of the atom bomb ceased to exist a long time ago." He did not say specifically that Russia had the atom bomb.

Griggs quoted his informants as saying the small bombs were being made experimentally at a mushroom factory city deep in Siberia, called "Atomgrad." They said, Griggs reported, that the Russians had not yet developed "production belt" methods. But were attempting to reach that goal.

L'Intransigent said the Russian test was held in the presence of three high Soviet army officers and of Sergei Vavilov, director of the Soviet Nuclear Research Service.

The account said Marshal Andrei A. Zhadanov, a member of the Politbureau, attended as Stalin's personal representative.

The article said the Russians were being aided by a number of German scientists who had accepted Russian offers of positions at Atomgrad.

Among these it named Prof. Gustav Hertz, German Cyclotron Constructor and authority on Uranium; 235; Dr. Robert Doepel, Leipzig physicist; Prof. Ludwig Bevilacqua and a Prof. Theissen, both identified as veterans of the Kaiser Wilhelm Institute of Berlin.

Griggs reported that Soviet scientists working on the bomb included Prof. Joffe, Kozshikhinsky, J. P. Fierov and K. Petzhak.

FUNNY BUSINESS

"You won't have to leave a call at the desk for morning—they roost right outside!"

He added that the Russians were requests to Congress: $1,500,000,000 for long-range economic recovery. $597,000,000 for immediate stop-gap aid.

emergency aid to China prior to July 1 is voted by Congress and aid is continued thereafter at a rate of $20,000,000 a month as suggested by Undersecretary of State Lovett, the total outlay for China would be $300,000,000 by July 1, 1949—the date by which European recovery costs are estimated to reach $1,800,000,000.

Marshall said the State Department has been working since last May on a "concrete proposal" for Congress in connection with aid to China and "we think we have found an acceptable program." But he added:

"I think it is imperative to handle Western Europe first."

Asked whether any additional appropriations will be requested for Greece and Turkey, Marshall replied it is his understanding that no additional funds will be needed in the present fiscal year for that purpose. The fiscal year ends June 30, 1949.

The overall figure of $2,657,000,000 includes $1,500,000,000 in proposed outlays for the long-range European Recovery Program, in addition to $597,000,000 for immediate stop-gap aid to France, Italy and Austria, Marshall said.

The secretary of state said the amount represents additional appropriations to be requested of Congress beyond those already voted for foreign financing in the last session.

The cabinet member gave these estimates in response to a request by Chairman Vandenberg for a "total balance sheet" of proposed expenditures in the government year ending next June 30.

Marshall already has said that the long-range recovery program will cost about $7,500,000,000 in the 15 months after the end of the emergency aid program. He has estimated its final over-all cost to this country at somewhere between $16,000,000,000 and $20,000,000,000.

Here is the way the secretary, aided by Undersecretary Robert Lovett, broke down the proposed requests to Congress: $1,500,000,000 for long-range economic recovery. $597,000,000 for immediate stop-gap aid.

Willa Dean Lee and Dallas Callaway Are Wed in Double-Ring Ceremony

CANADIAN. (Special)—A double-ring ceremony united Miss Willa Dean Lee, daughter of L. F. Lee, and Dallas Callaway, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Callaway, Thursday, in the home of Mrs. and Mrs. J. C. Lee, grandparents of the bride.

Autumn flowers and fern formed the background for the candles, which were lighted by Miss Frances Huff and Miss Barbara Steele. Rev. Harvey Parker, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, read the vows in the presence of relatives and a few close friends. The bride wore a white wool street length dress and carried a white Bible on which were pink rosebuds and satin streamers. Her bridesmaid was Miss Patsy Huff. Cert Callaway attended as best man.

Mrs. Callaway is a popular member of the Senior class of the local high school. Mr. Callaway graduated from Canadian High School in 1944, and is associated with his brothers, Cort, Thad, and Max in the Killarney Cafe.

A wedding cake, with the traditional bride and bridegroom atop, was cut by the bride and served to the guests, and punch was served by Mrs. W. L. Job. After a trip to Carlsbad Caverns the couple will be at home in the John Jennings house.

CCW Observes World Community Day in Baptist Church

PANHANDLE. (Special)—The Council of Church Women observed World Community Day with a program at the Baptist Church last Friday.

Mr. Patrick described conditions as he saw them in Greece last spring. He said that 13 denominations, sent blooded stock to the people of Greece and Ethiopia to help them get a new start in life. He called such a gesture "heart religion" as opposed to denominationalism. And he commended the Council of Church Women for their collection of "Bundles for Europe."

The meeting opened with organ music which was followed by a song, a prayer, and a talk on World Community Day.

Juanna Jo Broadway sang and Mrs. H. B. Skilton gave the devotional on the theme, "Bear Ye One Another's Burdens."

Mrs. Patrick's talk, the highlight of the program was followed by the dedication of eighteen 50-pounds cartons, 19 bundles, and 21 boxes which had been contributed by various churches and clubs.

At noon a covered-dish luncheon was served, after which a short business session was held. Plans were made for the observance of the World Day of Prayer, Feb. 13, and for the sending of letters to the President of the United States and to congressmen asking that aid be sent to the starving countries of Europe.

Officers for the new year were installed as follows: Mrs. J. B. Howe, president; Mrs. George Hankins, secretary; and Miss Martha Metcalf, treasurer.

Fifty ladies were present.

Writers Are Guests Of Mrs. J. Harvey

SHAMROCK. (Special)—Mrs. John E. Harvey was hostess to a number of the Panhandle Pen Women and the local Penhandlers Club when they met Friday in an all-day session with a covered-dish luncheon at noon.

The program was informal. Miss Laura V. Hamper of Amarillo, founder of the Panhandle Pen Women more than 27 years ago, was in charge of the round table discussion, which was an accumulation of opinions on a subject upon which a member was obtaining material for an article.

SHAMROCK. (Special)—The Bethel Friendly Neighbor Club held a called meeting Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elmer Bearden. The occasion was an all-day meeting to quilt for the Chandler family whose home recently burned.

Those attending were: Mesdames. E. M. Anderson, Bussey, Herbert Castleberry, Boots Cook, L. B. Copeland, W. H. Locke, E. S. Harvey, Eunice Mayfield, Roy Oswald, Stacy Arnold, Jr., R. F. Wolford, and the hostess.

Brownie Troop Gives Tea for Parents

SHAMROCK. (Special)—The members of the Third Grade Brownie Scout Troop entertained their parents and friends with a tea and party at the Girl Scout's Little House Thursday evening.

Mrs. Bob Purcell is sponsor of the troop. The Brownies did the decorating themselves and the tea table was illumined with candle light.

Carolyn Coburn poured, with Nancy Ellis and Corbie Blake assisting with the serving.

In the receiving line were Charlene Cadenhead, Margaret Ellen Grogan, Beverly Crawford, and Marilyn Greenhill.

Following the tea the girls built a huge bonfire around which they sat and sang the songs they had learned during the year.

About 15 parents attended the party.

Irish Rated No. 1; SMU's Ponies 4th

NEW YORK—(AP)—Notre Dame tops The Associated Press football writers poll for the third straight week with 69 percent of the first place votes after its enthusiastic 27-7 defeat of Army in the finale of a great series.

Ranked No. 1 by 117 of the 169 participating sports writers, the Fighting Irish next tackle off-beaten Northwestern, a traditional foe, while runner-up Michigan, with 31 first place votes, takes on Mississippi in a game that may decide the Big Nine title.

Pennsylvania which scooted into third place, a shade ahead of Southern Methodist, by handing Virginia its first loss, takes another rugged foe in Army which dropped from the first in for the first time in recent years.

Texas regained some of its pre-SMU luster by downing Baylor, 28-7, advancing to seventh, with a good Texas Christian team next on the list.

On a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis, Notre Dame piled up 1612 points to 1523 for Michigan. Others in the first 20 in order were:

- Pennsylvania 1145, Southern Methodist 1137, Southern California 992, Georgia Tech 826, Texas 870, Penn State 839, Wisconsin 822, California 802, Virginia and Mississippi, each 46, Missouri 42, Utah 36, North Carolina 33, Minnesota 32.

Others receiving votes were: Columbia 25, Kentucky 22, Wake Forest 21, Mississippi State 16, Wake Forest 15, UCLA 10, Maryland 9, Villanova 5, South Carolina 4, Vanderbilt and Wesleyan, each 3, Boston College, Princeton, Rutgers, Trinity, Navy and Rice, each 1, and Purdue, each 2, Georgia, 1.

Memorial Trophy For Sugar Bowl's Standout Player

NEW ORLEANS, (NEA)—As a memorial to the late Warren Vernon Miller, the New Orleans Mid-Winter Sports Association will annually start with the game on New Year's Day, award a trophy to the outstanding player in the Sugar Bowl. Football writers and experts in attendance will cast ballots. Miller was the first president of the Sugar Bowl and a leader in organizing the Mid-Winter Sports Association. He served as a member of the executive board until his death last June.

Heavy Practices Scheduled for SWC Grid Teams

By the Associated Press
Southwest Conference grid teams will get down to heavy practice for Saturday's game today.

Most of the coaches let their charges off easy yesterday, with undefeated, untied Southern Methodist University taking the entire day off.

Arkansas, preparing for this week's game with Southern Methodist, was pushed indoors by rain and the Razorbacks went through a cathartic drill.

Rice heard Assistant Coach Joe Davis warn against overconfidence in the major league player draft here yesterday when Bill Veck, president of Ohio's entry in the American League, put the finger on William Kennedy, a southpaw owned by Louisville of the American Association.

Kennedy, 29 years old, has an eye-opening record in organized baseball.

Last season with Scranton, Pa., one of class A Eastern League, like Louisville a farm club of the Boston Red Sox, Kennedy won 15 games, lost only two. He was voted the Eastern League's most valuable pitcher.

Kennedy cost Cleveland $10,000—the draft price for a player owned by a class AAA league. The Tribe also shelled out 10 grand for Leonard Ratto, an infielder, who batted .267 and sparked defensively for Portland, Ore., of the Pacific Coast League in 1947.

The biggest spender was Leslie O'Connor, general manager of the Chicago White Sox, suspended for several days recently until the club decided to pay a $600 fine imposed by the commissioner.

O'Connor paid $35,000 for three pitchers and a catcher; hurlers Roman Brunswick from Houston, Tex., Alex Danielishan from Oklahoma City and Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Southpaw James P. Goodwin of Jersey City, and backstop Raymond Fletcher from Milwaukee.

When the hour-long draft session ended, 13 clubs had selected 26 minor leaguers for a total purchase price of $245,000.

Other players drafted, listed by clubs:

American League
Philadelphia — Outfielder Don W. White, San Francisco, and William DeMars, Mobile, an infielder with Asheville, last year.
Washington — Clarence Difani, Newark, second baseman; Forest Thompson, Atlanta, pitcher; and J. Len Orkie, Nashville, catcher with Fayetteville and Des Moines.
Boston — Infielder John Ostrowski, Los Angeles, and Boris M. Martin, Toledo, catcher.
St. Louis — Al Gerbeusser, Montreal, pitcher.
National
Philadelphia — Pitcher Walter Dupiel, Seattle; John Blatnick, Baltimore, outfielder with Wilkes-Barre, and Huber G. Wilson, Rochester, infielder with Allentown.
Pittsburgh — Max West, outfielder, San Diego; and James Kieckhefer, Birmingham, pitcher, and Forest Main, Kansas City, pitcher.
Boston — Outfielder Clint Conner, Buffalo, and Edward R. Post, Syracuse, pitcher with Columbia, S. C., and Muncie, Ind.
St. Louis — Lawrence Higgins, Minneapolis, outfielder with Sioux

Sport Shots

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS — (AP)—Dr. W. C. Barnard of Corpus Christi may not just try to convince me.

It doesn't make any difference what or where the athletic contest may be, the man you're most likely to see is the soft-spoken physician from the Gulf Coast.

He likes boxing, wrestling, ice hockey, basketball, baseball, football—anything in which boys and men vie for glory—and he spares neither money nor time to witness them in action.

He doesn't see any more or athletic contests now than 10 or 15 years ago; it's just easier on him. Time was when he had to worry about his medical practice. Then he'd make a trip like this:

See a football game in Corpus Christi on Friday night, get in his car and drive all night to Dallas or Fort Worth to attend a game in the afternoon, then drive back home Saturday night so he would be out of his office only one day.

Now he sees Dr. James Barnard, is associated with him and can take over until his father spends a couple of days traipsing to Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth or St. Louis to satisfy his urge for sports.

The good doctor often uses airplanes to see baseball and football games out of state. Until a decade ago he staunchly refused to fly, saying: "Men were not intended to fly—I'll keep these two feet of mine on the ground."

But here's how he made his first plane trip:

He had looked forward eagerly to a Rice-Arkansas football game in Houston. That was when Ernie Lain was pitching those passes for Rice.

But pressure of work was great that day and three hours before game time he still was in Corpus Christi, 230 miles from Houston, and it was foggy and rainy.

"Charter me a plane," he groaned to one of his sons. "I may never get back home alive but maybe the Lord will let me get to Houston to see that game."

So he flew to Houston and the game was a thriller.

Since then he often takes planes to such places as Cleveland, Detroit and St. Louis for baseball and to the West Coast for football.

During football season he averages at least two games per week—one high school and one Southwest Conference.

For 25 years he went without missing a high school district conference game in Corpus Christi—except one. That was when he was ill in a hospital. He listened to that contest on the radio.

He was particularly interested in one Corpus Christi team and thought of it as his own. You see, he had brought five of the first stringers into the world—including the entire backfield.

He is such a football fan that the age of the player doesn't matter. He even goes to junior high school games and at times, while making his round of calls, will stop at a vacant lot to watch the sandloters.

And he remembers the one who athletes he sees. For other people his memory for names is poor but just bring up an athlete. He knows all about him, can give you his complete record and what cereal or cigaret he may have endorsed.

Here's an item that will be news even to Dr. Barnard:

He sometimes wagers a dollar on a game. Those who know him can't recall his ever losing.

Generally, he frames the dollar bill he wins and he has a safe full of them.

His two sons, Bill and Jimmy, used to slip these bills out of their frames when they ran short of money, replacing them later.

Harvesters Out For 4th Win Over Sandies Since '29

The seating capacity of Harvesters Park has been doubled during the past week in anticipation for an overflow crowd for the 22nd annual meeting of the Pampa Harvesters and the Amarillo Golden Sandstorm at the park, Saturday afternoon at 2:30.

The regular capacity of the park is approximately 4,000 and with the addition of extra bleachers, including those behind the two end zones over 12,000 persons will be able to be seated at the annual classic.

The game will be the 22nd meeting of the teams since the inauguration of annual meetings in 1929. The first year the teams played three times, twice they tied 3-3, and 9-9, and the Sandies were victorious in the third game 27-6.

Only three times has a Harvester team beaten the Sandies, that was in 1931, 1941, and 1945.

This year's battle, just as in the year's past, will find the Amarillo team favorites over the local team.

A win for Amarillo, Saturday, will give them the District 1-AA championship, and a win for Pampa Harvesters will throw them into a tie with the Sandies for the district title.

However, if the Harvesters win Saturday and then go on to defeat Berger on Thanksgiving Day the local club would be awarded the right to represent this district in the playoffs due to the interscholastic league ruling stating that in the eventuality that two teams tie for the district leadership, the team that was the victor when the two tied teams played would be awarded the district championship.

Twelve Teams Being Considered for Bowl

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—Twelve teams are being considered for the American Legion Bowl game here Dec. 20.

Council Commander Lloyd Woods said the final selection probably will be made from the following: Georgia Tech, Penn State, Boston College, Duke, Mississippi State and Virginia.

West-Southern Methodist, Texas, Missouri, Texas Christian, Baylor and Kansas.

Shoveler ducks fly from Alaska to the Hawaiian Islands every fall, covering a distance of 2,600 miles.

Did you know? No. 1 sports fan? Brother he better be good if you don't want me chucking rocks at him.

The Texas schoolboy football ratings took a beating last week as such worthies as Corsicans, Marshall and Corpus Christi tumbled under defeat. Here's the list now:

1. Wichita Falls; 2. Odessa; 3. Longview; 4. Brackenridge (San Antonio); 5. Waxahachie; 6. Corpus Christi; 7. Corsicana; 8. Austin; 9. Amarillo; 10. Waco; 11. Goose Creek; 12. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth); 13. Texas; 14. Marshall; 15. Kerrville; 16. Austin (El Paso); 17. Brownwood; 18. Forest (Dallas); 19. Lufkin; 20. Fort Arthur.

Speaking of schoolboy football, the all-state team will begin taking form this month. The team is selected by the Texas Sports Writers Association and the Texas Coaches Association.

We're already receiving nominations for the team.

Ed Terrell of the Berger News-Herald extolls the merits of Howard Hurt, Edging-Backfield Coach Trickey Ward has labeled Hurt one of the best, if not the best, linemen he ever has coached.

Mike Halkin of the Beaumont Enterprise, raves about Augie Saxe of South Park High, one of the state's top scorers. Mike calls him the greatest running back that region has seen since George Walmaley of Goose Creek.

J. Cullen Browning of the Orange Leader nominates Gene (Teenay) Marks. Marks is playing on a team with a poor record but he hasn't yet been stopped. Browning calls him the finest catback in the state.

Dr. Barnard is more than 60 years old—I think. He never has told his family his exact age so you can't expect me to know.

But the way that doctor travels and the enthusiasm he exudes shows he's not more than 25 in stamina, and spirit.

The WAY it LOOKS to Bill Behrman

Well, what is this day and age coming to? Saturday afternoon at Butler Field, the Amarillo Golden Sandie band played "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

The significance of this? Just that this line old tune is the melody of the Pampa High School song. We are sure that it was meant only as an accompaniment to the fine ROTC drill unit from the Amarillo High School and not as any sort of a tribute to Amarillo's most bitter rival, Pampa. However, we guess, that if the Amarillo band director had realized what he was playing, he might not have done so. (Well, it's a thought, anyhow.)

I was very much put out as to the treatment shown to the two spotters for the Pampa News and radio station KPDM by Lubbock High School officials at the game in Lubbock Friday afternoon. After the two boys and I were maneuvered from one gate to another at Tech Field, I was finally admitted at the third gate we had been told to enter, but the two spotters were refused admittance to the park and were forced to buy general admission tickets at a $1.50 each to enter the park. This is a far cry from the $30 student tickets sold both in Amarillo and in Pampa at the gates for students of both the host school and visiting schools, and it is the first time this season that any member of the staff of either the paper or the radio station has been refused admittance to a football game on the basis that he was working the game either for the paper or the station.

Pampa will be the site of a District Golden Gloves tournament to be held after the first of January and, also, the site of a district AAU basketball tournament later in the spring.

An all-city elimination boxing tournament will be held for boys in the high school class, and the winners of this meet will be eligible to fight in the high school division of the Golden Gloves tournament. The winners in both the high school division and the open division of the district fights will fight in the regional bouts to be held in Amarillo January 27-31.

However, only the winners of the open division of the Amarillo tournament will be sent to Fort Worth to enter the state Golden Gloves tourney.

All boys, who are interested in boxing, are urged to begin workouts at home. And in the near future a place will be named where the boys will be able to workout under the supervision of a coach.

Wichita Falls Rated Top Schoolboy Eleven

DALLAS, (AP)—The Wichita Falls Coyotes are still the No. 1 high school football team in Texas according to sportswriters who participate in the Dallas Morning News' weekly poll.

The scribes voted Wichita Falls first by three points over Odessa, defending state champion, this week.

Longview's Lobos were ranked third, followed by Brackenridge (San Antonio), Austin, Amarillo, Corpus Christi, Waxahachie, Arlington Heights and Lufkin.

Corsicana, Marshall, and Goose Creek dropped from among the first ten teams.

Layne Leads Conf. In Total Offense

DALLAS, (AP)—The three-cornered fight for leadership in total offense in the Southwest Conference has become a one-man show—and Bobby Layne of Texas is the ringmaster.

Layne moved 117 yards ahead of Clyde Scott of Arkansas last week as he brought his passing total to 851 yards. Bounding Bobby has gained 68 on the ground, giving him a total of 906.

Scott had a bad day against Rice and could push his total to only 789 yards while Doak Walker of Southern Methodist, who was within striking distance last week, now has 663 yards and is far away.

Scott held the leadership in ball-carrying with his 531 yards on 117 runs. Walker stayed in second place with 467 and 107 carries.

Second to Layne in passing is Duryl Baly of Texas A and M with 443 yards on 36 completions out of 73 attempts. Layne has connected on 53 out of 94 and eight of his throws have produced touchdowns.

In pass-receiving there is a tie in yardage with Barney Welch of A and M and Byron Gilly of Texas each making 219. Welch, however, has caught 17 passes and Gilly 13.

Stan Holmig of Texas A and M leads the punters with an average of 39.3 on 61 boots. Several kickers have higher averages but none has punned half as many times as Holmig.

In team offense Texas is far out in front with 2629 yards in eight games. Baylor is second with 2593 in seven games. Texas Christian tops the defensive department, allowing only 180.6 yards per game. Baylor is second, giving up 190.6.

A and M leads in passing with 1023 yards. Texas in rushing with 675.

Marshall Seeks Immediate Aid

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall said today the government is working on a program to help China with the expectation that any funds will be used with "about 70 percent efficiency."

Marshall also told the House Affairs Committee it "is our feeling" that any assistance to Europe ought to be supplied immediately to keep the supply pipelines filled.

The secretary appeared before the committee for questioning on the administration's foreign spending program as he did yesterday before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. And the questions started out today covering much the same ground they did yesterday.

Joint Session Of Congress to Hear President

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman will deliver to a joint session of Congress in person Monday a message calling for stop-gap European relief aid and for inflation curbs at home.

The White House said Mr. Truman will speak to members of the House and Senate in the House of Representatives chamber at 1:30 p. m. (EST).

Mr. Truman is continuing a round of conferences with representatives of industry, agriculture and labor as he and his staff work on the special message.

The President called in M. W. Thatcher of St. Paul, Minn., president of the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives, and other representatives of this group. He also had an appointment with Earl C. Shreve, president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, and Philip Murray, CIO president.

He talked earlier in the week with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, and on Monday with Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said the discussions have been concerned with the whole food situation and aid to Europe.

Ross said he has no idea of the length of the President's speech to Congress Monday, that it is still in the early draft stages.

The decision to address the joint session Monday was announced after an agreement with Congressional leaders.

Ross said Mr. Truman will hold his regular weekly news conference at 3 p. m. (EST) tomorrow.

Scoutmasters Will Hold Monthly Meet
Santa Fe Trail District Scoutmasters will hold their monthly meeting at the Council Boy Scout office at 8 p. m. Friday. Council Commissioner Huey Laycock will preside.

Up for discussion will be the coming "Sears Roebuck" parade and the District Round-Up, to be held at the American Legion Hall Dec. 1, November 5.

Testimony in Hughes Probe Mixed

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Ma. Gen. Bennett E. Meyers told senators today he and his wife netted $90,000 from a $4,000,000 wartime bond deal about which he said he consulted then Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau.

Morgenthau told him he "didn't see how I could go wrong," Meyers said.

The retired general's story of the transaction came atop contradictory testimony from him and Howard Hughes as to whether Meyers sought a loan from the airplane manufacturer for a bond deal.

Hughes testified Meyers tried to borrow $200,000 to finance a $10,000,000 bond speculation at a time when Meyers, as an Air Force officer, was negotiating with Hughes on warplane contracts.

Meyers called that a lie. He said Hughes, through an attorney, offered to lend him $250,000, but he refused the loan in indignation.

When Meyers related that he actually made a bond deal, he said he talked about it with Chairman Marriner Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board as well as Morgenthau. He said he believes Eccles told him the same thing Morgenthau did.

Meyers told the committee he probably should have reported to superiors the various offers he says Hughes made to him—the offer of a loan, and of a job, and to give him a house near Los Angeles.

That was his reply when Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the Senate War Investigating Subcommittee demanded:

"Now general I'll ask you why you did not report it (offer of a house near Los Angeles) to higher authority?"

Meyers testified yesterday that the offers were made in late 1943 and early 1944 when Hughes was negotiating for multi-million dollar airplane contracts.

Meyers said at that time as deputy chief of Air Force Procurement and had to pass on the $40,000,000 in contracts given Hughes, wealthy plane designer and movie producer.

The Senate committee is inquiring into circumstances of the award of the contracts.

Hughes' own story is that Meyers asked him for a job and for a $200,000 loan, but that he refused.

Calling that a lie, Meyers told See HUGHES, Page 2

Court Refuses to Disturb Judgment On Fraternities

AUSTIN—(AP)—A second challenge of the authority of Texas school boards to say whether or not fraternities and sororities may be permitted in public schools was struck down by the Supreme Court today.

The court refused to disturb a judgment of the Court of Civil Appeals denying a permanent injunction to restrain the trustees of the Abilene Independent School District from issuing an order designed to bar secret fraternities and sororities in the public schools.

The trial court had dismissed the application for an injunction against the school board, and the City Appeals Court had upheld the trial court.

An earlier effort by James H. Wilson and others challenging the Abilene School Board by temporary injunction was similarly turned down by the trial court, the Court of Civil Appeals, and Supreme Court.

The Supreme Court today refused Wilson's petition for a writ of error against the judgment of the Court of Civil Appeals, with the notation it could find "no reversible error." That had the effect of sustaining the judgment of the intermediate court.

The 50th Legislature passed a bill to outlaw secret societies in the public schools. This was vetoed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester with the condition that school boards already had the authority to control such matters, and the new law was unnecessary.

Sunday School Teacher Drowns Own Children

RAVENNA, O.—(AP)—Sheriff George E. Shields yesterday said a 29-year-old Sunday school teacher had admitted in a verbal statement drowning her two children late Monday in a half-filled tub of scalding water.

The officer said the woman, Mrs. Edward McVeigh, Jr., will be charged with murder in the deaths of Malcolm, five and David, two months, at nearby Geauga-on-the-Lake.

Four Jews Die As British Raid Hideout

JERUSALEM—(AP)—Three Jewish girls and a youth were killed today in a gun battle with British troops in a coastal plain house, suspected of being an underground Irgun Zvai Leumi hideout.

Two other young Jews were wounded in the encounter, between Raanana and Helvia.

Military sources at Tel Aviv said four Jews were captured in a raid on the isolated house where the Army was tipped the Irgun was conducting "armed exercises."

A British police sergeant was killed and three other British police officers were wounded by sub-machinegun fire while they sat in front of a cafe on the Kingsway, main street of Haifa.

A fifth British policeman in the party escaped injury in the attack, which officials said was directed at the seized group from a rooftop across the street.

It was the first serious outbreak of violence in Haifa since Sept. 29, when extremists blew up a district police station, killing 10 persons—including four British policemen.

The cafe which figured in today's shooting is situated only a block from the damaged police station, which is now undergoing repairs.

The assailants escaped. Police said they were young Jews, who assembled in the cafe as the policemen were drinking tea and then left. A short time later an office in the upper floor of the building across the street was robbed, apparently by the same group, and some of the Jews in the cafe were fired down on the policemen.

The cafe's customers scattered in panic, eyewitnesses said. Officials said the condition of the three wounded men was grave.

City Approves Permit for Cab

The City Commission this morning gave a verbal okay to the Veterans Cab Company to resume business after a three months cessation of activity by the company.

Nelson L. Day, original owner of the Veterans Cab and Marvin Roberts who purchased the rights from Day several months ago, appeared before the commission to request permission to resume operations.

A check by the city manager disclosed that the two permits for two cabs in the company were still in force, however, insurance will have to be renewed and the bond transferred from Roberts back to the original owner before the cabs can legally operate again.

Day told the commission he had several locations in view to erect a new cab office and that one of the cabs was undergoing repairs. Formal papers for the renewed operations will be drawn by next week.

A local small businessman told the commission he had been told by the Equalization Board the valuation of his business property and equipment would not be raised this year. He added the board later sent him a notice that his valuation had been raised from $825 to $1,010. Acting Mayor Crawford Atkins and City Manager Steve Matthews told him they would look into the change to determine its cause and advise him of results at a later date.

An expenditure of $9,599.39 for the removal of the cast iron pipe and fixtures from the Camp Howe area, plus an inspection cost of $175 was approved by the commission. The pipe was removed from the Army camp in August and September after the city succeeded in bidding on it from War Assets Administration. The fee for inspection was paid to the Gainesville city manager who checked every piece loaded for breakage and reported by letter to the commission. Bids for future water well surveys were opened for discussion.

Cuero Turkey Trot Draws 65,000 Persons

CUERO, Tex.—(AP)—Turkey was king in Cuero yesterday as 65,000 persons turned out for one of the most brilliant turkey trots ever staged here.

Participants in the parade included thousands of strutting gobblers.

Duchesses and Dukes from 18 nearby counties were in the line and each required more than an hour and a half to pass a given point.

The turkey trot is an annual event in Cuero, heart of the poultry and turkey industry.

Convention Hears Financial Reports

AMARILLO—(AP)—The Baptist Foundation of Texas, which vests and administers assets of Baptist institutions, has made $1,000 for every dollar it has lost, and at ratio of 1,000 to one will never go broke, the Baptist General Convention of Texas was told today.

Vernon W. Bruner of Midland said in an address prepared for delivery today that total assets of the foundation stand at approximately $14,000,000 with an additional $1,250,000 in sight, real estate worth $500,000 and will on file worth more than $1,000,000.

Other speakers for the day—second day of the three-day state convention, include Louie D. Newton, president of the Southern Baptist Convention, Atlanta, Ga., and J. W. Bruner of Dallas, endowment secretary for the Baptist General Convention.

Five thousand delegates are here for the sixty-second annual session and the 2,600-seat Municipal Auditorium was filled to overflowing last night and hundreds of disappointed Baptists milled around exhibits in the auditorium lobby, unable to get in.

For a while, latecomers stood in the aisles but then they were ordered out, as a safety measure by firemen.

The Baptist foundation handles funds for Baptist institutions like Baylor University, Baylor Hospital, Dallas, and Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. It was born in Amarillo 17 years ago. It diversifies its investments, Yearby said, adding: "Our present mix is about as follows: mortgage loans, 20 percent; oil loans, 25 percent; bonds, 25 percent; stocks, common and preferred, 25 percent; real estate, 5 percent."

"Our phenomenal profit and 'loss reserve of more than a $1,000,000 gives confidence and strength. We have come to a place where the foundation carries itself and operates without expense to the institutions it serves."

Texas Baptists' largest benefactors, next to Mr. and Mrs. John G. Hardin of Burkburnett, now deceased, were the late T. G. and Mrs. Ida Hendrick of Abilene, deceased. The Baptist foundation in August received from the executors of the Hendrick estate $1,600,000 in cash and government bonds. The $600,000 represented 40 percent of the Hendrick Memorial Hospital of Abilene. The $1,000,000 goes to the Baptist General Convention for the following causes:

Ten percent to the Southwest Baptist Theological Seminary, ten percent to the Relief and Amity Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, ten percent to the Baptist General Convention of Texas to be used in its ordinary foreign mission work, 40 percent to the Foreign Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention, and 30 percent to the Home-Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention.

J. W. Bruner, addressing the convention on endowments, presented a report on endowments that showed endowments for Baptist institutions in Texas this year increased $2,427,965. Endowment—See BAPTISTS, Page 2

Election on Civil Service Plan Slated Here for December 4

In answer to many telephone to reporters and city officials as queries and verbal queries put to what day the special election for firemen and policemen's civil service for Pampa will be held the following information is given:

The election will be held on Thursday, December 4. The poll will open at 8 a. m. and close at 7 p. m. All voting will be done in the City Commission Room, City Hall. One polling place is being used to cut down election expense since there are no candidates for office to be elected.

DC-6's Grounded After Plane Fire

GALLUP, N. M.—(AP)—At least five airlines grounded their huge DC-6 planes today, pending an inquiry into the cause of a fire which forced an American Airlines ship to make an emergency landing.

The Douglas Aircraft Corp., which builds the four-engined planes, also urged that all other users of them do likewise until cause of fires "have been established and eradicated."

Twenty-five passenger and crew personnel emerged unscathed yesterday after the American Airlines' DC-6 came in for a spectacular emergency landing at Gallup Airport with flames spouting from beneath its fuselage.

In quick succession American, United, Braniff, National Airlines and Panagra suspended flights of their DC-6s.

One source termed the fire "beyond doubt a near parallel to the blaring crash of a United Airlines DC-6 which killed 52 persons in Utah last month."

The American Airlines ship was en route from San Francisco to New York with Capt. Ewan W. Chaffield of Tulsa at the controls.

More than two score investigators representing government agencies and air lines, were on hand today to inspect the damaged plane.

An informant here who declined to be quoted by name expressed the view that the flames in both instances apparently originated in the heater compartment below the pressurized cabin. He did not elaborate.

A statement from Chairman C. R. Smith of the American Airlines Board in New York said Chaffield voiced a like opinion regarding his ship.

A Douglas company representative in Washington reported that 86 DC-6s had been delivered to the four airlines up to Nov. 3 although a few have not yet been placed in service. Deliveries included 42 to American, five to Braniff, 35 to United and four to National. In addition, the Belgian Airline, Sabena, and Panagra (Pan American Grace) have two each.

Alerted by a smoke warning indicator, Chaffield discovered the

Soap Box Derby Pic to Show at LaNora Theater

Local interest in the All-American Soap Box Derby will be increased Thursday when the LaNora Theater begins showing an 18-minute movie on the classic in connection with a Tarzan picture.

The film, screened by Warner Bros., will be shown through Saturday. It is a depiction of the Derby as it goes from the various communities to the national finals at Akron, Ohio, and is a showing of the 1946 races, when Carl Kennedy of Pampa was a contestant.

The Pampa Daily News, co-sponsor of the event here, has signed a contract with national sponsor, Chevrolet Division of General Motors, for the sixth running of the Derby here.

It is the desire of the sponsors to make the 1947 race the biggest ever held here. Preliminary interest points to a successful year.

The winter begins the 1947 race here at Pampa—time and date to be set sometime next spring—will compete next August at Akron for national honors.

Those honors include, first, a 4-year scholarship to the college of the winner's choice; second, a new automobile, and so on for an extra 10 or more placements.

TWO INJURED IN TRAIN WRECK—An air view of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas' crack Bluebonnet Special, running from Kansas City to Dallas, which derailed near Leonard, Texas, after plunging into the rear of a slow-moving freight during a dense, early morning fog. Two train crewmen were injured. The wreck occurred in the Leonard Cemetery through which the railroad passes.

306 in Memorial Hospital, Hous-

In another address prepared for delivery A. D. Foreman, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church at Amarillo, said "We who glory in being Baptists should first glory in being Christians. We cannot, must not, be narrow and little in a day like this. The love of Christ constrains us to love and to try to understand all our Christian brethren.

It must unite Christians into a spiritual solidarity in this day that may be its last opportunity as surely as Paul sought to unite the divided Corinthian brethren."

J. Howard Williams, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention, said in a speech last night that one-half of all church people in Texas now are Baptists.
"Texas Baptists have grown to a mighty people. They have increased to a grand total of one million members in more than 3,500 churches. We must not be unmindful of the tremendous responsibility as goes with such strength. More than any other group of Christians the general conditions in Texas, both good and evil, can be laid to the door of the Baptists in Texas."

Dr. Wallace Bassett, pastor of the Cliff Temple Baptist Church, Dallas, and president of the convention, told delegates "your responsibility is great. The world is depending on you—therefore, come let us live the religion we preach."

Newton, in his address that fol-reference to communism, imploring Baptists to do more personal is going up and down this world tearing up everything in its way and make no mistake about it, that exactly is what it intends to do."

Just before Bassett introduced

the House Foreign Affairs Committee (H. A. M. EST) to repeat his plea for emergency and long range assistance to Europe.

And it posed the possibility of a split between Taft and Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee over the amount to be made available for overseas economic programs.

Taft told a news conference yesterday he is "absolutely opposed" to spending an additional $2,657, 000,000 on foreign aid before June 30.

Although Taft said he wants the emergency aid program to go ahead, he contended that over-all outlays ought to be held to the present level of foreign spending.

With this estimated at about $4,500,000,000 yearly, Taft's stand would leave a considerable gap between the $7,500,000,000 in additional funds Marshall has said are needed to carry on European relief and recovery in the 15 months beginning April 1.

Taft's figure also is below the $8,750,000,000 which a citizen Senate, headed by Secretary of Commerce Harriman recommend-as the first year's outlay.

The Senate Committee called Harriman before it today to question him in detail about the citizens group report.

the sonnets that Hughes, through an attorney offered to lend him $250,000 and he (Meyers) was "very, very indignant."

Ferguson recalling what Meyers had testified, demanded of the retired general:
"Does not that amount to corruption through an attempt to corrupt an official of the government of the United States?"

"Well, sir," Meyers replied, "I don't know if it was corrupt or not. He wanted me to come to work after the war."

After pressing Meyers for all additional details about the offer he said Hughes made, Ferguson
wanted to know:

"Why did you not accept this job and this house so you could 'write your own ticket'?"

(Meyers had testified that Hughes, when offering him first a job during the war and then when the war ended, had told him he could "write his own ticket" as to salary.)

The general said he had no interest while on active duty,
"except winning the war."

"That's the reason you assign to it now," Ferguson said, "As late as a year ago you said you were dickering with him for a job."

Meyers drew himself up in the witness chair and in a tone of indignation asked if the Senate group "can imagine" an officer accepting such an offer during wartime.

Take Off Ugly Fat With This Home Recipe

Here is an inexpensive home recipe for taking off unguely weight and helping to bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Just get from your druggist, four ounces of liquid Barcolite. Add enough cranefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take two tablespoonful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly.
Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back-breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

Challenge To Love

By ETHEL HAMILL

© Arcadia House, Inc.; Distributed by NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: On the opening day of college Camellia Austin, daughter of the Dean, is chided by young Professor Herbert for not having written papers for her classes. She warns her that she can't go on writing forever over Gary Harlow, who was killed in the war. Cam had not been in love with Gary, any more than she had been in love with other young men whom she had dated and later written to until she met when Gary left his insurance to her on his "fiancee" everyone believed it to be a tragic romance. Cam has tried to explain her love to no avail. Now she tells Herbert she is through romancing, that she is not going to be interested in anyone else.

HERBERT leaned forward, answering the words but not the unspoken thought. "All very well for transients, my dear. But I'm permanent here, and in line for a full professorship. I love you, Camellia. I can offer you a secure home, the sort of atmosphere you've grown up—"

"Herbert, please! I've been trying to tell you. I'm not worth trying. I guess maybe they just left whatever it takes for a big, bang-up love affair out of my make-up."

"The professor said, 'A girl with your case history—'"

"Oh, yes, I've been stirred up to a fine froth, time after time, by moonlight and wartime partings. But after a few weeks, Herbert, there's always been somebody else."

"You mean to say no man's ever made a lasting impression? Never?"

"No one. Never."

"Well—to be quite accurate, no man but one. He had been a freshman at Carter the year before she'd been ready to enter college, back in those threshold days when she still had more the Dean's pretty kid daughter than a campus personality in her own right. He had been a farm boy, tall and hard-muscled, with blue eyes the deep color of morning violets and a mop of red-gold hair."

After that first Christmas vacation, he hadn't returned to Carter. Cam had heard her father discussing it, once, with another member of the faculty. Too bad about that young Conroy, he'd said. No money of his own to continue, and no more scholarship aid available for the semester. A promising lad, too.

That much, much younger Cam had cried herself to sleep the night she had learned that Joel Conroy's days at Carter were over. To her, he had been more than "promising."

THEY'D seen each other on the moss-strewn campus walks. They'd skated together on the first strong ice of the season, at Miller's Pond. They'd sipped iced sodas—two straws, one glass—at the Kandy Kitchen. They'd held hands, awkwardly, behind the rented ported chairs at President Balfour's annual Thanksgiving Day reception.

Nothing more than that, she had thought, when he was gone. Her world had seemed empty for months and months. And, strangely, all the laughing young navigators she had seen off to their advanced training had become mere blurred reflections of Joel.

Yes, one boy had made a "lasting impression" on her. However, she might deny it to Herbert now.

"I'll have to hurry," she apologized, rising. "Just time left to change for dinner, and you know what Dad is about medication. Especially tonight, since it's Maurice's first meal in residence."

"Maurine?" It sounded like the first question in a class quiz, the demanding way that Herbert said it.

"My young cousin, Maurine Blair. Her father's Senator Blair. My mother was his sister." She was moving as she spoke. "She's entering with this year's freshmen, and on account of the family ties she'll be living at our house instead of in one of the dorms."

"Wait!" Herbert commanded, behind her. "About my date—"

"It wouldn't do any good to give you one, Herbert. You'd just want to kiss me the minute we were alone. And I'd have to refuse you."

She could hear him still spluttering where she had left him, as she sailed deftly through the throng clogging the aisle.

THE booths were behind her now. She had only to run the gauntlet of the soda fountain to reach open air again.

She knew many of the students past whom she was beating her way like a jungle traveler in the atom bomb "has long ceased to exist," and that "we live in a period when all roads lead to communism."

These striking declarations—and others—which were made in a Moscow address yesterday, on the eve of the Russian Revolution's thirtieth anniversary appear to have been intended more as a pep talk to Communists and fellow travelers, both at home and abroad than as an effort to bedevil the democracies. That's not to try to believe Mr. Molotov's effort, since he is an accomplished speaker and did a workmanlike job of propaganda making for those at whom it was aimed.

The foreign minister's announcement about the atomic bomb was the high-point of his pronouncement. He made it calmly and with studied language, such as would befit a revelation about the most momentous development of our age. It was a clever move.

Of course Molotov is right. The broad information about the structure of the bomb long ago ceased to be a secret, the experts tell us. The information is available to Russia, or even to you and me. However, it's equally true that there are a thousand and one technical details which still are secret, and without them the bomb couldn't be made.

Another interesting point in Mr. Molotov's address was his reiteration of what recently has become a Red theme-song—that capitalism and communism can exist side by side in peace. This is a complete about-face for the Bolshevik tenet that there was no place in the world for capitalism and it must be destroyed.

The Soviet foreign minister, while declaring that capitalism is "on its last legs" recalled Prime Minister Stalin's interview last May with Harold E. Stassen, candidate for the Republican presidential nomination in the U. S. A. Molotov pointed out that Stalin had said the difference between economic systems was not an obstacle to peace.

"If collaboration was possible in wartime, why not in peace time," asked Molotov.

You will note by the way, that neither Generalissimo Stalin nor Mr. Molotov claimed Communism and an alien inn could live together in the same nation. So we should recognize the subtle distinction and not allow ourselves to be tripped over it.

Scouters to Take Training Course

A Santa Fe District Senior Scouting training course will begin tonight at the Boy Scout office in City Hall. Any interested leaders are invited to the meetings, during which a program will be set up for Scouts of 15 to 18 years of age.

The course will be conducted Wednesday and Thursday nights of this week and next.

Pampa does not have a Senior Scouting program at present but 12 boys have signed applications, and as soon as the present leader course is completed, application will be made for organizing the senior unit here.

Scout Executive Hugo Olsen said the Explorer Scout program will be installed here, this being comparable to Sea Scouting or Air Scout units.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles: else the food may ferment. Sour food, gold indigestion, loss of appetite, underweight, bid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood, in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red-blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps build strong muscles.

Week's Wrestling Card to Feature Harrel, Parker

Sailor Parker of Jacksonville, Mississippi, will square off against "Handsome Hank" Harrel of New Orleans in the main event of Thursday night's wrestling card at the Sportatorium, promoter Vic Burnett announced this morning.

Parker, once defeated and once victor, in his two appearances in Pampa will meet Harrel in the best two out of three falls with a one hour time limit.

Harrel, winner of the Sportatorium's first event last week over Ace Abbott, is the 24-year-old wonder wrestler that pinned Leroy McGurk, junior heavyweight champion of the world, in 24 seconds in Amarillo five months ago. However, McGurk won the best of the two out of three falls in this match. This was the quickest fall ever to be registered against the crafty champion.

The Sportatorium's first event will feature Gene Blackley, of Anson, Texas against Stocky Kneilson, of Blue Eye, Mo. Kneilson, a bewhiskered boy, who of beauty prize will be making his first appearance before local wrestling fans. Blackley was defeated by Ace Abbott in his first appearance in Pampa three weeks ago on the Sportatorium's opening card.

Olin Boynton will referee the Thursday night matches.

Elk Hunt Ace Gives Out Tips

AP Newsfeature.
SHELTON, Wash.—Rine Miller, ace of elk hunters in these parts, has been pestered for years to reveal the secrets of the chase. At last he has given in and here is his recipe:

1. Find a big herd, keep to windward so they won't smell you.
2. Run in, bulldog all the bulls and turn them on their backs. Show their horns in the ground to hold them.
3. Go around and feel for prime meat.
4. Take the one you want and turn the others free, standing in the wind so they will smell you and disperse.
5. Pry your choice beast loose and ride him into your car. Show him into the trunk, shoot him and head for home.

Davis of HSU Is Leader in Yards Gained Rushing

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK—Wilton Davis of Hardin Simmons was displaced Bobby Forbes of Florida as leader in yards gained rushing, the National Collegiate Athletic Bureau reported today.

Davis got 230 ground yards last week against West Texas State, a single game rushing high for the season. That made his total 808 yards against 684 for Forbes.

When Charlie Conery of Mississippi completed 19 passes in 24 attempts against Tennessee Saturday, it established him as the third player in collegiate history to reach the century mark in completions.

Conery's 100 completions in 183 tries for 1,027 yards and 15 touchdowns means he's thrown 47 more and completed 27 more for five more touchdowns than any other competitor.

With two games remaining on the Ole Miss schedule—Conery stands a good chance to set a new forward passing record.

The record in 114 completions by Wilson "Bud" Schwenk of Washington University, St. Louis, in 1941. Only other player to pass the 100-mark was Ray Evans of Kansas, with 101 in 1942.

Conery's 19 completions were good for 246 yards and four touchdowns, and he scored two touchdowns himself while picking up 39 ground yards in 12 rushes.

This kept him 299 yards ahead of his nearest competitor in total offense, gains from both rushing and passing. Conery has figured in 274 plays for 1,856 yards.

In second place is diminutive Bill Williams of Idaho, with 1,057 yards, only other grinder to pass the 1,000-yard figure.

The figures showed Bobby Layne of Texas eighth in total offense with 906 yards and Clyde Scott of Arkansas 14th in the same division with 789.

Layne had completed 83 of 94 to take seventh place in forward pass offense.

Freddie Brown of Texas Tech was tenth with 48 of 100 completed. In sixth place in rushing offense was Ed Smith of Texas Mines who had a total of 551 yards.

Colorado Springs, Colo.—(AP)—Colorado College hockey fans will see teams from both extremes of the United States this season. Harvard University's sextet will engage the Tigers here in two games, and the San Francisco Olympic Club will furnish opposition from the other end of the nation.

Harvester-Amarillo Clash May Decide I-AA's Playoff Entry

Once every two years since 1929, the Pampa Harvesters and the Amarillo Golden Sandies have met at Harvester Park, in one of the strongest high school football rivalries in the state.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 these two teams will meet at Harvester Park for the 22nd time. And as in years past the local high school grid team will be the underdogs.

Saturday's game, which should attract approximately 15,000 Panhandle football enthusiasts will decide who will represent District I-AA in the state playoffs, which begin Dec.

The record in the Golden Sandstorm will clinch the title for them. A win for the Harvesters will throw the district championship into a tie between the Green and Gold team from Pampa and the Sandies.

However, in the event the Harvesters win, the team that has defeated Borger Thanksgiving Day, they will be awarded the district pennant because of an inter-scholastic ruling stating that in the event two teams tie for the district leadership, the team that has beaten the other of the two tied teams, will be awarded the right to represent the district in the state playoffs.

Of the 21 meetings between the two teams, the Harvesters have won three times. In 1931, 1941 and 1943, all three of these games being played at Harvester Park. The Harvesters have not beaten the Sandies at Butler Field in Amarillo.

In 1941, the first year of "Buck" Prejan as head coach of the Harvesters, the local team downed the Sandies 16-12. And then two years later, the first year that Otis Coffey was head mentor of the Harvesters, Pampa won 7 to 0. And this is Coach Tom Tippe and Alvin Noonester's first year at Pampa High School.

Since 1931, there hasn't been more than 14 points difference in the two teams when they played at the local park. In any of Pampa's three victories the Harvesters have never beaten the Sandies by more than seven points. In 1933 the Harvesters lost to the Sandstorm 9 to 7, but later was awarded the contest because Amarillo had played an ineligible player.

BOWLING

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—It's beginning to look like a love feast between the Orange Bowl and the University of Virginia, which figures its football team is better than it looked against Penn. Orange Bowl scouts here say "it's no disgrace to lose a team like Penn" and the Cavaliers are far from averse to spending New Year's Day in Miami (who would be?). Jack Lavelle, who lost a steady job with the end of Army-Notre Dame relations (he scouted Army for the Irish) maintains that if the Cadets "had a few more guns" no team could stop them. But the Notre Dame team, he adds, "is what the master would call adequate."

After hearing Spec Sanders telling how he got his legs into condition for football by running on ploughed fields, Steve Owen added: "They used to tell us kids that running barefoot on ploughed ground would make your feet spread. After looking at myself, I think I must have sat down a great deal."

On De Pence
After listening to Rutgers Coach Harvey Harman praise young Frankie Burns as a great defensive player as well as a smart signal caller and an exceptional passer, Hook Mylin of NYU, whose team encounters Burns at Rutgers Saturday, got up in meeting yesterday and remarked: "Burns tackled everybody on the Harvard team except Coach Dick Harlow—and I'm not going to get within five yards of the sidelines Saturday."

Frankie to Get Chance Friday Night To Show Girls Can Play Football

STINNETT—(AP)—Frankie Groves gets her chance Friday night to show girls can play high school football just like the boys.

Frankie, 16, is five feet four and weighs a solid 123 and she's going to try to tackle for Stinnett High School in the big game with Groom.

Coach Truman Johnson says Frankie, whom he considers quite capable of handling a linebacker's assignment on his team, will start the game if Stinnett kicks. "She's a better tackler than blocker and I want to get the Groom receiver dead in his tracks," explained Johnson.

But whether Stinnett kicks or receives Frankie is going to play. A crowd of 5,000—all the field can hold including standing room—is expected to watch the first Texas schoolgirl perform on the gridiron.

There is no rule against it and she has her parents' consent. Mrs. Tom Groves, her mother, said boys of the community had refused to let Frankie play football with them because she is considered too tough.

But Groom can't do anything about it and Friday night Frankie will be on Stinnett's side—so that's that.

Frankie has been a little surprised by all the fan mail, telephone calls and such that have come to her from over the nation. "I'm serious about this business," she said. "It's not a stunt."

Coach Johnson put on a crowd of 5,000 girls in the gymnasium. She has taken work-outs regularly with the squad this week and yesterday doubled the conditioning because she also played a game with the girls basketball team.

Tonight she will go to prayer meeting at the Baptist Church but all other nights will be in bed by 9:30 o'clock.

It will be Stinnett High's last game of the season. The team has lost five and won three this year and is out of the district race.

"Frankie means business," said Coach Johnson. "I think she'll play a good game."

LSU President States Drinkers Not Welcome

BATON ROUGE, La.—(AP)—Louisiana State University President Harold W. Stokes said tonight last night that persons who wish to use the school football stadium as a place for drinking are not welcome at LSU home games.

Stokes' statement was issued in connection with the recent change of a Mississippi newspaper editor, Oliver Emmerich of the McComb Enterprise Journal.

Emmerich said that he witnessed a "drunken revelry" among spectators who appeared to be more interested in the whisky bottle than the football battle between Louisiana and Mississippi. Stokes said he felt that "a small minority of irresponsible persons" had invited Emmerich's criticism.

Yards Lost on Punting As Feet Miss the Ball

PORTLAND, Ore.—(AP)—When the Lincoln and Jefferson high school junior football teams tangled here, the result was the most unlikely punting duel on record.

Jefferson's punter, rushed by the whole Lincoln line, swung his foot mightily—and missed the ball completely. As one man, the Lincoln line fell on it.

Three unavailing plays later, Lincoln went to punt. The Jefferson line charged in—and another clean miss.

Jefferson took over, got nowhere on the ground, and along came the fourth down. While the Jefferson coach covered his eyes, the team went into a punt formation, and—well, it happened again.

A tourist's eye view of Havana:
Narrow streets and honking horns... dark, neatly dressed natives... friendliness and courtesy (you don't bark a number to a telephone operator—you say "Senorita, will you kindly do me the favor of ringing 2346?")... beautiful statues—including one to the Battleship Maine and its heroes.
The pleasant odor of seafood... hawkers and lottery tickets and their signs—they even operate in front of cathedrals... glistening mahogany furniture in homes, stores and hotels... the omnipresent police, who rate high in Havana.
Sidewalk cafes... mid-day siestas... the Capitol building, swankier than ours in Washington... jai alai games... baseball parks—baseball is the national sport, next to gambling—(Cubans will bet on anything anytime).
Women wearing such low-necked dresses you fail to notice if they've dropped the hemline or not... flowers... short, drenching rains... typically Cuban architecture, colorful and attractive.
The tingling Cuban music, and

NAPOLEON

the dances that go with it!... Cuba libres—rum and coca cola... night clubs by the dozen—the city doesn't go to bed.
The amazing Cuban swimmers, who follow incoming ships for miles, shouting "Cholito! Hey, Cholito! Gimme nickel, Cholito!" and then dive for coins as tourists toss them into the water.
American products, American trademarks, American signs, customs—Cuba is possibly the most Americanized of all Latin American countries, although Cubans are intensely proud of their republic and sometimes resent the fact there is so much of America in Cuba.
Perfect service with both smiles and courtesy... but prices are higher than many expect—a Cuban peso is worth one dollar, U. S. (not five for one, like in Mexico).
The sing-song chanting of hawkers. The countless clubs... every Cuban, rich or poor, belongs to at least one... the magnificent homes, Morro Castle, near where the Battleship Maine was sunk... Radio anywhere on the dial—Havana has 40 radio stations.
And just a few minutes from the city, the plantations growing coffee (it's far stronger than most), sugar cane (from which rum is made), tobacco (for the famed hand-made Havana cigars), chocolate (Hershey is active in Cuba), bananas, numerous tropical fruits.

Lovesick Postman Jailed in London

LONDON—(AP)—A lovesick postman was ordered jailed yesterday for trying to court the unwilling daughter of a peer.
Short, bespectacled Richard Harrison, 34, who delivered mail to the home of Lord and Lady Norton of Fillongley, Warwickshire, fell in love with the Hon. Mary Norton, 25, and took to walking into his lordship's hall unannounced to ask her to go for walks.
A week ago Lord Norton obtained a court order banning him from the mansion for life. Accused of violating the order, Harrison was ordered committed yesterday for contempt of court.
The court asked what excuse he had, he replied: "I'm in love with his lordship's daughter—that's sufficient excuse."

In the Nile Valley of Egypt, largely an agricultural community, there are about 700 people for every square mile, about 15 times the population density of Iowa.
mahogany, gardens growing flowers from which perfume is produced, pineapples... and everywhere, majestic royal palms and coconut trees.
Rocklights... rushing taxis... soft, musical Spanish.
Havana, a curious, fascinating combination of today and yesterday.

Lefors Crowns His FHA King

LEFORS — (Special) — Ending the local chapter's observance of National FHA Week, Nov. 2-8, Jack Cullison, Lefors High School Senior, was crowned king of the Lefors FHA Chapter in a special assembly Friday.
He was crowned by Jeanne Staley, president, and presented with a scepter of authority by Barbara McCullick, president of Area 1.
The king's court and escorts were: Harold Sims and Dorothy Howard; Tommie Jinks and Christine Guthrie; C. H. Keeton and Louise Keeton; and Fred Newsom — their hats on. I only remember seeing one hat knocked off in any of those brawls — what do they use, glue?
Well, madam, the hats are so small and the heads are so big in Hollywood, that it's a tight fit.

Deanna Durbin looks mighty cute in those pigtales for "Up in Central Park." Lyn Duddy wires from New York that the boys in "Brigadoon" have adopted the "new look." They've dropped their kilts at least two inches.

The XIT Brand

THE story of how 3,000,000 grassy acres became the greatest ranch under one fence in the world.

By J. EVETTS HALEY
ILLUSTRATED BY H. D. BUGBEE

When the state of Texas drafted its constitution in 1876, it set aside a tract of land on its far frontier to be used in paying for a capitol. When the magnificent, red granite structure was completed twelve years later, three million acres of this land had been deeded to a Chicago syndicate in exchange for the building. Texas, long on land and short on cash, had driven a hard bargain, for millions of other acres just as good could have been bought at the time for less than a third of the price.

To meet the heavy financial outlay for conversion of the lands, the Chicago syndicate, made up primarily of John V. Farwell, the great merchant, and his brother, Senator C. E. Farwell, organized the Capitol Freehold Land and Investment Company, Limited, and at once raised five million dollars by the sale of bonds in England. Thus, with the raw land in Texas, the savings of conservative investors in Britain, and the managerial genius of broad-gauged business men in Chicago, the Capitol Syndicate Ranch came into existence in the middle eighties.

There was nothing in the history of the West quite like it. From the northwest corner of the Panhandle, it bordered on New Mexico across ten counties in Texas, and for some 225 grassy miles to the south. Barbed wire fencing was bought by the ranch in car-load lots, side-tracked on the nearest railroads at Dodge City, Kansas; Trinidad, Colorado; Springer, New Mexico; and Colorado, Texas; and snaked hundreds of miles to the fence-line by mule and ox teams. These three million acres were eventually enclosed to become the greatest ranch under one fence in the world.

The manager, an expansive cowman from Kansas and Indian Territory who branded BQ, and hence was known as "Barbecue"

Campbell, was still casting about for a brand in the summer of '85 when Ab Blocker drifted in with the first herd. Blocker, anxious to be on his way, and spurred by that suggestive impulse that prompts artists to original conceptions of color and design, musicians to new melodies and refrains, and cowboys simply to the creation of brands, dragged his boot-heel through the corral dust to form the pattern, XIT.

Campbell seized upon it. Blocker forelooted the first cow to be branded, and thereafter XIT crews burnt this brand into the hides of hundreds of thousands of cattle. Then they got another great range beyond the Yellowstone, and each year several great herds, maneuvered with finished ease by riders who knew the "cow business", were driven up the Montana Trail a thousand miles from Texas. Two years later the brand, marking prime and heavy beef off Montana's ranges, was on the Chicago Stockyards in trainload lots.

Legends grew up about this far-flung enterprise, and the XIT came to signify "Ten in Texas", as imaginative minds reasoned from the fact that it spanned in whole or in part ten great counties in the Lone Star State. Spurred and boot-ed men sweated and slaved, and even battled and bled, in defense of their land and loyalties, as well as the mark of law and order, and of decent, honest ownership.

Those who boldly conceived this splendid enterprise are dead and gone, the ledgers in Britain, are long since closed on bonds and interest paid, and the 3,000,000 grassy acres are broken up among thousands of owners of country homes. But the capitol building of Texas still stands in stable, granitic pride, and the memories of the XIT are revived in an annual reunion in a prosperous little city that has grown on the ranch's land. From Blocker's casual boot-heel tracing in the sand, the XIT brand spread, from seared hide and storied tradition, into a saga of the West.

Future Homemakers of America Give Style Show to Observe FHA Week

LEFORS—(Special)—The LeFors Chapter of the Future Homemakers of America gave a tea and style show Thursday afternoon in observance of National FHA Week celebrated November 2 to 8.

Dorothy Howard and Jo Alice Tubbs presided at the serving table which was centered with a bouquet of chrysanthemums arranged in a low crystal bowl.

Ann Phillips gave a short talk on the FHA and Barbara McCullick introduced the second and third year homemaking girls as they modeled dresses and suits made this semester.

Barbara Chastain and Rebecca Breining provided background music and last year's homemaking girls acted as waitresses.

Girls modeling dresses were: Billie Wall, Judy Johnston, Pat Johnson, Jeanne Staley, Dolores Herring, Rita Jo Cullison, Edith Quarles, Mary Jo Wall, Jimmye Davis, Jo Ann Wall, Evelyn Allen, Sara Airington, Ann Phillips, Wanda Roberts, Joy Hunnicutt, Dorothea Tilley, Pat Thornhill, Louise Keeton, Barbara Cobb, Bonnie Ehea, Lora Rippy, Christine utthrie, Carlyn Kendall Sue Redus, Joy Browning, Barbara Ross, Margaret Dickerson, and Ruby Wall.

According to mail order houses, overalls are on the list of hard-to-get; sheets are scarce, too.

Personal Injuries Suit Settled Out of Court
The $100,000 personal injuries suit of Delmer Potter vs. City of Pampa and the Alfred-Ennix Construction Co., brought as a result of injuries said to have been received by the plaintiff as she fell through an uncovered and unguarded sewer drain excavation in May, 1946, was settled out of court Monday for $2,000.

The excavation was one across Gordon Street, between Barnes and Reid. The plaintiff is said to have received bruises, fractures and internal injuries in falling six to ten feet in the excavation.

The plaintiff was represented by Curtis Douglas, the defendants by B. L. Morgan.

Brazil Official Says Stalin Is Ill
STOCKHOLM, Sweden—(AP)—Brazil's former ambassador to Russia says the state of Prime Minister Stalin's health is causing his doctors concern.

Mario De Pimental Brandao, who arrived from Moscow yesterday on his way home, told a news conference last night that the doctors had advised Stalin to take things easy because his health was not of the best. Brandao severed diplomatic relations with Russia Oct. 21.

Stalin will be 68 years old on Dec. 21.

North Ward P-TA Has 395 Members

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Mrs. Glenn LaDue, chairman, reports that there are now 395 members of the North Ward P-TA, as a result of a recent membership drive.

Membership cards will be distributed at the next meeting. Miss Geneva Zeigler's second grade room won first prize for having two or more members per pupil join the P-TA. The classes of Mesdames Bird, Fleming, Johnson, Shortt, Hood, Roberts, Lee Potts and Miss Ruth Zeigler each had one or more member per pupil.

It has been estimated that the average work week in the United States was shortened about three hours every ten years between 1850 and 1940.

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGGLER
WASHINGTON — For three delicious days and nights, the Statler hotel was just a glamorous little bit of Hollywood dropped into stately Washington, D. C.

A whole shiplod of unreal idols of our dreams flew in to protest about the hearings about un-Americanism. Some Hollywood committee about freedom of speech was back of the party. By a happy coincidence most of them were on my floor. Some times, in the elevator, I even rubbed elbows with them. I wanted to ask Danny Kaye for his autograph in my book along with the autographs of his friends, Leo Durocher, George Raft, Frankie Boy Sinatra and Buggsy Siegel, but I choked up. I lost my nerve. One of the glamorous heroines of the glittering world of make-believe on my floor was that girl who sat on the piano at the dress club that night when Harry Truman was not yet President and he played a few cross-anded licks and longzips. The next day some of the western senators, who have a rude, frontier way of teasing their intimate friends, joked Mr. Truman by calling him "professor." In the slang of the "wild and woolly west," a "professor" is not the same as a professor in a college but a merry old scoundrel who plays piano in places like "The Last Chance Saloon" and "The Silver Dollar Gambling Hell." Intoxicated outlaws took him nickels, dimes and quarters, and girls in short skirts of buckskin, bearing such names as Salome Sal and Kansas City Kitty, sang songs about the last round-up. Sometimes the rough cowboys and prospectors buy the "professor" a swig of beer or fire-water to keep the poor fellow from thinking about his downfall and his dear old mother in her lonely grave among the cottonwoods beside the Santa Fe trail. In their teasing way, next day, the frontier Senators called Mr. Truman "professor" and allowed as how "that there was a mighty pert bit of calico settin' on top of the pie-anner down to the Silver Dollar last night." He took it all in a spirit of clean fun and a hearty laugh was enjoyed by all.

But after he became President, one of the grizzled old frontier Senators called on Mr. Truman and advised him always to search the top of the "pie-anner" for strange dames showing their limbs, after that.

Now this glamorous creature was right on the same floor with me. Her name is Miss Lauren Eacall and her intimates call her "Baby," but I suppose it is my fate as a mundane, common man of the workaday classes to not ever have the privilege to call her "Baby." "Needles to say," I hardly slept a wink for thinking about a certain glamorous dream girl. Danny Kaye was the great jewel in the diadem of fame, but "needles to say," Humphrey Bogart too was a "tower of strength" as a drawing card for the moving picture "fans." Tuesday night, Frank Conniff, the young columnist, came into my place. He is amusing because he is so naive and his neck averts and his face gets "red as a beet" when he talks about how mistaken the glamorous characters of Hollywood are, only "dumb" is the word he uses. "When I think about those guys I was with, and how a lot of them died and then to hear these people how they actually don't seem to know the score when you ask them if they realize this is the way Congress has been running investigations since way before they were even born and, otherwise people would never have learned about Teapot Dome, honest, I get so mad."

Frank spluttered in such a comical way that the rest of us "old heads" just had to break out laughing at his discomfiture. Mr. Conniff was a combat correspondent in the war right up there "mid shot and shell." Danny Kaye got a decoration last year. He got an award for his great services to true Americanism always in the vanguard to protect bullworks against bigotry. It is an award named after Maj. Gen. Maurice Rose, who was killed in France.

"I knew Gen. Rose, personally," Mr. Conniff said, "and I don't think they honored his name by giving that Rose memorial to Danny Kaye, in my humble opinion. He was a fighting general."

Mr. Conniff got a medal himself, but it was not a medal for protecting true Americanism against Naziminded bigots spreading disunity by whispering "Communism" at high-class Hollywood writers and actors.

Mr. Conniff got a medal for swimming. It seems that he was on a landing boat that hit a mine and he swam several wounded soldiers ashore.

Still, even if he does disagree with Danny Kaye, Danny can't accuse him of race hatred. They were Negro soldiers. (Copyright, 1947)

Army Faced With Shortage of Nurses

The Army is still faced with a shortage of nurses. Capt. Eugene Saffold said here today, and an extension has been authorized in the campaign to interest qualified nurses in career service or in extended active duty as reserve officers.

Pampa nurses, with or without previous military experience, were urged by Saffold to consider such service.

He said the Department of the Army has extended deadline for submission of applications for permanent commissions to Nov. 30. There is no deadline for reserve applications.

SHE'S BUSIER THAN EVER

...with more calls from more telephones

Telephone operators are busier than ever during these days of more telephone calls from more telephones than ever before. But they still take pride in doing their job with the same characteristic skill, patience, and courtesy that have caused them to be known as "The Voice With a Smile."

Despite the heavy increase in calls, operators are handling most of them quickly and accurately. Sometimes, during midmorning and late afternoon (the busiest times at the switchboard) there may be a brief wait for "Number, please," but you may be sure your call will be answered as promptly as possible.
