'IT'S A GREAT DAY'—AND THIS FOUNDING FATHER KNEW IT

John Adams, second president of the U. S., foresaw the reverence with which Americans would celebrate the Fourth. He wrote his wife that this would be...

Old John Adams could well qualify as a major prophet for his vision of what Independence Day would mean to Americans of future generations. With this year's Fourth falling on Sunday, we might well consider the state of the rest of the world and perform his "acts of devotion" in spirit of thanksgiving for the preservation of the liberty Adams and the other founding fathers fought to bequeath to us.

Today

186th Day of the Year
GLORIOUS FOURTH Today, in 1776, was declared Independence Day, the day on which the Declaration of Independence was adopted by the Continental Congress. It has been called by orators the "glorious fourth." It is observed as a bank holiday in every state of the Union and in the District of Columbia, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands. Outside of Christmas, it is one of the most important days in the lives of Americans. Nathaniel Hawthorne, New England story writer and novelist, was born on this day in 1804. Giuseppe Garibaldi, the soldier and statesman, was born on this day in 1807. He was a hero in the Italian struggle for freedom. He is perfect in knowledge as with this.

Chinese Leader States Moral Reawakening Is World Cure

Peck Set for Peck of Work

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Gregory Peck, who has been one of Hollywood's busiest actors, can expect no let-up in the future. The latest film announced for him is Dickens' "A Tale of Two Cities."

The much-demanded Peck will have a few weeks off after he finishes playing a Western based on "Yellow Sky." He'll spend the time with his pet project, the La Jolla Playhouse, where he'll do one or two plays. He'll then report to MGM for "The Gambler," in which he'll portray Russian Novelist Dostoevsky.

Next year, Peck will do "A Tale of Two Cities" for Selznick, playing the role performed by Ronald Colman in the Selznick-MGM version of 1935.

"I'll do it on one condition that I don't have to say that line," he told me. He was referring to the time-honored curtain speech, "This is a far, far better thing I do than I have ever done," etc.

Robert Young, who is playing a Protestant minister in "Hallelujah, I'm a Bum," will do the same in "The Underworld." Based on actual events in Steubenville, Ohio, the picture will show how a dozen clerics cleaned up a town's vice.

Abbott and Costello will have two innovations in their next film, which will be independently made. It will be their first in color, and they plan to use their own names in the film.

Lion claims it has Johnston of the face trouble with a lace evening dress of Susan Hayward's in "Tulsa." It seems the holes between the lace are too large.

China has the biggest population of any nation more than one-fifth of the people of the whole globe. She also carries the greatest burden of tribulation.

She is torn with terrible civil war involving communism. She is afflicted with an economic crisis which presents a seemingly bottomless pit. Millions are dying of starvation.

Conditions are so bad that they have baffled not only the home government but all expert efforts to bring about a repair by America.

Dr. Chen has been attending the World Assembly for Moral Re-awakening in California as a representative of the Chinese government. This means that Gen. Chiang Kai-shek also subscribes to the idea.

The 49-year-old Dr. Chen is a striking personality. Statesman, educator, philosopher and noble character, he followed this with a degree of Master of Science at Pittsburgh University. Then he joined the miners' union and dug out an underground for more than 10 years.

The doctor has expressed the belief that a durable world peace is possible if the moral principles of mutual trust, mutual respect and mutual assistance would be accepted by all peoples of the world as the very guidance of international relations.

Dr. Chen is a Confucianist and not a Christian. I remarked that I supposed he based his statement on the fact that Confucianism and Christianity run parallel on many questions. He nodded, and said that because of the similarities it would be easy for the Chinese people to accept the moral teachings of the West.

State Sales Tax Rumors Circulated

By MAC ROY RASOR
AUSTIN — Sales tax talk is rumbling through State Capitol conversations again.

No one you talk to seems to favor such a tax. It's just that some dislike it less than a tax on natural resources—the latter being the tax that some 50th legislators pushed hard and long last session and which some 51st legislators may push even harder.

The sales tax talk appears to be sort of a "fight-fire-with-fire" policy among those opposing any additional levy on natural resources.

Whether a sales tax drive develops probably depends entirely on how serious a threat is made on new taxes in general. Tax revenue is coming in at record-breaking highs and there's an unprecedented 65-million dollar spendable balance in the General Revenue Fund.

Present indications favor a continuance of the up-keep. But along with the revenue, government costs too are climbing skyward. Voters may kill off 30 cents of the state's ad valorem taxes by adopting a Constitutional amendment at the polls next November.

It's enough to scare the natural resource interests, despite their previous policy (accompanied by frequent denials) that such taxes are passed on to consumers. The inevitable course of practically all taxes.

Thus the sales tax talk—the first of any magnitude since the 46th Legislature where the last attempt finally died after a four-year fight over the state's tax bills and resultant opposition.

In the 42d, 44th, 45th and 46th regular sessions, along with two called sessions of the 44th, there were no less than 25 separate bills introduced proposing sales taxes. They called for levies ranging from one and a half up to three percent of items ranging from all commodities and services down to such selective items as luxuries, cosmetics, candy, chewing gum and jewelry.

A few called for exemption of foods. An opposition group tried to write into the Constitution a ban against there ever being a sales tax levied on foods, tobacco and beverages. That died, too.

During the four Legislatures Texans underwent a terrific barrage of pro- and anti-sales tax propaganda. The man on the street was told it was a tax on poverty by one side—the road away from distressed conditions by the other.

Uncle Sam Cracks Down on Courses Taken 'Just for Fun' on GI Bill

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON — Uncle Sam is banning courses of training or education for veterans who want them just for the fun of it.

One man may want to learn dancing just to be a social lion; another may want to learn it so he can make a living teaching it.

One man may want to learn photography as a hobby; another may want to make a living at it. Where is the line drawn there?

The Veterans Administration will have to do the deciding in each case when a veteran applies for such training.

If you're a veteran and want to take up something that is listed as avocational or recreational but you really want to use it in connection with your work, you'll have to convince the VA of that.

The bureau made its report to President Truman, and in his budget message to Congress, Mr. Truman said this fun-training was costing the taxpayers a lot of money.

Congress made some changes: It said the Veterans Administration should not pay for any GI training which the VA decides is avocational or recreational. (Veterans who enrolled for such courses before June 30 can finish them, but no new ones can be undertaken.)

A 33-year-old Easterner is behind the announcement that the tallest building in the world may be built in Houston.

He is Murel Goodell, general manager of the United Building Supply Company. On June 14, he stated that his firm is "contemplating" construction of a 1,366-foot skyscraper of radical design, to cost about $25,000,000.

We had a chat with Goodell and learned a few things: He is a native of Massachusetts, says he traveled extensively and is "a registered engineer from Detroit Tech."

He organized the United Building Supply Company. It is two years old.

Where would the money come from to erect this 140-story building, Mr. Goodell? Does the United Building Supply Company have it?

"We don't want to go into that at this time," Goodell replied. "The thing now is to prove the need for such a building. If the need were proven, the building could be built—I mean there is enough engineering talent in this country to build it."

Would such a building be practical? "It would be practical from an engineering standpoint. It could be built."

How are the plans coming along? "Well, right now we are very busy with other things. I think we may have something further to say about it, perhaps this fall or around the first of next year."

Goodell said he thought the building would have a good advertising value for Texas. "I would rather see it built in Texas than some place else—like New York."

We asked: "Does your company intend to build such a building or sponsor it?" "I think you would say we would like to sponsor it. We have talked it over with some prominent officials. They are cautious. They want to see more of the plans."

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

STATEN ISLAND, N. Y. — Eighty-two-year-old Capt. Charles Chase sits and watches with watery blue eyes the sea that first called him at the age of 12.

But the sea calls him no more. He gave it his life and his daughter and he's through with it now forever.

Capt. Chase, a man who knew the science of putting a canvas against the wind, was crowded out by men who had learned the science of engines and turning propellers.

A few veterans of the era of sail are still alive. There are only two—Captain Chase and George O'Neil, 91 among the 400 retired mariners living at the "Sailors' Snug Harbor" here, a home for old sailors.

"The others aren't sailors—they're just poor old crippled hypocrites," said Capt. Chase. He thinks with a sigh of the 12 ships of today measure up to those in the days of the clippers.

He ran away himself from his Maine home at 12 to work under sail. He was in the Pacific Island trade.

"I loved sail and I guess I stayed with it too long," he said. "When I turned from sail to steam it was too late. I never did get to understand steam."

A sailor's life then was a cruel and prolonged duel with weather and hardship.

"Of course it was rough," mused the old captain. "Rough beyond anybody's knowing today. You wouldn't believe the truth of it. But being young and liking it, as a lot of us did, well, I can't sit here and tell you it was too bad."

"I'd like to see sail come back. But I know it never will."

Old Reliables Take Over at Olympic Show

MILWAUKEE—(AP)—Old reliables of American track—Barnes, Ewell, Gil Dods, and Robert Bennett—teamed up with youngsters Saturday in an impressive show of Olympic talent at the 90th Annual Amateur Athletic Union Track Championships.

Five Texans qualified.

The big surprise was the double defeat of Harrison Dillard of Baldwin-Wallace College after 82 consecutive victories, the longest string ever achieved. Ewell nosed him out by six inches in the 100-meter dash in 10.6, and Roy Porter of Northwestern won by two yards in the 100-meter high hurdles, Dillard's specialty, in 14.1.

Two world records were bettered in the meet that drew 510 athletes. Herb McKenzie of Jamaica Friday in a trial heat made the sensational time of 45.9 in the 400 meters, one tenth under a standard considered superhuman.

Saturday in the 56-pound weight, an event rarely contested and not on the Olympic program, Henry Dreyer of the New York Athletic Club wound out the massive globe 41 feet 2.5 inches. The world record is held by the legendary Matt McGrath at 40 feet 6.3 inches, set in 1911.

In seven events American athletes made better marks than were achieved in the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin, promising well for this summer in London: 800 meters, 110-meter high hurdles, 400-meter hurdles, pole vault, shot put, high jump, and discus.

Texas who qualified in the meet included:

Broad jump—Eural Davis, San Antonio Athletic Club, with a leap of 24 feet 4.3 inches.

200 meters—William Carter, United States Air Force, San Antonio.

200 meters—William Carter, San Antonio Athletic Club.

High jump—Vern McGrew, Houston, tied for third place at six feet, 6.5 inches.

110 meter hurdles—August Erforth, Houston.

WT-Okl.: All Stars Play

SHAMROCK—(Special)—The West Texas-Oklahoma League all-star baseball game will be played in Wheeler at 2:30 p.m. today.

Players selected from the four teams in the western half of the league will play those from the eastern half. Jack Dekle of Shamrock will manage the team representing Shamrock, McLean, Miami and Wheeler. Floyd Hunter will manage the team from Allison, Briscoe, Kelton and Sweetwater.

Players chosen by the members of the teams, are:

Shamrock: B. Close, pitcher; F. Rushing, first base; Robert Laycock, third base; and Bluck Martin, catcher, short stop.

McLean: Buck Smith, center field; Douglas, short stop; Pete Graham, left field; and F. Guthrie, third base.

Miami: Maddox, pitcher; Dwayne Turcotte, catcher; Stanley McKenzie, fielder; Murie Bengel, fielder.

Wheeler: Holdeman, third base; Boles, center field; Burton, second base; Darnell, pitcher.

Play in the first half of the league schedule ended Sunday when Shamrock and Sweetwater tied for first place with five wins and two losses each. A game between Miami and Allison was rained out. If Miami defeats Allison in the postponed game, the former team will be tied with Shamrock and Sweetwater for first place in the number of games won and lost.

Play in the second half will begin next Sunday.

GENE'S CLEANINGS

This department has very few beefs coming on the selection of this year's all-star team, but one appointment is certainly questionable to that of the umpires. Milton E. Price, league president, announced Friday that William Brockwell, WT-NM League umpire, had been named as one of the officials of the annual classic scheduled for last night in Abilene.

Now Brockwell, as most of the readers will probably remember, is the little chap that caused so much trouble in the recent series between the Oilers and the Albuquerque Dukes. Brockwell hooked Seitz and Riley from the game one night, and then gave the heave-ho to Herschel Martin and several other Dukes the next night. Showing no partiality, the tiny fellow just didn't seem to have the stuff to call a really good ball game.

An example of his inability occurred in the Duke-Oiler game on June 17. Pitcher Ray Machado grounded a slow roller to Harry Kinnel at short which he momentarily fumbled but picked up in time to toss Machado out at first on a particularly close call by Brockwell. As Machado disgustedly hung around and walked away, Frank Shone, who was sitting over by the Duke dugout, shouted some remark at Brockwell, and Brockwell, thinking the trouble to be coming from Machado, waved the Duke hurrier put of the game without any chance of explanation or hesitation.

On only one remark, Brockwell started to toss Machado from the game, when the pitcher had not even opened his mouth. After protesting by the complete Duke aggression, Brockwell realized his mistake and allowed Machado to remain in the game, but kicked Shone-out. Later on he also banished Manager Martin and Leonard Pail.

A few nights later, Brockwell ran into the same situation in Clovis and a little later on, he also encountered difficulties in Amarillo. Had it not been for a police escort and the protection of the misled umpire might not have escaped from the unruly Oilers fans on the night of June 17.

The three other All-Star umpires have all done satisfactory work in the local park, and none has ever raised a "stink" like that of Brockwell. That is as far as the Oilers are concerned. Frank Seery were the other umpires selected for work.

Outfielder Bob Cruce of the Amarillo Gold Sox seems sure to crack the all-time home run record held by Joe Hauser of while playing with the Minneapolis Club in the Western Association in 1939. At the half-way mark, Cruce had blasted 35 circuit swats and definitely does not seem to be weakening. The big Amarilloan got 52 last year, only five short of the league record of 57 hits by Bill Serena of Lubbock the same year.

Earl Harriman is reportedly eyeing a session with the Amarillo Gold Sox after receiving his release from the Oilers. The shortstop was a class man, and when the Oilers got Bobby Dewes from Chattanooga, that put them one over the limit since Dewes is also a class man. Due to this fact Owner Edmondson and Manager Seitz gave Harriman his outright release.

Speaking of Dewes, the hard-hitting backstop seemed to have left Chattanooga of the Southern Association in quite a bind. They have recalled Catchers Donald Ford from Gadsden and Ed Flio from Anniston in an effort to find a replacement for the newly acquired Pampa baseballer.

Double Play

Bill Rigney loses no time getting the ball away. The bespectacled Californian made the Giants' infield last season by filling the hole at second base. With Buddy Kerr, he gives the Polo Grounders a classy double play combination.

Californian Downs Texan For Collegiate Golf Title

PALO ALTO, Calif.—(AP)—Stocky Bobby Harris of San Jose State won the 1948 National Collegiate Golf Championship Saturday. He defeated Ed Hopkins, Jr., of the University of Texas one up in the 36-hole final at Stanford.

Hopkins fought an uphill battle to square the match on the 35th hole after being six down at the halfway mark.

He blew his chances on last green, when he missed a 10-foot putt and took a one over par five. Harris, who had his iron shot to within 35 feet of the pin, went down in two putts for the victory.

The Texan, with most of the gallery of 300 fans pulling for him, pushed his drive into the rough on the 36th hole. His second landed in a trap below the green and he played out to give himself the 10-foot putt—which he missed.

One up at the ninth, Harris played steady golf on the back nine while Hopkins was trapped in a trap and he hit his second 35 feet past the pin.

Harris made it 2 up at the 11th when Hopkins was trapped after his tee shot and he was out badly. The San Jose lad went 3 up on the 13th when Hopkins' four-foot putt rimmed the cup. Another par 4 put Harris 4 up on the 15th, where Hopkins was in a trap and he hit his second 35 feet past the pin.

Harris won the 17th when Hopkins drove to the rough and then three-putted. On the 18th, the Texan hit his second into a trap and Harris went 6 up with his par.

Philadelphia Wins, Loses in American, National Leagues

American Athletics

BOSTON—(AP)—With sore-armed Dick Fowler keeping seven hits scattered, the hard-driving Philadelphia Athletics reeled off their 10th win in 11 starts by trouncing the Boston Red Sox Saturday, 8-2.

While notching his sixth win against one defeat, Fowler forced in Ted Williams with the first game-winning run in the ninth when Bill Goodman connected safely for his 11th straight game. Birdie Tebbets also singled and two Epsos lashed long flies.

The Athletics collected all 11 of their hits and six of their runs before starter "Boo" Ferriss was replaced by Lefty Maurice McDermott in the ninth. Eddie Joost started Ferriss' downfall by doubling.

Boston 000 100 001-2

National Phillies

PHILADELPHIA—(AP)—The rampaging Boston Braves smacked down the Philadelphia Phillies 11-6 Saturday and stretched their National League lead to four full games.

Big Bob Elliott, the loop's "most valuable player," last year, was a one-man wrecking crew. Bob rammed out two home runs—making it four in three days—and a triple and batted across five runs. He scored three himself.

Elliott was impartial to the pitching. His triple came off starter Ken Heintzleman, his first home off Sam Nahem and his second off Sam Nahem and his third off Walter Duesel, fifth Phil flinger. Bob has now socked nine homers.

Philadelphia 010 002 030-6

BROOKLYN—(AP)—Scoring five runs in the seventh inning against five different pitchers, the Brooklyn Dodgers came from behind to nip the New York Giants 7-5 Saturday. The Giants suffered an additional blow when their ace Shortstop Buddy Kerr was hit on the head by a thrown ball and suffered a possible fractured cheek bone.

New York 021 000 200-5
Brooklyn 000 002 030-7

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—A home run and a triple by Eddie Robinson—good for three runs—backed up the nine-hit pitching of Bob Feller and kept the Cleveland Indians out in front of the American League race as they defeated the St. Louis Browns 8 to 2 Saturday. Player-Manager Lou Bourdreau also connected for a circuit blow.

Cleveland 011 030 102-8
St. Louis 000 010 010-2

NEW YORK—(AP)—Held to four hits over the first seven innings, the New York Yankees unleashed a four-run eighth inning attack against righthander Sid Hudson to overcome a 3-1 Washington lead and defeat the Senators Saturday, 5-3. Billy Johnson's two-run single drove in the tying and win-

CHICAGO—(AP)—Detroit scored all its runs in the final three innings to defeat the Chicago White Sox, 6-2, Saturday as Hal Newhouse gained his eleventh victory with a five-hit performance.

No fewer than 42 shiny trophies are lined up on a Nassau dock in front of Capt. Durward Knowles, left, and Sloane Farrington, who constitutes the crew of the Gem II, shown in the background. The big cup, farthest from the camera, was won in the Star Class world championship races in Los Angeles last year. They'll represent the Bahamas in England, and defend the world title in Portugal.

Play in the first half of the league schedule ended Sunday when Shamrock and Sweetwater tied for first place with five wins and two losses each. A game between Miami and Allison was rained out. If Miami defeats Allison in the postponed game, the former team will be tied with Shamrock and Sweetwater for first place in the number of games won and lost.

Play in the second half will begin next Sunday.

Earl Harriman is reportedly eyeing a session with the Amarillo Gold Sox after receiving his release from the Oilers. The shortstop was a class man, and when the Oilers got Bobby Dewes from Chattanooga, that put them one over the limit since Dewes is also a class man. Due to this fact Owner Edmondson and Manager Seitz gave Harriman his outright release.

Speaking of Dewes, the hard-hitting backstop seemed to have left Chattanooga of the Southern Association in quite a bind. They have recalled Catchers Donald Ford from Gadsden and Ed Flio from Anniston in an effort to find a replacement for the newly acquired Pampa baseballer.

STANTON, Del.—(AP)—With a track record smashing performance, Stymie Saturday swung into the home stretch of a campaign designed to make him the first millionaire thoroughbred.

The one-time $150,000 player, now the world's leading money winning race horse, captured the $25,900 added Sussex Handicap at Delaware Park for the second straight year. And the $21,400 he earned boosted his total winnings to $504,835.

A year ago the seven-year-old chestnut from Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' stable took over the lead in the bank roll race for the first time as he hunted up a track record of 2:02 2-5 for the Sussex's mile and one-quarter.

Bayard Sharp he picked up 13.0 pounds, two more than last year, and reeled off the distance in 2:02 flat to finish one and one-half lengths in front of Mrs. Helene K. Haggerty's Rampart.

Bayard Sharp's Tide Rips was another length back in third place.

Irate, Unchivalrous Spouses Create New County Epidemic

By HENRY GORDON
The Gray County Sheriff's Department informed The Pampa News yesterday that a new epidemic is sweeping the county and they are at a loss as to what measures to take in halting the plague.

This epidemic is commonly known as "wife beatingitis" and leaves its mark in a variety of ways and places, the department added, and runs from broken bones to black eyes and caved-in ribs. Of course, the department said, it is so common for two or three wives to get beat up each week that it is not real news, but when these men start roughing up members of the fairer sex by the dozens it has definitely reached epidemic proportions and a quarantine or remedy of some kind has got to be worked out.

Following is a list of wife, or girl friend, beating remedies and suggestions offered by the Sheriff's Department by some citizens of the county who do not believe a sock in the jaw is the answer to domestic problems regardless of how tempting it may be at times.

1. Organize a boxing school for women so they learn the womanly art of self defense.
2. Get the State Legislature to pass a law permitting all women to carry arms, and offer a bounty of 25 cents for the scalp of barbarously-inclined husbands.
3. Bring back the medieval whipping post, and set it up in the public square where the offending males can be tied and allow the abused wife, or girl friend, to economy and damage suffered in the war," the note continued.

Friction between the two Balkan neighbors developed swiftly after the Cominform — international Communist organization — teed off on Tito for pursuing nationalist policies and veering from basic Communist ideology.

Albania, a little country of some 1,000,000 people, publicly sided with the Cominform.

Friday Yugoslavia loosed three separate protests to Albania. Protesters were made against Albanian cancellation of exports to Yugoslavia, halting of construction on two rail lines to the Yugoslav frontier and "gross and offensive acts" aimed at belittling Yugoslav prestige.

Yugoslavia said that if the "offensive acts" were repeated "the Yugoslav government does not consider themselves responsible for consequences which might result."

work them over with a regulation size bull whip.

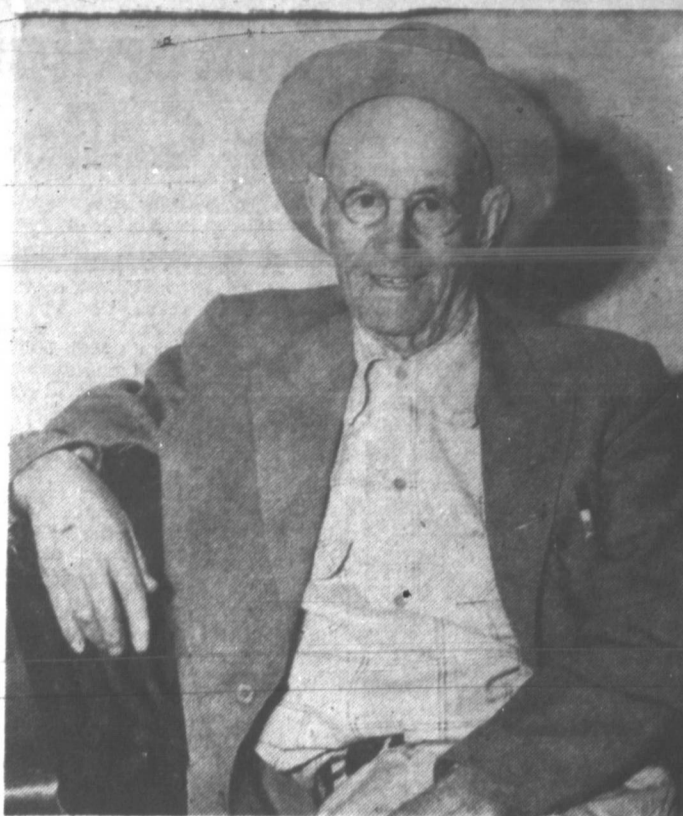

4. Place all the bloodthirsty husbands, or boy friends, in one cell, each with a short piece of garden hose and let them go to work on each other.

5. Mug all offenders and run their pictures in the daily papers for several editions, permitting all single girls to study the types thoroughly before latching on to a similar one later on.

6. Encourage our local doctors to develop a serum to inoculate these vicious husbands and boy friends so they will be more inclined to fight their own sex and size instead of helpless women.

The Sheriff's Department announced it is open to any constructive suggestions that will eliminate this plague as it is now causing more trouble and concern than trying to eliminate flies and mosquitoes in stopping the spread of polio.

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The president of Colombia is in constant touch with his office while driving around the capital, through use of a radio telephone in his car.

HENRY C. COFFEE, colorful Pampano who in the early days rode the old cowtrails from South Texas to Abilene, Kans., was elected president of the Texas Cowboy Reunion Association in Stamford yesterday.

Now employed by the Pampa office of the Texas Railroad Commission, Coffee has been first vice president of the association during the past year.

Other newly elected officers are: Eric Swenson, first vice president; J. V. Hutchinson of Haskell, second vice president; Charles E. Coombes, secretary-treasurer for the 17th year, and G. C. Carothers, retiring president, chairman of the board of directors.

Thirty-eight directors of the association were named for the ensuing year. Also elected was the range boss, the wagon cook and the horse wrangler.

Pampan Named Society Officer

Edwin E. Simmons of Pampa was elected and installed vice-chairman of the Panhandle Chapter of the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants Wednesday at a meeting in Amarillo.

Other newly elected officers are: John R. Sanderson, Amarillo, chairman; S. L. West, Amarillo, secretary; and Wilmer L. Graham, Amarillo, treasurer.

Robert J. Hibbetts, outgoing chairman of the chapter, and Leon L. Hoyt, member of the Board of Directors of the State Society, reported on the State Convention, recently held in Ft. Worth.

The Panhandle chapter is arranging a meeting to which all certified public accountants of the area will be invited. Also, any other persons interested in accounting may attend the meeting. Jay A. Phillips of Houston and Thomas W. Leland of College Station will be the principal speakers.

pound—butter, 20 cents a pound and two 16-ounce loaves of bread, 5 cents.

The News banner head in 1936 was "Texas Leads Entire Nation in Fatalities." There were 11 in Texas — of the 76 in the nation. The number of traffic deaths over the Fourth varied considerably during the past 15 years. In 1933 the nation total was 185; 1935, 201; 1936, 76; 1937, (two-day holiday) 93; 1938, 262; 1939, 142; 1941, 162; 1942, 40; 1943, 298; 1944, (three-day holiday) 439; 1945, 138 and 1946, 142. With the two-day holiday this year, you'd better be careful!

Now back to 1936. Sally Rand in the height of her bubbles and fans, passed through Ft. Worth enroute to Austin to visit relatives. Also that year, "Picnic hams—22 cents per pound."

On the Fourth of July, 1937, the entire world was looking for Amelia Earhart who was lost in the Pacific.

1940, getting more up-to-date, found the Pampa Oilers on top, winning 45 games and losing 27. At least that was the way the games stood on the Fourth.

During the war-years camps as well as most of the rest of the surrounding cities observed rather quiet Fourth's, at least as far as the fireworks went.

During July 4, 1946, we see in The News that consumers' milk was raised two-and-a-half-cents. Then in 1947 the shooting in Pampa was not firecrackers. Remember the double murder involving Jesse Crawford. Well, that too was July 4.

What will we do today that will interest people 15 years from now?

FOUR INTOXICATIONS
One man was fined $25, and three men were fined $10 each in Corporation Court yesterday after pleading guilty to charges of being intoxicated. One man was fined $3 on a charge of passing a stop sign.

International Kiwanis Meet Is Discussed

Kiwanis District Lt. Gov. Ed Weiss and Pampa Kiwanis President Lieb Langston Friday discussed their June 6-10 attendance at the Kiwanis International Convention at Los Angeles.

Lt. Gov. Weiss said California's Governor Earl Warren, GOP vice presidential nominee on a ticket with Governor Dewey of New York, is "the darling of California." Warren was one of the convention speakers. A number of notables were on the speaker roster.

Pres. Langston, while discussing the trip, which was also made by "Shorty" Lane, summed up the work of the Pampa club during the first half of this year. He also pointed to the projected program for the ensuing six months. Among achievements of the club he noted medical attention for those in need, as well as contributions of clothing to the needy by the club.

It was announced that the club is in line for the district achievement award, and the president urged the membership on to victory. He commended the officers, the members and the lieutenant governor for their cooperation.

A committee announced that tickets for the Albuquerque-Pampa

Do you want to feel young again? Why feel old at 40, 50 or 60? Enjoy youthful vigor again. If added years have slowed down your vim and vitality, just go to your druggist and ask for Calton stimulating tablets. Many men are obtaining remarkable results with this amazing formula.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—to trouble as all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for 4 boxes of liquid Barconate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't seem to disappear almost like magic, from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 47 Pounds

"When I commenced to take Barconate, I weighed 212 pounds. I now weigh 165. I feel so much better after losing that weight. It is a wonderful medicine and thanks to Barconate."—Mrs. George Greig, Chalmers Courts 4, Apt. 1, Austin, Texas.

FREEDOM WAS AROUND TODAY—in a high hat and the traditional striped britches. It's not legal, but there were firecrackers and the boom of toy aerial bombs. It hadn't occurred to me before, but it has now—that almost everything we do, or don't do, is in some way tied up with that greatest of all documents since the Magna Carta, signed in 1215. That greatest of all documents, at least from the American viewpoint, of course, is the Constitution. . . . May there be many, many more Independence Days!

DIET—I've been trying to lose a few pounds here and there, and have had numerous suggestions. One girl suggested a wonderful sauté—you just rub it on the spots that report a surplus, and off come the p-pounds! Another one suggested a reducing tablet—but mother told me years ago (and I believed her) that those might carry a tapeworm—and nowadays it's hard enough just to feed a family. Another suggestion I've had is drinking orange juice and black coffee—this diet appealed to me more than somewhat, so when I read that stewardesses were following an orange juice diet I naturally took an interest. . . . It seems, however, their diet differs slightly from the ones I know about. Here's what it says: "You maintain your normal eating both in quantity and quality. Pay no attention to caloric reduction. But the first day you eat an orange; the second, two; the third, three, and so on. You may eat the oranges any time of the day and in as rapid succession as you like. By the time you're up to around 12 to 14 oranges a day, your weight reduction has become obvious. As the quantity of oranges increases, the intake of your other eating diminishes some, too. All the stewardesses swear by it." I'm trying this diet next, and I'll let you know if it comes off—the "obesity," I mean.

POLITICAL NOTE—It is now revealed that the White House is badly in need of repair; and is somewhat of a fire trap. Nevertheless, the housing situation being what it is, several people are willing to move into the old ruin. . . . From the way Dewey and Warren have been talking, you'd think they were just about to be evicted.

THOUGHTS WHILE IRONING—The price of tires is going up. And the price of paper is going down—once again those little round rolls with hundreds of sheets are plentiful, and I have a happy hunk. . . . one of the reasons I wouldn't want to be a baseballplayer: you have to swoop a handful of hot, dry dirt and rub it in your sweaty palms. . . . our new dog is driving the cats to drink (rum). . . . wonder what happened to Phillips' Wildcat No. 2—north of town. . . . Glad that the new paving is nearly completed—storm sewers? (Glad where are the children?) . . . the "upper crust," as such, is just a bunch of crumbs stuck together with their own dough. . . . sometimes or if the bun is on the radio. . . . he took misfortune like a man; it's hard to figure out: I hardly ever know if my radio's on the bum, blamed it on his wife. . . . nature does her best to teach us: the more we overeat, the harder she makes it for us to get close to the table.

FROM THE MOUTHS OF BABES, says the radio program—All who know Gladys and Bob Robinson well, know that each evening after dinner, they pick up the evening paper and the Reader's Digest and head for twin chairs on each side of the radio, to settle down for a comfortable hour or so. It's almost an evening ritual. . . . One night recently I passed their 5-year-old daughter out bicycling around 8 o'clock. Stopping her, I asked what her mother and father were doing. She replied after a moment's thought: "Why, they're just taking their positions."

ODD VOCATIONS—C. H. Richardson, 943 S. Faulkner, has a small but complete venetian blind manufacturing shop. Here you can have blinds washed, painted, replaced, shortened, taped, mended and so on. Even if you're not in the market, you would enjoy looking in the unique shop. (I might have been a customer myself. Who knows?)

PAMPA PANORAMA—Understand Bill Kelley a week ago announced his marriage of March 27 to Helen Stephenson—we'd say congratulations, happy people, but we've already said it—column of May 23. . . . lots of slacks, shorts, suitcases and lunchboxes being stored in many Pampa autos for the holiday, which extends into Tuesday morning. . . . Ad and Burton Doucette are off to Red River. . . . Farka, Rachel and Jimmy Brumley have Loveland, Colorado, as their destination. . . . Lucky Frodo and Guy LeMonde will circle by Ruidoso. . . . Ed Givens and Bill Ragsdale will go to Childress. . . . I for one, will celebrate the Fourth quietly (hoping of course) at home. . . . J. C. McWilliams, the man who parlayed a filling station into a fortune, is one of Pampa's most congenial and well-liked fellows. . . . Jake Osborne, branching out in construction work, erecting the new building at the corner of Francis and Cuyler. . . . The Country Club swimming pool is a popular spot since its opening last week. . . . seen around the pool at intervals were Jim and Bob Triplehorn, kiddie; Carol Miller, Jay and Kay Baker; Jan Foster, Malcolm Douglas, Jacquelyn Merchant, and, as I was leaving, I caught a glimpse of Mrs. Frank Smith and Mrs. Gene Fatheree. . . . Petite Mrs. A. A. Schumann quite modestly holds a position of her own in being an accomplished pianist (now maybe I can borrow some money). . . . Mrs. Lieb Langston, like the model mother with her two daughters. . . . one of Pampa's own boys working right up the ladder is Johnny Phelps. Recently he took over Plains Nursery and is doing a fine job. . . . gifts showered on Mary Lou, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Green, speeded up her recovery from a recent emergency appendectomy. . . . one place that's ready for the Pampa-to-Perryton road is Brown-Silvey establishment on Hobart, complete with cafe, grocery, barber shop and confectionery. . . . the new crop of Senior grads-to-be fitting into Panorama quite well—among them, attractive Margie Maguire, working this summer at the Motor Inn Auto Supply. . . . it's always pleasant to run into Jo Austin. . . . the L. P. Forts are blessed-evening. . . . among the ill these days is Faye Pitts, who'll be at Pampa H. for a week or more following a major operation yesterday. It's her hubby, you know (John) who's running for county judge. . . . and I end wishing I possessed the peace and serenity of Francis Cash. . . . I sure would like to go to the Dixiecat-Democrat convention at Philly. But I think I'll remain out where the wind blows free . . . and the coyotes howl. But that's backwards, according to the song. Try this backwards: APMAP 'O GEP

District Director Installs 1948-49 Officers of Pampa B&P Women's Club

Officers and committee chairmen of the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club were installed by Mrs. Margaret Fletcher, district director of District 9 of the Texas B&P Women's Club Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Everett McNutt, 1340 Christine. The installation was in the form of a garden party with the garden decorated with flowers, balloons and bright-colored lawn furniture. As each guest registered, a favor of a gay paper fan was presented to her and a delicious fruit plate was served. During the evening accordion music was furnished by three young girls, Gay Stone, Patsy Ann Cargile and Betty Jean Patterson. A male quartet composed of Max Prenal, Glen Cannon, Jim Edminster and John Locke also furnished several musical numbers. A floral theme was used by Mrs. Fletcher in the installation service. Each officer and chairman was presented with a corsage of varying colors to represent the outstanding characteristic of her duties and a mixed bouquet of all colors was presented to the president. Mrs. McNutt, membership chairman, presented perfect attendance awards to the following: Bertha Chisum, Maurine Jones, Sigourney Waters, Evora Crawford, Elsie Gehard and Lucille Turner. Mrs. Chisum was also presented with the past-president's pin. Out of town guests for the occasion were Marguerite Benson and Grace Klein of Borger; Margaret Ventresca, Ellen Wells, Mrs. Wilson Forister, Bonnie B. Schenck, Mabel Ray, Mabel Vore, Iris Graham, Martha Marie Landress, Bob Freeman, Llewellyn Deason and Margaret Fletcher of Amarillo. Sixty members and guests were in attendance. Srygley-Gipson Nuptials Solemnized in Morton

Mrs. Joe Bill Gipson

Miss Valetta Ann Srygley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Srygley of Skellytown became the bride of Joe Bill Gipson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gipson of Morton, Tex., on Sunday, June 20. The wedding took place in the First Missionary Baptist Church of Morton at four o'clock in the afternoon. The Rev. H. L. Gipson, of Amarillo, uncle of the bridegroom, performed the double-ring ceremony in a nuptial setting featuring palms and pink peonies. The nuptial music was furnished by two uncles of the bridegroom. The pianist was the Rev. H. N. Gipson of Amherst. He accompanied the Rev. J. W. Gipson of Austin, who sang "Oh, Promise Me," "Because," and "Indian Love Call." He also played the traditional wedding marches. Ronald Parker of Abilene and John Gipson of Odessa, cousins of the bridegroom, were candle-lighters. The bride had five attendants. Mrs. Vernon Day of Perryton was matron of honor and Miss Pallas Shuman of Amarillo was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. S. Walter Taylor of Quitaque, Mrs. Jess Burns of Morton, and Miss

Yvonne Gipson, sister of the bridegroom, of Morton. Light blue and yellow gowns were worn by the bridal attendants and they carried arm bouquets of snapdragons. McKENNEY ON BRIDGE

STUDY THIS EXAMPLE TO STRIP OUT HAND
 By WILLIAM E. MCKENNEY

 The most common mistake made by bridge writers is the presenting of complicated hands. Since Alphonse ("Sonny") Moysa, Jr., has taken over the publishing of the monthly magazine, "The Bridge World," it contains interesting articles for the benefit of the average player.
 In the May issue there was an article by William Allen Smith, Jr., of Huntington, N. Y., who selected a number of hands and pointed out how easy it was to misplay them. Today's hand is taken from that article.

the king of hearts and then sniped to the jack of diamonds, which declarer won. He picked up the trumps, and saying to himself that the king and queen of clubs could not both be in the West hand, he finessed the ten-spot and lost to the queen. Another diamond came back, dummy's king won, and another club finesse was taken and lost. Thus declarer lost two hearts and two clubs.
 It is quite easy to make this hand. Win the jack of diamonds with the ace, take three rounds of trumps, cash dummy's king of diamonds and ruff a diamond. Then lead the jack of hearts. West will win and exit with a heart, and now you have cleared both the dummy and your own hand of hearts and diamonds. Lead a club from dummy and finesse the ten-spot. West will win and must lead into the ace-jack of clubs, or give you a sluff and a ruff.
 Although this is a simple hand,

'It Be Seeing We Hope!
The outlet let us say we see you on this page Monday, or maybe, in your on Tuesday. You may not back Monday, but we hope will COME BACK. You might an extended holiday.

Let's hope sincerely that it be too extended—until it be a permanent condition. Some friends somewhere reading this newspaper this coming day or Tuesday—depending, as is, on when the holiday is, if it did not have another.

Some friends we speak of—and to number them among friends on earth—have some we have hoped all along would outgrow. You know, sometime expect children to things they are supposed to know to live (to keep living, we to say).

Some of those habits are driving fast, getting impatient in traffic and on a highway. Some friends care more for the power of that accelerator they do for the law, their friends on the road—including little children.
Some of your fellow motorists—no, your friends—may try to run your right-of-way. Don't mad and be a sucker—let have it. (And if you have right attitude toward human things, you won't exert to help put them in the ambulance.)
Some of those our friends—have some already gone to great hereafter—liked the too well. They just couldn't till they get there; they had a taste of it before they here (they never got there).
Some, we've been trying to use you with this little—starting it out as a y-like, increasing the tempo to keep interested, so that you can't say "Another one of those damned editorials about it!" We hope we have kept interested.

Some of your interested or don't be a chummy friend, such so many motorists, with such power; and there are so crossings, and there are so people walking along the ways—it just pays to start a bottle—and, above all, drive the fellow you are meeting a virtual nut.

Some of you observe these do's and s, we'll be seeing you again.

'SLIPPAGE' TO RUSSIA by Peter Edson

SHINGTON (NEA) — "Slippage" is the name given to the racket in international trade involving U. S. export officials who are devising control methods to beat it. It exports offer an example. They are shipped out of the States to a destination in Europe or Holland. On paper the looks like material to aid in reconstruction. Unloaded at Rotterdam, how the goods may be transhipped to Russia, Poland or other nations behind the iron curtain. Machinery tools shipped there may find their way to Czechoslovakia and be turned to Yugoslavia, or to Lebanon and then to sea ports. Four or other units shipped to Cuba or Brazil also end up in Eastern Europe.

part of U. S. postwar have been shipping away countries of declared destination. Some estimates figure as high as 20 percent that may be an exaggeration.

CONTROLS RELAXED
During the war, all U. S. exporters under tight control, through Board of Economic Warfare, then through Foreign Administration. But Congress passed the Second War Reliance Act a year ago, that a wartime control be ended as fast as possible to be returned to normal enterprise. The only controls left were for the rationing of supplies at home, machinery for controlling ex-

NEW YORK — President Harry Truman's bravado as an alumnus of the Pendergast gang is a reminder of the attitude of many former Missourians toward the Jesse James gang of cut-throats.

There is an important difference, however. President Truman was an active member of the non-criminal division of the Pendergast gang. The respectable partisans of the Jesse James gang were not even remotely concerned in its operations.

Gen. O. Shelby, a smorting, old Confederate cavalry soldier, said the James brothers, Jesse and Frank, were members of Quantrell's Guerrillas, who reported to him in 1863, at Prairie Grove, Mo., that they had taken part in the counter-attack which rescued Gen. Shelby when he was captured. Therefore, years afterward, he would volunteer no information to officers hunting these now notorious outlaws.

Some accounts of the Centralia battle said Jesse and Frank reloaded pistols for Bill Anderson, their company commander in the Quantrell outfit, while he shot dead 32 unarmed, sick Union soldiers going to a hospital.

In 1897, Walter Williams, later to become dean of the Missouri school of journalism, wrote a fine story of Frank James' return to the Centralia battleground outside town. Frank said he and Jesse did not go into town with Anderson to sway the train on which the sick men were trapped but did fight in the slaughter of a Union battalion in fair battle in the field.

Harry Truman, an senator, openly tries to protect the criminals of the Pendergast gang from justice and pardoned many who were jailed despite his help. His hero was no dashing horseman but a repulsive old ignoramus with the soul of a five-kecker.

When Truman was vice president, he flew in a big Army plane, to which he had no right, to Pendergast's funeral.

There is no temptation to yield to the argument that outrages against their fathers and grandfathers, Dr. Reuben Samuel, justified the criminal careers of Jesse and Frank. Union soldiers were reported to have strung up Dr. Samuel in a raid on the Clay County home near Liberty, Mo.

Incidentally, I am taking my information from a copy of the Crittenden Memoirs, pleasantly inscribed to me in 1943 by the author, H. H. Crittenden of Kansas City. It contains many contemporaneous newspaper accounts written with a professional grade that exist no more today.

A Kansas City dispatch to the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of April 3, 1882, says that the first husband of Mrs. Samuel, the father of the boys, was the Rev. Robert J. James, an eminent Baptist minister and a founder of William Jewell College at Liberty.

"It has become a tradition," said the Globe-Democrat's story, that he was driven from home by his wife and went to California in 1849. Mrs. Samuel gave unbridled license to her tongue in advertising her sympathies for the South and thus needed Union troops at Kearney and the other nearby. That proposition invited informal lists by the Union troops. They grabbed the old lady and locked her up in the St. Joseph jail for several months. Years later, about 1878, when Jesse and Frank were outlaws, a party of them tried to force her to make the pinch or obliterate the gang for the railroads and exports became skimpy. An exporter who wanted to ship goods abroad merely filed application in triplicate with OIT—Office of International Trade—in Department of Commerce. If the shipment applied for fell within quota limits for any trade area like Europe or Latin America, one copy of the application was stamped "Approved," and became an export license.

A rush of applications developed. Sharp traders applied for licenses, then went hunting for customers. Sometimes shipments were made a year or more after the export license was granted.

This gave the crooks another chance to clean up. An exporter could get a license for say 20 tons of flour to Cuba. When this was approved, it was no trick to raise the license to 120 or 200. The reason these good businessmen to whom Congress wanted everything left under the glorious free enterprise system could get away with this was that there was no provision for enforcement. There was no port inspection to make sure that license agreed with dock release, export declaration, bill of lading, or original application.

Labor Strikes Are Political
I never so clearly realized that all serious labor strikes are the result of the government as I did when I read a speech made by Congressman Frederick C. Smith of Ohio in the House of Representatives under the heading "Is the National Labor Relations Act Labor's Bill of Rights or Its Death Warrant?"

The National Labor Relations Act is commonly called the Wagner Act. Congressman Smith after carefully studying the results of the Wagner Act is convinced that there is no possible method of correcting the act and the only remedy is its complete repeal. I think he is absolutely correct in that. Here is what Congressman Smith says relative to this act:

"Candor and forthrightness are prerequisite to a factual statement of the nature of the Wagner Act. The industrial strife which besets the Wagner Act is convinced that there is no possible method of correcting the act and the only remedy is its complete repeal. I think he is absolutely correct in that. Here is what Congressman Smith says relative to this act:

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG the news

WASHINGTON — "I read your column suggesting a more orderly and less hysterical system of nominating a national ticket," writes D. T. of Brooklyn, "and I am inclined to agree with you after reading of the goings-on at the Philadelphia Convention. But how can it be done?"

Answer: Don't criticize the Republicans for their behavior in the Quaker City. As I wrote, it was one of the best-behaved I have ever attended from every standpoint. I base my observations on attendance at every national convention since 1924.

Incidentally, I am glad to note from my letters the general interest in this suggestion. I also saw that several other newspapers, including the Philadelphia affair, wrote along the same line for their papers.

CHANGES — There are several feasible alternatives, although they would probably require radical changes in some state election laws, in the rules and regulations of the major parties. The Republicans and Democrats, for instance, could name delegates at state conventions or in state primaries, as most do now. Under some new arrangement, however, each state should be permitted fewer delegates than they have now. Instead of sending 1084 delegates and the same number of alternates to the convention, let the total be about 300 or 400. There are no alternates except in cases where the No. 1 delegate gets sick or dies.

QUIETLY — Let the actual delegates be bound to vote for a certain candidate, although not inflexibly, to allow for necessary discussions, analyses and consideration of the most able and available nominees.

Then let the 300 or 400 delegates gather in some convenient city under this proposal. It need not have to be a great, hotel-strewn metropolis, and choose their ticket soberly, quietly, seriously, and without the distractions of bands, glee clubs, etc.

Representative Walter H. Judd of Minnesota, in nominating Harold E. Stassen, was best in that line. He painted his candidate as a combination of Joan of Arc, Napoleon and Abraham Lincoln in spangly, staccato language, which was what he wanted to do. Next time, nominating speech from a spread-eagle standpoint was Senator John W. Bricker on behalf of Candidate Taft.

RESERVE — "You have said that the Social Security Fund now consists of $7 billion in U. S. securities," writes H. S. C. of Westfield, Mass. "Is this fund a reserve in excess of what has been paid in pension and administration costs? Could this reserve be used to increase payments to those now retired, and who received an average of $25 a month in Social Security money in 1947?"

Answer: I think the President was trying to be friendly, folksy, humorous, in accord with the new strategy to make him out to be a "plain American." To be fair, it is quite possible to like a person, despite his background. However, it was a major blunder for the head of a state to refer to the head of another state so familiarly. Even more erroneous was Mr. Truman's declaration that Stalin, the supreme boss, was the "prisoner of the Politburo." That is not true.

TOP O' TEXAS NEWS

Shamrock — (Special) — The DeShazo-George Post of the American Legion is receiving much publicity in Texas for its aggressiveness and outstanding activities.

In "The Texas Legion News" of June 14, Shamrock legionnaires were praised for having broken all past membership records. In the same edition, the local post was listed as one of 97 in Texas that will receive the Americanism Citation for having made its annual Americanism and post activity reports for 1947.

The poison bran grasshopper bait-mixing station at Wheeler is being operated every day now from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m., except Sunday, according to County Agent W. Frey.

More than seven tons of bait has already been furnished farmers and a supply of bran and poison is on hand to last the remainder of the season, the agent said. The station is located at Wheeler High School Vocational Agriculture shop.

Harris B. Zeigler, Wheeler County Veterans Service Officer, declared last week that there are four important dates in 1948 to which he would like to call the attention of veterans.

The IOOF Lodge of Shamrock will install new officers Monday night. The district deputy of Pampa will be here to serve as installing officer, and the meeting will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

Lonnie Burks, prominent automobile and farm machinery dealer, has been elected president of the Shamrock Chamber of Commerce.

Burks, who has earned the reputation of being one of this city's most ardent civic workers, was named head of the chamber at a meeting of the new board of directors held in the office of Secretary Guy Hill Tuesday morning. Burks replaces C. W. Spud Dalton who ably served as leader of the civic group last year.

Four towns in Wheeler County — Shamrock, Wheeler, Mobeetie, and Twity, were sprayed with DDT Wednesday. Primary purpose of the spraying service was to eradicate flies, the Number 1 carrier of germs.

The spraying equipment was furnished and operated by the city of Pampa. Arrangements for the service were made by Wheeler County Sanitarian W. R. Ritter and the expenses in Shamrock were paid the City Council.

Mrs. Steve Oates, Tony and Michael were Skellytown visitors June 22.

The Skellytown Rebekah Lodge attended circle meeting in Panhandle June 22.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Willis have moved to Skellytown from Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Bowen Gallaher and Don are vacationing in Minnesota.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Preston and sons spent their vacation in Colorado and Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. Truman Black and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Meadows and family have returned from a vacation spent in Colorado.

Jan Rodgers of Amarillo visited friends here last week.

Gracie Reports

Well, I see where just about the most popular radio program in Japan isn't that of a funny comedian, or even a dramatic show called "Yen's Other Wife," but frog concerts.

We've something like that over here, only we call them "singing commercials." Anyway, it's very hot in Japan at this time of year, and the reason that Japanese like to listen to the frogs croaking is that it makes everyone feel cool and relaxed. The only trouble is, apparently, the frogs have been reading about Bing Crosby, because they won't work in front of live studio microphones. The technicians have to send crows to their favorite ponds and make recordings there.

Next thing, I suppose, we'll be hearing that the most popular frog voice will be leading the "Hopper Rattling," and that he'll be working for "Honest Togo, the used Rickshaw man."

It is probable, however, that both the amount of kick-ins and the benefits to recipients, in view of the rise in living costs.

Nobody Loves Forever
By Margareta Brucker
Copyright by Arcadia House, Inc. Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

XXVIII
SHE felt ashamed and guilty. She went into her own room and moved the sleeping Betsy back into her crib. She flung herself across her bed and pulled the blanket close about her shivering body. Already, gray dawn crept through the long front windows of her bedroom.
It was Sunday morning. This was Sunday morning, and in just a few hours she had planned to leave this house forever, put the past behind her and enter upon a bright and carefree future. Now she lay dispirited and uncertain. "You and I will never be happy together, Tom. We never loved each other." That was what she had planned to say so glibly. "Our love didn't last. It's dead."
Love! she thought now bitterly. Love had no place in the pattern of events this night had tossed into her future. For how could she leave at once and abandon Tom and Lucy in the face of trouble?
Finally she fell into a heavy sleep and did not open her eyes until the November sun was high in the sky. For an instant she could not bring her thoughts into focus. The events of the night before were unreal, like a terrible dream. This was the day—she sat up and buried her searing head in her hands—she remembered. This was the day she was to meet David.
There were voices outside her door. Betsy's low chuckle, quickly hushed by a deep voice. The door flew open and Tom came in with Betsy perched on his shoulder.
"Daddy!" cried Betsy, with a fatuous smile. "Look—Daddy. She patted her father's blond head.
JESSICA snatched up her robe and huddled it about her bare shoulders. She was startled, at a disadvantage.
Tom explained. "I heard her crying and came in. I've been getting acquainted with my daughter." He sat down on the bed beside Betsy and fondled the baby's soft curly head, but did not glance toward Jessica.

Jessica bit her lip. She asked, "How's your mother this morning?"
"No change." Tom rose and paced back and forth. His voice lost color and became dull and anxious. "I called Genevieve Miles this morning, hoping that she might know where to locate Lucy. Genevieve didn't go with the group which left yesterday. She says it will be impossible to get Lucy until afternoon. She promised to come right over and help me."
Jessica met this announcement with angry silence. Why should Genevieve Miles enter into their affairs?
She made the excuse that she must dress. She was irritable when Betsy proposed that her father stay and dress her. She saved an awkward situation by hinting that she could manage Betsy better alone, and Tom left with a baffled expression on his tired face. Must she always hurt Tom?
Later she led Betsy downstairs and found Genevieve bustling capably about the kitchen, a print apron tied over her best rayon print. Her cheeks flushed with excitement, her small eyes curious.
Genevieve refused any offers of assistance. The breakfast was ready. Excellent coffee and toast and bacon and eggs. Genevieve hurried about importantly, urging Tom to eat what she set before him. But Tom made an excuse and went back to stay with his mother. Any interest he might have had earlier in either Jessica or Betsy was lost now in deepening anxiety as he awaited the doctor.

GENEVIEVE sat opposite Jessica and delicately sipped her coffee, her cup held in a hand with the little finger rigidly extended. "Queer that you don't hear from Lucy," she said.
"You said that she was off on a hike."
"I said if she went off on a hike, she would be back this afternoon."
"Where else would she go?" demanded Jessica.
Genevieve said, "I wonder." Her small colorless eyes were hard and expressionless.
"What do you mean?"
Genevieve set her cup down carefully in the saucer. She picked up a bit of toast and nibbled daintily. "Maybe she went some place else."
Genevieve finished her toast and wiped her fingers daintily on her napkin. Her thin lips parted in a sly smile. "Lucy didn't tell her mother everything."
"Why should she?"
"I don't concern myself with Lucy's affairs."
But she did concern herself with Lucy. Right now a cold, apprehensive chill shook her as she met Genevieve's sly glance. What did Genevieve mean? What did she know?
Suddenly Jessica lost her self-control. She said furiously, "You despicable little fraud! You never were Lucy's friend. You just spied on her and tattled to her mother, Lucy."
Tom came in, suddenly and without warning. He said, "Have you heard from Lucy? I thought I heard you speak her name."
Genevieve answered. "No, No, we haven't heard." Her sly glance traveled from Jessica to Tom and back again.
Should she voice her own anxiety? Jessica wondered. No. She couldn't add to Tom's burden now. She said briskly, "I'll go and stay with your mother just as soon as I come back from taking Betsy across the street."
With only a brief explanation, she hurried Betsy away. Doris would take care of Betsy. Could Doris know something about Lucy's whereabouts?
Why should Lucy go away and tell no one about her plans?

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By KEN BENNETT

Eight thousand seven hundred thirty six feet. That's the approximate depth of the Phillips Carruth well as of this week. Phillips has been set and from all indications the well is looking about as good as it could. If any news of real interest to this community is to come from the Carruth it should be in the very near future. There is an air of expectancy in this region that leads me to believe that within a few months someone is going to find that deep sand pay. The Carruth well and the Jenkie have not been the only tests in this section of the country, but perhaps the most publicized. That is not the fault of the Phillips Company because both these wells were surrounded by secrecy from start to finish. Maybe the Carruth is going to be the well that starts a lot of deep production. I certainly hope this is true, as do the majority of people in the Panhandle, for we all realize what it will mean to business and industries. Pampa, I think, is already preparing for a boom. If it comes we are apt to still be caught off guard. It's not a simple matter for a community to be ready for an oil boom, as Pampa well knows from past experience. Let's be glad, however, that a few preparations are being made.

News comes to my desk this week of a proposed well to be drilled through the combined efforts of the Magnolia Company, Cities Service Company, and the Sinclair Company in Ellis County in Oklahoma. The location has not been definitely set according to reports but the filing will be made within the next few days. From all indications this well will be just over the state line. Ellis County has had no talk for years. It has had a few sites drilled, on, mostly promotional, years ago. Development in that area would influence the Pampa territory since this community is becoming more and more a trading center for that district.

A few changes have taken place at Skelly. M. N. (Brownie) Osborne, former farm boss for Skelly in Skellytown, has accepted the superintendent position for Hall and Stewart, in Borger. George Lewis, assistant to Osborne, has been promoted to his position. George McIntyre, lease foreman at Lefors, will take over in George Lewis' former job.

Humble happenings. F. G. Thomas, district petroleum engineer, returns from a two weeks vacation spent at Eagle's Nest. Other returns from vacations are C. A. Williams, area operator; F. C. Waechter, carpenter; and J. W. Richardson, lease pumper. Richardson, a 28-year man, had a four-week rest. C. L. Graham, roustabout, starts his two weeks vacation tomorrow. Ben Seibold, roustabout gang-pusher is confined to his home following a minor operation at a local hospital. Phil Harvey and R. W. Moore spent the first part of the week in Wichita Falls attending a chief clerks meeting. Mrs. Harvey also made the trip.

Shellings. Mr. and Mrs. Larry Snyder returned this past week from their vacation. Larry, after enjoying the SPEBSQSA national meeting in Oklahoma City, spent the remainder of his vacation visiting relatives and friends at various Oklahoma points. C. W. Dulaney and wife of Bristow, Okla.; Glen Dulaney, wife and daughter of St. Louis, Mo.; assisted at Eldorado, Ark.; and Dulaney, Shell production chief clerk. F. D. Harvey, Shell farm 80th session June 19, prior to the Republican Convention which saw its Texas and California delegates wage a successful fight for inclusion of a brief tidelands plank in the party's platform.

The Republican plank reads: "We favor restoration to the states of their historic rights to the tide and submerged lands, territorial waters, lakes and streams."

Walter Johnson, Nebraska attorney General and head of a committee of states attorneys general on state ownership legislation, Friday predicted the situation is in "good shape for early passage in the 81st Congress."

State oil notes: — Oklahoma's daily production allocation for July has been set by the State Corporation Commission at 427,000 barrels, 4,000 barrels above June.

Skelton Reviews Texas Oil News

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON, Tex. — (AP) — Fewer motorists on the highways this summer but they have greater distances in mind.

This is the information passed to a Senate subcommittee last week by Walter Hochuli, sales manager for the Texas Company.

Said Hochuli: "Five percent fewer motorists are traveling this summer than last but they are driving 15 percent farther."

Hochuli also advised the subcommittee, studying possible need for gasoline and oil rationing this winter, that increased oil production this year is evidence of increased supplies.

"I see no reason why we should talk of rationing," he said, because the gasoline situation "is not at all dangerous."

The American Petroleum Institute's weekly production report carried notes of optimism and added weight to testimony of Hochuli and other witnesses that continuation of heavy production will enable the industry to keep supply and demand within striking distance of each other.

API last week reported the nation's crude production established a new record for the seventh consecutive week and that gasoline processed advanced by 290,000 barrels.

Crude production was placed at 5,492,900 barrels daily or 417,000 more ending June 26, an increase of 1550 barrels over the previous week and record. A year ago the daily average was 5,109,100 barrels.

Gasoline output for the week totaled 47,938,000 barrels, 1,877,000 above the same period for 1947.

Meanwhile, the Bureau of Mines announced that total demand for petroleum and petroleum products during the first four months of 1948 averaged 6,283,000 barrels daily, an increase of 883,000 barrels or 6.7 percent for a comparable period last year.

Most 1948 increase predictions made December and January placed the new year's demand from 8 to 10 percent above 1947.

Warning? — The age of chemical industries in Texas "may soon be merely a memory" unless an effective method to decrease the state's natural gas consumption is developed, Dr. E. P. Schoch, veteran University of Texas chemical engineering professor, said last week.

Schoch, director of the University's Bureau of Industrial Chemistry, says statistics show the annual gas withdrawal is increasing more rapidly than are gas reserves.

"Cheap natural gas is the largest material item that brought the chemical industries to Texas," Schoch explained.

WHY "Stepping Down" IS SO IMPORTANT TO YOU

Hudson amazes motor-car world by using vital "step-down" zone—not available in any other car—to bring you riding qualities and safety beyond anything known before!

Word's giving "round-and-fast, too—that Hudson gives you a "sweet," smooth, safe ride that is a new high in motor-car performance!

Perhaps you've heard pleased and proud Hudson owners talking about this exciting new experience, but here's something you may have missed hearing:

The key to this amazing new ride lies in that area just under the floor of the average car, which in the New Hudson becomes the "step-down" zone—as illustrated in the sketches at the right.

This "step-down" zone is all-important, because experience has shown that the lower to the ground a car can be built, the better it will handle, the more stability it will have, the safer it will be, and thus the more enjoyable and comfortable will be your ride.

Hudson, and Hudson alone, has accomplished a near miracle of low-built streamlining and smooth, safe, comfortable riding with a new type of base frame which surrounds the passenger compartment, and thus permits the floor to be lowered down within it. Recessing the floor creates the "step-down" zone and a center of gravity that is the lowest in any American stock car—yet road clearance is ample!

That's why Hudson has a hug-the-road way of going, even in cross-winds, and on every conceivable kind of highway. When you see how this car takes even the sharpest curves, it will spoil you for any other type of automobile! You sense this delightful conformity to the road the minute you begin your ride; and this stability, plus the protection of riding encircled by a sturdy box-section steel frame, gives you a grand feeling of safe well-being.

Sitting in this car is as downright satisfying as stretching out in your favorite easy chair. You ride on seats that are lowered and cradled along of the rear wheels and, even with its low silhouette, this breathtakingly beautiful motor car gives you more head room than any other mass-produced car built today! Hudson's use of the vital "step-down" zone in its exclusive, all steel Monohilt body-and-frame* is a development that required years of engineering work, the perfection of new production techniques, and millions of dollars in highly specialized new plant investment. Perhaps this explains why Hudson alone offers this new design principle today.

The nearest Hudson dealer has a booklet—yours for the asking—which explains how "stepping down" brings you advantages beyond anything known before! Hudson Motor Car Co., Detroit 14.
