Maritime Strike Ties Up Shipping

NEW YORK—AP—Nearly 700 ships were tied up in United States ports today, NMU President Joseph Curran reported, in a work stoppage under a union "no contract, no work" policy.

The president of the NMU predicted that if union demands were not met by ship owners 1,150 ships would be affected in a few days by the dispute in which four other CIO unions are involved.

Although Curran did not detail the number of ships in each, he said 500 of the nearly 700 ships were in East Coast ports.

More than 2,000 ships would be affected, Curran claimed, if current negotiations between the union and tanker companies failed. Tankers are not affected by the president stoppage.

Although no pickets showed up at piers the work stoppage ordered by Curran went into effect shortly after the expiration of contracts at midnight yesterday.

The unions were insistent that no strike had been called but that the men would not work without a contract. The seamen were ordered to remain on board ships "as long as possible" and a union spokesman said that if they were ordered off, a "lockout" would be in effect.

Union ports agents said 150 ships were affected in New York harbor, 40 in Philadelphia, 40 in Baltimore, 40 in Boston and one in Portland, Me. In Houston, approximately 1,000 men quit work shortly after the midnight deadline and in Seattle, 2,000 Puget Sound waterfront workers were ordered to quit their jobs.

On the West Coast, contract extension was agreed on by ship-owners and the CIO ship clerks, checkers and supercargoes, an affiliate of the Longshoremen, and "tentative" meetings were scheduled for later in the day with the cooks.

Maritime Union Strike Spreads to Lone Star State

No ships were sailing today from Galveston and Houston as the CIO National Maritime Union strike spread to the Lone Star State.

About 500 seamen on 12 cargo ships in port today were instructed by their union to stay on ships as long as operators permitted. They were to continue routine work such as keeping stowage up and watching maintenance.

But they will not sail ships without a contract, nor will they sign off voyages. The order does not apply to tankers, colliers, tow boats or to the great lakes or rivers.

In Galveston, approximately 1,000 NMU seamen on 25 ships are involved. At a late hour this morning, H. Hoover, NMU agent at Galveston, said no orders had been received from national headquarters. He remained on his vessel, but none were sailing.

No picket lines have been set up at either port. T. C. Carolan, acting port agent for the union at Houston, said no lines had been ordered, and added the Houston group was following union instructions "to the letter."

He said the men will continue to do such work as is normally done while a ship is in port "unless they are ordered off by the ship operators."

If that is done, he said, the union will continue to lock-out and the ship immediately will be picketed.

Local Reserve Airmen Will Take Training

Plans are in progress to chart the flight of an army transport from Oklahoma City to Pampa for the purpose of furnishing transportation to Tinker Field, for all Air Corps Reserve Officers, it has been announced.

Officers who wish may board the ship here, go to Tinker Field, get in their flying time and other required work, and then return here by air the next day.

Date for the ship's arrival is pending settlement, while local reserve officers are being given a chance to decide how many wish to make the trip.

All Reserve Air Corps Officers that are interested in going are requested to contact Roger Townsend or Todd White as soon as possible.

Near-Record Floods Rage Second Time

KEOSAUQUA, Ia.—(AP)—The flood crest of the Des Moines river reached this little town early today, caused damage in the business district, and moved downstream toward the junction with the rising Mississippi near Keokuk.

Throughout Iowa the flood crisis had eased at nearly all points.

At Ottumwa, 30 miles upstream from here, the industrial city's 32,000 residents rode out the brunt of the flood yesterday without panic and with no reported loss of life.

At Cedar Rapids in Eastern Iowa, meanwhile, the Cedar River crested at 18.25 feet—highest since 1933—but did no major damage.

The Keosauqua flood crest of 25.14 feet was recorded at 3 a.m. (CST). This was the highest since 1903 and a shade above last week's peak of 25.12.

The flood inundated the entire business district of this town of 1,000 population to depths ranging from four to nine feet, major Norwood Feal said. The telephone office was isolated, and operators were taken to their posts by boat.

Keosauqua, like Ottumwa, was hit for the second time in eight days by a near-record flood.

The Red Cross and the Salvation Army were feeding most of the 10,000 persons left homeless by the flood in Ottumwa.

Ottumwa flood director Herschel Loveless estimated property damage at Ottumwa alone at more than $10,000,000.

Down the river Keokuk, Ia., reported both the Mississippi and the Des Moines river on the rise. A Burlington, Ia., forecaster last week said the highest peak in history would be recorded later this week on the Mississippi between Keokuk and Louisiana, Mo.

Laborers Are Needed In Wheat Elevators

A thorough check of rural industries is being made by the Texas Unemployment Compensation Commission in an effort to help in the placement of labor in the wheat elevators, chaff hatches, and other plants, Fort stated, practically all scopes of rural industries are served by our offices except the actual placement of laborers in the field.

Applications for work in the fields are made through the County Agent's office.

Through our survey we have found that there is openings for two experienced grain elevator operators in the state, he concluded.

Foresight and Hindsight

Sulyok Defies Communists With New Assault on Regime

BUDAPEST, Hungary.—(AP)—Deszo Sulyok, Hungarian Freedom Party leader, defied Hungary's Communist rulers today by calling an open political rally at which he was expected to denounce the new regime in even stronger words than he has in the past.

Sulyok infuriated the Communists Thursday with a speech in parliament in which he cried that "the wildest and most objectionable political terror reigns in Hungary." He said Hungary had become a pincers state.

The general opinion here was that there would be no attempt to interfere with the rally today, since many British and American reporters expected to attend.

Sulyok, considered by his friends to be the most courageous anti-Communist in Hungary today and the leader of the Hungarian anti-Communist element whether he likes it or not, called the meeting in defiance of what he said were "defendants of democracy" hired to prevent freedom of assembly.

Friends describe the bald, medium-sized Sulyok as entirely fearless and determined to speak his mind concerning his passionate belief in the ideal of Western Democracy regardless of any personal or political danger involved.

Sulyok was forced out of the Smallholder Party because of Communist intrigues at which he was reactionary, and formed the Szabad (Freedom, or Liberty) Party, which now has 18 members in parliament, including Sulyok.

Swimming Classes Begin Wednesday

Beginning swimmers of all ages are urged to sign up for swimming classes under the sponsorship of the local chapter of the American Red Cross, which will begin Wednesday morning at the Municipal Swimming Pool, will be under the direction of Don Humphreys.

Humphreys, who recently completed instructor's courses at the American Red Cross National Aquatic School at Ardmore, Okla., is qualified to conduct the courses.

Red Cross officials have stated that those completing an 18-hour course will receive Red Cross certificates of achievement.

Another youth, Melvin A. Sidwell, 15, of St. Jo, Montague County, drowned in a slough at the north end of the Lake Worth dam yesterday.

A coroner's verdict from Justice of the Peace Tom King said Owen McHenry, 42, shot and killed a woman at Dallas identified as Mrs. Jean Hogue, alias identified as Mrs. Elze Vinson, 31, and then shot himself yesterday. The woman was under indictment for fatal shooting of Raymond Schwarbeck May 2.

James Orland Wells, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Wells of Wichita Falls, was hurt fatally Saturday night when he became entangled in a rope and was dragged by his pony. The accident occurred near the Wichita Falls State Hospital.

ANOTHER DELAY

HASTINGS, NEB.—(AP)—The new automobile ordered three years ago by the Jim Carpenter family finally has arrived. But now the dealer must wait on the Carpenters to accept delivery.

Carpenter and his two sons, long without a car, had allowed their driver licenses to lapse and they can't be renewed until state patrolmen visit here again to give driver tests. The family does not know when that will be.

Petition to Bar Wallace Speech Denied

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Federal Justice James M. Proctor refused today to bar Henry A. Wallace from speaking at the government-owned Watergate Amphitheater here tonight.

The judge rejected a petition from the American Anti-Communist Association, headed by Rep. O'Konski (R-Wis.), that he order Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug to deny Wallace use of the Watergate Amphitheater, an outdoor theater in Park Lands near the Lippincott Memorial.

"These matters do not fall within the judicial realm," Justice Proctor commented in dismissing the petition.

O'Konski left the court building with a declaration to reporters that he would take the matter up in Congress.

"I am going to tell the membership of Congress that until our government takes a truly anti-Communist stand here at home, that we will not support any money to fight Communism abroad," he said.

Wallace, who is crusading against the Truman foreign policy, is expected to discuss his views on peace and perhaps also clarify his position in the 1948 presidential campaign.

His speech is being sponsored by the Southern Conference for Human Welfare, which was described by the House Committee on Un-American Activities in a formal report this weekend as a Communist front organization.

Krug's department granted a permit last week for the Southern Conference group and Wallace to use the Watergate. O'Konski's group urged a federal injunction against Proctor for cancellation of the permit.

Franklin T. Miles, attorney representing the anti-Communist association, argued before the judge that the granting of a permit for Wallace to speak in Watergate was "a violation" of the spirit of President Truman's executive order against allowing Communists to hold government jobs.

Miles said the issue of free speech was not involved.

The whole point, he contended, was whether the government should allow a federal facility to be used by a group sympathetic with those who advocate overthrow of our government by force.

Attorney General Tom Clark issued a statement saying the department opposed it "because one of the great responsibilities of the Department of Justice is to protect the freedom of speech guaranteed under the Constitution and the Bill of Rights."

"While I may not be in accord with Mr. Wallace's views," Clark said, "I believe our Constitution and the Bill of Rights give us a right to express his opinion. If we commence to abridge such rights, we are violating a principle on which our government was founded and has stood for over 170 years."

40 Families Missing After Flood in Mexico

AGUAS CALIENTES, Mexico.—(AP)—About forty families are missing and all may have been killed in a dawn flood that swept from two broken dams yesterday and today in the village of Viaducto Oriente, 40 kilometers (25 miles) from here.

Fourteen bodies have been recovered and rescue workers said it seemed unlikely there could have been many, if any, survivors.

The waters from Tullillo and Alcatraz dams hit the village about 4:00 a. m. Sunday when the little population was a bed. The great mass of water created a vast lake as much as seven feet deep in places.

Troops, the Red Cross and civilian parties are searching the waters in boats and the surrounding area in the hope some may have floated off with wreckage.

The water, now quiet, searchers said, covered 40 square kilometers (25 square miles).

Negligent Homicide Charges May Be Filed

Charges of negligent homicide were expected to be made today in connection with the death of Earl Collier, 22, McLean youth who died early Saturday in the Shamrock General Hospital as a result of a head-on collision on a hill crest on Highway 66 Friday afternoon.

State Highway Patrolman said this morning that investigation showed there was negligence in connection with the death of Collier and injury to seven other persons.

'Bill Offers Risky Benefits' Says HST

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Truman vetoed today the $400,000,000 tax reduction bill, virtually killing any possibility of a cut in income taxes this year.

The Republican-dominated Congress will vote on whether to pass the bill over the veto, but backers of the legislation conceded they saw no chance for success.

It requires a two-thirds vote to enact a law over the President's disapproval.

Leaders said that can be mustered in the House, which will vote tomorrow, but not in the Senate.

In a message to Congress, Mr. Truman said the bill "offers dubious, ill-apportioned, and risky benefits at the expense of a sound tax policy and is, from the standpoint of government finances, unsafe."

The President declared it offers "the wrong kind of tax reduction at the wrong time." He added: "Proposals for tax reduction must be examined in the light of sound and carefully related fiscal and economic policies. Unless they are consistent with the demands of such policies, they should not be approved."

Reaction from the bill's backers was immediate and, for the most part, caustic.

Rep. Kautson (R-Minn.), author of the measure and chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, issued a statement saying "the President's suggestion that we wait for tax reduction until next year is nothing but cold-blooded politics."

Kautson's obvious reference was to the fact that 1948 is a Presidential election year.

He declared that "the veto the President demonstrated" a sad lack of understanding of the needs of our economy.

Carroll Reece, Republican National Chairman, said in a statement that "Mr. Truman has committed his administration to continued support of the tax and tax, spend and spend, and elect and elect philosophy of the new discredited New Deal."

It was the second time in history that a President has vetoed a tax bill—and the first time one providing a tax cut has been vetoed.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt vetoed a tax bill in 1944.

The bill President Truman vetoed provided for reductions ranging from 10.5 to 30 percent in individual income taxes, beginning July 1.

He told the Congress members the time for tax reduction "will come when general inflationary pressures have ceased and the structure of prices is on a more stable basis than now prevails."

"How long it will take for this point to be reached is impossible to predict," Mr. Truman said. "Clearly, it has not been reached as yet. Tax reduction now would add to, rather than correct, maladjustments in the economic structure."

The President also cited this nation's "great responsibilities for international relief and rehabilitation that have an important bearing on our efforts to secure lasting peace."

Marshall's Plan For Europe Seen As 'Best News'

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The best news in world affairs during the fortnight's absence of your correspondent from this column was the U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's announcement of a plan for the economic regeneration of Europe, "to permit the emergence of political and social conditions in which free institutions can exist."

"The most disturbing development of that period was the consolidation of the Communist coup which destroyed the democratic government chosen by the people of Hungary and substituted a Red regime Moscow deems having had a hand in this—but what difference? The plot was carried out in the presence of a Russian Army which had occupied Hungary and come a part of the vast Soviet political empire."

These two events, for while General Marshall's program may not be a direct corollary to the Hungarian upheaval, yet his aim is to build a "like against a like" Red bloc which has swallowed so much of Europe already. His plan of reconstruction calls for the cooperation of all European nations which are willing to participate with America taking a large hand.

Last week in Ottawa President Truman pinned the American contribution down closely and significantly. He said: "I intend to support those who are determined to govern themselves in their own way and who honor the right of others to do likewise." In short, the American position is: "See MARSHALL, Page 6"

Western Europe May Be Forced to Organize Alone

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall and his top advisers have worked out an approach to what they consider the twin threats of chaos and Communism in Europe.

Their program will either unite much of that continent by this year's end or divide it worse than ever before—depending on Russian reaction.

Diplomatic officials say that if Russia holds to her refusal to cooperate it almost certainly will force the organization of Western Europe alone into an eastern economic federation.

This would mean Russia and the Eastern bloc of states would be cut off from any substantial American help.

Marshall is reported to hope this will not happen, that Russia will go along or at least permit some of the dominant countries to go along with the American proposal for some kind of economic federation of Europe. His policy apparently is one of an "open door" to Russian cooperation, if the door is to be closed, Russia will have to close it.

However, the probability that she will do so is considered here to be very small. Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson said as much in a speech at Middletown, Conn., last night. He told a Wesleyan University commencement audience: "The minority Communist regimes (of Eastern Europe) have acted to cut the people off economically from the community of Europe, curtail their productivity, and to bind them to exclusive economic relations with the Soviet Union."

'Follow the Rule Book' on Soap Box Derby, Boys Told

The Lions Club General Committee on the All-American Soap Box Derby to be run here July 20 stated today that all boys should follow very carefully all rules in the official rule book.

"All cars will be carefully inspected prior to the race," it was stated. Inspection will be held either Thursday or Friday prior to the races on Sunday, giving ample time for any minor changes that may be required in any racer.

A local official cited Paragraph D on Page 4 of the rule book, which says: "Remember... ignorance of the rule is no excuse."

Officials pointed to one other rule which should be observed carefully. It is on Page 10 (Paragraph E): "If the car is steered by swinging the front axle, axle movement must be limited so that the front wheels can move not more than 4 inches nor less than 3 inches off center."

Other things to remember, as stated in the rule book: "Glass is not permitted anywhere on the car." (Page 12.)

"(b) Itemized list. Each entrant is required to submit a complete list of all articles used in his car, showing the purchase price of each item." (Page 13.)

This rule, it was pointed out that it is not necessary to itemize each "object." For instance, wood used as an item. It is not necessary to show what each piece of wood cost—but merely to list what all wood used cost.

SAME AS YESTERDAY

JANESVILLE, WIS.—That old wheeze about "everyday new rules," does not apply to behavior expected of Hastings school pupils.

Dr. A. H. Staley, former superintendent of schools, who returned here after a visit to Hastings, said that the rules laid down for youngsters on Oct. 6, 1915, still command the same in force.

Truman's Principal Argument

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Here are the principal arguments President Truman makes against the tax reduction bill.

1. It is "from the standpoint of government finances, unsafe."
2. Tax reduction now would increase inflationary pressures.
3. Tax reduction now would add to, rather than correct, maladjustments in the economic structure.
4. Any surplus of government income over expenses should be used to reduce the public debt, rather than for tax reduction.
5. The tax reductions the bill proposes are "neither fair nor equitable." A "good bill" would give a greater portion of relief to the low income group.
6. If the bill were approved, these "inequities" would be "frozen" into the tax system and "the government could ill afford to make fair tax reductions at the proper time."

Carnegie Corp. Donates Money

NEW YORK—(AP)—Grants of $250,000 for an experimental five-year program to develop four permanent University Study Centers in Latin America has been announced by Carnegie Corporation of New York.

The project would be carried out jointly by the University of Texas, University of North Carolina, Tulane University and Vanderbilt University.

Dr. C. Carmichael, president of the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, said each institution would concentrate on a definite geographical area.

Arguing against cutting taxes while the debt is high, the President asserted: "A time of high employment and high prices, wages, and profits, such as the present, calls for a surplus in government revenue over expenditures and the application of all or much of that surplus to the reduction of the public debt."

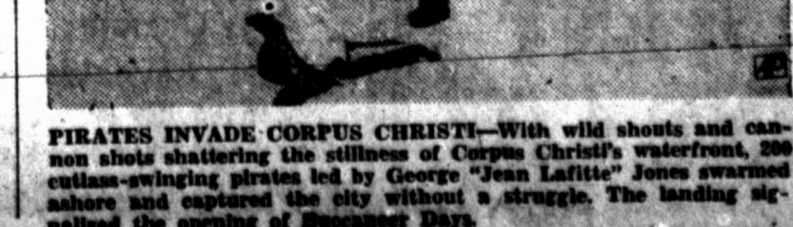

He continued: "Continuing public confidence in government finances depends upon such a policy. If the government does not reduce the public debt during most acute and inflationary periods, there is little prospect of material reduction at any time, and the country would, as a result, be in a poorer position to extend support."

60 Persons Believed Shot or Burned Alive

NEW DELHI—(AP)—The Indian News Chronicle reported tonight that 60 persons were either shot to death or burned alive when a mob of about 2,000 raided Tikri Village in the Gurjara District adjacent to Delhi Province Saturday.

About 800 houses were reported burned and about 200 persons injured. Eighty other houses were said to have been burned in another village attacked the same day.

Rioting between Hindus and Moslems has beset the area for several months. The report said Defense Minister Sardar Baldev Singh of the Interim government visited Tikri and found the village streets "littered with corpses and houses a mass of rubble."

YOUR NEW REGULAR ARMY WANTS YOU TO KNOW HOW VOLUNTEERS ARE SELECTED

OUT OF EVERY 100 VOLUNTEERS WHO APPLY

20.24% fail to pass the mental tests

11.36% fail to pass the physical tests

6.42% fail for moral or sub-standard administrative reasons

TOTALS

38.02% fail to pass

61.98% are accepted

(Based on figures for January, 1947, when 35,478 men enlisted and 1702 extended their enlistments.)

Would it surprise you to know that only about 60 out of every 100 volunteers for the new Regular Army can measure up to today's requirements for a soldier?

Only the top 60% of American youth—mentally, morally and physically—can pass the rigid tests.

There are reasons for this which your Army wants you to know:

1 The men we send overseas must represent you to millions of people who are struggling towards democracy. They must be typical of our best.

2 The truly modern Army requires a far higher type of soldier than ever before. The wide use of scientific material and the broad program of research necessitate a superior man. Your Army must lead the world in the caliber of its men if it is to provide adequate defense in the atomic age.

These are reasons why Army enlistment standards today are higher than ever before—why your new Regular Army, although comparatively small in size—is performing its world-wide duties well.

In Japan, for example, ours is the smallest occupation force per capita in world history—yet there is no record of greater achievement in such a short space of time.

If you can measure up to these standards, you will find enlistment in the new Regular Army a good career. You will live and work with friends whom you will value always. You will have opportunity for travel and high adventure, and a chance to qualify for Officer Candidate Schools and Technical Schools. Above all, you will have the deep satisfaction of doing an important job for your country.

Ask at any U. S. Army Recruiting Station about the many opportunities open to men who volunteer for three years.

A GOOD JOB FOR YOU U. S. Army CHOOSE THIS FINE PROFESSION NOW!

TEN-MINUTE WHITEWASH Some months ago the House Un-American Activities Committee, having investigated communism for years, decided to look around for any Fascist danger in this country. It appointed a subcommittee made up of Reps. John McDowell of Pennsylvania, Richard Vail of Illinois, and John Wood of Georgia.

During those months, according to Mr. Veil, the subcommittee's investigation of fascism consisted of one meeting. The meeting lasted 10 minutes. As a result of this exhaustive study the group has now assured the country that there is no Fascist danger in any American "hate" organization or "hate" attitude. Some of the reasons are interesting.

Said Mr. McDowell "There are groups here that hate Catholics and hate Jews and hate one thing and another. But as far as I can find, there is no evidence that they're dangerous. The only danger is if they join together, and you need money for that."

Mr. Vail said, of the Columbians, that "all these movements are relatively insignificant. They are of no consequence at all and are fluttering movements that develop in a country of this size."

He also said that it is the Communists who are "attempting to build up the Fascist issue," and further added that "I wouldn't know a Fascist if I had one by the tail."

When they dismiss the whole subject after an "investigation" consisting of one 10-minute meeting these congressmen reveal a complacency—a senseless, anesthetized complacency—which plays into the hands of any subversive element.

Perhaps the term fascism confused the subcommittee. Perhaps its member don't know what fascism is, even though the Columbians had a perfect blueprint for a Fascist state. But since they are members of a committee investigating un-American activities, they should be able to recognize such activities.

In Hollywood

all Hollywood wanted me to do was show my legs and chew gum. Besides I was getting old (she's only 30 now). There's so little time to get anywhere in Hollywood. In New York, you've got forever.

So June went back to New York and started doing stage plays—"Dream Girl," a revival of "Sadie Thompson," "Dunnigan's Daughter," and others.

"My billing got bigger all the time," she laughed, "but the plays kept closing." But the critics liked her and finally hailed her as an actress of great promise.

June gives the New York newspaper boys the credit for her escape from Gladys Bumps.

"They not only helped me up the ladder for success, they held the ladder for me."

SHE LOVES HER LIFE June returns to Broadway plays. June returned to Hollywood recently to play Madame Baranoff in the George Raft movie. She's following up this role with the part of a secretary in "Gentlemen's Agreement."

June Havor was quite a problem to the publicity boys when she first landed in Hollywood. The R-K-O publicity department called her out to a stiff meeting and told her to give up with her life story.

June told them the story. How she toured in vaudeville with her mother and sister, Gypsy, when she was three years old. About her first marriage, at 13. How she ran away from her mother and became a professional dance marathon contestant. How she started during the depression.

The boys listened, wide-eyed. But the next day a member of the publicity department took June aside and said:

"June—about that life story of yours. We're forgetting about it and writing you a new one. A nice, pleasant one."

June Havor raised havoc. "You can't change my life," she screamed. "I've lived it and I love it."

June won the argument. Her life story wasn't censored.

We would like to lead the world to ultimate reduction of the heavy burden of armaments but we can't afford to lead with our chin. —Navy Secretary Forrestal.

Peace of the world can be realized only when people are free from the fear of hunger. —President Truman.

WHO'S LOONEY?

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Every body has-haw-hawed when Henry Wallace in a barnstorming speech at Chicago several weeks ago proposed a positive peace program. It involved American investments and exports of $150 billion over a period of years to raise the standards of living in Europe and Asia. The general verdict was that this was just another of Henry's hybrid, cracked-corn ideas in a milk bottle.

But in the June issue of Fortune—self-styled magazine of business—there is a lead editorial three pages long which proposes an idea so similar to Henry's it will make your eyes pop.

It would be wrong to believe that this editorial was inspired by Henry Wallace. Fortune goes to press weeks in advance, and this editorial was probably in type before Henry Wallace got to Chicago. As a matter of fact, Fortune rejects Wallace's general philosophy with this comment:

"Neville Chamberlain believed in 1937 that the world could do business with Hitler. Henry Wallace believes in 1947 that the world can do business with Stalin. We believe both proposals to be identical fallacies."

Despite this the fact that Wallace and Fortune could come up with similar proposals should be significant or something, and the casual bystander is entitled to ask that old rhetorical bromide, "Who's Looney Now?"

The Fortune proposal is too long to quote in full here. Also it is tough going and should be read a couple of times by every business man to get its full meaning. It is addressed to the Boards of Directors of American Business. Its high spots are something like this:

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON By Ray Tucker Empire's responsibilities throughout the world.

"It seems to me," said Sir Wilmont in his organ-like bass, "that your greatest military asset, General, is your mass production. Without that assembly-line system which you have mastered so well, we would probably have lost both wars."

"That production system is based on good relations between management and labor especially in peacetime. In wartime, the government can step in and clamp down, and force both groups into a sort of armed truce. But, to keep that system in effective operation and in readiness for war, you must have good relations at all times."

Nobody disagreed with the distinguished Britisher, as they piled out of the Silver Room to ascertain whether President Truman had approved the Hartley-Taft Act. He hadn't. He had taken off for Canada with his attitude still a question mark.

INVITATION — Representative Francis Case, South Dakota Republican, recently boasted to eloquent colleagues that President Truman had promised him that he would visit the Black Hills country next summer.

Remembering the Chief Executive's veto of the Case Labor Bill, his fellow Congressmen were skeptical, but the Congressman assured them that Mr. Truman himself had accepted his invitation.

"Why, you trusting soul," quipped cynic Charles Brown of Ohio, "next year is a presidential campaign year. Of course, Truman will visit South Dakota. What you have done is to invite a political enemy to your state who will try to take your seat away from you."

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES A Very Bad Omen for the Future Few people realize the far reaching effects of diminishing returns on savings. I have just been reading an article in the Commercial and Financial Chronicle under the heading of "Government Controls Undermine Common Stocks as Inflation Hedge."

It is written by Howard F. Vultee, vice president, The Marine Midland Trust Co. of New York. He shows several tables showing the difficulty of people protecting themselves in their individual living plans against government social planning. He shows figures over a ten year period from December 31, 1936 to December 31, 1946. In that period he shows that the cost of living went up 54 per cent.

Mr. Vultee shows the results of $500,000 invested in government bonds, $100,000 in high grade corporation bonds, $100,000 in preferred stocks and $300,000 in common stocks. The income on this $500,000 in 1936 before taxes was $17,520. The rate of earning was 3 1/2 per cent. After taxes, the net income of the owners of this $500,000 was $16,615. In December 1946, the earnings before taxes were $17,891. After Federal income tax the earnings were $13,234. After adjusting for cost of living, the net income was $8,850, a shrinkage of 48 per cent to what it was 10 years before.

Now the pity about this whole thing is that the great mass of people do not think that makes any difference to them. They think they are not in that bracket. They think that taking the wealth from these men that have a half million dollars or more does not hurt the ordinary families and ordinary workers. That is where they are mistaken. It is only a question of time until the ordinary working man has to work with poorer and poorer tools because of this loss of income of the rich. They fail to see that in production the gain of one is the gain of all and the loss of one is getting all he produces is the loss of all.

LABOR Commissioner Morrison in England is telling the workers that they cannot improve their lot any more from taking more from the rich. They have been sapped of their initiative and their initiative possible way for them to improve their living conditions is to produce more, but they are finding it very, very difficult to produce more with such poor tools.

2. A series of massive U. S. loans or grants abroad. Some of this would come out of the hides of Americans in the form of taxes. But Big Businessman Beardsley Ruml is quoted as saying that nine-tenths of this money would be sent in the U. S. because "it has no place else to go."

The U. S. should encourage imports. U. S. businessmen will have to reject utterly the philosophy of that wing of the Republican party which would return to the days of high protective tariff Big Businessman Will Clayton is quoted to the effect that the U. S. could raise its imports by $20 billion with only good results.

Wherever U. S. money goes there should go U. S. engineers to help spend the money loaned. This is not to control foreign industry, but to make it productive.

It is not too much to hope that this plan might be organized between business and government." Fortune concludes, "What is the Department of Commerce for?" It asks without mentioning Big Businessman Averell Harriman who heads it. "Is it only to organize statistics and standardize pipe sizes?"

The National Association of Manufacturers only a lobby for organized selfishness. It is the International Chamber of Commerce merely a sounding board for stuffed shirts?

The alternatives are said to be One Last World War—the one that will never get into the history books—or Russia wins the world by default.

We are not working our way toward depression—we are working our way out into a fully competitive market. Robert Wason, chairman, National Association of Manufacturers.

U. S. PRODUCTION TO SERVE THE WORLD It begins with a proposal that a 50-year lease on peace would be worth $100 billion to American business. That's $50 billion less than Wallace proposes. But it's $2 billion a year for 50 years. This is considered cheap when compared to the $100 billion a year for the three years which the last war cost.

"If the U. S. businessman does not trust... the whole business process... into helping... save the world," says the editorial, "the world will not be saved. It's as flat as that."

Wars, it says, are caused by the fact that there is not enough food, shelter or goods to go around. The only way nations have tried to get enough in the past has been to go out and take it from each other by force.

The U. S. is the only country on the globe with an organized capacity to produce and re-produce. The idea is to put that production to the service of the world—not for altruism, but for world policy and for profit.

"We believe," say the anonymous editors of Fortune, "that $100 billion invested in peace now would begin returning net profits long before the first 50 years of our leasehold had run its course."

FOUR STEPS TO PEACE There are four steps which Fortune says U. S. business should take to make this policy stick. Remember as you read them that this is Big Business talking, not Henry Wallace:

1. A 13 to 20 per cent reduction in the U. S. internal price level. This reduction would be made "in the beginning" at the expense of profits. The cost would be $750 million a month, but as prices declined, purchase power would rise and the volume of business with it. This 15 to 20 per cent reduction would make it possible for foreign consumers to buy on U. S. markets.

2. A series of massive U. S. loans or grants abroad. Some of this would come out of the hides of Americans in the form of taxes. But Big Businessman Beardsley Ruml is quoted as saying that nine-tenths of this money would be sent in the U. S. because "it has no place else to go."

The U. S. should encourage imports. U. S. businessmen will have to reject utterly the philosophy of that wing of the Republican party which would return to the days of high protective tariff Big Businessman Will Clayton is quoted to the effect that the U. S. could raise its imports by $20 billion with only good results.

The Tollivers

THE STORY: A mysterious Mr. Jones buys the Carstens house and permits the Tollivers, who were behind in their rent, to live on these rent-free. Mr. Jones turns out to be Sam Nelson. This plus Sam's renewed attentions to Flora, starts rumors flying again. Father warns Sam that unless he intends to marry Flora he'd better get out of town. Suddenly Sam's long-absent Mr. Tolliver comes home.

XVI

FOR one had almost forgotten that there was a Mr. Tolliver, although I remembered vaguely that Flora had once told me he was a traveling man and was seldom able to come home.

He was a little man, hardly more than five feet four or five, with a leonine head and a great mass of long, wavy white hair, which he wore brushed back from a beautifully modeled forehead. Except for his mouth he was the handsomest man I had ever seen; his mouth was flabby and loose. I had thought of Mr. Tolliver, if I thought of him at all, as a sort of tramp, seedy and shabby and unwholesome. But he was immaculate—indeed almost a dandy.

When word was finally flashed around the town by telephone that Mr. Tolliver had asked formally by letter for an interview with Mr. Forbes, Otsego was like a chicken with its head cut off.

There are several accounts of that historic interview—Sam's, Nelson's, Father's. The one most relished is Weyman's.

Cousin Sam was waiting for Mr. Tolliver in his library. He had had Weyman set out the whisky and open a fresh box of Corona cigars. As Weyman showed Mr. Tolliver in, he came forward with cordial outstretched hand.

Mr. Tolliver bowed. He ignored the proffered hand. He refused to surrender his stick. He refused to sit down.

When Cousin Sam offered him a drink, Mr. Tolliver said insultingly: "I thank you, sir, but I am

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

BY HIAL BOYLE

KANSAS CITY, Mo.—(AP)—The man who has written some of the best books of our time never deliberately wrote a book in his life.

And he proved something—that man does have to haul off in an ivory tower to create literature. He can do it under the day to day stress of turning out a daily piece for the newspapers, newspapers which tomorrow a housewife may use to line a pantry shelf.

Mean Ernie Pyle. As his fame as war reporter rose in the early days of the African war, Ernie was subjected to many profitable offers from publishers who wanted him to write a book. His answer was always the same: "It takes everything I've got to go on doing what I am."

What he was doing was simply writing the greatest study of soldier life in war time in history. Eventually this became apparent, and this daily material was gathered into a series of books that will stand as the classic eye witness account of the second war.

These books made the little man with the half-pint body and the giant heart a national hero. Because he somehow synthesized the American fear and hatred of war and yet also the American character to go on and finish the task. The books also made him famous, embarrassed and rich—wealth he never cared for nor lived to spend.

Before Ernie became the spokesman of the American soldier at war he was the quiet chronicler of America at peace.

For five years before the war he traveled about the states, writing about the oddities and virtues of the country and people he loved, building an ever widening loyal audience.

This material has been collected into a new book—"Home Country"—and it holds the heart of the real Ernie Pyle, a happy traveler looking forward each morning to a new adventure. It is Ernie before war and personal sorrow had taken the zest from him.

"I hope some day you people will publish the book of mine that I like best myself," he once told a publishing firm. "That's the book with all the stuff I wrote before the war, the book about my own country, about home."

Man Is Being Held In Connection With Fire

Police today were holding one man in connection with a fire in a S. Gray St. home Sunday afternoon.

The fire broke out in the one story frame home in The Flats about 1 p.m. and caused an undetermined amount of damage to mattresses and other household articles. Firemen extinguished the blaze before it could do more serious damage. Walls and ceiling of the house were charred by the flames.

Witnesses at the scene said they saw a man break into the house and come out a few minutes later. Shortly afterward, the alarm was turned in and the man in question pointed out to Fire Chief Ben White. White took the man into city jail where he was held for questioning.

A conference between Chief White and District Attorney Tom Braly was held this morning and further investigations were launched by the Chief and City Police-men J. B. Pritchard and J. B. Manning, the latter being called to the scene of the fire yesterday.

The district attorney said this morning that no definite information has been gleaned by the officers so far, as they have run into conflicting stories. No specific charges have been made yet.

ican policy of aiding nations against Communist aggression—announced during the height of the Greek-Turkish crisis—is being supplemented by the new economic proposal which is aimed at saving western Europe from being engulfed against its will.

A vastly important aspect of the economic program is that it calls for coordinated international effort.

The Sovietizing of Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria were spots of rash, each of which gave fair warning of the real disease. President Truman took note of this last weekend when he denounced the governments of these countries as oppressors of their people. This was in connection with his signing of the peace treaties with them, along with that for Italy with its non-Communist government.

So far as Hungary is concerned, barring a successful revolt by anti-Communists it would seem to be lost to western democracy. Moreover, there is no doubt that only continued occupation of Austria and Germany by western troops will prevent communication of those important countries.

However Italy and Western Europe remain to be saved. The two key countries of this area are, of course, France and Italy. The powerful Communist parties in both these countries are making a fierce onslaught on the governments in an effort to duplicate the Hungarian

Texas Today

BY JACK RUTLEGE
Associated Press Staff

The Pulitzer awards in journalism are all right, as far as they go. But where are the Texans among the winners? Apparently the Pulitzer judges just didn't have time to check up on the good writing and reporting in Texas.

So the boss suggests our own "Texas Today Awards" for top reporters right here in Texas. Here goes:

The first Today Award goes to David Rasco of the Amarillo News for his feature about 84-year-old George M. Black, of Groom. It's one of the best sketches we have seen recently in Texas newspapers.

Mr. Black, says Rasco, has lived in the Panhandle longer than any person alive. He doesn't consider folks who have lived there a mere 50 or 60 years pioneers. To him they are just "kids and greenhorns."

Black looks so much like a Texan that he is a walking personification of John Knott's famous cartoon character of Mr. Texas. He is lean, has piercing, penetrating eyes under shaggy eyebrows, wears a Stetson and won't let a barber touch his handlebar mustache which runs with free abundance over his lips.

But he was born in London, England.

He came to the Panhandle in 1874 and knew Old Mobetie when it was a rip-roaring frontier town peopled by gamblers and wild women. Indians were the area's major headache. It was a hunter's paradise.

"The buffaloes going to water looked like a cyclone," he says. "There were literally thousands of wild turkeys, deer and antelope."

He knew most of the old characters, and although he didn't go to school, he received a liberal education by sitting in courts listening to lawyers argue. One of his favorites was Temple Houston, son of Sam Houston.

He says his foster father built one of the first homes in the Panhandle, near Graham Creek. "We were the first children there."

He was made deputy sheriff of Wheeler County when he was still in his teens. He remembers when Wheeler County was formed in 1879—and it was the first county organized in the high plains of Texas.

He has lived at Groom now for 31 years—"Just a little while."

"Do you think there's a future in this country?" he was asked.

"Future?" he drawled. "The future is already here. When I was a young man, anyone who would have said this country would be like this, would have been called crazy."

The stink pot terrapin of North America is so called because of an offensive protective odor which it secretes.

and stewards and the ACA.

A West Coast CIO Maritime Committee spokesman, however, said that "similar to the East Coast pattern as announced, the West Coast unions which are locked out will have their members remain on the jobs."

Pledges of mutual support by five CIO Maritime unions indicated that a solid front of 200,000 CIO Maritime workers would be involved in the stoppage.

The unions and their claimed memberships are the NMU, 90,000; American Communications Association, 3,000; International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union, 80,000; Marine Engineers Beneficial Association, 15,000; Marine cooks and stewards, 12,000.

The stoppage hinged on demands by the NMU and the ACA for wage boosts of 20 and 15 percent respectively, plus other contract improvements, and extension of the expired contract by the Marine cooks. The MEBA and Longshoremen on the West Coast have agreed on contract extensions, promised to follow the lead of the others in the event of a "lockout."

ports to the economy should a subsequent deflationary period develop.

But beyond this general argument against any tax cut now, Mr. Truman specifically criticized the measure Congress sent him.

He said it reduces taxes "in the high income brackets to a grossly disproportionate extent" and declared that "it would give a greater proportion of relief to the low income group."

At the same time, he recommended that Congress study and plan for a "thorough going revision of the tax system," consider not only individual income tax rates, but adjustments in the level of personal exemptions and changes in excise tax laws, gift and estate taxes, corporation taxes and "the entire field of tax revenues."

"H. R. 1 (the tax reduction bill) fails to give relief where it is needed," his message asserted.

"Under H. R. 1, tax savings to the average family with an income of $2500 would be less than $30, while taxes on an income of $50,000 would be reduced by nearly $5,000 and on an income of $500,000 by nearly $60,000."

"Insofar as 'take home' pay is concerned under H. R. 1, the family earning $2,500 would receive an increase of only 1.2 percent; the family with an income of $50,000 would receive an increase of 18.6 percent; and the family with an income of $500,000 would receive an increase of 62.3 percent."

Rogers Services Are Held in Local Church

Funeral services were held Friday for Mrs. Mead Rogers, wife of B. C. Rogers, at the First Christian Church with Beauford A. Noraris, pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Rogers was born in Clay City, Ky., and came to Roberts County in 1911. The family home is in Roberts County, 11 miles north-east of Pampa.

Pallbearers were Bert Meek, Joe Massengale, John Chesher, Ridge Russell, Ed Barnes, and Robert Montgomery.

Surviving her are two daughters, Mrs. Sylvester Padenezy, Houston, and Mrs. Milton Schutzeberg, Kyle; one son, John Thomas, Pampa; sister, Mrs. Sarah Craig, Dayton, Ohio; brother, George Fletcher, Dayton, and two grandchildren.

Burial was in Miami Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Boys' Ranch Policies Described by Farley

HOUSTON—(AP)—A lad at the famous Texas Panhandle Boys' Ranch can tear up everything he wants to during his initial week at the ranch, according to Cal Farley, president of the institution.

"We let 'em tear everything up he wants to for the first week," he said. "When he discovers that nobody else acts that way and that nobody is going to punish him for it he begins to see the light."

Such freedom of action, Farley explained is part of the ranch's "let alone" policy which has been very effective in training the boys.

Farley was invited here by the Houston Optimist Clubs, sponsors of the boys' home on Galveston Bay.

"I LOST 52 POUNDS!"

Wear Size 14 Again!

Mrs. C. D. Wells, Texas, writes: "I was continually trying different ways to reduce, but without success. I weighed 170 pounds. Then I tried the AYDS Vitamin Candy Reducing Plan and lost 52 pounds. Now I weigh only 118. Your experience may or may not be the same as Mrs. Wells but why not try the AYDS way. Thousands of others have lost 25 to 100 pounds successfully!"

With this Plan you don't cut out any meals, eat hard-boiled eggs, eat butter. You simply cut them down. It's simple. You don't eat any delicious AYDS, as directed. No drugs. No laxatives. No pills. 30 days supply of Ayds only $2.13. Not inflated with results. MONEY BACK on the very first box. Phone CRETNEY'S
