Solon Admits Own Dealings In Commodities

WASHINGTON (AP)—Commodity trading by Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) drew the attention of investigating colleagues today as Edward W. Stassen announced he had made $32,703 in commodity speculation during the last three years.

Pauley, special assistant to Secretary of Army Royall, made the statement of his profits in a telegram to Harold E. Stassen in which he accused the Republican presidential aspirant of "false statements."

He told Stassen he would "expose" him if the former Minnesota governor returns to testify before a Senate Appropriations Subcommittee looking into Stassen's accusations that government "insiders" profited in commodity dealing.

Stassen told the committee last week that Pauley had made almost $1,000,000 in the markets and contended the former Democratic national treasurer had not told the group of all his operations.

Pauley insisted in the telegram that he already had given the committee the information and added: "Why not stop the pretense as well as the evasion?"

Senator Thomas acknowledged over the week-end that he had dealt in commodities and other markets for years but, like Pauley, asserted he had not made use of any inside information.

Whether the committee will formally investigate Thomas' dealings, however, was left unanswered. Asked about Thomas' statement, Committee Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) told reporters: "The committee has not changed the attitude that it's always had. It will go through into the whole matter."

Thomas has not been named on any of Anderson's lists.

He volunteered the information about his market activities after a weekend tabulation included the name "Edith Thomas, Washington, D. C." among 2,966 persons who traded in cotton futures on July 31, 1946. Her holdings were listed as 300 bales "long," that is bought with the expectation that the price would rise.

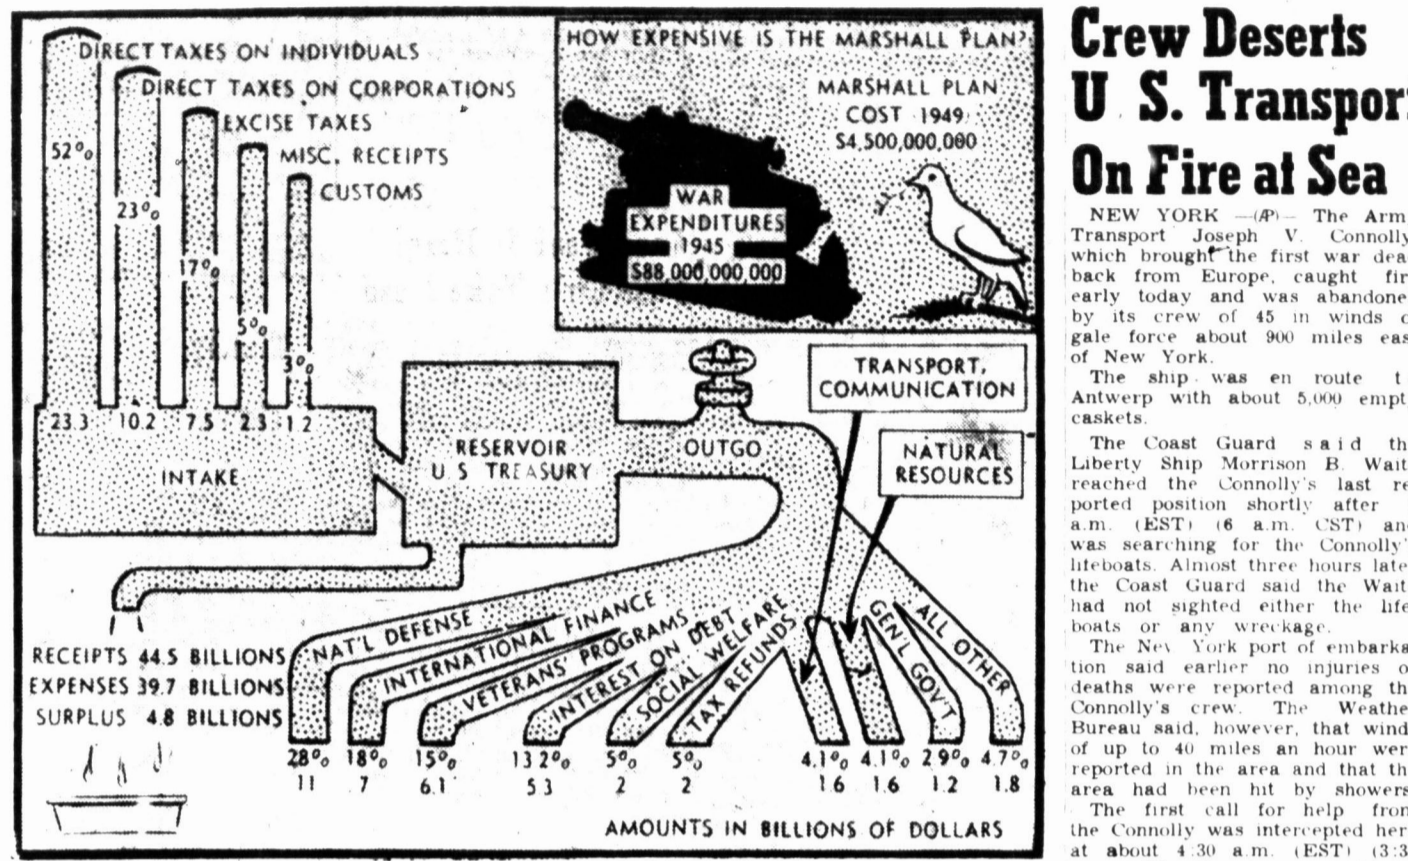

Asked whether his wife, whose name is not given, traded in cotton, he said: "I don't know."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall today "told House members today a "business like" administration of the proposed European aid program is important, and the way to get it is to put it under a single individual.

Marshall testified before the House Foreign Affairs Committee where considerable sentiment had developed for an eight-member administrative board. Those backing this idea say it would mean a "business like" administration.

Both President Truman and Secretary Marshall want a single administrator who would be responsible to the secretary of state on foreign policy.

As he did when testifying before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee last week, Marshall urged that Congress authorize a European aid program adequate to provide "genuine recovery."

He said "the time for relief programs is past," and added: "If we do not move out to meet the problem in Europe today it will certainly come to us here in the United States under conditions far more unfavorable."

The administration is asking Congress to authorize a four-year program of aid for Europe's economic recovery and to vote $6,800,000,000 for the first 15 months of the program. The amount of later spending would be up to the Congress at the future.

Some influential Republicans are talking of cutting the $6,800,000,000 figure in half.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee fired questions at Marshall for nearly four hours after he read a 5.9-hour statement last week.

He said an even sharper cross-examination was expected before the House Foreign Affairs Committee, over both the management issue and what Marshall described as the "precision" estimate of $6,800,000,000 needed to run the program during its first 15 months.

Rep. Vories (R-Ohio), a member of the House group, told a reporter that while the whole issue is in the advance "talking stage," Republican leaders in the House have mentioned $3,400,000,000 as a possible substitute for Marshall's figure.

However, Rep. Judd (R-Minn.), another member, declared in a separate interview that Congress should be prepared to spend what he said is $10 billion.

Budget at a Glance

	1948	1949
Income	$ 45,210,000,000	$ 44,477,000,000
Outgo	37,728,000,000	39,669,000,000
Surplus	7,482,000,000	4,808,000,000
Year-end Debt	250,900,000,000	246,200,000,000

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Truman sent Congress today a record $39,668,993,000 peacetime budget providing billions for defense and for meeting the unprecedented challenge of totalitarianism abroad.

He forecast history-making treasury surpluses, provided Congress does not cut taxes and lower the government's revenue. His figures:

For the year ending June 30, the government's income will exceed spending by $7,482,610,000—more than the United States spent in any single year during its 146 years.

For the next 12 months of the 1949 fiscal year, $4,807,868,000, to make a two-year total of $12,290,479,000.

Mr. Truman told the hostile Republican Congress that 79 percent of his spending estimates for 1949 "directly reflect costs of war, the effects of war, and our efforts to prevent a future war."

1. "The plain fact is that our budget must remain high until we have met our international responsibilities and can see the way clear to a peaceful and prosperous world."

2. "The costs of added military strength, if Europe should succumb to totalitarian rule, would far exceed the costs of the program of (European) economic aid now before the Congress."

Even before the President's bulky budget message of more than 20,000 words was read by clerks in the Senate and House, it faced announced Republican efforts to (a) cut taxes, possibly by $5,600,000,000 annually, and (b) slash spending, including the $6,800,000,000 asked for the first 15 months of the European Recovery Program sponsored by Secretary of State Marshall.

Mr. Truman declared that his 1949 budget was written by "rigid standards of operating economy" even though it exceeds by $2,000,000,000 his original request for funds for the current 1948 year.

By next June 30, the President said the public debt will be down to $290,000,000,000 compared with a wartime peak of $279,000,000,000. With government income continuing at its current rate, Mr. Truman said the debt would drop to $246,200,000,000 on June 30, 1949.

But, the President said, "prudence demands that the United States plan its finances 'in full recognition' of its international responsibilities."

After allowing for veterans benefits, interests on the public debt and tax returns, Mr. Truman said, only 21 percent of the outlay would remain for social welfare and ordinary expenses.

The chief executive said income for the 1948 fiscal year, now half over, should reach $45,210,000,000, the highest for any year except the $46,467,000,000 received in wartime 1945.

He estimated next year's receipts at $44,477,000,000.

The new budget is based on the assumption that Congress will accept a variety of projects outlined in Mr. Truman's state of the union message.

It includes a new program of financial aid for state school systems, health insurance, extension of social security to such groups as farmers, domestics and the self-employed, long range housing aid, and expanded flood control.

He ticked off his main spending proposals for next year as follows: National Defense—$11,000,000,000; to maintain the Air Force, Army and Navy at current strength—and to give a $400,000,000,000 start to a proposed $2,000,000,000 a year universal military training program.

He estimated 1948 year's receipts at $44,477,000,000.

Interest on the Public Debt $5,200,000,000, 12.2 percent of the total, up $500,000,000 from 1947.

International Affairs $7,000,000,000, including $4,000,000,000 for the Marshall Plan. This is 18 percent of the total, up $1,500,000,000 from 1947.

Veterans Programs $6,100,000,000, 15 percent of the total, down $500,000,000 from 1947.

Interest on the Public Debt $5,200,000,000, 12.2 percent of the total, up $500,000,000 from 1947.

Social Welfare, Health and Security $2,000,000,000, 5 percent of the total, up $500,000,000 from 1947.

Crew Deserts U. S. Transport On Fire at Sea

NEW YORK (AP)—The Army Transport Joseph V. Connolly, which brought the first war dead back from Europe, caught fire early today and was abandoned by its crew of 45 in winds of gale force about 900 miles east of New York.

The ship was en route to Antwerp with about 5,000 empty caskets.

The Coast Guard said the Liberty Ship Morrison B. Waite reached the Connolly's last reported position shortly after 7 a. m. (EST) (6 a. m. CST) and was searching for the Connolly's lifeboats. Almost three hours later the Coast Guard said the Waite had not sighted either the lifeboats or any wreckage.

The New York port of embarkation said earlier no injuries or deaths were reported among the Connolly's crew. The Weather Bureau said, however, that winds of up to 40 miles an hour were reported in the area and that the area had been hit by showers.

The first call for help from the Connolly was intercepted here at 4:30 a. m. (EST) (3:30 a. m. CST). The message said the 442-foot, 7,176-ton ship was drifting and out of control as a result of a fire which started in the engine room.

The last report from the ship, but the full extent of damage was not known because the ship's radio went out of commission before it was abandoned, the Coast Guard said.

In addition to the Waite, the Coast Guard said the Army Transport General Callan, carrying dependents of service men, the freighter, Johnnie Lykes, and the Coast Guard Cutter Tanager, were en route to the area of the fire.

The U. S. S. Lioba and U. S. S. Mercury also were ordered to proceed to assist and Kuntley Field, Bermuda, was reported sending two B-17 flying fortresses and a B-29 superfortress to the area.

The Connolly, which was built in 1945, brought 6,248 war dead from Europe and Newfoundland to New York last Oct. 26. It sailed from New York for Antwerp Jan. 1.

The Waite, operated by U. S. Lines, left Rouen, France, Dec. 31 for Hampton Roads, Va., and was due to arrive at her destination Jan. 14.

The Royal Canadian Air Force search and rescue unit said it had cancelled a flight which had been prepared to keep watch on the Connolly's lifeboats when the Waite was reported near the scene.

Canadian Public Weather office officials said temperatures at the Connolly's reported position should be fairly moderate because it lies at the edge of the gulf stream.

The new budget is based on the assumption that Congress will accept a variety of projects outlined in Mr. Truman's state of the union message.

It includes a new program of financial aid for state school systems, health insurance, extension of social security to such groups as farmers, domestics and the self-employed, long range housing aid, and expanded flood control.

Interest on the Public Debt $5,200,000,000, 12.2 percent of the total, up $500,000,000 from 1947.

International Affairs $7,000,000,000, including $4,000,000,000 for the Marshall Plan. This is 18 percent of the total, up $1,500,000,000 from 1947.

U.N. Agencies Tackle Problems Over Partition

LAKE SUCCESS (AP)—Pressing problems surrounding partitioning of Palestine and India confront the United Nations this week with delegates hoping to reach early decisions to halt bloodshed and strife.

The five-nation Palestine commission goes to work tomorrow in an effort to work out plans for enforcing the General Assembly's Nov. 29 decision to split the Holy Land into Jewish and Arab nations. The first major question is when the commission will get into Palestine, where Arabs bitterly oppose the partition scheme.

The Jewish Agency wants the commission to leave for Palestine at once and get started on opening up immigration and establishing provisional governments. The British insist it should remain outside until British rule ends. Declaring she is ready to give up the mandate May 15 or perhaps earlier, Britain spurns any move toward dual U.N. British control.

The question of India, carved up into the dominions of India and Pakistan along Muslim-Hindu lines last Aug. 15, comes before the Security Council on a charge by India that Pakistan, the Moslem nation, is supporting an invasion of Kashmir. Debate is expected to start Thursday.

Three fourths of the 4,000,000 people in the princely state of Kashmir are Moslems but their ruler, Maharaja Sir Hari Singh, is a Hindu who has signed Kashmir to India, pending a plebiscite.

India raised only the issue of Kashmir, but Pakistan has indicated she may attempt to widen the discussions to cover the entire area of Old India and the frequent Hindu-Moslem clashes over affiliation.

Other world issues looming in the background here are: 1. The Balkans. The U.N. Special Balkans commission has made relatively little progress in its investigation of guerrilla fighting against the Greek government by Communist forces in Bulgaria and Albania to cooperate.

2. International Forces. The Security Council last summer shelved the problem of establishing an international police force in the face of objections from Russia and the United States. The Geneva conference of 1947 is expected as soon as a Russian case is off the docket.

3. Trieste governor. Italy and Yugoslavia reportedly have been unable to agree in direct negotiations over a man for the job of running the free territory of Trieste under Security Council guidance. The problem now is expected to be passed back to the council, which had failed to agree on a candidate in a year of trying.

Budget Will Be Top Subject in 1948 Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Today President Truman sends his budget and a budget message to Congress.

You'll be hearing about the budget for months because Congress will be working on it for months. It means this:

1. In the message Mr. Truman says how much he thinks it will cost to run the government another year.

2. He has backed up the message with the budget itself: A list of figures for each department.

3. Since money for running the government has to be approved by Congress, the budget will be Congress' baby from now on.

From now until June it will try to see how the government can be run on less money than Mr. Truman says it needs.

It will check on each department, one at a time, and in the end vote what it thinks is enough money for each one.

Here's what lies behind the budget and the work ahead:

Under a law passed by Congress in 1921 the President must send his budget and budget message to Congress when it comes back to work each January.

He asks the money for the fiscal year starting July 1 of one year and ending June 30 of the next.

The budget Mr. Truman sent to Congress today is for the fiscal year 1949. It starts July 1, 1948 and ends June 30, 1949.

The job of gathering and checking on the money needs of each department goes on for months before the budget is sent to Congress.

The figures in the budget include things like salaries, office expenses, foreign aid, and running the various departments like state, army and navy.

Atomic Bomb Said to Be Keeping Russia in Line

BEVLY MAWR, PA. (AP)—The only reason Russia has not seized the Danubian and Arabian oil fields is because the United States has possession of the atomic bomb, says John M. Hancock, a co-worker with Bernard Baruch in forming U. S. atomic policy.

He told a meeting sponsored by Evgen Mawr and Hansford Collyer Friday that "we don't dare do less than to make as many bombs as we can."

He pointed out the immense created by Russia's refusal to agree to a system of free international control of atomic energy plants and said atomic bombs will be used unless they are outlawed by a world system.

He added that "as of this date there is no reason for the United States to be concerned about the discovery of any new source of uranium in territory we don't control."

He expressed the belief "no other nation can build the bomb for years and years."

Freaks Invade Gala Mardi Gras Thursday Night

Pat O'Rourke, Emmett Forrester and the "Sheik" Nooncaester reigned as queen and kings at the gala Mardi Gras celebration staged by the senior class in the cafeteria Thursday night.

The first in a series of senior activities proved to be one of the gayest affairs of the school year.

Many prizes were awarded during the evening. Reba Killian, dressed as Gibson Girl, and Richard Hughes, who represented a gentleman of the early colonial period, won the prizes for the best costumes.

Don Emmerson's group won first prize in the scavenger hunt contest, while Lith Martin's group was second and Zeke Griffin, third. The groups brought everything from canned fruit and false teeth to Supt. Knox Kinard's signature into the cafeteria (Kinard was out-of-town).

In the game Twenty Questions a group of girls headed by Ann McNamara won the first prize.

The costumes at the Mardi Gras were colorful and varied. Present were Gaston, Chevreuil and Barney Oldfield in the persons of Tom Chisholm and T. W. Perkins. June Sanders was a lady of the Old South.

Also attending were Coach's Tips and Nooncaester, portrayed by Hannel Kennedy and Zeke Griffin dressed in typical Tips and Nooncaester attire. The coaches were there, however, Nooncaester dressed as Omar Khayyam and Tips as representing B. U. H. the dead-end kid. Mrs. Tipps was attired in the style of the "roaring twenties."

A unique theatrical mask conceived by Bob McPherson, aka the Hunchback of Notre Dame, Barbara Stephens, in Spanish costume and Don "Pierre" Lane gave a touch of old "Paris."

Nancy Thompson, Dennis Taylor, Jean Hollis, Betty Prigmore and Ann Moseley were Egyptian. Carol Culbertson was a member of Max Hukill's harem, and Barbara Carlson wore a costume reminiscent of the early colonial America. Emmett Forrester with his long curls and cavalier costume announced he was representing King Charles II.

Many pirates, sailors, soldiers and tramps were present.

And oh, yes—Kulroy was there, too! Rodney Barron represented this fictitious character that grew out of World War II.

Students Are Needed For Speech Contests

Would you like to be a Demosthenes, silver-tongued orator, or would you prefer being the romantic type such as Charles Boyer?

See Miss Thelma Henslee and enter one of the interscholastic league speech contests. These are the first contests PHS has entered since the year of 1940-41 when Mr. Kenneth Carmon was head of the department.

Miss Henslee is trying desperately to revive the contest spirit in PHS by returning to the interscholastic league for 1948.

She needs the help of all students interested in debate, or act play, declamation or extemporaneous speech. Any student interested should contact her immediately.

Further tryouts will be held shortly after the beginning of the second semester. Boys for one act plays are particularly needed, Miss Henslee said.

People entering the one act play tryouts are Jean Baumgardner, Bobby Tucker, Pat Williams, Zula Margaret Brown, Nancy Thompson, Tommie Lee Bigham, Dreka Rowe, Nicki Frazer, Pat Bolin, Gloria Kennedy, Barbara Walters, Don Kephart, Jim Wilson, Emmett Forrester, and Don Lane.

Tryouts for Junior declamations are Harold Comer and Peggy Fletcher. Those trying out for senior declamations are Bill Russell, James Moore, and Grace Davis.

Don Lane, Mary Lou Martin and Virginia Kelley are among those trying out for extemporaneous speech.

Track Season Begins For PHS Thinclads

Track made its first appearance of the year Tuesday when 42 boys showed up for practice.

Since track started during the middle of the basketball season many boys were prevented from coming out for the initial practice, but are expected out at a later date.

With such talent as "Red" Maves, rated among the best forward dash specialists in District 1-A, Kelly Anderson, who established himself as a top pole vaulter and high jumper during the 1947 season, Derrell Davis, rated by many as the best hurdler in the district, Bobby Boyle, shot put, Hansel Kennedy, pole vault, Jim Bill Windsor, mile, Jim Wilson, dash man, Zeke Griffin, shot put, and Jackie Williams, discus hurler, the Green and Gold thinclads stand a good chance of providing ample competition for any track team in District 1-A.

Term Projects Include Maps, Dolls, Dresses

PHS students have been madly rushing around the past week trying to finish their semester projects in their various classes and have them in time.

One of the most intricate projects made in English IV was a Stoke Poges church made by Ray Wells, representing the place where Thomas Gray was buried. It was made of cardboard with red cellophane windows and had green moss growing on it. Other projects were of 18th century and Victorian dolls created by Jeanne Smith, Nancy Thompson, V. E. D. Elkins, Jane Chambers and others.

Several literary maps of England representing the different parts were handed in and themes on English authors. A large model of the Fortune theater where many of the Shakespearean plays were presented was made by Paul Simpson and Jim Gilbert. Several pageants on a moving cart, the first moving picture were made by Ray Babb, Cecil Roenfeldt, and Neal Stovall.

The English III students made a variety of projects on American authors and their works. Betty Joyce Scott and Dick Oden, two student "intelligents" were impressed by Walt Whitman's "Leaves of Grass" and combined their original poems and illustrations into a book which they called "Books of Corn." Darrell Housley and Wilma M. Stephens, Justice Ann Eble and other wrote original poems, short stories

Harvesters Toss Hat Into Conference Ring

The Harvesters throw their hat into the conference basketball ring next Friday night when they are hosts to the Berger Bulldogs at the local gymnasium.

The Borgans held the locals to a 3-point advantage in a pre-season meeting, the quarter final of the Spearman Tournament. There the Harvesters staged a last minute rally to win 57-51.

The same night the varsity tackled Berger. Coach John Bond's Gorillas invade Wheeler to take part in a class B tournament. Whom the Gorillas will meet in their first game has not been announced. Pampa's "B" squad has entered the Shamrock and Samnorock tournaments, but failed to place in either.

Mr. McNeely's high point man of last year's collegiate basketball season, has accepted the position of head basketball coach in PHS. He succeeds Dick Livingston, who vacated the post to become assistant manager in Draughtons Business College, Fort Worth.

McNeely scored 725 points last year while playing for Texas Wesleyan college. He lettered on the varsity for three years at TWC after spending his freshman year at Decatur Baptist Junior college.

In McNeely's senior year at TWC the Rams won 32 games, lost four. McNeely holds two records in the Will Rogers coliseum at Fort Worth. Both records were broken when the Rams met Northwestern University. McNeely scored 29 total points and connected for 13 out of 13 straight charity tosses. He was selected on several All-American teams.

Mr. McNeely came to Pampa direct from Cisco, Texas, where he played independent basketball. Mr. McNeely is a teacher in Cisco and is expected to join McNeely at the earliest possible date.

Committees Named During FHA Workshop

A committee workshop was held at the Future Homemakers of America club meeting in the clothing department of the Home-making rooms Thursday night.

Members present were assigned to the various working committees and the Constitution committee was declared void.

Mary Jane Chambers, Mary Beth Wells, and Vendell Williams were placed on the Degrees of Achievement group. These three are to meet and decide eligibility of members for degree advancements.

On the yearbook committee are Ervina McDowell, Mary Jo Coffman, Lith Martin, and June Brown.

The formation of a new committee to be called Attendance was the main topic during the short business meeting preceding the committee meetings. Geraldine Perkins, Gwendolyn Pryor, and Belle Steward were assigned to this committee.

Others present were Nancie Campbell, president, and Mrs. Leslie Hart, sponsor.

Literary maps, peep boxes, poem illustrations, wood plaques of American authors and several soap operas representing characters, authors and every mode of transportation represented in the poems and short stories of American Literature were made by Mrs. Mable Torvie's English students.

Possibly the best thing handed in was a play written by Patty Bolin entitled "For Art's Sake." This play will be presented soon before the second period English class. The play shows the various styles of writing by Lowell, Poe, Whitman, Emerson, and Irving.

The English I students of Mrs. John Rankin did their term projects on Ivanhoe. Pat Abernathy dressed a doll as a Templar and the armor. Several peep boxes were made by Herbert Bump, Delores Miller, Doyle Doggett, and Rosemary Deering. Donald Lunsford, Elmer Wilson, Phoebe Osborne, and Della Briscoe made posters representing different scenes of Ivanhoe. Jessie Dykes made a knight of matches and dressed him in an armor of tin foil. Two themes were written by Betty Colwell and Beth Allen.

Harvesters Overcome Phillips For Twelfth Straight Victory

The Pampa Harvester "A" squad remained in the ranks of the undefeated and increased their long list of wins to 12 last Tuesday night when they scrapped by the Phillips Blackhaws 27-24 in Phillips.

The Harvester "B" squad also won their victory came at the expense of the Phillips "B" team, 35-17. The local "B" squad has only tasted defeat once and that was in the Spearman tournament against the host team, the Spearman Lynx.

Derrell Davis again led the Harvester main squad's scoring, this time with 12 points. Davis has thus far averaged approximately 17 points per game and has the total of 186 points so far in the season.

The local quintet led 11-5 at the close of the first period, but the Blackhaws put on a strictly defensive show the second quarter. The score stood 13-11 at the end of the first half. The Harvesters were in front 18-13 as the third quarter ended and led 25-18 at the three-minute mark. The Blackhaws staged a desperate rally in the closing minutes of the game, but the Pampans manage to thrust aside this uprising to win 27-24.

In the curtain-raising "B" game, the local club was forced to come from behind to meet the double Blackhaws second string for their eleventh win. Jimmy Howard scored eight points to top high honors, but he was closely pressed for these laurels by James Galt, who hit seven pointers and Hobie Fatheree with six.

Grooming Hints Given On 301 Bulletin Board

Are you worried about your appearance? Do you resemble Earthquake McGoon or Moonbeam? The bulletin board on 301 has a lot of grooming hints for boys and girls posted on it.

These helpful hints have brought about comments from students on their own appearance. A lot of help, more, a lot and much research we bring you these facts which should prove to make life more pleasant for both sexes:

Teeth: If the boys with "two-tone" hair, may we suggest a sack with two holes to see from and maybe one to eat through.

Teeth: If you suffer from "lower plate wobble" try glue, paste, Stayfast or something similar. It means, never wear your lower or upper plates separately.

Face: If you can't leave it at home, then bring it along. Girls are lucky they can hide a few underbrushes of lipstick powder, and various other cosmetics.

Cleanliness: Bathe at least every semester whether you need it or not. Use more sanitary.

Clothes: Levi's, jeans, overalls, coveralls, "T" shirts. They don't have to be stylish—just loud.

Hands: Keep in good repair. They are useful for throwing, writing, clapping buddies, and many other practical things.

Posture: I don't know what he's doing here. I thought he discovered Charlie G. rabbits. She and socks. If the weather gets too cold, then wear them. We suggest putting rocks in them until you become accustomed to them.

Spanish Clubs Receive Pins
The Spanish classes received their pins last week. Some are silver Spaniards with sombreros and others are the type with shields and daggers.

Senior Who's Who

With all due apologies to George Crossman for having missed his most valuable information, George was born in Amarillo. "We'll beat them next year." Tex. on Oct. 4, 1929. We will excuse George from being born in Amarillo since he has attended only Pampa schools. He has majored in history, English, and math. Boys' choir and A Cappella choir are his activities.

George Walter Gambin, who had rather just be called G. W., states that has "ethel-Corliss" and Harvesters are his activities. G. W. is also the Harvester basketball captain. He has been his home room president and has majored in history and English. He was born on April 7, 1930, at Cushing, Okla.

Swimming is the hobby of Jim Gilbert. He was born at Artesia, N. M., on Nov. 1, 1929. Jim has majored in English, math, science, and history and he has attended schools only in Pampa.

Nov. 23, 1929, celebrated as Arlene Gillmore's birthday. Her home town is Quitaque, Texas. Arlene is noted for her beautiful black hair and she says that collecting letters is her hobby. She has majored in math, history and English and plans to attend the business school in Lubbock. Arlene is in the A Cappella choir.

Winchester, Ky., is the home of Vivian Lois Gray, though she has attended only Pampa schools. March 23, 1930, is her birthday and bowling and horseback riding are her hobbies. She has majored in home economics.

"Hic, Honk, Huc" . . . Latin "Hic, Honk, Huc" came from Room 209. No not a flock of wayward geese, nor a New York traffic jam, only the Latin pupils at work.

Harvesters Capture Spearman Tournament

The Pampa High School Harvesters handed their new coach Cliff McNeely a very nice present to celebrate his coming to Pampa when the Harvesters walked off with top honors at the Spearman Tournament last Jan. 1-2-3.

The local hoopers increased their total of wins to 10 with their four wins garnered at the tournament as compared with no losses. The Pampans opened their play Friday afternoon when they met the Booker "Klowsas", and the Harvesters had comparatively no competition as they massacred the "Klowsas", 66-19.

Playing Friday night at 10 o'clock, the PHS boys had by far their closest call. The Harvesters scraped by the Berger Bullpups 57-54 in a contest in which both teams led several times.

In the semi-finals Saturday afternoon, the Harvesters trounced the Stratford Elks 38-33 for their third straight win over this same club.

The Harvesters completed their tournament play Saturday evening at eight when they plastered the Spearman Lynx 67-43 for their championship. The Lynx had come up through the tournament via a much easier route than that of the Harvesters, playing Dumas, the Pampa "B" Claude, and finally the locals.

The Pampa "B" squad advanced to the quarter-finals in the tournament when they came from behind and scored 41 points in the final quarter to defeat Sinton 44-31.

Throughout the tournament, Derrell Davis, high scoring Pampa forward, was by far the most outstanding man on any team. Davis led all scoring throughout the tournament with 76 points which increases his total points to 186 for the season.

The Berger Bulldog quintet received the trophy for being the most sportsmanlike team attending the tournament.

Leap Year Is Here! PHS Girls Take Hood

Another new year and with it comes the making of many resolutions. This is Leap Year, too. I might add (as if I needed to) and most of the girls are out to catch a man—this being at the top of their list of resolutions. Among those with men heading their list (and minds) are: Lith Martin, Willeva Weems, Betty Kerr, and instead of trying to get a man, Joyce Phillips is going to try to keep her boyfriend from leaving her.

Many others are resolving to pass their hard subjects, while others are just trying to make better grades. Irma Lee Perkins has such terrible grades (She makes the honor roll every six weeks) that she resolves to study harder and make better grades.

Other resolutions made by PHS students are: Mary Lou Martin "To observe this is leap year and to do something about it."

Troy Ray—"To catch the 10:25 bus from my girl's house at night."

Hoke Ward—"To pass algebra."

Phillip Payne—"To flunk chemistry."

Richard Miller, Mickey McCray, and Richard Crossman—"To be better in study hall."

Paul Crossman—"Not to go with freshmen girls."

Hilda Burden—"To stay home as little as possible."

Charlie Laffoon—"To graduate."

Derrell Davis—"To be quiet in school."

Charlie Thornbrow—"To not have any more arguments with Nicki—but to forget the resolution when necessary."

Jim Wilson—"Never to date the same girl twice in one week."

Elda June Wyatt—"To accept my invitation to spend another year in PHS."

Jolynn Jones—"To bid Pampa High school farewell—wedding bells."

Malcolm Fagan—"To stick strictly to blondes."

Reba Killian—"Not to make any resolutions, so as not to have any to break."

Miss Margaret Jones—"Not to make any resolutions."

Jerry Gillis—"Not to shoot any more paper wads, only steeples."

Mary Lou Mazy—"To write to Charlie more often."

Alma Davis—"Never to take advanced arithmetic again and to swear off boys."

Lenora, Riley—"To find me a husband, and being an important and necessary person" by John Friauf.

Blame Caesars for Modern Leap Year

Roll out the red carpet, turn on the klieg lights, Leap Year is here.

Back in the days of the ancient Romans, of Julius Caesar thought he was as big a bug as any in the basket; so he set aside 30 days in the summer and claimed it for his own. He called it July.

Later another fellow, Augustus Caesar, figured he was as big a bug as Julius, so he took the last unnamed stretch and called it August. But, alas and alack, it had only 29 days; so, to prove himself as good as Julius, he sorrowed a day from February, leaving it only 28 days.

In the Middle Ages, some wise guys got together and found out this calendar was wrong. They thought and wondered until one discovered that it took 365 1/4 days for the earth to travel around the sun. This was a new wrinkle. After much planning they decided to collect the one-fourth day and each four years have an extra day. They called it Leap Year; so they gave this day to February. This year with the extra day we call Leap Year.

Where the customs around Leap Year began we cannot tell, but we do know that it is a year of women's paradise, when she can suggest, on bended knee, marriage to her favorite beau. It is a year where fools show their true color.

Senior Class To Give Play, 'Brother Goose'

"Brother Goose," three-act comedy by William Davidson, will be staged by the senior class Feb. 19-20 under the direction of Miss Thelma Henslee.

Enrollment Completed For Second Semester

Registration for the enrollment of next semester began in the home rooms Tuesday and continued through the remainder of the week.

One-semester courses that will be offered are Texas History, economics, trigonometry, advanced arithmetic, commercial arithmetic, civics, speech, and Bible.

Mr. Frank Wilson, principal, urges all students not to change their schedule any more than necessary. All changes will be made through the office and there will be no hurrying to sign up class in order to sign up.

Timely Tidbits

By DON LANE

Would you like to know how to use a radio? Mrs. Mable Torvie, Junior English instructor, seems to have found the secret in 25 additional words or less. She received a table model radio for listening to KBMQ of Kansas City and entering their contest. She still has a chance to win the grand prize—a console model—when all the winners' entries are judged.

Mr. Wayne Thomas, history instructor, played Santa Claus at a local department store during the holidays. Don't tell the believing kiddies! Now, his students only hope is that he will stay in character until he makes out the semester grades.

Arlin Givens comes up with the best joke we've heard yet. "The new hemline is just like Prohibition. The joints are still there, but they are harder to find."

Fellow sufferers. Have you had your wisdom teeth out? Miss Hart Anderson, choir director, will tell you, in that muffled voice, that it is most unpleasant. She had one extracted two weeks ago, and the swelling has not subsided yet.

The song, "Come To the Mardi Gras," has surely spirited the five minutes between classes. The song makes you want to rumba—and since I can't rumba—that gives you an idea of how good the song is.

Hi-Y Initiates Boys In Local Organization

Plans for the continuation of a series of programs next semester were made and eight new members were initiated when the Hi-Y met Thursday night.

The platform of the programs are "Clean Speech," John High; "Clean Living," Carl Kennedy; "Clean Sports," Emmett Riggs; "Clean Scholarship," Richard Schlegel; and "Being an Important and Necessary Person" by John Friauf.

Phoebe Springs Eternal—One More Leap Year

This is even more impressive when we realize that this record was compiled under three different coaches. Now the basketball coach, a permanent tutor in Clint McNeely, fresh off the court from the University where he led the collegiate scoring parade last winter. Coach McNeely comes to Pampa with basketball savvy, new ideas, and most of all enthusiasm and personality which seems to have his charges behind him 100 percent.

Cowboys Vote For This

"If you want well-disciplined children, be sure that you get eight hours of restful sleep each night." This is the sage advice of an expert on rearing children.
Mothers need to be well fortified with calm patience and endurance. Children cannot know what they should or should not do unless they are taught. Oftentimes, the teaching process is long and tedious. Explanations and directions must be repeated again and again before they finally take effect.
Junior will usually choose the time when Mother is rushing to get the last bit of ironing done before lunch, or sometime equally hectic to tip over a vase of flowers or make mud pies in one of her hats. If she's tired, her nerves are on edge and she's inclined to raise her voice and punish Junior without explaining that hats cost money and are for the purpose of being worn. Con- sidering both their emotional systems will be upset and Junior, in all probability, will not fully understand why he is being punished.
On the other hand, if Mother is well rested and feeling tip-top, she will be able to explain calmly to Junior why he was wrong and that he must be very careful not to do it again. If it's a second or third offense, she will be able to quietly, but firmly to punish him without losing her temper, tedious and exasperating though it may be.
For the benefit of both themselves and their children, then, mothers do need their eight hours sleep on comfortable bedding that will help them to relax com-

Many Questions as to How Far NCAA Will Go to Enforce Code

Four SWC Cage Teams Battling For Top Position

By the Associated Press

A sizzling Southwest Conference basketball race was brewing today and the four-cooks mixing the ingredients are Texas, Arkansas, Baylor and Southern Methodist University.

Six games this week will more or less determine the chief contender. Top series of the week pits the Southern Methodist Mustangs against Arkansas' towering Razorbacks Friday and Saturday at Fayetteville, Ark.

Defending champion Texas plays Texas Christian and Texas A&M, both cellar quint.

Baylor meets A&M and Rice.

The Razorbacks started a comeback in the conference chase with a twin win over Texas A&M last week, 55-51, 67-46.

Texas opened defense of its crown by thumping Rice, 59-44, while Southern Methodist split a pair of games, winning 62-58 over Texas Christian and losing to Baylor, 43-42, in the final second of play.

Rice also dropped an intercollegiate tilt, to Louisiana State, 43-40.

Opening week results made it clear any one of these four teams were capable of winning the championship. Arkansas' home court meeting with both Southern Methodist and Texas is about the only advantage held by either of the quartet.

Eric George Kok and teammate Al Williams gave the Razorbacks a one-two punch in individual scoring. Kok has 247 points in season play, while Williams has 185.

Most exciting game in the conference to date was Baylor's one-point win over the Mustangs at Dallas. Most of the game's action was concentrated into the last five minutes of play, with a field goal by James Owens turning the trick for Baylor. The lead in this hectic game changed hands 16 times.

This week's schedule:

Monday—Texas vs Texas Christian at Fort Worth.

Tuesday—Arkansas vs Southern Methodist at Fayetteville, Rice vs Baylor at Houston.

Wednesday—Arkansas vs Southern Methodist at Fayetteville, Texas vs Baylor at Austin.

Leading scorers:

Player	GP	FT
George Kok, Ark. C.	103	41
Al Williams, Ark. F.	52	64

Referees Given Right To Stop Play on an Encroachment Foul

BILOXI, Miss. —(AP)—The rule makers of high school football gave referees authority to stop a play on an encroachment foul, and thereby reduce the number of touch-down runs they have to call back while team supporters howl for their blood. They also gave the offensive team the right to refuse an encroachment penalty called on the defense.

The federation also approved a draft of a proposed combined football code with the National Collegiate Athletic Association. This will be presented when the NCAA football committee meets in Savannah, Ga., Tuesday.

The football committee endorsed the wearing of soft-covered protective equipment to reduce what C. B. Fagan of Wisconsin said is an increasing number of injuries from the use of plastic helmets and other rigid-type equipment.

Only eight high school players died as the result of football injuries last year, A. A. Schabinger of Chicago said. This was the lowest proportion of gridiron deaths on record 1.33 per 100,000 players.

Recreation Exp. To Be March 19-20 In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, (AP)—The 24th annual Southwest Recreation Exposition meet will be staged March 19-20 at Fort Worth's Fairgrounds Field, director R. D. Evans announced today.

Evans said entries again will come from four classes, university, college, junior college and high school. More than 1,000 thrillacts are expected for the two-day track and field carnival.

Some 100 performers on golf's pro circuit, plus all valley professionals, will not have to qualify as they are on the PGA's accepted list for the event.

The tournament, sponsored by the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Committee, will offer $10,000 in prizes. It will be a 72-hole stroke play event.

Distance Man

NEW YORK (AP)—The "sanity code" has been written into the books but there were questions today about how far the National Collegiate Athletic Association's new principles of conduct will go in eliminating subsidization of athletes.

The men who spearheaded the drive against semi-professionalism—Dr. Karl Leibt, NCAA president—acknowledges the code has its "loopholes."

"We still have the alumni problem," he said. "I don't feel we have it under control and the code no doubt will require further revision."

The set of amendments, as adopted by the some 400 major colleges and universities of the NCAA Saturday, strikes mainly at wholesale recruiting practices.

The code stipulates:

- Financial aid may be granted to athletes only on the basis of need and scholarship qualifications for which any student is eligible and only by regular agencies set up by the institution.
- College representatives cannot offer financial inducements to prospective athletes although they can approach these athletes and outline financial benefits offered to all qualified students.
- No tight bounds were placed on alumni groups, which pay no freight for many athletes' education.

The NCAA set up machinery for enforcing the code and thus for the first time in its history became a regulatory body—a sort of "national conference." Several conferences will be forced to revise their by-laws to conform with the new standards.

The Southeastern Conference permits each school a limited number of athletic scholarships with a $10 monthly subsidy. The Southwest also was granted athletic scholarships on an open basis.

Both groups long have contended they were merely doing the pruder daylight when they so-called brag guys did on the sly.

W. A. Alexander, Georgia Tech athletic director and member of the committee that drew up the constitutional amendments, explained the code would not nullify contracts already in effect. Institutions may fulfill agreements of grants made to athletes already in college. Grants promised to high school players cannot be fulfilled unless they meet code requirements, Alexander said.

This raised another question: Do high school players already signed for college now become "free agents?"

Other and other knotty angles to the code fall into the lap of a special interpretive and investigative committee established to see that the new rule works.

Clarence P. Houston of Tufts heads this group, known as the Constitutional Compliance Committee. Its members are Ralph W. Aigler of Michigan and James Stewart of Southern Methodist.

Under the provisions, the association can expel an institution from membership or declare an athlete ineligible for failure to measure up to the code.

The college group rejected Leib's proposal for the Sugar bowl championship and the James Wilson of Chicago secretary-treasurer. San Francisco was chosen as site of the next convention.

A special committee is continuing its investigation of bowl games after reporting contributions to charity were "inconsequential in all cases except the East-West game."

Two Qualifying Round For Amateurs in Rio Grande Valley Tourne

HARLINGEN, Tex. —(AP)—Two qualifying rounds will be held to pick the amateurs for the lower Rio Grande Valley Open Golf Tournament here Feb. 12-15, Tony Butler, Harlingen professional in charge of arrangements, announced today.

The first will be Feb. 8 when valley golfers will be needed down to 20. They will be eligible for the final qualifying round along with many other players from Texas and the South.

Some 100 performers on golf's pro circuit, plus all valley professionals, will not have to qualify as they are on the PGA's accepted list for the event.

The tournament, sponsored by the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers Committee, will offer $10,000 in prizes. It will be a 72-hole stroke play event.

Locals Make It 16 Straight By Winning Childress Tourney

Five-Man Wrestling Royal Slated for Sportatorium

Forms of legal rioting will take place in the wrestling ring at the Sportatorium Thursday night when Promoter Vic Burnett will present his weekly wrestling card a five-man wrestling royal.

All five men have made appearances in the local ring and have proved their popularity or the opposite to local grappling fans. They are Rod Denton of Edmond, Okla., Johnny Corlin of Tampa, Fla., George Lopez of Tampico, Mex., Dory Funk of Hammond, Ind., and Olan Boynton of Amarillo, Dutch Jones of Borger will be the referee for the match.

The second and third men eliminated in the battle royal will come back and fight a best two out of three fall-45 minute event, while the last two gladiators left in the ring will be matched in a best two out of three fall event with a one hour time limit.

This will be Funk's and Denton's second appearance in the local ring. Denton, no new-comer to Southwest wrestling fans, appeared here on a tag match with Pat O'Dowdy and was the victim of Cyclone Burns and Gordon Hessel in one of the roughest matches seen in the local ring.

Funk, former lightweight wrestling champion of the Big Ten, defeated Jack Ester of Kentucky for the Sugar bowl championship and was the cleanest and best exhibition of scientific wrestling ever seen in the Sportatorium since the return of the ancient sport to Pampa several months ago.

Corlin handed Pat O'Dowdy his first defeat, other than in tag matches last week in the final event of Burnett's double main-event card.

Boynton has made many appearances here both as a referee and as a wrestler. Lopez in his last appearance was teamed with Johnny Corlin in a tag match in which they emerged as victors over O'Dowdy and Boynton.

Cincinnati Vendors Sold About 77 Miles Of Hot Dogs in 1947

CINCINNATI —(AP)—Thirsty baseball fans at Crosley Field drank 96 miles of beer last season. The followers of the Cincinnati Reds also devoured 77 miles of hot dogs, several square feet of mustard, enough ice cream to down an elephant, enough peanuts to cover the playing field, and 98 miles of soft drinks.

The beer came in 675,000 hot dogs, each nine inches high, packed on end they'd reach the 77 miles; there were 800,000 hot dogs; 1,000 gallons of ice cream, 500 bushels of peanuts and 74,000 soft drink bottles.

Occasionally the vendors who sold these refreshments sometimes made as much as $500 a month during the season and a take of 100 on big days and nights was not unusual. The hot dog business, however, is not a boom.

Fi. Worth's Colonial Open To Be May 27-30

FORT WORTH —(AP)—The third annual Colonial National Invitation, a $15,000 tournament limited to 26 of the nation's top rollers, will be held here May 27-30, tournament chairman Max Higginbotham announced today.

Ben Hogan is defending champion, having won the first two meets with identical 278 scores—one under par for the long layout.

Other Texas tournament dates are far back, the book includes the Men's State at Houston's River Oaks Club on April 28-May 1; the Men's West Texas Championship at Abilene June 10-18 and the Texas PGA at El Paso June 17-20.

Cromwell Is Named U.S. Olympic Coach

LOS ANGELES —(AP)—In his 39th and final year as a developer of great athletes, Southern California's Dean Cromwell has been appointed head coach of the 1948 U. S. Olympic Track and Field Team.

"The culmination of a coach's dream"—meaning his own—was the way the smiling, spare 68-year-old Trojan coach put it.

This, Cromwell disclosed, is his last season as an active mentor. University of Southern California rules demand automatic retirement at age 67, but he was given a one-year extension with the hope that he would snag the olympic appointment.

Cromwell's assistant coaches include representatives from every section in the country. Those named were Emil Von Billing of New York University, Tom Jones of Wisconsin, and Emmett Brunson of Rice Institute.

The committee, meeting in New York yesterday, also selected Ward H. Haylett of Kansas state as olympic decathlon coach and named Alfred R. Masters, Stanford, as track and field coach of the U. S. track and field squad.

Starting his coaching career at USC in 1909, Cromwell produced 12 NCAA champion squads, including nine in a row from 1935 through 1945. His teams the last two seasons have been runners-up to champion Illinois. The Trojans also have nabbed nine IC-A-A crowns under his direction.

The committee also selected Fred Travalena, New York metropolitan AAU official, as decathlon coach of the walking squad manager, and named Edward S. Parsons, Northwestern University and Loyd Olds, Michigan Normal, as assistants to Masters.

Jess Hill will succeed Dean Cromwell, the new olympic coach, reported to call for $70,000 for the 1948 season, after signing it in the New York Yankee headquarters. (NEA Photo).

Pitching Castoffs Turned in Fine Games

NEW YORK —(AP)—Five cast-offs turned in some brilliant pitching efforts for National League teams last season. Charley (Red) Barrett, former Cardinal, accounted for two fine games with the Boston Braves.

On June 9 he hurled a one-hitter against the Chicago Cubs and two months later he tossed a three-hitter against the Brooklyn Dodgers. Clarence (Hook) Iott, cut adrift by the St. Louis Browns, pitched a two-hitter against the Cubs for the New York Giants and Ernie Bonham, ex-Yankee, turned in a two-hitter for the Pittsburgh Pirates against the Reds.

Smil (Dutch) Leonard, ex-Washington Senator, tossed a three-hitter for the Phillies against the Cincinnati Reds while Bill Voelkel, traded by the Giants to the Braves, had a three-hitter against the Cardinals.

Mangrum Wins Bing Crosby Golf Tourney

DELMONTE, Calif. —(AP)—Stylish little Lloyd Mangrum today pocketed $2,533 and the professional golf championship in the 1948 Bing Crosby tournament that was played over three different courses here on successive days.

Mangrum chalked up ten under par for the three rounds, and a total of 208. He shot the par 72 Cypress Point course in 70; the par 71 Monterey Peninsula layout in 67 and the famed par 72 Pebble Beach test in 68.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver, B. C., grabbed the second spot with a 210. It was worth $1,650.

Third place among his fellow professionals was Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa. Hogan's medal score was 211 but he teamed with Johnny Dawson of Los Angeles to win the pro-amateur best ball competition with a low of 197.

Pressing Hogan but a stroke behind to take fourth position money, was Bobby Locke, from Johannesburg, South Africa, with 212. It was worth $1,225.

The rest of the field didn't even come close, four strokes separating fourth place Locke and the next in line, Jimmy Demaret of Ojai, Calif., top money getter in 1947, trailed with a weak 214, a 2225 effort. U. S. open champion Lew Worsham of Oakland, Pa., failed to turn in a final card.

National PGA title holder Jim Ferrier of San Francisco had a last-round blow-up and posted a 54-hole total of 219, a stroke worse than Martin Pose, who paced two fellow Argentinians with his 218.

Hogan and Dawson won the pro-amateur laurels with their 197. Mangrum and Bob Simmers of Los Angeles were second with 199 and Leonard, coupled with T. Sufferin Tailor, Phoenix, Arizona, took third with 200.

Sam Snead, Hot Springs, Va., and Roger Kelly, Los Angeles, who took the event last year with a total best ball of 164, dropped far back this time at 207.

Most of the touring professionals headed to day for Richmond, Calif., and the $10,000 tournament that will be played over 72 holes starting Thursday.

Reading studies indicate that a seventh grade child should read about 230 words a minute, a high-school student about 280 to 300 and a college senior or adult from 300 to 350.

LABOR AND POLITICS

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Big political riddle of 1948 is how much weight labor unions will be able to throw around in the election...

Beyond questioning, labor took an awful pasting in 1946. Instead of being a potent political force, labor leaders were shown up as a bunch of rank political amateurs...

But of all tasks, this is the most difficult for a world that has substituted rockets for religion, bombs for a Bible, and guns and gold for God...

HODGEPODGE - The upstairs living quarters are not much better. They consist of a long central hall running east and west, with large, high-ceilinged and hard-to-furnish rooms on each side...

PRIVACY - In the summer time, at certain hours of the day, tourists are permitted to see the lovely rose gardens in what is noted as the rear, although it was meant to be the front...

SO THEY SAY

The shortage of food stuffs will be accompanied by rising incomes. Sumner Slichter, professor of economics, Harvard Univ.

If we are to have a world government based on justice, we should be taught again the full nation shall have to give up many economic and political advantages.

You can't treat labor as a commodity in a free market! Labor is people. It is men and women-fellow citizens.

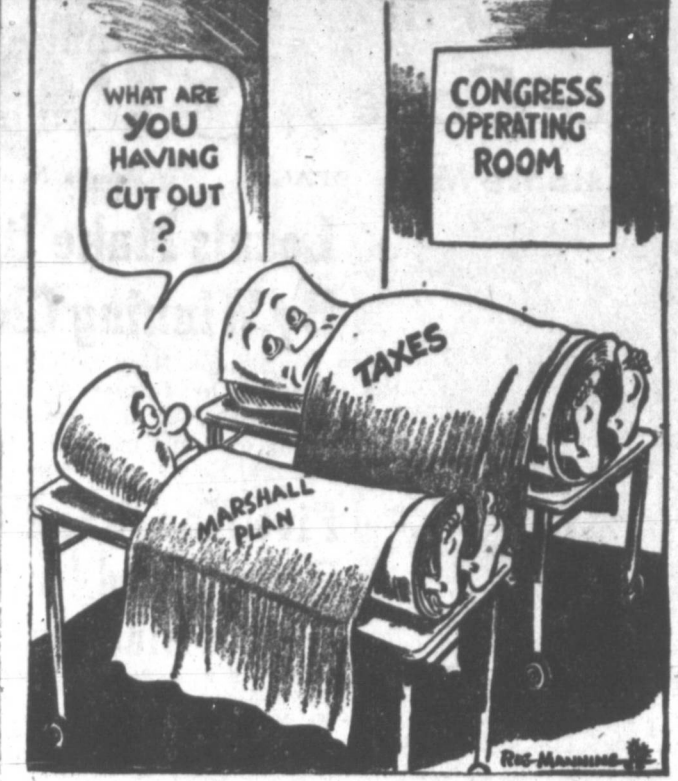

The export program is not jeopardizing the economy of our country. It is merely providing a market for the crops the farmers have raised at the request of the government.

People today will pay $4 for a peewee $1.50 electric light bulb. The minimum of grumbling, but at least some people damn the utopian industry when they are asked to pay $10,000 for a $5000 house.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON - "What is all this fuss and delay about building a White House balcony for poor Mr. Truman?" asks O. P. of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Several states have indicated that they may lift their own penalties, although that would still leave the federal restrictions operative. I note, too, that some states are talking of eliminating laws or regulations which prevent the use of margarine in their institutions.

But, as I wrote, the really effective factor for possible repeal is the rapidly increasing production of soy beans—its oil is now a chief ingredient of margarine—in the farm areas. It will be hard for members to resist demands that they increase the market for the profitable bean.

Some employees honestly disagree with our policies vis-a-vis Russia, Western Europe, China, Britain etc. Does that make them a Commie?

Hirohito's Efforts To Humanize Himself Reported in Feature

TOKYO (AP)—The Nippon Times, in a feature story reporting Emperor Hirohito's efforts to "humanize" himself, said among other things:

"It is not everybody who carries a fan between his toes and fans himself. Not only can Emperor Hirohito perform this stunt, but he is able to do so while swimming. He can also swim in the rain holding an open A. F. S. of Brooklyn. "Is there umbrella in one hand."

The Nation's Press

NET SPENDABLE WAGE OF U. S. WORKER STILL TOPS LIVING COSTS

Some of the larger wage increases won by the big industrial unions in the closing months of the war were fought for on the ground that the return to peacetime activity would reduce total family earnings. In those days there were two or more pay envelopes in nearly every household...

Workers usually cast a jaundiced eye at statistics compiled by such private organizations as the Brookings Institution or the National Industrial Conference Board. Many unions regard the findings of these research groups as too partial in management.

The same objection, however, could hardly be made by a reasonable man to the findings of the Bureau of Labor Statistics of the U. S. Department of Labor. As we shall see, BLS has given the wage-earner every possible break in its figures and yet it invariably arrives at the same conclusion as do the private researchers who are forced to come to it.

The BLS takes a worker with three dependents. Out of the gross weekly earnings of that worker it sets aside for possible income taxes. Then it adjusts the remainder to take account of the degree of price inflation reflected by its own official consumer's index. The result is termed the "spendable weekly earnings."

The "break" referred to above is deduction of social security taxes. If social security has any value, it is the worker's certain "spendable weekly earnings."

But after giving the worker this statistical edge, what does the BLS find? It finds that the spendable income of a average industrial worker was $23.62 a week in 1939. It also finds that as recently as 1937 the worker's "spendable weekly earnings" was $29.51 in terms of the same 1939 dollar.

In other words, despite taxes and social security and the average worker last September was better off than he was in 1939.

Like all statistical averages the BLS figures are not perfect. There are reservations, but those reservations do no damage to the main message, which is simply that living costs have not outrun take-home pay in the industrial sector of the economy.

LOBBING CUSTOMERS FOR COAL (The San Diego Union)

If John L. Lewis happens to possess the foresight with which his followers credit him, he must be doing some serious thinking about the fuel that coal for domestic industrial purposes. According to Mr. Lewis' own recent statement before a Senate committee, more than $60,000,000 of orders in the first six months of the year converted their heating apparatus from coal to oil. This was twice the number for the entire year of 1947.

PANHANDLE (Special)—Raises in salaries for deputies were made by the Carson County Commissioner's Court last week, but none were given to elected officers.

Other business transacted by the court included the letting of a contract to J. C. Berry and Kerr and Kerr of Amarillo to act as architect for a new courthouse. Contracts at the customary rate of $ 8000 each were let to the Amarillo architects. A reserve fund has been set up to finance the construction of the building, but as construction costs have gone up so much—in the past year it is not known how far the fund will go in paying for the proposed new courthouse.

MURDER AT MY HOUSE

By Rene Ryerson Mart Copyright 1947 NEA SERVICE, INC. THE STORY: The afternoon after Avis and Art's double funeral, Jeff comes over to see me. He admits that Leaphon has told him the accident was really murder. I ask Jeff what he was doing the ten minutes he sat alone in his car in the driveway before coming into the house to see me.

EVERYTHING was horribly clear. Everything! Jeff walking out on Liz and me that day at the studio after his fuss with Avis and threatening darkly: "I'm tired of her pushing me around, and I'm going to do something about it." And the way his face had looked when he said it.

BUDGET (Continued from Page 1) total, up $70,000,000. This would include increased aid to dependent children and the blind and initial administrative costs of the proposed health insurance program. The medical-aid benefits would be self-financing. Tax Refunds—$1,990,000,000, 5 percent of the total, down $59,000,000. Natural Resources $1,800,000,000, 4.1 percent of the total, up $447,000,000. Atomic energy development would get $660,000,000, a $204,000,000 increase, from $456,000,000. Flood control $110,000,000, a $125,000,000 increase, and reclamation $268,000,000, up $85,000,000.

In Hollywood TRADING (Continued from Page 1) name is Edith, had been in the cotton market the Senator told a reporter. "She has her own money and I don't know what she does with it." Mrs. Thomas declined comment. Later in a formal statement Thomas asserted that when he entered the Senate he severed all his business connections. "Since then, he added, he has engaged in no other business other than trying to represent the people of Oklahoma." His statement continued: "Because of lack of time to engage in private business and in an effort to preserve my meager accumulation of funds I have invested in income producing securities, bonds, preferred and common stocks and commodities.

stars are tied up in other productions right now. I had a brainstorm. "Jeff—why don't you give the lead to Madge Narney? I watched her the other day playing the part of the secretary. That girl really puts her heart into her work. I believe she has talent. You said yourself when you first mentioned her to me that she was one of your most promising stars."

JEFF left. I put away the food and cleared the table and did the dishes, all the time going over in my mind what he had talked about. I began to realize what it meant—Avis and Art being poisoned. I mean, for one thing it seemed to exclude the possibility of any outsider being the murderer—Jimmy Peters, for instance. Narrowed the suspects down to the people who had been in my house that night—the three survivors.

CONGRESS (Continued from Page 1) its figures, it turns them over to the Budget Bureau which is boss of the budget. The experts in the Budget Bureau then call in the department heads to show why they need so much for this, so much for that. Those experts then try to trim the departments' figures. Finally, the Budget Bureau puts all the figures together in one fat volume and turns the whole thing over to the President. Then he turns the budget over to Congress—as he did today—with his explanation of why he thinks that much money is needed. Congressional Committees hold hearings, which will go on until next June. The committeemen, sitting around a table, call in the department heads, one by one, to explain or justify the money they say they need. When they've finished with a department, the committees draw up bills which they send up to the full House and Senate for debate and vote. In these bills the committees say how much they think each department needs. Very often the House and Senate cut down the amount okayed by their committees, or add to it. In deciding how much money the government needs to run, Congress has to know: How much can the government afford to spend? The answer to this is also outlined in the President's message for in it he tells how much the government expects to collect in taxes during the year. A government department doesn't always spend as much money as Congress allows it. But sometimes during the year, it finds it has to spend more. In that case the department has to go back to Congress and ask for a little more. MEETING POSTPONED City Manager Steve Matthews reported this morning that the weekly meeting of the City Commission, scheduled for 10 a. m. Tuesday, has been postponed until 10 a. m. Wednesday.

Letter Serving Two Purposes Huey L. York, treasurer of the Gray County Tuberculosis Association, said letters were sent out a few days ago, thanking patrons of the TB seal campaign, and asking those who had not contributed to do so if they saw fit. He said today the dual-purpose letter, sent to all persons who formerly received envelopes of Christmas seals, had been misread by some persons who had called to say they had already sent in the money for their seals. To those who have not sent in the money, he said, the letter was a reminder; and to those who had, it said "thank you."

He Forgot Important Thing—to Advertise A resident wrote today of his good fortune—when he used the classified ad columns of The News. Said he: "Have been in Pampa two months; and during that time have tried every angle to find a place to live; that is, every angle except one. I forgot to advertise. My ad appeared in your paper just one day and at approximately 8 p. m. that same day I had a nice furnished house. There was possibly a 'little' luck connected with the ad, but anyway I have the house."

MARSHALL (Continued from Page 1) ever is needed "to do the job right." Judd compared the world situation today with the wartime battle for Europe, and declared: "We have no right to invade Normandy unless we are willing to throw in all our reserves." But Judd agreed with Vorys that a powerful Republican bloc on the House committee will oppose Marshall on his bid for over-all control of the recovery program. "We have no confidence in the ability of the State Department to handle a job of this magnitude," Vorys said. "In writing this bill, we are going to make an attempt to preserve control of foreign policy through the President and State Department, but also to get an independent business management behind them." In this connection, a Democratic member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said efforts already are under way to work out a compromise on this issue. He added that State Department officials are agreeable so long as Marshall's authority is preserved. Lamb chops are particularly tasty when they are rubbed with a crushed garlic clove before they are broiled.
