Italy Gloomily Surveys Future

Editor's Note: Charles H. Gup-till, chief of the Associated Press Bureau in Rome, was an AP cor-respondent in Italy in Mussolini's time and has covered Italy's past war travails since 1945. In the fol-lowing dispatch he describes vividly the country's tragic bewildered plight as a battleground of democ-racy and communism.

By CHARLES H. GUP TILL
ROME—(AP)—In Italy, as in much of the world, leaders and the peo-ple are trying to decide whether to lay their bets on Washington or Moscow.

Based on reality or not, the con-viction is common among Italians that war between east and west is not only inevitable but also not so distant.

They gloomily predict that in any such conflict Italy would be in the middle. To many, the growing cleav-age between Communist and anti-Communist forces in their own country is an integral part of a fa-tal world pattern which promises little hope for real peace.

Italians watch the consolidation of Soviet dominance in the Balkans with an eye to the western powers' capacity to react. Events in this area are of vital interest to Italy. Before the war, the Balkan coun-tries were among her best custom-ers. Access to those markets today could mean much for Italian recov-ery. Soviet influence in the Balkans laps at Italy's frontiers at an un-com- monly sensitive point—Trieste. Italians recognize that Russia's re-cent gain in Hungary probably will help to increase Slav pressure against the Trieste Free State—the delicate membrane the peace-mak-ers have designed to separate east and west along the Yugoslav border.

Italy looks also to France with a feeling of kinship derived from the similarity of their countries' prob-lem and political expedients. Both have had governments which at-tempted to harness Communist and moderate factions. Both found the team worked badly and tried to find a solution by excluding the Left. Success or failure of the French ex-periment may tip the delicate bal-ance in Italy, too.

Most of all, Italians look to the United States—not always with car-ingly—for a cue to the future. They ponder the potentialities of the Truman Doctrine in Greece and Turkey and its possible extension to Italy.

To Communist Leader Palmiro Togliatti the United States is guilty of intervention in Italian domes-tic politics. He does not oppose accepting American loans, however, and suffers some embarrassment from the fact that Moscow's prin-cipal contribution to Italy's econ-omic plight has been to insist upon collecting reparations.

'White Paper' Accuses Nagy Of Conspiracy

BUDAPEST—(AP)—A "white pa-per" compiled by the Hungarian Communist Party said today that former Premier Ferenc Nagy, through his connections with promi-nent Americans, "tried to make Hun-gary the Southeastern European economic and political base of the United States."

The white paper, dealing with the plot which the Communists said Nagy hatched against the Hun-garian government, was advertised by Communists as being full of details of "crimes" committed by various persons—including Nagy who were involved in a conspiracy against democracy.

Although it makes no charges of a sensational nature, it is full of hints regarding a number of per-sons, including former U. S. Minister H. F. Arthur Schoenfeld; Laszlo Eker-Kacz, former economics ex-pect of the State Department; Under Secretary of State Dean Acheson and Rep. Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.); former chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

A copy of the white paper, due to be made public today, contains much Communist fanfare, was obtained by newsmen here last night.

The paper says that Nagy, who resigned his premiership June 1, maintained a double policy of work-ing secretly against the Communists and Russia, while openly de-claring friendship and cooperation. It charges frequently that when Nagy considered future action, he based his plans on ratification of the Hungarian peace treaty and the departure of Russian troops, an atti-tude considered by the Commun-ists to be antagonistic.

Then, the paper says in quoting Nagy's former secretary, Ferenc Kapocs, who is now under arrest:

"Minister Schoenfeld said that he approved of, and America sup-ports, the tactics of Ferenc Nagy to-ward the Russians, and that he would try to secure this support in a material respect by granting help and loans to Hungary."

Republicans Win; Vote Set Monday

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A filibuster by foes of the Taft-Hartley labor bill cracked late yesterday and Republi-cans won an agreement for a Senate vote Monday on their own terms.

They confidently predicted it will enact the measure into law over President Truman's veto by the required two-thirds majority and three or five votes to spare. Opponents of the bill conceded their chances are slim for stopping it.

The voting agreement was reached after 28½ hours of a marathon session by consent of all present. But the debate then went on, although only five Senators remain-ed on the floor, with Senators Murray (D-Mont) and Olin Johnston (D-SC) speaking against the bill.

Finally, after 30 hours and 52 minutes—the longest session in 20 years—the Sen-ate recessed until 10 a. m. (CST) Monday. Then the debate will start again until the hour of the vote, 1 p. m. (CST).

From outside the chamber, Rep. Hartley (R-N.J.), co-author of the bill with Senator Taft (R-Ohio), issued a scorching answer to the presidential veto and broadcast. Hartley called Mr. Truman's argu-ments "false." He said some lan-guage the President attacked is not in the bill at all in its final form. He accused the President of "sponsoring" misrepresentations half truths and distortions.

Mr. Truman himself gave no sign that he plans any further fight to prevent passage of the bill following his busy Friday when he sent his veto message to a heedless House, called in a dozen Senators for a lun-cheon conference and took his ar-guments to the nation by radio. He was at the baseball game yesterday watching Washington defeat St. Louis, 5 to 4, when the break in the Senate came.

The Monday vote will find two senators absent who could have been counted on to support the veto. Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.), faith-ful to the 1935 labor relations act which he introduced and cosponsored in New York, Senator Elbert Thomas (D-Utah) is in Geneva as a delegate to the International Trade Organization, and said yesterday he will not be here.

Taft held that their presence would not change the result. But taking no chances, the Republicans decided that no "pairs" will be allowed for the vote.

Under the pairing procedure, a Senator who is present sometimes agrees to vote the opposite way. In view of the two-thirds majority required to over-ride the veto, De-mocrats wanted two Republicans to pair with Wagner and two more to pair with Thomas.

Taft, smiling confidently, pre-dicted that the veto will be over-riden "by three or four votes." This was the margin forecast by other supporters of the bill, too.

Taft expressed the belief that the sharp floor fight had strengthened his side rather than weakened it, and told newsmen:

"We're all right. The line is hold-ing up very well indeed."

The lineup had been 54 to 17, more than a two-thirds majority, when the Senate passed the bill June 6.

House Committee Ditches Universal Training for '47

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Members of the House Armed Services Commit-tee said Saturday an all-out drive to cash GI terminal leave bonds probably will sidetrack universal military training legislation until next year.

The committee already has held three public hearings on universal training but has set no date for their resumption. It has questioned three members of the President's special commission that recom-mended the plan.

Hearings on more than 30 bills to make the terminal pay bond re-claimable immediately instead of five years from their issue date are tentatively set to start this Wed-nesday and may last several days. The Republican House leadership is driving for passage of a bill within two weeks.

The final decision on the future of universal training hearings will be made Tuesday, with many mem-bers favoring postponement until early next year.

One high-ranking committee member said he believes "about two-thirds of the members want to stop the hearings now although not that many of them are against universal training."

Proponents of the training plan fear that a delay in consideration until next year will mean its defeat.

Girl Places Too Much Faith in Swimmer

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Elwee T. Har-ris told police yesterday he was strolling along pier six with his girl friend, Adele Roberts, 22, when she asked:

"If I jumped in would you save me?"

Harris said he would, but he ex-plained he wasn't a very good swim-mer. Adele jumped into the harbor. Harris jumped after her.

Two patrolmen tossed Harris a rope and pulled him out. They recovered the girl's body half an hour later.

Photographers Live With Farmers to Take Part in Pic Contest

Ochiltree County's defense of the title "Bread Basket of the Nation" got under way this weekend when a score of photographers pro-posed to tell the public of Ochiltree County's 340,000 acres of wheat that it hoped to average 30 bushels per acre for a conservative estimate of 10,200,000 bushels of premium grain.

Radio stations KPBN, KHU, KWHW, KSEL, KGNC, and WOAI have sent commentators to Perry-ton for weekend broadcasts. More than a score of other stations have asked for extra Life and Look magazine coverage of actual harvest scenes as have more than 500 news-papers other than that leased wire ser-vices.

Photographers of five states have registered for the Perryton Cham-ber of Commerce's $1,000 photog-raphy contest, announced Lee Little, manager of the C. of C., that closes July 25. Some camera buffs are liv-ing with the farmers to depict har-vest scenes from sun-up to sun-down. Others have employed local beauties as background stated Little.

Adult Probation and Parole Bill Signed by Jester

AUSTIN—(AP)—An adult proba-tion and parole bill also designed to make sure members of the Board of Pardons and Paroles are persons qualified for these highly-special-ized jobs was signed by Gov. Beau-ford H. Jester yesterday.

It will become law at 12:01 a. m. Sept. 5. The measure by Rep. George Parkhouse of Dallas is the first enabling statute to be written by any Legislature since the Con-stitutional Amendment dealing with pardons and paroles became effective in 1936.

It has no direct bearing on the hot question of pardons, but its in-direct effects are considerable, and it generally tightens up and clarifies procedure on probation and parole.

In designating members of the Board of Pardons and Paroles as administrators of the new probation and parole law, the statute states specifically that future members must be persons who by knowledge or training are qualified "in penal treatment, public welfare and the administration of criminal justice."

The appointing authorities must make their selections from a list of eligible persons prepared by a committee made up of the chairman of the Public Safety Board, the Prison Board, the Public Welfare Board and one person each named by the attorney general and the Governor.

This committee is charged with the responsibility of determining the qualifications of possible par-dons and parole board appointees "by examination and investigation" before they become eligible for places on the board. The system under which one member of the pardon board is named by the Governor, one by the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, and one by the Presiding Judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals, is not changed.

The next vacancy comes up Feb. 1, 1948, when the term of Chairman Oscar Lewis of the present Board of Pardons and Paroles expires.

Under the new law, probation will be limited to first offenders serving sentences of 10 years or less See PAROLE BILL, Page 5

AMARILLO—(AP)—Paul W. Fulks of the Wolfe City Sun was elected president of the Texas Press Association and M. M. Donosky of the Dallas News was named president of the Texas Newspaper Publishers As-sociation at final sessions of the two organizations yesterday.

The Joe Taylor award for the best editorial was given to the Dalhart Texan with the Mission Times being judged the best all-around weekly and with the Star-Telegram president of the Texas Newspaper Publishers Association and A. E. Clark of the Houston Post was re-elected treasurer.

W. R. Beaumier, publisher of the Lufkin News, invited the two organizations to meet in Lufkin next year. Action will be taken later by the board of directors.

Walter Humphrey of the Fort Worth Press announced a new prize of $100 for the best editorial in support of soil conservation work.

NEW YORK—(AP)—Michael Lonardo, 20, of (180 Forbes Ave.) New Haven, Conn., waited at the pier yesterday to greet the Swiss girl he had courted as a GI in Paris, two years ago.

But when the Marine Falconet tied up it was not 22-year-old Jeanette Smirnoff Provost who walked down the gangplank to greet the former staff sergeant.

Lonardo was confronted by Dr. Robert M. Tirman of Brooklyn, ship doctor and former Army medical officer.

"I'm sorry about this thing," Dr. Tirman told Lonardo. "She told me absolutely she is going to marry me."

"Who are you?" inquired the stunned youth.

Dr. Tirman, 30, explained he had met Miss Provost after Lonardo had posted bond to bring her here under the GI Bill of Rights. They met on a bus from Paris to Le Havre when she became ill and he attended her.

As the vessel pulled into its berth, Tirman related that Miss Provost said "Oh, I don't want to see him" and asked Tirman to tell Lonardo of her decision.

"Well, I'd like to see her," Lonardo said as he shook hands with the doctor, but Tirman's efforts to obtain a pass to assist Lonardo to the ship were unsuccessful.

Lonardo said he had received two messages from Miss Provost from the ship asking him not to meet her, but that he concluded she was "just homesick."

Lonardo withdrew his $500 bond and an immigration official said would be taken to Ellis Island for a hearing. Dr. Tirman made an unsuccessful initial effort to obtain a new bond. The ship's master, Capt. Joseph D. Cox, had refused to marry them at sea.

Clayton to Answer British Questions

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Undersec-etary of State William Clayton, ranking American authority on econ-omic foreign policy, flew to Lon-don yesterday at the climax of British-French efforts to win Rus-sian cooperation in the Marshall proposal for European recovery.

Clayton is the first high State Department official to visit Europe since Secretary Marshall on June 5 called for European governments to take the initiative in working out their own salvation before the United States gives further finan-cial aid.

Authoritative indications were that Clayton would tell any British official who raised the question that Marshall wants something more than merely a new schedule of loans and grants which Europeans would like from the U. S. The idea Clayton is prepared to emphasize is that the United States will back only a plan providing for minimum American aid and maximum European self-help.

American officials welcomed reports from Moscow and London that the Soviet government is "interest-ed" in the Marshall Plan and may participate in or observe discus-sions of it.

But official enthusiasm over the first Russian reaction was greatly dampened by skepticism as to whether the Russians really would go along with full-scale recovery planning.

Little Hope Held For Conciliation

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—(AP)—Little hope was held by United Na-tions delegates yesterday for bridg-ing the widening gap in east-west relations until the four-power Lon-don peace conference in November.

A virtual deadlock between Rus-sian and the western powers on all major U. N. peace-keeping machinery led some delegates to predict that the four-power deliberations on the German peace settlement may be the critical turning point of east-west relations.

They agreed it was obvious that what happens at the London ses-sion will have a great effect on the pattern of future relations between the Soviet and the western powers.

The stalemate here on atomic controls, world disarmament and the creation of a global police force was regarded as just a stage in the jockeying and bargaining phase of the final German peace settlement.

Some delegates said they believed Secretary of State Marshall's eco-nomic plan to aid Europe might have some effect on the Russians.

Mountain Search For Man Given Up

PINECLIFFE, Colo.—(AP)—Denver police yesterday withdrew from the search near this mountain hamlet for what they believed might be the body of Fred W. Lundy, 65, wanted for questioning in the gunshot deaths of two elderly sisters, his constant companions for years.

Detective Sergeant Charles Burns said search of a turbulent stream for an object first reported as a body had proved fruitless and that police throughout the Far West and in Illinois, where Lundy had relatives, had been asked to continue their watch for the retired school teacher.

Funeral services were planned yesterday afternoon for the sisters, famed Emily Griffith, 65, Denver pioneer adult educator, and Florence Griffith, 67, an invalid. They were found shot to death in their book-lined mountain cabin Wednesday morning, apparently without a struggle.

Plane Used in Insect Control

BRYAN—(AP)—Use of the airplane in insect control has been introduced to agriculturalists of El Salvador, Central America, by Ralph Deloach, president of the Texas Dusting Company of Bryan.

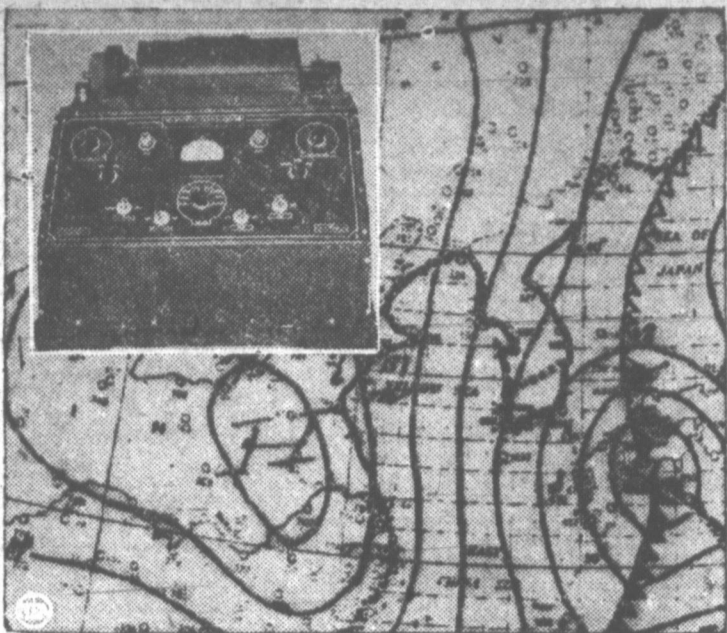

Deloach, who returned from San Salvador, stated he had arranged with the Ministers of Agriculture of El Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Guatemala and Honduras to supply planes and pilots for an intensive fight on huge grasshopper-type insects and others that damage Central American crops.

Deloach flew to San Salvador, arriving Monday, June 9, and gave a demonstration of dusting, using a new insecticide. He left Ted Kidd, Bryan pilot, and the plane in El Salvador where it now is in use.

Deloach said the grasshopper-type insects he saw were as large as one's hand, when the wings were spread. He stated he saw them a foot thick on the ground and flying in clouds that practically blotted out the sun.

Much credit is given Ambassador E. J. Kyle, formerly dean of agriculture at Texas A. & M. College, by the Minister of Agriculture in Guatemala for the work he has done to advance agricultural technique in Guatemala.

Navy Radios Weather Maps With NEA-Acme Telephoto Transceivers

Navy picture weather maps, like one above, are transmitted 8,500 miles by radio with NEA-Acme Telephoto Transceivers. (Inset).

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The Navy announced today that it is transmitting up-to-the-minute pictures of the weather from the China Coast to Washington, D. C. over a radio network.

The system was developed by the Naval Communication Service. It utilizes transmitting and receiving equipment invented and manufactured by NEA-Acme engineers, which permits direct transmission of weather maps by radiophoto from Guam to Washington, 8,500 miles.

NEA-Acme Telephoto Transceivers first were turned over to the Navy during the war to provide immediate pictorial coverage in the Pacific. Acme began transmitting pictorial weather maps by Transceiver for newspapers on its leased picture lines more than a year ago.

The Navy's announcement said that its area weather maps are prepared by central Navy weather stations at Guam, Pearl Harbor, and San Francisco—and by the Naval

Deaths on Highway Show Downward Trend

AUSTIN—(AP)—The downward trend in deaths on the highway continued in Texas in May.

The State Department of Public Safety has reported that 123 persons were killed during the month compared with 148 in the same month last year.

Total deaths since Jan. 1 were 690 compared with 770 in the same period of 1946.

Time of the explosion, was being fought to 27 volunteer firemen. Texas City residents who took time from work at grocery stores, soda fountains and garages to fight the fire.

Parts of only four bodies of the 27 men have been found.

"Ports need professional firemen," was the comment made by a government authority who inspected the city's waterfront shortly after the blast.

He explained, however, that one of the greatest problems in connection with port fires is the fear of ship agents and captains and other company representatives that cargoes will be damaged.

"Such people want to do everything to attempt to save at least part of the cargo," he said. "Normally they want to use steam or chemicals instead of water."

"Steam is last thing that should have been used to attempt to control the fire in the Grandcamp."

"The vessel should have been flooded with water."

He said professional firemen should have been familiar with everything contained in the ship's cargo and should have known in advance just what type of fire fighting equipment would be needed in case of emergency.

New York City and Houston are among the major ports now having bans on ammonium nitrate, the chemical believed to have set off the original Texas City blast.

Both cities put their orders into effect prior to the Texas City disaster.

Port authorities can take aggressive action on checking cargoes, regulating handling of explosives, assuring adequate fire fighting personnel and equipment but none admit having powers to control the problem of isolation.

It means isolation of chemical plants, isolation of oil refineries, isolation of other industrial facilities, isolation of residential areas.

It means a ring of safety to prevent a chain-like spread of fire and explosions.

Safety and fire precautions can prevent such disasters as occurred

NATION STUDIES LESSON TEXAS CITY DISASTER

TEXAS CITY—(AP)—On the eve of the mass burial of this coastal town's unknown dead, the nation's authorities are studying and applying the lesson of Texas City—a hard lesson that cost more than 500 lives.

Since April 16, when the nitrate-laden French freighter Grandcamp blew up and started a tragic chain of fire and explosion, Texas City's battered harbor has become a laboratory for preventing such disasters in the future.

Port and security authorities have combed the waterfront for evidence, hundreds of persons have been questioned. Port directors and managers at the Atlantic, Pacific and Gulf coasts have adopted precautions as a result.

There have been few drastic changes, mostly orders involving safety and fire precaution directives, particularly in so far as ammonium nitrate is concerned.

Such precautions are all the more important, however, in that the greatest of all hazards—clustering of industrial plants and other port installations and facilities—apparently is beyond the control of most port authorities because of lack of absolute power and control.

Texas City was a perfect classroom example of such a situation.

As one government official said, "Texas City, like Topsy, just grew." There was NO planning.

Horatio Bond of Boston, chief engineer of the National Fire Protective Association, compared the Texas City disaster with the destroyed cities of Japan and Germany.

"The only defense against any weapon of mass destruction—in war or peace—is to have a city so spread out that any disaster is likely to affect a small number of people and buildings," he said.

J. Russell Watt, port manager at Houston, and Mayor J. C. Trahan of Texas City agree with Bond.

Watt says port authorities have known "the lesson" for 30 years—"It simply involves rules and regulations and isolation of risks."

Trahan, in coordinating his city's reconstruction plans, has announced emphasis will be placed on a "zone of safety" whereby residential areas will be removed from the dangers and hazards of the waterfront.

Officials from New York City, New Orleans and San Francisco, often considered the three safest ports in the nation, are urging extreme caution in cargo handling and advocating that port personnel be familiar with materials carried by all ships in port.

Deputy Fire Commissioner Nathan C. Horwitz of New York City says his city requires loading of such chemicals as ammonium nitrate be completed elsewhere.

Vessels are required, when carrying combustibles or inflammable material, to remain 1,000 feet out from the piers until checks are made. Even the Navy discharges explosives before approaching a pier.

San Francisco port officials recommend constant vigilance and certain knowledge of cargoes.

"The thing we must realize is every ship and its cargo is dangerous until proven safe," General Robert H. Wylie, retired, port manager at the Golden Gate city, commented.

"There is a tendency—I DON'T mean here in San Francisco or any other specific place—to overlook or bypass weak spots, because of lack of funds or for some other reason," he said. "We must examine our own situation to see if we can find other things to do to avoid the unexpected."

At New Orleans, E. O. Jewell, port manager and president of the National Association of Port Authorities, called upon the national organization to place limitations on the handling of explosives.

"In order to avoid any repetition of Texas City, we must urge the development of specially designed machinery for the handling of dangerous cargo, and enforce the segregation of such cargo," Jewell said.

Rear Admiral Higbee, retired, of the Los Angeles port authority, in calling for adequate tug protection or combination tug-fireboat facilities to guard against disaster, hit on one of the most controversial subjects featured in the Coast Guard investigation of the Texas City explosions and fires.

Higbee, who flew here immediately after the original explosion, says a contributing cause of the disaster was the absence of tugs to take stricken ships out of the harbor.

Nearby Houston has a peculiar fire hazard problem. Its long ship channel is studded on each side with oil tanks, refineries, industrial plants. Port Manager Watt hopes for a real "fire slip" within the near future. The Houston Navigation District has tentative plans for such a slip which would permit a burning vessel "to burn to its heart's content without endangering other property."

Texas City's method of fighting port fires has figured prominently in the port plans for the future. The Grandcamp's blast, at the

Johnston and Bailey Win One Game Each--Assault Wins at Aqueduct by Four Lengths

Oilers Capture Opener 9 to 5

Lefthander Al Johnston whiffed 13 batters and allowed only seven hits, to lead the Oilers to a 9-5 victory over the Abilene Blue Sox at Oiler Park, Friday night. Both teams were slowed down considerably by a muddy field.

In the seventh inning, Bowland and Means, Abilene's center fielder and first baseman were ejected from the game by Umpire Neil Rabe, when Bowland protested Rabe's decision when Rabe had ordered Bowland back into the batter's box.

Pampa's 15-hit attack was led by R. C. Otey, second base, who got a double and 3 singles at five official times at bat; and Don Barclay, Oiler center fielder, who got three singles for five official times at bat.

Abilene's Blue Sox are having more trouble with umpires Neil Rabe and Bob Martin than Carter has with his pitchers.

The trouble began when Rabe called a second strike on Mr. Bowland, Mr. Bowland, who apparently had every reason to believe that his own eyesight was not failing, reportedly passed a few choice criticisms of Mr. Rabe's optics, and even went so far, it is said, to suggest to that individual, (Rabe) that he should at the first opportunity, secure a seeing-eye dog.

A few nasty cracks later, Rabe ordered play resumed and told Bowland to get back in the batter's box, which Bowland refused to do. Rabe then told pitcher Al Johnston to go to the mound and obeyed with a sharp curve that broke across the plate, before the still empty box. Rabe called it a strike, (as it was) and also called Mr. Bowland out.

After a few more choice complimentary remarks by both parties, Rabe ordered Bowland off the field. At this time Mr. Means emitted a particularly loud blasphemy reportedly concerning some of Rabe's ancestry, and he (Means) too, was vigorously invited to leave.

And after the usual dissection, the men departed, and the fans were well entertained. Yesterday afternoon, the difference continued, with Martin behind the plate and Sox' catcher Mr. Queveraux and Manager "Stubby" Greer following up the dispute.

Queveraux and Martin differed on a called third strike and had a few, shall we say, unkind words. Queveraux was strongly urged to depart, not from the field, but from the park, and after some persistent encouragement from Chief of Police Louie Allen, did leave.

While the law persuaded Mr. Queveraux, Greer became embroiled with Martin over the questioned decision, and he too was urged to depart from the Park after considerable delay to the game. Play resumed for another inning or two until Martin happened to glance out to the right field fence and saw one of the offenders sitting inside the Park, watching the game.

Umpire Rabe, who was judging at first, dashed out to the fence and ordered Queveraux and Greer out of the Park, again. After a short argument, Chief Allen reappeared with two of his followers, and for the last time, the men left the Park.

Our vote goes to Rabe and Martin. If all officials would clamp down it would eliminate 90 percent of the gripes at the games and the eventual outcome would be faster, more enjoyable games.

Pate Wins 14-6; Third Straight From Abilene

The Abilene Blue Sox dropped their third straight game 14-6 to the Oilers at the local park last night, as the Oilers got started hitting and blasted three Sox hurlers for 17 hits.

Trailing 2-0 in the fourth frame, the Oilers collected five hits of pitcher Copeland that were good for three runs. Copeland was replaced by Lawson who put out the fire in the remainder of the fourth but was badly burned for six hits and eight runs in the fifth, and from there on it was the Oilers' all the way.

Second baseman R. C. Otey and third sacker Tony Range both got homers. Otey's came with two toward Range was probably the longest homer hit in Oiler Park this season.

Righthander George Payte allowed the Sox nine hits.

The Oilers chucked up an anticlimactic run in the seventh and the Sox scored once more in the ninth. After Bailey issued one free ticket to first and had given up a double to centerfield, Manager Grover Seitz flagged righthander Alberto Matos to the hill. Matos hurriedly put the fire out, but in the process made a wild throw that allowed one runner to come home.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Continuing their rush toward the top of the National League standings, the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals won their ninth consecutive game yesterday, defeating the New York Giants 11-5.

The Giants got to lefthander Howie Pollet early for a 4-0 lead but couldn't hold the advantage as Starter Clint Hartung, after five scoreless innings, was pounded from the hill in the sixth. Before Junior Thompson and Bill Ayer could stem the rally, the Birds had scored five times and taken a 5-4 lead.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Seventh inning singles by Eddie Stanky, Al Cifer and Johnny Jorgensen together with a base on balls to Dixie Walker, gave the Brooklyn Dodgers two runs and a 6-5 victory over the Cincinnati Reds yesterday.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Philadelphia Phillies broke a four-game losing streak yesterday as they defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates 5 to 1. Dutch Leonard notched his eighth victory of the season against three losses, limiting the Pirates to eight hits.

CHICAGO (AP)—Johnny Sain, hurler a neat seven-hitter yesterday to lead the Boston Braves to a 3-1 triumph over the Chicago Cubs and preserve their leadership in the snarled National League pennant race. The Braves routed Don Ladson with a three-run outburst in the fifth that insured the victory.

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees swept both ends of a double header with the slumping Detroit Tigers yesterday 5-4 and 7-4 to increase their pre-game American League lead to a game and a half over the Boston Red Sox. The double defeat was the seventh and eighth straight for the Bengals.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sherry Robertson's pinch single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning scored two runs and gave Washington a 5-4 victory over St. Louis Browns here yesterday before 6,166 fans, including President Truman, who unveiled a memorial to Walter Johnson at pre-game ceremonies.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Chicago White Sox scored four runs in the eleventh inning to defeat the Philadelphia Athletics 6-2 before a crowd of 10,987 yesterday.

BOSTON (AP)—With Bobby Doerr and Sam Mele belting four homers that piled up seven runs, the Boston Red Sox chased Bob Feller after five innings yesterday while gaining a 9-1 win over the Cleveland Indians. Joe Dobson did not give up the first of his four hits until the seventh, while gaining his eighth triumph.

NEW YORK (AP)—Probable pitchers for tomorrow's major league games: (Won and lost records in parentheses). NATIONAL LEAGUE: Brooklyn at Cincinnati (2)—Hatten (7-4) and Barney (3-2), or Gregg (8-1) vs. Blackwell (10-2) and Walters (3-3).

Locals Defeat Abilene's Blue Hose 16 to 11

Pampa's Oilers romped on the Abilene Blue Sox for a 16-10 victory before a handfull of fans, who braved the blasts of a miserable afternoon, to watch the locals take their second straight from the Abilenians.

Lefthander Bob Bailey gave up ten hits and six bases on balls, but they weren't near enough to equal the romping local batters were giving Blue Horse hurlers, Dean and Immell.

Oiler hitters collected 14 hits good for 9 runs off Dean before chasing him to the showers in the fifth, and then continued to stomp Immell for eight hits and seven runs. Four Abilene bobbles helped Pampa's total.

The Sox made their last concentrated bid for victory in the fifth, when trailing 8-5, third sacker Face placed a home over the tall 370-foot centerfield wall, with three men aboard to send the Blue Hose ahead 9-8.

Their lead was short-lived, however, for the Oilers came back the last half of the frame to beat Dean from the mound with four hits, take two bases on balls and score six runs.

TEXAS TERROR IS NEW FIRST MONEY WINNER

NEW YORK (AP)—They loaded practically the entire grandstand on Assault's back—so the clubfooted comet romped home by four lengths to become the greatest money-winner racing has ever seen.

It wasn't Assault, in fact—it was strictly Murder, that the terror from Texas committed at Aqueduct yesterday for the benefit of 33,624 paying customers. He took charge just about when he wanted to, in spite of the 133 pounds on his back and simply cake-walked to the wire to zip well past Whirlaway at the head of the turf's parade of bankroll boys.

This mile and a quarter was worth $38,110 to the galloper who won. Putting that on top of the bank account he had piled up previously in his three seasons of racing, the son of Bold Venture and the puny mare, Igual, sky-rocketed his earnings to $576,670.

He was backed down to $200 for $2 in this one, and he won it like a 1 to 100 shot. The Brooklyn winner over two years ago, Styxie, was in the field of five, from which Gallorette, last year's victor, was scratched because of lameness.

Coming out of the gate, Assault stumbled and nearly landed on his nose. He didn't really start to run until after they'd gone five eighths of a mile, staying as much as 12 lengths back of Edward Taylor's pacemaking Windfields—and alongside Styxie, at the rear of the pack.

Then Heady Eddie Arcaro, who replaced Warren Mehrens at Assault's regular jockey only six weeks ago, told the clubfoot filly it was time to go. They went.

He picked up Harry Lamontagne's Lucky Day, who had set a mile-and-an-eighth record at Atlantic City only last Saturday, as they needed the mile mark. Rounding the stretch turn, he went past the warring Windfields and Barney Mpphy's Rheumatism Concordian.

That was all there was to it, although Arcaro suddenly slapped Assault once with the bat an eighth of a mile from the finish. He said later, he didn't want to take any chances on Styxie overhauling him.

Putting the climax on a season that has seen him unbeaten in four straight starts—he now has a winning string of six in a row starting last fall—Assault slipped through the mile and a quarter in a somewhat meek 2:03 3/5. But the fractional times showed that although he had no competition to make him hustle, he didn't want to take any chances on Styxie overhauling him.

Second money was $10,000 and with it Styxie, who had been in front of Assault on the money-winning list until today, boosted his earnings to $556,435.

Assault's next start will be in the $100,000 empire city international golf cup on July 19, against glamor gallopers from France and South America as well as this country. He'll carry only weight-for-age—just 125 pounds—in that one.

Kleberg already has said this will be Assault's last year of racing, retiring to the farm to raise a family.

Worsham Becomes Threat to Win Both National Open and PGA in Same Year

DETROIT (AP)—Lew Worsham of Pittsburgh, Pa., yesterday was a definite threat to become the first man in a quarter-century to capture both the National Open and PGA Golf championships the same year. The 28-year-old newcomer to the big-time ranks, who last week won the open at St. Louis, led seven other survivors of a starting field of 94 into the quarter-finals of the professional classic yesterday—and it was just about an even bet that he'd still be in there firing Tuesday when the title goes to the line.

Back in 1922, as a 20-year-old, Gene Sarazen won both the Open and PGA, but he's the only one who ever turned the trick. That same Sarazen, his putter refusing to work, bowed out of the running yesterday.

Worsham moved into the favorite's role as a result of the wide margins by which he has erased three match-play opponents. Friday he ousted John Morris of Montgomery, Ala., by 4 and 3. Clarence Doser of Hartsdale, N. Y., by 5 and 4, in 18-hole events. Yesterday he piled up a nine-hole edge at one spot before eliminating Reggie Myles of East Lansing, Mich., by 7 and 6 in a 36-hole.

Out of round of surprises today emerged such luminaries as Vic Ghezzi, the bronzed PGA champion of 1941 from Kansas City, Kan., and Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago, the 1946 National Open King, as the chief threats to Worsham's bid for the double crown.

While Worsham was finishing three under par for his 36-hole round in the 18-hole event, Mangrum and Ghezzi were forced to snuff out a pair of fine losing flights by the brothers Turnesa, Mike and Jim, from White Plains, N. Y.

Ghezzi and Worsham battle today over the 36-hole round, while Mangrum tangles with Jim Ferrier, the former Australian from San Francisco.

Ky Laffoon, from St. Andrews, Ill., put an end to Sarazen's bid. Opposing Laffoon in the quarter-finals will be 38-year-old Art Bell of Colma, Calif., a native of Honolulu, who came to this country in 1935.

Bell was forced to the 37th hole yesterday to eliminate Dick Metz from Chicago. Ed Forkey, Oliver, finalist last year, was batted out of the play, 3 and 2, by Chick Harbert of Northville, Mich.

Opposing Harbert will be Leland Gibson of Kansas City, who was forced to 37 holes by Ed Joseph, 33-year-old newcomer from Fairfax, Calif.

Oil Shipments To Russia Are Reported Normal

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Thomas E. Blaisdell, chief of the Commerce Department's Office of International Trade, told Congress yesterday that current United States oil shipments to Russia are "normal."

Blaisdell was called to testify before a House armed services subcommittee after Chairman Shafer (R-Mich.) said he was concerned over the oil shipments in the face of a reported petroleum shortage here.

"There is nothing unusual about a shipment of an estimated half a million barrels of petroleum products to Russia from West Coast ports. This is a normal seasonal movement. The volume concerned is not of a huge magnitude," Blaisdell testified.

Shafer interrupted to say "there was nothing unusual about sending scrap iron and oil to Japan in the 1930's either."

James H. Mayes, Commerce Department petroleum expert, said half a million barrels of petroleum were exported during May, but he did not know how much of it went to Russia. Mayes said the Soviet received 72,000 barrels from the United States the first three months of this year.

Mayes testified that exports to Russia were 2,500,000 barrels last year and 5,000,000 barrels in 1945. Blaisdell said the bulk of the shipments to Russia consist of lubricating oil, heavy crude oil and normal octane gasoline. The shipments are being made under private agreements between American oil producers and the Amtorg Trading Corporation representing Russia.

Blaisdell said he did not know what prices Russia is paying for petroleum. Rep. Short (R-Mo) commented that he understands large oil companies "prefer" to sell abroad because they can get higher prices.

'Little Plank Schoolhouse' Ribs Michigan Legislators

His Family Tradition To Take Short Courses

COLLEGE STATION—(AP)—It's a family habit for the Kranauers of Milan, Italy, to attend the Texas A. & M. College summer cotton short course.

Frederic R. Kranauer, who served in the Swiss Army in World War II, was the 84th person to enroll for the course this week. His father, C. S. Kranauer, a cotton broker in Milan for Dallas and New Orleans firms, attended the course in 1917. Spain, Czechoslovakia, Norway and Mexico and nine states also are represented in the short course, now in its 38th year.

Brazil to Decide on Date for Conference

RIO DE JANEIRO—(AP)—Diplomats said yesterday Brazil would decide this week on a definite date for the much-postponed inter-American conference for the maintenance of continental peace and security.

Informal conversations between Brazil and the United States on arrangements for the conference were in their final stages. The dates most frequently mentioned were Aug. 5 or Aug. 15, but October remained a possibility.

The former kaiser became emperor of Germany at the age of 29.

Bevin Comes Out Against One Party Government Rule

By DEWITT MCKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

This column Friday called attention to the fact that the current investigation of ownership and control of the British press by England's Socialist regime—launched some time ago amidst an outcry among Communists and fellow travelers for regimentation of newspapers—has been causing uneasy speculation as to whether this effort tends to a further effort tendency by the government.

We now have a sensational clarification of the government's policies in British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin's blistering "shir-sleeve" speech in Commons, telling Russia bluntly what the score of international relations is and in Prime Minister Atlee's pointedly anti-Russian speech before a miners' rally in Barnsley today, in which he declared that "so-called democratic government is a travesty" in "several countries of Eastern Europe."

Bevin—one of the most outspoken of England's major public figures—flatly declared himself against "one-party" government (totalitarian). He said he would regret a conflict between ideologies "but if it is forced upon us we must face it." He didn't believe that in the long run the western world would be the sufferers in the event of a conflict, because many dictators who have tried to suppress liberty in the world have failed.

It was a fighting speech which was a direct challenge to aggressive Communism and to the tactics which that issue has been employing in Eastern Europe. It would seem to line Britain up squarely with America.

An interesting aspect of this fiery pronouncement is that it was delivered while London and Paris were awaiting Moscow's reply to the joint Anglo-French invitation to Russia to join in drafting a program of aid for Europe in accordance with U.S. Secretary of State Marshall's program for economic rehabilitation. British newspapers deduced from the tone of Bevin's speech that France and England had made up their minds to follow through with the Marshall plan irrespective of whether the Soviet Union decided to participate. In effect it served notice on Moscow to fish or cut bait.

Bevin's dramatic pronouncement of policy was accompanied by a speech by Anthony Eden, Conservative Party spokesman, which brought Britain's two major political parties into complete solidarity as regards General Marshall's proposal. Eden charged Russia with flagrant interference with the right of Eastern European nations to govern themselves. Of the American economic program the former British Foreign Secretary said: "This offers the possibility of creating a new Europe—it is the second change that so rarely comes. . . . When rarely this does come, it is in the nature of a miracle."

Delegates Report on Rotary Convention

The Rotary Club's President-elect, Ray Evans, and Secretary-elect, Du- Lea Vicars, reported last week on the 38th annual Rotary International Convention held in San Francisco on June 10, 11 and 12.

Both men spoke on the lectures they heard during meetings of the club presidents and secretaries. Evans related some of the fear-filled statements of Rotarians from other nations including England, France and other European countries.

Evans added that the headquarters for Rotary International will remain in Chicago after a move to have it changed to Denver, Colo., had been voted. It was announced that the next Rotary International Convention will be held in Rio de Janeiro.

Steve Matthews, newly appointed chairman of the attendance committee, outlined several of the attending improvement plans for the ensuing year. Club singing was in charge of DeLea Vicars and Irwin Cole presided over the business session.

The club's new officers will assume office on July 1.

Court Overrules Plea of Guilty

An 18-year-old boy Friday had his plea of guilty on a felony theft indictment overruled by District Judge Lewis M. Goodrich, in 31 District Court here.

The decision came after the youth's court-appointed attorney, Curtis Douglas, made a motion for withdrawal of the plea on the basis of his barely audible testimony.

The boy, William Homer Terry, of Shamrock, had been indicted by the Grand Jury for the theft of a 1946 Chevrolet in McLean on June 10. The car belonged to J. D. Alexander.

Terry, testifying in a voice hardly above a whisper, related that he and another man were driving through McLean when the man in question told him "Terry" to "take that car" and drive it to the Chevrolet garage in Amarillo. Terry told the court that he was drunk and "guessed" that the man had the authority to take the car.

During the youth's testimony, Attorney Douglas moved for a withdrawal of the guilty plea for lack of evidence. Judge Goodrich concurred that he could not accept the boy's plea under the circumstances and instructed the prosecution to secure more witnesses. The case was postponed until other witnesses could be summoned by the district attorney.

Objects of the search are 30 young Texas men who, come September 1, will be recruited as Driver License Examiners.

Salaries range from $100 a month with room and board during the 4-week training period in Austin to $268.72 after training and probation have been completed. Examiners work 45-day week, receive two weeks annual vacation with pay, and are entitled to benefits under the new state retirement act.

Applicants must have at least a high school education or its equivalent, be not less than 21 nor more than 35 years old, be not less than five feet eight inches in height, weigh not less than two nor more than three pounds for each inch of height, be in excellent physical condition, and have a reputation for character and uprightness of conduct that will stand the intensive investigation that is made of those who are tentatively accepted on the basis of written tests.

Competitive examinations to fill these positions will be held at various points in Texas "sometime in July," Garrison said. He urged those interested and qualified to write him, at Post-Office Box 1164 in Austin, requesting application forms.

WALL STREET STOCKS

NEW YORK, June 21—(AP)—Frustrating news of income tax reduction and labor bills failed to keep the stock market from registering an advance this week.

Customers hopeful for an extension of the June rally bid favored issues higher late in the week after three days of aimless drifting.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite moved ahead 8 of a point during the week to 621, its highest level since last April 7. It was the fifth successive week in which it either advanced or held even with the close of the preceding week. Not since the five-week period ended May 5, 1945, had the average equaled this performance.

Activities picked up also, total transactions of 4,719,610 shares comparing with 4,554,400 in the preceding week. Industrial and rail issues led the upturn. An outstanding dissenter was American Telephone common, which slid to a new 1947 low of 149 on Thursday after a 4-point dip Wednesday when the company called for redemption by Sept. 2 of some $38,000,000 of convertible bonds. This move was expected to force conversion of the debentures and increase the amount of common stock outstanding. A further drag on telephone was unfavorable earnings reports by some of its subsidiaries and reports of foreign selling.

Commission houses reported some profit-taking and short selling during the week.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, June 21—(AP)—Wheat advanced under persistent buying attributed mainly to cash houses on the Board of Trade today. Feed grains were firm with the exception of July corn, which retreated under profit-taking.

Some of the buying in wheat was based on reports of rains in the harvest area. The first shipments of new Kansas wheat arrived at Kansas City, coming from Kiowa, Kan.

As of June 21, the July corn delivery approach the record peak established yesterday. There appeared to be some switching from this delivery into deferred months. Trading in all pits was smaller than in recent sessions although it expanded toward the close as prices advanced.

Wheat closed 18-3/4 higher, July $2.18 1/2, corn was 1/2 lower to 1 1/2 higher, July $1.95 1/2-1.96, and oats were 1/2 to 1 cent higher, July 95-96.

Mrs. Clifford Dunn, Amarillo, Installs New Officers for Local B & P W Club

To climax the year's activities for the Business and Professional Women's Club, Mrs. Clifford Carolyn Dunn, past-president of the Amarillo Club, installed new officers at the meeting Tuesday evening in one of the most interesting and impressive programs of the year.

MRS. ROY CHISUM
New president of BPW Club

Receiving the members at the City Club Rooms were Mrs. Mildred B. Lafferty, outgoing president; Mrs. Dunn and Mrs. Roy Chisum, incoming president. Mrs. Paul Hawthorne presided at the register which was cleverly designed with a sheaf of wheat on the front.

Miss Inez French was in charge of the musical program which included a piano solo by Miss Jo Ann Lunsford, and vocal solos by Miss Jeanne Anderson and Dick French, brother of Miss French. Mrs. Barbara Walters presented a group of piano selections which were sortly played throughout the evening.

Mrs. Lafferty presented the past president's guard and perfect attendance awards were presented by Miss Maurine Jones, for Mrs. Tommie Stone who was away, to the following members: Mesdames Lucille Turner, Gladys Jaynes, Valora Lusher, Evora Crawford, Lafferty, Laura Belle Cornelius, Tommie Stone, Aubrey Fowler, and Allie Morgan; and Misses Murriel Kitchens, Leona Farker, and Maurine Jones.

In installing the new officers Mrs. Dunn likened the organization to a rainbow which, when seen from a certain position, forms a complete circle. She considered that the officers, which had been elected for the ensuing term, were the "seen" part of the rainbow and the remaining members were the "unseen" part, but nevertheless, just as important because without their aid the "seen" part of the rainbow could not present its most vivid colors.

Mrs. Dunn continued that "as every drop of rain has its own part in the rainbow, so every member of the club has her own part to play in the rainbow of cooperation and leadership, waiting to be touched into radiance by the sun of service."

"You have a new corps of officers to paint vivid rainbow colors of club achievement during the year 1947-48. Help them all you can, club members, to bring your rainbow bright vivid colors of accomplishment. I represent the National and State Federations, and bring you the light of freedom, typifying liberty and individual service and enterprise. Guard it well and cherish it, lest its glow die in your own hearts."

Mrs. Chisum was presented a red flower as red was her color of the rainbow, and it was for valor. The other officers were presented flowers of their rainbow colors. They included Mrs. Lillian Jordan, Miss Florence Merriman, who is on vacation, Miss Inez French, recording secretary, treasurer; and Miss Maggie Hollis for Miss Madge Rush, parliamentarian.

The committee chairmen were presented flowers of indigo for love. Mrs. Dunn said it was their privilege and duty to interpret the State and National Federation program to meet the needs of the club. They included Mrs. Tommie Stone, program coordinator; Miss Edna Poe, education and vocations; Mrs. H. M. Cone, finance; Mrs. Margaret Dial, health and safety; Mrs. Frank Lard, international relations; Mrs. Zona Lee Barrett, legislation; Mrs. E. E. See BPWC, Page 8

NEW YORK, (NEA) Cotton fashions will put on a sophisticated summer show of extravagant yardage, striking colors, smooth styling. Unhindered by shortages and style restrictions, fabrics are used lavishly to make cool, crisp cotton dresses a high-fashion choice of city-dwellers.

Longer and fuller skirts give town clothes their new look of formality. Sleeves of daytime suits and dresses are long or short and puffed, to accent yardage. The look of fabric generously used shows in longer jackets, longer waisted, Peplums, bustles, upstanding collars and whoopee-what-sashes take up where full skirts leave off to add silhouette interest to both daytime and late-afternoon dresses.

Checks, stripes and plaids make bold bid for city-dwellers' favor with new taffeta-like textures and sophisticated patterns. Many checks are as big as hop-scotch squares. When muted tone-on-tone is criss-crossed with black or navy, the bold pattern links gaiety with sophistication, as in the plaid dress shown left above.

Yards and yards of crisp gingham combining old-fashioned lavender, yellow, cornflower blue and navy make a swirling skirt of mid-calf length. Stemming from the snug-waisted bodice is a high-climbing neckerchief collar which designer Claire McCardell adds as a contradiction to a sleeveless dress.

As stylized is the broadcloth suit of town-minded stripes—black on a "white-coffee" background—shown right. Black cotton collar and cuffs are designer William Bass' accessory cues. Example of new freedom with fabric is the intricate line-up of stripes to create pattern interest in a circular-cut skirt and rippling peplum.

 served from a lace-covered table. After the first slice of cake was cut the bride and bridegroom "for luck." It was served by Mrs. Ted Addington, aunt of the bridegroom.
 For their wedding trip to New Mexico and points of interest in Colorado the bride chose a grey fish-tail suit with red accessories and the gardenias for her bridal bouquet.

After July 1, they will make their home at 1114 Mary Ellen.

The bride's mother was dressed in pink crepe with white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a pink dress and black accessories. Her flowers were also white carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Elbert Labenski.

The three-tiered wedding cake was centered on the lace-covered table, surrounded by a lei of blue daisies and white gladioli. Completing the arrangement were blue tapers, in candleholders. Presiding at the cake and punch service were Misses Mary Frances Gurley and Glenda Hogsett.

Following their wedding trip of two weeks to Arizona and Colorado Mr. and Mrs. Nash will make their home in White Deer. For traveling the bride wore a white crepe dress with white accessories and red roses from her bridal corsage.

Mrs. Nash, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Finley, attended Pampa High School and has been employed at Woolworth's for the past year. Mr. Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Nash of White Deer, attended White Deer High School and was a gunner in the Army Air Forces, spending two years in the Pacific area. He is now associated with his father in business at the Nash Garage in White Deer.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. R. Moseley of Kingsville; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beck and children of Mineral Wells.

Housewives Find Shopping Fun Again

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

The housewife once again feels her importance as the nation's number one consumer.

The door-to-door salesman is lack at his bell-ringing, using all of his persuasive powers to get inside and demonstrate his wares.

The stores are urging her to use their prompt delivery service. She has toted home her packages so long she still finds herself picking them up absent-mindedly instead of murmuring, "Just charge and send them."

Half price and "two for the price of one" sales are calling her out on early morning shopping trips. Articles she used to stand in line to buy are being advertised at "remarkable savings."

Those "one to a customer" signs have finally disappeared from the stores.

She has just returned from Ceta Glen where she was director of music for the Intermediate Camp of the Christian Churches of this area. She also led one of the cruises.

At Fort Worth Miss Adams was secretary of the Riverside Christian Church and director of the Youth Choir.

She is making her home with Miss Pearl Spangh, 316 N. Warren.

THE STORY: Sam and Flora have their first quarrel when the bills for Flora's trousers, which Sam had offered to pay for, come in.

Sam went in the back way. Flora was at the telephone in the downstairs hall. He heard her say—and so did Weyman: "Don't take it so to heart. He'll come round and be reasonable if you give him time."

AT Sam's suggestion Amy stayed for dinner. After dinner Sam and Amy had a long talk. Amy agreed that he had all been extravagant, but she claimed that it came from living in too large a house in too fashionable a neighborhood.

Tomato Growers' Strike Subsides

CLARKSVILLE—(AP)—The tomato growers' strike in this northeast Texas area subsided yesterday. The price of tomatoes which dropped to four cents rose Friday to five cents a pound and Sheriff T. F. McCoy said that growers were again patronizing the packing sheds. However, several Texas Rangers who with other peace officers were sent to the area because of threats of violence, remained on duty. The strike began Thursday when processors lowered the price they were paying farmers for tomatoes from eight to four cents a pound. Some farmers went on strike and threatened to interfere with others who were willing to sell at the reduced price. The tense situation eased, however, before the peace officers arrived. Markets here, at Avery, Dekalb and Boxelder were affected.

Manhattan Island's only farm covers five acres and is valued at $400,000.

Shamrock Legion Post Elects New Officers

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Jack Montgomery, owner and manager of Montgomery Chevrolet and prominent Shamrock civic leader, was elected commander of the Deshaugh George Post of the American Legion at a recent meeting. He succeeds Wallace Fields, who has efficiently served as head of the local post for the past year. Both men are veterans of World War II.

W. R. Ritter, Wheeler County Sanitarian, was chosen as first vice commander to fill the position held by Gerald Geyer. J. L. Hartsfield was elected to replace Rev. Edward C. Derr as chaplain. The other three officers were re-elected: Flake George, historian; Wayne Fox, sergeant at arms; and Norman Patrick, head of child welfare.

The new officers will be installed in October, following the department convention to be held in Fort Worth July 27-30. Legionnaires are looking forward to a successful year under the leadership of Commander Montgomery who has been one of the most active members of the Deshaugh George Post since he joined that organization soon after receiving his discharge from the Army.

Life of Shamrock Man Was Saved by Change of Orders

SHAMROCK, (Special)—A last-minute change in orders kept Captain James Chance of Shamrock from being aboard the army plane which crashed into Hawk Mountain, near Springfield, Va., early Sunday morning, killing all 11 of its crew.

Captain Chance, veteran air corpsman, of both the European and Pacific theatres, had just returned from Hawaii and had been ordered to board the B-29 at Tucson, Ariz., for a training flight to Bedford, Mass. Just before the huge plane took to the air, the local flyer received a change in orders which kept him at the Tucson air base.

The lost, storm-beset plane—desperately blinking its lights in a last signal for aid—buried into the granite face of lonely Hawk Mountain during the early morning hours of Sunday.

Lt. Joseph Lenti, medical corps officer, reported the number of dead after a 12-hour search amid broken trees and burned underbrush which the big B-29 exploded a few hundred feet from the top of the 2,300-foot mountain.

The huge craft, based at Tucson, Ariz., had refueled at Pittsburgh on a training flight that was to have taken it to Bedford, Mass. But it was far off its course and had been out of radio contact with Bedford for an hour and a half when it roared out of rain-laden clouds at midnight and circled above Springfield at 1,000 feet—or less.

Captain Chance is a bombardier instructor. He is the husband of the former Miss Majorie Partridge and son of Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Chance, Sr.

MR. WALLACE'S POPULARITY

Several columnists recently have devoted a day's space to an effort to explain the current popularity of Henry A. Wallace. And certainly Mr. Wallace is a phenomenon that merits some explanation. Every time he gets knocked down he comes bouncing back with renewed strength, to the accompaniment of louder cheers.

He got himself in the Presidential doghouse and was tossed out of the Cabinet. But that didn't bother him. He went abroad and made a series of attacks on U. S. foreign policy and those who have formulated it. He was scolded by the American and British press and castigated in Congress. His old friend, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, gave him the brushoff. One of the more-or-less independent liberal groups broke with him.

Yet he came back from that European tour to play to crowded houses across the country. His audiences even paid money to hear him—something virtually unheard-of in the history of American political stumping.

All the columnists that we have read on the subject of Mr. Wallace—including some ardent old New Dealers—have found him to be confused and wrong-headed on a number of counts. They have charged him with vacillation and contradiction. They have accused him of damning the U. S. government for policies which he excuses and defends in the Soviet government. They have called him insincere. They have called him an "innocent" who is being shamelessly used by the Communists.

But almost to a man these columnists have found the same answer for the Wallace popularity. Mr. Wallace, they say, is the answer to the American people's hungry search for a leader. They find that he fills the void left by Mr. Roosevelt's passing and that he inspires the people by his messages of idealism and his efforts on behalf of the common man.

In most of these explanations we have found an implied indictment of those who should be the nation's inspirational leaders, but aren't. Therefore, one gathers, Mr. Wallace is serving a useful purpose.

We can't agree with this conclusion. Not all of America's popular leaders have been great. There is a vast difference between the popularity earned by distinguished achievement and the popularity gained through an ability to spout vague generalities and windy promises. But you can't always tell the difference from the applause the two types of leader receive.

The initial popularity of Adolf Hitler and Benito Mussolini and Huey Long was of the latter sort. Mr. Wallace is not a Fuehrer or a Duce or a Kingfish. But his public record to date does suggest that his present popularity stems more from emotional reactions than from sound accomplishments.

Sometimes, in periods of stress and trouble, a nation is lucky enough to find a great leader. Sometimes it isn't. But the groping search is always a little frightening. There is the danger that the searchers will come up, as the Germans and Italians did, only with someone who can make them feel important and exploited at the same time, who can bolster their egos, nourish their self-pity and earn their unquestioned devotion by telling them only what they want most to hear.

He wasn't doing young man on a flying trapeze, but he sailed through the air with the greatest of ease.

A new weather bureau report based on an extensive investigation of the April 9 Higgins-Glazier-Woodward tornado brings to light an interesting story, as well as some amazing statistics.

First, the story:
A man in Higgins saw the tornado coming. He rushed to the door to close it but it was torn from his grasp and he was picked up and sent sailing through the air in an easterly direction.

He flew "at considerable altitude above the tops of some tall trees," the report says. En route, he was wrapped in several strands of wire. He was deposited on the ground about 250 yards from the house, uninjured except for minor cuts and bruises caused by flying debris. But wrapped as he was in wire, he couldn't move.

In the meantime, his friend, in the same house, tried to close the doors too. And he was picked up and sent flying—but in a northeasterly direction. He told the investigators that he wondered at the time why he was going in a different direction.

Miraculously, he also was deposited on the ground uninjured, and headed for his house. He found his friend, unwrapped, him and together they fought their way through still-high winds and rain.

There was no home left but the owner's wife and two children were huddled on a divan, uninjured. The dvan and a lamp were the only things left on the floor.

Now for the statistics: The storm averaged 220 miles (average length of a tornado is about 50 miles) had a velocity at the center of the funnel of 450 miles an hour (compared with an average 300). Was 1.5 miles wide at Higgins and 1.8 miles at Woodward (average tornado is from several hundred feet to one-half mile wide). It advanced at a rate of 40 miles an hour (compared with an average 25-30).

"This appears to have been one of the most severe tornadoes on record," the report said. It estimated the dead at 160, injured at 1,000 and property loss at $10,000,000.

Austin College Receives Jesse Jones Donation

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Jesse J. Jones announced yesterday a contribution of $40,000 through Houston Endowment Inc. for the establishment of a chair of economics at Austin College, Sherman, Tex.

Jones said the contribution, made jointly by himself and Mrs. Jones, will be used for a "John T. Jones Chair of Economics" in honor of his elder brother.

John T. Jones died in Houston last August at the age of 74.

A depression can create more Communists overnight than political witch hunters could track down in a month of Sundays.

BIG MONEY IN '48? by Roger Babson

Copyright—1947—Publishers Financial Bureau, Incorporated
BABSON PARK, Mass.—This is no time to make forecasts as to business in 1948. Personally, I think it will be better than most people predict; but when it comes to net earnings, after taxes, I fear they will aggregate less in 1948 than in 1947. The year 1947 should see the tops for such net earnings for most of the large corporations. With the public pressing from below for lower prices, with labor and taxes pressing from below causing higher costs, the net earnings of most companies are sure to shrink.

COMMODITIES are beginning to crack due to competition. Only parity legislation is holding up farm prices at the present time. Even the farmers themselves know that their present honeymoon will someday be over. Moreover, wages have not yet stabilized. Certain groups are entitled to further increases and will get them; but workers' efficiency will soon begin to improve. When we know some idle man is waiting for our job, we will speed up and give a dollar of work for a dollar received.

REAL ESTATE—with the exception of distressed sales—should remain at about present levels for some time further, although there has been slowing up in real estate sales. Inflation has always been in operation over long periods. The recent inflation epidemic has about reached its climax for the present. The next move within a few years will be toward deflation, followed later by further inflation. The price breaks which started in with the fish industry a year ago, are now threatening real estate and commodities. STOCK MARKET: If wages, commodities, real estate, etc.—based upon the money in circulation—are entitled to stabilize at around 50-100 percent above 1932, as the fiscal authorities claim, the stock market is entitled to do likewise. Therefore, when wondering whether to buy or sell any stock, it is wise to look up the price average in 1932-33 and add 50-100 percent. Moreover, it should be remembered that stock prices depend much more on earnings than on reproduction costs.

THE NEXT DEPRESSION will be brought about by one of the wheels of the business machine cracking. This will stop the entire machine for the time being. Perhaps the cracking wheel will be farm prices; perhaps foreign trade; perhaps labor unions; and perhaps government finance. It seems too bad that a depression seems to be necessary once in a while, but such is required in order to awaken in people the desire to work and produce to their best ability. If you will read the Preface of my book, "Fighting Business Depressions," published in 1933 by Harper & Bros., New York, you will see I then forecast on the fly leaf that the next severe depression would come between 1950 and 1955.

THE GREATEST DANGER of a depression comes through forced distressed sales in commodities, real

On the set of "The Time of Your Life," Bill Bendix was raving about the food served in a certain studio canteen. "That's the one good thing about the studio," he said. "In fact, they ought to release their food and eat the pictures."

Quick film career: New York actress Zama Quiggleham flew into town, did a quick five-minute scene with Betty Hutton in "Dream Girl" and flew out again. Zama plays her singing coach.

Paulette Goddard bought so many clothes in Paris, on a flying spree from her London film activities, that she had to hire a small plane to cart all the stuff back to London.

Humphrey Bogart has been gnashing his teeth ever since he learned the production schedule of "The Treasure of Sierra Madre" will keep him out of the Honolulu yacht race. He spent $15,000 retreating his Santana for the race.

THE HOLLYWOOD PAINS: Before R-K-O landed Eitel Barrymore for a role in "Memory of Love," there was some doubt whether she would be able to accept the part because of other film commitments. So for a couple of days R-K-O switched the role to a man—and Walter Brennan was penciled in to play it. When Eitel became available, the role was rewritten back into a woman's part.

Richard Ney just fired his agent. That reconciliation with Greer Garson hasn't materialized yet, with a divorce predicted in the offing.

Kirk Douglas will get one of the top roles in "Serenade."

Well, everybody seems quite amazed that a woman is in the group which recently got to the top of the McKinley. But I don't see why they should be. After all, when you get right down to it, women are the greatest climbers in the world.

In the first place, if men don't think we're climbers, just watch the way a would-be society matron bows until her girle squeals a protest, when a member of The Four Hundred passes by.

And then again, if you don't think we're explorers, just come with us on a shopping tour when we penetrate the wilds at the far end of main street in search of a strange market where butter is two cents a pound cheaper.

And if you don't think we're trappers, well, how many of you men are still bachelors?

LOOKING AHEAD

By GEORGE S. BENSON
President, Harding College

—S UP TO US!
Today it doesn't require a genius of a Barney Baruch to look into the future and see that America faces a great crisis. It doesn't require the wisdom of Solomon to "know" that if present conditions continue we are headed right into a deep and shocking depression so great that it might affect the fundamental pattern of our economy, and hence the entire future of the nation.

Neither does it require any special brand of genius or wisdom to know that the Americans could effectively correct the present conditions. We can, if only we would prevent a serious depression for many years. But it needs neither genius nor wisdom to know that we are not likely to so correct conditions as to avoid a depression. To do so would definitely lack. These proper things will not likely be done and the depression will likely come.

WHAT IF IT COMES
In the midst of a sobering depression, however, we might muster sufficient courage to do the right things and thereby shorten its duration. I want to outline those necessary steps which could prevent depression if taken now, and which would shorten a depression if taken after it is upon us. In the first place, there is required a brand of bold, courageous, forthright, non-political executive leadership beyond anything Washington seems likely to display.

In the second place, it would necessitate a lot of new, daring, venturesome, realistic executive leadership, which because of unfavorable tax rates, industrial strife, and general want of vision, we seldom see. In the third place, it would require from labor leaders in general a very genuine, honest, sincere, and effective effort to remove all practices and policies that hinder maximum production per man-hour, and that needlessly add to the cost of goods produced; and so on, of which we likewise see but little.

These three steps would bring about three conditions necessary if we are to prevent depression by the continued wisdom of this nation. We have not fooled ourselves into the foolish belief that these two great segments of industry must ever be at cross purposes.

In the second place, things would lead to an increase of at least 40 per cent in actual amount of goods produced without increases in labor cost. At the same time there would be decrease in rate of wages earned. This would rapidly increase the effectiveness of competition and would bring cuts in prices ranging from 20 to 25 per cent, thus giving a real rise in standards of living for the entire public, labor as well as all others.

A SIMPLE FORMULA
These lower prices, in the third place, would increase demand for our goods. American industry has, more nearly than that of any other nation, reached the mass markets. Our industry has produced goods that make the least of us vertiginously rich. And the end of this is nowhere in sight. This would also permit expansion of foreign markets, so soon to be needed. Full production would make our economy so healthy that employment and high national income would continue for many years.

This advice sounds extremely simple, and it is just that simplicity that makes it so worthy. This simple formula for prosperity of the entire nation requires only honest, intelligent, unselfish, courageous citizenship and leadership. May God raise up the leadership for the sake of this nation, our posterity, and the world. May we, individually exercise the intelligent citizenship the days ahead will require.

So They Say

An Englishman thinks he is moral when he is uncomfortable.
—George Bernard Shaw.

The United States should wait no longer to lighten the load on the American taxpayer by taking steps to restore German and Japanese economy.
—Herbert Hoover.

Some of the most important decisions in American history will be made in the dark, on the basis of fear and hysteria, unless there is a wider public understanding of basic atomic facts.
—David Lilienthal, chairman Atomic Energy Commission.

Everywhere from top to bottom in our government is a domination of the military in time of peace. This overemphasis of war preparation in time of peace will bankrupt every nation.
—Henry A. Wallace.

Beer was a standard beverage in Germany—as long ago as the 16th century and in 1516 German rulers seeking to protect the quality of the product, stipulated beer should be "brewed of barley, hops, yeast, water and nothing else."

QUICKIES

By Ken Reynolds

COMPETITION is bound to be very severe after the demand for goods has once been filled. The many concerns have gone into manufacturing new products or products which they have never manufactured before. This means a glutted market someday in autos, refrigerators, radios, vacuum cleaners, deep freezers, etc.—products for which people are now clamoring. This over-production coupled with increasing unemployment will surely result in lower earnings for most companies in 1948 even although gross business may still hold up.

Veteran Texas Aviator Believes Recent Air Crashes Due to Errors of Judgment

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A veteran Texas aviator who has logged more than 15,000 hours of flying time voices the opinion that most recent airline crashes have been due to errors of judgment by pilots.

Andrew J. Burke of Galveston, who has lived in Fort Worth, Dallas, Brownsville and other Texas cities during a career which began as a barnstormer at the close of world war one.

His earliest flying was in frail, single-engine biplanes, hopping up from cow pastures and taking passengers at a dollar a ride. Then he became a pilot for one of the first commercial airlines in the southwest.

At the beginning of World War II he connected with the Royal Air Force and ferried bombers across the Atlantic to England. Now he is operating his own independent, non-scheduled air service between New York and San Juan, Puerto Rico. Here in a quest of a couple of surplus C-54 Army four-engine planes which he can convert into 50-passenger transports, he had this to say:

"You can load up a plane with radar and other additional new instruments, but that won't materially cut down the accident rate."

"The real solution is to have more frequent and more thorough examinations of pilots. When a man gets several thousand hours flying time, he is apt to get a little too confident and neglect keeping in top shape. That's particularly true if he flies the same run for a long time—he gets to feel he knows it just like the milkman knows his route."

As a pilot with about as many hours as anyone in the business, Burke thinks he can express criticism of those in his age and experience group. He thinks the best pilots are young war veterans with about 4,000 hours of flying time because "they not only have youth in their favor, they're anxious to build up their reputations."

First of all, says Burke, there should be a wholesale replacement of top officials in the Civil Aeronautics Board.

He contends it is "filled with lawyers drawing up regulations about a business they don't know" and that veteran airmen should be in most of the jobs having anything to do with safety rules.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—This isn't really a city—it's a matter of faith. There is no such thing as San Francisco. You can see it on the map, and drive through it, and get run over by a motor car in it. But it isn't really there.

This is the second time I've been in it, but you can't convince me it really exists. It is like London in Shakespeare's day or Paris for restless Americans in the ten years after the first world war.

It is Ninevah and Tyre and a mist-ridden Babylon—well policed. It is the Far East in transfusion, and the old west wrapped in amber. It is a melting pot where the ingredients mix without anger.

San Francisco is a product that sells itself. The people who make up the place are glad to see you when you come, but they wouldn't give you a nickel to induce you to stay. They would pay money to keep from being a second New York, and they'd mortgage their homes to prevent becoming another Los Angeles.

They are one of the most history-conscious communities west of Cairo, but they never have got the idea that history doesn't keep on happening.

There is always a fog coming up here, and there is always a breeze to blow it away. That is what is known locally as the climate.

It is the only settled place in America where a stranger wishes in summertime he had brought along his long woolen underwear. When the hot sun sets he starts looking around for the penguins. Nature air-conditions it to the temperature of a Kansas movie theater in July.

San Francisco is grown up. Like New Orleans, it believes in food. It is the happy hunting ground of the finicky alimentary canal, a palace of the palate, be it steak-hungry or in quest of tapioca-tasting Oriental bird's nest soup. A shrimp is shrimp-sized here as it is in Copenhagen. If you want what the stature-worshipping Manhattanites call a "shrimp" your pocketbook is in pawn to a "prawn."

You have heard of the "Hollywood diet?" You will never hear of a "San Francisco diet!" A fat man here doesn't have to apologize every time he reaches for the olive oil. He isn't embarrassed to stick his fork into a well-flavored calorie.

San Francisco is one of the few places left in the world under a million population that is still lusty, gusty, sentimental and individual. It builds the country's most modern underground garage—but it wants to get out its six-shooters when somebody tries to abolish its historic cable cars.

It has both Alcatraz, the symbol of quarantine, and Treasure Island, which carried on the legend of the Golden Gate.

It built the great bridges of tomorrow without letting go of its bridge of yesterday, when the gold miners and clipper ships gave it the peculiar lustre it has never lost.

But San Francisco still isn't so. It doesn't exist and never did. Yet here it is. And while you're here—you have to believe in it. For San Francisco is purely a city of the heart, a projection of whatever you came to find.

Minister Resigns Pastorate of Church

PANHANDLE (Special)—Rev. C. R. Rietrick, pastor of the Assembly of God Church for the past four years, has announced his resignation, effective on Sunday, to become pastor of the church at Clarendon. Mr. and Mrs. Rietrick and Helen moved to Clarendon Thursday but will return Sunday for the final services.

Rev. R. F. Jones of McLean, will succeed Rietrick as pastor of the local church.

Red is considered to be a warm color; blue, cold.

Mayor of Panhandle Speaks to Rotarians

PANHANDLE (Special)—That names suggest certain actions was stressed by Mayor Ralph Randal at the Rotary Club program on Friday noon. His subject was "What's In a Name?"

Randal showed how the name of Jesse James brought robbery and murder to the minds of people. He also said that the name of Dr. Homer Price Rainey would always be associated with troubles of the University of Texas.

Visiting Rotarians, all from Borger, were J. C. Alexander, Paul Potter, Ralph Johnson and Bob Lindsey.

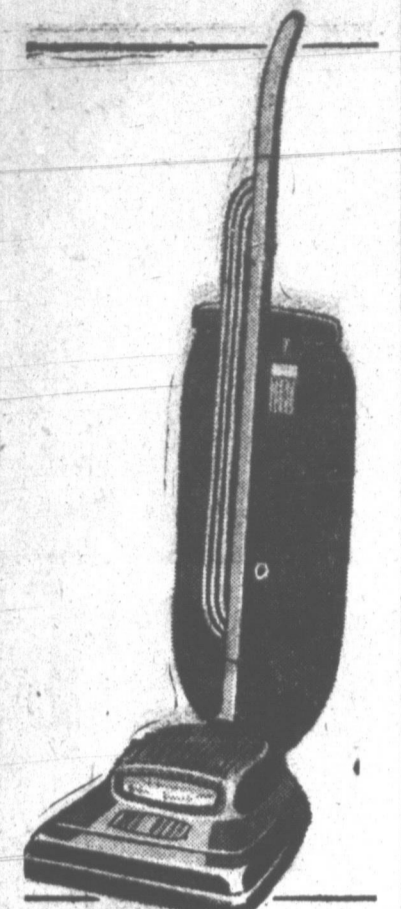

State Park Created At Independence

AUSTIN—(AP)—A bill creating Independence state park, adjacent to the town of Independence, was signed today by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

The Governor noted that N. H. Lee, executive secretary of the State Parks Board, was concerned about the new park being placed under supervision of the board "because the State Parks Board did not receive enough appropriations to take care of the parks they already have."

Jester advised the Board to enlist local aid for this and other parks, promising to aid the effort in any way he could.
