Conferences Over Berlin Are Resumed

MOSCOW (AP)—The Western envoys met yesterday with Foreign Minister V.M. Molotov possibly to receive final Russian word on proposals for settling the Berlin crisis.

The usual secrecy surrounded the session—the 11th in the Kremlin on East-West differences in the past 51 days and the second last week.

U.S. Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith told newsmen after Saturday's talks.

"The three Western envoys had a delightful hour and 30-minute talk with Mr. Molotov. I have no comment."

Smith said he stayed behind at the Kremlin for a five-minute talk with Molotov. He said it was on a "purely Soviet-American matter" but would not divulge its nature.

He would not say whether the meetings were at an end or would be continued.

Special British Envoy Frank Roberts and French Ambassador Yves Chataigneau met with Smith in the U.S. Embassy after the meeting. Then they filed reports to their home governments—the usual procedure.

A meeting last Tuesday was the first with Molotov since Aug. 30 when the four negotiators reached agreement in principle on establishing a Soviet mark as the only currency for Berlin.

Details were passed on to the four military governors in Berlin. The governors conferred seven times, then reported to their governments without reaching any agreement.

The Western envoys were believed to have tried to bring the negotiations to a climax Tuesday. They sought either to reach agreement and refer the entire Berlin and German question to a meeting of the council of Foreign Ministers in Paris or, failing of agreement, to end the talks for the present.

Sternists Arrested, Charged In Death of U.N. Mediator

ASSASSINATED—This is an unusual character study of Count Folke Bernadotte, United Nations mediator for the Jewish-Arab dispute over Palestine, who was shot and killed in Jerusalem. (NEA Telephoto).

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—The Israeli government announced last night that its intensive manhunt for the assassins of Count Folke Bernadotte resulted in the arrest of "some of the supposed leaders of the Stern Gang."

The government has charged the Sternists, a Jewish extremist group, with the slaying of the United Nations mediator and his French aide, Col. Andre Serot, in the Jewish part of Jerusalem, Friday.

Israeli authorities began moving Jewish troops into position in the fear that the shooting down of Bernadotte and Serot might be followed by a full-scale war with the Arabs.

The Israeli announcement said more than 200 arrests have been made in a considerable quantity of arms, the announcement said. Fifty arrests were made in other portions of Israel, including 40 in the Tel Aviv area.

A spokesman said the Israeli Army has invited members of the U.N. staff who witnessed the assassinations to view a parade of suspects that may be held today.

Jews were called upon to rise and track down the "traitors in our midst" and the "criminal gang responsible for the slayings. All roads into Jerusalem were closed. No departures were allowed from Israeli airfields, and all harbors in order to prevent suspects from slipping out of the country.

Meanwhile, high U.N. officials in Haifa disclosed that an international commission may be sent to the Security Council in Paris calling for the creation of a 6000-man international army.

Such a force, the informants said, is the minimum now believed to be required for the job of compelling Jews and Arabs to accept the authority of the U.N. over the Holy City.

They said Bernadotte, in an abortive attempt to persuade the warring sides to demilitarize Jerusalem two months ago, had in mind an international force of 2500 to 3000 to garrison Jerusalem. Fierce battles which since have taken place during the "shooting truce" were said to have convinced him before his death that he had greatly underestimated the military pressure which would have to be applied.

One veteran of the U.N. mission to Palestine said the assassination of Bernadotte "may finally open up the eyes of the world powers" (See STERN, Page 2)

CC Banquet Takes Form Of Carnival

A full evening of carnival-type entertainment will be provided at the annual Gray-Roberts Counties teachers banquet, which is to be held at the High School cafeteria a week from Tuesday night, Jack Sullivan, program chairman, said.

"The committee is making every effort to make this year's meeting the best of its kind," Sullivan said.

Approximately 450 are expected to attend the banquet. About 350 teachers and their wives or husbands will attend and approximately 100 local business people will be the official hosts.

The banquet has become an annual expectation for both the teachers and businessmen, Sullivan said. After the banquets, hundreds of letters are sent to the Chamber of Commerce by the teachers in expressing their gratification.

One of the typical letters sent last year was from E. R. Reeves, superintendent of the Lefors public schools. It read:

"May I take this means of expressing to the members of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce my sincere appreciation for the recent entertainment given for the Gray-Roberts County teachers. It was a thoroughly enjoyable affair and one of the best programs ever produced by your group. We appreciate the gesture very much. It makes teaching much more enjoyable when one is shown that his efforts are appreciated, especially by a group of businessmen."

CHILD IS DROWNED IN STOCK TANK

The life of 19-month-old Tommy Anderwald, Jr., Kingsmill, was snuffed out late Saturday afternoon when he was accidentally drowned in a stock tank near his home.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Anderwald, said the child had been playing around the house and was missing from sight for about 20 minutes.

When they went to look for him they found the baby sprawled at the bottom of the stock watering tank—apparently dead.

Tommy was pulled out of the tank about 4:35 p. m. and rushed to Pampa Fire Station where firemen and a local physician worked over him for 30 minutes, but the child failed to respond to treatment.

Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at the White Deer Catholic Church. Burial will be at cemetery at White Deer. Arrangements are by Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Surviving besides the parents are one sister, Caroline, and one brother, Robert; the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Florian Haiduk, White Deer.

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne and attendants at Duenkel-Carmichael said they didn't know how the child fell in the tank. The parents were also in the dark on how their baby fell into the tank.

Republican Against FEPC

AUSTIN (AP)—H. J. (Jack) Porter, Republican U. S. senator from Texas, announced a platform opposing President Truman's civil rights program or weakening of the Taft-Hartley Act.

Porter called for decentralization of the federal government and said he favored "the evicting of Washington of all left wingers including Harry Truman, Lyndon Johnson and any others who have been hobnobbing and working with Communist elements and fellow travelers."

The Houston oilman expressed opposition to the proposed medicine for the socialization of any other profession or industry.

"I am opposed to federal control of the oil industry or any other industry," Porter said in a prepared statement.

He promised to work for an intelligent approach to the nation's food supply problem and to support an adequate soil conservation program.

"As your senator, I will unalterably oppose the enactment of any of the so-called civil rights program by the national Congress," Porter said, adding that such proposals should be handled by the individual states.

"The FEPC which was conceived in Moscow and from the lower East Side of New York, is the most Communist and Socialist piece of legislation that has been proposed during the past sixteen years," Porter continued.

Thirsty Thieves Take 14 Cases of Beer in Breakin

Somebody was thirsty for a few suds, and also saw possibility of cashing in for a little extra on the side from sale of the left-overs.

At least that's what City Police thought when they investigated a break-in at the Lone Star Beverage Company Saturday morning.

Some time during Friday night or early Saturday morning, thirsty thieves prised open the rear door of the company's warehouse at 213 E. Tyng and got away with 14 cases of lager. Each of the cases held 12 cans. Police said an automobile was used in the getaway.

Texas Draft Quota Listed

Although Texas Selective Service Boards were called on to furnish 60 men through the draft for November, the office of Local Board 52 said they had not received their quota.

According to the Associated Press dispatch yesterday, U.S. Selective Service asked Texas to route 1,400 through pre-induction physical examinations in October. The statement was attributed by the AP to Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, assistant Selective Service director.

A 40 percent turn down is anticipated. Schwartz said details of the first call had not been worked out.

Up until mid-afternoon Saturday 2,553 men had been registered through the various offices of Local Board 52. Of these 441 have been sent, or will be sent, questionnaires.

Yesterday was the last day for registration dates in the draft board offices.

Beginning Monday youths attaining their 18th birthday will have to register not later than five days after their birthdays. Offices for Local Board 52 are in Pampa, McLean, Miami, Wheeler, and Claydon.

Turner Kirby Is Said Improving

Turner Kirby, 43, of Jericho, son of former County Commissioner Tom Kirby, was reported improving "very well" in a Dallas hospital following an accident near Hereford on Labor Day while enroute to the L. A. & O. DeLano in Clovis, N. M.

Kirby was critically injured when he failed to pass a cattle truck and collided with the truck's rear. He was taken to DeWitt Smith County Hospital in an unconscious condition. He was later moved to Dallas.

Tom Kirby, father of the man, told friends in Pampa yesterday that his son was improving very nicely.

MANAGER OF KRIG ODESSA

ODESSA (AP)—J. N. McKean, editor and publisher of the Odessa American until the paper was sold last month, has become manager of Radio Station KRIG.

Week Set for Aid To Handicapped

Oct. 30 has been designated "Employ the Physically Handicapped Week." L. P. Fort, local manager of the Texas Employment Commission, said yesterday.

The Employment Commission would like to know of each handicapped person in Gray, Wheeler, Hemphill and Roberts Counties, who is unemployed in order to give the names to organizations sponsoring the week.

"The special week will probably be sponsored by the DAV, VFW clubs and other service organizations," Fort said. "The purpose is to find and help employ all people, veterans and non-veterans, who are physically unable to compete in the labor market."

Jack Graham, veterans' county service officer, said that all possible assistance would be given to assist veterans. His office hours are 12:30-7:30 p. m. in the VFW-American Legion Hall.

Scuddy Services Tomorrow at 2

Funeral services for J. Arthur Scuddy, who died in his room at the American Court Thursday afternoon, will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the Duenkel-Carmichael Chapel.

The Rev. Thurman Morgan, First Christian Church, will officiate.

CHARITY PAYS OFF—Mrs. Jean Geis Brehm, 19, above, a Chicago waitress, may inherit $35,000 left to her by a former "boom" for whom she paid an 85-cent meal check out of her own pocket on Christmas Eve, 1946. The destitute tramp went to New York and made a half million dollars. He died recently, leaving Jean the legacy as a testimonial of his gratitude.

DEWEY OFF ON TOUR OF WEST COAST

By the Associated Press

President Truman opened his drive for the farmers' vote by telling an Iowa through that "Wall Street reactionaries" and "Republican gluttons of privilege" are out to beat down farm prices and strip away farm benefits.

The Republican Congress, he said, "has already struck a pitchfork in the farmer's back."

The Democratic presidential nominee spoke to a crowd at the National Plowing Contest at Dexter, Iowa.

Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican candidate, was headed for Iowa today. He will deliver a major speech at Des Moines tomorrow night. Both major party candidates have laid out cross-country stumping tours that will take them to the Pacific Coast and back.

Time and again in his Dexter speech, Mr. Truman referred to the Republicans as "gluttons of privilege." A farmer once himself, he rared back and talked to his predominantly rural audience in corn-crib language.

He told them that Congress gave a speculative grain trader a "rake-off at your expense."

The Iowa farm folks stood and sat in the hot Midwestern sunshine to hear the President.

"Your best protection," he told them, "is to elect a Democratic Congress and a President that will play fair with the farmer."

The Iowa farm folks stood and sat in the hot Midwestern sunshine to hear the President.

"Your best protection," he told them, "is to elect a Democratic Congress and a President that will play fair with the farmer."

He arranged to spend Sunday in Independence, Mo., his old home town, and leave tonight for Denver, where he is to make another major speech tomorrow. Mrs. Truman and her daughter, Margaret, are with him on the Western trip.

Governor Dewey sets out from Albany tonight. His Des Moines address is expected to deal not only with farming, but with domestic and foreign problems. (See DEWEY, Page 3)

South Told by South It Must Change Its Ways

ATLANTA (AP)—An influential group of Southern educators told the South the time has come to change its ways, but fast.

The group, the Executive Committee of the Southern Regional Council also charged the region's politicians with "grossly" misrepresenting proposed civil rights legislation.

It told the South that states' rights means states' responsibilities and the rest of the nation was unconvinced that Southern states have exhibited any.

Across the long list of accusations that the South has misinterpreted Negroes, the committee wrote grimly:

It told the South to cool its hot head a bit and to tell the rest of the nation to withhold its blanket condemnation as a price of listening to reason.

The Southern Regional Council is a non-political, non-profit organization made up of Southern educators, civic leaders, news-papern, professional men, church leaders of both the white and Negro races.

Chamber to Plan Membership Drive

Plans for the fall Chamber of Commerce membership drive will be completed at a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors-Membership Committee luncheon meeting tomorrow at the Court House Cafe. Joe F. Key, president, said yesterday.

All new business concerns in Pampa will be contacted for membership.

Top o' Texas Fair Plans Complete, Judges Selected

Final arrangements for the Top o' Texas Fair, which is to be held at Recreation Park between 2-11 p. m. Wednesday through Saturday, have been nearly completed, H. B. Taylor, Jr., Executive Directors Committee chairman, said yesterday.

W. H. Upchurch of Canyon has been selected to judge the agricultural division of the fair, Ralph Thomas, county agent and member of the fair's Executive Directors Committee, said.

Upchurch was formerly Randall County agent and has served as judge for many events.

In the women's division of the fair, Miss Dorothy Crosslin, Hutchinson County home demonstration agent, will judge the clothing and handwork. She will be assisted by two Hutchinson County home demonstration workers.

Mrs. Emma Hastings, Wheeler County home demonstrator, will be assisted by two Wheeler County women in judging home furnishings. Mrs. Austin Armstrong home demonstration agent, also will be assisted by two women from her county in judging canned and baked products. Other judges are yet to be selected. Mrs. Mary Ann Duke, Gray County home demonstrator and Executive Directors Committee member, said.

A full schedule of events has been planned for the kid pony show which is to be held Thursday night under the direction of the Pampa Hopping Club. The main event will be the performance class for the ponies and their riders. Contestants will be divided into four-groups according to the ages of the riders.

Additional events in the kid pony show will include a flag race for boys between the ages of 5 and 10 years, a doughnut race for girls in the same age group, sail sailing for boys 11-16 and a tournament race for girls in the older bracket.

Winding up the performance will be a bull fight for both boys and girls between the ages of 5-10 years. A calf with several dollar bills fastened to its legs will be turned loose in the arena and the contestants will go after the money.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners in each of the events. There will be no entry fee in any of the events.

The deadline for entering all exhibits in the women's division except baked goods and flowers will be at 4 p. m. tomorrow, Mrs. A. French, co-superintendent of the women's division, said. At 9 a. m. Tuesday the remainder of the entries must be presented.

Fresh vegetables, fruits and greens must be in the building by 9 a. m. Wednesday for the judging. Mrs. French concluded, ELECTIONEER—With a promise to Sen. Alben W. Barkley, left, that he is going "to fight like hell," President Harry S. Truman, accompanied by his daughter, Margaret, boards his special 17-car train at Washington for the start of a strenuous 19-state election tour. The President will deliver more than 100 addresses during the 9,000-mile vote-seeking trip which will take him to the Pacific Coast and return. (NEA Telephoto).

Station Man Victim of 'Slick Trick'

There's a new racket sweeping into the Panhandle and it nicked one White Deer filling station proprietor for 140 pieces of the "big green."

Here's how it was worked:

A punch board peddler dropped by the filling station in a green late model, Chrysler and sold the owner a punchboard for one dollar. The board had the names of various baseball teams on it and if the lucky name, or names, were punched the winner received a prize of 50 many dollars.

He bought the board.

A few seconds later along came another car with several people in it. They bought some gas. They offered to play the board. And—by the strangest coincidence—they hit all of the winners with the take amounting to $140. As the luckless proprietor was counting out the money the "players" picked up all of the green backs in sight and left.

The scheme was obvious from the start and a call to Pampa Police, Highway Patrolmen, and Sheriff's Department was put out. A road block was thrown up, but by that time, the schemers had cut off on some side road and doubled back.

Officers said they were at a loss as to what to do with the schemers if they were caught. In the first place punch boards are illegal. But a charge of gaming could be brought against the peddler if he were caught and a charge of theft might be brought against the "players."

Moral to the tale is never buy punch boards, you might lose through their partners or by officers on a gaming machines raid.

Thunderjet Explodes During Air Force Day Demonstration

DALLAS (AP)—An Air Force Thunderjet, hurtling at more than 600 miles an hour, flew apart in full view of thousands of spectators here yesterday, but the pilot parachuted to safety and remarked, "that's a hell of an airplane."

Lt. W. M. Hart, of Walker Air Force Base at Roswell, N. M., floated into Mountain Creek Lake near Henley Field, where his speed flight was the feature of Air Force Day celebration here. He was rescued in about two minutes by a Dallas man motorboating with his son.

Hart's only injuries were shock and a slight cut over the right eye.

Hart had just sped his jet past the spectators at an altitude of about 100 feet. When he had flown about half a mile beyond the crowd, he began a shallow climb. He had pulled the plane to about 350 feet when it disintegrated.

The crowd screamed. A few women fainted. Pieces of the silver wreckage whirled through the air.

Then Hart's parachute opened, and the pilot drifted into the lake south of the Henley Field runways.

Air Force crash crews went in to action, but J. W. Fallis, a brick contractor, and his son beat them to the pilot.

"He didn't say anything about what made the plane explode," Fallis said. "He was worried about his eye, but he said he could see alright."

The Revelers Are First on Music Series

The Revelers, a male quartet, will be the first artists to appear on this year's Pampa Community Concert series, it was decided at Executive Committee meeting of the association at the Chamber of Commerce Friday.

The quartet has sung on the radio for several years and in Pampa for two seasons, as baritone, one bass and pianist. They will appear at the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium Oct. 29.

Only persons who have moved to Pampa since April 17 may become members of the Pampa Community Concert Association, Mrs. Carl J. Wright, secretary, said. Membership cards for the residents who purchased tickets in April will be sent to them about Oct. 18, Mrs. Wright said.

John Sebastian, harmonica player, who was scheduled to be the first in the community concert series, changed his traveling dates. This conflicted with another of the series planned.

The other two artists series will be Virginia MacWatters, soprano, Jan. 17, and Dallas Symphony, March 15.

At the executive meeting, Aubrey S. Steele was elected treasurer of the Community Concert Association to replace Floyd Inel. Also, members of the association voted to sponsor dinners for the Navy Band, Oct. 16. Band members will be invited to Pampa homes in couples the night of their concert.

Mrs. A. A. Schuneman was named chairman of the committee to contact association members who desire to feed two band members. Anyone else interested in entertaining band members is urged to contact Mrs. Schuneman.

Need Voiced for Cotton Pickers

Cotton pickers and ginners are urgently needed in the Wheeler, Shamrock and McLean areas, L. P. Fort, manager of the Pampa Texas Employment Commission office, reported yesterday.

Fort said both single and family crews can be used. He stated that persons interested should contract the office here, the County Agriculture office in Wheeler, or cotton gins in one of the communities named.

It was stated that a representative of the commission, spending time daily in Wheeler, plans to contact cotton gins at the three towns named, and also contact ginners in these communities—Briscoe, Allison, Kelton, and Twitty.

Farmers who need help should inform ginners at gins in any of the locations.

LEWIS RE-ELECTED

WASHINGTON (AP)—John L. Lewis has been re-elected without opposition for re-election to the presidency of the United Mine Workers, the union reported.

Delegation to Attend Annual Socorro Fiesta

The Highway Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce is planning to send a delegation to attend the Socorro, N. M., two-day celebration, Sept. 28-29, J. C. Williams, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Highway Committee, said today.

Two days of entertainment and meetings have been planned by the New Mexico group to celebrate the completion of U. S. Highway 60 through New Mexico. Also, in connection with the celebration, the 360-year-old annual Socorro Fiesta will be held.

The local delegation will leave a week from today and join a group of men from Canadian, Texas, famous Val Verde Hotel at Socorro will be the headquarters of the delegation.

We Heard...

A local matron, native of Pennsylvania, says that until her son showed her a picture of the Alamo in his history book, she had thought the Alamo was a river, and that the fall of the Alamo was a miniature Niagara on it.

(P.S. Her husband now has her studying Texas history, along with Junior.)

Twenty-two fourth graders at Baker School and their mothers were feeling rather low the other day at the thoughts of being transferred to other schools. Crowded fourth grade conditions there, however, necessitated the change.

Socialist Thomas Will Try Again

AUSTIN (AP)—The Texas Socialist Party has certified to the secretary of state the names of Norman Thomas and Tucker P. Smith as its nominees for President and vice president, respectively.

The certification was filed Thursday along with the names of the party's 23 presidential electors.

Today

Today in 1786, George Washington delivered his farewell address to the people of the United States. On this day in 1871, the body of President Lincoln was removed to Springfield, Ill. On Oct. 1, 1941, another presidential victim, who had been shot on Oct. 2, died in the White House. Today is Hawaii's Regatta Day. Wednesdays in Autumn Equinox; Friday is American Indian Day. A verse from the Bible for today: "In the earth that quakes, the flesh profiteth nothing; the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life." (John 6:63)

Officer Tells Story of Ship Sinking and Rescue at Sea

NEW YORK—(AP)—An officer of the hurricane-battered freighter Leicester told how four crewmen were swept overboard while others clung to deck rails singing to keep up their courage.

Six men were reported lost from the ill-fated British ship.

The story of the crew's all-night battle against pounding winds, mountainous seas and a wildly listing ship was radioed to the Associated Press by J. T. Andrews, the Leicester's 2nd officer.

He and 38 others were rescued in the hurricane-lashed Atlantic Thursday. Another 40 men were saved from the stricken Portuguese schooner Gaspar by the Coast Guard cutter Bibb 390 miles northeast of the Leicester. One Gaspar crewman perished.

Andrews said that before help came, "it seemed certain the Leicester would capsize at any moment."

"We were clinging to the starboard boats and hand rails and sang songs to keep our spirits up. We huddled together and hung on to the rails all night."

Throughout the night, he said, the list of the helpless vessel increased until it was nearly flat on its side.

"Heavy seas swept along the port side of the deck, taking away two boats (lifeboats) and two men who were standing by."

Andrews related "later, two other men were washed through the rails by the breaking seas."

Twenty of the Leicester's crews, including Andrews, were rescued by the American freighter Cecil N. Bean. Nineteen other survivors were picked up by the Argentine freighter Trupero.

Even after the rescue ships had reached the scene, however, the fate of the crew had remained uncertain, Andrews said. Two men "were swept away by the seas" while trying to swim to a lifeboat launched by the Cecil N. Bean.

"One of them, however, managed to reach the rescue ship and was picked up," Andrews said.

Another two men were adrift in the raging sea for four hours on a half-sunken lifeboat before they were picked up.

COMES THE NEW—Garvey Motor Co., 700 W. Foster, tomorrow will begin showing style numbers of the 1949 Kaiser cars. Shown above is the Kaiser deluxe sedan, which, it is said, has more than 100 improvements—72 in styling and 30 in engine and mechanical features. There is an increase from 100 to 112 in horsepower. A massive grille and bumpers are features of the new design. There is also a new style instrument panel.

Navy Band Has 58 Musicians

The famed United States Navy Band which is to appear in Pampa Oct. 18, on tour, consists of 58 musicians of which eleven are featured soloists.

The band will be here for an afternoon and evening performance only at the Junior High School Auditorium. The afternoon performance is especially for children and the evening concert for adults. Ticket sales will be announced later.

The touring band is under the direction of Lt. Comdr. Charles Brendler, conductor who has helped give the band styling as the "World's Finest." Soloists include Jesse James Tryon, violin; Harold Brasch, euphonium; Carl Grove, saxophone; Homer E. Phillips, trombone; Arlington Zetty, piccolo; Richard Groves, baritone vocalist; Joseph Reines, bassoon and contrabassoon; William Cameron, harp; William Murray, trumpet; Anthony Mitchell, clarinet, and Gordon Finley, coronet.

The great, official United States Navy Band, capable of providing music for any occasion, has been directed by Brendler since 1941. He has been a member of the band for 35 years.

He conducts the full band from memory without musical score and is one of the few band leaders performing such a feat of memory.

Scheduled Registration for Peacetime Draft Completed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Registration for the peacetime draft wound up yesterday as the last of the nation's 18-year-olds reported.

Signing up started August 30 with the 25-year-olds. From now on, youths will report to their local draft boards as they reach the age of 18. The 20,000 special registration centers across the country will close.

Selective Service headquarters here had no idea how many young men are on its books, and officials said they will not know until next week.

National headquarters said it has had no reports on delinquencies, but added that heavy penalties are provided for failure to register. The maximum is five years imprisonment, a $10,000 fine, or both.

Meanwhile, prospective draftees had a handy list to study. Announced Friday by President Truman, it sets out the infirmities that may keep a young man out of uniform.

The President, a World War I veteran, reinstated flat feet as a disqualification. That disability kept men out of the World War I draft, but it didn't make a bit of difference in World War II.

The 31-page directive issued by the White House listed 147 diseases or ailments that "may disqualify a registrant for service."

Registrants were advised to ask for a local medical checkup if they think they have any of the 147 ailments in order to save the time of an Army checkup later.

In addition to "flat feet, when accompanied by marked symptoms and deformity," the list includes alcoholism, stuttering, deformity of an eyelid, certain warts on "weight-bearing areas," deep scars that might break, and loss of a thumb.

The directive also explains that men will be called from each area according to the actual number who have been found acceptable for service.

Induction may be postponed up to four months in case of a family emergency, illness, or other circumstances beyond the registrant's control.

University Plans Microfilming Records

AUSTIN—(AP)—Extensive microfilming of library newspaper files to save storage space is anticipated by a University of Texas committee which is studying the storage problem.

The committee reported that microfilm requires only 2 to 4 percent of the space required for papers themselves.

100 Attend Cub Powwow

The Cub Scout leaders' Powwow, held at the Pampa High School yesterday afternoon, was attended by approximately 100 parents, teachers, den mothers and other youth leaders from Pampa and surrounding towns.

E. F. Glasgow of Phillips, chairman, said.

A Blue and Gold banquet was given at 6 p.m. with the Hopkins Pack 18 as the host pack. E. O. Wedgeworth, accompanied by Ken Bennett, lead the adults in group singing.

The most popular section of the afternoon and evening meeting was handicraft under the supervision of Myles Morgan, Pampa High School shop instructor. O. L. Brummett, was in charge of the metal work, Harry McWatters, woodwork and John Schoolfield, codes and signals. The adults did the actual construction of the handicraft articles so they in turn would be able to teach the Cub Scouts.

The exhibit division of the Powwow displayed items made by various Cub Scouts. Included were: scrap books, stamp albums, lamps, knots, weaving, tie racks, miniature cars, waste baskets, foot scrapers, airplanes, model air ports, drums, tomahawks and puzzles.

O. R. Kiphart of Borger and Vern Pendergrass of Pampa were in charge of the exhibit and midway division.

Other sections included were: ceremonies, under the direction of Charles Sleeth, Phillips games, Bruce Baird, Borger, and pack administration, A. L. Fajen, Guyton.

TRYST

By Elswyth Thane

THEY STAYED: Hilary Shenstone, British secret agent, recalls lying wounded in the Indian desert beside a cracked blade, after committing a dangerous mission. He remembers feeling a desperate need to return to England and home. Next time Hilary is aware of, he is back in London dropping in at his club. But no one seems to know of his presence. Hilary leaves that his brother, George, has been cutting in with Alice, Hilary's fiancée. He thinks it's all a dream until he receives a report of his own death. Shocked at first, Hilary later decides to enjoy the situation. Next day he visits his mother's home. George and his mother are awaiting Alice for lunch. They, too, seem unaware of his presence. Hilary hears his mother encourage George to win Alice away from him.

XIV
"YOU needn't look so innocent, George, you weren't born yesterday," said his mother, and both her sons regarded her with amazement and no little respect, from their separate viewpoints. "I don't believe Hilary cares a tuppence about Alice anyway," she remarked defiantly.
"She thinks he does," said George. "It amounts to the same thing."
"No—it doesn't," she contradicted. "Besides, she wouldn't be happy with him. I mean—" she added quickly, and then hesitated. "—that is—I don't think she would," she finished lamely.
"Why?" demanded Hilary.
She went to drawing little meaningless things on a fresh sheet of note-paper.
"What makes you say I couldn't have made her happy?" Hilary pressed her.
"I wasn't—very happy," said his mother just above a whisper, watching the busy point of her pen. "And Hilary's exactly like his father."
That jerked George out into the open.
"Oh, here, I say—I always thought you and the governor bit my life—while your father was alive—" Her voice broke suddenly, and she rested her head on her left hand, shielding her face.

"I don't know quite what's come over me this morning. I know I shouldn't be saying these dreadful things out loud. But it's not fair, George, it's not fair to Alice that I love like my own daughter, not to warn her! I don't want her to live as I had to live, always in deadly fear that her man won't come back—and the rest of the time hoping, praying that he won't go away again! And always knowing that it's no use, that he's bound to be off again soon—so soon—"
"But, mum, good heavens, you had the War," George reminded her futilely.
"It wasn't just during the War, George. Even before that started, he was always doing something for the Home Office that nobody else dared to do. Once he went to Russia about spies. Once he was down in Limehouse for six days and nights without sending me one word. Once they sent him to Egypt, and I didn't hear for two months—like Hilary now, out there on the border. It's no life for a woman—to love people like Hilary! Don't let her, George," she entreated him hysterically. "Don't let Hilary have Alice!"
"I see," said Hilary.
"Mother, for heaven's sake—" George was genuinely horrified. "You really must pull yourself together!"
"Hullo, am I late or anything?" said Alice from the doorway. She saw Mrs. Shenstone's tears then, and halted with a child's embarrassed impulse to back out of the room, followed by a quick anxiety.
"Oh, sorry—Hinton said—What is it? Have you had bad news?"
"No, of course not—no news at all." Mrs. Shenstone recovered quickly, and wiped her eyes.
"Come in, dear—you're not a bit late. George is going to make some cocktails. Luncheon will be ready in a minute. I must just go and see about the flowers."
She hurried away, blowing her nose briskly as she went.

Oilman Wins $20,000 by Bringing Eskimos to Texas

FORT WORTH (AP)—Dallas hotel. "I'm going to get into a tub of cold water as soon as I set out today with four Eskimo get there," declared Mrs. Gray, women, a penguin, a polar bear, skin and a parka to collect more than $20,000 in bets.
The women—Miss Molly Blatchford, Mrs. Lona B. Welch, Miss Alice Walker, and Mrs. Lorena Gray, chaperone—flew here so Horne would win bets he made with Texas friends while at Flathead, Mont., for a rest.
Their first reaction to Texas when they landed Wednesday night was not unexpected. "Oh, it's hot down here," said Miss Blatchford and Mrs. Gray, almost in unison.
Then they scrambled into a refrigerated van for a trip to their

Prisoner's Song Composer Dies

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Vernon Dalhart, who claimed he wrote the music to "The Prisoner's Song," one of the nation's all-time song hits, died Thursday night at Bridgeport Hospital after a long illness.
A pioneer recorder of American folk songs, Dalhart said he and his cousin, Guy Massey, composed the famous song that was to sell more than 25 million records about 25 years ago. The song is copyrighted in Massey's name.
Dalhart was born Marion Try Slaughter on a ranch near Texarkana, Tex. He studied voice at modern clothing. Miss Blatchford, who was born at Gobsbar in Alaska's far north, was wearing a parka when the plane landed, but she quickly shed it to reveal an up-to-date dress.

Body of Veteran Found in River

PORT ARTHUR (AP)—The body of Thomas L. Burnham, 21, a Fort Arthur Navy veteran who plunged 180 feet from the Port Arthur-Orange highway bridge into the Neches River Monday, was recovered Friday.
Chief Deputy Sheriff Nick Hyde and Justice of the Peace

Lloyd Blanchard said two women companions of Burnham reported he jumped out of their automobile at the summit of the bridge and vaulted over the railing.
The officers identified the women as Mrs. Lula Mae Sallis and Mrs. Lorraine Lyons, two sisters, both of Fort Arthur.
Mrs. Sallis and Mrs. Lyons said they happened to meet Burnham at a roadside inn a few minutes before his death.

The device of the rattlesnake, coiled and ready to strike, was popular with colonists before the American revolution and used on a number of flags.

How About Some Letters, Folks!

Operating on the premise that ideas and the such are the good old had, we had expected to receive from citizens an expression, in the form of letters, on an idea we tossed out a few days ago—Sept. 10, in fact.

While a few people have said verbally they thought the idea of developing the Junior High School block into a business block was a good one, no one has written to The News, either approving or condemning the idea. It would be interesting to know what the people think of the assumption that the present site of the school—located in the heart of the business district of the city—could be sold at a very good price, and the money used to locate two high buildings here, one in the north and one in the south end of town.

We advanced the idea that as we see it, The Junior High Building could be converted into a nice hotel with a large lounge room to boot, and the gymnasium could be made into a business building. Another large store building could be erected on the southeast corner of the lot. There is ample room for parking lots near all the proposed buildings.

Our idea was that such more on the part of the people would open up another block for business development, while, at the same time, expand the junior high facilities to meet the needs of the community, at no extra cost to the taxpayers. School children would be removed from the downtown traffic at the same time.

It has been and still is our contention that the city of Pampa will continue to grow. In meeting the demands of change and innovation, we must visualize what will be needed next year, or the year after or twenty years from now. We believe this idea is a good one, in respect to the need for change.

Firms Apologize For Demanding Graves' Removal

BRUSSELS (AP)—Two real estate firms which demanded the evacuation of a cemetery in Belgium have apologized, the U. S. Embassy says. The two firms recently served a legal process requiring that the cemetery at Nivelles be vacated in eight days. The cemetery contains 12,000 American war dead.

The summons caused such a storm of indignation in Belgium that two government inquiries were ordered. An embassy announcement said: "At their own request, the persons responsible for the writ have been received by the military attaché on behalf of the ambassador and rendered their apologies."

NO U.S. SURPRISES

WASHINGTON (AP)—No surprises will be sprung by the U. S. delegation to the United Nations General Assembly, meeting in Paris Sept. 21. Last year Secretary of State George C. Marshall led the delegation to the Assembly by proposing modification of the Charter, limitation of the veto power and creation of an Interim Committee of the General Assembly. The "Little Assembly," as it is called, sits between sessions of the General Assembly. It has one representative of each member country. It considers any question brought before it—even matters stymied before the General Assembly. It has worked. Its continuation will be up for discussion at Paris.

First few days of the meeting will of course be taken up with the usual opening statements by the heads of all delegations. These are speeches for the record, and for home consumption. In some quarters they are looked upon as a waste of time. But they bring out many issues and are rightly considered revealing statements on the problems, policies and aims of the various foreign offices.

What the Russians may bring up, no one can tell. Molotov, Gromyko, Vishinsky and the new man Malik have developed the fine art of using the United Nations for their international propaganda. Opposition to the Rio and Bogota regional agreements of the American republics may be heard. Opposition to the Brussels pact for creation of a Western European Union may also be heard. The Poles have indicated they might want to argue against the

Fair Enough.... by Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK—Mournful witness relations Board, under Communist power, felt out tender places and supplied provocation itself. John L. Lewis will tell you that. He sneered at Roosevelt because he had that awful fella's number all the time. Lewis used Roosevelt just as Stalin used him later at Teheran and Yalta.

The fact that Americans are forced to support Communist papers and candidates is nothing new. They are forced to support Democratic candidates, too, and some day they might be forced to support Republican candidates. The candidate's political complexion is immaterial except that when he is the candidate of the Communists, such as Henry Wallace and Vito Marcantonio, the irony is a little more poignant. The wickedness of this law lies in the fact that it was intended to strike down the political vision of the citizen.

Roosevelt's idolators would never admit that or even admit that it was important. Now, because communism is the issue and very dangerous, they are beginning to wait that this is all wrong and blame, not Roosevelt, who planned it that way, but the Communists who merely took advantage of Roosevelt's law. Only a few days ago I further developed the union career of a despicable criminal named Ben Press. Among other outrageous facts, I showed that for two years running this crook has arranged that a union of wine salesmen, which he controls, should begin to wait that this is all wrong and blame, not Roosevelt, who planned it that way, but the Communists who merely took advantage of Roosevelt's law.

It is no worse that to give $5 to Roosevelt's fund in 1944 when Roosevelt was the candidate of the Kremlin. It is no worse that he should be forced to support Communist papers than that 1,000,000 teamsters are forced to maintain the publication of a union which is wholly devoted to glorification of Dan Tobin, the king dictator of the union. In 1944 The Teamster was a campaign periodical of the Roosevelt party, issued at enormous cost and paid for voluntarily by the rank and file out of very bad wages.

Labor Leader Refused Visa

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The U.S. Embassy has refused to issue a visa to the president of the Latin American Federation of Labor. His entry was banned, the Embassy said, under State Department policy excluding "Communist" and other undesirable persons. Informed of the Embassy's action, the official, Vicente Lombardo Toledano, said: "I know of no reason for the action. I have been in the United States many times. I can't even count them."

Marshall Plan of which they refused to become beneficiaries. The British or French may bring up the Danube River treaty recently dictated by the Russians at Belgrade. UNFINISHED BUSINESS The agenda for the Paris meeting is already heavy enough without the extra. It is believed that the American delegation will work towards cleaning up unfinished business and consolidate the Assembly's position before moving into other areas of disagreement. Principal new items officially on the agenda are three: 1. What to do about the Italian colonies Secretary Marshall is expected to reveal his hand on this before the Paris meeting, though GOP Presidential Candidate Thomas E. Dewey has come out in favor of return of the colonies to Italy. This makes something of an American political, as well as an international issue. 2. Geographic distribution of seats on the Security Council. This has been proposed by India which lost out on election to the Council last year. The Indian idea is to get proportionate representation for the six non-permanent seats on the 11-place Security Council. New members to replace Australia, Brazil and Poland must be elected this year. India thinks Asia should have a larger voice. 3. Creation of a United Nations guard for UN Commissions such as those operating in the Balkans, Palestine, Kashmir and Indonesia during the past year. This is a proposal from UN Secretary Gen-

Common Ground

I will continue quoting today from Rose Wilder Lane's "Give Me Liberty" published in 1945 by Pamphleteers, Inc. in order to make it available to all freedom loving Americans. This book can be obtained from the office of this newspaper for the price of 50 cents, by anyone interested in reading this great treatise on individual liberty.

In the last issue Mrs. Lane stated that this territory of America was largely settled and the culture dominated by the northwestern Europeans from whom the idea of individual liberty was a political principal. Then she asks the question "How did it happen that those British colonists released from England spread across half this continent?" I continue: "Spaniards were in Missouri before Englishmen were in Virginia."

"Spaniards were in Missouri before Englishmen were in Virginia. French settlements were old in Illinois. French mines in Missouri were furnishing the western world with bullets, French trading posts were in Arkansas, half a century before farmers fired on British soldiers at Lexington. "Why did Americans, spreading westward, not find a populated country, a vigorous colony to protest in France against the sale of Louisiana?"

Washington correspondent devotes his column to answering reader's questions of general interest on national and international politics and personalities. Questions may be sent direct to Hay Tucker at 430 Hillcrest Place, Chevy Chase, Maryland. By RAY TUCKER WASHINGTON — Z. A. of San Diego cannot understand why the United States and its Western European Allies seem to have such a "terrible" grievance against Franco of Spain. Other readers also wonder why we persist in boycotting the dictator at Madrid.

It is "true," continues Z. A., "that he sold raw materials and supplies to Hitler during the war. So did Sweden and Switzerland. But it seems to me that Franco helped the Allies more than he did Hitler. He would not allow German troops to pass through Spain to attack Gibraltar and gain a leaping-off place for descent on North Africa. He also kept Spain from going Communist."

POLICY — Answer: In the first place, there are indications that Washington and London may soon reverse their policy toward Franco. There is no sensible explanation for our puzzling policy of supporting the Loyalist government when Franco sought to overthrow it, even though Franco proposed to despoil the Loyalists.

FOOTHOLD — In retrospect, however, it is probably well that we did not bolster the Loyalist regime. Had it remained in power, Moscow might now be standing athwart both the Atlantic Ocean and the Mediterranean. Individualists. And they did stand the gaff. "This was the human stuff of America. It was not the stuff of a nation or an admirable national character. And Americans today are the most reckless and lawless of peoples. We are also the most imaginative, the most temperamental, the most infinitely varied people. We are the kindest people on earth; kind every day to one another and sympathetically responsive to every rumor of distress. It is only in America that a passing car will stop to lend a stranded stranger a tire-tool. Only Americans ever made millions of small personal sacrifices in order to pour wealth over the world, relieving suffering in such distant places as Armenia and Japan."

"Everywhere, in shops, streets, factories, elevators, on highways and on farms, Americans are the most friendly and courteous people. There is more laughter and more song in America than anywhere else. Such are a few of the human values that grew from individualism while individualism was creating this nation." (to be continued)

The Nation's Press

DISCREDITABLE PERFORMANCE (Chicago Journal of Commerce)

You've got to give credit where credit is due, they say. But not more than 80 per cent (66 2-3 per cent on autos; or you'll break the law.

The ghost of wartime Regulation W has risen to haunt American consumers. Authorized by the anti-inflation act, passed during the special session of Congress, the new Federal Reserve board code imposes a 20 per cent minimum down payment on installment purchases of cooking stoves, dish washers, ironers, refrigerators, combinations of the foregoing units, air conditioners, radios, television sets, phonographs, sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, furniture, rugs and carpets. Down payments on automobiles must be at least 33 1-3 per cent. All sales from $50 to $5,000 will be subject to the new regulations. Balances up to $1,000 must be liquidated within 15 months; those above $1,000 within 18 months, with minimum monthly payments of $70.

The effect of the new regulations is unlikely to be profoundly anti-inflationary. Waiting lists of would-be auto purchasers are long, but even their curtailment because of credit restrictions will not enable supply to catch up with demand. Floor coverings are still in short supply, and most durables are still moving briskly. But in addition to being of doubtful effectiveness the new controls are discriminatory. They hit directly at the economic middle class.

Income groups will be unconcerned by the credit limitations. Except for charge accounts (which the Fed's new regulations don't affect) persons of wealth lay cash on the barrelhead for the household. At the other end of the income spectrum are those whose wages barely keep pace with their primary needs—food, rent, clothes, carfare, doctor bills. These people are no more touched by credit terms on television sets and electric dishwashers than with the cost of yachts or world tours. But the middle income groups will be affected. Insofar as the new controls exert any anti-inflationary pressure at all, that pressure will bear down on only segment of the population. It's not quite fair.

HOW FIRM A FOUNDATION?

(The Chicago Tribune) Some of our readers may wonder if it makes much difference whether, as alleged, Mr. Alger Hiss is a Communist and whether, even if he is, he should prove to be the fact, it is relevant that he should be president of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace or that John Foster Dulles and his Wall St. pals on the board of trustees should have put him there. There are a lot of well heeled outfits in this country calling themselves "endowments" or "foundations," and they cultivate the innocent appearance of engaging in good works. What is their real function? As to that, we think that the best available description was offered by the late historian, Charles A. Beard, who said: "Subsidized and powerful private agencies engaged nominally in propaganda for 'peace' are among the chief proponents of Presidential omnipotence in foreign affairs. They look to the President rather than to Congress for assistance in advancing their ideas of America's obligation to join other 'peace loving' nations in ordering and reordering the world."

Moreover, as these agencies in turn subsidize professor and students of international relations' help to exalt Presidential leadership and, correspondingly, deprecate the senate or the house of representatives, both with regard to their responsibilities in foreign affairs. Consequently, American education from the universities down to the grade schools is permeated with, if not dominated by, the theory of presidential supremacy in foreign affairs. "Coupled with flagrant neglect of instruction in constitutional government, this propaganda in universities, colleges, and schools has deeply implanted in the minds of rising generations the doctrine that the power of the President over international relations is, for all practical purposes, limitless. The theory of limitless powers in the executive to conduct foreign affairs, and initiate war as well, unhampered by popular objections and legislative control, is, of course, old in the history of empires and despotisms. It was long ago accepted and practiced by despotic monarchs. It was held and applied by Hitler and Mussolini. It is now the theory, as well as the practice, of totalitarian governments everywhere. But such governments have never been under the delusion that the limitless power can be exercised over foreign affairs and war, while domestic affairs and domestic economy are left free and the authority of government over them is constitutionally limited."

This, then, is the doctrine which is the principal stock in trade of a lot of endowments, foundations, councils and associations in which wealthy and respectable stuffed shirts collaborate, thinking it either fashionable or profitable or both for America to tinker with the world. The doctrine starts out with a totalitarian conception of the conduct of foreign affairs and will logically lead to the destruction of a free economy and government, with dictatorship constituting the constitutional process.

It is a development which can command the earnest support of all Communists, for if a Communist dictatorship does not at first arise from the ruins, the record of recent times has shown that some other form of dictatorship will, and the destruction of popular liberty is the indispensable first step in the spread of Communist domination. If the preliminary dictatorship happens to be fascist in character, so much the better, for "anti-fascism" provides the meaningless label which has enabled

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

"Think in big figures," Thomas J. Watson, president of International Business Machines told his salesmen. Mr. Watson learned early in life the value of "thinking big."

When he was a salesman for National Cash Register Company, his ability to think in big figures caused him to become a "star salesman." His ability to "think in big figures" brought him success. He wanted to make a machine that no one had ever made before, one that would render valuable service to all businessmen. Sometimes this "big thought" earned him the name of a dreamer. He was often called "impractical." But there is not a more practical man in the country today than Thomas Watson. His "dream" ability was nicely off-set by his ability to perform, and make his dreams come true. Once, in the early days of IBM, a banker rebuffed him for asking for a loan; now the same bank would be glad to loan him half a million dollars. So dare to think "big figures." Don't down-think "impractical." Have set for yourself and make it ten times bigger. You are as big as you think.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) Baby Bacall was at home posing for a national magazine photographer who wanted a picture story titled "How to Be Beautiful Though Pregnant."

Humphrey Bogart, never beautiful, was at Romanoff's eating his morning eggs Benedict and talking about everything from how mad he gets when the studio touches his photographs—"I stay up late to get those lines in my face and then the studio comes 'em out" to his reasons for thinking that Hollywood's own censorship makes film gangsters sympathetic underdogs—"and all Americans love the underdog."

"The censors say all the gangster can have is one little gun," Bogie growled. "They throw a biggie on top with tear gas and tommy guns at the guy and people feel sorry for him." "About your new picture?" I asked. Title: "Knock on Any Door." "I'm as tough as ever," he said.

Bogie switched the conversation to Baby. "I'm proud of her in 'Key Largo.' She's a human being for a change instead of that frightening monster Howard Hawks created." "About her suspension at Warner Brothers?" "Still status quo—they're still splitting the difference. And if you want a crusade against an unfair suspension, Baby's in it. They suspended her for refusing to render her services, but there was no picture for her to render her services in. No script, no director, no players." ORIGINAL TOUGH GUY Bogie started the heroic tough-guy cycle with "The Maltese Falcon," followed by Dick Powell and now Gene Raymond in "Sofia." "It's funny ain't it?" Bogie sneered. "I come to work without shaving and with a hangover and I start a big movie cycle." Bogart laughed. "I used to play juveniles on Broadway and came bouncing into drawing rooms with tennis racket under my arm and the line: 'Tennis anybody?' It was a stage trick to get some of the characters off the set so the plot could continue. Now when they want some characters out of the way, I come in with a gun and bump 'em off."

I asked about Bogart's throwing Columbia studio into a panic when he took over Harry Cohn's office. His eyes twinkled. "I just wanted people to know I was on the lot. Harry came in yesterday. I went in and sat down and started pressing buzzers. There were millions of 'em. Executives came running in like rabbits. You should have seen their faces when they saw me sitting behind Cohn's desk." Y.E.S., SIR, "H. B." Bogie has his own film producing company now (for one film a year off the Warner lot). It's named Santana Productions. That's the name of his yacht. "And as president of a film company," he said, "I demand to be treated like all big Hollywood executives. I've instructed everyone to call me H. B."

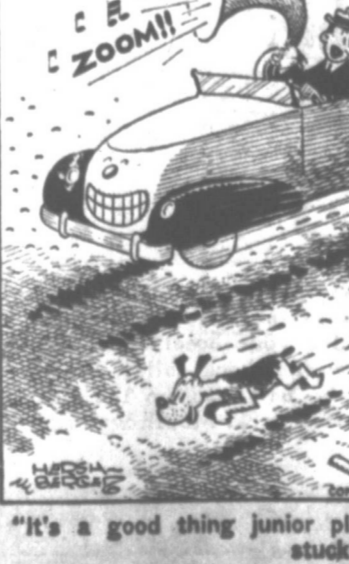

You probably heard about the Bogart's housewife, Freda Glavin, playing William Powell's housewife in "Mr. Peabody and the Mermaid." Since Fred worked as an actor, the Bogarts have noticed a gradual change in him. "It's funny," Bogart said. "He seems to be mixed up. He starts shining my shoes in the morning. The phone rings. He answers it. He forgets the unfinished shoes and turns on the vacuum sweeper. The doorman rings. He answers it. He forgets the vacuum sweeper and goes into the garage to polish the car. "It's too bad. Fred was a wonderful housewife. Until he got in with the movie. Now I'm afraid he won't be himself again until he wins an Oscar."

Textile Workers Backing Truman

NEW YORK (AP)—Endorsement of President Truman for re-election was announced by the Executive Council of the CIO Textile Workers Union. The union, which claims 480,000 members—a fourth of them in the Southern states—said it will back up the endorsement with "intensive ward and district work in all textile areas." The Communists to muster the greatest support in launching every crusade to date.

QUICKIES

By Ken Reynolds

GOVERNOR DEWEY stands about five feet and eight inches. His shoulders are broad for a man of that build, and he weighs about 160 pounds. He is, for comparison, almost two inches taller than Winston Churchill. Other historic figures whom he tops, physically, are Napoleon, Newton D. Baker, Andrew W. Mellon, La Guardia, and, I believe, Ulysses S. Grant.

That's strange — the News West Ad said the snare was to catch rabbits!

Constitution Guards Against Vested Interests, Vinson Says

LEXINGTON, Va. (AP)—Chief Justice Vinson said the Constitutional Convention of 1787 created a political instrument under which no one interest may dominate the federal government.

In a Constitution Day address before the bi-centennial convocation of Washington and Lee University, Vinson declared that James Madison made the major contribution toward protecting the government from conflicting interests.

The Supreme Court, which Vinson heads, has become the main interpreter of the Constitution, although no such provision was made in the document itself.

Madison, said the Chief Justice, was fearful that groups having real or supposed differences in interests—such as "creditors and debtors, farmers, merchants, and manufacturer"—would seriously disturb and possibly overthrow the government.

At that early time, "labor had not as yet found an articulate voice."

Vinson said Madison's fear led him to make a "superb contribution to political theory—a contribution for which he has never had real credit."

"The task of the convention," the Chief Justice explained, "was preventive, not remedial."

"The government it set up was not to wait until a clash had occurred and then attempt to undo the mischief."

"Instead the very structure of the government must be so arranged, and its powers must be so distributed and conditioned, that such clashes should not become overt."

"To that end an opportunity was to be accorded, not only to all current interests but to any interest which in the future might become articulate. But no interest was to be vested; and,

Navy Turns Again to Blimp Patrol

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Navy is turning once again to blimps in its search for ways to kill off any enemy high speed submarines.

A $1,500,000 engineering study has been started for the largest non-rigid lighter-than-air craft ever planned.

Award of a contract to Goodrich Aircraft Corporation for the study has been announced.

High speed submarines, developed by the Germans too late in the last war to get into action, have been a source of concern to the U. S. Navy.

One of the two principal research programs of the Navy now is on undersea warfare in an effort to work out battle tactics that will stop fast submarines.

The Russian fleet is made up almost entirely of some 250 submarines. Guesses on how many are high speed and of enough range to operate in the Atlantic Ocean from Russian bases range all the way from 50 to 250. Some experts express belief that less than 100 is a close estimate.

The new type "N" blimp, which the Navy is considering is just now a gleam in the Bureau of Aeronautics' eye. But when built it will be nearly twice the size of the "K" type used on anti-sub patrol during World War II.

Coincident with the blimp engineering study, the Navy Bureau of Personnel put out a call for young heavier-than-air pilots to train in "gas-bag" flying. Requests from ensigns and lieutenants (j.g.) must be in by mid-October; flight training starts Jan. 31.

The purpose of the call, an official explained, is to merge the two types of flying. The program is aimed at having all blimp fliers qualified in heavier aircraft, with a good percentage of heavier-than-air fliers qualified for blimps.

The helium-filled blimps have been in and out of favor with the Navy a number of times. Their ability to patrol far offshore, protect slow convoys, and spot mines and submarines brought them back with a rush during the war. In June, 1942, a strength of 200 was authorized, but today the Navy has only 18 on active service with two more assigned to reserve units.

Boggs and Wortham to Meet In Main Boxing Event Here

Jimmy Boggs of Oklahoma City and Jack Wortham of Amarillo, who fought a six-round semi-final on Pampa's first professional boxing card Aug. 27, will meet in a return match at the Sportatorium Thursday night. Promoter Charles Bretthauer said yesterday.

Roy Fulcher of Lefors, who won over Kenneth Twig in the four-round curtain raiser last August, will meet Dickie Brown of Amarillo in one of the two four-rounders set for Thursday's card. Boggs and Wortham, light heavyweights, will meet in an eight-round main event, with one more four-rounder, besides the Fulcher-Brown match, and one six-rounder to be decided. Fulcher and Brown will fight as heavyweights.

Boggs, who won the Golden Gloves state championship of Oklahoma in 1943, has moved to Pampa and is coaching a team of amateur boxers that meets almost nightly at the Sportatorium. Bret-

Locals Remain Unscathed on As Steers Are Beaten 19-0

A potent and well-mannered Harvester "T" model powered by its second consecutive victory Friday night as the Pampa Harvesters remained in the ranks of the undefeated, untied, and unscathed upon, by downing the Graham Steers, 19-0, in Graham.

Co-Captain Jack Williams led the Harvester offense, scoring one touchdown in the first quarter and one in the second. His first dash was good for 13 yards and his second was a spectacular 57-yard jaunt off left tackle, in which he eluded an entire Graham secondary to go over standing up.

Diminutive Wesley Kiehl, Harvester left half who scored 18 points against North Dallas, was held partially in check by the Graham line although he did make several nice gains and scored one touchdown in the third quarter. Lamar Lively hit Kiehl with a 23-yard pass from his own 20, and the speedy receiver spun the remaining distance for the score.

The big Graham line, that last week outplayed a strong Denton team, but lost, 14-2, on two long passes, was hopelessly outclassed by the Harvester forward wall. The local gridsters held the Steers to the remarkable figure of only five net yards gained from scrimmage. The Steers' backs rushed for 64 yards altogether, but lost 59.

Philip Payne and Derral Davis spearheaded the line attack and were mainly responsible for the large amount of yardage lost by the Steers. Sonny Thornton, talented Graham quarterback, found great difficulty in getting passes off as Payne and Davis rushed him at every opportunity.

Bo Jack Phillips and Ralph Hutsell, the two Harvester tackles, also played an important part, as did Guards Jimmie Hill and Leon English and Center Bill Runyon.

Coaches Tom Tipps and Aubra Nooncaster substituted freely as almost every man saw action in the battle. Leon Taylor, defensive fullback and linebacker, played stellar ball, particularly on pass defense. The herd attempted 28 aerials and managed only nine completions.

The Harvester line also proved that it could hold a tight spot when it made a magnificent goal-line stand in the third quarter. After two 15-yard penalties had placed the ball on their own four yard stripe, first down and goal to go, the locals held and took over on their 6-inch stripe.

The play-by-play follows:

FIRST QUARTER
Jack Williams kicked off for Pampa to Thornton on the Graham 15, and he returned to the 23 and two attempts at the line had gone for no gain. Thornton's pass was intercepted by Kiehl on the Graham 45, but he fumbled and Graham recovered on the 44. Thornton tried twice at the line and then went 13 yards to the Pampa 43. The Steers tried three running plays and lost seven yards, so Knox punted to Kiehl on the on-side line who returned to the Pampa 13. Williams and Kiehl made four and Davis punted to Thornton on Steers' 45. Thornton attempted to pass, was thrown for a nine-yard loss by Davis and Payne. Two more stabs at the line and Graham lost three more yards before Knox punted to Kiehl on the Pampa 25. On a beautiful return, Kiehl sped to the Graham 48 before he was finally dominated by Cumpton's defense. Kiehl shot over right tackle for 25 yards to the Steers 13. Williams then catapulted across for the score and Davis converted. Williams kicked off to Thornton on the Graham 12, who returned to the 25. Thornton made a first down in three tries to the 50-yard line and then was thrown for a five-yard loss on an attempted pass as the quarter ended. Score: Pampa 7, Graham 0.

SECOND QUARTER
Thornton made two, Knox punted

Texas Schools Take Football Spotlight

NEW YORK (AP)—Texas schools took the spotlight yesterday in the first Saturday of the 1948 football season. Three major Lone Star elevens were in action and two came out on top.

The University of Texas' Sugar Bowl champions smothered Louisiana State 35-0 at Austin. Texas Christian handed Kansas its first loss in 15 regular season games, 14-13, at Lawrence, and Villanova overpowered Texas A & M 34-14, at Philadelphia.

Fielding a big veteran outfit the Villanova Wildcats made a strong impression on Eastern football observers. They moved both through the air and on the ground almost at will in the second half, after being held to a 7-7 tie at the intermission.

Ralph Pasquariello, a 225-pound, 11-foot punting fullback, crashed over for three touchdowns. The Wildcats meet Army next weekend. Charlie Royally, a 165-pound youngster playing his first college game, squirmed 93 yards on punt return for one of the two Aggie tallies.

TCU used a blocked punt and a Kansas fumble to score its two touchdowns against Kansas. Homer Ludiker converted each time and it was his second kick that made the difference as Kansas scored in the final period to draw within one point.

The scoring was the first in three meetings between the two schools. Both the 1946 and 1947 games ended in scoreless ties.

Rolling up 13 touchdowns and an extra point in the first quarter the Texas Longhorns brushed aside the LSU boys, making their first start under new Coach Gaynell Tinsley.

The Texas teams helped set new attendance records, everywhere they played.

In Philadelphia the Aggies and Wildcats attracted 35,000, probably the most people ever to see a Villanova home game. Kansas had a record opening-day crowd of 28,000 and at Austin, the Longhorns set a new first-day mark of 47,000.

Wake Forest opened the Southern Conference season by downing stubborn George Washington, 27-13, with 13 points in the final quarter.

A last-period surge brought Stanford its first victory in two years, a 26-20 verdict over San Jose State. The Palo Alto club trailed 20-7 after three quarters. Stanford lost nine straight games in 1947.

The Oklahoma Aggies inaugurated Missouri Valley competition with a 27-14 decision over Wichita.

DALLAS (AP)—Vernon (George) Washington, veteran of many baseball campaigns, led the Big State League in batting with a mark of .384—his second season in a row to turn the trick—according to official averages released by Statistician W. B. Ruggles.

Washington, playing for Texarkana, got his average on 173 hits in 450 times at bat. Joe Smaza of Sherman-Denison was second with .376 and Merv Connors of Paris was third with .373.

Sherman-Denison, which led the race over the season route, hit .312 as a club. Paris was second with .304.

Gold Sox Blast Oilers 18-9; Meet Here 2:30 Today

BY GENE GARRISON
News Sports Editor
AMARILLO—The Amarillo Gold Sox evened the score here last night when they defeated the Pampa Oilers 18 to 9. It was the second game in the Shaughnessy playoff in the West Texas-New Mexico League. Amarillo garnered 18 runs off 20 hits—sawarded equally by Avon Driggers and relief pitcher Foster White. Driggers was listed as the losing pitcher. He hurled for 2 and two-thirds innings. Joe Budny was the winning pitcher. The Oilers had got off to a good start in the first inning when Riley hit a home run with Bartholomew on base. But the Sox came back in their end of the frame to get five runs on six hits—three doubles and three singles. Pampa failed to get back in the game thereafter. Tony Range will be out of the game for the rest of the playoff. He broke a big toe in Thursday night's game. Dave Teyema played third, and Riley was switched to short. ## BASS LOCKS HORNS WITH SHUMACHER

Howard Bass, lethal Oiler righthander from Eldorado, Oklahoma, locks horns with Jack Shumacher this afternoon in Oiler Park when the Pampa Oilers and Amarillo Gold Sox clash in the third game of the final West Texas-New Mexico League Shaughnessy playoffs. The contest is slated to begin at 2:30 and will be the first of a three-game stand in Oiler Park. Bass, high school basketball and baseball coach in El Dorado, finished the season with a record of 18 wins and 11 losses. He has pitched in 34 ball games and has managed to complete 16 of them. Throughout the complete season, Bass has executed very good control. He has faced 849 men, given up 114 earned runs and allowed 254 hits. He has issued 82 walks and whiffed 131 batters. His percentage is .593. Shumacher, one of the Sox ace hurlers, has a 17 record. He has pitched in 27 games and completed 13 of them, giving up 192 hits and walking 54. Bass' hitting mark stands at .234 while Shumacher has compiled a .286. Neither twirler has hit any home runs.

All-Boston World Series Is Sought by Braves, Red Sox

NEW YORK—AP—The Braves and Red Sox, fighting to make it an all-Boston World Series, put some more daylight between them and most of their contenders yesterday. The American League Red Sox made most appreciable jump, gaining a full game over the second-place New York Yankees, who lost to Detroit, 4-3, while the Sox were pounding out an 11-6 decision over the St. Louis Browns. The loss dropped the Yanks two games back. In the National League the pace-setting Braves thumped Pittsburgh Pirates back into a tie for third place with the St. Louis Cardinals as Warren Spahn spun his 10th victory, a 2-1 affair. Brooklyn's Dodgers, meanwhile, hopped from fourth to second by edging the Cardinals, 3-2, at Brooklyn. Cleveland's Indians stayed in the American League pennant fight by handing the Washington Senators a 10-1 lacing, the 18th straight setback for the hapless Nats, two short of the record. The Indians, trailing the Red Sox by two and a half games, pulled half a game behind the Yankees. The Philadelphia Athletics trounced the Chicago White Sox, 11-3 in the other American League game, while the New York Giants outlasted the Cincinnati Reds, 12-7 in the remaining National League feature.

Cotton Consumption Above Last Year's

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Census Bureau reported that cotton consumed during August totaled 728,732 bales of lint and 80,885 of linters. This compared with 627,388 bales of lint and 87,468 bales of linters consumed during July of this year, and 712,864 bales of lint and 80,865 bales of linters consumed during August of last year.

Galveston Milk Prices Studied

GALVESTON—(AP)—An investigation of possible anti-trust violations as a result of recent milk price increases is being conducted here by Attorney General Price Daniel's office. Joe Reynolds, assistant in the anti-trust division of the attorney general's office, heads the local investigation. Reynolds recently investigated Houston milk prices. The representatives of the attorney general's office questioned Galveston milk plant operators and said they learned the 2-cent-a-quart price increase for Grade-A milk here was announced Tuesday following an increase in producer income initiated by the South Texas Producers Association. Daniel in promising to investigate the Galveston milk price situation, said "I can see no reason why the people of Galveston should have to pay the highest prices for milk in the state of Texas."

Raines Hits Goal For OCU Victory

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—George Raines was the difference Friday night as Oklahoma City University beat North Texas State 14-0 in the opening football game of the season for both teams. Raines made one touchdown from the two-yard line after setting it up with a 59-yard kickoff runback. He raced 56 yards for the second counter. Cecil Martin scored North Texas State's touchdown in a plunge from the one-yard line.

One Out of Four Workers Is Union

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Bureau of Labor Statistics estimated that one out of every four workers in the nation is a union member. The bureau issued a new list of the 197 national and international unions and 89 state and territorial labor organizations, with a combined membership of 13,600,000. The bureau estimates that one out of every six persons over 21 years old belongs to a union.

Two Cardinals Die Same Day

VATICAN CITY —(AP)— Raffaele Carlo Cardinal Rossi, 72, secretary of the Consistorial Congregation, died Thursday night at Bassano del Grappa Veneto, in northern Italy, it was learned here.

Rossi suffered a heart attack in Rome several months ago.

News of his death reached the Vatican almost at the same time as that of the death of another cardinal of the church, Emanuele Cardinal Arce y Ochotorena, archbishop of Tarragona, Spain, who also died Thursday.

435 Injured in Mexican Fiesta

MEXICO CITY —(AP)— Police hospital, Red and Green Cross workers drew a big sigh of relief as Mexico's Independence Day 138th independence anniversary passed.

Police reported 435 persons were wounded or hurt including two children who were killed Thursday as the nation celebrated its Wednesday and Thursday.

The two deaths reduced to 57 the number of cardinals—13 below the full quota of the Sacred College.

Ideal School Unfortunately Doesn't Exist, Boyle Says

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK —(AP)— If I had a son, if I had a daughter, I'd like them to go to a school that doesn't exist.

It is the school I wish I could have gone to when I was a child. To begin with I would have one teacher for every five or ten pupils. Their job would be to try to create in the schoolroom the friendly, cooperative atmosphere that is found in the highest type American home.

Perhaps in that way they could learn something worth bringing home and teaching their own parents.

The object of this dream school wouldn't be to prepare the pupil for a job. It would be to prepare him to live a happy life with his fellow men. There are plenty of good technical schools he could go to later to learn how to earn a living.

My school would be coeducational. It would have a gymnasium and once a week the pupils would sleep there. They could stay up late, too, and tell stories and play games.

From kindergarten on they would be taught that the finest career possible is matrimony. I would try to disillusion the little boys from the idea that marriage is only a sissy thing for women and children.

At my school there would be the triple goal of educating heart, head and hand. The key word would be "togetherness."

The children, boys as well as girls, would cook their meals in the school lunchroom. The different classrooms would take turns doing the cooking, dishwashing and waiting on tables. (There would be no tipping the waiters either.)

There would be napkins and table cloths, and they'd have the excitement of dining out—and learn proper table manners the easy way.

In my school every child would make at least one speech, write one poem, draw one picture and perhaps act in one play each month. And sing many, many songs. He would be expected to learn to play a musical instrument, and if he'd rather hum through tissue paper on a comb than violate a fiddle—why, that'd be just fine. The only purpose of the music anyway would be to make him feel good.

Polio Siege Might Hit Record High

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The current outbreak of poliomyelitis could turn out to be the nation's worst in more than 20 years.

Already more cases of the disease, popularly called polio or infantile paralysis, have been reported than by the same date in 1945. And 1946 saw the worst epidemic since the 1916 peak of nearly 80,000 cases.

U. S. Public Health Service officials won't try to guess this year's total.

The service's latest summary says:

A prediction at this time . . . would be hazardous, as the rate of decline following the peak week is not constant.

There is no statistical confirmation that the peak for this year has yet been reached, but new cases of the disease customarily begin to fall off by mid-September or a little later.

During the week ended Sept. 11, the last tabulated, 1512 new cases were reported. That was the largest weekly total of the year to date.

Through the same date, 12,666 cases had been reported for the year. That compares with 3,834 on the same date last year and with 12,434 for the epidemic year 1946.

No figures on the total deaths in the nation have been compiled thus far, but health service officials say that polio this year is relatively mild and that deaths will probably run no higher than 5 to 6 percent of the number of cases.

In 1946 the disease was blamed for 1,845 deaths, or approximately 7 percent of the total number of cases.

As in the past, polio has struck hardest in about a dozen states, although every state except Rhode Island reported some cases by the end of August. The largest numbers were reported from California, North Carolina, Texas, New York and Ohio.

On the basis of population, the states most seriously hit this year have been North Carolina, Delaware, Nebraska, Wyoming, California, Texas, Idaho, Minnesota, Iowa, South Dakota, South Carolina and Oklahoma.

By states, the number of reported cases then includes: Texas 1,256, New Mexico 45; Louisiana, 75.

As early as 1737 the recognized flag of the New England colonies had a blue field with a white union quartered by a red cross. Such a flag, with a green pine tree added, was carried at the Battle of Bunker Hill.

OKLAHOMA CITY —(AP)— It was a close thing, but Thomas Edison won over Babe Ruth.

The race was a student election to name a new grade school in the North Creston Hills district.

The principal, Mrs. Clara Wade, declined to say who campaigned for whom. But she admitted there is still "strong sentiment" for the Bambino among the electorate.

Humpty Dumpty was nominated by one kindergarten boy. Humpty picked up a few votes, too.

No figures were given.

Frank Sinatra May Play Part Of Irish Tinker

By JACK QUIGG
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—A tinker, as J. Carroll Naisch explains it, was a wandering handyman who circled news and gossip as he patched the pots of village housewives. Such a tinker played, he hopes, by Frank Sinatra will be the central figure in a unique film Naisch plans to make in his native Ireland.
Though he has generally played the actor on the screen, the 48-year-old actor says his family has lived in Ballycullen, County Limerick, for 700 years. It is there that he wants to film his story, "The Tinker of Ballycullen."
"It will show the charm and atmosphere of Ireland as it was 70 years ago," Naisch said. "Frank Sinatra, singing the songs of that period, would be ideal as the Tinker."
Naisch has interested Sinatra in the project and is going ahead with plans to form his own production company.

Danny Kay's plan to bring modern vaudeville to New York's Palace Theatre is definitely off. The old showhouse is being converted for television, he says. Now the comic is mulling a personal appearance tour of Australian cities.
Rudy Vallee, whose screen career was rejuvenated when he began playing character parts, has a yen to be a troubador again. "I'd like to do a singing role," he said on the "Mother Is a Freshman" set. "But I wouldn't want to be typed as a singer again. I prefer a variety of roles."
Walter Brennan will play a sharpshooting hillbilly in his next film. He'll be the head of the feuding McCoy clan in "Roseanna McCoy." Victor Jory is readying for a part in "Strococo." Rita Hayworth is the off-again-on-again leading lady.

To make movies easier to photograph and save the expense of location trips, studios build ingenious sets in their own backyards. Here are some of their latest creations.
For "Down to the Sea in Ships," 20th Fox built a 130-foot whaling tug indoors. Fully

Lions Host Oiler Team

Grover Seitz and the Pampa Oilers were guests at Thursday's luncheon meeting of the Lion's Club.
After a quick introduction of the men, the team started to Am- arillo to play the Gold Sox.
Jack Nimmo reported on the five-week speech and salesmanship course, sponsored by the Pampa B & PW, which is to start Sept. 28.
Mrs. Ethel Fitzmaurice, representative of the Empire Producing Company of Kansas City, was a guest of the club and appealed to the group to give suggestions for a recreation building to be used by Pampa youths between the ages of 14 and 21. She said Pampa lacks recreational facilities for the young people.
Patty Bolin and Pat Williams were introduced as the "Lion Sweetheart" and "Lion Cub" for the month of September. Patty is a senior at Pampa High School, and Pat is a Tenderfoot Scout in the Lion Club-sponsored Troop 16.

The charter night of the Canadian Lions Club will be a Ladies' Night Sept. 27 at the Canadian Baker School. C. H. Walker announced. The Pampa club plans to send representatives.
H. P. Doster, president, read a telegram from the Borger Lions inviting members to a Sept. 21 barbecue. Also, it was announced a zone meeting will be held at McLean Sept. 28.
Dude Balthrope, E. O. Wedgeworth, Ken Bennett and Bunny Schultz led the group in singing "Take Me Out to the Ballgame," in honor of the Oilers.
Special guests at the luncheon included Bill Hammonds of the equipped, its mounted on rockers. With wind machines belling the sails, it pitches and rolls like the real thing.
John Wayne will battle an octopus, raise gold from a sunken ship and free a boy from a giant clam in "Waite of the Red Witch." He'll be photographed in a special cement tank through underwater camera ports. After seaweed, coral, fish and a fragment of a ship are put in, the scene will be a ringer for a tropic lagoon.

Less Expensive Beef Cuts Good Pot Roast Material

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Cheaper eggs and chickens by Christmas. Cheaper bacon and pork by next spring. Cheaper beef—but maybe not until next year—this time.

These are the only possible lights on the high price horizon which three sets of government economists—Federal Reserve Board and Commerce and Labor departments—can see now. They are indicated because of a general slip downward in the prices of grain due to bumper crops.

There are three signs which these economists look for to herald a general drop in the cost of living. None of them on the horizon yet. They are:
1. A fall in wholesale prices.
2. A pile-up of surpluses somewhere.
3. Unemployment.

Dropping wholesale prices could mean lower prices to stores so Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics (BLS) finds that wholesale prices are still going up, some of them faster than retail prices.
Here's the BLS comparison on what both wholesale and retail prices did up to July 15, the latest report of its kind available.
From June 15, retail prices up 1.2 percent; wholesale prices up 1.4 percent; from June 15, 1947, up 9.7 percent and up 13 percent; from June 15, 1946, up 30.3 percent and up 49.3 percent; from August, 1939, up 76.2 percent and up 134.3 percent.

Food has been jumping upward most rapidly in retail price. Here are the percentages from BLS, up to July 15.
From June 15—up 1.3 percent; from June 15, 1947, up 12.3 percent; from June 15, 1946, up 48.9 percent; from August 1939, up 131.9 percent.
As for surpluses, if they should pile up somewhere—on wheat, washing machines, eggs, men's shirts—and stores couldn't sell such articles, they'd cut prices. Then they'd either force lower prices from wholesalers or they'd stop buying. Wholesalers would have to cut. They would turn

Ballot Form Ready Except For Senator

AUSTIN —(AP)—Forms for printing sample ballots in the November general election—with the space for Democratic U. S. Senator blank—were ready for mailing to the state printer yesterday.

Secretary of State Paul H. Brown closed the lists Friday, except where he was under court restraint. He was under a federal court restraining order forbidding him to certify the name of Lyndon B. Johnson as candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Attorneys for Coke R. Stevenson, who trailed Johnson by 17 votes in the official runoff primary count, had obtained an amended injunction from U. S. Judge T. Whitfield Davidson naming Brown as a defendant.

It stopped Brown from certifying Johnson's name and restraining county election boards from preparing and distributing official ballots. Hearing on the restraining order will be held at Fort Worth Tuesday. At that time, the judge will decide whether or not to continue it in forcing pending trial of the suit on its merits. Stevenson had alleged fraud.

Brown said he would not certify Johnson's name, but leave the space intended for the Democratic nominee blank. If the court modifies its order next Tuesday, Brown said, he will have plenty of time to prepare the election supplies.

He did not know what the situation would be if the court rules that the case should be tried on its merits.

The sample ballots should be mailed to the county election boards by Sept. 27. Brown said to reach them by Oct. 2, or 30 days before the general election, as provided by law.

The law provides that absentee voting start 20 days before the election.

Meanwhile, attorneys for Johnson have made no further court moves. It was reported they had decided to concentrate on defense of the federal court suit.

Pickets Reject Wallace Party Help at School

DALLAS —(AP)— Parents are picketing Sowers Negro school here in a demand that the teachers be replaced, that a Negro board of trustees be established and that the school share in a $10,000 bond issue voted for enlargement of the Sowers white school.

But, says Charlie Richey, spokesman for the Negro parents who have picketed the school since Monday, support from the Progressive Party in Dallas "has not been sought and is not wanted."

"We want to settle this ourselves," Richey said. "None of our people are associated with the Progressive Party and we have not asked them to enter the case."

Progressives had announced through their candidate for Congress, Joe Bailey Irwin, that they would join the picket line at the school, near Irving.

Richey said no white pickets from the Progressive Party had joined the Negro parents who have refused to permit their children to enter the school.

Meanwhile, County School Superintendent Joe P. Harris said he still intends to file charges against the pickets if they are still on the school grounds Monday.

Rats and guinea pigs, which have been bitten by venomous snakes, die more quickly when given whisky or alcohol than if the supposed antidote is not given.

Chiefs Seek To Squelch Biting Dogs

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Every body in government these days gets psychological studies to help in his human relations. Every body that is, but the postman.

That's what a scientific report out of Boston says. And it must be so for it comes straight from the American Psychological Association.

The armed services, this report says, will spend more than $6,000,000 for psychology and social science. The Post Office Department won't spend a nickel.

Why skip the postman? Isn't a postman's psyche as important as anyone else's?

In an attempt to find an answer to these questions, I put in a call to Bill Allen, the big O. and A. man for the Post Office Department.

"Why don't we have psychological studies, too?" repeated Allen. "I don't know. I don't think anyone over here ever thought much about it, one way or the other."

"But I'll tell you one thing," he said. "we take good care of our men."

"For example, do you know how many manhours are lost each year because of postmen getting bit by dogs?"

"No."

"Well, I don't either," confessed Allen. "But it's a lot of manhours. Studies are being completed in Chicago right now to show the postman how he best can cope with biting dogs."

"But psychological studies wait a minute. I'll call Edward Landry, director of safety for the department. Maybe he knows."

Landry speaking: "Psychological studies? Hmm-mm. No, I never heard of such a thing."

Mule-Boa Battle Called Off

WALNUT, N. C. —(AP)— A scheduled battle between the "kickiest mule in Stokes County" and a 20-foot boa constrictor is all off by a double default.

The snake yesterday was in a safe hiding place and the mule's owner has joined the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Bill Page, owner of a carnival playing here, disclosed Friday his $1,000 boa constrictor would not be risked against Moby Dick, styled as the "kickiest" mule in the county.

And Moby Dick's owner, Martin Luther Mitchell, disclosed that his mule isn't going to fight anything, much less a boa constrictor. Mitchell added he had been fast-talked out of his mule's services by a friend and the next thing he knew the Moby Dick-boa constrictor match was on.

Clarence E. Stone, Jr., president of the Winston-Salem SPCA, investigated. He said that after talking with Mitchell the mule owner joined the Winston-Salem unit of the SPCA. Stone added that the proposed battle conflicted with state laws on animal baiting.

The U. S. forest service estimates that three-quarters of the timber in Alaskan coastal forests is within two and one-half miles of tidewater.

Pause.

"But we have an interesting experiment going on right now in Chicago. We're trying to find ways and means of preventing our postmen from getting bitten by dogs."

"But psycho—who'd want to psychoanalyze a postman?"

So there you are, folks. It looks as if your postman will keep on in the same old way: delivering the mail, and doing his best, with the help of the Post Office Department, to prevent dog-bite.

Film Censor Hates Job

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—"About some things" complains Ariene Dahl, "studio censors are fussy old maid."

Ariene, who's shaped like the girls on the jackets of modern novels, is in a mild wrangle with Eagle-Lion's censor over something called "cross-lighting."

She plays a voluptuous spy in the French Revolution in "Reign of Terror," now shooting. She must portray a clever, wily adventuress, costumed so as to take even patriots' minds off barricades and the Bastille.

As appearance that will evoke whistles in in this case, Ariene argues, a sober, legitimate part of her dramatic art.

Joe Green, Jr., the studio censor, looked at some test footage of Ariene in a proposed, low-use flat lighting, he told the necked get-up. "Okay, if you cameraman, 'but I don't think we can get away with cross-lighting."

Flat-lighting is head-on and casts no shadows. Cross-lighting, he said, is too revealing. The contourish. Might come under the ban in the Production Code, voluntarily adopted by producers 18 years ago, forbidding "undue exposure."

Ariene has a 19 1/2-inch waist and a 35-inch bust. The Minneapolis-born ex-model and stage actress snapped:

"Censors carry their rules too far. Why, it gets to the point where you're ashamed of being a woman. Sometimes a picture depends on having a sexy woman, but the censors take away her sex. Take away her shape, and you ruin the characterization."

Green, Jr.'s comment was, "You know, sometimes I hate being a censor."

Murder Charges Filed As Result Of Snake Dispute

MARSHALL, Tex.—(AP)—Charges of assault to murder have been filed against Eddie Lynch as the aftermath of a shooting in which one man was killed and two others wounded.

Sheriff Barry Rosborough said the trouble arose from an argument over the exhibition of some snakes at Hallsville, 12 miles west of here.

Lynch was charged with firing Jackson Stockton, Sr., and his wife were wounded in the younger Stockton's home.

Get Welcome Relief From Stomach Gas, Sour Food Taste

Do you feel bloated and miserable after every meal? If so, here is how you may rid yourself of this nervous disease. Thousands have found it the way to be well, cheerful and happy again.

Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, frothy, fetid, perish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Greek Guerillas Flee From Army

ATHENS—(AP)—A Greek army spokesman said Communist guerillas are fleeing swiftly into Albania, abandoning much material.

He said the main, mile-high peak of the Mourgana pocket near the frontier was captured despite infantry and artillery fire from Albania. The rebels had up to 1,900 men in the area. At one place they abandoned 4,000 mortar shells.

Bernadotte's Death Shows Need for U.N. Police Force

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The assassination of Swedish Count Folke Bernadotte in Palestine is a sharp reminder of this: After three years of life, the United Nations organization has not been able to agree on setting up an armed force to keep peace.

Bernadotte, as special representative of the U. N., had gone to Palestine last May to work out a truce between warring Arabs and Jews.

There's been an uneasy truce—a truce of shootings, bombings, and killings—since May.

Friday Bernadotte's car was stopped—according to reports, by members of the Stern Gang, a group of Jewish terrorists. They killed Bernadotte and a French member of his staff.

Could it have occurred if the U. N. had an armed force of any size in Palestine?

The U. N. set up a military committee of its members to work out an answer to this question:

How big should the U. N. world police force be and how would it be made up?

The Military Committee started meeting in February, 1946 and in August, 1948 it finally had to report it could reach no agreement.

The Russians don't agree with the others: U. S., Britain, France, China.

The Russians argue that each nation should make equal contributions to the U. N. armed force.

The U. S., China, Britain and France want the big powers to contribute whatever they're able to give.

The figures offered by the big powers show that the U. S. wants a far stronger and bigger U. N. police force than Russia.

Sunshine Dairy Foods

Siriving Continuously to Promote

Pampa's Future

... and after all, Pampa's future is YOUR future

The Sunshine Dairy is not only locally operated, but it is owned by a home town man, Mr. "Pinkey" Vineyard, who has 17 years of experience in the dairy business. Associated with him is his son, Howard. This home-owned dairy employs 18 people. You'll see the Sunshine delivery trucks operating over five routes in the city as well as routes in Borger, Lefors, White Deer, Skellytown, Mobeetie, Canadian and Miami.

In the 12,000 feet of floor space, the Sunshine Dairy produces the finest in Homogenized Milk, Sweet Milk, Buttermilk, Whipping Cream, Coffee Cream, Orange Drink, Cottage Cheese and Ice Cream in many favorite flavors.

The Sunshine Dairy buys its milk from local dairy farms, thereby putting thousands of dollars into this community.

MILK

is the growing food for growing children. Producing clean, safe, pure milk is a serious calling. All milk produced in the Sunshine Dairy Food Plant has to be produced under strict quality control standards. That's why more people are asking for SUNSHINE DAIRY FOOD Products.

O. H. Foster began selling in his teens in a small way. His first real effort at selling was when out of college and before teaching his first school, he brought a group of schoolmates to sell books in Greer County, Oklahoma.
After teaching several years and organizing and operating a large mercantile company, he had much training and experience in the life insurance business. He attended sales schools under some of the best sales instructors in the nation in that field. He also studied their home study courses at night.
Later he was State Organizer for a national fraternal order in Dallas, Houston, San Antonio, Fort Worth, Austin and other cities. A high official of the lodge said that meeting in Austin was the most inspirational of any meeting of their lodge for five years.
As District Manager at Amarillo for the Panhandle of Texas, the Panhandle of Oklahoma and Eastern New Mexico, he traveled every city and village in that area for the American Automobile Association. The Panhandle Auto Club was badly in debt when he took it over. He paid its debts and left a large bank account after more than doubling the service for members.
Mr. Foster's formal education was done at Grayson College, Whitworth; North Texas State, Denton; West Texas State, Canyon; State University, Austin; Texas Wesleyan, Fort Worth. In addition he has taken courses in voice, oratory, harmony and composition.
Mr. Foster has taught salesmanship in his schools for several years. He has read and studied a number of Texts on the subject. His work is more of the classroom-recitation type than of the lecture type. He believes that education should be of a drawing-out developing nature rather than of the ram-rod cram nature.

Very truly yours,

Last Wednesday night the API began its series of fall and winter meetings at the Palm Room in the City Hall at Pampa. In setting up plans for the next few meetings to come up before the change in officers, the program committee is going all-out to make each meeting an affair that all the oil men will welcome and want to attend. The first meeting stressed safety, and though the subject is preached daily to all men who work in the industry, this new night was of interest to all present. . . Sgt. J. B. Carlisle, of the State Department of Safety, made a talk to the group which was both interesting and informative. Sgt. Carlisle, a very likable person, interspersed enough humor with his remarks to make the statistics he quoted assume a real role of importance. . . One topic the sergeant stressed over and over again was the importance of teaching our youth to drive and drive carefully. He suggested regular courses to be taught in the schools that would stress this important factor. . . Following Sgt. Carlisle's address a picture, "Miracles in Paradise Valley," made and produced by the Sinclair Oil Company, was shown. . . This being the first meeting of the fall season several members of the API organization missed the meeting. . . They are urged to begin planning now to be at the next meeting in November.

The last reported depth of the Carruth well was 10,852 feet. Despite rumors that the well is being torn down and leases released there is no truth to them. Reports are that the drilling is going slowly but as yet no granite has been contacted and they will no doubt continue until it is reached. Reports from the well are not encouraging, however.
Notes from here and there: Buck Burdette and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cabot will return from Boston tomorrow where they have been transacting company business for Cabot. Mr. Bloxson of the Dunlop Rubber Company, in England, has been going through the Cabot plants the past few days. . . Peggy Stevens, Cabot employee, recently returned from a trip abroad and is now back on the job. . . Stanlind reports that A. M. Derrick, Jr., junior petroleum engineer, and his wife are visiting with friends and relatives in south and central Texas hoping to also see some good football games and get a little dove hunting accomplished. . . H. L. Speer, district clerk for Sinclair, is still vacationing. . . A. L. Ashley, production roustabout foreman on Shell's south end, left Wednesday on a 3-week vacation. . . J. C. Nichols, superintendent of Shell's Gasoline Plant No. 17, returned Friday after taking one week of vacation.

THE GREAT AMERICAN DESERT The average man (or woman) is using about 1/10 of his brain power according to the late Prof. James, Psychologist.

Ignorance, in America today, is our most expensive luxury. If you will study three hours each week for one hundred weeks, or two years, making a total of 300 hours of study, we believe you can increase your salary $10 per week to a $500 salary increase per year.

Young man or young lady, if only 10 o/o of your brain is earning and the other 90 o/o unemployed, as scientists say, you are now paying for a "night" study course in low earning power. If you do not take the course you pay for it just the same. If you take the course it will pay for itself many times, therefore, costing you nothing.

If you feel and know that your talents need developing, come in and let us help you plan your future. Don't delay, enroll today.

TRUST By Elswyth Thane Copyright by Elswyth Thane Distributed by MEA SERVICE, INC. HILARY put down his impulse to escape from the room. Alice stood looking after his mother—slim and straight and fair and desirable her pale gold hair gleaming in sculptured curls round her halo hat. If he had come home on leave this summer, and found her looking like this, surely he would have had the good sense to urge a date for their wedding? And what would she have said to that—now that George had come into it? He had to know. George had dumped the ice into the White Lady hastily and was now performing tunes with the shaker. "What upset her?" Alice was asking. "I thought perhaps she was worrying about Hilary again." "No," said George, and began to pour out into the little stemmed glasses with great care. "Are you?" "Well, I'm afraid I haven't been writing much either," she acknowledged defensively. "I don't really deserve to hear. One loses touch." She accepted her glass from him and raised it.

Government Is Getting 'Looking Over'

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The government is getting the biggest looking over it's ever had in history.
The general purpose: To find out how the government can be run better and cheaper. For example: By wiping out duplication in the things government agencies do, pulling spraddled-out agencies together, using fewer workers.

The job, nearing an end, has been going on for a year. It's been done with extreme quietness under the direction of the Hoover commission.
This is a 12-man commission—six Democrats, six Republicans—headed by former President Herbert Hoover.

Its full name is the Commission on the Organization of the Executive Branch of the Government.
Hoover, now 74 years old, said this would be his "last public service."

Only the executive branch is under the microscope. So the other two branches—the legislative (Congress) and the judicial (the federal courts)—are not involved.
The federal government, with over 2,000,000 workers, has more employees than all states, city and county governments put together.

They're scattered in about 1,200 separate bureaus and agencies. The jobs some of them do overlap. One member of the commission—Rep. Clarence Brown, Ohio Republican—
There are 75 separate bureaus with authority in the field of transportation, 93 dealing with government lending, 37 with foreign trade, 64 with business, 22 with insurance, 44 with agriculture.

In January, 1940—after the new Congress gets started—the commission will turn over to it a general recommendation for improving the government.
For 40 years at various times—Congress and the President have appointed commissions to find ways of making the government run better.

They made recommendations and changes followed. But no study has had the breadth or authority of the Hoover commission.
It has worked very quietly, without letting out any details of what it found or thought. If it did, this being an election year, the politicians might use its findings for ammunition.

NEW YORK —(AP)— The television industry, still on its first half million sets, hopes to have 11,000,000 in American homes within five years.
Some scientists claim that no sooner do they get their video set working than it begins to draw more kibitzers than a picnic lunch does.
