'Blackmail' Charge Made Against Reds

LAKE SUCCESS—AP—Australian Delegate W. R. Hodgson today accused Russia of using "blackmail" aimed at forcing the Security Council to admit Soviet satellites to United Nations membership.

Hodgson made the blackmail charge in referring to a statement by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko that Russia would vote for admission of Italy only if the Council also admitted Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland.

The United States and Britain supported Italy, but objected vigorously to admission of the Communist-dominated governments of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. They insisted that a separate vote be taken on each of the five enemy states.

Polish Foreign Minister Zygmunt Modzelewski touched off the new big power fight by proposing formally that the council give blanket approval to all five ex-enemies.

Gromyko supported the Polish proposal with a declaration that the Potsdam agreement treated all the ex-enemy states in the same way without any discrimination toward any of them.

"The United States and the United Kingdom," he said, "deviate from the Potsdam agreement when they seek to have Italy considered separately."

The new membership battle came in the midst of these other developments:

1. The U. S. delegation prepared to plunge immediately into the Greek-Balkan controversy this afternoon with a formal proposal to the United Nations Assembly for creation of a "watchdog" commission to restore peace under assembly authority.

Herschel V. Johnson was scheduled to make a major U. S. speech on the Balkan problem in the 55-nation Political Committee to back the American resolution. That committee was scheduled to start at 3 p. m. (EDT).

2. The assembly's 55-nation Palestine Committee assured Jews and Arabs a hearing on the Holy Land problem by agreeing to give representatives of the Jewish Agency for Palestine and the Arab Higher Committee for Palestine the right to participate in committee debates.

Austin's Earl Warren was elected chairman of the Palestine Committee.

WASHINGTON—AP—President Truman today completed the top leadership of the new national defense organization by naming Dr. Vannevar Bush, noted scientist, as chairman of the research and development board.

He also filled positions in the new department of air with these appointments:

Eugene M. Zuckert, and Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, to be assistant secretaries for air.

Zuckert has been special assistant to the assistant secretary of war for air. Whitney, an officer in both world wars, is president of a lumbering company in Northern New York State and head of livestock properties in New York and Kentucky.

Gen. Carl Spaatz was appointed chief of staff for the air department. He has been chief of the Army Air Force.

The board which Dr. Bush will head is designed to keep America in the forefront of scientific developments and in obtaining new weapons.

White Way Lights On Main Street Get 'New Coats'

City improvements were taking another step forward this week when the light standards of the White Way lights on the main streets were dressed in their winter logs of dark green paint.

The painting is being done at the expense of the Southwestern Public Service Company. However, the company left the selection of the color up to City Manager Steve Matthews.

Matthews chose the green color because it does not show the carbon black dust collected on the standards as much as on lighter colors. In addition the standards will match the green color of the metal trash cans to be placed throughout the city.

College Building Amendment Election in Six Texas Counties Contested Through Suit

AUSTIN—AP—A suit contesting the college building amendment election in six Texas counties was filed in 126th District Court here today.

The suit alleged that in Bexar, Galveston, El Paso, Hill, Moore and Taylor counties the proposed amendment was not published once each week for four weeks, commencing at least three months before the election.

It was the second court attack on the amendment adopted at the Aug. 22 special election by a narrow vote. The amendment was designed to give state-supported colleges and universities a $60,000,000 building program.

Judge Ewing New Head Old Settlers Panhandle Area

Judge W. R. Ewing, resident of the Panhandle since 1893, was elected president of the Panhandle Old Settlers Association at the annual meeting Wednesday in Amarillo at the Tri-State Fair. Over 300 members of the association, men and women who have lived in the Panhandle 25 years or longer, attended the meeting when the Pampa judge was named to the office, and were guests of the Fair Association.

Old settler honors went to W. W. Richardson of Adrian, formerly a Mobeetie resident.

Election of Judge Ewing followed a program devoted to the part of the early day lawyers in the development of the Panhandle. Other officers of the association are Ray Callahan of Conway, Dr. J. P. Gibson of Spearman and Judge W. E. Gee, Amarillo, vice-presidents; and Johnnie Archer of Amarillo, re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

Judge Ewing retired as judge of the 31st Judicial District in January after 30 years in public office. He was elected district attorney at Miami in 1908, serving until 1916 when he was elected district judge. Only once during the entire time did he have an opponent.

He came to Higgins in 1893 from Missouri. He studied law in the office of the late Judge H. E. Hoover and served as the first court reporter of the 31st Judicial District.

The Panhandle Old Settlers Association was formed at the Tri-State Fair in 1914. It has held its meeting on Wednesday of fair week ever since.

General Strike in Trieste Ends

TRIESTE—AP—A general strike which paralyzed shipping in Trieste's port for 24 hours was brought to an end early today.

The Allied Military Government of the new free territory announced that an agreement to call off the strike had been reached at a midnight conference attended by AMG officials, leaders of the Sindacato Unitario, which ordered the work stoppage; and of the moderate, non-Communist Camera Del Lavoro which refused to participate.

Both unions claimed a "moral victory" and the strike stopped. The British-American AMG had feared that the work stoppage might embolden it in an east-west political struggle with the leftist labor movement. About 12,000 workers were idle during the strike.

The military government announcement said that under the agreement to end the strike AMG officials made no effort to conceal their pleasure at having the strike ended. The British-American AMG had feared that the work stoppage might embolden it in an east-west political struggle with the leftist labor movement.

Messersmith Heard During Eisler Probe

WASHINGTON—AP—George S. Messersmith, then assistant secretary of state, acknowledged today that he wrote the American consul general at Havana in 1939 urging prompt and personal consideration of Hanns Eisler's application for a visa to reside in the United States.

Testifying before the House Committee on Un-American Activities, Messersmith also said he sent the consul general a copy of a letter that Sumner Welles, then under secretary of state, had written Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt who had expressed interest in Eisler's case.

The committee is investigating the question whether high government officials have knowingly permitted Communists to come to this country in violation of immigration laws.

Eisler, now a Hollywood songwriter, testified yesterday that he joined the Communist Party in his native Germany in 1926, but declared he was never active and is not now a Communist.

Messersmith took vigorous exception when Rep. Rankin (D-Miss.) called the letter "almost a directive" for the consul general to give Eisler a visa.

The former state department official declared it was not intended as a directive at all.

Rep. J. Parnell Thomas (R-N.J.), committee chairman, commented: "If you can explain yourself out of this, you're good."

Messersmith said the letter to Consul Dubois had been written at Havana, was "merely to make it clear to him that this was a case that had angles" requiring careful consideration and personal attention.

At one point, the letter said: "If, when Mr. Eisler should call at the consulate at Havana, he definitely states that he does not hold views for which he could be excluded under our immigration law, I do not believe that a visa could be withheld unless the consul has evidence which would disprove his statements."

Robert Stripling, committee counsel, has asserted that at that time the State Department had information that Messersmith knew of the reports Eisler was a Communist.

Under his questioning, Messersmith said he did not recall being called to the Eisler case by Doree Thompson, newspaper columnist, in a telephone conversation.

While he could not recall details of the conversation with the columnist, Messersmith said, "she applied."

White Deer Man Shot; Wife Held

Jim Culbertson of White Deer was brought to Worley hospital early last night after being shot in his home between 7:15 and 7:30.

His wife was being held in the Carson County Jail today. Sheriff Clarence Williams of Panhandle said Mrs. Culbertson would not give a statement this morning, saying merely: "I pulled the trigger."

Culbertson is around 32, his wife about 30.

Culbertson was found lying on his left side in the kitchen of his home "three blocks west of White Deer High School. He had been shot just left of the heart with a small calibre gun, thought to be a .22.

Officials stated.

Culbertson was brought to the hospital here about 8 o'clock last night by Duenkel-Carmichael ambulance, and according to doctors was suffering from shock and loss of blood. Early this afternoon his condition was described as "some better."

President Sees Dual Benefit in Such Move

WASHINGTON—AP—President Truman asked Americans today to save food for Europe's hungry and said he still hopes emergency aid can be met without a special session of Congress.

In a news conference, Mr. Truman left open, however, the possibility that the legislators may be summoned into an emergency session. That is a question to be explored at a conference he will have Monday with Republican and Democratic congressional leaders.

Asked whether he thinks a return of rationing and price controls might be necessary, he replied that those are matters for Congress to decide.

In appealing for food conservation, the President observed that it would help budgets of American families as well as providing food to combat hunger in Europe.

His 20-minute talk with reporters ranged over a wide field of the problems involved in helping Europe get through the winter and back on its feet, economically speaking.

Mr. Truman said:

1. A decision on a special session of Congress for emergency aid for Europe will flow from a meeting he has scheduled Monday with congressional leaders, of both parties. He hopes a special session can be avoided and has an open mind on the subject.

2. On the long-range Marshall plan for helping European countries which help themselves and each other, careful study will precede any action and the government will move cautiously.

3. A special committee of citizens has been named to consider the immediate food problem and advise on ways and means of carrying out the necessary conservation effort.

4. Other committees have been assigned the responsibility of studying the report drawn up by 16 nations in Paris, outlining their needs under the Marshall Plan.

Mr. Truman refrained from terming as voluntary rationing his immediate plan to save food. Repeatedly, he said, it calls for saving food, not for wasting food.

Mr. Truman said he has been advised that Americans waste the equivalent of 600,000 bushels of wheat. Presumably he meant 70,000,000 bushels a year.

The proposal for conserving foods stemmed directly from a recommendation of cabinet members who have been studying world food programs. This committee is headed by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson and includes Secretary of State Marshall and Secretary of Commerce Harriman.

Mr. Truman released their report, plus a statement of his own on it, and on the Marshall Plan.

Mr. Truman said: "The cabinet (food) committee made it clear... that definite steps to conserve on use of food stuffs at home and reduce the feeding of grain to livestock will be essential if we are to make our fullest contribution towards meeting minimum foreign needs and at the same time relieve the upward pressure on prices at home."

Consequently, he said, he is naming the Special Citizens Food Committee headed by Charles Luckman, president of Lever Brothers, Cambridge, Mass., to lead a conservation campaign.

At one point, he said he could not say how many millions of dollars would be involved in stop-gap aid to Europe. He acknowledged that a shortage of dollars in other lands causes a shortage of food and fuel.

Mr. Truman also was not willing to see FOOD APPEAL, Page 3

Burglars Busier, Busier Each Day

By MAX HALL

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Burglars are busier and busier. Your house may be next. What can you do to prevent it. What would you do if you hear a burglar in the house? The other day the FBI reported 147,212 burglaries in the first six months of 1947.

Compared with the same period of last year, this was a 17 percent increase in rural areas and a 2 percent increase in cities and towns.

So I went to the FBI and asked what the ordinary citizen can do.

The FBI officials want it understood that no ironclad rules can be laid down that will apply to all situations. But they agreed to prepare some "general suggestions." Here's what they suggested:

1. Lock every outside door. (This may seem obvious, but in rural sections, where burglaries are increasing fastest, it's still common practice not to lock doors.)
 2. Latch all ground-floor windows at night. If the weather won't permit this, the screens at least should be snugly fastened.
 3. "All particularly vulnerable areas of a dwelling might well be kept illuminated at night." For example, a dark rear door or cellar entrance. "Few burglars will try to sneak through a lighted doorway or window."
 4. Members of the family should pay close attention to individuals loitering in the neighborhood, and unknown persons calling at the door should be asked to identify themselves fully.
- This is because "most houses are 'cased' before they are burglarized." The burglar needs advance information about the room arrangement, the number of menfolk, the valuables, the dog.
- Next, some suggestions for the early evening hours, when the family is temporarily away: Leave a light burning in the house; don't pull down window shades; don't leave notes telling when you will return; don't leave your key in the conventional front-porch hiding places.

Jester Considers Gypsum Dispute

AUSTIN—(AP)—A new possibility that the State Industrial Commission may intercede in the Sweet-water gypsum dispute developed here today.

Gov. Beauford H. Jester was considering new pleas, after having announced Saturday he did not expect to take further action.

Several weeks ago, he had offered the commission's services, but the U. S. Gypsum Company declined. Local No. 82 of the United States Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers agreed to the arbitration.

Jester also sent Labor Commissioner M. B. Morgan to the scene to make a personal investigation.

Sen. Pat Bullock, County Judge Delias Reeves of Nolan County and Mayor R. O. Peters of Sweetwater yesterday urged Jester to try again to settle the difficulty, saying the strike "is seriously affecting the economy of this community."

Jester promised a new study of the Industrial Commission statute to see if its aid could be invoked.

The strike followed failure of the gypsum company and the union to agree on wages and hours. The company manufactures wallboard.

(Continued From Page 1) parently thought the Department of State could do many things for refugees that it could not do. Eisler sought admission as a German refugee. Messersmith said he wrote to Miss Thompson that the State Department files contained "considerable evidence . . . that Eisler is a Communist."

Eisler did not obtain a visa at Havana, but subsequently got one at Mexico, Mexico, through the consul general there. Eisler, 54-year-old self-styled "free lance artist," entered this country for residence from Mexico in 1940 after he had been in and out several times previously.

Stripping told the committee yesterday the musician was allowed to enter and remain despite a labor department finding that he was a Communist and after a special board had recommended against his admission. The special board was overruled by a board of appeals in Washington and a then pending deportation warrant for Eisler was cancelled.

The committee is seeking to learn why Eisler has been allowed to stay here. Stripping said it may recommend that he be prosecuted as a result of yesterday's testimony. Mrs. Roosevelt's interest in the case was brought out in an exchange of correspondence between her and William Undersecretary of state, early in 1939.

Mystery of B-24 In Pampa Solved
Many local folk dashed to the Pampa Municipal Airport yesterday afternoon to see "why" a B-24 would be landing in Pampa.

It seems that the plane, flown by two unidentified men, was on its way to Atlanta, Ga., from Los Angeles, where the plane had been purchased for $2,400 from the War Assets Administration. Regulations state that these surplus planes are not to be flown at night; therefore, the pilot and the co-pilot decided they would set the big four-motored plane down in Pampa, rather than try to make Oklahoma City to have been the first scheduled stop on their trip to Atlanta.

City Engineer's Face Matches Color of Car

City Engineer Dick Pepin has a red Ford coach. Yesterday afternoon City Dick Pepin's face was like unto his car. He was carting a newspaper photographer around with him on an inspection tour of the paving project and the sewer excavations to be made in The Flats. While driving towards the latter, Pepin was complaining to the lensman about "these so and so careless drivers" knocking over the surveyor's marking stakes. Then Dick made a left hand turn: CRACK! He knocked one of his own stakes out of the ground and spun it about three feet away from where it had been placed. Oh well, better turning next time Dick.

Pair Arrested In Bank Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Arrest of two additional persons in connection with the $58,000 robbery of the bank of Sweet Home, Ore., Aug. 29, was announced today by D. A. Bryce, chief of the FBI Bureau here. Bryce said Henry Clay Green, 27, was arrested on a warrant charging participation in the robbery and that his wife, Fannie Lee Green, 21, was being held as a material witness. Bryce said the two were taken into custody near Woodville in Marshall County (Okla.) this morning. State Game Ranger Ed Everett, Sheriff Joe Everett of Marshall County and FBI Agents W. C. Gentry and Wilson McCully arrested Green and his wife, Bryce said. Green was armed with a rifle but offered no resistance. The two arrests brought to four the number held in connection with the robbery. Henry Clay Tollett, Oklahoma ex-convict, was arrested in Bakersfield, Calif., Sept. 19 after the arrest at Hugo, Okla., of Joe Berry Bishop, Sept. 12. Both Tollett and Bishop have been returned to Oregon. Bryce said Green and his wife were being held at Madill. He added they probably would be arraigned today before the U. S. Commissioner at Ada. He said a bond of $50,000 would be asked for Green and $7,000 for Mrs. Green.

Five Ex-Enemies Apply to Council

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—Poland proposed formally today that the Security Council give blanket approval to the applications of Italy, Hungary, Romania, Bulgaria and Finland for membership in the United Nations. The five are ex-enemies covered by the new peace treaties. The Polish resolution was submitted by Foreign Minister Zygmunt Modzelewski after Herschel V. Johnson, Deputy U. S. Delegate, and British Delegate Sir Alexander Cadogan had urged admission of Italy but made no mention of the other four applicants under consideration. Both Britain and the U. S. previously had opposed the admission of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria because of the attitudes of their Communist-dominated governments. The extraordinary council session came one day after the General Assembly's 48-nation political committee unanimously voted in Pakistan and Yemen. They will be seated at a plenary assembly shortly, increasing the membership to 57. These two Moslem countries were the only ones approved by the council out of 12 applicant nations in deliberations last month. Finland

Milk From Gray County Is 'Safe'

The sour milk reported being brought into Southern Gray County "by the truckload" last week has not been coming from Pampa or Gray County creameries, it was revealed yesterday by Ray Salmon, city health inspector. Salmon reported that the sour milk complaints from Lefors and McLean are no reflection on either of the two dairies operating from Pampa. "In fact," he added, "both creameries pulled their trucks out of McLean some time ago of their own volition." The sour milk complaint was first reported at the County Commissioners Court session Saturday afternoon by Commissioner Joe Clark of Lefors. In the meantime, both Judge Wade and County Commissioner Wade Thomason said the complaints of sour milk were emanating more from Lefors than McLean. Both corroborated Salmon's statement yesterday that the milk was coming from outside creameries. The milk situation, it was explained by county officials, has cropped up since the departure of former county health inspector, Emmett Howard. The County Commissioners Court has summoned Salmon to appear before it at its next meeting to negotiate a possible agreement for county sanitation inspection.

City Officials Back From State Meeting

Mayor C. A. Huff, member of the City Commission, the city secretary, city attorney, and city manager returned yesterday from Fort Worth where they attended the annual convention of the League of Texas Municipalities. Included on the program were addresses on problems of traffic control, including the ever controversial parking meter, garbage collection and fees, fire prevention, paving, increasing costs of municipal operation, the firemen's and policemen's civil service bills, airport operations, and public works. Separate meetings were held for assessing officers, city managers, city attorneys, public works officials, including street paving, sweeping and construction. None of the local delegates were elected to any offices of the league or placed on any committees. The site for next year's convention will be at El Paso. City Manager Steve Matthews said this morning that Pampa had representatives at each of the meetings on the subjects mentioned above and the side meetings for the various groups.

Those, he suggested, are matters for Congress to determine. Answering statements of some Republican leaders that they have not been kept informed on world conditions, Mr. Truman said he was detaching them know as soon as he found out himself. He pointed to a copy of the report on the Marshall Plan, enclosed in green cardboard folders and tied with red tape, and said it had just arrived this morning. The Chief Executive said he is asking special committees he has appointed and various government agencies to look over the Marshall Plan information for the benefit of congressional studies. The 16-nation Paris Conference is asking for some $22,440,000,000 of outside help, mostly from the U. S. in the next four years. Mr. Truman said he also is counting on Latin America to give a hand. He said no conference with Latin American nations has been called but they will be kept informed of developments. The problem to which the report of the Paris Conference is devoted, Mr. Truman said in his statement, "not only underlies the political and economic well-being of Europe, but is also of key importance to a stable peace in the world. "The people of the United States recognize, as do the people of the European nations, that the earliest practicable achievement of economic health and consequent political stability in Europe, is of utmost importance for the peace and well-being of the world."

It argued that Article 17 requires that "each purported amendment . . . be submitted as a separate issue, containing only one issue." The state's answer came back with this argument: "1. The Texas Constitution does not limit the Legislature or the people to one subject in any constitutional amendment. Not being so limited, an amendment may contain more than one subject. "2. Not waiving the above, it is submitted in alternative. "That even if there may be some implied limitation in the constitution that an amendment may only contain one subject, the college building amendment contains but one subject as that term has been defined—providing for buildings and other permanent improvements for state supported colleges and universities. All matters in the amendment, including the method of financing the same, are germane to this single objective." The brief argued that numerous amendments with more than one section have been adopted by the Texas electorate and that these have not been questioned. Varied Cases Heard In Corporation Court

A 17-year-old boy was fined $25 for vagrancy today by Corporation Judge Clifford Braly. The fine was held in abeyance pending any further escapades by the youth who told the court he had secured a job in Borger, but "hadn't gotten over there to start working on it." Another teen-ager was told to report back to the court, with his father on Saturday morning. He was charged with reckless driving. The Court imposed a $10 fine for speeding on motorcycle on an 18-year-old youth. Police clocked him at 40-miles-per hour through a school zone. One man was excused on a double parking charge.

Harvesters and the Riverside Eagles to Clash Tomorrow Nite

Bufs Take Texas League Series by Beating Rebs 1-0

HOUSTON—(AP)—Houston, champion of the Texas League, and Mobile, Southern Association titlist, square off here tomorrow in the opening game of the Dixie series.

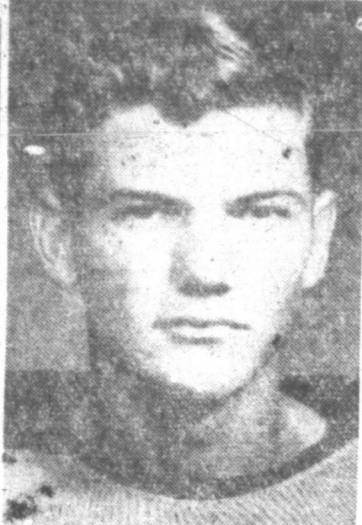

The Bufs won the Texas League crown last night by blanking Dallas, 1-0, behind the four-hit pitching of Clarence Beers.

The first two games of the seven-game series will be played here with the next three at Mobile, starting Monday. If the final two games are needed they will be played here.

Big Al Pappal (22-11) is expected to start on the mound for Houston tomorrow, opposing John Hall (18-8). Hall has nine shutouts to his credit.

Beers, who started in organized baseball as a catcher, won his 28th victory this year against eight defeats in stopping the Rebels.

Tommy Glaviano singled, Hal Epps home in the fourth inning for the only run of the game—the sixth of the final playoff series. Epps had doubled into the crowd in centerfield.

FRANCIS HUNT, 158-pound fullback will be seen filling the spot in the Harvesters backfield, vacant, due to the injury of Darrell Conklin incurred during last week's Sweetwater game, when the Harvesters square off against the Amos Carter Riverside Eagles tomorrow night at Harvester Park.

The WAY it LOOKS to Bill Behrman

By now it is hoped the Harvesters have reached the point where they will not be on the receiving end of any more injuries. We think that they have had their run of bad luck for the season in the first three weeks of play.

Besides the loss of Jimmy Wilson and Darrell Conklin, it is possible that Jackie Williams will not see service in Friday night's game due to an ankle injury incurred during the Sweetwater game.

It seems that what might be called an epidemic of intestinal flu hit some of the members of the Green and Gold gridmen before last Friday night's game. It was reported that Carl Mayes was sick two days before the game and was sick when he lined up for the kickoff Friday night. Mayes was 10 pounds underweight for the game, weighing only 165 pounds as per his listed 175 pounds. It was also reported that Charlie Lafoon, able Green and Gold quarterback, was sick during school Thursday and that he nearly passed out during his chemistry class that day. Neither of these incidents was brought to the attention of either Harvesters coach until after Friday night's game.

Therefore, we think that the Harvesters and their coaches deserve commendation for the spirit with which they are playing ball. And win or lose, it is believed that spectators will see a hustling Harvesters team that has been absent from the Green and Gold teams of a few years past.

For the benefit of fellow sufferers from Amarillo and Lubbock, we would like to make "more" public a schedule of the remaining Harvesters football games. They meet Riverside (Fort Worth) here, Friday night; Vernon, in Vernon, Oct. 3; Wichita Falls, there Oct. 10; Plainview, there, Oct. 20; Brownfield, here, Oct. 31; Lubbock, there, Nov. 7; Amarillo, here, Nov. 15; and Berger, there, Nov. 27. Extra copies of the Harvesters schedule can be obtained at the News office. (Pitt Powell and Bill Chick please note.)

It was also mentioned by an esteemed colleague from a neighboring but most friendly town that Amos Carter Riverside did not play North Dallas High School last week as scheduled. However, four coaches of the Pampa High School coaching staff saw North Dallas down Riverside 6 to 0 at Farrington Field Saturday night.

Pampa and Amarillo are the only remaining unbeaten teams left in District IAA. It has been mentioned that after the locals play Wichita Falls we will drop from these ranks. However, it was not mentioned that the Golden Scorpions meet the highly rated defending state champions again Odessa Oct. 17.

Nevertheless, whatever the outcome of these two games the Harvesters-Sandie game should prove to be more than interesting when the two teams clash here Nov. 15, as did the last Amarillo game played here in 1945.

All you football fans may be interested to note that on page 6 of today's News appears a complete list of the 1947 major college football schedule as compiled by the Associated Press Newfeatures.

Series Might Be the 'Battle of Bullpens'

The 1947 World Series may go down in the books as the "battle of bullpens" in recent efforts of Joe Hatten and Hal Gregg.

Gregg, who may be the darkhorse of the series, warmed up for series duty yesterday by shutting out the home run-happy New York Giants with two hits over a five-inning stretch. It mattered little that rookie Willard Ramsdell who came in after Gregg was lifted for a pinchhitter blew a comfy lead and the ball game, 6-5. Gregg had looked fine in his turn.

The day before it was Hatten, the lefty who has specialized in beating second division clubs, going five outs of the three-inning game.

Cincinnati, picked to scramble for the cellar with the Phillies, clinched fifth place, a fine tribute to Freshman Manager Johnny Neun. The Reds had to go hard to make it shading Chicago, 6-5, on a ninth inning home run by Grady Hatton.

George Munger hurled his second straight three-hitter for his 16th win, a 1-0 edge for St. Louis over Pittsburgh, practically wrapping up second place for the Cardinals.

Bobby Feller finally became the first American League pitcher to win 20 games, subduing the St. Louis Browns, Cleveland routed Ellis Kinder in a four-run fifth inning attack.

Detroit stretched its second place margin over Boston to a full game by noosing out Chicago, 5-4, in 10 innings at a "victory" luncheon for 2,896 persons at Comiskey Park.

All eastern clubs in the American and Boston and Philadelphia in the National were not scheduled.

Fifty-Eight Games Listed for Weekend Schoolboy Grid Card

Strong tests between powers of the North and South in a schedule of 58 games during which at least a dozen undefeated teams are likely to take the count headline the Texas schoolboy football program for the weekend.

The firing starts tonight with five games while tomorrow night there will be 49 battles spotlighted with the Breckenridge-Wichita Falls tussle.

The schedule tapers off with four contests Saturday night, two of them highly important as unbeaten Tyler and North Dallas clash at Dallas and Sunset (Dallas) invades the South for a crack at undefeated John Reagan of Houston.

Breckenridge should furnish the test to brand Wichita Falls, one of the pre-season championship favorites. The Bucks tied Abilene and licked Paschal (Fort Worth), a couple of pretty good trial horses. Wichita Falls were impressive in downing Denison 26-0 in its only game thus far.

Other games matching undefeated teams are Vernon-Sherman and Goose Creek-Thomas Jefferson, while Adamson (Dallas) makes its test against high-powered Brackettville (San Antonio).

The Goose Creek-Jefferson game tops the schedule in South Texas.

Other important games over the state are Longview-Paris and Austin-Temple, with Longview and Austin each meeting a beaten team but facing tough competition nevertheless.

Reports State That Durocher Has Asked For Reinstatement

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Leo Durocher case is back in the news today with a report from a source whose identity cannot be disclosed that the former Brooklyn manager has appealed to Baseball Commissioner A. B. Chandler for reinstatement and that Chandler has answered the appeal.

"Any correspondence between the commissioner and Durocher would be unnecessary," Walter Mulby, secretary-treasurer to the commissioner's office, said last night in Cincinnati. "Durocher's suspension was for the season and the World Series. That will be over in a few days."

Although Durocher formally is not listed on the Dodger active roster, the same source pointed out that it was common baseball procedure for a man suspended "from" a club's list to be reinstated "to" the same list.

Burt Shotton, hurriedly named to fill Durocher's job for 1947, has won a pennant and established himself with the Dodger paying customers who set a new National League attendance record of 1,807,886 in the home season completed yesterday.

Shotton and Elickey have refused to discuss 1948 plans but the matter is expected to reach a head after the World Series.

Bunts by Rizzuto, Robinson May Decide '47 Series

NEW YORK—Speed on the basepaths helped the St. Louis Cardinals win the 1946 World Series in seven games from the Boston Red Sox but in the coming Yankee-Dodger Series speed away from the plate may be a dominating factor.

This 44th World Series brings together two of the best bunters in baseball in Phil Rizzuto, Yankee shortstop, and Jackie Robinson, Dodger Negro first baseman.

Rizzuto, who this season has choked his bat in order to bring it around quicker, is bunting .500 in World Series play. He failed in his lone effort to beat out a bunt in the 1941 Series with the Dodgers but against the Cardinals the following fall he beat out two bunts in three attempts.

Robinson, one of the freshmen stars of the season, bunts almost as well as Rizzuto. Both are exceptionally fast out of the batter's box. Robinson leads the National League in steals while Rizzuto, in 10 World Series games, has never been caught attempting to steal. He has tried three times and made it on each occasion.

Through Sept. 13 Robinson bunted successfully 43 times, 15 of which went for hits. During June he completed a 21-game batting streak.

The proceedings will be broadcast over Radio Station KPNN, beginning at 3 o'clock.

Clay to Make Trip to Oregon with Longhorns

AUSTIN—(AP)—The University of Texas football team left here yesterday by plane, bound for Portland, Ore., and Saturday's engagement with the University of Oregon.

Thirty-nine players are making the trip. In addition, the official party will include Athletic Director Dana X. Bible, Head Coach Blair Cherry, Assistant Coaches H. C. Gilstrap and Ed Price, Trainer Frank Medina, Team Physician Dr. Charles Blintiff, and Manager Johnny Thompson.

The Longhorns would put heavy work in preparation for Oregon yesterday with a scrimmage against a hard-hitting freshman team that boasted a line average of 215 pounds.

Scatbacks Byron Gillory and Billy Eyle shook loose for several long gains after a slow start. Gillory started the offense rolling with an 80-yard dash down the middle.

Bobby Layne and Paul Campbell connected with receivers for three touchdowns.

Fullbacks Randall Clay and Raymond Jones also went for long gains. All members of the squad were reported in good condition. H. J. (Bubba) Shands, right halfback, received a gash over the eye Tuesday, but Trainer Medina said he believed Shands would be ready to go on Saturday.

Louise Suggs Leads Women's Amateur Play

DETROIT—(AP)—The 1947 National Women's Amateur Golf Championship moved into the quarter-finals today with a collection of housewives and school girls, on the stage as central characters.

At the head of the parade of survivors was 24-year-old Louise Suggs of Georgia, an oil company saleswoman who knocked off medalist honors and so far has upheld her advance role of favorite.

This afternoon, the Lithia Springs larruper of the fairways went out after her third victory against a 20-year-old stenographer, Mary McMillin of Green Bay, state champion of Wisconsin for the last three years.

Another match is Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas, just turned 22, an oil company saleswoman versus Dorothy Kirby, 27-year-old Atlanta, Ga., oil company saleswoman.

67 Forest Fires In South Texas

CONROE—(AP)—Sixty-seven forest fires swept through vast timber tracts in three Southeast Texas counties last night.

A request for the Department of Public Safety at Austin to furnish Rangers to investigate origin of the fires was made by J. O. Burnside, chief of the Texas Forest Service's Division of Forest Protection at Lufkin.

Early yesterday morning only 12 fires were reported burning. J. U. Foster, district forester for the Texas Forest Service, who spotted blazes from a plane, said the majority of the 67 fires were located in Southeast San Jacinto, South Liberty and East Montgomery counties. Six were south of Cleveland, one was near Conroe, six near Willis, six near Spondora and one near Keenan. There were several northwest of Postoria and others were scattered.

Two fires also were reported near Lufkin in Angelina County, one near Acot in Polk County, and one west of Nacogdoches. Burnside issued a plea to all persons in the woods to be especially careful with fires during this dry period. He was particularly concerned that hunters be sure to extinguish their fires.

One Crew Member Dies in Explosion

TEXAS CITY—(AP)—Crewman William Fall, Flushing, L. I., said today a checkup of crew members disclosed that only one man was killed in a fire and explosion aboard the tanker Cedar Mountain here last night.

He said it was first believed that two men had been trapped in the tanker's engine room. Body of a man identified by Second Engineer W. L. Turner of McDonough, Ga., as 3rd Asst. Engineer Albert Bruback of Pittsburgh, Pa., was recovered one hour and thirty-three minutes after the blast.

Intense heat prevented rescuers from entering the engine room for an immediate search for the second man at first thought trapped. After the fire was extinguished at 3 a.m. today (CST) and a check-up of crew members made, it was definitely established that only the one life had been lost, Fall said.

The tanker blast occurred at 11:25 p.m. last night near the scene of the April 16 and 17 disaster in which two ship explosions resulted in 700 dead or missing. Fall said the Cedar Mountain, which arrived here yesterday from Fort Everglades, Fla., was a 135,000-barrel high octane fuel carrier. Cause of the fire and explosion was not immediately known.

Rotarian Shows Movies of Trip

Nature in the raw, and its beauty, in the northernmost reaches of American continental civilization was shown yesterday by Paul Carmichael to members of the Pampa Rotary Club at their weekly meeting in the Palm Room, City Hall.

The technicolor movies depicted wild game as they nonchalantly roamed the forests and drank from glacier born rivers. Pictures of the Columbia ice fields and the great Bow Glacier with its lake and river, over 2,000 miles from Pampa, brought the Northland right inside the Palm Room. Carmichael told Rotarians he had slept under three Hudson Eay blankets and was still cold. At one point, he added, his fingers were blue from the cold while he was attempting to shoot some of the scenery.

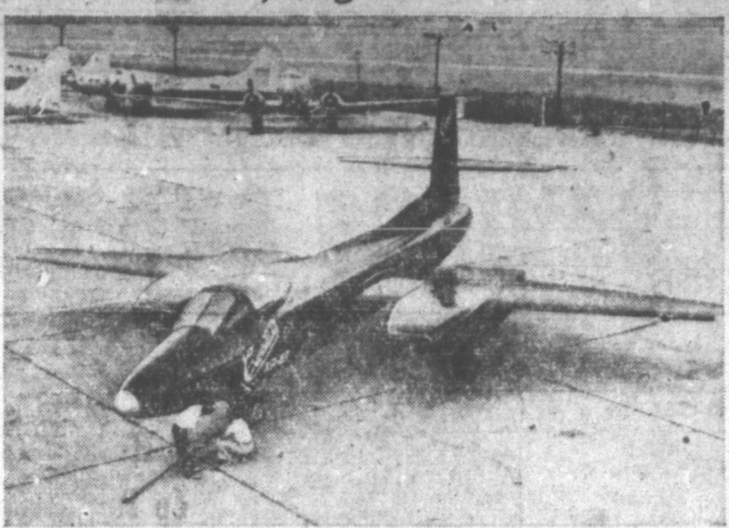

President Ray Evans announced that the Pampa Rotary stood sixth in the district for attendance. The Berger Rotary, with whom the local club now has an attendance record contest, stands 12th, according to the report.

Special music by Ken Bennett and Wesley Geiger was given during the entertainment portion of the meeting. Virgil Mott led the club singing and Ray Evans presided over the business session.

'Spiral Design' Comes From the British

LONDON—(AP)—British dress designers warring upon Paris' long dresses, came up today with a "spiral design."

The Guild of Creative Designers promised details later. Chairman Henry Scott said the spiral gives the impression of length but by no means shields a shapely calf from the public eye.

Mrs. Harrison Reviews Nancy W. Ross' Novel

The Pampa Book Club held its first meeting of the year Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the City Club Rooms. Mrs. Evelyn Harrison of Shamrock reviewed "The Left Hand is the Dreamer" by Nancy Wilson Ross.

Mrs. Harrison told the story of a frustrated woman whose interest in painting had been sidetracked by an unhappy college love affair. She came of an eccentric New England family, and held herself detached from her husband and children. In drifting uncertainly toward another affair which she was convinced would bring her happiness, she was unable to orient herself. An aunt, whose insight into the problem provided her with the true values of life, caused her to realize home, family, and tradition are a part of one.

The meeting was well attended. Fifty-eight guests registered and many of them became members.

The next review will be given Oct. 27 with the book and reviewer to be announced later.

Sheri Beth Jackson Given Birthday Party

Sheri Beth Jackson was honored on her fifth birthday Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 23, with a party given by her mother, Mrs. C. T. Jackson, at their home, 324 N. Zimmer.

Upon their arrival the little guests were given various colored balloons, with which they entertained themselves for a while, after which card games were played.

The long table, which seated all of the children, was beautifully decorated with the lovely pink cake and tall pink tapers. Each child lit the small candle beside his plate.

Pictures were made during the afternoon by Rev. Charles Gates.

Refreshments of cake, ice cream and orange juice were served to Sherry, Marie Williams, Jerry Joe and Charles E. Ford, Richard and Donna Lynn Roth, Jo Ann Thurston, Bill Cross, Larry Franklin, Merle Hunt, Sandra and Jimmie Clegg, Sylvia Ann Grider, Carolyn and Eugene Mochler, Joan Bryant, Dorothy Reba, Linda and Jusick Hill, Mark Gates, Elickie Hopkins, Madonna Ann Jordan, Donnie and Billy Harard, Carolyn Jones, Jonny and Mark Hoberb, of Miami, and the little honoree.

Mothers present were Mesdames J. B. Bryant, George Roth, W. O. Franklin, Paul Thurston, E. L. Harard, Hulea Montres, Emmett Hunt, Jim Hopkins, and Mrs. C. A. Holcomb of Miami.

The namesake of Yale University, Elihu Yale, was a native of Boston who became governor of Fort St. George, Madras, India.

BPW Club Holds Business Meeting

The first regular program meeting of the club year for the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club was held Tuesday night in the City Club Rooms with Mrs. Bertha Chisum, president, presiding.

Mrs. Lillian Jordani was appointed by the president as chairman of Business Women's Week to be held beginning Sunday, October 5. Tentative plans were made for a coffee to open the week, a public affairs banquet on Tuesday night, a theatre party on Wednesday, and a special fund day affair for Friday. Definite arrangements will be announced later.

Those present were Mesdames Lillian McNitt, Sigorina Waters, Mildred Lafferty, Elsie Gee, Lillian Jordani, Katherine Martin, Alpha Bradley, Frances Appleby, Anna J. Double Showers Fetes Panhandle Sisters

PANHANDLE—(Special)—Honoring the Misses Blanche and Gladys Dettin, who will become the brides of Bernard Koetting and Archie Linton of Groton on Oct. 29, members of the Study and Social Club entertained with a shower on Sept. 17 in the home of Mrs. H. R. Pugh of the Pleasant Plains community.

As the home of Mrs. Pugh is on the site of the old Pleasant Hill schoolhouse, where the honorees had attended grade school, a school-day theme was carried out with the playing of school games and the singing of school songs. Professional Pharmacy RICHARD DRUG

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

We All Need Fun!

Nobody in Our Town is exactly lazy (even though Pete Swanson's missus claims he sleeps till seven A.M.). But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister—on call, morning, noon and night.

Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.

And as Doc says—fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for Dad, a mellow and refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parcheesi or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing—so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer—and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.

Bab Stanwyck Idle

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Barbara Stanwyck is working before the cameras for the first time since February and the reason for her idleness is taxes.
 "It's silly to make as many pictures as I did last year," she said on the "B. F.'s Daughter" set. "I netted a total of $7,000 for working in California. I was paid $9,000 for two radio shows and could keep $600. "Why won't they let us give it away to charity? All I can give away is $15,000. If the government would let us give more away, we wouldn't mind working more."

So his new publicity campaign is aimed at improving the public's conception of him. Many observers feel the film would do better if it had a good acting job, but its creator won't hear of that.
 Irene Dunne jests about her service in "I Remember Mama" which is in its fourth month and not finished yet. She claims she is now shooting the sequel. When she ends the chore, she'll buy a new wardrobe ("the one I had at the start of the picture is out of date") and take a long trip, probably to South America.
 Eddie Cantor will have his childhood school teacher on his air show tonight to kick off a campaign for better teaching pay.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—This is a true story of a young man who found and lost a dream apartment.
 "Ever since I returned from overseas, he had wanted the dream apartment of the national housing shortage. He lit in more places than he had with the paratroops. His only address was portable—his suitcase.
 He hunted so many real estate offices that in one he was bawled out for coming in after ten o'clock. They had seen him around so often they thought he was an employe.
 Some weeks ago a friend tipped him off on how he could get into one of the fancy new cave dwelling units going up in Manhattan.
 "Of course, you're married?" asked the apartment-house manager, pointing out that only families were acceptable as tenants. Dogs, old maids and bachelors were barred.
 "Oh, no," said the young man, thinking fast. "I'm engaged, but my fiancée and I can't get married until we have a place to move into."
 "Of course," purred the manager, "but that's all right, we'll have to check into the situation."
 The young man, who until then had regarded matrimony as an affliction slightly less desirable than smallpox, gave the manager the name and address of his current girl friend.
 He then rushed to a phone, made a luncheon date with her and proposed—somewhere between the windy slopes and pie in the mode.
 "Looky, you gotta marry me," he said. "I have to get that apartment."
 She looked in his eyes and saw therein hot love, but a desperate longing for his own easy chair and a place to park his razor. So, as women will, she let him have the hammer right on the forehead.
 "Bill," she said, naming his rival, "acked me yesterday to marry him. And, furthermore, I am going to."
 The young man took that blow more philosophically than she liked.
 "But you owe me something," he said. "You've got to help me. You've got to give me my fiancée—at least until I get that apartment. Then I can tell the manager later you jilted me, and I won't get thrown out."
 Indignant at first, she finally agreed to play her part in the ruse.
 The apartment manager's sleuth came around, corroborated the "engagement," and finally the young man received notice to show up with his fiancée by a certain date if he wanted his apartment.
 He called the girl but was unable to reach her. He was frantic when he finally located her—just an hour before the lease-signing deadline.
 "We have to hurry down to sign up," he told her. "It's no, so unless you're along."
 "I can't go through with it," she said.
 Dumfounded, the young man stormed, threatened and then got down on his verbal knees before the rock wall of her resistance. To no avail.
 "You see," she told him happily, "Bill heard so about that building he finally went down and applied for an apartment for us. I can't do anything now that would hurt our own chance to get in."

Pampa Gets a Kind Word—for Good Deed

We as a city like our little pat on the back, just like the next fellow. And we like them better when they are deserved.

One such we have in mind. The News has a letter from D. H. Ferrara, East Haven, Conn. He was once stationed at Pampa Army Air Field. Enclosed with his letter was an editorial from a Connecticut newspaper, an editorial which spoke of Pampa as "a neat little city."

It seems that when Ferrara visited Pampa for a few hours this summer, he got a ticket for over-parking. It was one of those tickets without a "sting," reserved for motorists who violate our traffic laws. It is couched in nice language, sufficient to leave the visitor in a good humor. This little ticket says, in part, "The Police Department of Pampa, Texas, hopes you will enjoy your stay... and that you'll like it so well that you'll come back often or come back to stay... The patrolman... notes that your car is violating the regulation checked on the back of this ticket. Do not worry about it this time," and so on.

The newspaper editorial said "it would seem that Connecticut towns and cities could well adopt such a courtesy plan for out-of-state visitors... A little courtesy as that show in Texas would give the visitors a much better opinion of the Connecticut Yankees than some of them gain now by receiving a parking ticket to the police station after they had stopped merely for a little friendly shopping or a look-see around the community."

This kind of feeling is a far cry from that left with some tourists after they have visited in communities where the license of an out-of-state car is the sign to "get what you can out of him."

Some communities haven't grown up. They aren't wise to the fact that thousands of dollars are made each year from leaving the tourists with good feeling toward the town. The tourists have a way of telling their friends—even sometimes through their community newspapers.

Pampa can be proud that the visitor from Connecticut had occasion to say something good about our community. It will pay off—pay off with far more than the dollar he might have paid for over-parking.

HOLLYWOOD — I just previewed Marilyn Maxwell with her new brunette hair. It looks mighty good, even if it is a wig.

Marilyn is mighty grateful for her convertible top, and to Director Marvyn LeRoy. One day LeRoy said: "I'd like to see how you'd do in a dramatic role. But no one will believe it with that blonde hair. Put on a brunette wig and we'll shoot a scene from 'Golden Boy'."

Marilyn's latest one of Lana Turner's old wigs and made the test. It was great. Her own studio wasn't interested, but RKO and Director Ed Marin were. So Marilyn got M-G-M to test up on her contract and went to RKO, where they gave her a wig of her own and the lead opposite George Raft in the picture "Race Street."

"I'm going to see how the picture turns out," she said. "If my brunette hair does anything for me, I'll become a brunette. That's the natural color of my hair, anyway."

2. To mouth publicly the sentiments of the Communist Party and to distribute Communist literature. Throughout the Beverly Hills convention stacks of Communist literature, including the Red daily, the People's World, were distributed from tables in the same literature appears always to be lying in stacks on tables in PCA headquarters in Hollywood for callers to take.

This convention was labeled "Thought Control Conference" and I presume that label referred to the theme song, which repeated like a broken record that the John Rankins and anti-Communist committees were threatening free speech in America. In view of the ardent concern of these PACers for that Constitutional freedom. I found it interesting that they had gone to considerable lengths to screen attendance and that the majority of those admitted to the hall appeared to have been instructed in advance as to how to vote on each and every proposition.

The same old crowd of Reds who have been heading up one Red front after another for years in Hollywood were in control—Kenny, John Howard Lawson, Norman Corwin, Howard Koch, ex-Congressman Hugh de Ray, Ben Margolis, Carey McWilliams. The same old stereotypes.

In fact, the stuff dished up at these Red roundups is so inbred it was obviously boreome to some of the top-bands this time. They fought the air. The audience was spontaneous only on such occasions as the displaying of the Red flag. But for the few millions of Americans of foreign origin who brought their subversive ideology with them, it seems pretty certain that the Communist Party would have great difficulty in building new fronts to carry its banners.

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER
EARRICADE—The "second Marshall Plan" which aims to transform the hitherto ineffective General Assembly of the United Nations into a permanent, international grand jury empowered to indict leading nations before the bar of public opinion, completes the economic and political barricade that the United States feels it necessary to erect against Soviet aggression.

It is the logical expansion of the Secretary of State's original plan, as he explains it, for organizing Western Europe into an economic union which, with American financial assistance, will serve as a buffer against Communist encroachment in that area.

The new encirclement is designed to turn the light of publicity on the Kremlin's postwar crimes and violation of solemn treaties. In the expectation that world-wide revulsion will force Stalin to show a more cooperative spirit.

ALLIANCE—The virtue of the proposal, together with other moves which the Truman Administration has made in recent weeks, is that it is a "sting" reserved for those who violate our traffic laws. It is couched in nice language, sufficient to leave the visitor in a good humor.

It amounts to a complete repudiation of the original Truman Doctrine. Whereas that scheme tended to throw all responsibility and expense for the anti-Communist crusade on the United States, leaving Uncle Sam exposed on a lonely limb, the first and second "Marshall Plans" contemplate the formation of a closely-knit alliance of more than thirty European and South American nations.

CCID—This swift shift in strategy was forced upon the Administration by even "smug" from nations' old reception of the Truman Doctrine, as hurriedly formulated and enunciated in his March message asking Congressional approval of the $400,000,000 required to bolster Greece and Turkey against Communist inroads.

The principal European nations, as well as the smaller ones, informed Washington that they feared they might become sideline victims in any clash between the United States and Russia, whether it be a military story by Noel Coward.

A pal told Jack Paar: "EKO think of you as the Cary Grant. They'll put you in a picture soon." "I know," said Jack, "but they're not through using the OLD Cary Grant yet."

Warner Bros. have been congratulating themselves for a week. Bogart and Bacall like the script of "Key Largo." They learn quick in Hollywood. Brian Donlevy's four-and-a-half-year-old Judy was asked to model a dress at a fashion show. Judy's first question was: "Do I get the dress?"

THE PLANE TRUTH
Two years ago, Walter Slezak missed a train to San Francisco. He took a seat on a regular airliner so he chartered a small private plane. It had dual controls and the pilot let him think he was flying the ship. Slezak was so enchanted, he started taking flying lessons the next week.

Now he has an $8000 four-passenger ship, has 180 hours solo credit, and makes frequent cross-country hops between Hollywood and his Pennsylvania farm.

But private flying, he says, has resulted in a racket for some mechanics at airports across the country.

"You come in and land," he said, "and a mechanic walks up with a worried look on his face. You say, 'What's wrong?' and the mechanic says, 'I don't like the sound of your engine. The motor has been running perfectly but you listen. Maybe something is wrong. So you tell him to time it up. Then you get a bill for $35.'"

"At the next airport a mechanic walks up with a worried look and says, 'That landing gear—it looks haywire.' It has been working perfectly but you look at it. Maybe something is wrong. So you tell him to look at it. And you get a bill for $18.'"

Says Walter: "Every time I fly across the country I take 48 mechanics out of debt."

"Anybody can make money using News Want Ads—but I like to do it the hard way!"

THOUGHT CONTROL CONGRESS by Upton Close

The Progressive Citizens of America, the Henry Wallace political party, is trying hard to crash newspaper headlines.

Perhaps its members will appreciate a few paragraphs of free publicity in this column, setting forth their expressed aims and also an aim or two which they have not publicly espoused.

At a recent meeting in Beverly Hills, Calif., after discrediting the U. S. flag in a comic skit and then madly applauding the red banner of Soviet Russia, the handpicked convention heard Communist front Robert W. Kenny announce those aims which are openly embraced by PCA, notably:

1. Get rid of "the very un-American Activities Committee"—meaning the committee in the House of Representatives which has been exposing communism.

2. Quit hurting Stalin's feelings. 3. Socialize U. S. coal mines, railroads, electric power and atomic energy.

Other speakers enlarged somewhat on this program by demanding:

1. That President Truman revoke the loyalty directive he issued last spring in a move—a phony move, as it turned out—to oust Communists from government positions. — 2. That the job of Fred Goetzard Eisler, popularly considered America's No. 1 Communist but described by PCA speakers as a patriotic persecuted anti-Nazi refugee. Eisler was convicted recently of contempt of Congress.

I perceive some objectives which no PCA speaker voiced at the convention. — 1. To support Henry Wallace in his third-party threat, a drive to keep Truman backed into the far-left corner throughout the 1948 political campaign.

2. To mouth publicly the sentiments of the Communist Party and to distribute Communist literature. Throughout the Beverly Hills convention stacks of Communist literature, including the Red daily, the People's World, were distributed from tables in the same literature appears always to be lying in stacks on tables in PCA headquarters in Hollywood for callers to take.

Common Ground

In the last issue commenting on Henry Link's latest book "The Rediscovery of Morals" I quoted him on the real interpretation of the dignity of man. Dr. Link continues, showing the moral concepts back of men which helped bring about our idea of government. He says:

"These men believed in a moral order and moral law far more authoritative than any king, dictator, or political system. All the great Americans, from John Winthrop and George Washington to John Brown and Abraham Lincoln, testify to this fact. They embodied their concept of human dignity in a Constitution which gave us, not a Democracy but a Republic in the name of Democracy. They knew that in a democracy the majority could be wrong, the majority could, unless restrained, vote away the rights, the property, the freedoms of any minority. In fact, they could vote away their own dignity as free men and place themselves once more in the age-old status of regimented slaves or semi-contented government cows."

In God We Trust
"Therefore, our forefathers inscribed the currency of the realm, not with the words, 'Democracy we trust,' or 'In our Government we trust,' or 'In our President we trust.' They did not trust any of these beyond duty. They merely inscribed it with the words, 'In God we trust.'"

Of course he might have said also that we did not inscribe on our currency "the majority rule education we trust," as seems to be entirely what too many people are trusting in. At least they seem to disregard the inscription on our coins: "The people are trusting in force, in might, and in majories rather than in God, Supreme Court Leadership."

Dr. Link points out how far we have departed from the moral laws upon which this country was based. He quotes some decisions from the Supreme Court and concludes that the Supreme Court is really now teaching "how to forget, how to lie, how to bear false witness against thy neighbor, Thou mayest steal, Thou mayest commit violence." He continues by saying:

"The Supreme Court could not, and is unwilling to, find anything in the Constitution, the Bill of Rights, or its own precedents to support the most elementary moral laws affecting the individual when not a union member."

How can the schools teach children not to do these things? Handcuffs, terms like kike, sheeny, nigger, etc., when the Supreme Court encourages adults to call others Fascists, unfair, etc., regardless of the facts? How can violence and vandalism against racial groups and churches be discouraged when they are vindicated in the realm of class struggle by the highest legal authority in the land?

And who does the Supreme Court make such decisions? The reason is it only reflects majority rule education. It is the natural result of might makes right. If people were not taught might makes right, the majority need not respect the rights of the minority in each school district of the United States, we would not elect Presidents who could appoint Supreme Court judges who would make such immoral decisions. The incubator, the gross roots of these decisions is public education and the lack of church leaders to preach the "Ten Commandments" rather than the social gospel or the welfare clause of the Constitution.

Education and Crime
Dr. Link points out how crime has increased as "education" has increased. I quote from his book: "Aside from the evidences of psychology are the statistics on the increase of crime, of gambling, of divorce, of alcoholism, of juvenile delinquency, of mob action. These increases have accompanied the greatest increase and spread of education in history. If the schools had taught... the habits of personality and character as thoroughly as the habits of memorizing and thinking, the problems of race and class conflict would not be so acute today."

Dr. Link has a great deal to say on the meaning of equal rights. He puts in italics a splendid statement on this subject: "All men have equal rights to make the most of their inequalities."

Then Dr. Link goes on to say: "His dogma is the foundation of all morals and justice. It says, in effect, that every person is so equal it is worth the no other, not to have the right to infringe on his possibilities. No man has a right to enrich himself at the expense of another. When it comes to stopping, for a red traffic light, the man in a limousine is no better than the man in a jalopy. When it comes to bearing false witness, coveting and stealing, no one can be excused because he is richer or poorer than his neighbor. Morals and life the lanes in a swimming race or the rules in a football game. They are the guides which permit every individual to make the most of himself without injustice to his neighbors."

We glorify all kinds of American things, from antiques and ancestors to hot dogs and chorus girls. Why not take a little time out and glorify American culture? Let's give American music a chance to be heard. F. Charles Adler, symphony conductor.

Rio Grande Valley Citrus Shows Gain

MALLEN—AP—Texas now has 11,374,273 citrus trees in the Rio Grande Valley and Winter Garden sections, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has reported. The figure represents a gain of 2,824,911 trees since the tree census three years ago, the department said.

Brooks, Cameron, Dimmit, Hidalgo, LaSalle, Webb and Willacy counties and part of Jim Wells County were included in the survey. The three-year planting increase totals 1,388,347 grapefruit, 1,413,028 orange, 12,366 tangerine, 17,777 lemon and 1,430 lime trees. Other new plantings such as mandarins, kumquats and tangelos total 6,144 trees.

Hidalgo County, with 3,361,337 trees, has almost three times as many as the rest of the Valley and Winter Garden section together. Cameron County is second with 2,557,776 trees. The largest single district is Mission with 2,296,137 trees. The present total for Texas includes 8,000,743 grapefruit trees, 4,108,649 orange, 70,956 tangerine, 138,861 lemon, 15,086 lime and 44,525 other types.

As I See It--

By SAM VEITCH WASHINGTON

On the subject of grain, another situation has developed which isn't going to be very pleasant. The early part of this grain season there was an initial rush to get wheat to market. Long lines of trucks were lined up at the grain elevators waiting for freight cars. Today that rush has settled down to a mere dribble. Wheat moving into Kansas City's large grain elevators is far less than the large volume that is moving out of the elevators. The farmers who have the wheat, can't seem to be in any hurry to sell. On the surface that looks bad. It looks like the farmer is stubborn. But let's see. You be the judge.

I will explain what happened last year, and then you decide what you would do under the same condition. Here is the reason they are reluctant to turn their wheat into money at this time. The farmers feel that a dirty deal was given them in Washington a year or so ago. Shortly after harvest time, Washington tried to get all the wheat possible to send abroad. They asked the farmers to release their grain at that time, and they could rest assured there would be no further price incentive of holding their wheat through the winter. That the high "controlled price" would be the same in the Spring. But here is what happened.

Farmers, mostly the small operators, sold their wheat, confident that Uncle Sam would keep his word. But the sad part of it is, he didn't. In April of the following year, a 20 cent bonus was declared to those who still held their wheat. Of course, these were the large growers. They were the ones who kept their wheat under cover. But this is the deal that made a lot of little operators feel very unhappy. Now comes the time when these same growers have lots of wheat. Their acreage gave them a good crop this year, and it is almost as valuable as gold. They are not forgetting the "double-cross" they got, and they have decided to sit tight with their wheat. Can you blame them?

Drowsing Horses, Mules May Have Sleeping Sickness, Need Vaccine

BY LEON HALE Assistant Extension Editor Texas A. & M. College

About 19 years ago, I had an old mule that I bought for $1.85 and two sacks of roll-your-own tobacco that I borrowed from my old man. The mule was definitely something wrong with that mule. He never got out of low gear all time I had him. All he never did was eaten his last meal.

Remember when I used to cuss that mule, a little colored boy that I met in the place would say that there wasn't anything wrong with him, except that "he's just sleepy".

And now, while snooping around in some of the records and papers worked up by the doctors in the Texas A. & M. College department of veterinary medicine, I see that the little colored boy was about right. My mule was sleepy, all right, because, according to the symptoms described by the veterinarian, he had a plain and fancy case of sleeping sickness.

Sleeping sickness in horses and mules has been going on for years and years, so the vets say. It came to Texas on a large scale in 1938 and 1939, and has been showing up pretty often ever since. The doc has a name for it... "equine encephalomyelitis"... you pronounce it.

Not trying to get you to look for trouble, but sleeping sickness has been found in every section of the state, and maybe you'll want to check up a little if you haven't already traded your horses and mules in on a couple of tractors. In a typical case, the animal is actually just plain sleepy... sluggish and slow... pays no attention to commands... He might show a little life at meal time and wake up and eat... then get sleepy again. (Sounds like a couple of people I know.)

The veterinarians say a horse or mule with sleeping sickness will sometime stumble around and run head into corner post. Seems to have a tendency to go in circles all the time, following the fence line over and over again. He might grind his teeth or even lie on the ground and kick in some of the more advanced cases. The disease can be so fast it will kill the animal within a few hours after he shows his first symptoms.

Those, as the docs say, are rather typical symptoms, and the heck of it is that a lot of cases aren't typical enough for you to recognize. There's a way to protect your horses and mules from sleeping sickness. It's a vaccine, which is prepared commercially. My old mule never did reach the stage where he laid down and kicked. He just laid down.

From the Panhandle to the Rio Grande, farmers now are thinking about putting in their winter cover crops. The benefit of legumes is an old story... about how they put that necessary nitrogen into the soil, cut down erosion, up your yields and when tilled under, give the soil a good bait of humus that puts the life back into it.

E. A. Miller, Extension Service agronomist at Texas A. & M. College, gave me a little outline this week, showing that legumes are most popular in different sections of the state.

South Texas... that is, that part south of an imaginary line running through San Antonio, blue lupine gets the most votes.

Northeast Texas... hairy vetch and Austrian winter peas.

Southeast Texas-timber region... hairy vetch, Austrian winter peas, Williamette and common vetch are all good.

Gulf Coastal Prairie... annual yellow blossom sweet clover. In the Blacklands... Hubam sweet clover.

West Cross Timbers... hairy vetch. Rolling Plains... Hubam and Madrid sweet clovers and hairy vetch.

And on the High Plains and in the Pecos and El Paso Valleys, it's alfalfa under irrigation.

It May Require 5 Years to Restore European Farming

How long will the world need American food? D. A. Fitzgerald, Secretary-General of the International Emergency Food Council, predicts that it will probably be five years before most of Europe and the Far East can rebuild production to prewar level.

Even then, says Fitzgerald, who writes of the world food problem in the October issue of Country Gentleman, the two continents will need to import much more grain than prewar because they will have 150 million more people than in 1939. World population now is about seven percent higher than it was before the war.

Contrasting the world food situation now with the less critical one following the first World War, Fitzgerald says: "Seven times as much grain on destruction was bound to being about more extensive damage to the world's capacity for production—including food production. In 1914-15 there was no occupation of Far Eastern countries, no bombing and counter-bombing, no 'scorched earth' destruction, India, the Philippines, the East Indies, Southeastern Asia, China, Japan were able to keep right on producing food—indeed they actually increased food production."

Today the Far East is stricken, Fitzgerald points out. Burma, Siam, French Indo-China, Korea, and Formosa are able this year to supply only one-fourth of the prewar rice tonnage to their neighbors in Ceylon, India, China and Malaya, and many other regions of Southeast Asia.

Pointing out that the comforts and conveniences of urban living are now available to farm families, Ortman said that new rural homes will incorporate such features as water pressure systems, tiled bathrooms and modern kitchen facilities.

Gray County Farm Families May Up Home Building

Farm families in Gray County will spend more than $276,000 for new housing in the next three to five years, according to a forecast released by the Title Council of America, New York.

"As a result of high incomes during the last few years, farmers in every part of the nation are prepared to invest record amounts in new home construction and in general farm improvements," said F. B. Ortman, chairman of the Council's residential construction committee.

The quantity gained to the corresponding date last year totaled 1,263,327 bales and in 1945, 1,021,517 bales. The ginnings by states this year and last, respectively, included: Arizona 19,739 and 11,322; Arkansas 93,500 and 73,012; Louisiana 195,825 and 91,974; Mississippi 152,246 and 149,305; Oklahoma 3,779 and 2,946; Texas 754,290 and 517,172.

MURDER CHARGES

DALLAS—AP—Charges of murder without malice were filed here yesterday against Lewis Hughes, 21, in the death of Fred Krantz, 66, of Lake Dallas, who was killed Sunday at Letot when struck by an automobile.

Europe is stricken, too. According to Fitzgerald it is short about four million draft animals. The 500,000 tractors necessary to replace these animals aren't to be had. Repair parts for broken machinery can be provided at about one-sixth the prewar amount. There are shortages of fertilizer and insecticide. Crop acreage has been cut down and

Survey Discloses Many Odd Facts About Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD.—The church-going, smoking, divorcing, night-lubbing and other habits of Hollywood citizens have been polled and the results indicate that the town is a fair-tame place. Or so the figures say.

The quizzing was done by the Hollywood Reporter and of the 1,000 of the trade paper's readers who answered, 70 percent are in show business. Eighty-five percent are males. The full results will be published in a book impossibly titled, "Facts About Hollywood, U. S. A."

Information to the Nation." Here is a preview:

The divorce mill has claimed 22.7 percent of the wives, whereas the Reporter credits the national average (Bureau of Census reports) at 10 percent.

Democrats claim a majority of 200,000, pulling a total of 50.4 percent.

Hollywood firmly believes the rest of the U. S. has the wrong impression of Hollywood. At least that's what 61 percent indicated on the poll. Thirty percent don't like to drink and 11.5 percent no liquor. Forty-two percent visit a night club but once a month.

If it surprises you to learn what the favorite hobby is, it's reading. And photography ranks second. Twenty-nine individuals possess yachts and 87 own television sets. A mere 10 percent, and this should upset legend, have swimming pools in their back yards.

Hollywood dresses well, says the survey. Eighty-one percent of the boys have some of their clothes custom-made and 65.9 percent own five to nine suits. Fourteen gents replied they have over 40 suits.

And look at the educational figures—83.1 percent were graduated from college; 55.1 more attended college and 13.8 got past high school graduation. Of course it could be that they're the ones who like to fill out polls.

The loss of Harry Carey will be deeply felt around Hollywood. He and his wife, who was always with him, were familiar and friendly faces on movie sets. Once he told me his secret of success, as an actor: "Always say a line with your eyes before you say it with your mouth."
