

ETHIOPIA PROTESTS TO LEAGUE ITALY IS PREPARING FOR A 'MASSACRE'

ASKS REMOVAL OF ARMS BAN BY COUNTRIES

ITALY CALLS ANOTHER GROUP OF TROOPS TO COLORS

GENEVA, Aug. 14 (AP)—Charging that Italy is preparing to massacre a peaceful people, Ethiopia today protested to the League of Nations that she is unable to purchase arms abroad to defend her soil.

On the eve of the all-important political negotiations in Paris, where three leading European powers are meeting to consider measures for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict, Ethiopia besought the league's assistance to remove what she called the unjust effect of an arms embargo imposed on her by many nations.

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A Reuter's (British) news agency dispatch from Geneva said today that Ethiopia had protested to the League of Nations against the embargo on arms.

LONDON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A Reuter's (British) news agency dispatch from Athens said today that the Italian-owned Dodecanese Islands in the Aegean Sea have been placed under martial law with a severe blockade in force. The island of Leros has been converted into a fortress.

ROME, Aug. 14 (AP)—Italy called to arms today another extensive group of officers and soldiers as the government, indifferent to the tripartite conference in Paris, continued its preparations for war in East Africa.

The new order recalled to service those members of the classes of 1911, 1913 and 1914 who served under trimerist (three-month) obligatory military service.

The only ones excused from today's order are priests and other religious workers who make formal demand for exemption attested to by their bishops, and those enrolled in the blackshirt legion destined for service in East Africa.

The soldiers recalled must present themselves between Sept. 23 and Sept. 29.

It was learned that Italians living abroad who have volunteered for service in East Africa will be enrolled in the legion, which will be formed into four battalions of 1,000 men each. They will be commanded by Pietro Parigi, secretary-general of the organization of fascists abroad.

The communique involves tens of thousands of men, but it was explained that they would not be sent to East Africa. They were called because the government felt their military training was too meager and therefore they should have another six months or year of preparation.

Automobile experts will be an exception. They will be placed in special category and may be sent to East Africa for training.

Tax Bill Starts Through Senate

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Facing a move to postpone all tax legislation until next session when the new budget will be before congress, the 250,000,000 tax bill started today through the debate-weary senate.

Chairman Harrison of the finance committee, which completely rewrote the house measure and made it conform more nearly with presidential recommendations, opened debate by explaining the bill.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) meantime waited for an opportunity to move that the legislation be sent back to committee with instructions that a bill be reported at next session.

Democratic leaders predicted passage by Saturday night in virtually the form proposed by the committee.

Efforts to change the measure so that it would raise taxes on small incomes as well as those over $1,000 were in vain.

Recovery truly "has a firmer grip" and one that many an anemic business needs right now.

Japan is on the right track in subjecting automobile manufacturing to military rule. Next to war, automobiles do the most killing.

The cotton outlook is good, but Mrs. Gushaway says the government is still a long way from making silk attractive to her daughters.

Some days we wish the popping cat napped a bit louder, so we would know which side had the injunction of the moment.

Lamentable as was Berger's suffocation accident, it was news when anyone in this modern day dug a ditch deep enough to get covered up in.

Musing of the moment: Nature is a wonderfully balanced combination, after all. She has checks and balances for most everything. The early bird gets the worm, but the cat gets the bird.

Black widows are being combated with a minute insect, boll worms with wasps. But many an ally of man has turned out to be an enemy.

Examples: Johnson grass, Russian thistles, English sparrows.

Brevitarians
AMERICA HAS profited much through immigration, although unrestricted movements of low-skilled peoples have recently provided an unemployment problem.

In the years when America needed manpower to exploit her vast resources the nations of the world sent their adventuresome surplus population.

LATELY THERE has been a change of policy and of trend. We are gravitating toward a position of complacent (?) self-security, with immigration sharply restricted and our exports limited.

The world at large, however, is eager to have the advantage of American genius in mass production. The danger to our declining world trade will increase if Americans continue to invest capital abroad to develop manufactures, using cheap labor.

A RATHER artificial surplus of farmers in the country has created the demand for migrations like the managed one to Alaska. Now Argentina is bidding for American farmers to move to the Chaco region and speed up production of "white gold."

There are fine cotton raising opportunities in South America, providing insects and pests be eliminated. This elimination can be evolved by American experts. It is said that seven million acres of good cotton land is awaiting cultivation in the Chaco district.

It should be news to residents of the south that two American textile companies and several foreign ones have established or are establishing textile mills in Argentina. Lest anyone jump to the conclusion that there are greener

GUSHER FLOWS MUCH OIL IN WILCOX POOL

BELIEVE NEW WELL IS GREATEST SINCE 1929

The Wilcox pool south of Pampa came to the front yesterday and gave that section of the Panhandle field its largest well in some time. Although no railroad commission gauge has been made, producers believe the well is the largest in the Wilcox pool since 1929.

The latest producer is the Moran Drilling company's No. 1 Holmes in section 86, block 3, T&GN survey, located 4 miles south of the city limits. Tools were removed from the hole at 3,150 feet and a heavy flow of oil followed. All available tanks were quickly filled with a flow estimated at 70 barrels an hour. An estimated 2,000,000 feet of gas flowed the oil, out of the granite wash formation.

A railroad commission test will be made as soon as pipeline connections can be made. The test will be made under the new ruling, 24 hours of open flow. It has been given a temporary potential of 500 barrels daily.

Moran's new well extends the pool three locations south of former production.

Ex-PWA Workers Prove It's a Strike

Proving that they actually were on strike and were not, as the administration described their action, merely "returning to their homes," these former WPA workers marched in a protest demonstration outside the Philadelphia navy yard.

The majority of the employees at work on a WPA project at the yard were reported to have remained on the job, however.

UTILITY CZAR IS THREATENED BY GEORGIAN

COX SAYS HE'LL KICK HOPSON OUT OF ROOM

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Howard C. Hopson, long missing "master mind" of the Associated Gas and Electric System, invited senate contempt proceedings today by failing to report to a senate subpoena to appear immediately before the senate lobby committee.

After waiting more than an hour for the heavy-set utilities magnate to appear on an "insanter" subpoena, the committee announced it would meet again at 3 o'clock (EST) and if he did not show up then it would cite him to the senate for contempt.

Both Harry F. Sinclair, oil magnate, and William P. MacCracken, former assistant secretary of commerce, have served jail terms for contempt.

While the committee was waiting a resolution to strengthen its power in questioning Hopson and others was adopted by the senate.

A subpoena was served on him this morning after he testified to the house rules committee. Some time later he had not shown up and senators began talking of citing him for contempt.

Presented by Chairman Black of the lobby committee, the resolution amended the original investigation proposal to authorize inquiring into corporate and financial structures, salaries and stock transactions between companies.

Black said Hopson would be "cited" if he did not appear in response to the summons.

He said Hopson and persons relative to a committee questionnaire had not returned the right of congress to go into private transactions publicly.

Called Lobby Czar
He told Senator Hastings (R-De) the committee would show that "Hopson was directly controlling and managing the entire program of lobbying the congress."

A majority of the senate committee had previously had threatened to cite him for contempt if he failed to appear.

Service was made by Joseph McCarthy, agent for the senate group who yesterday prevented from serving the subpoena after the house rules committee adjourned.

McCarthy succeeded in serving after Hopson testified he had "evaded the senate committee" because it was "a matter of protection" to his health.

"I felt that other employees had given them all the testimony I could give," he added.

McCarthy was waiting outside the door of the house committee room when Hopson emerged. He stepped forward, held the document before him and said:

Governor Asks Support Of Officers In Bookie Drive

Appeals To Business Men To Aid In Campaign

HOUSTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Six Texas rangers were here today and were preparing to strike against Houston's bookmakers while they still were crippled as a result of a temporary restraining order obtained at Austin by representatives of Governor James V. Allred. Sergeant Sid Kelso, in charge of the rangers here, promised a relentless war on the Houston bookies, many of whom had made arrangements to continue to operate notwithstanding the restraining order.

AUSTIN, Aug. 14 (AP)—Governor Allred appealed today for the support of local officers and business men in his campaign to drive bookie shops out of Texas.

Simultaneously Everett L. Looney, special counsel for the governor, stated formally an injunction stopping operations of agencies supplying bookie shops with race information was not intended to apply to newspapers.

"I hope local officers will step in and conduct prosecutions," Governor Allred said. "I hope business interests will demand that their officers cooperate."

"I ask the support of all the citizenship of Texas in the drive against bookies, including those opposed to repeal of the race track law."

The governor said results of the bookie shop "evil" were shown in statements by business interests throughout the state that their operations constituted a drain on community life.

"It is demonstrated by the fact that in one city alone bookie shops are paying fines aggregating $1,500 monthly which have come out of the pockets of the gamblers," he continued.

"Moreover, in one city alone one group of bookie shops pay $1,400 a week for their racing news service, and this comes out of the gamblers' pockets."

"No matter what odds are really offered, some bookie shops put a limit of 20 to 1 on what they pay, and they get the difference, even if the actual odds are 40 to 1."

While appealing primarily for support of the local officers, Gov. Allred said Texas rangers had been placed at their disposal and imagined "they will find out if the injunction is being violated."

Shaw Will Join Flying School, And Open Field

Frank Shaw, one of Pampa's first pilots, will leave Sunday to join the Smith and Young Flying school, operating out of El Paso and Roswell. The company will open a field in Clovis and Mr. Shaw will become its manager.

Mr. Shaw will go to Miami, Fla., before reporting to Clovis, and fly a Boeing dual motor ship back to Roswell. It will be placed in service as a passenger ship operating between El Paso and Amarillo and will also be used for charter trips.

Mr. Shaw plans to fly the huge ship to Pampa en route to Roswell.

Starting flying back in the days of Ray Shifflett, Shaw took to the air "like a bird." After only a few hours at the stick, he made a solo flight and from then on flew and stunted to recognition. At present, Shaw has more than 2,300 hours in the air.

Ben Guill Reads Play At Rotary Club's Meeting

The classification system of Rotary clubs was explained before the club today by L. N. McCullough, and lists of filed and unfiled classifications in the local club were distributed to members today.

A play, "Dust," was read before the club by Ben Guill, its author.

Visitors were Rotarians Jimmy Thompson, Amarillo; W. J. Morris and J. L. Naylor, Panhandle; R. N. Matthews and Chas. Calloway, Canadian.

BOOKIE SHOPS CLOSE

HOUSTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Chronicle, after a survey, said this afternoon that Houston horse race bookmakers were closing their shops as a result of a drive against them by Governor James V. Allred and Texas rangers. The bookies were handicapped by a temporary restraining order obtained in Austin yesterday intended to cut off their supply of information.

They would prosecute their application for a permanent injunction in district court.

AUSTIN, Aug. 14 (AP)—The attorney general ruled today that the railroad commission was required to give notice before cancelling permits to drill oil wells.

LATE NEWS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Production control for potatoes, the nation's fourth food crop, was approved by the house today by a 173 to 165 roll call vote.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—A new oil control bill was approved today by the house interstate commerce committee. Proponents of the measure, worked out by a special oil sub-committee headed by Rep. Cole (D-Md), planned to press for action before congress adjourns.

Representatives from oil states already had been informed that President Roosevelt approves the terms of the bill, generally speaking.

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—Joe Moore's home run with two on base in the second inning, the climax of a four-run rally, enabled the Giants to defeat the challenging St. Louis Cardinals, 6 to 4 in the first game of a doubleheader today.

BOSTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The Braves hung an 8-1 defeat on Cincinnati in the first game of their double header here today. Frankhouse allowed the Reds eight hits but kept them well scattered.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 14 (AP)—Consistent hitting gave the Pittsburgh Pirates an 8 to 1 victory over the Phillies in the first game of today's double header. Centerfielder Hafey, of the Pirates, made a home run.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Howard C. Hopson failed to appear before the senate lobby committee at the 3 o'clock deadline set by the committee, but Chairman Black also was still absent today and no action was immediately taken.

BROOKLYN, Aug. 14 (AP)—Watson Clark blanked the Cubs with one hit in the last five innings while the Dodgers rallied to score five times in the seventh and eighth and defeat the Cubs 9 to 5 in the first game of a doubleheader today.

MOTIONS TO VOID GAS WRITS GRANTED BY APPEALS COURT

AUSTIN, Aug. 14 (AP)—The third court of civil appeals today approved agreed to dismiss temporary injunctions restraining three plaintiffs from violating the railroad commission's gas promotion order in the Panhandle field.

The appeals court action followed dismissal of proceedings filed in district court by the Cargray corporation, the American Natural Gas company and Hagy, Harrington and Marsh. The companies, who strip gas of its gasoline content, obtained a district court temporary injunction last week restraining enforcement of the order until ratable taking provisions of the gas conservation law were made effective.

The state obtained a writ of prohibition from the appeals court to stay effectiveness of the temporary injunction.

Attorneys for the companies said

AMENDMENT TO SUPPORT AGED, POOR OUTLINED

$15 Monthly Would Be Paid Under Proposal

Editor's note: This is the second of a series of four articles explaining the seven constitutional amendments submitted to a vote at a special election August 24.

AUSTIN, Aug. 14 (AP)—Two of 7 proposed constitutional changes on which Texans would ballot 10 days hence were designed to bolster the social security of the state's aged and poor.

One placed at the top of the ballot would authorize the legislature to provide old-age assistance. It would be optional.

The other would permit submission of constitutional amendments at special legislative sessions to meet extraordinary emergencies, a function now allowed only at biennial or regular sessions.

The pension amendment would permit maximum payments of $15 monthly to Texans over 65 years of age who had resided in the state at least five of the past nine years and continuously for one year immediately preceding the application.

Bishop H. A. Boaz, chairman of the Texas dry forces, has been secured as the speaker for an outdoor prohibition rally on Friday evening, Aug. 23, according to announcement made by H. D. Tucker today.

All churches and the entire community will be invited to take part in this rally, which will be in the interest of the retaining of the dry law in Texas.

The rally will be held on the vacant lot across from the court house and seats will be provided for all who wish to attend. Other features of the program will be announced later.

Scout Camp Will Open On Monday

Adobe Walls council Boy Scouts will hold their 10-day mountain camp 48 miles from Colorado Springs, Colo., at the camp of the Colorado Springs Scouts, beginning Monday. The mail address will be Boy Scout Camp Terrail, Lake George, Colo.

The boys will leave here at 5 a. m. Monday, but $15 fees must be paid at headquarters here by 10 a. m. Saturday and baggage checked in at the high school gymnasium by 5 p. m. Sunday.

Walker Arrives To View Planes

Charles L. Walker, department of commerce inspector, aeronautical branch, with headquarters in Dallas, arrived yesterday to inspect ships at the local airport. It was Inspector Walker's first visit to Pampa since his arrival in this section from California.

The new inspector replaced Geo. Meadows, who is on sick leave. Inspector Walker flew here in a Monocoupe, one of 15 purchased for inspectors throughout the nation. The plane is powered with a 145-hp motor, capable of cruising at 145 miles an hour. It is equipped with the latest instruments for blind flying, "floating" instrument board, landing lights, flares, stream line tires, and other late inventions for safe flying.

The inspector was still here inspecting ships and giving flying tests this morning. He was greatly surprised at the activity at the local airport and the number of ships stationed here. The landing field is not of the best, however.

Centennial Jobs Urged By Garner

Fort Worth and San Antonio Present Requests

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Expenditure of the government's $3,000,000 contribution to the Texas Centennial celebration in such a manner as to provide employment for a maximum number of people and to assure as much permanent benefit as possible was recommended today by Vice President Garner.

The vice-president and other members of the federal Centennial commission—Secretaries Hull, Wallace, and Roper—met with exposition officials and other Texans today to lay plans for selling Texas' history to the nation.

Roper suggested various Texas communities which are seeking a share of the federal funds submit their proposals in writing to the commission.

Garner said he was sympathetic to all applications which were submitted to the commission at a conference yesterday and discussed further today but was primarily interested in "seeing the money spent to provide as much employment as possible between now and the opening of the exposition next June."

"At the same time," said Garner, "I would like to see the money

City Band Will Play Concert At Phillips Picnic

Pampa's municipal band will play a concert tomorrow at the mammoth picnic of Phillips Petroleum company employees on the Saunders ranch northeast of LeFors.

The picnic will open between 9 and 10 o'clock tomorrow—Thursday—and will continue all day, closing with a dance at the Southern club at 9 p. m.

Sports will include baseball, softball, wrestling, and other events. Basket lunches will be taken by the 700 or more persons to be present.

The picnic is planned by the Phillips Employees "66" club, headed by Ralph Irwin.

The Pampa band will play at 1 p. m.

WHY TEXAS SECURITIES ACT WAS ENACTED

Until the effective date of the new securities act, Texas had, since 1913, what was known as the Blue Sky law. This law attempted to regulate through permits, the issuance of stock. That is, before stock could be issued in this state, a permit had to be secured from the Department of State through the blue sky division. The law was very loose; definitions were few and vague; inadequate funds were appropriated for its enforcement. Technicalities prevented its enforcement. The present secretary of state has no record of any convictions under the law, he writes The News.

Stringent securities laws in other states, coupled with the enactment of the Federal Securities and Exchange act, drove the swindlers and racketeers from other states into Texas to continue their depredations upon the unsuspecting and unwary investing public. The term "investing public" in this case means widows, school teachers, doctors, laborers, and people of limited means. There is no way of computing the amount of money that has been mulcted from Texans in the past few years by these high binders and fast talking wonder-boys.

The Texas Securities act was drawn to stop—insofar as is humanly possible—the practice of the suave, smooth-talking gentlemen who take the life-savings of reliable and substantial citizens and leave in lieu thereof prettily printed certificates, the total value of which in too many cases is absolutely nothing. The Department of State has a record of one deal in which swindlers took $300,000 out of one Texas city alone! This is not an isolated case. One of the first deals investigated and which convinced the Legislature and other officials that the passage of the law was imperative involved a known sum of $500,000. This money was taken from people who could ill afford to lose it. It is gone forever. One of the victims on this particular deal is an old lady 80 years of age, dependent and blind. This money should have been used in the legitimate channels of Texas business. It went, instead of high-binders and gypsies and in the waks of their depredations hardships, heartaches and suffering followed.

The gypper has been protected in many ways. In the first place, the "sucker" seldom "hollers." He doesn't want the world to know that he has "been taken in." He keeps quiet. In the second place, criminal prosecution could only take place under the swindling and fraud statutes. It is no secret that under these highly technical statutes convictions are hard to obtain.

Heretofore the securities racketeers have been operating just one step ahead of the sheriff.

Under the new Texas Securities act it is hoped that that one step's difference may be removed.

Texas people are asked to spread the word that Texas has a securities act—one with teeth in it—and that Texans will no longer tolerate the continuance of racketeering by this unscrupulous group of parasites.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The tax bill is about as popular as a can of sour milk at a picnic. Your correspondent cannot find anyone who is even mildly enthusiastic over any tax program which is likely to emerge out of this Congress.

Nevertheless, President Roosevelt, despite all the horrible mismanagement of the program, remains relatively serene, and the chief secret of his serenity is this:

Roosevelt has high hopes of going into the election next year with a balanced budget.

As soon as the derisive laughter has subsided, your correspondent will proceed to admit that such hopes are not shared by everybody in the administration. But the president has a very distinct idea that business is going to pick up very rapidly, that the national income will be booming, that unemployment and its costs will be materially reduced, and that the yield from current tax rates plus those of the new schedule—which would bring in less than $300,000,000 additional revenue, under last year's conditions—will produce a Treasury status to which he can point with pride.

The idea is that as corporation and individual incomes begin to rise, a geometrically enlarging proportion of the increase will be scooped off in taxes.

But it is still worth remembering that revenue was only incidental in Roosevelt's mind when he called for "soak-the-rich" tax legislation from a startled Congress.

He was primarily interested in establishing a social principle and hurling a defiant brick at the "big fellows" who had been attacking him savagely.

By failing to meet progressive demands—and the desire of many in his administration—for a comprehensive program biting deeper, Roosevelt avoided widespread accusations that he was burdening business—as well as the bad effects of whatever there may be in that contention.

An embarrassment of riches faces the administration as candidates over the country announce themselves against Democratic members of Congress who have opposed the New Deal.

For instance, five men have already decided to enter the Democratic congressional primary against George Huddleston of Alabama, leader of the fight against the administration on the holding company bill. Already it begins to look as if the anti-Huddleston vote would be spread around sufficiently to let George walk back in.

Congressmen Josh Lee, Will Rogers, and Wesley Disney of Oklahoma are all openly coveting the seat of Senator Tom Gore and other entries are likely.

Reports of the candidacy of Rogers, who got to Congress because voters thought they recognized a familiar name, caused an unbelieving but amused newspaperman to ask Rogers:

"Why don't you stop all those silly rumors about your running for the Senate?"

"That's no rumor," Rogers replied. "Ever since I got here I've considered this a training school for the Senate."

Now that the supreme court has adjourned, public interest can, if it wants, return to that other Washington nine.

A Denver professor has noticed a marked decline in profanity of late. Yes, the traffic cops have been instructed to be polite to motorists.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Aug. 14 (AP)—Texas does not have a system whereby 13 jurors sit in major criminal trials but it has a 13th juror, nevertheless.

He is James V. Allred, governor, with the power over the life or death of persons sentenced to pay the extreme penalty for their crimes and to whose desk come daily scores of applications for executive clemency in less serious cases.

In commuting the death sentence against Hugh McCann, Bell county murderer, to life imprisonment, Governor Allred said he was unwilling to vote for the death sentence as the 13th juror.

"In my judgment one of the questions in a death penalty case to be decided by a governor is whether he, sitting as a juror, would assess the death penalty and, after careful consideration, I am unwilling to be, in effect, the 13th juror to vote for the infliction of the death penalty under all the circumstances in this case," the governor said.

In granting the McCann application Governor Allred probed to determine the condition of the defendant's mind at the time of the crime and found beyond doubt he was in full possession of his normal faculties. He also found seven of the jurors who voted for the death penalty signed a petition asking commutation.

The task of deciding whether a condemned man should be put to death is the most unpleasant in the governor's long routine. It is one to which he devotes considerable time studying the records to determine the true facts and often ferretting out information that may have only an indirect bearing but which, in the aggregate, aids in finding a solution satisfactory to the executive conscience.

Governor Allred has depended more heavily on the recommendation of the pardon board than many past chief executives. He has consistently declined to act in clemency matters unless the matter has been presented first to the board. Governor Allred also advocated a constitutional amendment, to be used in November, 1936, that would restrict executive clemency only to those cases recommended by the board.

Mayor Regrets Seattle Show I rked Japanese

SEATTLE, Aug. 14 (AP)—Mayor Charles L. Smith today sent a letter to the Hon. Isaku Okamoto, Japanese consul here, expressing his regret over the burlesque of the Japanese and Ethiopian emperors, during a community club "coyote hunt" here last Friday.

"Please accept this, my sincere assurance, that the proceeding was not planned to bring reproach or ridicule upon his imperial majesty or your country," the mayor wrote.

"It is appropriate to inform you that the offending incident, in which his imperial majesty was humorously impersonated, did not occur at a city undertaking but at a small community affairs, and was conceived and executed in a spirit of jocularity," the letter said. "That it should be otherwise interpreted is as regrettable as it is incorrect."

At Washington, on Saturday, Yoshizawa, charge d'affaires of the Japanese embassy, said that whether Japan will make a formal protest of the incident depends upon a report the mayor of Seattle had been asked to make to the Japanese consul at Seattle.

In the burlesque incident, J. A. Hibbard, a capital hill community club member, attired in regalia and trappings, pulled a jinrikisha, in which was riding a "Halle Selassie," posed by C. G. Dean, a business man.

Recall Petition Is Facing Bryan

LINCOLN, Neb., Aug. 14 (AP)—Charles W. Bryan, brother of the great commoner and mayor of Lincoln, today found himself the victim of one of his favorite political devices—a petition for a recall election.

During his 40 years of active political life, Bryan has been a staunch advocate of the initiative, referendum and recall in state and municipal elections.

Bryan, whose political activities took him into the Nebraska governor's chair for three terms and into the democratic vice presidential nomination in 1924, dismissed the recall petitions without definite comment and left today to visit his son in Minneapolis.

The petitions, seeking to remove Bryan from the office he held once before, asked that Ernest M. Bair, defeated by Bryan at the last city election, be placed on the ballot for mayor.

Promoters of the proposed recall were unidentified although friends of Bryan's administration said they understood the petitions were originated in a beer tavern, the license for which was not renewed by the Lincoln city council.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

(Note: The following is one of a series of weekly articles taken from the Texas Archives at the University of Texas. This collection, considered the greatest single historical treasure on the North American continent, has been catalogued and is now being translated by the University of Texas. It consists of 400,000 pages of original Spanish handwriting documents comprising the official archives of the Mexican government for the department of Texas, which covered almost the whole of what is now the State of Texas, for the period from 1721, soon after Texas became a separate province of Mexico, to 1826, to the Battle of San Jacinto. This series of articles will consist principally of quotations from the documents, many of which have heretofore been unpublished, and will reveal for the first time what actually transpired during the century in which Texas was transformed from a wilderness inhabited only by savage Indian tribes to an independent American republic.)

By Mrs. Mattie Austin Hatcher, Bexar Archivist University of Texas Library

AUSTIN, Aug. 14.—A few days after the republican army entered San Antonio, Bernardo Gutierrez, who had been in nominal command, was deposed because he consented to the murder of the Spanish governor and his staff. The Americans, Colonel Kemper, Colonel Perry, Major Ross, Captain Taylor and Lieutenant Gaines then took charge of the army and the government.

In June, 1813, the republican army repulsed an attack by the Spanish army under Don Ignacio Elizondo.

In July, 1813, Don Jose Alvarez de Toledo, arrived in San Antonio. As the Americans knew that Toledo was a capable officer and that he had the sympathy of the people, they immediately elected him commander-in-chief of "the Republican Army of the North."

Toledo immediately went to work reorganizing and drilling the army and establishing a republican form of government. He ordered the establishment of a municipal form of government and the election of a municipal council to handle governmental affairs. Although the soldiers kept up an orgy of merry-making, a semblance of order was restored.

The rule of the republicans was short lived. On August 16, 1813, Don Joaquin de Arredondo, at the head of eighteen hundred men, pitched his camp near the Medina river. Upon hearing of the approach of the Spaniards, the republicans gave up their revelry and prepared for the struggle. Spies were sent out from both sides.

On the morning of August 18, 1813, the battle of Medina commenced. Arredondo arranged his troops in the shape of a V, with the apex in the road, and the open end towards San Antonio. He then sent Elizondo with one hundred and eighty men to decoy the republicans into the trap.

The republican army was composed of eight hundred and fifty Anglo-Americans, an equal number of Mexicans and about four hundred Indians. The Americans were divided into two equal sections and placed on the right and left wings.

Hepburn's Hair Sacrifice to Art

A martyr to her art—and a most attractive one—Katharine Hepburn scores high in the role of a boy in which she is shown here. Faced with playing the part of a young girl who masquerades as a boy, the star surrendered to the shears, getting a boyish haircut that is far from unbecoming—and very convincing, too.

Hattie Caraway Is Not Worried About Election

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Senator Hattie Caraway, the democratic lady from Arkansas, is not crossing any campaign bridges until she comes to them.

In the campaign which resulted in her election to the senate early in 1932, Senator Long (D. La.) went into Arkansas and spoke in her behalf.

More recently Senator Long has indicated he intends to go in and campaign again—this time against Senator Robinson (D. Ark.), the majority leader, when the latter comes up for re-nomination next year.

That raised the question in the minds of some observers as to what Mrs. Caraway's attitude would be should she come to pass. Asked today whether or not she would join her husband, Senator Long, against her senior senator, she said with a quiet smile:

"This isn't an election year."

In his sound-truck speeches in her behalf, Long said Mrs. Caraway's campaign wasn't part of his feud with Senator Robinson—whatever fight he had with the latter would be conducted separately.

Mrs. Caraway, while she has cheerfully given Long much credit for her own election, seems likely to let it stand at that. Her answers to all questions on the subject were non-committal and neutral.

Veterans' Meet To Be Held In Amarillo Soon

AMARILLO, Aug. 14 (AP)—The annual reunion of the Texas division of the United Confederate veterans, originally scheduled at San Antonio in October, will be in Amarillo September 2.

Announcement of the change was made by Mrs. C. L. Lichenstein, of Houston, adjutant general of the division. The state meeting will be one day prior to the opening of the forty-fifth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans.

"Due to the fact that our state reunion of Confederate Veterans is held in October," Mrs. Lichenstein wrote, "and our veterans will not be able to attend both the state and the grand reunions, Gen. A. L. Steele has decided to call a reunion of the state body in Amarillo."

Tom Cotten, general chairman of the reunion committee, predicted that the Texas convention would attract an additional 2,000 visitors to Amarillo.

Meanwhile, plans are being made for the U. C. V. gathering, which is expected to be the last for the aging "boys in Gray." An early decision that Amarillo alone would foot the bill for the reunion was rescinded after several neighboring towns had offered financial assistance. Hereafter, contributors will be accepted, the committee announced.

Convict Dies Of Poison Gas Eggs

FLORENCE, Ariz., Aug. 14 (AP)—Poison gas "eggs" from the Arizona state prison chamber killed Frank G. Hutchinson, but penitentiary officials today called it a suicide instead of an execution.

Hutchinson, serving a life term for slaying his wife 11 years ago, stole the "eggs" August 2, 1935, two miles from the prison, where his body was found.

Apparently he had dropped the poison into his tin cup, filled with water, and breathed the fumes.

Hutchinson last June lost an appeal for a parole.

Texas, only ninety reached Natchitoches safely.

Soon after entering San Antonio, Arredondo set to work reorganizing the government. He appointed Don Christoval Dominguez governor of the province. The new governor immediately took steps to put an end to republicanism.

On August 28, 1813, he issued an edict confiscating all property and all arms and supplies belonging to the rebels. An original copy of the edict dates August 28, 1813, is found in the Bexar Archives in the library of the University of Texas. A translation of the edict is as follows:

Don Christoval Dominguez, lieutenant colonel in the National Royalist army, sub-inspector of the provinces, political and military governor of the province of Texas, New Philippines, quarter master general of the eastern army, etc.

Brigadier Joaquin de Afredondo, commandant general of these provinces, has ordered me to confiscate the arms of all the troops and residents of this capital who did not engage on the side of the royalist army in the battle fought with the rebels on the Medina river on the 18th of this month. He has likewise ordered that anyone who has any of the papers distributed by the insurgents must turn them over to this government office. He has further ordered that houses, ranches and any other property formerly owned by the traitors in this capital and the territory within the boundaries of this province must be sold, after proper evaluations have been made. The sale shall be made with all possible equity in favor of the loyal patriots who have maintained their faith and their obedience to the king and who have defended his rights.

In order that this edict may have due obedience, I hereby order it published by proclamation in this capital and other places in this province. The arms and papers aforesaid must be turned over to this office within two days. In regard to real property, notices shall be sent out in order that bids may be made at the place to be sold.

READY MADE WIFE

Chapter 21
DINNER DATE

Dallas had that something that creeps into a girl's mind, into her heart, into her blood. Above all, into her imagination. Jimmy Dallas was glamorous. He could create an atmosphere, a mirage, a light that never was. While it lasted, you saw only him; everything else was dim; there was no other world.

She smiled at him eagerly, as he talked his characteristic love-nonsense to her, and held her at arms' length, admiring her with his strangely shining brown-green eyes, and playfully pretending to bite the tiny velvet forget-me-not wreath through which some of her rich golden curls were threaded over one ear, and said excitedly, "Flower-face, I could eat you, you're so pretty, you delicious little thing!"

He asked her what she was going to do, and was delighted that she was to be in London for a time.

"We'll have lots and lots of fun! I'm supposed to work at our London offices. We'll have the most glorious secret parties you and I."

"Secret? What for?"

Jimmy looked at her with mock despair.

"It'll have to be secret. I must make you understand, my father mustn't know that I've got a dear little girl like you. He's simply got off the deep end. My mother's a pet, but she can't stand up against him. Nor can my sisters, except the married one, and I don't trust her."

"Have I got to keep you dark from my sister?" Gladys asked.

"You said she was Albery's secretary, didn't you?"

Gladys nodded.

"I'm afraid you will, Flower-face—for a time. You see, Albery knows my old man well. I can't take the risk."

"You talk like a cowardly baby!" said Gladys nervously. Something that she did not understand in her was offended. But she didn't want to let him go.

"You don't know my father, sweet. And I'm absolutely dependent on him. I shouldn't get a shilling, if I rubbed him up the wrong way. I tell you, it's a dog's life, keeping him quiet and managing to have a little fun!"

"But, if I'm not to tell Laurie, how shall we meet?"

"We'll manage, don't worry! I've got your address. It was your sister I sat next to at dinner, I find. He went on, with a half-smothered laugh of amusement. "A bit standoffish and like a school marm, isn't she? Wouldn't approve of little Jimmy, I'm afraid!"

In that moment, through his light, magnetic tempter's voice, the seed of deception was sown in Gladys's frivolous soul. She knew that Laurie wouldn't approve of her, but she would have to manage so that her sister didn't know of their meetings.

She did not tell him of the incident of Laurie's finding the gold cigarette case, and that she had spoken of him as Jimmy Smith. What a silly old tyrant his father must be!

"Jimmy, do you really love me?" she asked, as they strolled back. "A doubt was in her voice. "You know—we're going to keep it a secret that we know each other. I ought to be sure."

"Flowersface, can you be sure? Don't you know you're the only girl in the world?"

"Do you think you'll want to marry me?"

"Do I think? His voice dropped. It had that soft, salty note that conveys so much more than words. "But it couldn't be yet."

"I don't care! She spoke grandly in her ignorance of life. "I don't want to get married yet, either. I want to see a bit of the world."

"We'll better go in," he said. "Now you understand, don't you? And I can trust you not to give the show away?"

"I'm not a fool, thanks."

"Tomorrow morning I'll come and take you out for a spin and we can make the plans for to-morrow."

"Aren't you rather too daring, Mr. Dallas?" she mocked. "Supposing Mr. Albery told your father?"

He gave her a playful slap.

"Monkey! You're adorable!" he said. "But, in case you don't know it, Albery told me last night especially to amuse you."

At which they both laughed merrily, and Gladys raced him to the house, as fleet as Atlanta, a pale blue streak of light under the moon, a thing of exquisite grace.

On the Monday afternoon Laurie and Gladys went back to London. All Sunday morning Laurie had worked, partly with Mr. Albery, but for a longer period transcribing some important specifications. Albery congratulated her several times, and seemed genuinely surprised at her intelligence.

On the Tuesday she went to the office as usual, expecting her employer to come up from Cambridge-shire. She was told by his right-hand man that he had telephone early to say that he would not be at the office until the afternoon.

She waited as no further news came, and it was about five o'clock when he turned up.

"You have heard from Moore?" was his first question when she was summoned to his room.

"No."

"I've just had a wireless from Marseilles. I couldn't understand what he was doing, not getting back before this, but it seems poor William Jones went down with fever, and Moore had to bring him to Marseilles by easy stages. He says he's coming on as soon as he's settled him in a nursing home there. The missing men are doing as well as possible in hospital on the coast."

"How long will he be?" asked Laurie.

"He doesn't say. I should think he'd get off today or tomorrow. I thought you would be bound to have heard."

"No," said Laurie again. She felt unaccountably hurt. She had not had a word from him all the time. He might have kept up appear-

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Colic!—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning!—In Co...
The liver should pour out its supply of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not pouring out, your bowels don't digest. It does in the bowels. Gas builds up after a meal. You get constipated. Your liver system is clogged and you feel unwell and the world looks unwell.

Take a little of this...
It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of liver working freely and make you feel up an apple. Harsh, green, get sticking in making bile flow freely. And for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stop buying anything else. 50c. © 1931, C. M. G.

COMFORT AND CONVENIENCE ALL SUMMER LONG

Ice cubes—trays upon trays of them—are very helpful when pitiless temperatures keep climbing and climbing. With a cooling drink no farther away than your electric refrigerator there's no need to suffer from heat. You never have to be sparing with ice cubes either—there are always plenty on hand and more in the making!

Nor do the summer duties of an electric refrigerator end with the making of ice cubes. All sorts of chilled and frozen desserts and salads can be prepared in it quickly and inexpensively. And all of your food supply is kept safely cold, no matter what the outside temperature!

Go to your dealer's and inspect the newest in electric refrigerators. Discover how low the operating costs are—let him point out the convenient terms that can be arranged. You need an electric refrigerator right now—Don't put it off.

ROAD RUNNERS TO PLAY DENVER CONQUERORS HERE THURSDAY AND FRIDAY

UNITED FUEL WINS TOURNEY FROM HUMBLE

OVERTON OILERS WILL MAKE TWO-NIGHT STAND HERE

The Humble Oilers of Overton, the team that eliminated the Pampa Road Runners from the Denver tournament with third money and which in turn was beaten by United Fuel of Denver, will meet the Pampa team in a series here on Thursday and Friday nights.

Tomorrow night's game will not be called until 9:15 o'clock. The Friday night encounter will begin at 8:30 o'clock. Admission will remain at 25 cents for women and 40 cents for men.

Pampa fans will have an opportunity to see Ed Chambers, the left-hander who stopped the Road Runners, in action in one of the games. Also with the Oilers will be the veteran, Lefty Fuhr, formerly with the Dallas Steers; F Jones and Beach, four of the best pitchers in the country.

The Oiler lineup is composed largely of Texas league players, still able to play in organized ball but who can get more pleasure and more money out of playing semi-pro ball. There are such names as Olie Karow, Krauss, Hatch, Frey, Balow, Cox, and Bedford, on the starting list.

It was Cox who cost the Road Runners their last game in Denver. The fleet outfielder raced hither and yon to snag fly balls that were labeled sure hits. Karow is the shortstop who staged a fielders' battle with Vic George of the Road Runners. First Baseman Falk led the tournament hitters up to the semi-final game. Catcher Krauss is also a hitter, being near the top of the tournament list.

Manager Fred Brickell and his team will arrive in Pampa tonight, ready to do battle with the Oilers. It is not known whether the Road Runner manager will hold over his Denver tournament team or will meet the Oilers with his regular lineup.

Les Daney, who pitched one of the best games in the tournament, may get the call for Thursday night. Joe Berry will be the other hurler in the running for starting honors, fans believe. There was rumor in the air this morning that Chody would remain with the Pampa team. Road Runner officials plan to add extra seats to handle an expected record crowd. The Pampa team played great baseball in the tournament and fans are expected to jam Road Runner park to welcome the team that took third money in the big event in Denver.

India's Viceroy Faces Huge Task

Virtual sovereign over one-fifth of the human race, a near-dictator over 352,000,000 people, the Marquis of Linlithgow, above, faces an enormous task. As the new viceroy of India he will have the herculean job of establishing the federal system in Britain's vast domain. Lord Linlithgow is only 47 one of the youngest viceroys in history.

United Fuel Tied Again in the Last Half of the Stanza and Held a Lead until the fifth when Frey doubled and Olie singled.

The last half of the sixth saw the Texans in front as Marty Karow raced home on a single by Dutch Krauss.

Jones held the Denver team hitless from the fourth until the eighth when the Denver rally broke out. During the highest Oscar Fuhr succeeded Jones but fared no better. The Fuelmen collected six hits and coupled them with a base on balls and two outfield errors for this six runs.

Donald Budge To Play Spaniard In Newport Tourney

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 14 (AP)—Don Budge, America's outstanding Davis Cup prospect, will apply the yardstick today when Newport Casino's critical gallery measures the ability of the game's latest foreigner threat, Enrique Maier, the burly Spaniard.

In the country less than 24 hours, Maier made a spectacular American debut yesterday when he gave the seventh seeded J. Gilbert Hall, the courageous New Jersey veteran, a 7-9, 6-1, 6-1, setback.

Budge moved into the fourth round, a bracket behind most of the other seeded players, on a default and a pair of easy wins over fellow westerners, Jess Millman of Los Angeles, and Henry Prusoff of Seattle.

Harvester Line Mentor Now At Coaching School

Prejean Is Attending Classes At Texas Tech

J. C. Prejean, new Harvester line coach, is in Lubbock gathering additional information to impart to his charges this fall. The coach informed Howard Neath, who attended the Texas Tech coaching school one session—which was open to the public—that he expected to arrive in Pampa about August 18 to get acquainted with his charges.

Coach Prejean is intently listening to such great football coaches as Dana X. Bible of Nebraska; Herbert O. (Fritz) Crisler of Princeton; Pop Warner of Temple; Raymond (Bear) Wolfe of Texas Christian; Bernie Wolfe of Minnesota; and a host of other celebrities of the football world.

The new Harvester line coach took the Shamrock Irishman to the finals in the Class B race last year. He is a graduate of Texas university, where he played four years of sparkling football.

Head Coach Odus Mitchell is attending the University of Michigan, where he is studying for his masters degree. The coach is also taking time out to attend football sessions in the north. Coach Mitchell is expected to return to Pampa in a couple of weeks. He will immediately set the date for the opening of the football camp.

"Start getting ready for a long, hard grind," Coach Mitchell writes his prospects. "It is time to forget cigars, late hours and the girl friends and do road work."

Club Institute Will Be Held At Texas Colleges

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 14 (AP)—A two-day club institute, sponsored by the Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will be held at the College of Arts and Sciences, Kingsville, Oct. 17 and 18, an announcement from Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, president of the state federation, states.

Mrs. Taylor also announced that a similar institute would be held at the College of Industrial Arts, Denton, for the women of the north half of the state, later in the fall.

The Kingsville institute will be for the women of south, southeast, southwest, and south Central Texas, the Denton institute for those north of that territory.

Mrs. Taylor and Dr. J. O. Loftin, president of the Kingsville college, are cooperating in the preparation of the program. It will include addresses by men and women of prominence, including educators, economists, and others.

Mrs. Taylor said the institute will be open to all women.

VAN BEBBER IS WINNER OVER HILL IN WRESTLING CLASSIC

HOW THEY STAND

Jack Van Bebbler became the idol of Pampa wrestling fans last night when he threw Don Hill, pride of California, in the surprise match of the year. It was not surprising that Van Bebbler won, because he is one of the most scientific and speedy middleweights in the game today.

The surprise, which had the hundreds of their feet, was when Hill lost his head. That wasn't so bad, but Hill started going to the ropes. It was the first time that the Californian had even gone unorthodox first. In the past, Hill has always let the other fellow go rough before he went the same way.

Bob Cummings and Jack Domar went wild for the fans in the semi-final. Domar used teeth, fists, and knees to advantage. Cummings stuck to wrestling most of the way and punished his stocky opponent until the latter was about ready to give up. Cummings opened proceedings by getting a short arm scissor in which he held Domar for more than two minutes. Domar came up with his teeth in Cummings' thigh.

The Chicago roughster then proceeded to gouge, choke, bite, and use knees and fists. "Bull" Burch, third man in the ring for the first time, was at a loss to know how to handle the situation for a while. He soon got his bearings, however, and broke Domar, showing him a big fist and remarking that it would land on some vital spot if things didn't go a little more according to rules.

Cummings used a drop-kick effectively, with Domar getting out of the way by leaving through the ropes. Cummings took Domar back to the mat with a full Nelson. Domar got a split and Cummings came out with a punishing Indian stake hold at the time limit.

Pat Garrison, local Irishman, and Doc "Brook" Garrison, specialist, battled to a draw in the preliminary. The bell saved Garrison from going into a peaceful slumber, however. Mueller, originator of the sleep-hold, had the Irishman in position and was gradually pressing down on the corner spot when the bell tolled for some time and would have felt better if he had gone to sleep for a while.

The two grapplers exchanged several pretty holds. Mueller when in trouble. The Irishman went wild at times and chased his lumbering opponent around the ring with fists flying.

The first fall of the main event went 32 minutes before Hill went with a series of arm drags. The referee backed Van Bebbler against the ropes, drew him over his head, and then flung him over his head. As Van Bebbler hit the mat, Hill dragged him back into position for another fight.

The going was entirely scientific, with no quarter asked and no quarter given. The two exchanged holds on the mat for 15 minutes on one occasion without either gaining his feet. Hill stayed in a toe hold for three minutes, refusing to give up even though pain Van Bebbler was his hammerlock even longer, but refused to concede the fall.

Hill did most of his work on the arms while Van Bebbler stuck to the legs. Both exchanged headlocks and slams. They exchanged headlocks and slams. They exchanged headlocks and slams. They exchanged headlocks and slams.

Van Bebbler opened the second fall with a punishing inside arm lock. Hill went to the ropes. The crowd gasped. Van Bebbler got an other arm hold and Hill used his fist and went to the ropes again. The Dutchman switched to the feet and Hill went wild. The two slugged in the corner and Hill went down from an elbow to the jaw. Van Bebbler got a leg lock and Hill patted the mat in 6 minutes.

The final fall was one of the wildest in history. Hill went rough immediately after the bell and had Van Bebbler in difficulty most of the way. The Californian was so intent on punishing Van Bebbler that he failed to take advantage of Van Bebbler's condition to pin him.

Hill went to the ropes on a bad leg hold and Van Bebbler pulled him back. Hill's foot connected with Van Bebbler's chin when the Dutchman pulled him over the ropes and

YESTERDAY'S STARS

Ruffing, Yankees—Held Indians to four hits, drove in two runs with a double in 11th victory of season.
Knoblock, Athletics—Myer's three hits helped another Tigers, gave him league batting lead over Joe Vosmik with 347; Whitehill held Detroit to seven hits.
Johnny Marcum, Athletics—Snuffed out Browns with seven hits as teams mates piled up 17 to win 14 to 1.
Dusty Cooke and Mel Almada, Red Sox—Cooke hit two triples and doubles, Almada drove in four runs with two doubles and a single as Boston beat Chicago to take third place.
Van Bebbler rolled under the ring, out cold. Friends pushed Van Bebbler back into the ring. Instead of falling on his victim, Hill picked Van Bebbler up and slammed him twice. Van Bebbler weakly tried for a leg and missed.
The Californian picked Van Bebbler up for an airplane spin but the Dutchman had come out of his coma long enough to seizer both of Hill's arms. When he attempted to drop Van Bebbler, he fell with his intended victim, both of his shoulders pinned to the mat by the scissor. The time was eight minutes.

40,000 WILL SEE TROTTERS RACE FOR POT

$33,000 IS STAKES IN 9TH HAMBLETONIAN RENEWAL

GOSHEN, N. Y., Aug. 14 (AP)—Broadway, Park avenue and farm talked the same language today as they invaded this little Orange county capital some 40,000 strong for the ninth renewal of the $33,000 Hambletonian stakes for three year old trotters.

Not all of the visitors knew the same language of the horses but they concentrated on the same problem—picking the winner of the world's richest light harness horse stake from nine starters. Six out of ten came up with the same answer—Greyhound, a smooth striding grey son of Guy Abbey from E. J. Baker's St. Charles, Ill. stable.

Steve Phillips was scheduled to send the two fillies, Two Geldings and Five Colts away at 2 p. m. Eastern Standard Time.

Grey, unbeaten this year, remained the odds-on-choice to chalk up his fifth victory of 1935 and carry off the winner's share of the spoils, $18,750. So popular was the grey speedster that many horsemen predicted the race would be decided in two heats.

Despite the strong support given Greyhound, many were willing to back their convictions with money, that either the LaSalle stable's Lawrence Hanover of Chicago, holding a two old record of 2:02; E. J. Merkle's Silver King of Columbus, Ohio, or C. W. Phellis filly, Tilly of Henry, New Hamburg, N. Y.; William Stubley's Vola Arlon, Newburgh, N. Y.; H. Stacy Smith's of Lawrence.

With only an outside chance, the remainder of the field was composed of Henry E. Warwick's Warwell of New Hamburg, N. Y.; William Stubley's Vola Arlon, Newburgh, N. Y.; H. Stacy Smith's of Lawrence.

Two-I League Clubs May Add New Strength

Teams in the Two-I league will have until Sunday to sign additional strength for the race down the home stretch. The season will officially close on September 1, when teams with more wins than losses will stage an O'Shaughnessy playoff to determine the winner.

Before going into the play-off, each team eligible for competition will be allowed to add two players. They cannot play in league games, however.

Several teams failed to report game results of Sunday, and as a result, the schedule committee had to do considerable guessing in matching games for next Sunday. The reports should be telephoned or taken to the Pampa NEWS, phone 668, not later than 9 o'clock Monday morning.

Standing to date as prepared by the schedule committee, follows:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Magic City	6	1	.857
Kingsmill	7	2	.778
Coltco Carbon	6	2	.750
Pampa Indians	6	3	.667
Cargay	6	4	.600
Skellytown	6	4	.600
Phillips	6	4	.600
Stanclind	6	4	.600
Hopkins	6	4	.600
Pampa Advertisers	5	4	.556
Hoover	5	5	.500

Laketon	4	6	.400
Pampa Rams	3	6	.333
White Deer	2	7	.222
Black Sox	0	3	.000

Note—Pampa Independents and Sinclair-Prairie have been dropped from the league for failure to report for their last scheduled games.

Schedule for next Sunday follows:
Magic City vs. Stanclind.
Shell vs. Just Rite at Ram park.

Pedro Tipton, Newark; O. C. Bell's Calumet Firey, Columbus, Ohio, and Harper Hanover, a stablemate

4 Road Runners Bat Over .300 In Denver Meet

Four members of the Pampa Road Runner team went through the Denver Post tournament with a batting average of more than .300, the coveted percentage of all hitters.

Manager Fred Brickell led the parade for the Road Runners and was near the top of the list with an average of .434. The Road Runner manager collected 10 hits on 23 times at bat for a total of 17 bases.

Following closely on the heels of Brickell was Sam Sealing with an average of .400. Sealing gathered 10 hits on 25 times at bat for a total of 17 bases. Sealing led the Road Runner hitters until the last game when he went hitless. Sealing also went through the tournament without making an error and was one of the most promising prospects in the Little World Series.

Dallas Patton finished the tournament with a batting average of .353. He got six hits in 17 trips to the plate with a total of eight bases.

Tank Horton, injured in the second game, had a batting average of .315. He hit safely five times on 16 trips to the plate for a total of six bases.

Al Summers hit .300 up to the last game when he went hitless.

Emperor Of Ethiopia Sends 60,000 Troops To Borders

Prepares For Quick Drive On Italian Somaliland

(By The Associated Press.)
GENEVA—Ethiopia appeals to League of Nations against arms embargo, saying she fears a massacre by Italian troops if she is unable to defend herself.
LONDON—Neutrals, seeking peace, suggest Italy may be offered increased extraterritorial rights in Ethiopia, permitting colonization of Italians there.
DJIBOUTI—Emperor of Ethiopia dispatches 60,000 troops to Somali frontier.
GENEVA—Ethiopia asks League of Nations aid in seeking the lifting of arms embargo.
ROME—Italy, indifferent to tripartite conference, continues preparations for East African campaign.
LONDON—Mounting of Italy's debt leads British manufacturers to consider curb on credit.
PARIS—Britain's Anthony Eden and France's Pierre Laval meet to review settlement elements preparatory to tripartite conference.

BY JAMES A. MILLS.
 Associated Press Foreign Staff.
DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland, Aug. 14 (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie has dispatched 60,000 troops to positions behind Ethiopia's eastern borders preparatory for a quick southward drive on Italian Somaliland in the event Italy invades his kingdom.

The troops will be concentrated in the Harrar region, it was learned today. Below the Djibouti-Addis Ababa line, it is the native district of the troops composing this force. Thus placed, they can quickly be moved into Oga'en, the Ethiopian district on the frontier of Italian Somaliland.

Ethiopian war leaders anticipate an Italian advance from Eritrea toward Addis, to the north of Addis Ababa. Such a movement would be countered by the Ethiopian advance to the south, it was pointed out.

The exodus of foreigners from Addis Ababa has poured many Europeans into this port city. Among them are Italians some of whom immediately volunteered for service with the Italian army in Eritrea.

German and British nationals in Ethiopia have been instructed by their governments to prepare inventories of their properties and be ready to leave the country on short notice.

The orders were attributed to the growing apprehension of these governments that diplomatic negotiations for settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict may fail.

This uneasiness was heightened by word from Addis Ababa of the huge increase in the police force, coupled with reports that an extraordinary guard had been stationed at the Italian legation there.

France, too, manifests a skepticism that the tripartite conference in Paris will accomplish much in the way of peace.

Long range guns have been mounted on the islands off this coast, it was learned today. The French cruiser Dumong-Duville will arrive August 18, to remain indefinitely.

One thousand Sengalese troops will be added to the local garrison, and hangars will be constructed for airplanes en route from France.

SALESMAN KILLED
BRYAN, Aug. 14 (AP)—Joe Dick Hooker, 29, a textbook salesman and a graduate of Texas A. & M. college, was killed today when struck by a truck as he finished changing a tire on his automobile.

There Ain't No Such Animal, Eh?

The okapi seems to be the answer to the old refrain, "What is so rare as a day in June?" This is the first one to be shown in the London zoo, a gift from the Prince of Wales, to whom it had been sent by King Leopold of Belgium; and only two others are in captivity. Practically a one-animal zoo, the okapi combines features of the giraffe, zebra and deer, and is a native of Belgian Congo.

Business Meeting Held By BPW

Members of the B&PW club held a business meeting in the city park last evening.
 It was decided to make a gift to Nell Adams of Shamrock, who led the initiation ceremony here some time ago. Early adjournment was made because of "chiggers."

Bilbo Demands Huey Stay Out Of Mississippi

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 14 (AP)—Theodore B. Bilbo, fiery junior senator from Mississippi who has been observing his "first year of silence" in the senate, spoke up today and warned Senator Huey P. Long to "stay out of Mississippi."
 Bilbo aired his views regarding Long in an interview in his brief stop here enroute to Washington from his state where the Mississippi is supporting Hugh White, wealthy Cuban, for governor in the Mississippi democratic primaries.
 Bilbo charged Long was seeking to influence the nomination of Paul B. Johnson, Hattiesburg lawyer, against White in the second primary, August 27, and declared that this support by Long was "the culmination of a well carried out plot."
 The senator declared Mississippi "will never become a province of Long."

RED HOT NEWS ! WHITE HOUSE GETS NEW STOVE

Sizzling dishes for the White House table soon will emerge from this new all-electric range, shown undergoing a final test in a Chicago factory before being shipped to Washington. The range is the principal feature of a modernized kitchen being installed in the Executive Mansion.

About New York

NEW YORK—We return with alacrity to the question of whether New York is America.
 Ford Madox Ford, who hung around this town some years to observe it and then established a permanent abode in Southern France, says no. In an article on the subject once he wrote, "New York is not America," and then, so convinced was he on this point that he made it the title of a book.
 It would seem that recent events, coupled with an earlier situation, bear Ford out in this.

And so it is that tale of two cities that this department proposes to use in illustrating a point that has intrigued writers since New York first became a major city.
 Some years ago when Big Bill Thompson was getting his name in the Chicago newspapers by denouncing the English, nobody here, much less abroad, paid any attention to him. England ignored him completely, taking the stand that nothing on earth could lift Thompson to the level of English contempt. Besides, this show of animosity came from one man in a typical American city and so they brushed it away as a dog might wave off a fly.
 Last week, however, a German ship entered the harbor in the clutch of incipient riots. These, it is alleged, was incited in protest to campaigns against the Jews in Germany. The flag was even slashed from the mast and hurled into the waters of the bay. Immediately there came a note of strong protest from the German Embassy, and Fatherland newspapers everywhere indignantly protested the incident.
 One somehow is inclined to doubt that the same reaction would have been forthcoming in the incident occurred in the harbor of any other American city. Other cities are only minute, if integral, parts of a whole. But New York seems to have an awe-inspiring significance. More and more it becomes apparent that the rest of the world eyes New York in the light of a separate state, almost as an independent city. Now it seems the time has come when a commonplace of other ports assumes grave international complications in New York. Keep hoping, boys. We've done everything else. Maybe after while we can start a world war.

James Is Topic

"James 'The Less'" will be the disciple to be discussed tonight at 8:15 o'clock on the Methodist church lawn by H. D. Tucker, who is delivering a series of Wednesday evening talks on the lives of the disciples of Jesus. The choir will hold rehearsal at 8 o'clock.

Jealous Woman Slays Husband's Young Secretary

NEW YORK, Aug. 14. (AP)—Her eyes swollen from weeping, a 35-year-old housewife was brought to the police lineup today charged with slaying her husband's pretty young secretary whom she feared was stealing his love. Supported by a policeman, Mrs. Rita Reisman, 35, was too weak to answer questions concerning the shooting to death of Miss Virginia Selph, 23, and the wounding of her step-daughter, Annette, 23 years old. The slaying occurred early this morning in front of the Reisman home in a fashionable district of Queens.

Erosion Work Planned

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—An expanded erosion control program in New Mexico calling for expenditure of $2,071,865 was announced today by H. H. Bennett, chief of the soil conservation service. Bennett said one new project would be established in Union county to cover approximately 50,000 acres near Clayton, where headquarters will be maintained.

Dickie and Rex, a 4-month-old lion cub, both enjoy their rough-and-tumble romps, though Rex refuses to play with the lad's two older brothers.

SCHOOL CHILDREN AND WOMEN TAKE UP FIGHT AGAINST JEWS

BERLIN, Aug. 14. (AP)—The Nazis determined drive against Jews, which began a month ago with anti-semitic disturbances in Berlin's white way, extended today to all parts of the Reich and engaged even the school children. The results will be reviewed tomorrow night by Julius Streicher before a crowd which has bought every seat in the Sportpalast, Berlin's largest assembly hall. Reports of anti-Jewish manifestations by children came from Dortmund. They sneak up on persons emerging from shops owned by Jews, the reports said, pin to them cards reading: "I am a traitor to my people because I bought from a Jew."

PRESIDENT TO SIGN SECURITY MEASURE TODAY

Make-Up of Board to Be Announced Quickly

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—President Roosevelt called his aides around him today for a little ceremony enacting into law that he considers one of the most important measures passed during his administration—the social security legislation. The stroke of the pen attaching the presidential signature to the bill was the last formality needed to write into law a measure calling for a new and far-reaching social experiment and the largest tax program ever approved by congress. Indications were that the president would announce quickly the make-up of the social security board which will administer the new law providing for old-age pension and unemployment insurance systems. Under the bill employers and employees eventually will be taxed 3 per cent on wages up to $3,000 annually to provide for contributory old-age pensions. Benefits range from $10 to $85 a month. The plan becomes operative January 1, 1937, but no pensions will be paid until Jan. 1, 1942.

OHIOAN CLAIMS GOP WILL PICK UP MANY SEATS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14. (AP)—Rep. Chester C. Bolton of Ohio, chairman of the republican congressional campaign committee, forecast today that his party would pick up "at least 75 or 100 house seats" at the next election. "There is an even chance that we will get a majority," Bolton said. To do this the republicans would have to gain 112 seats. Bolton said his committee is conducting a survey of public opinion. County chairmen and other leaders are being interrogated in this connection. "There is a strong revision against the activities of this administration," he said. "We think that this trend will continue. The wealth tax proposal is the last straw. If the administration doesn't want to cut down its frightful expenditures the only thing left is a broad tax program that will hit everyone. The squawks have already started. People are tired of this spending."

Knock Chicago publisher, had more support at present for the republican presidential nomination in 1936 than any other man. Political observers watched dispatches from Hampton Beach, N. H., where Knox was chosen to address a republican rally today. Moses also was expected to drop in on that gathering. Meanwhile, Martin L. Davey, Ohio's democratic governor, reiterated a last night that he opposes calling a special election to fill the congressional vacancy created by the death of Rep. Charles V. Trux (D-O). George Bender, republican defeated by Trux in 1932, has threatened suit to force an election. Davey came here today to confer with President Roosevelt. He said the purpose of the visit was to see about the probabilities of obtaining more than $15,000,000 in PWA funds for Ohio welfare work.

O'Connor Kept Senate From Serving Hopson, Says Black

Senators Will Quiz Utility Czar's Lawyer

BY CLARENCE M. WRIGHT, Associated Press Staff Writer.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—The relations between house and senate lobby investigators underwent new strains and stresses today. The former, with an air of triumph called Howard C. Hopson, utilities kinsman, back to the stand again while the latter watched for a new opening to tag him with a subpoena.

GOP TRIES TO DELAY ACTION ON TAX BILL

WOULD POSTPONE VOTE ON MEASURE UNTIL NEXT SESSION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—An immediate move by republicans to shunt aside tax legislation until next session confronted administration forces as the senate began debate today on the $250,000,000 bill drafted by its finance committee.

Senator Vandenberg (R., Mich.) said he would take the first opportunity to move sending the measure back to committee with instructions to report back as soon as possible at the next session.

"My whole theory," Senator Vandenberg said, "is that it is a sheer waste of national resources to consider any tax bill except in connection with a budget bill. Unless they go together you have completely failed to get the advantage you have purchased with increased taxes."

Vandenberg's announcement caused little concern among democratic leaders, who claimed more than enough votes to keep the bill before the senate until next session.

The senators were frustrated yesterday. One of their investigators ran into an impossible ring of broad backs and hard shoulders when he sought to serve a subpoena as Hopson left the house hearing surrounded by police, aides, and a lawyer.

Incidentally, the senate group headed by Senator Black (D., Ala.) started an investigation. They were told by Eugene D. Lambert, plainclothes policeman, that assistants to Chairman O'Connor (D., N. Y.) of the house investigators had arranged for police protection for Hopson, long missing strong man of the Associated Gas & Electric system.

That bit of testimony seemed to afford enjoyment to Chairman Black. He pictured Hopson proceeding to the house committee with O'Connor's men in front, Hopson's attorneys on either flank, and the police in the rear.

With emphasis, O'Connor denied giving any instructions to protect Hopson from a senate subpoena. Plainclothesman Lambert also denied policemen had blocked the service.

O'Connor said: "We found a man they (the senate investigators) couldn't find. They are welcome to him, but they ought to let him finish a meal before they take him over."

At first the senate committee appeared to be considering the possibility of contempt action against Hopson on the ground he had refused to answer a subpoena, but later this prospect faded with testimony indicating the process server did not get near enough for the utilities man to reject the paper.

Instead, the senate committee contented itself with issuing a subpoena to William A. Hill, Hopson's lawyer. They wanted to determine whether he assumed responsibility for spurning of the subpoena.

Today the house investigators turned to a reputed chief between Hopson, on his company, and B. B. Robinson, a Chicago lawyer. Robinson, describing himself as a "free lance lobbyist," has testified he spent $7,000 for work against the Roosevelt utilities bill. He said he collected $6,000 of that from Associated Gas & Electric, and had received no payment for his services, but expected one.

CLINE EXPLAINS CENTENNIAL PLANS TO CABINET OFFICIALS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 14 (AP)—Plans for selling the glamorous history of Texas to the nation were outlined yesterday by representatives of the Texas Centennial commission.

Vice President Garner and Secretaries Hull, Wallace and Roper, who will direct expenditure of the $3,000,000 in federal funds allotted for the exposition, met with exhibition officials to outline the celebration of Texas' independence.

Walter D. Cline, director of the exposition central committee, gave a brief history of plans of the last 12 years for the exposition. He suggested two possible plans to the cabinet officials: one called for construction of one large federal building to be permanent.

The second, upon which he placed more emphasis was for construction of a number of smaller buildings to house specific exhibits. Cline recommended a "modest" building to cost between $200,000 and $300,000 to tell the story of cotton.

"The economic importance of cotton is closely bound up with the history of Texas and the southwest," said Cline. "The complete story of cotton has never been adequately told and I believe such an exhibit should be an important part of our exposition."

Cline also suggested a building "which will tell the story of the negro to show the development of this race along all lines since its emancipation."

He recommended a structure designed by negro architects and constructed by negroes to house exhibits relating the past played by the negro in the history of Texas and the southwest.

A third suggestion by Cline called for a building "to the old south" explaining that Texas was settled largely by people from the southern states. Cline recommended appropriate recognition of the six flags which have flown over Texas—those of Spain, France, Mexico, the confederacy, the Lone Star flag and the flag of the United States as well as for the parts of six states which Texas brought into the union—Texas, New Mexico, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Wyoming.

Various patriotic organizations which are seeking space he said could be housed in the million dollar building which the state of Texas will erect on the exposition ground. Lieut. Gov. Walter Workel expressed his interest.

YAWKEY'S RED SOX GO INTO THIRD PLACE

WHITEHEAD DEFEATED 11TH TIME IN 13 STARTS

By ANDY CLARKE, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Golden Bays of Boston have begun to pay dividends on the ambitious investment of Thomas Yawkey.

The Red Sox have climbed into third place in the American league and in doing so have shown class that perhaps presages even a higher rating.

They tumbled the White Sox from third place yesterday with a 9-5 victory. Boston unleashed a 14-hit barrage against John Whitehead and Jack Salveston with Bill Werber belting a homer, Duvy Cooke a pair of triples and a double and Melo Almada two doubles and a single.

It was the 11th defeat in 13 starts for Whitehead, rookie righthander who early in the season chalked up eight straight victories.

The Sox are six games behind the second place Yankees and 11 behind the first place Tigers.

The Senators took the measure of Detroit yesterday as Earl Whitehill, Washington's veteran southpaw, pulled out with a 4-3 decision in ten innings.

The Tigers tallied all their runs in the third inning when Pete Fox hit his 12th homer of the season with Plea Clifton and Jo Jo White on base.

Charley Ruffin held the Indians to four hits as the Yankees scored an 8-2 victory at Cleveland, but sloppy fielding on the part of the Indians gave their opponents six unearned runs.

The Philadelphia Athletics maltreated four St. Louis hurlers, to pound out a 14-1 victory. They blasted out 17 hits, every man in the Athletic lineup except Marcum entering the scoring column.

No games were played in the National league yesterday, but the Cards moved into New York as guests of the Giants.

As the league leaders battle it out on the Polo Grounds, they will have an eye cocked in the direction of Brooklyn, where the Cubs, right on their heels in third place, take on the Dodgers in a five game series. Both play doubleheaders today.

Fall Ranch Sold By Doheny, Claim

Judge Demands 45 Gallons Of Liquor Returned

DURHAM, N. C., Aug. 14 (AP)—Chester Laabs of Fort Wayne faces the loss of the 1935 batting crown of the minors unless he swings into action immediately.

The Three-I league slugger has been idle a month, forced out by injury. His batting average of .427 has been in only 67 games.

To be eligible for the trophy, a player must appear in 75 per cent of his team's games, which means that Laabs must play in 96 contests.

Meanwhile Oscar Eckhardt of the Pacific Coast League Missions has increased his mark to .416, standing in line to con the prize if Laabs continues on the sidelines.

EL PASO, Aug. 14 (AP)—The El Paso Times says it was informed that the ranch of A. B. Fall, former secretary of the interior, at Three Rivers, N. M., had been sold and that the Fall family had been notified to vacate by tomorrow.

At Los Angeles, R. M. Sands, vice-president and general manager of the Petroleum Securities company, which owns the ranch, said a deal to sell the property was pending.

"If Mr. Fall has been asked to vacate the ranch, where he and his family have been tenants at will, I am unaware of it. In case the ranch is sold he naturally would expect the new owners to take possession."

The Times says the sale was by the E. L. Doheny interests to the Palomas Land and Cattle company.

Fall, however, has refused to vacate until he has a personal meeting with Doheny to settle their affairs, the paper says.

The ranch, where Fall has lived for 35 years was taken over several years ago by Doheny on foreclosure of a mortgage of approximately $250,000, according to the Times.

INDIANS SPLIT DOUBLEHEADER WITH PIRATES

SHIPPER GAIN THREE POINTS BUT DO NOT PLAY

By The Associated Press

The Oklahoma City Indians, leading the Texas league, had a tough time of it Tuesday night with the third-place Galveston Pirates.

The Indians managed to squeeze one run past the excellent hurling of Jim Moore, making his first start for the Bucs, to shut out the Gulf coast team. Moore allowed only four hits, while Galveston's five were not enough to air Moore materially.

In the nightcap, Cole of the Bucs, the only pitcher in league history to hurl a perfect game, allowed only three hits. His mates collected nine to win, 7-1.

Beaumont, idle at home, where two games with Fort Worth were postponed because of rain, gained three points because of the Indians' division of the double bill, and were ten points behind the leaders in second place.

Houston's three-game losing streak at the hands of southpaws was broken with a vicious 15-hit barrage on Clarence Griffin and Al Shealy. Willy Mike Cevogros, Houston veteran, allowed five hits.

Pork Prices Up 350 Per Cent In Last Two Years

CHICAGO, Aug. 14 (AP)—Wholesale prices for fresh pork in the Chicago area today had reached a high of $29.50 a hundred pounds or more than 350 per cent increase in two years.

Yesterday's bump amounted to an even dollar and brought prices 273 higher than the extreme low of $6.50 a hundred pounds paid in 1933.

Two years ago, housewives, planning their daily menus, said: "I think we'll have roast pork for dinner. It's the cheapest meat we can buy."

Today, these same housewives said, "wonder what we'll eat tonight. Guess we'll have a vegetable dinner."

Fresh pork is the trade name for the choicest cuts of pork, usually referred to in retail markets as loin roasts.

The packers and butchers referred to the situation as "consumer resistance" to high prices for pork and beef.

Hearing in Post Death Due Today

POST, Aug. 14 (AP)—Officers hooded light would be thrust upon the mysterious death of J. W. Huff, 48-year-old farmer, at a hearing here today.

Huff's body was found floating on Lake near here. Authorities estimated he apparently had died shortly after he shot his son, Jack, 20, evidently by mistake.

Officials have not accepted a drowning theory, and are seeking to establish the identity of a person reported to have sent the dead man an anonymous letter which contained a death threat.

District Attorney G. H. Nelson of Tahoka said he planned to question five or six witnesses today.

Huff disappeared shortly after he had shot his son as the youth was opening a gate near their home. The son, who is recovering now from a wound received when a shotgun charge struck him in the chest, fled, with the father calling after him that he had shot the youth by mistake.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 (AP)—A variety of specialties, alcohols and farm implement shares provided the stock market with its outstanding features on the upside today.

Trading favorites in the industrial division were hampered by further profit taking and there were many endings with small losses. Rails and utilities were hesitant. The closing tone was fairly steady. Sales approximated 1,950,000 shares.

High School Band To Meet Tonight

The first meeting of the 1935-36 Pampa high school band will be held tonight in the red building at 8 o'clock. All candidates are urged to be on hand with their instruments.

All members of the war school and Junior high bands are requested to meet Thursday at the red building according to the following schedule:

Cornets—9 a. m.
Clarinet—10 a. m.
Trombones and Baritone—11 a. m.
Saxophones—1:30 p. m.
Alto and Basses—2:30 p. m.
Drums—3:30 p. m.

Prohibition Will Be Parade Topic Next Saturday

Young people of Pampa churches will stage an automobile parade at 2:30 o'clock Saturday of this week in the interest of the prohibition cause. All young people who will participate in the parade are asked to meet with their cars on Brownling avenue by the side of the high school at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The parade will be completed by 3 o'clock and those who are working and who desire to leave their work can be back at 3 o'clock. It is expected a very large crowd will take part in the parade and that all young people are invited to cooperate.

Mrs. Ben Farris returned to Pampa yesterday after an extended vacation at Idaho Springs, Colo. She was accompanied by Mrs. C. M. Lyon who will visit friends here.

fields down there, we hasten to state that the climate is very hot and humid standards are below even those of "white trash" in the United States. Development of any new country is arduous pioneering. Relief roll existence in this country, meager as it is, is far easier than being a living from rustic conditions of a strange land.

JEW-BAITING is beginning in the United States with results not yet impressive. Comes to hand a thick packet of tirades against communism and Jewish "plots." Communism, we read, is a world-wide "plot" of the Jew. It is inspired (claimed to be a Jew) as one of the master minds. In making a religious issue, one pamphlet urges the reader to turn to Kings II, Chapter 23, of the Old Testament. It would be interesting to know the inspiration of the pamphlet, which are suspected of being German propaganda to offset the growing antagonism to Hitler in the United States.

THE REMARK is often heard that President Roosevelt's advisers are predominantly Jewish, socialist, or radical. This charge is repeated in the propaganda received, along with the claims that: Stalin's wife is a Jew; Yagoda, OGPU (secret police) chief in Russia is a Jew; Soviet ambassadors to Britain, Germany, Italy, and Rumania are Jews; and that the American press as controlled by Jewish ownership. If all of the statements are as erroneous as the latter, they are wrong indeed.

But, as a parting bait, the writer, one Robert Edward Edmondson, urges a "purification" campaign, with boycotting of non-gentile stores.

spent on exposition projects which will be of lasting and permanent benefit to the people of Texas, the southwest and the nation."

Amon Carter, Fort Worth publisher, asked the federal commission for $25,000 for the stock show at Fort Worth to be held as a part of the Centennial observance. The state has provided $250,000 of this amount and Carter asked the vice-president and cabinet members to help us get an additional $250,000.

E. S. Aultzell, of San Antonio, an assistant commissioner of the exposition reiterated the San Antonio plan for an historic play to be presented by a nationally-known producer as San Antonio's participation in the celebration.

"We want something which will advertise San Antonio and be remembered long after the stock show at Fort Worth and the other features are forgotten," said Aultzell.

Other who explained plans for the celebration to the commission included Major Paul Wakefield, of Austin, and assistant commissioner and aide to Governor Allred of Texas; H. P. Rice, of Dallas, an assistant commissioner and Walter D. Cline, director of the central exposition committee.

The commission went into executive session after the conference but members said no allotment announcements would be made until they had an opportunity to study written applications which Texas has been requested to submit.

Knox Puts Planks In His Platform

HAMPTON BEACH, N. H., Aug. 14 (AP)—Drawing upon the 1932 democratic platform for six planks, Col. Frank Knox, possible republican presidential candidate in 1936, today outlined a party platform which he declared represented "the utter repudiation by Roosevelt and his new administration of sacred promises."

Presenting the planks in answer to President Roosevelt's "reiterated demand for a substitute program" the Chicago and Manchester, N. H., newspaper publisher recommended, for adoption by his party, a number of planks "taken literally from the democratic platform of 1932."

"They represent principles upon which all those opposed to the radicalism of President Roosevelt can support the republican party," he declared.

YOUTHS FOUND DEAD

ROGERS, Ark., Aug. 14 (AP)—Two youths of about 20, tentatively identified as Leslie Lyons and Frank Philor of Okaloosa, Kansas, were found dead on highway 71 seven miles north of Rogers today, apparently the victims of a hit and run driver.

Guayaquil, one of Ecuador's most important cities, was founded by Benalazar in 1533.

"First Hospitals for the War Against Traffic Perils" is what these American Red Cross first aid stations, established on an experimental basis along highways in West Virginia, might be called. Admiral Cary T. Grayson, chairman of the Red Cross, hopes that 15,000 such stations and signs may dot the nation's roads and serve to reduce the 36,000-a-year deaths caused yearly by motor accidents.

AMENDMENT

Habitual criminals, habitual drunkards and inmates of state supported institutions would not be eligible.

Unlike most states with old-age pensions, the Texas amendment would not make indigency a prerequisite to eligibility. Statutes establishing a system could, however, invoke that or other restrictions. The amendment would empower the legislature to fix "such limitations and restrictions and regulations as may be deemed expedient" in addition to constitutional inhibitions.

The $15 monthly maximum was prescribed in view of provisions of the federal social security act providing an equal amount to match state funds.

What an old-age pension system would cost Texas could not be estimated in advance of statutory restrictions on eligibility. California, with a population near that of Texas, spent an estimated $4,502,000 last year, supplying 14,604 pensioners with $21.16 average monthly.

The Kansas legislative council recently ascertained the percentage of pensioners to those eligible ranged from 3.02 per cent in New Hampshire to 17.8 per cent in Arizona. The 1930 federal census showed 232,459 persons residing in Texas were over 65 years of age, some of whom would not be eligible.

The primary purpose of the special session submission amendment was to provide a means by which the legislature could handle the unemployment problem when proceeds of a $20,000,000 state relief bond issue voted in 1933 were depleted, estimated to be in December.

Without a new constitutional authorization, which could be substituted at special session if the proposal were adopted, the legislature would be powerless to provide direct aid for destitute unemployed cast off federal relief funds.

Obviously, however, the proposal would grant an authority that could be exercised for matters other than social security. It would add to the section defining a method for amending the constitution a clause allowing the legislature, "in cases of extraordinary emergency affecting the state as a whole," to propose changes "upon the submission of the proposed amendment by the governor at any special session."

An organization recently was perfected to campaign for adoption of the amendment as a necessary procedure for the state's acceptance of its share in the federal social security funds for aid of widows, dependent children and the blind on a matching basis.

scared up than you are now."

The flurry between Cox and Hopson ended when Chairman O'Connor rapped for order and Hopson said almost inaudibly:

"All right, I'll withdraw that."

Hopson then told house investigators he had not attempted to avoid their jurisdiction but had sought to evade the senate lobby committee.

Hill Testifies

Laying the groundwork for possible contempt proceedings, the committee asked William A. Hill, attorney for Howard C. Hopson, to waive immunity in testifying about the effort to serve a subpoena on his client yesterday.

Hill agreed to waive immunity, but testified he had not physically interfered with the senate's process server in his effort to subvert the head of the Associated Gas and Electric System.

A witness before the committee yesterday said Hill had shouldered in between Hopson and Joseph P. McCarthy, senate process server, after the house lobby hearing adjourned.

Though Hill denied physically interfering with service of the subpoena, he agreed he had told McCarthy he could not serve it because Hopson already was under the house jurisdiction.

Hill testified that Hopson knew he was wanted by the senate committee. It was the first direct testimony that Hopson had knowledge of the senate's subpoena for him.

A. L. Burge heads for the top

It's going to be a great climb. Every time he steps up he has rendered a real service to his policyholders... he has provided them and their families with the protection of Life insurance.

He Promised 2 Things

First, that he, personally, would write a total of $75,000.00 in Life Insurance between January 1st and September 30th of this year.

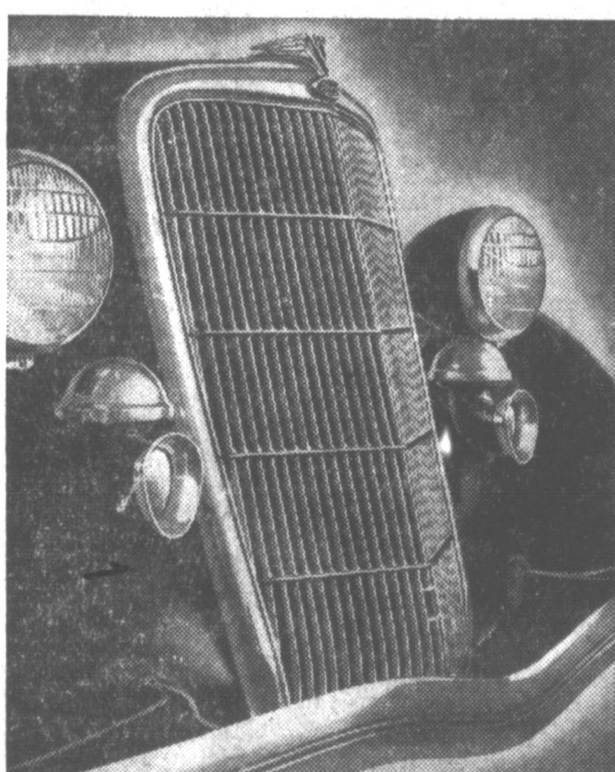

Second, that he would write at least one application a week during that time.

FORD V-8 SALES CLIMB TO NEW HIGH

7 months' Ford V-8 sales surpass all-year 1934 sales

IT'S EASY TO BUY A FORD THESE DAYS

You may not need a cent of cash to drive a new Ford V-8 into your own garage tomorrow... Almost any 1932, 1933 or 1934 automobile will make the whole down-payment. Older cars will go far toward covering down-payment.

Ford prices are so low that all Ford models are easy to buy and the 1935 Ford costs less to run than any Ford car ever built.

$495 and up—F.O.B. Detroit—Standard accessory group including bumpers and spare tire extra. Easy terms through Universal Credit Company, Authorized Ford Finance Plan.

DEARBORN, Mich., August 1... Official records of Ford V-8 cars and trucks, bought in this country since the first of January this year, show that on July thirty-first sales for the first seven months of this year exceeded Ford sales for all of the year 1934 (12 months).

Since the time of the introduction of the Ford V-8 engine in 1932, Ford has remained the only manufacturer in the low-priced field offering this superior type of power-plant... A brief study of automobile price lists today shows that you can buy a completely equipped Ford V-8 car for one-quarter the price of the next lowest-priced car with a V-8 engine.

In addition, this year, Ford added to the luxury-type performance of the V-8 engine the luxury of a new kind of "Comfort Zone" ride. The engine was moved 8 1/2 inches forward... springs were made longer and softer... back seat as well as front seat passengers were seated between the springs, away from the ride—literally in the "comfort zone" of the car.

Almost immediately this 1935 Ford car became America's favorite.

And now, with only seven months passed of 1935, Ford retail sales have surpassed the sales for all of 1934, which, in their turn, marked a great increase over Ford sales in 1933.
