LAKE SUCCESS.—P—The India-Pakistan dispute over Kashmir was tossed back to the Security Council today with the two dominions in disagreement.

Direct talks between the two governments ended last night without accord. The council was called today to receive a report of the fruitless negotiations.

Commission Says Judge Is Not to Blame

The City Commission, speaking through the presiding officer, Mayor C. A. Huff, issued a statement today saying that the body was not criticizing Corporation Judge Clifford Braly in his session yesterday but was criticizing rather the system of keeping records on parking violations.

"We're supporting those boys 100 percent. The system may be wrong," Mayor Huff said at a called meeting this morning at the City Hall. By "those boys," he said he meant Judge Braly and Chief of Police Louis Allen.

The mayor said he felt the article published yesterday in The News did not show the real intent of the discussion, namely that there was something wrong with the system of records and dispensations of traffic violations, rather than a criticism of the judge.

Chief Allen said at the meeting today he did not say, as reported yesterday, that he was not going to be taken to Judge Braly's office, where they either were excused or thrown away.

Contrary to the report in The News yesterday, Chief Allen said he meant to make it clear that there were about 1,600 delinquent tickets which had been issued over a period of months by the Police Department for violations, and that the system of record-keeping seemed to be breaking down. He also said that he meant that Judge Braly receives through the mail a number of tickets from citizens, just as he himself did. Some of these tickets, he said, are dismissed on the grounds that the persons in question may have had legitimate excuses, such as that they were in a dentist chair or in a doctor's office. The records on such tickets, he said, are not too well kept.

Chief Allen said that Judge Braly does not handle over one-third of the parking tickets issued. Most of them, he said, were paid to the desk sergeant.

Judge Braly later explained to The News that most of those persons coming to him with parking tickets usually felt they had some legitimate excuse, and that he judged each in such case.

Mayor Huff said that if the commission on intent to "blast" Judge Braly, or any other city official, the employee would be called before the commission, and such criticism would not be made in his absence. Judge Braly was not present yesterday when the subject of parking tickets, traffic violations and records came up for discussion.

It was explained today that the 1,600 delinquent tickets in the police files must be dispensed with. The city attorney has been instructed to send one more letter of notice to those delinquent in payment of parking fines. Letters will be filed against those who ignore the letters, it was said.

GRAPLELAND.—P—Police searched today for the toy gun bandit who escaped after an unsuccessful attempt yesterday to rob the Farmers and Merchants State Bank here with a child's play pistol.

Dodging a money changer, a watchman and a chair flung at him by Bank Vice President Leonard Anderson, the would-be bank robber fled with only $125 in cash he snatched from the floor where it had been dropped by a startled depositor.

Principal clue to the robber's identity was a broken bit of the toy pistol, broken when the heavily-set man slipped and fell on an ice-covered sidewalk as he escaped. Officers said the piece of the pistol contained fingerprints.

Anderson said the man, wearing dark colored glasses but no nametag, entered the bank yesterday afternoon and threatened him with a gun. Suspecting the gun was phoney, Anderson hurled the money changer at the man.

The changer missed its target. So did a large wastebasket and a chair.

He threw the chair back at me and then apparently decided that the holdup was a bad gamble and fled out the door," Anderson said.

Officers believe the man escaped in a maroon sedan with Missouri license plates.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—P—A three-man faculty all-white named Saturday for Oklahoma's new law school for Negroes—but Mrs. Ada Sipuel Fisher, who caused it all, says she isn't interested.

The young Negro woman, an honor student, declared that what she also does, she will not attend the new school.

"Such a school, no matter how it is advertised, still does not give us the equality of treatment for which we have been fighting two years," she said.

Her fight started when she was refused entrance to the white University of Oklahoma's law school in 1944 because of her race. She carried it up to the United States Supreme Court, which said two weeks ago that she must have equal facilities.

The Oklahoma Supreme Court then ruled that this does not mean an end to racial segregation in Oklahoma's public schools. The state then set about creating a Negro law school in the state capitol building, "equal but separate."

High Officers Outline U.S. Military Needs

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The nation may be asked to spend as much as $16,000,000,000 for defense next year if friction with Russia continues, senators disclosed today.

This would be 30 percent more than President Truman has asked in his peacetime record budget for the 12 months beginning July 1. They said Gen. Eisenhower, retiring Army chief of staff, and other top ranking generals and admirals advised that the Army, Navy and Air Force must be brought up to date quickly.

One senator said the reports of new staggering military costs dampened the chances that Congress will approve compulsory military training any time soon. Such a program would add about $2,000,000,000 a year to the defense budget.

However, Chairman Gurney (R-SD) told a reporter the committee will hold more conferences before it decides whether to go ahead with the training proposal.

Gen. Eisenhower and others in the high command were said to have told the senators yesterday the way they think the next war will be fought.

It may begin, they were quoted as saying, with an aerial attack on the United States using the atom bomb.

This was one of the reasons given for having a large reserve of trained men to take over ruined cities and man essential industries. The United States was described as needing 1,000,000 trained men to occupy and guard the outlying air bases from which it would launch its aerial counter-attack up on the enemy.

PAMPA COLDEST SPOT WITH ONE BELOW ZERO

Winter's relentless siege of cold, snow and ice dealt further damaging blows to a wide section of the country today. Sub-freezing temperatures, ranging from one below zero reading at Pampa to 30 degrees at Brownsville and McAllen were general throughout the state. This marks the longest sustained cold spell in Pampa in eight years.

A fire causing damage estimated at $500 was reported by the Pampa Fire Department this morning. A stove at 529 Elm St., said to be too close to the wall, started a fire causing damage to inside walls and living room furniture.

Supt. Knox Kinar opened Pampa schools again this morning and school buses went back on schedule, although the hazardous driving conditions slowed operations considerably. The Pampa Business College has remained open throughout the inclement weather, although attendance averaged only 70 percent of enrollment.

The forecast for Pampa and vicinity: Partly cloudy this afternoon and tonight with continued cold; low near two degrees tonight; Thursday mostly cloudy, and not quite so cold.

Associated Press dispatches said an acute gas shortage in 44 South Plains towns brought a call for better emergency business holiday as bitter cold throughout the state and new snowfalls, over large areas already ice-locked, tightened winter's paralyzing grip on Texas.

Official of the Texas Gas and Power Corp. told The News today there is no shortage of gas and butane in the area served by their company. They also stated no shortage is expected.

The AP reports continued that the inclement weather affected many segments of business and industry and made idle thousands of workers. The death toll—in the East, South and Midwest—was a nearly 160.

The third cold wave in a week chilled residents from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast.

A blizzard swept New Mexico. A numbing cold spread over Texas from the Panhandle to the lower.

It's mighty fortunate for the world that the dominions of India and Pakistan have submitted their bitter quarrel over the princely state of Kashmir to the United Nations for arbitration. The organization this controversy might explode into a frightful fratricidal war which would encompass all the 400 millions of the Indian sub-continent—and it's doubtful if such a conflict could be prevented from becoming global.

If this case can be kept within the framework of the United Nations, it is likely to give a fine test of the efficacy of that organization. Thus far India and Pakistan have displayed good faith in their dealings with the U. N. and tacitly recognize that the controversy is so complicated and full of dynamite that they could scarcely be expected to settle it between themselves.

The trouble grew out of the formation of two independent dominions, India and Pakistan, at that time Kashmir, and other hundreds of native states, were given the privilege of joining either dominion or being independent. The Hindu Maharajah of Kashmir, Hari Singh, decided to remain free, but he didn't reckon on the fact that 77 percent of his subjects were Moslems. From the neighboring territory of Pakistan, Pathan tribesmen, who also are Moslems, swarmed into the state with the idea of joining it to Pakistan. There was a savage bloodshed and destruction. The Maharajah promptly cast his lot with Hindu India and asked for protective troops, which were sent. That's where the matter stands now, with constant danger of open warfare breaking out between Pakistan and India.

The U. N. Security Council has created a three-nation commission to study the whole situation and mediate the quarrel. Judging by the discussions already held, this mediation would involve a stoppage of the fighting in Kashmir, withdrawal of all troops, and establishment of an impartial interim administration after which a plebiscite would be held to let the people decide Kashmir's future status.

Your correspondent believes the U. N. will find that it cannot depend on any plebiscite for a decision but that disposition of the case will have to be made by the two dominions and the Kashmir government, acting within the framework of the peace organization.

Only 6.6 percent of the people are literate, and that right now they would be wholly incapable of rendering a verdict regarding their country in a plebiscite.

Kashmir Quarrel Provides Fine Test Case for U.N.

Hubert Howard Fifer, the man who has made an unprofitable pastime of escaping from Pampa jail, has been "at it again," Sheriff G. H. Kyle said this morning.

Fifer, who escaped from the City Jail here early in December, and who came back to Pampa the hard way, is now in the Gray County Jail, awaiting transportation to Huntsville.

Sheriff Kyle noted a couple of rivets missing in the steel wall near the bunks in the jail. Upon further investigation he found that Fifer had contrived a sharpened edge on a book, which he was using as a chisel to hammer loose the rivets, presumably to remove a section of steel plate, cut through the wall, and make another bid for temporary freedom.

Fifer at first told Kyle he had been using a boot heel to hammer the home-made chisel.

Kyle expressed his extreme doubts as to this statement, and upon continuing questioning, Fifer produced a metal strip he had pried loose from the bottom of a table, and which he was using for a hammer.

His "engineering" tools having been confiscated, Fifer will soon get to try his disappearing talents at Huntsville as a guest of the state.

Landmark Since 1901 Is Destroyed by Fire

LIVINGSTON, Tex. —(AP)—The Cottage Inn Hotel, an old Livingston landmark, was a blackened ruin today.

Early last night fire swept through the 35-room frame structure so rapidly that guests only had time to gather their coats as they fled from the dinner table. The hotel was erected in 1901. The loss was estimated at more than $50,000.

Empty Butane Tanks Leave Texans Cold

By the Associated Press

Texas home owners with empty butane tanks and cold heating stoves found little hope today for immediate relief from the fuel shortage except the unexpected arrival of warm weather.

The forecast was continued cold. Some sections of the state reported emergency diversion of the liquefied gas to ease critical shortages but in many sectors the butane dealer's answer was "no butane today."

Butane gas dealers and fuel service men in the Houston territory met last night and decided that "butane is short in winter because it isn't bought in the summer." But they could offer no immediate solution to the shortage which has plagued some rural and suburban sections since the 1946 budget. The commission authorized the city manager to include the amount in the 1948 budget when it is made up in October. The payment of the refunding of sewer lines, totaling $30,000 must be paid out of city funds.

The commission was also informed that a contract obligation, made by the previous commission with William T. Fraser, was due this year amounting to $11,780 for sewer line refunds in the Fraser Addition. Since no money was laid aside in the 1946 budget, the commission authorized the city manager to include the amount in the 1948 budget when it is made up in October. The payment of the refunding of sewer lines, totaling $30,000 must be paid out of city funds.

Gas Shortage In So. Plains

LUBBOCK.—(AP)—Forty-four towns over the South Plains were urgently requested to declare an emergency business holiday today to alleviate a serious gas shortage on lines of the West Texas Gas Company.

Lvelland, Littlefield, Anton, Amherst, Sulpan, Muleshoe, Olesia and Midland probably will be without gas in the next few hours, unless business places are closed today, an announcement at 3:55 a. m. stated.

Mayor C. A. Bestwick of Lubbock, immediately requested an emergency holiday in Lubbock, asking business places to remain closed and all residential users to use as little gas as possible. Lubbock, which is on the transmission line, would be the last to be without gas.

The emergency is "due to severe weather making a tremendous pull on our lines," said an official of the gas company.

Jester Tours Penal System

FREEPORT.—(AP)—Gov. Beaufort H. Jester had at hand today sweeping recommendations for improvement of the Texas Prison System as he completed a two-day inspection tour of Texas' penal institutions and inmates.

With Prison Manager O. B. Ellis as his guide, Jester made a rapid fire dawn to dark trip yesterday through the headquarters of the system at Huntsville, Wynne, Gerose and Ramsey No. 1 and 2 prison farms.

Today he plans to visit Retrieve, Clement, Central and Harlan prison farms, returning to Austin tonight.

The governor said Ellis' recommendations for reorganization of the system's financial operations and for general improvement in its facilities and means of handling inmates were "very sound."

Following a tour of the main unit at Huntsville, Ellis told Jester that a sound financial basis, better segregation of prisoners, and more efficient and experienced personnel were the most important problems.

Defeat Threatening Premier's Proposal

PARIS.—P—Premier Robert Schuman's government will fall if the National Assembly votes down his gold program, a cabinet spokesman said today.

Defeat threatened the gold proposal, an integral part of the government's monetary program devaluing the franc and setting up a free money market.

Schuman pleaded for support from the Socialist Party to save the program. The Socialists, although represented in the cabinet, decided unanimously in a caucus yesterday to oppose the Schuman Bill to permit free trade in gold in France.

Secretary of State Pierre Abelin told newsmen after a cabinet meeting—the second in 12 hours—the government could not continue if the gold clause met defeat.

Schuman, Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and Finance Minister Rene Mayer went before a meeting of Socialist deputies after the cabinet session in an attempt to swing the Socialists behind the proposal.

The devaluation and money market measures already have been put into effect by cabinet decree. Parliamentary approval is necessary only for the gold bill.

Socialist cabinet ministers approved the gold measure before it went to Parliament. Since the deputies of the party have voted to oppose it, there is a possibility Schuman may decide to keep the Socialists in his cabinet.

The Premier got a sharp setback yesterday when the Assembly's Finance Commission disapproved the gold bill and voted 15 to 10 to report the measure unfavorably to the Assembly. It is possible for the Assembly to override the report.

Employment Gaining Here

"Employment in the Pampa area reached another high as compared to recent months," said L. F. Fort, local manager of the Texas Employment Commission.

In December 211 placements were made, and this has been exceeded by 213 already in January. Fort said the February record would probably be better still, if fairly good weather prevails. There is in the offering good demand for unskilled labor and for some skills.

Still another increase was apparent in the filing of compensation claims. During the month of weather such as the present more claims are filed. Fort stated. He added some of these will not follow through, however, if working conditions improve.

The farm placement program is being forwarded as rapidly as possible, although at present little farm help is being asked for, the employment office spokesman said. There are several requests each day for jobs by people who want to find farm or ranch work.

Farms and ranchers are requested to contact the local office at 206 N. Russell or phone 436 for aid in finding help.

Among job openings filed at the office now are positions for stenographers, typists, linoleum layers and cushion builders, Fort said.

Juvenile Officer Is Critically Ill

County and City Juvenile Officer Paul Hill was reported critically ill at noon today in the Worley Hospital after suffering a coronary attack in his home at midnight.

Mrs. Hill, wife of the juvenile officer, told The News shortly after noon her husband was "very low" and his pulse so faint it could hardly be counted.

Mr. Hill, several months ago, suffered a similar attack in the Veterans Hospital, Amarillo.

Proceeds to Go to March of Dimes

To fight infantile paralysis the Dramatic Order of the Knights of Khorassan, will donate the net proceeds from their Dokey Dance Friday night at the Terrace Grill, Jack Nimmo, chairman of the 1948 March of Dimes campaign announced today.

Nimmo said the organization is expecting a large turnout and requested those who wish to attend to call the Terrace Grill for reservations. Tickets will be $1 per person.

The chairman added, that because of bad weather conditions, the Parade of Pennies, the school children's portion of the campaign has been cancelled.

He further requested that all persons contacted in the mailing campaign, turn in their checks or cash donations as soon as possible.

To date reports from campaign headquarters showed the drive was going along very well, Nimmo concluded.

TOO STREAMLINED, MAYBE?—Twenty feet of the Santa Fe streamliner El Capitan is shown sticking out over a downtown Los Angeles street after the engine broke away from a switching crew. The diesel was being separated from the train when it lunged forward, going through a heavy bumping post, across a driveway and through a concrete retaining wall. No one was injured.

House Ready To Debate on Tax-Cut Bill

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Tomorrow the Republicans start trying to ram through Congress a 1948 income tax cut for you.

Don't get excited. This is just the start. The road is full of bumps before you get a tax cut, if you get one.

This is the Republican plan, starting out:

1. Cut taxes in such a way that 7,000,000 people who have had to pay 1947 taxes won't have to pay any in 1948. They're the lowest income people.
2. Do this by cutting taxes from 100 percent for the lowest income group to 10 percent for the richest people.
3. Do it by cutting taxes a total of $6,300,000,000.
4. That's a lot of money to take away from the government when it has big expenses to pay.
5. So any tax cut that finally comes through Congress probably will be less than $6,300,000,000.
6. And President Truman is pretty sure to try to kill with a veto the Republicans' kind of tax-cut bill.
7. And it will stay killed unless the Republicans in Congress can get a bunch of Democrats to vote with them to override the veto.
8. Why is Mr. Truman against the Republicans' idea of a tax cut? Because any bill they put through will mean that much money lost to the government.
9. Mr. Truman, too, wants income taxes cut. But he wants any money lost to the government that way made up by raising corporation taxes.
10. The Republicans are against that. A lot of Democrats in Congress, maybe most, will follow Mr. Truman's lead and give the Republicans a rough time.
11. The House starts to debate the Republican bill tomorrow and will vote about Monday.
12. What would the Republican bill do for you, a taxpayer? If you're a big taxpayer, you'd pay less taxes in 1948 than in 1947.
13. If you're one of the group which would get a 100 percent cut, you'd have to pay no taxes at all this year.
14. If you're in this lowest income group and already have paid some from you, you'd get a refund, 1948 taxes by having withheld

4 Local Boxers Win In Regional Opener

By BILL BEHRMAN

Pampa boxers made a successful invasion of the Regional Golden Gloves Tournament in Amarillo last night in the first round of the five-night meet, by winning four out of their six fights, and only losing the two because of tough breaks.

In the 118-lb. high school division, Buster Kelly hammered Ed Noval Britton, of Amarillo, into submission as the referee stopped the fight in 1:32 minutes of the first round. Kelly winning by a TKO.

Tommy Landrum of Shamrock lost to Rusty Taylor of Perryton by a TKO in the third round. Landrum with a series of body punches floored Taylor in the first round and then after what looked to be an even second round, Taylor cut Landrum above the right eye and the referee stopped the fight. There was little doubt that Landrum was leading the fight up until the bout was stopped.

Roy Brower of Shamrock floored Jimmy Harris in the second round and then in the third round for a count of six before catching Harris with the conclusive blow in 1:22 minutes of the final round, in the 147-lb. high school division.

Francis Hunt of Pampa scored an easy first round knockout over Tibb Burnett of Amarillo in the 160-lb. high school division. Burnett was a pre-tournament favorite; picked to win this weight class by Puff Powell of the Amarillo Globe-News.

Roy Struener of Lefors threw his arm out of place in the early moments of the first round of his scheduled fight with Bob Biederbeck of Amarillo, and was forced to withdraw from the ring. Eugene Cooper, Pampa champion and winner of Pampa News outstanding boxer's award, scored his 82nd consecutive win as an amateur fighter last night in the 147-lb. golden gloves division by putting away E. J. Counts with a series of lefts first to the body and then to the head mid-way in the second round.

The only Pampa district boxer that is scheduled to fight tonight will be Donny Ray of Shamrock. Ray will meet John Stewart of Amarillo in the 112-lb. high school division.

Plainview Falls as Locals 20th Victim

PLAINVIEW—(Special)—Coach Clifton McNeely's Pampa High School Harvesters increased their total of wins to 20 last night and in 1-A.A. by downing the Plainview Bulldogs 42-38.

History almost repeated itself, referring to the football season, when the Bulldogs came from behind to defeat the Harvesters after trailing 19-0 with six minutes to go. With only three minutes to go last night, the local quintet headed the Plainview boys 40-31, but when ace Guard Bob Bogie broke loose for two crisp shots, the Pampa lead looked a little shaky.

Harvester Center Jimmy King turned in by far his best performance of the season as he poured 16 points through the hoops and played heads up defensive ball throughout the contest. Bogie of Plainview followed King for scoring laurels with 14 counters. Bogie, an excellent floorman both defensively and offensively, was the hoopster who twice brought the Bulldogs from behind to tie the score. Once at 15-15 and the other at 25-25.

High scoring Derrell Davis played his usual brilliant game as he scored 12 points and did a magnificent job in holding Plainview's Benton Coe to a single field goal. J. A. "Arkie" Miller was next in line in the point parade with nine points.

In the night's curtain-raiser the Pampa B team lost its second game of the season when they were defeated 33-27 by the Plainview B team.

The local B boys scored only eight points during the first half while the home-town Plainview club hooped 26, to take a very commanding 26-8 lead at halftime. When the third quarter began, the Harvesters B team put on a show of excellent ball-handling and defensive work as they limited the Plainview quintet to three field goals in the last half. Although they scored 19 points themselves, the locals' rally fell short as they rendered their second defeat in 14 starts.

Plainview Guards Tolver and Roberts copped high scoring honors for the night with eight points apiece. James Gallemore of Pampa was close behind these two with seven counters followed by Bill Bond who got five.

Lopez to Meet Mad Russian on Wrestling Card

Both George Lopez of Tampico, Mexico, and Pierre LaBelle of Portland, Ore., will have their hands full tomorrow night on Promoter Vic Burnett's weekly card at the Sportatorium when LaBelle will battle the 190-lb. Southwestern states champion Al Getz of Pittsburgh and Lopez will grapple the wild and stormy Leon Kirienko, who has acquired the fitting nickname of "the mad Russian."

Champion Getz made his first appearance in the local ring last week and made quick work of Johnny Corlin in the feature event. LaBelle also made his first appearance here last week, and mastered Jack Kiser of Oswego, Oregon.

Kirienko is one of the best conditioned athletes to wrestle in the area in the past year. In fact, his "washboard" appearance reminds one of the favorite of the funny pages, Alley Oop. And he seems to be capable of any sort of cave-man tactics in the ring.

Tomorrow night's wrestling matches will be a March of Dimes benefit.

It is estimated that a well managed farm pond can produce as much meat per acre as the same area devoted to pasture.

Texas-Oklahoma Series Hinges on Crowd Behavior

NORMAN, Okla. — (NEA)—President George Cross of Oklahoma has stipulated, in agreement with Texas officials, that a continuation of the schools' football series is contingent upon good crowd behavior.

The pop bottle-heaving episode of last fall is the only public demonstration ever to becloud the 48-year-old rivalry. With the Dallas Cotton Bowl's seating capacity scheduled to be increased by 15,000 by next fall the 1948-49 contests will be played before 62,000. The institutions start a home-and-home series at Norman in '51.

Brissie to Be Greater Than Grove-Mack

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Twenty-three operations saved a leg doctors wanted to amputate for Leland Victor (Lou) Brissie, Jr., the southpaw Connie Mack predicts will be greater than Bob (Lefty) Grove.

Brissie, 23-years-old, six feet, four inches tall and 213 pounds, signed a Philadelphia Athletics' contract yesterday thus becoming the club's only portside hurler. The A's went through the 1947 season with an all right handed mound corps.

Brissie was wounded in the Apennine Mountains of Northern Italy and after doctors were reasonably sure he had a chance to live they decided to amputate his leg.

"You can't," Lou protested. "I'd never be able to play baseball again."

So the medics operated 23 times and saved the limb. The bone and nerves even now are covered by little more than skin around Brissie's ankle. He has to wear a shin guard off as well as on the diamond.

His playing for the Athletics is no mere accident or chance. That's the way the boy's father, who died in 1946, wanted it. The parent turned down offers from the New York Yankees, St. Louis Browns, Detroit Tigers, Boston Red Sox and Brooklyn Dodgers when his offspring was but 16.

"Wait until you hear what Connie Mack has to say," he told young Lou.

Mack sent the boy to Presbyterian College where he played under Chick Galloway, an old Athletics' infielder. Last year Brissie pitched for the A's Savannah farm club in the South Atlantic League.

He compiled a regular season mark of 23 victories and five defeats, leading the league in most complete games, 25, earned run average, 1.91; shutouts, two, and strikeouts, 278. He fanned 17 men in one game—a record equaling performance—and established a new strikeout high for the nine-year-old circuit.

Although only 11 percent of U.S. farms had electricity in 1935, more than 61 percent have electricity today.

League's Banning Of Groves' Grid Career No Matter

STINNETT, Tex. (AP)—When the Texas Interscholastic League banned Frankie Groves from playing football with the Stinnett High School Boys' team it really didn't matter after all.

There won't be any football at Stinnett next season anyway. Stinnett High got too small.

Under interscholastic league rules a district can vote a school into it even though that school may not have sufficient enrollment to qualify. This time, district 1-B wouldn't accept Stinnett, which has fewer than 100 students.

So next season there will be no football unless Stinnett decides to go into the six-man variety—or Frankie organizes a girl's team.

After the pretty brunette played nine minutes with Stinnett against Groom last fall to break into the nation's headlines, several other Stinnett girls expressed a desire to take a gridiron fling. That was before the interscholastic league voted girls out of boys' sports.

What their attitude is now is not known.

Anyway, Frankie at this time is busy playing a guard position on the girls basketball team.

Oddy enough the girl who was able to play tackle on the boys' football team is handicapped in girls' basketball by her small stature.

But Frankie is speedy and handles the ball well. Coach Truman Johnson, who also coached Frankie in football, is well-pleased with her play on the cage team.

BOWLING

In the Ladies' Bowling League last night at the Pampa Bowling Alleys, Hughes-Pitts won two out of three over Reeves Oldsmobile, O.K. Tire Shop won three from Zale's Jewelry, Court House Cafe won three from Behrman's and Heard's Creamery won two out of three from Clegg's Ambulance.

Doris Shackelford of the Court House Cafe team bowled high single game with a 215, while Jo Hutchens of the same team bowled high three game series with a 528.

Don Robinson Is Honored on Birthday

Mrs. Don Robinson, 520 N. Wells, was hostess for a surprise chicken dinner honoring her husband on his birthday, Jan. 22.

The white cocoanut cake, with an array of gaily colored candies and decorations, centered the dinner table.

After the gifts had been opened by the honoree, the candles on the cake were lighted and "Happy Birthday" was sung by the following guests: The Rev. R. L. Young, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Reim and daughter, Theola, Dixie Lea and Donald Ray Robinson and the hostess.

Following the dinner the guests spent the remainder of the evening playing "42."

Mrs. Bowerman Is Honored at Shower

A postnuptial shower was given Friday evening for Mrs. Winifred Bowerman, who, before her marriage, was Miss Faye Beadie.

The affair took place in the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Carlson, 1015 S. Sumner.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served.

VFW Auxiliary Entertains Post

Approximately 70 people gathered Friday evening in the VFW Hall for a social meeting sponsored by the VFW Auxiliary with members of the VFW Post and others as their guests.

Charles Thomas was master of ceremonies for the program. The High School Girls Sextet gave two numbers, "Trot, No Doubt" and "Near You." The sextet was composed of Hilda Burden, Barbara Walters, Margaret Price, Carol Culbertson, Barbara Carlson, Betty Jean Frigmore, Joan Appleby accompanied them at the piano.

Several tap dances were given, "The Bowery Dance," "I Wonder," and "Turkey in the Straw" by Sally Cobb, Ina Jo Hawthorne, Janice Isbell, Marchetta Hall, all students of the McCurtury dance studio.

Tiny Zeporah Hall did a tap dance and singing number, accompanied by her mother.

Hostesses for the affair were Mesdames Verma Via, Mary Carlson, Lita Purdy, Bell Benton and Miss Helen Hagerty.

Commander Bert Stevens welcomed the auxiliary into the hall as this was its first meeting in this place and Mrs. John Brandon gave the response.

Refreshments of pie and coffee were served.

WE, THE WOMEN

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"Prices are bound to go still higher. It's up to the people who buy to stop carefully. We say prices are high, but all prices are not equally high. By careful shopping it's possible to buy without paying too much."

That's the president and general manager of the National Retail Dry Goods Association speaking. But if he is aiming his advice at housewives, he's not telling them a thing.

For a long, long time they have been meeting the challenge of inflation by careful shopping. It's time-consuming and it's tiring, but it's a necessary thing today, unless a woman has unlimited money to spend.

Judging by the prevalence of advertised sales all over the country, and the big mark-downs being made on everything in the store, such shopping is having results.

Women didn't fall for the "new look" to the extent that was expected. They didn't lose into the dust everything in their wardrobes that the new styles had dictated, the way they were told they would have to do. Instead, they only bought a few things with the "new look" for dress-up wear.

Women are naturally careful buyers. They know all the tricks of getting what they want at the lowest possible price. No man can tell them anything about that.

Mr. and Mrs. Stone Entertain Club

The Standish Pitch Club met last Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Stone. The evening was spent in playing pitch with high scores going to Mrs. Speck Riley and O. L. Chevring. Low score went to Mrs. Mickey Patrick and H. M. Medley. Floating prize went to Mickey Patrick.

Refreshments of cherry pie and cream, coffee and cocoa were served to nine couples.

It was announced that the club will meet on Feb. 5 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Patrick.

Reverend Honored By Entre Nous Club

The Entre Nous Club honored Mrs. Molly Gray with a bridal shower Thursday in the country home of Mrs. Lucy Good. The hostesses were Mesdames G. G. Stockstill, Norman Walters, W. D. Benton, J. R. Spearman, W. S. Tolbert, Donnie Lee Stroope and the co-hostesses were Mrs. Roy Sewell who met the guests at the door and Mrs. Arnie Barnett who had charge of the bride's book.

Individual corsages of white roses, centered with red roses were presented to the guest of honor and her mother, Mrs. O. H. Ingram.

Yellow Is Taboo For Gray-Haired

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

Be careful of the dress colors you choose, if your hair is going through the graying stage.

About forty-five persons participated in the shower.

By picking powerful opposites in dress colors, you can play down the undesirable tone in your hair. Navy blue and dark blue-greens are usually good. A very dark gray dress color can dominate hair tones with a yellowish cast. Black can hold its own successfully with any color mixture in the hair.

If black is trying to the face, relieve it with flattering pink placed at the neckline. Reinforce this flattery with a rosy make-up.

Although night traffic is only one-fifth that of daylight, more than one-half of the fatal accidents occur between dusk and dawn.

50 POUNDS LOST WITH BARCENTRATE

Many people have reported amazing results with this home remedy. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a jar bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the results, our way is less bulky fat and helps regain slender, more graceful curves. It's reliable, positive and makes of excess fat. Don't just seem to disappear about the waist today.

Mrs. Childers Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Albert Childers, the former Betty Jo Brown, was honored Friday afternoon at the home of her mother, Mrs. D. L. Brown, 922 E. Campbell. Hostesses for the affair were Mesdames M. D. Dwight, Hattie Holt, L. H. Anderson, Bill Harrison and Robert Dowdy.

Corsages of split pink carnations were presented to Mrs. Brown, mother of the honoree, and to Mrs. A. L. Childers, mother of the bridegroom, and a corsage of pink carnations tied with pink and white ribbon was presented to the honoree.

Mrs. Dwight presided at the lace covered refreshment table which was decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom surrounded with favors of tiny rice bags and flanked on each side by pink and white candles in crystal holders.

The gifts were displayed in the bedroom with Mrs. Anderson in charge.

Mrs. Holt presided at the guest registry.

About a hundred friends called or sent gifts during the afternoon.

OFFICE Nurse

By Adelaide Humphries

Copyright by Adelaide Humphries; Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THERE had been a scene that morning which had disrupted the ordered calm of Dr. Holbrook's office. It was, perhaps, unfortunate that one of Dr. Holbrook's most long-standing and promptly paying clients had caused it. However, as his office nurse, Janice Hilary, pointed out, Mrs. Stoval—Mrs. James Kidder Stoval, of the Long Island Stovals. If you please—had really been a patient long enough.

"It's time we dismissed her," Janice said to Miss Willows, Dr. Holbrook's secretary. At least, Miss Willows was one of the doctor's secretaries; he had two. He also had two nurses.

It was just after lunch hour that this conversation was taking place. The four young women—Miss Willows, of course, could not properly be called young, although she strove desperately to appear so—were all engaged in it.

"Dismiss anyone as important and rich as Mrs. Stoval? That would be unheard of. Imagine the news she would stir up over that!" exclaimed Betty Jane Cox, the other nurse. Betty Jane had been employed by Dr. Holbrook for only the last few months. The other girls exchanged knowing glances. But Miss Willows said:

"Yes, I doubt if it would be wise to go quite that far. Think of all the patients who come to Dr. Holbrook through Mrs. Stoval. I doubt, Jan, if even you can get away with it."

"Oh, no!" Janice raised her dark eyebrows, then drew them together in a determined line. "Well, that's what I intend to get away with," she declared. "Mrs. Stoval cannot come into this office and raise merry H because she's kept waiting 30 minutes. She has to wait her turn the same as anyone else. Besides, it was only 15 minutes—I tried it—and she insisted it was a half-hour. And she yelled at me as though I were so much dirt under her feet."

"No doubt she thinks you are 'daring,'" said Mrs. McInnis, the other secretary. "When you have that much money, and your name is in the social register, you are likely to consider anyone who slaves in an office from 9 till 5 as so much dirt."

"Well, we'll see," Janice said, with an enigmatic little smile. She slipped down from the edge of Miss Willows' desk where she had been perched. Her quick ear had caught the sound of the door that led to the inside passage to the front office, a door so one used except Dr. Holbrook and herself, which meant that the doctor had also returned from lunch.

"In fact," Janice added, with a little smile, "we'll see about it right now." She gave Miss Willows and Mrs. McInnis another significant glance, and walked out.

BETTY JANE'S pretty mouth hung open; her wide blue eyes were incredulous. She gave a small gasping sound.

"You don't actually mean she'll try to get Dr. Holbrook not to allow Mrs. Stoval to come here ever again? She—she couldn't do that, could she?"

"Suppose we wait and see," Mrs. McInnis said with a shrug of plump shoulders.

Mrs. McInnis was nice. She was Irish and inclined to be jolly, only she had a husband who, Betty Jane had learned, was no good, and a little girl whom she fairly idolized and over whom she never ceased worrying, because the child had to stay with hired help while Mrs. McInnis worked for Dr. Holbrook.

Illustrated by Vic Donahue

Miss Willows was nice, too, Betty Jane had to concede, after you got over being scared of her. She was not so stiff and inflexible as she tried to appear. In fact, Betty Jane sometimes wondered, among the other impressions she was striving to separate and file away, if Janice Hilary, for all she was so pretty and pleasant and young—she was not much older, in fact, than Betty Jane, who was just 22—might not be the one to be afraid of.

Not that Miss Hilary gave that impression herself. But Betty Jane had sensed it in the undercurrents that ran beneath the smooth routine of Dr. Holbrook's fine offices. As with this incident involving Mrs. Stoval today.

It had not been much of a scene. Not enough to whip up such a rumpus. Privately, Betty Jane thought that Mrs. Stoval had had a right to speak her mind. She had never been kept waiting so long before. None of Dr. Holbrook's patients, and nearly all of them were almost as rich and fat and pompous as Mrs. Stoval, were ever kept waiting long. They were not the kind of patients to be kept waiting. Or dismissed.

Would Dr. Holbrook actually do such a thing? To be more explicit, would Miss Hilary see to it that he did? Betty Jane found herself returning to this puzzling question again and again.

THE rest of the day went on as usual, with everything running smoothly as though on oiled ball-bearings. Janice Hilary, as Betty Jane had learned after she had been there only a few days, was largely responsible for this. It was Miss Hilary who ran things; the two secretaries and the appointments she made, the billings, and the correspondence. She assumed the full responsibility for medications and checked all diet lists. The lab work came under her supervision, and it was always Miss Hilary who ushered each patient into Dr. Holbrook's private office after the patient had been seen along through the preliminary channels.

However, Betty Jane had not been many weeks on her new job—her first, as the registry had sent her to Dr. Holbrook directly after graduation—before she realized that there were other, far more subtle, duties that Miss Hilary took upon herself, and that she ran these, too, with a sure, firm hand.

"A funny thing happened today," Betty Jane had said one evening to her Aunt Mame, with whom she lived, and to whom she related all the happenings, large and small, that took place during the day. "It was a hectic day. We had 31 patients, and that's more than most offices can handle in twice that time. Around 4 o'clock we were all going around in circles and beginning to wonder how we could keep it up another whole hour. Dr. Holbrook came out of his office—I wish you could see his office sometime, Aunt Mame!—anyway, he came out actually mopping his forehead, poor man. And he said that he didn't believe he could keep up the pace he'd set unless he took five or 10 minutes out. He said he would like to run across the street and get a cup of coffee—or—and he laughed and looked at Miss Hilary when he said this—a Scotch and soda might pick him up quicker."

"Then the funny thing happened," Betty Jane's big blue eyes had reflected incredulity. "Miss Hilary looked back at him and kinda smiled and shook her head. She didn't even say a single word. Then Dr. Holbrook shook his head too—kinda resentful-like—and just turned and went right back into his office, meek as a lamb."

"Humph!" her aunt had commented briefly, yet emphatically, as though she had not found this incident hard to credit at all. "So that's the way it is."

Betty Jane had asked what did Aunt Mame mean?

Aunt Mame had lifted expressive shoulders. "Your Miss Hilary sounds as if she runs the doc as well as the rest of the shebang."

Betty Jane kept thinking about her aunt's comment throughout this day whenever her thoughts wandered to the outcome of the morning's incident.

If it were true that Janice Hilary ran the doctor—and there had been plenty of similar happenings since to substantiate this notion—then Mrs. Stoval, Long Island Stoval or not, would never darken these doors again.

World Series Shown Local Rotarians

Pampa Rotarians didn't get to go to the 1947 World Series so the series came to them via movies last night in the Palm Room, City Hall, when Aubra Noncaster, Pampa assistant coach, showed a play by play sound movie of the World Series including shots from the All Star Game between the American and National Leagues and a special game played for disabled veterans. Because of dangerous highways the Berger Rotary was prevented from coming to Pampa to pay off to the Rotary for its presentation of Ravista Rotarian, Spanish language publication of the Rotary magazine, to the Senior High School. The Senior High and the public library are given subscriptions each year to the Rotary by the Pampa club.

It was announced the Rotary Club's infantile paralysis collection Saturday topped all other collections. President Ray Evans extended the community's thanks to members of the Rotary, and other civic club members, who braved the biting cold winds Saturday to man the coin barrels.

The club's sympathies were extended to Floyd Yeager on the death of his father yesterday in Groesberg, Texas.

Among the congratulations was one from Jim McCullough, district governor, on the Pampa club's attendance victory over Berger and concluded with a reminder of the Rotary conference at Big Spring on March 28, 29 and 30.

Virgil Mott led the club singing. Junior Rotarian Don Lane made his farewell address after introducing its attendance race loss but notified the Pampa club the event will take place at a later date.

It's Getting to Be Time for a New Act

When New York's last variety-and-pictorial show throws out the stage show in favor of the double feature, it seems that vaudeville at last is officially dead. Then along comes a Tokyo dispatch saying that this guy Hirohito is still working the stage there with an acrobatic clown act.

His performance doesn't sound like much. He takes a fan in his toes and fans himself. He swims in the rain, holding an open umbrella in one hand. (Presumably he can do the same thing without it raining.) The story doesn't say what he does for an encore—maybe he writes under water.

Anyway, as we said, it doesn't sound like much of an act. We guess that what keeps him going is good publicity and a soft-hearted management.

Used to be that Hirohito's publicity was pretty extravagant. For several years, he was billed as being descended from some god or goddess. The yokels believed it, too.

Then one thing and another kicked the show from under this sort of promotion. So whoever is handling his publicity decided to build him up as a sort of simple-minded man of the people. He is "a man of great accomplishments and hobbies," says his latest press release, but "these few are unique." He's now advertised as being courageous and democratic, an emperor whose ambition is to live in the folksy manner of British royalty.

Hirohito is living up to his press-agentry and acting his part, on and off the stage. For one who used to demand and get a star billing, he's very easy to get along with these days. His present spot in the show is just dandy. The pay is fine. He has no complaint about his dressing room.

The soft-hearted management seems to be taken by all this. Hirohito is stealing the show from the star act that the management is trying to build up. He keeps on getting a lot of publicity. As a result, he seems to be cheered as loudly by some audiences as he was when his divinity build-up was at its height.

While all this has been going on, one of Hirohito's old bosses, fellow-name of Tojo, has been having a little trouble in court. He is being tried on a charge of trying to put Hirohito's present management out of business by violent means. It is clear from Tojo's testimony that Hirohito isn't quite the clown and dope that he is now said to be.

In fact, it is clear—if Tojo is telling the truth—that Hirohito was fronting for the Tojo outfit and that, far from being a dope, he knew everything that was going on in advance. There is also a strong suspicion that, when the present bosses stop running the show and checking the box office personally, Hirohito may try to bring the old management in again.

For that reason, it seems odd to note that the American management in Japan is so completely fixated on Hirohito's clown act as the audiences do. Perhaps their main concern is to keep the audience happy.

His past history and present popularity show that he can be a serious trouble-maker. So wonder why the American bosses don't retire him to some actors' home and put in one of their own acts to replace him.

There are nearly 100,000 garages, service stations, and automotive repair shops in the United States. California has the oldest variety record of an act. These are the annual growth rings in the ancient Sequoia trees.

Fair Enough

by Westbrook Pegler

We get so sore in the big election years that we vote mad and pay high for the fun of it. In 1912, we of the lower orders, the Democrats that we are, delighted to elect one of the historic mistakes of popular government, Woodrow Wilson. He was a supercilious, bloodless intellect who vamped his few fanatical friends and spent their bones like a fellow at a fish-ry. He had no more respect for the individual human being than he had for a pig and he died of a tantrum because the Senate wouldn't call him God Almighty. Wilson put us into a war where we had no business and a rhetorical pretext about making the world safe for democracy, when a little backbone and belly would have saved the world most of the horrors that have ensued. The sorry New York Tribune and Theodore Roosevelt and Leonard Wood were nagging Wilson to cheap heroics. The Tribune, of course, wanted to save the British Empire. T. R. and Wood pictured themselves riding brewery nags up some gentle hill with faithful hounds, when the latter, yknow, laid the salt of the earth—bleeding nicely on white bandages, while a phonograph ofstage yapped the "Marseillaise."

Had Wilson sat tight a little longer, the Allies and the Kaiser would have put their heads together and traded off a few south-forties and desirable corners and the world would have resumed the old groping progress toward who knows what?

Suppose Belgium had disappeared. Suppose Poland had reappeared with a king. How many countries have appeared and disappeared, how many democracies and empires since the peace of Versailles? One excuse for that war was the moral rally and heroics," says his latest press release, but "these few are unique." He's now advertised as being courageous and democratic, an emperor whose ambition is to live in the folksy manner of British royalty.

We were doing fine up to 1912. William H. Taft had taken Theodore Roosevelt's place and was doing a mediocre, journeyman job, so help me, that is the only fault we had to find with him. He was just going along from day to day and not making any noise. We like noise.

We let T. R. heat us up against Taft, a good, steady-going president who would have let them fight their heads off in Europe. I was thinking of the worst. Suppose we had got Jim Watson, of Indiana, for president after Taft in 1912. That would have been pretty bad but much better than Taft.

This year we can have Bob Taft or Tom Dewey. Bob Taft has got political E. O. because he had the integrity to fight the horribly corrupt and ruinous union racket. I don't know if he had a handicap that is, but if he has, he's a good deal better than the Taft-Hartley law deprives him of nothing and protects not only him but the whole country from the most dangerous racketeers that we have had since the hecker-days of railroad promotion.

Taft has integrity and a sense of the importance of government to people. He did some of his growing up in the White House and, barring his school days, he has been around the works of the main plant of our government all his life. That is the way you learn to lay brick, fix a watch or any other trade.

To compare Taft and Truman or Dewey and Truman on moral grounds is brutal to Truman. Any man who will flunk to a fellow who takes his two-bits out of every dollar on a wide-open town stamps and classifies him as a "racketeer" and a "bribe-taker" and a "graft" and there he stands.

This is not an attempt to incite anger against Truman. I know our people too well. They are more likely to think him a very likeable fellow.

We are more likely to let the racketeers heat us up against Taft than to let the Communist Party or against Dewey for saying grace at meals.

Between Taft and Dewey I think I would take Dewey because he has had more actual experience in a great political administrative position.

Need Public Support One of the cleverest and most useful designs of Communist strategy is to so condition our minds that we will not dare criticize the minority racial groups whatever its activities. Such mo-

"Mainspring" A Most Important Book

If five or ten percent of the people of the United States would read and understand the new book "Mainspring" we might be able to save our country from its drifting away from the principles of individual responsibility and return to a constantly increasing standard of living.

This book is a rewrite of a re-telling by Henry Grady Weaver of the older book "The Discovery of Freedom." It is a condensed and simplified form told in the language of business.

Henry Grady Weaver is at the head of the Consumer Research Department of General Motors. He has been in this department since 1924. This book is a history of human progress and how not to prevent it. It is the product of two great minds, Rose Wilder Lane and Henry Grady Weaver.

Maintaining a country is a league of speech and means the source and cause of our progress. About the only purpose of reading history is to learn what causes progress and how to prevent it. This book tells what causes progress and how to prevent it. It is different from most books of this nature because it is so easy to read. John Locke called "To learn is painful," which is true. This book takes away most of the pain in reading. Real education is simply an effort to encourage them with partial responsibility for further dangerous expansion.

Although the nation's financiers are aware of the White House attitude, it has escaped general attention because there was no public ranting over this highly complex problem. But Mr. Truman's program on the handling of private credit, federal securities, debt management and taxation can be gleaned from his economic report and from statements before Congressional committees. The Federal Reserve Chairman Marriner S. Eccles.

OPPOSITION — Their policies are openly opposed by the Federal Advisory Council, which consists of twelve bankers representing each of the Federal Reserve Districts. Through Mr. Eccles they submitted a brief to Congress in opposition. Private financiers are also hostile and have poured their complaints into the ears of Treasury officials.

Although Mr. Snyder has been represented as critical of the Eccles plan for credit curtailment, the area of disagreement between them is smaller than the headlines have broadcast. The Secretary of the Treasury simply prefers to try more orthodox methods before resorting to the Federal Reserve Chairman's more drastic curbs.

INSUFFICIENT — Incidentally, these protracted discussions of the problems of public and private finance have highlighted the fact that the vaunted Federal Reserve System's present power is utterly insufficient for producing an orderly management of money.

It was created when the public debt amounted to only about one billion dollars and it was given authority commensurate with the conditions of that day.

But the men who organized the system never dreamed of an era when the national mortgage would soar to $25,000,000,000, or that the banking institutions would hold $80,000,000,000 of federal securities as reserves for dangerous extension of loans and credits in a postwar period.

By agreeing to support federal securities at or slightly above par instead of at a premium figure of 110 or 115, the federal financiers have increased the return on them in the hope that owners will hold them instead of disposing of them. With $150,000,000,000 of government issues falling due within five years, Uncle Sam must continue to manage the market, willfully no matter how many headaches it causes at Washington and elsewhere.

Thomas Edison was granted 1077 patents, of which 256 pertained to electrical lighting and power distribution.

This book tells what causes progress and how to prevent it. It is different from most books of this nature because it is so easy to read. John Locke called "To learn is painful," which is true. This book takes away most of the pain in reading. Real education is simply an effort to encourage them with partial responsibility for further dangerous expansion.

Although the nation's financiers are aware of the White House attitude, it has escaped general attention because there was no public ranting over this highly complex problem. But Mr. Truman's program on the handling of private credit, federal securities, debt management and taxation can be gleaned from his economic report and from statements before Congressional committees. The Federal Reserve Chairman Marriner S. Eccles.

OPPOSITION — Their policies are openly opposed by the Federal Advisory Council, which consists of twelve bankers representing each of the Federal Reserve Districts. Through Mr. Eccles they submitted a brief to Congress in opposition. Private financiers are also hostile and have poured their complaints into the ears of Treasury officials.

Although Mr. Snyder has been represented as critical of the Eccles plan for credit curtailment, the area of disagreement between them is smaller than the headlines have broadcast. The Secretary of the Treasury simply prefers to try more orthodox methods before resorting to the Federal Reserve Chairman's more drastic curbs.

INSUFFICIENT — Incidentally, these protracted discussions of the problems of public and private finance have highlighted the fact that the vaunted Federal Reserve System's present power is utterly insufficient for producing an orderly management of money.

It was created when the public debt amounted to only about one billion dollars and it was given authority commensurate with the conditions of that day.

But the men who organized the system never dreamed of an era when the national mortgage would soar to $25,000,000,000, or that the banking institutions would hold $80,000,000,000 of federal securities as reserves for dangerous extension of loans and credits in a postwar period.

By agreeing to support federal securities at or slightly above par instead of at a premium figure of 110 or 115, the federal financiers have increased the return on them in the hope that owners will hold them instead of disposing of them. With $150,000,000 of government issues falling due within five years, Uncle Sam must continue to manage the market, willfully no matter how many headaches it causes at Washington and elsewhere.

Thomas Edison was granted 1077 patents, of which 256 pertained to electrical lighting and power distribution.

WASHINGTON — President Truman has presented a quiet but determined challenge to the Republican Congress and private bankers on the question of curtailing excessive extensions of loans and credit to consumers, builders, industry and commercial institutions during the current drive against inflation. If they reject his program, as seems likely, he feels that he will be in a position to charge them with partial responsibility for further dangerous expansion.

THE STATE OF WHAT UNION? (Chicago Daily Tribune)

Mr. Truman went to the capital on Wednesday to deliver the annual message to the state of the Union. The union with which Mr. Truman is concerned, however, is not the American Republic but the CIO. Mr. Truman made it abundantly clear that he favors everything that the dominant radicals in this organization favor and opposes everything they oppose. He is their man.

Obviously a deal has been made. The CIO and its political agencies have Mr. Truman where they wanted him. If they supported Mr. Wallace, Mr. Truman had no chance to carry New York and a few other critical states. In those circumstances he could not win in November. Mr. Truman saw the coming and prepared for it by yielding to the radicals at every point. He is their man not because they have joined him but because he has surrendered to them all his political power.

family. Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Mullana and Mrs. Frank Burton returned Monday from a business visit in Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith and Bienda Sue of Berger spent last weekend with their mother and grandmother, Mrs. Luta Smith, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gibson returned last week from Dodge City, Kans., where they have been at the bedside of Mr. Gibson's father.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — May be it's the pixie in me. But I have a definite desire, one which I can think of no major reason for checking, to do some Best Dramatic Performance awarding for 1947. But my Best Dramatic Performance List is different.

Stage, screen and radio stars may qualify, but not for their work in front of a camera, behind the footlights or over a mike.

These include Greer Garson's Broadway performance in divorcing Richard Ney—"He said I was a has-been"; Jimmy Cagney's "Swif"; and Lana Turner telling about the breakup with Ty Power and the "mad" New York which followed.

Laraine Day and Leo Durocher's splotch and subsequent battles with the press and Los Angeles judges. Olivia de Havilland's feud with Joan Fontaine, which was climaxed at the Academy awards presentation when Olivia walked away from Joan's congratulations. Bing Crosby's frequent word battles with night club photographers intent on shooting him minus his toupee.

I must observe that I have an aunt whose stitch-by-stitch reports on her recent operation make even the most dramatic performances of Bette Davis look pallid and restrained.

Then there's a grunt-and-growl wrestler named "Gorgeous George" who must be on this Best Dramatic Performance list of mine. I recently viewed this ravishing rascal, and his performances, both in and out of the ring, are dramatic masterpieces, first in high order.

I first saw "Gorgeous George" in Max Factor's make-up studio, arranging to have his long wavy hair bleached to the same strawberry blonde shade that Lucille Ball has. He admires Lucille's hair immensely.

Then I went to see him wrestle at the Olympic. He wrestles well enough, but where "Gorgeous George" really reaches dramatic heights is in protesting to the referee when this official has interrupted him in some bit of fancy fouling.

These protests are first in the surly, snarlingly restrained haughty pattern made classic by the late W. C. Fields. Then comes the chilly disdain of Basil Rathbone staring down a frost-bitten nose. Gorgeous George should have an Oscar.

Herman, a barkeep in a popular Hollywood spa, can't be omitted from my Best Dramatic Performance List. Herman's grimly steady refusal to put a bourbon high on the book, for one of the boys until payday has a "smile-when-you-say-that" quality which would take Walter Huston, Humphrey Bogart or Alan Ladd to top.

For pure drama in script and delivery, one must consider Eddie, the newsboy at Hollywood and Highland, who sells newspapers, when trade is slow, by shrieking such preposterous headlines as:

"Forty Thousand Perish as Yacht Sinks at Catalina."

"World War III to Follow World War II."

"Charlie McCarthy Stricken by Dry Rot, Committed Suicide."

No one but Groucho Marx could even come close to Eddie in making all such nonsense sound convincing and plausible, until you get to thinking the matter over.

Great dramatic performances?—they're everywhere. After all, there's a little ham in everyone.

OFFICE CAT

Telephone Operator—Is this 3181? Meid-Tassum.

Telephone Operator—Is this Mrs. Bird's residence? Meid-Tassum.

Telephone Operator—Long distance from Washington. Meid-Tassum, who?

Judge—Have you a lawyer, Sambo? Sambo—Now, sub. Judge, I don't decide to tell the truth.

"What is your occupation?" "I need to be an ornamental." "And why did you give it up?" "The monkey died."

James came to the word he could not pronounce and the teacher prompted: "Barque." James snickered, and the teacher explained rather impatiently: "Barque."

"How-wow," answered James obediently.

One can see the face of a tired tourist light up when he or she is greeted and treated courteously.

"Rastus" admonished the mislaid who just happened in unexpectedly in the back room of a confectionary, "don't you know it is wrong to play cards on the Sabbath?"

"Yes, yes, Parson, an' believe me, Ah's pay'n' for mah sins!" lamented Rastus.

Bobby—Daddy, a boy at school told me I looked just like you. Dad—Really?—And what did you say?

Bobby—Nothing. He was bigger's you.

CIO Calls for New Controls

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A spokesman for a big CIO union asserted today that the Democratic administration and the Republican Congress have been "seriously derelict" in fighting inflation.

Russ Nixon, Washington representative of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, told the Senate Banking Committee price controls should be restored immediately.

Along with them, he said, should go "power to allocate, ration and pay subsidies to producers, especially farmers, where necessary to assure production at reasonable profit."

Nixon, who said he spoke in behalf of 600,000 members of the union, criticized President Truman for asking only "standby" price control powers, "as though this problem were an 'iffy' matter."

He called the administration's anti-inflation bill "a feeble, too little, too late, complacent approach to an urgent problem" and added in his statement:

"The Republicans, with few exceptions, continue their support of the position taken by big business through the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce, and oppose price controls generally."

WEATHER

Rio Grande Valley.
Snowfalls in Tennessee measured from four to 16 inches.

Ice from three to six inches deep covered Arkansas and other parts of the South hit by cold weather, closing schools, impeding traffic and disrupting communications.

California did not escape the antics of the elements. Gusts of 85 miles an hour swept through Ontario, Calif., and winds of between 50 and 60 mph in other parts of the San Bernardino Valley yesterday. Trees and some telephone poles were felled as the winds whipped up heavy clouds of dust and sand.

The current fuel shortage brought further discomfort to many communities.

No estimate was available as to the number of workers made idle by closing down of plants and factories to conserve fuel. However, in the Detroit area alone an estimated 200,000 workers were made temporarily jobless when the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company suspended all gas supplies to industrial users. The order, which is in effect until next Tuesday, virtually halted auto production in the motor city.

There was promise of some relief from the bitter cold which has gripped the Midwest and temperatures started to moderate in North Dakota. But the mercury was far below zero in many sections of the Central States this morning.

The frigid blasts also chilled the Mountain States. Alamosa, in southwest Colorado, reported 46 below in the northern half. Arkansas communities and several towns were isolated from telephone communication. There was no immediate relief in sight.

The snow storm which swept over New Mexico moved southward into Mexico today with falls continuing in the south and southeastern parts of the state. Clearing skies brought a drop in temperatures in the northern half. In the Colorado line, reported 18 below near midnight. The thermometer touched 7 above at Albuquerque.

Schools in Albuquerque remained closed today and highways in the state's major population centers were icy. The natural gas situation remained critical in Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Clovis, Tucuman and Portales.

The winter's worst siege, built up by three cold waves from the north within a week, slowed or stopped travel, caused the closing of schools in many communities, damaged timber in northeast Texas and snapped power and telephone lines in many places.

BUTANE

diminishing supplies. The News said that the Warren Petroleum Company, Tulsa, Okla., one of the largest suppliers in the area, had informed Dallas dealers of additional supplies available in Wood County.

Other Dallas dealers reported in the newspaper survey that they were receiving hundreds of calls from families suffering from the shortage. They said some families were going to stay with relatives, burning wood in wash tubs, building fires in the yard or going to bed to keep warm.

J. E. Reddick, owner of the Consolidated Butane Gas Company, largest supplier in Dallas County, estimated that 1,000 of his 5,000 customers were without butane. He said he had been getting some of his gas from a Houston firm and some from Pampa. He said his quotas had been cut from 800,000 gallons last January to 200,000 gallons this month.

Suit Is Decided in Favor of Government

FORT WORTH—(AP)—T. W. Henry, Stephenville used car dealer, was assessed $750 and court cost in an OPA-investigated overcharge case.

Henry allegedly overcharged Kenneth Kelly, a veteran and John Tarleton College student, on a 1939 model automobile. Judgment in the case was awarded the government, which brought the case instead of Kelly.

1948 Texas Goals For Agriculture Given Approval

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson has approved without change 1948 Texas goals for agricultural commodities suggested by the Texas USDA Council.

Howard Kingsbery, acting state director of the production and marketing administration and chairman of the council, was notified of the approval.

"While in most instances state goals followed recommendations made by the department, Kingsbery said, "There were a few adjustments which we thought should be made and these have been approved."

The revisions recommended by the council involved a paring-down of acreage to be put into corn and all sorghums, and increasing the acreage to be planted in cotton and rice. As approved, the cotton goal for 1948 will be 8,300,000 acres, rice, 475,000 acres, corn 3,400,000 acres, and all sorghums, 4,800,000. The wheat goal, announced earlier, is 7,220,000 acres.

"Naturally the state is in accord with the USDA's desire to increase the production of grain crops," Kingsbery said, "and probably the reason for the recommended cut in cotton acreage was prompted by the thought that a substantial increase in grain sorghums and corn would necessitate a drop in cotton acreage. However, the cropping system in Texas is pretty complicated and the change from one crop to another cannot be made as easily as it sounds."

Commodities, approved 1948 goals, 1947 harvested acreages, and percentage of 1947 harvested acres, are listed in that order:

Wheat: 7,220,000 acres, 7,450,000, 97 percent.
Irish potatoes: 45,900, 45,000, 102 percent.

Peanuts—Picked and threshed: 652,000, 782,000, 75 percent.
Total feed grains: 12,350,000, 10,940,000, 112 percent.
450,000, 3,506,000, 127 percent.
Grain sorghums for grain: 4,800,000, 8,365,000, 99 percent.
