"NOW IS THE HOUR"—Briton Gracie Fields lent her "pipes" to make a wax of an old song ("Swiss Cradle Song," of 35 years ago) in a new garb: "Now Is the Hour." For 23 weeks it was first on the British hit parade. A few days ago, says Time Magazine, 24,000 records (weighing six tons) of Gracie Fields' version arrived in the U. S. You'll be hearing it, if you haven't already. And while we're on the subject of music, it was like the spring festival we read about, when Senor Roberto de la Rosa came to town. Chamber of Commerce Manager Wedgeworth and whoever aided and abetted him in bringing Senor de la Rosa here, deserve our bows—unintended bows from the hips.

SENOR DE LA ROSA not only spread goodwill in his kindly approach and treatment of the subject of Pan-Americanism, but he strums a good guitar, too. An unpaid informant tells us Chamber retiring Pross Frank Smith and wife had about 15 couples out after the banquet the other night—all set to the democratic privilege of entertaining Senor de la Rosa. The privilege turned out to be a task—unmeasured: he entertained them, into the wee hours of the morning. Between the guitar and his finished repartee, he turned to the piano. Bona fide members of the assemblage were astounded that he could play "You Are My Sunshine" equally as well as "Perfidia," or "Cello Lindo."

SECTION ON THINGS YOU MIGHT (?) WANT TO KNOW:—The stinger of a honey-bee continues to bore deeper into the human skin even after the bee itself has been pulled away and the stinger is no longer attached to it. (The same principle as that which causes one to get "madder" as one thinks about a friend's "catty" remark. It keeps sinking in.) . . . Rainbows can be formed by moonlight just as they are formed by sunlight, but the colors are very faint and difficult to distinguish. . . . All persons are likely to exhibit mild neurotic symptoms when life becomes too complex and difficult. . . . The one human group which can be considered a "pure" race is probably the Andamanese, who inhabit the Andaman Islands off the coast of Burma. These people have been isolated for a long period, and until recently were not in contact with any other race.

KNICK-KNACKS:—Much of the talk you hear is not so broad as it is long. . . . The man who thinks he is the whole case usually is the offensive kind. . . . too many auto drivers refuse to wake up even after they're pinched. . . . nothing is harder on a woman's clothes than her enemies.

PAMPA PANORAMA:—One of the holiday's outstanding repercussions, we hear, was the cracked ribs suffered by a comely matron—when she received a good-natured bunny hug from an admirer on New Year's Eve. . . . Dr. K. W. Pieratt and the lady of the house are on a little trip to the land of sunshine, California. Be back in a few days. They are taking her father's car to him. Her parents recently moved to that state from Dalhart. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Jack Waldstad were greeted warmly by old friends when they visited here from that state—with them, of course, was their attractive daughter. . . . It looked as if grandson Raymond was learning something about the hydro-matic drive, when he was seen out driving with grandmother Mrs. Leslie Nance the other day—in the new car. . . . Seemed good to have Harry Hoare over the other night for the Chamber of Commerce banquet. . . . A certain mistress of the house called her new help the other day as she mashed potatoes would be on the menu for the evening meal. They were prepared—beforehand—and placed in the refrigerator. . . . charming she, and capable of turning the attractive brown hat—with plumes. It is a Christmas gift from son-in-law and daughter, Rex and Maxine Rose. . . . Julia McKernan's new colored glasses with the gold rims are gorgeous. (I wish. . . oh, well!)

Funny how all those people trading the grain market ALL lose money. They talk what they said, according to the newspapers.

OUR THANKS FOR PEOPLE:—
. . . like Carl S. Boston, who has been a resident for over a decade. He can be seen almost any day—sitting in his car, which will be parked somewhere along Kingsmill down town. He likes to watch the people—if he only knew just how many friends he does have!
. . . like Mrs. Herb Walker, whose husband is convalescing in the Amarillo hospital. . . . charming she, and capable of turning the trick on difficulty. Example: she was remarking about "Bertha" being in the hospital for almost two weeks—"He'll be two weeks old tomorrow!"

"Mule in the barnyard, lazy and slick,
Boy with a pin on the end of a stick,
Boy creeps behind mule quiet as a mouse—
Creep on the door of that little boy's house."

THAT puts me back on "Tub 13." Who's "me?"
ME'S PEG O' PAMPA.

For an afterschool snack, apple slices spread with peanut butter usually go over well. Large red-skinned apples may be used and the peel left on.

Mrs. Jack Morris Is Shower Honoree

The home of Mrs. Cecil Homer was the scene of a pink and blue shower when she entertained Thursday afternoon honoring Mrs. Jack Morris.

The honoree and her mother-in-law, Mrs. Grace Morris, were presented with pink carnation corsages upon their arrival.

Mrs. W. L. Morris and Miss Wanda Morris served the coffee and individual cakes. They also wore pink carnations.

Approximately 35 ladies participated in the shower.

"Claudia" Puts Clutch on Canine

Falling the arm on her canine is "Claudia" of radio fame. Katharine Bard is the name of the actress and Major's the name of the Dane. In life, as on the weekday program, Katy has quite a fair for seeing the humorous angle when Major gets in her hair. So when he upsets her apartment with a swinging sweep of his tail, Claudia soothes his dejection, with a hug and some deft doggo.

Sanford, chairman of housing and reservations and a member of the latter committee, Mrs. M. P. Downs.

Bride-Elect Honored At Shower and Tea

SHAMROCK (Special)—Miss Clydene Merrick, bride-elect of Mr. Paul Carroll Turpen of Lubbock, whose wedding is scheduled for today at the First Baptist Church, was honored with a tea and miscellaneous shower last Sunday afternoon.

The affair was given at the home of Mrs. Eugene Byars with Miss E. E. Sessions, H. L. Hise, J. W. Henderson, J. B. Henderson and J. D. Clay as co-hostesses.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Byars, the honoree, and Mrs. M. A. Pillers, the honoree's mother. Mrs. Zelma Edrber, of Amarillo, presided at the bride's book.

The tea table was laid with a satin damask cloth. At one end of the table sat a low bowl of garzans and fern. Tall green tapers burned in crystal candleabra casting a soft glow on the miniature bride and bridegroom from which extended satin ribbon streamers showered with white pompons. The silver service completed the setting.

Mrs. E. E. Sessions presided, assisted in the dining room by Mrs. H. L. Hise and Mrs. J. B. Henderson. Mrs. J. D. Clay and Mrs. J. W. Henderson were in charge of the gift room.

During the receiving hours Miss Martha Lou Setzler and Miss Ila Jeanne Byars entertained with piano selections.

About 90 persons called or sent gifts.

What Kind of a Pie Will You Have?

An assortment of individual pies is not as much work as you might think—and what a delightful surprise for your guests. Here are apple, cherry, mincemeat, and cream pies topped with meringue. Of course, you won't make all of these at once; but they're all good ideas.

This is the time to catch up on your social obligations, treat the bridge club to an extra surprise, or get together a group of friends who haven't been seeing each other very often during the winter.

To make the party a real success, you'll be giving some thought to the food you're going to serve—whether it's to be light refreshments or a complete meal. The menu suggested here can be adapted and varied to suit many different occasions. It includes a main dish (the hearty meat salad) and dessert, a satisfying combination for a late evening supper. For a luncheon party, not vegetable and plate of relishes might be added.

Take Your Choice

The unique feature of this menu is the assortment of individual pies or tarts. These would make delicious refreshments, by themselves, for an afternoon bridge party. They can be temptingly displayed on platters or a serving tray; and, of course, you would serve hot coffee with them.

Your guests will be delighted with the idea of choosing their favorites from a variety of individual pastries; and if you're serving quite a few people, it's very little extra trouble to make several kinds. It will save time if you make up a batch of pastry mix in advance. Then it will take only a jiffy to finish making the pastry, in small amounts, as needed. Allow about one-half cup of mix for each tart.

Girl Scout Leaders Start New Year Recognizing Magnitude of Tasks

The following story has come to the Pampa News directly from the Girl Scout Office. Because of the widespread interest in this organization and because so many homes in Pampa are touched by Girl Scout activities, this report is being printed as it came to the society desk from Mrs. K. E. Thornton, of the Girl Scout Office.

As the new year comes around we have irrevocable pledges to roll up our sleeves and go to work. Twenty-one Girl Scout leaders had that same idea Thursday morning when they met in the Little Scout House to outline plans for all Girl Scout Troops for the year.

Mrs. W. A. Claunch, program chairman, taught some new songs. Mrs. O. L. Statton made a clever lamp shade with wool yarn. Mrs. Aileen Moore explained blue printing illustrating her talk with different color printing.

Mrs. K. E. Thornton conducted a candlelight investiture service at which time Mrs. Don Robinson, Miss Helen Dudley and Mrs. Azelle Loftus were presented with Girl Scout pins.

Mrs. Claunch explained the new year's resolutions. Most of us make a few ourselves. When we are honest, we admit that 90 percent of them will be broken before a week is up.

Mrs. Claunch explained the new presentation that is going to prove itself the exception to the rule. It is not the resolution of one individual but of more than a million girls from seven to seventeen who live from coast to coast. They are the Girl Scouts of the United States and this is their New Year's resolution for 1948: "A hundred thousand shall be clothed by us." These youngsters are going to bend their energies to make or recondition garments for children of Europe and Asia who are much less fortunate than we are American boys and girls. They have promised to ship 100,000 kits of children's clothing to levanted countries across the sea. Their object is to "Make Warm Friends." Those who wish to do so may bring clothing to be put in these kits to the Girl Scout Office, Third Floor, City Hall.

It is this kind of service that makes the Girl Scouts more than just a recreational group.

Leaders are beginning, now, to think of camping at Camp Sullivan next summer. In order to take Girl Scouts to camp each group must have a first-aid kit. The following leaders are planning to take advantage of the Red Cross First Aid course which begins Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the City-Commission Room: Mesdames Azelle Loftus, Don Robinson, Russell Kennedy, Harry McDonald, R. C. Rowden and Clifford Lewis, and Miss Helen Dudley.

As we think of New Year's resolutions it is good to look to the year just passed to see what has been accomplished. The Pampa Girl Scout leaders have an impressive record. A total of 82 hours of training was given. The training sessions were attended by 68 people for a combined 790 hours of training credit earned.

There are ten Brownie troops,

Mrs. Brickey Is Hostess to Club

Mrs. C. H. Brickey was hostess to the Hopkins Home Demonstration Club last Tuesday. Mrs. L. H. Rice was in charge of the meeting and Mrs. M. D. Gish directed the recreation.

The program was on kitchen planning and each member answered to roll call by naming an inconvenience in her own kitchen. Miss Ann Hastings, county home demonstration agent, showed several sketches of well-planned and well-arranged kitchens. She stated that any one planning to build or remodel a kitchen would do well to study pictures in magazines for ideas. She emphasized the fact that kitchen work is centered in three areas—the stove and the refrigerator and urged careful thought to each before starting to build a "dream kitchen" because changes are not made often.

The speaker pointed out the necessity of giving thought to the matter of lighting and cross ventilation in the kitchen. She stated, also, that kitchen should be easily accessible to the front and back entrances, the laundry and the storeroom as well as to the dining room.

Mrs. Stone, 4-H Club sponsor, gave a report on her work and Mrs. R. R. Irwin conducted a parliamentary drill.

The club voted to sponsor a clothing collection drive for the Navajo Indians. The clothing collected, it was announced, could be turned over to a local church that is making a drive.

The council committees were asked to attend a meeting in the agent's office to make plans for the year's work.

Refreshments of lemon pie and coffee were served at the close of the meeting. Eleven were present.

It was announced that the next meeting will be with Mrs. W. E. Melton, Jan. 27.

Local Branch AAUW Opens Meeting To Public and Invites All Eligible Women to Affiliate With Organization

Dr. Ples Harper will be the guest speaker at the AAUW International Relations Dinner meeting, Jan. 28, at 7 p. m. at the High School Cafeteria. This annual dinner meeting is open to the public.

Dr. Harper, head of the Modern Language Department of West Texas State College, is an ardent internationalist. He worked for five years, 1941 to 1945, as director of the Peruvian-North American Culture Center in Lima, Peru. During the first year he studied in the University of San Marcos and was the first person from this country to be granted a Ph. D. from that school, the oldest university in the Western Hemisphere. Since then, only one other U. S. citizen has equaled his record and merited the distinction.

Dr. Harper has the greatest admiration for Peru. He has resolved to return some day to this nation which awarded him its highest decoration, the "Order de Sol," for distinguished contribution to the improvement of Peruvian-North American understanding.

Following his return to the U. S. in January, 1947, before he accepted his present position, Dr. Harper was stationed in Washington with the division of International Libraries and Institutes of the State Department.

The local branch of AAUW is inviting the public to attend this meeting and issuing special invitation to ex-students of West Texas State.

College women, eligible for membership, are invited to become affiliated with the Pampa Branch of the American Association of University Women at the Jan. 28 meeting. Anyone wishing dinner reservations should call Mrs. M. K. Griffith, phone 493.

Mr. Buell Speaks to B&PW Club on Topic Of Legislation

E. C. Buell of the Pampa High School history department spoke on "Legislation" to members of the Business & Professional Women's Club at their regular meeting Tuesday, Jan. 13, in the City Club Rooms.

The speaker brought out the following facts: A bill may be introduced in either house of the legislature by a member, where it is given a name and number and sent to one of the various committees. Those interested may then appear and give their reasons for or against the bill.

Most corporations of any importance have a good lobbyist in Washington with an expense account. Pressure groups such as the A. F. of L., CIO and the National Association of Manufacturers maintain offices in Washington. They study all bills introduced and recommend their bills. These representatives know just how the proposed legislation will affect their labor union or manufacturers, and they have good lawyers present their viewpoints to Congress.

Usually there are five men on a committee who study the bill and if three of them consider it a good bill, it dies in the committee. If the committee reports favorably it goes back to the house where it originated. Each bill must be read three times in each house before it can be passed. The first time it is read by title; the second, word for word. The bill is then discussed. After debating, different members make amendments to the bill and if it is favorably voted upon it goes to the Government Printing Office, all amendments are added and it is read a third time.

If the bill receives a majority vote the speaker of the House or the president of the Senate signs the bill and sends it to the other house where it goes through the same process. In the event the two houses have a bill they can not agree upon, they hold a joint committee meeting and work out a compromise; the bill then goes through both houses again. After the bill has been signed by the president of the Senate and the speaker of the House, it is sent to the President, who has three alternatives:

1. He may sign the bill, which then becomes law.
2. Veto the bill, which will then go back to where it started.
3. Let the bill lie on his desk 10 days and it will automatically become a law without his having taken a stand on it.

Mrs. Steele Gives Book Review to Club

An arrangement of spring flowers decorated the Walter Rogers home, 208 N. Russell, on Tuesday afternoon, when Mrs. Steele was hostess to the Twentieth Century Forum Study Club.

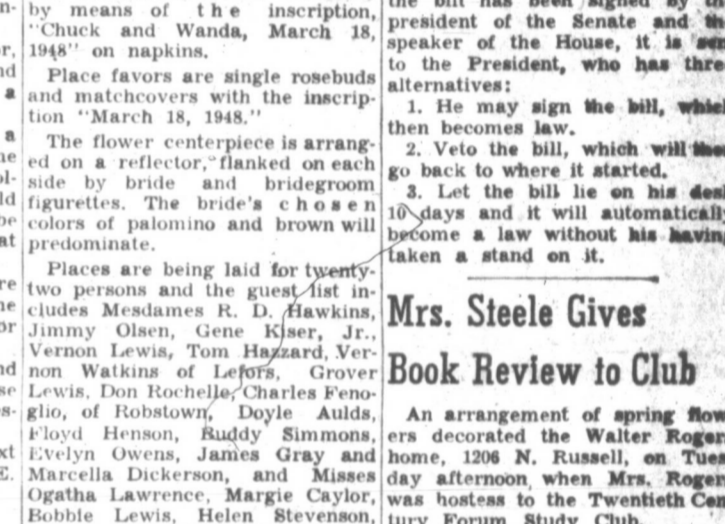

Mrs. Gene Fatheree, president, directed the business discussion. Mrs. Aubrey L. Steele presented a clever and refreshing review of "The Bishop's Mantle," by Agnes Sleigh Turnbull. This novel deals with the pathos and humor surrounding the duties of a modern young Episcopal minister in his first large parish.

Refreshments were served during the tea hour to those mentioned and Mesdames Roy Bourland, Frank Carter, E. J. Dunigan, Jr., George Fraut, E. L. Green, Jr., Biggs Horn, Dick Hughes, Frank Kelley, John Ketter, J. B. McCrery, M. C. Overtier, J. R. Bruce Pratt, R. P. Rossmann, Eben D. Warner, Jr., and C. W. Vilkinson.

His Majesty's Court: The Nursery

A man's home may be his castle, but the indispensable lord of the manor will be the inhabitant of the room shown above. Because of his importance, the junior member of the family deserves a setting befitting his superior station.

Teddy bears, puppies, and kittens romp across the wall paper of this nursery and give the young man of the house an opportunity to get acquainted with these animal favorites. However, the wall paper background is in soft pastels to insure a restful atmosphere and will not keep his nubs awake during his afternoon nap.

The same muted shades are carried out for the furniture and accessories. This is a practical room, too—there is ample space for a good-sized chest, high chair, and well-protected for comfort, and a pint-sized customer to hold small coats and bonnets.

Jaycee-Ettes Plan Year's Activities

The Jaycee-Ettes met Thursday at the Terrace Grill for their monthly luncheon. Mrs. Jim Arndt, president, conducted the business. Plans were made for programs, projects and entertainments for the coming year.

Fewer Divorces Granted In Pampa During 1947

The divorce rate here dropped from 281 during 1946 to 181 for 1947, records in the District Clerk's office reveal. Suits for divorce still on file at the end of the year totaled 168, however. Three hundred sixty-five civil suits were filed during the last year, 250 of which were divorce suits. Disposition was made of 327 civil suits, only one of which was by jury trial. Forty criminal cases were filed, 31 cases were disposed of with 17 cases being dismissed. Thirteen entered pleas of guilty before the Court, and one came to trial by jury. Ten criminal cases were still on file at the first of the year. A pipe was called "tobago" by the Italians. Columbus mistook the word for the name of the weed and called it tobacco.

BERN (AP)—The Swiss government has adopted the principle that there shall be no living costs and salary increases before the end of October, 1948. Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
I notice where all the males in a town called "Sweethome, Oregon" have finally figured out a way to fix the women's "new look" with "new look" of their own. It seems that they are all growing muttonchop whiskers and beards and they pledge not to "merge" into the open until the "new look" give up the new look. I predict there aren't going to be many sweet homes left in "Sweethome, Oregon" when those men start sprouting that jaw mass. Maybe they're just doing it for a laugh, but whiskers are the wrong thing to tickle your wife. Lots of women have been kissed by brush salesmen but no woman wants to be kissed by a brush.

My Aunt Mary was married to a man with a beard, which he shaved off on his fiftieth birthday and gave her a terrible shock. It seems that she had been married for thirty years to a man who looked like Tyrone Power, and she didn't even know it.

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old-time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regain vigor, glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell. This the 18th day of January, 1948.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength. It is non-organic, nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients. Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. ## Miss Mary Jane (Davis) Pfeiffer Tells of Her Varied Experiences in the Southwest Pacific

An invited caller at the Pampa News a few days ago was Mrs. L. Pfeiffer, the former Mary Jane Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Davis, 333 N. Faulkner Mrs. Pfeiffer, who with her husband, Lt. Pfeiffer, formerly of Lebanon, Ill., arrived last week after fourteen months in the Southwest Pacific area. Most of the time they were situated on the north end of the island of Guam. Lt. Pfeiffer was a photograph office and proceat marshal in which position he supervised the work of the military police.

Mrs. Pfeiffer said that when they landed on the island they were assigned to a house which was a gunnest type of structure. It took her weeks to clean up the place and make it fit to live in. The house consisted of a living room, dining room, bath, three bedrooms and a service porch. Help, she said, was cheap and not particularly difficult to obtain. The Guamanians are good workers, but not dependable, some of them being very adept at stealing.

In commenting on food, Mrs. Pfeiffer said the only fresh vegetables they had for five months consisted of potatoes and onions, although canned foods were easily obtainable at the Navy commissaries 30 miles away. The frozen meats, she said, were not of good quality. For the first five months Mrs. Pfeiffer cooked their food in a mess kit over a one-burner hot plate.

The social life was rather restricted. They were always welcome at the officers club dances and three or four good beaches were available. However, for a long time it was not safe for a woman to go out without an armed escort because, apparently, some of the Japanese who were still on the island did not realize the war had ended.

In reply to an inquiry about shopping, Mrs. Pfeiffer stated that the Guamanians are not very skillful with their hands. Nearly all the handicraft articles are of the type that do not require intricate manipulation. They do most of their weaving and crude carving.

Most of older natives of Guam are of Spanish descent and they speak kind of "mongrel" language which is a mixture of Spanish and Guamanian. Most of the natives speak a little Japanese learned during the occupation. Practically all the younger natives speak English. They go to good American high schools and they learn English in schools. A goodly number of Guamanians come to American universities, and practically all want to go to America.

The old caribou method of transportation is still used to some extent. However, now, most of the natives drive around in big bright-colored American automobiles. They seem to have a preference for Buicks. The Americans on Guam drive Jeeps.

Most of the older Guamanians wear the old fashioned Filipino style of dress with the full sleeves and draped skirts, but the young people dress just like the young people in Pampa or Amarillo. Some of the Guamanian girls have married American boys.

When asked about the cultural achievements of the natives of Guam, Mrs. Pfeiffer remarked that one thing in which they probably excelled all other peoples in the world was jitterbugging. They have that form of dance down to the finest of fine arts, she said. Agaña is "the capital city of Guam. It is about the size of Pampa in population. The town was completely wiped out during the war put is being rapidly rebuilt.

On their return from the Southwest Pacific the Pfeiffers sailed from Agaña, went by Japan making stops at Yokohama and Tokyo. They had been warned before leaving Guam that "Japan stinks," and they found that statement to be true, literally. They found little trace of the bombings that had destroyed some of the areas in larger cities in Japan. Most of the areas that were wiped out have been completely rebuilt—but in less substantial types of buildings than are common in America.

Lt. and Mrs. Pfeiffer were in Japan just before Tojo's trial was to take place. Their English-speaking guide said that the Japanese people think Gen. McArthur is wonderful because of the help they have received from America. It was pointed out that the Japanese still love their Emperor and respect him. They feel, Mrs. Pfeiffer said, that the war crimes trials are fair. Common people blame the warlords, rather than the Emperor. The general comment was that the Japanese people want a lasting peace and they recognize that the withdrawal of troops too soon might cause them to fall under the war lords again. It was stated that it would be a quarter to a half century before Japan could stand on her own feet again.

The Japanese people are shabby and poor, but they are not lazy. The children seemed happy and well fed. They were friendly and helpful. The Japanese people, as observed by the Pfeiffers seem eager for outsiders to see and appreciate their arts and skills.

Lt. and Mrs. Pfeiffer returned from Japan by way of Oahu, spending a day and night in Honolulu and celebrating Christmas aboard the U. S. Army Transport General W. G. Haan. When asked if she would like to live on the other side of the Pacific, Mrs. Pfeiffer answered in the negative, but she stated that she would like to spend some time in Europe.

Lt. Pfeiffer is now on a 60-day leave. He and Mrs. Pfeiffer have been visiting in Pampa with her parents and they plan to spend some time in St. Louis with his parents while awaiting re-assignment orders.

Mrs. Pfeiffer graduated from Pampa High School in 1942. While in school she took a college pre-in dramatics. At one time she was cheer leader.

Alabama Girl Weds Luther L. Sherwood

SHAMROCK —(Special)— Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Lucye McCollum of Tuscumbia, Ala., and Luther Lindel Sherwood of this city, Dec. 23, at the home of Rev. D. W. Edwards, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tuscumbia, who officiated.

The bride was attired in a two-piece suit of brown wool with brown accessories and she wore a shoulder corsage of orchids. Mrs. Sherwood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Milton McCollum of Tuscumbia.

Mrs. McCollum, mother of the bride, attended the ceremony in a suit of gray with black accessories.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Eherwood of Shamrock, served four years in the Army. He is employed by the Reynolds Metal Works of Tuscumbia.

The couple made a trip to points in Texas which included Shamrock, and will make their home at 203 N. Waters St. Tuscumbia.

Raisins make an excellent addition to cabbage and carrot slaws. Before using them "plump" or steam them by putting them in a covered wire strainer over a small amount of water which is kept gently boiling for about 10 minutes.

One Way to Prove It's Glass

Four of those new no-deposit beer bottles prove their strength by supporting 3,000 pounds of steel ingots and 105 pounds of femininity. Because the non-returnable glass bottles are so light, many people mistake them for plastic. But the one-way bottles are made entirely of glass, weigh only half as much and are one-third shorter than the standard malt-beverage bottle of the same 12-ounce capacity.

Briscoe HD Club Holds All-Day Meeting at Shamrock

SHAMROCK —(Special)— Tender cuts of meat are best when cooked uncovered and without water or moisture being added, while less tender cuts need moisture added and a longer time for cooking," declared Mrs. Erma Mae Hastings in a meat-cooking demonstration which she gave at Briscoe Home Demonstration Club meeting Tuesday.

Another highlight brought out by Mrs. Hastings, was that meats cooked at a continued high temperature, shrink more than if cooked with less heat.

The Briscoe Club started the meeting at the club house with the president, Mrs. Malcolm Levitt serving as hostess. A covered-dish luncheon was served at the noon hour and the meat cooked by Mrs. Hastings in the demonstration, was also served. In the afternoon a brief business session was held and a vice president and secretary were elected to fill vacancies because of resignations.

Mrs. Hastings gave an afternoon demonstration on bound button holes.

New Plastic Bottle Has Convenient Built-in Spray

Addition to the dressing table is a pliable plastic bottle which, when squeezed, forces out a fine spray of a new liquid deodorant.

By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer

If you've been wondering why somebody hasn't invented a device for spraying on a deodorant you'll be glad to know that American know-how has rallied to this need.

Eliminating all necessity to touch the stuff that safeguards daintiness is a squeeze-bulb type of thermo-plastic bottle that sprays a new super-protecting liquid deodorant. The bottle is unbreakable and releases a fine mist through an atomizer contained in its cap. One application takes care of a gal's deodorant needs for from three to four days, makers of this product claim.

The liquid dries almost the minute it is sprayed on, and is said to be stingless and non-irritating to the most sensitive skin. Another claim manufacturers make, after testing their product out on all types of fabrics, is that it is safe to use on clothes.

Harvesters Eke Bulldogs 49-48 To Tie Win Record

Cagers Meet Lubbock In Conference Tussle

The Pampa high school Harvesters will resume their conference crusade next Thursday night, when they invade Lubbock to engage the favored Lubbock Westerners.

The Westerners have several men returning from last year's team which finished as runner-up for district champs. The Westerners defeated the local boys twice last year by no small margin either time, but this year their big gun of last year's attack will be missing.

Verdell Turner, all-district center and pivot man of the Westerners, will be missing from the line-up come next Thursday night.

According to recent reports the Westerners possess one of their best teams in the school's history. They have height, passing ability, and sharpshooting which should prove dangerous to any team.

Borger takes a good lead. They are neck and neck at the halfway mark. Borger leads Pampa leads. Pampa leads by five strides as they enter the stretch. Borger's up fast, but Pampa crosses the finish line ahead by a nose.

That, in the vernacular of the race track, is a capsule resume of one of the most thrilling basketball games ever seen on the hardwoods of the Pampa High gymnasium.

Led by two capable pivots—Darral Davis and Jim King, the Pampa Harvesters staved off threat after threat and edged the Borger Bulldogs by one point, 49-48, Friday night to win their first game in the conference race.

It was in number 17 for Pampa against no defeat, tying the record for any previous Pampa team. But the win came over a team that many fans considered superior to the locals. Borger's scoring was divided almost equally among the five starters and the Carbon City team's speed and ball handling finesse baffled Pampa throughout the contest.

But when Pampa had to have two points, up came big Davis or King with an important rebound or shot. Davis, whom Borger was out to stop, murdered the netting with 21 points, followed by 13 for King and 8 for guard Raymond Hernandez.

Borger's scoring looked like consecutive integers in an algebra class. Hill Green credited with 9, with McCord looping 10, followed by 11 and 12 for Carlyle and Rice, respectively. Paul Howard, fortunately the last of a great basket-ball family, scored six points from mid-court to keep Pampa in hot water.

This conference win, plus 16 wins in non-conference play, makes Pampa a slight favorite to cop District I-AA honors.

Amarillo's up-and-coming Sanderson five outscores Lubbock 24-23 in another conference game. Friday night to move into a tie with Pampa for the district leadership.

In the B-game preceding the conference opener, Pampa came from behind to defeat the Borger, 41-38. Greenmore took scoring honors for Pampa with 11 points, with Bond close behind with 7.

SPORTS for girls

The old semester is slipping away and the new semester is close at hand. Also the new term brings to the minds of us that volleyball tournaments are coming soon. We are getting into shape with hard workouts every Tuesday afternoon and matched games with the teachers and exes.

Jan. 6 the volleyball girls elected Dorothy Jones as captain and Edeley Prewitt as manager for this season. We think we have some swell leaders.

Last Friday night the girls who wished to play volleyball had a game against the teachers and exes. All the games were very good. The score at the end showed one team with five wins and no losses and the other team with four losses and no wins. So far, however, no first string for the volleyball club has been picked.

Those teachers are good players and they really give some good competition. We hope to play them again soon.

The workouts will not only make volleyball players out of us but it is helping other's waist lines, so I hear.

Interior decorating isn't anything new in the department, but what is new is that new look which is seen in the dressing room.

Thursday afternoon the dressing room had the smell of paint and turpentine as brushes swished over cabinets and windows. Every thing had that dull color of white.

A sport that has had a very successful semester is the sixth period bowling class. The scores as reported in Friday's games were: in the single lines: Betty Noel, 207; Alma Davis, 183; Charlene Olney, 121; Arlene O'Rear, 117; Alice Robinson, 141; and Betty West, 91.

Monday opens the new semester and also a new field of sports for the physical education department. So far a definite list of sports has not been made known.

District Boxing Meet Scheduled This Week

The main art of self defense returns to delight local boxing fans next Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights when the District Golden Gloves tournament is to be held in the Sportorium.

The bouts are mostly made up of high school boys ranging from the ages of 15 through 17. There will also be an open division in this tournament for all boys not eligible to fight in the high school division. In this tournament there will be no age limit eligibility rules, except that a participant must meet the proper weight requirements.

This will be the first time in twenty years that a district tournament will be held in Pampa, although for the last two years there have been inter-city tournaments. All Pampa boys who win their weight in the last all-city meet will represent this city in the coming Golden Gloves tournament. Several local sluggers who did not win their weight are still planning to fight in the tournament. All runners-up are eligible to fight.

Neighboring cities of Lefors, Canadian, Miami, Cleburne, McLean and a few others will send representatives to take part in the bouts. All winners of this tournament will then participate in the regional tournament to be held in Amarillo at a date not yet known.

Those boys who are expected to represent Pampa at this coming meet are: 85 pound class, Ray Dean Martin or Jimmy Bennett; 112 pound class, Bill Bodden; 118 pound class, Buster Kelly and Jim Bill Windsor; 126 pound class, Carroll Martin and Wesley Keith; 150 pound class, Fely Cooper and Weldon Wither; 147 pound class, Troy Ray or Wendall, Chuck 160 pound class, Kelly Anderson and Keith Payne; light heavyweight class, Leon Kelly or Francis Hunt.

Former Student Named To WSTC Editorship

Frank Stallings, sophomore at West Texas State at Canyon and a Pampa High graduate, has been appointed editor of that school's publication, "The Prairie," by the Student Senate.

Frank has pursued the journalism field since his days in high school. He was sports editor and compositor for the Little Harvester in his senior year at Pampa.

This is the first time since 1943 that a member of the stronger sex has held control of the editorship. Frank succeeds Johnnie Faye Crescens who resigned to accept a position on the Amarillo Times.

The first "lengthy" flight over water by airplane—34 miles from Newport-Bay, Calif., to Catalina Island—was made May 10, 1912.

Carol Culberson, Don Lane Elected To Sweetheart and Rotarian Honors

Carol Culberson and Don Lane were elected as Lion's club sweetheart and Junior Rotarian, respectively, for this month by the Student Council at its regular meeting Tuesday.

Carol was born in Pampa May 28, 1930. She has majored in English and math. She is a member of the Student Council, Tri-Hi-Y, the A Cappella choir, and the girls' sextet. Carol was also chosen as the most beautiful girl in school this year.

A few of Don's honors and offices include senior class president, co-editor Little Harvester, president of the Panhandle High School Press Association, member of the boys' quartet and A Cappella choir. He is also a member of the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. During his sophomore year, he was chosen the best all-around student in high school. He was also a member of the junior play cast.

Announcement was made of the Texas Association for Student Councils for high schools and junior high schools, which will be held at the Thomas Jefferson high school in San Antonio Feb. 6 and 7. Decision about delegates will be made in student council meeting this week.

Teachers Surprising: Work for a Change

Work! Work! Work! That's all the teachers seem to do, especially during exam week.

Walking down the hall during examination week you find all the teachers busy grading papers, notebooks, and even cleaning out their files, which probably haven't been cleaned out since school began but this is not their fault; they have to keep all those papers for the records.

During the exams it seemed that every locker door was being opened and closed with a bang. One more task for the faculty—they were worrying about having to pay for books and trying to find the lost ones.

Mr. Frank Wilson and Mr. Jack Edmondson were busy keeping the halls clear of talking students and Mrs. Leo Roberts was busy trying to finish up the enrollment for the new semester.

Mrs. Ruby Capps and several of her students were seen out in hall Thursday cleaning out notebooks and throwing things away by the armloads.

A few of the teachers working on Friday trying to meet the deadline for report cards were Miss Gwyn Johnson, Mrs. Lois Turner, Mrs. Capps, Miss Clara Glick, Miss Madge Rusk, Mrs. Mabel Torvie, Miss Margaret Jones and Miss Mary Dozier. Others, including Mr. Ervin Buell, announced that they were busy engaged in averaging those grades at home.

Friday, a free day for the students, ended with a faculty meeting at 4 p. m. before the poor, bedraggled teachers could head for home and rest.

EXISTENCE

By DARRELL HUSTED

Like a shadow you creep into the night,
And blaspheme her sacred recess
With your perfidy.
Like a dark, evil, wicked, vice
You seduce her right
Of beauty and tranquillity.
It was not always so.

Once you were innocent and blameless,
And when you crept forth your
Wickedness was nameless,
For there was none in your
tender, soft movement.
Non-but nameless and peace,
But his changed.

Now your eyes gleam with unwanted malignance,
And you are cursed with the filthy stigmata
That must follow you through your short life.
Yet you must exist.

God gave no bounty to you,
You must strive for what is done,
For what you must do
On this earth.

When you pounce on some small creature
And blood drips from your filthy feature,
You mean no wickedness.

You are the cat.
You must live.

Gamblin Presents Basketball Trophies

G. W. Gamblin, captain of the Harvesters basketball squad, presented the student body the two trophies won by the cage team in coping championship honors in the Spearman and Childers tournaments in the Tuesday morning assembly.

Coach Clifton McNeely, mentor for the hoisters, introduced his squad who have won 17 straight games.

The cheer leaders led several yells for the team in preparation for their first conference game with the Borger Bulldogs Friday night.

No Congress can bind a future Congress, but it could lay down a four-year plan, and if the 81st Congress wanted to repudiate it, it could.

—Sen. Scott Lucas (D) of Illinois, reiterating his support of the

Many Moan Monday Meaning More Work

Wailing and moaning rose from the one-way PHS hall. Tears trickled down long, drawn faces. Many sad, distorted students slowly trudged between solemn rows of similar-faced classmates. All formed a complete picture of misery.

The usual joyous, laugh-filled cafeteria was empty of smiling children, and lost appetites were evident. Those who found the cafeteria door too heavy to open wearily returned to a fellow-mourning friend.

Some wishing privacy could be found along the sidewalks where they alternately screamed in agony, or fell into defeated silence.

One of the braver students ventured through the halls comforting those in the more serious conditions.

Yes, once again Woe appeared in Pampa High, touching each and every spirit—Woe returned in the form of Mid-term exams.

Enrolling Means Work For Those Concerned

You're sitting in class and studying (if that's possible) and suddenly a girl (from the office—don't get excited) opens the door, and you're wanted in the office. You get weak in the knees and can hardly walk out of class.

As you walk down the hall, you can't imagine what you've done except skip the third period last week that got called down twenty times for talking in class, shoot paper wads in study hall, be late to class twice and a few other minor offenses.

When you get to the office, Mrs. Lou Roberts, the registrar—information for you lucky people that have never called to the office—meets you at the desk and you gaze into her eyes and begin to shake again.

She gets out her little book and you can't imagine what's going to happen next. Then you are so relieved to learn that she only wants to tell you that you have enrolled in the wrong class.

Most of the seniors are familiar with the duties of Mrs. Roberts. She checks the credits, grade points, subjects, and anything else that the seniors need to graduate.

For those that are not familiar with Mrs. Roberts, don't feel left out because that's what's happening in the office these days and if you get called out of class, try to have courage for most of the time (we hope) it will be to check your subjects and credits.

Meletempsychosis Stumps Modern-Day Student

What is this younger generation coming to? Their ignorance of words is astounding. Take the simple word MELETEMPSYCHOSIS. Do anyone know the meaning?

Teachers, students, dogs, cats and other uneducated animals (so it appeared) made wild far-fetched guesses. The closest answer was by Mrs. Mable Torvie. Her answer: "Time out of mind."

Richard Hughes: "Neurosis of fear."

Betty Joyce Scott: "Nervous disorder."

Catherine McNamara: "Disease Don Byars: "Mental fear."

Richard Scheig: "Disease."

Tom Chisholm: "Evilly inclined."

Mrs. Mable Torvie: "Time out of mind."

Virginia Kelley: "Mental moment."

Pat Cross: "Sure hate to see someone leaving it."

Gene Garrison: "A town in lower Slobbovia."

Miss Hart Anderson: "An incurable mental disease."

Jimmy Hill: "Oh, that was a battle in the Civil War."

Malcolm Douglass: "Never did like him."

Mr. Erwin Buell: "I almost knowed myself on it."

Barbara Carruth: "It's a theory on the origin of man."

Bob Houchin: "Is it town?"

Donald Thiel: "It's a disease of fine-finnells which causes them to curl in and come off."

Merba: "Huh?"

Oma Kees: "It's a French word."

Jo Alice Franks: "Don't you call me names?"

Mary Lou Hanks: "Purely fictitious character."

Leroy Troop: "I don't like it."

Betty McCracken: "It is con-..."

Adell Roberts: "It's a state of fear."

Nanine Pierce: "Oh, I like rabbits."

Now to broaden your meager education, the definition, as supplied by Miss Virginia Vaughen, is "the theory of reincarnation." What's the reincarnation? As the teacher always says—look it up in the dictionary.

James M. Gray, who was born on Feb. 17, 1930, at McPherson, Kans., hasn't decided on a college yet. He has attended Pampa schools for 12 years and is now going to study in high school, Texas Tech is Arlin's choice of a college.

On Finer Billiard Cue

A shrewd man with a billiard cue (or so he says) is Arlin Givens of the "Little Harvester" staff. The stork was grounded at Skellytown on the ninth of November, 1929.

Arlin attended school at his birthplace and at White Deer before coming to PHS. An active member of the PFA at White Deer, he majors in math and English.

James M. Gray, who was born on Feb. 17, 1930, at McPherson, Kans., hasn't decided on a college yet. He has attended Pampa schools for 12 years and is now going to study in high school, Texas Tech is Arlin's choice of a college.

No, we didn't make a mistake! There is another James Gray in school. James A. Gray, the trumpet leader in the band, was born at Borger, June 9, 1928. He has gone to school at Perryton and Pampa and will graduate with majors in English, math and music.

Active in class activities and a three-year squad member on the Harvesters basketball team—that's Frank Green.

Frank was just turned 18, as he was born Jan. 14, 1930, at Pampa, Texas. Before coming to Pampa, Frank went to Lefors schools and established a reputation as a violinist.

At Pampa High, he has been elected home-room vice president three years, sophomore class proxy, senior vice-president, and choir secretary.

This senior will journey to Fayetteville next fall to study law at Argansau University.

Archie Zack "Zeke" Griffen, Jr., has been prominent on the PHS sports scene for four years. A letterman in football, basketball, and track, he Zeke also follows sports on holidays, with hunting and fishing listed as favorites.

A Cappella to Sing In Top of Texas Revue

The A Cappella choir will announce the special Texas Revue, to be held Feb. 2 and 3 in the Junior high auditorium.

The choir was officially asked by Mr. Ken Bennett, who is directing this year's Revue, to sing a hymn in one of the three sequences composed by Mr. Bennett.

Mr. Bennett also urged that members attend the revue, so that they could sing with the stage chorus.

Capital should not be taxed on the... will lose income... of our economic system will be weakened.

Senior Play Cast To Be Revealed By Miss Henslee Monday Morning

Barker Chant Peals For More Purchasers

Hurry, Hurry, Hurry! Come one, come all, down to the front hall and buy your annual for this 1947-48 school year.

The annuals are going on sale for the last time Monday and Tuesday. They will be priced at $3.75 and will be sold before school and at the lunch hours. So if you want an annual, buy it now.

A list including the names of all students and teachers who have bought annuals will be posted on the front bulletin board Thursday. Any person who has bought an annual and does not find his name on the list should contact one of the annual staff in the Little Harvester office.

This list is being made to double-check sales so that no slip-ups can be made in distribution in the spring.

Pictures of class officers will be made this week. Among those made last week were members of the Gorilla basketball squad and the women working in the cafeteria and the janitors.

Mr. Saunders, Stack representative in the Panhandle, visited Pampa High Tuesday. He brought samples from which Editors June Mylar and Patty Williams chose the 1948 Harvester cover. The type of cover will be revealed only when the annuals are returned from the publisher in May.

Snapshot editor Patty Williams is requesting snaps from freshmen to complete her section of the yearbook.

The second deadline for sending in material by the staff will be Jan. 31, when the forward, dedication, favorites, faculty division, basketball and boy's P.E. department pages and some of the organizational pages will be sent in.

Timely Tidbits

By DON LANE

Now that they (meaning those exams) are over, everyone can breathe a little easier. But as we wandered here and there in a desperate search for timely news items, we saw a sample of the grades made on exams by all classifications of students. It appears that everyone does not take the finals seriously enough.

For the seniors, this is the beginning of the end. The first day will be just as important as the last. Every day will mean the difference between that parchment and spending another year in high school.

There! That's quite a bit of editorializing to start this column off but don't give up hope. It gets lively as you read on. I know—I read ahead of the type-writer.

Answers to tests can be just about as crazy as any fictitious story thought up by Bob Hope or Frank Morgan. We found these answers to some questions which just about take first place.

Two ports of Brazil are "California and New York City."

Main port of Argentina is "European."

One by-product of nitrate is "oil."

Aniline dyes are made from "skim milk."

England sends the largest number of her exports to "Great Britain."

An important German port is "China."

Silk worms eat "green" leaves. Dutch raise "domino cattle."

Mr. Erwin Buell reports a very large enrollment for the civics class offered the fifth period. Up to the present time, interest in civics, economics and sociology has been lax ever since they began being offered in the curriculum.

Our personal opinion is that these subjects are as important as the required history subjects and some of the other "musts." These subjects deal with the problems of today, and teach facts which the student can use today—not ten years earlier.

Adell Roberts made 88 on her Latin II semester exam. That's news plus. Mrs. Lulu B. Owens, teacher, reports that that is the highest grade ever made on semester exam which she can remember in her teaching career.

Whoops! Poor Richard's been 'ming' seen.

We are presenting something with which we have toyed for over a year, and which has gained favor in discussion groups over the school for some time.

Many high schools and nearby colleges in the nation have a club operated by and composed of students who sport the customary letter or award in evidence of their having participated in inter-scholastic athletic competition.

We wonder if such a club in our own school couldn't or to the advantage of the individual athlete and the coaching staff.

The notion for a Varsity club has been provoked by scenes of boys who haven't earned a letter wearing the coveted "B" and merchants selling jackets that closely resemble the athletic award.

The Harvester jacket does not mean what it should! Some boys want the "B" or a jacket without putting forth the time and effort (and often—as blood) for the glory of "dear old Alma Mater."

Who would be a member of the club? We say that any person who has been a member of any Harvesters team has a right to be a member upon his coach's recommendation. This includes lettermen in football, basketball, track, tennis, golf or any sport in which PHS participates with other schools.

The purposes of the organization would be to encourage better training and anything else that would aid in producing better calibre athletes in PHS. Members should set up an honor system for better training during and preceding the season and a system for protection within the club for violators.

It must be emphasized that the organization would in no way have authority in establishing policy of an athletic team. In other words, it would not take the coaches how to run their business.) That is why I feel that the coaches should not take an active part in the organization, and let it be an entity student personnel. The coaches, however, should be consulted on any matter on which he could help.

It must also be emphasized that the only truly effective method of having better trained athletes is to have the student themselves desire to train, rather than submit themselves entirely to the dictates of the coaching department.

In order for any high school club to operate efficiently, it must have adult supervision. I need not reiterate my reason for selecting a coach as head of the club, but someone interested in sports should serve as sponsor. What about former coach Jack Edmondson, if he's not too busy with his duties as assistant principal? Or Jim Arndt? Or a coach, however, you back, B. G. Gordon? Or Liles Morgan? Ray Evans has handled boys in scout work. Or W. B. Weathered, or Earl Schig.

Excepting promotional activities such as stopping this jacket war, the Varsity club would be mostly honorary—like the IHS for scholars, and the Quill and Scroll for journalists. They could have a club pin, and annual socials such as barbecues, hayrides or dances.

Well, there it is. Certainly it would take a great deal of work—if you want to do it. It is in its elementary stages. But we hope you will accept it as food for thought and chew it carefully be-

Cast for hte senior play, "Brother Goose", will be announced Monday by Miss Thelma Henslee, dramatic director. Final tryouts took place Friday afternoon.

B. G. Gordon Is Head Of Math Department

The math department headed by Mr. B. G. Gordon since 1936, had 750 students enrolled during the past semester.

The department has eight teachers, six of whom devote their entire day to the instruction of math courses and two who combine both math and science. Those teaching math are Mr. B. G. Gordon, Mrs. E. L. Norman, Mr. J. C. Pattillo, Mr. J. L. Spencer, Mr. Charles Bowen, Mr. John Plaster, Mrs. Lois Turner, and Miss Johnnie Douglas.

The courses offered are General math, Commercial Arithmetic, Algebra I and II, Plane Geometry, Advanced Arithmetic, Trigonometry, and Solid Geometry. The only change in this semester will be that Trigonometry will be given credit for 3.00 in Geometry, but Solid Geometry will be given if there are enough who want to take it.

In PHS there is enough math offered to prepare a student for his more advanced training in the engineering field and any other field requiring a great deal of math. Advanced Arithmetic is given because it is a good course for review in daily math for the senior about to go away to college.

The teachers of the math department are going to sponsor a slide rule and number sense contest in the spring. The regional will be at Canyon. The district at Amarillo.

Gorillas Drop Opener In Wheeler Tournament

Playing in their third consecutive basketball tournament, Coach John Bond's Gorillas dropped their fourth game of the season last Friday morning when a lowering Redwood, Okla. quintet defeated the 42-32 in the Wheeler tournament.

The Redwood boys had an overall height average of almost two inches more than the Gorillas. The Gorillas matched the "Okies" point for point during the initial quarter and opening minutes of the contest, but as the second quarter progressed, the superior height of the Redwood club began to tell, and the locals began to lag behind.

Reynold forward Yarnell led both teams in the scoring department with 13 points, but he was closely pressed for the honors by Gorilla center Don Thut who collected 11 points. Jimmy Hyatt of the Gorillas got six counters and Dan Roche and Ronald Beard got six points each.

The Gorillas were scheduled to meet the Shamrock Irishmen in the Consolation bracket at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The Pampans met defeat at the hands of the Irishmen last week in the Shamrock tournament, 27-20.

Machine Shop Forms Into State Organization

Twenty-two members of the PHS machine shop were recently initiated into the Vocational-Industrial Club of Texas.

The Vocational-Industrial Club of Texas was organized last fall and is sponsored by the Industrial and Business Training Bureau of the University of Texas. The club is a state-wide organization formed for the boys and girls working and studying in the industrial cooperative training classes of the public schools of Texas.

The officers for the present year of the PHS chapter are: Mark Buzzard, president; Troy Ray, vice president; Jimmy Crouch, secretary and treasurer. Charlie Gist, sergeant-at-arms, and Gerold Mayo, reporter. The officers were initiated into the club by the instructors and state officials at Amarillo Dec. 18.

This district includes Borger, Plainview, Childress, Lubbock, Marillo, and Pampa. The next district meeting will be held at Lubbock Feb. 8 when all officers and sponsors from the district will elect the officers for the district.

The 22 members have ordered coveralls and jackets with the club's emblem on the back. These coveralls and jackets will be in the school lockers.

Mingle Resigns Post; No Successor Named

Mrs. Mary Mingle, girls' physical education teacher, is leaving Jan. 30 for Bartlesville, Okla., where her husband, who is employed by Cities Service Oil Co., is being transferred.

Mrs. Mingle came here from Manhattan, Kansas, and has been working in Pampa High since September. She has been sponsor of the tumbling club as well as teaching physical education classes.

Mr. Frank Wilson, principal, said Friday no one had been selected to take Mrs. Mingle's place.

Toor Richard Has Dream For PHS Letterman's Club

Whoops! Poor Richard's been 'ming' seen.

We are presenting something with which we have toyed for over a year, and which has gained favor in discussion groups over the school for some time.

If you've been around town in Pampa this past week, you've heard some mighty big rumors about the Phillips' deep test well, the Jenkie, No. 1. Just in case you haven't heard all the rumors, I might mention a few of them for your own consideration of what they are worth. It seems as if neighbors who live in the area of the well were awakened by a rumbling noise on one night of last week which, they concluded, was the Jenkie on a spree. One neighbor is supposed to have seen the well actually pumping an estimated 28 barrels of oil in one hour and to have seen oil spraying from the derrick. The derrick is supposed to have changed to an oil color overnight, also. Another rumor presented is that one of the employees had made the mistake of parking his car too close to the derrick and had to wash the car before coming to town to eliminate the oil from it. It was also reported that workers at the well were working feverishly to dig new pits. Other rumors are that the well is pumping 25 barrels of oil at the present time.

Men who make it their business to follow closely all lines of oil development have their own ideas regarding the well. One has stated that the adding of pits is more apt to imply salt water than oil. Others say that there are not proper facilities at the Jenkie at present to take care in any way of a 25 or 28 barrel an hour well. These same people, however, say they did see evidence of oil on the ground but that it might have come from various causes. The consensus of these people is that the Phillips' Company in its deep test has every reason to believe that oil is in the area, but that this one well may not be the answer.

One other student of oil affairs has expressed an opinion to me, and seemingly the most logical it's the line of thought that I am prone to believe until something more definite develops. He is of the opinion that in all tests the Jenkie has shown oil, and some good supply, but that it has been mixed with a large amount of water. He also believes that most of the tests have occurred at about the same level and that if they find a layer free of water, the well will be a real producer. He believes that is highly probable.

Of course, there are many things happening in and around Pampa that force one to believe most of the oil companies are of the opinion that something big is going to develop in this area. The fact that several large businesses of various types are looking for locations in Pampa at this particular time should be some proof. This doesn't only apply to oil industries, for the field seems to be quite varied. It has also been reported to me that one real estate firm in Pampa has removed all its listings from market. This could only mean one thing. They have reason to believe that Pampa is going to take on boom aspects.

and this same real estate will increase in value as a result. May I say again, all these are rumors. Some seem logical and some seem very far-fetched. There is no doubt but what some of Pampa's business people are enough on the inside of what is happening to know the true story. No doubt these same people will be just as tight-lipped about the true story as people who own the well for the same reason. Good business.

The Cities Service Company's D.M.F. held a meeting Jan. 13, at the hall in Pampa with 44 members and guests present. The new chairman, Ira Carlton, served chili, coffee, cakes, and cokes, and all those who attended agreed that Ira could really make chili. Everyone enjoyed the feed and the games that followed the supper. As a matter of fact those who attended were surprised to learn of Ira's talents until they discovered he was a former mess sergeant in the Army, and due to that fact they are all looking forward to some real feeds in the future. Guests to the party included: R. E. Engle, Sr., of Seminole, Okla.; B. F. Leno, of Oil Hill, Kans.; R. F. Edgerton and Eugene R. Mingle, both junior engineers of Bartlesville, Okla.; and J. L. Vance of Pampa. The group wished to express their thanks to the finance committee, to Mr. C. O. Coyle, Mr. Davies, and Mr. Batson, and all those responsible for their new stove and other items purchased for the hall. The D.M.F. also wished to thank the company for remodeling their hall.

Max Skelton Reviews Oil News for Texans

By MAX B. SKELTON

HOUSTON—(P)—Texas carried its fight to retain control of its valuable tidelands to President Truman last week and Senator Tom Connally reported he received a bit of "comfort" in return. Connally, accompanied by Atty. Gen. Price Daniel and former Texas Atty. Gen. Robert Lee Bobbitt of San Antonio, conferred briefly with the President Thursday in support of legislation recognizing state ownership of submerged or tidal lands within their boundaries. "We got comfort," Connally said following the conference. The President last year, prior to a Supreme Court ruling that the federal government has paramount rights over oil-bearing tidelands on the California coast, vetoed a Congressional act designed to recognize the claims of the various states for control of the tidelands.

Daniel has been in Washington several days drafting, along with several other attorneys general, proposed legislation to be submitted to the current Congress. Meanwhile, in Austin, the State Democratic Executive Committee voted unanimously to join Gov. Beauford Jester in his fight for the tidelands. The Executive Committee authorized its tidelands subcommittee to receive contributions, to employ personnel and "make such expenditures as may be necessary to accomplish the task, within the limits of the contributions."

A note of pessimism: Max W. Ball, director of the Interior Department's Oil and Gas Division, last week said, in announcing that President Truman probably will issue an order directing rigorous conservation of fuel oil and gasoline by all government agencies, that the petroleum industry may not be able to make petroleum products abundant before 1952 or 1953. The Plymouth Oil, Slick-Urschel oil discovery well, Alford No. 1, in Upton County, continues in the news with the announcement the Shell Pipe Line Corporation is constructing a new 6-inch, 5-1/2 mile line from the well to the Upton Station on its trunk line to Wood River, Ill., at a cost of $200,000. When Pittsburgh, Pa., newsmen on Jan. 8 sought a reason for Plymouth's stock suddenly jumping, a company announcement said the well may be the beginning of Texas' greatest oil field discovery in 15 years, a field with reserve estimates ranging from 200,000,000 to 800,000,000 (million) barrels. On the day of the announcement, Plymouth stock opened at $34 a share but closed at $41; it later climbed to $46 7/8 but slipped to $44 1/4 a week after the Pittsburgh announcement. Texas oilmen and specialists, however, continued to wait for further development of the area before deciding on its record-breaking proportions, if any. Slick-Urschel has reported operators have moved in two rigs and staked six additional tests.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America has estimated the nation's petroleum industry will need, in addition to its minimum requirements to meet current supply demands, another 25,000 tons of steel casing, tubing and drill pipe during each of the next four years in order to correct its wartime drilling deficiencies and rebuild its reserves. The Association's report said the war years of 1942-45 saw a severe restriction of steel supplies resulting in a deficiency of 76,000,000 (million) feet of drilling, a factor said to have brought about a subnormal growth in discovered and developed reserves to the extent of 3,000,000,000 (billion) barrels in relation to increasing oil consumption. Requirements of steel for 1948 were placed at a minimum of 1,245,000 tons plus 205,000 for correcting deficiencies resulting from the war. Other minimum estimates: 1949, 1,270,000; 1950, 1,300,000 and 1951, 1,325,000. It was estimated 1940's requirements (including the 205,000 tons), will be 40 percent larger than the prewar 1935-39 years, although oil demands for the new year will be 76 percent greater.

Col. Ernest O. Thompson of the Texas Railroad Commission reports the weighted average bottomhole pressure in the East Texas Field as increasing 1.88 pounds in See MACK SKELTON, Page 17

PAN AMERICAN EXPANDS
HOUSTON—(AP)—The Pan American Production Company has announced purchase of oil producing properties of the New Liris Quick-silver Mining Company in the Wimberly and Reddin Fields, Jones County, West Texas.

President E. R. Turner said the properties consist of four leases covering slightly in excess of 275 acres on which there are 12 wells, one being dually employed in limestone pays.
The purchase price was reported to be approximately $1,000,000.

Wheeler Man Enters State Political Race

A 29-year-old business man of Wheeler, Texas, has announced his candidacy for State Representative in the 122nd district, embracing Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley counties.

He is Grainger McIlhany, a native of the town of Wheeler, who was employed for a year as an accounting clerk in the Pampa office of the Magnolia company before his induction in the army in 1941. He worked for the company three years before moving to Pampa.

Grainger holds the degrees of Bachelor of Business Administration and Bachelor of Law from the University of Texas. He saw four years service as a non-commissioned officer with the 13th armored division of Patton's Third Army but wishes to emphasize he does not believe his war record alone qualifies him to hold public office. He asks that the voters' decision be based on his education, general background, record as a private citizen and general fitness for the office to which he aspires.

The Wheeler young man is a partner of his mother in the M. McIlhany Dry Goods store which he manages, and it is his ambition to continue running the business founded by his late father. He will be able to get away from his store during the sessions of the legislature without too great a personal sacrifice and does not believe the interim legislative demand on his time will conflict with his duties as store-keeper.

McIlhany will appreciate voters checking up on him at Wheeler where most of the older residents have known him since he was a child. The young man is presently serving as president of the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce.

Thompson declined comment on whether the announcement indicated the field's production schedule should be cut to 19 days instead of the current 20 for the 29-day month of February. Pressure increased two pounds in October and five in November.

Opening Monday at Midland will be the quarterly meeting of the Executive Committee and State Vice Presidents of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

The deepest commercial productive well in South Texas, flowing 192 barrels of 45 gravity, is indicated at Corpus Christi in Tidewater Associated Oil Company No. 1 Guaranty Title and Trust Company, drilled to 11,490 with perforations at 11,160 to 11,170.

The American Petroleum Institute reports Texas fields had a daily crude production average of 2,385,700 for the week ending Jan. 10, 21,200 barrels above the previous week. API also reported a national daily average of 5,313,137 for the same period, 21,900 above the previous report to set an all-time record.

Texas Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, in issuing regulations for seismicographic exploration for oil and gas in the Gulf of Mexico, has ruled there must be no dynamiting at night and has limited the size of charges to 50 pounds.

First commercial production for Point Coupee Parish in South Louisiana has been established in the Texas Company's No. 1 Lottie Land and Development Company well located three miles west of Lottie and six miles northeast of Krotz Spring Field in St. Landry Parish.

Speech Goes to Prove Tender-Hearted Should Never Become a Congressman

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Have you seen anything about your congressman lately? Think of his feelings.

One congressman, who recently went home to tell what Congress is doing, used half his speech to talk about a congressman's feelings.

He's Rep. Homer A. Ramey, an Ohio Republican. He's been in Ohio politics 28 years and in Congress five.

It just goes to show you, when you read what Ramey said, that you ought to think fore and aft before you rock a congressman's canoe.

Suppose you praise him. He has to be careful that it won't "lull him into a false sense of security."

And criticism! He may look upon it as "murderous barbs hurled at him" or, sometimes, as "torrents of abuse."

And there's always the danger, if you, say nasty things about him, that you'll make his skin thick. How thick? Thick as an elephant's.

Here's some of what Ramey said:

"There are those (meaning people everywhere) who say Congress is doing nothing. They are equal in number, sound and fury by those who insist Congress is doing too much."

"The first group says Congress is neglecting its duties. The second holds that Congress is going far beyond the bounds set for it by the Constitution."

"On the one hand, we hear that Congress is bent on destroying free enterprise. Not long ago I was accused of being in sympathy with the Communists."

"On the other hand, Congress is regarded by many advanced thinkers as quite out of date. If not that, it is the tool of the chamber of commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers, the Catholic church, or Ku Klux Klan."

"Everybody wants Congress to do something, but nobody ever likes what it does for very long at a time."

"I recently discovered the library of Congress owns 70-odd books lambasting Congress, but has been able to find only one openly in favor of it."

"No wonder the sensitive soul who came to Congress full of idealism and determination to save the nation in its hour of need sometimes falls into the mood of the old song: 'I Care For Nobody, No, Not I, and Nobody Cares for me.'"

"Congressmen have been known to break into tears of gratitude, actually go to pieces, when thanked or complimented for their work in Washington. The shock was just too much for them."

Now, how do you feel?

Vast Program Is Laid at Meeting of Livestock Men

BOISE, Idaho—(AP)—The American National Livestock Association called for the return of the Department of Agriculture "to those purposes for which it was created," elected Arthur A. Smith of Sterling, Colo., president, and selected North Platte, Neb., for the 1949 convention at the concluding sessions of the 51st annual meeting Thursday.

In expressing opposition to rationing and price controls, the stockmen said "we deplore that the Department of Agriculture is now advocating policies pertaining to price controls and rationing that are highly injurious to the welfare of agriculture and will be detrimental to the producers and consumers of this country."

The cattlemen said "experience has shown that the controls demanded (by President Truman) are foredoomed to failure."

Joe Mathews of Albany, Texas, was named second vice president.

The association called for action to curtail the foot and mouth disease in Mexico and suggested negotiations between the United States and Mexico to develop a practical and efficient program for eradication of the disease; appointment of an able administrator; construction of a fence on the international boundary, and study of the economic impact on the Mexican people.

The stockmen also adopted a resolution requesting Congress to amend the Railway Labor Act to "adequately protect the public by giving it a voice in the controversies under the act."

In other resolutions the cattlemen:

Opposed extension of the Reciprocal Tariff Act and asked that the Tariff Commission be "revitalized" with power to adjust rates.

Opposed legislation which would "deprive" livestock producers from use of military lands formerly used by them.

America Reopens Base in Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) - The re-opening of a wartime American air field in North Africa fits into a strategy of expanding American strength in the turbulent Mediterranean area where Greece, Palestine and Trieste are focal spots for trouble.

The field, Mellaha Air Port, near Tripoli, is calculated to increase substantially the ability of the Air Force to operate to the North African ferry route to the Middle East and keep American supplies and key personnel moving in and out of the troubled areas.

Beyond that, however, the move shaped up as the latest in a series symbolizing the intention of the United States to make good its commitments and to protect its interests in that part of the world which probably is getting more official attention here than any other.

American Air Force headquarters in Wiesbaden, Germany, announced Wednesday that the field was being put into service again with a small maintenance staff.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal, however, told a news conference Wednesday that the field is to be just a way station and has no relation to any system of bases in North Africa.

Who Could Out-Bid Girl With a Dollar?

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) - When a small voice said, clearly and firmly, "I bid a whole dollar," the crowd at a police auction of unclaimed bicycles grew silent.

And a few minutes later, eight-year-old Margaret Stevens walked away with the bicycle on which she had been the only bidder.

THESE TROUBLIN' TIMES

--- Here I am all fagged out, and I told Mrs. Stroup and Mrs. Codlin up at The News to write this for me --- People are just plumb runnin' me to death. Why, I'm every day dodging people who want me to run for office, been boosting the Chamber of Commerce in general; and people have been saying I'm leasing oil property --- I'm being pushed into the corner from all angles. Some fellows wanted me to run for county commissioner, and some said it ought even to be county judge. I told 'em the only reason I didn't run for judge was that it just didn't pay me enough, and I wanted so much I couldn't stay honest. They'll have to raise the ante on that office for me --- You know, it's pretty tough to be popular. People think you can do anything and you know everything. One fellow down at The News is dogging my tracks, wants me to find a unfurnished house for him to rent. To get rid of him I may have to build one to rent to 'im.
Now, let's see what we got here.

We don't know just what Wade has left of all the listings he's given us in the last year, but we do know he has homes, ranches, oil royalties, leases, cattle, even automobiles, vacuum cleaners, diamond rings, and fur coats he'll sell at a real bargain to you --- and he'll loan you the money to buy 'em with if you have the proper collateral.

And as for his political aspirations, we know he'd do the job but we think he'd better stick to the real estate business. His health would never stand the gaff of a politician and as a side line, go on with his oil interests—It's our opinion Bob Campbell may take him in as a "silent" partner. When Wade reads this ad he'll probably write his own hereafter!

When you read this go to Church --- We'll all feel better.

THE HIGH PRICE OF LAND

has about driven me away from home. I thought when I sold my land here and in Kansas for a good profit last year that I was smart and the buyers were dumb, but the dumb fellow lives at our house. So there is no use crying over spilled milk, the only thing to do is try to get more milk. Well—I started looking around for a fellow who thought he was smart and wanted to sell some good land at a bargain. And I found it! I have bought 2400 acres up in southeast Wyoming and northeast Colorado and I sure would like for some Texas folks to go up there too so I won't be so lonesome.

This is a dandy --- 640 acres about as level as a floor. This is a well improved place, has three irrigation wells each with 900 gallons per minute capacity, two equipped with electricity and in operation. All five 5 room home with rental in rear. Comes the water. There is 200 acres of irrigated wheat, and 60 acres of alfalfa. All in cultivation and only four miles from town. All crops go. Price is $100 per acre. Wheat on land nearby made 52 bushels per acre last year.

Also have an 1100 acre valley farm, well improved. It has some irrigation. A 1500 gallon well was brought in about a half mile up the valley from this place last week. All of this farm is good land. Price is $37.50 per acre. Eight miles from town. Reason for selling, the owner is too old to continue farming. I have looked these two places over and I think they are worth the money.

Last but not least --- A section of grass land that can all be farmed with the exception of a few acres in one corner. This has a good fence and windmill. Price $21.50 per acre.

The annual average rainfall in this locality for the past 17 years is 17.76 inches.

Miss Mary Jane (Davis) Pfeifer Tells of Her Varied Experiences in the Southwest Pacific

An invited caller at the Pampa News a few days ago was Mrs. L. L. Pfeifer, the former Mary Jane Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Davis, 333 N. Faulkner Mrs. Pfeifer, who with her husband, Lt. Pfeifer, formerly of Lebanon, Ill., arrived last week after fourteen months in the Southwest Pacific area. Most of the time they were situated on the north end of the island of Guam. Lt. Pfeifer was a photograph officer and procured a position in which he supervised the work of the military police.

Mrs. Pfeifer said that when they landed on the island they were assigned to a house which was a quonset type of structure. It took her weeks to clean up the place and make it fit to live in.

The house consisted of a living room, dining room, bath, three bedrooms and a service porch. Help, she said, was cheap and not particularly difficult to obtain. The Guamanians are good workers, but not dependable, some of them being very adept at stealing.

In commenting on food, Mrs. Pfeifer said the only fresh vegetables they had for five months consisted of fresh beans and onions although canned foods were easily obtainable at the Navy commissaries 30 miles away. The frozen meats, she said, were not of good quality. For the first five months Mrs. Pfeifer cooked their food in a mess kit over a one-burner hot plate.

The social life was rather restricted. They were always welcome at the officers club dances and three or four good beaches were available. However, for a long time it was not safe for a woman to go out without an armed escort because, apparently, some of the Japanese who were still on the island did not realize the war had ended.

In reply to an inquiry about shopping, Mrs. Pfeifer stated that the Guamanians are not very skillful with their hands. Nearly all the handicraft articles are of the type that do not require intricate manipulation. They are mostly coarse weaving and crude carving.

Most of the older natives of Guam are of Spanish descent and they speak kind of "mongrel" language which is a mixture of Spanish and Guamanian. Most of the natives speak a little Japanese, learned during the occupation. Practically all the younger natives speak English. They go to good American high schools and they learn English in schools. A goodly number of Guamanians come to American universities, and practically all want to.

The old caribou method of transportation is still used to some extent. However, now, most of the natives drive around in big bright-colored American automobiles. They seem to have a preference for Buicks. The Americans on Guam drive Buicks.

Most of the older Guamanians wear the old-fashioned Filipino style of dress with the full sleeves and draped skirts, but the young people dress just like the young people in Pampa or Amarillo.

Some of the Guamanian girls have married American boys. When asked about the cultural achievements of the natives of Guam, Mrs. Pfeifer remarked that one thing in which they probably excelled all other peoples in the world was jiggerbugging. They have that form of dance down to the finest of fine arts, she said.

Agana is the capital city of Guam. It is about the size of Pampa in population. The town was completely wiped out during the war and is being rapidly rebuilt. On their return from the Southwest Pacific the Pfeifers sailed from Agana, went by Japan making stops at Yokohama and Tokyo. They had been warned before leaving Guam that "Japan stinks," and they found that statement to be true, literally. They found little trace of the bombings that had destroyed some of the areas in larger cities in Japan. Most of the areas that were wiped out have been completely rebuilt—but in less substantial types of buildings than are common in America.

Lt. and Mrs. Pfeifer were in Japan just before Tojo's trial was to take place. Their English-speaking guide said that the Japanese people think Gen. McArthur is wonderful because of the help they have received from America. It was pointed out that the Japanese still love their Emperor and respect him. They feel, Mrs. Pfeifer said, that the war crimes trials are fair. Common people blame the warlords, rather than the Emperor. The general comment was that the Japanese people want a lasting peace and they recognize that the withdrawal of troops too soon might cause them to fall under the war lords again. It was stated that it would be a quarter to a half-century before Japan could stand on her own feet again.

The Japanese people are shabby and poor, but they are not lazy. The children seemed happy and well fed. They were friendly and helpful. The Japanese people, as observed by the Pfeifers seem eager for outsiders to see and appreciate their arts and skills.

Lt. and Mrs. Pfeifer returned from Japan by way of Oahu, spending a day and night in Honolulu, and celebrating Christmas aboard the U. S. Army Transport General W. G. Haan.

When asked if she would like to live on the other side of the Pacific, Mrs. Pfeifer answered in the negative, but she stated that she would like to spend some time in Europe.

Lt. Pfeifer is now on a 60-day leave. He and Mrs. Pfeifer have been visiting in Pampa with her parents and they plan to spend some time in St. Louis with his parents while awaiting re-assignment orders.

Mrs. Pfeifer graduated from Pampa High School in 1942. While in school she took a college preparatory course and was active in dramatics. At one time she was cheer leader.

Alabama Girl Weds Luther L. Sherwood

SHAMROCK —(Special)— Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Lucye McCollum of Tusculumbia, Ala., and Luther Lindel Sherwood of this city, Dec. 23, at the home of Rev. D. W. Edwards, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Tusculumbia, who officiated.

The bride was attired in a two-piece suit of brown wool with brown accessories and she wore a shoulder corsage of orchids. Mrs. Sherwood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Milton McCollum of Tusculumbia.

Mrs. McCollum, mother of the bride, attended the ceremony in a suit of gray with black accessories.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Sherwood of Shamrock, served four years in the Army. He is employed by the Reynolds Metal Works of Tusculumbia.

The couple made a trip to points in Texas which included Shamrock, and will make their home at 208 N. Waters St. Tusculumbia.

Raisins make an excellent addition to cabbage and carrot slaws. Before using them "plump" or steam them by putting them in a covered wire strainer over a small amount of water which is kept gently boiling for about 10 minutes.

One Way to Prove It's Glass

Four of those new no-deposit beer bottles prove their strength by supporting 3,000 pounds of steel ingots and 105 pounds of femininity. Because the non-returnable glass bottles are so light, many people mistake them for plastic. But the one-way bottles are made entirely of glass, weigh only half as much as plastic and are one-third shorter than the standard malt-beverage bottle of the same 12-ounce capacity.

New Plastic Bottle Has Convenient Built-in Spray

Addition to the dressing table is a pliable plastic bottle which, when squeezed, forces out a fine spray of a new liquid deodorant. By ALICIA HART, NEA Staff Writer

If you've been wondering why somebody hasn't invented a device for spraying on a deodorant you'll be glad to know that American know-how has rallied to this need.

Eliminating all necessity to touch the stuff that safeguards daintiness is a squeeze-bulb type of thermo-plastic bottle that sprays a new super-protecting liquid deodorant. The bottle is unbreakable and releases a fine mist through an atomizer contained in its cap. One application takes care of a gal's deodorant needs for from three to four days, makers of this product claim.

The liquid dries almost the minute it is sprayed on, and is said to be stingless and non-irritating to the most sensitive skin. Another claim manufacturers make, after testing their product out on all types of fabrics, is that it is safe to use on clothes.

WMU CIRCLE MEETS

The Blanche Groves Circle of the Letors Baptist Missionary Union met Jan. 13, in the home of Mrs. Cleo Coffey.

The business was conducted by Mrs. W. H. Robertson, circle chairman. The Bible study on "Prayer" was led by Mrs. Ben Cheek. Refreshments were served to those mentioned and Times, Ed Railsback, J. V. Guthrie, A. L. Michael, C. H. Butrum, Tom Clasby, J. M. Boucher, Carl Jones, D. S. McDowell, Pat and Barbara, Knox Nichols and Jerry, Greela Pulliam, Bob Vaught, Claude Nichols, Margie and Bill, O. MERTEN HD CLUB

The Merten Home Demonstration Club will meet with Mrs. John Brandon at 2 p.m. on Tuesday.

Briscoe HD Club Holds All-Day Meeting at Shamrock

SHAMROCK —(Special)— "Tender cuts of meat are best when cooked uncovered and without water or moisture being added, while less tender cuts need moisture added and a longer time for cooking," declared Mrs. Erma Mae Hastings in a meat-cooking demonstration which she gave at Briscoe Home Demonstration Club meeting Tuesday.

Another highlight brought out by Mrs. Hastings, was that meats cooked at a continued high temperature, shrink more than if cooked with less heat.

The Briscoe Club started the meeting at the club house with the president, Mrs. Malcolm Levitt serving as hostess.

A covered-dish luncheon was served at the noon hour and the meat cooked by Mrs. Hastings in the demonstration, was also served.

In the afternoon a brief business session was held and a vice president and secretary were elected to fill vacancies because of resignations.

Mrs. Hastings gave an afternoon demonstration on bound buttonholes.

PAMPA HIGH SCHOOL, JANUARY 18, 1948

NO. 14

Harvesters Eke Bulldogs 49-48 To Tie Win Record

Cagers Meet Lubbock In Conference Tussle

The Pampa high school Harvesters will resume their conference crusade next Thursday night, when they invade Lubbock to engage the favored Lubbock Westerners.

The Westerners have several men returning from last year's team which finished as runner-up for district champs. The Westerners defeated the local boys twice last year by no small margin either time, but this year their gun of last year's attack will be missing. Verdel Turner, all-district center and pivot man of the Westerners, will be missing from the line-up come next Thursday night.

According to recent reports the Westerners possess one of their finest teams in the school's history. They have height, passing ability, and sharpshooting which should prove dangerous to any team.

The old semester is slipping away and the new semester is close at hand. Also the new term brings to the minds of us that volleyball tournaments are coming soon. We are getting into shape with hard workouts every Tuesday afternoon and matched games with the teachers and exes.

Jan. 6 the volleyball girls elected Dorothy Jones as captain and Evelyn Pryor as co-captain for this season. We think we have some swell leaders.

Last Friday night the girls who wished to play volleyball had a game against the teachers and exes. All the games were very good. The score at the end showed one team with five wins and no losses and the other team with four losses and no wins. So far, however, no first string in the volleyball club has been picked.

Those teachers are good players and they really give some good competition. We hope to play them again soon.

The workouts will not only make volleyball players out of us, but it is helping others' waist lines, so I hear.

Interfering decorating isn't anything new in the department, but what is new is that new look which is seen in the dressing room.

Thursday afternoon the dressing room had the smell of paint and turpentine as bushes were covered over cabinets and windows. Everything had that dull color of white.

A sport that had had a very successful semester is the sixth period bowling class. The scores as reported in Friday's games were in the single lines: Betty Jo Noel, 207; Alma Davis, 162; and Vivian Gray, 152. The bowling averages throughout the semester are as follows: Lois Rusk, 127; Alma Davis, 116; Vivian Gray, 130; Harold Nickolls, 99; Betty Noel, 137; Mike Noel, 111; Charlene Olney, 121; Arlene O'Rear, 117; Alice Robinson, 141; and Betty West, 91.

Monday opens the new semester and also a new field of sports for the physical education department. So far a definite list of sports has not been made known.

Former Student Named To WSTC Editorship

Frank Stallings, sophomore at West Texas State at Canyon and a Pampa High graduate, has been appointed editor of that school's publication, "The Prairie," by the Student Senate.

Frank has pursued the journalism field since his days in high school. He was sports editor and compositor for the Little Harvester in his senior year at Pampa.

This is the first time since 1943 that a member of the stronger sex has held control of the editorship. Frank succeeds Johnnie Faye Crestens who resigned to accept a position on the Amarillo Times.

The first "lengthy" flight over water by airplane, 34 miles from Newport Bay, Calif., to Catalina Island—was made May 10, 1912.

The LITTLE HARVESTER is published weekly by the students of Pampa High School. The LITTLE HARVESTER is a member of the Panhandle High School Press Association, Quill and Scroll and the Texas High School Press Association.

Carol Culberson, Don Lane Elected To Sweetheart and Rotarian Honors

Teachers Surprising; Work for a Change

Work! Work! Work! That's all the teachers seem to do, especially during exam week.

Walking down the hall during examination week you find all the teachers busy grading papers, notebooks, and even cleaning out their files, which probably haven't been cleaned out since school began but this is not their fault; they have to keep all those papers for the records.

During the exams it seemed that every locker door was being opened and closed with a bang. One more task for the faculty; they were worrying about having to pay for books and trying to find the lost ones.

Mr. Frank Wilson and Mr. Jack Edmondson were busy keeping the halls clear of talking students and Mrs. Lou Roberts was busy trying to finish up the enrollment for the new semester.

Mrs. Ruby Capps and several of her students were seen out in hall Thursday cleaning out notebooks and throwing things away by the armloads.

A few of the teachers working on Friday trying to meet the deadline for report cards were Miss Gwyn Johnson, Mrs. Lois Turner, Mrs. Capps, Miss Claris Glick, Miss Madge Rusk, Mrs. Mabel Torvie, Miss Margaret Jones and Miss Mary Dozer. Others, including Mr. Ervin Buell, announced that they were busily engaged in averaging those grades at home.

Friday, a free day for the students, ended with a faculty meeting at 4 p. m. before the poor, bedraggled teachers could head for home and rest.

EXISTENCE

By DARRELL HUSTED
Like a shadow you creep into the night.

And when you're asked recess
With your perfect
Like a dark, evil, sacred, vice
You seduce her sight.
Of beauty and tranquility.
It was not always so.

Once you were innocent and
And when you creep forth
Wickedness was nameless.
For there was none in your
Tender, soft movement.
None but naiveness and peace.
But it's changed.

Now you're seen with un-
wonted malignance,
And you're cursed with the filthy stigmata
That must follow you through your short life.

God gave no beauty to you.
You must strive for what is done.
For what you must do
On this earth.

When you pounce on some small creature
And blood drips from your filthy feature,
You mean no wickedness.

You are the cat.
You must live.

Gambin Presents Basketball Trophies

G. W. Gambin, captain of the Harvesters basketball squad, presented the student body the trophies won by the cage team in copping championship honors in the Spearman and Childers tournaments in the Tuesday morning assembly.

Coach Clifton McNeely, mentor for the hoopers, introduced his squad who have won 17 straight games.

The cheer leaders led several yells for the team in preparation for their first conference game with the Borger Bulldogs Friday night.

No Congress can bind a future Congress, but it could lay down a four-year plan, and if the 81st Congress wanted to repudiate it, it could.

Many Moan Monday Meaning More Work

Wailing and moaning rose from the one-way PHS halls. Tears trickled down long, drawn faces. Many sad, distorted students slowly trudged between solemn rows of similar-fated classmates. All formed a complete picture of misery.

The usual joyous, laugh-filled cafeteria was empty of smiling children, and lost appetites were evident. Those who found the cafeteria door too heavy to open wearily returned to a fellow-mourning friend.

Some wishing privacy could be found along the sidewalks where they alternately screamed in agony, or fell into defeated silence.

Yes, once again Woe appeared in Pampa High, touching a cash and Junior Rotarian, respectively, for this month by the Student Council at its regular meeting Tuesday.

Carol was born in Pampa May 28, 1930. She has majored in English and math. She is a member of the Student Council, Tri-Hi-Y, the A Cappella choir, and the girls' settee. Carol was also chosen as the most beautiful girl in school this year.

A few of Don's honors and offices include senior class president, co-editor Little Harvester, president of the Panhandle High School Press Association, member of the boys' quartet and A Cappella choir. He is also a member of the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll. During his sophomore year, he was chosen the best all-around student in high school. He was also a member of the junior play cast.

Announcement was made of the Texas Association for Student Councils for high schools and junior high schools, which will be held at the Thomas Jefferson high school in San Antonio Feb. 6 and 7. Decision about delegates will be made in student council meeting this week.

Enrolling Means Work For Those Concerned

You're sitting in class and studying that's possible and suddenly a girl (from the office) doesn't get excited opens the door, calls your name, and says that you're wanted in the office. You get weak in the knees and can hardly walk out of class.

As you walk down the hall, you can't imagine what you've done except skip the third period last week, get called down twenty times for talking in class, shoot paper wads in study hall, be late to class twice and a few other minor offenses.

When you get to the office, Mrs. Lou Roberts, the registrar—information for you lucky people that have never called to the office—meets you at the desk and you gaze into her eyes and begin to shake again.

You get out her little book and you can't imagine what's going to happen next. Then you are so relieved to learn that she only wants to tell you that you have enrolled in the wrong class.

Most of the seniors are familiar with the duties of Mrs. Roberts. Snapshots editor Patty Williams is requesting snaps from freshmen and sophomores to complete her section of the yearbook.

The second deadline for sending in material by the staff will be Jan. 31, when the forward, dedication, favorites, faculty division, basketball and boy's P.E. department pages and some of the organizational pages will be sent in.

Timely Tidbits

By DON LANE
Now that they (meaning those exams) are over, everyone can breathe a little easier. But as we wandered here and there in a desperate search for timely news items, we saw a sample of the grades made on exams by all classifications of students. It was so bad that everyone does not take the finals seriously enough.

For the seniors, this is the beginning of the end. The first day will be just as important as the last. Every day will mean the difference between that parchment and spending another year in high school.

There! That's quite a bit of editorializing to start this column off but don't give up hope. It gets lively as you read on. I know—I read ahead of the typewriter.

Answers to tests can be just about as crazy as any fictitious story thought up by Bob Hope or Frank Morgan. We found the answers to some questions which just about take first place.

Two ports of Brazil are "California and New York City."
Main port of Argentina is "Europe."
One by-product of nitrate is "oil."
Aniline dyes are made from "skim milk."
England sends the largest number of her exports to "Great Britain."
An important German port is "China."
Silk worms eat "green" leaves.
Dutch raise "domino cattle."

Mr. Ervin Buell reports a very large enrollment for the civics class offered the fifth period. Up to the present-time, interest in civics, economics and sociology has been lax ever since they began being offered in the curriculum.

Our personal opinion is that these subjects are as important as the required history subjects and some of the other "musts." These subjects deal with the problems of today, and that facts which the student can use today—not ten years earlier.

Adell Roberts made 98 on her Latin II semester exam. That's news plus Mrs. Lulu B. Owens, teacher, reports that that is the highest grade ever made on a semester exam which she can remember in her teaching career.

Barbara Carruth: "It's a theory on the origin of man."
Bob Houchins: "Is it town?"
Donald Truh: "It's a disease of the digestive which causes them to curl to an angle of 90 degrees."
Martha: "Huh?"
Oma, Kees: "It's a French word."
Jo Alice Franks: "Don't you call me names?"
Mary Lou Hanks: "Purely fictitious."
Leroy Troop: "I don't like it."
Betty McCracken: "It is con-"
Adell Roberts: "It's a state of fear."
Nadine Pierce: "Oh, I like rabbits."

New to broaden your manner of education, the definition, as supplied us by Miss Virginia Vanhook, is "the theory of reincarnation." What's the reincarnation? As the teacher always says—look it up in the dictionary.

A Cappella to Sing In Top of Texas Revue

The A Cappella choir will appear in the annual "Top of Texas" Revue Feb. 2 and 3 in the Junior High auditorium.

The choir was officially asked by Mr. Ken Bennett, who is directing this year's Revue. The choir will sing a hymn in one of the three sequences composed by Mr. Bennett.

Mr. Bennett also urged that members attend the "rehearsal" so that they could sing with the stage chorus.

Capital should not be taxed too heavily, otherwise it will lose incentive and the growth of our economic system will be weakened.

Senior Play Cast To Be Revealed By Miss Henslee Monday Morning

Barker Chant Peals For More Purchasers

Hurry, Hurry, Hurry! Come one, come all, down to the front of the Pampa High School building to buy your annual for 1947-48 school year.

The annuals are going on sale for the last time Monday and Tuesday. They will be priced at $3.75 and will be sold before school and at the lunch hours. So if you want an annual, buy it now.

A list including the names of all students and teachers who have bought annuals will be posted on the front bulletin board Thursday. Any person who has bought an annual and does not find his name on the list should contact one of the annual staff in the Little Harvester office.

This list is being made to double-check sales so that no slip-ups can be made in distribution in the spring.

Pictures of class officers will be made this week. Among those made last week were members of the Gorilla basketball squad and the women working in the cafeteria and the janitors.

Mr. Saunders, Steck representative in the Panhandle, visited Pampa High Tuesday. He brought samples from which Editors June Myatt and Patty Williams chose the 1948 Harvester cover. The type of cover will be revealed only when the annuals are returned from the publisher in May.

Snaps editor Patty Williams is requesting snaps from freshmen and sophomores to complete her section of the yearbook.

The second deadline for sending in material by the staff will be Jan. 31, when the forward, dedication, favorites, faculty division, basketball and boy's P.E. department pages and some of the organizational pages will be sent in.

Cast for hte senior play, "Brother Goose", will be announced Monday by Miss Thelma Henslee, dramatic director. Final tryouts took place Friday afternoon.

B. G. Gordon Is Head Of Math Department

The math department headed by Mr. B. G. Gordon since 1938, had 750 students enrolled during the past semester.

The department has eight teachers, six who devote their entire day to the instruction of math courses and two who combine both math and science. Those teaching math are Mr. B. G. Gordon, Mrs. E. L. Norman, Mr. J. C. Pattillo, Mr. J. L. Spencer, Mr. Charles Bowen, Mr. John Pfister, Mrs. Lois Turner, and Miss Johnnie Douglas.

The courses offered are General math, Commercial Arithmetic, Algebra I and II, Plane Geometry, advanced Arithmetic, Trigonometry, and Solid Geometry. The only change in this semester will be that Trigonometry will be given credit for 3.0 in Geometry, but Solid Geometry will be given if there are enough who want to take it.

In PHS there is enough math offered to prepare a student for his more advanced training in the engineering field and any other field requiring a great deal of math. Advanced mathematics is given because it is a good course for review in daily math for the senior about to go away to college.

The teachers of the math department are going to sponsor a slide rule and number sense contest in the spring. The contest will be at Canyon; the district at Amarillo.

Gorillas Drop Opener In Wheeler Tournament

Playing in their third consecutive basketball tournament, Coach John Boyer's Gorillas dropped their fourth game of the season last Friday morning when a towering Reynold, Okla. quintet defeated the 42-32 in the Wheeler tournament.

The Reynold boys had an overall height average of almost two inches more than the Gorillas. The Gorillas matched the "Oklies" point for point during the initial quarter and opening minutes of the contest, but as the second quarter progressed, the superior height of the Reynold club began to tell, and the locals began to lag behind.

Reynold forward Yarnell led both teams in the scoring department with 13 points, but he was closely pressed for the honors by Gorilla center Don that who collected 11 points. Jimmy Hyatt of the Gorillas got six counters and Dan Roche and Ronald Beard got six points each.

The Gorillas were scheduled to meet the Shamrock Irishmen in the consolation bracket at 11 o'clock yesterday morning. The Pampans met defeat at the hands of the Irishmen last week in the Shamrock tournament, 27-20.

The officers for the present year of the PHS chapter are Mark Buzzard, president; Troy Ray, vice president; Jimmy Culp, secretary and treasurer; Charlie Gist, sergeant-at-arms, and Gerold Mayo, reporter. The officers were initiated into the club by the instructors and state officials at Amarillo Dec. 18.

This district includes Borger, Plainview, Childers, Lubbock, Amarillo, and Pampa. The next district meeting will be held at Abilene Feb. 6 when all officers and sponsors from the district will elect the officers for the district.

The 22 members have ordered covers and jackets with the club's emblem on the back. These covers and jackets will be in the school colors.

Mingle Resigns Post; No Successor Named

Mrs. Mary Mingle, girls' physical education teacher, is leaving Jan. 30 for Bartlesville, Okla., where her husband, who is employed by Cities Service Oil Co. is being transferred.

Mrs. Mingle has been working in Pampa High since September. She has been sponsor of the swimming club as well as teaching physical education classes.

Mr. Frank Wilson, principal, said Friday no one had been selected to take Mrs. Mingle's place.

Door Richard Has Dream For PHS Letterman's Club

Whoops! Poor Richard's been dreaming again.

We are presenting something with which we have toyed for over a year, and which has gained favor in discussion groups over the school for some time.

Many high schools and nearly all colleges in the nation have a club operated by and composed of athletes who sport the customary letter or award in evidence of their having participated in interscholastic athletic competition.

We wonder if such a club in our own school could not be to the advantage of the individual athlete and the coaching staff.

The noise for a Varsity club has been provoked by scenes of boys who have earned a letter and the coveted "P", and by merchants selling jackets that closely resemble the athletic award.

The Harvesters jacket does not mean what it should! Some boys want the "P" of a jacket without putting forth the time and effort (and often "a buck") for the glory of "dear old Almadar."

Who would be a member of the club? We say that any person who has been a member of any Harvesters team has a right to be a member upon his coach's recommendation. This includes lettermen in football, basketball, track, tennis, golf or any sport in which PHS participates with other schools.

The purposes? The initial purpose of the organization would be to encourage better training and anything else that would aid in producing higher calibre athletes in PHS. Members should set up an honor system for better training during and preceding the conference.

Well, there it is. Certainly it would take a great amount of work—if you want to do it. It is in its elementary stages. But we hope you will accept it as food for thought and chew it carefully belishment within the club for violators.

It must be emphasized that the organization would in no way have authority in establishing the policy of any athletic team. (In other words, it would not tell the coaches how to run their business.) That is why I feel that the coaches should not take an active part in the organization, and let it be entirely student in personnel. The coach, however, should be consulted on any matter on which he could help.

It must also be emphasized that the only truly effective method of having better trained athletes is to have the students themselves desire to train, rather than submit their desires entirely to the dictates of the coaching department.

In order for any high school club to operate efficiently, it must have adult supervision. I need not reiterate my reasons for not having a coach as head of the club, but someone interested in sports should serve as sponsor. What about former coach Jack Edmondson, if he's not too busy with his duties as assistant principal? Or Jim Arndt, or a Gorilla coach of years back? Or Gordon? Or Miles Morgan? Ray Evans has handled boys in scout work. Or W. B. Weathers, or Earl Schlegel. Excepting promotional activities such as stopping this jacket-making, the Varsity club would be mostly honorary-like the PHS for scholars, and the Quill and Scroll for journalists. They could have a club pin, and annual socials such as barbecues, hayrides or dances.

Well, there it is. Certainly it would take a great amount of work—if you want to do it. It is in its elementary stages. But we hope you will accept it as food for thought and chew it carefully be-

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By KEN BENNETT

If you've been around town in Pampa this past week, you've heard some mighty big rumors about the Phillips' deep test well, the Jenkie, No. 1. Just in case you haven't heard all the rumors, I might mention a few of them for your own consideration of what they are worth. It seems as if neighbors who live in the area of the well were awakened by a rumbling noise on one night of last week which, they concluded, was the Jenkie on a spree. One neighbor is supposed to have seen the well actually pumping an estimated 28 barrels of oil in one hour and to have seen oil spraying from the derrick. The derrick is supposed to have changed to an all color overnight, also. Another rumor presented is that one of the employees had made the mistake of parking his car too close to the derrick and had to wash the car before coming to town to eliminate the oil from it. It was also reported that workers at the well were working feverishly to dig new pits. Other rumors are that the well is pumping 25 barrels of oil at the present time.

Men who make it their business to follow closely all lines of oil development have their own ideas regarding the well. One has stated that the adding of pits is more apt to imply salt water than oil. Others say that there are not proper facilities at the Jenkie to prevent to take care in any way of a 25 or 28 barrel an hour well. These same people, however, say they did see evidence of oil on the ground but that it might have come from various causes. The consensus of these people is that the Phillips' Company in its deep test has every reason to believe that oil is in the area, but that this one well may not be the answer.

One other student of oil affairs has expressed an opinion to me; and seemingly the most logical it's the line of thought that I am prone to believe until something more definite develops. He is of the opinion that in all tests the Jenkie has shown oil, and good supply, but that it has been mixed with a large amount of water. He also believes that most of the tests have occurred at about the same level and that if they find a layer free of water, the well will be a real producer. He also believes that it is highly probable.

Of course, there are many things happening in and around Pampa that force one to believe most of the oil companies are of the opinion that something big is going to develop in this area. The fact that several larger businesses of various types are looking for locations in Pampa at this particular time should be all some proof. This doesn't only apply to oil industries, for the field seems to be quite varied. It has also been reported to me that one real estate firm in Pampa has removed all its listings from market. This could only mean one thing: They have reason to believe that Pampa is going to take on boom aspects.

and this same real estate will increase in value as a result.

May I say again, all these are rumors. Some seem logical and some seem very far-fetched. There is no doubt but what some of Pampa's business people are enough on the inside of what is happening to know the true story. No doubt these same people will be just as tight-lipped about the true story as people who own the well for the same reason. Good business.

The Cities Service Company's D.M.F. held a meeting Jan. 13, at the hall in Pampa with 44 members and guests present. The new chairman, Ira Carlson, served chili, coffee, cakes and cookies, and all those who attended agreed that Ira could really make chili. Everyone enjoyed the feed and the games that followed the supper. As a matter of fact those who attended were surprised to learn of Ira's talents until they discovered he was a former mess sergeant in the Army, and due to that fact they are all looking forward to some real feeds in the future. Guests to the party included R. E. Engle, Sr. of Seminole, Okla., E. F. Long of Oil Hill, Kans., R. F. Edgerton and Eugene R. Mingle, both junior engineers of Bartlesville, Okla., and J. L. Vance of Pampa.

The group wished to express their thanks to the finance committee, to Mr. Conover, Mr. Davies, and Mr. Batson, and all those responsible for their new stove and other items purchased for the hall. The D.M.F. also wished to thank the company for remodeling their hall.

PAN AMERICAN EXPANDS
HOUSTON—UP—The Pan American Production Company has announced purchase of oil producing properties of the New Idris Quick-silver Mining Company in the Wimberly and Reddin Fields, Jones County, West Texas.

President E. R. Turner said the properties consist of four leases covering slightly in excess of 275 acres on which there are 12 wells, one being dual, employed in limestone pays. The purchase price was reported to be approximately $1,000,000.

Wheeler Man Enters State Political Race

A 29-year-old business man of Wheeler, Texas, has announced his candidacy for State Representative in the 122nd district, embracing Gray, Wheeler, Collingsworth and Donley counties.

He is Grainger McIlhany, a native of the town of Wheeler, who was employed for a year as an accounting clerk in the Pampa office of the Magnolia company before his induction in the army in 1941. He worked for the oil company three years before moving to Pampa.

Grainger holds the degree of Bachelor of Business Administration and Bachelor of Law from the University of Texas. He saw four years service as a non-commissioned officer with the 13th armored division of Patton's Third Army but wishes to emphasize he does not believe his war record alone qualifies him to hold public office. He asks that the voters' decision be based on his education, general background, record as a private citizen and general fitness for the office to which he aspires.

The Wheeler young man is a partner of his mother-in-law, the McIlhany Dry Goods store which he manages, and it is his ambition to continue running the business founded by his late father. He will be able to get away from his store during the sessions of the legislature without too great a personal sacrifice and does not believe the interim legislative demand on his time will conflict with his duties as store-keeper.

McIlhany will appreciate voters checking up on him at Wheeler where most of the residents have known him since he was a child. The young man is presently serving as president of the Wheeler Chamber of Commerce.

Speech Goes to Prove Tender-Hearted Should Never Become a Congressman

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—Have you been saying anything about your congressman lately? Think of his feelings.

One congressman, who recently went home to tell what Congress is doing, used half his speech to talk about a congressman's feelings.

He's Rep. Homer A. Ramey, an Ohio Republican. He's been in Ohio politics 28 years and in Congress five.

It just goes to show you, when you read what Ramey said, that you ought to think fore and aft before you rock a congressman's canoe.

Suppose you praise him. He has to be careful that it won't "fill him into a false sense of security."

And criticism! He may look upon it as "murderous barbs hurled at him" or, sometimes, as "torrents of abuse."

And there's always the danger, if you say nasty things about him, that you'll make his skin thick. How thick? Thick as an elephant's.

Here's some of what Ramey said:

"There are those (meaning people everywhere) who say Congress is doing nothing. They are equalled in number, sound and fury by those who insist Congress is doing too much."

"The first group says Congress is neglecting its duties. The second holds that Congress is going far beyond the bounds set for it by the Constitution."

"On the one hand, we hear that Congress is bent on destroying free enterprise. Not long ago I was accused of being in sympathy with the Communists."

"On the other hand, Congress is regarded by many advanced thinkers as quite out of date. If not that, it is the tool of the chamber of commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers, the Catholic church, or Ku Klux Klan."

"Everybody wants Congress to do something, but nobody ever likes what it does for very long at a time."

"I recently discovered the li-

Vast Program Is Laid at Meeting Of Livestock Men

BOISE, Idaho—(AP)—The American National Livestock Association called for the return of the Department of Agriculture "to those purposes for which it was created," elected Arthur A. Smith of Sterling, Colo., president, and selected North Platte, Neb., for the 1949 convention at the concluding sessions of the 51st annual meeting Thursday.

In expressing opposition to rationing and price controls, the stockmen said "we deplore that the Department of Agriculture is now advocating policies pertaining to price controls and rationing that are highly injurious to the welfare of agriculture and will be detrimental to the producers and consumers of this country."

The cattlemen said "experience has shown that the controls demanded (by President Truman) are foredoomed to failure."

Joe Mathews of Albany, Texas, was named second vice president. The association called for action to curtail the foot and mouth disease in Mexico and suggested negotiations between the United States and Mexico to develop a practical and efficient program for eradication of the disease; appointment of an able administrator; construction of a fence on the international boundary, and study of the economic impact on the Mexican people.

The stockmen also adopted a resolution requesting Congress to amend the Railway Labor Act to "adequately protect the public by giving it a voice in the controversies under the act."

In other resolutions the cattlemen:

- Opposed extension of the Reciprocal Tariff Act and asked that the Tariff Commission be "revitalized" with power to adjust rates.
- Opposed legislation which would "deprive" livestock producers from use of military lands formerly used by them.
- High heat toughens cheese and makes it stringy. Low temperatures should always be used in cooking it.

America Reopens Base in Africa

WASHINGTON (AP) — The reopening of a wartime American air field in North Africa fits into a strategy of expanding American strength in the turbulent Mediterranean area.

The field, Mellaha Air Port, near Tripoli, is calculated to add to the Air Force's grip on a vital North African ferry route to the Middle East and keep American supplies and key personnel moving in and out of the troubled areas.

Beyond that, however, the move shapes up as the latest in a series symbolizing the intention of the United States to make good its commitments and to protect its interests in that part of the world which probably is getting more official attention here than any other.

American Air Force headquarters in Wiesbaden, Germany, announced Wednesday that the field was being put into service again with a small maintenance staff.

Secretary of Defense Forrestal, however, told a news conference Wednesday that the field is to be just a way station and has no relation to any system of bases in North Africa.

Who Could Out-Bid Girl With a Dollar? BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — When a small voice said, clearly and firmly, "I bid a whole dollar," the crowd at a police auction of unclaimed bicycles grew silent.

And a few minutes later, eight-year-old Margaret Stevens walked away with the bicycle on which she had been the only bidder.

MURDER AT MY HOUSE

By Rene Ryerson Mart Copyright by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Leiphan's casual remark that "poison is a woman's weapon" makes me wonder about Liz. My effeminate companion would be likely to get poison if he wanted to kill someone.

I read: "Dearest Avis: Don't worry, darling about this afternoon. I'll fix everything up fine for you in spite of this screwy writer dame who works with me."

I BURNED a little bit over his uncomplimentary reference to me. And remembered that the bitterest quarrels we had had when he was trying to pad the part of the wife. For Avis' sake, of course. I saw that clearly now.

I went out to the parking lot and got my car and headed downtown for police headquarters, still carrying what I hoped was the incriminating blotter.

Bob Leiphan was in his office. He looked surprised when I came barging in. None too coherent, I began to explain my call: "I've been doing a little detecting on my own, and I think I've found a possible clue... on this blotter."

It was the Lisbon Leyden's desk in our office. It seems that he and Avis were pretty intimate. He even gave her beads mady and hopedly in love with her. At least when a man starts off a letter, "Dearest..."

Dramatically I unrolled the blotter and laid it flat on Leiphan's desk and whipped out my compact mirror and held it so that he could read the writing in the corner of the blotter.

He read what was written there and then his eyes kinked up funny and he looked at me.

"Sorry," he said. "We already know all about that. We found the letter in her dressing room at the studio. Leyden wrote it to her the afternoon before she was murdered."

"What—what was in it?" My voice lagged.

"You won't like this," he warned. He went to a wall safe and came back with a sheet of writing paper in his hand. He handed it to me.

I went out to the parking lot and got my car and headed downtown for police headquarters, still carrying what I hoped was the incriminating blotter.

Don't look like that," he said. I suppose it was the unexpected gentleness of his voice that did it. I started to cry and couldn't stop.

The tears gushed from my eyes and ran down my cheeks and into the corner of my mouth warm and salty and bitter. I tried to find a handkerchief in my purse without any success.

"Here—" Bob Leiphan said. I took the square white handkerchief he pushed into my hand and started mopping.

Leiphan said, "Sit down in that chair and put on some lipstick. You'll feel better."

I rummaged through my purse again and couldn't find my lipstick either, and remembered spilling everything out of my purse when I was getting the blotter from Leyden's desk. I must have missed my lipstick when I picked up the other things. It was probably still there in the office at the studio.

LEIPHAN went back and sat at his desk. "If it will make you feel any better," he said, "I'm not going to arrest you... now."

His gray eyes met mine directly and surprisingly he flushed a little. "I'm hoping that I won't have to arrest you. But—you are in a bad spot. There's plenty of circumstantial evidence against you. In addition to everything else, there is this."

He brought a small white, familiar-looking packet out of his coat pocket and laid it on the desk before him. "I just got it back from the chemist this morning. It was found in your house. The chemist is not prepared to swear that it is the same poison that killed Avis Vaughn and Art Clevin but it is the same type of poison. One of the alkaloids—stropin sulfate. Pretty deadly stuff. Miss Donn, to have lying around."

The room was absolutely still for a moment. Of course, I could have explained to him how I happened to have the poison, but it would have sounded pretty lame at this late date. If only I had had the sense to tell him everything when I had told him about Oscar.

THESE TROUBLIN' TIMES

--- Here I am all fagged out, and I told Mrs. Stroup and Mrs. Codlin up at The News to write this for me --- People are just plumb runnin' me to death. Why, I'm every day dodging people who want me to run for office; been boasting the Chamber of Commerce in general; and people have been saying I'm leasing oil property --- I'm being pushed into the corner from all angles. Some fellows wanted me to run for county commissioner, and some said it ought even to be county judge. I told 'em the only reason I didn't run for judge was that it just didn't pay me enough, and I wanted so much I couldn't stay honest. They'll have to raise the ante on that office for me --- You know, it's pretty tough to be popular. People think you can do anything and you know everything. One fellow down at The News is dogging my tracks, wants me to find a unfurnished house for him to rent. To get rid of him I may have to build one to rent to 'im.

Now, let's see what we got here.

We don't know just what Wade has left of all the listings he's given us in the last year, but we do know he has homes, ranches, oil royalties, leases, cattle, even automobiles, vacuum cleaners, diamond rings, and fur coats he'll sell at a real bargain to you --- and he'll loan you the money to buy 'em with if you have the proper collateral.

And as for his political aspirations, we know he'd do the job but we think he'd better stick to the real estate business. His health would never stand the gaff of a politician and as a side line, go on with his oil interests---It's our opinion Bob Campbell may take him in as a "silent" partner. When Wade reads this ad he'll probably write his own hereafter!

When you read this go to Church --- We'll all feel better.

THE HIGH PRICE OF LAND

has about driven me away from home. I thought when I sold my land here and in Kansas for a good profit last year that I was smart and the buyers were dumb, but the dumb fellow lives at our house. So there is no use crying over spilled milk, the only thing to do is try to get more milk. Well---I started looking around for a fellow who thought he was smart and wanted to sell some good land at a bargain. And I found it! I have bought 2,400 acres up in southeast Wyoming and northeast Colorado and I sure would like for some Texas folks to go up there too so I won't be so lonesome.

This is a dandy --- 640 acres about as level as a floor. This is a well irrigated place, has three irrigation wells each with 300 gallons per minute capacity, two equipped with electricity and in operation. All you have to do is flip a switch and here comes the water. There is 300 acres of irrigated wheat, and 30 acres of alfalfa. All in cultivation and only four miles from town. All crops go. Price is $100 per acre. Wheat on land nearby made 52 bushels per acre last year.

Also have an 1100 acre valley farm, well improved. It has some irrigation. A 1500 gallon well was brought in about a half mile up the valley from this place last week. All of this farm is good land. Price is $37.50 per acre. Eight miles from town. Reason for selling, the owner is too old to continue farming. I have looked these two places over and I think they are worth the money.

Last but not least --- A section of grass land that can all be farmed with the exception of a few acres in one corner. This has a good fence and windmill. Price $21.50 per acre.

The annual average rainfall in this locality for the past 17 years is 17.76 inches.

Black-and-White Blizzard Just Snows Under Congress

By HAL BOYLE
 WASHINGTON (AP)—The great black-and-white blizzard is at its peak in the nation's capital. The thing a man needs most here now to weather it is a pair of dark glasses to guard his eyeballs against over-exposure. Ear-muffs will come in handy later.

The blizzard is only showering paper, but that doesn't make it less disastrous to weakened optic nerves. This is the customary hurricane season on the hill—when windy storms of two-volume reports, estimates, inventories, summaries, statistical tables, bills and resolutions blow in with the annual opening of Congress.

The quill pen that launched a young republican has given way to giant government printing presses that document a vast democracy. In the last nine days some twenty-five pounds of paper ammunition for the vocal battles ahead have been laid upon the desk of every representative and senator. Today one could get the idea here that the country is being held together by paper clips.

Now—if ever—is the time your congressman needs your understanding. He is up to his iris in the printed word, wading forward gamely, eyebrows twitching, as the red-rimmed lanterns of his mind try to sift and assimilate the data he needs to decide the most critical issues ever faced by a peacetime Congress.

If you think he's doing a swell job, don't send a printed card congratulating him. He's allergic to anything with reading matter on it. Just mail him a small bottle of eye lotion.

All morning he reads reports and listens to witnesses in committee meetings. The afternoon is spent in House Chamber sessions hearing other members attack or defend the words contained in the twenty-five pounds of papers dumped on his desk.

Until midnight or after he is up studying the seven-pound Presidential budget or a mimeographed syllabus with diagrams on why the folks back home need a federal power dam across Hogleg Creek.

Of course, he doesn't have to paddle through it all himself. The Library of Congress will prepare him digests of what he needs on many topics. But if you think a digest is something easy to read, in Washington just curl up yourself for a long lifetime some day with one.

The congressman has to work fast because there isn't much time. He knows everybody will want to adjourn before August in order to go back home and campaign for re-election. He wants to also.

And the reward if he wins? Well, next January he will come back to a desk freshly dusted to receive another twenty-five-pound paper blizzard.

Guthrie Announces For Sheriff's Office

JEFF GUTHRIE

Jeff Guthrie, long time resident and Peace Officer, announces for Sheriff of Gray County, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary.

Jeff Guthrie said: "In making my announcement, I wish to state that I am entering this race for Sheriff strictly on my own merits. I am not tied to any clique or clan, and if elected I will do my very best to make the kind of Sheriff that you will be proud of. I further state that I will manage and run the affairs of the office in a strict and business like manner."

"I am asking the people of Gray County to elect me to the office on my past record, experience and qualifications as a Peace Officer. I will enforce the law according to the statutes and will cooperate with all the law enforcement agencies throughout the county."

"Should I be elected to this important office I will not live in the apartment in the Court House as I feel that it is not the proper place for my children to live. We will live in our own private home like other public officials do. I will employ a jailor and he and his wife can take care of the prisoners and do the cooking for them. I will also have on duty an all night deputy at the Sheriff's Office; the doors will always be open to the public."

"For your information, I am 46 years of age, a home owner and tax payer; my wife and I have lived in Pampa for twenty years; our family consists of three children ranging in ages from 7 years up to 18 years. I have served most of the twenty years here in Pampa as a peace officer; I have served both with the City of Pampa and the County, and for the past two years and three months from July 1945 to October 1947 I was employed as Chief Deputy for our present Sheriff. I was also employed by the Cabot Co., Inc., as Chief of Guards during war time. My character and records as a peace officer are open for investigation. I also wish to state that I am a graduate fingerprint man, having received my diploma in fingerprint work June 8, 1928.

"Owing to the high cost of living conditions now, I will be a very busy man working and making a living for my family; therefore it may be impossible for me to make contact with each voter in person which I really would like to do. In closing, I will sincerely appreciate your vote and influence for Sheriff of Gray County. Yours very truly, Jeff Guthrie.

Butch, the Elephant, Has His Own Play Pen

GONZALES (AP)—Butch, a baby elephant only three feet high and weighing 200 pounds is at home in a playpen on the back sun porch at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Davenport here.

Butch made a rocking 51-day journey by boat and train with a consignment of animals from Mysore, India, bound for the Dailey Brothers Circus winter quarters here.

With him is Arumal Singh, one of three Indian mahouts who accompanied the elephants on the trip. Singh feeds Butch milk out of his hand and cannot leave him without the baby pachyderm showing his loneliness.

Relief for hungry peoples of the world can be only in goods and services, not in black market dollar bills.

—Charles P. Taft, president Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America.

Expecting a Baby?

Mother's Friend massaging preparation helps bring ease and comfort to expectant mothers.

MOTHER'S FRIEND, an equitably prepared emollient, is useful in all conditions where a bland, mild anodyne massage medium in skin lubrication is desired. One condition in which women for more than 70 years have used it is an application for massaging the body during pregnancy. It helps keep the skin soft and pliable... thus avoiding unnecessary discomfort due to dryness and tightness. It refreshes and tones the skin. An ideal massage application for the sunning and burning sensations of the skin... for the tired back muscles or cramp-like pains in the legs. Quickly absorbed. Delightful to use. Highly praised by users, many doctors and nurses. Millions of bottles sold. Just ask any druggist for Mother's Friend—the skin emollient and lubricant. Do try it.
