Marriage Minus Man Broken Up By Court Order

'Husband' Forced to Wear Dresses or Go to Jail

COLUMBUS, Kas., July 25 (AP)—Columbus "marriage" was annulled in court here this morning with the consent of both the bride and the "groom," John W. Hamilton, who represented the case, announced.

"It was a friendly suit," Hamilton said. "They just said they were both women and wanted the marriage annulled."

The "bridegroom" in the marriage was Alice Delores (George) Hayes, 20, of Hockerville, Okla., and the "bride" was 14-year-old Margaret La Vernia Fowler.

The action followed an edict by Police Chief Al Hanes of Picher, Okla., when "George" worked in a shoe store, that the girl must quit masquerading in men's clothing or go to jail.

JOPLIN, Mo., July 25 (AP)—Alice Delores Hayes, erstwhile "husband" of a Gatens, Kas., high school girl, went shopping today and purchased a dress, the first she has possessed in several years. Last night she borrowed a dress from her "wife," Margaret Fowler, and the two attended a dance in Picher, Okla., together.

Alice's decision to purchase a dress was made after an order from Police Chief Al Hanes of Picher that she must not appear on the streets there again wearing man's clothing.

Alice, who courted Margaret under the name of George Hayes, married her at Columbus July 15.

Hillbilly Boys Astound Police In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, July 25 (AP)—Two pipe-smoking, tobacco-chewing West Virginia mountaineers—both still under 12—gave Pittsburgh "the once over" today.

William L. Poe, 11, and his brother, Robert, 9, arrived last night after a 165-mile trip aboard a tricycle from Montrose, W. Va., near where they live on a farm with their grandfather.

After astounding a group of policemen with some cuspidor marksmanship, the boys explained they came to this city to look for "Uncle Stephen Poe." William added:

"We ain't seen our old man lately but we kinda thought we might find him here, too. Last I heard of him he was in Texas."

Police put the boys up for the night after discovering that no such address existed as the one at which they believed their uncle lived. Arrangements were started to return the boys to their home.

The boys' only concern about staying all night at a detention home was that they might be deprived of their pipes and tobacco. They were right. They were. But the cornob pipes and tobaccos were returned to them today.

The boys took turns pedaling the tricycle from Montrose, they said. Alternately, one rode on the crossbar in the rear. Their trip took them two days, they said.

France Completes Plans to Stop War

PARIS, July 25 (AP)—France's plans to shove off war between Italy and Ethiopia by using to the utmost the conciliation procedure of the League of Nations were completed today and submitted to the cabinet for approval.

Authoritative sources said Premier Pierre Laval sought to exhaust all the resources of the league's conciliation routine. This would allow time for moderating influences to be brought to bear on the disputants.

French authorities said Italy has made it plain to them that it has no present intention of quitting the league, its action depending entirely on what is done at Geneva.

I Heard . . .

The "boys" in the sheriff's department admiring Judge W. R. Ewing's new shoes and hat this morning. The boys informed the "gang" that he was wearing a 77-cent hat, a $1.45 pair of shoes, and that he looked all over for a 75-cent pair of pants but couldn't find any fit him.

Sheriff Earl Talley sheepishly admitting that he thought the baseball players were pulling a gag on him when they called for him during last night's game at Road Runner park. The manager of the Amarillo team didn't want Dean, one of his pitchers, to take the mound for the All Stars and to enforce his order, he took the mound with his hurler who finally took things in his own hands and ejected his manager from the field.

Dedicated

In ceremonies witnessed by more than 2,000 church members, officials of the Mormon church dedicated this memorial to the angel Moroni, who is reputed to have revealed the golden plates from which the founder of their religion translated the Book of Mormon. The statue, standing on a 30-foot pedestal, surmounts a hill near Pampa, N. Y.

Pampans Attend Project Meeting

A Works Project Administration meeting, held in Amarillo yesterday, was attended by Judge C. E. Cary, Commissioners M. M. Newman and Tom Kirby of Pampa, and George W. Briggs, manager of the B. C. D., and City Manager C. L. Shine.

Twenty Panhandle counties are included in District 16, of which Austin Meredith of Amarillo is the head. Mr. Meredith outlined his organization and introduced his corps of assistants to the delegates present. He discussed at length the system of handling WPA projects and urged every town, city, and county, to prepare its data immediately so that the entire district could make its request to Austin early.

FWA projects will include work on lateral roads, parks, etc. The requests from Gray county, and towns, and cities in the county, will be prepared immediately.

MUSEY SLAIN
GALVESTON, July 25 (AP)—Geo. Musey, 35, once known as a big-time rum smuggler, was shot to death as he stood in the door of a night club here early today.

Mrs. Dale Low of Miami underwent an operation at Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday. Her condition this morning was satisfactory.

Guardsmen Again Use Gas On Mob

Woman Painfully Cut On Hands by a Bayonet

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., July 25 (AP)—Renewed disorders involving striking workmen spurred national guardsmen to strict enforcement of martial law regulations in Terre Haute today.

A tense situation prevailed about the mill of the Columbian Enameling and Stamping company, where presence of 323 guardsmen produced scenes resembling an army camp. Although the general strike that paralyzed business for two days had ended, 600 mill employes remained on strike while federal conciliators continued attempts at mediation. ## MEXICAN PEASANTS DISBAND AFTER PRESIDENT CARDENAS ADVISES THEM TO GO HOME

GOVERNOR LIKELY TO BE REMOVED IN NEAR FUTURE

MATAMOROS, Tamaulipas, Mexico, July 25 (AP)—More than 1,000 peasants, many armed with thirty-caliber rifles, were encamped this afternoon at the city limits while leaders conferred with Mayor Rafael Munguia C. and General Gabriel Cervera. The peasants emphasized that they sought to drift away to their farms and ranches and federal troops, prepared to resist violence with bullets if necessary, found the situation eased, at least for the moment.

Disbandment of the rebels late yesterday eased a situation that had been tense in Matamoros two days, but Gov. Rafael Villarreal of Tamaulipas, subject of bitter peasant opposition which ousted one governor and threatened several city administrations, was reported still under fire.

Although thousands of workers and peasants at Tampico, where Gov. Villarreal went last night to confer with Minister of the Interior Barba Gonzalez, demanded his removal, Gov. Villarreal expressed belief that he would be able to "dominate the situation."

Message Eases Tension
The Tampico municipal council also had asked that Villarreal be removed from the group, it was unable to work with him.

President Cardenas sent word to Agrarian organizations which had complained against Villarreal and promised full investigation and urged them to avoid violence.

This action and disbandment of rebels at Matamoros was believed to have eased the tension of the entire uprising.

After two days outside the city during which they threatened to use force in evicting Mayor Rafael Munguia C. of Matamoros and other city officials, the hostile Agrarians started disbanding after federal troops and city police blanketed the city administration building.

Mayor Munguia said he did not expect further trouble.

"I refused to be intimidated and rebel to my authority and, upon being sponsored by federal forces, no further trouble was threatened," he said, adding that he had been advised by President Cardenas urging him to retain his control.

In addition to facing machine guns, the rebels were running short of food and apparently decided to await the outcome of the negotiations at Tampico.

Students Approve
The peasant move won approval in Mexico City when students celebrated the overthrow of Tomas Garrido Canabal, dictator of Tlaxcala state. Several thousand students hanged Garrido in effigy in

ALLISON WILL PLAY SINGLES FOR DAVIS CUP

Wear Decides Texan Will Meet Fred Perry

WIMBLEDON, Eng., July 25 (AP)—Wilmer Allison and Donald Budge will play singles for the United States in the challenge round against England, Joseph W. Wear, captain of the American team, told the Associated Press today.

Standing pet on the same Davis cup lineup which eliminated Germany in the interzone finals, Wear announced that Allison would team up with John Van Ryn in doubles. Allison's straight set defeat at the hands of Baron Gottfried von Cramm in the interzone finals and his apparent lack of stamina needed for three successive days of intense competition had led to reports that Wear would send Sidney Wood, blond New Yorker, into the fray against England as a singles replacement for Allison.

But the American captain spiked all that.

"It would be foolish to change the lineup now," he said. Budge, hero of the interzone matches and Allison, who scored the decisive point in that series yesterday, rested today but Van Ryn went through a long practice session with Gene Mako, young Californian who is a reserve on the team. The British team, headed by Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin, British singles ace, practiced for an hour in the afternoon.

Both teams will go through a workout on Wimbledon's center court tomorrow.

Ground, opening with two singles matches on Saturday, will wind up with the doubles on Monday and two more singles encounters Tuesday.

Lester and Boys Off for Lubbock FFA Convention

Prof. J. L. Lester and four members of the local Future Farmers of America club, left this morning for Lubbock to attend the state F. F. A. convention, in session today and tomorrow.

Upon request of the committee in charge, the local boys collected exhibit awards, trophies and prizes won during the past year. They will be displayed at the convention.

It was even a surprise to the sponsors and the boys when they learned that the club record of the past year included: 62 ribbons, two large banners, two pictures of famous farmers, and many cash awards, all received at judging contests.

The boys accompanying Prof. Lester were Earl Rice, Everett Vandenberg, Ivan Noblitt, and Floyd Stevens.

Connolly Objects To Pictures Taken With Power Group

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Rep. Blanton (D., Texas) voluntarily appeared before the senate lobby committee today to deny that he had talked with John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power & Light company, about the utility holding company bill.

Carpenter told the committee yesterday he had talked with all members of the Texas delegation except Reps. Maverick and McFarlane, Texas democrats.

"If I've ever seen Mr. Carpenter before, I don't remember it," Blanton said, telling the committee he had just been introduced to the power head.

Blanton said the only man who had talked to him about the bill was Robert W. Hainey, attorney for the West Texas Utility company. Before Blanton took the stand he was introduced to Carpenter by Senator Connolly (D., Texas). Connolly objected vigorously as photographers began taking pictures of him chatting with the power officials.

Blanton described Hainey as a "friend and pal" and said that he had entertained Hainey rather than vice versa.

Blanton voted against the "death amendment."

Mmes. W. D. Benton, Tom Eller, and Tom Darby spent yesterday visiting a sister in Clovis, N. M.

Woman Found Guilty

The first penitentiary sentence ever assessed as punishment in Gray county district court for a woman was meted out to Mrs. P. C. Barnett of McLean yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Barnett calmly heard the jury announce in the verdict that it had found her guilty of car theft at McLean, May 5, and fix her punishment at two years in the state penitentiary. A charge of driving while intoxicated and another indictment charging murder in perpetration of a felony returned in connection with the death of a McLean child who was fatally injured in a collision still face Mrs. Barnett.

The three indictments were returned by the grand jury following an accident near McLean when a small son of Mr. and Mrs. Zane Smith of that city was killed and other members of the family seriously injured.

Several women have been found guilty in district court in this county, but in each case the sentence was suspended. Women have been sent to the penitentiary from other counties in the district, but Judge W. R. Ewing and veteran attorney believe the woman is the first to be convicted in this county.

Rainfall Near City is Heavy

A freakish rainstorm visited this section of the Panhandle yesterday afternoon, bringing joy to farms in some places and nothing but heat and prospect of burning row crop to others.

The rain was spotted. A regular deluge would fall in one place with an adjoining field receiving no moisture whatsoever. A heavy rain fell in Pampa, west of Floart street, while down town and in the east received only a light sprinkle. No rain fell in South Pampa. The government rain gauge showed a precipitation of .04 inches in the city.

Kingsmill was visited by a rain of almost torrential force, while a few miles each direction from that place the fall was light or no rain fell at all. Pampans returning from Amarillo reported driving in and out of heavy rains over most of the distance.

Lions Convention Chooses Officers

MEXICO CITY, July 25 (AP)—Delegates to the International convention of Lions clubs elected new officers today with Richard J. Osenbaugh of Denver assured the presidency, having been nominated without opposition.

The ballots were cast this morning, but the results will not be announced until the evening session.

The only contest was for third vice president, for which Walter F. Decker, of Whittier, Calif., and Harold A. Orange, of Manchester, N. H., were nominated. Osenbaugh will succeed Vincent C. Hascell as president.

The San Angelo, Texas, cowboy band was proclaimed winner of the state contest with the Wichita, Kas., Lions club quartet second and the Ponca City, Okla., women's quartet third. Last year's winners, the Sikeston, Mo., Lions club, were fourth.

CELEBRATES 4TH BIRTHDAY

MONTONE, July 25 (AP)—Texas' youngest county, Loving, which celebrated recently its fourth birthday, owes only $7,400 and has no bonds outstanding. At the first of the year the indebtedness was $19,000. The county will vote on August 24 on issuance of $25,000 in court house bonds. A grant from the federal government will aid in erection of the court house, says B. B. Jay, county judge. An $8,000 addition is being built to the school building. Tax reductions for the year have been set at $2,000,000 with a rate of 70 cents.

Texan Gave Box To Patton Before Vote On Power Bill

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Questioned by senate lobby investigators as to whether he recalled giving anyone a box just before the house vote on the utilities bill, John W. Carpenter, president of the Texas Power and Light company, said today his eldest son, John, had given a box of cigars to Representative Patton (D-Texas).

He added that the mysterious newspaper-wrapped package which figured in previous testimony may have been book on livestock.

Meanwhile, the house rules committee investigating lobbying for and against the utilities bill received testimony from Hugh Magill, president of the American Federation of utilities investors, that the organization spent $60,000 in the last six months in the "interest of the millions of investors it represents."

Of this amount, he said $25,000 was spent against the utilities bill

Big Bills Pending

"Deplorable lethargy has come over the seventy-fourth congress," chirped the elder adjutant at the Washington zoo. "But with such intemperate weather—" "Fiddlesticks, sir! Also drumsticks!" peeped the junior adjutant. "I should attribute the prolongation of the current session, flatter the other zoo veteran. 'Is that some people are too busy crowing over the Blue Eagle's demise. He was the last ornithological representative we're likely to have in public affairs for some time. Now he's dead as our dog ancestor, his feathers decorating the caps of the reactionaries. Anyway, I think congress ought to start from scratch."

"What's a bird of idea, but I'll waker my only white desk that congress will roost up there all summer."

What good are a right and left wing if our carl fan one's self with them? True, senators go in for flights of oratory over any wish-bone of contention, and give each other the bird, but that only starts the feathers flying again. "What sticks in my craw," flattered the other zoo veteran. "Is that some people are too busy crowing over the Blue Eagle's demise. He was the last ornithological representative we're likely to have in public affairs for some time. Now he's dead as our dog ancestor, his feathers decorating the caps of the reactionaries. Anyway, I think congress ought to start from scratch."

Ex-Convict Slays A Policeman And Then Kills Self

Surrounded by Posse, He Takes His Own Life

GREELEY, Colo., July 25 (AP)—Surrounded by a posse seeking to avenge the slaying of Desk Sergeant Lee Whitman of the Greeley police force, Jack Printz, 37, recently paroled Colorado convict, fired one shot at his pursuers and then fatally wounded himself near here early today.

In his pocket was found a note scribbled on a piece of scratch paper and addressed to his foster-sister, Miss Inez Plummer of Denver.

"Damn fool Dick grabbed my gun, good-bye, sis," the cryptic note read.

Printz, Sheriff Gus Anderson said, came to Colorado from Ozark, Mo., and was sentenced to the Colorado state penitentiary in April, 1933, after being convicted of holding up a taxicab driver at Pueblo. He was WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—A tentative agreement on a new tax bill to raise around $20,000,000 a year, but which does not include the incorporation dividend tax proposed by the president, was reached today by house ways and means committee democrats. The tentative measure could put heavier taxes on all individual incomes over $150,000, inheritances over $50,000 left to close of kin, the profits that a corporation makes above 8 or 10 per cent on its capital, and on corporation income.

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—In its first vote on the compromise bank bill, the senate today kept intact a provision requiring state banks with deposits of $1,000,000 or more to join the Federal Reserve system by July 1, 1937, in order to retain deposit insurance.

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—The transit of arms destined for the government of Ethiopia across British territory or British-protected territory adjacent to Ethiopia will be permitted in accordance with article 9 of the treaty of 1930.

"The French government, I understand, interprets its obligation under the treaty in the same manner."

An authoritative source said Great Britain, Page 8.

ELsie Janis Hurt In Auto Accident

EAST VIEW, N. Y., July 25 (AP)—Elsie Janis, injured in an automobile accident, slept quietly early today in Grasslands hospital.

The resident physician of the hospital issued this bulletin:

"Patient responding favorably to treatment. Sleeping quietly. Condition serious but slightly improved as compared to that on arrival at hospital. Not immediately critical."

The auto in which the famous entertainer was riding with her husband, Gilbert Wilson, struck a parked truck on the sawmill parkway last night. Police said there were no parking lights on the truck and that it was screened from view by trees.

Hard, horny, thick callouses covering the insides of the hands of Chubby Stewart who was in town yesterday from his job at LeFors. He looked as hard as iron. He said that he'd "reformed" and was not only going to make that Harvester football team this fall but would "show up" his critics, especially some of the curbstone coaches who have razzed him in the past. Aha boy, Chubby.

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—"I didn't give anybody a box of cigars, but my son said yesterday he gave Mr. Patton a box of cigars," Carpenter said.

He added that his son had told him yesterday about giving a box of cigars to Patton because he had invited him to go fishing.

At another time, Carpenter said,

JOBS ALONE WILL CURE UNEMPLOYMENT RELIEF

Nothing in American life is quite so easy to criticize as the administration of unemployment relief.

Here is a job which, even if it should be done perfectly, would still be a bad job. Relief is bad for those who receive it and, ultimately, almost ruinous for the nation which has to pay for it. And since its administration needs a wisdom seldom found on this imperfect earth, it is bound to accumulate a series of abuses as time goes along.

We read, currently, that all federal doles are to end by November 1, by which date people on relief will either be back at work or supported by the states and cities; that President Roosevelt, doubting that this can be done, has summoned his advisers to prepare estimates on the cost of relief for next year; that people on relief are getting so used to receiving something for nothing that they often refuse to take jobs that are offered; and that relief systematically undermines the morale of its recipients, building up a permanent pauper class which doesn't care much if it never gets back to work.

The publication of all these stories within a few days of each other simply testifies to the extreme difficulties that any relief program must carry with it. And yet, while we admit that the problems of relief are very great and pressing, it ought to be pointed out that the relief question is only a symptom and not a distaste.

The real trouble is not relief but the unemployment which makes relief necessary.

This truth is so obvious that it would be silly to state it, if it were not for the fact that the relief problem has been dragging on for so long that it actually has obscured the underlying cause.

The evils of relief may be ten times as bad as the most pessimistic people say they are; but the remedy for them is not to discontinue the relief program, but to stimulate employment so that a relief program is no longer necessary.

That, in the last analysis, is the only solution.

It does no good at all to sit back and moan about the evils of the dole. As long as widespread unemployment exists, the dole must be continued, no matter how expensive it is, or how ruinous to its recipients' morale.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — In Alexandria, Va., a few miles down on the other side of the Potomac, a shirt factory employing about 100 women has cut wages three times since NRA codes went out the window. The cuts amount to 32 per cent and have been accompanied by an increase of weekly working hours from 36 to 44.

Resultant wages of $6, $7, and $8 a week, paid in the back yard of the national capital, are a reminder here that the old-fashioned sweatshop is coming back.

It is worth noting that the Alexandria factory girls, never before organized and quickly persuaded to return when they walked out after a first 10 per cent cut, are now being organized by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers.

When the U. S. Supreme Court's Schechter decision hit the NRA and Roosevelt decided to dismantle it, Sidney Hillman, president of Amalgamated, grabbed his hat and jumped on the next train to New York without even bothering to resign from the NRA board.

He hasn't been seen here since, because he has been busy with other garment industry unions in building up a $1,000,000 strike fund with which to fight for preservation of gains made under NRA.

The attitude of Mayor E. C. Davison of Alexandria possibly reflects a change of viewpoint in many cities and towns toward sweatshops as a result of NRA education. Davison tells the strikers:

"You don't have a job. You have a disease. Alexandria business men don't sympathize with employers who exploit workers to the breaking point and don't pay a living wage. This government gives you a right to strike and policemen are at the factory to protect that right."

"If anyone interferes with it, he, not you, is going to get locked up. We've just cleaned up the relief rolls here, so don't worry about starving to death. We've got room for you."

The final phase of the Brewster-Corcoran lobbying battle, which started off all this "power trust" lobbying investigation, was so completely buried by the sensational publicity on operations at Warren, Pa., that all reports missed the concluding words of Congressman Brewster of Maine, who originally charged that Tom Corcoran of RFC had threatened to stop the Passamaquoddy project unless Brewster voted for the holding company "death sentence."

After Brewster explained that he had been "ready to sacrifice anything, perhaps even my reputation, to get Quoddy going in my district," the record shows:

Congressman Cox of Georgia: "Do you feel your conduct has been such as to afford a reasonable basis for your associates thinking you practiced deception on them?"

Mr. Brewster: "I do." (Adding that he had been convinced Quoddy would be endangered by what he considered the probability that Corcoran would "put the screws on me.")

Mr. Cox: "Do you feel that is a terrible indictment which you have laid against yourself?"

Mr. Brewster: "I do."

"Mrs. Brewster," said the Maine congressman, "joined in the surprise which everyone else has expressed at my vote and expressed, I think, also, some little regret." And that made it unanimous.

Utilities executives deplore this idea of sending fake telegrams of protest to Congress—if Congress can prove the telegrams are fakes.

Anyway, the question isn't who burned up those utility telegrams, as it is who would be burned up by them.

Government officials boast of carrots three feet long in Alaska, as though that would entice anyone except parents of growing children.

You can think much better on your feet, says a Yale professor, as any pedestrian will attest while trying to avoid onrushing motorists.

Hendrick Willem Van Loon, the writer, says he has read everything that he has ever wanted to read. Now he can turn to the funnies.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, July 23 (AP)—The action of the Texas highway commission in cancelling all temporary highway designations caused mingled consternation and surprise at the last meeting of the board.

It was sprung unexpectedly by Chairman Harry Hines and a ripple of amazement ran through the crowded hearing room.

A majority of the county delegations had traveled to Austin to seek additional designations or an order from the commission authorizing work to be started on the several thousand miles of conditionally designated highways. Their aspirations were sent glimmering.

The shock, however, was abated somewhat when Hines explained the reason for the action. Roads designated as part of the state system would be ineligible to participate in the federal "farm to market" road administration program and their participation in the highway department program necessarily would be limited to available funds.

By cancelling the designations the roads became eligible to share in the federal "farm to market" road scheme and in the highway department's lateral road fund.

Several of the delegations looked askance at the proposition and protested against cancellation of their roads. Many said they preferred to keep them on the state system even though the possibility for immediate construction appeared dim. For the most part they were apprehensive of taking their applications to the works progress administration, fearing they would become lost in the maze of projects that will flow into Harry P. Drought's office.

It required the combined oratory of the commission to convince some delegations otherwise.

Another reason for the cool feeling with which the proposal was greeted by some is seen in the statement of J. J. Loy of Sherman, Grayson county judge. Loy protested vehemently against taking a Grayson county road off the state system. The road was one that had gained a place on the state system only after years of hard effort.

"That is something that is going to be hard to explain to the people back home," Loy said.

2,500 Fans Watch Pampans Defeat All-Stars 10 to 4

'Dopey' Dean Stars In Manhandling Manager

With 2,500 fans roaring approval, the Pampa Road Runners, fielding most of the team that will go to the Denver Post tournament, last night defeated a team of All Stars selected from the other four teams in the Panhandle Big Five, by a score of 10 to 4.

Two more hurlers will join the Pampa team for the trip to the Little World series in Denver. The tournament will open next Thursday and close August 12. The Road Runner pitching staff will be strengthened by Joe Berry, now with Ponca City, and Clifton Clay of Wichita, Kan.

The Road Runners will play four more games before leaving for the tournament. On Friday night the Amarillo Shamrocks, with Jack "Dopey" Dean, will be here. The Road Runners will return the game Sunday afternoon, playing at Metro park in Amarillo. The last two games will bring the La Junta Mexican team of Nueva Laredo here on Monday and Tuesday nights.

Getting to four All Star pitchers for 15 hits, including two home runs by Gordon Nell and one by Grover Seitz, the Road Runners showed remarkable power at the plate and gave notice that they will be in Denver for "blood." Should their pitching stand up, Pampa's entry in the tournament is expected to be somewhere in the money.

Manager Freddy Brickell fielded a strange lineup for Pampa fans. He had Sammy Hale on third, Joe Surface in right field, and Sam Sealing in left field. Later he switched his lineup, giving all his players a chance to get into the game. Sealing led the attack in hits with three singles in five trips to the plate. Nell had a pair of homers. George contributed a single and triple and Hale connected for two singles. Seitz homered and Summers also got a triple.

Daney started the game for the home club and allowed only two hits, one a triple by Littrell. Ledford went the second three innings, allowing two runs and five hits. Chody was wild, letting three batters reach first base on balls and giving up two runs with only two hits.

Dean 'Stars' Manager Red Lowrance of the All Stars used four hurlers, getting one of them shelled from the mound. The game, as far as the fans were concerned, ended in a blaze of glory for Jack "Dopey" Dean of the Amarillo Shamrocks. Dean, at the request of the crowd, went to the box in the eighth, with his manager, Bob Winkler, hanging on his arm and ordering him not to pitch. The elongated cousin of the St. Louis Dean warmed up over his manager's head while players and umpires tried to get him off the diamond. Finally Dean got tired of having his warm-up interrupted and grabbed Manager Winkler by the shoulder and almost carried him from the playing field to the All Star dugout where players held the wrathily little manager.

Dean Fans Nell
Dean opened the inning by fanning Nell, as the crowd roared. The "Goof" was a little wild, giving three walks and hitting a batter and allowing one run and two hits. He ended the game by fanning Hale.

Pachak, Amarillo's bespectacled hurler, started for the All Stars. He allowed three hits and two runs in the opening inning and then tightened up, giving only one hit until relieved by Braley of Colton. He was shelled from the mound in the fifth with a five-run barrage. Blair of Huber went until the 7th when Dean took up the mound duties.

The game was check full of great plays with Lowrance and Jackson grabbing honors for the visitors and Sealing and Summers taking the spotlight for the home team.

TULSA OILERS CUT STANDING OF BEAUMONT

SHIPPERS' LEAD PARED FULL GAME IN 6 TO 3 TILT

The Beaumont Exporters' Texas league lead was cropped to one full game last night when the Tulsa Oilers extended their winning streak by downing the leaders, 6 to 3.

Standings in the loop were unchanged, but Dallas got in a little better position to donate the cellar to Fort Worth by beating Houston, 10 to 2, while Galveston, holder of second place, whipped the Panthers, 2 to 1. Oklahoma City remained in third place by blasting San Antonio, 5 to 1.

Clarence Griffin, Tulsa left-hander, turned back the Exporters to give the Oilers their third straight victory. Batted hard in the first two innings, when the Exporters scored all their runs, Griffin settled down to business, the remainder of the game completely to handcuff the opposing batsmen.

Bill Shores, Dallas right-hander, outpitched Mike Cvensgro, and Jim Stroner pounded out a homer and two singles to transport five runs across the plate to lead way to the Steers big score over Houston.

Shores kept seven enemy singles well spaced and, but for two misplays by Tony York, which allowed the Buffs to score twice, he would have pitched shutout ball.

The Fort Worth Panthers' loss was the eighteenth victory for Max Butcher, Galveston Buc star hurler. His victory came at the expense of George Milstead, who put up a good fight in the mound duel. Charley English did all the Galveston counting. He hit a homer for the first run and scored the second in the ninth after he had doubled. An error sent him home.

Oklahoma City had little trouble in stopping the Missions behind the eight-hit hurling of Stieley. Stanton crossed the plate in the first for the Missions' lone tally, and the Indians counted once each in the next four innings and again in the seventh.

Skelly Softball Team Wins Game

The playground ball team from the Skelly Schaefer gasoline plant won a 5 to 4 battle from the Dixon Creek team on Tuesday afternoon. Each team got seven hits in the well-played game.

Ed Hays hurried for the winners, with Byer behind the bat. Cole was on the mound for Dixon Creek, with Culpepper receiving.

The Skelly playing field will be lighted soon. Equipment valued at $2,000 is being installed and when completed, the field will be one of the best lighted in the country.

Grid Star off for Game

The determined looking young giant pictured above is Carl Smith, Pampa's All-State high school football guard last year. Smith was a guard on the Pampa high school football team and gained state recognition for his work, despite the fact that his team failed to win the district. When the Texas High School Football Coaches Association decided to sponsor a game between high school stars of the state, the Pampa guard was selected as one of the players to represent the north half of the state. He left yesterday for Dallas to get in shape for the big game which will be played at fair park stadium on August 3.

Max Schmeling To Sign Today For Next Bout

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—Max Schmeling, German heavyweight, will be signed before night to meet either Max Baer or Joe Louis. Joe Jacobs, the German's manager, said upon his return from Europe today.

"We are willing to fight either man," said Jacobs, "but we want a guarantee of $150,000. We'll sign with the first promoter who lays it on the line."

Jimmy Johnston, Madison Square Garden matchmaker and Mike Jacobs, promoter for the 20th Century Sporting club, held hurried conferences with Joe Jacobs as the liner Washington steamed up the bay from quarantine.

"It looks like Louis," said Joe Jacobs, "but I'll not decide definitely until I talk with Johnston again this afternoon. Johnston said $150,000 was too much money, but he asked me to wait until this afternoon. I agreed."

Mike Jacobs said he is willing to post Schmeling's guarantee today. The 20th Century club wants Schmeling to meet Louis in one of the New York ball parks on September 11. The Garden, if successful in signing the German, will pit him with Baer later in the same month.

Captain Of Davis Cup Tennis Team Faces A Dilemma

Will Choose Between Wood and Allison For Finals

BY GAYLE TALBOT, Associated Press Sports Writer.

LONDON, July 25 (AP)—Having guided America's Davis cup squad to a decisive victory over Germany, Joseph Wear, the non-playing captain from Philadelphia, faced today a problem that might have vexed King Solomon as the team prepared to challenge England for the coveted international tennis trophy Saturday.

Wear must choose between the slightly jaded Wilmer Allison, who clinched the inter-zone tie by whipping Heiner Henkel yesterday, and razor-neck Sidney Wood of New York, to pair with Donald Budge, the California red-head, in the four singles matches against the English Aces—Fred Perry and H. W. (Bunny) Austin.

He realized that no matter whom he chooses, he is destined to be hailed as either "miracle man" or "bungler" depending on the outcome of the challenge round.

"I do not know myself who it will be," Wear said after Budge had given the American team a 4-1 victory over Germany by turning back Baron Gottfried von Cramm in four sets. "It might not decide finally until just before the draw Friday."

The grandstand quarterbacks, who have been clamoring for Wood's inclusion, had some sound reasoning for their side. The blond New York stylist is in grand condition, having gained eight pounds since he reached England. He has been playing magnificent tennis against Bill Tilden, Ellsworth Vines, Jack Crawford and others.

With Wood taking care of two of the singles, Allison would be left free to concentrate on the doubles, which he and Johnny Van Ryn came close to losing to Germany.

On the other hand, there's the fact that Allison whipped Henkel in a much more impressive manner than did Budge after giving von Cramm a stirring battle. The Texan looked a little tuckered in his third set against Henkel, but his appearances on the court are notoriously deceptive.

Allison says he's in the greatest shape of his career and perfectly capable of playing three five-set matches at top speed, if necessary. He sees no reason why Wear should disrupt a winning combination. Furthermore, he's morally certain he can beat both Perry and Austin, leaving Budge only the mopping up job.

The team took a complete rest today, but there's another sleepless night ahead for Wear.

STEEL HELMET VETERAN UNITS ARE DISSOLVED

SUBVERSIVE ACTIVITY IS CHARGED IN COMMUNIQUE

SCHWERIN, Mecklenburg, Germany, July 25. (AP)—The political police dissolved the steel helmet units in western Mecklenburg, at Parchim, Ludwigslust and Waren today on the grounds of subversive activity.

An official communique said: "In accordance with article 1 of the February 28, 1933, edict, the steel helmet districts of Parchim and Ludwigslust and the local group at Waren are immediately dissolved.

"In that connection, wearing of steel helmet uniforms and badges likewise are forbidden in the districts named and within the confines of the Waren local group.

"Infractions of the order will be punished as a penal offense in accordance with article 4 of the Feb. 28, 1933, edict.

"Existing property will be progressively seized and sequestered."

"The reasons: Repeatedly, within the districts of Parchim and Ludwigslust, resistance has been offered by members of the steel helmet to orders issued by state officials and officers of the party.

"The leadership of the steel helmets for the Parchim district has been able in recent times to prevail on steel helmet members not to participate in courses of air produced ordered by the 'Landrat' (administrative leader) of the district.

"Moreover, these circles have been continuously spreading mendacious rumors, bordering on high treason concerning the state party which were calculated to undermine the confidence of the populace in the national socialist leadership of the state.

"The provocative attitude of the members of the steel helmets even led, in fact, in Stolpe, to an air man (storm trooper) being knocked down by steel helmets at a Waren protest meeting held because Jews belonged to the steel helmets.

"The events of the last week show that the steel helmets of these districts knowingly, according to play, were working against the state.

"It is dissolution necessary on these grounds, the edict was invoked."

Forty-five groups of the Baden Stahlhelm (steel helmet) veterans organization were dissolved by the ministry of the interior at Karlsruhe July 12 also on charges of subversive tendencies.

That dissolution order said the local ranks of the steel helmets were swelled by former opponents "under whose influence the steel helmet organization turned into political opposition to the Nazi movement, thus seriously endangering the political unity of the German people."

Nazi publications have lumped members of the Stahlhelm with Jews, Catholic and Protestant men of the cloth, communists and other "reactionary" or "subversive" elements in their drive to make nazified the faith and religion of a unified Germany.

Franz Seidte, leader of the Stahlhelm and minister of labor, had a conference with Reichsruhrer Adolf Hitler only recently at Berchtesgaden, after which Seidte was represented as being convinced that Hitler would not tolerate further dissolution of local steel helmet groups.

Unification of veterans' organizations, including the Stahlhelm, however, have been deemed likely to be decided upon at the next party's September convocation.

Only Tuesday, General Hermann Hilhelm Goering, air minister, premier of Prussia and chief of the secret police, dissolved the Catholic war veterans organization in Prussia.

Officials of the steel helmets—Germany's equivalent to the American Legion—expressed fear at that time that their order would suffer a fate similar to that of the Catholic veterans.

Helen Wills Not To Play Against British Netters

NEW YORK, July 25. (AP)—Mrs. Helen Wills Moody of San Francisco, who negotiated one of the most thrilling comebacks in the history of sport when she recaptured the Wimbledon tennis championship after a two-year layoff, arrived in New York today on the liner Washington and announced she would not play on the American team against a British side in the Wightman cup matches here next month.

Flashing a captivating smile instead of the famous "poker face," Mrs. Moody said she intended to leave for the Pacific coast Monday and rejoin her husband, Frederick S. Moody, and that she would not have sufficient time to return to Forest Hills, Long Island, for the international team match starting August 16.

"Does that mean you are planning to retire?" she was asked.

"By no means at all," she said. "I told my husband I would be away two months and my time is just about up. It is probable, almost definite I'd say, that I'll come east for the national championships in the latter part of August."

Unless she changes her mind, and it is obvious she doesn't intend to, Mrs. Moody probably will limit her competition to the national and Wimbledon tournaments for the next few years. She plans to get in a few sets of tennis at Forest Hills before leaving for the coast "if I can get a game there."

The Yellow Jackets will play two teams from Skellytown, the Pampa team, and other women's teams in this section. Mrs. Lucian Bryant, wife of the catcher for the Stanolind baseball team, is managing the Yellow Jackets.

ST. PAUL, (AP)—Mrs. A. A. Smith has found her missing two-story house.

The house was condemned by the city because of improper sewage disposal, but Mrs. Smith says the condition was corrected.

She went to look at the house—and found weeds growing where it once stood.

Investigation disclosed the city had sold the 28 by 14 feet building to a wrecker for $10, and the latter had moved it ten miles.

Hubbell Beats Dizzy Dean As Giants' Lead Mounts To One and Half Games.

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Dizzy Cochrane and his Detroit Tigers found themselves today in the ambiguous position of being both first and second in the American league.

After handing the Yankees a neat 4-0 trimming yesterday in the third game of their important series, their standing showed 54 victories and 35 defeats, while the Yankees had 51 games won and 33 lost.

By addition and subtraction it was simple to show that Detroit was half a game ahead, but the percentages favored the Yanks .6071 to .6067.

The Giants entered today's double-header finale of their battle with St. Louis for the league leadership with the comparatively huge lead of 1 1/2 games.

They squared the series at two-all yesterday when Carl Hubbell outpitched Dizzy Dean and got the benefit of one inning of effective hitting to win, 4 to 2.

For the second time Cochrane sprang a veteran hurler on the Yanks and saw craft subdue them. "General" Alvin Crowder, the ancient but by no means feeble right hander, mowed the Yanks down with four virtually meaningless hits.

The Tigers stepped off on the right foot when Jo-Jo White, the first man up, clubbed Charley Ruffing for a home run and they kept it going to the tune of 11 hits. The rest of the scoring came in the third when Ruffing's two walks and three hits brought in three tallies.

Pepper Martin, the brilliant but often erratic Cardinal third baseman, brought the ladies' day crowd of 28,000 onto its feet in the third inning when he sprinted to second base on Dick Bartell's fumble, stole third and scored on Jack Rothrock's fly to give St. Louis a 1-0 lead over the Giants. He turned joy into gloom in the seventh when, after Mel Ott had singled and Hank Lesher had doubled, he uncorked an epic wild heave that let both runners score and Travis Jackson reach third. Two more Giant hits wound up the 5-run rally.

The Chicago Cubs slashed the Cardinals' margin to a single game by taking their second doubleheader in a row from the Dodgers, 9-3 and 7-6.

The second game went 11 innings before Ken O'Dea's homer broke it up. After Danny Taylor had hit for the circuit with the bases full in the ninth, and the Cubs had replied with a two-run rally to tie the score.

Pittsburgh also won a double-header, beating the Phillies, 8-6 and 4-3, as Woody Jensen produced a circuit swat in each game. The Indians did likewise with a great outburst of late-inning slugging that produced 33 hits and beat the Senators, 10-6 and 13-8. They moved into fourth place in the American league standing ahead of the Red Sox, who took a 6-3 licking from the Browns.

The Reds moved into fifth place in the national, one point ahead of Brooklyn, by turning back the Braves, 5-4, in their fifth night game of the season.

FOR EXPECTED TO INTERVENE IN TAX BILL TO MAKE SURE IT'S WRITTEN TO SUIT HIM

COMMITTEE PROTESTS AGAINST HIS SUGGESTION

WASHINGTON, July 25. (AP)—Surrounded by controversy, the administration's tax plan nears bill form today amid authoritative predictions that the president would have to intervene to make sure he got what he wanted.

The house ways and means committee remained on the edge of revolt against his suggestion that the measure include a graduated corporation income tax ranging from 10% to 16% per cent. One man close to the president remarked that "he may have to call them down there and talk turkey to them to get them to agree with him."

Meanwhile, the dispute over the question of exemption for charitable contributions made by corporations promised to be one of the most vigorous in the whole struggle. President Roosevelt was standing by his pronouncement that such exemptions should not be allowed. His view was that the donations amounted to the purchase of good will.

Just as firmly, a representative of three welfare groups was insisting that to bar these exemptions would be a "body blow" to private welfare agencies and would mean "going back to the horse and buggy days of private charity." This opinion was expressed by Allen T. Burns, executive vice president of Community Chests and Councils, Inc.

Doughton said a tentative bill would be ready for submission to the full committee Monday. He implied that virtually everything but the corporation income tax idea had been agreed upon. A check supplied information indicating that the bill would seek to raise the following amounts through these taxes:

Inheritances and gifts $115,000,000 to $120,000,000.

Individual incomes, $21,000,000.

Corporation incomes, $35,000,000.

Capital stock, $50,000,000 to $100,000,000.

Excess profits, $13,000,000.

Intercorporation dividends, $39,000,000.

Totals, $273,000,000 to $328,000,000.

Already, the democrats on the committee had tentatively, and in some cases only tacitly, agreed upon the levies on inheritances, gifts, individual incomes and intercorporation dividends.

It was proposed not to increase levies on persons making less than $150,000 a year but to stop up the rates on those over that group. The maximum suggested rates would start at 54 per cent on the income between $150,000 and $200,000 and rise to 75 percent of that part of the income over $100,000. On the lower bracket, the rate is 63 per cent at present; but it is only 59 per cent on income over $100,000.

Mussolini's Sons Become Officers In War Air Force

ROME, July 25. (AP)—Two young sons of Premier Benito Mussolini became officers in their father's East African air force today. Vittorio Mussolini, 19, after a few weeks' training at an army air camp, was designated officially a second lieutenant in the air corps. His brother, Bruno, 17, was made a sergeant, both assigned to the bombardment corps destined for East African service.

While all blackshirt Italy continued to back Il Duce's stand in East Africa by demonstrations, some newspapers scoffed, at the reported action of a Japanese "black dragon" society in sending a cablegram to Mussolini asking that Italy abandon any aggressive policies toward Ethiopia.

Il Messaggero, calling the society a "party for Japanese production," asked:

"In what guise does this society make its demands?"

Congress Is Not Likely to Take Action on Nazis

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—Although sharp criticism of nazism's anti-semitic and church policies continues to be heard on capital hill, doubt is expressed that congress will reach the point of taking action.

The latest development is a move by Senator King (D. Utah) who is seeking an investigation by the senate to determine whether conditions in Germany call for severance of diplomatic relations with the reich.

In his opinion, he said, "the conduct of Hitler and his regime" is "cruel, brutal, and barbarous." He declared on the floor yesterday that he would shortly introduce a resolution calling for an inquiry.

The Nazi government, he said, had been oppressive to Jews and Catholics, and had failed to observe its treaty obligations to the United States. The investigation he proposes would be conducted by the senate foreign relations committee, of which Senator Pittman (D. Nev.) is chairman.

There was no comment from Pittman or others on King's move, but Pittman indicated doubt whether there would be any action at this session.

Mrs. C. A. Burton is a patient in Pampa-Jarratt hospital.

Mrs. Harold Boyd returned last night from Dumas where she visited relatives.

Clean Out Kidney Poisons

Wash Out Your 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes

If kidneys don't pass 3 pints a day and get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter, the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters may become clogged with poisonous waste and the danger of acid poisoning is greatly increased. Bladder passages are difficult, which often smart and burn like scalding water and cause discomfort.

This acid condition, brought about by poor kidney functions is a danger signal and may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and dizziness.

Most people watch their bowels which contain only 1/2 feet of intestine but neglect the kidneys which contain 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters. If these tubes or filters become clogged with poisons, it may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't run any risk. Make sure your kidneys empty 3 pints a day.

Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS, an old prescription, which has been used successfully by millions of kidney sufferers for over 40 years. © 1934, Foster-Milburn Co.

Fear Is Motive Of World Pacts, Says Evangelist

"Because of fear, world confederacies continue to strengthen and multiply" declared Evangelist C. A. Walgren last night at the Bible chautauqua tent, Somerville and Montague, in speaking on "World Confederacy: A Dream or Reality?"

The evangelist said in part: "With the age-long march of events the intensity of life becomes greater and almost overwhelming. The world's greatest leaders admit failure in guiding the destiny of the race which has become almost hopelessly complex.

"Since earliest times, history points out, the races of man have combined socially, politically, commercially, and religiously into leagues and counter leagues for self-preservation.

"The great confederates of this generation are many, outstanding and of universal scope. Asia for Asiatics is a familiar slogan. Asia fears the mighty west. During post-war days there existed the Pan-Turanian league which had for its purpose resisting the power of western expansion.

"There was pan-Germanism which prior to the World war had hopes of building up a greater Germany. There was also the Anglo-Japanese alliance, now obsolete. There is now a movement on foot to bind together all the people of the English race. The reason for this is obvious.

"The Protestant churches today are looking for world union. The Catholic church is endeavoring to bring within her all churches—Greek Orthodox and Protestant. The Zionist movement has also been created for establishing a home in Palestine for all the Jews who cannot be assimilated by the country of their adoption.

"Fear is the motivating power behind these confederacies. We have beside these the Pan-American union and the League of Nations. The League of Nations fears the break up and final dissolution of our present civilization."

Miss Estelle Gibson of Spur is the guest of Miss Sybil Ward, while Miss Mary Katharine Ward, is visiting relatives in Spur.

'G-Men' Depicted As Watchdogs of Nation's Treasury

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—The "G-Men" known to the public as fighters of violent crime, were depicted today in a new role—that of watchdogs of the treasury.

Justice department officials said they had saved the government $2,248,000 in the past six months by revealing "frauds" by men who swore they suffered injury from the World war in an attempt to collect from the government.

Using movie cameras, fingerprints and "undercover" work the agents, working closely with government lawyers, have won or compromised 94 per cent of the war risk insurance claims in district courts this year, the justice department said.

Diet Needs Are Outlined in Talk To Hopkins Club

"For a balanced diet an adult must have three vegetables a day, two protein foods, raw or cooked fruit, tablespoonful of butter and a quart of milk," said Miss Ruby A. Adams, home demonstration agent, Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of Hopkins club with Mrs. R. I. Davis.

Half a cupful of leafy vegetables each day makes an adequate supply, and it may be lettuce, cabbage, or celery, Miss Adams continued. Part of the amount may be consumed at noon and the remainder for supper.

JAPANESE HAVE MOST OF TRADE IN EAST AFRICA

Italy Is Resolved to Oust Rising Sun From Ethiopia

BY ANDRUE BERDING.

ROME, July 25 (AP)—Commercial penetration in Ethiopia occupies Italy as Premier Benito Mussolini concentrates troops and war materials in the East African colonies.

The Azione Coloniale, semi-official publication here, recently published figures showing that Japan furnished between 70 and 75 per cent of the Ethiopian importations in the fiscal year 1932-1933. This was an increase from the percentage of 55 to 60 in the year 1931-1932.

"Japan," says the publication, "has thrown on the market at Addis Ababa enormous quantities of goods at a price notably inferior to the current price."

"Japan and India supply the great part of the demand for cotton thread for the domestic fabrication of cloth. Great Britain and Italy have seen their trade in this product greatly diminished."

Japan is also having much success with toys and numerous household articles, says the periodical.

"In recent months," says the Azione Coloniale, "it seems that the Japanese dumping has also induced Russia to throw on the Ethiopian market diverse products under cost, such as various cloths, perfumes, and soaps."

After stating that Japan accompanies her economic action by a cunning diplomatic work, the Azione Coloniale concludes:

"Ethiopia and the Red sea have constituted and constitute for Europe too sensitive a point for the diplomats of the empire of the rising sun to overlook. They have taken too much care, to lay the bases, however small, for the day in which a great war might break out."

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Babione and children, Herbert and Francine, have returned from a trip through Oklahoma and the Missouri Ozarks, where they visited relatives and friends.

DEADLINE FOR QUALIFYING IN GOLF TOURNAMENT EXTENDED

Deadline for qualifying in the City Open golf tournament to be played over the country club course beginning Sunday morning, has been extended to dark on Saturday night. The pairings will be made late Saturday night, but not in time to be published, however.

Those unable to shoot a qualifying round may file an average score with Mr. or Mrs. Del Love at the clubhouse, and they will be matched.

Extension of qualifying time was granted to accommodate a number of players who wish to try for the prize for low qualifying score, and who cannot play the 18 holes before Saturday.

Thirty-six holes will be played Sunday with semi-finals and finals in each flight being scheduled for the following Sunday. Up to last night, 71 golfers had qualified or registered for play. There will be eight players in the championship flight and 16 players in the other flights. Prizes will be posted in each event soon.

Boys, 14 years of age and over, are urged to be at the clubhouse Saturday and Sunday to act as caddies. Experience will not be necessary.

Rogers' first marriage to the former Mary Benjamin and his second to Mrs. Basil Miles both ended in divorce. His third wife was Mrs. Pauline van Der Voort Bresser, descendant of several Colonial New England families.

His daughter, after divorcing her Austrian count, married Arthur Peralta Ramos, millionaire Argentine.

Besides the widow and Mrs. Ramos, a son, Henry H. Rogers Jr., and three grandchildren survive. Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Col. Rogers was an extensive student of and an authority on American military affairs. He also was an authority on early American shipping and whaling—two industries in which his early American ancestors were prominent.

His decoration with the distinguished service cross from this government followed citations by Commandant-in-Chief John J. Pershing and Major General Charles P. Sumner.

From the French government, he received the croix de guerre with palm and was made a chevalier of the Legion of Honor.

MEXICANS IN TABASCO ARE IN WAR MOOD

15,000 members of the young revolutionary organization—the red shirts—in Tabasco, while the students do not number more than 200.

However, the latter, representing the anti-Garrido sentiment, appear to be gaining strength daily. The students are headed by Rutilo Brito Fenecher.

Clashes thus far have been avoided largely because of the strict attitude of the new military commander, Gen. Miguel Henríquez. After the news was received Monday that the congress at Mexico City has ousted Governor Manuel Lastra, Garrido's protégé, General Henríquez visited both Garrido and Brito and told them he had orders from the federal government to repress all disorders.

As soon as Lastra was overthrown, the troops took possession of the government palace, the jail, and other public buildings and they still are guarding them.

The work of Henríquez and the appointment of Gen. Aisreo Calles as substitute governor of the state of Tabasco has been generally well received by the public.

NAZIS MOVE TO CURB CATHOLIC CHURCH'S PRESS

All Newspaper To Be Crushed in New Order

BERLIN, July 25 (AP)—Nazism moved today to make its curb on "political Catholicism" complete, turning to a drive for elimination of the Catholic press.

The signal for the public campaign was sounded by the official Nazi party slogan of Baden, "Fuehrer," which came out with a demand for the crushing of Catholic newspapers.

Three months to the day after Max Amann, president of the reich press chamber, ordered confessional newspapers to devote their columns entirely either to religion or to politics—or to disappear—"Fuehrer" asserted bluntly that the Catholic press of Baden had failed to obey. Amann's order, designed to monopolize reich publications for Nazi ideas, provided a breathing spell of three months for the newspapers affected—expiring today.

"Fuehrer," charging combination of church papers and newspapers, asserted of the Catholic press of Baden:

"The space devoted to pure church matters causes impressions as if these newspapers were voices and sheets."

A similar campaign became noticeable in upper Silesia where church circles said the Hitler youth movement was the backbone of a drive against the Catholic press.

A spokesman for the propaganda ministry, meanwhile, chuckled on being informed of the proposal of Senator King (D., Utah), for an investigation to determine whether the Nazi anti-semitic and anti-church policies warranted breaking off diplomatic relations between the United States and Germany.

"Would the United States feel warranted in breaking off relations with England over the Belfast riots, or with France over anti-Jewish disorders in Algeria several months ago?" the spokesman asked. "Why, the idea is grotesque."

"I bet some of Senator King's colleagues will be chuckling about his proposition the same as I. Tell them in America Germany doesn't feel the least bit alarmed at Senator King's threat—if it is a threat."

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

Chapter Four
REX MOORE

"We're nearly there," the stranger said. "Do you live in London?"

"Yes, I work in London," Laurie spoke defiantly, and her blue eyes were brilliant, as she looked at him.

They accused him of uncouth rudeness, which seemed so deliberate of her. Her little straight nose was in the air. Her red-brown waves of hair shone richly under the lamps of the carriage, that were not lit.

Her vital face, took on one of its beautiful moments, framed in the high dark collar of sable-dyed fur on her black coat.

The man's eyes blazed back his own strange defiance.

"So you work?" he said. "Taking a man's job, I suppose, like the rest of you girls?"

Laurie gasped at this deliberate insult. She could not answer it at the moment. She was struck dumb.

The train slowed down and entered the station.

"I don't suppose we shall meet again," the man said casually. "So I'll say good-bye."

Laurie found her tongue.

"Good-bye!" Her voice trembled.

"I think you are abominably rude and unfair. And I certainly hope we shall never meet again!"

She took up her suitcase and marched indignantly down to the other end of the corridor.

Mark Albery was alone in his library after dinner, just a week later.

When in London he occupied a spacious flat on the first floor of a building on the Chelsea Embankment. But the time when his presence was not actually needed in London, and he was not abroad, he spent in the country, in an old, roomy house not far from his factory in Cambridgeshire.

In spite of his sophistication and his eminently worldly tastes, he was happier in the country. He liked wide vistas and vast skylines. He was never tired of looking up at the sky, where the creations of his brain broke records and conquered distances, and were rapidly making of the world a much smaller place.

"That was why he lived in Chelsea, where he could look out on the river and a stretch of sky. The slow movement of the Thames barges and lighters, compared with the speed of his red-winged birds that skimmed over them, that was the kind of sight that delighted his soul.

On this evening in late April there had been a lovely rose-pink sunset, and now filmy lilac veils were streaming across the sky in the west.

He could see the river from his big windows, with the lighted street lamps shedding a faint radiance, and the trees of Battersea Park opposite, like lace work, silhouetted against the sky.

But it was not of planes that he was thinking just then.

It was of young Mrs. Moore, whom he had seen only once since

Easter, when she met him on the stairs of the office building and thanked him again for her holiday.

Miss Dixie was back at work. He was sorry for it. That girl with the blue eyes and the chestnut hair would stay in his thoughts. He could not upset the accustomed routine of the office. He had no fault to find with Miss Dixie. But—still—

His butler came into the room.

"A gentleman is asking to see you, sir."

"What name?"

"He wouldn't give his name, sir."

"What is he like? Anybody you know?"

"No, sir. A tall young gentleman."

"Anything special about him, Dawson?"

"He looks as if he had had an illness, sir, and he has rather peculiar eyes." Dawson was used to these questions. His master was apt to be pestered by all sorts of people who wanted something.

"Go and ask him, please, why he won't give his name."

The butler came back.

"The gentleman says he is quite willing to give his name, but he would rather give it to you, sir. And he says you know him."

"Rather cool," commented Albery. "At all right, show him in Dawson."

A tall thin youngish man, with a rugged face and rather startling pale grey eyes, walked into the room.

Albery stared at him for a few moments without recognition. Then a look came into his face as if he saw a ghost.

He started to his feet, exclaiming:

"Moore! Rex Moore! It's Rex Moore, isn't it? You're alive!"

"I'm alive all right," said the man. "Sorry to give you a shock."

"You've changed, Moore! I should hardly have known you. It's not only that you've shaved your moustache; you look so much older."

And indeed, this man of thirty did look much older than his years; almost as old at this moment as the elegant, olive-skinned, sleek-haired man of forty-five.

"I've had a bit of a bad time," he said.

Mark Albery was recovering himself and grasping his visitor's hand.

"I can't tell you how glad I am, Moore. This is a great day for me—for all of us. Two years—a bit more, isn't it? But we've never forgotten you; we've always regretted you. Why didn't you let us know? Why did you leave us to think you were lost? It was unkind, my boy. The search for you went on for weeks."

"I couldn't help myself at first," the airman said. He spoke to the rich manufacturer, who had done so much for him in the past, in the same curt way as he had spoken to the girl in the train from Liverpool to London. He had always been a rebel, a young man who was a law unto himself. "I was blind for more than a year after the crash."

"Blind!" Albery gazed wonderingly at the strange, light eyes.

"I'm cured all right. But I suppose I look queer to people. It was some nervous disease—can't explain it to you. Don't understand it myself. It comes from shock. A specialist in California cured me."

SOLONS CLASH OVER HITLER'S NAZI POLICIES

DICKSTEIN CALLS HIM 'MADMAN' BLANTON TALKS BACK

WASHINGTON, July 25 (AP)—In a blast on the house floor against anti-religious activities in Germany, Rep. Dickstein (D., N. Y.) today called Adolf Hitler "this madman of Germany" and accused him of stooping "to cold-blooded murder."

Immediately Rep. Blanton (D., Texas) admonished that America should "mind its own business." He said the state department was the only agency designated by the constitution "to handle our business with foreign countries," and that Dickstein had no authority to call Hitler a madman, even if he were justified.

Preliminary negotiations looking toward a reciprocal trade agreement between this country and Germany served to touch off Dickstein's attack.

Any such agreement, he said, should contain an "iron-bound provision" protecting the rights of American citizens in Germany, regardless of their religion or racial origin.

Dickstein also contended the proposed pact should insist that the German government undertake to prevent the sending of all kinds of Nazi propaganda into the United States.

"I want the foreign governments of the world to understand," Blanton replied, "that this gentleman from New York speaks without authority on this floor. He has no right to castigate the ruler of any foreign country, no matter how much he doesn't like him."

BRITAIN

Britain still was without definite word from Premier Mussolini on the Italian plans for next week's League of Nations council meeting at Geneva.

It was understood that the British were prepared to discuss all questions involving Ethiopia as well as Italy, but even this stand has not shaken Mussolini from his silence.

Prime Minister Stanley Baldwin and leading members of his cabinet were represented as favoring full league action, provided other powers agree, as a last resort to avert war between Italy and Ethiopia.

The time limit for appointment of a fifth arbitrator to the deadlocked conciliation commission expires tonight, apparently killing all hope of settling the crisis by direct negotiations.

Some circles said that Anthony Eden therefore will go to Geneva for a League of Nations council session about July 31 empowered to announce that Great Britain is ready, if no other alternative can be found, to stand by all its obligations under the league covenant.

Political circles said Eden, an ardent champion of Geneva as minister for League of Nations affairs, has been given virtually a free hand to present Britain's views at the momentous session.

The sudden switch of France to the side of Great Britain, at least in support of Britain's desire that Italy should state its full case and aims in Ethiopia to the league, was believed to have led the cabinet to decide on a firmer course than that of a week ago.

France at that time snubbed British efforts to obtain French cooperation.

France was not expected to approve any action that Mussolini would consider inimical. But it became clear that France has been led to see that if the league covenant fails to prevent a "Roman conquest" by Il Duce, it also might fail to restrain any expansion ambitions by Germany toward Austria.

Dr. W. Martin, the new minister from Ethiopia, presented his credentials to King George today after going to the foreign office for consultations from which he emerged smiling but without comment.

His foster-mother, Mrs. Louise Rose Plummer, lives at Hastings, Kans.

The shooting of the officer occurred a few minutes after the man had been brought to the station by Patrolman Al Wickstrom and booked for investigation.

Wickstrom and William Welsh, radio station employe, both had just left the city hall, where the police department is located, when dancers at a hall across the street saw a scuffle in progress in the lighted office. A moment later, they said, two shots rang out.

H. O. Timothy, milling company employe on his way home from a night shift at the plant, heard the shots and saw a man run from the building. He dashed in and found Whitman dying lying on his back in the hall where he had staggered still attempting to catch the fleeing man.

Garden Frock

Out of Hollywood comes this charming garden frock, worn by Frances Grant. Of white dotted organdie, the bodice is form fitting, with puffed sleeves and a large, youthful collar. The skirt is smooth over the hips and billows out below. Plain white ruffles and red cherries at the throat and waistline are the chief decorative touches.

Markets

NEW YORK, July 25 (AP)—The stock market ran into realizing which had been expected by the analysts and a number of the leaders backed up under the selling.

Selective buying during the greater part of the session, however, acted as a cushion for the fall and many issues held to a narrow groove. The close was rather heavy. Transfers approximated 1,300,000 shares.

UTILITIES

Patton brought two books on livestock to the hotel for Carpenter's son and took them out again wrapped in newspaper.

Patton Opposed 'Sentence'

Carpenter said his son gave the box of cigars to Patton a couple of days before the Sunday before the house vote. Patton voted against the death sentence.

The senate committee received testimony from Carpenter that his concern has paid $2,452 over a five-year period to Peter Molyneux, editor of the "Texas Weekly," including $1,300 for "advertising, advice and assistance."

Carpenter told the committee yesterday he had paid Molyneux $192 recently for radio activities in opposition to the administration holding company bill.

The other items listed today included $760 for subscriptions to the magazine and $200 for advertising. He said $1,000 was paid for "advertising, advice and assistance" in the year ending June 30, 1931, and $800 the next year.

"Mr. Molyneux is a good authority regarding advertising and assisted the advertising department," the power head explained. "Did he ever print that he was being paid by the Texas Power and Light company?" Senator Schwellenbach (D-Wash) asked.

"I don't know," Carpenter replied. "Did you ever see such an announcement?"

"No, I don't recall that he made an announcement."

Black asked Carpenter if he favored regulation of utilities. The witness said he believed in state regulation, not federal. "You actively opposed creation of a state commission before the legislature didn't you?" Black asked.

Draws Laugh

Carpenter denied he had opposed such legislation, but under further questioning agreed representatives of the company had opposed "certain features" of the legislation.

He explained that Texas had a "home rule" law by which cities and towns regulated utilities.

He drew a laugh when he said the "cities and towns were very jealous of their power."

Black asked if the utilities shared that "jealousy."

"Yes sir, I believe in state rights and home rule," Carpenter replied. Black asked the witness to tell of any proposal for a state commission that his company did not oppose.

Schwellenbach asked if the company did not favor state regulation when federal regulation was proposed and favor "home rule" regulation when state legislation was proposed.

Wrote Texas Bill

Black then read a newspaper story saying McCartney was "co-author" of a substitute regulation bill offered in the Texas legislature by Senator Holbrook, to replace a more drastic regulatory measure.

Black directed the questioning again at Carpenter's hotel room conference with members of the house from Texas.

He explained that Representatives Johnson (D-Texas) had called him from the hotel lobby and invited him to dinner. He said Johnson was an old "friend" but he never been to his hotel room. Johnson also voted against the death sentence.

Black asked Carpenter if he had refreshed his memory overnight with regard to his activities on the Sunday before the house vote on the utility bill.

He said yesterday he did not remember giving a newspaper-wrapped package to a congressman but could not recall what he did.

"Do you remember now," Black asked.

"Yes, sir," Carpenter replied.

Remembers Now

"I called my wife and told her of the questioning yesterday. She laughed and said 'don't you remember we were out all day together on that day with our boys?'"

Carpenter added he and his family drove around Washington suburbs all day and had lunch in nearby Alexandria.

"I don't know why I didn't remember that yesterday," he added. He denied anyone had visited his hotel room before he went out with his family, but said he might have met someone in the lobby.

Senator Minton (D-Ind) expressed surprise that Carpenter spent all that day driving around when he was so concerned about the vote in the house the next day.

Carpenter insisted, however, upon his story.

Magill told the house committee "a liberal estimate" of what the organization had spent fighting the utilities bill would be $25,000.

CHICAGO, July 25 (AP)—Despite sensational reports of severe crop damage to spring wheat, grain markets wound up today with little net change in prices.

Rapid fluctuations were accompanied at times by active trading, but taken as a whole, business lacked volume. Late reactions from earlier advances were associated with unusual lack of general public speculative interest.

Wheat closed steady, unchanged to 1/2 higher compared with yesterday's finish, Sept. 86 1/2-4, corn 1/4 down, Sept. 75 1/2-4, oats 1/2 off to 1 cent up, and provisions varying from 2 cents decline to 12 cents gain.

rifles met with resistance when they tried to disperse a crowd of 3,000 persons milling about Twelve Points, a business district in the industrial section near the Columbian plant last night. A few "kazo" bombs which discharged nauseating gas finally broke up the gathering, which is forbidden by Governor McNutt's proclamation of military rule.

One injury was reported, Mrs. Edward MacBeth, 33, grabbed a soldier's bayonet when he ordered her to move on, and was severely cut in the hands. Arrest of 11 persons brought the total detained by the troops since the strike started to 180.

Guard officers immediately ordered all beer taverns to close, and directed the soldiers to enforce the regulation against assemblage. Col. Albert H. Whitcomb, second in command, said 500 to 600 guardsmen are on duty and added, "I do not anticipate the removal of more troops unless things quiet down considerably."
