"I think I'll start a back-to-the-can-opener movement, dear!"

MONOPOLY? By Upton Close

The Taft-Hartley law to whittle down the power of labor dictators will make little if any difference in their grip on the labor pools of the building trades, if the situation in Southern California is typical—as I am told it is.

It seems probable that few people not associated with the construction business realize the extent to which union monopoly has stifled competition in this industry. When the new Congress—the first anti-New Deal Congress in fifteen years—began working on a bill to relieve union heads of some of their power it was hoped that the dictatorial working men would be broken up. Evidence is conclusive that several million card holders themselves wanted this power broken. Many card holders have come to see the danger and to resent the exploitation of self-perpetuating bosses.

But the Taft-Hartley law will not do the job. It will not in any way loosen the grip of the union over the building trades, in the opinion of a number of well-informed men intimately associated with construction in Southern California.

Builders and contractors, as well as union members, are going on the assumption that the new law is not applicable to existing contracts. I think this assumption will not be challenged.

In Southern California these contracts run to next May. In Northern California they expire next January.

But the important point is that the new law will make only the slightest changes in future contracts in this industry, and in actual practice likely will make no difference at all.

It is important to take a look at the picture in Southern California—as an example likely to apply in your own city.

In May, 1941, spokesmen for the building trades unions and the Associated General Contractors of this area sat down to a table and signed a contract. The unions presumed to speak for all working men in the building trades in this area, or who might subsequently arrive here. The contractors presumed to speak for all men in the building business or who might dare enter it.

Is this a monopoly? That same contract, after six years, is still in effect, except that each May it is reopened for changes in wages and working conditions. The agreement provides for a union shop. Now the new labor law outlawed the closed shop but endorsed the nearly identical union shop. Under a union shop agreement the employer is permitted by the union boss to hire whoever he chooses—think of it—but with the understanding that the new employee take out a union card within a specified time. The Southern California contract allows five days. Under the Taft-Hartley law next year's contract will have to change this time allowance to thirty days.

However, this clause is a phony anyway, because all or practically all the unions in this area for some time have virtually shut their doors to new members. Great numbers of ex-service men wanted cards. I am fully aware that union business agents are not going to like this expose; but I have this statement from many sources—including men who have got clean out of the unions in disgust at the "big money racket," and in disapproval of the pressure for higher and higher wages, forcing high prices upon us. The Taft-Hartley law makes most jurisdictional strikes illegal, but this won't affect the building trades, because all their unions are under the same monopolistic jurisdiction—the American Federation of Labor.

It is certain that working men would be taken advantage of by and some employers if the former had no means of voicing protests; and it is also true that some unions have done constructive work in co-operating with the employers. But there has been too much monopoly. As matters stand today, competition in the building industry is chained because much of the cost of construction is labor cost. And that factor is a rigid, fixed quantity. Likewise, construction is hogtied by petty union restrictions.

True, the resourceful contractor can resort to some substitutes—such as wall board to get around the tremendous cost of plastering. If he is big enough to build several hundred houses he can make somewhat more efficient use of labor. And this is just about the extent of his leeway.

In the still bigger picture there is the persistent belief that new building methods, and use of certain materials, have been discouraged by union influence, on the principle that the old-fashion methods require more labor for union members. The fact is that in this era of poorly housed millions, with billions of dollars to spend for homes, we are still pretty much in the horse and buggy days in construction methods.

Epic on Life of Joan of Arc to Be Big Production

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Ingrid Bergman's next epic on the life of Joan of Arc is being planned on such a large scale that 10 Los Angeles manufacturing plants have been contracted to make armor for the film's actors.

The plants, which formerly did war work, will use assembly-line methods to stamp out and mold 528 full suits of armor, plus 215 partial suits. They will be made of magnesium and the full regalia will weigh but 18 pounds, plus 12 pounds of mail.

Ingrid has already tried on her suit, which is made of aluminum. It permits sitting, kneeling and other comforts unknown to knights of old.

Orson Welles heads for England after "Macbeth" to discuss his next picture with Sir Alexander Korda. It may be "Salome" or "Around the World in 80 Days," from Orson's stage production. He tells me he isn't planning any more screen Shakespeare until he sees how the public reacts to his first effort.

Charlie Chaplin, as the old saying goes, still plans to make more movies and is working on two stories at home. Neither contains his old tramp character, which he feels is not in keeping with the times.

Errol Flynn will start "Don Juan" in September and has set the first of the year as his sailing date for Africa.

Bob Hope is a popular man with the girls, no matter what he might say. Barbara Stanwyck, Ida Lupino and Joan Caulfield have all expressed willingness to appear in his "Paleface." What ever happened to his deal with Jane Russell?

From where I sit . . . by Joe Marsh

Fish Bites Woman!

Willie Wells was coming home from Seward's Creek the other evening with a string of trout, when a stern looking lady (visitor at the Boxwood Inn) stops him, and tells him a man his size could be better occupied than catching fish.

Willie tells her off real good-naturedly by saying: "Perhaps you're right, but if these fish had kept their mouths shut, they wouldn't be here." (At that, says Willie, laughing out loud, she looked just as if a fish had bit her!)

Blabbing mouths never cause anything but trouble. Nobody who knew the facts would ever criticize Willie's right to go fishing on his one day off—any more than they'd deny his right to come home to a mellow glass of beer.

From where I sit, the slower we are to criticize—and the quicker we are to recognize another's tastes, the better we'll get along together—whether those tastes apply to beer or fishing.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
I see where a lady in Long Beach, Calif., made out a will that left $5 to her husband and $15,000 to her dogs. George says that no dumb animal should be given that much, but I don't think it's such a lot of money.
I wonder what dogs do when they inherit a fortune? I suppose they could travel—French hoodies could take a trip back to the homeland in France. Scotties could revisit Scotland and Collies could go back to that town in Mexico—you know—Colliette.
It's only fair to see that dogs are taken care of financially though, because some of them develop very expensive tastes. My sister Pearl has a dog who wouldn't dream of biting her husband in the ankle because the shinbone is such a common cut of meat. The pooch climbs up onto a chair so it can mite him in the fillet.

Greek Raid

The effect of Gromyko's fiery proposals of course must be to delay the Security Council in making a decision regarding the investigating commission's report. Any delay of this sort obviously would be of advantage to the Red elements which have been aiming at the establishment of a Soviet in Greece. It would permit continuance of such tactics as have been employed by Red elements along the frontiers of Greece's Northern neighbors.
The discovery of the plot in Athens presumably has put a dent in the Communist program, but it isn't likely to halt the Red drive. Because of Greece's strategic politico-military position she has been marked down for communication—and the only thing which can block it is outside intervention. Greece isn't yet capable of defending herself.

Services Friday for Sterling P. Williams

Funeral services will be held Friday at 3 o'clock in the Dunekel-Carmichael Chapel with Rev. Beauford A. Norris, pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating for Sterling P. Williams who died Monday in Bellflower, Calif. The body will arrive in Pampa at 8:05 p.m. tonight.
Pallbearers will be O. A. Davis, F. A. Cary, W. C. Krieger, J. N. Dean, Jack Keathey, and E. L. Homes. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery, beside his wife, under the direction of Dunekel-Carmichael.

young look for over-thirty skin with estrogenic hormone cream by helena rubinstein

Over thirty? This is the cream that Helena Rubinstein blends specifically, and superbly, for you. It contains an active, natural hormone ingredient which the skin absorbs. It's the equivalent of a substance rich in young skins, but decreasing with the years. Use it faithfully, each night for a month. You'll be more than ready for your second jar when you see the rewarding, younger look you've achieved!

Truman Accepts Story on Files

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Hickenlooper's (R-Iowa) statement yesterday on the removal and recovery of atomic energy files was described by President Truman today as a clear explanation of what happened.
The subject came up at a news conference when a reported asked Mr. Truman if any other papers were missing besides those which were taken from a New Mexico project by two Army Sergeants.
The President replied the Senator Hickenlooper had clearly explained the situation to the Senate yesterday.
In the House, Rep. Rankin (D-Miss) voiced a demand that Congress be given the names and backgrounds of the two Army Sergeants involved.
"It is simply silly," to say the men took the files as souvenirs, Rankin told the House. "Why didn't Benedict Arnold and his crowd think of that?"
Describing the former service men as "souvenir hunters," the Iowa Senator said yesterday that the FBI was satisfied that the files had not been seen by any outside person since their disappearance and that there was "no effective breach of security."
The FBI said the ex-Sergeants—whose names were withheld—are not in custody and no charges have been placed against them.

Tax Bill

legislation made the effective date last July 1. The new bill makes effective date six months later.
Mr. Truman first disclosed his decision on the tax bill which would become effective Jan. 1, to Senator Barkley the Senate Democratic leader.
Barkley, telling reporters then of the decision, was asked what his attitude will be when the bill comes up on the Senate floor.
"I'm opposed to it," he said, adding he would fight it on the floor. Then he said Mr. Truman is opposed to it and will "veto it."
Asked if a second vote could be sustained in the Senate, Barkley said "I hope so."
The measure was approved, 10-3 by the Senate Finance Committee yesterday with Barkley, and Senators Lucas (D-Ill) and Connally (D-Tex) opposing it.
Barkley spent half an hour with Mr. Truman before making his announcement.
The bill comes up in the Senate floor for consideration today.

Economics

due to inflation fees and assessments as well as a "clear violation of the act."
"In my opinion," the lawmaker declared, "this agreement clearly reflects collusion between the mine operators and the UMW with the intention of violating the law."
Harley said the operators who signed could be charged under the act and, if convicted, would face a $10,000 fine and one year in prison.
He added that no action could be taken against Lewis, because the law forbids payment of money, except for withheld dues, to "representatives of employees" but says nothing about the employees' representatives' accepting it.
Senator Taft (R-Ohio) had no comment on Harley's contention.
And while there was no official administration reaction to Harley's speech, it appeared highly unlikely that the government would risk a fresh coal strike by trying to break the contract through legal action.

Man Treated for Rattlesnake Bite

Raymond Dalton, employe of the Warren Oil Company, returned to his home in McLean yesterday after receiving treatment in the Worley Hospital for a rattlesnake bite he received when reaching down for a length of pipe on a job recently. The snake struck the little finger of his right hand.

Injuries Suit

he signed a statement for J. D. Wright on March 8, 1947, as a witness to the accident. Dougie asked him why he said two feet in his signed statement and in open court said 3 or 4 feet. Commander said that he was not sure and could not swear the exact number of footage there was between the truck and derrick but that it was in the neighborhood of two or three feet.
Opening their case, E. A. Simpson, chief defense counsel, called J. D. Wright to the stand and asked him if Taylor had made a statement to him in the hospital. Wright told the jury that Taylor said, "It looks like it was a foolish thing for me to do to walk between the truck and that mast leg."
As the trial went into its third day of hearing this morning both Wayne Mullenax and Odell Henry were called to the stand by the defense to testify on what they saw and heard at the time of the accident. Mullenax told the Court he was driving the one truck that supported one leg of the derrick and was directly across from the truck of W. H. Wilson, carrying the other leg. He told the Court that he heard an order from one of the men to "go ahead" after his winch line had been unhooked from the truck. He testified that he saw Taylor unhook the winch line of the other truck before it pulled out. He added in testimony that the snub chains used to keep the derricks from swaying on the truck are usually snubbed up to about two feet.
Other witnesses by the defense are expected to be put on the stand this afternoon before the defense rests.

Miners

The miners went back with a 44% cent hourly increase in pay, hiking the daily rate from $11.85 for a nine-hour day to $13.95 for eight hours. The contract covers the employment of miners only during the time as "such persons are able and willing to work."
The new contract promises at least a year of peace in the usually turbulent coal fields, scene of four walkouts in the past eight months. Two of the stoppages were on a national level.

New Automobile to Be Built in Texas
DETROIT—(AP)—John T. Tjaarda, Detroit industrial design engineer, today revealed plans for a new, light-weight, low-priced automobile.
Tjaarda said the car, a six-cylinder model incorporating "controlled combustion" would be built in a defense plant to be acquired in Grand Prairie, Tex.
The new firm to be known as North American Motors Inc. will begin construction of the car in the first quarter of 1948, he said.
Tjaarda described the car as Detroit engineered, with a 100-inch wheelbase, powered by a Continental engine and designed to sell for $1,095.
California with almost 2 1/2 million automobiles, had the most cars on the road during 1946. New York was second with almost 2 million.

Writer Goes to Bot For Film Business
HOLLYWOOD.—Hollywood has been accused of having no new ideas. It isn't so. Hollywood has lots of new ideas, lots of talent, lots of creative thinking and creative inspiration.
So today I come to the defense of that side of Hollywood's film business—the production department.
Let's take an idea and follow it through the fundamental steps up to where production starts.
One of our many talented writers gets an idea for a story. He even pictures certain stars playing the roles. But the main reason the idea sticks in his mind is that it's a new approach.
It isn't the old beaten and tired routine of the boy kicking the girl in the shins by accident at a football game, then falling in love with her. Then the bad papa says no because the lad doesn't read the right newspaper. Finally the boy saves papa's soul soon by correcting his slice and the two lovebirds head for the church and Niagara Falls.

JUST CHECK BACK
If you think that sounds silly, check back and you'll find it is the plot of many movies you have seen. But our writer has a new idea—something different. So he takes it to the story editor at the studio.
The story editor has a soul. He likes the idea. He takes it to a producer. The producer likes it. Then it goes through the hopper around the studio until the master minds decide they'd like to do the picture.
It's the next step that throws the monkey wrench into the machinery. They have to have money. It takes money to make movies. Money comes from banks and banks are run by bankers whose continued heartbeats depend on profits from their investments.
These bankers know very little about making pictures. They seldom know a story sense. But they do know that the same old thing has been making the same old profits. When the studios walk in with their big brains, the banker throws his hands in the air, starts reading balance sheets upside down and backwards and says "No!"

WANTS SAME OLD THING
He keeps on saying no as long as they talk in terms of something different. He wants the same old thing with the same old profits.
You can't encourage the development of new ideas when the man with the money won't allow you to make the adaptation into a reality. Bankers won't take chances.
They say, "If we can make a million dollars with a movie showing Van Johnson eating breakfast, then make a picture with Van Johnson eating breakfast. What do you want to go artistic for?"
There it is. Once in a while you may find a touch of something new and different on the screen. But for the most part you're going to get just what the bankers know will reap a profit at the box-office.
Paulette Goddard and Burgess

Meredith will do "Wintered" on the stage of the Gayety Theater in Dublin opening August 4. It will be their first appearance together on the stage anywhere.
Neighbor Acts to Protect Girl's Life
McAllen—(AP)—A seven-year-old girl, bitten by a rabid dog, today had a neighbor to thank for her thoughtfulness.
When Maria Fonseca was bitten July 3 by a four-month-old pup, the dog's owner killed it and placed it in some brush at a distance from the house.
But Mrs. Juan Martinez, the neighbor, wanted to take no chances. She notified police, who sent the dog's head to Austin.

The test showed the dog was infected with rabies.
The child's parents were advised and preventative treatment was started immediately.
Improved insecticides may lead to production of even greater potato crops.

Backache, Leg Pains May Be Danger Sign Of Tired Kidneys
If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.
The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.
If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 60 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
AP Staff Writer

Some people think that Nome, Texas was named for Nome, Alaska, but T. T. Hunt, managing editor of the Beaumont Enterprise, says no. Nome is located a little west of Beaumont. And, says Mr. Hunt, womenfolk looking out the window of the train at the little settlement on the fringe of Jefferson County were won't to ask the conductor: "Is this Beaumont?"

The invariable answer was "No'm", so the place was finally named Nome. That's what the man says.

And other Texas towns were named for reasons just as strange and unusual. Mrs. Teresa A. Kornegay of Orange, mother of 14, takes time out to give us several very good name sources:

Take Milano. She says a couple was looking for a location for a home, and the man decided to settle at what is now Milano. He asked his wife, "Is this okay?" Her answer named the place: "My Lan, No!" Mrs. Kornegay also tells how Necessity got its tag. The people there wanted a postoffice. But every time they sent in a name, they were told that there was another Texas town by that name already. Finally, the womenfolk looking out the window of the train at the little settlement on the fringe of Jefferson County were won't to ask the conductor: "Is this Beaumont?"

Big Foot, Texas, she says, was named for Bigfoot Wallace, the Indian fighter who got his nickname because of his large feet. Mrs. Kornegay was born about five miles from there, and ought to know. She also mentions Bug Town and Hog Town, but doesn't explain their origins.

In fact, she asks a couple of questions: Why is Center in East Texas? and are Eastland, West and Southland in the right places?

W. G. Thornhill, Jr., of Newgulf explains the origin of Matagora. He says when early Spaniards first came upon the place, it was alive with fat cattle. They exclaimed "Gorda, Gorda!" and proceeded to slaughter them.

When the town was named, they called it Matagorda, mata, as you know, means kill, Gorda means fat.

Radars to Be Used To Check Speeding

NEW YORK—A device utilizing war-developed radar and said to be capable of clocking automobile speeds on highways is being tried out on Connecticut drivers, reports Engineering News-Record.

"Developed by the Automatic Signal Division of Eastern Industries of Eastern Industries and tested by the Connecticut State Highway Department, the device consists of a box-like transmitter which sends out a constant microwave. A moving car reflects the wave, causing a shift in the wavelength proportional to the speed of the vehicle. The direct signal from the transmitter and the reflected signal are compared by a meter, and the difference transmitted into miles per hour.

"Initial use of the device will be for traffic and highway checks. But state police expect to use it later as a check on speeding motorists."

Texas League All-Stars Lick Buffs in Annual Classic, 4-2

HOUSTON—(AP)—The Texas League's new formula for staging its annual All-Star classic apparently produces results.

Some 11,833 fans jammed Buffalo Stadium here last night to see a sportswriter selected All-Star nine defeat Houston's League leaders, 4-2, in a fast-moving game that will rival any of the six previous All-Star tilts for thrills.

League officials had stamped the game as a "test case," the success of which would determine if the game is to be held in the future.

J. Alvin Gardner, league president, and the heads of the circuit's eight clubs did not take a vote after the game but if they were not convinced by last night's "Guinea Pig," then every one of those 11,833 fans (plus a handful who entered the gates on passes) undoubtedly will be disappointed.

The new policy simply is to have one All-Star team instead of two, as previously selected from Northern and Southern divisions of the league, and have this single club meet the team holding first place in league standings after completion of the regular schedule through July 4.

It was hoped playing the game at the home of the league leader would increase interest in the tilt.

Last night's crowd far surpassed the previous All-Star attendance record of 9,050, set in Dallas in the Centennial year of 1936.

Nick Gregory of Shreveport, the league's home run king, and Al Rosen of Oklahoma City, the leading slugger, clinched the game for the All-Stars in the first inning with zooming home runs over the left field wall. Gregory's smash catching Robert Prichard, also of Shreveport, on the base for the third run of the inning.

The victim of the mighty clouts was Clarence Beers, Buffalo right-hander who with a record of 15 wins and 5 losses is the circuit's ranking moundman.

The scrapping Buffs, however, all but tied the score at 3-all in the third inning when Eddie Knoblauch, left fielder, tried to make an in-the-park home run out of a centerfield triple only to be thrown out in a close play at the plate.

Knoblauch's blow did bring in little Billy Costa, shortstop, who had started the rally with a left field single after two outs.

The All-Star's final tally came in the eighth when Dallas' Eddie Borom, with an automatic double on a ball hit into the crowd that overflowed into right field, scored on a single by Fort Worth's Dave Pluss.

Salty Parker, Shreveport manager and head man for the All-Stars, and Manager Johnny Keane of Houston each used four moundsmen who gave up a total of seven hits to close club.

Top Texas Circuit Teams Meet Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

Texas League clubs resume the battle for the pennant tonight after taking time out to lick the leading Houston Buffs 4-2 in the annual All-Star game.

The Buffs boast a three and one-half game margin over second-place Fort Worth as they entertain the Cats at Houston. Oklahoma City will be at Shreveport and Tulsa at Beaumont in other games. Dallas and San Antonio have an off-night. They played a double-header earlier in the season and got ahead of themselves.

After tonight the clubs change stands for three-game series with Dallas at Houston. Fort Worth at Beaumont and Tulsa at Shreveport. The league race rolls down the second half with Houston, Fort Worth, Shreveport and Dallas in the first division.

Tigers and Red Sox Are Out to 'Stop the Yankees' This Tour

(By The Associated Press)

The old, familiar cry of "stop the Yankees" rang through the American League again today.

It's been four years since the alarm signals have been sounded in the junior circuit over an on-surgency Yankee menace although it's a different sort of a crew that Bucky Harris brought into St. Louis for the opening of the New Yorkers' third invasion of the West this year.

Miller Huggins and Joe McCarthy's outfits were the long hitting, big inning type, while Harris in his first year at the helm of the Bronx Bombers, had to play pretty close to the vest.

If the Yanks are going to be stopped this year—the Western clubs, in particular Detroit, will have to unload both barrels now. Joe Cronin, whose Boston Red Sox spread-eagled the field last year, admitted as much at the All-Star game in Chicago.

The Yanks are eight games in front of both Detroit and the Red Sox and those two are the only two clubs that are conceded much of a chance to derail the Bronx express. Connie Mack's amazing A's are 10½ games astern with Cleveland another half back but neither figures to bother the Yankees.

So far this year the Bombers have compiled a terrific 28-9 record at the Yankee Stadium and a 19-17 road mark. It's this comparative weakness away from home that has built up thin hopes in the breasts of the Tigers and Red Sox although not many other clubs can boast better road records.

The advantage lies with the Yanks since they will be at home for the last few weeks of the season and even the barest kind of a lead might be enough to carry them in.

While the Yanks will take on the Browns in an arc-lighter tonight the Red Sox and Tigers will fight it out in a twilight tilt at Detroit. Connie Mack's A's face the Indians at Cleveland in a two-night double-header in which Bobby Feller will test out his ailing knee and back. The American League program is rounded out by a Washington at Chicago twin bill.

The sizzling National League race picks up in the East with the aroused St. Louis Cardinals, now in fourth place, challenging the third place New York Giants in a night affair which opens a five-games-in-three-days series; the fifth place Cubs will tackle the pace-setting Dodgers in a doubleheader at Brooklyn and the sixth place Reds, only six games off the pace, tangle with the runner-up Braves in double-play, day and night contests at Boston. Pittsburgh's hapless Pirates and the fading Philadelphia Phils continue the battle of the cellar in a bargain bill at Quakertown.

Lufkin and Longview Tied in Lone Star

The fight for first place in the Lone Star League isn't anything except tight.

Lufkin and Longview continued tied for the top today.

Last night Lufkin beat Marshall 8-6 by scoring seven runs on five hits and four walks in the second inning while Longview licked hapless Bryan 12-5 with Martin rushing winning his twelfth pitching victory of the season.

Kilgore blasted 17 hits to beat Jacksonville 12-7 while Henderson cracked a dozen blows in downing Tyler 7-5.

Tight Battle for First Developing

(By The Associated Press)

Texarkana's Bears pulled up on the Greenville Majors today in a tight battle for the first place in the Big State League.

The Bears trimmed Sherman-Denison 10-7 last night while Greenville was losing to Paris 12-9 to narrow the space between the two clubs to one and one-half games.

Wichita Falls stayed right on Texarkana's heels by downing Austin 6-0 while Gainesville edged out Waco 8-7.

Hal Simpson snapped Texarkana's losing streak by belting two homers and a double to drive in six runs as Valle Exaxes hung up his fifteenth pitching victory.

Paris pounded eight hits for seven runs in the second inning to whiplash Greenville. The Majors fought back gallantly for four tallies in the eighth.

Tommy Finger gave up only seven hits as he hurled Wichita Falls to its win over Austin—the seventh straight victory for the Spudders.

Monty Stratton lost his first game for Waco as Gainesville blasted him for 14 hits. The Owls got two runs in the ninth for the decision.

The clubs play the same tonight with Austin at Wichita Falls, Gainesville at Waco, Greenville at Paris and Sherman-Denison at Texarkana.

26-Inning Ball Game With 93 Strikeouts Makes Quite a Tilt

LAKE JACKSON—(AP)—Twenty-six innings is a long ball game but to find 93 strikeouts recorded in the extra inning affair is even more unusual.

Such was the case here Saturday night when Lake Jackson defeated Harlingen, 1-0, in one of the most sensational softball games in history.

It was a spectacular mound battle between Lake Jackson's Gene Faul and Harlingen's Jack Neel.

Faul allowed only five hits and fanned 49. Neel allowed seven hits and fanned 44.

Faul drove in the only run of the game.

Pampa Oilers Win First Game of Double Header 3-4; Drop Second

The Amarillo Gold Sox were knocked out of first place, momentarily, last night when the Pampa Oilers took the first of two seven-inning games, 3 to 4, at Otter Park. The Gold Sox came back in the second game behind the three hit pitching of Amarillo's mound ace, Lefty Bill Lonergan, to beat the Oilers, 4 to 2. This put the Sox in a tie for first place with the Lubbock Hubbers, whose game with Albuquerque was rained out.

In the first game the Oilers scored in each inning, except the sixth. They scored in the first on singles by O'Connell and Al Johnston. O'Connell scored on a fielder's choice hit by Ray Bauer. In the second inning the Oilers got one when Okrie overthrew first to put out Selby. Selby going to second on the play. George Payte, Oiler pitcher, singled scoring Selby. Kunt walked and Ray Bauer circled out scored two for the home team in the third. In the fourth inning, Jack Selby, Oiler centerfielder, led off with a double. Payte flew out to left. O'Connell got to first on Okrie's error. Selby going to third. Kunt walked, and Selby scored on Al Johnston's fly to left field. Doubles by Summers and Payte, a single by Selby, and one Amarillo error scored three for the Oilers in the fifth.

Lloyd Summers, Jack Selby led the Pampa hitting attack. Summers made three hits for three times at bat, a double and two singles. Selby had two for two, a double and a single. Three of the Amarillo runs came in the second inning, when Vince Liberto, Sox capable third baseman, hit a home run with two men on. Their final run came in the fourth, when Duarte singled. Bauman walked and O'Connell pulled Kunt off the bag to force Bauman at second. Crues going to first. Duarte scored on the play.

Liberto accounted for two of Amarillo's runs in the second game with two circuit clouts both with the bases unoccupied. In the first of the second and one in the fifth. The other two Sox runs came in the fifth, after two men were out, when Carithers walked. Okrie doubled scoring Elias. Okrie and Duarte singled scoring Okrie. In the fourth and a third innings of play the Oilers did not get a hit off Lonergan, who in beating the Oilers chalked up his 14th win of the season. Selby, Oiler centerfielder, pulled one over the left field fence for the first hit off Lonergan. The Pampa run in the second inning, which was unearned, came after Al Johnston walked, and Bob Crues, who seemed to lose in the lights Selby's fly into right, dropped the ball. Liberto missed Crues' throw to catch Johnston at third, and Johnston scored.

Skelly-Shaffer Nine Edges Phillips 2-1

The Skelly-Shaffer team edged the Phillips nine last night 2-1 when they met on the Skellytown field. All the scoring was done in the sixth inning with Skelly accounting for two in the first half and a homer by Tilley for Phillips in the last. Battery for Skelly was Weatherall and Garrett; for Phillips, Cooper and Robison. Weatherall allowed three hits; Cooper gave four.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLETON, JR.

NEW YORK (AP)—The sport of baseball lost one of its greatest friends when Judge W. C. Brannham died Tuesday, and so did a lot of people who write about the game. It wasn't easy to get close to the stern jurist who ruled the Minor Leagues for many years, but once he granted you his confidence, he gave it in full. The judge could and would tell you the "inside" of many of baseball's odder doings, point out where criticism or praise were called for and forecast happenings that sometimes were years away.

SPEECH, SPEECH
Brannham probably will be remembered the longest for the famous "battle of proxies" in 1943, when baseball's chain operators tried to unseat him. No one who was there ever will forget the closing speech. The judge, an old, tired man who had led an uncompromising struggle for what he thought was right, stood up before his opponents, his eyes flashing and his words crackling like whiplashes as he told them: "Instead of going around and trying to create discord, instead of trying to undermine men who are trying to deal with those things that are essential to the protection of this game and to maintain the respect and confidence of the American people, you better get out of your huddles in blind alleys and dark rooms and stop trying to do those things that are a reflection upon you personally and upon the game. Those words should be posted in every baseball office as a reminder."

CAUGHT AT HOME
When Warren Spahn, the Braves' Southpaw finger, was a high school kid with big-league aspirations, his four sisters, Marjorie, June, Gertrude and Eleanor, frequently were drafted as catchers while he drilled to learn control.

END OF THE LINE
Rocky Graziano, now one of Brooklyn's leading citizens, is a Giant fan because, he says "they once let me in for nuttin'." Commenting on the charges and denials that Kyle Rote was "subjected to pressure" in deciding to switch from Vanderbilt to Southern Methodist U., a Texas scribe snickered in print: "SMU offered him everything except the Adolphus Hotel."

Don't label anyone as a Communist unless you have the facts. Don't confuse liberals and progressives with Communists.

CLEANLINESS PAYS

The work of city and county officials in the interest of curbing polio, through "drying up" its main sources of sustenance (filth), is gratifying.

It was reported in yesterday's issue of The News that the city's alleys and city dump ground had been sprayed with 3,000 gallons of DDT. This solution, it was explained, is to kill flies, fleas, and mosquitoes, believed to be carriers of polio.

But the city health officer points out that many places of filth cannot be reached by the city. They are chicken and hog pens, cow lots and horse stables. It takes more than a little effort to keep such places clean, and most people fail to do so.

It is understood that an ordinance may be submitted making it illegal to keep within the city limits chicken, hogs, and livestock, with certain provisions. Livestock would be allowed under the measure, only if there was an acre of land for each head. McLean and other smaller communities, as well as those larger than Pampa, already have such laws, it is reported.

It seems that, inasmuch as such places are usually sights of uncleanliness, something should be done.

Certainly we can be proud of the polio record so far this year. On this date last year polio had already taken one life in Pampa, and during this month last year the second child died from the dread disease. There were three cases in Pampa last year, two of them fatal. There were seven reported in the county by Aug. 22, last year.

The county and city, as we have said, have taken several steps since that time to see that places of filth were eliminated. For all we know, those "steps" may have saved lives, and probably did.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON BY RAY TUCKER

LOANS—House Republicans are beginning to worry over the eventual, popular reaction to all the aid-Europe measures which they have supported at the request of President Truman, Secretary Marshall and Senator Vandenberg, the G. O. P.'s acknowledged and accepted expert on foreign affairs. The spirit of economic and political isolationism dies hard on Capitol Hill.

What they fear most is that the people back home will feel that they have been neglected in the bipartisan movement to aid the other nations of the world.

One reason for President Truman's veto of the tax reduction measure, for instance, was the fact that prospective loans to European countries would make such heavy demands on the Treasury that a reduction of revenue income would be out of the question.

EFFECT—Although Mr. Truman did not list one of his objections to the Hartley-Taft measure, he had in mind the fact that enactment of such a bill at this time might have an unfavorable effect on labor and liberal groups across the water. Some of his advisers in pre-veto discussions of the measure, pointed out that presidential approval might be regarded as evidence that the United States, as the Russians charge, had become "reactionary" and "imperialistic."

In disapproving the bill for increasing the duty on wool, Mr. Truman frankly admitted that international considerations governed his action. He said that increasing the tariff at this particular moment would torpedo the world trade conference at Geneva.

"Jimmy Christmas" exploded a key majority leader as that veto message was read to the House. "Can't we pass a bill in the American Congress without first thinking of its effect on foreign nations?"

STYMIED—It was while the Republicans were in this querulous mood that more than 1,000 delegates to Wisconsin Republicans' state convention cast their unofficial ballots for the 1948 presidential choice, with Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York leading ex-Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota by a narrow margin. The Madison outcome had an immediate and positive effect on Capitol Hill.

Although the Senate had approved the bill for U. S. participation in the International Refugee Organization, it had been stymied on the House side. The Foreign Affairs Committee had reported it out, but the Republican Steering Committee, which consists of the top-notch leaders, had not given it the green light.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON, NEA Staff Correspondent (Johnson KPDN Monday through Friday, 2 p. m.)

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)— Exclusively yours: Hollywood has gone crazy over a new parlor game introduced by singer Martha Tilton. You try to guess an actor's performance by double sounds: Easy guesses:

Glug-glug—Ray Milland in "The Lost Weekend."
Chink-clank—Ingrid Bergman in "Joan of Lorraine."
Zip-zip—Linda Darnell in "Forever Amber."

Joan Crawford is burning over a national magazine story. She's claiming 33 factual errors, including the statement that "she's over 40." Joan says she was 39 last March.

Sam Goldwyn and Oscar winner Olivia de Havilland are huddling on a new movie. Columbia studio is paying Bob Crosby for three films. Rex Harrison and his wife, Lilli Palmer, sail for London Aug. 16. Harrison will star in a British movie, "Escape."

Before leaving for South America, Bob Hope suggested that Paramount might sign Ginger Rogers to play Calamity Jane opposite him in his western, "The Paleface." But Bob found out that Ginger was much too expensive. She wanted $300,000 in cash and 25 per cent of the picture's gross up to a certain figure. That left Bob with a pale face.

HORRORS! ! ! Merian C. Cooper, who filmed "King Kong," has formed a new film company to produce a series of similar horror features. The first will be about a white hunter in Africa.

Add minor mysteries: Last year Annie Baxter had to sign a long-term contract at 20th Century-Fox to get the role of Sophie in "The Razor's Edge." The part went to her. She hasn't worked in a Fox picture since.

Director Mitch Leisen's new deal at Paramount makes him one of the five highest paid directors in Hollywood.

Prediction: The next novelty record hit will be Carmen Miranda's singing of "Don't Talk to Me Expensively. Talk to Me Cheap."

UNWELCOME GUESTS? Two months ago I told you about plans for a national convention of movie fan club presidents in Hollywood in June. Then I had to report, with embarrassment, that the studios decided not to co-operate with the fan clubbers.

That there would be no red carpet, no studio visits, no nothing. But the fan clubbers went ahead with their plans. One hundred and fifty of them are meeting in Hollywood, Hollywood is doing nothing to entertain them. I guess as far as Hollywood is concerned, fan club members are just people who buy tickets.

STORY WITH A MORAL

One time there was a young man, the younger son of a well-to-do farmer. Times were good, prices were high. It was a period of prosperity for everybody. Apparently, spending had got to be a habit with most of the folks in that community. At any rate, this son saw that others were having a good time spending money. Since everybody's doing it, he thought, why shouldn't I enjoy myself?

So this fine young man who had all the opportunities one could wish for, and a brilliant future in sight, kept after his father until one day "the old man settled him off" with a good amount of money. This country boy then went to town, and set out to have himself a better time than he had ever had before. He spent more money than he had ever spent before. Friends were numerous. Playboy super-luxury, this young man had swarms of lady friends. But they required money.

HE ACHIEVED WISDOM Now, you are wondering, if you have read this far, whether this misquoting and misperception is ever quit spending. He did. He quit spending when a depression set in, for that was the time when he found himself unable to obtain any more money. At this point, our broken-down playboy began to think. Wisdom was forced upon him and he learned the hard way. He found he couldn't even buy a sandwich, and panhandling was out of the question. Rather than starve, he took a farm job feeding pigs.

If this lad had done what some of our so-called statesmen advocate, he would have continued to borrow and spend. But having thought of his situation, he went to work, even though his hunger was scarcely outdone by that of the pigs he was sent to feed. He had spent all, and he was in want. You may remember that in this story in Luke 16, it is the story of the Prodigal Son who finally came to his senses.

NO MONEY BILL. Must we as a nation spend all that we have before we come to our senses, here is the Prodigal Son? With signs of depression appearing, we continue to spend and spend, apparently from habit. Doing little or nothing about our monstrous national debt of $280,000,000,000 we continue to look around trying to find things for which to appropriate money. We have come to count off our years as "spending" years, in terms of the next budget and appropriations bills.

It is easy to justify any and every expenditure. Constituents in each and every community represented by Senator Blouke and Congressman Doak can spout a whole book of reasons why this or that pet project must go through. Folks are inclined to think that the money for the whole thing is a gift, just because they don't soon lead to dire results. But the founding fathers did not leave at Washington a mill which flows out perpetual dollars.

DAY OF RECKONING Maybe it's not a nice thought, but you can't keep on spending money without knowing where it's coming from. This was a fact of the Prodigal Son discovered. Neither can you safely manufacture currency to carry through your spending projects. Either course will soon lead to dire results. A day of reckoning will come to a country that spends all it has, just as it did to the Prodigal Son. Let us have more wisdom than the Prodigal who for hard times struck him.

Our spending as opposed to saving, has created a situation that calls for the best brand of intelligent citizenship. It is already time to go to work. We must also impress upon our legislators that if they are to be statesmen, not mere politicians, they must conserve the wealth of the country rather than lavishly spend it without being penny wise and pound foolish, we ought to adopt fiscal policies that will cut down our growing debt. There's no prospect of doing this unless we do it while times are good.

Birth Rate Hikes School Population
NEW YORK, N. Y.—As a result of our rocketing birth rate during the war and postwar years, more than 5,000,000 children will be added to the elementary school population of the United States during the next decade, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

When schools open this fall, there will be about 2,500,000 six-year-olds eligible for admittance to elementary school and the number will increase each year until it reaches nearly 3,300,000 in 1953. The statisticians calculate that the total elementary school-age population will increase from its present 18,200,000 to more than 23,400,000 in 1956.

Writer Finds Association Very Unique

By LEON HALE
 Assistant Extension Editor

The other day I found out some things about an organization I thought was unique in several ways. I'd like to tell you about it.

The organization is the Texas Swine Breeders' Association, which was formed in 1889 and is still going strong. Stronger than ever, in fact. Officers and members of four standing committees at the campus of Texas A. & M. last week to map out plans for the next 12 months. E. M. Regenbrecht, secretary of the association, was kind enough to invite me to come to the luncheon sponsored by the group.

I've noted with sorrow that organizations formed to push one product or another sometimes seem to fail to be sold on that product. I mean, I went to a banquet of grapefruit growers one time at which prune juice was served.

I ate fish at a cattleman's association dinner and drankiced tea at a dairyman's luncheon. Eggs and growers served mashed potatoes and a Texas vegetable marketing association came up with New Jersey canned english peas.

But at the swine breeders' luncheon we had ham.

Then, as Dr. J. C. Miller, head of A. & M.'s animal husbandry department, pointed out, the organization is unique in another way.

It is unique in that the membership is made up of breeders of registered swine of all kinds—big and little packers, representatives of chain stores, stockyards, market brokers and feed manufacturers. Almost all of the members, in one way or another, are competitors, and yet they have united in a common objective for the common good.

There are "breed" associations for every breed of horse, dairy cow, swine, beef animal, dog and—I guess—in the United States. The purpose of these breed associations is to register the animals, to see that animals named for registration conform to the standards of the breed, and to improve the breed. Also the associations do a lot of promotion work. The "Standard" Dairy Cattle Association, for instance, wants more and more "Standard" cattle on American farms.

That's why it was so interesting to watch the swine breeders get together, forget the different breeds of swine they were raising and trying to sell, and work together for an improvement in the swine industry as a whole.

The purpose of the organization, as stated in the bylaws adopted in 1889, is to "educate the masses in the production of hogs." The members believe that Texas ought to be producing around 4 million fat hogs a year instead of the present 2 million.

Of course, if that happened, the breeders would sell more foundation stock, the feed manufacturers more feed, the packers handle more pork and the consumers would have more ham and bacon; but the members know that hog numbers in Texas will be increased only if Texas farmers can make more money raising hogs than something else, so they are interested in everything that will improve efficiency of production, lower costs and increase profits.

Down through the years the association has had a considerable effect on Texas agriculture. Texas would benefit if there were more like it.

But Lucian T. Jones of San Antonio, president of the organization, told me that as far as he knew it was the only one of its kind in the nation.

The next USDA Bureau of Agricultural Economics crop forecast is eagerly awaited. It will go a long way to clean up the uncertain corn picture.

Unofficial reports had it that the nation's corn crop would be way off, and corn prices soared. Then the USDA came out with some reassuring statements. Cold weather and too much rain in the Corn Belt delayed planting, but tractors would run night and day when the weather permits and the best of the acreage could be planted in a few days, as was done in 1943.

People are saying that if the corn crop falls much below 3 billion bushels, then grain supplies will be short and prices high for the next year; the grain-livestock ratio will be upset again.

Most common "guess" at the size of the 1947 corn crop is between 2.5 and 2.8 billion bushels, 20 percent below last year's, up on the Texas Plains and in the Panhandle, farmers are planting as much grain scurghum as possible to cash in on the expected corn shortage.

On the record of the past 10 years the BAE crop report will be pretty close to the mark. In three years the July average report has been within one percent of the December figures; the July production report is usually a little low.

Crows usually do not fly in a straight line.

'Significant Number' City Airports Now Beginning to Pay

NEW YORK—A significant number of city-owned airports—traditionally red ink—are beginning to pay their own way, reports Business Week.

"The International City Managers' Association sees this rosy picture with one eye," according to the publication, "but with the other eye it discovers that operating costs of 155 of the major-owned airports (excluding New York's) show a deficit of $1,055,000.

"Among the higher profit-making localities: Los Angeles, St. Louis, Dallas, Fort Worth, and Oakland. Among those using red ink to enter airport operations: Baltimore, Buffalo, Detroit, Philadelphia and San Francisco.

Let no-business man be naive enough to believe... that restrictive legislation will be any more effective in bringing about industrial harmony than the Volstead Act was in discouraging drinking. —Cyrus Eaton, Cleveland industrialist.

Golden Tide Is Rolling In GREAT BEND, Kas. —(AP)—The golden tide is rolling in from Kansas' big wheat harvest.

Grain belt reports indicate farmers are capitalizing on a combination of good weather after a long rainy spell, improvement in the supply of combines, and just plain getting-the-job-done determination to bring in the greatest crop in the state's history.

In many counties yields were exceeding early expectations—bolstering predictions of some observers that the crop will top the government's latest estimate of 278,000,000 bushels.

But it is all wasn't easy going. Just as in the war years, the wheat farmer was handicapped by shortages—lacking box cars, for one thing. With not enough cars available to move the grain, country elevators in some sections were glutted and wheat was being piled on the ground.

To help ease the tight box car situation, a plan to speed up handling of box cars in the Kansas City market during the heavy wheat movement has been worked out.

While the demand for combines remained high, machines moving into Kansas from the Oklahoma and Texas harvests and from Colorado have brightened what only a few days ago was a dark outlook for farmers faced with the prospect of no machinery on hand to get their crops in.

W. O. Stark, assistant state farm labor supervisor, estimated that 500 combines now are entering the state daily.

Farm Income Is Up 25 Percent

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The Agriculture Department has reported that farm income, including government payments, was about 25 percent higher during the first half of this year than in the first six months of 1946.

Total cash receipts were estimated at nearly $12,900,000,000 compared with $9,600,000,000 in the same period of last year.

The greater part of the increase reflected higher prices. Most farm products were under price ceilings a year ago.

Receipts from livestock and livestock products were about $7,900,000,000, up nearly 40 percent over the same period of 1946. The largest—40 percent—came from meat animals, because of much higher prices and some increase in marketings.

Looking to the last half of the year, the department said prices received by farmers are expected to decline seasonally as marketings from 1947 crops influence markets. Feed grains, however, are expected to remain high, due to prospects of a smaller corn crop.

Surplus Buildings on Sale at Dalhart Field

Spot bid tactics in the disposal of surplus real property will be adopted by War Assets Administration for the first time in Texas in selling 100 buildings at the Dalhart Army Air Field July 15, officials of the Grand Prairie office announced today.

"Through elimination of the customary sealed bid procedure, we hope to solve some emergency problems for West Texas growers in handling their bumper 1947 wheat harvest," Jack Cowart, chief of the urban and rural branch, non-industrial real property division, who will conduct the sale. "Many of the frame structures will be suitable for bins, storage, poultry and stock barns or for conversion into living quarters," he said.

Informal bids will be accepted at the sale and awards will be announced as fast as high bids can be determined on a non-priority basis. Most of the buildings will be offered individually and bidding will be open to all comers. The property includes a complete cold storage plant, barracks, supply rooms, administrative, recreation, shops, service stations and dog kennels.

The public is invited to make inspection daily through July 14.

Dirigibles Fighting For Comeback Chance

NEW YORK—With Rear Admiral C. E. Rosencaul (ret.) as their spokesman, dirigibles are fighting for another chance at a comeback-reports Business Week.

"Admiral Rosencaul, who talked the Navy into building the huge airships Akron and Macon is joined by a small group of like-minded enthusiasts in trying to raise $70 million to build a fleet of seven 10-million cu. ft. rigid airships, and start an overseas freight-passenger operation.

"He also has asked Truman's committee studying ways to build up the Merchant Marine? Why not a subsidy for airships as well as surface ships?

"He hopes ship lines—denied air routes by airline opposition—will grab for dirigibles.

Circular Building Better Than Square

NEW YORK—In these days of high building costs, companies are seeking out square plots so they can build square buildings, says American Machinist, but circular buildings would be even better.

In a 250,000-sq. ft. working area, if the shape is 250 x 200 ft., 2900 lineal feet of wall construction are required. But make it 500 x 500 ft. and walls total only 2000 ft.—a neat saving of 31% in wall length.

If efficient use could be made of a circular building, wall length would drop to about 1772 ft., or a saving over the original of 39% and over the square building of 8% to achieve the horizontal equivalent of the Quonset hut.

It is not the existence of arms in the hands of people who desire peace that causes wars. It is rather the lack of them.

—James Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy.
