

Minister Offers Formula on How To Make the Most of Our Time

The Rev. Beauford A. Norris, in a message well received by the Pampa Kiwanis Club Friday, said the "days in which we live are full of terrible potentials."

Under the subject "Time," the pastor of the First Christian Church here said that of all the years, "we need to face the fact that this one is the most important."

How, he asked, did "you dispose of your time in 1947?" With a mark of challenge in his voice, he said it is remarkable how seriously we take the problem of money and how lightly we take the problem of our time.

How, then, to make the most of our time? In reply, he gave his formula:

- 1—"Be honest with your time."
- 2—"Be honorable with your time."
- 3—"Learn to order your time according to a worthy standard."

Here he emphasized that everyone should "put first things first."

"Getting first things at the top of the agenda is behind most of the success stories," He emphasized the value of home, of the church and the school. He placed great emphasis on the value of helping with the community civic projects. This, he said, makes a strong community, invulnerable to the attack of foreign "isms."

It was announced that the Kiwanis Club will send about 25 representatives by bus to Guymon, Okla., next Thursday night to present to the Guymon club the "traveling gavel," a gavel which travels from one club to another. This gavel must be presented by club representatives. It will circulate in this Kiwanis division. The clubs will wage a contest, the winner being determined by the number of points accumulated by circulating the gavel on the basis of miles traveled and number of men making the trip from the club in question.

Crackdown on Non-Uniform Building Set

The City Engineering Department yesterday morning was ordered to make a crackdown on all buildings not complying with the city's building ordinances of securing permits before they took out the permits.

City Manager Steve Matthews reported the builders were getting their permits, but were waiting until the buildings were almost completed before they took out the permits. Matthews added the permits are not mainly for revenue but are used to check against improper constructions.

In plain language the ordinance stipulates that all corner homes must be built in at least 10 feet from the inside of the property line along a side street, giving drivers a clearer view at residential intersections. Homes also must be built not less than three feet from the inside of a property line from the next door neighbor so the water will drain on the property owner's own lot and not his neighbor's.

Homes built on a block where there are other residences already erected and occupied must be in line with the homes. If, however, there are no other homes on the block, then the new home must be 25 feet in from the street. No home may be built on a lot containing less than 6,000 square feet.

Building Inspector Fred Brook said Saturday morning that building permits are $1 for the first $1,000 of construction and fifty cents for every thousand or fraction of a thousand thereafter. Some cities charge by the square foot of floor space running permits up to as high as $45 for the same size house. Pampa charges $4.50 for.

The building inspector's office reported they have found homes constructed right on the property line, some with side streets, garages built on to homes and throwing them out of line or crowding the next door neighbors.

This results in some neighbors reporting the builders to the city and causing a headache among home owners who thought they were building properly but never consulted the inspection office in City Hall for proper erection.

The city now has the authority to halt any building that does not conform with the building ordinance and make the builder start all over from scratch.

The penalty for not complying with the ordinance constitutes a fine of not less than $10 and not more than $100.

Matthews said, bluntly Saturday morning the Engineering Department from "today on" will halt irregular building and file against those who refuse to comply with the ordinance.

Second Lefors Man In Commission Race

The second announcement of candidacy for the post of County Commissioner for Precinct 1 appeared yesterday when Alva G. King, Lefors laundry operator, formally declared himself a candidate in a paid advertisement in The News.

Mr. King stated that as a business man he feels a need for a business policy in all public offices and promised to put forth all his efforts to that end should he be chosen at the July primary election.

Mr. King becomes the second candidate for that office, subject to the Democratic primaries, the other being W. H. (Hank) Breining who announced Friday.

C. L. (Nat) Lunsford was the first candidate to announce for the county commissioner election as a commissioner from Precinct 2.

Solon Disclaims Knowledge of Wife's Trading in Commodities

WASHINGTON —(AP)—Listing of an "Edith Thomas" as a speculator in cotton futures prompted Senator Elmer Thomas (D-Okla.) yesterday to disclaim knowledge of what his wife does with her money, but he volunteered that he had invested in income producing commodities.

The question of whether Mrs. Thomas had engaged in speculation was touched off by the inclusion of the name of "Edith Thomas, Washington, D. C." in an Agriculture Department list of 2,006 traders in cotton futures as of July 31, 1946.

Besides making public the cotton traders' names, the department also released a list of the market position of all so-called "big traders" who did business on any of the nation's cotton markets during a 23-month period ended Nov. 30.

The "Edith Thomas, Washington, D. C." was listed as holding 300 bales "long" in the market on July 31, 1946.

Senator Thomas was asked whether his wife, whose name is Edith, had been in the cotton market.

"She has her own money and I don't know what she does with it," he told a reporter.

Mrs. Thomas would not comment herself on whether she had been in the market.

The senator gave reporters a statement in which he said that because of lack of time, as a senator, to engage in private business "and in an effort to preserve my meager accumulation of funds I have invested in income producing properties including bonds, preferred and common stocks and commodities."

"At no time have I had any information about any security and commodity that was not at the same time available to the public."

"Further, because of the increased cost of living in Washington and expensive campaigns for re-election, I do not have as much money as I had when I entered the Senate over 20 years ago."

The list of cotton futures traders made public by the Agriculture Department yesterday also includes the names of J. E. McDonald of Austin, Texas, as holding 300 bales "long" on July 31, 1946. McDonald, state agriculture commissioner, told reporters at Austin he bought the cotton two years before at 22 1/2 cents a pound and sold it at 37 cents.

A speculator in a "long" position is one who expects prices to rise. (See TRADING, Page 8)

Church Census Begins Monday

On the eve of church census-taking, a spokesman for the Ministerial Alliance of Pampa has stated the prime objective of this "census-taking" is not to "get a line" on the people, and that both of them until they are forced to go to church.

"The churches," he said, "want no one who has to be wheeled or bothered into a good habit. The churches are looking for people who have an interest in church which they have never gotten around to doing anything about."

"Moreover," he added, "the churches need to keep a check on the total number of people in Pampa who are being effectively reached by the denomination of their preference. It is really important that we know whether or not we are doing an effective job from year to year."

The census will begin Monday, with a number of workers from each denomination represented in the Alliance taking to the field for the purpose of determining who is in church and who is not.

"We will be grateful to the people of the city if they will try to understand what is being attempted here and will cooperate with our census-takers," it was said.

Highway Patrolman Being Transferred

Highway patrolman William J. White is being transferred from Pampa to the Austin District office, although he is back on duty here with Preston C. Wynne this weekend and will be here until Monday or Tuesday.

He replaces Sgt. A. E. Jones in the Austin District. Jones has been transferred to Waco. White will work with Capt. Herbert Weeks of the Austin District.

Initial Plans for '48 Rodeo Made

The directors of The Top of Texas Rodeo, Horse Show and Fair Association meeting last week made initial plans for the annual rodeo and horse show which will be held on Aug. 4-5-6-7. This year's show will feature four night rodeo performances with horse shows taking up most of the day sessions.

It was voted to again have two quarter horse shows as of last year. The American will hold forth on two days and the National will show the other two. Plans are also being made to have the Palomino Show and The Kid Pony Show which will get the five day program under way.

Goat Mayo of Petrolia has again been elected to furnish the stock for the show. Arrangements have already been made with the Hard-Simmons Cowboy Band to again furnish music for the entire show. All rodeo events will, as in the past, be open only to amateur cowboys and cowgirls. The cowgirl contests will also be repeated as in past years.

W. D. Price, president of the association, presided at the meeting which was well attended by the directors.

U. S. May Get Back Portion Of Relief Aid

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The State Department agreed Saturday at senatorial requests, to calculate how much of the European aid program will be spent for "recovery" and how much for "recovery."

The department's spokesman Ambassador Lewis Douglas, also agreed with a senator's estimate that the United States may receive repayments of the $6,800,000,000 which President Truman and Secretary of State Marshall asked to finance the first 15 months operation of the program.

Douglas, ambassador to Great Britain, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee it is "almost impossible to segregate" the relief and recovery phases of the program. Nevertheless, he promised Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich.) he would supply a breakdown sometime this week.

Earlier Vandenberg had asked Douglas whether the ultimate cost of the first 15 months operations might not be reduced by $1,300,000,000 to $2,800,000,000 through repayments on loans proposed for some of the 16 recipient countries.

"That is correct," Douglas assured him.

The State Department witness told the senators that some of the 16 nations would receive "almost nothing" under a straight relief program.

"A few could continue to draw on their resources until they reached a point of zero and thereafter were in the pauper's line, unable to buy imports or make exports," he said.

Demands for the breakdown between relief and recovery, "country by country," came first yesterday from Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa). He said such a segregation of "relief, raw materials and capital goods" would prove a "very helpful yardstick" both (See MARSHALL PLAN, Page 8)

Capacity Audience Expected at Banquet

From advance ticket sales it seems a capacity audience is assured for the annual installation banquet of the Chamber of Commerce Jan. 13 at the Senior High School cafeteria at which Roberto de la Rosa of Mexico City will be principal speaker.

He will speak on "The Other American Life," and present relations between Mexico and the United States will be discussed.

This speaker has been coming to the United States as a goodwill ambassador of the Mexican government for the past four years. During this time he has become known for his talks on Pan-Americanism, and he has appeared before a large number of the schools and civic organizations of the Middle West.

He is a graduate of the National University of Mexico and is at present in training to enter the diplomatic service of his country. Those who have heard him say his speeches are full of Latin wit and are illustrated with native songs. He appears in native costume of his country, and presents some of the colorful folklore of his people.

Frank D. Smith, retiring president, will preside at the meeting. Joe F. Key will be installed as president. Fred Thompson, vice president and John O. Pitts, finance director.

Delegations from surrounding towns have accepted invitations to attend. Senator Grady Hazelwood of Amarillo has indicated he will be at the program.

Young Deserter Says Guerrilla Forces Disgusted

JOANNINA, Greece (Delayed)—(AP)—A young Communist who deserted guerrilla forces in the North declared in the military jail here yesterday that he quit in disgust and that more than 70 percent of the guerrilla forces would like to do the same.

The great majority of Markos Vafiades' Communist Army want to surrender, said 27-year-old Nikiforos Souli, but those who do not are fighting are executed before their battalions.

"I saw two of them executed that way," he said.

For six years Souli preached the glory of the coming "Communist Democracy" in Greece. For more than two years he was a political instructor in the guerrilla training camp at Buljkes, Yugoslavia, he said, specifically charged with psychological demoralization of trainees for "the democratic struggle against fascism in Greece."

He was leading member of the Communist Party ever since he left the university in Athens in 1942 and went into the mountains with Elias, the armed branch of EAM (the National Liberation Front).

But his duties were not restricted to fighting the German invader, he said. Elias had orders to fight against other resistance movements, so that the Communists would have political control of Greece. It was his duty as a propagandist and political commissar to sell this idea to the recruits.

Souli, interviewed in the white-walled office of the military jail, spoke bitterly against "the thugs and brigands who direct" it. (See GUERRILLA, Page 8)

Hiway Deaths in Panhandle Total 106 for Year '47

Traffic deaths in the 26-county Panhandle Highway Patrol District for 1947 total 106, nineteen more than were reported for 1946, and a report late yesterday indicated that the total may be changed to 109 as additional records are being considered.

Six persons died in Gray County last year as a result of automobile accidents, patrolmen here said. Two died in accidents within the Pampa city limits, two on Highway 273, one near Lefors and another near McLean; one near Alameda, and one near the Wheeler County line.

Actual death rate—number of deaths as compared to the number of miles traveled by motorists—declined during the year, however, Capt. Polk Ivy, district commander, reports.

The 47 rate is lower than that of 46, but there are more cars on the road, even though only 87 died in the district during 1946.

Capt. Ivy said, "The frequency rate is down 12 percent throughout the state. There are more cars on the road than ever before, and although the death toll has increased, accidents per mile traveled have sharply declined."

'Feller' Hasn't Made the Grade

WASHINGTON —(AP)—"Feller" the cocker spaniel intended as a White House mascot, hasn't made the grade yet.

The young pup was a Christmas gift to President Truman, but Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham, the White House physician, got the job of taking care of him temporarily.

Now Gen. Graham's children have become attached to the pup and don't look forward to the day when he may be transferred permanently from their home to the White House grounds.

But that day apparently is not in the immediate future.

"Feller" can't be White House mascot because he isn't just plain house broken yet.

Also, Mrs. Truman is reported wanting the care of the pup left up to daughter, Margaret, and Margaret is often absent from the White House on singing tours.

If "Feller" does make the grade and is transferred to the White House, his home will be in the White House carpenter shop he'll get the quarters once occupied by Fala, the famed dog of the late President Roosevelt.

Safe With $300 Is Stolen at Skellytown

Safe crackers pried their way into a Southwest Public Service Company office at Skellytown Tuesday night and made off with a safe containing some $300 in cash, a company official revealed.

The official said the safe was broken open, and was found two miles out on the White Deer road.

The case is under investigation by Carson County officers.

Borger Rotarians Must Feed Local Club Members Here

The Borger Rotary will feed the Pampa Rotary within the next few weeks, and a date yet for Borger, they will have to come to Pampa to do it.

The whole thing started on September 1, 1947 when the two clubs entered an attendance race with each other for the months of September, October, November and December.

When the final attendance percentage figures were counted up Pampa nosed out its Gasser neighbors by 98.6 to 97.69 percent.

The original agreement stipulated that the losing club had to feast the winning club in the winner's own city so as to prevent any inconvenience of travel to the victors.

No exact date has been set for the feed, but Rotary President Ray Evans and Attendance Committee Chairman Steve Matthews will meet with Borger Rotary officers next week (in Borger) to make full arrangements.

The race was warm from the first gun and waxed to higher temperatures as the weeks wore on. Pampa Rotarians went miles out of their way to make up Rotary meetings, even attending Borger Rotary to boost their attendance percentage figures. Borger tried the same thing, but lost in the finals by less than one percent.

Cancer Specialist Still in Moscow

MOSCOW —(AP)—Dr. Elis Berven, Swedish cancer specialist, still was in Moscow Saturday, although he had planned to return to Stockholm by Monday, if possible by plane.

Dr. Berven was called to Moscow last week for consultation on a "serious cancer case." The message did not give the name of the patient. The Swedish press speculated that the patient might be Prime Minister Stalin's Swiss newspaper last week published stories inquiring whether Stalin was dead. The Russian Embassy in London and Tass said he was not.

British Spurn Dual Control In Palestine

LAKE SUCCESS —(AP)—The United Nations Palestine Commission is expected to begin talks with the British this week over procedures in partitioning the Holy Land with London ready to spurn any plan for dual U. N., British control in Palestine.

The commission held a one-hour secret meeting here Saturday at which the five delegates reviewed the General Assembly's Nov. 29 decision to carve Palestine into Jewish and Arab Nations, effective next Oct. 1.

As the meeting was in progress, a British spokesman said his government will ask the U. N. commission to stay out of the Holy Land until British rule ends. The British are understood to be ready to end their mandate May 15, or earlier.

The British spokesman emphasized the date for terminating the British mandate is fluid and depends principally on when the U. N. will be ready, along with the physical problems of winding up British affairs and withdrawing troops.

The Arabs have opposed partition from the first, and Friday the Arab Higher Committee, spokesman for Palestine Arabs, said it will boycott the commission and reject an invitation for consultations. Sir Alexander Cadogan, British U. N. delegate, will lay his government's position before the commission, which consists of Czechoslovakia, the Philippines, Bolivia, Panama and Denmark.

The commission meeting was understood to be touching on the problems ahead, and no action was taken on plans for going into Palestine pending conferences with the British.

George Barnes, director of the U. N. Press Division, said delegates did not touch on the problem of security for U. N. (See PALESTINE, Page 8)

Certificates Are Awarded to 46 Food Handlers

Eighty-nine were registered for the food handlers' school here during the past week, and 46 were presented certificates at the end of Friday's class. Seven Pampa businesses were recognized in recognition of 80 percent of their employees completing the course. The presentations were made individually by Ray Salmon of the City Health Department.

The average daily attendance of the two daily sessions of the class was 57, 25 persons registered after the second day, and 18 owners or managers attended eight of these receiving certificates.

Five types of businesses were represented, including 11 restaurants, four groceries, one milk plant.

C. R. Breedlove of the State Health Department, instructor, said excellent support had been offered here by the City Health Department and the Lions Club. He said the two newspapers giving the most thorough and accurate coverage as these schools were given over the state were the Galveston News and the Pampa Daily News.

Breedlove will next present the course at McLean, beginning Monday.

Court Suspends 3-Year Sentence

James L. Willis, 34, Pampa, was given the three-year suspended sentence for swindling Friday afternoon by District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich in 31st Judicial District Court here.

Willis was apprehended by sheriffs deputies several months ago after he sold a dump truck body that didn't belong to him.

On the witness stand Willis told the Court and District Attorney Tom Braly he had sold a four-wheeled hydraulic dump truck body for $150 to D. L. Victory on Sept. 4, 1947. Willis represented himself as connected with Homer H. French, who owned the body, and made the sale. He told Victory he would turn the payment over to French, but he never did.

The defendant promised the Court he would make good to both Victory and French for the money transacted in the deal.

Being a first offender, Willis was given the benefit of the state's suspended sentence law.

Decisions on Administration Are Criticized

WASHINGTON —(AP)—French objections to the latest British-American decisions on administering the Anglo-American zones of Germany may hamper efforts of the western powers to consolidate all of Western Germany into a single economic and political unit.

Evidence of French disapproval of the new Anglo-American move to set up a German administration over the merged British-United States zones, apparently without consulting the French, developed rapidly Saturday not only in Paris but also in London and Washington.

French Ambassador Henri Bonnet is expected to register his government's protest with the State Department early this week.

In London a Foreign Office spokesman disclosed that Ambassador Rene Massigli had already called on Foreign Minister Bevin and expressed concern that France was not consulted about the British-American decisions.

In Paris, Foreign Ministry officials reported that the ambassadors at both London and Washington had already expressed French apprehension at the formation of the economic regime.

French diplomatic informants here said that following the breakdown of the London Foreign Ministers Conference which sought a four-power agreement on Germany, the French had understood that talks would be held in Berlin between their officials and American commander, Gen. Lucius Clay and the British zonal chief, Gen. Brian Robertson.

The French here criticized the British and Americans for what the French considers a tendency to centralize political power at the expense of the development of party structures and state organizations from the bottom up.

After the break-up of the London conference the general impression given out by officials was that the next step would be the consolidation of Western Germany through joint action of the United States, Britain and France.

American authorities contend they have not flouted French interests in Germany with the bilateral talks with Britain. They make these points:

1. That the only three-power talks for which there were commitments at the end of the London conference were talks aimed primarily at the reduction of zonal (See GERMANY, Page 8)

THE DRILLER'S LOG

By KEN BENNETT

There has been plenty of interest expressed in this area over the rumor of the new well being struck by Phillips, Company about two and a half miles north and west of the Jenke deep test. Although there has been no formal application filed on this well, as of early Saturday morning, still it seems as if the new well is a certainty. This well will be the Carruth No. 1, being located on the A. E. Carruth farm, which is in Section 66 of Roberts County. This well in actuality will be some closer to Pampa than the former well. Naturally the question is still being another deep test. From all indications Phillips will be using material for this well from their own supplies. Whether this is an indication of the tearing down and abandoning of the Jenke is still a matter of supposition. Leaving is still going on all over the area, however, so indications are strong that something is expected to develop somewhere in the Panhandle that will be a big boost.

New Rural Phone Installations to Go in Six Areas

SHAMROCK—(Special)—New rural telephone lines, over which the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will serve farmers and ranchers in six local trading areas are being engineered now; and the poles, wire and other equipment necessary for construction will be ordered soon, G. H. Newberry, Pampa, telephone manager, said last week.

The rural construction project is estimated to cost $260,000. It will serve residents in the communities of Samnorwood, Dosier, Twitty, Lela, Magic City and Bethel.

Interviews conducted by the company some time ago, when the farm residents signed up, are the basis for the plans now being drafted. Next step will be to stake out the lines and obtain right-of-ways. O. M. Crouch, rural project supervisor for the company, expects to start on that work this week.

Similar rural construction projects are being carried out in many other localities throughout the company's five-state territory in the Southwest, under a program aimed at providing service to 165,000 more farmers in the next three to five years. The local company's program is a part of a nation-wide construction program by the Bell Telephone System to bring service to a million more rural residents.

Texans Comment On HST Speech

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Democratic headquarters in heading into the presidential campaign with $15,397 in the war chest. Republicans report they came through 1947 with contributions of $28,575 above expenses.

The figures, which showed up Jan. 7, in reports filed with the Clerk of the House, are not strictly comparable.

The law requires political organizations to tell Congress about the contributions they receive and the money they pay out. The Republican National Committee did just that, whereas the Democrats supplied some extra information.

The Democratic financial statement showed the committee started 1947 with $141,468 in the bank; took in contributions totaling $696,903, had "other receipts" of $241,787 and paid out $727,791.

The Democrats said they also had $22,246 in unpaid bills on Dec. 31, and $85,000 in loans receivable from three state Democratic committees.

The Republicans reported contributions of $733,849 in 1947 and payments of $708,274. They said nothing about the bank balance at the start or close of the year, or about unpaid bills or loans receivable, if any.

GOP supporters came through with $480,200 in the last four months of the year, compared with only $80,317 in contributions but $293,014 in other receipts for the Democrats in the same period.

Individual contributions for the first eight months of 1947 were reported previously by both parties. The new reports for the last four months showed the Republicans received heavy financial backing from various state committees as well as contributions from the Pews of Philadelphia, the DuPonts of Wilmington and the Rockefeller family of New York.

But no single Republican gave as much as the $5,000 each the Democrats reported from James D. Hedges, Havana, Cuba, Paul Moss of Odessa, Tex., and Allen E. Atherton of Kansas City.

On the Republican list for $2,000 each were Mrs. Edith H. Timken, Canton, Ohio; J. J. Pew, Jr., J. Howard Pew, Miss Mary Ethel Pew and Mrs. Mabel Pew

Myrin, all of Philadelphia; T. Dwight Farbridge, Tucson, Ariz.; and Ernest T. Weir, Pittsburgh.

And in the $2,500 class for the GOP were: John D. Rockefeller, Jr., New York; Jake L. Hamon, Dallas; and E. W. Brown, Jr., Orange, Tex. Donating $2,000 were Irene Dupont of Wilmington, Mrs. Eleanor F. Rust, Wilmington; Mrs. Octavia M. Dupont Bredin, Wilmington; Margaret L. Greenwalt, Wilmington, and Mrs. Lucille E. D. Flint, Greenville, Del.

Contributions of $1,000 to the GOP cause included: L. H. Lockhart, San Antonio; John R. Black, Dallas; E. Degolyer, Dallas; W. P. Linn, Dallas; W. L. Pickens, Dallas; Jay Simmons, Dallas; Joseph E. Brussaard, Beaumont, Tex.; Dee Davenport, San Antonio; J. H. Frost, San Antonio, and Edgar Pfeil, Kerrville, Texas.

50 POUNDS LOST WITH BARCENTRATE

Many people have reported amazing results with this home recipe. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. Just go to your drug store and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slimmer, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here is what Mrs. C. M. Earrh, 233 N. 121st St., McAlester, Texas, says about Barcentrate: "I want to tell you that I have lost 50 pounds since taking Barcentrate. I still want to lose 20 more pounds as I now weigh 167, a reduction from 217 pounds."

To lose weight the grapefruit juice way, get Barcentrate from your favorite drug store today.

Hot Race Seen If O'Daniel Chooses To Run Against Coke R. Stevenson

By DAVE CHEAVENS
AUSTIN —(AP)—When politicians gather these days the question is asked: "Can Coke beat Pappy?"

The question is premised on the assumption the junior Senator W. Lee O'Daniel will announce for re-election. The latest announced candidate is former Governor Coke R. Stevenson, who said he would beat the bushes in an all-out campaign no matter who was in the race against him.

Should O'Daniel and Stevenson tangle, it may be freely predicted that the race would be one of the hottest the state has ever seen. It would likely produce from Senator O'Daniel some pointed references to his earlier political relationships with Stevenson, who succeeded him in the governor's office.

It was recalled that O'Daniel in a Washington interview several months ago said he did not think Stevenson "would want to place himself in the position of an ingrate" and run against him. O'Daniel was referring to two circumstances: the fact that he came out in support of Stevenson in a close race for the lieutenant governorship in 1938, and the fact that he stepped out of the governor's office in August 1941, to go to the Senate. This elevated Stevenson to the governorship.

This brought from Stevenson a calm but firm rejoinder to the effect that he owed no political debts to O'Daniel. There the matter stood until Stevenson erased any doubt in O'Daniel's mind about his candidacy, by announcing Jan. 1, he would run.

If O'Daniel follows the pattern set in earlier campaigns, he likely will have a good deal to say about "professional politicians," Stevenson has stated.

In his opening speech, he identified himself as a "business man and rancher," adding: "I suppose I might also be called a politician, since you, the people of Texas, have honored me by choosing me to serve you in the governor's chair and I have tried to be a good politician. (He emphasized "good.") I have endeavored conscientiously to apply business principles to whatever part I have had in the conduct of the state government. To be best of my ability I have tried to be the kind of politician that serves the people well and faithfully; without double-dealing or grand-standing.

Friends of Stevenson were convinced these remarks were studiously pointed towards target that would almost surely pop up.

In the discussions centering on who could best whom, there is a notable absence of positive assertions, except that it would be a rough, tough race. Both Stevenson and O'Daniel have notable vote-getting characteristics, backed by past performances at the polls.

New power for your BUICK!

Today's Power, Today's Performance,
Today's Zip—for Buicks up to Ten Years Old!

MAYBE this sounds too good to be true. But it's a fact!
Even if your Buick dates back as far as 1937, you can have a hoof of factory-fresh Fireball power—a sleek new power plant that's the same as the engines going into the latest Buick cars.

Everything about it is brand-new. A new carburetor and air cleaner help make every drop of fuel give up all its power. A new distributor, complete with vacuum and centrifugal advance, puts new snap in your get-away and new pep in all driving. A whole new wiring harness prevents electrical loss. And tucked in the flywheel housing is a new smoothie of a clutch that'll make driving more fun than ever.

Yes, it's all new, with the latest Buick engine features you read about—like precision cylinder boring, Oil-Miser rings, Stratoflow cooling and so on.
You can get a new engine like this because engine production is not held back by the shortage of sheet steel which hampers complete-car production.
So we're able to put one of these hones into your car and make it young again—give it new power and performance that will get you set for thousands and thousands more carefree miles.

How much does it cost? Not nearly what you'd expect—often less than a comprehensive overhaul. And it's a mighty good investment because it makes your car worth so much more when it comes time to turn it in.
Nice proposition, isn't it? Surely worth talking over. Won't you come in and let us give you all the details?

Harvesters Victorious in Childress Basketball Meet

Suggs and Kirby Head 'A' Boys' U. S. Curtis Cup Team

NEW YORK (AP)—Two misses from Georgia, Louise Suggs and Dorothy Kirby, the national women's amateur champion, and Dorothy Kirby of Atlanta, 1947 runner-up, will lead the U. S. Curtis Cup Team against England in a renewal of the international matches this spring. Polly Elzey of Texas also was chosen for the team.

The Dixie sharpshooters headed a seven-member aggregation and were alternated named by the United States Golf Association today to meet the British at Birkdale, England, May 21-22.

The Curtis matches will be the first held since 1938 when the Americans, never beaten but once in the series dating back to 1922, triumphed at Manchester, Mass.

The golf fathers, in their annual business session, also announced plans for a junior amateur championship to be played along the lines of the national amateur and took a step toward helping colleges purify their athletics.

One of the rules adopted would forbid a player from accepting a scholarship in an institution of higher learning "because of his skill as a golfer" after reaching the age of 18.

A player accepting a grant in aid under these circumstances would forfeit his amateur status. The USGA said the regulation would affect those already enrolled on golf scholarships.

Players under 17 who receive scholarships as prizes, not from institutions, may take advantage of them for the full tenure of the grants, however, the body emphasized.

The USGA Junior Amateur Tournament will be staged this year on a date and at a place to be designated later—a match play affair with sectional trials. Boys who have not reached their 18th birthday are eligible and they don't have to be affiliated with USGA member clubs.

Other members, besides Misses Suggs and Kirby, named to the Curtis Cup Team were: Miss Dorothy Kieley, Los Angeles, Calif.; Miss Grace C. Lenczyk, Newton, Conn.; Mrs. Julius A. Page, Jr., Chapel Hill, N. C.; Miss Riley of North Worth, Tex.; and Mrs. Edwin H. Vane, Jr., Marion, Pa., team captain.

Davis led the scoring in the Hollis game with 14 points followed by Bill Cummins of Hollis who tallied 12 points, eight of these made by free throws.

BULLETIN

Pampa High School's undefeated Harvesters basketball quintet romped over the Childress Bobcats 47 to 26 last night to annex the title of champions of the Childress Invitational Tournament and by doing so running their string of victories to 16. Every man of Coach Clifton McNeely's Green and Gold squad saw action during the final game of the tournament that placed two of the Harvesters, Derrill Davis, forward, and Raymond Hernandez, guard, on the all-tournament team. Davis scored 12 points; Hernandez eight in the final game. The Harvesters won the Spearman tournament last weekend.

Beat Vernon in Semi-Finals

Pampa's Harvesters basketball quintet remained undefeated yesterday and by doing so ran their string of victories to 15, and the right to meet the Childress Bobcats in the finals of the Childress Invitational Basketball tournament that was to be played last night at 8:30.

Gaining in easy opening round 57 to 21 victory over the Electric Tigers the Harvesters found the going a little rougher in both their quarter-final and semi-final games.

Yesterday afternoon in the semi-final round the Harvesters came from behind to down the much taller Vernon Lions 38 to 34. Trailing by one point, 34 to 33, at the three-minute rest period the Harvesters came out for the closing minutes and scored five while holding Vernon scoreless. The taller Vernon team had their men averaging over 6 feet 3 inches. Edwards of the Lion team was high point man for the game with 16 points, while Pampa's scoring ace Derrill Davis scored 15 points.

In the quarter-final round Friday night the local cagers ran up a convincing 29 to 16 half-time score over Hollis, Okla., only to see that lead dwindle slowly, as Hollis fell short of the Harvesters and lost 39 to 32.

Lead by Davis, the Harvesters scored 16 points in the first quarter, ten of these points being scored by Davis. Hollis closed the gap in the third quarter but in the final stanza each team was held to three points.

Davis led the scoring in the Hollis game with 14 points followed by Bill Cummins of Hollis who tallied 12 points, eight of these made by free throws.

Sanity Code Adopted by NCAA Group

NEW YORK (AP)—Becoming a regulatory body for the first time in its history, the National Collegiate Athletic Association adopted a "sanity code" designed to eliminate subsidization of athletes among some 600 institutions falling within its sphere of influence.

The historic action, coming in the form of a constitutional amendment in the final business session of the 42nd annual NCAA convention, transformed the association into a national confederation with powers to govern the conduct of athletics at most major colleges and universities.

The amendment, which received considerably more than the two-thirds majority vote necessary for adoption, also set up machinery to insure the enforcement of the far-reaching code.

This machinery provides for interpretative and investigative groups and empowers the association to expel an institution from membership or declare an athlete ineligible for competition as the severest penalties for failure to comply with the revised constitution.

In plain language, the two principal points of the code stipulate that:

1. Financial aid may be granted to athletes only if the same aid is available under the same conditions to all students of the institution.

2. College representatives can not offer financial inducements to prospective athletes, although they can approach these athletes at any place and point out any financial benefits that may be offered by their institutions to all qualified students.

It was the liberalization of the second point that apparently insured the code's adoption.

Known as the "purity code" when it was approved in principle a year ago, the document outlawed all off-campus recruiting of athletes from three quarters, the code was drafted with the recruiting section toned down and other points modified.

James Stewart of Southern Methodist University and executive secretary of the Southwest Conference was one of three members of the constitutional compliance committee, charged with interpreting the language of the revised constitution when violations are indicated. A fact-finding committee to investigate charges of violations will be named later.

After adjournment, W. A. Alexander of Georgia Tech said grants-in-aid already in effect at some institutions would not be nullified but that no future grants would be permissible under the code.

Clarence P. Houston, of Tulane, reporting on an investigation of bowl games following the 1946 football season, said contributions to charity were "inconsequential in all cases, except the East-West game." His committee was instructed to continue the study, but no other action was suggested.

After selecting San Francisco as the site of its 1949 convention, the association re-elected Kenneth L. Tug Wilson of Chicago as secretary-treasurer.

The NCAA football rules committee named Alexander, Dana X. Bible of Texas and W. O. Hunter of Southern California as an advisory committee to work with a group recodifying the rules.

Matty Bell of Southern Methodist and Lon Stiner of Oregon State were elected to the football rules committee for four-year terms, succeeding Bible and Hunter, respectively, and E. L. Romney of Utah State was elected for one year to complete an unexpired term.

LOPAT TOP SOUTHPAW CHICAGO (AP)—The new No. 1 League, as it earned runs, is Edmund Lopat of the Chicago White Sox. While winning 18 games and losing 13 his ERA was 2.81 as compared with the 2.87 average compiled by Hal Newhouse of Detroit who won 17 and lost the same number.

OPEN CLASS—Any boy eligible under established Golden Gloves rules may compete in this class. The choice is his. He may not be forced to compete in any other class. He may be without previous experience, but if a contestant so chooses, he may compete in the open class.

He may be a high school student, but it is his right to box in the open class if he so desires.

HIGH SCHOOL CLASS—This class is exclusively for contestants who are attending high school and who are eligible to compete at their high school in other athletics. For instance, in this state, that means a boy would have to be eligible under Texas Interscholastic League regulations. (He could not be older than 18; he would have to qualify under scholastic requirements.)

In any event, all contestants in a Golden Gloves tournament must have reached their 16th birthday and be eligible under AAU rules.

TRAINING GUIDE (Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of six guides prepared as an aid to young boxers anticipating boxing in District Golden Gloves Tournament to be held in Pampa at the Sportatorium Jan. 19-21.)

FUNDAMENTALS OF FORM How to Box the Tall Man:

1. Keep moving, rather than bray, which took all the fun out of it. . . still that poses a question, which had been outlined around a table the previous night by the coach of a small and highly respected New England college: how come the educators can proselytize and subsidize an outstanding brain, in a sub-par body, but shy off in horror from the idea that a fine body supporting an ordinary brain, should be given anything at all?

"We're teaching physical education as a part of the general program," this man argued, "but when a student is just ordinary mentally—good enough to pass, of course—and outstanding physically he can't get the same scholarship as a man who is just the opposite."

SHORTS AND SHELLS The word now is that George Sauer rather than Howie Odell, is the no. 1 man on the list of prospective football coaches at the University of Washington and the guy they're really trying to get . . . And Walter Driskill, now athletic director at Maryland, apparently tops the list for the post vacated by Jim Yeager at Colorado. . . Now we'll ask you one: who will replace Dick Harlow at Harvard? Harlow, a real smartie, took off for somewhere in Maryland just when the announcement of his resignation came out. . . Now Ben Robinson of the Baltimore Colts hints that he has a good chance of getting Bobby Layne away from the Bears; who haven't even made the Texas passer an offer yet.

LAST WORD When the boys were trying to beat the bus for players, curly-haired Stu retorted: "I learned at West Point that there are no state lines. The United States is all one country and you're entitled to get football players wherever you find them."

DANES SET KAYAK RACE As Pre-Olympic Test COPENHAGEN (AP)—Hungary will meet Denmark in a national kayak contest in June in the Danish town of Holstebro. The meet, regarded as pre-Olympic training for the Danes, will include 3,000 and 10,000 events for men, 500 meters for men and women and 500 meter relay, races for men and women.

The Danish team probably will include Alfred Christensen, Finn Rasmussen, Gunnar Christensen, Miss Ruth Graagaard and Miss Sigrid Hansen.

ABC of Racing Is Simple—Armed, Bewitch and Citation

By JIM FOWLER

MIAMI Fla. (AP)—Making a success of horse racing is as simple as ABC, provided, of course, that A stands for Armed, B for Bewitch and C for Citation.

The boys who make a living training and racing thoroughbreds are waking up in a cold sweat these days. The symptoms are the same—Calumet Farm. . . Armed. . . Ben and Jimmy Jones. . . Citation. . . Bull Lea. . . Bewitch.

Calumet Farm, under the guidance of General Manager Ben Jones and his trainer son H. A. (Jimmy) Jones, emerged as the all-time money earning racing stable.

The three primary reasons for Calumet's success—Armed, Bewitch and Citation—share two things in common: They are all the children of Calumet's famous stallion, Bull Lea, and all have won national turf honors.

Armed, king in the trio of turf greats, is currently the second biggest money-earning horse of all time. A couple of wins during this winter's Florida meetings can push the "Golden Gelding" to the peak of racing revenue.

Of the 18 major stake victories won by the golden trio, Armed chalked up nine, Bewitch six and Citation three.

Doug Dodson, contract jockey for Calumet, has ridden the trio to the majority of their stake victories. Horsemen can add another letter to their alphabet—D for Dodson.

All three are candidates for the major track events here this season. The Jones boys—Ben and Jimmy—will nominate one or all for the rich $50,000 Flamingo and Widener stakes at Hialeah, and Bewitch and Citation are scheduled for action in some of the lesser stake events.

Armed reached the age of seven on New Year's Day—Birthday of all thoroughbreds. The Joneses say the great gelding is beginning to show age; that he takes longer to limber up and keep in shape. But Armed is still young enough to make the racing boys wish that old age would hurry up and take over.

LONGHORNS TO MEET TCU Tomorrow Night AUSTIN (AP)—A Texas Longhorn cage team which relies almost entirely on its five starters for victory will travel to Fort Worth tomorrow to meet TCU. The Steers will then return to Austin to take on Texas A and M Friday in Texas' first home game since Dec. 13.

The Longhorns have won all but three of their past 40 games, the three defeats all by one-point margins, and have a record of 11 victories against one loss for the current season.

Two of the three losses have been to Oklahoma A and M. In the all-college meets of 1947 and 1948.

Umpires Will Be Scouted Through Six-League Alliance

DALLAS (AP)—Umpires will be scouted the same as ball players under a plan instituted through a six-league alliance which its originator thinks will spread throughout the minors.

The system was begun as the result of a conference engineered by Milton Price, president of the West Texas-New Mexico League and secretary of the Texas League, at the recent baseball convention in Miami.

These six leagues—the class B Big State, class C Lone Star and West Texas-New Mexico and Class D Longhorn, Sooner State and Evangeline—banded together with the idea of obtaining better talent for umpiring and offering young umpires a chance to advance in their profession.

Already E. F. (Lefty) Craig of San Antonio, former player and umpire, is in Florida to scout the Bill McGowan and George Barr umpiring schools for material. He will be employed on a seasonal basis, not only selecting the men for umpiring duty but watching their work during the baseball campaign.

Price said he was informed that a similar plan had been worked out by four leagues in the East. Under Price's set-up, Craig will offer contracts to some 25 men to break into class D company.

Some of the umpires in class D now will be moved into class C and several in class C will go into class B.

Price points out that this plan supercedes the old system of giving umpiring jobs to former players just because they have rendered long service in baseball. Now, the arbiter will get his job and opportunity to advance solely on merit. The general plan is for service at least one year in class D. However, the men are not absolutely limited.

New Zealand is reconstructing its price controls to stop black marketing.

Friday night the Gorillas were downed by the Shamrock Irishmen 39 to 33. Shamrock will play Lefors in the finals last night.

Championships of Golden Gloves Are Well Distributed

FORT WORTH—Golden Gloves "official" championships have been well-distributed among participating regions during the 11-year history of the big amateur boxing promotion in Texas.

Fighters competing under banners of no less than 20 different teams have carried away individual state tournament crowns since Golden Gloves first was sponsored in Texas, in 1937 by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

As preparations for the Twelfth Annual Golden Gloves State Tournament, Feb. 11, 12, 13, 14 and 16 at Fort Worth, get under way a check of records show Fort Worth, Dallas, Houston and Beaumont regions lead in number of weight titles won in past years, but 16 other teams also have produced state champs.

Fort Worth has topped 13 individual titles, Dallas 11, Houston 10 and Beaumont seven.

El Paso, Wichita Falls, Abilene and Austin come next, each having turned out five champs. San Antonio and Lubbock each have produced four Texas title-winners, and Amarillo, Galveston, Temple and Corpus Christi have come up with three state tournament champions apiece.

Tyler entries have won two Texas Golden Gloves crowns, and San Angelo, Brownwood, Camp Hood, Camp Fanning and Bryan AAF teams each have turned out one champion.

Gorillas Bow Out Of Shamrock Meet

Pampa High School's Gorilla baseball team didn't fair so well as their big brothers, the Harvesters, did in the Childress Invitational Tournament yesterday afternoon, losing to the McLean Tigers 27 to 20.

Friday night the Gorillas were downed by the Shamrock Irishmen 39 to 33. Shamrock will play Lefors in the finals last night.

 Evening Moscow announces that in certain secondary schools students will be allowed to specialize in English, French or German.

Mr Artzt Is Making Money Reforming Women Shoppers

NEW YORK — (AP) — An old man here has figured out a way to defeat one of America's most troublesome problems—the woman shopper who takes out clothing on trial and returns it to the store tomorrow.
 This man—it would be a man—is Walter W. Artzt, 43, a major manufacturer of infants' wear, whose hobby is inventing. He holds eleven patents in fields as various as dentistry and textiles.
 One of his latest is a sealant which a salesman can automatically attach to any garment taken out on trial.
 "The woman cannot wear the garment out in public with the sealant showing," said Artzt with soft pride, "and she can't remove it without destroying it. If she does that the store of course can refuse to take the garment back."

This simple little gadget, he said, will help solve a $40,000,000 problem to the nation's department stores.
 "It costs them that to clean suits, dresses and fur coats which women now take out and wear with no intention of buying."
 Artzt is one of those businessmen with ideas who do perhaps more to change American patterns of life than do statesmen or poets.
 There has been money in most of his ideas but not in all. In Vienna when he was eleven years old a family friend showed him a movie and happened to mention that the film was made of the same substance as the phonograph record.
 "In that case," the boy suggested logically, "why don't you put voices and music on the films, too, so you can hear as well as see them?"
 His startled parents, fearful his mind had been affected by the new flicker novelty, wouldn't let him see another movie for two years.
 "But sound movies are doing pretty well now," Artzt mused. Artzt went into the textile business and spent the weekends taking knitting machines apart and putting them back together to learn their operation. In three months he had patented a new accordion knit that enabled the ladies to get more stretch where they needed it. Now he has a factory and sells its $2,000,000

Law of Survival Is Facing Actors

HOLLYWOOD — (AP) — The movie melting pot is boiling again, and film stars are fighting to stay on top.
 That's Victor Mature's view of the current, prolonged crisis in the motion picture industry. He says it's a renewal of a Hollywood cycle.
 "Ten years ago, a group of stars ruled this town," Vic said on the set of "The Chair for Martin Rome." "It was a tight little bunch and a newcomer had very small chance of breaking into it."
 This "closed shop" was broken up by the war, which took many male stars away from the screen and brought the need for more pictures and more new personalities. "A guy like Gregory Peck never would have had a chance to break into the winner's circle before the war," Vic opined.
 Hollywood is in the process of going back to the old star old annual output himself from a small office here.
 I told Artzt that since his new sealants would annoy so many women shoppers he ought to at least placate them by inventing a runless stocking.
 "That can be done," he said, "but who would manufacture it? Who would sell you the material to make it? A runless stocking would be a calamity to the hosiery business."
 For a man with an original mind Artzt has one completely original ambition.
 "I want to write a book," he said. He hopes it won't need sealants.

garchy, the actor declared. He said when he returned from the Coast Guard he made a list of other 20th-Fox actors and checked the ones who he thought would be leaving the studio. So far all but one of his choices have departed. He expects news on the remaining one any day now.
 Vic, now secure in the comfort of a new five-year contract, said that his war service turned out to be a big break for him.
 "How far can you go with a reputation as a swell-headed jerk?" he inquired, referring to his pre-war "beautiful hunk of man" build-up. "I had reached a point where the only direction I could have gone was down."
 Sights and sounds on the Hollywood beat. . . Betty Hutton, who enacted "Dream Girl" on the screen, watching Lucille Ball's fine stage version of the role. . . Dana Andrews, in a crew cut for "The Iron Curtain," wondering how he is going to do retakes for "Deep Waters," in which his hair was long.
 Cornel Wilde painting a landscape in his dressing room and making a New Year's resolution: "To play Lord Byron on the screen in 1948." . . . Marguerite Chapman taking fencing lessons on the "Gallant Blade" set. . . Larry Parks waiting to trap a prowler behind his home (not far from the heart of Hollywood) and flashing lights on a large, bewildered raccoon. . . Satan, a 16-year-old tiger, prowling around the "Man Eaters of Kumanon" set and startling visitors, including a reporter.

Surplus Stock Hoped To Be Moved by April

DALLAS — War Assets Administration's aircraft disposal office at Grand Prairie, having sold 1380 aircraft originally costing approximately $96,000,000 during 1947, will set its sights on completely liquidating all remaining inventories by March 31, officials have announced.
 Remaining aircraft on hand in the Southwest WAA Zone 5 area are now concentrated at the Walnut Ridge Storage Depot in Arkansas. They consist of 280 C-46 Curtiss Commando transports plus a few tactical models. The C-46's are included in a continuous sales program now under way and a final clearance of all other surplus aircraft at various locations throughout the country will be effective by a national program in February, according to Col. C. H. Shepherd, special assistant for aircraft and electronics.
 Virtually all of the zone's inventory of aircraft components was disposed of by the end of the year. Out of a total disposal of $27,425,840 worth of components, only $200,000 worth in these materials were unsold as of December 31.
 Much of the remaining supplies of surplus electronics and communications materials will continue to be channeled to schools, colleges and educational institutions throughout the Southwest, WAA said.

PALESTINE

(Continued from page 1) Some of the most serious action has been taken in the face of Arab opposition. The delegates entered into an agreement not to talk with newsmen after their secret sessions but to issue communiques. Saturday's official report merely said the group "undertook a preliminary review of the General Assembly resolution and the work devolving upon it (the committee) from that resolution." The next session, also closed to newsmen and the public, was set for 11 a. m. Tuesday.

Marshall Plan

(Continued from page 1) for the Congress and for the administration of the program. The Iowa senator said the United States needs to know, for example, just how many tons of domestic supplies during the next few years. He said the same thing applies to coal, petroleum and vast quantities of other commodities that would move overseas under the program.

Questioning of Douglas by senators also brought out: 1. Criticism of the State Department plan for administration of the program from two veteran Democrats, George of Georgia and Elbert Thomas of Utah. 2. Testimony by Douglas that dollars may be used to buy wheat from Argentina and Canada for shipment to Europe. 3. An opinion by Douglas that resistance to communism in Western Europe has "been stiffened" by the Interim Foreign Aid Bill approved by the special session of Congress and by prospects for passage of the pending 51-months recovery program. 4. A flat denial by Douglas that the $3,750,000,000 British loan was "money down a rathole" or "wasted."

The unusual Saturday hearing in the first week of the congressional session pointed up the administration's drive for rapid action on the so-called Marshall Plan. Secretary Marshall opened the argument Thursday. Douglas questioned Friday and Saturday, was asked to return Monday. The Foreign Affairs Committee of the House will begin its public hearings Monday, while Cabinet members, all supporting the big peace-time outlay, are expected to troop before the Senate unit devolving upon it (the committee) from that resolution.

Heavyweight Picture Not Brightened By Maxim's Victory

NEW YORK (AP)—The heavyweight picture wasn't brightened by the Ole Tendberg-Joe Maxim fight in Madison Square Garden Friday night. Ole can't fight and Maxim can't punch.

A golden opportunity was offered to both and they both missed the cue even though the Cleveland war was a split decision.

Joe Louis' regime is tottering and aging Jersey Joe Walcott is the top contender. If ever a spot was open for a young, honest-to-goodness heavyweight it was Friday night.

But Tendberg, the tall, blond Swede who leaped to short-lived fame with his upset victory over Joe Baksi in Stockholm last summer, counted himself out of the picture in 36 brief fighting minutes.

He exhibited nothing but a willingness to try. He carried no guns and if he had them, he showed he wouldn't know how to use them. He was crude and slow. As for Maxim, he was cute as ever, hooking away with both hands and scoring at close quarters. Outweighed 29 pounds, 208 to 179, Maxim handled Tendberg like a big rubber doll. He hooked him and jabbed him and he spun him around. But few of his punches carried any steam. Tendberg was wide open and might have been belted out by a harder hitting heavy.

A crowd of 10,488 who contributed to a gross gate of $43,670 booed the bout at intervals. Much of the fight was fought at close quarters.

An ever bigger roar of disapproval went up when Judge Charley Short's card was read. He favored Tendberg, 5-4. Referee Eddie Josephs and Judge George Leonon gave it to Maxim, 7-3 each. The Associated Press scorecard gave it to Maxim, 7-2-1.

GERMANY

(Continued from page 1) trade barriers. 2. That until the French are part of a united three-power set up in Germany they can have no responsibilities and therefore no voice in determining what happens in a two-power set up.

3. That Ambassador Robert Murphy, American political adviser at Berlin, had fully informed the French political adviser of the decision reached by the British and Americans at Frankfurt.

GUERRILLA

(Continued from page 1) Vafades army. He was an actual combatant less than three months before deserting his battalion and surrendering to the Greek Army. He said guerrillas are under orders to execute every Greek soldier captured in combat except those who desert government forces to join the Communists.

Soufis said that as a political commissar he actually was chief of whichever unit he joined, and thus knew campaign plans in advance. Soufis was wearing British battle dress, an American blouse and a Yugoslav overcoat when he was captured. He said all this was issued him in Yugoslavia when he left Bulkes for Northern Greece, and that the clothing came from stocks of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration (UNRRA).

Corn sugar, which is called glucose, is not sweet. It is used on the backs of postage stamps.

TRADING

(Continued from page 1) go up and does his buying and selling accordingly. There is nothing illegal about speculation in commodities but the subject has been brought into the limelight by Congressional inquiries as to whether various administration officials have profited by speculative trading based on "inside" information on government commitments in the market.

Harold Stassen, former Minnesota governor, told a Senate committee Friday that he had learned that some administration officials have made $4,000,000 in commodity transactions since the war ended.

Meanwhile the Senate Appropriations Committee investigation into commodity trading was in recess until Tuesday. The committee heard testimony from Stassen Friday that Edwin W. Pauley and Brig. Gen. Wallace H. Graham have not told everything about their commodity trading.

Pauley is a special assistant to the secretary of the Army and Graham is the White House physician.

Contending Stassen had been guilty of "deliberate falsity" in his statements, Pauley yesterday asked the right to confront Stassen on oath before the committee. In seeking that privilege, Pauley said he is "no longer willing to remain silent and permit reckless attacks upon me to go unchallenged."

Informed that Pauley had accused him of "deliberate falsity," Stassen said at St. Louis: "I note that he has not denied that he made approximately $1,000,000 in profits in the food market since the war, and that he carried on these operations while serving as a special ambassador for the President, and as an assistant to the secretary of war and as an official of the Democratic National Committee. "A full disclosure to the American people by Mr. Pauley, Mr. Anderson (secretary of agriculture) and the Department of Justice is long overdue."

Asked whether he would meet Pauley face to face before a Senate subcommittee this Tuesday, as Pauley requested, Stassen replied: "I have nothing to add. After all, I have not heard from Senator Ferguson."

Three-Day Turf Conference Opens

AT A and M Tomorrow

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Dr. Fred V. Grau of the United States Golf Association and representatives from Texas golf associations will be among the speakers at the three-day conference on turf in the Southwest at Texas A&M College Monday through Wednesday.

Dr. Grau, chairman of the UGFA greens section, with headquarters in Washington, D. C., will speak at 7:30 p. m. Monday on what's new in turf, at 3:15 p. m. Tuesday on control of weeds in lawns and fairways and at 9 a. m. Wednesday on control of weeds in putting greens.

Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo, Texas Golf Association executive committee member, will deliver the principal address at the conference banquet in Sbia Hall at 7 p. m. Tuesday.

Graham Ross of Dallas, president of the Texas Professional Golf Association, will collaborate with Dr. Howard E. Sprague of the Texas State Research Foundation, Dallas, in a discussion at 1:15 p. m. Wednesday on bent grasses for greens and other fine turf.

Because more than half of the talks will apply to golf course grasses, Victor Schember, Texas A&M College agronomist and general program chairman, expects heavy representation from the Southwest's golf course.

Republican Party Has New Slogan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican Party has come up with a 1948 slogan: "Vote Republican in 1948—save what's left."

In 1946 it was, "had enough". The new slogan appeared in the January issue of the Republican News, national committee organ. It was printed at the bottom of a three-column wide article entitled "Second Truman Doctrine—Inflation!"

The weight of the air at sea level is about that of a layer of water 34 feet deep.

Farewell Dinner Slated for White

AUSTIN (AP)—A farewell dinner, described as "a statewide affair," is being planned here for Jan. 22 in honor of Dr. W. R. White on his election as president of Baylor University.

"All Baylor people will be welcomed," Mickey Attas, president of the Austin Baylor Club, said.

Billy Patterson of McAllen, one-time Baylor football star and president of the Ex-Students Association, and Jack Dillard of Waco, executive secretary of the association, are to be among the guests of honor.

Attorney General Price Daniel, also a Baylor ex-student, will be toastmaster. Other guests include Dr. W. T. Gooch, interim president; Dr. Monroe S. Carroll, dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Football Coach Bob Woodruff, and representatives of Baylor's Dental College at Dallas and medical school at Houston.

Hartley Will Not Seek Re-Election

WASHINGTON (AP)—Chairman Hartley (R-N.J.) of the House Labor Committee and co-author of the Taft-Hartley Act, announced Saturday he has "come to the definite and final conclusion that I will not be a candidate for re-election to Congress."

In a statement given to reporters, Hartley said: "I have consulted with my wife and members of my family, all of whom are vigorously opposed to my seeking re-election."

Flashing Object—Nothing but Skunk

BISMARCK, N. D. (AP)—A flashing object, shining brightly in the sun and bobbing up and down on a Bismarck Airport runway, attracted the attention of Raymond W. Heinemeyer of Bismarck. It suddenly began moving toward a hangar. Heinemeyer took a closer look, saw what it was, grabbed a .22 caliber pistol and fired.

Stopped in its tracks was a skunk—estimated weight at 10 pounds—with its head tightly wedged in a small fruit jar.

Mangrum Apparently Clinches Lead in Bing Crosby Tourney

DEL MONTE, Calif. (AP)—Slashing four strokes off par for a 35-33-67, Lloyd Mangrum, Los Angeles, posted a two-round total of 137 to apparently clinch the lead in the Bing Crosby $10,000 pro-amateur golf tournament yesterday with two-thirds of the field checked in.

Some top shot-makers still were out on the Monterey peninsula course but required exceptionally low-sub-par rounds to overhaul the former U. S. open champion at the end of 36 holes. Mangrum shared a three way tie after the first 18 holes. The two he deadlocked with at 70, Bill Fritz, San Francisco, and George Fazio, Los Angeles, slipped by the wayside, Fritz turning in a 75 and Fazio a 72 yesterday.

A stroke behind Mangrum came Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B. C., who duplicated the former's 35-32 for the par 35-36-71 peninsula course. Leonard's two-day total was 138.

Tournament favorite Ben Hogan, Hershey, Pa., and Johnny Palmer, Badin, N. C., tied with 141 at the end of the 36 holes, Hogan tacking up a second round 69 and Palmer beating that figure 71, three strokes with a great 61. Palmer coupled a 34-32, to move well up on the list.

Pro golf scores included: Harry Todd, Dallas, 74-72-146; Lloyds Wadkins, Odessa, Tex., 78-75-151.

Texans Among Big Givers to Both Demos, GOP

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comment on President Truman's state of the union message included: Senator Connally (D-Tex):—"I opposed the repeal of the excess profits tax. I am in favor of reimposing it at a level at least 60 percent of what it was formerly."

Rep. Wilson (D-Tex):—"I'm against price controls. We tried them, and they didn't do a ny good."

Rep. Poage (D-Tex):—"I think that's exactly the way to cut taxes, by increasing the exemptions."

Rep. Mahon (D-Tex):—"We have to continue the foreign aid program. I don't believe we should undertake to return to OPA controls. I favor some relief for low income tax groups, but we must proceed with caution on tax reduction to make a substantial cut in the public debt."

Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex) called it "a strong message that challenges the statesmanship of Congress." "It demonstrates clearly," Rayburn said, "that President Truman places the welfare of the nation above all else."

Palaver de Pampa

IS THIS YOUR HUSBAND—Husbands are people who hang storm windows without washing them. They toss apple cores in the fireplace. They are usually in the shower when dinner guests arrive. They leave bathrooms as untidy as Pullman washrooms at nine in the morning. They get close haircuts for their class reunions—to hide the gray that's creeping in above the ears. They spend a good many years being too old to dance and too young to sit and watch.

KNICK-KNACKS—A Pampa awning company truck bears the sign "This truck driven by a blind man" . . . sign on a snack-counter cash register: "Money must be registered before goods are wrapped" . . . sign on a truck: "We kill to live" . . . economist-business forecaster Roger Babson says business in 1948 may be excellent, but the year may be the last "easy" one of the 1946-1955 decade . . . for elderly people, a good deal of Panhandle history in the making: February are statistically dangerous. He says "the reason is that as you get older, your body temperature tends to lessen and you become more susceptible to cold" . . . don't try to blame your own delinquency in answering letters on the United States Post Office. The chances that your letter will not be delivered because it was "lost" are 30,000 to 1. The "Odds Experts" give a few other interesting figures: the odds on trains keeping their schedules are 30 to 1; on elevators being trapped between floors 999,999 to 1; on the bank being wrong about your statement 997 to 3; on your pocket being picked 90,000 to 1. And if you're concerned about overpaying on your income tax come March, just remember that only 1 taxpayer in 80,000 ever gets a refund!

ANTIQUITY NOTES—W. J. Cambren, who bought the old Schneider (Holland) Hotel for $1,500, has the old landmark just about torn down. To see the old Holland torn asunder and gone gives one the feeling expressed by the poet about the untimely death of Lincoln: and when he fell, it was as if a tall, straight pine had been felled, leaving a barren, empty space against the sky. Mr. C. has more than a lumber salvage man's interest in the old structure. It was back in 1900, about the time he began practicing law at old Ochiltree (in Ochiltree Co.) that he passed through Pampa and stayed at the Holland one night. He had a good deal of Panhandle history in the making: he has been here since 1895, been in Pampa since 1926 . . . One part of the old hotel structure, we hear, will be moved to Alcock St., where it will become part of a tourist court . . . another bit of history was torn down a few days ago. The old Sims building, owned by Frank Addington since 1924, will be replaced on Cuyler by a modern business house, with a basement. The building was probably the oldest in the town—about 40 years old. In that old building Ginny Sims, the screen actress and singer, lived for a time as a child. A combination cafe and hotel was housed in the building when it was first built—back in the days when the sun of settlement began to rise in this section.

ALSO ANTIQUARIAN—The McGregor News, McGregor, Clayton Co., Iowa, issue of Aug. 14, 1878, said in its column "Home Chat" "A farmer near McGregor ran his mowing machine into a steel ribbed parson's that someone had left lying in a timothy meadow and it cost him $5 for repairs. He swears he will shoot the next couple he sees mowing on his fields." and "All the towns throughout the country are enforcing dog tax. This is the best sign of hard times we know of . . ." and "That horses do not like elephants could be plainly seen Monday when John Robinson's Circus paraded through our streets. Several carriage drivers felt kind of uneasy on account of the illegal speed." The article in the McGregor News according to Billy Rose: "The land of the freak and the home of the knave. . . . An article in January's 'Reader's Digest' says the Mt. Wilson telescope makes visible about 1,800 million stars—and beyond that they are numberless. 'Yet,' it says, 'there is no crowding, up above.'" One astronomer said: "Set three wasps flying over Europe, and Europe's skies would be more crowded with wasps than space is with stars."

PAMPA PANORAMA—Judge B. S. Via, with a wave of his hand, says "You're rich if you're healthy and happy." . . . Lorene McClintock, whom Pampa will remember for her fine work with the USO here during the war, has proven the value of her new book "Teach Yourself to Play the Piano" (Crown: 45)—if hundreds of letters and plenty of sales are yardsticks of determination. It's interesting to note that she got the idea for the work while helping servicemen at the USO here. The book has two new features: a "keyboard concealer" which enables students to play by sight, and "keyblocks" which help develop the touch system (like typing). Her book is different from all other piano books. She visited Pampa and many friends less than a year ago . . . speaking of Judge Via, he and the missus gave a very complimentary going-away party the other evening for his nephew, who has just graduated from the University of Texas law school, and is now on his way to Germany to be employed in a diving capacity by the Army. What's this about your political contemplations, Judge? Tell us more! . . . Pampa, like the rest of the country, are talking about the revival of old songs. So goes the cycle of human activity . . . Jack and Naomi Hanna had a too-brief visit with old friends here this past week. They went via Clovis, to Santa Ana, Calif., then via El Paso, where John Osborne occupied more than a house where he lived and an office where he worked; he occupied a place in the hearts of many friends, and he long will be remembered.

FINISHING UP—George W. Rivers writes from Stanford to Old "I'm So Tired" Peg and sends an AP clipping on our little joke last week about Henry A. Wallace's (HAW) turn to the left. George, on the basis of this thing, says he is threatening to go out and beat his tractor to death. He says he has to mules any more—that is, not since he was a laddie back in Northeast Texas, where he felled raising "taters." He says: "I'm going to talk to my tractor and if they don't turn in some direction other than third party, I shall destroy that particular tractor at once." . . . Dirt-farmer Wallace can surely cause trouble! . . . A "little" woman dragged her hen-pecked husband to a concert, and concerts he did not like. Late, the "little" woman and her man crept to the seats. The little man asked his neighbor: "What are they playing?" "The Fifth Symphony," came the whispered answer. "Well," muttered the little man, "thank goodness I've missed four of 'em, anyway."

Pampa Community Concert Association to Present Abbey Simon in Piano Concert

The young American-born pianist, Abbey Simon, who will appear here at the Junior High School auditorium on Thursday, Jan. 15, was born in New York, where he attended public school.
 At the age of 11 he entered the famous Curtis Institute of Music in Philadelphia, and remained there for eight years.
 In October of 1940 Abbey's career was launched as a winner of the Naumburg Award, an honor which accords a Town Hall recital to its winners. An equally successful appearance in Town Hall under his own steam followed a year later. In July of 1942 he entered the U. S. Army's Signal Corps, where he remained for more than a year. On his return from the war he went to work for radio station WQXR in New York, under the musical director, Leon Barzin, and gave the first of two successful Carnegie Hall recitals which heralded his return to the concert stage. Subsequently, he joined the musical staff of WOR under Alfred Wallenstein, and later worked with Sylvan Levin, brilliant young conductor, of that network's musical staff.
 In the season 1945-46, Abbey appeared for the first time in many of America's major musical centers including Chicago, Boston, and Providence—and the following summer he appeared under Dmitri Mitropoulos with the Robin Hood Dell orchestra in Philadelphia, and at far-famed Lewisohn Stadium in New York with the Philharmonic Symphony under the direction of Efrem Kurtz.

With his Baltimore-born wife, the former Dina Levinson, he shares a New York apartment; the couple rented originally from the painter John Koch. His hobby is amateur photography.
 Included in his program for the Pampa audience will be "Sonata in B Minor, Opus 58," Chopin; "La Campanella" and "Sonetto del Petrarca," Liszt; "Prelude in E Flat Major" and "Prelude in E Flat Minor," Rachmaninoff.
 This is the third concert in the 1947-48 season of the Pampa Community Concert Association and all members are looking forward, with great anticipation, to Abbey Simon's appearance. Mrs. Carl J. Wright, secretary of the organization, states that admission is by membership card and at present there are some memberships for sale since members have moved away and located where there are no Community Concert associations. Anyone desiring a membership should contact the secretary, telephone 2135. On February 20 the "St. Louis Sinfonietta" will appear here and the present concert season closes with the "Columbia Opera Quartet" on March 3 (this date has been changed from March 4).

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength—and starved, weak, puny blood just lacks the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula, which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—drum flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps build sturdy health.

The Harry Clays Are Dinner Hosts

SEMI-CLUB (Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clay entertained Sunday with a dinner at their home on North Madden Street.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bertram and son, Jerry; Mrs. Clayton Sanders and children, Gene and Patsy; Mr. and Mrs. Al Hodges, Mrs. J. M. Greenfield, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Clay, and Mr. and Mrs. Carl McPherson.

Joe Gordon Speaks to Sam Houston P-TA

Mr. Joe Gordon spoke to Sam Houston Parent-Teacher Association Thursday on "Budgeting and Human Values." He said, "Wise budgeting of money, talent, energy and time is valuable as good character building material, for it helps to make an ordered life, something needed in the world today as much as any other quality. Helping a child make a budget of his allowance has the power to develop discrimination. And by setting aside a certain amount for Sunday School and Church collections, and gifts for family and friends, a child can be led to an unselfish point of view."

The speaker discussed the allowance of the child as to how much it should be, when it should start, and how much supervision the spending should have. He said, "An allowance should be paid regularly, the rules for using it set in advance and it must not have too many restrictions. Taking stock of everything, and allotting to everything its rightful share and place, then living up to the program, makes for happier living."

Mrs. W. T. Price gave the devolitional on "Enjoying Everyday Blessings." The program was under the direction of Mrs. Joe Key and, in the absence of Mrs. L. N. Atchison, Mrs. Noel Dalton, vice-president, conducted the meeting.

Special music was presented by Mrs. Lee Newsom, who sang "Winter Wonderland," and "Serenade of the Bells," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Roy Sullivan at the piano. Prizes for best attendance at the program went to the rooms of Miss Ruby Johnson, first, Mrs. J. E. Gibson, second, and Mrs. John Bradley, third.

Compensation Suit Settled for $3,900

The compensation suit of Thomas E. Purdom vs. Texas Employers Insurance Assn. was settled in 31st District Court Friday on payment of $3,900 to the plaintiff.

The plaintiff, who was employed by the Panhandle Fruit Company Jan. 2, 1947, said his truck became stuck in a snow bank while making a delivery en route to Lefors from Pampa, and that the plaintiff's feet were frozen while he attempted to extricate his truck; that immediately following the accident, the muscles, ligaments, tendons, nerves and blood vessels in and about the plaintiff's legs and feet were injured and the veins congested, and that the plaintiff suffered blood poisoning.

Are We Bankrupt As Individuals?

J. J. Newberry, head of the national retailing chain system that bears his name, recently sent a message to store managers through out the country which contains, in simple forceful language fundamental truths that should be more widely understood.

He wrote: "The person who makes his job the most important thing in his life, other than taking care of his family, and who has common sense and intelligence to apply to his job, should be entitled to greater success and rewards than the one who wants only to work eight hours a day, five days a week."

"Everything in the way of farming, mining, manufacturing and distribution must keep on expanding to give work to the increased population and to produce and distribute the larger requirements of more people. This will call for more and more leaders of industry."

"Those leaders will be the people who have such enthusiasm for their work they would rather stay on the job and be that which they are interested in progress and grow than to spend their time at less important pursuits."

"When you hear people talking about working 40 hours a week who expect equal compensation with the man who loves his work enough to put the necessary time to make his company grow, then you owe it to such a person to tell him how wrong his ideas are."

"This is an old-fashioned doctrine. It is in opposition to the new and engaging theories of the more advanced social and economic planners. It is opposed to the idea which has been advanced to the effect that production should be retarded in order that more people would have a job. How wrong those people are who believe this theory!"

Fair Enough

by Westbrook Pegler

The Thomas Committee on un-American activities, the Rev. Gerald L. K. Smith, Madam Hon. Eleanor Roosevelt and the Westcott-Pegler staff, all self-assumed handicaps, their earnest efforts to annihilate or vindicate the queer people of Hollywood who have struck political poses in recent years.

These fine Americans have allowed themselves to forget that an actor owes all his absurd importance to them, and like a bratish child or, more aptly, a trained dog or walrus, is tempted to misbehave by ingratitude. At the late Percy Hammond so whimsically asserted and often reiterated, the actor is incapable of manners by himself because the very thing which accounts for his being an actor in the first place precludes consideration for the rights, comfort and opinions of others.

Mr. Hammond was one journalist who could cover the actor without a very dramatic implication in it. He no more yearned to beat his lashes and dab his lips with the naughtily hue of barbitry than to sell a comedy to Lee and Janet, wherein he differed from some of his contemporaries and almost all of his successors. Like a good city hall reporter who keeps his dignity amid the grossest scenes of democracy, Mr. Hammond maintained toward actors, agents and producers the serene courtesy of one who knew he was their better and saw nothing to boast of in that.

He was a gentleman. They, unfortunately, were not and for the lack of essential qualities never could be, also, by patient coaching and practice, some of the most deceptive counterfeits they could bow, say "Thank you" at appropriate points without prompting, and use a finger bowl, a test which flunked many rich pack members and their wives in those days. And they were superbly suave in the presence of lobster. The females were equally persuasive and they possessed, moreover, beauty or, at least, prettiness, which, of course, sets in motion phychochemical processes to the total confusion of the issue.

It should not be necessary to recall that actors were vagabonds in their original condition, with a notorious reputation for unchastity which, be it noted, they have maintained with proud bravado down to now. They were financed and fed for the coins of fear, and the virtuous, unlearned, uncertain life developed in them a mischievous impudence that amused the quality. They were, in this respect, all one: who got away with murder.

In their place, actors are tolerable, even desirable, but they impose a strain on suffrage when they step across the trough and become intimate with the public. This impertinence is not entirely their fault, however, for the line was wiped out when the stage died of a number of ill and hundreds of actors found themselves singing and telling jokes in saloons as their forebears had in English ordinaries and continental taverns two centuries ago. Suffered at first with the traditional courtier and became imperious, whereas, old and of right, when an audience didn't laugh or applaud, the management threw the actor out, and he lost his best friend through one of those blessed things, recently, his telegram to her at that time read: "Come meet you in Pittsburgh tomorrow stop writing."

Common Ground

By R. C. HOLLES

Shocking Statements of a Methodist Preacher... This column has expressed considerable criticism about Methodist leadership. For this reason, it takes more than an ordinary absurdity and contradiction and falsehood from Methodist leaders to shock me. I do not believe that I have ever read a more absurd and shocking immoral and un-Christian article than one appearing in the magazine Motive for December and written by Robert Hoffman Hamill, pastor of the Grace Methodist Church of Burlington, Iowa.

The Motive magazine is a Methodist publication for the student movement published by the Division of Educational Institutions of the Board of Education of the Methodist Church. Here is the first shocking statement in the sub-head: "But for the Christian, there are no rules."

Then the article goes on to try to prove that there are no moral rules for the government of Christians. The author goes on to show what the Methodists used to believe a century ago and what they believed 50 years later. Then he adds: "Nowadays the unholy trinity is drinking, gambling, and too much sex. Sad to say, many people still think that Christian morality consists of specified things you cannot do."

Again he says: "Pure and strict obedience to the rules frequently accompanies an acid temper, a jealous spirit or a prideful attitude. Again he observes: "To begin with you can't keep the commandments. You can't even live up to the Ten Commandments. Do you never covet anything? A classmate's speed of mind, his father's income, that fellow's dog, or that girl's hair-do? How then do you expect to keep the severe demands of the Sermon on the Mount? Do you always turn the other cheek to those who turn a cold shoulder?"

So the Ten Commandments are obsolete according to the Methodist preacher talking to the young people of the church. He seems to think that coveting is simply desire. He does not seem to realize that coveting is a lust, not desire, and that it is a sin. He seems to think that coveting is simply desire. He does not seem to realize that coveting is a lust, not desire, and that it is a sin.

There is a strange injustice here. A brain surgeon who should wear a cap and push up his glasses and a doctor who should wear a white coat and a stethoscope around his neck and an electrician who should wear a cap and a tool bag around his neck, are all treated as if they were no different from a common laborer.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

I don't exactly know what it's all about but I'm sort of dimly fascinated by these scientific "wind tunnels" I read of in the papers. It seems they create nasty weather conditions in these tunnels and then test airplanes in them to see how they behave under pressure.

It's a nice idea, and personally I think it could be carried into other fields. Why doesn't someone invent a "fashion tunnel" in which the new fashion models are tested for stress and strain on our budgets and to see how many "W. W. P. H." (wool whistles per hour) they could generate.

Or possibly a "husband tunnel" in which girls in prospective husbands, to see how they stand up under the wear and tear of visits from their wives' mothers. Might save a lot of trouble all around.

A local young man deplores the use of the word "guy" for a male in telegrams, since he lost his best girl through one of those blessed things, recently. His telegram to her at that time read: "Come meet you in Pittsburgh tomorrow stop writing."

Wife—I've bought you a beautiful surprise for your birthday—it has just arrived. Husband—I am curious to see it. Wife—Wait a minute and I will put it on. Old Doctor—What do you want, my lad? Young Physician—I want a little advice on how to succeed in this profession. Old Doctor—Just have patience, my son, have patience.

Show Girl (having just received a beautiful set of diamonds from her admirer)—What do you think of them? I don't like 'em. Mother—said little Mary, with just a shade of approval in her voice, "the problem you helped me with last night was all wrong. But, she added consolingly, "don't feel bad, none of the other mothers got it right either."

If you do today's work to the very best of your ability you have already taken care of the most of tomorrow. Diner (angrily to waiter)—You've spilled that soup all over my coat. Waiter—It's all right, sir, I know the soup here; it never stains after six o'clock.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON — The Stratton proposal for the admission of a certain number of Europe's "Displaced persons" is making such headway in the "grass roots" section of the country that Congress may be forced or persuaded to take action on it at the present session.

Aside from practical and humanitarian considerations, politics on both sides of the aisle begin to appreciate its vote-getting advantages, especially as Henry A. Wallace means to grab it. A new and favorable factor is that powerful union labor figures and forces, which had been expected to oppose the idea, now seem to be swinging around to it, provided they can be assured that the newcomers will be no threat to them.

FAVORABLE — The invasion of Europe by approximately 200 members of Congress last summer has also proved a helpful influence. These M. C.'s as well as other observers, report that their survey of the camps convinced them that many thousands would make good, reliable, rugged workers and excellent citizens. Their acceptance, it is argued, would make as favorable impression abroad as the proposed Marshall Plan.

It would be, according to this argument, a most effective means of countering Moscow's attacks on the United States as "selfish, aggressive and imperialistic." For most of the people seeking refuge here—Poles, Germans, Lithuanians, Latvians, Estonians, Hungarians, Czechs and Yugoslavs—do not want to return to their old homes for fear of Russian oppression. Their eyes are turned toward the West, not to the East.

LOSS — Congressional, state and local studies report an alarming loss of population in the so-called "bread basket" states, where it is expected that admitted DP's would settle. Many of the people seeking refuge here—Poles, Germans, Lithuanians, Latvians, Estonians, Hungarians, Czechs and Yugoslavs—do not want to return to their old homes for fear of Russian oppression. Their eyes are turned toward the West, not to the East.

DEPLETION — In addition to the loss of population in the so-called "bread basket" states, where it is expected that admitted DP's would settle, many of the people seeking refuge here—Poles, Germans, Lithuanians, Latvians, Estonians, Hungarians, Czechs and Yugoslavs—do not want to return to their old homes for fear of Russian oppression. Their eyes are turned toward the West, not to the East.

It is little wonder that we see so much confusion in our ranks when the followers of John Wesley are preaching such shocking and damnable ideas to the youth of the land as Rev. Hamill is preaching and the Methodist Board of Education are spreading among the youth of the land in such magazines as Motive.

MOBEETIE — (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Oswald have returned from a visit in Los Angeles. Mrs. Bob Murrell visited relatives in Pampa this past weekend. John Tschirhart was a visitor in Pampa Tuesday.

MANAGED ECONOMIES, NOT U. S. ENTERPRISE STANDING TRIAL TODAY (The Chicago Journal Of Commerce) BY WILBUR J. BRONS In about 50 per cent of the solemn head-wagging over high prices and the dolorous warnings of a coming "boom" there runs a common theme: Nine out of every ten prophets of impending doom will tell you at the drop of a hat that private enterprise stands at the crossroads of every ten seem willing to bet that we will take the wrong fork and wind up in history's dustbin.

Private enterprise is the only thing under God's Heaven that has been vindicated; everything else in its line has been proved a flop. Private enterprise is the power behind a nation which is just about holding the world together single-handedly, despite some nipping at its heels here and there. It is actually the manager of the economy and not private enterprise which is on trial today. And it is to American private enterprise that the rest of the world looks for food, raw materials and machinery.

Our free enterprise economy, not only was able to save about half the world from destruction but in the short space of 18 months supplied Europe alone with $1,190,000,000 of gifts, loans and credits. Additional aid probably will bring the total to some $25,000,000,000 before most of Europe is able to make a start beginning toward standing on its own feet.

INFORMATION — UNRRA and IRO has full information on the European phase of the picture. There are approximately 850,000 persons in these camps at the present moment. About 100,000 are classified as agricultural workers, meaning that they were breadwinners before Hitler and Stalin transformed them into transients.

It is just as dangerous and wrong to try to fool the people into believing that we can buy off Communist aggression with dollars as it was to try to appease Hitler. —Sen. Joseph H. Ball (R) of Minnesota.

SHAMROCK — (Special) — Deposits in the two Shamrock banks hit an all-time high last month, according to reports made to state and federal banking authorities. The statements show that deposits in the two local banks institutions at the close of December on Dec. 31, totaled $4,197,547. The previous record high was set two years ago when the combined deposits on Dec. 31, 1940, totaled $4,478,538. This shows that there is now $218,309 more money on deposit in Shamrock than ever before.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Burgess Meredith, who will produce John H. Johnson's "The Sign of the Cross" on the stage, wants to star wife Paulette Goddard. It depends on her film commitments. "Economic note: There will be a capsule wardrobe for Lauren Bacall in "Key Largo" — one cotton suit and one black all-wool — a total of $75. But the film has a million-dollar cast — Bogart, Eddie Robinson, Lionel Barrymore and Claire Trevor.

Jack Carson and Warner Brothers have just about called it a day. Virginia Field is seriously ill with pneumonia in the Las Vegas hospital. Yvonne de Carlo and her mama had another spat, and Yvonne, in a huff, flew to Canada. —Carole Landis and her husband, Horace Schildberg, are straining at the bit. —Elliott Lawrence, the band leader at the Palladium, and his singer, Rosalind Patton, are engaged.

JOCKEY SCRATCHED — This is Hollywood Mrs. Jones: Leo Gorcey accepted the role of a jockey in "The Sign of the Cross" on one condition — that he wouldn't have to ride a horse. He rode one in a picture once, was thrown and broke a couple of ribs.

Right of the week: Burlly Bill Bendix playing host at a birthday party for his three-year-old daughter, Stephanie.

Lina Romay wouldn't mind at all if Jimmy Stack proposed marriage. —Conceded that in the lobby of the Beverly Hills hotel when Clark Gable picked up the keys to the wrong room. Gable's blouses lit up half of Sunset Boulevard. —Trademark for the new Warner newscast in Plymouth Rock instead of the old Pathe rooster. The switch, says Lee Patrick, is obvious. The rooster was a Rhode Island Red.

SO THEY SAY

It is not run away from the compulsion fact that we will get security only if we face up to it and equip ourselves in a moral and a practical sense to achieve it. —Maj. Gen. William J. Donovan, U. S. Army.

SOME VOTES FOR WALLACE

by Upton Close

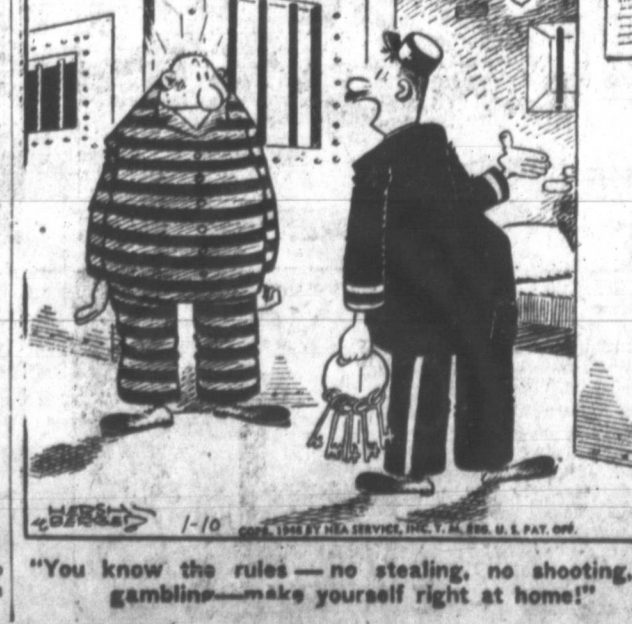

One thing worrying Democrats is that a considerable number of modernist Christian ministers are expected to support the Red horse, Henry Wallace, in the 1948 presidential sweepstakes. It is indeed a paradox that Christian pastors are lining up in the psychological warfare brigade which aims to destroy Christianity. But such is the power of deception of the strategists behind Henry Wallace and the Communist Party.

Wallace was greeted warmly by some Christian ministers wherever he stopped on his loud jaunt across the country a few months ago. That was just after he got back from his European trip in which he denounced the United States to European audiences. Quite a number of ministers appear to consider Soviet Russia a "deeply religious." Some also appear taken by the thesis that Soviet Russia represents a new kind of democracy, something they like to call economic democracy, which they believe earnestly concerning itself about the welfare of the common man.

It should be said, to do justice to many a minister who finds himself in the Red camp that many of them do not believe they are pro-Communist. They, collecting the misguided fellow travelers into one mot' group he may perhaps isolate Communist disease so that it can be seen by all. (Copyright, 1948)

I MAY MOVE...

I guess by now every-body has noticed that I've moved my sign --- I guess I'm going to move down-stairs into that little building --- I'm getting to old to climb stairs --- come might near falling the other day --- the Loan Company moved up in the Duncan Bldg., and they sure have some nice offices --- it was mighty nice of them giving up their little building to me just to have me on the ground floor --- I sure hope Al Lawson put enough braces in that sign holder --- that's a mighty big sign for that small a building --- the next time you're by there take a look at it and see what you think ---

Somebody mentioned something about a housewarming when I got moved, but I don't know --- said I ought to give away some cigars or something --- you no you can't buy a good seegar any more for less than 7c --- then you'd have to give the ladies something too, and that would cost a lot --- then you'd have the children to think about --- I'll have to study about this ---

Poor Bob Campbell --- I believe he's one of the luckiest persons I've ever known --- Bob's got two ranches north east of town --- Phillips goes out and leases one and drills a deep hole --- they think so much of it (along with Bob's luck) that they jump over 40 miles and lease up 10,000 acres of his other ranch and pay him a small fortune for it --- Now Bob can't lease any more on account of his income tax --- I used to know Bob when he was a boy --- the reason I call him poor is on account of his horses --- he's horse poor, but you can't tell him --- Anyhow I'm sure glad Bob is doing well --- this will help him to square up some more of his land.

And now I just want to sell one thing this coming week, as I'm going to be pretty busy, and that's a ten acre tract just outside the city limits of Wheeler, Texas --- It's got a good 5 room modern home, one acre of garden, small hen house, small barn, pressure pump on the well, gas, lights, water, small orchard, 8 acres in wheat --- this would make some-one a good suburban home if you would want a small bit of acreage close to a good town --- We would even consider a small house in on the trade.

When you read this go to Church --- You'll feel better the rest of the day.
