

HITLER EXPECTED TO GET HANDS ON FRENCH FLEET SOON

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
The Washington-Vichy crisis mounted sharply today amid general expectations that France would proclaim her solidarity with Germany and that Adolf Hitler might soon get his hands on the French fleet.

U. S. consular officials urged all Americans to leave Unoccupied France as soon as possible. Emphasizing the gravity of the situation, President Roosevelt moved up his cabinet meeting from its accustomed Friday date, and it was expected he would hear a report on developments which have strained relations between France and the United States almost to the breaking point.

In Vichy, the new French "chief of government," Pierre Laval, said a new Vichy cabinet had been chosen except for two names. A silent crowd of 2,000 Frenchmen watched as Laval's big black limousine drew up before the government hotel.

Vichy's Ambassador Gaston Henry-Haye had an appointment to meet Acting Secretary of State Sumner Welles today, and Washington observers expressed belief that he would deliver official notification of an openly pro-Nazi collaborationist policy by Pierre Laval's new regime.

Welles has already made it emphatically clear that the United States has nothing but scorn for collaborationists and would consider such a regime unqualified to represent the French people. Laval himself, now France's most powerful figure, with the aged Marshal Philippe Petain only a figurehead, returned to Vichy from Paris where he was said to have conferred with Hitler's agents—presumably receiving the Fuehrer's orders for the future government of France.

He was immediately received by Petain. In Washington, senators gloomily forecast that the French fleet—once Europe's second largest—would soon bolster Axis sea power, jeopardizing Anglo-American domination of the North Atlantic supply routes to England and Russia, and also imperiling British control of the Mediterranean.

Other major developments: Soviet dispatches reported that Red army shock troops who smashed through the first line of German defenses around Bryansk, 200 miles south of Moscow, had surged forward and occupied a dozen settlements abandoned by the Nazis.

The Russians said Hitler's high command was constantly increasing reinforcements for "feeler" attacks against the Red army, but there was still no sign of the long-heralded German spring offensive.

'Deep In Heart' Came Straight --- Clap, Clap --- From California

(By The Associated Press)
"Deep in the Heart of Texas" came straight—clap, clap—from the coasts of California.

Of course you've heard it. One Texas radio station offered it seven times in eight hours. All the youngsters know it. The jitterbugs know it and the shine boys slap slap with their shoe rags, deep in the heart of Texas, but who wrote it, and why?

The authors are Don Swander and June Hershey. Don plays the piano with Jack Martin's dance band and June is his wife. Don's job has brought him to Texas many times but June has never been here.

Nevertheless, says June, "It was written for Texans, strictly."

"Deep in the Heart of Texas," its publishers say, has sold around 300,000 copies and its expected, prior to the war, that its recordings would total more than a million and a half. Don and June are planning to buy a ranch—in Nevada—with the proceeds of "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

June Hershey tells how the song came into being:

"Don has been a dance musician for 15 years, mostly in Los Angeles. His experience with Texans there has been that they always were very demanding of having music played especially for them.

"Usually they wanted 'The Eyes of Texas.' He figured if Texas had a special song ('The Eyes' of course, is to the tune of 'I've been Working on the Railroad') Texans would make it popular—just through demanding that it be played.

"Well, this beautiful idea worked. 'Deep in the Heart of Texas' was written for Texans, strictly, and they did like it.

"The fact that the rest of the

33 Blocks Of Paving Given WPA's Okay

Pampa's project designed to provide 33 more blocks of paving, sidewalks, and curbs has received the approval of the war department as important to national defense and authorization to begin work has been given by the state Works Progress Administration.

On the job the WPA is to spend $72,658; the city, $55,259; and 112 workers are to be employed.

First submitted six months ago, the original proposal was turned back to the city and it was suggested that new plans be prepared so as to eliminate some items requiring steel.

Just when work will begin is uncertain as the WPA has not released the workers employed at the new high school.

Pampa's project was one of 12, involving expenditures totaling $344,026 by the WPA and $182,077 by the other governmental agencies.

Other Texas projects approved were:

Navarro—Removal of 135 tons of steel rails from Corsicana streets; WPA $15,804; city, $2,655; workers, 75.

Smith—Improve East Erwin street in Tyler on state highway 31 and old state highway 64; WPA, $1,070; city, $1,572; workers, 15.

110 Tons Of Bombs Dumped On Invaders

(By The Associated Press)
Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters disclosed today that 110 tons of bombs were dumped on Japanese soldiers, ships, planes and other military targets in the spectacular two-day assault by U. S. army bombers against enemy bases in the Philippines.

American-Filipino defenders of Corregidor are still putting up fiery resistance, a war department bulletin said today.

The communique reported that Corregidor's big guns blasted Japanese troop concentrations and truck columns on nearby Bataan peninsula, inflicting numerous casualties, and blew up enemy ammunition dumps.

Japanese casualties were believed to have been numerous, a communique said.

The fortress island also was shelled intermittently yesterday by enemy batteries on the north and south shores of Manila bay.

Since the Japanese invasion started, Corregidor has had 206 air raids, the communique said.

Raiders were actually more numerous, since on some occasions when an alarm continued for a half day or four or five separate attacks took place.

The war department said fierce fighting also continued on Cebu island, in the central Philippines, 250 miles south of Manila, where 12,000 tank-supported Japanese troops landed last week.

Corregidor was raided five times yesterday, but American-Filipino anti-aircraft gunners kept the Japanese planes so high that their bombing was without effect.

The war department said Japanese planes had raided Corregidor 65 times since April 9, the day Bataan peninsula fell to overwhelming Japanese forces after three months of bloody fighting.

"Despite the constant bombing, the damage to military installations has been relatively slight," the communique said, "and the morale of the troops is unimpaired."

Commenting on the two-day attack by American bombers on enemy bases in the Philippines, Lt. Col. J. H. Davies, who led one of the groups, declared:

"We smacked hell out of 'em." Moreover, high Allied officials confidently declared that the attack was only a foretaste of more and heavier blows in store for Japan in invasion armies.

"In this magnificent exploit, we see the tide of war turning against Japan," said Australia's supply minister, John A. Besley.

"This attack is the first drive... in time it will be followed by vast air fleets."

While the invasion-threatened "down under" continent celebrated the safe return of 12 of the 13 big U. S. bombers which engaged in the foray, Australian airmen lashed out anew at the Japanese base of Koenig, on Dutch Timor island, before dawn today.

Prime Minister John Curtin announced that high explosives and incendiaries were rained on an air-drome.

Meanwhile, a Tokyo broadcast asserted that Japanese warplanes which attacked Corregidor island fortress, in Manila bay, encountered "markedly feeble" resistance from guns of the bomb-battered citadel.

Significantly, the broadcast said the attack was carried out in "a driving squall."

In this connection, Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's defenders on Corregidor expect the ap-

More Than 20 Million Men Under Arms

By WILLIAM FRYE
WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Nations at war today have more than 20,000,000 men under arms.

The total may even be as high as 30,000,000, for such figures have long since become jealously guarded military secrets, and in the case of some nations the last available military statistics are several months old.

When the war began for the United States on December 7, 1941, this country had an army of approximately 1,600,000 men, with 33 divisions.

Of these, 18 were national guard "square" divisions of approximately 20,000 men each, nine were regular army "triangular" divisions of approximately 15,000 each; two were cavalry divisions and four were armored divisions, the latter containing upwards of 12,000 men.

The square divisions have been reduced in size and reorganized along the lines of the regular army divisions.

Since then, the U. S. program has been stepped up sharply with

Picture Not Too Black, Says Halifax

By JACK KRUEGER
DALLAS, April 16. (AP)—Despite the defeats, the retreats, the Dunkerque and Pearl Harbors, the picture is not entirely black for the United Nations in the eyes of touring Lord Halifax, Britain's ambassador to the U. S.

But any optimism about the outcome of the current war must, he suggested in an interview, be seasoned with the grim realization that "this is one of the toughest jobs we have ever been up against."

Lord Halifax seemed intent on stressing that point.

"This war is essentially one—'O-n-e'—this war is essentially one and our side—your people and me—must realize this is one of the toughest things they've ever been up against."

With the Allied mind thus made up, he said, we can look at the favorable factors. The fact that Germany has taken a staggering blow in Russia, that Japan, steadily lengthening and therefore weakening her lines of communication, is beginning "to feel the stretch."

"The big factors are on our side," he said, referring to the immense man—and productive powers and the U. S. and Britain.

"I would bet—adroitly substituting a good American word for the more British word—that if not now, very soon your airplane production will be such that you will be able to expect within a year or so."

Downey said he was convinced that there "simply will not be any tires for the 30,000,000 civilian auto mobiles for four or five years even if we get all the synthetic rubber hoped for by Jesse Jones and others."

Downey said this lack of tires and the halt in car manufacture would cause curtailment in available transportation for workers, the mails and other necessary services which should be anticipated now by government action to conserve present supplies of cars.

The senator said he would ask that his broad-termed bill be referred to the senate military affairs committee and would ask that the full committee begin hearings next Wednesday.

The bill would give the president authority to build up a vast stock of automobiles, parts, tires and supplies and authorize use of a $5,000,000,000 fund for this purpose.

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—The navy reported today that Japanese bombs falling on and near Corregidor had sunk the U. S. minesweeper Finch, 840-ton vessel built during the World War.

Bill Would Give FDR Power To Seize All Cars

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—Senator Downey (D.-Calif.) today introduced a bill that would give the president power to seize any and all privately-owned automobiles.

At the same time, the California senator recommended that immediate steps be taken to "remove some 10,000,000 cars from the roads and place them in a vast pool to meet a serious transportation crisis, we can expect within a year or so."

Downey said he was convinced that there "simply will not be any tires for the 30,000,000 civilian auto mobiles for four or five years even if we get all the synthetic rubber hoped for by Jesse Jones and others."

Downey said this lack of tires and the halt in car manufacture would cause curtailment in available transportation for workers, the mails and other necessary services which should be anticipated now by government action to conserve present supplies of cars.

Phillips A Liar, Says CCC Director

WASHINGTON, April 16. (AP)—James J. McEntee, director of the Civilian Conservation Corps, said today that a statement yesterday by Gov. Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma that "a great majority" of first term prisoners in the Oklahoma Granite reformatory were former CCC enrollees was "a vicious libel" and a "dastardly insult to the young people of Oklahoma."

McEntee issued a formal statement in reply to the testimony Governor Phillips gave the senate labor committee as he favored legislation to abolish the CCC and National Youth administration.

U. S. Soldiers in Australia Plant Vegetable Gardens, Unload Ships

By VERN HAUGLAND
U. S. ARMY HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 16 (AP)—United States soldiers encamped in Australia are discovering that army life is a mixture of hard work, fun and boredom.

"About the only difference is the food," said Private Louis Sandor of Cleveland. "We do not have as much variety as back home and the helpings aren't as big. At that, it's better than we figured on for war time. We are not kicking."

The army brought large quantities of canned foods. Australia is providing fresh fruits, vegetables and dairy products.

Reveille is about 6 a. m. The work day ends at 5 p. m. After dinner there usually is entertainment in the camp meeting hall or a large tent. Most tennis courts and golf courses are open to soldiers free.

The men get a couple of nights leave a week. In rotation. Those near cities may go to restaurants, movies, plays, skating rinks and dance halls. Saloons are closed after 6 o'clock. City parks, race tracks and fair grounds are among the camp sites.

At one seaport camp the soldiers do stovedore work to help relieve the Australian labor shortage. At another the men are engaged in air-port tasks. At others they spend long hours on the target ranges.

Grounds are kept neat and trim. Many outfits have planted large vegetable gardens.

FRENCH FLEET

Germany's war foundries in the Ruhr again last night, and also attacked St. Nazaire, docks at Le Havre, and airbases in the Nazi-occupied Low countries.

Continuing the round-the-clock offensive, RAF daylight raiders pounded the French "invasion coast" with a sweep over the Dunkerque area.

German night raiders struck back with an attack on a British armament industrial center, identified as Sunderland, where at least 12 persons were killed and many wounded.

The Germans acknowledged "some" deaths and injuries from RAF bombs dropped over western Germany during the night.

The threat that Germany may gain control of the French fleet was regarded by naval authorities as a grave menace to Britain's supply lines in the Mediterranean and thus a direct threat to the security of her armies in North Africa.

Beyond this immediate result, these experts said, an out-and-out Vichy-Berlin coalition eventually would jeopardize Anglo-American domination of the North Atlantic supply routes to England and Russia, and a general realignment of Allied naval strategy would have to be undertaken.

making effective use of the French ships, however, it would be imperative that the Axis have the enthusiastic support of their officers and crews, and there was considerable speculation here as to whether that could be counted on in all cases.

According to the best available unofficial estimates, the French fleet consists of:

The five battleships Provence, Dunkerque, Strasbourg, Richelieu, and Jean Bart (assuming the latter has been completed—a doubtful possibility), all in various stages of readiness to fight;

Two battleships building, the Gasconne and Clemenceau;

Two uncompleted aircraft carriers, the Plaineve and Joffre;

Four heavy cruisers;

Eight light cruisers built and three building;

52 destroyers built, and 20 building (five others under construction are reported to have been taken over by the Germans many months ago);

Fifty-nine submarines built and 22 building;

Also under nominal Vichy control are the aircraft carrier Bearn and the light cruisers Jeanne D'Arc and Emile Bertin, at Martinique and Guadeloupe. It would be the job of the United States Navy to see that those vessels did not leave the Caribbean islands, and the chances of their passing into Axis hands are remote.

A portion of the former French fleet is now in Alexandria, demilitarized under and agreement of July, 1940. The British could seize these vessels if the Germans took the French fleet, but it would take months to put their armament back in place and restore them to fighting condition.

Lord Halifax commented that he thought "you people are doing a wonderful job" against the Atlantic submarine menace, and would have the situation completely in hand shortly.

"Ninety per cent of the Italians," Lord Halifax estimated, "would give their eyes to be out of this war. But Mussolini—his word for Mussolini—has got them and himself in a vise. His number's up." No sooner would Mussolini pull out of the war, the ambassador said, than Hitler would take the country over.

The failure of the Cripps mission to India, he said, did not in his view weaken the position of that country before the Japanese threat.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, April 16 (AP)—Weakness in a few industrial shares blunted an early recovery move in today's stock market and left the list fluctuating around nine-tenths to one-half point in the late proceedings.

While losses were well distributed at the close, actual weakness was confined to a mere handful of key issues. Of these, Westinghouse and U. S. Steel were the most prominent, each dropping to a new low for a year or longer.

Develop New Oil Fields, Head Of Company Argues

By PAUL GESNER AND WILLIAM PINKERTON NEW YORK, April 16 (Wide World)—"Let's not be short-sighted about development of new oil fields."

That was the thought Henry W. Wilson, president of Fanhandle Producing and Refining Co., left with the company's stockholders in a detailed analysis of the world petroleum situation presented in Fanhandle's latest report of operations.

Oil is the life blood of modern mechanized war machines. "Victory for the United Nations will depend more upon oil than upon any other single element in our military resources," Wilson said.

At this rate of production and consumption, Wilson estimates there is an indicated oil supply for only 14 years.

Under the present indicated restricted drilling program for 1942, a total of fewer than 17,000 wells will be drilled. "Government officials have warned the industry that it should anticipate demands upwards of 1,500,000,000 barrels of oil yearly for the duration of the war," says Wilson.

Present estimated crude oil reserves in the United States are 19,589,296,000 barrels. Domestic production last year was 1,404,162,000 barrels.

James Will Give Christmas Seal Report Monday

How Gray County Tuberculosis association managed to increase its Christmas seal and bangle sales five times for 1941 over 1940 will be described in a report to be given by W. E. James, association president, when the annual meeting and election of officers is held at 3 o'clock next Monday afternoon in the county court room.

In 1940 the association sold $201.73 of Christmas seals and bangles. The latter are red double-barred celluloid crosses.

For 1941 the total from the sale of the same two items in Gray was $1,307.63, or a total of $1,509.26 for the two years.

Proceeds from the sale go to help provide treatment and prevention of tuberculosis within Gray county. The association now has funds totaling $2,576.53 available. Jan. 1, 1941, balance was $1,945.87.

Crash Victim To Be Buried At Perryton Friday

Funeral services for Tommy McLarty of Perryton, truck driver who was killed and whose body was burned in a two-truck collision on Highway 66 near Conway yesterday morning, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the Perryton Christian church.

He was employed by the Jack Todd Produce company of Perryton. McLarty was a brother-in-law of Todd, and a member of an Ochiltree pioneer family. His father, who died three years ago, operated a store in Old Ochiltree.

While McLarty's body was burned in the crash yesterday morning, he apparently was instantly killed in the accident before the fire started. McLarty, highway patrolmen said, apparently failed to straighten his east-bound truck and trailer after taking a slight curve.

Survivors include the widow; his mother, Mrs. W. M. McLarty; three brothers, William, Robert, Donald of Albuquerque, and Willard of Perryton; and two sisters, Mrs. Seldon Carradine of Clovis and Mrs. Bernice Black of St. Louis.

Americans Used Hidden Island Base

By C. YATES McDANIEL
UNITED STATES HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, April 16 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Ralph Royce, volunteer leader of the bomber squadron which delivered the United States' first long distance smash in the Philippines, disclosed today that the raiders used a base hidden in the islands, protected by fighter planes, and provisioned it for future use.

Twelve planes of the 13 which for two days wrought destruction and dismay among the enemy at the start of the week ferried 44 passengers on their return trip to Australia—10 crewmen from a fortress bomber lost on the foray and 34 army men and civilians from Bataan, Corregidor and other island points.

Most of the evacuees were airmen, indicating that, while the Americans still have fighting planes in the islands, as Royce said, they have a surplus of men to fly them. Royce said that the morale of the men left behind was excellent, especially now that they have plenty of food. The American fighter planes cooperated with the Australia-based bombers, shooting down two Japanese planes that tried to attack the bomber squadron.

The hidden field served the 10 medium and three fortress bombers as a forward base for their 4,000-mile roundtrip attack. The fortress craft lost on the foray was damaged there, having an engine cracked, when a Japanese bomb hit destroyed it in flames.

The advance base may figure prominently in future attacks, for the assaults of last Sunday and Monday were acclaimed here as only a sample of heavier blows still to be delivered in an effort to turn the tide of battle in the southwest Pacific.

Indeed, Australia's prime minister, John Curtin, declared today that the Royce exploit showed that the tide of war was turning against Japan.

He added that it was but the first drive into the heart of Japanese military positions and in time would be followed by the operations of vast air fleets.

One hundred ten tons of bombs were dropped on the enemy in Davao, Mindanao and Luzon in the two peril-fraught days in which the bomber force dominated the skies in its theaters of operation. Topping the list of successes were the sinking of four transports and hits on four others, including one probably sunk.

The chief significance of the raid, however, lay not in the mere fact that an opening blow had been struck despite the terrific odds of distance and Japanese air power in the islands.

In comparison with the still unfolding story of this raid, the continued offensive blows of Allied airmen against Japanese bases closer to Australia—such as a pre-dawn attack today on Keopang, in Dutch Timor, and a new assault yesterday at Rabaul, New Britain—lacked in appeal to popular fancy.

It was announced officially that one hit and a near miss were scored on an enemy ship at Rabaul, the center of the enemy's preparations against Australia. At Keopang, the Royal Australian Air force dropped high explosives on an airdrome, but "other details of the attack have not yet been received," a communique said.

The Sunday and Monday operations in the Philippines cost the raiding force no casualties and no damage, except for loss of the B-17 fortress craft and many a hole in one of its two mates and one of the ten B-25 medium bombers.

"One man, not a member of our party, was killed in action connected with our flight," Royce said. "A fellow named Burns jumped in a fighter when he heard the Japanese and started to take off. He got off the runway but the plane burst up. It was a takeoff accident only. The Japanese had nothing to do with it."

So extraordinary was the conduct of the bomber force that the MacArthur command hadn't enough medals to go round.

In the semi-gloom of a huge hangar here, Major General Rash Lincoln, commanding American armen under Lieut. Gen. George H. Brett, the Allied air commander for the southwest Pacific, conferred distinguished service crosses on Royce, Lieut. Col. John Hubert Davies of Piedmont, Calif., and Captain Frank P. Bostrom, a native of Maine and alumnus of the University of Maine.

Bostrom was not present for the ceremony. Lincoln first pinned a distinguished flying cross on Royce's shirt and a few seconds later, dis-covering his mistake, took it back and conferred the DSC Royce's cap was at a jaunty angle and he was smiling.

While the honors were bestowed on Davies and Bostrom at the same ceremony, they will not actually receive their medals until a new supply arrives.

HIT SONG

country liked it, too, is sort of puzzling, unless they all have a suppressed desire to be "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

"I've never been in Texas, but the words came, anyway, from all the things I've read and heard told about Texas. Don has made several trips through Texas and his favorite town is San Antonio. But then, he has never seen Dallas."

"Music critics over the land have acclaimed the song as "the hottest thing in the music publishing field," but some of the experts who first heard it said it didn't have a chance. It was too simple, they argued—it did NOT have what the music trade calls a "bridge," the technical name for musical construction that popular songs "had" to have to be popular.

Nevertheless, said Manager Oakley Haldeman of Melody Lane publications, "I liked it."

"Don and June have been writing songs for a number of years, but the things they wrote didn't seem to have a commercial or popular appeal so far as the publishers were concerned," Haldeman went on. "I suggested that they try to get away from the ballad type of song, and write a novelty tune. This they did, and brought 'Deep in the Heart of Texas' to me as a result."

"The first person who heard it laughed and said it wouldn't make a hit—that its construction was faulty."

Haldeman submitted it to Alvino Rey, an orchestra leader. He liked it, made a recording, and Haldeman then liked it even more. So did Horace Heidt, the Merry Macs, Bing Crosby, Ted Weems, Gene Autry and everybody else, deep in the heart of Texas and in Iceland and Australia. Texas soldiers all over the world went for it, and mostly they could sing it after hearing it once.

It's that clap-clap business and the refrain that get you. Experts call it a four-beat hand percussion, explaining that implied audience participation has contributed to the success of the song.

Only an act of the legislature could make it the official state song. But after several months, it's still deep in the heart of Texas.

When you buy a ticket for the Navy Relief benefit dance, you, as one of the public, are being let in on one of the navy's most cherished possessions—the Navy Relief society.

For years the navy looked after its own. But now it has pressing jobs on hand and for the first time the Navy Relief society is asking the public to contribute $5,000,000 with which to aid families of naval men killed in action and otherwise unable to aid their dependents.

William E. Keys, Associated Press staff writer, says that the Navy Relief society fund to be raised is primarily to take care of the many situations not provided for by government aid in the form of pensions.

Much of this help must be given to the families immediately long before regular allotments can be properly authorized. The fund will take care of hospital expenses in the families of navy men. The funds also pay for some of the educational costs of orphaned children of navy men, expenses which cannot be met out of authorized pensions to families.

Three additional armored divisions already have been organized, and three more are to be formed in the next few months. Moreover, the army plans to activate 32 new infantry divisions during 1942, and some of these already have been organized.

Reports on the armed might of other nations have been obscured, but the most recent official and unofficial estimates, based on 15,000 men per division, give this picture:

Great Britain: From 3,000,000 to 3,500,000 men under arms.
Russia: At the time Germany attacked Russia, the latter probably had about 23 divisions and an army of around 5,000,000 men. New troops have been trained, but casualties also have been heavy.

China: At least 2,000,000, possibly as many as 6,000,000 men under arms.
Germany: From 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 men in the army, with about 300 divisions. In addition, Germany has called, to a greater or lesser degree, on the armed strength of satellite central European nations—Hungary's 200,000 to 400,000 men, Finland's 250,000 men, Bulgaria's strength roughly the same as Hungary's, and Rumania's,

14 Rubber Plants To Be Constructed, Says Sen. O'Daniel

DALLAS, April 16 (AP)—Texas will produce 700,000 tons of synthetic rubber in 14 plants to be constructed, Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex.) told the Dallas Automotive Trades association yesterday.

He said that contracts had been let for 14 synthetic rubber plants with a capacity of 50,000 tons per factory per year to be built in the state.

Official word of the contracts will be released by the war department, O'Daniel said.

The method discovered by Dr. E. P. Schoch of the University of Texas, which would bring rubber factories to Texas and mean that automobile tires can be made here, utilizing the cotton and carbon black produced in Texas, the senator explained.

proaching rainy season to hamper Japanese bombing attacks, although it may screen attempted sea-borne landing operations.

On the Burma war front, British headquarters reported that fierce all-day fighting raged in the key sectors and acknowledged that outnumbered, battle-worn British troops again had fallen back to a line south of Minha, 15 miles below the Minbu gateway to Central Burma's rich oil fields.

It seemed clear now that Japan was striking hard for a quick knockout of British Chinese defenders of Burma.

A Chinese spokesman said the Japanese were pouring five and a half free divisions—perhaps 80,000 troops—into the campaign and that two new divisions were already landing at Rangoon, where RAF fighters had sighted 40 transports.

The spokesman said the position of Chinese forces battling desperately against the Japanese below Mandalay had been made still more difficult by the British retreat on the Irrawaddy river sector to the west, dangerously exposing the Chinese right flank.

A Chinese communique said the invaders apparently seeking to cut the Mandalay-Lashio railroad 200 miles north of the main Chinese forces commanded by Lieut. Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, U. S. A.

If you have an excess of acids in your blood, your 15 miles of kidney tubes may be overworked. These tiny filters and tubes are working day and night to help rid your system of excess acids and poisonous waste.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up middle, evening, stiffness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

300 Automobiles Help Flier Land

ADA, Okla., April 16. (AP)—An army flying cadet from Perrin Field, Tex., made an emergency landing here last night by the light of some 300 automobiles when he got off his course during a training flight.

The cadet, L. G. Merrigan of Pecos, Tex., spotted the lights of Ada and swooped low over Main street for more than an hour before residents realized he was in trouble.

Firemen hauled out a big searchlight and led the way to an unlighted airport seven miles south of here. Motorists joined in and flooded the field with their headlights.

Merrigan said he had only a 15 minute supply of gasoline left when he landed.

"Boy, it's a relief to be back on the ground," he sighed.

"You don't know what it's like to be lost in a $20,000 ship with only 15 minutes of gas left in your tank."

Ford Invents Tire Containing Only A Little Rubber

DETROIT, April 16. (AP)—7 Ford Motor company, it is learned today, has developed automobile tire using only fraction of the amount of rubber needed for the conventional tire.

Ford engineers who have been experimenting with the new tire since the rubber shortage for rationing of all stocks of standard tires, have developed a process for treating the fabric and use not more than one-sixteenth amount of rubber heretofore used in tire manufacturing.

Company officials are withholding former announcement of new development pending further tests, although trials under operating conditions are said to have shown the tire to be capable withstanding great wear.

Two Released By Manager Of Oilers

Three new rookie prospects will be in Pampa Oil uniforms tomorrow, Manager Dick Ratliff revealed today...

Ratliff today announced that James Slay of Seminole, Okla., shortstop and second baseman, is enroute here and will arrive tonight...

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 16 (AP)—The Albuquerque Dukes are less buoyant about the start of the West Texas-New Mexico league...

A hustling New Mexico university nine downed them yesterday, 11-7, in a 10-inning game.

night. Slay comes highly recommended by Hugh Alexander, new business manager who has been scouting for the Cleveland Indians for the past three years.

Also scheduled to arrive tonight, or tomorrow morning, is Robert Carroll of Dille, Texas, a big left-handed pitcher...

The Oilers are still without a proven pitcher but Ratliff and Alexander are working at top speed trying to secure some chunkers.

They have a promise from Roger Hornsby of the Fort Worth Cats that pitching aid will be sent if any is available.

Eddie Payne, outfielder, and Donald Allen, infielder, have been released.

No word has been received from Don Lang, second baseman from last year's Lamesa team.

Two workouts daily are in order and will continue until the season opens April 28 with Lamesa here.

BUY VICTORY BONDS... COLLEGE STATION, April 16 (AP)—Reveille wasn't just a homeless wanderer after all.

Reveille is the black and white non-pedigreed dog adopted by Texas A. M. college students as their mascot.

She was picked up one night on the highway just south of the college by a group of Aggies.

But her ancestry was clouded in mystery. No one ever came forward to claim her as she grew to importance at Aggie land.

Now it develops that her owner lived here all the time—that he is Eddie Chew, assistant groundskeeper at the college athletic field.

Eddie let drop a remark the other day when Reveille passed by. "She sure has become famous since she was my puppy," he said.

A little prodding brought to light that Rev was born at Chew's place just south of the campus and that she was only a few months old when picked up by the Aggies.

THE NEW ROOKIES COMING Spring Football Training Will Begin Here Monday

Willard Marshall Makes Flashiest Debut In Majors... Associated Press Sports Writer... The rookie who has made probably the flashiest debut in the major leagues this year is Willard Marshall, an unheralded outfielder...

When he bashed a terrific belt into the upper rightfield stands at the Polo Grounds for a home run with the bases loaded to beat the Brooklyn Dodgers, 6-4 yesterday, a lot of people began wondering who he was and where he had been.

He was a young player who has been in organized baseball only two years—both of them with the Atlanta Crackers of the Southern association.

As a kid fresh out of Wake Forest college he was something of a sensation his first season, getting 14 home runs and batting .314 in 1940.

Every major league club was interested in him and Earl Mann, the astute young president of the Crackers, very firmly placed a $50,000 price tag on his prize.

Furthermore he was a collection of castoff players with mythical values and as a result the bidding suddenly ceased.

Marshall stayed at Atlanta in 1941. His second time around Marshall's batting average dropped to .276 even though he stepped up his home runs.

Atlanta put him on the market again last winter but this time there was no eager waiting list. Brooklyn turned him down for $20,000.

The reason was that Marshall had become susceptible to the draft—turned 21 just three days before the registration in February.

Finally the Giants took him to camp on a basis of no down payment and $30,000 if they kept him.

Mel Ott took a quick look at the recruit in Miami and made him a regular outfielder, first in center and eventually in left.

All the scouts who saw the Giants were loud in his praise and he has come right up to the National league competition with flags flying.

He made two hits opening day and followed with the crushing blow that downed the Dodgers in the fifth inning yesterday.

He is a fine physical specimen and has no dependents, so he probably will be in the service as soon as his draft board gets around to calling the new class of registrants.

But if he keeps going as he started he will pay off that investment early.

Another important home run of the day was delivered by a rookie trying to make good—Shortstop Vernon (Junior) Stephens of the St. Louis Browns, who connected with two aboard in the ninth inning at Chicago to whip the White Sox, 6-5.

Rudy York homered with one on and Paul (Dizzy) Trout hurled seven-hit ball as Detroit crushed Cleveland 6-2.

Chicago pitched the Boston Red Sox to a 3-1 victory with a six-hit job on the Philadelphia Athletics.

Spring training for the Pampa Harvester football team will begin Monday afternoon, Coaches Buck Prejan and Mac Best announced today.

Four backs and one end who started about half of the games last season will be available.

Coaches plan to hold 30 days of active workouts. They'll start, of course, with conditioning and fundamentals and then go right into rough and tough workouts.

With the exception of guards, Harvester coaches have what might be a good starting lineup. Reserve strength will be the big question mark.

Two or more boys from last year's squad will be available for every position excepting at guard where only Bill Abernathy will be available.

The Harvester's great sophomore and junior backfield from last season will be available.

Little help is expected from the Gorillas who didn't win a game last year. The Gorillas only had a part time coach and as a result interest was lacking.

The center job will be a fight between Earl Snyder and Harry Kerbow.

McPartland Loses Ball Game In Third

(By The Associated Press)
The Houston Buffs took their third whitewashing in four starts last night when Spud Overmire, pudgy little southpaw, scattered five hits to give Beaumont a 4-0 win.

Oklahoma City's Indians handed the Dallas Rebels their fourth straight Texas league defeat, 9-1; Port Worth nosed out Tulsa, 1-0, and San Antonio beat the Shreveport Sports 3-1.

Impotence at the bat with men in position to score cost Dallas' team. The Indians got to Pitcher Johnny McPartland for five hits and five runs in the third inning.

Except for the third inning, McPartland pitched excellent baseball until the seventh, when he retired for a pinch hitter, with Clem Hausmann, another youngster from the West Texas-New Mexico league, finishing.

At Houston, Pierre Roy, up from the Canadian American loop, started for the Rebels and was banged for nine hits and three of the runs during his seven-inning hitch. Ralph Scheef finished and gave up two hits and one run.

Bill McClaren was the big noise for the Shippers. His triple in the opening inning scored J. P. Wood, who had walked, and that was enough for Overmire.

Julian Tubbs of Tulsa allowed only one Port Worth runner to reach first base, but that runner scored and Tubbs lost his ball game, 1-0.

Bunched hits, aided by errors, enabled the San Antonio Missions to score three runs off Bruz Hamner and beat the Sports. Speer, who relieved Hamner in the third, never was in trouble.

Tonight's games:
Oklahoma City at Dallas.
Tulsa at Fort Worth.
San Antonio at Shreveport.
Beaumont at Houston.

Freeman Sullivan Graduated From Machinist School

Charles Freeman Sullivan, 22, seaman second class, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sullivan of Pampa, recently graduated from the aviation machinist mate school at the Naval Air station, Alameda, and is awaiting transfer to the fleet, the navy revealed today.

Sullivan attended Pampa High school, was a member of the Knights of Pythias, and formerly employed by Hill Lines of Amarillo.

He has been attending the trades school at the air station for the last six months, after receiving preliminary training at "boot camp."

While at Alameda he learned the fundamentals of maintenance, repair and assembly of all types of aircraft. He will soon be eligible for promotion to the rating of petty officer with a considerable increase in pay.

Sullivan is one of the many enlisted men in the navy today who are serving their country and at the same time learning an established and profitable trade under qualified instructors. Among the 45 courses offered to men enlisting in the navy are aviation mechanics, radio, ordnance, photography, carpentry, stenography, and electricity.

Believing in the necessity for physical fitness, Maj.-Gen. Jacob L. Devers at Fort Knox, Ky., has given officers in his general and special staff permission to leave their offices an hour early, three days a week, to take part in a regular program of physical exercise.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Wide World Sports Columnist
NEW YORK, April 16—The way Larry MacPhail figures it, the Giants' and Dodgers' contributions to the army and navy relief may amount to as much as one-third of the whole season's profits. They're each giving the entire "take" of a game against the other, which ordinarily would be $20,000 to $25,000 and Larry figures a club that clears more than $75,000 above all expenses is rolling in dough.

Eddie Ainsmith, who used to catch Walter Johnson, has been appointed athletic director at the Republic aviation plant at Farmingdale, N. Y., and Tex Johnston, the old National league pitcher, will handle a similar job at the new Consolidated bomber plant at Fort Worth. Both will concentrate on getting as many employes as possible to participate in some kind of athletic activity.

Superstitious? Jack Meagher, Auburn football coach, won't let any of his boys wear jersey 13 since one of them broke a leg while wearing that number some years ago.

Sun Again Leads Whirlaway To Finish
LEXINGTON, Ky., April 16 (AP)—Out at Keeneland, where more than two dozen Kentucky Derby candidates are on display these days, they have concluded there's one sure thing about the big race this year—Warren Wright's Calumet farm really is trying for a repeat.

And, the boys add, with Sun Again as Calumet's leading hopeful and canny Ben Jones at the controls, it will might happen.

If Wright makes it two in a row with Whirlaway last year and Sun Again this year, it will be the first such double since Col. E. R. Bradley scored in 1932 with Burgoon King and in 1933 with Broker's Tip.

Speculation on Sun Again's chances went soaring yesterday when he led mighty Whirlaway himself, as well as two other derby nominees to the finish in Keeneland's $1,500 Sesquicentennial handicap.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 16 (AP)—Mayor Ab Jenkins signed a "Be kind to animals week" proclamation ceremoniously.

Laying aside the pen, he turned to another paper on his desk. It was a formal protest from a group of citizens asking the city to do something about the stray dog nuisance.

Other decorations represented in miniature a full air corps squadron, an army camp with all equipment, and a complete navy fleet of ships. The blue eagle with wings spread in a "V" which adorns the program-place cards was designed by Mrs. H. C. White, local artist, and were made by members of the junior class.

Miss Georgine Henson and H. C. White are faculty member sponsors for the junior class; Miss Velma Payne for the seniors.

Texan Among Injured In Sydney Hospital

By TOM YARBROUGH
SYDNEY, Australia, April 16. (AP)—In a big military hospital somewhere in Australia, more than 200 wounded United States and Filipino troops brought out of Manila on New Year's eve are recuperating for battles of another day.

Most of them bear wounds from bombs and machine-gun fire showered upon Manila's Clark and Nichols Fields in raids started shortly after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor.

Some were casualties in the land battles that pushed the first wave of invaders back into the sea off northern Luzon.

Among the wounded Americans is Charles Freeman of Canton, Ill., one of the war's first casualties.

He was in a machine-gun nest at 8 a. m. Dec. 9 at Nichols Field when sirens sounded an alarm and the whistle of bombs came simultaneously.

"I fell flat on my face and the first bomb hit about 20 feet away," he said today.

"I knew I was hit but in the noise and excitement I forgot about it until I tried to get up. Then I realized the lower part of one leg had been shattered. Now they've taken six bomb fragments out and I'll be walking in three or four months."

Oscar Black, 28, of Kilgore, Tex., said he owed his life to his wrist watch.

He was running toward his bomber at Clark Field at noon of Dec. 8 when he heard a bomb coming and tried to cover his head with his arms. "A bomb fragment hit the watch, wounding the arm and his head. Without the watch, he said, the wound would certainly have been fatal.

NAVY RELIEF
 Gray County's Quota $885

The local Navy Relief Committee is trying to raise this quota "without begging." It has only a short time to work and, therefore, must work quickly.

Movement 150 Years Old
 "Since the beginning of American history the men of our navy have banded together to assure that their families would be cared for in time of need. About 150 years ago, when a sailor on an American warship died, his shipmates gathered on deck and a hat was passed. The collection was sent to the dead man's widow, or to his mother, or to his children.

"Today we are engaged in a gigantic struggle for survival. Every man, woman, and child in this nation is affected by this war. Every man, woman, and child is pulling as one in a common cause. We are all members of a mighty crew that is sailing through the worst storm in the history of the world. On our way through this storm we are going to harpoon three sea-serpents—one with slant eyes, one with no hair, and one with a black mustache."

If you don't care for dancing, you needn't hold back on that account. Contributions will be accepted. We are trying to raise the quota as quickly as possible and we are asking the support of every person in Gray county.

25,000 Texans Are Natives Of Axis-Dominated Countries

By BRACK CURRY
 Associated Press Staff

Of the 234,388 foreign-born whites in Texas, more than 25,000 are natives of the European Axis—Germany and Italy. More than 20,000 are natives of Axis-dominated countries.

Next to Mexico, natives of Germany are most numerous among foreign-born whites in Texas, reports Director J. C. Capt of the Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce. Natives of conquered Czechoslovakia form the third largest group, numbering 9,171.

In a breakdown of census statistics released for publication for the first time, Director Capt revealed that 17,970 natives of Germany reside in Texas. Foreign-born Italians in Texas number 5,451.

Texas' good neighbor to the south, Mexico, contributed the largest number of foreign-born whites to the state's heterogeneous foreign-born population group, 159,266 being listed by the census enumerators.

Other big foreign-born white groups included 5,046 from England, 2,302 from the Irish Free State, 3,046 from Sweden, 3,681 from Poland, 5,104 from Russia, 1,773 from Greece, 1,686 from Syria and Palestine, and 3,754 from Canada.

Texas ranks 11th among the states in the number of foreign-born whites. Natives of 41 foreign nations—from Luxembourg to Cuba and from Australia to Wales—reside in Texas.

In the United States, the foreign born white population decreased 18.3 per cent between 1930 and 1940. On April 1, 1940, the foreign-born white population numbered 11,419,138, compared with 13,963,405 in 1930.

Natives of Italy were most numerous among the foreign-born whites in the United States, and natives of Germany formed the next largest group.

Natives of Germany, Russia, Italy and Canada numbered more than a million.

The urban population in Texas increased 21.8 per cent between 1930 and 1940 and the rural-nonfarm population increased 23.9 per cent, according to final data on population characteristics from the 1940 census.

Texas' rural-farm population decreased 8.3 per cent. The total rural population increased 2.9 per cent.

Most of the population in Texas in 1940 was white (85.5 per cent), the proportion being greatest in the rural-nonfarm areas and least in the rural-farm areas.

Negroes constituted 14.4 per cent of the population of the state.

The proportion of the total population living in urban areas increased from 41.0 per cent in 1930 to 45.4 per cent in 1940. During the same period the proportion in rural-nonfarm areas increased from 18.8 per cent to 21.1 per cent, while the proportion in rural-farm areas decreased from 40.2 per cent to 33.5 per cent.

The entire rural area, therefore, contained 54.6 per cent of the total population in 1940 compared with 59.0 per cent in 1930.

More than half of Texans aged 25 or over had completed at least eight years of school, the census report stated. The 1940 census returns also show that the median age of the residents of Texas was 26.8 in 1940, representing an increase of about three years over the median age of 1930. (The median age is that age which divides the population into two equal groups—one-half being older, and one-half younger, than the median.)

Of the 6,414,824 citizens in Texas, 3,861,721 are 21 years old or older, census data reveals.

The median age of Texans increased from 23.7 in 1930 to 26.8 in 1940. Aging of the population also is shown by the decrease in the percentage of the total population

Federation Day Observed By 20th Century At Lunch

Members of Twentieth Century club met at the Schneider hotel Tuesday at 1 o'clock for their annual spring luncheon.

The table was decorated with a triple arrangement of flowering peach, gladioli, ranunculus and white daisies in ruby glass bowls. Place cards carried out the spring flower theme.

Mrs. W. R. Campbell led the reading of the club collect after which she presented Mrs. I. B. Hughey, who was the club's delegate to the seventh district convention in Lubbock. Mrs. Hughey gave a report on the convention whose theme was "Education—Democracy's Victory".

Charles A. Guy of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal painted a dismal picture for the future of our nation. Mrs. Hughey pointed out the fact that some of us have seen the last of our own era of prosperity; an era of depression, he stated, will follow this war like none we have had before. But he predicted a rise in benefits, opportunities, and comforts for the underprivileged classes. It may take a hundred years—it may be a thousand, he added.

Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah, as vice-president elect for seventh district, spoke on the convention. Following this program, a brief business session was held. Members answered roll call by displaying and describing their hobbies. Mrs. Harrah, chairman of the fine arts committee, arranged the display.

Mrs. Hughey presented the gavil-in by the club for third place in American citizenship. She also mentioned that the yearbook placed fourth, the scrapbook, fourth, and a portrait entered in the fine arts exhibit by Mrs. Harrah won an honorable mention ribbon.

Mrs. Wagner, legislative committee chairman, asked that all, who have not done so already, write their congressman about the legislative measures now pending which the club is opposing. She also announced that the club will sponsor a county-wide observance of I Am An American Day, designated by President Roosevelt as the third Sunday in May.

At the conclusion of the meeting, a minute of silent prayer was observed for Mrs. Tom Rose, Sr., a charter member of Twentieth Century club, who is ill at her home.

Members attending the luncheon were Mmes. Paul Kaschke, Ivan Duncan, J. B. Massa, Roy McMillen, W. R. Campbell, Hol Wagner, F. L. Stallings, Ray Hagay, Clifton High, I. B. Hughey, Ray McKernan, Raymond W. Harrah, Roger McConnell, Clifford Brady, Jr., Joe Gordon, J. M. Fitzgerald, J. R. Breyer, Frank Culbertson, and Lester Bengel.

Principal Of Sam Houston Speaks At B.M. Baker P-TA

Principal Kenneth Carman of Sam Houston school, guest speaker, discussed "Home and School Cooperation" at the meeting of B. M. Baker Parent-Teacher association held Tuesday afternoon at the school when Mrs. Jeff Beard, president, presided.

"We must do more intelligent thinking during our present war crisis," Mr. Carman pointed out. "We should all beware of propaganda," he added. Mr. Carman discussed and illustrated seven devices that propagandists use. They are: Name-calling by implication; glittering generalities; transfer of device, as connecting articles with things we respect; testimony, as signing one's name; card stacking, as omitting the truth or telling only a small part of a fact; plain folks, making the article advertised or told about connected with ordinary people; and pseudo science.

To open the meeting the Rev. Newton Starnes of Harrah Methodist church gave the invocation, and the program chairman, Mrs. B. B. Hayes, introduced Ken Bennett and the Junior High school chorus which sang several numbers. Connie Clark gave her declamation which won second place in the city ward school contests.

During the business session, plans were made for pre-school mothers to be guests of the unit at the May meeting. Supt. L. L. Sone reported that the theme of the P-T-A. after discovery held at Panchanale was "Rediscovering the Home."

Mrs. J. P. Arrington's room won the attendance award.

How I Shall Spend The Summer Vacation
By Joyce Kinard

Everyone can build air castles though they often fall. This year mine is extra high. I am going to Old Mexico!

As we enter Mexico I will see the Mexican men with their large hats, and the women with shawls over their heads. The women will have babies on their backs.

When I go into the market I will see the beautiful pottery that I so often hear of. I will also taste the cactus candy that shall be filled to the top with flowers of all kinds and colors. Perhaps they will be rainbow colors of red, yellow, blue, orange, green and every other color.

Then I will visit the fiesta, where everybody dances, sings, and has all sorts of fun. One of the dances will be the "old man's dance." It shall be very funny.

I will also visit a ranch home. The peons shall be working around the house. I shall meet Juanita who will show me around. What she tells me will be very interesting.

Let us hope that this air castle does not fall as they often do!

Major Parten New Director Of Transportation Division Of OPC

By L. E. FASLEY
WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Texas, first in oil production, logically is furnishing many of the key figures handling petroleum problems for the government.

A Texan has just taken over the toughest assignment of the oil—director of the transportation division of the office of petroleum coordinator. Appointed to the post was Major Jubal R. Parten, Houston oil man and member of the board of regents of the University of Texas from 1935 to 1941.

His new task is to get the oil and gasoline from the production areas—principally Texas and Louisiana—to the east, and thereby solve on the one hand a problem of surpluses causing oil well shut-downs and on the other hand a shortage of fuel necessitating slowups and hardships on civilians.

An office suite has been established on the sixth floor of the new interior department building for Major Parten, who, incidentally, reached that rank in the field artillery during the last war. Under him are experts in the various fields of petroleum transportation—railroad tank cars, pipe lines, tanker ships, motor trucks, inland waterway barges.

For several weeks before he assumed his new post, Major Parten was here conferring with these and other experts in the petroleum industry. He was and still is a member of the joint tanker co-ordinating board set up for coordination of efforts by oil men, petroleum co-ordinator Harold Ickes and the maritime commission and navy department.

Major Parten and the transportation experts are in continual conference mapping out ways of meeting the crucial problem. Innumerable steps are proposed for getting oil to the east to replenish stocks fast dwindling since Axis submarines launched a concentrated attack on our tankers.

When Major Parten and his associates determine that some step would help overcome the eastern shortage, the matter is taken up with Ickes or the deputy co-ordinator, who directs orders to the industry or part of the industry directly concerned with that immediate proposal. As an example of this was the substitution of motor truck carriers for great numbers of railway tank cars formerly in use in the midwest. The trucks could adequately transport fuels shorter distances, leaving the long hauls to the Atlantic seaboard to the rail carriers.

A native of Madison county, Tex., Major Parten attended the University of Texas from 1913 to 1917. He went to an army officers training camp at Leon Springs, Texas.

Other Texans helping direct the petroleum phase of the war effort include:

Everette DeGolyer, Dallas, director of conservation, OPC, recognized as one of the nation's foremost scientists, DeGolyer recently was awarded the John Fritz gold medal "for his vision and leadership in developing and applying art of geophysical exploration to petroleum deposits." (The award is presented annually by the American Society of Civil Engineers, American Institute of Mining and Metallurgy, American Society of Mechanical Engineers, American Institute of Electrical Engineers.)

William Boyd of Teague, president of the American Petroleum Institute, who is chairman of the petroleum industry war council. The council was set up by Ickes and meets monthly here to discuss petroleum problems and chart a course for cooperation with the government to expedite the war effort.

William Huff, 46, a native of Waco, who is director of materials in the OPC. Huff came here from California, where he had been in the oil well supply business. He is in charge of the allocating of priorities for supplies needed for drilling and refining contractors.

Ralph Schiltz, formerly of Houston, assistant director of production. Although a young man—he appears to be about 30—Schiltz has a responsible post and participates in conferences of far-reaching importance to the oil industry.

The Texas Society of Washington is losing its hard-working secretary, Robert L. (Bob) Baldrige, Oilfield workers demand Dickie's matched shirts and pants because these superior garments have stood the severest tests of work and wear.

Probably more oilfield workers wear Dickie's than any other group. This speaks for itself. For there is hard, grueling work, and clothes must be good to stand up.

Of course Dickie's is made for workers of all occupations. And all alike enjoy the extra rest and wear, comfort, and neatness—in Dickie's!

Texas Gets Nine More Airfields

SAN ANTONIO, April 16 (AP)—By mid-summer Texas will have nine more airfields for training air crew members and pursuit pilots, Major General Hubert R. Harmon, commander of the Gulf Coast corps training center, announced today.

In trend with the heavier pressure for training of air crew members to man bombers, the army air force's most effective, long arm weapon, the training center announced additional schools for bombardiers will be activated at San Angelo, which already has a basic school, and Big Spring.

Advanced twin-engine pilot schools are planned for Lubbock and Waco, which already have training schools in operation. A new school for navigators is to be set up at Hondo. The center's only navigation school now is at Kelly field here. It will be transferred to Hondo when the station there is ready, it was announced. Kelly field also gives advanced pilot training.

Eagle Pass will get a school for advanced training of single-engine plane pilots.

Down on the coast where they will have the Gulf of Mexico to shoot into, pursuit plane gunners from the four single-engine schools will be trained on gunnery ranges at Matagorda Island and Matagorda peninsula.

Greenville will get a new basic flying school, making a total of seven of this type for the center, it was said. In basic schools aviation cadets get their first experience with military type aircraft.

There has been no addition to the list of civil elementary schools. It is expected that the 16 in operation will expand existing facilities.

Washington, April 16 (AP)—Byron Wilson or McKinney, Wyoming, special representative of the National Wool Growers association, said today that Robert R. Guthrie, former WPB official, was not familiar with the national wool situation.

Taking issue with Guthrie's statement yesterday before a senate committee that the nation was confronted with a wool shortage comparable with that in rubber, Wilson said in view of civilian restrictions there was no shortage of wool for the armed forces.

And because of increased civilian purchases and wool cuttings by manufacturers in the first three months of this year before the restrictions went into effect the first of this month, he said, civilians were not suffering from a lack of wool.

"Guthrie does not know the true wool situation," Wilson commented. "That is shown by his statement yesterday as well as by his previous testimony before a house committee."

"This statement that the wool shortage is similar to that in rubber is utterly ridiculous. There is no comparison between wool and rubber."

The army, Wilson asserted, "is getting deliveries on all the woolen goods it wants as fast as it wants them."

Jap Writes Chinese Tenant In L. A.

LOS ANGELES, April 16 (AP)—"Dear Mr. Stewart," the letter read.

"Please tell Mr. Wong to irrigate the celery at least once every five days if it fails to rain and to harvest the crop as soon as possible to prevent seeding."

It was George Nakamura, Japanese evacuee, sending instructions to his Chinese tenant, Sing Wong, with Farm Security administration agent, John Stewart, as the middle man.

Nakamura arranged for Wong's services before he was moved inland.

Take A Look At This Gift Horse

Before we break into huzzahs for the enlightened patriotism of the United Auto Workers, because of the pay concessions they have voted, let's consider the record.

Exactly what is it that is to be given up—and what does the U. A. W. propose to retain? What is the background against which the proffer was made?

The union is willing that its members should work 40 hours a week for the regular pay scale. If, in the effort to keep our national plant and equipment producing to capacity, this 40-hour basic week must include Sundays or holidays, the union will not require six days' pay for five days' work. That is concession Number One.

But if overtime actually is worked, the agreement does not waive penalty scales, ordinarily at time and a half. Rather, it is left that pay for all work over 40 hours a week shall be in government bonds.

Stripped of all extraneous, this means that the union will contract that its members shall purchase government bonds with everything they earn through overtime work on war production.

That is a fine, patriotic gesture, worthy of emulation by anybody whose income is above the subsistence level. For it the delegates representing 534,000 workers deserve congratulations, when and if the plan becomes effective.

To the extent that the treasury expects to have difficulty in marketing enough bonds to finance this war, the U. A. W. proposal is valuable. But only to that extent. For the effectuation of the plan is not going to save the United States a single dollar in the purchase of the material of war.

Exactly as many billions will be borrowed, to pay for the war, whether the bonds are bought by the U. A. W. membership with their overtime pay or by willing subscribers who know how badly their dollars are needed, and do not object to an interest rate rather liberal in these days.

These concessions have to be considered in the light of two things.

First that they are conditioned upon acceptance of a nine-point program which, sound and enlightened for the most part, is economically unworkable in at least one detail. The union demands both price control and wage increases. That won't work.

Second, the fact that the whole problem of overtime pay is one of cost, we can produce under the present pay scales. The men will work Sundays, holidays and nights at a price. So it isn't a matter of production primarily. The trouble is that even this rich nation is going to be hard-pressed by the size of the bill we are contracting in order to supply the entire anti-Axis world with food and weapons. The relatively small income waived by men whose normal shift includes Sundays, or an occasional holiday, doesn't scratch the surface of the real problem.

Let's look this gift horse in the mouth and see if he will prove worth his keep after we get him into the barn—if we do.

The Nation's Press

“POLITICS AS USUAL”
 (San Francisco Examiner)

Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, who is the Administration “whip” in the Senate and the President's chief legislative spokesman generally, says in an absurdly illogical document that Congress should sidetrack all labor legislation for the duration of the war.

Why should a vital matter to our war work as proper labor legislation be “sidetracked” while all other forms of legislation that have to do with the war are given the green light?

Why is it proper for Congress to regulate profits of industrialists and not the hours and pay of those who work in our industries?

Why is it proper for Congress to fix prices and not to fix hours and pay?

Why is it proper for Congress to raise taxes to the break-neck point and improper to tax labor what it shall do to win this vital war?

Why is it proper to conscript our youth to fight for us and wrong to issue orders that the making of implements to defend the lives of these youths shall not be left to the arbitrary actions of labor leaders?

Senator Barkley says that labor legislation now would tend to “disunite and divide our country.”

Would anything tend more quickly to “disunite and divide” the country than the creation of a class that is exempt from all orders to which the rest of the people gladly submit as soldiers in a mighty civilian army for victory?

Congress has shown over and over that it is ready to pass legislation that will order a forty-eight hour week in all war industries.

The people have shown by a constant bombardment of Senators and Representatives with letters and telegrams that it desires adequate labor legislation that will speed—that will double—the war output.

In the Gallup polls 63 per cent of those polled said they favored a forty-eight hour week and overtime only after the forty-eight hours had been worked.

Where, then, is the “disunion”?

Senator Barkley also says that this demand for labor legislation is “inspired.”

“Inspired” by whom?

Certainly not by Congress.

The “industrialists” of the country are taking their war-time responsibilities like patriots.

The unions—which, after all, constitute only about one-tenth of the total working population of the country—can do no less.

As to “inspiration,” Senator Barkley's insinuations could much better be applied to himself.

Common Ground

ROOSEVELT'S IDEAS ON PIECE WORK

People are beginning to see more every day the real ideas back of Roosevelt's New Deal. This is manifested in his statement to his press conference that he is opposed unalterably to piece work pay or bonuses.

This means, when properly analyzed, that Roosevelt would adopt practically the same economic system as exists in Russia—that people are not to be paid in proportion to what they produce. That is all piece work means. And if people are not to be paid in proportion to what they produce, then some people are not to get all they produce as determined by a free market, in order that some may get more than they produce. This is a degree of communism and nothing else.

Of course, it is natural for Roosevelt not to believe in piece-work basis because he never was a very big creator of wealth. His creations have been mostly discriminatory laws. So it is only natural for Roosevelt not to believe in piece work, since, if he were paid by the piece for what he produced, he would not get a living wage.

When he makes the statement that men can produce more in 48 hours than they can in 60 hours, without qualifying as to the nature of the work or the abilities of the men, he is talking as if all jobs were identical and all men were identical. In short, he is making statements that are not borne out at all by facts.

Of course, for some jobs 48 hours are too long and for some people 48 hours are too long, but for some jobs and for some people, 48 hours are not long enough. Each person should be his own judge as to the length of time he wants to work.

It is evident that the President has little conception of how wealth is produced and distributed, or he deliberately plans to socialize and make this government a collectivist state, as it is in Russia and Germany. It is time people awakened to realize where the Administration is leading the American people.

If he is against piece work—each man being paid in proportion to what he produces on a free market basis—then the only alternative is the government, or labor unions, will determine what each man shall get for each job.

No one has ever been able to point out the difference between this kind of a way of determining wages and the system that exists in Germany and Russia.

Correction on 40-Hour Week

In my article under Common Ground column, in which I said, “If non-defense industries were permitted to work more than 40 hours a week, then they would not require so many workers to produce the same amount of consumable goods,” etc. I should have qualified the statement by saying, more than 40 hours a week without extra pay.

It is almost inconceivable that people should be so confused about the 40 hours a week as to not understand that it is simply a requirement for a higher wage, after 40 hours a week.

Things that result in the same thing are in reality the same thing. Men cannot be employed more than 40 hours a week if they are getting all they produce in the first 40 hours. So the 40 hours a week, in reality, does limit the rest of the work to 40 hours unless the worker is willing to work for less than he is worth for the first 40 hours so that he can have more for the additional hours. But in no case can his average pay be more than what he produces, if he is to have a permanent job.

EXTRA HOURS OF PRODUCTION ALL CAN GO TO OUR SOLDIERS

What New Dealers and dreamers fail to recognize is that every additional hour of work that we can use makes it possible for the aggregate of this additional work to be used to help defeat the enemy and improve our living standards.

This is true because it takes a certain amount of our time to produce enough to support ourselves. Then, any additional production is all velvet. It can all be concentrated on winning the war.

We do not have to take any fraction of this additional production for our own sustenance. This is taken care of in the first forty hours of our week's work.

If we could increase production by limiting hours and raise our standards of living by working less, then the 40-hour week would be a blessing. But since all wealth comes from labor and the more we intelligently labor, the more we produce, then the sooner we show enough indignation and bring enough pressure to bear on the administration to repeal this, what might be called a crime law, the better off we will be. Yes, all the extra labor is velvet. Our soldiers are not demanding a 40-hour week. We are lazy cowards if we demand it. We are not doing our share, in spite of what Roosevelt and the union labor leaders contend.

and the Administration which he represents.

For the “inspiration” of the objection to labor legislation by Congress is found in one word—Politics.

There is an election looming next fall, and it is now apparent that, in order that the New Deal Party shall not antagonize labor leaders and factions, it is quite willing to keep down war production to the danger-line.

Labor, the people and the “industrialists” have given a vigorous yes to general unity and to great sacrifices.

If there is any slack in war production—and Donald Nelson, chairman of the War Production Board has said there is—it comes from Senator Barkley and the other Administration politicians, whose slogan seems to be—to paraphrase Attorney General Biddle—“politics as usual.”

MR. FORD KNOWS A GOOD MAN

(Chicago Tribune)

Henry Ford knows a good man when he sees one. He has offered Col. Lindbergh a job in the engineering department of the huge Willow Run bomber plant which, when it reaches full capacity, will turn out more four motored bombers than are being built in the whole country today. Col. Lindbergh offered his services to the war department in January. He was accepted as a volunteer but was given little or nothing to do and the department has now approved his joining the Ford organization. To have done otherwise would have left the war department with even more explaining to do than it already faces for its failure to use the nation's leading aviator in our hour of peril.

THIS SPRING

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, April 16—Some of his friends are worried about William the erstwhile Wild Bill Wellman. He's so briske and businesslike and so hard to work on another day picture, “Thunderbirds,” that he doesn't seem to care about playing jokes any more. And he's even getting along amicably with studio executives.

The lean, sardonic and utterly honest director used to be a sworn enemy of producers, supervisors and other brass hats. And he never was too frazzled or too busy to provide entertainment for the company. He would tell racy stories, recite dubious verse, bark at pretty girls, shoot out light bulbs with a slingshot, and rib the stars.

He still picks on stars and other celebrities, believing that they do better work when deflated and put on their mettle. “Darling,” he'll say to a stenographer, “why don't you take up stenography or something? Why do you keep on imposing on competent secretaries and actresses, and on the good nature of directors? Look at me; I didn't have a gray hair in my head until I started working with you three weeks ago.” (Wellman has been grizzled for 29 years.)

BROKE HIS BACK

Admitting that he's a little more subdued than usual, his closest friends explain that Wild Bill is sobered by thoughts of the war and by his contacts with student pilots at the air training centers around Phoenix, where he took the “Thunderbirds” company for three weeks of filming. Wellman ran away from home during World War I, joined an ambulance unit to get across, went into the Foreign Legion, transferred to the French air corps, won a Croix de Guerre with five palms, five citations, assorted bullet wounds and a broken back. He recovered, to help train pilots after he was invalided home.

Although he looks hard as nails, Wellman now has arthritis. When I found him sulking on the set he explained he had dropped in on an army doctor to learn his chances of getting something to do in the service. And the doctor had offered to send him home in a taxi cab!

He has a plan, though, along with the conviction that arthritis is nothing but a case of nerves. After finishing his next picture some time in July, Wellman expects to take four months for rest and recovery; and then he's going into the army somehow, and anywhere.

His next picture, incidentally, will be “The Orzow Incident,” which he has been trying to get ever since its publication. Darryl Zanuck bought it for his direction, and that is indicative of Wellman's more cordial relations with his nominal bosses lately.

KEPLUNK ON THE DOME

Wellman can be the sort of sound-stage autocrat who chases studio heads off his sets. When hints don't work he can use more direct means—like the time when he was making “Wild Boys of the Road” at Warners and conducting a feud with Producer Sam Bischoff. One day the latter strolled on an outdoor set which included a freight train topped by a bunch of young hoboes munching stolen watermelons.

The director climbed on a car and dropped an overripe melon squarely on the producer's head. Scampering away while the boss was still spluttering and wiping his eyes, Wellman assembled the snickering company and gave ‘em fits.

“That was not only a crude and disrespectful joke,” he concluded, “but it was also dangerous. Why that watermelon might have broken Mr. Bischoff's precious neck!”

Five Years Ago Today

“Empty” nitroglycerine cans were a menace here. Chief of Police Art Hunt and his men destroyed 30 of the cans, the explosives ripping up holes six feet in diameter. There were 34 other “empty” cans still unaccounted for. Toys had found the explosives at an abandoned magazine dump east of the city.

Mrs. Will Locke of Miami, mother of Dare Locke, 14-year-old boy who won his weight in the tournament of champions recently, has never seen her son box. She's afraid he would get whipped and she wouldn't want to see that. But she admits that she ought to have attended the tournament here.

Speaking of Lockes, Mrs. Douglas B. Stone, formerly Miss Dona Locke of Miami, is an army widow now, despite the fact that she has two small sons. Doug, who works in a bank in Portales, was a reserve officer in the National Guard, and he was called to service about six weeks ago. His wife and sons visited her mother, Mrs. Agatha Locke, at Miami recently. Doug is stationed in Kentucky. Mrs. Stone formerly taught English in Panhandle high school.

THE LAW OF PRECEDENCE

Peace! Peace! Some day we shall hear the glad tidings resounding the wide world over, that again peace has been declared. God has so arranged it, and we should be very grateful, for man, try as he may, is unable to destroy or change the laws of nature. Therefore, let us be assured, that the day following this declaration of peace, the sun will still shine, crops will spring forth in the fields and grow, flowers will bloom and man will still be in possession of all the resources of the world.

Although we will still possess all of these resources we shall still be faced with the gigantic problem of making them available to all of the world's people.

After world war I and all previous major wars, there followed depressions. We are all well aware that after the first world war there followed a tremendous depression causing thousands of people to suffer from lack of the common comforts of life. Since these depressions have followed all previous wars, it is no wonder that most people have come to the definite conclusion that there will surely be a depression following this war of much greater proportions than any previous one. Therefore, if we all have it definitely fixed in our minds that there is going to be such a depression, there is every probability that one will come. And, right here is the only reason why we are very likely to have this dreaded era of want thrown upon us and that is; by our unconditional surrender to the laws of precedence.

Now let us view some of the things that have happened and that can be made to happen that will make it possible to avert this post-war depression that so many expect.

The first and foremost thought that comes to me is this: we all know that we of these good “United States of America” have enjoyed a standard of living comparable to that of no other country on earth. To accept this standard as having been sufficient, and to be content with holding it at the highest level so far attained will eventually mean a downward trend in our way of living, for nothing remains static. This being an established fact, then we must continue upward in order never ending struggle in order to raise our standards of living.

But let us not be selfish in our undertakings, but rather let us use all our influence and resourcefulness to bring the standard of living of all the world's people up to an equality with our own. Let us imagine the world boom which we all could enjoy, if following this war all of the countries of the world, Asia, Africa, Europe, North and South America and all the other countries of the world would proceed to establish in each of their lands a populace endowed with churches, schools, highways, automobiles, radios and all the other things which we have here in America. It is not foolish to think that this can be done, but it is foolish to think that it can't and therefore fail to bring it about.

We do not have a monopoly on the world's resources and brain power. God in His infinite wisdom distributed these treasures very liberally among the various countries of the world so that man must make exchanges with his neighbors in order that we may all have our equitable share of the world's goods.

WAR is funny business. . . . Three months ago the Japs were bombing out of Manila in the Philippines and the Americans were hiding. . . . Yesterday the Americans bombed out of Manila in the Philippines and the Japs were hiding. . . . Doesn't make sense, does it? . . . You've got to hand it to the Royal Air Force. . . . In case you hadn't noticed it, RAF fliers are doing a neat bit of continuous bombing of German-occupied Europe these days and nights. . . . They are doing what Hitler couldn't do. . . . He tried a mass daylight bombing of England one day and the Britons had a field day shooting down Nazi planes to the tune of about 185 of them in 12 hours. . . . Hitler didn't try it again. . . . But the RAF has been going over daily in daylight to bomb factories and military installations in the Nazi held zones for the past three weeks. . . . Maybe you can't do business with Hitler, but Hitler is finding out that he can't do business with the Allies, either.

Have you chipped in your share to the Navy Relief Fund yet? . . . Pampa's quota is around $900 and it has to be raised by May 1. . . . You can buy tickets for the Navy Relief dance tonight or you can make an outright donation. . . . In case you would rather do the latter, sit down now and send your money or check to the Navy Relief Society in care of The Pampa News. . . . The Navy Relief Society belongs to the Navy and is one of its most cherished possessions. . . . It is not new. . . . It was organized 40 years ago by the Navy and within the Navy to look after the Navy's own. . . . Now it needs help. . . . The purpose behind the Society simply this: . . . No widow, no orphaned children, no mother or other member of the Navy man's family shall suffer hardship if it can be prevented. . . . Pretty good excuse for existing, isn't it?

YOU have heard a score of rumors, probably, about “something” going to locate in or near Pampa. Suffice it to say that nothing definite has developed. . . . Most of the rumors you have heard are without foundation. . . . When the time comes, if any, will be made officially by your Uncle Sam through the proper channels. . . . Meanwhile, you should check any rumors of a dignified brush-off. . . . The man who is telling you something “confidentially” nine times out of ten doesn't know any more about it than you do. . . . Marie Frazier's dog, “Scotty,” is rough and tumble canine, is back at the Frazier home after a three-month absence. . . . “Scotty” appears to have been on a long trip. . . . He's a little battered with evidence of some sturdy battling, his harness is gone and his collar is a singular blue color. . . . He's darned glad to get back. Miss Frazier reports.

Regardless of how well they're cooked, good steaks are rare. . . . But we sat down and savored a honey of a steak last night, prepared by Mrs. Herman Kreiger. . . . Noise is a racket made by everybody while you are phoning. . . . It's pretty doggone hard right now for a man to find a place on this earth where he can go to get away from it all. . . . Chicago divorcees are equaling the number of marriages. Love is evidently finding a way-out! . . . About all that comes to him who waits is a request to move on.

YOU read yesterday that Pampa's Don Conley, safety personnel director of the Cabot Companies, has been elected vice-chairman of the Texas Safety conference. . . . That is a singular honor which Mr. Conley brings to Pampa and a tribute to his work in Texas safety circles. . . . Here in Pampa we have long known of his activities directed to safety development, and Pampa, of course, is proud that he has now been given statewide recognition for a mighty fine public service. . . . Without question, Don Conley is one of Texas' outstanding safety experts.

Behind The News In Washington

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON, April 16—The legal maze of 1,750,000 state laws plus 100,000 court decisions interpreting those laws plus tens of thousands of municipal ordinances now on the statute books of these United States comprise one of the country's worst obstacles to successful carrying out of the war production effort. Realization of that fact is becoming clearer daily as the war-time economy of scarcity pinches tighter on every phase of trade and as national business on an interstate basis increases in volume.

Every artificial barrier on commerce hampers the war effort. Conflicting state and municipal laws which restrict labor and services, agriculture and marketing, construction and transportation comprise the principal obstacles to war production, and at the present time there is apparently only one possible source of relief. The president does his duty as the war-time administrator by designating any area a control zone in which martial law may be declared and local laws suspended.

That is a pretty drastic remedy, and it is therefore unlikely that it would be applied in any general way which relieves the situation. It has been used on the Pacific coast to facilitate the control and movement of enemy aliens from defense areas, and in that application there has been no objection. But if this federal suspension of non-federal laws were to become general, it is certain that it would raise a tremendous howl from all the advocates of states' rights and local self-government.

BUILDING CODE BUGABOO

To get some conception of how these local restrictions hamper the defense effort, consider the field of construction. Every state and municipality has its building code, and these codes vary widely. The weights of steel girders, the plumbing codes, the electrical codes, the prohibitions against pre-fabricated housing—all these differ in practically all communities. Today, the supply of many basic materials is limited, that construction for practical defense purposes is practically prohibited where the codes inflexibly require the use of critical materials, even though technically approved substitutes are available in unlimited quantities.

If decision is made to locate a war production plant and its accompanying housing project in some given area, consideration must be given to the local building code. If requirements of the code are not met, they call for the use of more critical building materials than in some other state, the chances are that the project may have to be given to the second location, even though it is less desirable from the point of view of production and transportation facilities, and so on.

The only alternative is to have the first community change its building code to permit, say, the use of pre-fabricated building units. All too often local politics and pressure from supply contractor, or labor lobby groups make this impossible. The result is that the war production effort is impeded.

State and local restrictions on labor and services form another obstacle. If the army and navy ultimately require 10 million men and if it takes eight industrial workers for every man at the front, that means 80 million workers will be needed to man the machines.

ANTI-MIGRANT LAWS IMPEDE DEFENSE

Twenty-seven states now have anti-migratory labor laws restricting the movement of other states from moving in to take jobs. Nevertheless, some labor surveys have estimated that four million or more workers will have to be moved from their pre-war homes to man war production factories in other states. The states which have anti-migratory labor laws are simply blocking the free movement of workers to areas where their services might be more effective.

In meeting the labor supply shortages, it has become increasingly apparent that women and children from 17 to 21 must replace manning. Twenty-two states now have legislation restricting the employment of women and children in the 17 to 21 age limit. Massachusetts has already suspended such laws to permit women to work in textile mills after 6 p. m. Other states may have to take similar action on their respective regulations of this character.

All states have licensing laws which curtail the supply of qualified doctors, nurses, engineers, contractors, and in some states plumbers, electricians, and even beauticians. With shortages developing in the professions and skilled trades some of these restrictions, too, may have to be lowered for the war. New York has already modified its nursing standards law.

WASHINGTON LEGAL HEADACHE

State legislatures pass approximately 12,000 new laws every year. . . . All the state laws now in force fill a law book of over 500 pages. . . . It is being assembled by the Marketing Laws Survey unit in the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce in the department of commerce, Washington. . . . There is no one in the United States who is familiar with all these laws, many now in force. . . . Among the restrictions which affect war production are regulations on: Who can enter trade, licensing, approval of products, limitations on sales, trade and brand names, patents and copyrights, transportation, storage, pricing, resale price control, anti-trust regulation, interstate trade taxation, food and drug laws, inspection laws, labeling and packaging, financing and securities.

SERIAL STORY

FRANTIC WEEKEND

BY EDMUND FANCOTT

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Returning on a train to Montreal from a weekend vacation, Myra Mack, a plain, likeable young stenographer, strikes up conversation with a Canadian Lieutenant. Their introduction is mutual admiration of a pretty girl on the station platform.

CHAPTER II

"I KNOW where I've seen you!" said the soldier suddenly, snapping his fingers as his memory obeyed him. "You're the girl Ferdy Lorton painted, against a background of Laurentian hills."

Myra stared at him. "Don't tell me you know Ferdy?" "I do. He's a great friend of mine."

Myra nodded. "It doesn't surprise me. He's a great friend of most every man in Montreal."

"I'd better introduce myself. Nigel Monkhouse, lieutenant Royal Canadian Artillery. I saw your picture first in the Spring Exhibition."

"Luckily most of my friends didn't recognize me," said Myra. "I'd never have lived it down. He had a crazy idea that there was some relation between all those bumps and hills in the Laurentians and my face."

"Ferdy thinks the world of you." "In a purely platonic way, of course," said Myra. "Now if you really want to meet that rhapsody in blue, he is the man to help you."

He not only knows every man in town, but sooner or later he seems to meet all the prettiest girls."

Lieutenant Nigel Monkhouse puffed at his cigaret. He nodded slowly. "It gets me. I don't know how he does it. With that sandy hair and that grin of his, I suppose. He's not tall, he's not dark, he's not even handsome, he looks at times as though he slept out all night on the tiles, and yet he always seems to have a pretty girl or two in love with him. There should be hope for me."

He said it half humorously but Myra took him up. "I doubt it," she said. "You're a nice enough boy, but you've got no nerve. The ones that speak to me like you did are always the ones that would run a mile before speaking to a girl like Blue Hat on the station."

Nigel Monkhouse blushed and grinned. "Well there's something so comfortable about you . . . no nonsense and all that sort of thing."

Myra shook her head without the flicker of a smile on her face. "No. That's not it. I know your type. You look at a pretty face and fall for it and it frightens you so much you rush right into the arms of a motherly sort to tell her all about it. But that's the way it goes. You pay for your weaknesses in this world. Here we are at Montreal West and you could have been sitting with the redhead all this while in an aura of ecstasy, instead of with a deadpan like mine. That is if you'd had enough nerve."

There the incident might have ended. The conversation made the rest of the journey to Montreal go very quickly. Myra said a quick farewell to Lieutenant Monkhouse on the station platform and made her way to St. James Street and the office.

THE offices of Consolidated Steel were even more busy than usual with war work and Myra was soon plunged into the Monday thick of it. She was secretary to Mr. Macallum and the more his work grew the more hers increased. By eleven o'clock she had forgotten about the girl at the station and the shy young officer in the train. In fact she had forgotten all about the weekend by noon and it seemed as though she had never done anything but work.

In the outer office Myra saw Miss Blue Hat at a desk and crossed to her. "I saw you on the platform at Lakeside this morning."

But two interesting things intruded into the busy morning. Her young sister telephoned to say that her brother had arrived home suddenly from England. That was important news. He was Myra's favorite brother and had been overseas with the First Canadian Division since the first sailing; his return was unexpected. But apparently he had been commissioned in England and was one of a number of officers sent back for posting to the Third Division.

The other thing that happened was not so important. "Miss Mack!" Mr. Macallum's voice startled her from a steep stack of papers she was sorting. "I want you to slip over to Ransom's, the stockbroker! I want you to hand this to him personally. It is very important, and I want it to get to him quickly."

He handed her a bulky envelope and in a few minutes she was out in St. James Street wondering how so many people managed to find time to walk about while she was spending all her days at a desk. It was quiet in the stockbroker's office and she was told to go straight through to Mr. Ransom's office. As she reached the door it opened and she bumped right into the girl who was coming out. She gasped and the girl gasped, then the girl apologized but Myra only stared. Miss Blue Hat—the girl on the station platform.

MYRA went first and delivered her envelope. Mr. Ransom asked her to wait outside for a return envelope which would be ready in a minute. In the outer office she saw the girl at a desk and crossed to her. "Sorry I banged into you so hard just now."

The girl smiled and Myra noticed that her eyes were a clear blue green. "That's all right. It was my fault."

Myra shook her head. "I saw you on the platform at Lakeside this morning."

"I remember," said the girl. "You were with that tall officer."

"Not exactly," said Myra, "but it seemed to work out that way because we were talking of you."

The girl blushed and Myra put that down to the credit side. She continued. "He thought you were the answer to a soldier's dream but I decided you weren't interested in men."

The girl looked up in surprise. "Why not?" she said frankly. "Myra wrinkled her nose and looked down at the picture face. A faint mist of freckles added definite attraction to the short nose."

"Why not?" echoed Myra slowly. "Well, if you ask me, I should say you make up to compete with women rather than to interest men."

A smile flickered for a moment on the girl's face. "You might explain."

"Simple," said Myra. "Look at your lips and your eyes. If you had a face like mine you'd need twice as much as that, but with a face like yours you need about a quarter of it."

There was no time to say any more because a boy had brought an envelope to Myra who smiled a farewell to the girl and moved to the door.

The girl watched her go with a faint smile playing about her lips. Then Mr. Ransom came out of his office and crossed to her. "Well, Myra," he said to his daughter, "what does an office feel like after the hectic life?"

"Not so bad," she smiled up at him. "One meets as many strange people here as anywhere else. Who was that girl who came in just now?"

'Red' Phillips Claims CCC Sent Many Boys To State Reformatory

WASHINGTON, April 16 (AP)—Gov. Leon C. Phillips of Oklahoma told senators today that "a great majority" of first term prisoners in his state's Granite reformatory were former Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees, and recommended abolition of that organization and the National Youth Administration.

Chairman Thomas (D-Utah) of the senate labor committee immediately informed Phillips he would communicate with the appropriate authorities and recommended that NYA and CCC aid be withdrawn from Oklahoma.

The red haired, cigar chewing governor told the committee that both NYA and CCC were "poison to our boys." He declared it was impossible for a farmer to get a full day's work from a youth who had spent one or two enlistments in a CCC camp.

Thomas declared Phillips' statement was "the most startling and interesting we've heard since NYA was established."

The Oklahoma governor, apparently unperturbed by Thomas' announced move toward withdrawal of federal youth aid money from his state, declared that if the senator would also see to it that the money were replaced with funds for vocational agricultural training, "I'd be the best friend Oklahoma ever had."

FUNNY BUSINESS

"These invitations to my tea are printed beautifully—now—'A. P. S.—Bring your own sugar!'"

Phillips said that he had drawn his conclusions from talks with young prisoners in Granite reformatory who had applied for clemency.

"A great majority of the young fellows in Granite reformatory are former enrollees of CCC camps,"
