Invitation to European Meet Accepted by 10

PARIS—(AP)—The French foreign ministry announced today that 10 nations formally had accepted the British-French invitation to a July 12 conference on the Marshall aid-to-Europe proposal. The ministry said thus far there had been no refusals.

Indications mounted that at least some of the nations in the Soviet orbit would attend the conference, and one dispatch from Prague quoted Czechoslovak sources as speculating that Russia herself might try to back into the talks she already has rejected.

Polish, Romanian and Finnish diplomats denied reports—one of them from the Soviet News Agency—that their countries had rejected the invitation. Yugoslav, Albanian, Bulgarian and Hungarian spokesmen could not be reached, but reports from all four nations indicated the invitation still was being studied.

A Sofia dispatch quoted an authoritative source as saying "probably Bulgaria will participate" in the conference, which opens in Paris Saturday. The dispatch said the Bulgarian cabinet of ministers was meeting to reach a decision in the matter.

Despite a Moscow radio report that Yugoslavia had rejected the British-French invitation to participate, observers in Belgrade said the Yugoslavs still had not replied, and probably would not do so before Thursday—the deadline for an answer. Dr. Ales Debel, assistant Yugoslav foreign minister, has just returned to Belgrade from Premier Marshal Tito's summer palace at Bled and was reported conferring with sections of the Yugoslav foreign office. Tito's government has shown intense interest in the principles of the Marshall proposal for American-backed European reconstruction.

21,389,000 Acres Being Cultivated For Cotton in U. S.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Agriculture Department reported today that the cotton acreage in cultivation on July 1 totaled 21,389,000 acres, or 17.6 percent more than last year.

This year's acreage compared with 18,190,000 in cultivation a year ago and with 20,700,000 in cultivation on the ten-year July 1 average. The peak was slightly more than 44,000,000 acres in 1929.

The Department's first forecast on production will be issued Aug. 2. But the crop would be about 10-45,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight if the acreage abandoned is equal to the ten-year average of 1.9 percent and if the yield per acre is equal to the ten-year average of about 250 pounds.

The acreage of American-Egyptian cotton in cultivation July 1 was estimated at 1,300 compared with 3,100 last year and with 70,700 for the ten-year average.

The ten-year average acreage abandoned, last year's acreage in cultivation on July 1, and the acreage in cultivation on the same date this year, respectively, by states include:

Mississippi 1.9 percent abandonment, 2,249,000 acres in 1946, and 2,420,000; Arkansas 1.8, 7,729,000 and 2,070,000; Louisiana 1.7, 833,000 and 875,000; Oklahoma 3.7, 1,074,000 and 1,060,000; Texas 2.5, 6,283,000 and 365,000; New Mexico 1.6, 120,000 and 152,000.

Three-County Area Needs More Combines

PLAINVIEW—(AP)—Need for combines in the Texas wheat harvest areas was centered today in a three-county area.

J. B. Kidd, Texas Extension Service, Wheat Harvest and Combine Replacement, said yesterday the demand for combines was now confined to Sherman, Dallam and Hartley Counties.

But these counties, he said, may have sufficient number of combines by tonight to wind up their harvest. That does not mean, he said, the harvest is complete in the Texas Panhandle, but there are enough combines currently in all counties to finish the job in "a very short time."

"Surplus combines are now being sent into the Oklahoma Panhandle, Kansas and Colorado to assist with the wheat harvest," Kidd said.

Texas Production Of Oil Decreases

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—U. S. crude oil production averaged 5,079,190 barrels daily during the week ended July 6, a decrease of 36,476 barrels from the previous week, the Oil and Gas Journal reported today.

Texas production accounted for most of the change, the state's output dropping 37,095 barrels to 2,351,855. Illinois was down 3,900 barrels to 183,100, and Wyoming was off 2,990 to 115,730.

Louisiana was up 4,350 barrels to 625,100, Kansas gained 1,850 to 290,000 and New Mexico production increased 1,210 to 107,210. Mississippi decreased 990 to 95,510.

Sentences of 3 Confirmed By Commander

JERUSALEM—(AP)—Lt. Gen. G. H. A. MacMillan, commander of British forces in the Holy Land, today confirmed the death sentences imposed by a British military court on three young Jews convicted of participating in the Acre Prison delivery.

MacMillan also confirmed life sentences which had been imposed on two other Jews convicted of participating in the delivery last May 4, during which 251 prisoners escaped and 16 persons were killed. All five convicted men were allegedly members of Irgun Zvai Leumi, Jewish underground organization.

Relatives of the condemned men previously had appealed to the United Nations Commission on Palestine to intervene in their behalf. The appeals were relayed to the British by the commission with a resolution expressing anxiety less execution of the death sentences create disturbances in Palestine which might interfere with the commission's work.

Adviced of MacMillan's action, Emil Sandstrom, chairman of the U. N. Commission, declined comment, pointing out that the case still must go before the Palestine high commissioner.

"It is not definite that they'll be hanged," he said.

Irgun Zvai Leumi has threatened "blood for blood" reprisals for the execution of any of its members.

The three Jews under sentence of death are: Yaacob Weiss, 23, laborer; Absalom Habib, 20, clerk; and Meier Naker, 21, shoemaker.

Those sentenced to life imprisonment were Amnon Michaelov and Naham Ziterbaum.

The sentences were imposed on the same day that the 11-man United Nations Commission began its on-the-spot inquiry into the Holy Land problem. The commission resolution expressing concern over possible "unfavorable repercussions" was adopted on June 22, with the Australian member opposing the measure.

'Flying Saucer' Appears in Technicolor After Fried Chicken, Pickles, Malted Milk

JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff

I have seen a flying saucer. It was different from any flying saucer yet reported. Mine was in technicolor, with sound effects. This is a true story. My wife, who still can't look at me without laughing, will swear to it.

We spent the afternoon on the edge of White Rock Lake, near Dallas. I was determined to see one of the flying saucers. I even had a pair of strong binoculars. Beauties in scanty suits, racing sailboats, a leaping couple in a cove not far away and a dainty young man on a pair of water skis—all these I ignored and kept my eyes glued to the skies.

All I saw were a few planes, some gulls, and one craft that might have been but possibly wasn't a fugitive from the Wichita Soaring meet.

Late in the afternoon we had fried chicken, pickles and malted milk. Then we took in a movie in which the main character tried to poison everyone in the show, including the police.

When I finally got to bed I couldn't sleep very well. It was probably due to the pickles, the poison, and the fact that some chiggers were getting very personal about that time.

Just about the time I dozed off a police car screeched under my window, sirens roaring. Now, sirens are a dime a dozen in Dallas and one doesn't pay much attention to them. But this one disturbed me.

I lifted myself on one elbow and glanced out of the window. I want it distinctly understood that I was not seeing a flying saucer.

New Tax-Slashing Bill Clears First Hurdle

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The $4,000,000,000 income tax-slashing bill cleared its first hurdle today as the House approved procedures barring amendment to the measure.

Rep. Sabath (D-Ill.) shouted "gag rule" as the House adopted by voice vote a stipulation that the bill must be voted on without changes.

Republicans backing the measure answered that this is the usual procedure for consideration of complicated tax bills.

Rules Committee Chairman Allen (R-Ill.) told the House it should act quickly. He pointed out that the House approved procedures for the legislation and unless there is prompt action it cannot reach President Truman's desk before the week ends.

"This is necessary to give the President 10 days to consider the bill before Congress adjourns," he said. "This will give Congress time to override another veto."

Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) told reporters the measure "will pass by an avalanche of votes"—by more than a two-thirds majority—necessary to override a possible veto before night-fall.

The bill would reduce taxes January 1 from 10.5 percent to 30 percent for 48,000,000 federal income taxpayers.

It is identical with the one Mr. Truman vetoed June 16 as "the wrong kind of tax reduction at the wrong time"—except that the tax reduction would be effective January 1, 1948, instead of July 1, 1947.

Some Democratic leaders have expressed belief the President also will veto the new tax bill, but there was no indication of his attitude at the White House.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters that Mr. Truman "will make no statement of his attitude prior to action on the legislation."

Chairman Knutson (R-Minn.) of the Finance Committee said today.

Senate Due to Vote Today on Joe B. Dooley

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A six-month-old Texas patronage dispute between Democratic Senators Connally and O'Daniel comes up for decision in the Senate today.

Immediately at issue is whether to confirm the nomination of Joe B. Dooley of Amarillo as a federal judge for the Northern Texas District.

The Senate takes up the matter under a unanimous consent agreement to shut off debate at 4 p. m. (2 p. m. CST) and vote on the nomination or any relevant motion.

O'Daniel, junior Texas senator who is opposed to Dooley, has filed a motion asking that the nomination be sent back to the Judiciary Committee which reported it by a favorable 8 to 4 vote.

Neither Daniel nor Connally, who recommended Dooley's appointment, was willing to comment on the probable outcome of the vote, but several other senators said privately the nomination would be confirmed.

The Senate arranged to meet an hour ahead of its customary time, at 9 a. m. (CST), with the five hours of debate to be equally divided between Connally and O'Daniel.

O'Daniel, who says he has been neglected in the matter of patronage ever since he came to the Senate nearly six years ago, devoted much of two days' sessions last week to a denunciation of Dooley.

He declared the appointment was part of an attempt by "New Dealers" to "purge" him from the Senate if he decided to seek another term next year.

Involved in the Senate was the issue of whether a presidential appointment should be confirmed if the nominee is "personally obnoxious" to any member, as O'Daniel said Dooley is to him.

Chairman Wiley (R-Wis.) told the Senate he was in opening debate on the issue, that he had written and fast precedent to guide the members but that in at least some cases nominees have been rejected on that issue alone.

Dooley was nominated on Jan. 8, just six months ago today, to fill a vacancy caused by the retirement of former Judge James C. Wilson.

Now 58, he is a native of San Angelo, Texas, and is a graduate of the University of Texas. He practiced law in Amarillo for the past 32 years. He is a past president of the Texas Bar Association.

Wilson, the retiring judge, is from Fort Worth, and Connally has argued that Dooley's confirmation would give the judgeship to the western portion of the district, which has never held it.

Commission Eyes Insurance Plan

Hearings on rates for the proposed group insurance plan for city employees and the members of their families were held this morning by the City Commission.

The proposed plan is a voluntary insurance system for employees of the city and will be paid by them with the city participating in a percentage of the cost. Just what percentage of the city will pay has not been decided by the Commission, but it is expected to be around 60 percent of each employee's personal premium. Members of his immediate family can be taken into the group plan, but the employee must pay that additional premium himself.

The hearing has come as a result of several complaints made by businessmen to the city manager that certain city employees were not able, financially, to meet due bills. These delinquent bill payments were not willful by the employees but resulted from heavy financial loads caused by hospitalization and doctor's fees in many cases. City Manager Steve Matthews said, A survey by the city manager showed that very few, if any, city employees were covered by sick and accident insurance. The study of the group plan resulted.

The commission is continuing the hearings this afternoon.

First Rate Special Attractions Billed For Rodeo and Show

The special attractions billed for this year's Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show should prove to be the best in the history of the show, announced Rodeo officials this morning.

The feature attraction of the Rodeo and reported to be the most famous aggregation of its type, will be the world famous Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band, from Abilene. The band has traveled to practically every continent in the world, proving to be popular wherever they have appeared. The band's feature soloists are John Sedwick, ballad singer, and Johnny Reagan, fancy rider and bull whip artist.

The Starnes Sisters, trick riding artists of Springer, New Mexico, Homer Rumsey and his troupe of monkey cowboys, and Lewis Blair and his educated mule will round out the special attractions.

Paul Crouch, marshal of this year's parade that will be held at 4 o'clock August 6, stated this morning that the parade will include bands, floats, and riders from Pampa and the surrounding communities. Crouch has extended every business and civic organization in Pampa an invitation to place an entry in the parade.

Coal Mines Open After Vacation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—An agreement averting a nation-wide soft coal strike was signed today by John L. Lewis and a majority of the bituminous operators.

In announcing the signing, Lewis told a news conference that it is "reasonable to assume" the entire industry will accept the agreement within a few days.

More than half of Lewis' 400,000 United Mine Workers are covered by agreements thus far signed by northern commercial operators, steel companies and mine owners in the West and Midwest.

For the workers, it means the highest pay in history and the right to work when "willing and able."

For the public, it means higher coal and possibly less coal production under a shorter work day provided in the contract.

U. S. Blueprint For Arms Slash Gains Approval

LAKE SUCCESS—(AP)—The United Nations Security Council today approved an American blueprint for arms reduction discussions despite a Russian warning that the plan would bring about a collapse of arms regulation efforts.

The vote was 9 to 0, with Russia and Poland abstaining.

In view of Russia's firm stand against the U. S. plan it had been believed she might invoke the big power veto to block it.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko gave his warning before the United Nations Security Council in a new effort to revive the Soviet working plan which already had been rejected by the commission for conventional armaments.

His challenge was taken up promptly by French Delegate Alexandre Parodi and U. S. Representative Herschel V. Johnson, who announced their opposition to any substitute for the American plan.

Gromyko insisted that no program for arms regulations could succeed unless the plan was linked directly with an absolute prohibition of atomic weapons.

He declared that the U. S. plan approved by the commission did not link the problems of arms reduction and the banning of atomic weapons and, for this reason, it offered no basis for a solution.

Gromyko opened debate on the arms question as delegates waited another major declaration from him later in the day in reply to United States and British demands for action to restore order in the critical Balkan situation.

Delegates agreed they were approaching perhaps the gravest moment in U. N. history.

Technicalities Delay Trial in Injuries Suit

Delayed for almost a day because of jury technicalities, counsel for both plaintiff and defense in the $55,000 personal injuries suit of R. C. Taylor versus J. D. Wright and Son Trucking Company began this morning when Attorney John Gano put Taylor on the stand to describe the accident alleged to have seriously injured him.

The trial was delayed yesterday morning when only 13 men remained out of a grand jury of 45 names, one of them being named twice on the list.

Testimony by the plaintiff this morning mainly led up to the time of the accident. Under questioning by his counsel, Atty. Gano, Taylor said that the truck owned by J. D. Wright and Son and driven by O. C. Wilson was the one that squeezed his body between the rear of the truck and a derrick that was being moved from one location to another on an oil field northeast of Borger on May 17, 1945.

According to testimony by the plaintiff, he had to crawl between the truck and derrick, it was aiding in transferring, to unhook a winch line holding the derrick in place.

Defense Counsel E. A. Simpson in his opening plea to the jury, said that responsibility could not be laid on the defendant because the trucks were not under direct control and direction of their owners but were under the direction and supervision of the W. D. Kelly Drilling Company at the time of the accident, and that Taylor did not give the proper signals of safety to the truck driver at the time of the accident.

The case almost came to an abrupt halt yesterday afternoon when defense attorneys moved for a mistrial when one jurymen said that he was an insurance agent for the SEE DISTRICT COURT PAGE SIX

14th All-Star Major League Tilt Being Played Today in Chicago

Buffs Come From Behind to Win Over San Antonio

(By The Associated Press)
Houston lifted a ball game right out of San Antonio's pocket last night. The score was 8-6. Trailing 4-3 with two out in the ninth inning, the Texas League leader broke loose for five runs, ten men contributing before San Antonio finally put out the fire. A Mission comeback died after two runs.

The victory put Houston only one game away from going into its home park to play host in the All-Star game tomorrow night indicated in its latest road trip.

Other results last night saw Tulsa dump Fort Worth, 3-2; Shreveport defeat Beaumont, 4-1; and Dallas down Oklahoma City, 5-1.

Clarence Beer notched his 15th victory of the year as Houston defeated San Antonio, though he bowed out to a pinch hitter in the final inning. Beer's two-run homer had given San Antonio a 4-3 edge from the seventh until the top of the ninth.

Russell Burns' double in the eighth inning drove in two runs that spelled pay dirt for Tulsa. The win also was No. 11 for Mark Stewart. Fort Worth had scored runs in the first and third, with Tulsa getting one in the fifth on three singles.

Tom Pullig pitched shutout ball for Dallas until the ninth inning when Mill Nielson, Joe Frasier, and Ray Murray all singled, saving Oklahoma City from going scoreless. Oilers gave Dallas its first two runs in the second inning.

It was Pullig's seventh victory and Dallas' fourth in a row. Nick Gregory, the league's leading home run hitter, came through with a grand slam circuit that gave Shreveport all four runs in the first inning. Beaumont could get only one of them back—in the fourth on two hits.

The teams wind up their brief series tonight. Oklahoma City ends at Dallas, Tulsa at Fort Worth, Houston at San Antonio and Shreveport at Beaumont.

CHICAGO—(AP)—Baseball's grandest single day show, the 14th All-Star Major League game, returns to its spring-board city today with the American League's upper crust favored to squelch the National League's best and so a Wrigley Field capacity crowd of 43,000.

Fair skies and 80 degree temperatures were predicted for this mid-summer "dream game" which, except for the pitchers, is strictly a fan proposition for the first time since 1935. A nationwide poll was held to select the teams.

There were last-minute complications to this high-geared spectacle in which lanky Ewell Blackwell, pride of the Cincinnati Reds, will explode the first pitch at American League lead-off man, George Kell, Detroit third baseman.

For one thing, American League starting hurler Spud Chandler of the New York Yankees, turned up in Chicago with an ailing elbow. There were reports that he might not be able to work.

Pilot Joe Cronin of the American League said he'd determine in pre-game warm-ups whether Chandler could pitch the first three innings.

The National League side, a train mishap here yesterday shook up the Philadelphia Phillies' contingent including starting Second Baseman Emil Verban. Pitcher Schuyler Rowe and Manager Ben Chapman an All-Star coaching aide to Manager Eddie Dyer of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The All-Star frolic which had its inception at Comiskey Park here in 1933. Last year the power-packed Americans drubbed the Nationals 12-0, at Boston's Fenway Park.

Sharply tilted prices are expected to pull $137,000 in gross receipts with about $100,000 going into the player pension fund. Wrigley Field has been sold out for months. Shortly before game time about 3,000 standing room tickets will go on sale.

Girls Meet in Two Tilts on Muddy Field

Disregarding the muddy playing grounds, two games were played in the Kiwanis Sunday School Softball League, last night, and both of these were girls' contests.

In the first game of the evening, Janet Walters pitched her Presbyterian Jr. Girls to a hard earned 18-15 victory over the First Baptists. Barely enough Presbyterian players turned up at the game so the winners played the game with only six girls. Betty Kliff was the losing hurler as the opposition scored seven runs in the first inning when their lead was never threatened until the third inning when the Baptists pulled within one run of them.

Playing in the Senior Girls' League, the First Methodists trounced the First Christians 35-15. The outcome of the game seemed to be going in favor of the Christians until the third inning when the winners ran wild to cross home plate 17 times. From this moment on, the Methodists had little trouble, outscoring the losers by 7 tallies in the last two frames. Joan Bess, hurled for the winners while Chra Washington tried to tame the big bats of the Methodists but to no avail.

T. J. Wright and R. W. Curry umpired both of last night's games.

Texas Baseball Honors Leader In College Sport

AUSTIN—(AP)—Texas baseball today honored one of the best-known and best-loved names in college baseball.

July 8 was proclaimed by Gov. Beauford H. Jester as "Disch Day" in Texas in honor of William J. "Uncle Billy" Disch, who first began coaching at the University of Texas in 1911 when he was 36 years old.

Uncle Billy has been playing or coaching baseball ever since he can remember. He started out by playing with his mother's yarn ball on the floor.

He played in the Western, Iowa, Iowa-South and Texas Leagues, before settling down to the coaching profession.

This grand old man of Texas baseball has helped many of the state's finest players to reach the big show. More than 30 of his boys have had a crack at the Major Leagues and more than half a hundred have gone to the Minors.

When he came to the University in 1911 he had to overcome the difficulties of poor organization, but his teams managed to walk off with the championship of the Texas Intercollegiate Athletic Association in 1911, 12, 13, and 14.

Since the Southwest Conference began competition in 1915 until his retirement, Uncle Billy's teams won 21 of 26 conference titles. He doesn't believe that present day players are paying as much attention to the fine arts of hitting, hit and run, double steals and squeeze plays as to power hitting.

Disch has been noted for developing "smart players" as well as good hitters and fielders.

"A player in the big show has to know what to do with the ball, Ben Thorpe, the Indian, was hitting around .331 in the big league but he couldn't think baseball every minute of the game, would throw to the wrong base, and had to retire," he said.

Uncle Billy doesn't like to call players by their nicknames. When Bibb Falk was playing on the University team, Disch called him by his middle name, Augustus, because Bibb sounded too much like a nickname.

Some of the prominent players who received training under Uncle Billy are Frank (Finky) Higgins, Pampa Monument Co. Cemetery Memorials, ED FORAN, Owner, 601 E. Harvester, Phone 1182.

Majors Win on Diamond, Lose In League Office

(By The Associated Press)
Greenville's Majors won the field but lost in the Big State League office yesterday, with the net result still giving them room for a deep breath in the standing.

The Majors handed second place Texarkana a twin licking—8-5, 8-4, but had a game dropped off their win column when President J. Walter Morris upheld a July 4th protest by Sherman-Denison.

In other games, Wichita Falls walloped Waco, 12-4, Paris beat Sherman-Denison, 8-4, and Gainesville spanked Austin 12-3.

Jodie Phipps won his 14th game of the year in besting Texarkana in the first game, though his pitching rival Conk Meriwether hit a homer, as did Bear Manager George Washington in the nightcap, Pelt hit for the circuit for Texarkana.

Morris upheld Sherman-Denison's protest on a play in the second inning of a doubleheader July 4th, ruling the game must be replayed the next time the teams play at Sherman. This will be Sept. 7.

A nine run first inning gave Wichita Falls an easy time with Waco, while Gainesville came from behind a two-run Austin lead to win going away. Austin made seven errors.

Two home runs—by Schmiel and Martin—gave Paris a running start in the first inning, Sherman-Denison came to life in the ninth to tally three of its four runs.

Cosmetic Kit Is Career Girl's Friend

Completely outfitted cosmetic kit is a handy and efficient refresher for weary career girl at the end of an office day.

BY ALICIA HART NEA Staff Writer
A career girl's best friend indeed is a good grooming kit. A kit stocked with the essential aids needed for a refurbishing job saves a girl from having to case an office for cosmetics when an unexpected date comes up. Moreover, it offers the drab look fresh and vivid, no matter how wilting the weather or how tough her day. For such needs, a new kit makes its debut stocked with a complete assortment of aids for a "pick-me-up" facial and beguiling make-up. In addition to cosmetics, there are cleansing tissues, cotton and a nylon comb. All aids are neatly regimented in a box which, complete with mirrored lid, fits into a desk drawer.

WE, THE WOMEN
$30 Starts, But Upkeep Is More
BY RUTH MILLET NEA Staff Writer

"Sex appeal and glamor are bought, not born," claims the author of a book with the not too subtle title "Hold Your Man."

In order to prove her thesis that any woman on the sunny side of middle-age can turn herself into glamor girl she is willing to spend $30 and follow a few simple rules. The author and lecturer did just that for a plain-looking 40-year-old office worker.

"I feel like ordering champagne and flying to Bermuda," said the delighted subject, miraculously changed from a plain Jane into a sophisticated-looking woman.

Forget it, lady. If you're going to keep that $30 glamor job you won't have any time or money left for Bermuda and champagne. With glamor it's not the original cost. It's the upkeep. That original $30 is just a drop in the bucket. It takes both money and time to keep a wardrobe up to the latest fashion picture.

TAKES A LOT OF $
It takes a lot of dollars and hours in a beauty shop to keep a 40-year-old woman in the glamor class. If this weren't so the beauty business wouldn't be one of this country's big industries.

In addition it takes a lot of home work for a woman to keep her glamor going between visits to her beauty salon.

Sure glamor can be bought. But it's the weekly installments that make the purchase price so high.

LUXURY OR NECESSITY?

Representatives of nations where there is no freedom of the press and where the people enjoy no privileges of personal liberty have often remarked that the American system of individual freedom is a luxury only a rich nation may afford. This is a flimsy excuse for the brutalities of dictatorship. But would we be so different from these other nations which are tobogganing back into the dark ages, if we were hard pressed by economic chaos? Not if we are to listen to some of our most notable, self-styled liberals who claim with fearful urgency that should another depression descend upon America, she too would abandon the "luxury" of freedom. Some of them would even jump the gun by setting up a planned state now—fixing prices, rigging supply and demand to artificial standards, controlling production, and in effect, establishing government as a spurious god.

When this country was founded, the going was tough. Freedom was the first goal of life. It was not achieved easily. The privilege of going to the church of one's choice was not considered a luxury, nor was ownership of property and the right of assembly and free speech. These things were as vital as air. To infer, no matter how indirectly, that they have become luxuries at a time when millions of people over the whole world are looking to the United States to keep alight the torch of civilization, is inexcusable.

Very likely there will be depressions in this country in the future, as in the past. They can either be short pauses in the march forward of a great nation—or any of them can be the jumping-off point for state socialism and the subjugation of the people. It will depend upon our point of view—whether our freedom is a luxury or a necessity.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER
COURT—The Supreme Court, as reorganized by President Truman and Chief Justice Fred Vinson, has shown greater sympathy for extension of the federal government's authority than even its Rooseveltian predecessors, according to an analysis of decisions handed down in its 1946-1947 term. This may be a surprise to laymen, but it is no mystery to distinguished lawyers and litigants ranging from John L. Lewis to Caesar Petrillo.

The jurists have not spread themselves so spectacularly as did the F. D. R. tribunal when it approved the devaluation of the dollar, allotment payments to farmers, central controls over industry and the exchange, and other New Deal reforms. But those were only depression panaceas, and they did not obtain the court's sanction until after former Chief Justice Charles Evans Hughes, in an attempt to ward off White House blows, persuaded his reluctant associates that discretion was the better part of judicial valet.

FEDERALIZATION—What the present court has done is to settle historic and important disputes involving labor, the utilities, the railroads and the use of local taxes in favor of the federal government as against economic and political groups at odds with the theory of federalization. It is quite probable that some of its more far-reaching decisions will be overturned by successor bodies.

In view of the tribunal's present makeup, its current complex should cause no surprise. Whereas previous Roosevelt members were drawn from the ranks of state and federal jurists, corporation lawyers, and friends of politicians, today's Supreme Court has seven members drafted from Congress or federal posts. Only one member—Justice Rutledge of Iowa—had previous training on the bench.

THEORY—Three members—Messrs. Jackson, Murphy and Reed—held top jobs in the Department of Justice. The first two had been Attorney Generals, and Mr. Reed had served as Solicitor General. Three—Messrs. Vinson, Black and Burton—had been members of Congress. Justice Douglas had headed the Securities and Exchange Commission. Felix Frankfurter had been a member of the Roosevelt "brain trust."

It is not surprising, therefore, that these men should subscribe to the theory of a strong, central government.

PHILOSOPHY—The Vinsonians showed no favoritism or discrimination in their federal swashbuckling, hitting both the big and the little fellows in labor, several of the greatest states in the union, and even placing householders in peril of an F. B. I. invasion of their domiciles. Here is a brief summary of opinions supporting the federalist philosophy:

(1) With Chief Justice Vinson writing the warning, he held that the U. S. has the power to break a coal strike threatening the national economy, even if it requires the plating of a $3,510,000 fine on John L. Lewis and the United Mine workers.

(2) It ruled that the U. S. holds title to valuable oil tidelands, which may also conceal other rich minerals. This judgment antagonized the top officials and politicians of Pacific, Gulf and Atlantic states reaching as far north as the Carolinas, where they are now boring for petroleum on the advice of eminent geologists.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Johnson on KPND Monday thru Friday, 2 p.m.)

HOLLYWOOD—One of the great mysteries of Hollywood is that the whole town runs in cycles in everything from movies to automobiles to places to live to eating.

Anywhere else you call it keeping up with the Joneses.

When one studio finds a certain type of actor or actress, acceptable at the box office, they all look for the same type. M-G-M made a star out of Van Johnson. He was an overgrown kid with a freckled face and the gals wanted to mother him. So everyone started looking for Van Johnson types. It was the thing to do.

The Warner Bros. discovered Lauren Bacall. She talked way down there. That started the talk-down-in-your-toes derby. Deep-voiced gals from near and far were sought out, tested and offered to the public. About the only one besides Bogart's Baby to register the box office was Elizabeth Scott. She went Bacall one better and talked through the soles of her feet.

Changes in the Federal Labor Laws

I want to quote some comments made by the Merchants and Manufacturers Association of Los Angeles as to some of the meanings of the new Taft-Hartley labor law just passed.

"Section 7 of the Act, which at present guarantees the right of employees to self-organization, is changed to also guarantee the right to refrain from such activities."

"Supervisory employees are excluded from the definition of 'employee,' thus removing them from the application of the Act. This relieves employers of the obligation to bargain collectively with supervisors' unions."

Here is a fairly clear explanation of what is meant by the "Union Shop" as contrasted with the "Closed Shop":

"Employer 'unfair labor practices' remain unchanged, with the exception of Section 8 (3), which is amended to prohibit agreements requiring union membership as a condition of employment, except that a union shop may be entered into with a majority of the employees, provided a majority of all employees in the unit, (not merely those voting), approve it in a National Labor Relations Board secret ballot election. Such a contract, however, may not justify discrimination against an employee for non-membership in the union, if the employer has reason to believe that the union membership was not entered into with the same terms and conditions as to other members, or if he has reason to believe that membership was denied or terminated for other than failure to pay uniform dues and initiation fees. A union shop agreement is one in which the employee is given thirty days to become a member of the union. The employer does not have to concede the union shop even if the employees vote for it—it is still a bargaining matter."

Under the heading of Union Restrictions, six new "unfair labor practices" are established for labor unions and agents:

"(1) Restraining or coercing employees in the exercise of their right to engage in self-organization, or to refrain from such activity; or to restrain or coerce an employer in the selection of his representative.

"(2) Causing or attempting to cause an employer to discriminate against an employee in violation of the union shop regulation.

"(3) Refusing to bargain collectively if the union is the authorized bargaining agent for the employees.

"(4) Unlawful Strikes and Boycotts. Engaging in, or inducing or encouraging employees to engage in, a strike or in a concerted refusal in the course of their employment to handle or work on any goods, or to perform any services, where the object thereof is to:

"(a) Force any employer or self-employed person to join a union.

"(b) Start a cycle of drunk pictures. Warner Bros. will film "The Story of Eddie Cantor" following success of "The Jolson Story."

It's been a long time since the Rio Tin Tin pictures, but Lassie started a cycle. And after Lassie proved herself at the box office a couple of times, others followed suit. "Bob, Son of Battle," is one of the followers.

"The Outlaw" was followed by "Duel in the Sun." "Spellbound" was the leader for a band of pictures based on psychiatry.

In their daily lives the Hollywood stars follow the same pattern. Someone wanted to get away from it all a few years back, so he bought a stretch of beach and built a house at Malibu. The rest followed, and Malibu became a colony, not a hide-out.

San Fernando Valley was once a quiet little collection of ranches. A picture personality bought one of those little ranches and built a home. Today San Fernando Valley is packed so tightly the chickens out there have to lay narrow eggs.

Beverly Hills, Brentwood and Bel Air have each in turn become "the place to live."

Movie locations give another example. Mexico, might just as well have been a forgotten Atlantis until John Ford, the director, went down there to make a picture. Now there are eight companies on location in Mexico.

PARADE TO SUNSET STRIP
Hollywood's night clubs and cafes once were centered close to Hollywood and Vine. Then one of them opened on the Sunset strip a few miles westward. Now all the plush bistros are located on the Sunset strip.

Clark Gable went on a new trick diet. Half the town is now on Gable's diet. "The Clark Gable diet" is even printed on the menus in the Paramount studio cafe.

Somebody bought a station wagon. Now everybody of importance has to have a station wagon.

Somebody bought one of those gold cigarette lighters. Now everybody of importance has to have a solid gold cigarette lighter.

Yuma once was the smart spot for Hollywood's divorcees. Somebody went to Las Vegas. Now everybody goes to Las Vegas.

There is reportedly a strong demand for these buildings. It was announced. The chapels are located in various parts of the country.

Applications for their purchase are being received by the Grand Prairie WAA office, Postoffice Box 6030, Dallas 2, Texas. The closing date for application in connection with the sale at PAAP is July 23, it was stated.

After applications are in, officials said, they will be read in the Grand Prairie office and then transmitted to General Luther D. Miller, chief of chaplains, Washington, D. C., who, with an associated board representing various faiths, decides the organization to which the chapel is awarded.

Others advertised, with closing date of application for purchase, are:

Camp Bowie July 9; De Ridder (La.) Army Air Field and Lake Charles (La.) Army Air Field, July 12; Amarillo Army Air Field and Aloc Army Air Field (Victoria, Texas), July 23; and Dermott (Ark.) Prisoner of War Camp, July 30.

A majority of the requests for the chapels, it was said, come from small country churches. In several instances, larger city churches have requested the chapels in order that they might be used for religious education in connection with Sunday School class instruction. All denominations and faiths are represented in those who apply, it was said.

labor or employer organization.

"(b) Force any employer, or other person, to cease using, or otherwise dealing in the products of, any other producer or manufacturer, or to cease doing business with any other person. (This is a very comprehensive 'hot cargo'—secondary boycott prohibition.)

"(c) Force any other employer to recognize or bargain with an uncertified labor union.

"(d) Force any employer to recognize or bargain with a particular labor union if another labor union has been certified by law to recognize.

"(e) Force any employer to assign particular work to employees in a particular labor union, rather than to employ in another labor union.

"A special provision in connection with these strikes and boycotts recognizes the right of employees to refuse to cross a picket line of another employer whose employees are engaged in a strike approved by a union agent whom such employer is required by law to recognize.

"(5) Requiring employees covered by an authorized union shop agreement to pay excessive or discriminatory initiation fees.

"(6) Causing or attempting to cause an employer to pay for services which are not performed, or not to be performed."

On collective bargaining it has the following:

"Collective bargaining is defined as the mutual obligation to meet at reasonable times and confer in good faith with respect to wages, hours and other terms and conditions of employment, and the execution of a written contract after an agreement is reached. This obligation does not compel either party to agree to a proposal, or require the making of a concession.

Under the old Wagner law if there were AFL and CIO and no union election and no one of them received a majority of the votes, then the board required a runoff election and the "no union" was eliminated. Then it was one of two unions out of the three and the employees had no choice to vote for a "no union."

Under the new law, this will not be the case. If the "no union" has second place, Under the new law groups of employees also may petition for an election or a decertification. At the present time there is no procedure under which employees can longer wish to be represented by a union may secure a decertification.

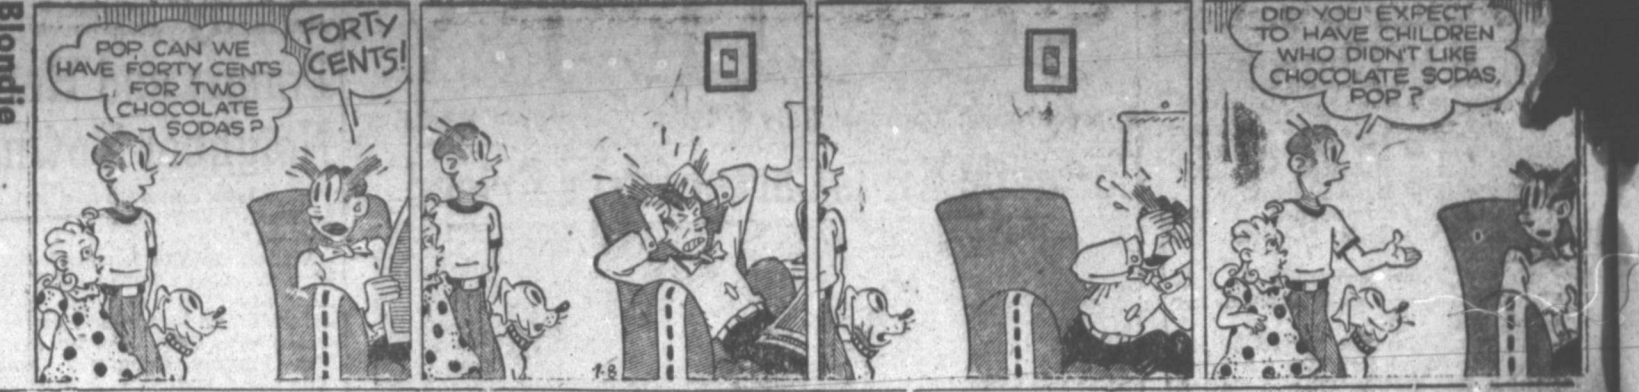

While the new law doesn't go as far as it should in restricting labor's right to form a conspiracy to keep other workers from competing, it does have a little restriction on some of the despotic practices of union czars.

Democracy is now on trial. Only a strong democracy can prove itself in this country. A democracy can only be strong if all the citizens are properly educated and trained to keep open to all the talented.

—Dr. James Conant, president of Harvard University.

of lifting rapidly into space.

"Well, how do you like your first ride in a flying saucer, Orson Welles?" queried the green man. "You're on the way to a place where there are more Martians than there ever were in New Jersey."

"Look, this may be a flying saucer," I complained, "but I'm not Orson Welles. I got this high forehead from wearing a tight hat."

"Then who are you?" "I'm his cousin, Artesian Welles," I countered, "and who or what are you?"

"The Balmiston X-ray," O'Rune from Mars, said the green man, and you have probably ruined my chance to win the sweepstakes."

"What the six thousandth centennial running of the universal Martian treasure hunt sweepstakes?" I queried. "This time there are 500 space ships competing. To win I have to bring back twelve rare objects, including Orson Welles. Now somebody will beat me. It's all your fault for looking like somebody else."

"What are the other items on your treasure hunt list?" I asked. "I've just got a few things left to do in this country—like buying a new motor car, getting a nickel beer and a good five-cent cigar, and plucking a hair from the eyebrow of John L. Lewis."

"Balmiston, old boy," I said, "I think you and the other flying saucers are going to be here a long time. Your search is only beginning."

"I'll keep you as a hostage then," he said. "You steer while I catch a little sleep."

So here I am wheeling this blasted flying saucer back and forth between the Bronx, Santa Fe and Seattle.

If I succeed I'll send out more details on the flying saucers tomorrow. If, however, the green man catches me again, well—

"Look out below, Peoria!"

Tax Bill

the House Ways and Means Committee, author of both bills, said the new one "meets the President more than half way."

Martin told reporters he expected the House to pass the measure "with 20 or more votes to spare (over the two-thirds) needed to overthrow another veto. He said he would not be surprised to see a majority of the Democrats voting for the bill."

However, a determined group led by former Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) sought to maneuver a show-down on a substitute tax-cutting bill that would be more to the President's liking.

Moreover, Rayburn said "I am not ready to concede that the House would override a second veto."

Most administration supporters, however, pinned their main hopes on the Senate, where sponsors of the legislation still are unable to name more than 61 Senators who would vote to override a veto. That is three short of the number needed to vote on the 85 Senators were to vote on the issue.

A fight also is building up in the Senate over demands that the so-called community property principle now applicable in 12 states be extended to all states.

The House sustained the first veto of the Senate, where sponsors of the legislation did not disclose in advance how the Truman backers will use their opportunity to force a show-down on a substitute bill.

WALL STREET STOCKS

NEW YORK, July 7.—(AP)—Ralls, liquors and special industrials pushed higher in the market after early light selling on the lengthy advance has been absorbed.

Transfers ran to around 1,900,000. The market was quiet and prices irregular after a fairly active opening. Transfers ran to around 1,900,000.

At peaks for 1947 were Chrysler, 20th Radio, Du Pont and Allied Chemical. Other gains were in Santa Fe, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake, Ohio, N. Y. Central, and Pacific.

Continued reinvestment demand and short covering pushed stocks up. A little more economic optimism, plus the hope of a down on coal wage pact would be doing inspired bidding.

Bonds were narrow with rails declining moderately well.

Wright company at the time of the accident. Simpson argued that the entire jury then knew that an insurance company was involved in the case. In this instance the Associated Indemnity Company.

Court officials were also put on the stand to answer questions as to how jurors were notified to appear for trial. The examinations of Sheriff G. H. Kyle and District Clerk Dee Patterson brought out that jurors are notified by card that either party in the litigation had paid a jury fee.

A motion for a mistrial by the defense was overruled by the court and the jury was examined near the close of the afternoon. Upon final selection of the jury Court was recessed until 10 a. m. this morning.

Indications of a long and drawn out trial were made when both sides advised the Court to discharge the jury for the remainder of the week. Judge Goodrich gave jurors not called to serve, their final discharge shortly after 10:15 this morning.

A new panel will have to be subpoenaed for any further case tried next week. The case is being continued this afternoon.

Sentences

measure and Yugoslavia abstaining. Publication of the resolution, which was transmitted to U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie for reply to the British, brought from the Palestine government an immediate reply that discussion was out of order at that time because the sentences had not been confirmed and the case was still in legal process.

The British government later handed Lie a similar communication it had noted the contents of the resolution and pointing out it still was within the power of Gen. Sir Alan Gordon Cunningham, British high commissioner for Palestine, to pardon the condemned men.

Members of the U. N. Commission privately termed the situation "very unfortunate," but said the group probably would be "very cautious" about taking any action.

"It's a clumsy decision coming at a very awkward time," one member said.

Adoption of universal military training would have a great psychological effect throughout the world and line up wavering European countries behind us.—Dr. Karl T. Compton, president of MIT.

Flying Saucer

only 99 44/100 percent awake however.

Anyway, I glanced out and then I saw it. My flying saucer. It was a brilliant yellow, and was zooming over the horizon, screaming like a banshee. I tingled all over, and even as I shook my wife and mumbled incoherently "saucer! flying saucer!" I was framing words into a sizzling lead.

Naturally, she was startled, especially when she looked out and saw nothing but a full moon, and heard nothing but a siren.

It was some time before I was fully awake. I felt pretty sheepish. Sheepish and chagrined. There I was, close to fame and maybe fortune. And it was just a July moon.

These disks are becoming a natural nervous. It's about time someone did something about them. Either that, or I'll have to quit eating fried chicken, pickles and malted milk.
