Washington's plain-spoken and at times bluntly worded bid for "decent and reasonable relations" with Russia is a historic experiment which may at least produce some clarification of Moscow's intentions.

American Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith has told Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov that "as far as the United States is concerned, the door is always open for full discussion and the composing of our differences."

What Smith said originally was that it was hoped to find the basis of a "decent and reasonable relationship" between the Soviet and American people.

Most of State Receives Rain; Bonham Visited by Downpour

By the Associated Press
Rain ranging from showers to gully washers fell over a wide area of Texas during the night, causing damage in a few spots but on the whole being of great benefit to thirty ranges and crops.

While Bonham in North Texas was recovering from a flood threat caused by yesterday's 6.30-inch downpour, Dallas and Corsicana got early morning drenchings that flooded many streets and low areas.

The rain belt extended from the Panhandle through Abilene and San Angelo and Wichita Falls in West Texas and on to the Louisiana line. No rain was reported along the coast and the Rio Grande Valley.

Rain continued falling in many places today. Early morning readings included: Hereford, .33; Vega, .41; Amarillo, .15; Abilene, .79 and still raining; San Angelo, .58; Fort Worth, .30 and still raining; Lubbock, .25; Texarkana, 1.79; Tyler, .10; Waco, .10 and raining; Austin, light overnight showers.

In the Bonham area, cotton and corn plants were damaged by yesterday's all-day downpour. Bois d'Arc Creek, just east of town, was half a mile wide in places. Highway and rail bridges were threatened for a time. Two creeks in the city limits overflowed into nearly a score of homes and flooded a number of streets and low areas.

A light rain fell at Bonham during the night, bringing the total rainfall for the past 24 hours to seven inches. A drizzle continued there today.

Yesterday's rain was heavy all along the Red River from northwest of Wichita Falls to Texas-kana.

Some damage was feared for the cotton crop in the Greenville area. More than two inches fell at Greenville yesterday within two hours.

Work Set on Local Plant

A modernization program for the Cities Service Oil Co.'s Pampa, natural gasoline plant has been announced by A. W. Ambrose, president. Design and erection of the new facilities will be handled by Walco Engineering and Construction Co. of Tulsa.

In re-designing the plant, provisions were made to ultimately process 18,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily. The Cities Service plant will be one of two that will boost, treat and dehydrate the gas supplied to the West Pampa Refining Assn.'s secondary recovery project in the area.

The program will include the expansion of compressor capacity with the addition of approximately 2600 horsepower, installation of absorbers that will operate at 500 pounds pressure, new distillation equipment and cooling facilities, new fractionators and treating facilities, a boiler plant, water treating plant, gas treaters, gas dehydrators and additional high-pressure storage for liquid hydrocarbons.

Einaudi May Lead Italy

ROME—(AP)—Vice-Premier Luigi Einaudi emerged today as the leading contender for the presidency of the new Italian republic.

Einaudi, 74, backed by the dominant Christian Democratic Party, is a political independent. He is budget minister and governor of the Bank of Italy.

On the third ballot of a joint session of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, Einaudi received 462 votes. The constitution provides that if the first three ballots are unsuccessful a simple majority rules on the fourth.

Foreign Minister Carlo Strozzi, one of the Communists, withdrew from the race last night after a day of huddling and two unsuccessful ballots.

Provisional President Enrico De Nicola, who had the support of the Communist-led Popular Front, had been ahead on the first ballot. De Nicola already has announced his wish to retire.

History of Panhandle Is Told Students

Miss Laura V. Hamner of Amarillo, Panhandle historian and journalist, spoke to more than 250 seventh grade students and their guests in the Junior High School Auditorium yesterday afternoon on various aspects of Panhandle history.

Miss Hamner outlined the early conditions of the Panhandle; the days of the Indians and the vast herds of buffalo; to compare them with today.

She also told of the difficulties of the early farmers. Most of them, she said, came here from comparatively rich farming country farther east, and it took them many years to learn the techniques of dry-land farming.

With the coming of the railroads and the farmers, the more robust phases of Panhandle life passed away, and living conditions began to resemble modern and more what is found here today.

The men will return this evening.

During the years starting discoveries have been made concerning color, its effect on our lives, our work, our frame of mind and our moods.

Light colors and tints convey an impression of youth and gaiety while dark colors are sedate, mature and dignified.

The wrong colors can make you look common, too big, too small, or too dressed up.

"Whatever you wear," Mrs. Ellis said, "you are not fully dressed unless you wear a smile."

Easy Steps to Furniture Care

HIGH REPLACEMENT costs of furniture today makes care of our household furnishings especially important.

Regular shampooing for upholstered furniture and polishing and waxing for wood furniture, pays rich dividends.

Furniture that is used daily is subject to blemishes and scars that should receive immediate attention. Sometimes professional treatment is required. But most of these minor repairs can be made by any homemaker.

A bottle of carbon tetrachloride is your best friend for spots and stains on upholstered furniture. This has little or no effect on fibers or color of the fabric. However, it is always best to test the upholstery in an inconspicuous spot before proceeding.

Moisten a clean soft cloth to sponge the spot, working from the outside of the spot toward the center. After each application blot with a clean white blotter or absorbent cloth, to take up the dirt.

Cleaning fluids with a carbon tetrachloride base are particularly effective for grease or oil spots.

Wood furniture surfaces damaged by white water marks, alcohol stains, heat marks, scratches and occasional burns should be treated as promptly as possible.

White watermarks may be removed from a waxed surface by removing the old wax (do this by applying bottled liquid wax freely and wiping up white still wet). Then apply a fresh coat of wax.

For other finishes wring a cloth out of water to which a few drops of bottled ammonia have been added and rub spot lightly.

Alcohol stains from perfumes, beverages or medicine should be wiped up immediately with an oiled cloth. If stains have been neglected apply a mixture of rottenstone or powdered pumice and bottled lemon oil.

Rub on with a circular motion, wiping up immediately with a cloth moistened with lemon oil. Wipe dry with a clean soft cloth and polish.

For heat marks on varnish or shellac finishes call on the camphor bottle from your medicine cabinet. Rub on with a damp

DUSTLESS DUSTER
To make a dustless duster for daily use, pour two tablespoons of furniture polish or liquid glass into a glass jar. Swish it around until the entire inside of the jar is coated, then pour out the remaining polish or wax. Put a piece of chamois in the jar and allow it to stand for a few days. At the end of this time the cloth will have absorbed the polish evenly. After the dustcloth has become soiled wash it and repeat the process. Be careful to keep the cloth away from wallpaper as it will leave an oily stain.

THE STORY: Patience Mead, lately brought up by two maiden aunts, is in love with Paul Taylor, whose her aunts have forbidden her to see because they think she is a commoner. Patience has been properly introduced, Charlotte, Patience's twin sister who has just come from school, to a stage show celebrating a show in London. She invites Patience to spend a day with her, dress her smartly from her own wardrobe. Patience meets Roger Dickson, popular actor and Charlotte's boyfriend, the next day again. They are in a stage box with Roger Dickson, who sees Paul in the audience.

XVIII
PATIENCE forced Paul from her mind. She wanted to concentrate all her attention on the performance that was now starting. The setting was an Alpine village. There was a back cloth of mountains, white with snow, the sun just rising above them. Dawn was breaking as a party of revelers were trooping home, dancing as they went, singing gay lilting songs. Patience watched spell-bound as scene followed scene. And then at last it was almost time for Charlotte's entrance. Roger whispered: "She'll be on in a moment." Patience saw as she moved forward in her chair, her hands gripping the front of the box. The chorus was fading through the various exits. The stage was bare. The music subsided and then rose and swelled again in a galaxy of sound and there came Charlotte with Carl Brunner, her partner, the lights focused on them. Patience held her breath. She thought she'd never seen anyone more beautiful. And then, involuntarily, she hoped Aunt Helen and Aunt Alice wouldn't insist on coming to see her. For Charlotte was wearing so little.

The briefest chiffon draperies. They were lovely, but her aunts most certainly wouldn't approve. But now watching her, Patience forgot her aunts, forgot everyone and everything but Charlotte. Her dancing was exquisite. Never had she seen anyone so graceful, so full of the very essence of music and poetry. At last it was over. The audience thundered their applause. Patience clapped till her hands were sore with clapping. "Like it?" asked Roger, smiling at her excitement. "It's wonderful." "She'll be on again in the second act."

DURING the interval they went into the bar to try and get drinks. There was a host of people wanting to talk to Roger. Smiling at Patience in the friendliest way as he introduced her. This is Charlotte's sister. Some of them said that they didn't know Charlotte had one. And others that they'd heard about her. And all of them: "It's astonishing how like you are to her." She glanced around from time to time for Paul, but he was nowhere to be seen. A bell rang in the bar and people began to move back into the theater. Paul, Patience saw as she re-entered the box, was already in his seat. But he didn't so much as glance in her direction. And now once more the lights dimmed and the curtains parted. The second act began. When Charlotte came on again, Patience drew her chair just a little more forward. She wanted to see it all. Not miss one single movement. This time Charlotte was dressed as a Spanish gypsy. Patience thought that maybe if her aunts missed the first act and arrived in time for the second then possibly

NEW YORK WALL STREET
The stock market maintained its equilibrium fairly well today despite the labor horizon. Dealings were active at intervals with low-quoted issues inclined to monopolize the ticker tape. The fall proceedings ran to around 1,600,000 shares. Commonwealth and Southern came out on an $8,000 share block, unchanged at 3, but subsequently advanced a trifle to a 1945 peak. Trucking, high for the year over Western Union, Rooney and Sinclair Oil. Occasional stumblers included Chesapeake and Ohio, Standard Oil (N.J.), International Tractor, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, Rohm and Haas, U. S. Gypsum and American Tobacco. In the resistant area were Chrysler, U. S. Steel, Studebaker, Goodyear, Santa Fe, Central Railroad of N. J., Northern Pacific, General Motors, International Harvester, John Deere and Phelps Dodge. Bonds were uneven. Grain and cotton futures hardened.

Reds, Blocked Momentarily In Europe, Turn to Asia

By JOHN FISHER The Chinese Red Army has commenced its spring drive in the north. Thaw has released ports and airfields to Nationalist troops...

Up to now it has been civil war, a continuation of a bitter, doctrinaire ideological conflict which began in 1927. The United States embassy has no proof of intervention by Stalin's military forces...

But there is evidence of great Russian support for Mao Tse-tung. His older generals were taught guerrilla tactics in Moscow. Soviet experts are training young Chinese officers in Manchuria...

At the surrender of Japan, Chinese Red soldiers were allowed to acquire captured enemy war material. Now Russia is supplying them with Japanese and German arms in exchange for beans and wheat.

EVERYTHING SHORT OF WAR Although the Soviet Army itself is not involved, the Kremlin appears determined to do everything short of direct interference to guarantee victory for its Chinese satellites.

Yet in talks which I have had with American officials from Asia, I find them optimistic about the long-range future.

"China's greatest asset," declared one, "is the amazing virility of her masses. They have a genius for adjusting themselves to storm. They are down but not out."

"The Communists have seized millions of villages but, with the exception of Harbin, they have not succeeded in taking over big cities. They have been up the backs of the South Manchurian and Peking-Mukden railroads. But trains are running as well as in prewar days south of the Yangtze River and highways are nearly repaired."

"Great areas in the west and south are outside the war zone. Even here have been up the backs of the South Manchurian and Peking-Mukden railroads. But trains are running as well as in prewar days south of the Yangtze River and highways are nearly repaired."

"In my two score years in China, dating back to the war lords, I have observed that always before a critical overturn whole armies and entire provinces have changed sides almost overnight. None has done so in the war with Communism. Territories have been given up only after stubborn fighting. Give the New China a chance and Asia will not fall into Russia's greedy hands."

STRONG INDUCEMENTS ARE OFFERED Russian influence in Chinese affairs is of long duration. The Communists have not only...

It would be folly to assume that the Soviet government does not have a plan of action, peaceful and otherwise, for every continent on earth. The evidence is too strong to the contrary. It would be equal folly to trust that Premier Stalin would abandon that plan because of mere arguments or appeals.

Chamberlain sat down and talked things over with Hitler at Berchtesgaden. Chamberlain and Hitler talked things over again with Hitler at Munich. Hitler made a mockery of his promises in both cases. If Winston Churchill points out the two men had confronted Hitler with the strength that their aroused, alert and prepared nations might have given them, the story would probably have been different.

America and free Europe love peace and want peace even more than England and France did in 1938. For they have just come through a war whose horror and burden make World War I seem pale by comparison. But America is wise enough now to take steps to avoid the mistakes of the complacent Thirties.

After San Francisco, Culbertson organized CCUNR Citizens Committee for United Nations Reform...

In the first year, Culbertson made about 100 talks in Middletown, Texas...

Everybody laughed when Culbertson showed up at the San Francisco Conference to draft the UN Charter three years ago. "There were 2000 official civilian consultants at San Francisco," says Culbertson. "I was the unofficial consultant."

He had written a book about it. He said at San Francisco that the Charter adopted wouldn't work. He thinks events since then have proved him right. There were three principal things wrong.

The three things proposed to correct them make up the ABC plan for UN reform: A - Eliminate the Security Council veto on all matters relating to aggression, armaments or admission to the UN. B - Control atomic weapons as proposed by the United States and limit heavy armaments by a Quota Force Plan (QFP) giving the U. S., U. K. and USSR each 20 percent, China and France each 10 percent, and all others a total of 20 percent.

C - Establish an effective world police force made up of volunteers from small nations and their heavy arms, backed by reserves of the five major powers.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLLES "Religion and the Rise of Capitalism"

I want to quote further from the timely book "Religion and the Rise of Capitalism" by R. H. Tawney. The book has much to say about how people finally came to believe that receiving interest was not a violation of God's law.

The book as a whole is not too complimentary, by any means, to the religious organized church. I quote: "The disappearance of serfdom... and, after all, it did not disappear from France till late in the eighteenth century, and from Germany till the nineteenth... was part of a general economic movement, with which the Church had little to do, and which churchmen, as property-owners, had sometimes resisted. It owed less to Christianity than to the humanitarian liberalism of the French Revolution."

The truth was that the very triumph of the Church closed its mouth. The Church of the third century, a minority of believers confronted with an alien civilization, might protest and criticize. But when the whole heaven was mixed with the lump, when the Church was regarded, not as a society, but as society itself, it was inevitably diluted by the mass which it absorbed. The result was a compromise—a compromise of which the critic can say: "How much that was intolerable was accepted?" and the eulogist, "How much that was intolerable was softened?"

Case of Prosperity The author relates what caused the prosperity in Antwerp. He quotes a letter of the foreign merchants at Antwerp to Philip II in protest against an attempt to interfere with the liberty of exchange transactions. No one can deny that the cause of the prosperity of this city is the freedom granted to those who trade there.

Then the author goes on to say: "Swept into wealth on the crest of a wave of swiftly expanding enterprise, which a century before would have seemed the wildest of fantasies, the liberal bourgeoisie of Antwerp pursued, in the teeth of all precedents, a policy of practical individualism, which would have been met in any other city by rebellion, making terms with the levelling encroachments of the Burgundian monarchy, which were fought by their more conservative neighbors, lowering-larks and not yellow. The result was a compromise—a compromise of which the critic can say: "How much that was intolerable was accepted?" and the eulogist, "How much that was intolerable was softened?"

A. T. of Columbus, O., for instance, asks how many Roosevelt New Dealers have cast their lot with the leader of the third party. Several questioners want to know whether Mr. Wallace served in World Wars I or II.

Answer: A careful check of Mr. Wallace's supporters shows that only a few members of the official Roosevelt family remain in his camp. The only ones I can discover are Rexford Guy Tugwell, former undersecretary of agriculture and later governor of Porto Rico; Lee Pressman, chief with Agriculture; and subsequently counsel for the CIO; Clarke Foreman, an erstwhile Ike aide in Interior; and C. B. (Beaky) Baldwin, another Wallace subordinate in the D. of A.

WARNED - He has few of the prominent labor leaders who usually endorsed FDR privately or publicly. The most outstanding is Harry Bridges. Such well-known members of the colored race as Singer Paul Robeson and Joe Louis back him, but the best of the colored race, Walter White of the National Association for the Advancement of the Colored People, has warned that votes for Mr. Wallace would only help to elect "reactionary Republicans."

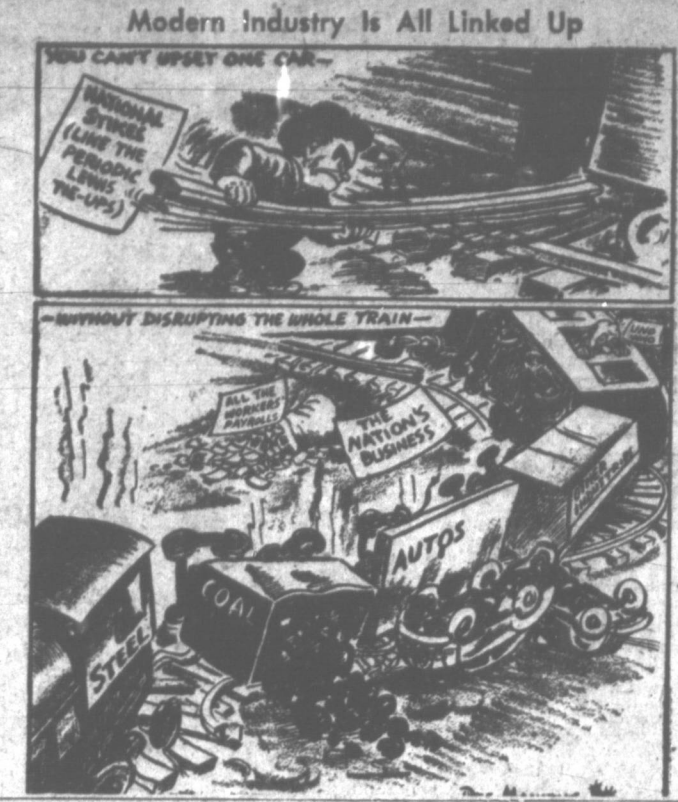

None of the leading newspapers that preferred FDR to any of his four opponents have declared for the Iowan. His principal journalistic reinforcement comes from the Communist Party's Daily Worker in New York.

Many of Mr. Wallace's old converts have turned back to the fold. He has a religious freedom normally means the freedom of the state to prescribe religion, not the freedom of the individual to worship God as he pleases. The assertion of economic liberty as a natural right comes at the close of a period in which a religious phraseology was retained and religious interpretation of social institutions was often sincerely held, the supernatural sanction doctrines based on reasons of state and public expediency. Jerusalem stands not for the City and the State only... nor for the Temple and the Church only, but jointly for both. In identifying the maintenance of public morality with the spasmodic activities of an incompetent Government, the Church had built its house upon the sand. It did not require prophetic gifts to foresee that the fall of the City would be followed by the destruction of the Temple."

Would that our religious leaders now could see that the growth of the state is interfering with human initiative and in the end means the loss of the rights of men to worship their God unmolested. (To be continued.)

FUNNY BUSINESS BY HERSHBERGER

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER friends have expressed sympathy for most of his views on economic and social problems, but they confess that they cannot agree with or stomach his pro-Russian policy. They think that he has permitted his bitterness toward President Truman to lead him astray on foreign issues.

Mr. Wallace did not serve in either conflict. An editor of his father's farm paper and supervisor of agricultural activities, he was deemed an essential worker in 1917.

IGNORE - "Do the brass hats in the Republican Party," inquires H. P. of Houston, Tex., "think Harry Dansey ignores Stassen, he will disappear? After a man in three separate tests has made an unbelievable record and leads in the latest public poll on the most popular candidate, can the party leaders have the audacity to ignore him?"

Do not like Mr. Stassen, as I have frequently reported, and they are inclined to discount his primary showing. And they have "ignored" more distinguished figures than the "brass hats" of the party. The doer of the primaries in 1912, was the idol of the Progressives, but was discarded by the slate-makers. Hiram W. Johnson won six primaries in 1920, and General Leonard Wood carried five, but Harry Dansey manipulated the machinery so that the prize fell to the comparatively unknown Senator Warren G. Harding of Ohio.

CONTROLLED - Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft were the bell-ringers in the 1940 pre-convention contests but Wendell Willkie stole the nomination from under their noses.

Mr. Stassen's great asset seems to be that, if the back-room bosses of the Republican club defeat the White Deer Lions Club, to the community for its pleasure and recreation. He was introduced by Emmitt Smith, president of the club.

The White Deer band then played "America" and "Mister and Spangled Banner." Fred Mullings introduced the lineup of the teams.

The Skellytown Grade School boys defeated the White Deer Grade School boys, 20 to 3; and the Skelly-Scholar team defeated the White Deer adult team, 9 to 7. Preparation of this softball field has been one of the major projects of the Lions Club. They have leveled the ground, lined the field, constructed a good backstop, and provided good lighting for night games.

Several teams have already been organized, and others are being planned to furnish recreation for the summer months.

ATTITUDE - L. H. J. of Seattle expresses with uncanny accuracy the attitude of most Republicans toward the galloping Minuteman. Sitting on a divan in House and Senate anterooms and behind the scenes of the White House, he has heard almost the same words. He writes: "The conservative forces are being challenged by two mavericks, Wallace and Stassen. Stassen is a Republican what Wallace is to the Democrats. He is a New Dealer in Republican clothing, whereas Wallace is a Moscow stooge in Democratic clothing."

"It is ironic that the Republican, after fighting the New Deal for sixteen years, should now, at their first opportunity at the White House, be in danger of choosing a New Dealer as their candidate."

EXPERIMENT - J. M. W. of Nashua, N. H., anticipates that the United States will follow Britain into socialization of industry, and asks whether the government should pay the stockholders of businesses taken over, confiscates them or just drives them out by regulation, forcing them to sell out or close up.

ANSWER: The British pattern has been for the government to issue interest-bearing bonds to private owners of socialized industries. Some Labor Party members have complained that the rate of return allowed was higher than had been earned under private management. This was especially true with respect to the Bank of England.

Although many people think the U. S. has taken tremendous strides toward a mild form of socialism - T. V. A., business and financial controls, government subsidies, unemployment and old-age insurance etc. - J. M. W. seems too pessimistic for the future.

It is easier to establish socialism or a kindred economic system in a small, homogeneous country like England than it would be here. Moreover, many members of the Attlee ministry now concede publicly that they have plunged ahead into their experiment too fast and too far.

BOMB - Several readers have asked if they can obtain copies of the Dr. E. R. Lapp Bulletin on Atomic Scientists article on the effect of an atomic bomb dropped over Washington, D. C. - L. informs me that he has a few copies - a little demand may lead to pamphlet republication.

ATTITUDE - L. H. J. of Seattle expresses with uncanny accuracy the attitude of most Republicans toward the galloping Minuteman. Sitting on a divan in House and Senate anterooms and behind the scenes of the White House, he has heard almost the same words. He writes: "The conservative forces are being challenged by two mavericks, Wallace and Stassen. Stassen is a Republican what Wallace is to the Democrats. He is a New Dealer in Republican clothing, whereas Wallace is a Moscow stooge in Democratic clothing."

"It is ironic that the Republican, after fighting the New Deal for sixteen years, should now, at their first opportunity at the White House, be in danger of choosing a New Dealer as their candidate."

EXPERIMENT - J. M. W. of Nashua, N. H., anticipates that the United States will follow Britain into socialization of industry, and asks whether the government should pay the stockholders of businesses taken over, confiscates them or just drives them out by regulation, forcing them to sell out or close up.

ANSWER: The British pattern has been for the government to issue interest-bearing bonds to private owners of socialized industries. Some Labor Party members have complained that the rate of return allowed was higher than had been earned under private management. This was especially true with respect to the Bank of England.

Although many people think the U. S. has taken tremendous strides toward a mild form of socialism - T. V. A., business and financial controls, government subsidies, unemployment and old-age insurance etc. - J. M. W. seems too pessimistic for the future.

It is easier to establish socialism or a kindred economic system in a small, homogeneous country like England than it would be here. Moreover, many members of the Attlee ministry now concede publicly that they have plunged ahead into their experiment too fast and too far.

BOMB - Several readers have asked if they can obtain copies of the Dr. E. R. Lapp Bulletin on Atomic Scientists article on the effect of an atomic bomb dropped over Washington, D. C. - L. informs me that he has a few copies - a little demand may lead to pamphlet republication.

Letors LEFORS - (Special) - Mrs. Elvis Mathis was hostess to the Mary-Martha Sunday School class May 6. Refreshments were served following the program. Present were Mesdames L. V. Foster, E. W. Ammons, Duwood Lewis, Florence, Bud Cumberland, C. W. Cannon, M. A. Hixon, and Lucille Penington. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Lewis.

Miami MIAMI - (Special) - Mrs. George Stanley of Shamrock was guest speaker for the Child's Study Club recently and reviewed "Home for Christmas," by Lloyd C. Douglas.

The text was held at the Methodist Church in Fellowship Hall, and lovely appointments of crystal and flowers were used at the refreshment table, where cookies and punch were served, to a large number of women in attendance.

The review was given in the main auditorium of the church and the speaker, Mrs. Stanley was introduced by Mrs. W. D. Allen. The review was highly enjoyable and appreciated very much by everyone. The book is a human interest story and rich in pathos, humor and description.

A large number of ladies attended. A silver-ware offering went for the Roberts County Library Fund.

Ervin M. Schnitz, conservationist for this district, lectured and showed a technicolor sound picture last Tuesday concerning soil conservation work over the United States.

He stated that average depth of the soil over our state which was once nine inches has been reduced to six inches because of washing and blowing, and conserving the soil, we have left in very important for the present and future generations.

Forty-eight members and guests were present at the Men's Service Club program.

The Nation's Press From McLean (Tex) News WHERE ARE WE GOING? The following remarks are excerpts from a pamphlet recently published by the Council of Texas Retailers' Associations of Texas and which The News deems a worthy publication here:

There is a crying need today for more facts on governmental questions and less propaganda.

Here are some facts which show the dangerous pace we have developed in spending the taxpayers' money. These facts in the hands of an thinking citizen will cause that citizen to realize it is time to put on the brakes.

The last legislature authorized expenditures in Texas for the fiscal year which ends August 31, 1948, of 388 million dollars and authorizations to spend for the next fiscal year are approximately the same. Now just how much money is 388 million dollars?

To begin with this is 192 million dollars more than the state was spending when we entered World War II. It is 100 million dollars more than the combined capital, surplus and undivided profits of all national banks in Texas. It is more than the value of the 1948 cotton crop of Texas.

Can anyone question the fact that when public expenditures rise to this high plane we are in a dangerous ground?

Does this vast expenditure mean that the money is being spent for unworthy causes? Does it mean that there is no merit in the request for this vast expenditure of public funds?

The answer to both these questions is, NO. There is, of course, waste and extravagance in some expenditures but primarily the trouble lies in this fact, during the last fifteen years of easy money, during these days when the people have developed a habit of asking the government to supply all their wants, as well as their needs, they have forgotten the fundamental fact that no government has ever been able to buy and pay for all the worthwhile services the people are ready to accept.

Economy in government can come in one way and one only and that is, for us to begin first to ask the question: Are we able to pay for the government service? Then ask the question, whether or not it is a desirable service which the government should furnish. We are headed for bankruptcy if we continue to spend all the public money the people ask for, unless the people begin to realize that what we spend sooner or later must be paid for.

There is another lesson we must learn and that is, there are many taxes, many governmental units, but after all there is only one source of revenue and that is, the taxpayer.

Gracie Reports By GRACIE ALLEN Well, I see that a professor of architecture at the University of Oklahoma has built a new type house which makes you feel you're outdoors when you're really inside.

A novel idea, but I think that in view of the continued housing shortage, it would be a lot better, for someone to design human beings who will feel they're indoors then they're outdoors.

Anyway, this novel inside-out house has a rock garden, lagoon, waterfall and orchids growing all over the inside. It doesn't sound very cozy to me. I have enough trouble without trying to keep the children from sliding down the waterfall and George from dropping creek ashes on the orchids.

And as for lagoons, I love butterflies, but if a mama butterfly wants to raise a family, she can just build her lagoon outside the house the same as all the others do.

America now is at the most critical stage in the world race to develop nuclear power. We dare not lose this race of world leadership.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — The Marx Brothers are being cagey about it, but you can bet that the biggest piece of their entire careers will be their own life story, one whole of a yarn. When they film it, I hope they include that encounter with Eddie Cantor in Boston when he was starring there in "Whoopie."

Eddie gave them four tickets to the show. Came time for the performance and four old-headed gents the Marxes had hired showed up with the tickets, sat down and read newspapers all thru the show.

Singer Helen Forrest's hubby, swimming champ Paul Holahan, will be tested for Tarzan. Cara Williams and Gene Wesson can't tie that matrimonial knot until her divorce from jockey Allan Gray becomes final June 2. More evidence that it's a buyers' market in film entertainment. Title of "A Miracle Can Happen" has been switched to "On Our Merry Way" to indicate more readily the rip-roaring comedy that it is. . . . Clark Gable's favorite dinner topic is his plan to retire from the screen and enjoy pipe, slippers and a frau. Probably in a couple of years.

IS IT A 1948 MODEL?
 Talking about a certain star who likes to impress people, John De Palma quipped: "He's got a limousine so long as he has a built-in undercarriage for cars going the other way."

During the darkest moments of the recent Hollywood panic (what do I mean, recent?) Two agents met. "How's business?" asked one. "Great," said the other. "I caught six halibut on the Santa Monica pier yesterday."

Michael Kirby, the ice-skating star who will play the lead opposite Sonja Henie in "Countess Monte Cristo," gets a good heritage. Ty Power, Richard Greene and John Payne all had roles opposite Sonja that were stepping stones to stardom. . . . Gene Tierney, who just reconciled with Count Oleg Cassini, falls in love with another (Richard Greene) in her new movie, "That Wonderful Urge."

Dancer Igor, husband of Ann Dvorak, almost slipped an insulting patron at Slapsy Maxie's. Agent Al Morris kept them apart until four hours later. Things down. . . . RKO is looking for a private detective story for Bob Preston. They think he has the makings of one of the screen's smoothest tough guys.

Hollywood's latest headache is the threat of an actors' strike. The Screen Actors Guild and the producers are haggling, so far.

Everybody Has to Get Into the Act

With their mother needed for a New York modeling job, these six children decide they're going to lend modeling, too. Mrs. Thomas Moran, 26, of Cleveland, O., was called to New York by a famous model agency, but waited until they said to bring the family. With Mary, six months, on her lap, she coaches Terry, 3; Patrick, 4; Dennis, 6; Jackie, 7, and Tommy, 8, in the fundamentals of modeling.

without headway, over a new contract (the old one expires August 1).
 Only producers in Hollywood not worried about the possible strike are Walt Disney (when Walt doesn't like an actor he just tears him up) and Lou Bunin, who is making "Alice in Wonderland" in Paris with puppet animation.

FIFTY THE PUBLICITY BOYS
 The thought of puppets taking over Hollywood, however, is disconcerting. What would the poor publicity boys do? Who'd believe, for example, that the Queen of Hearts is privately running around with the Mad Hatter? Or that the gateman failed to recognize the Mock Turtle? Or that the White Rabbit has purchased a surplus submarine as a repository for his old razor blades?

There would be no autograph seekers, no temperamental, no type casting, no agents. Pretty awful to contemplate, isn't it?

REPORTS THAT GENE KELLY MIGHT NEVER DANCE AGAIN due to that leg injury are a mile off base. He'll have three difficult dance routines in "Words and Music."

Cancer Drive is Aided Too

The American Cancer Society is the big winner in the current "vacation queen" contest on the Mutual radio program "Queen for a Day."
 Entrants in the contest, which is heard at 1 p. m. Monday through Friday on Station KPDD, are asked to accompany their entries with a contribution to the cancer fund drive.
 A winner is selected each day, and on May 21 a grand prize winner will be named "vacation queen." She will receive a 60 day coast-to-coast tour in a deluxe auto trailer, including stops in Bermuda, New York, Hollywood and the mountains of Vermont.
 Applicants are asked only to submit a letter completing in 25 words or less the sentence "I need a vacation because . . ."
 All funds contributed to the cancer society will be credited to the Texas Drive, which is still under way to reach a goal of $447,000.
 Gray County Chairman J. R. Martin states that additional workers are needed to help in the solicitation of business houses and the residential sections as well. Many of the workers have turned in good reports but others have not reported as yet, and they are urged to do so at the earliest possible date, he said.

Civil Trial For Damages Before Court

The case of Lila Grace Wells and others versus the C. M. Jeffries Trucking Company started at 9 a. m. today in 21st District Court. After examination of testimony, a jury was finally sworn in at 4:30 p. m. yesterday to try the case.
 Mrs. Wells is asking a total of $110,750 for damages allegedly incurred through the death of her husband following a collision with a Jeffries truck on the Pampa-Lectors highway last Dec. 3.
 The trial will probably not be settled today since there are quite a large number of witnesses to testify.
 In Mrs. Well's petition she asserts that the Jeffries truck, driven by L. C. McCain, was loaded with a tank belonging to the Shell Oil Company. She further states the tank including a nipple, overturning the side of the truck by four feet.
 Traveling north on the Lectors highway in the evening of Dec. 3, 1947, the truck collided with the car driven by William F. Wells, the deceased husband, who was driving south at the time.
 Mrs. Wells is asking for damages of $41,375 for herself, decreasing amounts for each of her five children and for Mrs. W. E. Wells, mother of William F. Wells. The children are: Freda Gene, 12; Billie Pearl, 10; John E., 8;

The defendant answered the plaintiff's petition with eight counter charges, asserting the deceased was himself negligent. The defendants denied all and singular the allegations made and contained in the original petition of the plaintiff, but accepted parts of the amended petition of the plaintiff.
 Jurymen sworn in yesterday were: Frank Harlan, Ted Eads, E. L. Norman, John C. Haynes, M. E. Doss, Albert H. Cook, Edgar E. Brown, Harry Dulaney, B. D. Vaughn, C. A. Furton, T. G. Groves and John Andrews.
 W. W. Gibson, of the law firm of Gibson, Ochsner and Little of Amarillo; Joe Harlan, Arthur Teed and Curtis Douglass are the attorneys for the defendant. John Gano and Will R. Saunders, of the law firm Saunders and Gano of Dallas, and S. D. Stennis are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

Confession?—Ask The Man Who Goes There!

Catholics go to Confession to a priest for one reason only: to obtain divine forgiveness for their sins.
 But why, you ask, go to a priest? Why not confess our sins directly to God?
 Ask the man who goes to Confession and here's what he will tell you: Sin is an offense against God, it must be forgiven by God. It is God, not man, who determines how forgiveness must be obtained. Christ plainly pointed this out when He empowered His Apostles and their successors to forgive sins or to refuse forgiveness.
 "Whose sins you shall forgive," Christ said, "they are forgiven them; whose sins you shall retain, they are retained." (John 20:21-23). Thus Christ authorized the Apostles, and their successors, to pardon or to deny pardon as they judged the sinner worthy or unworthy. To do this they had to know what they were forgiving. . . . the secret dispositions of the sinner. . . . his sorrow and willingness to repair the wrong done to his neighbor by his sins. Who could make this known but the sinner himself—and what is this but Confession?
 But Confession—the Sacrament of Penance—is only one of the seven Sacraments Christ left in His Church. Yes, seven—no more and no less! Christ's religion is not merely a message to be accepted, but a life to be lived—from the cradle to the grave. Christ's seven Sacraments are the answer to man's seven basic needs.
 Man is born, but he needs to be reborn a Christian in the Sacrament of Baptism. He is nourished, but he needs Christian nourishment in Holy Communion, the Sacrament of the Eucharist. He grows, but he needs to grow and be strengthened in Christian life by the Sacrament of Confirmation. He is cured of disease, but he needs a remedy for sin, so destructive of Christian life, and this he finds in the Sacrament of Penance.
 Man lives in society which needs officials to promote the common good—and for his life in the Church, he finds officials provided by the Sacrament of Orders. He perpetuates the human race in marriage, which Christ made the Sacrament of Matrimony. And at death, he needs consolation and strength for the last dread hour which he finds in the Last Anointing—the Sacrament of Extreme Unction.
 Would you like to know more about each of the seven Sacraments? How they can help you to meet the seven basic needs of your life? Then write today for a free pamphlet which gives important information concerning them. Ask for Pamphlet No. 5-N.
