

Texas Construction Awards Set New Peacetime Record So Far

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas construction awards continued to set new peacetime records through the first eight months of this year, rocketing to a total of $412,612,147 at August's end—but the peak year for building may come in 1948.

That was the prediction of the Texas Contractors Association, which in its journal, Saturday, announced the year's building activity and set the record for the coming year.

The increase made by construction awards in the past year, from a final total of $312,612,147 in 1946 to a slump in residential construction the past month.

And residential building has been the chief contributor to the year's staggering total, according to construction.

Texas Contractors Association grand total of $268,000,000 will be awarded for all construction work of all types in 1948.

The data on which the figures are based were compiled from official sources, the national office of the association.

The grand total expected for 1948 is $412,612,147.

Construction awards for the first eight months of this year, according to the Texas Contractors Association, are as follows:

1946: $312,612,147
1947: $412,612,147

Construction awards for the first eight months of this year, according to the Texas Contractors Association, are as follows:

1946: $312,612,147
1947: $412,612,147

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By ARTHUR EDSON (For Hal Boyle)

WASHINGTON—Put on your headress, grab a tumbler and some champagne. Today we're calling on Indians.

It may be tougher than you think. For lo! Although the poor Indian isn't vanishing, he has mixed with other races until no one knows for sure the answer to the question: "What is an American Indian?"

The census bureau says anyone who looks upon himself as an Indian is an Indian. The office of Indian affairs says that if tribal rules claim a person as a member, then he's an Indian.

Either way it adds up to around 400,000 full or part-time Indians, of whom 110,000 live in Oklahoma. Contrary to popular impression, not all Oklahoma Indians own oil wells.

It has been 20,000 years since the first Indian checked into this continent.

Indians kept moving in, probably across the Bering Strait, until 2,000 to 4,000 years ago.

There has been a sharp decrease in the Indian population of this country since 1492.

Anthropologists, using shoddy accounting, figure that between 500,000 and 800,000 Indians were prowling around when Columbus nosed

...there were hundreds of them now in the Navajo, one of the last groups to make that one-way trip across the Bering Strait. It has 60,000 members.

On the other hand, the 3,157 combined people of the Navajo, the Hopi and the Pueblo Indians, who live in the Four Corners area, are the most numerous.

The Navajo people believe there's only one God, the "Tinkawa" brave. And, in fact, they're not in "Tinkawa," but in "Tinkawa," the Navajo.

Assistant Indian Commissioner John H. Pevrise, who filled me in with most of these details, says the Navajo are the poor shepherders, and they're scattered over a reservation bigger than West Virginia.

Educator Pevrise thinks would be hard to educate them. But it's hard to build schools and roads in that country. And once schools are built, says Pevrise, it's hard to get the Indians into them.

Solon Says Labor Act 'Is Working Very Well'

WASHINGTON—Senator Ball (R-Minn.) said Saturday the Taft-Hartley labor act "is working very well" and is being "quite generally observed by both employers and unions."

Ball, who was one of the authors of the act and who heads a Senate-House Committee set up to study its operation, made these points at a news conference.

1. The predictions that were made that the act would inaugurate a period of heavy industrial strife have not been borne out, and the labor relations scene is more tranquil than it has been in years.

2. "I haven't seen anything on the act that needs changing."

3. NLRB General Counsel Robert Donham was clearly within his rights in ruling that top officials of the AFL and the CIO must sign pledges that they are not Communists, although Congress did not consider the matter.

4. The Joint Study Committee, which is required to report on the law's operation by next March 1, will probably hold some hearings in the late fall.

5. The committee has already done considerable work on a study of the long-term labor relations of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company and the Botany Worsted Mills. Fawcett N. J., and will make similar studies of other firms.

6. The committee will steer clear of taking a role in any current labor dispute.

Ball said he is not concerned about clauses written into contracts in an attempt to absolve unions of liability to damage suits for failure to live up to the contract.

Field Examinations Corporation Records Will Be Instigated

ASTIN—Field examinations of books and records of Texas corporations to verify the correctness of their franchise tax reports and payment will be instigated soon, State Auditor C. H. Cavness announced Saturday.

Cavness believed the investigations would prove to be profitable to the state's general revenue fund. He noted that corporation franchise taxes have produced an annual average revenue of the state of approximately $4,500,000 for the past several years.

Although the franchise taxes are collected through the Secretary of State's office, the franchise tax law does not give the Secretary of State authority to examine the books and records of the corporations, the State Auditor observed.

The state auditor law authorizes the auditor, "and makes it his duty," to make "independent verifications" of the state's revenues.

Cavness said.

Setting up of this activity and the necessary appropriation was recommended to the Finance and Appropriation Committee of the 50th Legislature by the Legislative Audit Committee.

Funds were provided by the Legislature in the State Auditor's biennial appropriation starting Sept. 1 for the expense of auditing the revenues from corporation franchise taxes.

Cavness said he was making arrangements to open branch offices in several of the larger cities over the state to facilitate the work.

Ten to 12 men will be used continually in the field on this particular phase of state auditing.

Hunter Is Ideal of Small Fry

By STANFORD CALDERWOOD NEA Special Correspondent

WARREN, N. H.—(NEA)—Smelly, this tiny up-country hamlet is in the grip of a Christmas-like excitement.

Each day they eagerly watch the mail for news of what raw and howling weather is swirling over the mountains. Ira H. Morse is from the South African side.

Morse is a small boy's dream come true in a country that he made his fortune in the shoe business. He has the eyes of the earth seeking adventure but always remembered the folks at home and unassuming, shared the excitement with them.

Returning from his first big game hunt in 1926 Morse decided his rural neighbors should have some of the museum facilities available in our cities.

So he built a museum in Warren, and the trophies from his first expedition mounted on canvas, and set out to bring new pieces to fill the nearly empty building.

His safaris were not limited to Africa. To date he has made four trips around the world to collect items representative of every culture he encountered. Today Warren—population 169—has a museum that many large cities could envy.

In addition to mounted wild animals—Morse has shot 212 out of a possible 216 species in British East Africa—there are weapons, shoes, and other categories of pieces collected the world over.

When V. J. Day ended his war-torn holiday, Morse started sending cables and letters to arrange this most recent trip. Last November the 72-year-old hunter and his 54-year-old wife flew to Nairobi, Africa.

Even then, they were among the first post-war American expeditions into the Tanganyika area. They found the hunting good and after a few weeks in the bush country, they shot elephants, a rhinoceros and dozens of other kinds of wild game. The safari was rounded off with a buying trip through Egypt, Ceylon and India.

The hunting eye of Ira Morse, which he demonstrates above, gives the people of Warren, N.H., a chance to see big game without leaving home.

If you now, absorbed in unpacking and cataloging items from the trip, the Moroses are already planning next year's hunt.

This pleases the neighboring kids, and their parents who know that even though they cannot afford the $24,000 that Morse's last safari cost, they can still taste much of the excitement by going through the door of the Morse museum which always bears the sign: "Free"

Wildcat Strike At Railroad Plant Idles 15,000 Men

PITTSBURGH—(AP)—The Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corp.'s president yesterday gloomily warned that a wildcat strike of plant railroad workers which already had idled 15,000 production employees and bit deeply into sorely needed steel production, "may not end quickly."

As first peace efforts in the work stoppage of some 1,800 railroad workers proved fruitless, C. R. Cox, Carnegie-Illinois president said the strike:

"...May not end quickly since it is our understanding many of the demands are regarded as unreasonable and others not readily susceptible of solution."

His remarks were contained in a lengthy statement to non-striking employees in which he expressed "deep regret" that they "once again must suffer through loss of employment" in a dispute in which they were not directly involved.

The strikers, who walked out Friday, are members of the Brotherhoods of Railroad Trainmen and Locomotive Engineers. They work for the Union Railroad, a U. S. Steel subsidiary which does inter-plant hauling for Carnegie-Illinois, U. S. Steel's top producing subsidiary.

Both the National Railway Mediation Board and A. F. Whitney of Cleveland, president of the BRT, have called the strike unauthorized. The workers' demands have not been outlined specifically but reportedly include a 50-cent hourly pay increase package, covering among other fringe items a four-week vacation for 20-year workers. Representatives from national offices of both railroad brotherhoods came here from Cleveland to persuade the men to return to work but a six-hour session Friday night and further conferences yesterday proved unavailing.

The walkout will cause a complete shutdown of basic operations in four Carnegie-Illinois Pittsburgh district mills and the firm slowly was reducing to zero level in these plants Saturday.

Cox said the stoppage will cost production losses of 16,000 tons of finished steel daily, enough to produce 8,000 automobiles or vast quantities of other manufactured items now in short supply.

The trade unions—Winston Churchill.

I say without hesitation that there will be no recovery from the present misfortune until the quality men whose crazy theories and personal incompetence have brought us down have been driven from power.—Winston Churchill.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN

To prove that I'm not just the sort of silly, scatterbrained columnist who can only write about ladies, hats and clothes, I'll show you that I'm also the sort that can write about baseball.

From sources usually considered reliable I have the information that a team called the Brooklyn Rogers or Dodgers is ahead in some league. This seems to excite George, though I can't understand why. So far as I know he's never lived in Brooklyn, wouldn't be happy if he did live there because he's very bad at learning strange languages. Sometimes he can't even understand me when I ask him for something or other.

Anyway, George's mind is so full of baseball that this morning he even referred to my mother as an old bat. Well, I guess that covers the baseball situation for this season.

If Stomach Gas or Sour Food Taste Robs You of Sleep

Here's How You May Help, Whether You Eat 500 Pounds or 2000 Pounds of Food In a Year

You can't feel cheerful, be happy and sleep well, if your stomach is always upset. As age advances the "old stomach" needs more help. The reason is this: Every time food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morose, lousy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains very special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Also, pushing yourself with overdoses of soda and other alkalis to counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait until the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

DOCTOR WOODWARD'S AMBITION

By Elizabeth Seifert

THE STORY: Choice of a new orthopedic surgeon is being discussed. Dr. Malcolm Glass suggests Barrett, a friend of his. Dr. Woodward counters by suggesting the famous Dr. Huddle. "It was the first time I've suspected him of trying to outstep me," Malcolm later tells Rick.

ANDREW was sparking Susan. He announced that he meant to do so when he first asked her for a date. A date she was inclined to refuse, guided by her instinctive distrust of the man. But he challenged her for a reason, and she had none to give.

The date went well, and the next week he met her on the street and suggested that they have dinner together at the Huddle; there was no reason to refuse that invitation. Besides, it was flattering to receive the attentions of this young—and attractive—Staff doctor.

The third week, he took her horseback riding on a crisp, sunny fall Sunday, then brought her back to a delightful evening with his mother and her delicious scones and jam and tea. Andrew Woodward knew how to break down a girl's defenses—by ignoring her existence.

Every girl on the floor envied Susan the attention she had from her escort. The way he smiled proudly as they danced, his first face when they talked, the manner with which he arranged her cape when they left the hall.

Under the portico of the Nurses' Home, with the tall lights of their taxi twinkling down the hill, Andrew smiled at Susan, took the hand she extended, drew her toward him and bent his head—she pulled back sharply. "No!" she cried.

HE tried to smile, but her eyes were troubled. "If you were nice to me, thinking I would kiss you—I know a goody kiss isn't important—it's just that well, my kisses belong to someone else. I should have explained that before."

He straightened, his face serious. "You didn't need to explain. I'm not blind, Susan. I know, of course, that you are in love with Malcolm Glenn."

Science and Navy Planning Dry Ice Stab At Heart to Bleeb Next Tropical Storm

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This feature is a cooperative writing job by Jack W. Gore of the Fort Lauderdale News, Milton Sosin of the Miami Daily News, and E. W. Jones of the Associated Press, who pooled their information for a comprehensive analysis of a spectacular experiment.)

MIAMI, Fla.—(AP)—Scientists and the Navy's hurricane hunters are awaiting the opportunity to become history's first hurricane-busters.

into a cloud, like a farmer plants wheat.

It will be a cautious experiment at first, because nobody quite knows what will happen when the tremendous energy stored up in a great hurricane is tackled. The experiment may not work at all.

A special B-17 weather-science is on the ground at Schenectady, N. Y., awaiting the word that a hurricane has formed. The plane is specially equipped for "seeding" chemicals

Only a little of the chemical will be fed into the storm the first day, then photographs and observations will be analyzed before a heavier attack is made. The "busting" effort will become progressively heavier until scientists and Navy men know what the effect will be.

The hurricane will be attacked at the snow level—at an altitude high enough so that it is probable that snow will form. The precipitation undoubtedly would melt into raindrops long before it reached the sea or land.

What are the possibilities of the experiment?

Hurricanes are great, natural engines packed with energy. A fully developed one often measures 300 miles across the area of hurricane winds, with an even larger area of storms and squalls extending in advance of the center.

Weather experts believe that this release of energy in condensation and precipitation is the secret of a continuing source of power which permits a great hurricane to travel as much as 2,000 miles and strike land with undiminished fury.

Germany, Japan Will Get Large Quantity Of Texas Cotton

HOUSTON—(AP)—Cotton grown in the Lone Star state will be sent to Germany and Japan, according to Robert F. Rader, vice president of Lykes Brothers Steamship Company.

He said 25,000 bales will be shipped from Port Houston to Bremen, Germany, during September with another 75,000 bales going to Japan "probably in November."

The raw staple will be used in textile mills, Rader said. Profits from sale of the textiles on the open market will be used for purchase of additional cotton through a revolving fund set up by cotton firms and the Export-Import Bank.

Fine thing to See - to Drive - to Own

Your heart is set, we'll say, on something really superfine.

You want smartness—a truly handsome appearance that does you proud in any crowd.

You want ability—a car that does things, and with effortless ease.

You want size—size for interior room and size for steady, level going and serene disregard for the roughness of the road.

You want fine finish—truly rich interiors in perfect taste with the unmistakable touch of quality in every detail.

Against this prescription we ask you to put the Buick Roadmaster—match it, if you will, against any other car regardless of price for all-round excellence.

We don't have to point out its smartness—you see that.

But did you know that under this bonnet is 144 horsepower of smooth Fireball power?

Have you sampled how its 4400 pounds and 18 feet of bigness—mounted as they are on four gentle coil springs—level the roads to ballroom smoothness?

Have you tried its light handling—tested its smooth, easy lift under your treadle foot—inspected the fine rich fabrics, the tasteful interior trim, the fittings executed with the precision of fine silver?

A fine thing to see, a wonderful thing to drive, the Roadmaster is indeed a prideful thing to own. We honestly believe that nowhere can you find such a perfect balance of superfine qualities—style, size, handling, ride and finish.

If your standards are high, your expectations great, come see us now about placing an order—with or without a car to trade.

Scientists Find Zinc Plays Vital Role in Life of Blood Cells

ST. LOUIS—(AP)—Discovery that zinc plays a vital role in blood cells—a finding offering possible clues to treatment of a usually fatal disease of white blood cells—was announced yesterday by a research team from Harvard University and Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

The disease is leukemia, which may be a kind of cancer. White cells of patients with the disease, they found, contain only one-fifth to one-tenth of the normal quantity of zinc, the white metal used in wartime "plumbers."

The findings were announced to the Fourth International Cancer Research Congress by Dr. Bert L. Vallee and Dr. John G. Gibson, II, of Harvard Medical School and Dr. Robley D. Evans and Dr. J. E. Nelson of MIT.

This same research team has been working on blood studies since 1940, and during the war developed the method of sending whole blood plasma abroad.

Using tracer atoms of radioactive zinc, they found that there was 25 times as much zinc in normal white blood cells as in normal red cells.

The tracer atoms appeared in newly-formed white cells soon after the radioactive zinc was introduced into animal or human bodies, they said.

The concentration of zinc in these cells would reach a peak, and then fall off. This cycle corresponded to the breakdown of old white cells and the formation of new ones within the bone marrow. The body used the zinc over and over again.

Immature cells did not have the normal zinc content. This was the first finding, they said, of a difference in content of the metal between normal cells and the cancerous ones. Zinc apparently plays a role in the white cells comparable to that of iron in red blood cells. Lack of iron in red cells causes some anemias.

Through the discovery it might become possible, they said, to find some method of treating or curing leukemia. The exact role of the zinc in white blood formation still is being studied.

New York's 'Fly Cops' Patrol Busy Aerial Beat

To fishermen and pleasure-boaters wrecked at sea, New York's 'flying squad cars' often seem like heaven-sent rescuers.

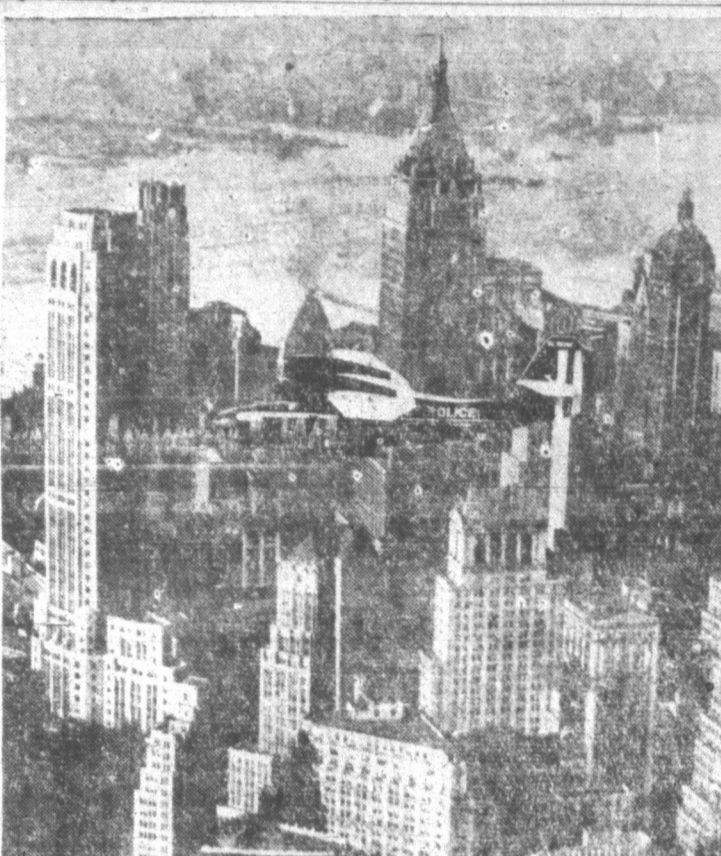

When a reckless pilot 'buzzed' a ball game, endangering hundreds of people, a police-green plane appeared, made an aerial 'pinch' and rode herd on him back to his airport.

Thousands of motorists, streaming in and out of the city on holiday week-ends, are unaware that a police plane is spotting potential traffic jams and preventing them by radioed tips to patrol cars on the ground.

One of the oldest and undoubtedly the busiest of the nation's flying police organizations is New York City's Police Aviation Bureau, organized in 1927. One of its principal duties is enforcement of aviation regulations within the city limits.

A 'FLYING SQUAD CAR' PATROLS THE CANYONS OF MANHATTAN

New York's flying cops' most spectacular rescue was made on Dec. 30, 1933, when five Navy fliers were saved from drowning after their blimp, the J-3, fell into the sea off Beach Haven, N. J., while searching for survivors of the ill-fated dirigible Akron. Bigger and faster Navy seaplanes could not land on the stormy sea, but the police amphibian, a tiny, slow-flying Savoia-Marchetti, sat down atop a wave crest, took off the blimp's crew.

When the Bureau was formed there was but one airport at New York. Today there are eight and 12 seaplane bases. In addition, hundreds of small planes go up each day from dozens of small fields in the environs. The flying policemen also keep their eyes on the tremendous boat traffic in New York harbor and for three miles out from the coast.

U.N. Assembly

ister of Australia, who is certain to receive no votes from the Russian group in the assembly because of his frequent and spirited clashes with the Russians. Jan Masaryk, foreign minister of Czechoslovakia, who likely would receive support from some western nations as well as the Russian group. It was not until 1600 A. D. that Galileo demonstrated that air has weight.

Exodus

(Continued From Page 1) three ships, reliable private sources insisted such steps were taken secretly as soon as the ships anchored. American and British news correspondents vigorously protested to British Control Commission authorities against what they called "intolerable restraints" on their covering of the arrival.

News photographers were hardest hit by the restrictions. They were informed that no photographers would be allowed in the dock area. The correspondents were told by public relations officers they would not be allowed on the quay until 7 a. m., two hours after the first of the ships arrives. If the disembarkation proved peaceful, they were told, the press would be given "a fair chance to see the proceedings," but if force had to be used "you will not have a very good view."

Nine American and six British photographers in a message to Air Marshal Sir Shelton Douglas, British commander of the zone, protested the "incongruous and inadequate arrangements" and said it was a "deliberate attempt" to prevent access to information. Officials explained that "if any people on board wanted to make trouble nothing would encourage them more than the presence of large numbers of the press, particularly cameramen."

The business session of the meeting included plans for obtaining a Shriners' crippled children's hospital in Pampa. It was pointed out at the meeting that authorization has been given to the Khiva Temple district to build the hospital, but as yet, no definite city in the district, which includes approximately 50 Texas Counties and parts of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Kansas, has been selected.

The Pampa Shrine Club has definitely taken a stand to bring this hospital to Pampa, reported Williams. After the acquiring of funds for the erection of the hospital, the hospital will be supported by the Shriners organization. There are 15 hospitals of this type in North America, supported by the Shriners. The closest to Pampa being in Shreveport, La. The hospital will be an orthopedic

Traffic

(Continued From Page 1) leeway with the state's new reckless driving law, are keeping an extra lookout for inconsiderate and reckless drivers. As one officer put it: "We be to the guys we catch zig-zagging along the streets and careening around corners on two wheels or less."

Not a few worried parents have expressed their thanks for the broad reckless driving clause in the new uniform traffic law that will throw a fear of careless driving into those who shrugged it off in the past. Indications around City Hall are that these drivers will be shown no mercy, especially the repeaters. The strict enforcement here has been ordered from the top on down in one all-out effort to reduce traffic fatalities and damages, at least within the city limits.

The occupation line on the 38th parallel of North-latitude blocks even the historic exchange of South Korean food for North Korean manufactures.

If America and Russia cannot agree on erasing this division—and there is no indication that they can—the Americans may go it alone with the Southern zone. They already have a prepared program for that possibility.

The United States already has given South Korea more than $100,000,000 worth of food, fertilizer, clothing, railroad locomotives, boats, medicines and hundreds of other items. These have proved enough to keep the American zone breathing, but not enough to enable it to walk under its own power.

The U. S. War and State Departments, however, have in their files plans to build a separate economy for South Korea. This program, aiming at complete self-support within three years, was ready for consideration by Congress

Quentin Williams Heads Shrine Club

Quentin Williams, above, local soil conservationist, was elected president of the Pampa Shrine Club Friday night, at the American Legion Hall, at the club's annual election of officers. Other officers selected were John Patis, vice-president; and Chester Thompson, secretary-treasurer.

The business session of the meeting included plans for obtaining a Shriners' crippled children's hospital in Pampa. It was pointed out at the meeting that authorization has been given to the Khiva Temple district to build the hospital, but as yet, no definite city in the district, which includes approximately 50 Texas Counties and parts of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, and Kansas, has been selected.

The Pampa Shrine Club has definitely taken a stand to bring this hospital to Pampa, reported Williams. After the acquiring of funds for the erection of the hospital, the hospital will be supported by the Shriners organization.

Prison

(Continued From Page 1) in order and to correct his in the system. The board holds 100 percent behind Stokes in his actions. Windsor made his comment when stating Cofer had called him and complained about his dismissal. Stokes indicated additional firing will follow.

The general manager, in his "tightening up" program, has issued instructions to all farm managers to see that their help is efficient. He also told each farm manager the blame will fall directly on the manager's shoulders in the event of escapes or mistreatment of prisoners.

Cofer, who told reporters he had nothing to say about his dismissal, recently filed a complaint with the prison board that he had been "slapped" by Capt. John Easton, manager of the Darrington Farm. Easton, however, was cleared of the charge following a hearing conducted during a special session of the board.

Cofer, who has been with the system about three years, drew a salary of $2,730 per year. Mintra, who joined the prison staff in January last year, received a salary of $4,800 annually.

ADVICE TO DIABETICS

Beware of patent medicines advertised as cures or remedies for diabetes! They often are not reliable. Diabetes was first recognized about 1552 B.C. This was about the time of Moses, or 200 years before the birth of King Tut. Ever since that time, at intervals, some faker comes up with a cure. A dependable treatment for diabetes was discovered only twenty years ago. It will not cure the disease, but it will enable the diabetic to live a normal life. The discovery is known as Insulin. Your doctor knows all about it. If he finds it necessary in your case, we can supply it in just the right strength.

Korea

(Continued From Page 1) ed on how to find a formula for the choosing. Ruled for some 4,200 years by feudal chiefs and kings, and then for 40 years as a colony of Japan, Korea was tightly geared to Japan.

When the Japanese were thrown out, the economy fell dead for lack of skilled workers and technicians.

The occupation line on the 38th parallel of North-latitude blocks even the historic exchange of South Korean food for North Korean manufactures.

If America and Russia cannot agree on erasing this division—and there is no indication that they can—the Americans may go it alone with the Southern zone. They already have a prepared program for that possibility.

The United States already has given South Korea more than $100,000,000 worth of food, fertilizer, clothing, railroad locomotives, boats, medicines and hundreds of other items. These have proved enough to keep the American zone breathing, but not enough to enable it to walk under its own power.

The U. S. War and State Departments, however, have in their files plans to build a separate economy for South Korea. This program, aiming at complete self-support within three years, was ready for consideration by Congress

Husband Analyzing

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

Tip to men: If you come home some night to a wife who looks at you with an "I've got your number" look, don't get worrying about what you've done.

Chances are she has come across an article in some woman's magazine which tells her she can find out what type you are. She's answered a few questions about you, and has discovered that you fit into a classification she would have avoided if she had known.

Women's magazines are forever printing these "know your man" tests. And women take a strange delight in sitting down with a magazine and pencil and judiciously answering such questions about their husbands as: "Does he think you are entitled to a mind of your own?"

Then, when the questions are answered, John is no longer just John. He's Type A, or Type B, or Type C.

ADVICE, BESIDES

That's where the trouble begins. The meddlesome magazine whose test indicates John is Type D advises John's wife: "Always keep him guessing. His interests are spotty, so you must work to maintain his interest in you."

With all this amateur analyzing that the magazines are sponsoring, a husband has no way of knowing whether this week his wife regards him as Type A (moody and hard to live with) or Type B (responsible, loyal to a fault, kind and generous).

Decorative Buttons and Trimmings
May Ruin Dress When Dry Cleaned

By NEV SERVICE

You'll save yourself disappointment and possibly damaged clothes if you'll prepare your dress for its trip to the dry cleaner's by stripping it of buttons, belt and, when possible, fancy sequined or beaded trim. You will also make a life-long friend of your dry cleaner who may not have the stuff nor the time to do this job for you. You should also send a written note explaining what caused stains on garments, if you know. This information will guide the cleaner in special treatment needed to remove troublesome spots.

Of the basis of tests made in research laboratories, the National Institute of Cleaning and Dyeing warns that some decorative additions to a dress simply can't be cleaned without discoloration, softening or dye-bleeding of dress fabrics. Many such pretties keep their never-dull character hidden even from expert cleaning until they are dunked in water or dry-cleaning solvent or are steam-pressed.

Research has disclosed that there are buttons which dissolve in the solvent or soften up so much they leave a smeary imprint on the fabric. Steam used when the garment is pressed causes the dye in another type of button to bleed.

Adhesives that lose their grip in dry-cleaning solvents are the villains of the piece when cloth-covered buttons and belts come apart or become badly stained when cleaned, say Institute spokesmen. Buckram underlining belts may be glued to the fabric with a solvent-soluble cement. When put in dry-cleaning fluid, the cement softens and the fabric and leaving an ugly stain.

Glossy sequins or colored beads may rivet eyes to your gown but they can conjure up trouble for you and your dry cleaner. When cleaning, some sequins may lose their lacquered luster. Others may dissolve completely in the solvent. Some leads are colored with fugitive dyes which escape in the fluid or onto the fabric and leave the ornament a pallid shadow of itself. If your eye-catching decoration is sewed to a separate piece of fabric and this sewed to the dress, it's easy—and safer—to snip it off before cleaning.

When in doubt about the cleanability of buttons or belt, on a dress, remove them before sending frock to cleaner's.

TIPS FOR TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Today's mall proves that you're not the only high schooler with problems:

"I am writing to you on behalf of my class. We are having our sophomore hop very soon and we don't know whether to ban corsages or not. Our faculty adviser thinks it would be proper to ban them, as many other schools have done so, but it is up to the class to decide. What do you think?"

Your dance will probably be more fun if you ban corsages because more boys can afford to go if they don't have to buy a corsage. Most boys can earn enough money for the tickets or can save their allowances to buy them if they want to, but the added expense of the corsage is more than they can meet. If you decide to ban corsages be sure to post notices in school where everybody will see them, so there'll be no confusion about it.

"The group of girls I know are about 15 years old. The boys come to our homes once in a while to listen to the radio, dance or just talk. What time should they go home on school nights and Saturday nights? Sometimes they stay until 11:30 or 12 on school nights. Is this fair to us, ourselves or our parents? It is hard to tell them to go home and they don't seem to know when it's time to leave."

Why not set a "deadline" for school nights and another for Friday and Saturday nights with your parents? Then when that time approaches glance at the clock and remark, "Well this is the zero hour; this is our deadline!" If they don't take the hint, bring in their coats and show them to the door gradually but firmly. Make arrangements with your girls' friends to leave on time; if they go, the boys will, too.

Usual deadline for occasional school-night get-togethers at home is 9:30 or 10 p. m. but for Fridays and Saturdays at the homes of friends the deadline may be stretched a bit.

LOST 42 POUNDS
WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcetrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcetrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here Is Proof

"When I started taking Barcetrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcetrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who know me before I started taking Barcetrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old."

"Before taking Barcetrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded."

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcetrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcetrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcetrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 509 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All-Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcetrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonsful twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

MACKENZIE'S Column
 By DEWITT MACKENZIE
 AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Britain's dynamic foreign minister and labor leader, Ernest Bevin, has many American admirers but he doesn't appear to have added to their admiration by his astonishing recommendation that in the interests of world economic rehabilitation, the U. S. A. redistribute abroad the huge gold reserve now buried at Fort Knox, Ky.

Mr. Bevin made his proposal in a speech before the British Trades Union Congress, and he prefaced it with the remark that he knew America would be "upset" by what he was about to say. He was right in anticipating a strong reaction but wrong in his estimate of the nature of the reaction. It takes more than that to "upset" the United States.

However, it isn't overstating the case to say that America was flabbergasted at the proposal. Washington treasury officials characterized it as "cock-eyed." One said:

"If other countries want our gold, they can have it—the same way we got it from them—by laying the money on the line at our price of $35 an ounce."

However, that may not be the end of the exchange of words. An authoritative American source in London tells us that Bevin's idea is that redistribution of the Fort Knox gold should be integral part of the Marshall plan. So we may hear more about the matter.

Meanwhile the proposal has served to center American attention on the difficulties which England's new Socialist government is encountering in dealing with its own grave economic crisis. How much is Britain depending on Fort Knox gold to pull it through? Just how is the Atlantic government's own program working out? Can Socialistic nationalization cope with the crisis? Those are logical questions which the British public itself is anxiously studying.

Nationalization of the country's most important industry—coal mining—hasn't brought Utopia to the mines. Some half hundred Yorkshire pits are closed as the result of wildcat strikes which have thrown about 60,000 men out of work and have greatly aggravated the critical fuel shortage. The walkout has caused a loss of 300,000 tons of coal and the loss is continuing at the rate of 60,000 tons daily.

Continuation of this stoppage of vitally needed coal production can come close to wrecking Britain's recovery program. It is an anxious moment.

Fortunately British labor in general is standing with the government. Indeed the Trade Union Congress has voted overwhelmingly to support the government plan of taking over direction of labor during the heat of the crisis. Labor's concession in this matter is striking for the program means temporary regimentation of the individual—a temporary approach to totalitarianism.

Boy Learns He Must Have Artificial Eye
 DETROIT—(AP)—Richard (Dickie) Hinson, 10, knows now that he will have to go through life with an artificial right eye to replace the one damaged when he stole a peek under a sideshow tent at the Michigan State Fair.

Dickie was injured Tuesday by a blow in the face as he tried to get a free look at a two-headed calf exhibit, but although physicians were forced to remove the eye, the boy thought it was only "scratched a little."

Friday, as the state moved to prosecute a sideshow guard accused of kicking Dickie, the youngster's mother, Marie, broke the news to him.

A nurse said he "took it like a man."

The guard, Roy B. Hix, 41, faces recorder's court examination Monday after pleading innocent to a charge of aggravated assault. Meanwhile the boy's father, Harvie, began a $50,000 damage suit in circuit court, naming as defendants the state, the fair, operators of the sideshow concession, and Hix.

 AUSTIN — (AP) — Texas production of that prize Thanksgiving dish, the turkey, has slumped this year, the United States Department of Agriculture has reported.

Texas farmers are raising 3,681,000 turkeys, according to a preliminary estimate, and this is 13 percent less than the 4,231,000 raised last year. It is 7 percent less than the five-year (1939-43) average of 3,954,000.

Synthetic Gasoline Development Urged

Development of synthetic gasoline production within the United States was advocated yesterday as a national policy by Henry S. Fraser, former chief counsel of the U. S. Senate Special Committee Investigating Petroleum Resources... In an address prepared for the annual meeting of the Federation of Bar Associations of the Sixth Judicial District, Fraser pointed out that until recently our country had been the world's greatest reservoir of oil.

Visiting Missionary Describes Land of Unwritten Languages

Missionary Roy True, who has been appearing here in a series of radio broadcasts under the sponsorship of Evangelist and Mrs. E. B. Joseph, has written a description of the land in South America where for five years he has been a missionary.
 Missionary True, who will appear at the Skellytown Community Church tonight, says that the main problems confronting the missionaries of the South American Indian Mission is geographical. Mr. True has served the Guajira Indians northeast of Santa Marta in Colombia. So primitive are these people that their language has never been reduced to writing.
 He relates in the following paragraphs his experiences in that land:
 When we disembarked early one warm morning at the city of Santa Marta in March of 1942 we "lifted up our eyes into the hills." There back of the city rose towering mountains unto which I gazed long as I sat in the custom house office. It was the Sierra Nevada de Santa Marta. Translated it means "the snow covered mountains of Saint Martha." This is literally true. In 1942 when we went from Santa Marta to Riochacha the graveled highway had been completed that skirted the southern side, so we went by land. After we entered the valley of Patilla at our own mission station in Ponceca, for four years we could see every day the year round snow-covered peaks which have an altitude of 18,779 feet above sea level, just 30 miles back from the open ocean. According to findings of research for the National Geographic Magazine, the Cabot Expedition found that no other mountain in the world is known to rise so high so near the sea. From the ocean floor 10 to 25 miles out there is a rise of 32,000 feet. They occupy 80 miles of the earth's surface.
 During our first year in Colombia while we were studying the language many an afternoon late when our day's work and study and classes were done, we walked out on the long wooden pier that extends about 100 feet into the sea to accommodate the ships that come to Riochacha, and we have looked at the long hollowed out canoes, the cayucos, as they hoisted their sails or motored to Dibulla; and beyond distant Dibulla on clear days we could see the Sierra Nevada of Santa Marta.
 Who lived there in those hills? To know, we made three expeditions into them and found them to be the home of the Aruak Indians. One ascent was made from Valleupar, the easiest climb, the second ascent from San Juan, and the third ascent from Dibulla on the northern side, a most difficult climb.
 We found the Aruak Indians in three groups, one group the tongue standing the dialect of the other. The altitude quickly changed the temperature as we climbed higher and higher mountains and ferred cold streams. We found the Aruaks in woolen dresses that the men made from the wool of the sheep's back into thread, cloth, and a garment for himself and his woman. The hair of the men and women alike is long. On their feet are sandals. Over the shoulders of the men hang woolen mochilas filled with coca leaves. In their hand is a small gourd shaped like an hour glass filled with powdered sea shells they dip out with a long stick and put it in their mouth along with some coca leaves to help extract the cocaine. From his continuous use from adolescent years young men look old and seldom grow tall. We followed Aruak women down the trail who were carrying mochilas made from the fiber of the maguey plants. They were filled with cargoes that weighed sometimes up to 150 pounds on their shoulders, pulling down from the band that pressed hard against their foreheads. The Aruaks seldom smile. Why? Their hearts are as heavy as the loads they carry on their backs. Why?

 The missionaries found them living in the feet of Satar, and his evil forces, controlled body and soul by the chief and medicine man. They found them without a written language. They found them without the Bible, the Revelation of God written for them as well as for us. And so the missionaries found the Aruak Indians that have clambered as high out of the reach of white man's civilization, as possible without God and—therefore, without hope. How long have they been there in those distant and secret valleys and hills? God knows. I doubt if any living man does. The European explorers found them there in the sixteenth century. We, you and I, the church of Christ, bought by His blood, and commissioned by Him to go into all the world to tell the untold millions the good news that He died for them too, and was buried, but rose again triumphantly the third day, must obey Him—and so the easily reached cities only, but to these cautious, fearful red men of the Sierra Nevada. They extend their hands from their mountains and cry, "Come over and help us; ere we die eternally in our trespasses and sins. The paths are treacherous and difficult, but there is a way to them.

Studios to Seek New Stories Away From Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(By) With the public and theater owners demanding better pictures, Hollywood studios are seeking new ways to solve the story famine. The trend is now toward finding film plots elsewhere in the nation, rather than in studio writing departments.
 MGM, which has been selecting annual prize novels, will now make the event a semi-annual affair. Winners will receive upwards to $50,000 and the studio hopes to find interesting new story material, such as "Green Dolphin Street," which was the 1944 winner. In addition, Metro will award $10,000 in a contest for "Little Dramas in Everyday Life," plus $25,000 if the prize short story is made into a film.
 Meanwhile, the unemployed ranks of Hollywood writers grow bigger day by day.
 Joan Leslie is all set to go into production for herself as soon as she finishes "Northwest Stampede." She says she has the requirements (money) and will start with either a comedy, "Shut Up, Darling," or a Fannie Hurst story, "Hands of Veronica."
 Gary Cooper had to carry Ann Sheridan around the "Good Sam" set on one of our hottest afternoons. And he with a case of sunburn too.
 Jimmy Dorsey had a good opening at the Palladium, his first stand there is four years. He told me he gave up working for Brother Tommy at the Casino Gardens because people thought the Bros. were in cahoots to corner the local band business. They've always worked better apart, anyway.
 Les Brown will supply the music for the Bob Hope show this season.
 The week's best records are on the wacky side, but good: "Them Durr Fool Things" and "Song of Indians" by Red Ingle; "Our Hour" and "Popcorn Sack" by Spike Jones; "Sugar Blues" by Johnny

Five Divorces Granted In 31st District Court

District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich Friday afternoon granted five divorces, four on grounds of cruelty and one on desertion.
 Alma Coleman was granted her divorce from Virgil Coleman on charges of cruelty. The couple was married in July, 1929, and separated in May, 1947.
 Wanda Sue Beely was awarded the custody of her minor child, and a support order of $35 a month for its support was approved when the Court granted her divorce from Kenneth R. Beely. The couple was married in March, 1945, and separated in July, 1947.
 Norma Eastman was granted a divorce from Max Eastman on grounds of desertion. They were married in 1940 and separated in October, 1942.
 Lola Lee Harris Chance was decreed divorced from Roy D. Chance on charges of cruelty. The couple was married in 1935 and separated in 1940.
 Mercer and "Minor Riff" and "Down in Chihuahua" by Stan Kenton.

Stonecipher, on cruelty grounds, separated in July, 1947. Date of marriage was given as September, 1943, and separation as June, 1947.

Independent Oil Men Study Steel

TULSA, Okla.—The Independent Petroleum Association of America, holding its 18th annual meeting at Oklahoma City, Sept. 29-30, will highlight a forum on material shortages. Tubular goods such as casing, line pipe and fittings, the scarcity of which has retarded drilling and development, will be explored in the discussion. E. J. Warren, Midland, Texas, chairman of the Association's Oil Field Material Shortages Committee, will preside and act as moderator.

Two nationally known speakers are to appear before the forum. Warren L. Baker, editor of Oil World, Houston, will discuss the demand for tubular goods in relation to wells now drilling or expected to be drilled in the months ahead. W. C. McConnor, vice president of National Tube Company, Pittsburgh, Pa., will address the oil operators on current and future availability of materials to meet demand.

The forum will study the equitable distribution of what steel products are available, means of alleviating current shortages, treatment of special problems, and research toward reducing some of the excessive costs now related to materials use.

The petroleum industry has been short of the supply of steel goods necessary for a continuation of needed development since before the close of the war.

The expected increase in available steel goods did not materialize in the months following the war, and currently the situation fails to offer hope of early change in the status of steel products obtainable for development purposes.

This has hampered operations in every oil area of the nation. Exploratory tests as well as field development operations have been curtailed. As a result, drilling has been less than what the industry anticipated to be required in order to meet increasing demands for crude petroleum and products. This entire question is one of the most vital now facing the nation's operators and is primarily responsible for some statements to the effect that there is a shortage of petroleum. Actually, while no shortage exists or is anticipated by leaders of the industry, nevertheless it is essential that development continue at an increased, rather than a retarded pace.

Domestic Oil on Increase

NEW YORK—Domestic consumption of petroleum products in the first six months totaled 964,209,600 barrels of 42 gallons each, a 16.12 percent increase over the 834,584,000 barrels in the first half of 1946, the American Petroleum Institute reported yesterday. Exports increased 4.32 percent.

Domestic crude oil production has been at the record rate of more than 5,000,000 barrels a week for the last 17 weeks. The institute said completion of new transportation and storage facilities now underway will remove the threat of local shortages.

More than 20 million meteors enter the earth's atmosphere daily.

Phillips' Ector County Deep Test Making Good Showing

Phillips Petroleum Company's Ector County discovery well in Ector County, Texas, revealed important pay thickness as it continued testing deeper in the formation.

During the last hour of a drill stem test of the interval 8182-8230 feet, 170 feet in the Ellenburger the well flowed 4 1/2 gravity oil at the rate of 2856 barrels per day. The new well is Phillips No. 1 McEntire in Section 18, Block 44, township 1 north T&P RR Co. survey, located midway between the Andeator and Goldsmith pools in the Northwest part of the county.

TEXAS OIL INDUSTRY

A map prepared by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows actual oil and gas production in 172 counties. Sixty-eight counties, now without production, have lease and development activities in progress. The other fourteen counties which once produced are no longer in production.

The Association's study showed that since 1919 more than two and one-half billion dollars have been paid—chiefly to farmers and ranchers—for bonuses, leases, rentals and royalties.

These payments in 1946 totaled $248,109,000 which is equivalent to 18¢ for every dollar of Texas farm and livestock income, according to the survey.

The Association estimated there are 169,560 owners of royalties in Texas, which has 56,232,537 acres of 54.4 percent of its land surface under lease. There are now approximately 28,900 producing leases of which 12,700 produce gas, the Association reported.

Card of Thanks

In My Father's House are many memories. If I were not so I would have told you, & go to prepare a place for you. I will come again, and receive you into myself. John 14:2-3

I cannot think of them as dead. They walk with me in spirit. Along the path of life I tread. They have but gone before.

The Father's House is mentioned four times in the Bible and here and there. And still their spirit abides within my heart both past and present. As when on earth they walked with me. And not me face to face.

Their lives are made forever mine. What they left me to have been. Hath left henceforth its soul and spirit. Engraved deep within.

Mine are they by my genealogy. For God hath given us Love to keep His love forever.

THE DRILLER'S LOG

My sincere thanks to those companies and representatives who are helping in the editing of this column by submitting articles of interest. We could not possibly offer this assistance to our readers without this aid and yours truly is especially thankful for the time cooperation.

A few changes and additions in Cities Service personnel this past week. Jack Cunningham, formerly of the Cretary Drug in Pampa, is now with Cities Service as a Junior Clerk. Joyce Rhoten has gone into the production department as a stenographer. A newcomer to Cities Service in this area is William P. Cortish who has been transferred here from the West Edmond, Oklahoma, office. Mildred McCrate, of Pampa, has been granted a leave of absence so that she may attend Texas Tech at Lubbock. Roubatsouts released this week from Cities Service roles to attend various colleges and universities. He was P. D. Stanton, G. H. Pardue, J. M. Deaton, J. W. Barndt, J. H. Templeton and W. R. Banks.

I note in this week's issue of "Empire", a trade magazine of Cities Service that C. H. Darling of the Gasoline and Chemical division has been awarded a $750 cash prize for a valuable suggestion offered to that company.

Shell news this week is centered about an inspection visit made in this area by Peter Schaasma, a native of Holland and petroleum engineer for Shell in that country. He was accompanied on his visit by Bill Fowler, mechanical engineer from the division office in Wichita Falls. Mr. Schaasma has made two trips to this country on studies of American institutions and is very impressed with this country, especially the Panhandle, and has expressed his desire to move here and apply for citizenship papers. Larry Snyder has a special guest in his home in Corpus Christi, Texas, Mr. Cora Snyder, of Stillwater, Oklahoma. S. B. Greeson and wife leave Monday for a two weeks vacation in Oklahoma, while R. C. King and family get back into the routine again returning Monday from a vacation in Corpus Christi. Ben Armer, of Shell operations, Bryan Plant Number 2 will start his vacation Monday, also and heads for Missouri in a sparkling new automobile.

Recently we told you in this column of Ray Pruet leaving Texas Company to become a farmer. C. O. Fitzgerald has taken his place. W. E. Jordan, of Humble, leaves for vacation with his family in Mississippi. Bill Crail, well known in oil circles, has been seriously ill the past few days in a local hospital. His wife, Irma Francis Crail, of Cretary, is visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Eaton. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Muehle have recently arrived in Pampa from Oakley, Kansas. He is the new junior engineer in the oil production department here, having graduated from Kansas State in August. Also a veteran with 39 months in the Army. Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Wilson have had as visitors in their home recently, his father, from Everton, Missouri, and a brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Wilson from Tulsa, Oklahoma. Visitors in the Herbert Wills home were his mother from Riverside, California, and a brother, Henry Wills, from Everton, Missouri. Mr. Wills, took his mother to Holbrook, Arizona over and one gasser against a dry-out count of 28.

Initial oil production was gauged at 6,670 barrels daily with initial gas flow at 5,200,000 cubic feet per day.

Well, things sorta settlin' down for a few days, and then everything will be hummin'. The weather's been so hot nobody's interested much in trading. But I'll be hittin' on all four by next week, and all you folks who want to buy, will be sorry if you don't get in touch with me. Right now most of the interest around town is focused on the big parking meter trial. I still like to know who the bird is they're gonna try. Not gonna list a thing this week, but I want to spend some good money keepin' this ad in the paper. If I don't list anything, you folks won't have to spend any extra energy wishin' that you could be the first one to get to my bargains. I'm glad that Buick and vacuum deal is done with; folks still talk to me about them. I don't think I'll ever say anything else about deals like that. Hate to admit it, but I think I'll go fishin' again. Friend of mine up in Colorado said the fish was just waiting for me to come up. Said they were passing up good bait waiting for me to toss in a line. News like that is hard to resist. Meantime, if you want to buy, remember I want to sell.

Joe Loftin, both of Port Isabel, went fishing for Jewfish one morning. They moored their boat to piling at the end of the north Jetty, using two stern lines.

They had caught a couple of snappers when up came a giant ray—one of those mantas 15 to 20 feet across their flippers.

It struck their anchor line and took off, towing the boat after snapping its stern lines.

The ray headed for the open sea, but Joe and Floyd had other plans. They grabbed a bait knife and cut the line.

GET BUSY, UNINVENTORS; THE TELEPHONE MUST GO!

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For Hay Boyle)

WASHINGTON—(AP)—What this country needs is a first class uninventor.

This uninventor would trot around inventing things that never should have been invented in the first place.

Everyone has his list of pet peeves. My own includes such items as movie houses, architecture, singing commercials and new automobiles with chromium drooling down their fenders.

To this I recently have added, regretfully, the telephone.

I say regretfully, because the telephone is a handy gadget to have in a newspaper office. Reporters can reach people by phone instead of going to see them. And while this can be overcome, it's a timesaver.

But the telephone is a tool of the trade. Like any tool, it should be kept in its place, sharp and ready for use.

This is impossible.

For women use the telephone, too. That's why we'll have to give it up, boys. It has to be high on the list of any uninventions.

I don't know when I first became conscious of women and the telephone. But I think it was around the second day of an otherwise successful marriage.

Mrs. E. took to her phone, to say hello to an old college chum. Helloing time: 1 hour, 7 minutes.

Since then appointments have been missed, meals have been late, and once, baby rolled out of her bath on to the floor, all because of the telephone.

I've tried lessons. I took Mrs. E. aside and said, "Say, 'good-bye'."

"Good-bye," said she. This was repeated 50 times.

It was no good. She could say the word plain enough, but she never remembered to use it.

I tried example. There's a neighbor three doors down who can but a conversation around as long as anybody.

She called one night, and I answered.

"Do you have an unabridged dictionary?" she asked.

"No," I said, pleasantly enough, and hung up.

"What did she want?" asked my wife.

"An unabridged dictionary."

"Whatever on earth for?" asked my wife. So she promptly called the neighbor back, and in the course of a 32-minute conversation learned why.

The neighbor wanted to enter a word contest.

There came a showdown. Of course, I yowled so loudly Mrs. E. prompted a complete reformation.

Last night came the test. We were going out. I was ready, she was ready, the three kids were ready.

The phone rang.

"I'll get it," she said. She got it, and it was filled with, "did you hear anything else?" and "is that so?" and "did she offer an explanation?"

In 22 minutes Mrs. E. was back.

"She's really a dear," said Mrs. E., looking pleased with herself, "but I remembered what you said, and cut her off short."

That's when I decided the telephone must be unvented.

There is an alternative, of course, but I don't think it would work.

Things have progressed too far to uninvent women.

Oxygen constitutes about 21 percent of air by volume.

Overell Trial Is Nearing Completion

SANTA ANA, Calif.—(AP)—The end of the long drawn out Overell yacht blast-murder trial was in sight today with indications that George (Bud) Gollum, jointly charged with Louise Overell in the deaths of her parents, would take the witness stand in his defense some time next Monday.

Direct examination of the 21-year-old Gollum, Los Angeles City College pre-medical student, was expected to be brief.

Miss Overell, 18, Gollum's sweetheart and heiress to the estate of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Overell, will tell her story to the jury next Wednesday if her lawyers plan to have her testify. Court will not be in session next Tuesday, anniversary of California's admission to the union.

Attorneys estimated that the case may go to the jury a week from next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Russell and daughter are vacationing in New Mexico and Colorado.

Dr. O. York and son, Winifred, left Wednesday for Oklahoma City where Dr. York will receive medical treatment. Before returning home they will visit Mrs. R. F. Chisolm and family in Norman, Okla.

Miss Nina Carhart is visiting her sister, Mrs. George Taylor, in Pampa.

Coast-to-Coast Trains in Future Rail Picture Despite Many Obstacles

By T. E. APPLIGATE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Through coast-to-coast trains are definitely in the future transportation picture despite the seriousness of current obstacles.

Highest hurdle to be surmounted is the railroads' lack of adequate equipment to sustain such service.

Relatively few new cars of the type needed for transcontinental trains have been delivered. Until these come in volume, and none will predict just when that will be, don't look for through trains across the continent.

Operating problems—the meshing of schedules east and west of the Chicago and St. Louis gateways, provision for motive power and train crews—can be met with less difficulty.

Present through service between the coasts is limited to individual cars operating by way of Chicago, west of which the lines fan out and offer the traveler a variety of routes.

Pennsylvania Railroad officials said consideration had been given to the operation of a through train over its line to St. Louis, thence over the Missouri Pacific and Texas & Pacific to El Paso and Southern Pacific to Los Angeles. They stressed, however, that this was one of many possibilities and there was no near prospect of its establishment.

Such a route, which includes that used by the "Sunshine Special" in hauling through cars between the East and a number of Texas cities, would amount to slightly less than 3,300 miles, New York to Los Angeles.

Transcontinental trains have been discussed as a logical next step ever since the railroads started sending individual sleepers through without change nearly 18 months ago.

An idea of the equipment required for transcontinental trains may be gained from the fact that to sustain one train daily in each direction the railroads must keep eight trains in operation.

Thus, for each alternate route offered to a traveler on a daily basis, another eight trains must be added.

A consideration that may delay the scheduling of through trains, even when equipment is somewhat plentiful, is that many of the new sleepers, diners and lounge cars, now on order are designated specifically for service on intra-line trains.

Since the individual roads are naturally anxious to provide the best equipment for their own well-advertised luxury trains, these needs probably will be met before there is a willingness to contribute equipment for transcontinental service.

Soaring Prices and Wages Outrun Official Controls in Latin America

By JOHN EVANS
MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico, first among the 20 Latin American republics to start vigorous deflation of high prices and execute a counter-program of large scale industrialization, probably is the best example of Latin American inflation.

Mexico profited greatly in war materials and tried hard all the accepted methods of control.

In Argentina, Chile, Cuba official controls have been criticized as inadequate and in nearly all countries people have expressed dissatisfaction because their governments have failed to give them all the past peace-time benefits dreamed of during the war.

But freezing was and is one of the most successful measures throughout the Americas but housing shortages developed anywhere. The cost of living in many countries rose to five times the prewar standard and in Chile it was multiplied by six.

Special circumstances seemed to have little effect. Venezuela, rich through oil exports, Cuba with valuable sugar, and Argentina with rigid government control or actual operation of banks, exports and imports, are all suffering severe inflation with no easy quick remedy in sight.

Not only did prices go up, but usually quantities went down.

President Miguel Aleman took drastic action in mid-July by prohibiting luxury imports to conserve Mexico's dwindling dollar funds. These had reached $372,000,000 when war ceased but are down to 300,000,000, including legal currency banking and other funds not strictly available to meet Mexico's adverse balance of trade of about $12,000,000 monthly.

When Aleman took office Dec. 1, 1946, he ordered the Bank of Mexico to refuse credit to speculators and to luxury importers and appealed to manufacturers and retailers to lower prices.

Department of National Economy figures show the 1947 cost of living is nearly five times the 1943 standard. Wholesale prices have more than tripled and retail prices range between five and six times those of 1934.

The trend now is down, partly due to a spontaneous buyers' strike that cut retail sales about one-fourth this spring. High prices are blamed by economists for unemployment in building trades and textile and shoe plants.

As in other Latin American countries, Mexico during the war fixed some prices, established control commissions, opened government stores, prosecuted many merchants and met shortages by hurried imports or improvised distribution, but none of these measures worked perfectly.

Wages went up but nations asserted they did not keep pace with prices.

Prices started down a month after Aleman took charge but reductions were not great.

Mexico's prohibition of luxury imports affects about one seventh of Mexico's foreign buying. After the embargo demand for dollars dropped about 50 percent. Such things as automobiles, pianos, foods, fine textiles and things bought only by the wealthier people are barred.

These measures, coupled with Mexico's tourist dollars and a psychological campaign, are supplemented by Aleman's industrialization and development plan. Aleman

White Deer News

WHITE DEER—(Special)—Mr. and Mrs. Glenn F. Davis of Alpine attended the Crumpacker-Thoms wedding and visited friends in White Deer Sunday, Aug. 31. Mr. Davis, former principal of White Deer High School, is head of the music department at Sul Ross College.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Drummond and daughter visited in the W. H. Price home at Skellytown Saturday, Aug. 30. Mr. Drummond, who was a former teacher in White Deer High School and later principal of the Skellytown school, studied at Leland Stanford University last year, but will be a member of the faculty at George Peabody College in Nashville, Tenn., this year.

James Stalls and his bride, the former Miss Maureen Smith of Paducah, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Stalls, last week. Kenneth Miller and Gilbert Batten have returned to Brownwood, where they will enroll at Howard Payne College.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Demus have returned from a vacation trip to Chicago. Mr. Demus, who is band instructor in the White Deer-Skellytown schools, has already begun daily band practices at the high school. Mrs. Demus will teach music in the grade school this year.

Gilbert Tubbs is spending his vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Tubbs. He will return to Texas University this fall to continue work on his master's degree in geology.

Miss Charlotte Buchanan has returned to Hollywood, Calif., after an extended visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Buchanan, and other relatives here. Her brother, Ollie, is now at home on vacation from Texas University.

Announcement has been received here of the marriage of Miss Sayre M. Petty and M/Sgt. Glen Hynds on August 16 in the Chapel Center of General Headquarters in Tokyo, Japan. The bride, whose home is in Alabama, is a member of the Women's Auxiliary Corps, and Sgt. Hynds, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Hynds of White Deer, is in charge of a motor battalion in Tokyo. A former lieutenant with the paratroopers, Sgt. Hynds was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross for outstanding bravery while serving on Luzon.

Former Major John P. Wells, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells, of White Deer, has reenlisted in the service and is stationed at Mathers, Field California.

Graveside services for the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hester, Jr., were conducted at the White Deer Cemetery, Thursday afternoon, by O. T. Shewmaker, pastor of the Church of Christ.

DOCUMENT DISPLAYED
AUSTIN—(AP)—David Crockett's signature on an original legal document is now on display in the Texas Memorial Museum at the University of Texas.

Only six other signatures of the Texas Alamo hero are known to exist. A Garland Adair, curator, said.

DEPARTMENT STORE

WHITE'S Big Annual WHITE ELEPHANT SALE

SALE STARTS MONDAY
September 8th
RUN—Don't Walk!

Know what a White Elephant is? It's something nobody wants. Have we got any? Oh, brother! We have got some stuff down here that must have been bought sometime after the Civil War . . . or else our buyer was cockeyed when he thought we could sell it. (He's already left town.) You might want some of it, but WE don't! Please . . . please come take it away before we go nuts just looking at the stuff! If we can just sell enough of it to pay for hauling the rest of it away, we'll be as happy as if we had good sense! No limit . . . other dealers invited!

DESKS
Some folks call them kneehole, but it's more like keyhole — ample room on top for your feet. Regular price was $84.00. White Elephant Price

$54.95

4-DRAWER CHEST
Four droopy drawers and not finished too well, but we'll be finished if this one isn't sold pretty soon. They are so simply styled we're sure you won't mind burning them for some wood.

WHITE ELEPHANT PRICE
Reg. $29.95 $19.95

DINETTE SUITES

Don't Be Misled by This Picture . . . These Suites Don't Look Like It!

Some made of oak to rhyme with soap—some made of tin to rhyme with sin—it's a crying sin to offer these things to you, but here they are.

No. 1—One 5-pc. oak dinette—slightly scratched and beat up—has four nickety chairs.
Reg. price $59.95
White Elephant price $49.95

No. 2—Supposed to be all steel painted white and trimmed in blue. 5-pc. dinette—hurry and get one before any more of the paint comes off.
Reg. price $84.50
White Elephant price $69.95

No. 3—Here's a heavy massive 5-pc. oak outfit that looks like it came out of Noah's Ark; scarred up, and etc.
Reg. price $119.50
White Elephant price $89.50

No. 4—5-pc. oak dinette with buffet and china to match. We have sold this thing once and the folks sent it back because it was so gaudy it kept them awake nights.
Reg. price for 7 pcs. $279.50
White Elephant price $249.50

CHOICE OF TABLES

End tables, lamp tables, coffee tables—the end table won't hold ends—the lamp table certainly won't support too big a lamp—and the coffee table would fold up like an Arab tent with more than one cup of coffee.

Reg. price, each $10.95
White Elephant price $6.95

2 Pc. Living Room Suites

We were crazy about this suite when we selected it—but everyone has thought we were nuts for buying it. We have had it much too long. Reg. price. $239.50.
White Elephant Price $189.50

No Black Market Value Here! Just slightly gray—a real dandy for that afternoon nap. Our sales folks have been sleeping on this thing every day for 6 months. Both arms are stained with hair oil, but a good buy at White Elephant price. Regular price $199.50.
$149.50

Here's a 3-Pc. solid maple living room suite. Now when you look at it, don't say it won't sell because we bought four of them! They are supposed to be Early American style and from the amount of dirt on them they came out of Abe Lincoln's cabin. Regular price $269.50.
White Elephant Price $159.50

Two-Pc. sectional divans—the manufacturers were so ashamed of these that he would not put his name on them and we are so ashamed of them that we still have them upstairs in a dark room. If you have a good dark room at home this would be the very thing to fill it up. Regular price $249.50.
White Elephant Price $159.50

Bedroom Suites

An elephant never forgets and neither can we forget this "Wonderful Buy" four-piece suite in genuine Black Walnut veneer; and when we say black—we really mean BLACK. Regular price $189.50.
White Elephant Price $149.50

If you think you are a rancher then we have just the very bedroom suite you need. Typical of the Panhandle. In fact the bed is just the right height for a pan with a handle. Regular price $195.00
White Elephant Price $129.50

Never again do we want to invoice this monstrosity! The vanity has a mirror big as all out doors and the bed is so darn little that it looks like it was made for midgets. The chest is just about half way between—you'll despise the repulsive proportions of the hideous design, but if you're blind you won't mind.
Regular price $229.50. White Elephant Price $159.50

Young Roosevelt Says 'Renominate Truman'

NEW YORK—(AP)—James Roosevelt, oldest son of the late president, says that Truman "deserves renomination in 1948."

Speaking extemporaneously in answering questions put to him by newsmen on the "Meet the Press" radio (Mutual) program last night, Roosevelt said President Truman has not abandoned the policies of Franklin D. Roosevelt, "particularly in domestic affairs."

One way to judge quality in eggs is by U. S. Department of Agriculture grades. Grades "AA" and "A" indicate fresh egg quality. Eggs graded "AA" are superior to grade "A," as they are handled more directly from the farm to the consumer. Grades B and C are of good cooking quality, and are generally Western or storage eggs.

$100,000 Research Investment Brings Multi-Million Dollar Newsprint Industry to South

By BEM PRICE
ATLANTA—(AP)—Since 1932 businessmen and Southern newspaper publishers have turned an investment of $100,000 in research into a multi-million dollar industry presenting a competitive threat to the Canadian newsprint monopoly.

Already this Southern newsprint industry, which produces paper from the prolific Southern pine, reckons its operations at well over the $25,000,000 mark. It is now proceeding to triple its size.

When the expansion program is completed sometime in 1948, or early 1949, it will give the South a newsprint supply of 200,000 tons annually. The significance of this supply was explained by the Lufkin, Tex., News, which observed editorially:

"Two hundred thousand tons of paper will only begin to supply the needs of the South; in fact, the increased capacity of the Southland Mills . . . will just begin to meet the demands of Texas newspapers alone. . . . But a perpetual supply of 200,000 tons annually assures Southern newspapers of a source in part of their needs. What is more important it furnishes a large enough supply to break the Canadian monopoly."

The Southland Mills mentioned in the editorial is the only plant in the South now producing newsprint from southern pine, but a group of Alabama businessmen and publishers recently formed a second company to undertake a similar operation. Southland is located at Lufkin.

The Alabama enterprise was organized only recently and plans to spend $30,000,000 on a newsprint plant to be located on the site of the wartime Alabama Ordnance Works at Childersburg, just a few miles south of Birmingham.

This relatively new industry, was born on a quail hunt and reared in a laboratory.

In 1932 the late Dr. Charles H. Herty of Savannah, Ga., went bird hunting near Waycross, Ga. While passing through a pine thicket, Dr. Herty casually picked up a pine chip just cut from a sapling.

Idly he sniffed the chip and to his surprise it did not smell resinous. Thus was born the suspicion that if pine was not overly resinous, or only slightly more so than Canadian spruce, chief source of U. S. newsprint, a way could be found to make paper from pine. Shortly after his return to Savannah, Dr. Herty occupied hours on end analyzing pine chips. He confirmed his original suspicions, and him $20,000 for research. The newspapers, the Certain-Teed Corp., and the individuals forked over money or materials to give the doctor around $100,000.

After intensive work Dr. Herty finally in November, 1933, believed he had refined his experiments to the point where an experimental run was possible.

The experiment was a success and on Nov. 20, 1933, Georgia dailies published for the first time in history on stock made from native pine.

It was nearly seven years, however, before the transition could be made from laboratory to commercial operation. Finally, the Southland plant was constructed and began operations in 1940.

The production of the plant was snapped up quickly and in 1944 Southland completed an addition which gave it a capacity of 170 tons daily. Now Southland is spending $8,500,000 for a second addition to double its capacity.

To obtain its pulp supply the Alabama company has purchased 50,000 acres of timberland and will draw on a total of 250,000 more.

The construction of the Childersburg plant and the expansion of the Southland Mill has been hailed by virtually every daily newspaper in the South which has been hampered by the shortage and high price of Canadian newsprint.

Moreover they have seen in this growing industry another step forward in the South's efforts to improve itself, economically by more efficient utilization of its human and natural resources.

CHARGE REITERATED
PEIPING — (AP) — Gen. Hsiung Shih-hui, outgoing director of Chiang Kai-shek's Manchurian headquarters, reiterated yesterday government charges that Russian-equipped Korean troops from Soviet-occupied North Korea formed a part of Chinese Communist armies in Manchuria.
