

Trygve Lie Sees Early Break in East-West Deadlock

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here are frankly expressed views of Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, on prospects for agreement between Russia and the Western powers. This article by a member of the Associated Press staff regularly reporting the activities of the United Nations, combines these impressions with personal study based on long association with the subject.

With the 55-nation General Assembly opening in two weeks for what some observers choose to call a make-or-break session, Lie is confident at least some of the difficulties between the United States and Russia will be wiped away, he told the Associated Press today.

For the Russian viewpoint in the Iranian case last year and again last fall when he took the initiative to advocate action against Franco Spain. At another time he was accused of threatening to circumvent Russian opposition by establishing his own border commission in the Balkans.

Aside from his travels, Lie spends his hours with his family at their home in nearby Forest Hill and playing tennis. He lives with his wife and two daughters.

'Gold Plea' Coupled With Marshall Plan

Bevin Submits Several Details Of His Proposal

LONDON—P—An authoritative American source said today that Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's proposal for redistribution of the Fort Knox gold was in the British view, to be an integral part of the Marshall plan for aiding European economic recovery.

The informant said Bevin had made the suggestion informally in an exchange with U. S. Ambassador Lewis W. Douglas before announcing it publicly yesterday at the Trade Union Congress in Southampton.

In the course of a 70-minute talk today with American Congressmen who are investigating economic conditions in Britain and Western Europe, the foreign secretary gave several more details of his proposal, this source added.

Bevin's elucidation of his proposal for redistributing U. S. stocks came in answer to a question from one of the Congressmen and the informant said the foreign secretary made these points:

His proposal had the backing of the British government. He believed it was unhealthy and unwise economically, out of harmony with the principles of multilateral trade which the United States herself was urging, for one country to hold most of the world's gold stocks and not use them.

There would be no lasting settlement of Europe's economic difficulties if continental recovery was to depend on never-ending U. S. loans.

Gold could become the basis of world currency systems and every nation should have access to it.

PRETTY MONEY, EH? IS THERE ANY OTHER KIND?

By ARTHUR EDSON
(For Hal Boker)

WASHINGTON—Rep. Edson Nourse (R-Mo.) has asked every time he has spoken in money.

She sees not because he thinks the U. S. Treasury is showing enough imagination.

Why not be like the postwar stamp people Mrs. Rogers has asked Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, and have a different color for each denomination?

Under the present plan the $1 bill could be any color. And the $5 bill could be purple. And so on and on beautifully.

The would brighten up the interior of many pocketbooks and also keep you from getting your $1 and $5 bills all mixed up.

Snyder replied cautiously that he has heard no great clamor for rainbow-hued money. And then the matter probably will rest until Congress comes back when Mrs. Rogers' persistent requests will introduce a bill calling for pretty money.

Carefully putting one on my fingers, in case I should happen to learn on some samples I would refer to the treasury to check up on money.

And I found there no reason for Snyder to act so demure. In its time the treasury has come up with some gay stuff.

Why, once it even put out a small forgery the expression a mad.

This had was supposed to be freedom from the south and the bill do sound but not circulation than a hundred.

Some people figured that if the business was teaching, she must be teaching money business. Why didn't she wear clothes like respectable teachers.

The treasury didn't bother to clothe the lady. Next bill-issuing time it issued another and the top too soft.

Like to have your picture on paper money? Your best chance is to say die or to become President. In that order.

There are 12 different people none living, portrayed on our money. All but three Hamilton, Franklin and Chase were Presidents.

Washington is on all $1 bills. Jefferson is on all $2's. Lincoln is on all $5's and Hamilton on all $10's.

In case you have not noticed lately that Wilson on the $100,000. Not one picture but two. Lincoln and Grant shared one bill, and so did Martha and George Washington.

Although Snyder didn't seem so interested in Mrs. Rogers' plan, the treasury need a similar scheme in its invasion money.

Invasion money, for instance, troop carried money, also gray.

purple, yellow, green, red, blue and brown money.

Rotarians Have Fellowship Meet

Members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday held a "fellowship" meeting under the direction of newly elected president Frank Prank.

The B. B. A. North spoke briefly of their fellowship, stressing the fact that the fellow ship is more than mere "social" with each other. He said the club had a great warm atmosphere as well as attempting to lead more in an organization of business in the past following.

A committee report was given by David Watson and Harry O'Brien. The two groups club members on the names of members having given contribution and vice versa.

Entertainment was furnished by Virgil Mott singing "On the Road to Mandalay" and "Homeing."

President Ray Evans announced that an invitation had been issued in the form of a challenge from the Kiwanis and Lions Clubs for tennis to organize a softball team to play a series of games with the Kiwanis, Lions and Junior Chamber of Commerce. Several members volunteered their names to the playing last after the meeting.

Charm, Livableness Are Combined To Produce Personality in Home

In the design of this quite individualized five-room residence convenience and beauty have been splendidly combined to produce a home that has personality and livableness.

Bevin
ceived the Bevin proposal placidly. Bevin reviewed the whole world situation for the Congressmen, who fired a series of questions at him. Later Bevin was to attend a meeting of the cabinet.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH
LONDON—(AP)—Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Barry, 100 years old, got out of bed for her usual 5 a. m. nip of whisky, fell and was fatally injured, witnesses testified at an inquest into her death. The verdict: Accidental death.

"Bad" Girl Makes Good—and How!

The mother of four-year-old Florence Rey, of Philadelphia, Pa., is thankful that the little girl was naughty. As punishment, she sent the youngster up to bed. In the bedroom Florence found her seven-months-old brother, Edward, had thrust his head between crib slats and was strangling. She screamed for her mother who dashed up stairs with some neighbors and rescued the blue-faced baby.

Sipping Supersoda Through a Straw

It's stupendous, it's colossal—it's Hollywood. This super-ice cream soda being sipped by a comely quartet was a screenland dance director's idea of helping the gals combat the heat wave.

Miscellaneous Shower Honors Miss Dillman

Miss Florence Dillman, bride-elect of Mr. Irwin McIntyre, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs. C. L. Sullivan, with Mesdames J. P. Brown, George Dillman, H. W. Waddell, and George Bunch as co-hostesses.

The serving table was laid with a lace cloth, centered with a crystal circle-vase arranged with panicles and daisies. Four blue papers centered the flower wreath. Lovely arrangements of garden-flowers were used in the entertaining rooms.

Miss Betty Dillman, sister of the bride-to-be, presided at the coffee service.

Corsages of pink carnations were presented to Mrs. W. C. Dillman, the bride-elect's mother, and Miss Betty Dillman and the honoree received a corsage of white carnations.

Those attending and sending gifts were Mesdames R. J. Eiser, H. B. Carlson, J. J. Putnam, P. H. Walker, E. J. Dunigan, Walter Rogers, A. B. Zahn, D. Dabrohus, S. Tierney, F. D. Keim, R. A. Chisum, Sam Jensen, M. F. Roche, A. D. McNamara, C. A. Husted, E. J. Lewis, Jr., and J. Gayden.

Panhandle is Scene Of Birthday Party

PANHANDLE—(Special)—Madalyn and Pamela Lemons celebrated their eight and third birthdays with a joint party Tuesday.

After the gifts were opened, birthday cake and ice cream were served to Bertha Mae Crist, Shirley Green, Judy and Lynette Meaker, Marvin and Martha Lee Bender, Barbara and Annie Twitchell, Jane and Dixie Devins and the honorees.

Odessie Newton Named Birthday Party Honoree

PANHANDLE—(Special)—Mrs. Carl Newton honored her daughter, Odessie, with a party on her recent birthday.

Entertainment was furnished by Albert Werner, who showed several interesting pictures that he had taken.

Refreshments were served to Dewaine Jones, Donald Hubbard, June Harper, Rossie Lyles, Norma Jean Parrish, Doris Metcalf and Judy Skills.

Flaherty, L. R. McBride, Tom O'Rourke, Jr., and J. P. Schwind. Misses Ursula Jones, Ellen Keough and Mary Kretzmeier.

W. H. Haley, Francis Bradley, Mickey Conley, Betty Brake, J. V. Kidwell, E. E. McNutt, Gerry Williams, W. H. Herr, L. H. Sullins, Tom Wade, V. F. Francis, J. W. Gorman, J. W. Wyndell Cox, I. J. Huval, Roy McKernan, C. M. Billmiller, Lewis Jones, I. B. Akst, Emil Urbanczyk, D. J. Gribbon, L. J.

Chitter Chat Club Plan Installation

Mrs. James Guillepper was hostess to Chitter Chat Club members when they met at her home, 712 N. Gray, Tuesday night for a business meeting and social hour.

Mrs. J. L. Harrison presided during the business session during which time plans were made for installation of officers to be held in October. Chitter Chat members will send a box of clothing to an orphanage soon.

The hostess served a salad plate to Mesdames Glen Boyd, L. E. West, C. W. Coffin, Howard Archer, O. G. Smith, N. G. Williams and Miss Dorothy Barritt.

It is a good habit to get into to snap off the electric lights as you leave a room, even if you are returning soon. It is no effort to turn on the switch again and it is a saving.

Dinner Saturday to Honor Joe Dooley

Several Pampa attorneys have indicated their intentions to attend the dinner given for Federal Judge Joe Dooley at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Amarillo Country Club.

Every lawyer in the Lubbock and Amarillo Division of the North Texas District, has been sent personal invitations to attend.

At present Judge Dooley is holding court in Lubbock and Amarillo and also has been designated to participate in several Federal Court cases in Fort Worth. However, the jurist will attend the banquet given in his honor.

To date those who intend to attend are: William Jarrell Smith, John Osborne and Joe Gordon.

KILLED IN WRECK

Hearing Set Today in Real Estate Incident

WASHINGTON—The National Association of Real Estate Boards and the Washington Real Estate Board pleaded innocent today to a federal indictment charging violation of the anti-trust laws. The indictment announced last week charges the two boards conspired to fix commission rates for real estate dealers in the District of Columbia. Only counsel for the two organizations were present in court today. The government also has filed a civil anti-trust suit against the two real estate organizations. Executive Vice President Herbert U. Nelson of the NAREB, and 15 members and directors of the Washington board. The civil suit asks that provisions of the Constitution and by-laws of the NAREB and the Washington board which require or permit uniform commission fees be declared in violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The criminal indictment of the two organizations followed an order by Attorney General Tom Clark for the Justice Department anti-trust division to track down and prosecute any conspiracies to maintain or boost the prices of food, clothing and housing. While the indictment dealt only with charges of restraint of trade in Washington, there have been implications that transactions are being studied in other states and cities across the country.

Pampa News, Thursday, September 4, 1947 PAGE 6
Maximum penalty is a $5,000 fine against each organization if convicted. It charges that the code of ethics of the National Association requires each member of each local real estate board, numbering about 900 in as many cities, to observe the Commission schedule set by the judicial. On Feb. 16, 1943, the indictment charges, the Washington board revised its schedule and "substantially increased" Commission rates to be charged by members for sale, lease, exchanges and management of real estate.

A BEAUTIFUL TWO-BEDROOM HOME

It's not very often I get to sell a home like this, but I've sold Mr. and Mrs. Wilson a larger home on the Hill, so we are going to sell this one, and we can give possession immediately. . . . and another thing that's good about this one is that we're not going to be responsible on the price. . . . In fact I offered nearly what they're asking and I was offering strictly on a speculative basis. . . . It has a lovely living room, 16x21, two large bedrooms, a bath, a nice kitchen with plenty of built-in, a handy service porch with hot and cold-running water, with two sanitary wash tubs and drain. It has beautiful hardwood floors throughout, floor furnace, with heat control, good clean wall paper, natural wood-work. . . . It's on a 50 ft. by 100 ft. lot, on the pavement. . . . The back yard is beautiful, fully fenced and plenty of shade and flowers. . . . This house was designed and built by the present owner in 1946, just seven years ago. It is located in the best part of town, just a few blocks from the Woodrow Wilson School, 25 Hazel St., to the east, and near the 2nd and 3rd Streets. . . . It has beautiful grounds. . . . Somebody's going to buy this real quick, as it is too good to last. . . . The price is $8500, and will finance for a lot of money with any loan agency. . . . This is an exclusive listing.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET STOCKS
NEW YORK, Sept. 3—(AP)—A timid short covering and investment demand centered on aircraft and special stock today while many market leaders negotiated a low-going retreat.

Outstanding bullish news was lacking from the start. Steels, motors, rails and assorted pivots did little or nothing. The major tape frequently loaded. Scattered gains running to a point or more persisted at the close but declines, as much were plentiful. Volume for the full stretch held to around $50,000 shares.

At pleading dividend lifted Cuban-American sugar while United Paperboard was bolstered by a good earnings statement. Nickel and Pyralis Railroad common and preferred jumped 2 to 6 points. Ahead were United Aircraft, Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Consolidated Yulise, Glenn Martin, Sperry, Coca-Cola and South Porto Rico Sugar.

The newly split Norfolk & Western was a reluctant performer. Hestiant were Air Reduction (at the year's low), East Aluminum, Texas Co., Du Pont, Johns-Manville and Dow Chemical. Packard Motors came out on one 14,000-share trade and remained in a slim groove.

The market, like Treasury Secretary Snyder, was not "bused" by British Foreign Secretary Bevin's proposal that the United States redistribute its gold to aid world trade. A little bidding still was based on hopes for a full rally.

Bonds maintained a steady course.

CHICAGO GRAIN
 CHICAGO, Sept. 3—(AP)—Grain prices pushed up steadily on the board of Trade, today, setting a variety of records in the process, on a persistent buying demand which met meted offerings.

The upturn cent all contracts of all grains to a new seasonal peak.

Supporting the upturn were reports of good flour business; expectations of a private crop forecast to be issued tomorrow will show a further drop in the corn crop outlook; and more reports on the poor European economic and food picture.

Wheat closed 3 to 5 cents higher. September $2.61 1/2-$2.61, corn was 2 1/2 higher, September $2.45 1/2, and on feeder account; medium and good lighter weight replacement steers 11.00-21.50, September corn hit a record of $2.50 and September oats $1.67, during the session.

Texas Today
 By JACK RUTLEDGE
 AP Staff Writer.

The Daily Texan, the voice of the students of the University of Texas, came out flatly in favor of long dresses for women, saying short dresses were "shocking" and "demoralized male students."

But that was 27 years ago.

When Hulon-Black was editor, styles were changing like they are now, only the process was reversed. Instead of getting longer, dresses were suddenly getting shorter.

Black was "shocked," says Paik Hornday, Hurler's attorney, and wrote a blistering editorial condemning the short dresses that revealed dimples in the knees.

Hornday wrote a letter to the Texas defending knees and short dresses, and that's how we know about the thing. Hornday's letter was reprinted in Doc Osborn's column in the Brownsville Herald, and says in part:

"All the pipe-pillared Maidens rallied to Hulon's support and agreed with him."

"I move that Hulon take four macaroni-underpinned incidents who have rallied to his support swimming each Sunday in deep Eddy."

"I haven't been shocked by the new styles. Maybe some have, but I dare say only a very few have been demoralized."

Then he quoted Elbert Hubbard as saying that "you cannot have a shock unless you have an electrical affinity for it."

"The Texan editor is engaged in a sciomachy," Hornday continues, and we bet ten cents cash that today, 27 years after he wrote the letter, he doesn't remember what "sciomachy" means.

"For the want of subjects upon which to exhort, preachers of a certain species, or rather uncertain species, have perpetrated upon the public much pink piffle and piffle perfrance in reference to the matter."

What you said, Mr. Hornday!

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK—Brooklyn is up in arms at the suggestion that a Dodger-Yankee world series might be played entirely in the Yankee Stadium, which has about twice the seating capacity of Ebbets Field. But Branch Rickey indignantly declares that such a move is contemplated. What do those Manhattanites think Branch is trying to do? Make money? Of course there are 26 football games, pro, college and high school booked for the Brooklyn ball yard this season but they are subject to cancellation in the event of a snow strike. In addition, he has contracts for heavyweight Walter Hafer to fight Joe Mattis, Buffalo Promoter Jack Simek enclosed a check for $8,800, an amount he discovered Hafer had been paid for a fight with Jimmie Frazier. He is now in a quandary as to how to dispose of the money.

TOOT SOON

Bob Higgins, from State Football Coach, tabs his rookie footballer, Francis Rogel, as being rough and tough as a junior edition of Bronko Nagurski. After ramming through the varsity line in a scrimmage and being checked several times when the whistle blew while his legs still were clanking, Francis turned to the assistant coach who was refereeing and barked, "Dude, how do you get that thing working? I'm not stopped until I'm down!"

CLEANING THE CUFF

Bert Lytell who fights Jake La Motta in the garden next week, has owned the Brooklyn garden in which he used to work. Harry Fitzpatrick, trainer for E. J. Baker's string of harness racers, already has been approached by several owners. How want his services when Baker sends out—Dolph Summers, Jr. who's kicking for Lawrence High School had Kansas fans ask last season, passed up a lot of attractive offers to stay at home and enter King of the Ring. The American Football League will outfit its officials in different colored caps this season to help the public distinguish among them. Probably secured they ought to use their heads for something.

Pro Golfers Warming Up for Denver Open

DENVER—A mild-mannered mittering, the nibble of 1938 resumed their self-appointed task today of solving the tricky Cherry Hills Course and incidentally picking up some of the $15,500 ready cash offered in the Denver Open. Ed (Porky) Oliver of Wilmington, Del., was one of six who turned in one-under-par 70 in the pro-amateur warm-up yesterday. But he complained the greens were "too hard—too sun-baked." Sam Snead of Hot Springs, Va., one of the five who matched par said the seventh hole is a sharp dog leg to the left, was downright "unfair." Snead made the comment after taking two putts to get three feet on the fifth and three putts for five feet on the sixth. After 18-hole rounds today and tomorrow the field will be pared to the low 64 players who will play two more rounds of 18 on Saturday and Sunday.

All-Star Team Named In Longhorn League

ABELINE—The official Longhorn League all-star team, picked by the league scorers, was announced today. The team includes Armando Traspuesto, Big Spring, catcher; Joe Dotlich, Sweetwater, first base; Jake McClain, Ballinger, second base; Orlando Moreno, Big Spring, third base; Roy McMillan, Ballinger, shortstop; Bob Cowser, Sweetwater, left field; Harvel Jakes, Odessa, center field; Pat Stasny, Big Spring, right field; Rex Pearee, Odessa utility infielder; Ronald Murphy, Sweetwater, utility outfielder; Gene Cendan, Big Spring, right-handed pitcher; Ernie Nelson, Midland, left-handed pitcher; Buddy Hanchen, Ballinger, manager. Moreno at third base was the only unanimous selection.

There were 5,725,692 motor trucks registered in the United States in 1946 compared with 4,876,654 in 1941.

Oilers Finish Home Games With 29-9 Win

Athletics' Rookie Turns in Hurling Sensation of Year

Credit Bill McCahan, a widely known Philadelphia Athletics rookie with the pitching job of the year performance that overshadowed the usual chieftains of the American League. Pennant by the New York Yankees.

McCahan collected 22 hits, took seven errors, three balks and pitched 146 2/3 innings. He gave up 7 hits and five walks for a total of 10 runs in the first two innings, he was relieved by Skrzalec, who gave up one hit and one walk in the third.

McCahan, a 23-year-old, one league freshman, threw the third no-hit, no-run game of the league season but he also came with one out of a perfect game. A wild throw by First Baseman Ferris Pain in the second inning permitted the only Washington runner to reach base as McCahan faced out 25 men.

The Yankees turned loose all their batting power against the Red Sox, who were still facing a faint pennant spark before the double loss. But after the New York crew had led Sox pitching for a total of 34 hits in 11-2 and 9-6 victories, the last hope vanished.

Cleveland and Chicago divided a twilight-night bat, the Indians rallying to take the finale, 6-5, with three runs in the ninth after bowing to Orval Grove's six-latter in the 8-3 dusk number.

The St. Louis Cardinals tight-rope act of the National League race, a triumph when they walloped Chicago, 11-1, shoring the idle Brooklyn Dodgers' margin to six games.

Ewell Blackwell side-armed his way past Pittsburgh and its hunky Greinberg, Gardner's 10th victory, 2-1 by a 12-6 margin.

The four Eastern teams in the National, Brooklyn, New York, Boston and Philadelphia were both scheduled, and St. Louis and Detroit were idle in the American.

From Reynolds, you go into Newsum, Bevins, Rasch, Drews, Gumbert, Wensloff and finally and usually Page.

Naturally, Bucky Harris hopes Sher will recover the form that made him the talk of the league, but Yankee officials frankly are worried about the pitching.

The same is true in Brooklyn, where, with Harry Taylor on the sidelines, there isn't much behind his Ralph Branca and little Vic Lombardi.

The Dodgers, too, have a commanding lead without a great deal of capable pitching.

New York Giants Have Little Trouble Whipping Stars, 21-0

By SID FEDER

NEW YORK—(AP)—Army's famed gridiron wrecking twins put on their finale as the highly-touted one-two punch of the Eastern College All-Stars against the New York professional Giants in the ninth annual clambake of this series in the Polo Grounds last night. But the only wrecking that was done was on the persons of E and D, in particular and the All-Stars in general, as the Giants rolled up the most lop-sided decision of the series, 21-0.

B and D should have rested on their Army record. Blanchard found out he was in a different league now playing with the big boy—and most of the time he was in there he was wearing a couple of the Giants as a lavalier. Davis set off some minor sparks with a 28-yard runback of the opening kickoff and a 14-yard return of a punt. But just when he looked as if he might clear on the latter, his trick knee acted up again and he fell on his face and was carried from the field after 7 3/4 minutes of play.

The Giants, naturally, uncovered little of the stuff they'll be putting up on the counter for the National League campaigning this fall. They didn't have to. Only in the final quarter, when Frank Reagan, who used to do practically everything for Pennsylvania football teams except clean the uniforms, started pitching, and Jerry Blumenstock, who used to take opposing lines apart from Fordham, started to slice up the All-Star forward wall, did the pros take the lid off any of their fancy stuff.

The combination produced final touchdown, with Blumenstock going the last 14 yards on a flip from Reagan. In the third quarter a 17-yard pass from Jerry Nines, ex-Ohio, to George Frank former Minnesota steamer, topped off another 60 yards touchdown push.

Actually these were just icing on the cake. The game was on ice 2 minutes and 20 seconds after it started. A pass from center to All-Star 20, got away from Fullback Al Allen or went into the end zone. Allen chased it and ran past it. Big Jim White, one-time Notre Dame tackle, came zipping up to fan on it or the touchdown.

League play at the Pampa Bowl will get under way next week, according to John Hutchens, operator of the concern. The Industrial League was formed last night, and the Ladies' League was set up on Tuesday night.

There are eight teams this year in the Industrial League. Among them will be a new one, the Culbertson's team, which will have among its keylers Frank Culbertson himself. There are eight full teams in the Ladies' League.

There is the possibility of four or five teams being formed as a women's Beginner's League. It was stated.

On Monday night the City League will play; Tuesday night the Ladies; a men's scratch league on Wednesday night; Industrial League, on Thursday night. There is the possibility of a mixed league's being formed for play on Friday night, he stated.

Big State Loop Clubs Fighting for 4th Spot

By The Associated Press

Fourth place is all that's left for three teams to shoot at in the Big State League race.

Only 11 days remain on the regular schedule and Texarkana, Greenville and Wichita Falls have clinched places in the play-offs.

In the battle for fourth place Paris holds a six and one-half game lead over Sherman-Denison with 11 games to play. Sherman-Denison in turn is four games better off than Gainesville with 12 to go.

All the first four clubs won last night with Texarkana edging Austin 10-9, Greenville beating Gainesville 4-2, Wichita Falls downing Sherman-Denison 7-4 and Paris licking Waco 10-2.

Texarkana scored two runs in the eighth to win a free-hitting contest with Austin with three homers on each side. Merle Coleman won his own game for the Bears as he singled in the two tallies.

Jodie Fhipps pitched a four-hitter in Greenville's triumph over Gainesville. The Owls' two runs were unearned.

Wichita Falls pushed across four runs in the seventh to defeat Sherman-Denison with Joe Winfield hurling a seven-hitter.

Paris got six runs before Waco could count and never had any trouble winning behind six-hit pitching by Hatley.

Tonight Austin will play at Paris; Waco at Texarkana, Gainesville at Sherman-Denison and Wichita Falls at Greenville.

Oil Workers File Suit Against NLRB Director

PORT WORTH—(AP)—A suit by the Oil Workers International Union (OIO) is on file in U. S. District Court here to force Edwin A. Elliott, regional national labor relations board director, to "count and tabulate" the votes of an election among employees of the Deep Oil Development Company, Wichita Falls, Texas.

The petition requested a hearing and an injunction, Federal Judge T. W. Davidson set the hearing for 2 p.m. Sept. 8.

Voluntary Deportation Totals Are Announced

HIDALGO—(AP)—The U. S. Immigration Service announced here that voluntary deportation of Mexican citizens at the Hidalgo and Thayer ports of entry totalled 15,681 in August, more than double the total of any previous month since deportations began in 1944.

The total office deported 14,929 and Thayer, South of Mercedes, Texas, 752.

The high deportation figure was reportedly caused by heavy Rio Grande Valley rains. Thousands of cotton pickers were unable to find work and went back to their own country.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Ground for anxiety—though not surprising—is American Undersecretary of State Lovett's report in Washington that Europe's economic crisis is developing much faster than expected and that the United States may have to take some kind of emergency action before the end of the year.

Representative Hays, Arkansas Democrat, just back from a European tour, pinned the thing down more closely. He told reporters that in all probability it will be necessary for Congress to meet before January, assuming that the Marshall Plan will take shape by that time and that we will have something definite and substantial to work on.

Lovett attributes the speedy worsening of the situation to two main causes: (1) The effects of the British economic crisis have been very contagious, he believes. (2) Many countries have had to divert their resources from production to such non-productive purchases as foodstuffs. In this connection their troubles have been added to by such afflictions and droughts. There also has been mismanagement.

The over-all picture is a grim one. The three main supports of the pre-war European structure—Britain, France and Germany—are badly crippled. The smaller states, who used to depend so heavily on the patronage of the now wounded giants, are struggling along on their own, but there has been little or no coordination of effort among them. Each has been intent on hoeing its own row.

And what is all this to the new world? Well, quite apart from humanitarian aspects, there are two reasons why the United States has seen fit to intervene and try to help Europe to its feet:

1. Economic experts assure us a continuation of the crisis means inevitably precipitate depression in the Western Hemisphere. Just as our frontiers militarily speaking are in Europe, so are our economic frontiers.

2. The crisis is a breeder of war. This is true because distress and weakness are rendering many unhappy countries susceptible to conquest by aggressive Communism. The longer the crisis lasts, the better the chances are for the Redism to spread. The more it spreads, the greater the danger of global war.

Highway Commission To Consider Project

AUSTIN—(AP)—Herbert Eldridge, assistant to the state highway engineer said today the Highway Commission is expected to consider at its meeting here Sept. 8 a proposed construction of a four-laned U. S. Highway 80 from Longview nine miles east of Hallsville.

Eldridge said a Longview delegation here several months ago had brought the matter of need for such a highway to the Commission's attention.

The Commission, he said, was "very sympathetic" to the request but pointed out at that time that U. S. 80 is on an interstate system which, under a federal plan, requires an unusually wide right-of-way to accommodate four-lane devices.

Because Marshall has grown up along and built close to the highway, Eldridge said, the cost to obtain the necessary right-of-way was considered prohibitive.

He said he did not know whether a delegation would be present next to discuss the matter with the commission.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Are you grey haired, paunchy, middle-aged? Can you act? If so, come to Hollywood.

The movie town is suffering from one of the oldest shortages in its history—character actors are getting scarcer and scarcer. The situation is getting critical, so MGM casting director Billy Grady would have us believe. The competent character people are dying off like flies, and there is no one to replace them.

"Where can they come from?" asked Grady, a fast-talking ex-actor and agent. "Our best characters have come from vaudeville, stock and repertory companies. Those fields are now dead. There is no adequate training ground for new talent."

The result is that 30 well-trained veterans have a virtual monopoly on character roles in Hollywood, through lack of competition. The familiarity of their faces gives a quality of sameness to American movies and thus makes them less believable.

"For years," said Grady, "my advice has been to go to New York find 10 good character men and 10 good character women on the stage and bring them out here. The agents could do a thriving business."

Hollywood has to solve the dearth of character actors or find itself in hot water, the talent man declared. His solution is the fostering of stock companies in every sizable U. S. town, with the aid of Hollywood money and talent. He emphasized that new actors would then be recognized, not discovered.

Why Not Tag Uncle Sam For the Role? It Works

From all indications, the American people are getting into the predicament in which the supposedly war widow found herself in "Taps for Private Tussie" ...

As things now look, it might be wise, from the British point of view, for American traders and the U. S. government to start giving the British more and a better quality of everything—or we will be sorry one of these days.

A sample of the tone and import of the British attitude is found in the London Economist, of a few days back. The Economist's outburst went like this: "This dependence will not last forever. A time will come when, by a combination of external events and internal efforts, Britain will be able to do without dollars, at a cost that will be bearable. Do the Americans, when that time comes, want the British to regard the cutting loose from America as a boon so great that the highest bearable price will be cheerfully paid for it at the earliest possible moment?"

Then, yesterday Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin came out with a line to bolster that British thought and to point the accusing finger at Uncle Shylock. He said the unbalance-payment situation in the world—caused by a dearth of American dollars for export-import commerce—had this situation was partly created by the fact that billions of dollars in gold was lying unused at Fort Knox, Ky. This gold, he said, should be redistributed among the nations of the world.

Bevin said: "We have got to settle this balance-of-payments business in the world, or it will be constant chaos. There are ways of settling it. I know these Americans will be upset, but I have got to upset somebody. My own conviction is that she handicapped herself here, by failure to redistribute the Fort Knox gold."

Just in case Socialist Bevin did not know it, and it's likely he does not know it, that line sounds like it might have come straight out of Russia. The Soviets for years have complained that the goods of America should be redistributed to the less fortunate peoples of the world. In that way, say the Marxists, the whole world would be better off.

Laborite England, at a time when production is lagging and free enterprise is being squeezed to death, comes up with the line that the gold of America should be used to pull the world's chestnuts out of the fire.

The story is the same in Britain as it is in Russia; there needs to be a failure. Why? Not tag the United States for that role? Her shoulders are broad.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN I see that the price of marriage licenses is going up in a lot of places and I believe it's a good thing. Many a man has got the wrong idea about the value of a wife because he could get one for three dollars, and they're easily worth twice as much.

In Chicago, when the price went up two dollars, the chief clerk of the license bureau said that a man paid that much to see a show lasting only a couple of hours and a marriage is supposed to last a lifetime. George sees a flaw in this reasoning. He says that in a show the leading lady doesn't come around every few minutes and ask you to buy her a new hat and you can go out during the intermission without explaining that you have to see a sick friend.

We have been strangled by the Taft-Hartley Act and I feel it my duty to stay and fight. To show the people that labor is decent and clean—and a little unselfish.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG news behind the news

WASHINGTON BY RAY TUCKER PROSECUTION

The able and conscientious Lindsay C. Warren, watchdog of the Treasury as Controller General of the United States, is deeply vexed over the failure of Attorney General Tom Clegg to initiate a prosecution of war contractors and federal officials whose contract termination settlements were shot through with fraud, in the C. G.'s opinion.

Unlike the Brewster Committee, which has also neglected to look into the Warren discoveries, the Controller General cannot be accused of any partisan interest of purpose. The blunt, shaggy-headed, raucous-voiced North Carolinian, however, has been and served as their financial expert in the House for many years. He is honest, meticulous, and he cannot abide cheating of Uncle Sam or 40,000,000 taxpayers.

IMMUNE—Mr. Warren has been following through on the Department of Justice since the close of the conflict more than two years ago. But the D. of J. has not yet obtained a conviction on the basis of his information.

Unless it acts soon, the statute of limitations will begin to operate and many fraudulent contractors, as well as their wartime collaborators within the government, will be immune from prosecution.

The Brewster Committee also has the Warren records. But it has preferred to investigate Hughes-Roosevelt tie-ups in connection with the and other transactions which provided lush headlines but no recovery of money for the taxpayers.

Inasmuch as the Senate Committee plans to wind up its affairs next January, it will be impossible for it to follow through on the Controller General's tips.

SIGNIFICANCE—The Warren discoveries are all the more significant because Congress did not give him the authority to make an audit of wartime transactions before the end of the conflict, and he consumed the safeguards set up against detection of fraud as he says, were "relatively futile."

Most of his discoveries were the result of accounts or extraordinarily fine detective-accounting work. Nevertheless, despite these hindrances, here is what he found and reported to Attorney General Clark:

(1) Seventy-nine termination settlements involving 107 contractors and nineteen contractors, were "induced by fraud."

(2) Fifty-seven additional settlements of sixty-one contracts held by only five contractors show evidence of downright fraud. These are still under investigation.

(3) Forty-two settlements involving thirty-five contractors revealed traces of "over-liberal" payments to individuals and corporations, but there was no evidence of criminality. In the absence of any criminality, of course, no money can be recovered through prosecution, even if Mr. Clark gets around to that stage of determination and activity.

Incidentally, most of the federal agencies and officials involved in the Warren condemnation ridicule his charges and defend the transactions which he assails as fraudulent. They also comment on the individual officer and contractor who in Mr. Warren's opinion, ought to be prosecuted before it is too late.

Thus, it may be that Mr. Clark accepts their versions rather than the Controller General's. In any case, D. of J. spokesmen refuse flatly to comment on the North Carolinian's requests for action.

EVIDENCE—Although Mr. Warren's indictment is a model of legal and objective reporting, the Brewster Committee does not fare any too well at this. He makes it clear that the Senate group has been feigning about his evidence on "feathering of their nests" practiced by Army-Navy officers and government officials in a position to "curry favor with contractors."

"The following instances," he says, "were reported by me to the Senate Committee Investigating the National Defense Program: (1) A major former contractor officer and termination officer assigned to an aircraft concern, was now employed as general manager of the concern. A colonel, who was the original contracting officer as well as the termination officer on the contract which involved the concern, entered on duty as manager of procurement for such concern shortly after his separation from the War Department."

Federal Council of Churches Labor Sunday Message

This newspaper has printed the Labor Sunday message for 1947 as approved by the executive committee of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America and requested to be read in churches on Labor Sunday, August 31, 1947.

The council seems to think, judging from the letter received by the editor of Common Ground from the superintendent of the San Diego District of the Methodist church, that the public could tell whether the organization was socialist or not by reading this message.

This superintendent writes that he had noticed several vague suggestions on my part that the Federal Council of Churches is socialist.

He writes: "I am concerned about your statements for my denomination is an intricate body of the Council of Churches. Would you, in all fairness, print this statement from the Federal Council of Churches, which it has released as its Sunday message. Print it and let the people who can read judge whether this is socialist or communist doctrine."

Now he evidently thinks that the public can determine whether or not a socialist is a socialist by being his own committee prepared and guarded statement and the public can judge from this statement without being permitted to ask questions whether or not the parties making them are socialists. In other words, the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America seeks to repudiate the common practice of American jurisprudence.

If any man is accused of an unusual act in public court he is not obliged to testify against himself. If he chooses to testify in court, he requires him to answer questions without immaterial, irrelevant and superfluous answers. The leaders of the Federal Council of Churches of Christ in America will not submit to questions settling what is meant by various vague, incomprehensible words and statements.

The writer has offered to pay Charles P. Tait, president of the organization, $1,000 if he would submit to a couple of hours in court and limit his answers to 120 words or less. It would contain irrelevant, immaterial matter without the consent of a longer time to answer by the questioner.

But even at that, we have published their carefully guarded, vague statement which contains a lot of half-truths and half-lies, truths and vague words. This statement is not nearly as bold, and does not as clearly show the socialistic tendencies of this organization as some of the other statements.

The first sentence, "The relation between workers and employers creates some of the most important problems of our time," is entirely false. There are no more problems between workers and employers than there is a problem between a housewife buying a dozen eggs or a loaf of bread from a grocery store. It is a voluntary act on the part of both parties. Both parties are benefited by the trade.

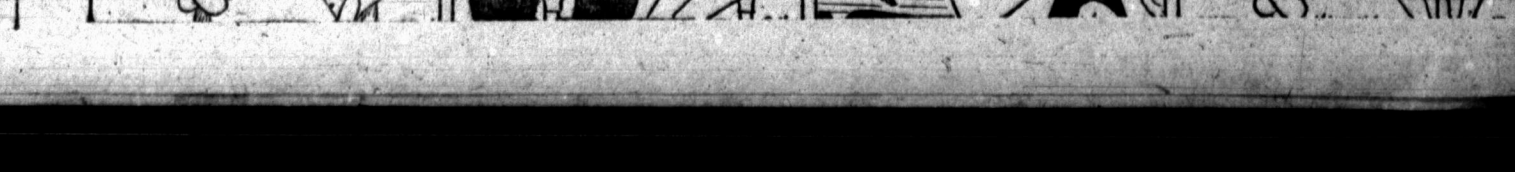

The fact of the matter is that it is men such as the leaders of the Federal Council of Churches and Pope Leo XIII who have created these so-called problems between employer and employee. Pope Leo XIII wrote an encyclical letter on the 15th day of May, 1891. This encyclical included considerable discussion on the wage question. It was socialistic and tended to confuse the public. It advocated a form of socialism and public remedial measures.

The Methodist Church in the Spring of 1908 adopted a similar socialistic creed. The Federal Council of Churches adopted a similar socialistic creed in the fall of 1937. These organizations and this kind of propaganda and not the fact that one man employs another that has confused and created the problems between the worker and the employer. These organizations have denied a free market. They have denied a free labor market.

This bulletin by the Federal Council of Churches uses the word "church" 17 times, but it never once mentions the Ten Commandments.

I will discuss this Labor Sunday message in detail in a subsequent article.

ren can hardly be blamed for his disillusionment and his demand that he be given greater authority to protect the taxpayers.

FREEDOM INTERNATIONAL

Why not set up a Freedom International to combat by information and education, the Communist International all over the world? By its military title this would be a counter-revolution through propaganda. It was suggested by Hamilton Fish in his new and excellent expose of the Communist threat, "The Red Plotters."

"The time has come," wrote the author, who has been trying to alert this country to Communism for many years, "to create a militant nation-wide anti-Communist organization in America which should be a pattern for the establishment of a world-wide organization devoted to the preservation of human freedom."

Countless individuals in foreign lands look to America as the only nation able to right the torch of freedom. I have received numerous letters from Europe suggesting the creation of an international organization to promote freedom throughout the world. The Communists have used the Moscow International successfully to spread Communism by propaganda and undercover activities.

"Why should not those who believe in freedom use the same methods to restore freedom to all nations?" Fish proposed that we copy the Communist tactics and use the same weapons and organize as fighters for

by Upton Close

A Freedom International, uniting all the underground groups in coordinated activities and aiding them with radios, printing presses, "literature" from the United States and other means of resistance which they may themselves smuggle into their communities, might well give the Red Army and secret police a major policing problem.

"I am not asking for drastic measures—nor for further foreign wars," said Fish. "The surest way to combat the spread of Communism is to inform our people."

"The Red Plotters" is an indexed report on the current Communist situation at home and abroad. It shows how our Administration has dangerously blundered by coming too slowly to a realistic policy to meet the Marxist attack.

Wheat Growing Contest To Be Held for Future Farmers and 4-H Boys

Members of both the Future Farmers of America and the 4-H Club in Texas will have a chance to be crowned King starting with wheat planting time in a few weeks, according to an announcement received today from Keats Soder, director of the Texas-Oklahoma Wheat Improvement Program, Oklahoma City.

County winners in both contests will receive gold medals but must qualify by starting with certified seed, having a minimum acreage, keeping their seed pure and managing the plot personally. Local elevators will furnish certified seed at cost or will trade bushel for bushel. Local shows will be judged on the boy's production record as well as on the grain he shows at the fair.

The state contest to be held in connection with the State Wheat Show at Amarillo in the fall of 1948 will include milling and baking tests of the top grain samples. The winning 4-H boy and the winning 4-H boy will be given trophies, a $100 cash award and the title FFA or 4-H wheat king of Texas. In addition the top four winners in each contest and their adult leaders or teachers will be awarded all expenses, trips to a major terminal market to study wheat handling, marketing and processing as guests of the Texas and Oklahoma millers.

Boys interested in competing should get their copy of the regulations from the county agent or vocational agriculture teacher, locate their seed, and select their field as soon as possible," advises Soder.

"Every boy in the contest will be a winner because he will get pure seed at a reduced price, learn a lot about seed production and have valuable seed for sale next fall," according to Soder.

Rice Industry Faces Unpredictable Future

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Agriculture Department officials said yesterday that the rice industry with its greatest crop in history ready for market faces a future that is "uncertain" and cannot be predicted accurately.

Officials handling rice for the production and marketing administration told a reporter that trade reports available indicate that current price levels will recede in the near future.

The reason, these officials agreed, is the expected volume of rice that will move into the market soon.

The latest crop forecasts for rice indicated that this year's record crop will fall just under 75,000,000 bushels.

Harvesting has been delayed by intermittent rains in the Louisiana fields.

However, agriculture officials expect that price adjustments will begin when the crop starts into the market in volume. This may come later this month, if good weather prevails.

One official in a position to know said privately that "nobody can predict with any degree of accuracy or certainty what the future of the rice market will be."

Present grower prices, he said, vary from 12 cents to 14 cents, depending on the type rice sold. This represents a "substantial increase" over last year's prices which were controlled by the ceilings established by the Office of Price Administration.

Because of the prospects of huge volume in the near future, this official added, buyers are purchasing only enough rice to meet current needs.

Only in a few instances, he said, are there cases of stockpiling for the future. Some mills, he said, may be unable to obtain sufficient rice to continue full operations for a few days until the new crop hits the market.

He said most rice buyers are "cautious" about the future and are waiting to see what develops in prices before making large-scale purchases.

Use of Phosphate Fertilizer Basis of Many a Tall Story

You've heard of Texas farmers and ranchmen using phosphate fertilizer for increasing yields on field crops and pastures. You've done it yourself, probably.

Phosphorus is a soil element that is lacking in almost every soil type in Texas, and the phosphate supplies that result from use of phosphate have turned up some pretty tall tales. Heard of a fellow in Harris County who couldn't get his cow to move his lawn. Put phosphate on it, and she went after it like a 10-year-old goes after ice cream.

Then there was a farmer in Wood County who'd heard about such stuff as that, and tried to pull a fast one on his cattle. He applied a sack of phosphate on top of a piece of knoll in the pasture. Didn't fool anybody. Months later the knoll was covered with cows all day long. He had trouble getting them down to water. They wanted to stay up there all the time and graze that phosphated grass. All sorts of stuff like that.

Doesn't all come from the farmers either. Now the experts are doing it. Fellow named M. K. "Duke" Thornton works for the Extension Service at Texas A. and M. College. Soil chemist, they call him. He'd rather see a farmer out phosphating a pasture than get a raise in salary. Fellows like him are always handing out advice on one thing and another and now he's come up with a honey. Says that you're old-fashioned if you go plowing a fire guard around your fences. All you have to do is put an application of phosphate, heavy, all around the fences. The cow won't graze in it so close you couldn't start a fire on it with a flame thrower. No plowing. Just phosphate. Well, if anybody tries it and it doesn't work, you can blame Duke Thornton. He said it, out loud, so let him take the credit or the blame.

From Marfa, County Agent Houston Smith sends word that ranchmen out there are organized into the Presidio County Wolf Club.

The Wolf Club was set up because wolves, coyotes and bobcats were netting fat on Presidio County sheep, and the club is out to get the predators.

The idea is to better utilize the services of government trappers who are working in the country. The club's been working for about three years, and with the cooperation of the Fish and Wildlife Service, the coyotes and bobcats are having a hard time of it.

Good idea, the way it works. Smith says the original number of trappers needed by the ranchmen was six. The agreement was that when the predators were cut down, the number of trappers could be decreased accordingly. Payments by the club members were based on the number of sheep each man was running. And the idea has worked. Only two trappers are needed now and a host of coyotes and bobcats have bitten the dust out there.

Box score: in 1945—238 coyotes and 96 bobcats, 1946—279 coyotes and 135 bobcats; 1947—231 coyotes and 126 bobcats.

Things look pretty tough for the predators these days.

Family Fire Dept. Needed on Farms

TOPEKA, Kans.—"Family fire departments" on the farm were recommended by M. N. Breier, associate editor of Capper's Farmer, as a means of cutting down the deadly toll of rural fires. Teamwork and practical home equipment, may hold blazes in check until help arrives.

"Fire destroyed $100,000,000 of farm property last year," he writes in the September issue of the farm magazine. "Still more heart-sickening was the loss of 3,500 lives in these farm homes."

"Fire trucks rushing down country roads mean that rural communities are doing something about this shocking loss of precious lives and property. City fire departments are extending their services to surrounding rural areas.

"How much the firemen can save, however, depends on what the family has done to keep the blaze under control. What the family can do is governed by the equipment at hand, the plans it has made for fire fighting.

"Nine out of ten farm fires are said to be avoidable. So it is vital to inspect chimneys, heating equipment and electrical wiring to see that they are safe. Gasoline and oil can be stored in safe places and matches can be kept in metal containers away from children. Oily rags and trash can be cleaned up. We can quit throwing kerosene on the kitchen fire.

"Some pieces of fire equipment are practical for every farm. If you have a good pressure water system with motor and pump housed in a separate building, you have a jump on the fire if it breaks out. If you don't have a water system, then fire extinguishers, water barrels, buckets and sand boxes are your next best bet.

"The farm family should organize itself into a home fire-protection team, so the group will be ready for instant action when a blaze breaks out. Each member should know how to turn in a fire alarm. Make a fire-fighting plan. Hold a quiz periodically to be sure that everybody in the household knows what to do in case of fire."

Valley Cotton to Reach 260,000 Bales

HARLINGEN—(AP)—A prediction that Valley cotton ginnings will reach 260,000 by Sept. 13 was made here by J. A. Alderidge, State Department of Agriculture pink bollworm control officer. He said valley ginnings totaled 244,932 bales through Aug. 29 with the gross expected to exceed 260,000.

Discount Eliminated On Irrigated Cotton

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Three Western Senators reported yesterday that the agency has eliminated the discount on irrigated cotton in all future government purchases.

Senators Hayden (D-Ariz.), Hatch (D-N.M.) and Downey (D-Calif.) announced in a joint statement that the agency has eliminated the discount on irrigated cotton in all future government purchases.

The discount, under which irrigated cotton brought 60 cents a hundred pounds less than rain-grown cotton, was a carry-over from instructions issued several years ago when such a discount was considered necessary to move stocks for lend-lease and UNRRA. The Senators said.

Rural Land Prices Reach Highest Level

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Prices of farm real estate over a greater part of the United States seem to have completed their 5-year steady advance to almost the highest figures in history and have either halted or turned down in the last 6 months.

I. W. Duggan, governor of the Farm Credit Administration, said at a meeting of the boards of directors of the 12 Farm Credit Administration districts here.

"Exceptions to this situation," he continued, "are found in the wheat belt in the Middle West and in the livestock territory where prices on the average rose about 5 percent during the 4 months ended June 30." He accounted for this increase by saying that it probably represented the capitalization of the expectation of particularly high return on these two commodities—wheat and range livestock. These advances were offset by a slight falling off in values in the South-east. The resulting 2 percent for the country in the 4 months ended July 1, 1947, compared with a one percent a month rise for the last 5 years.

The 2 percent increase during the 4 months ended July 1 this year brings the United States index (1912-14=100) to 162, a 10 percent rise from July 1946 and an index of 195 using the prewar 1935-39 average as 100. Average values throughout the United States are only five percent below the 1920 inflationary peak. In fact, in 28 states they are now equal to or above those represented in 1920.

On the Pacific Coast on July 1, farm land values were 102 percent higher than 1935-39 prices in California, 93 in Oregon, 115 in Washington and 94 in Arizona.

Despite the slight decline in the rate of increase in farm real estate prices, the volume of sales for the year ended in March was the highest on record exceeding by a small margin the previous peak reached in March 1946. However, the increase was not uniform throughout the country. There was an unusually large increase in the Northeast but the total sales there continue small compared with other large areas. The most significant decreases in sales during the last year were in the East South Central, South Atlantic, and East North Central groups of states where there was also some leveling off in land values during the 4 months prior to July 1.

Port of Galveston Does Big Business

GALVESTON—(AP)—During August, customs collections at the Port of Galveston exceeded every other port in the district, including Houston, figures released by the district office here show.

Duty collected at Galveston during August totaled $355,431 as compared with $295,997 at Houston. Total collections at Galveston during the month, including duties, tonnage tax, fees and fines were $378,690. Total collections at Houston were $119,156.

Pioneer of Wheeler, Gray Counties Dies

McLENNAN—(Special)—W. P. Dial, 83, a pioneer of Wheeler and Gray Counties died Tuesday, August 26, at his home in Memphis following a heart attack. Funeral services were held Wednesday, August 27, from the First Methodist Church in Memphis.

He was a retired farmer and rancher, formerly president of the Memphis Chamber of Commerce, and at the time of his death, was chairman of the board of stewards of the Methodist Church.

Surviving is one daughter, Mrs. Vera Dickey of Memphis.

Ronald I. Cross, above, soil conservationist with the United States Department of Agriculture at Clovis, N. M., has been appointed agricultural agent for the Santa Fe railway with headquarters at Amarillo, according to an announcement made by H. M. Bainer, general agricultural agent of that line, at Amarillo. The appointment is effective September 1.

Bill to Provide Aid For Veteran Farmers

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A program of combined "on-farm" and classroom training of future farmers under the GI Bill, as ordered by Congress last session, was placed in effect yesterday by the Veterans Administration.

Last summer Gen. Omar Bradley, Veterans Administrator, ruled that on-the-job farm trainees who were spending most of their time away from schools could not be considered full-time trainees and were not qualified for subsistence allowances.

Vigorous protests against the ruling resulted in enactment of public law 377, setting up "institutional on-farm training" which provides for at least 200 hours of classroom instruction a year for each trainee at an accredited educational or training institution.

The veteran in a full-time institutional on-farm training course may receive subsistence allowances not exceeding $175 a month if they have no dependents, or $200 for those with dependents.

Institutional on-farm training is part of the GI Bill educational program—is not to be confused with the farmer readjustment allowance program. This permits farmer-veterans who are unemployed or who are farming unprofitable to receive up to $100 a month in unemployment allowances.

Now is an element present in only to the extent of 15 millionths of a percent.

Tropical Storm Delays Harvesting Operations

AUSTIN—(AP)—Some loss of mature Texas crops and delayed harvesting operations resulted from the recent tropical storm, the United States Department of Agriculture reported yesterday.

Benefits of growing crops and pastures probably more than offset the losses, however, USDA said.

Some loss of cotton lint was said to have resulted from the high winds and beating rains in upper coastal and Southeastern counties, but these losses probably were offset by improved condition of late cotton in more northern areas affected by the storm, USDA noted.

Rice harvest, interrupted by the storm and heavy rains, was reported actively underway the latter part of last week.

The tile floors in the Capitol at Washington have been in place for more than 90 years.

Family Fire Dept. Needed on Farms

TOPEKA, Kans.—"Family fire departments" on the farm were recommended by M. N. Breier, associate editor of Capper's Farmer, as a means of cutting down the deadly toll of rural fires. Teamwork and practical home equipment, may hold blazes in check until help arrives.

"Fire destroyed $100,000,000 of farm property last year," he writes in the September issue of the farm magazine. "Still more heart-sickening was the loss of 3,500 lives in these farm homes."

"Fire trucks rushing down country roads mean that rural communities are doing something about this shocking loss of precious lives and property. City fire departments are extending their services to surrounding rural areas.

"How much the firemen can save, however, depends on what the family has done to keep the blaze under control. What the family can do is governed by the equipment at hand, the plans it has made for fire fighting.

"Nine out of ten farm fires are said to be avoidable. So it is vital to inspect chimneys, heating equipment and electrical wiring to see that they are safe. Gasoline and oil can be stored in safe places and matches can be kept in metal containers away from children. Oily rags and trash can be cleaned up. We can quit throwing kerosene on the kitchen fire.

"Some pieces of fire equipment are practical for every farm. If you have a good pressure water system with motor and pump housed in a separate building, you have a jump on the fire if it breaks out. If you don't have a water system, then fire extinguishers, water barrels, buckets and sand boxes are your next best bet.

"The farm family should organize itself into a home fire-protection team, so the group will be ready for instant action when a blaze breaks out. Each member should know how to turn in a fire alarm. Make a fire-fighting plan. Hold a quiz periodically to be sure that everybody in the household knows what to do in case of fire."

MECHANIC—Like advertising.
It sells goods. And when sales go up, our shop is plenty busy. My wife and I can then have real peace of mind.

WAITRESS—Advertising my boss does means more tips in my pocket. Advertising other firms does means more business, steadier jobs for my customers and bigger tips in my pocket. So I'm all for plenty of advertising.

BOOKKEEPER—I know what a difference advertising made in my firm. . . . made our volume four times as big in five years. Now instead of just being a clerk, I have seven people working for me.

HOW ADVERTISING AFFECTS YOUR JOB

Raises, Cuts, Promotions, Layoffs Often Depend on How Much the Firm Sells

NEXT time you hear or read advertising, just stop and analyze how it affects you.

Its purpose is to sell goods or services. More sales mean more work to be done. That means more jobs in the firm that advertises . . . and more jobs in the hundred and one firms with which it does business. It's a never-ending chain.

Now when more jobs open up, that means more security for everyone. It means promotion to many, with wage increases. It means opportunity—particularly for friends and sons and daughters of present employees.

Whether or not you work for a firm that advertises, remember that this modern method of mass personal selling affects your company's business and its future. Hence it affects your job and your future.

Advertising, by selling goods, starts businesses humming, makes them bigger. That's how advertising affects your job. For tomorrow, it creates opportunity . . . for today, it makes your job more secure.

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.

Advertising . . . BY SELLING MORE GOODS TO MORE PEOPLE
Makes your job more secure
