Surprise Witness Saw Patton Carrying 'Box'

DIDN'T SEEM TO BE CIGAR BOX HE SAYS

'BOUGHT BOND TODAY AND IT ISN'T PAY-DAY'

BY NATHAN ROBERTSON. Associated Press Staff Writer. WASHINGTON, July 26. (AP)—Members of the senate lobby committee expressed surprise today at testimony by Representative Patton (D-Tex.) that he had bought $5,000 worth of bonds during a period this spring when his salary was only $3,100. This followed testimony by a surprise witness that he had seen Patton carry a small box away from the hotel room of John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light company the day before Patton voted against the provision in the utility bill for compulsory abolition of "unnecessary" holding companies.

A former Follies star once hailed by Florenz Ziegfeld as the "highest paid chorus," Jessie Reed, 28, shown above, in Chicago, who numbers millionaires among her four ex-husbands, is broke. She admitted she might have to apply to Chicago relief bodies for assistance as she faced eviction from a $5-a-week hotel room.

Hallmark Sister Takes Stand in Thompson Trial

PEORIA, Ill., July 26 (AP)—Miss Hallmark, to-day took the stand as the first witness to help the state's attempt to send Gerald Thompson, 26, to the electric chair for the slaying and ravishing of his sister, pretty 19-year-old Mildred Hallmark.

The witness, E. Sellers, an NRA employee, expressed doubt that the package was cigars and quoted Patton's nephew, who was with them, as saying later: "Hell, that wasn't cigars." There had been previous testimony that the box was a cigar box from Carpenter's room.

Amarillo Shamrocks To Play Road Runners Here Tonight

DALLAS TIES PANTHERS IN CELLAR FIGHT

SHIPPERS SPLIT TWIN BILL WITH TULSA OILERS

(By The Associated Press.)—The Dallas Steers, after struggling almost since the start of the season to climb out of the "Texas league cellar," were tied for seventh position today with Fort Worth by virtue of a 19 to 2 victory over Houston.

Fort Worth split a doubleheader with Galveston, winning the first game, 5 to 4, and losing the last, 1 to 5.

Unofficial standings showed that Dallas and Fort Worth each have won 45 games and lost 63 so far this season.

While the league tail-enders were struggling along last night, Beaumont retained the league lead by dividing a pair of games with Tulsa, 10 to 3 and 6 to 3.

Oklahoma City, running strong in second place, won games from San Antonio, 4 to 3 and 4 to 2.

A 21-hit attack, featured by homers by Stroner with two on and Tauby with one on, ran the Dallas score up rapidly as the Steers walked the Buffs.

Ed Cole pitched Galveston to its victory over Fort Worth in the nightcap after the Cats had staged a ninth-inning rally to win the opener.

The Tulsa Oilers' winning streak was broken when they met defeat at the hands of Beaumont in the opener but they started another by taking the afterpiece. To win that victory they pounded Red Phillips for 13 hits. George Gill held the Oilers in check in the first game while his mates batted hard luck Harry Mazuzak from the mound in the fifth and later picked up three runs off Griffin.

Oklahoma City was the only team to take a doubleheader, but the Indians were forced to go an extra inning in each game before they could take the measure of the San Antonio Mission.

'Goofy' Dean or Pachak Will Hurl Game

Amarillo's up-and-coming baseball team, fresh from a 4 to 2 victory over the strong Amherst Farmers yesterday afternoon, will invade Pampa tonight for the first of two games with the Pampa Road Runners. The return game will be played in Amarillo Sunday. If Amarillo sends a new umpire behind the bat, tonight's tussle will begin at 8:30 o'clock. The game on Sunday afternoon will be at 3 o'clock at Metro park, if—Manager Freddy Brickell has announced that he will not play ball in Amarillo with the same umpire that attempted to "call balls and strikes" last time the birds invaded the "Panhandle metropolis."

Manager Bob Winkler of the Shamrocks tried to name another Amarillo man, since he plays here with Pampa umpires, but Manager Brickell pointed out that Jimmie Baldwin, ace of the Panhandle umpiring staff, came from LeFors and not from Pampa. It may be that a neutral umpire will be selected but up to the present time, things are in a mess.

Jack "Goofy" Dean will be here with the Shamrocks tonight but it is not known whether he will take the mound or be saved for Sunday afternoon. Letty Pachak will be ready for duty, and if Dean does not get the call, Pachak will be the logical contender for starting honors.

Teas, a newcomer to the Shamrocks, pitched winning ball against the Amherst club yesterday.

Manager Freddy Brickell, it is believed, will send Bill Hardin to the mound tonight. The veteran right-hander had his tonsils removed two weeks ago and will be ready to work. Lefty George Bulla is also ready for the nod.

A new catcher by the name of Kelley appeared in an Amarillo uniform yesterday. It was rumored here this morning that it was Wayne Kelley, former high school football star. He will be here tonight. The Texas that was on the Amarillo mound is believed to be the hurler who appeared here with Canadian last season. He has been attending the University of Alabama.

The Road Runners will wind up their baseball series before leaving for the Denver Post tournament on Monday and Tuesday nights when the La Junta Mexican baseball team of Nueva Laredo, Mexico, appears here for games.

Manager Reyes Ortiz will again present his Cuban hurler, Ramon Braganza, who will probably hurl the second game. Braganza is a slender speed-ball pitcher who won a 13-inning pitching duel from Joe Berry when the team appeared here in the spring. Roberto Cabal and Imael Montalvo are the other aces of the Mexican hurling staff.

CARDINALS IN THIRD PLACE AFTER SERIES

CUBS MOVE INTO 2ND AS GIANTS WIN TWO GAMES

BY HUGH S. FULBERTON JR., Associated Press Sports Writer.

The situation in the National League looks somewhat brighter for the Cardinals today.

Although they entered St. Louis for a "crucial" series Monday staggering under four straight losses at Chicago, they returned home in something resembling a triumphant march after walloping the Cardinals twice in their concluding doubleheader yesterday, 3 to 1 and 13 to 2.

This shoved St. Louis down to third place and gave the Giants a three-game lead over the Cubs, who moved into second.

In addition they were going back to their own park within a few days for a lengthy season with the second division clubs. There was some prospect that two injured pitchers, Fred Fitzsimmons and Cloyd Castleman, soon would be ready for action.

The Yankees, after an unprofitable home stand against the west, still led the American league by a margin of 12 games over the Cardinals. Their first clash with Detroit was rained out along with the rest of the circuit's schedule.

Before a crowd of 28,500, which helped set a St. Louis attendance record for a week-day series, the Giants put a highly successful conclusion on the series which saw them drop momentarily into second place after losing the first game of Tuesday's twin bill.

Hal Schumacher, beaten once, came back to pitch a brilliant game in yesterday's opener while young Paul Dean latered just long enough in the fourth to take a beating. The New Yorkers swung their bats with abandon in the second game to sew the game up with a 6-run rally in the second inning and collect a 17-hit total.

Schumacher wilted after six innings of the opener, pitching in 90-degree heat. Allyn Stout took up the task and finished the job of pitching to two hits in the eighth.

An error by Danning cost the Giants a shutout in the opener. Jim Collins' nineteenth homer of the season, struck in the eighth, kept Roy Parmelee's 5-hit pitching a whitewashing in the afterpiece.

The Cubs moved ahead of St. Louis by knocking off the Dodgers for the fifth straight time, 4 to 2, behind Tex Carleton's 5-hit pitching to make a 16 victory in 19 games against the invading eastern clubs. The Pirates kept pace by turning back the Phillies, 9 to 8, in a nip-and-tuck battle. Rain halted the Braves and Reds.

PEEWEEES BARELY AVOID FREE-FOR-ALL AMONG THEMSELVES BUT BEAT SUN JUNIORS 43-6

Boys Fall Out and Weep, But Make Up; To Play Jackrabbits Sunday

First the Peewees beat the daylight boys of the Sun Oil company Juniors playing baseball, then in the seventh inning they turned out to make prospects for a free-for-all fight developed quickly. However, the game ended with no blows struck, although many "hard words" were passed back and forth among the peeved Peees. About the only damage done was a lot of red, swollen eyes caused by much weeping.

Despite the fact that a number of the Peees threw down their gloves, walked off the field and said they were through, they managed to annihilate their baseball foes 43 to 6. "Boy-like the Peeees had "made up" this morning, and will be ready to meet the Jackrabbits Sunday afternoon at Magnolia park. The game will start promptly at 3:30 o'clock. The Jackrabbits are seething with a passion for revenge—they were defeated 9 to 8 last Sunday by the Peeees, and a close battle is in prospect.

The trouble started yesterday when Billy Morrow who had pitched a losing game the day before for the Peeees was forced to take the mound. He wanted Claude Heiskell to pitch. A verbal tiff ensued. In the seventh inning, Heiskell began twirling for the Sun Juniors, the opposing team. A few minutes later, several of the boys after a heated exchange of "fighting words," walked off the field. All members of the team wept wetly, noisily and profusely. One Peee snuck a hanker when his eyes were so full of tears he could hardly see the ball.

The Peeees after Amos Reed (they wish he'd come back) moved to Canadian were left with only two pitchers, Heiskell and Morrow. Both have been bothered by sore arms lately. In fact, Morrow will not be able to hurl any more, and Heiskell will be able to pitch only once or twice a week. They are in the market for a new pitcher.

Battles yesterday were Morrow pitcher, and Alude catcher; and Brown, Enloe and others, pitchers; and Kleth, catcher for Sun.

Cummings And Moran Grapple Wednesday Eve

Sailor "Red" Moran Will Return to Pampa Wrestling Night when He Will Meet Bob Cummings of San Francisco in the Main Event of the Card to be Staged at Road Runner Park. Wrestling Night will be Changed to Wednesday, for the week only, because of conflicting dates on Tuesday, regular wrestling night.

The semi-final will see Red Michael, a former Pampa boy, meeting Pat Garrison, local Irishman. The Wild Irishman's match is pitting him against Michael who was just a "kid" when he left Pampa more than two years ago. Since then the red-head has been making a name for himself in wrestling circles, and should give Garrison a busy evening.

Opening the card at 8:30 o'clock will be a meeting between Andy Dowler, local Swede, and Ken Daly, Berger's wrestling attorney. Tickets for the big match are on sale at Pampa Drug No. 1.

Moran's opponent for the night is a clever grappler of national prominence. He came here from the east a month ago and since that time has been thrilling Panhandle wrestling crowds with his sensational grappling. Cummings will be remembered for his great work a few weeks ago. The match was one of the fastest of the year.

Wednesday's main event is hoped to be a battle of wild and woolly wrestlers. The semi-final will be whatever the Pampa Irishman makes of it. Garrison used science in staying 17 minutes with Clingman Tuesday night. How he will go with the red-head is unknown.

BUDGE AND PERRY, ALLISON AND AUSTIN PLAY IN FINALS

Entries in Golf Tournament Rise To 81 Thursday

Entries in the City open golf tournament mounted to 81 yesterday afternoon with the deadline extended to Saturday night, too late for pairings to be published. Players will report to the clubhouse at the Country club at 8 o'clock Sunday morning when they will learn who their opponents will be for the first round of play.

All matches will be played in fourzones. According to qualifying scores already recorded, it will take an 85 or better to get in the second flight.

Match play will begin promptly at 8 o'clock, with the second, first and championship flights being off on hole No. 1 in that order and flights three, four, and five, teeing off on hole No. 10 in that order. If there are more flights, players will tee off on the second nine first.

Second round of play will be staged on Sunday afternoon with the semi-final and final matches set for the following Sunday. All boys 14 years and over desiring to caddy are urged to be at the clubhouse by 7:30 o'clock Sunday morning.

Miss Neva Burgan has returned from a vacation visit with her parents in Canyon.

YOUNG PEOPLE ATTEND PICNIC NEAR ALLISON

JOIN MEMBERS FROM CHURCHES OF TWO COUNTIES

Attended by about 150 young people from Gray and Wheeler county Methodist churches, a picnic on the Alexander ranch near Allison was enjoyed last evening.

The Pampa delegation included 21 young people and leaders. A devotional program was in charge of the Wheeler group. Games and a picnic supper completed the evening's entertainment.

In the party from Pampa were Mrs. Gaston Foote, Steve Goodwin, John Hutchinson, Paul Nelson, Bash Barrow, Betty Elkins, Jessie Marie Gilbert, Tony Barnes, Georgia Mae Rogers, Lavelle Richards, John Mitchell, Wayne Hart, George Lane, Opal Kretz, H. D. Tucker, Anna Margaret Tucker, Evelyn Bicknell, Kit Carson, and others.

Mrs. Bass Gives Recent Party to Entre Nous Club

Mrs. Jake Bass entertained Entre Nous bridge club recently with a delightful party at the Crystal Palace. Mrs. Verde Dieckoy and Mrs. Claude Fincher were guests.

Mrs. Frank Roach scored high. Mrs. T. O. Robinson second high, and Mrs. Glib Frazier received congratulations.

Delicious sandwiches, coca cola, and ice cream were served to Mrs. Dallas Culwell, Frazier, Glen Slocum, Roach, Robinson, and the club guests.

Double Birthdays Are Honored with A Party for Two

Mrs. Mary Scoggins and her granddaughter, Lela Colleen White, were honored together with a birthday party Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Scoggins' daughter, Mrs. Travis White.

The event was a surprise to Mrs. Scoggins, who had enjoyed a similar party with her granddaughter four years ago. After several games, iced tea and cake were served. Gifts were presented to both honorees.

Guests were Mrs. Scoggins, Jessie Riley, Dollie Campbell, A. J. Boles, Rose Mae Ward, Dillman, Misses Polly White, Frances and Dorothy Scoggins, and the following youngsters:

Charline and Harry Dale Vanderburg, Leland and Junior Taylor, Glen Crouse, James and Jaudell Carothers, LaNora and Burnice Riley, Kenneth Dwight, Nita Vae Heard, Bernice Harrison, Kattie, Edna Rose, Oleta Mae, Wayne, and Miki White.

Gifts were sent by Joe Ellen Simmons, Billie Bob and Vernon Hill.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

When I find myself serving peas and carrots day in day out, I go to market and deliberately set out to select new vegetables for dinner. Whenever I see something with which I'm not familiar, I ask the market man what it is and how to cook it or use it. And that way I've made some grand discoveries that have delighted the family.

Americans seldom use leeks and sweet fennel. Both are prized by foreign cooks.

Leeks belong to the onion family but are delicately flavored. They are excellent for seasoning soups and salads, and the lower white part can be trimmed and served with butter or white sauce.

Florence Pennel or Finocchio is used extensively by Italian cooks as a salad, but is especially palatable when served boiled with a cream sauce. If you don't know it, try it with a fish menu. Its flavor is somewhat like celery, but it has a sweet taste and delicate odor.

The topepo is a new vegetable rapidly gaining popularity. Of a waxy yellow color, it resembles the tomato in shape and the pepper in texture and flavor. The flesh is thicker than that of the pepper, but of the same crisp firmness. It's used raw in salads or stuffed and baked, just as its ancestors are used.

If you can't find new vegetables, then try new ways of serving the old ones. A vegetable pie is quite unusual but very easy to make. Serve it with a jellyed fruit salad and floating island for dessert.

Women Sponsor Play at Church Sunday Evening

A play based on missionary work in Korea will be presented at McCullough Methodist church in the evening service Sunday, directed by women of the Missionary society. Special music will also be a part of the service.

The play, When Customs Bind, has a cast including H. L. Wallace, Mmes. Ora Cook, W. M. Cox, Thomas Clayton, Harry English, Neely Rogers, and H. C. Boyd, and Maizie Perkins and Nellie Campbell.

A male quartet composed of E. L. Campbell, J. R. Combs, Lance Webb, and Mr. Rankin, will sing, and an instrumental duet will be heard.

Morning services will be conducted at Harrah Chapel, with a sermon by Mr. Webb, the minister, on Gushers, Pumpers, and Dry Holes. Mmes. Wallace and Webb will sing a duet.

CLASS TO PICNIC

The young people's class of Harrah Methodist chapel will meet at the church, 7:30, to go on a watermelon feast. Mrs. D. F. Buckner is teacher of this group.

R. J. Andrus of Pampa-Phillips camp, was admitted to Pampa-Jarrett hospital for treatment yesterday.

CLASS PICNIC ENDS CONTEST AT CITY PARK

WINNERS ENTERTAINED IN CLARA HILL CONTEST

Winners in a three-month contest in First Methodist Clara Hill class were entertained by the losers at Central Park yesterday evening.

After a short business meeting, the group enjoyed a watermelon feast and informal conversation.

Mrs. H. Rogers was a special class guest. Members present were Mrs. P. C. Pollard, Ed Hancock, W. J. Baker, G. W. Applebay, B. R. Vaughan, H. E. Howell, Ralph Stine, J. D. Sackett, H. M. Pryper, L. C. Gommilion, S. C. Barrow, Roy Riley, J. W. Gialer, C. A. Townsend, Arthur Hefflin, R. D. Pearce, W. J. Johnson, R. A. Baker, Frank Shotwell and John Evans.

Public Invited to See Play at Church

The Lost Pocket Book, a play that was scheduled to be presented at the First Methodist church last Sunday evening and was postponed will be presented Sunday evening at 8:28 o'clock when the service will be held on the church lawn. Characters in the play are Chas. Thomas, Mrs. E. D. Caskey, and Martha Lee McCleskey.

This play has only been presented in Pampa one time and the First Methodist church invites everyone to see it Sunday evening.

Japan Announces Huge Land And Air Expansion Program

Will Spend About 261 Millions in Five Years

TOKYO, July 26. (AP)—The war office proposed a broad five-year plan today for modernization, improvement and expansion of Japanese land and air armaments.

The program, requiring expenditures of 900,000,000 yen (about $261,000,000), was drafted by the general staff of the war office for submission to the cabinet and inclusion in the budget. The money is in addition to regular military appropriations.

War office authorities, disclosing the project, pointed out that it was "essential" to modernize equipment and increase the air force, which they contended was inferior to those of other major powers.

Although they considered Japan extremely vulnerable to an air attack, officials said the limitations on Japan's industrial capacity made it necessary that the program be concentrated on land equipment for the first two years. Air force improvements would occupy the last three years.

It was the first time since the Manchoukuan campaign that the army had disclosed its program for long-time expenditures.

Officers had asserted previously that the situation forced daily alteration of plans. The difficulty in the far east was believed to be sufficiently stabilized now, however, to permit formulation of the national defense plan for presentation to the finance ministry, the cabinet and public.

The army project coincided with plans for the communications ministry to request an appropriation of at least 1,000,000,000 yen (about $370,000,000) for development of civilian aviation.

The communications ministry program provided for expansion of domestic air lines, establishment of air service to Singapore, subsidies for local air lines and creation of an aviation laboratory.

The army program fell into three parts: An appropriation of 500,000,000 yen was designed chiefly for improvement and increase in military aviation, in addition to the 200,000,000 yen already authorized.

An appropriation of 200,000,000 yen was considered for Japan proper and Korea, for improvement of infantry anti-tank and anti-air equipment, an increase in automatic firearms, modernization of field guns, improvements in heavy artillery and an increase in motor transports.

New chemical equipment and improved connections between troops in the Japanese-sponsored state of Manchoukio also were projected.

The third appropriation, of 200,000,000 yen, was proposed for improvements in Manchoukio similar to those in Japan proper, besides protection for the north Manchoukuan railway, increased army mechanization and introduction of military conscription.

The five-year plan appropriations would be added to the regular military expenditures, for which a total of 600,000,000 yen has been requested annually hereafter, as compared to the present expenditures of 493,000,000 yen a year.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

Chapter Five
"MY—WHAT?"
"Where did you crash?" demanded Albert of the returned Rex Moore. "Who found you?"

"Crashed in a typhoon somewhere near the Marquesas Islands. I did the first hop to Fiji in fine time. And the next one, too. Then I struck a bad patch, the worst one I ever saw. It was no good. I was helpless. I wasn't forced down—I was hurled down."

"Don't remember much about it. Don't know why I wasn't smashed to pieces. Must have been unconscious for days. I had been picked up by a yacht and was taken to California. They told me the storm died down as quickly as it had come up. The people who owned the yacht looked after me for more than a year."

"But why didn't you send word home?"
"Didn't feel like it. They were decent folk and kept it dark. I was a useless log. What was the good? Better that you should think me dead."

"You always were a queer chap. But after you recovered your sight?"
"I was down and out—a bit mad, I think. I owed my life, my eyes to those people. But I gave them the slip and made my way to New York somehow or other and picked up a bit of a living there."

"Did you fly under another name?"
"No, I didn't fly at all. I thought I was through with that. I—I just picked up a living."

"Why have you come back now?"
"Because I had to. I got a change of heart." He gave a bitter little laugh. "I told myself I'd been a fool, doing nothing but just cursing because I'd had bad luck. I thought of you, Mr. Albert, thought you might give me another chance. I'm all right now. I can trust myself. I want to carry on, if you don't think I'm too much of a crock and too old for the job."

"I'm so glad to see you I don't know what to say," was Albert's warm reply.
And then, abruptly, he fell into silence.

He remembered how, only a few days ago, he had said to Mrs. Moore in his office, "I sometimes wonder if you still hope against hope that he might come back?"

And here he was, standing before him, Rex Moore, her husband, back from the dead. In the amazement and shock of the scene he had not thought of the girl before. That made it more incomprehensible than ever. The young man must evidently come off his head for a while. And no wonder.

"Moore," he said, "haven't you let anybody know that you're back in England—alive?"
"No; I hate fuss. Somebody might have remembered me. I'd have had to tell this silly yarn a thousand times. I've been in London a week, just trying to get used to it."

"But, my dear boy, haven't you tried to get in touch with your people?"
"I have no people. You've forgotten that."

"But haven't you tried to get in touch with your wife?"
"My—what?" The young man's back was turned to Albert. He was finishing a whisky and soda in which they had been celebrating his return. It sounded rather as if he were choking.

"Your wife. It's the most extraordinary thing—your wife is working for us at the office. It almost seems as if we were both dreaming, doesn't it? But we're not!"

Rex Moore turned his eyes on Albert's face in a hard stare. For a moment they really looked like the eyes of a blind man, but Albert did not notice that.

He told the airman in a few rapid words how his young wife, believing herself his widow, of course, had been in a rather bad way out in Australia, and had been discovered by his friend and colleague in Sydney and sent home, and how ever since she had been a valued member of the London office staff.

"I suppose, my dear boy, you thought she was still in Australia!" he concluded.
"I didn't know she was in England," was the slow reply.
"We were so glad to do what we could to help her. Of course, you mustn't blame yourself; you hadn't time to make a will, or anything like that. You'd only just been married, hadn't you, when you took off?"

"I hadn't anything to make a will with," was the answer. It sounded rather callous to the older man.
But, then, Moore had always been a funny sort of chap. Not much social and domestic side to him. Albert had been astonished to hear that he had married, although there had been rumors, he knew, in Australia, where he had spent several months preparing for his great flight.

"This is a bit of a shock to me—my wife being here and working for you," Moore went on. "It certainly is extraordinary. I'm sure it's very good of you to have looked after her." His face wore a curious fixed expression that Albert took for remorse.

"I can guess. It rather brings it home to you that you left the poor girl without news of yourself all this time. It might have caused a lot of trouble. Moore, she has thought herself a widow."

"You're right, it might have made a lot of trouble," said the airman thoughtfully. "I'm rather overcome. I apologize if I seem foolish."

"Joy doesn't kill," answered Albert smoothly. But in his own mind there was an unpleasant reaction. Laurie Moore was Moore's wife now; not his widow. Quite a different thing. There was a sudden crisis in his brain, a wave of angry heat, the first pang of jealousy of his life.

"Now, you will be off to see her. We can talk business tomorrow. Of course, you must get back to your job. I'll be behind you. Don't worry about that! There are still a few records unbroken—and the Pacific is always there!"

"Do you know her address?" asked the airman.
"Laurie gets a terrible shock, tomorrow."

JONES RECOVERING
EAST VIEW, N. Y., July 26. (AP)—Elsie Janis, "the sweetheart of the A. E. F.," and a stage star, was rapidly recovering at Grasslands hospital today from injuries received Wednesday night in an automobile accident. Temperature, pulse and respiration of the actress were normal, Dr. C. W. Mungler, director of the county hospital reported. She spent a "fairly comfortable" night, he said, and at times was actually cheerful.

EAST PRUSSIAN STEEL HELMET IS DISSOLVED

BERLIN, July 26. (AP)—Dissolution of the entire East Prussian stahlhelm (steel helmet) veterans organization was announced today by Governor Erich Koch.

The stern action against the veterans organization—Germany's equivalent to the American Legion—was taken under the February 28, 1933, law for the protection of the people and the state.

It accompanied a broadening of the Nazi three-sided cleansing act against "reactionary" veterans. A new Nazi departmental dictator, Hans Hinkel, assumed power with the specific duty of eliminating Jewish influences from art. The anti-semitic boycott was tightened throughout the Reich and renewed moves were made to isolate Jews.

All East Prussian steel helmet units and all subdivisions were affected by the dissolution order. All property of the organization was to be confiscated.

Koch's order quoted a steel helmet leader as saying Franz Seidte, leader of the Stahlhelm and minister of labor was "a traitor," and that he once ordered mourning crepe removed from flags during an anti-Versailles demonstration, contrary to the orders of East Prussian steel helmet leaders.

No Jews in Olympics.
It was learned today that no Jews will represent Germany in the 1936 Olympics because of what the Jews call discrimination against them by Nazi sports leaders and what the Nazis call the incompetence of Jewish athletes.

A Nazi official, referring to elimination contests, said: "Of course

ETHIOPIA WILL NOT AGREE TO A NEW PARLEY

CONCILIATION COMMISSION IN FUTURE NOT LIKELY

ADDIS ABABA, July 26 (AP)—Authoritative sources said today that Ethiopia would refuse to accept a revival of the conciliation commission in its controversy with Italy.

This stand was made known upon receipt of a new note from Italy, expressing willingness to have a fifth neutral member appointed to the commission which collapsed at Scheveningen. The Netherlands, in disagreement over issues to be discussed.

The contents of the Italian note were not divulged, but the minister of foreign affairs announced that the Ethiopian delegation to the League of Nations has received the necessary instructions to deal with any proposal for reconvening the commission.

Although the nature of these instructions were not disclosed, informed sources insisted that Ethiopia was not willing to accept any recalling of the body.

Ethiopian government officials, expressing disappointment at the British government's ban on the export of arms to both Italy and Ethiopia, charged today that the British action favored Italy.

The empire officials said the ban resulted in a definite disadvantage to Ethiopia to meet the requirements for munitions manufacture.

The Ethiopian government put its hopes for solution of its controversy with Italy squarely up to the League of Nations.

This stand was communicated to the Italian government in answer to an Italian request for a revival of the conciliation commission which collapsed recently at Scheveningen, The Netherlands.

Ethiopia's reply said that this government has informed the League of Nations that a decision is up to Geneva, since the commission rupture resulted from a divergence of opinion as to the duties of the arbitrators.

Beyond that, officials said the Ethiopian government had nothing more to say.

This reply was given in answer to an Italian request a fortnight ago for a reconvening of the conciliation commission. Officials said no further Italian request has been received.

Clyde Thompson Given His Third Life Sentence

ANGLETON, July 26 (AP)—Clyde Thompson, 23-year-old slayer of four men, was given his third life prison sentence last night after a jury had convicted him of killing Everett Melvin, a fellow convict, at the Retriever prison farm.

The jury studied the case less than six hours after state attorneys had closed their arguments in an appeal for the death sentence.

Thompson, who was serving life terms for slaying Lucien and Leon Shook in Eastland county in 1928

Topsy-Turvy

NO MISTAKE, this is how Mrs. Bernadine Lewis King, her pretty face all bespattered, looked during her 23-minute, 11-second "Topsy-turvy" hop from Agua Caliente, Mexico, to San Diego, Calif., which made her the first woman to fly "wrong side up" over an international border. With only a belt supporting her, the 27-year-old stunt flier flew "blind" the entire route, nearly setting a new world's record.

son ordered reporters not to print testimony in the trial, explaining that two other convicts were charged in the slaying and publication of testimony would make it difficult to obtain juries.

The testimony was published and Judge Munson said he would "take his own time in his own way" in dealing with the reporters.

SOLON IN HOBO DISGUISE DETECTS HUNGARIAN NAZIS BUDAPEST (AP)—Trying to check upon the increasing Nazi propaganda in Hungary, a member of parliament, Matthias Motolcsy, disguised himself as a tramp and for four weeks walked the roads of his constituency.

Motolcsy now points out that national socialism has gripped entire districts of Hungary. For days he walked through territory and villages occupied by former German garrisons where not a single word of Hungarian could be heard and was greeted everywhere with "Heil Hitler."

POWER TRUST

John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power & Light company, had given his son permission to offer the congressman a box of cigars.

The representative assented that "nothing was transpired that the light of day cannot shine on."

"I hope I might be struck dead here if that is not the truth and the whole expose of the business."

Patton appeared voluntarily to deny anything wrong had happened. He was accompanied by Rep. Blanton (D., Texas).

Accounts Differ. The committee hurriedly interrupted testimony by Joe A. Worsham, attorney for the power company, to let Patton take the stand.

When Sellers was dismissed, Patton took the stand again, obviously nervous and shaken.

"I never was so profoundly fooled in my life than I am at the testimony you have just heard," he began slowly, standing at the witness table.

He added that he had met Sellers at his hotel and they had become intimate friends.

"I have never been so shaken and chagrined in all my life," he added. "My bank account is open and the cancelled checks are there."

"I have never heard tell of the little box Mr. Sellers tells about."

He denounced Sellers' testimony about the bond as false.

"I've told you the straight honest-to-God truth about the situation," Patton said. "I never carried any other box away from here. I can bring my little wife down here and Mrs. Carpenter to substantiate this."

He said he had known Sellers a long time and his testimony came "out of a clear sky." He termed him "one of the nicest gentlemen I know."

"What he said has got me," Patton said. "I just don't know what to say."

In sharp conflict with previous testimony by Patton and Carpenter, Sellers said he accompanied the congressman to the power man's hotel the Sunday before the house vote on the bill.

Carpenter had denied that he saw Patton that day, or that he was at the hotel.

He said they stopped at the Mayflower hotel, so that Patton could visit a sick friend.

He and Shook, the nephew, Sellers said, waited in the lobby. When Patton returned he carried a little box and said "John gave me a box of cigars."

Later they went by a restaurant and Patton carried the box. It was testified.

"Did you see the box?" Chairman Black asked.

"I had it in my hand. Carried it." "What kind of a box was it?"

"Small box 6 or 7 inches long and 4 or 5 wide."

"Could you tell what it was?" "It felt like pasteboard."

"Did it feel like a cigar box?" "It was as large as that."

"Was it a cigar box?" "I don't think so."

"No. It may have been, but it wasn't as large as a cigar box."

"Did you tell anything about what was in it?" "There was something in it. When I raised it up, something moved in it."

Later, Sellers testified, Shook remarked, "Hell, that wasn't cigars?"

Senator Gibson (R., Va.) expressed "puzzlement" over Patton's purchase of the bonds.

Other members showed their surprise at the turn in the testimony by their close questioning of the congressman about his living expenses and salary.

There were indications that his nephew, Norris Shook, who was quoted as disbelieving that the gift from Carpenter was a box of cigars, was being subpoenaed, but Chairman Black would not comment.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, July 26. (AP)—The stock market got back on its feet today with the aid of the utilities, metals and assorted specialties.

While the trading pace was slower than that of yesterday's profit-taking session, selective demand seemed to reassert itself. The close was fairly firm. Transfers approximated 980,000 shares.

of the Associated Gas and Electric system, H. O. Hopson and J. I. Manage. He said Manage was reported to be in the hospital and the committee had not been able to locate Hopson.

Veteran senators recalled that the senate banking committee a few years ago spent weeks trying to serve Hopson with a subpoena and that department of justice operatives were used to help find him.

Hopson and Manage, if they are brought before the committee, will be questioned about testimony that the company's records relating to opposition to the holding company bill were destroyed.

MEXICAN. (Continued from page 1) the federal garrison, took no chances and kept his full command under arms with a strong patrol of the city hall.

The chief danger was believed to lay in the growing restlessness of the more than 1,000 Agrarians encamped at the city limits. Many were armed and they were pressing their leaders for action in the conferences among the Agrarians, General Cervera and Mayor Minguita.

General Cervera said Matamoros, despite the fact that the courts were still functioning, was under "what you might call martial law in the United States."

Reports that Governor Villarreal had resigned or was planning to resign at once could not be confirmed and conflicted with other reports from Mexico City that he would reiterate his determination not to resign.

He was reported to be en route from Victoria, the state capitol, to Tampico, a hot-bed of opposition to his administration, probably for a conference with Silvano Barba Gonzales, minister of the interior.

NEW TAX BILL TAKES MIDDLE OF ROAD BENT

NONE FAVORED, NONE HARMED, CLAIMS CHAIRMAN

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Strong criticism and vigorous praise today greeted the tentative bill with which democratic committeemen of the house proposed to put the president's tax ideas on the statute books.

The democrats on the house ways and means committee had drafted a measure designed to raise an annual sum variously estimated at $150,000,000 to more than $250,000,000.

In general the criticism was from two sides—advocates of a balanced budget, many of them republicans, and left-wing share-the-wealth men. The praise came from members, including a number of democrats, who said the committeemen, in shaping the plan, followed a middle-of-the-road course.

From the senate side came a portent of a battle ahead. Senator Walsh (D. Mass.) in a radio speech last night in the Washington Evening Star forum, analyzed the president's proposals critically, and said it was "unfortunate" that the question was not presented "as a revenue measure rather than a reform measure."

During that action he postponed until January, he said:

"None of the proposals for redistribution of wealth, of which we have recently heard so much, is sound or practical."

In brief, the measure formed by the house committeemen calls for a stiff tax on "excess" corporation profits, ranging as high as 20 per cent; new inheritance taxes ranging from 4 to 75 per cent; additional gift taxes of 3 to 57 per cent; higher surtaxes on individual incomes over $150,000.

The committee democrats turned down for the present at least, the president's idea of taxing dividends passing from one corporation to another. It drastically revised the suggestion for a graduated tax on corporation incomes.

Of the tentative measure, Chairman Doughton (D. N. C.) said: "It has been our aim to readjust the taxes on a more equitable basis without harming or favoring anybody."

Today, the democrats met again to smooth up some rough edges and to talk over again the excess profits and graduated corporation income levies. On Monday, the bill will be put before the full committee.

Meanwhile, though the republicans opened their initial attack Rep. Treadway of Massachusetts, ranking republican on the committee, said the maximum revenue estimated from the new taxes is "nothing like the equivalent of the administration's extravagant expenditures."

In brief the bill would:

Raise possibly $100,000,000 by taxing excess profits of corporations on a graduated scale ranging from 5 to 20 per cent;

Bring in perhaps $20,400,000 by stepping up levies on individual incomes of more than $150,000.

Raise possibly $110,000,000 by imposing new gift and inheritance taxes on top of present gift and estate levies;

Raise around $15,000,000 by a tax ranging from 13 1/4 to 13 3/4 per cent to 14 1/4 to 14 3/4 per cent on corporation incomes.

NAZIS SEARCH ASH CANS IN RAW MATERIALS QUEST

BERLIN (AP)—In their need of raw materials, Germans are told they must search their ash cans. The hausfrau has been warned by the propaganda radio that too much useful stuff is wasted.

It is calculated, for instance, that 80,000 tons of tin cans, now going to waste every year, might yield 1,300 tons of tin, of which metal 12,000 tons have to be imported. The consumption of razor blades is put at 17,000,000 dozen a year. If all blades, and also all discarded pens were put aside, it would mean, according to the Nazi figures, a saving of 2,000 tons of steel.

Germany imported $48,000,000 worth of tobacco in 1933. Clear stubs should not be thrown away but cut up for pipe tobacco, the authorities advise.

CHEAP CHEWING

ROCKWALL, Tex. (AP)—Dentists won't like this story.

A Rockwall county resident lost his teeth and found it difficult to handle a laborer's diet, but a whitening friend came to his rescue.

A set of molars the friend carved from wood were sufficiently successful for the recipient to abandon the idea of seeing his dentist.

"They don't look so good, but they do the work," he commented.

'FINEST' FLOCK TO WASHINGTON CRIME COLLEGE
Three-Month School Will Open on Monday

BY ROGER HAWTHORNE, Associated Press Staff Writer, WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Hundreds of the nation's "finest" are converging on the national capital—freshmen in Uncle Sam's first college in crime prevention.

The school term is three months; the "campus" the air-cooled quarters of the justice department's bureau of investigation. The crime college, which opens officially Monday, is unusual in many ways. Suggested by the 1934 conference on crime, it represents the federal government's first attempt on a large scale to coordinate the work of city, county, state and federal law enforcement agencies. For this reason its sponsors believe its opening marks a new day in society's war against crime.

Especially enthusiastic and interested is J. Edgar Hoover, director of the investigation bureau and "prexy" of the college. Both he and Assistant Director Hugh H. Clegg, who will have immediate supervision of the work, hope increased good will and more sympathetic understanding between federal and state police authorities will result.

A faculty of 41 experts in criminology will cover sciences and arts related to the preventing of crime, requiring practical work as well as "book learnin'" of their students. Work will be done in psychiatry, ballistics, law, psychology, toxicology, traffic control, communications, photography and fingerprinting.

Most of the work will be carried out in the justice department building but field trips will be taken and one entire week will be spent on the marine corps rifle range at Quantico, Va.

The program will follow lines laid out by a special committee of the International Association of Police Chiefs, headed by Andrew J. Kavanagh, director of public safety, Miami, Fla., and Peter J. Siccardi, chief of Bergen county, N. J., police.

British Troops To Guard Addis Abba Legation

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.) LONDON, July 26.—The British government has ordered troops sent into Ethiopia to guard its legation at Addis Ababa. An authoritative source disclosed today that instructions have been despatched to African military posts for transfer of 100 soldiers and officers to Ethiopia as quickly as possible. In former quarters said an effort would be made to pick expert black troops under the command of whites, and that the company of the famed king's African rifles of the Kenya colony possibly would be selected.

Emperor Haile Selassie is not yet officially approved. British request for the right to transport troops over Ethiopian territory, but this was regarded here as a mere formality.

Plans have been made to send additional troops to Addis Ababa if the necessity arises, but the government being determined that its legation must be fully protected throughout the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

British civilians in Ethiopia will be invited to stay close to the legation in the event of hostilities.

CHICKEN STEALING FINE FRENCH ART

ARGENTEUIL, France (AP)—Persons smeared with "lion's fat" find chicken stealing as easy as falling off a log, two expert operators, arrested here, told the police. Watchdogs grovel in silent terror as soon as they get a whiff of the potent grease, the thieves claimed.

What it is or where they get it they did not reveal, but the police allege that they have been raiding chicken coops for four years, acquiring such skill that they could wring the necks of a hundred chickens in three-quarters of an hour, without causing a sound.

Scandinavian Ships Busy STOCKHOLM (AP)—Shipping in Scandinavia has shown a marked improvement, partly a seasonal betterment, reports revealing a drop in lading tonnage in Sweden from 172 ships of 233,643 tons on May 1 to 79 ships of 125,411 tons on June 1. In Norway lading tonnage dropped in the same period from 156 ships of 563,900 tons to 94 ships of 424,000 tons.

Spain Counts Alien Residents MADRID (AP)—The statistical institute calculates Spain's foreign population as 83,791, of whom 1,102 are Americans, 3,629 Argentines, 2,915 Cubans and 1,245 Mexicans. Portuguese top the list with 25,445 and 17,722 French are in second place followed by 8,817 Germans, 8,263 English and 4,133 Italians.

International Sunday School Lesson

By DR. J. E. NUNN

General Topic: Amos (Prophet of Social Justice).

Scripture Lesson: Amos 7:7-17.

7. Thus he showed me: and behold, the Lord stood beside a wall made by plumb-line, with a plumb-line in his hand.

8. And Jehovah said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? And I said, A plumb line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumb line in the midst of my people Israel; I will not again pass by them any more.

9. And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10. Then Amabiah the priest of Bethel sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

11. For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

12. Also Amabiah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thou away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesy there.

13. But prophesy not again any more at Bethel; for it is the king's sanctuary, and it is a royal house.

14. Then answered Amos, and said to Amabiah, I was no prophet, neither was I a prophet's son; but I was a herdsman, and a dresser of sycamore-trees;

15. And Jehovah took me from following the flock, and Jehovah said unto me, Go, prophesy unto my people Israel.

16. Now therefore hear thou the word of Jehovah: Thou sayest, Prophesy not against the house of Isaac; and thou sayest, Prophesy not against the house of Isaac.

17. Therefore thus saith Jehovah: Thy wife shall be a harlot in the city, and thy sons and thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line; and thou thyself shalt die in a land that is unclean, and Israel shall surely be led away captive out of his land.

Golden Text: Let justice roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream—Amos 5:24.

Introduction

"These Old Testament prophets are never out-of-date. This is especially true of Amos. Seven centuries after his death, John the Baptist, our Lord, and Paul were echoing his words. Other centuries later, Arnold of Brescia, Savonarola, Luther and Wesley were. More recently, William Lloyd Garrison, William Booth, Walter Rauschenbusch, Jane Addams, Sherwood Eddy, Harry Fosdick and Kirby Page have been saying them. In the ears of today they sound very modern, applicable, and called-for; as they will always be where even a vestige of social injustice is found, or religion that confesses God with mouth and hands, and denies him in conduct."

King Jeroboam II

The reign of Jeroboam II (746-745) was a time of great prosperity in Israel, the Northern Kingdom. They had conquered their enemies and extended their territory. Peace brought riches, luxury, extravagance—and the softness and vice that not infrequently accompany them. The people kept coming to Bethel, the great national sacred-place, to offer their sacrifices, but there was far too much gaiety and levity in their worship; it was more concerned with selfish gratification than with confession and a needed seeking after the Spirit. The sacrificial feast interested them more than the sacrifice.

The Shepherd Prophet Amos

At one of the Bethel religious festivals, in the autumn of 760 B. C., a disturbing voice was raised, crying out against the social sins and the light, formal religiousness of Israel. He was an outsider, from Tekoa, down south of Bethlehem. Like Elijah, he was an agriculturist; a shepherd. He was one of the greatest prophets in all the Old Testament. Written prophecy really begins with Amos. That he committed some of his messages to writing means much to posterity. He may also be regarded as a pioneer in what we call the "social gospel." As Moses had learned to comprehend the holiness of God in the solitude of his shepherd life, so Amos out upon the lonely Judean hills came to grasp the idea of God's inviolable righteousness: He is justice itself.

The Religious Message of Amos

He says to Israel: You are God's people; but you have been taking his favor too much for granted; depending upon the power of your king, your riches and prosperity. And now God is going to show you, by the slaying of King Jeroboam and by your downfall and captivity (700), that with Him material things don't count. The trouble with the people of Israel was that they refused to see themselves as they really were. So God had to bring up from the southland this farmer-prophet to open their eyes.

Like all the great prophets, and especially like the more-than-a-formal worship that is not backed up with right living. Through this daring prophet the Lord cries out to those false, heartless worshippers of Samaria: "No more of your feasts, your sacrifices, your hymns for me!" (5:21-24). Amos foreshadows our Lord addressing scribes and Pharisees at Jerusalem; Stephen and Paul giving plain talk to the high churchmen of that same city; or Luther and Wesley telling their countrymen what's what with God. Practically every plea for a spiritual religion goes back instinctively to Amos' teaching; sometimes even in phraseology.

The Prophet's Stern Reproof

"In chapters five and seven Amos set forth in a powerful manner the contrast between true and false religion. He looked out upon a group of sinners who hated one who dared reprove them. He saw the hatred in their faces and knew how their prophets and priests preached to suit them, never daring to give offense in any way. He looked about him and saw the beautiful houses, the summer palaces, the gardens, the couches, the wine drinkers, the luxury-loving nobles, the slaves who had been evicted from their own homes and farms, the poor who had been robbed and trampled upon because they could not provide an adequate bribe for the judges who decided by the size of the bribe. All of this made the old preacher of righteousness shout with righteous indignation. He blazed up in indignation at the sight of avicious men resorting to every form of oppression in order to get the things they coveted. It was an ugly picture that Amos painted but it was true to the life of the people. God gave him insight and courage. The people were forced to take it."

Formal Religion, Amos 5:21-24

Amos threw a bomb into their midst when he told them that God despised their ways of worship. Their religion was the kind that caused the Lord to turn away in disgust. They were devoting a great part of their time and many offerings to him. They really thought they were exceptionally religious. Music of the most approved sort filled the air. As the prophet watched all this and heard the music he grew furious and sarcastic in denunciation. He pictured God as thoroughly disgusted with their performances.

"What then does God want? Certainly when mere ritual and form are allowed to take the place of filial communion with God and moral obedience, our worship will be hated by our God just as he hated the so-called worship of the men of Bethel." "He most certainly despises much of the moral efforts at worship today. Much of the music, the ritual, the prayers, the ceremonies are causing him to turn away in disgust from the one who offers to please him. God must have, first of all and through all, righteousness. "Let judgment roll down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream." The heart that is unclean, uncharitable, unable to think right thoughts of God and man has no entrance to God in worship. Bloody hands, even though stretched up in prayer, are hated by Jehovah."

The Remedy, Amos 5:14-15

Responsible stewardship is the remedy for our social ills. Wealth need not be a curse; it can be a great blessing. Because of this fact men should be encouraged to make money in partnership with God and use it in the service of humanity for the glory of God. Thus may an easy source of corruption and decay be turned into a mighty force for righteousness. Much of the sickness that affects our own land today is chargeable to the malfeasance of the custodians of wealth. Certainly, we need prophets today. We don't need ticklers of men's fancies and soft-soapers of men's consciences. We need men of God who live close enough to him to discover his will and who are kind enough to declare that will to men. Men need to be taught the principle of God's ownership of all things and man's responsible stewardship in the use of God's wealth; they need to know the joy of spreading themselves and their possessions for the glory of the owner of their beings and of their substance. The man who is being dragged by wealth to the brink of insane folly is in just as serious condition as the fellow who is being pulled by dissipation and vice to the gutter of shame. They both need a prophet of God.

NAME LINKS TO AMERICA GROW SCARCE IN PARIS

PARIS (AP)—French family names famous in American history are fewer in the latest Paris directory.

No Champlains and no Joliet is listed, but there are 27 Cartiers, not descendants of the great explorer, however, for he died without issue. There is only one Lafayette, the Count J. de Lafayette, but there are three Rochambeaus, a marquis and two counts.

In addition, there is a Count Robert de la Salle, probably of the family of the explorer of the Mississippi, and another entitled de la Salle, an attorney.

There are two Marquettes, believed by French genealogists to be collateral descendants of the Jesuit explorer, and one Mantcalm, a marquis like the general defeated by Wolfe at Quebec.

BUREAU BETTER PREPARED TO HERALD HURRICANE APPROACH

BY FRANCIS LE MAY.

WASHINGTON, July 26 (AP)—Approach of the hurricane season in the Caribbean and gulf regions finds the weather bureau, in the opinion of Chief Forecaster E. B. Calvert, better prepared to aid in protecting life and property from what he calls "the meteorological monsters."

On July 1 the bureau decentralized and otherwise improved its hurricane service to give quicker warning to areas in the paths of violent disturbances.

A cooperative plan between the weather office and the American Red Cross has been worked out so that the latter organization on word that a hurricane approaches will take charge of evacuating inhabitants to emergency camps or cities out of the storm's course.

I. R. Tannehill, assistant chief forecaster, just back from the gulf coast, reported the newly installed hurricane warning equipment already was in operation.

A word of caution was issued by Calvert against "rumors and would-be forecasts." He said rumors were "the greatest thing we have to combat," and stressed the need to educate the public that it should get its information from the weather bureau, through official reports published by newspapers.

Although the hurricane season proper runs from June to November inclusive, the chief forecaster saw little likelihood of a severe disturbance during the remainder of this month, recalling "the record shows they haven't occurred the last two weeks in July." He added, however, he could give no absolute assurance against a hurricane in this period. Calvert said there was no way to make a long-range forecast of storms in the tropical regions. He looked at his maps and pointed out that only three disturbances occurred last year of any consequence, while in 1933 there were more than any year on record—21 in all.

Since the beginning of the hurricane warning service in 1873, except for a brief span during the Spanish-American war, advices concerning tropical storms have been issued from Washington; but under the decentralized system the warning centers are Jacksonville, Fla., New Orleans, La., and San Juan.

No warning for tropical storms will come from Washington except for such as have moved north of latitude 35 degrees north.

The reorganization involves material improvement in the collection of observations from ships. A unique and important feature is the teletype writer set-up during the five hurricane months. This will speed collection of observations and distribution of reports.

This teletype circuit connects the forecast centers at Jacksonville and New Orleans with the weather bureau offices at Tampa, Miami, Key West, Pensacola, Mobile, Port Arthur, Houston, Galveston, Corpus Christi, and Brownsville. The circuit operates 24 hours a day.

Swastikas Mar Austrian Coins VIENNA (AP)—"Opposition money" here is worth 20 per cent less than good, sound government money. The devaluation was put into effect when police discovered Nazis were using a swastika die to stamp the new Austrian five-schilling pieces with Hitler emblem. The national bank said such coins would be redeemed, but at 20 per cent of the face value.

Hens are laying more eggs this year than last, says the bureau of agricultural economics.
