further with his feminine following.

Whose sons and daughters serve in the armed forces, the factory, the farm

It takes all kinds of people to win a war. It takes soldiers and sailors, politicians and business men, farmers and laborers, wives and sweethearts . . . and MOTHERS. Mothers because they are a part of the force behind the fighting force . . . because they wait for the peace that will send their sons home to them . . . and because while they wait, they work. In some ways their work is as important as that of their armed and uniformed sons. Theirs is the important job of morale...of keeping intact the American home. For today, as in other wars, the home remains the port of happiness and safety to which men turn first when the War is won.

BECAUSE they are the unsung heroines of this War, let's make Mother's Day, today, one they will long remember. Because of the look of hope in her eye, because of her smiling courage, your mother this year, is truly the 'Lady of the Hour.' Let her know how proud you are of the job she is doing. Remember to tell her . . . that you, like all Americans everywhere, deeply appreciate the letters of hope she sends, the hours of labor she spends in Red Cross work, the faith she has in you and all the others who are all-out to win the War.

Egg Scrambling One Of Coke's Many Culinary Accomplishments

By WILLIAM E. KEYS Associated Press Staff
Heat up the skillet and crack a few eggs.

Governor Coke R. Stevenson will show you how to scramble them—the right way.

Egg scrambling is but one of the governor's culinary accomplishments to which he gives vent on weekend retreats at his Kimble county ranch.

Don't beat the eggs, he says. Fluff and puff are out. No outdoorsman will tolerate these things.

Take a dozen eggs for six people. Crack six of them and place in a dish, without breaking the yolks.

Now crack the other six and place in another dish. Fry some bacon in the skillet, not for the bacon, but for the grease it makes. Leave enough grease in the skillet to cook the eggs.

Slide the first half dozen eggs in the pan. Let the whites cook some. In other words, fry them a little. Now pour the second half dozen eggs in. Gently mix all together and cook to the desired consistency.

Any good chump cook will tell you food cooked over a wood fire is best. The governor adheres to this belief. He uses a wood range for his cooking. It's not the quickest method but in the end perhaps the best—for physiological reasons if none other.

The governor believes that food carefully and slowly prepared is apt to be consumed at the same tempo. You'll live longer eating that way.

A handy man around the kitchen, the governor's accomplishments are not limited to a few items. He does all-outdoor things and his pan.

Friends privileged to sample his cooking can attest to his ability. A treat on his menu is elk sausage. He made it himself, using the meat of an elk he bagged in Colorado.

He not only made the sausage but canned it, too. Sausage and scrambled eggs without coffee?

Impossible. Here's how he brews the coal black coffee favored in the ranch country.

For each tall tumbler of water poured into the pot put one heaping tablespoon of grounds. This is boiled coffee, of course. When it has boiled sufficiently shove the pot toward the rear of the stove and to set the grounds pour in a glass of cold water. Pour it from high above the mouth of the pot.

You will know you are drinking coffee when you sip the results. Governor Stevenson, ranch-bred, knows what coffee means to the weary cowboy or hunter.

He starts the day off with coffee, frequently making it himself in the mansion kitchen.

"Old Brindle," a rusty-hinged coffee pot, is his favorite. Out at his ranch home he uses an antique pot.

Coffee can turn up almost from anywhere when the governor is around. Ernest Boyett, his executive secretary, tells this one:

Riding over the range one crisp morning, Boyett and his boss pulled up at a goat barn five miles from the ranch house.

Sliding an arm up under the eaves, the governor produced a coffee pot and a sack of coffee. He filled it at a spring and made coffee over a camp fire. Cups were produced from beneath an overhanging ledge.

Just as he likes the simple, un-

Curtail Your Aches And Pains, Advises Medical Profession

By JOSEPH A. RAWLINGS
CHICAGO, May 9 (AP)—The medical profession, its ranks being thinned by the war, asked the public today to please try to curtail its aches and pains for the duration.

It's not that the doctors don't want your business. It's that they want you to take better care of yourself because the number of physicians available for civilian practice is diminishing rapidly.

More than 10,000 physicians already have donned army uniforms and the army wants 16,000 more by Dec. 31.

However, Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of The Journal of the American Medical Association, says there's no reason why any civilian should suffer, particularly if the public will cooperate with the medical profession in spreading the services of the physicians on the home front. He gave these suggestions:

Go to the doctor's office instead of calling him to your home whenever possible.

Utilize the nation's hospitals, where doctors can see more patients in less time than by home calls.

Take the training courses in first aid offered by the American Red Cross.

Do everything you can to follow the rules of hygiene to maintain good health; a good diet is essential; get plenty of rest.

Take full advantage of preventive medicine by getting regular examinations at a physician's office to determine the presence of disease in its early stages.

Avoid excesses—over eating, over working, over drinking and over exercising.

Li. Roy Webb Hurt In Bomber Crash

Rumors created by a radio report that an officer named "Webb" had died of injuries suffered in a bomber crash were blasted yesterday when Dr. Roy A. Webb received a letter from his son, Lt. Roy Webb, stating that he had been grounded because of injuries in a bomber crash but was not seriously hurt.

Lieutenant Webb, stationed in Dutch Guiana, was hurt when his bomber crashed on April 22 and is in a hospital.

In a letter to Dr. and Mrs. Webb, the lieutenant told them "not to worry."

All Texans In Washington Silent On Senate Race

WASHINGTON, May 9 (AP)—The announcement of former Governor Dan Moody and James V. Alfred as candidates in Texas' Democratic primary elections as opponents of the incumbent United States Senator W. Lee O'Daniel was eyed with interest today by Texans but drew no comment—neither from O'Daniel, who would not care to make any comment whatever, was his reply when he first read the announcement.

He said the answer went both for the news concerning the announcements of Moody and Alfred and of the assertion in the campaign statement of the latter that O'Daniel had been lined up with isolationists in the senate.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), who had supported O'Daniel's principal opponent in the special election which seated the incumbent junior senator, also had no comment. The opponent then was Representative Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), on the west coast now in the navy as a lieutenant commander.

Mrs. Johnson, running her husband's office in his absence, said the report of the announcements of Moody and Alfred was "surprising" and that the contest "certainly should be interesting."

Representative Patman (D-Tex.), chairman of the Texas delegation, said he had no comment. Other Texans interviewed had the same reply, but all made no secret of their interest in the forthcoming race.

Texas Tech Shortage Teacher Stages

LUBBOCK, May 9—Facing an evident shortage of public school teachers for the coming year, Dean J. M. Gordon of Texas Technological college held a conference recently with school executives. These facts are considered outstanding.

In elementary schools the shortage will be largely in public school music. The main shortage will likely be in high schools. This will include commercial teachers (acute shortage), teachers of natural science, coaches, band directors, choral club directors, and teachers of manual arts.

MARoonED AGAIN

CHAPTER XXII

PEGGY, pleased with her brilliant staff work, slid into the water in her Hawaiian swimming suit. To the average man she would have been a perfect completion of the morning scene on that quiet lake, but Baldy closed his eyes. It was all like the cover of a travel folder—Peggy the inevitable pretty girl with an attractive figure. All his life he had been plagued with pretty girls and sentimental scenery in the show business. He lay back and shut his eyes to forget it.

If it had been Peggy's sister, Baldy mused, he might have kept his eyes open. In these days of fancy make-up and beauty business it was seldom one saw an honest-to-goodness homely face, one that had no nonsense behind it. Yes, she was quite a girl, and if he were a younger man without all that alimony to pay, he'd pick a girl like that.

Yes, a man could go places with a girl like Myra and not be afraid to leave her alone for fear of having tall, dark and handsome hanging around while he was away. That was the trouble with Blossom. That was the trouble with Maisie and Angela. He'd picked 'em from the show business when he still thought a pretty face was a fortune and good figures added up to something. But a man learned even if he had to pay and keep on paying for it.

Baldy's thoughts drifted until he dozed off into quiet slumber. When Peggy came out of the water she covered his open mouth with his handkerchief to keep the flies out and lay down to dry in the sun and dream of her swift flight to fame. When she was at the top she would come back to Montreal in beautiful clothes. Then some faces she knew would go green with envy. With this unworthy thought she drifted into a complicated daydream.

Neither of them saw the reconnaissance patrol in the woods on the shore of the lake. Neither saw the two soldiers with the skill of trained campaigners put off in the other canoe, approach the island silently, land and creep around to the blue canoe. Neither heard a sound and neither noticed the blue canoe drift lazily out into the lake, aided by a gentle push.

When Peggy sat up, the blue canoe was almost 50 yards from the island, just about to drift out of sight. She looked at Baldy. He was asleep. She could swim out and get the canoe and bring it back. Peggy ran around the island and dived into the water, cutting through it with the clean strokes of a good swimmer, but the canoe seemed to be moving steadily away.

Slowly she reduced the distance but it was a long pull. She was getting tired when Nigel swam easily around the end of the canoe and with careful skill hoisted himself aboard.

Peggy paddled the water with a look of surprise on her face. Only then did she suspect a trap.

Nigel grinned down at her and paddled the canoe by her side.

"Want a lift?" he offered with a broad smile.

She clambered aboard, suppressing a sudden desire to tip Nigel out of the canoe, restrained by a realization that she was too tired for fooling. She looked at Nigel, her green eyes calculating the proper reply to his obvious grin of triumph.

"Paddle back to pick Baldy up," she said at last.

"Nothing doing," said Nigel. "Let him swim back."

PEGGY'S temper flared. "You... you beast! I know what this is! It's all part of a plot to cheat Baldy and cheat me. Beast! All of you! I hate them and you too! I loathe you! I never want to see you again!"

A man in love, Nigel should have been disturbed by this burst of passion, but he had had the most of the morning to think about it and had been warned of Peggy's violent temper by Myra. He rediscovered that in Peggy's company he felt stimulated in some inexplicable but very pleasant way. Her burst of anger made him laugh with pleasure and his laugh only made her temper worse. What she said in the next few minutes as they pulled to the shore should have withered him and cast his spirits to the depths. She made it quite clear, and in biting language, that his face, his person, his character, and everything about him in minutest detail, were the most hateful and most despicable traits she had yet met with. Furthermore, she was going to take good care that she never saw anything of him again.

This made him laugh more than ever, delighted to see how vital and attractive her face was when she was angry.

His laughter was the last straw to her impatience and as he threw back his head in delight she jumped up on the side of the canoe, overturning it, pitching both of them into the water.

Nigel swallowed more water than was good for his comfort and came up spluttering and gasping. Peggy wrenched at his hair and pushed him under again. He came up again flailing and gasping. She put her foot in his face and pushed hard. She felt it was a very satisfying climax.

Nigel came up the third time, thoroughly disconcerted, and when he got his breath he saw Peggy clinging to the canoe, convulsed with laughter at him. His eyes took on a determination that set her with a plunge and a fast stroke towards the shore. Nigel was after her, gaining on her. She stretched every ounce of strength to beat him and had just touched the wooden wharf when his hand wrenched her away. In a moment his strong arms had turned her around to revenge his ducking when a sudden twist of emotion as they touched another crushed their lips together.

With a frightened gasp, fearful of her own inner turmoil, Peggy pushed him away, clambered to the wharf and ran to the boat-house.

He watched her go with strangely still eyes. She turned as she stopped by the door of the boat-house.

"I still hate you," she cried. Then he began to smile again.

You Can Get In Naval Air Corps If You Are High School Graduate

DALLAS, May 9 (AP)—A high school diploma is not enough and you'll have to bring your own toothbrush.

So advises the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection board when young southwesterners inquire what it takes to get in the naval reserve.

There are other questions which rise in the minds of men wanting to enlist and some of them, with the correct answers as furnished by the board, are set forth here:

Q. Is a high school diploma sufficient education requirements for me to submit my application?

A. No. The navy department requires that applicants furnish a transcript of their high school credits showing evidence of graduation.

Q. What is the age limit for applicants for naval flight training?

A. A new ruling from Washington has lowered the age limits for naval flight training. The new limits have been set at 18 and 27 years. The cadet receives his wings. This period requires usually about eight months of preparation.

Q. Where will I receive my training?

A. After completion of primary flight training, the cadet is sent to the advanced school where he will receive $75.00 monthly, room board, and free medical attention. The pay will advance to $245.00 monthly after the cadet receives his wings. This period requires usually about eight months of preparation.

Q. How long will I have to train before I can actually fly a plane?

A. This depends entirely upon the capabilities of the student. In most cases, four weeks of ground training is necessary before the student is advanced to training in the air.

Q. Is it possible for me to advance to a commission with this training?

A. The advancement to a commission is automatic upon successful completion of the flight training.

Q. Do I have to purchase my own uniforms?

A. All uniforms are furnished by the government. The only things necessary for a student to buy are the personal items such as combs, tooth brushes, etc.

Q. Does my application, if accepted through this board, place me in the regular navy or in the naval reserve air corps?

A. An application approved by this office places the applicant in the one group of the service—the United States Naval Reserve.

Q. May I submit my application although I am married?

A. Married men are not accepted in this branch of the service, an applicant having a legal divorce will be accepted.

Q. If I fall in my flight training, am I automatically discharged from duty?

A. Any applicant failing in his primary flight training is given an opportunity to volunteer to some other branch of the service. If he does not wish to volunteer, he is given a discharge.

Q. How long will I have to train before I can actually fly a plane?

A. This depends entirely upon the capabilities of the student. In most cases, four weeks of ground training is necessary before the student is advanced to training in the air.
