Murder Trial Testimony Is Short After Davis Faints On Witness Stand

TESTIFY FAKE WIRES SENT IN POWER PLOT

WORDS by O.E.H. Words are things BYRON

Twinkles Italy's climate must be more stimulating than we thought...

Skippy, the family pup, is a very keen judge of dogs that he can whip and those he probably cannot.

Lots of folks would "do or die" for Ethiopia a little later in the year—if they could find Ethiopia.

Women's feet are growing larger, says the West Foster grouch, so you can't very well imagine their tiny little tootsies burning in over-tight shoes.

We hear that things are getting warm under the surface down in Mexico, politically, and politics down there means bloodshed.

Musing of the moment: Weekend "mystery tours" are popular in England. But such a tour in this far-flung Panhandle wouldn't be much of a mystery.

Brevitorials THOSE WHO like statistics will be interested in knowing that the American birth rate for 1934 was about 3 per cent over that of 1933.

HERE IN the nearly 100 per cent white human stock of the Panhandle we usually overlook the fact that Texas has large Mexican and Negro populations.

IN A YEAR when wheat will scarcely perpetuate itself in the form of seed for the fall planting, we of the plains are in a position to appreciate the fact that the Railroad commission show the fuel's tremendous importance to the state as a whole.

MORE ABOUT the proposed amendments: Proposition No. 5 on the ballot of the August 24 special election reads: "For (and against) the amendment to the state Constitution authorizing the courts to place defendants on probation."

MOTHER ALSO COLLAPSES IN NIGHT SESSION Glen Earl Davis today had recovered his composure, lost last night when he fainted while testifying, and in 15 minutes today completed answering questions under cross-examination.

BOY ADMITS STRIKING AT YOUTH WITH A KNIFE

This morning young Davis testified that he carried a pocket knife, unopened, while walking with Campbell from the Combs-Worley building to the Stark & McMillen elevator.

Threat Was Spoken On the way to the battle site, he testified, Campbell told him that he was "going to beat the hell" out of him.

An Ordinary Knife Yesterday afternoon Policemen Weldon Wilson and Jeff D. Guthrie told how they arrested young Davis at a drug store.

Character Witnesses, who said Davis' reputation as a quiet and law-abiding person was good, included E. F. Young, Miss Frances Talley, D. R. Henry, Judge C. E. Cary, C. A. Clark, Rev. C. E. ETHIOPIAN TO MOBILIZE HIS TROOPS SOON Extensive Drilling Undertaken by all Classes of Emperor's Dark Subjects.

ADDIS ABABA, July 17 (AP)—An order for general mobilization of Ethiopian warriors was expected by authoritative sources today to be issued by Emperor Haile Selassie tomorrow when he addresses parliament.

Expectation of the order spread as the foreign ministry announced that the Ethiopian minister to Paris had been instructed to adhere to the international Red Cross convention.

Extensive military preparations became increasingly apparent. Organization of an Ethiopian national Red Cross began while this capital, despite heavy rainfall, took on the aspect of an immense military training ground.

Caravans and truck and train transports were organized. Stores of provisions were accumulated. Orders given to the troops were not divulged, nor was any information available as to the number of soldiers.

Neutral residents stepped aside peacefully in the martial atmosphere, as authorities exercised extreme vigilance for any foreign spies.

LONDON, July 17 (AP)—Usually well-informed quarters hinted today that the British government may soon permit the "legitimate" shipment of arms to Ethiopia following the receipt of communications from Emperor Haile Selassie of the African empire.

It was said that the emperor had sent officials documents from Addis Ababa, attesting to his empire's need of two arms shipments "held up here by the British government."

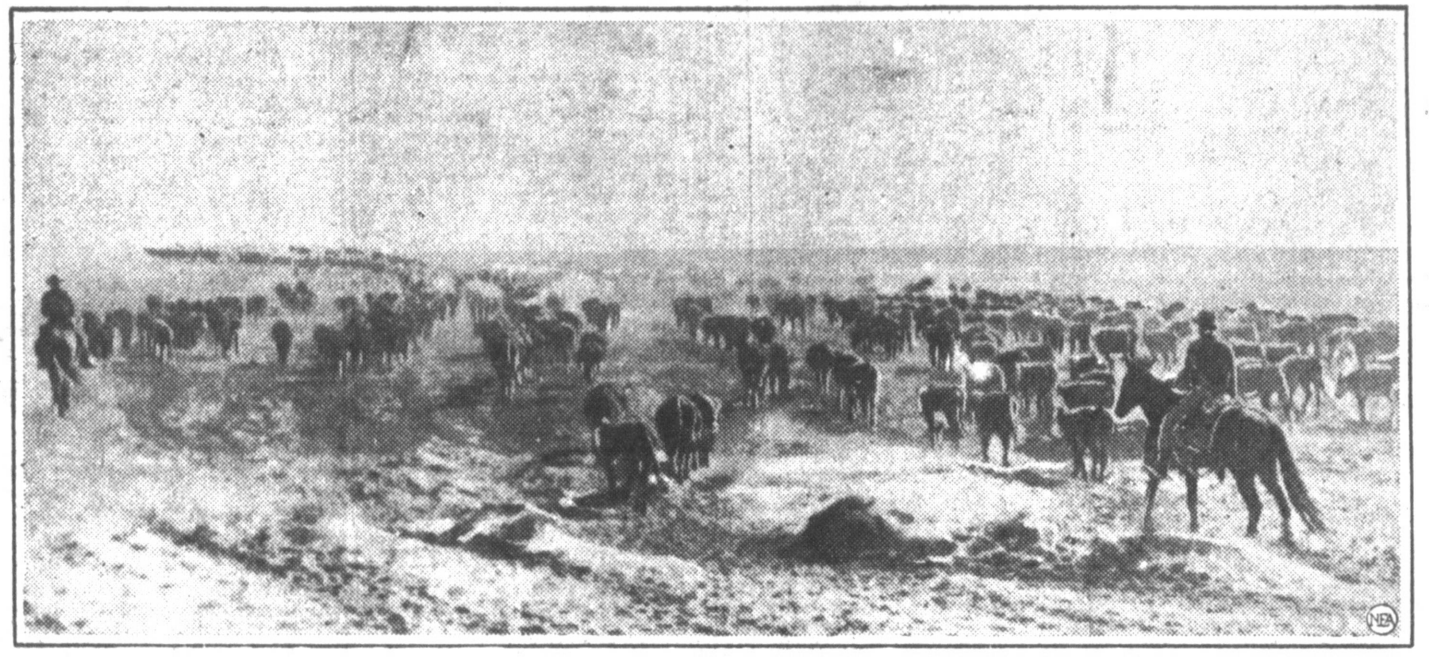

The emperor was said to have stated that the arms were for the legitimate use of the Ethiopian army. Since this statement conforms to treaty provisions it was said that Sir Selassie, foreign secretary, may approve the requests for arms shipments' permits.

The applications for permits were held up recently on the grounds that they were "incomplete"—minus the official Ethiopian signature. The emperor later decided to forward the additional documents.

Before reaching that decision, however, Haile Selassie called the attention of Great Britain and other powers which had taken similar action to his treaty rights to obtain arms.

It is understood the emperor is particularly anxious to hasten the shipment of arms and plans in the past few days. Malcolm MacDonald, colonial secretary, told the house of commons today that Great Britain's military force in Kenya, which borders on both Ethiopia and Italian Somaliland, have "been partially redistributed in view of the possible contingencies on the frontier."

Two glasses of milk was all the food she was allowed, but that seemed to strengthen her.

TIN IN LARGE GUNS WORRIES U. S. EXPERTS Blame 'Tin Lizzies' in Junk Yard for Situation

BY HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE, Associated Press Science Editor. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 17 (AP)—Tin in his big guns is causing concern to some of Uncle Sam's metallurgists.

The facts about an unexpected appearance of tin in gun steel, possibly even in armor plate, developed at the conference on spectroscopy at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The spectroscopist, the glass prism or the ruled grating, with which even the minutest quantities of impurities can be detected, is used at the Watertown arsenal for analyzing the metals for guns, gun carriages and armor plate.

The arsenal metallurgists have been regularly analyzing their incoming batches of steel from the mills for traces of molybdenum, nickel, zirconium, and titanium. But not for tin. The chemists were the first to catch the tin.

"More and more of everything," said D. J. Crawford Jr., who made the report, "seems to be going into steel. We have found tin up to .12 per cent in gun forgings. The spectroscopist found some more of it."

"We have traced some of it to its sources. The old cars are thrown into the junk yard, and their metal parts melt ultimately into gun scrap to be remelted. One might think that 'tin lizzies' was the source of the tin."

"Apparently the tin really comes from tin cans, which are tossed along with the rest of the junk. They contain very little tin. But the small quantity diffuses through the metal when it is remelted."

"What effect it may have on the metal for guns we do not know. It might increase brittleness. We are studying it, because we know from experience how important small amounts of other impurities are."

Grand Jury Gets Wish for Cold Water Recently members of the grand jury, along with many others who frequent the courthouse, expressed distaste for the warm drinking water available in the building.

The commissioners court, whose members' tastes were doubtless succeeded with the public, decided to do something about it. Four electric water coolers have been purchased at a cost of $920.

These will be connected and placed in operation as soon as the old bubblers are removed and plumbing connections made. It was found to be cheaper to install separate units than to have a circulating system of ice water.

PRESIDENT AND LEADERS AGREE TO ENACT TAX Rich People Have a Weak Case, Says Roosevelt

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—President Roosevelt today reiterated his desire for enactment of the new tax bill before adjournment of congress.

Talking at his regular press conference Mr. Roosevelt compared efforts on Capitol Hill for a quick adjournment to the tactics of defense lawyers who have a weak case. He expressed the view that a rich person desiring to avoid a heavy inheritance tax would seek postponement of the legislation.

The president observed that the first move of a lawyer with a weak case would be to move to put the trial over until the next term, and failing, ask for a mistrial because of hot weather.

Assurance that the AAA would continue to function at least until a final ruling by the supreme court on the validity of processing taxes.

WIFE JAILED, STARVED FOR 5 YEARS—'COULDN'T COOK' Husband and Sister Held By Police; Woman Weighs 38 Pounds, Looks Eighty.

PHILADELPHIA, July 17 (AP)—Grey-haired and hollow-eyed, her body wasted to 38 pounds, Anna Van Cleave stared up from a hospital cot today and offered detectives her only explanation for five years spent locked in a garret prison with only scraps of food.

"My husband didn't like my cooking," she whispered. She looked all of 80 years—she is 48—when the detectives found her on a bed in a lonely third-story room, bereft of light by boarded windows and nailed-down shades.

Her eyes were sunken deep in her head, and her skin hung on her bones. Sores pocked her face and hands. An old black dress was wound about her, tacked with safety pins.

She clutched bread crusts in each hand. A cup of water and a bucket were on the floor. Beside the bed, the room was furnished with a chair. The door was locked.

She was too weak to walk, so they carried her to an ambulance and sped her to morals court and then to a hospital.

Two glasses of milk was all the food she was allowed, but that seemed to strengthen her. She had raided the garbage pail for at least one ravenous meal while her alleged captors—her husband, William, 64-year-old window washer, and his sister, Catherine, 57—were away from home, the Van Cleave neighbors said.

They never knew she was there, they said, until they saw wild eyes peering through slits between the boards on the windows.

One neighbor, Charles Osborn, told detectives he tied food to a clothesline prop and hoisted it to her window after he witnessed the garbage pail raid. But she was apparently afraid to take it. It was in answer to Osborn's pleas that the detectives investigated. They went to the house late yesterday and arrested Van Cleave and his sister.

LATE NEWS PHILADELPHIA, July 17 (AP)—Judge William H. Kirkpatrick in the U. S. district court ruled unconstitutional today that part of the agricultural adjustment act which delegates to the secretary of agriculture the power to levy processing taxes.

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—In an effort to speed action on administration amendments to the AAA, the senate agreed today to limit debate. The limitation prohibits speeches longer than half an hour on the bill, or 15 minutes on amendments.

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Reversing its action of yesterday, the senate voted 44 to 41 today to strike price-fixing provisions from the administration's AAA amendments.

Russian Mystery Plane to Fly to San Francisco

MOSCOW, July 17 (AP)—A single-motored Soviet mystery plane awaited favorable weather today to hop off on an attempted 6,000-mile nonstop flight across the north pole from Moscow to San Francisco.

The flight—promising to be one of the most spectacular ever undertaken—would, if successful, break the non-stop distance record of 5,633 miles, set by Paul Godes and Maurice Rossi in 1933 in a flight from New York to Rayak, Syria.

Preparations for the flight were carried out in strictest secrecy. Officials of the northern sea route department, which organized the venture, declined to make public a description of the plane or to add anything to the brief communique last night announcing the flight.

Sigmund Levanefsky, who bears the official title, "hero of the Soviet union," was named the leader of the crew of three. Levanefsky came into international prominence in 1933 when he flew to the rescue of James J. Mattern, American flier who was forced down on the frozen wastes of Anadir while attempting a "round-the-world" flight, and took him to Alaska. Officials announced today that it would take off as soon as the weather permitted. A heavy storm was reported over the Bering sea, directly on the fliers' route.

MRS. WALEY IS MUTE AS SHE IS ASSESSED 20-YEAR TERM IN WEYERHAUSER 'SNATCH'

Judge Denies Motions for a New Trial and Arrest of Judgment in Kidnaping.

FEDERAL BUILDING, Tacoma, Wash., July 17 (AP)—Mrs. Margaret Thelma Waley, 19, convicted in the George Weyerhaeuser kidnap case last Saturday, was sentenced by U. S. District Judge E. E. Cushman today to serve 20 years in the federal detention farm at Milan.

Judge Cushman denied her motions for an arrest of judgment and a new trial after overruling the government's objections to the motions being filed more than three days after her conviction.

she had anything to say why sentence should not be pronounced. Neither the government nor defense attorneys made any recommendations about the sentence.

Mrs. Waley had tried twice to plead guilty to the Lindbergh law conspiracy and kidnaping counts under which she and her husband Harmon M. Waley, and their fugitive co-defendant, William Dainard, alias Mahan, were indicted. She said Saturday she was satisfied with the conviction verdict and U. S. Marshal A. J. Chitty said she told him before the jury came in that she hoped "that jury won't acquit me."

Her husband pleaded guilty during her arraignments last month and Judge Cushman sentenced him to 45 years in whatever federal prisons U. S. attorney general may decide. Waley has started his sentence at McNeil Island federal prison near here. Federal department of justice agents are pressing their search for Dainard with renewed vigor. He was last seen June 8 at Butte, Mont., when he abandoned an automobile and $15,155 of the $200,000 ransom with which Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Weyerhaeuser Jr. bought back their 9-year-old son the night of May 30.

MESSAGES ARE DESTROYED ON INSTRUCTIONS NAMES ON TELEGRAM COPIED OFF OF DIRECTORY

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—Testimony that R. P. Herron, bond salesman for the Associated Gas and Electric company, said he had received instructions from his superior to destroy all papers that may prove damaging in the congressional investigations of activity for and against the utility bill was received today by the senate lobby committee.

This was given by A. F. Christerson, Western Union operator at Warren, Pa. Previously testimony said Herron had dictated several hundred anti-utility bill telegrams in the Western Union office and had signed the with names taken from the telephone directory.

Later, it was said, copies of the original telegrams were found buried in the basement of the Western Union office and had signed the with names taken from the telephone directory.

Miss Gladys E. Loding, Western Union clerk at Warren, Pa., told the senate lobby committee today that R. P. Herron, bond salesman for the Associated Gas and Electric company, had dictated 1,300 anti-utility bill telegrams in her office and signed names from the telephone directory.

The young woman's testimony in corroboration of evidence placed before the committee yesterday by Jack Fisher, manager of the Warren telegraph office.

Fisher said the telegrams dictated to him for delivery to Representative Driscoll (D-Pa) and other members of congress later were found burned in the basement of the office.

Miss Loding, dressed in dark blue and a white hat, said she did not know who destroyed the telegrams.

Less than a dozen spectators were in the air-cooled committee room as Chairman Black opened the hearing by reading a telegram from Herron saying his summons arrived too late last night and "due to

People laughing when H. S. Shannon told this one: He was born and spent his boyhood in Arkansas. On morning he heard a great yelp and looked out and there through the corn patch came a great, bare-footed girl out-running a big pack of hounds. Her hair was standing straight out behind her. She rushed into the Shannon home. Pretty soon, a large woman, also barefooted, kicked the bounds aside, tramped inside the house and grabbed her daughter, saying, "Dern you, I'm-a-gin' to comb that hair if you're if I have to beat you to death!"

Safety-First Fledgling

At an age when other tots are warned not to venture out of the yard, Joyce Hartung, 5, is asked not to leave the plane! But if she should tumble off, she has her own little chute with which she is shown below, to carry her safely to the ground. Joyce's mother, pictured with her in the upper photo, and Joyce's dad, who operates an airport and flying school near Detroit, are both licensed airplane pilots. And little Joyce is said to have more flying hours to her credit than any other child in the country.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

BY MARY E. DAGUE, NEA Service Staff Writer

My grandmothers would have been horrified by the idea of "baking" a pie in a refrigerator, but that's the way it's often done these days, much to the delight of everybody. Even the crust may be the ice-box kind, made with Graham cracker crumbs and butter if we prefer it.

Practically the whole meal may be "cooked" in the refrigerator. A sandwich loaf also depends on the ice-box for the finishing touch. There's only one precaution to keep in mind when making the filling and that is to chop or dice the materials fine enough to permit the finished loaf to cut evenly. Be sure, too, to get a fine-grained loaf.

Family Sandwich Loaf

One loaf sandwich bread, 4 hard cooked eggs, 1 sweet green pepper, 2 medium sized tomatoes, 1 large box sardines, 1 cup diced celery, 1/2 pound cream cheese, mayonnaise, butter.

Trin crusts from bread and cut in four lengthwise slices. Cream butter and spread two slices on both sides and two slices on one side only. Remove seeds from pepper and mince. Chop eggs. Combine eggs and pepper and add enough mayonnaise to make just moist enough to stick together. Peel and slice tomatoes. Remove skin and bones from sardines and chop fine. Sprinkle with lemon juice and add celery.

Put a slice of bread buttered on one side on a sheet of oiled paper—buttered side up. Spread with sardine mixture. Cover with slice of LUNCHEON: Hot bouillon, toasted crackers, sandwich loaf, peaches and cream, milk, tea.

DINNER: Stuffed and baked bass, braised carrots, corn on the cob, cucumber salad, pineapple pie, milk, coffee.

Pineapple Pie

One baked nine-inch pie shell, 1 package lemon flavored gelatin, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1-4 teaspoon salt, 1 cup boiling water, 2 egg yolks, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1/2 cup finely shredded pineapple, 1/2 cup whipping cream, 2 tablespoons powdered sugar, few drops vanilla.

Combine gelatin, sugar, salt and 2 tablespoons water. Add egg yolks and stir well. Add remaining water gradually, stirring vigorously until gelatin is dissolved. Add pineapple juice which has been scalded with the pineapple and drained. Let stand until cool and beginning to thicken. Fold in pineapple and turn into a cold baked pie shell. Chill until firm and cover with cream whipped until thick and sweetened and flavored with vanilla.

HEALTH DRIVE IS BEGUN BY WILSON P-TA

PRE-SCHOOL CHILDREN OF CITY WILL BE EXAMINED

A summer health campaign was launched yesterday at Woodrow Wilson school, when mothers of prospective first graders there met with officers of the Parent-Teacher association.

Mrs. Frank Shotwell, president of the association, was in charge, and Mrs. Tony Duvall, health roundup chairman, spoke on the subject, Why Your Child Needs a Health Examination.

Each mother was given a form to be checked by the physician who examines her child. Doctors here are cooperating in the roundup, and will give free medical examination to children who will enter school for the first time this fall. Parents are urged to take their children to their family physician as soon as possible for this service.

Blanks for checking are also in the hands of the cooperating physicians, for the convenience of parents who were not at the meeting.

After the business meeting, a welcome to the prospective patrons was extended by Mrs. Annie Daniels, Woodrow Wilson principal.

Other ward school Parent-Teacher associations of the city are starting this summer health program, and all children who are to enter first grades here in September are eligible for the examinations.

ETHIOPIA IS CALLED RIPE FOR CONQUEST

ITALY IS YEARNING TO DEVELOP RICH COUNTRY

ROME, July 17 (AP)—As Italy's army masses in East Africa, the semi-official publication "L'Azione Coloniale" (colonial action) calls Ethiopia a land of tremendous wealth, ripe for development by the "civilizing work of the European."

The Azione Coloniale has found in a survey of Ethiopia's potential wealth these resources:

Rich pasturage for innumerable herds; fertile land suitable to the cultivation of wheat, oat, flax, bananas, cotton, and coffee; forests; gold, platinum, mica, coal, tin, iron, copper, petroleum, potassium and rock salt.

These resources have not been developed, the Azione Coloniale reported, because of the reluctance of the population of the highlands to do hard work, diffidence of the natives toward enterprising strangers and lack of communications.

"If," the paper suggested, "a free hand were given to the civilizing work of the European, this region, which a Frenchman characterized as 'a paradise planted in hell,' could be transformed into one of the richest and proudest areas in the world."

The semi-official newspaper pointed out that the climate, one to which Europeans could readily adapt themselves.

The mineral resources, especially gold and platinum, cannot be estimated, but the paper predicted that a vast fortune awaited the European able to get those metals out of Ethiopia.

While acclaiming the riches of Ethiopia, the Azione Coloniale at the same time expressed uneasiness at the penetration of the rich region by Japanese commerce. The paper's survey estimated 70 to 75 per cent of Ethiopia's imports in the fiscal year 1932-33 were Japanese.

At the business meeting of Circle 1 of the Baptist W. M. S. at her home Monday afternoon, Mrs. C. N. Wolford was elected president. Mrs. M. L. Gunter was elected vice-chairman and Mrs. Bill Perrin secretary-treasurer.

Those to have charge of the other business of Circle 1 were elected as follows: Mesdames Chas. R. Flynt, benevolence, Ernest Dyer, missions, G. O. McCrohan, periodicals, S. T. Rogers, stewardship, W. W. Perrin, personal service, and E. W. Carter, mission study. It was voted to name the circle Ethlene Johnson after Mrs. L. S. Johnson, missionary to Brazil. Presidents were Mesdames M. L. Gunter, E. W. Carter, Lee Guthrie, Chas. R. Flynt, W. W. Perrin, Minnie Farmer, and the hostess, Mrs. Wolford.

Mrs. J. N. Green was elected chairman of circle two, which met at her home Monday afternoon.

Mrs. J. M. Burgess vice-chairman, and Mrs. Jim Risner secretary-treasurer. A committee to choose a name for the circle was appointed by the circle chairman. Those present for the meeting were Mesdames J. M. Burgess, Jim Risner, Floyd Pennington, J. A. Barton, Henry Greenhouse, Thornton, Bessie Kennedy, and the hostess, Mrs. Green.

Circle three meets Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. C. F. Ford.

Girls Go to Camp

Ten girl scouts, with their leaders, left Monday morning for Palo Duro canyon where they will be in Camp until Thursday. Those who went were Ferrol Ficke, Bonnie Adams, Beatrice Miller, Annie Ruth Denham, Orveta Pratt, Martha Alice Wiley, Naomi Johnson, Lavelle Jaco, Louise Craig, Dorothy Tolliver, and the leaders, Mrs. C. J. Meek, and Miss Florence Merriman.

Japan, with the aid of "government encouragement," is devoting much attention to the domestic production of synthetic drugs and medicinal.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calum!—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your bowels will not move. You get constipated. Your stomach is full. You feel sick. You feel sour, and the world looks pink.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A man's bowels should move, not get the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet stimulating in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. See.

Orchestra Will Play at Church

The Little Symphony orchestra being directed this summer by Mrs. Mae Foreman Carr will play special numbers Sunday night at the First Methodist church when the service will be held on the lawn. "The Lost Pocketbook" a playlet directed by Charles Thomas will also be a special feature of this service.

The regular choir rehearsal will be held at First church at 8 to 9 o'clock but no midweek prayer service will be held.

The Charter Oak, depicted on the Connecticut tercentenary commemorative stamp of the United States, is at Hartford.

BRIDGE TOURNAMENT AT NEW COUNTRY CLUB HOUSE WILL BE OPEN TO ALL PLAYERS

HOSTESSES ARE READY FOR THE GAMES TOMORROW

The Social CALENDAR

THURSDAY

Ladies of the Country club will sponsor a benefit bridge tournament in the new club building, 2:30.

Mrs. Dallas Culwell will entertain Eight Hearts contract club.

FRIDAY

Mrs. Ira Spearman will be hostess to Priscilla Home Demonstration club, 2 p. m.

Congregial Couples class of First Methodist church will meet at the church, 6:30 to go on a picnic.

New Deal bridge club will meet with Mrs. Bob Montgomery.

Order of Eastern Star will meet at Masonic hall, 8 p. m. All members and visiting members urged to attend.

Class Members Give Picnic for Group of Guests

Supper was served in Central park last evening by members of First Baptist Bethany class, who had their families as guests.

The hour was spent informally. Mmes. R. K. Douglas and H. C. Jones served iced lemonade after the picnic supper.

Present were Messrs. and Mmes. L. A. Baxter, T. L. Anderson, O. J. McKee, Douglas; Mmes. T. B. Solomon, E. F. Brake, H. L. Watt, D. A. Patterson, W. B. Harris, F. E. Leech, H. C. Wilkie, and George Nix; and a number of children.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS

A called meeting of the Royal Neighbors order is announced for Friday afternoon at 2:30, at the rear of 116 N. Gillespie. All members are urged to be present.

The New Pampa Country Club

Club is ready for the first entertainment to be given in its rooms, a benefit bridge tournament which ladies of the club will sponsor tomorrow afternoon.

Advance reservations indicate a large number of players for both auction and contract bridge. Reservations may be made by individuals or parties with Mrs. Arthur Swanson or Miss Margaret Buckler, and tickets may be secured at the door tomorrow by last-minute comers. Play is to start at 2:30.

Guests may play with their own parties at one of more tables, or may choose to progress with the main group. Door prizes and awards for high scores are offered.

Everyone who enjoys bridge is invited to play. The party will benefit the fund for furnishing the new club house, which was completed last week.

On the hostess committee are Mmes. H. H. Hicks, Lynn Boyd, Clyde Fatheree, and Swanson; Misses Virginia Faulkner and Buckler, assisted by Mmes. Mack Graham and Clarence Barrett.

NOTICE TO CREDITORS OF THE ESTATE OF T. D. HOBART, DECEASED

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the original letters testamentary upon the estate of T. D. Hobart, deceased, were granted to me, the undersigned, on the 18th day of June, A. D. 1935, by the County Court of Gray County, Texas. All persons having claims against said estate are hereby required to present the same to me within the time prescribed by law. My residence and post office address are Pampa, Tex.

MINNIE W. HOBART, Independent Executor of the Estate of T. D. Hobart, Deceased. July 3-10-17-24

SHERIFF'S SALE

THE STATE OF TEXAS, County of Gray.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a certain order of sale issued out of the honorable district court of Gray county, on the 10th day of July, 1935, by Frank Hill, clerk of said district court, of the Court of Gray County, Texas, for the sum of two thousand six hundred eighty and 33/100 ($2,680.33) dollars and costs of suit, under a judgment, in favor of A. D. Daubenberger, vs. J. H. Mundy, et al., docketed in the County of Gray County, Texas, and placed in my hands for service, I, Earl Talley, as sheriff of Gray County, Texas, did on the 10th day of July, 1935, levy on certain real estate, situated in Gray County, Texas, described as follows, to-wit: The easterly sixty-six feet (66') of lot No. eight (8), in block No. thirty (30) of the original town of Pampa, Gray County, Texas, according to map or plat of said town of record in the office of the County clerk of Gray County, Texas, and levied up on as the property of Z. H. Mundy and Jessie E. Mundy and that on the first Tuesday in August, 1935, the same being the 6th day of said month, at the court house door, of said county, in the town of Pampa, Texas, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., by virtue of said levy and said order of sale I will sell said above described real estate at public vendue, for cash, to the highest bidder, as the property of Z. H. Mundy and Jessie E. Mundy.

And in compliance with law, I give this notice by publication, in the English language, once a week for three consecutive weeks immediately preceding said day of sale, in the Pampa Daily News, a newspaper published in Gray County, Texas.

Witness my hand this 10th day of July, 1935.

EARL TALLEY, Sheriff, Gray County, Texas. By BUROD REED, Deputy. (July 10-17-24)

UNHAPPY LANDING

DALLAS, (AP)—Many times Mrs. Marie Pritchett, police matron, has landed safely after parachute jumps from airplanes at high altitudes.

Now she is recovering from a strained arm and severe body bruises sustained in a fall from a chair.

TAIHOKU, Formosa, July 17. (AP)—Forty-nine persons were killed and 144 injured, police estimated, in an earthquake centering in southern Shichiku province today.

Police reported the Japanese empire's third fatal temblor in three months destroyed 224 buildings. As the earthquake shook the same area in which nearly 3,000 people died April 21, seismologists said today's temblor was one of a series of aftershocks to the April disaster.

Telephone and telegraph lines were disrupted, and railway lines and bridges were damaged, but officials predicted that normal traffic could be resumed within a day.

An alarming shock startled four prefectures in southern Japan about an hour before the Formosan quake, but did no damage. Lighter shocks were perceptible in Tachu and Taiwan and ships at sea recorded tremors.

Expeditions of police, physicians and relief workers immediately entered the quake-stricken region, stricken area, where villagers had hardly recovered from the April disaster. They bore food and medicines to meet a reported shortage.

Despite severe Japanese competition, American radio receiving sets have been able to maintain a strong position in the Manchurian market.

ITALY TO SEND 300 AIRPLANES TO WAR FRONT

MUSSOLINI ADMITS HE PRESENTED CASE BADLY

BY A. E. STUNTZ, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ROME, July 17. (AP)—The national aviation service disclosed today plans to supply Italy's colonial forces with some 300 planes, threatening large-scale aerial warfare against Ethiopia.

The air service plumped into the project, designed to overcome the obstacles of Ethiopia's desert lands and mountain plateaus, after an advance guard of 80 pilots and 24 planes sailed for East Africa.

General Giuseppe Valle, under-secretary for air, who made farewell to this contingent at Naples, indicated that he personally would take the major force to the colonies soon.

Regiment of black-shirt troops also marched to embarkation points. Other masses of recruits poured into training camps in response to Premier Mussolini's orders for continual replacement of reserve forces.

It Duca, admitting openly that Italy's case in East Africa has not been properly understood in some parts of the world, was insistent that Roman justice—and only Roman justice—should be employed to settle the issue.

He received the French ambassador, Count de Chambrun, late yesterday to discuss the crisis. He conferred also with the Japanese ambassador, Yotaro Sugimura, who assured him Japan had no interest in East Africa and would not intervene.

Later Mussolini received two Americans, H. V. Kallenborn, New York News commentator, and Mrs. Scottie McKenzie Frazer, Dothan, Ala., newspaper woman. Contrary to his usual custom, he consented to answer five questions presented by Kallenborn.

Q. Are you determined on war with Ethiopia no matter what happens?

A. I have not said so.

Q. Is it not a fact that you have presented your East African case rather badly to the world?

A. Yes, the case has not been thoroughly understood.

Q. Would it be possible to harmonize the East African situation by the establishment of a joint Italian, British, and French protectorate?

A. Impossible, impossible. Multilateral protectorates are no good.

Q. Does Italy wish to resign from the League of Nations?

A. Not at all. I do not wish to take Italy from the league.

Q. Is there still a good chance of peace?

A. Peace is possible.

Italian circles interpreted his statement that Italy did not wish to withdraw from Geneva as a reiteration of his idea that league members should realize that Ethiopia has violated the principles of league membership and is on non common judicial ground with Italy.

Rome's newspapers emphasized in vigorous language what they called the "inevitability" of war.

Another development was recommended by the president's allotment committee that the rural electrification administration receive an additional $50,000,000. It also put its "OK" on $34,963,379 worth of works progress projects for nine states: Indiana, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Michigan, New Jersey,

'BUSINESS AMBASSADORS' TO FOREIGN NATION ADVOCATED

PORT LAVACA, July 17. (AP)—Business ambassadors, empowered in official capacities to stimulate American foreign trade in a globe-circling enterprise, will be asked of the congress.

Charles L. Grunder, cotton and compress man of Cuero and Victoria, is the originator of the plan. He would create "business ambassadors" in all foreign countries with whom the United States has business, or with whom business might be obtained. He told the Port Lavaca chamber of commerce in the "kickoff" on his scheme.

"All of the present American consular system would actively cooperate with the central business head of the foreign country under my plan," said Grunder.

His plan is as follows: "The immediate creation of business ambassadors to be sent to foreign countries where we may have business, or with whom we can get business:

"To establish a medium of direct contact with our industries, manufacturers, products, etc.:

"To aggressively, directly and effectively foster trade relations so that we may not only retrieve our many lost exports and trades but to encourage business confidence by continually expanding business on a profitable basis, resulting in the opening of factories; cultivation of the lands, putting men back in employment, stimulation of industry in a practical and sound way by effectively creating a demand for our merchandise and products.

"The business ambassador will negotiate in a direct way with business and commercial interests of ours, causing a medium of association and trade.

"The correlation resulting in an immediate, gigantic business getting set-up in each foreign trade country.

"Under joint house resolution No. 117 it is made plain that such a structure will be fitting and immediate funds for the same available."

Grunder intends to push his plan.

COAST GUARD IS ALLOTTED $5,263,995

WASHINGTON, July 17. (AP)—President Roosevelt today allotted $5,263,995 of works relief funds to the coast guard for 51 new patrol boats and reconditioning of a number of shore stations. He also appointed $45,200 to the veterans' administration for construction at several hospitals.

The allotments were recommended last week by his advisory committee.

The largest item in the coast guard building program is $52,000 for seven, 40-foot patrol boats, which will replace ancient 75-footers now to be withdrawn from service. Four captured rum runners used by the coast guard also will be replaced with 65-foot high speed patrol boats costing $309,000.

Others are: Eighteen 38-foot cabin picket boats, $226,000; two 62-foot harbor craft, used as ice-breakers, $126,000; five "crash boats" for aviation duty, $37,000; ten 26-foot motor boats to be carried on cutters, $60,000; five 80-foot boats for harbor craft, $263,000.

The allotments followed announcement of one more proposal for a change in the work relief machinery. Secretary Ickes suggested reducing the 4 per cent PWA interest rate where private lenders charge "exorbitant" interest. This is an attempt to obtain a substantial amount of state and community PWA projects. Many city officials have expressed preference for projects carried out by Harry L. Hopkins' works progress administration, because of easier terms.

Effects of the present 4 per cent rate will be studied by a subcommittee.

Another development was recommended by the president's allotment committee that the rural electrification administration receive an additional $50,000,000. It also put its "OK" on $34,963,379 worth of works progress projects for nine states: Indiana, Arkansas, Florida, Kentucky, Michigan, New Jersey,

HITLER RIDES THROUGHFARE ON SPY TRIPS

BERLIN, July 17. (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler, himself, it was learned today, patrolled the Kurfuerstendamm last night to see that there was no new outbreak of anti-semitic rioting.

Der Fuehrer twice rode up and down the fashionable thoroughfare in an automobile. He was dressed in a white raincoat and white traveling cap, and was accompanied by adjutants and secret service men.

Hitler made the personal survey. It was said to assure himself that the firm steps were being taken to prevent a repetition of Monday's disturbances.

Wilhelmstrasse circles, admitting the new outbreak of attacks caused a bad impression both abroad and on foreigners here, sought to whitewash the Nazi movement, attributing the riots to "subversive elements."

Strong police forces patrolled the streets of the fashionable west end section where the new outbreaks started Monday. Storm troopers were instructed to wear their uniforms henceforth when appearing in public.

ROOSEVELT SON IS PRAISED IN A RESOLUTION

Foes of Elliott Are Vanquished at Meeting

PORT WORTH, July 17. (AP)—Texas Young Democrats, in whose ranks opposition to Elliott Roosevelt has caused much noise recently, appeared today to be firmly behind the new deal administration.

The organization's executive committee acted swiftly and decisively yesterday in stopping a move to oust young Roosevelt from the first vice-presidency of the group and heard State President John L. McCarty of Dalhart urge every member to take the lead in organizing Roosevelt-Garner clubs throughout Texas.

Officials of the Young Democratic club have conferred with Postmaster General Farley, chairman of the national committee, and with other administration leaders and they are in accord with the plan," McCarty said.

McCarty spoke after the executive committee had defeated a resolution designed to oust President Roosevelt's son from the club and in its stead adopted a resolution voicing appreciation to Elliott Roosevelt "for his cooperation and loyal service."

Overton, Dallas attorney and leader of a rebel group of state's rights adherents, led in bringing the action against young Roosevelt. He was joined in the fight by Joe Bailey Humphreys of Crockett, former secretary of the executive committee, who referred to Elliott as the "crown prince and rubber stamp from the east."

The resolution to oust Roosevelt was defeated, 14 to 1, and the action praising his work was approved, 14 to 2. Overton and Humphreys being the only dissenters.

Raymond Buck committee chairman, and President McCarty were named on a committee to attempt to bring the 193

Women To Be Admitted Free To Baseball Game Tonight

Huber Blackfaces to Play Runners in Local Park

Women will be admitted free to the baseball game at Road Runner park tonight when the Road Runners tangle with the Huber Blackfaces of Borger at 8:45 o'clock. Admission for men will be 40 cents.

The Blackfaces, with Byron Chody on the mound, will attempt to take the Road Runners down a peg. Chody has not had a chance at the Pampa team in some time and nothing would please him better than to defeat the team that hopes to win the Denver Post tournament.

The much-traveled Chody gave the Pampa aggregation a bad beating last year when he came here with El Reno. He has done some great relief hurling against the Road Runners this season but always after the cause was lost.

Manager Freddy Brickell has not named his starting hurler. It will be either Lefty George Bull or Lee Daney, with Bull on the inside track. Bill Haden will not be available, having had his torsils removed Monday.

The Road Runners will meet their old rivals, Coltexos of LeFors, on Friday night. It is in the hope that Daney start against the LeFors aggregation. Manager Sammie Hale will probably select Lefty Garthurs for mound duty. Carthurs arrived here last week from Albany where he was a teammate of Freddy Brickell's for some time. Carthurs is wild but he has such an assortment of curves that they make up for his wildness.

On July 29 and 30 the Mexican Charros players of Nueva Laredo, Mexico, will be here for two games.

Pampa Negroes Play Amarillo Nine Tomorrow

Strengthened by the arrival of a new pitcher and another outfielder, the Pampa Yellow Jackets will meet the Amarillo Black Spiders at Road Runner park tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. On Saturday afternoon, at the same hour, the Yellow Jackets will play Wellington's negro nine at the local park.

The new hurler added to the Yellow Jackets is Ray Hickman, whose name is well known in negro baseball circles. Hickman has played in some fast company in the north. He comes here from Mangum where he has been making his home. Shanklin is the new outfielder. He is said to be a speedster and a good hitter.

Pampa's negroes defeated the Amarillo team two weeks ago but since that time the Black Spiders have strengthened and baseball is anticipated when the two teams meet. Wellington is said have a strong team.

Hickman will be on the mound for the Yellow Jackets with Oliver, formerly of the Kansas City Monarchs, behind the bat. Oliver gave a great exhibition of catching when he entered the game against the Shamrock Black Oilers last week.

'Goofy' Would Play for Pampa

"Where is Pampa?" asked Jack "Goofy" Dean when he joined the Amarillo Shamrocks last Saturday. The "Goofy" nickname named the "Dopey One" Monday night, learned to his sorrow where the oil capital of the Panhandle is located. The Road Runners blasted Dean from the mound on two consecutive meetings. He still admits that he is a cousin of "Dopey" and "Goofy" Dean but he is considerably cowed.

Dean relieved Coburn against the Road Runners Monday night but lasted less than two innings before being relieved by Pachak.

For the benefit of the thousands of baseball fans in Amarillo, the Road Runners won the game 15 to 5, making the Amarilloans look like a bunch of amateurs instead of the champions of the Panhandle, self-styled title of the Shamrocks.

Several telephone calls were received by The NEWS this morning from Amarillo fans who wanted to know the outcome of the game. Amarillo fans sent in several subscriptions to The NEWS in order they may keep up with their team away from home.

Bob Winkler, new owner of the Amarillo club, says he is going to get himself a ball team. He needs a few pitchers, a couple of outfielders and an infielder or two. The Road Runners will go to Amarillo on July 28 to see if the Shamrocks have then developed a ball club.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press.)
Sammy Byrd, Reds: Drove in five runs against the Giants, cleaning the loaded sacks with a double and sending two in with a single.

Johnny Allen, Yankees: Held the White Sox to two hits and fanned nine.

Sam Leslie, Dodgers: Found Pittsburgh pitching for three hits.

John Pezullo and Jim Bivin, Phillies: Their fine relief hurling stopped Cubs.

Pinkey Higgins, Athletics: Cracked out three doubles to send five runs home.

REFEREE AIDS VAN BEBBER IN MAT VICTORY

CHAMBERS SOCKS PAT WHO KNOCKS WILD MAN DOWN

Jack Van Bebber had the assistance of Referee Pat Garrison in winning a wild and woolly wrestling match last night at Road Runner park. With the count standing at one-all, the Pampa Irishman relieved Andy Dowler as referee. Cliff Chambers, Louisiana wild man, got rough and socked the referee on the jaw. The referee came back with one to Chambers' jaw and while that worthy was down, Van Bebber smothered him for the win.

The former Olympic champion took the first fall from his Louisiana opponent in 14 minutes of furious wrestling, which saw Van Bebber trying to wrestle and Chambers using unorthodox methods. Van Bebber finally got in a series of flying head locks which had Chambers groggy, and then fell on him for the fall in 14 minutes.

The Louisiana came back strong for the second fall. He roughed his opponent and the referee and generally took over the ring. After nine minutes he got a new-type arm stretch on Van Bebber to win the fall.

With Garrison in the ring for the last fall, Chambers did some wrestling, but not for long. He started roughing things but took a lot of punishment from clean holds. Van Bebber slipped in a few wallops of his own, however, to even matters.

Chambers didn't like the treatment and swung on the referee, connecting to the jaw. The Irishman picked himself up from the mat and swung on Chambers, sending him to the canvas. Van Bebber took advantage of the side battle and smothered the Louisiana mauler in nine minutes.

Pat Garrison substituted for Claude Swindell in the semi-final and used his weight to defeat Dan Carver of New Mexico in 26 minutes. Garrison used an elbow to the jaw and a cradle hold to pin Carver's shoulders to the mat. The two maulers gave a great exhibition of wrestling until Garrison started roughing things a little. He was unable to cope with Carver's speed and went unorthodox.

Andy Dowler and Curly Lewis tried to settle their difference in a wild 20 minutes but were not successful.

Hoover juniors were leading the Pampa Pee-wees 7 to 5 when the third inning Sunday afternoon because of rain.

Cole of Hoover hit a home run in the second inning. The visitors pulled a double play in the opening inning to cut off a Pee-wee rally. Cole was on the mound for Hoover with Hogan and then Turcott relieving.

Hetselk started for the Pee-wees but gave way to Morrow. Aids was behind the bat.

The game will be played at a later date.

NEGRO FAST BALL PITCHER TO HURL IN DENVER MEET AGAIN

DENVER, July 17 (AP)—Denver's annual baseball tournament, "Little World Series" of the west, will hold its twentieth renewal August 1 to 13.

The tournament, which in the past has gathered leading semi-professional teams from as far east as Michigan and west to the Pacific, is sponsored by the Denver Post. It will be held in Merchants park, where Western leaguers departed in the days when Denver was in the circuit.

The House of David team from Benton Harbor, Mich., won the championship last year, defeating the Kansas City Monarchs, 2 to 0, in the final game. The Monarchs were the first negro club to play in the tournament and may play again this year. The berded outfit has announced it will make an effort to win its second successive title. No team ever has won twice in succession in the tournament's history.

In 1934 the event drew the biggest gate in its history with prize money totaling $16,696. The House of David players won $6,456, with the Monarchs sharing in $4,944.

PHANHANDLE ALL-STARS TO PLAY IN ON-TO-DENVER GAME

Battle to Take Place Here Wednesday Night; Pampa Nine To Be Built Up.

By mayor's proclamation, ON TO DENVER NIGHT will be staged at Road Runner park on Wednesday when the Road Runner team which will go to the Denver Post baseball tournament in Denver, Colo., will meet a team of Panhandle All Stars, composed of the best players from the four teams in the Big Five—Coltexos of LeFors, Phillips of Borger, Huber of Borger, and Shamrocks of Amarillo.

Tickets for the big game were placed on sale this morning at $1, with the ticket also good for admission to a big dance to be staged at the Pin-Mor auditorium immediately following the game. The game will be called at 8:45 o'clock with Mayor W. A. Bratton throwing the first ball.

Manager Fred Brickell of the Road Runners is strengthening his club for the Denver trip. He will have most of his team here to meet the All Stars.

Fans of the Panhandle will select the All Star team. Any person in the Panhandle desiring to "have a finger in the pie" is asked to send his or her list to the Sports Editor of the Pampa Daily NEWS immediately, so that the team can be assembled for workouts before the big game. Several lineups have already been received. Get yours in immediately.

The Road Runner entry caused considerable excitement in Denver baseball circles. The Road Runners' POST of Sunday carried a full "streamer" informing the world that the Danciger Road Runners of Pampa, Texas, had entered the Little World Series with one of the strongest clubs on record.

Walter Judge, writing in the Denver POST, said:

"Another Texas has entered the twentieth annual POST baseball tournament—and there'll be more to come! The second team from Texas to enter this year's Little World Series, Aug. 1-13 inclusive in Merchants park are the Danciger Road Runners of Pampa. This team, sponsored by the Danciger Oil & Refineries, Inc. of Texas and Oklahoma, is one of the strongest in the southwest and its lineup indicates it will have a lot to say about the championship and the gold and glory that goes with it.

"A club from the Argentine, which has been on a tour of the United States, also will enter any day down. 'We wouldn't want to return to South America without playing in the tournament we've heard about all over the United States,' the manager declared in a recent letter.

"But let's go back to the Road Runners and look 'em over. 'We are bringing a club we think will win first place, or, at least, will be a strong contender,' writes Manager Fred Brickell. Do you remember Brickell? Well, if you don't he's the former big league outfielder with Pittsburgh and the Philadelphia Nationals. And that wasn't long ago, either!

"Brickell broke into organized baseball in the Western league about a decade ago and his rise was rapid. He was one of the fastest base runners and outfielders ever seen in the circuit and was sold for more than $25,000. Denver fans easily will recall his spectacular exploits in Merchants park.

"He still could be playing in the high-class minors, but he prefers an all year round job with a chance to play ball on the side. There are many other former leaguers in his lineup, too. Tank Horton and Floyd Lyle, the catchers both used to be in the Western league.

"Al Summers, the nifty youngster who formed part of the 'Keystone Kids' combination with Los Angeles in THE POST tourney of 1933, is at second base. There never has been a flashier fielder in the Little World Series than Summers.

"The pitching staff includes Lee Daney, a right-hander, who played in the tournament previously. Two other members of the staff saw service in the Texas league. Brickell declares his pitching staff needs strengthening, but when he gets the men he's after he'll be ready for any and all clubs, he writes.

"The team gets its name of Road Runners from the fact the trade name of the Danciger products is 'Road Runner.' Production department headquarters are at Fort Worth and refining headquarters at Tulsa. One of the four refineries is located at Pampa.

"The entry list will not close until July 30 at midnight, and at least sixteen of the strongest clubs in the country will be entered by that time. Any club is eligible provided it complies with the rules and its record is strong enough to rate entrance in the opinion of the sports department."

Galveston Is Leading Texas League Again

(By The Associated Press.)
The Galveston Bucys were back in the lead in the Texas league today. They climbed a notch last night by walloping Dallas, 10 to 1, while San Antonio was defeating Oklahoma City, 2-1, to topple the Indians off the top run.

Joe Gibbs turned in a three-hit performance for Galveston while his mates pounded Bill Shores and Lawless for 11 safe ones, including a circuit clinch by Maggie McChes. Gibbs retired the first 23 men facing him in order and fans who saw Eddie Cole pitch a perfect game last week yelled for another no-hit, no-run affair.

Bunching two hits in the fourth and three in the seventh for a run in each inning, the Bucys put across three runs in the ninth inning of the first game to overtake and beat the Exporters.

Johnny Rinzo socked a single, double and triple, drove across three tallies and scored two himself to lead the Houston Bucys to a 12 to 3 win over the Fort Worth Panthers. Grissom of the Cats fanned eight men but he was wild, walking 12 and contributing a wild pitch. Potter pitched for Houston and held the Panthers to seven hits.

Sunoco Sluggers Make 20-9 Game

The Sunoco Sluggers junior ball club won a 22 to 9 game from the Western Carbon juniors yesterday afternoon. The youngsters are playing a fast brand of ball and are seeking competition. The Brown brothers handled the battery work for the winners. The teams are made up of boys between the ages of 10 and 14 years.

The Sun juniors lost a 15 to 14 tilt to the Texas Elf juniors on Monday afternoon. Kell and Davis were batteries for Texas Elf with the Brown brothers, D. and F., the batteries for the losers.

GAME IS ONE-SIDED
The Texas Elf ball club took a 21 to 2 game from Western Carbon in a Two I league fixture on Sunday afternoon. Thicker and Thiesen saw mound service for the winners, with Dixon and Geer receiving, Hall, Brydes and Howlings tied to stem the tide for Western Carbon, with Brummett receiving. Phillips won by default from Coltexo Black Cats of LeFors.

FRONT ASSURED
CHICAGO, July 17 (AP)—Mike Jacobs, head of the 20th Century sporting club of New York, received a cablegram from Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, today assuring him that the German heavyweight champion would fight from the journey. Two games are played each afternoon and one nightly.

LEFORS CLUB TO PLAY ROAD RUNNERS ON FRIDAY NIGHT

Getting to the team that defeated them on Sunday afternoon, the Coltexos of LeFors last night invaded Borger and downed Phillips 66 Oilers 13 to 8.

Pete Stegman pitched winning ball for Coltexo, getting his second consecutive win. He allowed Phillips 10 hits, but fanned seven, most of them in the pinches.

Hawkins, a newcomer to Panhandle baseball circles, started for Borger. He was blasted from the mound. Ellis took over the mound work but was ineffective, although fanning five. Mulroney finished on the mound.

Extra base hits rattled the boards and three balls missed the fence, going over, when Littell, Underhill, and Mulroney connected with Stegman's slow balls and lifted them over the fence. Jackson got three singles and Littell got a single and home run.

Manager Sammy Hale fattened his batting average with three singles and a triple. Shinski also had a big night at the plate with two singles, two doubles and two walks. Poin-dexter collected a single, a double, and a triple. Bennett added a single and two doubles to the barrage of hits collected off Borger pitching.

Coltexo will be in Pampa Friday night for a game with the Road Runners.

The game was played before a crowd estimated at 1,500 fans.

The score by innings: R H E Coltexo . . . 133 120 030-13 22 1 Phillips "66" . . . 032 000 300-8 10 3 Stegman and Polvogt; Hawkins, Ellis, Mulroney, and Francis.

McCarthy Signs For Two Seasons

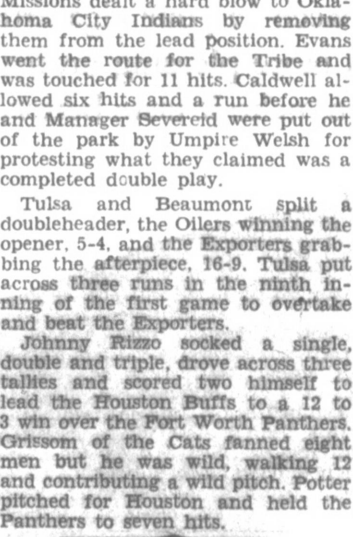

NEW YORK, July 17. (AP)—Genial Joe McCarthy will rule the Yankee dugout for two more seasons at least.

Col. Joe Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York team, announced yesterday that McCarthy had been signed for the seasons of 1936 and 1937 at the same salary he now is paid, understood to be $35,000 yearly.

The announcement dispelled the spectre of Babe Ruth, mentioned as possible successor to McCarthy, who came to the Yankees from the Chicago Cubs in 1931.

Pistol Wound Is Fatal to S. A. McLaughlin Here

S. A. McLaughlin, 65, longtime county resident and former storekeeper in the Laketon community, died about 10:30 o'clock last night in a local hospital of a pistol wound in his head.

Mr. McLaughlin walked through the sheriff's office shortly before 9 p. m. greeting those present. Soon afterward, it was heard at the west entrance to the courthouse. His body was found upon the sidewalk, a pistol in his hand. A brief note was nearby on a concrete pillar, weighted down by his pipe.

He was taken to the hospital unconscious.

Mr. McLaughlin is survived by his wife, two daughters, Mrs. Homer Powell of Laketon and Mrs. Iva Wilson of Pampa, and three sons, Raymond and Jack of Pampa and Floyd of Laketon.

Funeral services for Mr. McLaughlin will be conducted at 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Central Church of Christ, with the Rev. E. M. Borden, pastor, and the Rev. J. H. Vermilion of LeFors, officiating. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery under direction of Pampa Mortuary.

Palbearers will be Joe Smith, Charlie Christopher, Ennis Jones, W. S. Paris, B. Looper, and Jay Evans.

Girls Team in Playground Ball To Be Organized

Pampa girls and young women interested in playground ball are invited to work out with the Pampa playground team which meets every afternoon at 4 o'clock at the home of De Ann Heskell on East Kingsmill avenue for practice.

The new Pampa team will go to Skellytown Saturday afternoon for a game with the team coached by Mrs. C. Luedders. The game will be called at 4 o'clock.

There are still several positions needing strengthening and a large turnout is urged for tomorrow afternoon when a long practice will be conducted.

Newspaper Folk To Judge Contest

Three well-known Texans identified with the newspaper profession are to act as judges in a $1,000 prize contest to find a name for Mickey Mouse's pet, "The Goofer," according to G. S. Robison, Dallas district sales manager for General Foods, sponsor of the contest.

Mrs. Allena Duff Jones, society editor of the Dallas Times-Herald, Miss Elizabeth King, news editor of the Dallas News and Journal, and S. W. Papert, president of the Texas Daily Press League, have accepted invitations to judge entries, says Robison.

Prize list, headed by a $250 first place award, includes more than 100 prizes totaling $1,000 in cash and groceries. Grocers with whom winners deal, also receive prizes.

A ripple of laughter swept the room as the telegram was read. Half a dozen witnesses mentioned by Fisher yesterday were then sworn but told to leave the room while Miss Loding testified.

She said Herron gave several telegrams "over the counter" in her office, but dictated most of them to Fisher, using the telephone directory for signatures.

Corcoran Accused

She said she helped search for the originals when it was discovered they were missing.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the Capitol, the house rules committee was told by secretary of Representative Brewster (R-Mo) that Thomas Corcoran, RFC attorney, told her by telephone on June 26 "nothing more will be done on 'quoddy' until the utility bill is out of the way."

Corcoran has denied to the committee Brewster's charge that he threatened to halt the Passamaquoddy tide harnessing project in Brewster's district if the representative did not vote for the provision in the senate bill wanted by President Roosevelt to banish "unnecessary" housing committees.

was given by the president.

That was his comment on the decision of the circuit court of appeals at Boston yesterday holding the taxes unconstitutional.

Mr. Roosevelt said at his press conference he thought it would be a good thing if the AAA amendments now before the senate are passed. A vote may be reached this afternoon.

Determination to put the new tax bill through congress speedily led those in charge of the measure to put everything else aside and give it right-of-way.

Chairman Doughton (D, N. C.) called the house ways and means committee into executive session to ratify a tacit agreement to that effect made last night by democratic members of the committee.

For nearly three hours last night the democrats talked over the tax bill with Lovell H. Parker, chief of staff of the joint congressional committee on internal revenue taxation, and Middleton Beaman, chief house legislative counsel.

FINE BRAND OF COURAGE SHOWN BY GIRL HERE

Daughter of Kathryn Kelly Is Ranking Student

Undaunted by having her mother, Kathryn Kelly, and her grandmother, Mrs. Ora Shannon, imprisoned, Pauline Frye, 15 years old, has opened scholastic honors at Asher, Okla. She arrived in Pampa last week to visit in the home of her uncle, Constable H. S. Shannon, and will be here a month.

Miss Frye, a quiet and modest young woman is shown above in the cap and gown she wore when she received her diploma from Asher high school last spring. She was the salutatorian of her class. Earlier in the spring she won every singing honor soprano were offered in the Oklahoma scholastic league.

When bright, smiling courage—the kind that overcomes the toughest obstacles fate can offer—comes up in a radiant young girl, it's worth a hand.

And when that girl keeps her chin up in the face of the conviction of her mother and grandmother as kidnappers, and goes on to scholastic achievements such as are won by only a few girls, it's worth a tribute.

When the smoke cleared away from the Urschel kidnap trial in Oklahoma City in 1933, Pauline Frye, then 9 years old, found herself an orphan. Her mother, Kathryn Kelly, with whom she had not lived since infancy, had been sentenced with George "Machine Gun" Kelly. Her grandmother, Mrs. Ora Shannon, who adopted Pauline when she was 18 months old, also had been sentenced to life imprisonment.

Pushing aside offers to appear in vaudeville billed as "Kathryn Kelly's Daughter," Pauline left an unbroken string of straight "A's" at the Paradise, Texas, high school, and went to live with her great-uncle, Mrs. H. P. Hopkins, a sister of Mrs. Shannon at Asher.

Pauline was one of the 18 seniors at Asher high school who received diplomas at the commencement exercises last spring. As a leading student of the class—she has never faltered in the record of straight "A's"—Pauline delivered the salutatory address.

Possessing a clear, soprano voice, she played the lead in the high school operetta last spring. She also played the leading role in the senior play, which was presented in two evenings besides Asher. She is soloist of the glee club, and is a member of the mixed and girls' quartets.

Last year Pauline went to Ada for the scholastic competition, entering the vocal contests. She took third place, but April 19, this year, she went back to Ada and walked away with every singing honor soprano were offered. Her only voice instruction has been that given in the public school.

She has just topped her high school record by being elected to the state honor society for scholastic excellence.

Her closest rival for scholastic honors is her foster sister and inseparable companion, Agnes Hopkins. Agnes also makes straight "A's" played in the operetta, the senior play, and is a member of the glee club and both quartets. She plays piano accompaniment to Pauline's singing.

Because they both had made flawless grades in four years of high school, it appeared difficult to decide which should be the class valedictorian.

Fortunately, there was a school rule which said that if two tied for high grades, and one had attended the Asher school the full four years, while the other had attended a lesser time, the first should be valedictorian, the other salutatorian. So Agnes was valedictorian, Pauline salutatorian.

Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins welcomed Pauline as a second daughter. Hopkins has been principal of the Asher school for 15 years. Mrs. Hopkins is president of the Parent-Teacher association and is active in the Oklahoma State Federation of Women's clubs for the fifth district.

The Hopkinses plan to send both Pauline and Agnes to East Central State Teachers college at Ada next autumn. There Pauline will continue her musical studies, and will have an audition over station KADA soon. Staunchly loyal to Kathryn Kelly,

Shewmaker Rites Will Be Held in City Tomorrow

Funeral services for Charles Shewmaker, accident victim, will be conducted at 3:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the chapel of Pampa Mortuary. Burial will follow in Fairview cemetery. Other arrangements have not been completed.

Shewmaker died of injuries received when a car he was driving crashed with a car driven by Chester Watson near Amarillo Saturday night. Mr. Watson was killed instantly. Shewmaker was superintendent of the Western Carbon company's plant at Borger. He was a former Pampa resident.

Surviving are his father and step-mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Shewmaker, Pampa, and a sister, Miss Clara Lee Shewmaker, Pampa. Miss Shewmaker was to arrive here this afternoon from Seattle, Wash., where she was attending a convention at the time of her brother's death.

WIFE JAIL ED

"She was dirty," Van Cleve said. "She was filthy. And I wanted my sister to do the cooking."

He denied his wife was imprisoned, saying she stayed in the garret voluntarily. Police said he made no effort to explain her condition.

The Van Cleves were married in Harrisburg, Pa. in 1926. They lived at their present home since June 1, but Mrs. Van Cleve said she had been similarly imprisoned in other houses they occupied here during the last five years.

V. F. W. Picnic Set

The annual picnic of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Pampa chapter, will be held on July 28, it was decided at a meeting last night. A committee to make arrangements and decide on a location is composed of J. W. Woodward, H. A. South, D. A. Bartlett, Paul Hill, Hamp Waddell. Three new members were initiated last night. Naming of delegates to the national convention was deferred until the next meeting, August 6.

Uncle Dies

Mrs. C. L. Stine received word yesterday of the death of her uncle, Lem Gordon, 60, in El Reno, Okla. She had visited her uncle only a few days ago.

Fleas, Fleas, Fleas

Lawns in many sections of the city are overrun with fleas of a new kind to Pampa. It is believed the fleas are left by dogs and cats, which appear to be afflicted this year. Some believe the fleas are the dreaded Mexican variety which have been battled in the Rio Grande for many years. Several local citizens have become ill after being bitten by the fleas.

Dogs Not Allowed

Keeping dogs out of the wading pool at City park has become a problem of park employees. Most of the animals are being taken into the water by their youthful owners. City Manager C. L. Stine urges parents to warn their children not to take their pets in the water.

MURDER TRIAL

testified that his reputation as a "law-abiding boy" and for "truth and veracity" was good. When Defense Attorney John Sturgeon told the youth to "come around here" the boy appeared not to understand that he was to take the chair and asked the lawyer where he should go.

Tells of Employment

He testified in a calm, low voice—a voice so low that the court and lawyers repeatedly urged him to speak so that the jurors could hear his testimony—that he would be 18 years old Dec. 2, 1935. He stated that since he was graduated from high school in 1934 he was employed at a drug store, a telegraph office as messenger boy, and at an optometrist's office.

He testified that he knew Kenneth Campbell for five years, and that they "ran together" four years. "He spent the night at my house several times, and I stayed at Kenneth's house about the same number of times," the youth related.

The youth in cross examination by District Attorney Lewis Goodrich refused to strike the prosecutor on the chest and demonstrate how hard he was hit by Campbell in the Pla-Mor. Earlier, Sturgeon had difficulty in persuading the defendant to hold the knife "exactly as he held it" when he struck at Campbell with it at the elevator. Bends of perspiration broke out on the boy's forehead, and his face, which usually appeared flushed on account of his florid complexion, paled noticeably. The boy finally took the closed knife and held it in his hand.

Voice Was Low

Shortly before the youth collapsed and her daughters, Misses Irene and Carnelle Owens of Houston. She was accompanied by her son, Herbert Owens, who has visited Mr. and Mrs. Palmer here for several weeks from San Diego. He left Sunday for San Diego, where he is stationed with the marine corps after two years at Honolulu, Lualaba, and Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands.

in the witness chair, Judge Ewing for the fourth time admonished him to speak louder.

"Did you have that knife in your pocket when Campbell knocked you down in the alley back of Cal Farley's?" the prosecutor asked.

The defendant waited a full minute before he spoke. Meanwhile his eyes appeared glazed, sweat rolled off his face, and he had become deathly pale.

"I'm sick," the boy told Judge Ewing. When it became apparent that he was too weak to walk to the windows back of the judge's dais attorneys assisted the boy to a window where he slumped into a chair. A half hour later when court was adjourned, his muscles were still quivering with nervous strain. His mother, Mrs. E. V. Davis ran to her son's side when he was led to the window. She applied cold cloths to her son's face and then collapsed.

The defendant testified he did not see Campbell during the three weeks that intervened between the fight near the Pla-Mor and the slaying. He said Campbell appeared to be drinking the night they had the fight at the Pla-Mor.

Campbell walked up to him and said, "Did you want to see me?" and struck at the same time, Davis told the jury. The janitor told the boys not to fight in the lobby, he said. He did not know who said, "there's a good place at the railroad track to finish this fight."

The witness said that the only words spoken while the boys walked from the Worley building pool hall to the tracks were Campbell's warning, "When we get down here where the police won't catch us, I'll beat hell out of you."

THE DOLE SYSTEM MUST END

Three score public works officials sat before President Roosevelt Tuesday and received orders to develop speed to give preference to non-Federal projects to States and cities able to supply the 55 per cent of cost remaining after Federal donations of 45 per cent, and to plan to end the dole system by the end of the current fiscal year. This they should accomplish by seeing to it that the supposedly 3,500,000 employable persons now unemployed receive useful work.

This determination of the President's is most important, if it is his final decision. The vast expenditures on public works should be expedited so as to furnish jobs and it should be assumed that by the end of the fiscal year in 1936 unemployment will be ended and that doles must stop. Presumably the President expects that the social securities bill will soon be in full working order, supplementing the public work plans by old age and other pension scheme. But he surely makes a bold promise if he really intends to end the present dole system as announced.

The country as a whole hopes that his expectation will be realized and the sooner the better. The nation would greatly prefer to get away from the entire "dole" system of recent years as soon as possible and to stay away from it permanently. It desires a return to self-reliance, to a greater frugality, and to an abhorrence of any trend that leads toward a parasitic spirit in citizens.—Dallas News.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, July 17. (AP)—Attorney General McCraw doesn't mind critics to offer something constructive at the same time. He would especially welcome for example, a better plan than the one he has worked out for the disposition of the hundreds of thousands of barrels of crude oil held in earthen and tank storage in East Texas.

McCraw's plan is to sell the oil at the best price possible with the receipts to go to the general revenue fund under the law authorizing the sale to confiscate crude produced in violation of conservation orders. Some of the sales haven't brought as much as a few critics believe should have been received. "Some people are criticizing me for taking half a loaf," McCraw commented, "when in fact that is a half loaf more than the state ever has gotten. They just don't understand the difficulties involved in getting rid of this oil. There it is in a pit. We are sure it is illegal production but proving just what well it came from and who produced it is another question. In fact it is almost impossible."

The state general revenue fund has benefitted about $50,000 from the sale of confiscated oil. McCraw said his plan proposed to let the confiscated oil reach the market in small amounts so that it would not disturb the price structure. Those who say the sale of the confiscated crude is a disturbing element are in error, the attorney general asserted.

"They're just making conversation. If we sold every barrel of illegal oil held in storage in East Texas it would amount only to one day's production."

Both the attorney general and the railroad commission are looking for a better situation to prevail when the illegal oil has been taken from earthen storage pits and gone out of the way. The commission, to guard against a recurrence of thousands of barrels being run into earthen pits is keeping a complete record of pit construction. Under a recently enacted law operators, who run oil into such pits are liable for $1,000 per day penalties. Officials believe the fine will prove a sufficient deterrent to the practice.

BORN THIRTY YEARS TOO SOON.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Seldom does a brain trust's wife stride into the limelight. The University of Wyoming has reason to wish one never did.

The university's trouble is Miss Caroline F. Ware, who threatens to sue because she was hired to teach history at its summer school and later was advised she couldn't be employed because it had been learned she was married.

Miss Ware is the wife of Dr. Gardner C. Means of AAA, an economist who has made some important studies for the New Deal and who co-authored with A. A. Berle on "The Modern Corporation and Private Property."

A former professor of history at Vassar, she has been working here for the consumer sections of the NRA and National Emergency Council.

Miss Ware, promising to contest cancellation of her contract, has dumped a wagon load of arguments on the university president, Dr. A. G. Crane, to show that such policy—which some corporations have been known to adopt—is poisonous, both to education and American institutions.

From the feminist standpoint, her protest is one of the great documents of the decade. She says:

"The university is supposed to be an educational institution, not a work-relief organization. The trustees' duty is to select the best teachers available.

"The rule is a move to relegate women to the position to which Hitler has openly consigned them in Germany and to which 'American Hitlers' are pushing them, under cover of 'emergency action.'

"The trustees cast aside a long tradition under which Wyoming was the first state to adopt woman suffrage, elect a woman governor and choose many women for high position. And are the trustees trying to place women in the role of child-bearing for future wars, as in Italy and Germany, or attacking marriage by prescribing single blessedness for all who have potential usefulness other than child bearing?"

And if the university laughs that off, says Miss Ware, she will be in Wyoming with her lawyer. The National Woman's Party and some other women's groups are supporting her.

The Donald R. Richbergs are taking the summer easy at a cottage on Rehoboth beach, Del., about four hours from Washington. The former "assistant president" will write a couple of magazine articles and do little else but plan resumption of law practice in the fall, probably with offices in Washington and Chicago.

Richberg had hardly arrived before he was accosted respectfully by a native in the Henlopen hotel, who said:

"I want to shake your hand and ask you one question: 'What do you think of General Johnson?'"

Richberg stammered: "I think he's a swell guy." The native thanked him heartily and bowed himself away.

Mussolini confiscates millions of Italian lemons for his troops in their campaign to annex Abyssinia. Where's the profit? All those lemons for one!

It must be on highways that angels fear to tread; that's how they got that way.

If this endurance flight craze keeps up, things must come to an impasse: you can't refuel all the people all the time.

To show how strongly the Italian people feel about this Abyssinian affair, a Naples bambino is reported to have been heard prattling "Addis Ababa."

John D. has reached the age of 96. How about a share-the-longevity movement?

NEVADA ONLY STATE MINUS WEALTH TAXES

TEXAS ACTUALLY CUT LEVIES ON MONEY LEFT TO HEIRS

KANSAS CITY, July 17. (AP)—Inheritance and estate tax statutes of the 48 states disclose that opinions of lawmakers differ chiefly in fixing the amount government may take from the wealth men accumulate.

In only one instance has a state legislature consistently refused to levy such taxes.

Nevada has neither inheritance, estate nor income tax law, and its officials boast this has resulted in wealthy persons establishing legal residence there for the benefit of prospective heirs.

Inheritance and estate taxes brought the various states approximately $99,524,000 in 1934. This compares with $103,985,299 collected by the federal government in the same period.

Maine enacted the first inheritance and estate tax law in 1893, and was followed two years later by New York. In 1903 Oregon and Wisconsin joined the procession and additions to the ranks were rapid after that.

Maine has been far out-stripped, however, in the amount of taxes levied, exacting only from one to eight per cent and allowing from $500 to $10,000 exemptions.

Arkansas has the highest tax rate on large estates, taking 40 per cent on the top bracket of $10,000-50,000, but Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Mississippi and Pennsylvania follow the federal statute of 1926 which allows the state 80 per cent of a 45 per cent tax in the top bracket, or 36 per cent of largest estates.

Idaho, Illinois and Missouri laws permit the state to take 30 per cent in the high classifications, and in Arizona, Nebraska, North Carolina and Washington as much as 25 per cent may be taken.

However, virtually all the states began at one or two per cent for relatively small bequests or estates.

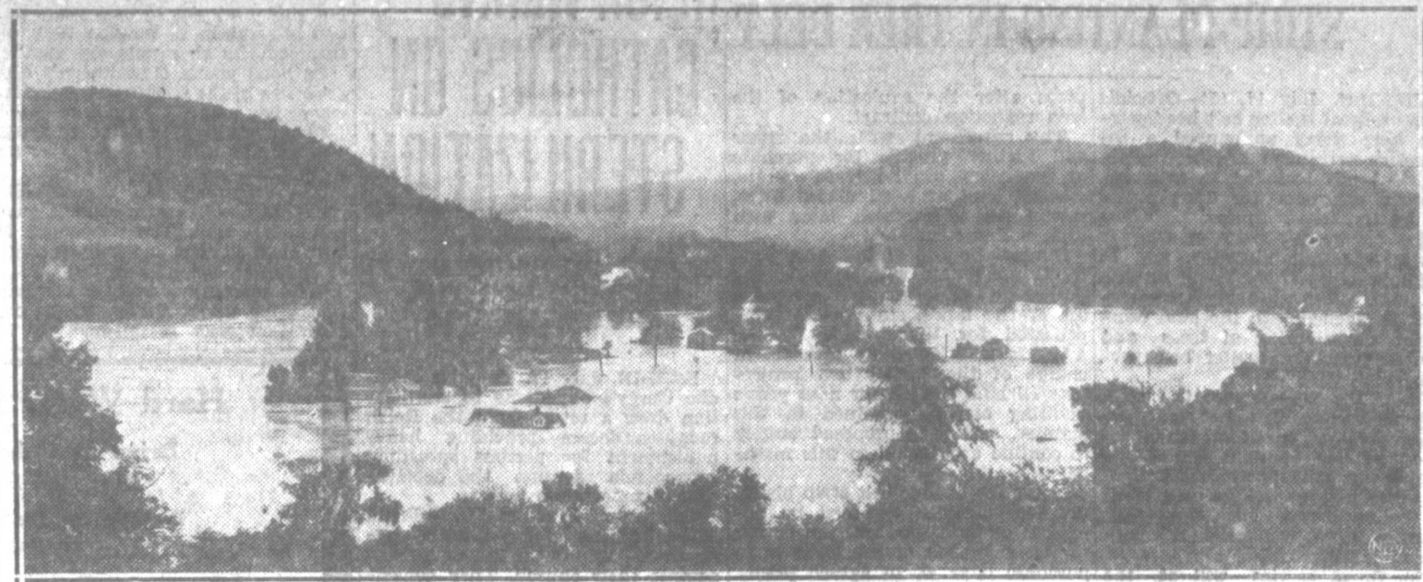

Eight states—Utah, California, Idaho, Maryland, Michigan, New Hampshire, North Dakota and Washington—increased this type of tax in the past two years, most of them in 1935.

Three states—Kansas, Kentucky and Wisconsin—rejected legislative proposals to increase the levies, and one—Texas—actually reduced one classification.

Virginia increased some types of exemption, cut others, and Oklahoma reduced exemptions in several classifications to bring in revenue from small estates previously not taxed.

Louisiana—home of "The Kingfish," Senator Huey Long, who so vociferously has demanded a national "share the wealth" campaign, extracts from one to 10 per cent from estates.

HOUSETOPS POUNDED BY ROARING CHENANGO FLOOD

With little more than their roofs showing above the torrents pouring down the beautiful valley of the Chenango river, creating a scene of utter devastation, the farmhouses seen in this picture give striking evidence of the height of the flood that raged through New York state, taking toll of more than 40 lives and $20,000,000 in property. Seemingly by a miracle, these dwellings, located north of Binghamton, were not swept from their foundations by the deluge heaving against their second stories. On knolls which were high and dry, only the tops of trees appeared above the water, which rose almost to the tops of telephone poles in some places. Back of the roaring stream are the hills to which hundreds fled barely in time to escape death.

New Oil Pool at Seminole Found

SEMINOLE, Okla., July 17. (AP)—The greater Seminole oil pool, which set science back a notch by coming in as one of the nation's most prolific pools after geologists had condemned it as still the source of surprises in oil play now and then.

The most recent is the discovery of a new pool—tentatively called the West Seminole pool—virtually in the "front yard" of the city.

The pool is less than a mile west of Seminole and is being extended eastward. The discovery well was the Wood Oil company's No. 1 Henry, which was prorated to 12,000 barrels during the first month, but had a potential of twice that.

The Wood Oil company of Tulsa is drilling three more wells in the pool, and Amerasia has begun drilling another. Activity here is considered the greatest in the field. That fact is puzzling when it is pointed out that there are productive pools for miles around on either side.

Chapter 45
A nurse had come by car from Santa Fe. Katharine had been made comfortable. She was "resting easily now," the doctor told Michael. She had taken a little water; after a bit she might have some more.

"It was a shock—she has a little fever still—but she's young and strong. She will be all right."

He was an old doctor, gray and grizzled. He had seen much pain and despair. He fixed the look he saw in this young man's eyes.

"You're her—her brother?" the doctor hazarded. Michael shook his head.

"Husband," he said briefly.

"Ah, I didn't understand." The physician had observed the slender hand outside the coarse coverlet were no wedding ring. But these modern young people—you never knew what they were going to do next.

The Millards were here now, and Miss Vincent. Michael had told them, quite simply, that Katharine was his wife. He had not expected them to believe him. But they had. Frank Millard had understood in a rude undertone to his brother, Dirk, but Hilda, after one sharp glance at Michael, had silenced him.

Girls had their own reasons for keeping such secrets, she had observed later to Evelyn Vincent as the two rested in the ranch house sitting room and drank the strong tea Mrs. Darraugh brought to them.

Within, Katharine slept and woke and slept again. The swift desert twilight closed in and lamps were lighted.

"We'll leave her in your hands then, young man," said Evelyn Vincent rather sternly, to Michael.

The Millards, now that they were certain Katharine was out of danger, were anxious to push on to the ranch. Dirk had gauged his time rather closely. He had to make an eastern train in another 48 hours. And there were no accommodations for Miss Vincent here. Much as she disliked to do it, she had decided to leave Katharine in Michael's care.

"He has a splendid face," Hilda said pensively. "I took to him right from the start. You know I can always tell about people," she went on dreamily. "I had a cook once. The minute I laid eyes on her I said to myself, that woman is a bad one. But we were hard pressed, having a dinner party or something, and so I hired her. She stayed on for a week, and do you know she walked off with the spoons?"

Evelyn Vincent was rather cross and very tired. She longed with all her fastidious British soul for a bath in the coral-colored tub at Silencia—a rushing luxurious bath with plenty of flemion-verbena crystals staining the water and huge sponges and a fat cake of soap and mammoth towels.

"What's that got to do with this young man who says he's Katharine's husband?" she snapped.

"Well, it's what I was just saying," murmured Hilda, pouring another cup and pushing back her hair with a weary gesture. "I said you could always tell by a person's face, and I like this young man's, and he must be all right. Isn't that so, Dirk?" she appealed to her husband.

"I guess so, honey," Dirk Millard looked tired and dirty. The desert hand had made deep grooves in his lantern face. It had been a terrible day—one they would talk about, telling the story with a thousand embellishments, for years to come.

"I think perhaps I should stay," Miss Vincent fretted. "After all, I am virtually in charge of the child! It doesn't seem quite proper."

"Nonsense," yawned Hilda, patting her disordered blond locks. "With a nurse and Mrs. Darraugh for chaperons, I don't see very well how you could do anything. Besides a bride doesn't need a chaperon. At least, if she does, I've never heard about it."

Accusing Brewster at Lobby Quiz

"We'll see if I'm a liar!" Thomas G. Corcoran, R.F.C. attorney, shown testifying, shouted from the witness stand at the House Lobby Inquiry in Washington, when Representative Ralph O. Brewster threw the session into turmoil by hurling the ugly word, Corcoran's charge that Brewster suggested he refrain from voting as a means for placating the administration on the holding companies bill brought the stirring climax to the hearing.

COMMISSION ADVISES COUNTIES TO SUBMIT HIGHWAY PROJECTS

AUSTIN, July 17. (AP)—The Texas highway commission will start Thursday to plan its program under the regular and emergency aid from the federal government. Available state funds for construction and maintenance will be considered in connection with the program.

Officials estimated it would require at least 15 days to study the federal regulations, received today, and select projects to conform.

The commission advised many counties to submit their lateral road and small projects to the works progress administration for consideration.

Under the federal emergency grant Texas will receive $22,845,332 of which $10,855,892 has been earmarked for grade crossing eliminations. Of the remaining $12,000,000, at least 25 per cent must be spent on roads not included in the state highway system and 25 per cent within municipalities of metropolitan areas on the federal aid system or on state highways.

The remainder of the emergency grant has been apportioned to the regular federal aid and state highway systems.

Action on all county requests for aid were deferred until the commission can investigate their merits.

Applications for a 40-foot concrete paving on highway 15 between Longview and Gladewater was made by a delegation from the East Texas oil field. Carl Estes, Longview publisher, termed the road the worst on U. S. highway 30 between Mobile, Ala., and San Diego, Calif. The commission indicated a new survey and location would be considered and that the road would receive attention at a regional conference scheduled to start Thursday in Lufkin at which roads throughout East Texas will be discussed.

If Italy invades Ethiopia, her soldiers will face not only the ravages of water, famine and fever on the plains, the night and day ambushes in the mountains, but also the remainder of the emergency grant has been apportioned to the regular federal aid and state highway systems.

Dirk stood up, stretching his magnificent muscles and shaking his blond head.

"Count me out, I'm not going."

"Why, Frank Millard?" began his sister-in-law combatively. "I never heard anything so silly in my life. Of course you're coming with us."

"No, you're all so anxious to get home, you'd just leave this poor kid to the wolves. I'm sticking around."

Frank must be deeply moved, his brother reflected, to have made such a long speech. Usually Frank's conversation was limited to monosyllables. He was glaring at them all now quite angrily.

Dirk shrugged. "Let him alone, honey. If he wants to stay, let him stay."

"But how will it look?" fretted Hilda. "Why, I never heard anything so silly in my life. And he'll be in the way. There's no place for him—"

"Toss out my blanket," Frank grunted. "I'll sleep out."

"Well, it's your funeral," Dirk said philosophically. "It sounds nutty to me. What's wrong with you, anyway?"

"That fellow's no more her husband than I am," said Frank with contempt.

"Come along, girls. The boy's screwy," said Dirk good-naturedly.

"Screwy, am I?" muttered the blond giant, watching the touring car and its trail of dust as the car dwindled to a speck in the distance. "I'll show 'em!"

He prowled about with the restlessness of a lion cub, smoking innumerable cigarettes, hands plunged deep into his pockets. Presently Mrs. Darraugh came to the door, surprised to find him there.

"Why, I thought you'd gone with the others, Mr. Frank."

"No, I'm sticking around."

He offered no explanation of his strange conduct and she asked none. Mrs. Darraugh had met the Millards before this. She thought of them as "real city folks," and none of their vagaries could really surprise her. Besides she had seen Katharine's face, lovely in its stillness; she sensed romance.

"Why, say, Mr. Frank, I'm real sorry we can't give you a room, but you know how 'tis."

He indicated his bedding roll.

"Well, now, you can set that in the shed. It's real clean. Dossy does some of his carpentering there, but it's tidy. I'll give you some supper."

"Oh, don't bother." But the smell of frying steak that presently drifted to him from the open windows was too tantalizing to be ignored. Frank was young and healthy. When he shouldered his way into

BACK ASSERTS AAA WILL BE HELD ILLEGAL

ATTORNEYS PONCE ON NEW DEAL IN CONVENTION

LOS ANGELES, July 17 (AP)—Congressman James M. Beck of Pennsylvania today told the American Bar association that it seemed probable the supreme court will rule the processing tax a "clear violation of the constitution."

Declaring that "nearly a billion dollars have been taken from one class of the community by the secretary of agriculture for the benefit of another class," the former solicitor general said:

"If the law shall be hereafter invalidated, what redress will the processors have? Can the farmers be made to pay back the benefits which they have received, or is it conceivable that the government would ever repay the billion dollars?"

The foreign divorce problem was brought before the association by Hamilton Vreeland Jr., professor of law at the Catholic University, Washington, D. C. He recommended uniformity of divorce laws to stop the chaotic social condition under which he declared a person may be legally wedded in one state but, if divorced and remarried, may be committing adultery and bigamy in the next.

In his discussion of divorces Prof. Vreeland declared uniformity of divorce laws might solve both the foreign and the nation's divorce problems.

Patrick J. Hurley, former secretary of war, discussed the government and the oil business, advocated interstate compacts for the control of oil production.

E. H. Foley Jr., director of the legal division of the NRA, told the association there has been no federal dictation of legislation in the administration of the public works program.

The council on legal education of the bar association placed the Louisiana university law school on a probationary basis pending hearing on the allegation the school issued a degree to a person who did not complete his studies of law.

CENTENNIAL NEWS ITEMS

Official Plaque Adopted by the Texas Centennial Commission: "I will think that... to be my celebration. In its achievement I give free play to my patriotic love for Texas... confidence in its glories that are to be."

DALLAS, July 16. (AP)—The first concession contract with the Texas Centennial exposition was signed here today.

Bowen Motor Coaches, a Texas firm, secured the right to transport passengers within the exposition grounds and pledged itself to spend more than $150,000 for the privilege.

R. C. Bowen, president, and L. E. Eastland, vice-president, representing the company, signed the pact with Nat Rodgers, director of concessions.

By terms of the agreement, the bus company will pay the Centennial $25,000 cash and 25 per cent of gross receipts in excess of $50,000. In addition the concern will pave a 1,100 foot strip or roadway near the fair grounds race track at a cost of $7,500, and equip new motorbuses at a cost of between $8,000 and $10,000 each.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

(NOTE: This is one of a series of articles taken from the 800 copies of the history of Texas library in the University of Texas library. The collection covers a period of Texas history from the earliest days of the Spanish missionaries in the province of Texas, through the colonial era, to the present. This series of articles, some chosen for their intrinsic significance in the development of the empire of Texas, others for their purely human interest in portraying personalities, economic conditions and social intercourse.)

AUSTIN, July 17.—As the echoes from the last gun fired at San Jacinto faded away, there arrived on the scene one George W. Smyth, a surveyor who later became land commissioner and congressman for the Republic of Texas and much later representative of the State of Texas to the Congress of the United States. Smyth was an active participant in shaping political life in Texas. In April, 1836, he had just been in attendance at the Texas Congress at Washington on the Brazos, where the monumental Declaration of Independence was drafted. Following adjournment of the convention on March 17, he was on his way home to Austin, Texas. In East Texas, near Austin's Colony. He bore with him a number of letters, all dated in April, 1836, given to him to deliver to soldiers in the Revolutionary Army. But when he arrived, he found the battle of San Jacinto fought, Texas

U. S. MIDDIE SPENDS NIGHT IN NAZI JAIL

Arrested After He Strikes Bully Who Knocked Down 2 Women and Bragged.

BERLIN, July 17. (AP)—E. W. Wood, of New York, a midshipman of the U. S. battleship Wyoming was arrested in Kurfurstendamm boulevard Monday night and spent the night in jail. He was released Tuesday after paying a fine of 50 marks — about $20.

Several hundred American midshipmen spending a holiday in Berlin witnessed the riots. Wood turned up at his hotel today with a vivid tale of how he was arrested by police after watching a woman knocked down with bare fists.

Wood said he got into a fist fight when solicited for comment on such action. He expressed disgust. Wood said he was standing on a cafe terrace when the woman was felled. Another woman protested, the American said, whereupon she too was knocked down.

The big man who struck her turned to Wood, he related, and asked: "What do you think of that?" The middle voiced his disapproval. The man persisted: "What are you going to do about it?"

The fist fight started. Police intervened and arrested Wood, who could not say whether his adversary was seized.

Wood, formerly a private organizer for J. P. Morgan, is also a composer of popular music.

Strict orders were issued today by storm troop leaders for a hands-off attitude in future anti-Semitic demonstrations in Berlin.

"Alien and Jewish elements are trying to bring the storm troops into disfavor," the order stated. "Even though the behavior of people of the foreign race must be discontinued most strongly, the storm troops must nevertheless maintain discipline and furnish new proof that they can fulfill the tasks set by Der Fuehrer, Hitler."

"Berlin - Brandenburg formation therefore orders storm troops to refrain from all demonstrations and manifestations even when a member is wearing civilian clothes. All storm troops must, however, wear their uniforms outside office hours until further notice."

"Responsible leaders must immediately satisfy themselves that this order is being executed. The order is not intended to hamper the healthy spirit of the storm troops, but is issued to take from the opponents of national socialism the opportunity for heaping slander and calumny upon the storm troops."

Hockey is said to have originated with the Persians, from whom it was acquired by the Greeks, who in turn passed it on to the Romans.

CROP LANDS WILL BE USED FOR STRIP-PLANTING IN TREE BELT

LINCOLN, July 17. (AP)—Officials at the federal shelter belt headquarters here today announced a cooperative agreement has been made to use lands included in crop reduction contracts for strip-planting by the forest service.

The agreement, between Chester Davis, AAA administrator, and F. A. Silcox, chief of the forest service, will take effect whenever an agreement is reached with the land owner for the planting of trees and shrubs under the shelter belt project.

Under the agreements, the trees may be planted on either contracted acreage or on other lands selected in lieu of such acreage, if because of soil types, location, or for other reasons the selected lands are better suited for shelterbelt planting than the original contracted lands.

The forest service will at the same time enter into a separate lease or option agreement with the land owner, which will provide for immediate occupancy by the forest service, and will assure control of the land used for shelter belt purposes after the expiration of the crop reduction contract.

This agreement with the owner will further provide for purchase or extension of the lease of the selected land at a stipulated price, should the government later wish to take this course.

During the life of the AAA contract, no rental will be paid the farmer by the forest service for the use of the lands, since he is compensated for that period by the AAA. It is believed by officials in charge of the shelter belt project that all land needed for next year's planting can be obtained in this manner, and it is proposed largely to confine acquisition to this method.

Lands for shelter belt strip planting also may be obtained by donations or by leases, with an option for an extension of the lease or to purchase later at an agreed price.

REICH WARNS CATHOLICS ON STERILIZATION

HEAVY PUNISHMENT IS DECREED FOR THE PROPAGANDISTS

BERLIN, July 17. (AP)—The Catholic clergy's objections to sterilization drew a retort from the Reich today—a decree providing heavy punishment for persons spreading propaganda against the deprivation of procreative powers.

The decree, issued by Dr. Wilhelm Frick, minister of the interior, was regarded by Catholics as a blow against their church. They considered it likely to lead to further estrangement between the church and the Nazi government.

The German government, however, professes readiness to meet any criticism. Robert Ley, Adolf Hitler's trade union commissioner, told a meeting of students: "They call us pagans and heretics, but this one fight in past years has brought more religion than all theology and six priests together." Catholic youth organizations also drew fire in the meeting at Opladen, where Ley said: "They are organized like an army. This sounds dark and dangerous for a religious organization."

The commissioner, who is also president of the states council, gave assurances of religious freedom to individual citizens and independence of churches, but added: "The necessity of unity of German youth, for whom Hitler's youth organization was established, is in accordance with Der Fuehrer's will." The Vatican dispatched a note of protest to Berlin yesterday, charging Germany with violation of their concordat.

The note objected to application of Nazi sterilization laws to Catholics, interference with the existence of Catholic lay organizations and attacks on the freedom of the Catholic press in Germany.
