Candidates Bid For Delegations

CONVENTION HALL, PHILADELPHIA—P—The Republicans, whooping it up for victory in November, got their platform all but finished today but still were in a fog of uncertainty over who is to take his stand on it as their choice for president.

Many of the delegates who straggled into this big hall for the second day's sessions had been up half the night or more in who-will-it-be conferences.

But from all reports, these meetings had served only to draw the lines tighter in the Dewey-Taft-Stassen struggle for the nomination.

The "favorite son" candidates, whose votes have got to be shaken loose to produce a winner, were sitting tight. They gave every indication they intended to play cagey and make no moves until there have been a couple of ballots on the nomination.

California's big delegation met and reaffirmed a "do or die" stand for Gov. Earl Warren.

Senator William F. Knowland, Warren's chief opponent, announced the stand to reporters. A spokesman told him there were published reports he would attempt to swing California's 53 delegates to a Vandenberg-Stassen ticket.

There is not one word of truth or foundation to that rumor, Knowland said.

Stassen said he was making "no deal" and emphasized that he is aiming for first place. He was commenting directly on the proposal by Col. Robert R. McCormick, publisher of the Chicago Tribune, for a Taft-Stassen ticket.

Leaders of Pennsylvania's big delegation, which the situation over Gov. James H. Duff announced at the preliminary travel and negotiations, there is the week-long ordeal of the convention itself.

These Pennsylvania and California conventions were held while the convention itself was hearing another round of speeches.

Senator Kenneth Wherry of Nebraska, an orator of the first-shaking, straight-from-the-shoulder class, gave them something to cheer about by losing back at President Truman the same score of charges Truman has made about Congress.

Wherry, the assistant Senate Republican leader, said Congress accomplished what it did despite handicaps put in its way by the President.

"Vetoes seem to be the order of the day," he said. "Moscow trembles in the United Nations, Truman votes in Washington. The people will veto in November."

The delegates shouted that. They whooped and shouted.

When Wherry left off, Rep. Frances Bolton of Ohio and Senator Raymond Baldwin of Connecticut took over. Sandwiched between was music.

But downtown, in hotel rooms, here and there, the buttoning and pleadings of those trying to win the big nomination prize for their man went on.

Flock of 'Pros' Looking for GOP Presidential Nomination

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—These are a flock of "pros" looking for the Republican nomination for president.

Take a look: Thomas E. Dewey. He is Governor of New York and was the GOP presidential candidate in 1944.

Harold E. Stassen. He was Governor of Minnesota and has been trying actively since 1946 to get the nomination in 1948.

Robert A. Taft. He is senator from Ohio and leader of his party in the Senate.

These men have all been around for a long time, looking for the presidential nomination for themselves, has been doing the looking for a long time.

PHILADELPHIA—P—Republican policy makers today completed a 1948 platform pledging internationalism, a potent military machine and civil rights for all.

The platform framers finally laid the text before the country after nearly a week of writing, wrangling, and revising.

Chairman Henry Cabot Lodge of the GOP Resolutions Committee will offer the 2,400-word document to the national convention tomorrow.

The platform, made public this morning, was described by Lodge as broad enough for any of the main Republican presidential hopefuls to stand upon.

It deals with scores of highly controversial topics, among them public housing, Israel, prices and anti-Communism legislation.

The foreign policy plank, plunging hard for "collective security against aggression," bears the unmistakable marks of Michigan's Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg.

It pledges aid to other peace-loving countries on a basis of self-help (as in the present European Recovery Plan). But the platform writers inserted the words: "Within the prudent limits of our own economic welfare."

The plank closely follows Vandenberg's ideas on strengthening the United Nations. For example, it calls for eliminating the big power veto in cases dealing with peaceful settlement of disputes.

It promises full recognition and economic aid to the new nation of Israel, "subject to the letter and spirit of the United Nations agreement with its boundaries as sanctioned by the United Nations."

The plank says "we propose" maintaining the Army, Navy and Air Force "to a degree which will insure our national security."

On civil rights, the platform is not far different from President Truman's program which caused such an outcry from Southern Democrats.

The term "fair employment practice commission" was knocked out of a preliminary draft, but the finished version favors enactment of "such federal legislation as may be necessary" to maintain "the right of every individual to work and advance in life," regardless of race or religion.

On another controversial domestic subject there was a battle in committee over public housing—the public housing advocates won.

FIRST RACE IS HARDEST

By HAL BOYLE PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The mystery here is to one seeing a national convention for the first time.

"How can one small subdivision of a continent with only 140,000,000 people produce so many rugged men with the stamina to face openly the ordeal of being a candidate for the presidency?"

For the perils of Pauline are nothing to the trials and tribulations of a man who aspires to become the number one public servant.

If he wins one race and gets the nomination, what lies ahead? Another energy-sapping, spirit-wearing race with an equally eager beaver who won the other party's nomination.

But the first race looks to me like the hardest—the race to head the party's ticket.

What does a man have to do to convince his political family that he should lead them? Obviously—plenty!

It takes the nerve-wearing months of preliminary travel and negotiation, there is the week-long ordeal of the convention itself.

In one evening here Gov. Thomas E. Dewey shook hands with some 6,000 people at his official reception. Senator Robert A. Taft, too, has a grip worn out from greeting well wishers.

There is no such thing as real sleep for a candidate once the convention starts. He faces long hours of conferences with his advisers, and dozens of interviews with potential supporters.

One man who has escaped most of the preliminary travel and expense is Senator Arthur Vandenberg. He has said he wouldn't seek the nomination, but "he's willing" to take it if drafted.

There is only one class of peace-keeper that the iron men who pile up the show endures: the presidency. These are the women who married them.

Teachers Practice Curtsy to Queen

LONDON (AP)—More than 100 American school teachers gaily practiced the curtsy here today in preparation for a meeting with Queen Elizabeth later in the day.

The teachers have been in Britain for a school term, in exchange for British teachers engaged for a term in United States schools.

Internationalism Is Pledged in Platform

PHILADELPHIA—P—Republican policy makers today completed a 1948 platform pledging internationalism, a potent military machine and civil rights for all.

The platform framers finally laid the text before the country after nearly a week of writing, wrangling, and revising.

On another controversial domestic subject there was a battle in committee over public housing—the public housing advocates won.

The plank finally written recommends "federal aid to the states for local urban clearance and low-rental housing programs," but only where there's a need that can't be met by private enterprise, states, or cities.

Greek Army Driving to Sew Up Reds

Second Army Headquarters, Kozane, Greece, (AP)—Greek Army troops, pressing an offensive against 7,000 guerrillas in the Mount Grammos area, got off an enemy reported route to Albania, military sources said today.

This achievement, by units of the 15th Division, was reported as the Army moved three more divisions into the fighting.

The Second, Eighth, and Tenth Divisions entered the offensive on the Eastern, Southern and Western sides of the Grammos Mountain semi-circle holding the Communist forces of Markos valid.

The Ninth Division was pushing up from Konits across Northern Greece in an apparent effort to seal off the Albanian border.

Unconfirmed reports said it has reached guerrilla defense outposts in the Grammos area.

Units of the First and 18th Divisions are fighting around Nestorion. The escape route slashed by the 15th Division unit is situated between the Athakmon and Sarandaporos River Southwest of Nestorion.

A general staff communique said the bodies of an additional 36 guerrillas were found in the Nestorion area.

The communique said the Army's position was being extended, and reported heavy fighting in the Southwest in the Katanhorion region.

Military authorities at Larisa confirmed the surrender Sunday of three guerrilla battalions with arms at the village of Mita, between Grevena and Metsovon. Mass graves of guerrilla fighters were found at the points of fiercest fighting, the authorities added.

National forces expect to encounter stiffer resistance as they drive deeper into rebel territory.

The Republicans called for prompt legislation to outlaw lynching and to abolish the poll tax. They opposed the idea of racial segregation in the armed forces.

The term "fair employment practice commission" was knocked out of a preliminary draft, but the finished version favors enactment of "such federal legislation as may be necessary" to maintain "the right of every individual to work and advance in life," regardless of race or religion.

On another controversial domestic subject there was a battle in committee over public housing—the public housing advocates won.

Jones' Revenge Plans Fail As Oilers Whip Lobos 11-9

TU Schedule Announced by Dana X. Bible

AUSTIN —(AP)— A home-and-home football agreement between Texas and Purdue University is the first such agreement in history between Southwest and Big Nine Conference teams — was announced Saturday by Texas Athletic Director D. X. Bible.

The Boiler-makers of Purdue will play the Longhorns here Sept. 20, 1950, and Texas will go to Lafayette, Ind., in 1951.

Bible also announced several other inter-sectional games which will give the Longhorns foes from the East and West as well as the Midwest. New opponents will be Temple and the University of Idaho.

Temple University of Philadelphia, Pa., will be host to Texas Sept. 24, 1949, and will come to Austin Oct. 7, 1950. Their visit will mean the return to the Southwest of Ray Morrison, who brought razzle-dazzle to the Southwest Conference with his extensive use of passes as head coach at Southern Methodist University in the thirties. Morrison is head coach at Temple.

The University of Idaho, now coached by ex-Rose Bowl hero Dixie Howell, will challenge the Longhorns here Oct. 1, 1949.

Three non-conference foes are already signed for 1951 and promise a strong schedule for Texas. They are Purdue, Kentucky, and Oklahoma.

The 1949 Texas schedule announced yesterday is as follows:

Sept. 17 — Texas Tech at Austin.

Sept. 24 — Temple University at Philadelphia.

Oct. 1 — University of Idaho at Austin.

Oct. 8 — University of Oklahoma at Dallas.

Oct. 15 — University of Arkansas at Little Rock, Ark.

Oct. 22 — Rice Institute at Austin.

Oct. 29 — S. M. U. at Dallas.

Nov. 5 — Baylor University at Austin.

Nov. 12 — T. C. U. at Austin.

Nov. 24 — Texas A & M at College Station.

Martin Meets Curtis in Title Match Friday

With all the other championship matches going on this week, the Republican convention, the Louis-Walcott go-Pampa will have its own title match Friday night at the Sportatorium.

Wayne Martin, Tulsa, present champion, will defend his Southwestern Junior Heavyweight title against George Curtis, Vicksburg, Miss., in a two-and-a-half-hour, three-falls-to-a-finish match.

An eight-week elimination contest to pick the contender was concluded last week when Curtis defeated Gil Knutson, the man who had defeated all the others. Curtis came into the contest late when Martin was injured and was unable to appear here on June 11, as originally scheduled.

Knutson was top man when the contests were extended. He did not have to, but he agreed to risk his contender's position by allowing Curtis and Frankie Murdoch, Waxahatchie, Tex., to enter the eliminations. Knutson defeated Murdoch two weeks ago, and then lost to Curtis here last week.

The preliminary contest will find Billy Weidner, Boston, Mass., matched with Jack Wentworth, the powerhouse from Toronto, Canada. Weidner will be making his first appearance in the local arena.

Gil Knutson, the defeated contender for the title, will be referee.

Slight Difference

Jepp Owens, left, Olympic Games great of 1936, and Willie Steele compare their best broad jump marks as the former Ohio State champion visits San Diego State. Owens, holder of the world record, 26 feet, 8 1/2 inches, believes his mark will be bettered by Steele, who has done 26 feet 6.

Louis and Walcott Confident; Both Expecting Win by KO

By WILL GRIMSLEY
NEW YORK —(AP)— Confidence radiated from both camps today as Champion Joe Louis and Challenger Jersey Joe Walcott enjoyed a brief lull before their 15-round heavyweight title bout tomorrow night at Yankee Stadium.

"I'll get him quick," was the cold prediction of the Brown Bomber, who announced his 25th defense of his crown will be his last ring outing.

"He's ready," was the tag handers put on Walcott, the amazing underdog, who almost matched the title last December.

Odds favoring the champion remained firm at 5 to 13.

The weatherman, meanwhile, gave the outdoor attraction a temporary blessing, promising a cloudy, humid day but no rain.

Ticket sales continued brisk but promoter Mike Jacobs' hopes of a million dollar gate appeared certain to fall short. The Twentieth Century Sporting Club is counting on a turnout around 55,000, a gate of approximately $900,000.

Louis put in his final training licks at Pompton Lakes, N. J., yesterday, turned up with a black eye and announced afterwards, "I think I'm 50 or 75 percent better than I was for the last fight."

The discolored optic, not serious, was a parting gift of one of the champ's spartrates. The champion scaled 213 after his last drill but expects to hit between 214 and 215 when he weighs in Wednesday noon.

Jersey Joe finished tapering off Sunday. He will check in at around 195.

Dynamite

It was with this lethal right Jersey Joe Walcott planned to wrest the heavyweight championship from Joe Louis at Yankee Stadium.

Two hits in the fourth gave the Seitzmen two more tallies when Harriman doubled in Range, who had singled, went to second on an infield fly and scored on a wild pitch by Garland.

The final run was shoved across in the seventh inning when R. C. Otey blasted a hard hit triple fly to left field and scored on a high fly to left by Jack Riley.

White retired in the ninth inning and was relieved by some remarkable relief hunting by Rook Merlin Hubbard. The right-hander retired three straight men after White had walked the first two. This was White's seventh win as compared with four losses.

The Oilers will again engage the Lobos in the second game of their three game series tonight at 8:30 in their last. Since White started last night's contest, Howard Haas will probably get the starting nod tonight.

Patino Wins Match Over Filio Prado

CORPUS CHRISTI —(AP)— Chango Patino, Corpus Christi welterweight, won a close decision over Filio Prado, Mexico City, in one of two main boxing events here last night.

Tommy Ramirez, Corpus Christi welterweight, launched a two-fist attack in the first round that led to a decision won by Chester Arnold in the other half of the twin bill.

Gilbert Abrego, 120, Corpus Christi, and Baby Barrado, 116, Brownsville, fought to a draw in the four-round opener.

Johnny Sanchez, 131, Laredo, knocked out Pedro Ramos, 132, Brownsville, in the first round of a scheduled four-rounder.

Able Rodriguez, 136, Corpus Christi, knocked out Yundo Galton, 131, Brownsville, in two minutes of the third in a scheduled four-round bout.

Sauer Hits 20th Home Run As Reds Nip Phillies, 4-3

By the Associated Press

Hammering Hank Sauer, in his first full year in the major leagues, gave promise today of blossoming into the greatest home run hitter in Cincinnati baseball history.

The 29-year-old outfielder yesterday tied a club record for the most home runs hit by a right-handed batter when he blasted his 20th four-bagger. The blow enabled the Reds to nip the Phillies, 4-3.

Until yesterday, Ernie Lombardi, in 1939, and Frank McCormick, in 1944, were the only right-handed batters in Cincinnati's long history to hit 20 home runs in one season.

Alpha Brazil bested Warren Spahn in a brilliant south-paw pitching duel to give the St. Louis Cardinals a 1-0 victory over the league leader Braves in Boston. Brazil allowed seven hits to six for Spahn.

The Braves, however, maintained their game and a half margin on the runner-up Pittsburgh Pirates who were defeated by the Dodgers in Brooklyn 5-2.

Allie Reynolds pitched the Yankees to an easy 13-2 triumph over his former Indian mates in Cleveland.

The Yankees accumulated 18 hits including home runs by Joe DiMaggio and George Stinewies. Three consecutive doubles after two were out in the last half of the ninth inning drove in four runs and gave the Browns a 9-8 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics in St. Louis.

Cabot Wins Over Texas Elf

The Cabot Shops, Inc., continued charged with the loss, his second on their winning ways last night in the last three games. This was Cabot's sixth straight win.

In the only other league game last night, the Pampa News upset the Master Cleaners when they jumped to an early lead and never relinquished it, whipping the Cleaners, 15-12.

Jimmy King received credit for the win, but was relieved by Romie Maxwell in the fourth inning. Gene Horton tossed for the losers. This was The News' third win of the season as compared with ten losses.

Tomorrow night, the Pampa Jaycees travel to White Deer for a contest with the White Deer All-Stars beginning at 9 o'clock.

Golf Tourney Headed by Miss Gunther

CHICAGO —(AP)— Medalist Margaret Gunther from Memphis, today led the field of 32 qualifiers into the opening matchplay round of the 19th Women's Western Open Golf Tourney.

Miss Gunther, Tennessee state champion, solved Skyrrett's tricky 649 yard course for a two-over par 76 yesterday. That was a stroke ahead of favored Babe Didricson Zaharias, three time open winner, and Beverly Hanson of Fargo, N. D.

Also in the upper bracket were

Baptists Whip Christians in Softball Play

The First Baptist Senior Girls rolled over the First Christian Seniors last night in the Kiwanis Sunday School Softball League 33-24 with Robbin Hawkins going the complete route on the mound for the Baptists.

The winners scored 17 of their tallies in the first three innings off Jean Cornelius Christian hurler, while the hapless Christians managed only eight off Hawkins. The Baptists scored in every inning with Firstbaseman Janice Doggett getting six hits in six trips to the plate.

In the only other league game last night, the First Presbyterian Junior Girls eked out a narrow 21-19 verdict over the Calvary Baptist Juniors.

Batteries for the winners were Johnson and Kendrick and Brewer and Kaps completed the Baptist batteries.

The winners scored seven runs in the first frame and eight in the third to provide their winning margin while the Baptists threatened a rally in the fourth inning when they scored seven runs.

Mrs. Zaharias, who meets Carol Durringer, Tiffin, Ohio, Ray, Peggy Kirk, Findlay, Ohio, who carried a qualifying 79 against Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Texas, (85), and another 79 shooter, Fort Worth's Polly Riley, pitted against Mrs. F. W. Zimmerman, Chicago, (85).

Worthwhile Club Meets in Home of Mrs. N. B. Cude

Members of the Worthwhile Home Demonstration Club assembled in the rural home of Mrs. N. B. Cude on June 10 for an all-day meeting and luncheon, honoring the members of the Junior Hi 4-H Club.

The morning was given over to the ten girls present, and Miss Ann Hastings, county home demonstration agent, who conducted games until the lunch hour. The following girls were present: Misses Sally Cobb, Beemance McMin, Dorothy Gileland, Pauline Tice, Joan Lunford, Myra Nell Kapp, Jaquin Robertson, Gayle Campbell, Billie Ann Combs, Pauline Craig.

After the lunch hour a short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. G. H. Anderson.

Roll call was answered with a gift suggestion, some exhibiting some very useful and attractive handmade articles.

Miss Hastings gave an informative demonstration on handmade gifts, with suggestions and patterns for same.

Many of the articles were especially suitable for work of 4-H girls. The club girls sang their club songs and gave the oath, which is very impressive.

Mrs. A. French gave a report on the progress of the fair plans and the club members favored the week of Sept. 20 as a suitable time for a fair.

Mrs. O. A. Wagner gave a talk on work simplification and asked each member to analyze one of her daily duties counting the time and steps saved, and report at the next meeting, at which time the project will be carried on.

Others present beside those already mentioned were Mesdames J. A. Grundy, W. H. McBride, Ray Robertson, Emil Stueben and T. J. Watt, members, and Mesdames J. S. McBride and daughter, Mae, Robert Page of Durant, Okla., A. M. Nash of Merten Club, F. W. Cobb and Vanbiber, guests. The club voted to hold all meetings the rest of the summer at 9:30 a. m.

The Anderson Homes Have Many Guests

Visiting in the home of Mrs. S. L. Anderson, 518 N. Starkweather, during the past few days have been her sisters, Mesdames Retta LaPell, Valparaiso, Ind., Vida Hooper, San Rafael, Calif., Wilks McDade, Wildorado, Texas, Jim Albin, Spur, Tex., and her brother, Bob Whalley, Stockton, Calif. Honoring this group on Saturday evening, June 19, their children, grandchildren and other relatives gathered at the home of Mrs. Anderson's eldest son, E. L. Anderson, and his wife, 1022 E. Francis for a six o'clock basket dinner on the lawn.

Those present were the honored guests named above and from out of town, Messrs. and Mrs. Turner McDade and children, Walter, Mary Lee and Robert, Wildorado, Texas, Ben Anderson, Borger; Wilbur Sims, Roswell, N. M.; R. M. Mitchell, Kress, Texas, Lacy Armstrong, Spur, Tex.; J. D. Pendley, Lubbock, Tex.; Fred Sims, Kay and Gilbert, Dimmitt, Texas, Elsie Armstrong and Glyneth, Lamess, Tex.; R. A. Sims, and Mrs. Essie Rucker and son, Jo, Mobeetie.

The following from Pampa were also present: Messrs. and Mrs. Don Cole, Gayle and Donna Ann, Doyle Ward, Harry and Marcia Kay; L. H. Anderson, Jean and Harold; and Mrs. Vera Key and Mrs. Kate Hunter and the two sons, Phillip and Sam, of the host couple.

Federal Reserve Expects High Profits

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Reserve Board said 1948 business profits are "likely to be larger" than in booming 1947.

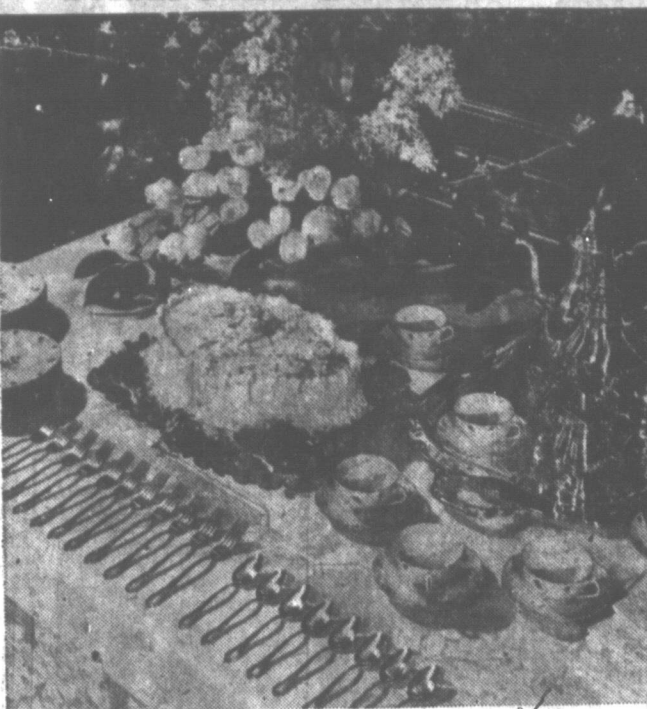

As a result, the board said in its monthly bulletin, cash dividends probably will be higher. The board also looks for undistributed profits to continue high and business borrowings through new securities and bank loans to increase.

One estimate is that the amount of salt in the world's oceans is enough to cover the United States with a layer a mile and a half deep.

Bridal Table Gleams at Home

White tulips, white lilacs and green lemon leaves on gleaming white Irish linen damask—a worthy setting for the bridal cake.

NEA Staff Writer
More June brides than ever will plan to hold their wedding receptions at home this year. Home, as a symbol of security, surrounds life's important occasions with special values. And, on the practical side, entertaining at hotels has become so expensive that the outlay for a reception might well be used for something of more lasting significance.

A home wedding reception can be as lovely in every way as one which is arranged by a professional caterer if it is kept simple and within the scope of the family's woman-power. Relatives are always eager to help and can very well take over the responsibility of arranging the wedding cake table.

The first step, of course, is the selection of the tablecloth. For richness and elegance, an Irish linen damask is traditionally first choice. It may be the cloth that the family uses for such special occasions as Thanksgiving and Christmas—beautifully laundered and ironed to a brilliant lustre. Or it may be a cloth from the bride's own trousseau chest which will be initiated now and used on each anniversary till her golden wedding—and even longer.

The next step is the arrangement of the flowers. It's a good idea to plan to place them at the corner of the table. In this way, they can be higher, more dramatic, more pictorial. Even fairly short-stemmed flowers may be arranged with height if a fruit branch or

Methodist Women Hold UN Party

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church held a United Nations party last Wednesday afternoon in Fellowship Hall. Each of the five circles represented a country in the United Nations Organization. Circle 1 served tea in recognition of China; Circle 2 served fritos for Mexico; Circle 3 as South America served fruit salad; Circle 4 served puffed rice and nuts for India and Circle 5 represented the United States with ice cream cones.

Mrs. Herman Vansichle thanked all who had helped to make the party programs and party a success. Two movie films, "Atomic Bomb" and "Border Line," were shown.

Forty-five ladies attended the party.

Miss Joyce Rhoten was honored at a miscellaneous prenuptial shower held recently in the home of Mrs. James O. Gray, 932 S. Sumner.

Co-hostesses with Mrs. Gray were Mrs. Evan Jones, Jr., and Miss Elizabeth Parnell.

Mrs. Gray received the guests and Miss Parnell served the refreshments of punch and cake.

The lace covered table was decorated with tall green and white candles in crystal holders, with a small wedding cake on one end and the crystal punch bowl at the other.

Participating in the shower were 16 friends of Miss Rhoten.

Nebraska Coeds Eat and Grow Slim

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Reporter
LINCOLN, Neb.—Here in the cornbelt renowned for pretty, healthy girls, some co-eds are proving that women can lose weight without endangering health.

They are doing it entirely on their own, merely following directions, without strict supervision. And they're reducing at the rate of more than a pound a week.

The co-eds seeking slimmness are volunteers in the latest experiment of Dr. Ruth Leverton, director of the Human Nutrition Laboratory at the University of Nebraska.

Last fall, 24 co-eds followed a nine-weeks reducing diet which took off weight but maintained health, and still gave generous satisfaction from food. The girls reduced an average of 14.1 pounds. Losses ranged from 11 to 22 pounds. At the outset they had overweight. Dr. Leverton said, 24 gave up. Two fell temporarily women's residence hall, under supervision of nutritionists. There to the acid test—whether it's their calories this time. In the first six weeks, they've lost an average of 10 pounds each, and one girl is 12 1/2 pounds lighter.

For the first five weeks, the caloric intake is cut to 1,200 daily, then boosted to 1,300 for two weeks and then later to 1,400. The daily requirement for the girls to maintain their weights would be about 2,000 or more, figured on the basis of 18 calories for every pound of ideal weight.

It takes a deficit of 3,500 calories to take off one pound of calorie cut is essential. Europeans are faring badly on 1,200 calories a day, but this is because they already were bankrupt nutritionally.

Nobody Loves Forever

By Margaretta Brucker

THE STORY: David tells Jessica he loves her. She can't still the beating of her heart. "There's another word more important than love—loyalty," she replies. Then suddenly she is telling him all about her busy and its consequences. "You made a mistake, Jessica," David insists. "You took a schoolgirl infatuation for love." He asks if he may kiss her.

XVI

LATER you could puzzle over the impulse which made you allow a man whom you had met just twice to take you in his arms and kiss you. Later you might suffer shame and humiliation at your own weakness and hate yourself for disloyalty to your husband.

Not now. At the moment nothing mattered, for you were unable to think clearly and stilled the voice of conscience by giving an excuse the bitter loneliness which you had known for three long years.

Afterward, when Jessica tried to analyze that moment, she could remember best the sun, warm on her cheeks, the endless stretch of blue sky overhead, the wind tugging her hair, and then David's eyes, so blue and intense, holding her own. She remembered the comfort of David's arms around her and her sudden wild desire to have his lips upon her own.

Then the picture became confused. David had told her that he loved her. Did she love him? How could you be certain about love? It was so easy to be mistaken. Hadn't she been mistaken in the past about her love for Tom?

She must not think of the past. David had said, "Later we'll make plans, Jessica, not now. Don't spoil this moment. Just let's be happy."

They were quiet during the return trip. The sun was sinking low as they approached the city. From time to time David bent across Betsy to meet Jessica's glance. "Sorry?" he asked.

She shook her head. No, she was not sorry. Her heart still held a touch of the heady happiness which had warmed her under David's kiss.

She let her fingers cling to his as they drove slowly through the gathering dusk. It was wonderful to be happy, to be loved and cherished, to forget a future which before had loomed threatening and dark with apprehension.

But the carefree mood had lasted only under the spell of David's smile. When he had driven away, and Jessica turned to walk with Betsy up the steps of the old gray house where she had lived since Tom went away and left her, the afternoon seemed like a dream.

As the door closed behind her and she stood in the cold dark hallway she felt imprisoned again, beset by doubts and low-spirited.

Betsy said practically, "I want my supper."

"You've had your supper, baby."

Lucy opened the kitchen door and said, "Where were you? I was worried."

Jessica removed Betsy's bonnet and coat. She followed Lucy through the kitchen door.

Lucy bustled about making hot tea, saying that her mother had gone to church and that she had stayed at home believing they might return chilled and hungry.

Lucy will be hurt when I tell her I plan to leave Tom, thought Jessica, with a touch of irritation at her own sense of guilt. Why should I bother about what Lucy thinks? I'm young. I've a right to happiness.

Lucy said, "Drink your tea." Jessica pushed the cup away. "I've had my lunch." She hurried on to explain, "We met David Gregory in the park and he insisted that we take a ride. Betsy loved it."

LUCY said nothing. She sat down, drank her tea and made no comment, but later, as they sat together in the living room, she said, "Please don't hurt Tom, Jessica."

Jessica dropped the book she had been pretending to read. "Why should you say that?"

"I know about David Gregory." "What about David Gregory?" "He works in the same office—not that I really know him."

"Gossip!" said Jessica. "Not exactly. He's handsome and successful and has had advantages Tom never had. A fine education at an Eastern college. Wealthy parents; Tom had to work to help support us."

Jessica said impatiently, "Why must you compare Tom and David Gregory? Why is it wrong for me to want to do the things other girls do who are young?" She rose and tossed her book down on the table. "I owe something to myself," she said hotly. "I was young and silly. I grant, but Tom used every argument to persuade me to marry him. Then he brushed aside any obligation to consider my happiness when he left me. Now, whatever I felt for Tom Blake is dead."

She flung herself out of the room. But later, in the dark listening to Betsy's soft, regular breathing, she remembered Tom more clearly than at any time since their marriage.

She remembered how he had let her alone when she had told him it was useless for him to love her. She remembered the day she had taken her car and gone in search of him, and how even then he had been reluctant to get in the car until she insisted he come with her.

Tom loved her then.

She sat up in bed, her fingers linked about her knees, and stared off into the darkness which shrouded the crib where Betsy slept. She had loved Tom once. Had she forgotten?

No, she thought stubbornly, I haven't forgotten. But love like that doesn't last. It's youthful infatuation and indifference to the future. David's love is quite different.

Chinese Communists Carry Doctrines Through Asia

By The Associated Press

Chinese Communists work far beyond the borders of their own country, throughout southeast Asia. This fact has been forcibly brought to the world's attention during the past week by events in Burma, Malaya, and Siam. The influence of Chinese Communists has also been demonstrated in the Philippines, and may exist in the Netherlands Indies where there is another large Chinese minority. One thing that has made this possible is the dual nationality which overseas Chinese often possess. They may be born far from China and have certain rights as nationals of the country or dependency where they were born (not always as full fledged citizens). But at the same time, they are considered Chinese by China. This facilitates the considerable travel which goes on among such Chinese to and from China. Now it becomes apparent that Chinese Communists have been doing some travelling too, and the effects are beginning to multiply. Last week it became clear that Chinese Communists have played no small part in sparking the Communist movements in Burma and Malaya, and that they may be working on Siam. From Burma, reliable reports say that the writings of Mao Tse-Tung, the Chinese Communist party chairman, are read there as widely as those of Russian Communists. Chinese Communists who led the anti-Japanese resistance in Malaya kept their arms after V-J Day. They now are said to be behind the wave of terrorism which last week swept Malayan rubber plantations and spread to the tin mining districts. Much of the labor in such places is Chinese. Siam has been trying to keep Chinese Communists from crossing her border from Malaya, and last week the government raided Chinese secret societies, some of them Communist, in the capital at Bangkok. In Nanking, the Chinese government is worried about a second Communist front developing to the south. Whether this spread of Chinese Communist influence beyond China's own confines is due to a planned design, as is probable, remains unproved. There is no doubt that lucky accidents have helped it—like dual Chinese nationality and the fact that it has had the poorest, least developed, and therefore ripest half of humanity to work on.

RESEARCH DISPOSES OF ANOTHER PUBLIC OPINION FALLACY (The Chicago Journal of Commerce) By Wilbur J. Gross

You hear it said with increasing frequency these days that if voluntary public health plans fail, labor unions and other groups are going to press demands for some form of government medical insurance.

They discovered that for all income groups expenditures for recreation, tobacco and alcohol, exceeded expenditures for medical care. Recreational spending took a higher proportion of income as available funds increased.

From the wealth of detail gathered by the Bachman-Meriam team, much of it from government sources, it is apparent that by far the great majority of consumer units have the capacity to pay for medical care...

Statistically at least, the argument that most families in the income groups for which labor unions are most concerned ($1,000 to $3,000 a year) can't afford medical care has no basis.

The real question with respect to public health insurance is whether the government should or should not undertake to compel the individual to give top budget priority to medical care.

There is an old saying that you must travel the road to success one step at a time. You can't always see the way clear to the end of the road.

NEW YORK (AP) - Fear has a home in you. It has a home in every man.

Fear is a color - yellow. Fear has a taste - and men in war know its acid flavor.

People who live in big cities have fears all their own. These fears came with the cities, and will pass perhaps only when the cities are gone.

One of the strangest big-city fears is that of being hit by something falling. It is a fear that becomes stronger with the person the longer they live amid Manhattan's high canyon walls.

What could hurt them? Icicles crashing down hundreds of feet from skyscraper towers in winter. A window washer's bucket slipping from a ledge.

There is a long chance here that a person afraid to live can hurtle down in a suicidal plunge and kill someone below who is afraid to die.

The fear here isn't what your neighbor may think of you, but rather that he'll try to become friendly - and expect something from you.

But the fear of fears in this market pangs of the world, where every kind of talent seeks a buyer, is the fear of failure - the fear of falling behind the mob that clamors for what you seek.

Pearl Curator COLLEGE STATION - What is a pearl and what makes it click; where are some of the most beautiful pearls found?

H. B. Parks, Curator of the Tracy Herbarium, Texas A&M, has the answer. "A pearl," Curator Parks points out, "is a small particle of some foreign material which has been introduced inside the shell of the mussel containing the hard part and that part of the mussel called the mantle."

Some of the most beautiful pearls ever found came from fresh water mussels," Parks says.

The mantle (part of the mussel) secretes the pearl material and covers the little foreign object. The longer the object remains within the mantle itself the larger will be the covering of the pearl material," he points out.

"In most cases, however, the foreign object becomes attached to the outside shell and becomes a pearl covered knot on the inside of a pearl shell."

TAX SURVEY

(Continued from Page 1) as well as increases, compared with last year's tax rolls. In some instances, different from those picked here as examples, a valuation increase has been due to a rise in land values. In other cases, property is now appearing on the rolls for the first time. In all cases, whether the increases or decreases in value have been great or small, all buildings of the same type construction are valued on the same basis, and valuation is placed on as scientific a basis as possible.

Three business buildings in the downtown area were next chosen as examples for comparison between this year's and last year's valuations. It must be remembered that all figures given here and in the examples above, while accurate, are not official.

The Combs-Worley Building, occupying the west 100 feet of Lots 1, 2, 3, and 4, of Block 23, of the Original Town of Pampa, was valued last year at $121,000, on which a city tax of $2,117.50 was paid.

This business building of structural steel, brick and stucco, with stone facing on the ground floor, is in 80 percent good condition and is valued at $6.75 per square foot. The land carries an additional

Sunray and Cactus Spray With DDT

Sunray, the Cactus Ordinance Plant, and the Armstrong Cabot Camp were sprayed today with the city's new DDT fog applicator, Ray Salmon's city health officer, said today. The new DDT machine has been rented to Follett, Lipscomb, Doherty, Dumas, McLean, Lefors, and Higgins this summer in the city's campaign to make the machine available to surrounding towns in an effort to eliminate the menace of flies and mosquitoes and to reduce the danger of polio.

Beginning at the end of this week, Pampa will be sprayed again, making the third time in this summer, Salmon said. The third spraying will be done earlier than planned originally because the recent rain washed away some of the residual DDT left from the previous spraying.

Valuation because of its corner location. The building and lot are valued at $182,695, of which 75 percent, or $137,021, is taken for taxation purposes.

Lots 11 and 12, Block 6, Original Survey, is occupied by a two-story business building that was valued last year at $24,750, on which a city tax of $433.13 was paid.

The construction of this brick building, in 80 percent good condition, places it in Class 1, valued at $39.50 per square foot. The fully completed basement, used for business purposes, and a hotel on the second floor increase the valuation, as does the corner location. The taxable valuation of this property, including the land, is $39,150, which is three-fourths of the total value of $52,200.

The third business building chosen for comparison occupies Lots 11 and 12, Block 6, South Side Addition.

This is a two-story concrete and brick building, also with a hotel on the second floor, and it was given a valuation last year of $13,200, on which a city tax of $231 was paid.

This building also has a corner location, and its value is computed in its present 80 percent good condition, at $3 per square foot. The total valuation, which includes the land, is $29,780, of which $22,335 will be used for taxation purposes.

Jury Hearing in Contested Will Continues

The jury hearing in the Estate of Howard Hudgins (deceased) entered its second day this morning after starting at 3 p.m. yesterday following a three-hour jury selection delay.

The case arising out of Hudgins' bequest of 79 acres of land to Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McInturff, was brought into court by Harvey Hudgins' Shamrock, son of the late Howard Hudgins, on the grounds that his father was unduly influenced and was not mentally responsible for his actions at the time of the will's writing.

First to take the stand for the proponents was County Clerk Charlie Thut who signed the will on July 3, 1946, as a witness, and later filed it with the probate court. Thut was asked in direct and cross examination whether Hudgins was intoxicated at the time he signed the will, or if he had been drinking prior to the signing of the will. Thut answered that while Hudgins seemed to be in all health he showed no signs of intoxication or signs of earlier drinking.

Hudgins' purchases of whiskey and his drinking habits developed into a major part of the case with the opponents of the will at the hearing. Thut was asked in direct and cross examination whether Hudgins was under the influence of intoxicants most of time during the latter months of his life and at the time of the signing of the will.

Walter Rogers, chief counsel for Harvey Hudgins, executor and opponent of the will, entered into evidence a nine-month liquor bill presented the estate by the Union Liquor Store on W. Brown St. that showed daily purchases of whiskey from August 23, 1946, to May 28, 1947, amounting to $1,585.25 of which $500 had been paid.

Attorney Arthur Teed, chief counsel for the proponents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. McInturff, brought into testimony that they had taken care of Hudgins for almost two years prior to his death in Pampa on June 17, 1947.

Accounts and cancelled checks were entered into testimony to show money spent by Hudgins during the two year period the McInturffs resided with him.

Mrs. McInturff this morning denied that she had ever attempted to influence Hudgins in making his will. Her husband also denied the same charge and added that he never knew Hudgins intended to leave him anything.

Harvey Hudgins, on the stand late yesterday afternoon, declared his father had spent over $20,000 in the two last years of his life and that he only knew where some of it went - to purchase property, an automobile and a large amount he had given to some other party.

Hudgins stipulated in his will that he did not want his daughter-in-law, Harvey Hudgins' wife, to share in any way or make any profit by his estate, and that he was leaving the property to the McInturffs because they "took care of me and she wouldn't."

Up until this morning Mr. and Mrs. McInturff, Harvey Hudgins and Charlie Thut were called on the stand.

CONVENTION

(Continued from Page 1) trumpeted that only the Republicans can win back the peace he said the Democrats have lost.

Mrs. Clara Booth Luce, an open router for the Vandenberg candidacy, tabbed Mr. Truman as "a gone goose." But she was glad, the former congresswoman said, that the country doesn't have a "Red Hank Wallace" in the White House instead.

The briefing speech by the former congressman House member brought the convention's first-day formalities to a close.

Damage Slight As Cars Collide

An accident which did about $50 damage to one vehicle and very slight damage to the other occurred at 6:20 p.m. Monday on W. Foster a half block east of Ward.

The collision involved a 1941 Ford coupe, driven by a woman who gave her name to investigating officers as Mrs. Loredith Abbott Lafferty, and a 1941 Chevrolet truck. The truck driver gave his name to police as Joe A. Nabors, 111 N. West.

The cars came in collision when the truck attempted to make a right turn into the alley a half block east of Ward. According to the police report, Mrs. Lafferty misunderstood Nabors' arm signal as meaning a left turn and she attempted to pass him on the right.

Damages were estimated at $50 to the coupe and $2.25 to the truck. No one was injured.
