1,600 Saved When Transport Burns

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—The naval transport Wakefield, formerly the liner Manhattan, was severely damaged by a fire at sea September 3, the navy announced today, but more than 1,600 passengers and crew members were removed without loss of life.

move the more than one thousand passengers, many of whom were civilians, the others presumably being men in the naval service, the navy related.

Earnings To Be Taxed In Victory Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—The senate finance committee stood committed today to a minimum of $7,675,000,000 in new taxes—about $1,025,000,000 short of the treasury's goal—as a result of its vote to adopt a 5 per cent "Victory" levy on all industrial earnings in excess of $624 a year.

Vacation's end and the best of friends met part—the boy to go reluctantly back to school; the dog to wait, with what patience he can muster, for the final bell to release his young master from a day in the classroom.

Nazis Hurl Fresh Troops Into Push

By ROGER D. GREENE Associated Press War Editor Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, frenziedly driving his armies to capture Stalingrad, threw fresh masses of men and armor into the bloody assault today, but the Russians declared they were holding firmly on all sides of the imperilled Volga metropolis.

German field headquarters asserted in broad terms that tank-led Nazi troops had stormed and captured "dominating heights" in the fortified zone west of Stalingrad after stubborn fighting.

Soviet planes said Axis planes were so thick they were "literally hanging over our front line and bombing our positions," but the Russians waited them out and then charged to drive off the Axis ground forces.

Jap Drive On Port Moresby Slowed Down

GENERAL MacARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, Australia, Sept. 9. (AP)—Allied forces have slowed up Japanese troops in the steep and rocky approach to the "gap"—a mountain pass 8,000 feet up the Owen Stanley mountains, 50 miles from the important Allied base at Port Moresby—and Australian troops have practically destroyed 700 Japanese troops in the Milne bay area of New Guinea, General Douglas MacArthur announced today.

War And The Top O' Texas

Gray county is left out of the list of Texas counties in which additional sugar allotments have been authorized. Increases were based on the data obtained in the national registration for sugar rationing last May 4-7, used in comparison with the 1940 county population. The increase is for industrial users. Hansford got a 10 per cent increase, Oldham, 15, Hall, 15, and Lubbock, 10.

Vehicles Under Federal Control

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—Fearing impairment of the nation's war effort through loss of transportation services, the government moved today to control operations of trucks, buses and taxicabs by Nov. 15.

Democrats Hit Open Election Law Abuses

By DAVE CHEAVENS AUSTIN, Sept. 9. (AP)—Texas Democrats today took three roads toward correction of what they branded as abuses, evasions and open violations of the election laws that purport to govern the amount of money a candidate may spend to win office.

U. S. Relations With Vichy Nearing Break

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—Rupture of United States relations with Vichy loomed again today on the diplomatic horizon.

Beta Sigma Phi Begins New Study For Ensuing Year

Assembling in the home of Mrs. Bill Anderson on Tuesday night for the first regular business session and program of the new club year, members of Beta Sigma Phi sorority began their study of the theme, "The Body Beautiful."

Leader for the evening was Mrs. O. A. Vaughn who spoke on "Foods for the Victory Figure," after which Mrs. Oscar Hinger discussed "Exercising for the Victory Figure."

In the business session presided over by the president, Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer, additional arrangements for rush month in October were made.

Completing the officers for the year, Mrs. Shelhamer appointed Mrs. Kenneth Carman as representative to the Council of Clubs; Mrs. Jeff Bearden, parliamentary; and Miss Dorothy Jo Taylor, historian. Composing the budget committee are Mrs. Vaughn, chairman, Mrs. Robert Curry, and Mrs. Anderson. The social committee, Mrs. Robert Curry, Mrs. Helen Houston, and Mrs. Roy Johnson.

Reporting on the recent Council of Clubs meeting, Mrs. Shelhamer asked that the members save all old silk hose and give them to Mrs. Anderson, chairman of this project. Filling comfort kits, sewing for the Red Cross, and working with the surgical dressing group were discussed also.

During the social hour, refreshments of spiced tea and doughnuts were served in a room attractively decorated with arrangements of white roses, vari-hued asters and peonies.

Attending were Mrs. Arthur M. Teed and Mrs. Raymond W. Harrah, sponsors; Mrs. W. G. Gaskins, Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mrs. Jeff Bearden, Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer, Mrs. Oscar Hinger, Mrs. Robert Curry, Mrs. Kermit Lawson, Mrs. C. A. Vaughn, Mrs. Bill Anderson, Miss Dorothy Jo Taylor, Miss Margaret Stockstill, Miss Helen Houston, and Miss Johanna Davis.

Mrs. Shelhamer will be hostess at the next regular meeting of the sorority on September 21.

PUT THE FREEZE ON THE AXIS—Housewives don't throw out that old fur coat the moths have been wanting to nibble on Uncle Sam can use it and all stray fur pieces, too, to make fur-lined vests that will help heroic seamen warm during this winter's frigid voyages. Plans have been made to make 45,000 of the fur-lined vests, an average of 15 for each of the 3,000 vessels in the merchant marine. Already 5,000 workers in the fur industry have volunteered 10 hours of their time to manufacture the vests.

Mrs. Walker Named President Of Council Of Catholic Women

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
SHAMROCK, Sept. 9—St. Patrick's Council of Catholic Women met at the home of Mrs. Bob George with Mrs. Leo O'Gorman as hostess for the group.

Plans were made for monthly dinners to be held in the homes. At the first meeting, Mrs. W. L. Walker was elected president; vice-president, Mrs. J. E. Shewmaker; secretary and treasurer, Miss Cecelia O'Gorman; and reporter, Mrs. Robert Roach.

A social hour was conducted and refreshments were served to Mesdames Dennis O'Gorman, W. A. Allen, J. P. Harrington, Roger O'Gorman, W. L. Walker, Bob George, Robert Roach, and Misses Florence O'Gorman, Agnes O'Gorman, Cecelia O'Gorman, and the hostess.

September hostesses will be Misses Florence and Agnes O'Gorman.

A service flag, made by members of the Council of Catholic women and displayed in St. Patrick's church sanctuary, shows that five men of the parish have enlisted or have been drafted into the service of the United States. The stars represent Gerald O'Gorman, Frances Adame, Harold K. Humes, Ambrose O'Gorman and Bob Roach. It is the first flag of its kind to be displayed in a Shamrock church.

Minister Speaks At First Baptist WMS Meeting In Shamrock

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
SHAMROCK, Sept. 9—Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist church met Monday afternoon at the church.

The meeting was opened with the song, "Footprints of Jesus," after which the Rev. E. C. Derr, pastor, gave a devotional, using the sixth chapter of Mark as a basis for his discourse.

Mrs. George Stanley presided over the business meeting. Committee chairmen made monthly reports, and the annual report was approved to be sent to the North Fork Baptist association which meets for the 29th annual session at Wheeler, September 10-11.

During the meeting plans were made for an all-day meeting and covered dish luncheon next Tuesday to observe a week of prayer program. The program will be in charge of Mrs. Jack Kersh. All women of the church are urged to attend.

Marriage Of Miss Elliott And Lieut. Emmons Announced

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS
MIAMI, Sept. 9—Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Miss Zelma Elliott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver W. Elliott, of Olney, to Lieutenant Claude D. Emmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Emmons, of Hico. The marriage was solemnized recently in Olney at the First Baptist church.

The young couple will reside in Mineral Wells where Lieutenant Emmons is stationed.

Mrs. Emmons lived in Miami for several years; then in Mobeetie where she was graduated from high school and attended Texas Tech at Lubbock, where she received her degree in 1941, and then taught in Floyd, La. This year she attended Plainview High school and later graduated from Texas A. & M. college.

TRANSPORT

red rapidly from the blazing exterior.

The crew remained aboard the ship fighting to bring the fire under control, the navy account continued, but their efforts were unsuccessful and it soon became necessary for them also to transfer to the cruiser.

Aboard that ship they waited until the intensity of the fire had decreased somewhat and Commander Bradbury then led a special fire fighting party back aboard the transport and succeeded in bringing the flames under control.

More than 100 tons of salvage craft had been summoned and when they arrived successfully began towing operations. They finally delivered the former Manhattan to port.

The vessel was built in 1932 for the United States lines by the New York shipbuilding company at Camden, N. J.

The navy said that at the time of her completion she was the largest transatlantic liner built in the United States.

The Manhattan was taken over by the navy in 1941 and renamed the Wakefield in accordance with the navy's policy of naming transports for historic shrines of America, in this instance the birthplace of George Washington.

Commander Bradbury, 43, is a native of Neenah, Wisconsin. He was graduated from the coast guard academy in 1920.

In 1940, Texas had more sheep than any other kind of livestock with 8,447,809 recorded by the Bureau of the Census.

APPLICATION FOR LIQUOR PERMIT

The undersigned is an applicant for a Retail Liquor permit from the Texas Liquor Control Board and hereby gives notice by publication of such application in accordance with provisions of Section 10, House Bill No. 77, Acts of the Second called session of the 44th Legislature, designated as the Texas Liquor Control Act.

The Retail Liquor permit applied for will be used in the conduct of a business at Lewis Drug Company, Lefors, Texas.

DEMOCRATS

strated to make the move itself strictly as a party policy.

In the first suggestion, the 48th legislature was asked to "give close study to a revision of the election laws and provide more specifically for their enforcement, and that more definite provisions be made for a listing of all expenditures with the secretary of state, whether incurred directly by the candidate or in his behalf and with his knowledge."

Virtually the same specifications were made in the second action, a resolution by Tom DeBerry, member of the board of control, and directed to the executive committee of the party.

Another resolution on the same subject was also addressed to the legislature.

This document, by Senator Karl Lovelady of Meridian, went further and asked the legislature to name a joint committee to investigate any further election irregularity, and again recommended tightening of the election laws to require stricter reporting of campaign spending.

The convention's entire effort seemed centered on this topic, although by resolution and platform plank the Democrats made more than a score of recommendations. The session was characterized by remarkable unity; it functioned smoothly and apparently in line with the wishes of the party's new titular leader, Governor Coke Stevenson.

The convention made the formal motions of certifying nominees; it named George A. Butler of Houston as executive committee chairman, re-elected Mrs. H. H. Weinert of Segion as co-chairman, and selected Charles E. Simons, Austin, newspaperman as secretary.

An anticipated floor fight on the controversial liquor question failed to materialize. A resolution favoring prohibition of beer and liquor sales in areas 10 miles around army camps was dropped like a hot stick by the committee on resolutions and platform.

Among other platform planks were these:

Offering full support to state and national war programs;

Urging continued state control of oil and other natural resources;

Opposition to gasoline rationing in Texas until it has been definitely proven that such rationing is essential to winning the war.

Resolutions called for re-districting of house and senate districts on basis of the 1940 census and disapproval of a constitutional amendment to be submitted in November which would refund the state's general fund debt.

JAP DRIVE

The warships among the Tobriand islands yesterday and it was there that a destroyer probably was hit. Weather conditions made observation of results difficult.

The warships apparently were those which shelled Allied positions Sunday in the Milne bay area at the southeastern tip of New Guinea, where a Japanese landing force now has been practically destroyed, it was declared. This force was named the Kure No. 5 landing force, presumably after the Kure naval base near Nagasaki, Japan.

The Japanese casualties on this expedition were estimated at approximately 700 in the communiqué.

Nine Japanese bombers and five fighters attacked the Milne bay positions yesterday, but damage and casualties were listed as slight.

After Japanese forces were reported yesterday in contact with the Allied defense positions north of the key mountain pass leading to Port Moresby, 50 miles to the southwest, the situation was today described as "static."

A headquarters spokesman said the area of conflict there lies at an altitude of 6,000 feet in a pass which leads from Kokoda to Port Moresby. The fighting has been on the Kokoda side of the mountains and about 2,000 feet below "the gap," which is virtually only a trail.

LAWYERS

New York to fly here from Washington. He remained in the capital because of the pending soldier-vote bill.

Barofast said he would be glad to hear Marcantonio, but he was not listed among the counsel.

The life of the Communist party in Oklahoma depends on the outcome of the appeal.

The chief question before the criminal court of appeals resolves into this: Was the Bill of Rights trampled by the state or was it seized as a shield by the defendants for unlawful actions?

The defendants — Swart Robert Wood, state party secretary, his wife, Mrs. Allison Shaver, local party secretary, and Eli Jaffee — were convicted two years ago of violating the syndicalism law and sentenced to 10-year prison terms and assessed $5,000 fines.

The International labor defense retained three New York lawyers, Samuel A. Neuberger, Herman Rosenfield and Congressman Vito Marcantonio, to assist Stanley Beiden of Oklahoma City in challenging the convictions and the far reaching criminal syndicalism law, enacted in 1919.

Wood was charged with circulating literature teaching syndicalism and advocating violent methods of changing governmental forms. The other three were accused of membership in the Communist party, which the prosecution represented as advocating such changes.

The prosecution followed a raid on an Oklahoma City bookstore in which a dozen persons were retained and thousands of pieces of literature were seized.

A decision on the appeal is not expected for months.

In addition to the international labor defense, the American Civil Liberties union, the National Lawyers guild and the National Federation for Constitutional Liberties were permitted by the court to file briefs in behalf of the defendants.

Participating in the federation's brief were the American Newspaper Guild, the League of American Writers, and the Books and Magazines guild.

STALINGRAD

from the action," the Russian command said.

"Our troops inflicted a flanking blow and continuing the fight, aiming to annihilate the group."

In the western air war, waves of RAF bombers — perhaps 250 strong — attacked the Rhineland port city of Frankfurt in their sixth night raid on Germany out of eight nights this month.

Great fires were left raging in the city, the British air ministry reported. Seven RAF bombers were acknowledged missing.

Other RAF planes attacked targets elsewhere in the Rhineland, and DNB, the official German news agency, said "material damage was caused in residential districts of some towns."

DNB said German night raiders attacked Great Yarmouth and an airfield near Bedford, but the British declared the attacks were light and caused little damage.

On the Egyptian battlefield, British headquarters reported a continued lull in ground fighting while RAF planes attacked Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's long-drawn supply lines on the Salum-Matruh road, destroying trucks, fuel tank cars, and staff cars.

Three German planes were reported shot down in air fights over the El Alamein front, 80 miles west of Alexandria, where Rommel was reported reforming his battered armored forces.

Meanwhile, Vichy quarters said Washington's blunt rejection of the Vichy protest over American air raids on Nazi-occupied France had not yet been received officially.

These quarters asserted that the bombing of Rouen by U. S. army flying fortresses — the immediate cause of the protest — was executed "at Stalin's orders."

In Washington, the state department disclosed last night that the protest, made personally by Franco's pro-German Premier Pierre Laval, was "immediately" rejected. Moreover, Laval was told in forthright words that "military plants operated by or for Germany and other German military properties in France will be bombed at every opportunity in the future."

NEW! BIG WARTIME ECONOMY SIZE--25 oz. CALUMET BAKING POWDER

KATE SMITH says:
"IT'S THE BEST CALUMET BUY EVER! SO... GET A CAN TODAY AND MIX UP A BATCH OF PIPING-HOT CALUMET CORN BREAD FOR DINNER TONIGHT"

CALUMET CORN BREAD
1 1/4 cups sifted flour
2 1/4 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons sugar
1 cup corn meal
2 eggs, well beaten
1 1/4 cups milk
4 tablespoons melted butter
other shortening

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift again. (Notice what a small amount of baking powder you need with Calumet.) Add corn meal and mix well. Combine eggs, milk, and shortening; add to dry ingredients, mixing well. Turn into greased 9-inch layer pan or 8x8x2-inch pan; bake in hot oven (425° F.) 40 minutes, or until done. It will come out light, high, and handsome — protected all through the baking by Calumet's famous "double action."

Cut in wedge-shaped or square pieces. Or bake in graced breadstick or corn-ear pans in hot oven (425° F.) 20 to 25 minutes, or until done. Makes 3 dozen short corn sticks. (All measurements are level.)

Renomination Of National, State Incumbents Assured

(By The Associated Press)
Renomination appeared assured today to a wide majority of incumbents in national and state offices on the basis of unofficial returns from primary balloting in seven states.

Democrats in Louisiana gave a sweeping majority to Senator Allen Ellender, former lieutenant of the late Huey P. Long, in yesterday's primaries, and in Minnesota, Republicans presented wide leads to renomination efforts of Governor Harold E. Stassen and Senator Joseph H. Ball.

In Colorado, Senator Ed C. Johnson, assailed by his primary opponent, Justice Benjamin C. Hilliard, for what he termed pre-war isolationism and obstructionist tactics against President Roosevelt's administration, had a wide margin of votes for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

In Washington, Johnson said he was "too busy helping Franklin with the war effort to campaign in the primary."

Governor Ralph L. Carr won the Republican senatorial nomination without opposition. Nominees for four Colorado congressional seats and a senate vacancy caused by death of Alva B. Adams, Democrat, also were uncontested. Senator Eugene D. Milikin, Republican, who was appointed to Adams' seat, will face James Marsh, Denver Democrat, for election to the short term.

Governor Herbert R. O'Connor won renomination for a second term as Democratic chief executive of Maryland and in Vermont, U. S. Representative Charles A. Plumley took Republican renomination for the state's one house seat by nearly a two to one majority over Samuel R. Ogden, architect and former state legislator.

O'Connor chairman of the council of state governors, will be opposed by Theodore Roosevelt McKeldin, Baltimore attorney, who easily obtained the Republican nomination.

In primary balloting today, Georgia Democrats determine outcome of Governor George Eugene Talmadge's bid for a fourth term in a campaign chiefly concerned with his claims to white supremacy.

Both Talmadge and his 35-year-old opponent for the nomination, State Attorney General Ellis Arnall, claimed victory. Ten congressmen and a senator, Urlich B. Russell, Jr., seek renomination.

Dishonest Office Seekers Flayed By E. B. Germany

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN, Sept. 9 (AP)—The state Democratic convention broke out into an uproar yesterday when a gallery spectator interrupted a speech by E. B. Germany, retiring state executive committee chairman, who had called on the delegates to adopt party restrictions to require "candidates to report known expenses to protect honest candidates."

"Why do you come here to try to smear the name of one man," shouted the spectator, who later identified himself to reporters as W. A. Braddock, 80, of Austin.

"If the gentleman knows any one man who has been so dishonest I am after him," Germany replied.

"I have made no reference to anyone. I am confident that practically all candidates are guilty of the same thing."

Braddock attempted to speak further, was shouted down as Germany continued his report to the convention.

He praised the two-party system and said it was the nation's best means of preserving the democratic form of government.

"I was given this office originally because I was no professional politician, but I have learned jobs about politics," said Germany, who was regarded as one of the original supporters of W. Lee O'Daniel. In the recent senatorial campaign, he supported James V. Allred for the Democratic senatorial nomination.

"I have learned that candidates for public office sometimes are careless of the statistics by which they report their expenditures in a campaign," he asserted.

"I do not refer to any individual. I am speaking in general terms. But it is a bad situation when obvious expenses are incurred—such as radio time—and not reported. It is a dangerous situation when a candidate—mine or anybody else's—has friends who spend money or time in his behalf and they fail to make note of it."

"If a man accepts contributions, when he does not know from whom they come, he is not honest with his constituents. He puts himself in a position to be swayed which will eventually make themselves known."

"I'm talking sensible facts and they hit pretty close to some of the best friends I have."

Following the interruption, the convention again subsided into the smoothly functioning body that had characterized it from the first.

The brief flurry was the first as the reins of the Democratic leadership passed into the hands of Governor Coke Stevenson, whose adherents, as customary in Texas politics, apparently had the convention machinery well in hand.

First pop out of the bag when the convention came to order at 10:35 a. m. delegates got a laugh when the gavel pounded by Germany dissolved at the first blow, the head sailing over the platform and clattering to the convention hall floor.

Broadcasters Ban Extended By Union
NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—The National Association of Broadcasters says that the ban against the making of recordings for radio or other public use by members of the American Federation of Musicians (AFM) has been extended to cover electrical transcriptions used for a single broadcast by radio stations and then destroyed.

Sydney Kaye, counsel to the NAB, said that the order extending the scope of the ban was issued last Thursday by James C. Petrillo, union president.

New Anti-Submarine Campaign Under Way

LONDON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Official circles said today a new Allied anti-submarine campaign was under way, aimed at subjecting each Nazi underwater raider to constant attacks from the surface and the air during the whole time it is at sea.

"We must destroy U-boats faster than Germany can commission them," a source said. "We are building up an offensive against the U-boat which we hope will produce the results we want."

He termed fantastic a proposal to divert all shipment of war materials to air freighters as a means of defeating the submarines.

"Certain specialized equipment can and has been transported by air," he said, "but the great bulk of the material must go by ships."

Landlord Asks Lower Rent

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Sept. 9—Federal Rent Director John A. Arvin received 16,000 requests from San Diego landlords who want more rent.

He granted the change requested by No. 16,001—who would. "The legal maximum rent on my property is $35 a month. My tenant is a navy man in the lower pay brackets and $25 is all he can afford to pay. And I am satisfied with the $25."

So was Arvin. —BUY VICTORY BONDS— Oil is the most widely distributed Texas mineral.

Texans Best In Rifle Shooting At Camp Crowder
Special To THE NEWS
CANADIAN, Sept. 9—Private Billie Cavins of the U. S. signal corps writes from Camp Crowder, Mo. that he has completed his basic training and is now in the personnel school there.

In the basic training the soldiers study military courtesy, articles of war, rifle drill and firing, tent pitching, packing, gas mask drill, and signal communications.

In Billie's barracks there are soldiers from 16 states—Washington, Ohio, Illinois, Michigan, Indiana, West Virginia, New Mexico, Tennessee, Missouri, Kansas, California, Minnesota, Texas, Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, and New York—and, while they have friendly arguments about the good points of their respective states, Billie says they are a fine bunch of fellows.

He says it has been proven that the men from Texas are the best rifle shots, that 14 of 19 in his group made better than 142 out of a possible 200 shots.

Billie finds the amount of marching and drilling a bit strenuous and he has not become accustomed to rising at 5:30 a. m. Aside from these trifles, everything is fine and he likes the army and all the studies he has.

One of the simplest war aids asked by Uncle Sam — one which does not require even the slightest self-sacrifice — is the saving of fats and greases.

The response thus far has been good, but not good enough. Perhaps that is because saving waste grease is so very simple that its importance has not been realized.

To make up a shortage caused by Japanese aggression, and then to supply the added needs brought by war, American housewives must save and take to their meat markets — for forwarding to Uncle Sam — half a billion pounds of waste fats this year.

That is only a fourth of what has been wasted in the past. But since the year was half gone before the campaign began, it is about half of what could have been saved if every housewife co-operated to the limit.

Grease and fats produce glycerine, and this is made into nitroglycerine and other explosives. Glycerine is needed also as a float for ships' compasses and in the mechanisms which throw depth charges overboard at Axis submarines.

A one-pound coffee can will hold two pounds of grease. That is enough to make the explosive needed for five anti-tank shells.

In the past we got almost a billion pounds a year from Far Eastern sources cut off by the Japs — coconut oil and copra from the Philippines, palm oil from the Dutch East Indies and Malaya, tung oil from China, perilla oil from Manchuria and Japan.

We can replace part of this loss, and get something toward the billion additional pounds required by war, from Latin American sources, if we can spare cargo space in ships. The more we get from home, the more shipping we can use directly against the Axis.

So out of American frying pans and broilers — from the drippings of steaks and chops, beef and pork and lamb roasts, chicken and turkeys and ducks and geese — must come fat for glycerine for explosives for shells and bombs and depth charges to win this war.

Four out of the drippings through a strainer into a tin can. When the lard or vegetable fat gets too old to fry doughnuts or potatoes or fastnachts, dump it into the can.

Around the first of the week, when the butcher isn't too busy, take him anything you have from a pound up. He will pay the market price, and send the fat to the munition makers.

Reasonable relaxation of federal regulations, to permit the employment of aliens in non-secret war production, is a step in the right direction. Not only is it humane, but also it is practical, since it makes available hundreds of thousands of needed workers.

In wartime there is a tendency to beware of aliens. This surely is natural. "Alien" describes a person of foreign birth who has come to this country, partaken of its bounty, and lacked enough gratitude to assume citizenship.

But we cannot forget that among those who did become naturalized were only a few who did it only for subversive purposes — that among those not naturalized are many who have suffered greatly for their devotion to the principles for which we fight. It isn't sound to draw the conclusion that all aliens are untrustworthy and all citizens are democrats.

Dear Leon Henderson: We are in receipt of OPA Release 476 from the Office of War Information, on the subject of rubber heel prices, consisting of six and one-third pages on an excellent grade of white paper.

Set in the same size of type used in our news columns, this release would take one solid page and would carry over four inches onto another page, exclusive of the heading. Our foreman says that it would require the equivalent of a full day's time of a first-class printer to handle the tables, alone.

Probably a few trade papers can use this release. We regret to say that we cannot. Sincerely, The Editor.

Reform — Or Food: Rexford Guy Tugwell is not endeavoring himself to his Puerto Rican constituents by insistence upon using available cargo space to take rum barrels empty to the island and full to the mainland. The territory wants food, which is short. Tugwell wants money for his reform program, and he get it only by selling rum.

We suggest to Rex that reform works best on a full stomach. The Nation's Press: THE SUIT AGAINST AP (Chicago Tribune).

We don't suppose there is any one in the United States so naive as not to know that the action brought by the attorney general against the Associated Press had its origin in spite and anger. The true purpose of the litigation is to show the newspapers of this country that they will take orders from Washington if they know what is good for them. They wouldn't take orders at the recent meeting of the Associated Press in New York and accordingly the complaint has been filed.

The attack is directed against the entire press of the United States — little newspapers as well as big ones. It is intended to disrupt the Associated Press and destroy the values, tangible and intangible, which its members have created in it. The great work of the Associated Press in taking the leadership in the distribution of world news from foreign private agencies that used their facilities, often, to damage our country is apparently disregarded as of no consequence.

In their anger the men in Washington have not hesitated to do a very serious injury to the United Press and the International News service, both of which have long records of usefulness. They are written down as negligible, which they are not. Certainly if the government's allegations are true, these competing services cannot long

Common Ground

By R. O. HOLLES

"I speak the plain-word primer. I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."

Another New Kind of "Money": Few people realize the functions of money that make money really useful and thus continue to be used as money.

It will be remembered that the United States really changed our money system in 1933 when we went off the gold standard. We attempted then to use pieces of paper, not redeemable in gold, as money. It was in reality simply orders for wealth. Now we find we have so many of these orders for wealth, in the form of some $12,000,000,000 of currency and billions upon billions of dollars of bank credit, that this money will not buy a lot of the things we need. So we are issuing a new kind of money — rationing cards. Besides issuing rationing cards which we must use in addition to the money, in order to make the money good to buy the things we seem to need the most, we have established ceilings on prices so that we will not have to have so much of this manufactured ersatz money.

First Function of Money: The reason we have to have more and more rationing cards and more and more price ceilings is simply the result of this ersatz money not having the real first function of money; namely, a measure of value. And when money does not have this first function of money — a measure of value — it is only a question of time until it ceases to be a medium of exchange. When we had gold as money, this was a true measure of value until we began to dilute it with synthetic bank credit. Then gold measured the amount of human energy required to find and refine an ounce of gold. Then people could tell whether it would take more energy to mine an ounce of gold, or produce a ton of wheat, or make a suit of clothes, or write a song, or build so much road, or make an automobile tire, or to do hundreds of thousands of other things. Then we had a norm by which to compare the amount of labor required to do different things.

But since Roosevelt has decided that he and the Congress will be the norm of values, we have no permanent measure of value. We have issued so much more of this synthetic bank credit than there has been wealth produced that there is not enough wealth to supply all these pieces of paper and bank credit which we erroneously call money. So to counterbalance this dilemma that the New Dealers find themselves in, they are starting a new kind of "money" — ration cards — that have to be used in addition to this money in order to make it good.

And the more credit the government have the banks manufacture and, thus, increases bank deposits, the more ration cards they will have to issue. We are now hearing about having our meat rationed. Our government planners who think they know more than all the people know, kept the price of grain so high that farmers would prefer to store their grain than to feed it into cattle, hogs and sheep.

Yes, when money ceases to be a measure of value, as our pieces of paper issued to buy votes sooner or later become, then we have to have a new kind of money — ration cards. Then the people cease to be able to trade their labor on a voluntary basis. Then the government becomes our master, as Hitler has become master.

Free enterprise means free enterprise. It means that people have a right to exchange their labor freely and not be controlled by a group of politicians seeking only to keep themselves in power.

survive if any one "row using" them may obtain Associated Press service for the asking. If the government is correct in its contentions, and if it should succeed in its suit, the result of this attack on alleged monopoly would be the destruction of competition in the distribution of news and a complete monopoly for the AP.

In that sense this suit may be regarded as a threat to freedom of the press. In another and more important sense, the threat is the gravest which has arisen since the first amendment was adopted. Here we see the full force of government brought to bear with a view to demonstrating to all editors and all publishers that they must do what Washington tells them to do — or else.

The constitutional guarantee exists primarily to protect those who see the need to criticize public officials and expose administrative delinquencies. This action is calculated to intimidate and punish such independence of mind and expression.

The Tribune is a defendant in a suit alleging monopoly. It is not our purpose to try the case in these columns but we feel justified in calling attention to the fact that we have had many competitors possessing membership in the Associated Press but at no time in our long career have we ever bought one of them. The Times, the Record, the Herald, the Intra-Occident, the Chronicle were among the papers that couldn't make the grade in a freely competitive market. They folded up. Their memberships lapsed for that reason and only that reason.

AN OLD FAMILIAR STORY (Daily Oklahoman): Of course conditions on the government front in Washington are far from good. That is proved by the president's peremptory order to his subordinates to shut their mouths and quit quarreling among themselves.

But let no one conclude that this war is being lost by interdepartmental strife and bungling. Let every one remember that the country has had to endure a similar evil in every war it has ever fought and that the country never yet has lost a war.

The Revolution. The pernicious meddling by the continental congress nearly wrecked the revolutionary army and all but caused Washington to lose the war.

The War of 1812. While our army and navy were winning battles the Washington government nearly lost the war. Both the capital and the White House were burned by British troops, who entered the district practically unopposed.

The Mexican war. Congress interfered with the war's prosecution. Abraham Lincoln denounced the war as unconstitutional. Corwin voiced the hope that American soldiers might find hospitable graves in Mexico.

The Civil War. Washington wrecked the plans of nearly all the Union generals until the government learned enough to let Grant run the war without interference from the capital.

The Spanish war. Have you forgotten the embalmed beef scandals and the epidemic of typhoid at Chickamauga and Manfauk?

The World War. That war was nearly a year old when Chamberlain declared in the senate that our war program had practically bogged down in Washington.

The present bungling in the departments is deplorable of course. But in every war we have had it. Perhaps we always shall. But in spite of all we have never lost a war. We shall not lose this one. If necessary, we shall win this war in spite of Washington.

WHAT'S OUR ANSWER?

Around Hollywood

By PAUL HARRISON

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 9 — It had to happen — a cycle of pictures with predominantly feminine casts, or at least with feminine stars and minor male players.

The studios haven't found anything as exclusively skirted as "The Women," but this doesn't mean that scores of writers aren't trying.

In choosing stories to star women, producers haven't neglected the war theme. Sam Goldwyn has a script about the invasion of Russia in which Teresa Wright will be a fighting heroine. And United Artists is getting "Russian Girl," an adaptation of "The Girl From Leningrad" — "City Without Men" is a wartime yarn with almost an all-woman cast.

IT'S A WOMAN'S WORLD: Rosalind Russell, in "Stand By Me," is starring in the story of a famous woman flyer. And all the major companies are preparing bids for the war experiences of Ruth Mitchell, sister of Gen. Billy Mitchell. She worked with the guerrillas in Yugoslavia and was captured by the Germans.

David Selznick soon will film "Claudia" and "Jane Eyre," probably starring Ingrid Bergman and Joan Fontaine, respectively. Barbara Stanwyck is all set for "The Girl From Leningrad," a cleaned-up version of the burlesque yarn from the lusty pen of Gypsy Rose Lee. Incidentally, Lady Merle Oberon, of all possible actresses, is going to be a burly stripper in a picture being prepared by her producer-husband, Sir Alexander Korda.

And then there's "The Powers Girls," with George Murphy being edged into the background by 17 cuties. All over movietown, the gals are having things pretty much their way — except for dates.

WAR SONG PROBLEM: Some time ago the Office of War Information asked the nation's songwriters to get busy and bat out some war ditties to stir up fighting sentiment and the war effort, in general. But there still aren't any new hits.

Consequently, the tunesmiths mostly blame the movies. "We can't get any outlets for 'em," they say. "Talk to a studio about a war song and you're told they're wanted, even in war pictures. Music publishing houses say the same thing, and the radio people say there's too much war on the air already. They still want love."

The movie-makers, in turn, say that martial songs just don't seem to fit into the realistic war pictures being made today.

Maybe this just isn't a singing war, or perhaps nobody has yet caught the new, grim rhythm of lurching tanks or the irregular tempo of an aerial dogfight. This is a mechanized and not a marching war, and even jeeps don't jump in four-four time. Besides, Mademoiselle from Armentiers isn't a symbolic individual this time, and you can't write a sock tune about the girls along all our fighting fronts. At that, though, there ought to be one titled "Saucy Little Aussie."

SO THEY SAY: Women workers are replacing the men, as they leave, with great competency. There is no reason why they should not be able to take over 100 per cent of the work if necessary.

ROBERT E. GROSS, aviation executive. The days of Germany's glory are over. If I'm here (Egypt) as President Roosevelt's representative, it is because 130,000,000 are all behind the president to beat the Germans.

WENDELL WILKIE. The board of the War Labor board recently left no paper returned in order to dig up a pretext for making wage increases to big steel's employees retroactive to February 15, 1942.

Its action is perhaps the most glaring example of the agency's partiality to Philip Murray's C. I. O. When a compensation boost was granted to little steel's unions some time ago the forty-four cents a day hike was "rolled back" to February because the case had been certified by the W. L. B. as of that date. This meant that legal warning had been properly served. Last week the workers in the larger industry received an extra piece of pie and they insisted on having the same generous treatment accorded their mates. The managers protested on the ground that the contracts had been cancelled only lately and that the original rates stipulated in those documents should prevail through the seven-month period.

The corporations also noted that Lee Pressman, C. I. O. counsel, had not submitted formal request for more money twenty days in advance, as provided in the agreements. But the W. L. B., wishing to placate the Murrayites, fished around and exhumed a press release issued last February by Vincent Sweeney, a C. I. O. publicity agent. In that statement he said somewhat casually that England had agreed to the shipment of Hitler weapons to the South American country.

No. 10 Downing street is notoriously secretive about these clandestine arrangements. But there is no reason for mystery. Despite gaitcho recalcitrancy at the moment, Washington and London believe she will eventually enter our camp and put those German arms to good use. And although the amount of armament involved is small, every gun exported from the reich is a gain for our side.

Bradner, J. R. J., regional director for the federal works agency.

The contract, awarded to the Wallace and German company of Belleville, N. J., on a bid of $34,297, provides for installation of chlorinators and is scheduled for completion within 90 days. BUY VICTORY BONDS: COTTON FARMERS MAY POOL THEIR EQUIPMENT: LUBBOCK, Sept. 9 (AP) — Texas cotton farmers may soon be pooling their equipment to move their crops to gins and markets this fall.

Such a solution to the transportation problem was discussed yesterday at the first of a series of sectional meetings. Attending were Mark McGee, state director of the office of price administration, rationing board members and farmers from 35 West Texas counties.

The group heard a warning from McGee that fewer than one-tenth the number of tires normally used to move crops for farms will be available.

Other meetings to discuss the problem will be held in Sulphur Springs Sept. 15 and Huntsville Sept. 22.

BEW's Goal Is To Rough-House Enemy's Economy

By DeWITT MACKENZIE

Those war-speeches by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill impress one as being in the nature of cutting the Allies' twenty-first birthday cake, that is, a signaling that the United Nations are verging on military maturity.

Both declarations displayed a tone of certainty — or so it strikes me — that could only be based on achievements which, although they lag far short of what they ought to be, still are leading surely to victory. Facts warranting such calculations aren't hard to find, for these points stand out clearly:

(1) American war production has reached a point where its tremendous weight is making itself felt. Its momentum is gathering steadily for one are nowhere near our peak. Movement of our troops and equipment abroad pyramids. By implication President Roosevelt let it be known that more than half a million Yankee troops already have been sent to Europe.

(2) The blockade of Europe still holds tight — one of the greatest of the Allied assets — and the Axis strength is on the down-grade, due to lack of resources of all kinds. Hitler's war industries are slipping.

BEW's Goal Is To Rough-House Enemy's Economy

Those war-speeches by President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Churchill impress one as being in the nature of cutting the Allies' twenty-first birthday cake, that is, a signaling that the United Nations are verging on military maturity.

Both declarations displayed a tone of certainty — or so it strikes me — that could only be based on achievements which, although they lag far short of what they ought to be, still are leading surely to victory. Facts warranting such calculations aren't hard to find, for these points stand out clearly:

Rains Delay Harvests Over All Texas Except Northwest

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Harvests were delayed in nearly all Texas except the Northwest by rains the week ended Sept. 6, the U. S. department of agriculture and the Texas agricultural extension service reported today.

The delays were causing some loss in quality of open cotton and were preventing salvaging of crops damaged by the tropical storm at the end of August.

Conditions in the Northwest continued nearly ideal where feed crops were maturing and ground was being prepared and seeded to fall grains.

Farm labor was a serious problem, aggravated by the unfavorable weather for harvesting, but as yet little economic loss traceable to labor shortage had occurred, though some was anticipated.

Excellent prospects continued in the High Plains, where picking was just starting, but leaf worm infestation was increasing.

Corn was being harvested in the northern commercial sections, with fair to good yields, but little could be done in southern sections.

Grain sorghums were reaching maturity in the Northwest with bumper prospects and were being harvested in other northern portions. Some loss occurred in fields flattened by the August hurricane.

Harvest of rice continued in the central part of the area, but most other sections were too wet.

Onion seed beds were being made ready for planting in the Laredo section.

Conditions were favorable for commercial vegetables in the winter garden section, less favorable in parts of the lower valley.

Range and pasture grass over the entire state was making new growth and furnishing large amounts of forage. In some parts of the Edwards Plateau area grass was getting too rank for most effective grazing by sheep.

Cattle and calves were in excellent flesh and sheep were again unusually heavy last week. Goat shearing was in full swing and some losses occurred when shorn goats died because of the chilling rains.

In the south central counties many windmills were blown down by the hurricane in late August. Repairs were difficult to get and farmers and ranchers who depend on windmills were short of stock water.

Six Killed In Crash Of Training Bombers

ROSWELL, N. M., Sept. 9 (AP)—Two training bombers from the Roswell army flying school collided in mid-air 10 miles northwest of Roswell yesterday, killing all six members of their crews.

Authorities said the planes, in a three-bomber formation, were on a practice mission. One plane burned after it crashed, killing all six members of the crew.

None of the victims was from the Southwest.

Texas' first cattle and sheep were the flocks introduced by the Spanish founders of early missions.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP)—Light profit selling pushed most stock market leaders down fractions to around a point today. The slow decline followed an early display of firmness which encouraged bullish forces to hope that the list was about to establish a new top in the averages for the recent advance.

Transactions totaled about 350,000 shares. Wall Street continued in a more optimistic mood on the international situation although the day's war reports contained nothing especially stimulating to speculative interest.

Mexican Student Kills 4 Women

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 9 (AP)—Gregorio Cardenas Hernandez, 27-year-old honor student in chemistry, alternately wept and prayed in his jail cell today as police attempted to identify the bodies of two of the four young women found buried in his garden.

Although Police Agent Jose Acosta Suarez said Cardenas confessed killing the four women, one of them his sweetheart and fellow student, Graciela Arias Davalos, no formal charge had been placed against him.

AMONG THE 483 YOUNG TEXANS

High school where he played football on the Harvester team. Every section of Texas was represented at the seven advanced flying schools of the Gulf Coast Army Air Force Training center as 483 young Texans stepped up to have silver wings of the army air force pinned on their chests, symbolic of graduation.

Officials did not reveal the total number of graduates, but said that Texas again led all the other states. All except two states had men in this class, the eighth to graduate since Pearl Harbor, Canada and Latin America also had graduates.

These Texans had three weeks of pre-flight instruction and nine weeks each of primary, basic and advanced training. Those who pilot the single engine fighter planes are graduated from Foster field, Texas; Moore field, Texas, and Lake Charles, La., army flying school.

Those who pilot the bombers graduated at Ellington field, Brooks field, Kelly field, and Lubbock army flying school, all in Texas.

Included in the class were identical twins, Lieut. Ralph E. and James D. Tankersley of Terrell. They delighted fellow cadets at the Lubbock army flying school and confused instructors by looking, acting and flying exactly alike.

Then there was Colonel J. Russell of San Angelo at Kelly field who added the title of Lieutenant to his name. Colonel is actually his given name.

Here's A Letter To Your Soldier

Editor's Note: This is another in a series of letters giving news of Pampa to the men in the service. Fill in the blank spaces, clip and mail to someone you know in the army, navy, or marine corps.

Dear _____, Weather and the opening of school, along with the Labor Day weekend constitute the principal items of interest this week.

Even if it is football weather, the golfers won't quit until the snow falls. There were 75 devotees of the game out trying the new grass greens at the Country club the other day.

School was to have opened on Monday, September 7, but as that was Labor Day, the school heads decided to postpone it one day, even though the previous date has been set.

Pampa's swimming pool closed August 31—another sign of the autumn.

Getting back to the schools, B. A. Nuckols, for the past eight years mathematics teacher at the high school, is the new principal of Baker school, succeeding J. A. Meek, who has been transferred to the principalship of Sam Houston.

Dee Griffin, junior high athlete, was back in Pampa after trying out the Amarillo schools one day. Dee's folks moved to Amarillo but he kept thinking about the Harvesters, one of whom he expects to be some day. So he came back.

Tommy Solomon was another Pampian returning here recently. He's been attending summer school at Texas U.

Most of Pampa closed shop on Labor day. Down here at the News we got an extra day off, not coming back to work until Tuesday a.m. There were boat races at Lake McClellan as a Labor day attraction.

This has to be a short letter. The harvest hasn't been much going on. We'll make it a longer letter next week. So long.

Two Welfare Workers Slain In Wisconsin

TOMAH, Wis., Sept. 9 (AP)—Lacking any definite clues after a full day of investigation, law enforcement officials today intensified a state-wide search for the slayers of two women welfare workers, whose nude and bullet-riddled bodies were found yesterday on a nearby country road.

The victims were Miss Dorothy Baum, 32, and Miss Nell Pietrangeli, 25, who were driving from their home in Kenosha to nearby Sparta, County Coroner Walter R. Inman said both had been shot at close range by a medium caliber weapon, probably a .38.

Drs. Victor H. Craemer and J. T. Scantleton, who conducted autopsies, said that both women had been shot twice—Miss Baum through the shoulder and stomach and Miss Pietrangeli through the right arm and chest. Coroner Inman said it was not definitely established that the women had been criminally attacked.

Miss Baum was conscious when she was found lying in the road by Alick Chambers, a milk truck driver. He told authorities that she mumbled, "They hit us and robbed us of our car." She died before reaching the hospital.

MacArthur Asks Each Soldier To Kill One Japanese

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA, Sept. 9 (AP)—General MacArthur told United States troops in the field today that all he asked of them in action was that they kill one Japanese apiece.

The general talked at length to officers on the fighting qualities of the enemy they will meet eventually and counseled them to remember Napoleon's admonition that a soldier must never surrender except when he is unable to deliver any stroke against his enemy.

MacArthur described the Japanese soldier as a hard fighter who fought courageously and intelligently and who gave no quarter and asked no quarter.

BUY VICTORY STAMPS Cotton Production To Be 3,484,000 Bales

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 (AP)—Cotton production in Texas was forecast by the U. S. department of agriculture at 3,484,000 bales today, based upon conditions Sept. 1 and the third week of the season.

The forecast per acre, if realized, will be the highest for the state since 1912.

The forecast represents an increase of 307,000 bales or about 10 per cent over the August 1 forecast.

British Bombers Blast Frankfurt

LONDON, Sept. 9 (AP)—British bombers in their sixth night raid on Germany out of eight nights this month struck in strong force last night at Frankfurt, the Air Ministry announced today.

Large fires were burning, said an official announcement.

While the principal objective was Frankfurt, last raid on the night of Aug. 24, other targets in the Rhineland also were hit.

Fighter command aircraft at the same time carried out offensive patrols over German-occupied territory.

Seven bombers were reported missing from the Rhineland raids, three fighters from the patrol operations, and two coast command aircraft from patrol work yesterday.

The night raids followed daylight assaults by Boston (Douglas) bombers upon German submarine nests at Le Havre and Cherbourg.

It was the 35th time the RAF has struck at Frankfurt, a leading commercial city and important Rhineland port and rail center more than 400 miles from British bomber bases.

Only two nights this month has German sleep gone undisturbed by the drone of British bombers overhead or the crash of their explosives around.

Improving weather apparently helped in the intensification of the bombing campaign through which Air Marshal Sir Arthur Harris has pledged: "We are going to scourge the Third Reich from end to end."

Only two RAF raids were made upon Germany during the first eight nights of July; three in the first eight of August.

SERIAL STORY

WHEN A GIRL MARRIES

BY RENE RYERSON MART

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

DREAM COME TRUE

CHAPTER XVII

IT happened so simply, like most accidents.

The bus seemed to crawl on its way downtown that morning. Enid glanced at her watch again and again. She had thought that if she got to the station early enough she and Tom could have breakfast together in the station restaurant—and then she'd tell him she was willing to marry him.

And then, four blocks from Enid's destination, the bus hit an automobile. It was a minor collision, but Enid knew there would be time consumed in argument, and taking the names of witnesses. She slipped off the bus and started to walk.

At the first intersection she waited until the line of waiting cars passed and then, disregarding the light, started across. She didn't see the car coming around the corner until it was almost upon her. She threw up her arm to shield her face.

Enid opened her eyes and moved and a pain pierced her side. She caught her breath and whimpered and a white-uniformed nurse came into her range of vision.

"What—what happened—where am I?" "You were hit by a car," the nurse explained, "but you're going to be all right. You've got a couple of broken ribs. Don't worry now."

Enid digested this bit of news slowly as full consciousness came back and memory fitted pieces of the accident together. She remembered and a while-uniformed nurse came into her range of vision.

"What time is it?" she asked excitedly. "Ten o'clock."

"You mean 10 in the morning—oh!" She had missed him. Tom was gone.

"You mustn't get excited now," the nurse continued, laying a restraining hand on Enid's forehead. "There's just one thing—we got your address from your purse and we've tried to call your home, but no one answers. Will you tell us how to reach your folks?"

"My parents are on their way to California," Enid said slowly, making up her mind as she spoke. "But, you mustn't try to reach them. I—y—y—y said I wasn't badly hurt."

Grace Dingline came straight to the hospital from work that evening. Enid explained again that she didn't want her parents to know anything about her accident.

"Well, then, you must let me do what I can for you," Grace said. Enid thanked her. "There's really nothing to be done. Unless—if it isn't too much bother, you would stop at my house once in a while and bring me my mail."

"I'll be glad to," Grace said, and in accordance with that promise, Saturday afternoon she brought in Enid's first accumulation of letters.

ENID sorted them quickly, her heart quickening when she saw Tom's handwriting on one of the envelopes. Unopened she slipped it under her pillow, reluctant to read it in Grace's presence. And it was with a surprising eagerness that she drew it out later.

Curiously enough Tom said nothing about her failure to see him the morning he left. If he had gotten over it, "I'll write and tell him what happened, now that I am better," Enid thought.

So absorbed was Enid in her rather bitter thoughts that she paid little attention when a nurse slipped in and got her ready to go to the X-ray room, saying they were going to take some more pictures—"just a routine checkup to be sure that everything is all right."

It wasn't until after the X-rays had been taken, and Enid lay on the wheel chair waiting, that she remembered the hospital doctor was saying to the nurse penetrated her lethargy.

She lay awake all night, the words "spine" and "specialist," repeating themselves with growing horror in her mind. If her back was injured it might mean that she would be a cripple for life.

FOR the first time in her hospital stay, she was glad to see the night nurse come in at 6. She had always thought that the hospital face-washing ritual was absurd. Now it was a welcome release from the prison of the night and her own thoughts. And after her face had been washed and her pillows rearranged she fell asleep from sheer exhaustion.

The voices were hazy when she first heard them. First Dr. Rutters: "Please wake her, nurse. Dr. Holliday wants to make an examination."

And then that other voice with a strange catch in it, "Enid—Enid Sharon."

Enid turned her head. It couldn't be. Of course not. She was dreaming or delirious. Hank sent Dr. Rutters away, saying he'd consult with him later.

THE END

He held Enid's hand, pretending to take her pulse, and fooling no one, not even the nurse who, with an amused smile, slipped quietly out of the room.

"Why did you run away?" he asked reproachfully. "I didn't run away," Enid's lips trembled. "My month's rent was up—remember I only rented the apartment for a month."

She made a helpless gesture with her free hand. "I—I didn't think it would matter to you. The janitor said you were away with your mother—and Clare, I mean Miss Adams."

"Well—"

Enid closed her eyes against the nearness of his face. "I forgot—to congratulate you."

"On what?" "On your marriage."

His hand closed firmly on hers. "Say, what are you raving about?" Enid stumbled over the words.

"I saw her picture in the paper and the announcement of your engagement—"

Suddenly Hank began to laugh a long, loud, ringing laugh. "All right," he said, "Clare's married—but not to me. Wherever did you get the idea?"

"But you said your mother—that Clare was to be your wife."

He frowned with concentration trying to remember. "Oh—I said my mother had picked her for my second wife, didn't I? I remember now." His eyes grinned at her.

"But I didn't say that I'd picked her. Mother did try her damndest, beguiled me on that trip to New York, not telling me until the last minute that Clare was going along, and all that sort of tripe."

"You see, I'd found what I wanted, a girl who likes children—and dogs. A girl who can cook, and draw children's faces. You don't know anyone like that, do you?"

"Oh, Hank, darling—" It was some moments before she could say anything more, for somehow his mouth got tangled up with hers. At last she pressed her hands against his face, pushed it away.

"But, Hank—you don't want a cripple?" "Who said anything about a cripple? I've looked at the X-rays. There's nothing wrong with your back. We'll tape you up and in a couple of weeks you'll be as good as new. You'd better hurry about it, too, unless you want to go to your own wedding on crutches."

Enid's mind seemed to run in a rut. "Oh, Hank, darling..." was all she could find to say.

THE END

Compromise Bill On Farm Prices Will Be Drafted

By FRANCIS J. KELLY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—An initial blaze of congressional opposition to President Roosevelt's demand for legislation to stabilize farm prices subsided somewhat today as administration leaders labored over a bill which they hoped would appeal to farm and labor groups alike.

Chairman Brown (D-Mich.) of a senate subcommittee which has handled previous price control legislation announced that a comprehensive measure would be introduced in the senate tomorrow and would be taken up by the full banking committee either Friday or Monday.

Brown, declaring both houses should act promptly and simultaneously on the President's request, said:

"While some may feel that he put the proposition rather bluntly by telling us 'you do it or I will,' and by putting a time limit on a rather slow moving congress, it must be remembered that action is vital and vital action is necessary."

There was little apprehension on Capitol Hill that the president would move to stabilize prices by executive order on Oct. 1, provided congress had made good progress toward that end by the deadline he mentioned.

Although details of the bill remained to be worked out, Brown sketched a broad program which pointed toward controlling industrial wages as well as the levels for farm crops.

Agreeing with the president that floors were as desirable as ceilings for farm prices, the Michigan senators said they probably would be included in the program. The proposed bill would call for repeal of section 3 of the price control act, which provides that price ceilings on farm products may not be set at less than 110 per cent of parity, or the market price as of last Oct. 1, last Dec. 15, or the average price from 1919 to 1929, whichever is highest.

Parity is a level calculated to give the farmer income equivalent to that in a past favorable period, in most cases 1909-14.

Brown indicated that the measure probably would "authorize" the chief executive to control wages, but added that the authorization might be turned into a directive before the bill was enacted. Whether wage floors as well as ceilings would be established remained to be decided.

BUY VICTORY BONDS North Texas College Trains 10 Workers For Consolidated

DENTON, Sept. 9.—Leaving the North Texas State Teachers college campus this week for the busy plant of the Consolidated Aircraft Corporation in Fort Worth are 10 defense shop students, employed after two weeks of training in the NTSTC aircraft sheet metal course.

Although the course is scheduled to last from six to eight weeks, a special representative of the aircraft corporation visited the NTSTC shops, observed the work, and called it "very outstanding." As a result, 10 students of the course will have a part in building the planes which are turned out at the Fort Worth plant. Eight of the group will be riveters and two will do lay-out work. Most of those appointed had some related experience before entering the training course.

Rented Typewriters Must Be Returned

If you have in your possession a typewriter manufactured since January 1, 1928 which you have rented, you must turn the machine back to the dealer next Tuesday, September 15. This applies to new typewriters and used non-portable machines.

Persons eligible to purchase typewriters under existing regulations are not affected by this order, and no dealer may advertise typewriters for sale or delivery except to such authorized persons.

Notice of the September 15 deadline was given today by the Gray County War and Rationing board, which explained:

"The recent drive by the war production board for 500,000 machines for the army and navy has not turned up a sufficient number."

The news is critical, both the army and navy have cooperated in reducing the number of machines required for each of their units and federal agencies have agreed to reduce their requests wherever possible. Even with these steps, there just aren't enough typewriters to go around."

The new order places a three-month maximum rental limit on standard typewriters manufactured prior to Jan. 1, 1935 and on all used portables. Dealers are required to refund a proportionate amount on the unexpired rental term to persons who turn machines in by Sept. 15.

Nothing in the new amendment prevents a dealer from renting typewriters manufactured prior to 1935, but rental charges are under price ceiling regulations.

U. S. Planes Play Important Part In Anti-Submarine War

LONDON, Sept. 9. (AP)—United States-built Liberators (Consolidated bombers) and Hudsons (Lockheed) are playing a big part in turning the Eastern Atlantic into a sea of peril for Adolf Hitler's U-boats, the air ministry said today.

In a recent month, it reported, the RAF coastal command made 30 attacks on undersea raiders with one Liberator squadron setting the highest record of any in the command and a Hudson squadron running a close second.

For security reasons, the air ministry news service said, it is impossible to give figures or other details of these attacks but it stated the month mentioned was only an example of recent activity and now both sightings and attacks have been increased.

The news service said that in the month cited one Liberator named "F for Freddie" made three attacks on submarines within a few days of one another while another attacked two submarines within two hours.

"F for Freddie," it said, "caught one U-boat by surprise with five men in the conning tower and released four bombs before the submarine had time to crash-dive."

"They straddled the U-boat," one crew member of the airplane reported. "After a big explosion, a large piece of metal was flung into the air about 50 feet and the whole sub seemed lifted out of the water."

"Only gradually, painfully and laboriously has war been able to intrude itself..."

War Touches 'Typical' Campus Only Slightly

By BURTON BENJAMIN
NEA Service Staff Correspondent
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Sept. 9—War—like a big, blustering, ill-mannered hoodlum in his first year at college—hasn't succeeded in making himself popular on the campus of the University of Michigan.

War takes a back seat in student club sessions.

Love, learning and social life (in about that order) are topics of collegiate conversation almost to the exclusion of the second front, the battle for Egypt and the Solomon island victories.

Only gradually, painfully and laboriously has war been able to intrude itself upon the consciousness of most of the 11,279 students in this "typical" American university.

OFFICERS' BARS ARE TODAY

The average college male today is a pretty fortunate fellow. If he is physically fit, he is in the Army Enlisted Reserve, one of the Navy V's (1, 5 or 7), the Reserve Officers' Training Corps or the Naval R. O. T. C.

Unless he can wear officers' bars, the services hold little immediate attraction. "I didn't come to college to be a buck private," he will tell you. This viewpoint has been fostered by the armed forces, which have told students they must provide future officer material.

An enlisted reserve status, which removes the bugaboo of selective service, is a factor in student indifference. It makes the war something that follows college, not an immediate concern.

And he will protest that he is no more so than the locality in which he lives. "What the hell do you want me to do?" is a stock reply. "I'm doing what the army wants to do." This, he may secretly admit, is a wonderful rationalization.

LITTLE MASS SENTIMENT OBSERVED

There is little group feeling toward war. It is essentially an individual problem. You rarely hear: "The war looks terrible. We've got to get in there and fight like hell."

Rather you will hear: "Are you all set with the navy?" Or, "Do you think they'll let you finish school?"

Although he is leery of what he calls flag-waving or jingoism, there is no question of his patriotism. He longs for an early victory and a respite to the pleasant convivialities of college life. He realizes that such peace-time luxuries as football riots, excessive drinking, pipe courses, three-day house parties, the hypocrisies of rushing and poor marks are fast-fading vestiges of another day.

He has been maligned as a softie. Col. William A. Ganoce, R. O. T. C. commanding officer here, flayed the colleges for graduating "high-brow academics and low-brow gladiators" and insisted that "no culture ever saved a nation; it takes biceps and a low brow to turn the trick."

The student resented Colonel Ganoce's reference to him as a "lounge lizard." He asked: "Since when did we come to college to become a Charles Atlas?"

Typical of his growing maturity, however, is his enthusiasm for the new physical hardening program, a result of Colonel Ganoce's and similar criticisms. The student realizes he is not being subjected to this ordeal for altruistic reasons of physical culture. Yet he is taking it like a good soldier.

WAR IMPACT MISSES COEDS

College women have lagged, probably due to the absence of feminine conscription. Sorority sisters still giggle and joke about campus trivia, discuss the war only when a brother or boy friend join the colors. Seniors worry about the availability of marriageable mates.

"I'd like to go to New York and get into advertising," says Harriet Cress, a pert, blonde junior of 19 years from St. Joseph, Mich. "There

Pampa Recruiter After New Record

Sgt. R. D. Short, in charge of the Pampa army recruiting station at the postoffice, is opening an attack on all fronts today as he seeks a new "high" in enlistments to eclipse his August total of 37 men accepted for enlistment out of the 40 sent from the Pampa station.

The sergeant was happy today as the receiver of an unexpected bonus as he noted the 12 men he has already sent to Lubbock to date, and the two others who are to go today.

Scheduled to go to the induction station in the South Plains metropol- itols today are Noel Harding Gunter of Allison, and John Dave Paris of Miami.

Yesterday, the recruit list was Ivo H. Haffey, Wayne C. Cummings, Earl M. Pampa, John Thomas III, Berger, and Mancel F. Vineyard, McLean.

Prior rookies this month were Ray Monday, Harold G. Cockburn, George E. Glasscock, James M. Beck, and Pampa; James L. Schaub and Bill R. Smith, both of Wheeler; Earl M. Clemment, Dodson, and Will D. Powers, Mobeette.

Jaycees Receive 7 New Members

Opening gun in the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce's campaign for membership was fired at the luncheon yesterday when seven new members joined the organization.

Charles Lamka, chairman of the membership committee, said the organization was seeking a 100-member-ship by the end of the campaign, which will be September 29.

Adding interest to the drive is the "phony" money which has been printed for the organization and will be used in connection with the tag party and Victory bond auction set for the closing day of the campaign.

A $1,000 "bill" is being given each Jaycee attending a meeting; $1,000 additional for each guest; $5,000 for each member; re-instituted, $10,000 for each new member; and each new member is given $5,000 when he joins the Jaycees.

When the Victory bond is purchased with authentic money, the bond will then be auctioned off to the holders of the "heavy sugar" money of the Jaycees.

The Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce was founded in 1932. Heading the organization now is Bob Miller. Members of the membership committee are Charles Lamka, chairman, Vernon Hall and George Lewis.

New members voted into the organization yesterday were: George Duval and John Monroe, both of the Griffith Amusement company; Floyd Voss, Court House Cafe; N. F. Woods, Montgomery Ward; J. E. Sullivan, Purr Food store; Elton Lathrop, advertising salesman, The Pampa News; O. M. Griffith, Baash-Ross Tool company.

U. S. Making More Airplanes Than Axis

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Sept. 9 (AP)—Under Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson said today that the nation's tank production had reached "an impressive figure," and that the nation turned out more war planes last month than Germany, Japan and Italy combined.

In a speech before the United Electrical, Radio and Machine workers convention, Patterson added that tank production would be doubled in December and "we are putting our best effort into bringing out new types of design far superior to any that we have now."

Praising the type of men in the armed forces, their training, equipment and leadership, the under secretary declared the Japanese "al- though they blundered when they counted on Americans being soft, selfish and easy-going."

"Our soldiers can take it and they can hand it out," he added. "They are men resolved to win this war."

Patterson said that in speed, range, toughness of armor and hitting power, the U. S. medium tank, either the M3 or the M4, "is superior to the best German tank" as "proved in combat in Egypt."

Combat records also, he declared, have proved the Curtiss P-40 Hawks better than the Japanese Zero plane. Performances of American heavy bombers were "impressive" on all battle fronts, the undersec- retary said, and in pursuit ships, the Republic P-47 Thunderbolt was termed "the swiftest plane in the air."

warned today by Price Adminis- trator Henderson that such sales are subject to the GMPR which puts a ceiling on prices at the highest levels charged in March for similar bicycles. In this connection, he called attention to a provision of the emergency price control act which makes it possible for a consumer to bring legal action for recovery of thrice the amount of any charge above a ceiling level, of $50, whichever is greater.

Hospitals principally engaged in care of persons acutely ill will be able to provide patients the same amount of sugar used last year, as a result of a change in the sugar rationing regulations announced by OPA. Amendment No. 9 to rationing order No. 3 authorizes hospitals of that kind to obtain 65 per cent of the sugar base they have established for meals and food services, instead of 50 per cent as heretofore, starting with the September-October allotment period. Added to this will be the so-called "bonus" allotment, amounting to 25 per cent of the base.

First Check In Salvation Army Drive Received

The first contribution—a check for $100—has been received by the Salvation Army in its 1942 financial drive. Capt. Frank White, head of the local post announced at noon today.

The campaign does not get under way until next Monday morning. Beginning Monday—the advance gifts drive among big donors and industrial concerns will get under way.

In the following week the city-wide canvass of individual contribu- tors will start off with a breakfast of workers to be held Tuesday morning, Sept. 22, in the Schneider hotel.

Captain White reported today one instance of the Salvation Army's welfare work in connection with the family of five dependents of a man now in the army. The Salvation Army has been caring for the needs of the family pending the taking effect of the government's dependency provisions in November.

Arthur M. Teed, Pampa attorney, is chairman of the drive this year. George Berlin will be in charge of the industrial solicitations com- mittee.

Erig. Lawrence Redgrove, of the Salvation Army's public relations division at Dallas, will arrive in Pampa next Tuesday to assist in the campaign. Capt. Herman Lambrecht, formerly head of the local post and now in Lubbock, also is assisting.

Pampa Fire Chief To Be Association Head

Pampa's fire chief today is the new president of the Panhandle Firemen's association, an office to which he was elected at the semi-annual convention held yesterday at the Canadian city hall-auditorium.

Not only was a Pampa, Fire Chief Ben White, elected to the chief office, but Pampa also gained second place in the pumper race and received an award $25 in cash, which Chief White used today to purchase a Victory bond for the fire department.

Pampa lost by only 1/4-second first prize in the contest. The Pampa team, composed of Kenneth Mullins, Dick Bynum, Basil Arnold, Melvin Watkins, Stanley Gaston, and Buck Hagard, had the time of 24 1/2 seconds.

First place went to a team that combined firemen of Memphis and Shamrock. Their time was 24 1/2 seconds, while Childress firemen were third with 29 seconds. Their award was $15.

Attendance at the convention totaled 35, including firemen from Pampa, Dalhart, Borger, Panhandle, Childress, Memphis and Shamrock.

Chief White served the association as first vice-president before his election as president. The association meets twice a year, once in the spring, once in the autumn. Next convention will be held at Childress next year.

Dairymen Seek Higher Pay For Milk Products

(By The Associated Press)

"Maintain a steady flow of milk for distribution" the office of price administration in Dallas pleaded today (Wed.) pending a study of demands by producers in four key areas for higher prices.

The producers in the Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and Port Arthur areas Tuesday were standing pat on their demands for increases.

Generally, the producers claimed that rising prices of labor and other costs made it impossible for them to provide milk to distributors, who are subject to government-imposed price ceilings.

Spokesmen for Dallas-Fort Worth producers said this area's output would be diverted to other markets unless increases were forthcoming. Distributors and producers in Port Arthur agreed to pay and accept $3.60 for 100 pounds of four per cent butterfat milk pending an OPA investigation and ruling. A producer spokesman in Houston estimated milk production in that area was dropping 40,000 pounds weekly because dairymen could not pay salaries demanded by workers.

J. C. Thompson, manager of the North Texas Milk Producers' association, said his group had asked for a raise from $3 to $3.40 per 100 pounds on a 4 per cent butterfat basis.

That Extra Something!

... You can spot it every time

LIKE "winning a letter", keeping out in front of the others takes an extra something. Coca-Cola has it, —in taste... in quality... in refreshment.

The finished art that comes from 57 years of practice goes into the making of Coca-Cola. A special blend of flavor-essences merges all the ingredients of Coca-Cola into a unique, original taste of its own.

Everybody recognizes this clean, exciting quality taste in Coca-Cola. There are many ways to quench your thirst, but only Coca-Cola refreshes like Coca-Cola. Contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

It's natural for popular names to acquire friendly abbreviations. That's why you hear Coca-Cola called Coké. Coca-Cola and Coké mean the same thing... the real thing... a single thing coming from a single source, and well known to the community.
