WET-DRY FIGHT MAY HOLD UP DRAFT BILL

Pampans Beginning To Feel Pinch Of Federal Limitations On Food

Pampans will have to tighten their belts more than ever if no easement is made on the Office of Price Administration regulations that have cut packers down on the amounts of beef, pork, lamb, veal and mutton. One large Pampa grocery store reported it had sold out all its supply of bacon Tuesday and did not have a pound of bacon in stock. The same store under the present government limitations, when it does receive bacon has only 80 or 90 pounds for 1,000 customers. "This looks like only the beginning, too," the store manager said. "There are dozens of other items that are going to be difficult to obtain, including shortening, oleo, and salad dressing. The situation has gradually been getting worse and at last we're feeling its effects." Asked if other stores in Pampa had similar problems, the merchant replied that he was certain they must have the same difficulty in obtaining meat for their markets, as all packers had been cut on the amount they can sell. Coffee is another item that is getting scarce. The same manager reported that whereas he once had a dozen different brands his stock was now reduced to two. First mark of the shortage was the result of the OPA limitation meat order 1, under which a packer can during the months of October, November, and December, slaughter by 80 percent of beef, 75 percent pork, 100 percent veal, and 95 percent lamb and mutton, as compared to the corresponding period in 1941. A Panhandle-wide meeting to discuss the situation has been called by Rex Baxter, manager of the Amartillo Chamber of Commerce. The session will be held at 1:20 p. m. See PAMPANS, page 7

Plea Aimed To Speed Vote On Vital Measure

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Senator Gurney (R-SD) appealed to his colleagues today not to offer any controversial amendments which would delay even for one day final congressional approval of the legislation to draft 18 and 19-year-olds. Gurney's plea, at the outset of senate debate, was obviously aimed primarily at an amendment Senator Lee (D-Okla.) has said he would offer to bar alcoholic drinks from military areas. Before the senate convened Lee reiterated his intention of attempting to force a record vote on the amendment, and said he would reply on the senate floor to Secretary of War Stimson's criticism that the proposal was "destructive rather than constructive." Urging speed in consideration on the draft measure, Gurney told the senate that each day congress delayed passage of the bill which he introduced, and which high military officials approved, meant that a day's training would be lost to the young men who are the backbone of our country in this time of need. "I hope that my colleagues will sincerely consider the inadvisability of offering any amendment which will, in any way, delay passage and, therefore, delay final victory for which we are all hoping, praying and striving for," the South Dakota senator said. Gurney added that he felt that if there was complacency anywhere in the United States about the final outcome of the war, it was in Washington. "The people are ready and willing to make all necessary sacrifices," Gurney declared. "They will send their sons to the armed forces in every-increasing numbers. They will continue to carry on at home. All

Nelson Forecasts New Curtailment Of Civilian Goods

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—New and deeper curtailment in civilian goods production was forecast today by Chairman Donald M. Nelson of the war production board in disclosing a program of scheduling essential civilian items exactly as military weapons are scheduled, sloughing off all but the truly necessary civilian commodities. Nelson told a press conference he had asked the office of civilian supply to submit shortly a list of the civilian goods whose production it considered "necessary to keep the civilian economy sound so we can carry on a strong war program." He acknowledged, however, that "there aren't a great many more civilian items which can be eliminated." The WPB chairman said he believed more than one-third of the United States population could be brought into the war effort, if production of food were counted as part of that effort. "If you do count food, I doubt if we can go as high as England," because we are supplying so many civilian economy needs to England, Nelson said when asked whether this country could reach the 33 1/3 percent participation in the war achieved by Great Britain. The new approach to the problem of civilian supply Nelson said, will be on "positive basis—we will direct the manufacture of so much of each item, instead of ordering the curtailment of items as in the past." "These repair parts for mines and railroads, steel and equipment for transportation and communications will be programed just like steel for the army and navy. The things not listed as essential will be sloughed off."

Voters Will Get Huge Ballot At Nov. 3 Election

A "blanket-size" ballot will be the final episode in the political calendar of the year, when the general election is held on November 3. Election day will be the first Tuesday in the month and polling places will be the same as in the first and second primaries, with some possible exceptions that may be necessary at places where schools are used. Absentee voting is now in progress and will end October 30. There are two parts to the official ballot, which measures 17 inches wide by 22 inches long. Upper portion is divided into five columns, one each for Democratic, Republican, and Peoples Unity parties, the fourth marked "independent candidate" and the fifth blank, reading from left to right. Bottom part of the ballot has space for voting on five proposed amendments stated pro and con in each case. Amendments Explained An explanation of the wording of amendments: John Tarleton appropriation—this refers to the amendment authorizing the legislature to pay for building constructed by John Tarleton college. Military instructors— which amendment would permit accounting officers of the state to draw and pay warrants for salaries to officers of the United States army and navy who are assigned to duties in state institutions of higher education. Anti-deficit— this refers to the amendment requiring appropriation bills passed by the legislature to be presented to and certified by the comptroller of public accounts as to available funds for payment thereof, limiting appropriations to the total of such available funds, providing for issuance of bonds to pay off state obligations outstanding September 1, 1943 and fixing the duties of the legislature and

Premier Hepburn Quits In Canada

TORONTO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario, stormy petrel of Canadian politics and severe critic of Prime Minister W. L. Mackenzie King's dominion government, resigned last night with an unexpectedness in keeping with his colorful and frequently spectacular public career. Without explanation the 46-year-old Hepburn surrendered the reins of the Liberal provincial government he has headed for more than eight years to Attorney General Gordon Conant and indicated his ultimate intention to quit public life and retire to his 600-acre farm in Elgin county. Hepburn said he would retain his cabinet portfolio as provincial treasurer for a short time and also his seat in the legislature, but would not seek re-election when an election is called. His decision came as a surprise to both political circles and to the public, though they have become accustomed to the unexpected during his long leadership of Ontario Liberal party, dating back to 1930—four years after he entered the legislature. "The joys of self-sufficiency," Milliken thinks farmers will stay on the farm. "That will hurt Lewisville," he predicts. Roy Gravley, owner of a hardware store in Carrollton, Tex., is optimistic. "When folks stop going to the cities to buy," he explains, "I'll do better." Jack Lewis, publisher of the Lewisville Enterprise, doesn't believe small-town merchants will benefit from rationing. "Big city stores will set up huge mail-order businesses," he says, "but

This Picture Has Nothing To Do With War!

Ordinarily you would find this picture on the woman's page. But we put it over to Page One today just so the men would be sure to see what's going on. That business on the young lady's head is a hat, fellows. They say it's a modified sombrero in dark green felt with a "chun" of violet crocheted angora edged with green. See what we mean? And, too, it's a relief from war pictures. After all, she IS pretty, isn't she?

Mackenzie Says War Should End In Year

LONDON, Oct. 22.—On the basis that he is a poor prophet who has to run away from his own predictions, I am now prepared to reaffirm a forecast of months ago—that Hitler would be a beaten man if he did not break through this year to the fresh resources of the Lower Caucasus and to strategic bases of the Middle East. As a matter of fact, I have been reaffirming it as vigorously as possible for the past two days in these articles. They have tried to demonstrate that the Allies might win the Hitlerian part of the World War by next fall if Britain and America rush to the kill right away with their bomber forces over Western Europe and Germany. The year is not finished and winter has not arrived. A lot of things might happen in a couple of months. The Nazi dictator continues to pour the blood of Germany's youth against the scarred portals of Stalingrad and among the rocky foothills of the Caucasus. It wouldn't be surprising if he made some further gains. Still, barring the appearance of black magic to aid him, we can discount the future and stand on what already has happened. Herr Hitler is mortally hurt right now and you can pin that in your hat. Recently I have put it to four distinguished generals, one American and three British, that the future already is broken. Every one agreed. I'd like to tell you their names but it is precisely because they knew that their identities would not be disclosed that they spoke freely. Now, don't get the idea that I say the war is over. It isn't by a damned sight. Hitler is on his way out but he still has all the ferocity

U.S. Warplanes Raid Sea-Borne Invaders Again

By The Associated Press
American warplanes were officially credited today with blasting anew at Japan's sea-borne invasion forces in the Solomon islands crippling an enemy cruiser and a destroyer, while on the New Guinea front Australian troops again drove the Japanese into retreat. The loss of two U. S. Destroyers, the 1,570-ton O'Brien and the 1,630-ton Meredith, was acknowledged, but the navy said all of the O'Brien's crew and many from the Meredith were believed saved. Meanwhile, China's Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek announced in Chungking that the Chinese armies were making all possible preparations for a counteroffensive against Japan. "The Japanese have reached the peak of their offensive power and are now on the decline," Gen. Chiang said. "Allied victory is certain." In the Solomons, powerful American and Japanese naval, air and land forces were reported jockeying for positions in prelude to a showdown battle for the 900-mile-long South seas archipelago. Regular U. S. army troops and marines advanced with the enemy in the northwest area of Guadalcanal island, but there was still no sign of a major Japanese land offensive to regain the prize Guadalcanal airfield. The navy said American planes continued to bomb enemy positions and ammunition dumps on the island and attacked Japanese shipping. U. S. navy planes scored at least one bomb hit on a Japanese cruiser off Guadalcanal on the night of Oct. 19-20, bringing it to a dead stop, and American dive bombers attacked three enemy destroyers near the same place Oct. 18, damaging one of them. In addition, 12 Japanese planes were reported shot down. On the New Guinea front, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced that Australian jungle fighters had cut into the Japanese flank in the Owen Stanley mountains and forced the enemy into a new retreat. An Allied spokesman said greater numbers of troops were now engaged on both sides and indicated that the Japanese might be attempting a last stand before their base at Kokoda, at the foot of the mountains, midway across the 120-mile-wide Papua peninsula between Port Moresby and the enemy invasion springboard at Buna. United Nations headquarters said Allied heavy bombers struck again at the big Japanese base at Rabaul, New Guinea, setting large fires, and attacked Japanese-occupied Timor island north of Australia. In the Aleutians, where American warplanes are carrying out a raid-a-day schedule against the last enemy base at Kiska, no fresh developments were reported. —BUY VICTORY STAMPS

Back-Bone Of Nazi's Crucial Drive Broken

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Winter's first snowfall whitened the steppes north of Stalingrad today as the Red armies reported a series of triumphs indicating that the backbone of Adolf Hitler's crucial October offensive had been virtually broken. It was the 59th day in the siege of Stalingrad. German field headquarters asserted broadly that further "stubbornly defended pillboxes and barricades were taken in the bitter battle." The Nazi command declared, however, that strong Russian attacks had been "repelled by the German and Rumanian air force." Capping yesterday's reports that the German assault was ebbing, Soviet headquarters and military dispatches credited the Russians with these significant feats: 1. Capture of an important hill overlooking the city. 2. Capture of another height through a Soviet flanking maneuver which overran two Nazi defense lines. 3. A major trench raid along the vital 40-mile corridor northwest of Stalingrad, in which more than 200 Germans were killed. 4. Recapture of several buildings in Stalingrad's blood-soaked northern factory district, where the Germans have thrown perhaps 60,000 troops and hundreds of tanks and planes into the attack. 5. A stonefall defense elsewhere around the fire-blackened metropolis. With his 1942 timetable already disrupted, Hitler now faces the swift approach of winter and the prospect of either withdrawing his siege armies or seeking them huddle in

Two More Convicts Captured At Mexia

MEXIA, Oct. 22 (AP)—Two long-term convicts were captured here last night, leaving at large only two of the eight who fled the East-ham prison farm near Huntsville Sunday. The fugitives were being hunted by Mexia officers and state patrolmen when a blowout just at dark forced them to abandon the automobile they stole and the negro they abducted at Huntsville after their escape. The convicts, Cora Hudson, 29, and Valton Van Jennings, 30, then struck out through bottom lands to a highway above White Rock dance hall and were walking toward Mexia when policemen recognized them, tired, hungry and unarmed. The capture was made by Mexia Patrolman Jesse Bozeman and Highway Patrolmen Frank Kireck and A. C. Crockett of Corsicana. —BUY VICTORY BONDS

What's Going To Happen In Small Towns When Gas Rationing Becomes Effective Next Month?

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

What will gas rationing bring to hundreds of small Texas towns and villages... hard times or prosperity? Will it kill... or cure? "The effects will be stimulating and worthwhile," says A. B. Jolley looks for "a financial and social rebirth... a rediscovery of

Bill Provides For Waterway Project

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—The supplemental defense appropriation bill to begin construction of the Florida barge canal but did provide for a $6,500,000 improvement of the intracoastal waterway; sheltered oil route from Texas to Florida. Senator Overton (D-La.) said last night he has positive assurance from army engineers that about $3,000,000 of the waterway funds would be used to dig a 17-mile canal connecting the industrial canal, east of New Orleans, with the rigoles, and that work would begin as soon as labor and equipment could be assembled. —BUY VICTORY STAMPS

Pacific Traveler Accidentally Killed

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA, Oct. 21 (Delayed)—(AP)—Lieut. Bruce Fahnestock, one of two American brothers widely known for their travels in South Pacific waters before the war, was killed accidentally several days ago in New Guinea, it was disclosed today. Fahnestock, who had made many exploration trips with his brother, Sheridan, died as a result of the same accident which took the life of Byron Darrton, New York Times War Correspondent. Details of the mishap have not yet been revealed. Fahnestock was buried beside Darrton this morning with full honors in a quiet, impressive military ceremony. —BUY VICTORY STAMPS

Snow To Fall On Plains Tonight

Bound to break into print, despite rationing and war, the weatherman today forecast snow squalls over the Panhandle and South Plains tonight, following a windy and colder afternoon today. The sun shone brightly in Pampa this forenoon, giving a sharp contrast to the weatherman's prediction. End of the rainy spell had even brought traces of dust flurries, but the Indian summer days are about over if the forecast proves correct. Pampa's Harvesters may again have to play in the mud, as they did against El Paso and Childress, when they play the Brownfield team at South Plains school, at Brownfield tomorrow night. Texas Scrap Metal Collections Near 500,000,000 Mark

DALLAS, Oct. 22 (AP)—Texas' record of scrap metal collections neared the 500,000,000-pound mark as additional reports came in here to Thornton Hall, director of the State's Newspaper Salvage drive which ended Monday night.

Reports tabulated late yesterday revealed a total of 453,711,999 pounds of scrap rounded up over the state, Hall said.

These reports were incomplete and included those tabulations from the start of the campaign through Monday night. Included in the total were 134,000,000 pounds of general scrap and industrial scrap, and 7,152,000 pounds of auto scrap.

At Midland, which yesterday held an all-out scrap drive, Clint Dungan, county salvage chairman, said approximately 2,126 pounds of scrap metal and 70 tons of scrap rubber have been collected in Midland county in campaigns held since Pearl Harbor.

Victoria, too, shut up shop yesterday and piled up enough scrap to fill a vacant city block.

Other indications that the drive would continue in intensity came from Harris, Denton, and Dallas counties.

The newspaper executive committee which directed a successful drive in Harris county said the fight for scrap metals must go on for the duration.

Mayor Lee Preston of Denton ordered an interark scrap metal drive there tomorrow and Saturday, and Dallas salvage committees urged building owners to look on the roofs of buildings which had elevators, saying they might find scrap elevator cable of high quality steel.

Tokyo Predicts Allied Attack On Burma Next Month

BERLIN (From German broadcasts), Oct. 22 (AP)—A Tokyo dispatch today quoted the newspaper Night for the opinion that Britain and the United States "probably intend to use the period from November to April for launching an attack on Burma."

"With the rainy season approaching its end in Burma," the dispatch said, "Japanese quarters expect a revival of operations in this war theater."

In November, it was said, road conditions will again permit moving troops and material on a large scale. After April, the dispatch added, climatic conditions do not permit large-scale operations.

WALL STREET
NEW YORK, Oct. 21 (AP)—Stocks settled into an irregular range today after profit selling checked an early advance to the best levels in nearly a year. The uneven retreat was speeded by a reaction in stocks and motors, leaders of yesterday's rise. A few industrial specialties clinging to modest gains but final hour prices for many of the key issues were fractionally under previous closings.

First hour dealings were fairly active and thereafter the market had frequent slow-downs. Transactions for the five-hour period were around 650,000 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Oct. 21 (AP)—Corn prices sagged about 1/2 cent a bushel at times today to lows for the year reflecting marketing of grain stimulated by expanding harvest operations.

Weakness of corn checked the advance in other grains.

Brokers reported there is much new corn of high moisture content coming into market and industries have not yet increased demand for the new grain. Scarcity of storage space is believed responsible for the selling since prospective government loan rates and high livestock prices encourage producers who can to hold their grain on farms, traders said.

Corn closed unchanged to 1/4 lower compared with yesterday, December 79 1/2-79 3/4; May 21 1/2-21 3/4; wheat 1 1/2-1 3/4; December 1 1/2-1 3/4; May 1 1/2-1 3/4; oats 1 1/2-1 3/4; rye 1 1/2-1 3/4; soybeans unchanged to 1/4 higher.

Sinking Of U. S. Freighter Revealed
By The Associated Press
The torpedoing of a medium-sized U. S. merchant vessel in the North Atlantic last month by a U-boat with the probable loss of three crew members was announced today by the navy.

The sinking raised to 502 the Associated Press count of announced losses of United Nations and neutral ships in Western Atlantic waters since Pearl Harbor.

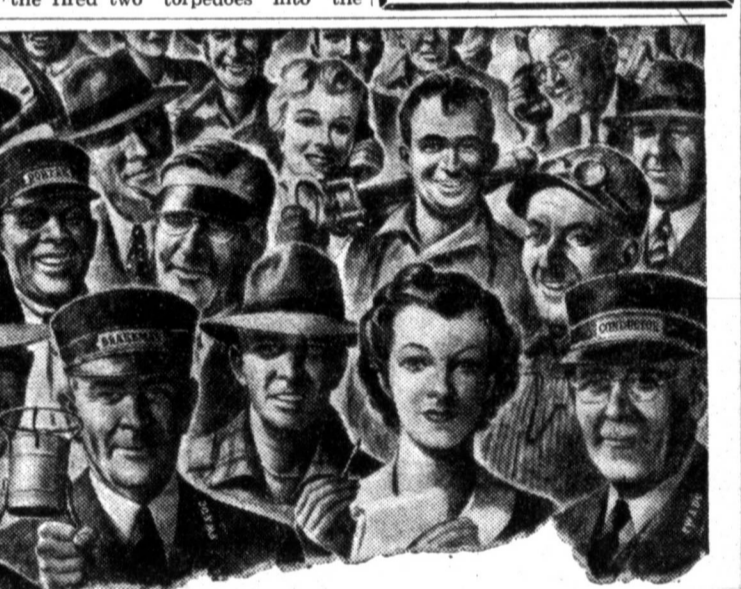

Servitors landed at an East coast port from the latest vessel sunk said that the attacking sub was not seen by any of the crew as the fired two torpedoes into the

Government Agents Capture 8 Aliens
MEXICO CITY, Oct. 22 (AP)—Government agents investigating reports of a secret Axis airfield in Chihuahua State captured six Japanese, a German and an Italian, the interior ministry reported today. It did not say whether the airfield had been found.

However, several days ago, after the aliens had been brought here for questioning, the ministry said it had no official information about such an airfield.

The ministry, in charge of counter-espionage work, said the aliens had fled to the mountains in fear of being sent to a concentration camp.

WE'RE ON ACTIVE DUTY ON AN 11,000 MILE FRONT

TO LOOK at us, you'd never think of us as soldiers. We're not dressed according to Army regulations. Certainly our weapons aren't regular military equipment. A lot of us are too old or too heavy or too something or other, according to military standards. Still, we're an army—35,000 strong.

The fighting front of Burlington Lines is 11,000 miles of railroad in thirteen states. Our weapons are locomotives and freight cars and flares, switchyards and semaphores, diesels and drawbars, ties and timetables, passenger cars and pencils, typewriters and tickets.

Our job is to make sure that both military men and material get prompt, efficient transportation in our sector—at the same

Federal Court Denies Dismissal Of Narcotic Conspiracy Charge
NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Defense motions for dismissal of a narcotics conspiracy indictment against Sam Maceo, Galveston night club operator, were denied in federal court today and it was probable the case would go to the jury by nightfall.

Federal Judge Francis G. Caffey also declined to dismiss a similar indictment against Joseph Schipano, of New York, and directed that summations be started.

Schipano's counsel argued in the opening summation that only one government witness, Louis Ruppolo, had given testimony involving Schipano and that his "word is not worthy of belief."

Ruppolo testified concerning the sale of $7,000 worth of drugs from which he said Schipano benefited.

Negro Mess Attendant Rescues Seamen From Shark-Infested Waters
HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 22 (AP)—A young naval ensign related last night how a powerful Negro mess attendant swam six hours through shark-infested waters, towing to safety a raft load of wounded seamen from a U. S. destroyer, sunk by the Japanese off the Solomon Islands.

The ensign was Robert N. Adrian, Ontario, Ore. He was wounded in the engagement, he said in an NBC radio broadcast, but despite his injuries he was able to cling to the side of the overboarded raft while the strong-stroking Negro seaman lashed his way shoreward.

Ensign Adrian said the mess attendant was known to him only as "French."

Texas Penitentiary Warden Once Teacher, Never Carries Firearms

By The Associated Press
 Some 1,100 inmates of the Huntsville unit of the Texas Penitentiary are learning fast the technique of a man over them as warden, who never served as a peace officer, carried a gun or acted in any capacity as a law enforcement officer. He is A. C. Turner, newly-installed warden. Only 35 years old, he began his career as a teacher and joined the prison staff in January, 1938, as a director of education. Learning that most prisoners were from industrial areas and would probably return to them, he inaugurated a vocational program that received national recognition. The program combined a well-known, tried-and-found practical system, with innovations introduced by the educational director himself. It provided for the teaching of basic courses under regular class-room methods, a radical departure from any method heretofore inaugurated in any state penal institution in the south.

Keeping abreast of the times, Turner early this year installed a vocational division to train skilled workers in war industry production which included airplane engines, mechanics, welding, sheet metal work, electrical and industrial training. Instruction was based on texts furnished by a large correspondence school which awarded diplomas to prisoners who finished the course. This helped them, upon being released, to find employment—one of the greatest problems that faces an ex-convict.

Turner recently received a letter from a young man who served a term for felony. The prisoner had been assigned to the prison drafting room because he had studied drafting in high school. He took further courses in the prison school and received correspondence school diplomas in structural engineering. Because of his studious attitude he was released on clemency and is now employed in the drafting department of an aviation plant, where he draws $450 per month.

An entire penitentiary building is set aside for defense training. Convicts study theory of this work three nights a week, and get laboratory instruction two nights a week on various engines and machines. When Turner became educational director at the prison, schooling for the inmates consisted of compulsory classes for illiterates and a few courses in typing and bookkeeping, dairying, poultry and animal husbandry. At present 43 per cent of the prisoners are attending classes of one kind or another. Warden Turner is a firm believer in rehabilitation through education.

He began his career in education by serving as principal at Canadian for three years and was superintendent of education at the Indian reservation in Polk county for three and a half years. After joining the prison staff he studied penology and acquainted himself with the operation of other state and federal institutions, visiting more than 50 penitentiaries, including famous Alcatraz. The new warden has been active in the American prison congress, attending three national meetings of the organization in the last four years. He is a member of the congress' national committee of education.

More Than Half Of Texas-Illinois Pipeline Finished

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes announced that building of 531 miles of emergency oil pipeline from Texas to Illinois was more than half completed virtually assuring the pumping of fuel oil about January 1. Ickes said that by October 16, crews smashing all records for similar work, had welded and laid 289 miles of the 24-inch pipe which will connect Long View Texas and Norris City, Ill., in order to bring oil closer to the east and shorten the railroad haul from the end of the pipeline to east coast consumers.

On October 6, Ickes added, the crews hung up a new record of laying 9.93 miles of pipe in a single day, during the same week, the same men made a record of an average of 7.02 miles a day.

Six Rivers, the Red, Little Red, Little Missouri, Ouachita, White and St. Francis, already have been crossed. The Arkansas river crossing is expected this week, and preliminary work has begun on the banks of the Mississippi river, below Cape Girardeau, Mo., for the crossing of the biggest water hurdle of the route.

Attack On Proration Orders Considered By Supreme Court

AUSTIN, Oct. 22 (AP)—A suit attacking certain railroad commission proration orders since March, 1941, and involving alleged drainage of oil from seven to 12 million barrels of oil in the big McElroy field in West Texas was taken under consideration by the supreme court.

Because of the importance of the questions involved, the court agreed to study legal points raised in a suit brought by E. C. Marrs and others against the Railroad commission to protect properties in the Gulf-McElroy section of the McElroy field in Upton and Crane counties from alleged drainage.

Chile Gets New Cabinet And May Break With Axis

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 22 (AP)—Chile's foreign office, long pointed toward maintenance of relations with the Axis, was entrusted today to a former war minister who expressed himself in agreement with President Juan Antonio Rios, an advocate of continental solidarity, on international policies.

The new foreign minister is Germ. Riesco, a liberal who held the war portfolio in 1919. He is the son of former President Jermalin Riesco and formerly represented the semi-official Nitrate Iodine Sales Corporation in Europe.

Riesco succeeded Ernesto Barros Jarpa, chief advocate of continuing relations with Germany, Italy and Japan, in a cabinet shakeup which had been widely demanded by pro-Democratic groups.

There was no definite indication of an immediate change in international policy. But the reappointment of Interior Minister Paul Morales, radical party member who initiated police measures against German espionage, was regarded by observers as significant.

The crisis developed swiftly after Barros protested a statement by U. S. Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles in Boston Oct. 8 that two American Republics were being used as bases by Axis agents. Neither was named but, of all the American Republics, only Argentina and Chile have not broken relations with the Axis powers.

Even as the new cabinet was being shaped yesterday, a throng estimated by police at 700 persons demonstrated before the U. S. Embassy and left a letter asking that Ambassador Claude H. Bowers explain Welles' charge.

Infantry Will Use Gliders First Time

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Infantry division troops will use gliders for the first time in airborne operations which will close the maneuvers now in progress near Fort Sam Houston, Tex., the war department reported today.

For several weeks, Secretary Stimson told his press conference, troops of the army ground forces have been engaged in the maneuvers in cooperation with the troop carrier command of the army air forces, which supplies the planes, gliders and crews for air transport of soldiers, and with the ground forces' airborne command, which has supplied instructors.

Lt. Gen. Lesley J. McNair, commanding general of the army ground forces said that support of ground troops by the army air forces has been an important element of the various maneuvers held by the army this summer and fall.

French Editors Take Leadership In Defying Nazis

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 22 (AP)—Editors of newspapers printed and circulated secretly in unoccupied France were reported today to be assuming the leadership in a campaign to defy conscription of labor for Germany.

Their work, more than any other underground activity, appeared to have a chance of coordinating individual resentment against the conscription issue, which, the Vichy correspondent of the Neue Zuercher Zeitung said, really involved "a decision for or against collaboration with Germany."

"This secret press has succeeded in realizing a unity of attitude among the people," declared the Berner Tagwacht in a dispatch from Lyon.

Sources here asserted it appeared clear that Germany was determined to take French workers by compulsion if Pierre Laval failed to come through as Germany demanded. He was said to have been given until Nov. 1 to announce the workings of a conscription plan, and until Nov. 30 for actual delivery of the workers to Germany. Foreign observers believed from the tone of Laval's speech at Vichy two days ago that he himself was not optimistic of success.

A question thus was posed individually for every Frenchman—the most direct personal problem to arise since Laval took power as the chief of government in Vichy six months ago. The Tagwacht predicted that "energetic reactions" could be expected.

The situation conceivably could become so critical as to compel the Axis to undertake the occupation of the whole country, although conservative observers thought matters had not yet gone that far.

Goebbels Thinks Everything's Okie Dokie In Russia

BERLIN—(From German broadcasts), Oct. 22 (AP)—Propaganda Minister Paul Goebbels acknowledged damage from Allied attacks in the west in an address yesterday at Gdynia, but declared "we are winning decisive victories in the East," a transoceanic dispatch said today.

(The broadcast, as recorded in New York, mentioned neither Stalingrad nor the stiffened Russian resistance in the Caucasus.)

The dispatch said Goebbels, making his first speech at the conquered Polish port, declared "we shall continue the war in the east until the Bolshevik power will have been finally broken."

He reiterated a charge that the British had begun barbaric warfare and air attacks in open towns in stating that "we have had wounds inflicted upon us in the West. "He said Germany maintained the initiative and stood on "secure military ground."

Humane Officer Forgot All He Had Been Taught

DENVER, Oct. 22 (AP)—Francis Sargent was bicycling when a Col. nipped his leg.

Sargent drew a pistol and shot at the dog. The bullet missed the dog, but grazed Sargent's ankle.

He also was stripped of his commission as voluntary officer for the State Child and Animal Protection society.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backaches, rheumatic aches, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Accused Soldier Is Declared Sane

BASTROP, Oct. 22 (AP)—The trial of Pvt. George S. Knapp, 38, charged with slaying Lucy Rivers Maynard, 8, was resumed late yesterday after Knapp was declared sane by unanimous vote of a Camp Swift general court martial.

Brig. Gen. Robert L. Spragins, court president, read the decision of the eight-member court martial, which said: "The court, in closed session and by secret ballot, all members concurring, has ruled that the accused at the time of the commission of the crimes with which he is charged, was not suffering from any mental disease which would prevent him from determining right from wrong."

PLEA

Knapp's plea of innocent, entered by defense counsel together with a motion for a sanity examination when he was arraigned Oct. 11, remained unchanged. The court heard one witness yesterday after Gen. Spragins ordered the trial resumed.

He was Maj. George C. West, staff member at the Camp Swift hospital and one of the physicians who worked 12 hours trying to keep the child alive after she was found unconscious in a pasture near Bastrop Oct. 7.

Major West testified the child's death was caused by a combination of brain injury, shock, pneumonia and cardiac injury.

Stimson told his press conference the projected resurvey would consider the factors of physical condition and the technical qualifications of the men now in service.

IPA Asks Tire Requisitioning In Place Of Gas Rationing

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 22 (AP)—The Independent Petroleum Association of America wound up its 18th annual convention last night with a plea for government requisitioning of tires and a 35-mile-an-hour speed law instead of gasoline rationing.

William Jeffers, rubber conservation director, today had not replied to the oil men's urging that he recommend gas rationing be deferred so the IPAA program might give the people an opportunity to demonstrate their ability to save rubber without such an imposition.

The association again asked an increase in the crude oil price and Frank Buttram, Oklahoma City operator who was re-elected president, expressed disappointment that Petroleum Coordinator Harold Ickes bypassed lightly the subject in his address telephoned to the convention from Washington.

SINKWICH'S PASSING NETS GEORGIAN NEW HONORS

He's Foremost 1942 Threat On Offensive

By ARNOLD DELBITZKI
CHICAGO, Oct. 22 (AP)—Georgia's Frankie Sinkwich, the nation's No. 1 ball carrier in 1941, is rolling up most of his yardage by passing this year and it's making him football's foremost offensive threat.

Figures of the American football statistical bureau today disclosed that in five games Sinkwich has accounted for 308 yards by rushing and 499 by passing. The total of 807 yards is 33 more than Bud Schwenk of Washington university of St. Louis had last year in the same number of games and Schwenk went on to a modern record of 1,228 yards.

If Sinkwich exceeds Schwenk's mark, his new found passing success will be largely responsible. In 1941 he ended far down the list in this department, but currently he is running fourth. The reverse has occurred in rushing where last year's No. 1 terror on the ground now ranks no better than 16th. But his combined talents have shoved him to the front in total offense, where he finished third last year.

Paul Governall, Columbia's passing wizard, is right behind the Georgia ball of fire in total offense although he has played in only four games. Virtually all of Governall's 790 yards, however, have come via the air. He has collected only 81 on the ground. Bob Ruman of Arizona was in third place with 773 yards, followed by Dick Fisher of Iowa pre flight with 677, Bob Steuber of Missouri, 648, Otto Graham of Northwestern, 648 and Steve Filipowicz, Fordham, 589.

Governall also is running second in individual passing, having 41 completions to 54 by Ray Evans of Kansas. However, the Columbia star has the better percentage of completions, .547, and has thrown 10 touchdowns in total yards gained with 708. The best percentage is held by Gene Dobbs of Tulsa who has completed 18 of 22 passes for 228 yards and an 81.8 mark.

Bob Margarita of Brown is the new leader in rushing, his figure of 529 yards being tops despite the fact he has played in fewer games—three—than many of his rivals. His nearest challenger, Ruman of Arizona, with 516 yards, has played in four, and Steuber of Missouri, with 498, has been in five games. Steuber is averaging 9.58 yards a try, far ahead of his 1941 record of 7.52.

The leading pass receiver is Cullen Rogers of Texas A. and M. with 17 in four games for 208 yards, followed by Otto Schnell, backer of Kansas with 16 for 228 yards in five games.

Bobby Chiers of Tennessee took over the punting leadership, kicking 21 times in four games for a 46.86 average. Next came Tom Douglas of Dartmouth with a 44.40 average in 20 tries.

Other rushing leaders were Don Griffin, Illinois, 459 yards in 4 games; Elroy Hirsch, Wisconsin, 443 in 5; Gene Fekete, Ohio State, 429 in 4 and Kennedy, Washington State, 397 in 4.

Among the passing leaders were Otto Graham, Northwestern, with 73 attempts, 37 completions and 482 yards; Sinkwich, 69-35-499; Dan Iels, Texas A. & M., 74-34-373; Pli-chock, Georgia naval pre flight, 54-30-397 and Bertelli, Notre Dame, 97-29-250.

By HARRY STUHLREHER
Head Coach, University of Wisconsin
A fake buck and a pass to the right and it was a Notre Dame favorite in 1922. Especially was it used in scoring territory.

Trailing Georgia Tech, 3-0, Notre Dame put on a march, set the stage for this T-formation pass. Gene Mayle, the right end, got himself in perfect position and I fired the ball toward him.

Fullback Paul Castner was supposed to block. Castner's man didn't come through, however, so he decided to put himself in position for pass reception.

Castner came from nowhere to make the completion and score the first touchdown.

It is a question whether Mayle could have caught the ball.

Knute Rockne had the setup of this play much better.

It was a pet of the T-formation in the Notre Dame game for years. "I really have nothing else to do," composed mostly of sophomores.

I would say that the success of this unscheduled play against Red Barron & Co. in our first important game had more than any other one thing to do with starting Notre Dame off to a fine season and enabling us to carry on the following two years.

Cricket In Arizona
MESA, Ariz., Oct. 22 (AP)—Until today cricket, to most Arizonans, was merely the name of a pesky insect that gnaws holes in a guy's best suit and attempts to cover up the crime with innocent chirps.

The more erudite westerners were aware that Englishmen played a game of rather vague description called cricket. A cup of tea somehow seemed associated with home plate—big parson wicket.

But that sort of misunderstanding is all past. Or is it?

Massillon Tigers Again Pack 'Em In

By FRITZ HOWELL
MASSILLON, O., Oct. 22—If the terrific Tigers of Massillon High school aren't the nation's No. 1 scholastic football team—both on the field and at the gate—the 26,000 fans in this steel-making town would like to know who has 'em beat.

Massillon's Tigers knocked over undefeated Steubenville 33 to 13, as 18,400 fans looked on last week for their 48th straight contest without a defeat; 72nd victory against a single loss and two ties in the last eight campaigns; and for a five-game attendance total of 74,000, with a four-game at-home average of 16,500.

That attendance average is better than 95 per cent of the nation's colleges can boast for their early-season home games.

At least, it's a better mark than Army, Cornell, Fordham, Navy, Princeton, Harvard, Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Alabama, Georgia, Georgia Tech, North Carolina, Tennessee, Vanderbilt, Denver, Utah and the entire Southwest conference have chalked up this season.

On top of that, Massillon is only 1,250 persons per game behind L. S. U., and 250 back of Stanford.

Games with Mansfield, Warren, Toledo Waite, Erie (Pa.) East, and Canton McKinley are still in the offing, and the Tigers hope to reach last year's 10-game attendance of 151,500.

Two years ago, in Coach Paul Brown's last season before he moved to Ohio State to set a new attendance mark of 486,648 for eight games, the Massillons drew 187,000 fans. That was a record for the Tigers.

Advice On Draft Age Reduction Boosts Football
PORT WORTH, Oct. 22 (AP)—A life-saving development for intercollegiate football for the probable duration of the war has revealed itself in Texas this week.

Officers of the army on orders from the war department are visiting colleges and advising students not to be stamped by the lowering of the draft age. The officers are telling the students that the army wants them to stay in school until they graduate; that the army, navy and marines will help young men get the education they need to become officer material.

Dr. Gayle Scott, chairman of Texas Christian university's faculty representative to the Southwest conference and liaison man between the university and the armed services, reports the war department's attitude of tremendous significance to every college in the nation.

"Projected to its logical conclusion it means the continuation of intercollegiate athletics on or near their present standard," says Dr. Scott. "It also means that colleges as a whole will continue to operate about as they are."

Arizona just night. Not only was the match in the local baseball park the first cricket most of the 300 spectators had seen, but it was believed to be the first ever played under lights anywhere.

Cadets of the Royal Air Force from nearby Falcon field shed their sky blue flying uniforms and donned appropriate cricket raiment for an "international" match between English and Scot teams.

The English won, 103 to 77, in one inning of three hours.

Harvesters Work-Out At Brownfield

Will the Harvesters above Brownfield off its high throne as undefeated and unscored on or will the South Plains eleven, or swimmer to the conference, continue on its winning path?

That was the question Harvesters sport fans were asking today as the Green and Gold eleven held their final work-out this afternoon on the Brownfield gridiron.

The game is called for 8 o'clock tomorrow night at Brownfield.

Pampa's team left the high school gymnasium at 9 o'clock this morning. At 1 p. m. the team ate lunch in Plainview, then went on to Brownfield. They are due to return to Pampa around 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The Pampa-Brownfield game is one of the only two 1-AA conference games slated for this week, the other being the Plainview-Amarillo tilt to be played tomorrow at Amarillo.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Oct. 22 (AP)—Signs of the times: when Southwest Texas State went to Abilene for a football game with Abilene Christian, the contract specified that the home team had to furnish the visitors' transportation, both ways. . . . Holy Cross won't have the benefit of scoring reports for Saturday's game with North Carolina State. The floods stopped Scott Hugh Devore at Quantico, Va., last week. . . . After Duquesne and North Carolina played a game without having a chance for intensive scouting, Coach Buff Donnell of the Dukes concluded it was more fun that way because the coaches first had to learn what the other team had to offer and then had to tell their own players what to do about it. . . . Maybe Buff didn't know that an ex-Duke at the North Carolina prep school had given Jim Tatum a few tips.

UNANSWERED QUESTION
A lot of ball clubs may need rebuilding before next spring, but don't look for much trading at the December meetings. . . . Saturday's asked Jim Gallagher, the Cub's general manager, about trade prospects and he summed up the whole situation this way: "Who is going to sell a ball player not eligible for the draft? And who is going to buy one that is?"

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
C. M. Gibbs, Baltimore Sun: "Perhaps the war is changing everything. For instance, there was Coach Frank Leahy, lying in a hospital. And his Notre Dame team shakes itself clear of the doldrums. It stages the biggest upset of the season by defeating the Seahawks. And no one said anything about the Irish winning for good old Leahy, neither before nor after the game."

Now it's Corporal Buddy Knox, the Dayton, O. heavyweight who is doing his fighting out of Bolling field near Washington. . . . And Joe Patrick, former New York rover hockey player and nephew of the Rangers' boss, Lester, has just been made a lieutenant at Fort Monmouth, N. J. . . . Navy Lieut. Paul Mooney, former Columbia coach, is looking for opposition for his Jacksonville Naval Air station basketball team, which may be as good as the football squad. . . . Ensign Endicott made a leopold. Harvard's All America guard last season is on submarine duty in the navy. A lot of opposing linemen used to think they'd been torpedoed when he hit them.

OUT OF BOUNDS
The football experting corner, having done better on guesses than on figuring so far, offers this week's choices right out of the hat: Wake Forest to catch Boston college in a slump, Georgia Tech over Navy, Duke over Pitt, Illinois over Notre Dame, Michigan over Minnesota, Ohio State (the old reliable) over Northwestern, Alabama over Kentucky, Tulane over North Carolina, TCU over Pensacola, Texas over Rice and Santa Clara over U. C. L. A.

DOT'S ALL, BROTHERS
Note on yesterday's boss race: Shut Out was. . . . There's another Joe DiMaggio coming up as a big time sports performer. The Yankee slugger's ten-year-old nephew and namesake is champion of the junior section of the Salesian Boys' club in San Francisco—at checkers. . . . Aldo Spoidl, the Italian boxer who was barred from a spot on the Cleveland card Tuesday because of a summons from his draft board. . . . Frank Perantoni, Princeton's star freshman center, and Penn's Bert Stiff, whom Frank tackled so effectively last week, used to be teammates at Blair Academy. . . . Arthur Donovan, the fight referee, must have known what he was doing when he signed up with the Maritime service. He is a graduate of the Merchant Marine Academy's schoolship, Newport, and spent two years at sea. . . . And don't say anything about tankers.

Every District In Action In High School Grid Race

By RICHARD WEST
Associated Press Staff
Ranks of the undefeated, untied high school teams will be thinned considerably before Sunday as the busiest week so far in the 1942 season gets underway tonight.

Forty conference games, bringing every district into action, are scheduled.

It all starts tonight with Kermit playing Bowie at El Paso; North Side (Fort Worth) vs. Masonic Home (Fort Worth) and San Jacinto (Houston) vs. Milby (Houston).

It's a schedule full of ancient enmities. For instance:

Paris and Denison, old rivals, square off Friday in what may be the best game. The winner has a lot at stake—probably District 5 championship and contender for the state title.

Then there's Sunset and Adamson, those two big schools west of the Trinity in Dallas. Both are undefeated in conference play. Sunset, with that master strategist, Herman Cowley, still at the helm, is a heavy favorite.

Big game in East Texas Friday will be the mighty Lutkin Panther meeting with unbeaten but tied Livingston.

Out west you can look for the fur to fly Friday when Plainview goes to Amarillo and Quanah to Wichita Falls.

Right now teams with unblemished records are Denison, Paris, Lufkin, Amarillo, Brownfield, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Highland Park (Dallas), Amos Carter Riverside (Fort Worth), Sunset (Dallas), San Benito and Sweetwater.

Six teams are undefeated but have ties: Livingston, San Angelo, Rampa (Houston), Port Arthur, Brackenridge (San Antonio) and Jefferson (San Antonio).

One of the outstanding non-district battles of the year will be reeled off Friday in Temple when Lubbock invades Central Texas.

These two teams, with colorful pasts in the interscholastic league, will give idea of the relative strength of west and central Texas football. Temple is a favorite.

New Manager Of U. S. C. C. Graduate Of Bayview College

By L. T. EASLEY
 WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A quarter century ago a hurricane swept in from the Gulf of Mexico and demolished Bayview college, located on a bluff overlooking the normally blue, calm waters of Corpus Christi bay.

That storm put an end to the teaching career of a Texan who later was to become nationally prominent in another field of endeavor. He is Ralph Bradford, recently named general manager of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States with headquarters in the nation's capital.

By coincidence, another graduate of that same little and now almost-forgotten college near Corpus Christi—Bradford had finished there as a student in 1912—also lives here and recently gained recognition in another profession. That other graduate is Miss Marguerite Rawalt, on the legal staff of the Bureau of Internal Revenue, who only a few weeks ago was elected president of the National Association of Women Lawyers.

The two have known each other since the days when she was a student at Bayview and he was an instructor.

Bradford is a native of Pennsylvania, born on a farm near Waynesburg, but early in his boyhood his family moved to Robstown. Later he lived in Corpus Christi, where he entered chamber of commerce work.

Miss Rawalt, in private life the wife of Major Harry Secord of the army air corps, is a legal resident of Corpus Christi. Her mother, Mrs. C. M. Bardwell, and two brothers, Louis and Willis Rawalt, live there. Her husband, originally from Michigan, now is stationed at Gulfport, Miss.

Recalling his own experiences, Bradford said that he had gone to Baylor university after student days at Bayview, then went back to the little college as a teacher. It was in 1916 that the hurricane swept over the college community of Portland and wrecked the school.

Not long after that Bradford went into the army in the first World War. He trained at Camp Grant, Ill., but never got overseas. After the war he spent the next four or five years as a salesman in the Chicago area.

It was by chance then, he continued, that he got into his present field of work.

"I came down home to see my parents in Corpus Christi during the Christmas holidays, 1923," he recalled, "and while there I talked before the Rotary and other similar groups."

"That led a few months later, after some correspondence, to my receiving an offer to come back down to Corpus to head the chamber of commerce which was then being organized."

During those brief talks before the Corpus businessmen that Christmas season Bradford had enthusiastically talked of the great potentialities of that section of Texas, how they had impressed him after living for several years in Chicago.

He says that it was no matter of foresight or vision on his part, that the business men there were fully aware of the potentialities of the area, but they liked his views and had asked him to come back to his old home town to take charge of the chamber they were organizing.

Thus he got into a profession in which he was eventually to become the nation's No. 1 man. He stayed in Corpus until 1929, heading the chamber during a period that saw the development of the deep water harbor there and plans formulated for construction of the present Hugle-Coast highway.

It was in 1929, while speaking before the Nashville, Tenn., chamber of commerce, that he attracted the attention of the officials of the United States chamber of commerce. He was offered and accepted a position as assistant manager of the commercial organization department of the national chamber. In 1939 he became secretary of the United States chamber, and last month was promoted to the position of general manager.

Bradford lives with his wife and son, Ralph Gordon Bradford, in a colonial home in nearby Fairfax, Va. Assuming a post that has added many responsibilities that war brings business concerns, Bradford briefly summed up his views with this comment:

"The big job for American business like that of every other segment of our economy, is to help win the war."

"Involved in that is the adjustment of business to war-time demands, including necessary regulations. At the same time, we're concerned with the post-war period and its problems, chief of which is that of employment."

Miss Rawalt had a distinguished secretarial career before she entered the legal profession. She served as secretary to two former Texas governors—Pat M. Neff and O. B. Colquitt. She came to Washington in 1924 with former Governor Neff, when he went on to the United States Board of Mediation. She later served as secretary to the late former Governor Colquitt when he was on that board.

While working as a secretary, she attended George Washington university here and obtained her B. A. and LL. B. degrees. She had done some work at the University of Texas after finishing at Bayview—which corresponded to the present-day junior college. In 1933 she obtained her law degree and in 1935 she was admitted to practice in Texas.

Upon obtaining her law degree she went to work with the Bureau of Internal Revenue. She is now special attorney in the appeals division, and presents the government's case in trials before the Board of Tax Appeals.

Because of the nature of her assignment, she is one of the best informed persons in the provisions of tax law. When the present tax bill is finally enacted, she must study it thoroughly, and study the reports and hearings that went on before its enactment, to be familiar with the exact intent of the congress in regard to all of its provisions.

When large tax-paying concerns, or individuals, contest the statements of the Internal Revenue collector as to amounts of taxes due the government, it is the work of Miss Rawalt and her associates to present the case to the tax appeal board.

Vital Information

In announcing details of the nationwide program for periodic inspection of tires on all operating vehicles, OPA called upon local price and rationing boards to appoint as inspectors all competent tire men of good repute in their communities.

Original inspection for all passenger cars must be made between December 1 and January 31 of next year. Commercial vehicle inspection starts November 15. An inspector's signature on the record card to be issued to each motorist with his gasoline ration book will be required in each inspection period before a vehicle may continue in operation. Inspectors will recommend re-capping or replacements of tires where necessary.

WPB has announced that excess stocks of heavy sole leather of military weight and quality, frozen by order M.80 in the hands of shoe manufacturers, tanners or other sole cutters, will not be released for civilian consumption. All stocks of sole leather not of military weight and quality are available for civilian use.

While the people of occupied Europe fight a daily battle against starvation, the Nazis manage to feed themselves well.

The Swedish newspaper, Svenska Morgonbladet, reports German authorities ordered the slaughter of 200,000 cattle in Norway to increase meat rations in the Reich. Each occupied country must supply its quota of cattle in order that the German home front can be bolstered by increased meat rations.

How well the Nazis feed themselves is tacitly admitted in the Hungarian newspaper, Magyar Nemzet, in a description of a gay party in Bayreuth:

"Party uniforms were everywhere. The evening tea party developed into a peace-time meal five or six brown-clad waiters were serving tea, which one has missed for some time, and plenty of sugar, which can hardly be obtained in Germany even with coupons.

Forty or 50 persons were present. No coupons were asked for or given—no coupons were necessary even for the sandwiches or goose liver. Sandwiches and other dishes were served constantly and every guest had enough goose liver sandwiches to correspond to one of his meat rations.

Nobody asked for coupons for the fine cakes and pastries which were offered in unlimited quantities, and everyone availed himself freely of this generosity."

Meanwhile, the Paris Soir said: "This winter, food conditions will certainly be hard."

A dispatch from Stockholm reports the Nazis have established another "death camp," a labor camp where Polish children must work 15 to 17 hours a day. Camps of this type exist throughout Poland, in Bohemia-Moravia and in Yugoslavia, and are part of the Nazis program to wipe out the Poles, Czechs and Serbs.

When the Berlin radio relayed the maiden speech of new Japanese foreign minister, Tani, it conveniently deleted his statement that "both nations (America and Britain) are not weakening in fight spirit and particularly the attitude of the American people toward the war is gaining in earnestness."

Since the Rumanian fascists aligned that country with the Axis it has lost more than 500,000 soldiers and officers, the Moscow radio reports.

Schwarzkorps, the newspaper of Heinrich Himmler, the infamous Gestapo head, is lecturing the German people about speculating on operations of the Russian front. In a recent editorial, the paper advised the Germans to rely on the official Communiques, condemns the "speculative spirit," and says the people at home look at the war problems in a "rather complicated manner."

The Czechs, who have been bullied and robbed by the Nazis occupation authorities, are now ordered to donate winter clothing to the collection program.

Yugoslav industry is being shut down to force workers to go to Germany. About 70,000 Croatian workers alone now labor in German war plants. The newspaper, Donauer Zeitung, reveals the effects by reporting the Yugoslav population is going about in rags, and leather shoes have long since been replaced by wooden shoes.

After the Allied air raids on the Balkans, Hungarian authorities ordered the electric current cut off two rules.

BACHELOR COURSE IS NOW COED
 RENO, Nev. (AP)—Since 1887 the college of agriculture at the University of Nevada has been the haven of men students. This semester it was invaded by Janet Rankin who registered for a major in agriculture.

War and a drastic shortage of farm labor forced Miss Rankin into her own fields to handle the tractor and plow. She became interested and decided to study agriculture at the university.

UNUSUAL PLANE CRASH ENDS IN DAMAGE SUIT
 LOS ANGELES (AP)—The unusual aviation incident of two planes interlocking in midair and landing piggyback has resulted in a $103,875 damage suit. It was filed by Robert P. Cabeen, III, who was in the lower plane as instructor, while both craft were piloted by students. Cabeen states he took over the controls and brought the two planes safely to earth but suffered severe injuries in the landing.

Girl Scout Membership Increases Over 5,000 Per Cent In 25 Years

Membership in the Girl Scout national organization has increased 5,565.2 per cent in less than 25 years. At the end of 1917, the Girl Scout national organization numbered 12,412 registered members, and at the end of August this year that figure had grown to 725,830 members. Both totals include adult volunteers as well as girl members.

There is now a total of 397 registered members in the Pampa Council, 300 girls and 97 volunteer adult members. In addition to this there are now three fully organized troops who are holding meetings but are not as yet registered with the council. When these troops become registered soon, the total will far exceed the 400 mark. To show the growth Girl Scouting has made in Pampa these figures should be compared with those of two years ago. In September 1940, there were 97 registered Girl Scouts and Scouters in Pampa. In October 1941 the number had increased to 10 troops with an enrollment of 104 girls and 22 adults making a total of 216 registered through the local council. So with the enrollment nearly doubled in the last year, the local figures compare favorably with the national registrations.

The present membership is the highest in the 30-year history of Girl Scouting and includes a gain of more than 55,000 since the beginning of the year. This increase in membership is particularly significant at this time because, despite wartime dislocation of families, demands of other interests and a host of other factors, it demonstrates forcibly that Girl Scouting is recognized as a powerful factor for community good—both for the community and for the girls who are participating in its program.

An even greater rate of membership increase is expected in the near future for Scouts are being asked nationally and locally to extend their program to an even greater number of girls to make Girl Scouting available as far as it is humanly possible to every girl who wants to become a Girl Scout.

Miss Sallie Cahill, local director and any of the many troop leaders in Pampa, can tell of many girls in Pampa who are clamoring for admittance to a troop. The need for leaders is great and anyone can feel they are doing a worthwhile job when they take over a Girl Scout troop.

A five point plan has been approved for the expansion of the Girl Scout membership, as follows: Increase of leadership; increase of the number of girls in troops; extension of troops to an even greater number of communities; development of activities and extension of program for Senior girls, (15 to 18); closer cooperation in community planning to meet the problems of girls in migratory groups, in defense and industrial areas.

Flowered Frock

We can't give you any name for these flowers, but they DO add unlimited glamour to this young, slim fitting, back buttoning princess frock. Imagine this style in a subtly checked wool or rayon crepe with a flash of color applied in these glan size poses—the dress couldn't be anything but a WINNER.

Pattern No. 8272 is in sizes 11, 13, 15, 17 and 19. Size 13 with short sleeves takes 3 1/4 yards 39-inch material, 1/4 yard contrast for appliques.

YOUR ELECTRIC WASHER
Your electric washer is going to have to last for some time, so here are some do's and don'ts that should be observed. Do store the washer in a clean dry place, slipcover if possible; do have periodic checkups by a qualified service man. Don't overload, it's hard on the motor; don't use rubber parts disrespectfully, such as tramping on the rubber cord, winding clothes with sharp buttons, hooks and eyes and such through the wringer, storing machine without releasing wringer pressure; don't put washer away without thoroughly rinsing and drying inside, wiping off outside.

Mind Your Manners

1. If a bride's father is not living, would it be correct for her mother to give her away?
2. Who traditionally proposes a toast to the bride and groom at a wedding reception?
3. Is it correct for the bride's mother to serve as her daughter's matron of honor?
4. May women guests to an afternoon garden wedding wear large picture hats?
5. Is it correct for the marriage ceremony itself to take place in a garden or should the marriage take place indoors, even though the reception is to be in the garden?
What would you do if—
You are a bridesmaid whose wedding is to take place in the late afternoon during a summer month—
Dorothy Keller, Imogene Keller, and Aileen Eaton.

Following the discussion, refreshments were served by the hostess.

Air Force Offer Expires Oct. 31

October 31 is the deadline for men to take advantage of the army air forces offer to enlist directly as technicians and mechanics. Lt. Theodore F. Keller of the Pampa Army Air Forces advanced flying school, said today. "Time is growing short and those men who'd like to take an active part in the war will receive training that will be valuable to them after the war, yet they can still remain close to home. It's the best offer the army has ever made", Lieutenant Keller said. Under the plan, men between 18 and 50, with a knowledge, not essentially expert, of mechanics and radio may enlist directly in the air forces. They will be stationed in fields of the training center. If the field nearest their home has not filled its quota, they will be sent to that field after induction and basic training has been completed. "All the men we have recruited will be returned to the Pampa Advanced flying school, which means they will be in the army doing their part and still have a chance to remain close to their families", explained the lieutenant. Wheeler and Shamrock were visited today by representatives of the Pampa school.

Recruiters of the school were at the Wheeler postoffice from 9 a. m. to noon today, then at the Shamrock postoffice at 1 o'clock this afternoon, where they will remain until 5 p. m. Schedule for the recruiters for the rest of the week will be calls at the following postoffices: Berger, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Friday; Pampa, 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Saturday. Beginning Monday, the schedule will be: Perryton, 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.; Canadian, 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m.; LeFors, 1 a. m. to 12 noon, Tuesday; Mc-

FLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

About Congress

From time to time we have said some unpleasant things about congress and congressmen. Apparently our words hurt. We meant everything we said, and as yet have been given no reason to take back any word or thought.

Nevertheless there is the chance that we were unfair in the aggregate because we were criticizing specific failures of congress, and could not pause to fit each into a dispassionate overall perspective.

We believe that congress, by its actions and attitudes, is doing itself incalculable harm and we believe that anything which damages the prestige of congress as an institution constitutes a serious threat to the very heart of democracy.

We can not conceive of democracy functioning without a strong, alert, capable, informed, courageous representative legislative branch.

The present congress as a whole is not strong, or alert, or informed, or courageous. Many congressmen are capable, but congress is not. Neither is congress in the true sense representative.

Congressmen individually, so far as they can see the light, try to represent those organized groups which have influence in the congressmen's districts, which of course are mostly special interest pressure groups.

But congressmen as a whole do not represent the people of the United States as a whole. Therefore, by a process of log-rolling and mutual backscratching, major legislation is made into a hodgepodge of catch-vote items that in the long run injure the very people they are designed to help.

Here, then, is the offset. We do not feel that this congress is particularly worse than its predecessors in recent times. We do not feel that most congressmen are deliberately and consciously subverting the national interest for selfish reasons—though some obviously are.

Over a period of decades congress has permitted its machinery to deteriorate. Its members have fallen prey to the loudest and most frightening lobbyists. In the current setting, only a near-genius congressman can consistently follow the straight and narrow path of national interest. Since most members do not approach geniuses, but merely rather capable specimens of the genus citizen, they go astray much too often.

Manpower Needs
There are many differing theories as to the measurement of this country's manpower crisis. They range from the theoretically ideal—the ratio-of-workers-to-soldiers idea—to the pessimistically practical—the that's-all-there-is, we've-got-to-stop this.

The American people will be greatly reassured by the report on the performance of American army airplanes made by the aviation subcommittee of the house military affairs committee.

Common Ground

"I speak the pass-word primal. I give the sign of democracy. By God I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."

ROOSEVELT PICKS PECULIAR AUTHORITY AS GUIDE

For a man who professes to be fighting for the rights of all mankind to select Robert E. Lee as an example worth imitating, is certainly an absurdity. This is what President Roosevelt did in his recent Columbus Day address. He was objecting to criticism, especially newspaper critics.

It seems that Robert E. Lee also objected to newspaper critics, as the President quoted Lee with sarcastically remarking "on the tragic fact that in the war of his day all the best generals were apparently working on newspapers instead of in the Army."

Selecting Robert E. Lee as a man worthy of imitating, certainly does not show good judgment. It will be remembered that Robert E. Lee was fighting to preserve slavery. It is also worth noting that Robert E. Lee lost his side of the war.

And if we persist in permitting our leadership to follow any totalitarian fancy without having courage enough to accept criticism, then we will be more likely to lose the war, just as Robert E. Lee lost his side of the war.

Certainly the President could have selected a man as an example who was successful and stood for principles more in harmony with the principles of the North side rather than a man who lost and stood for slavery.

IMPERSONAL RULES TO MEASURE GREAT LEADERSHIP CONTEST

This column has been attempting to stimulate a better understanding of the impersonal rules necessary to measure great leadership. Prizes amounting to $150 have been offered. The amount will be divided into 10 prizes, $30 going to the best over-all article of 400 words or less submitted by Tuesday, October 27.

Those articles that have already come in indicate that the contestants failed to realize the essence of the contest is impersonal rules, rather than arbitrary opinions.

It is understood that great leadership means any leadership that will result in the most happiness, goodwill, tranquility and enabling every individual as well as posterity to receive a larger reward for a given amount of sacrifice.

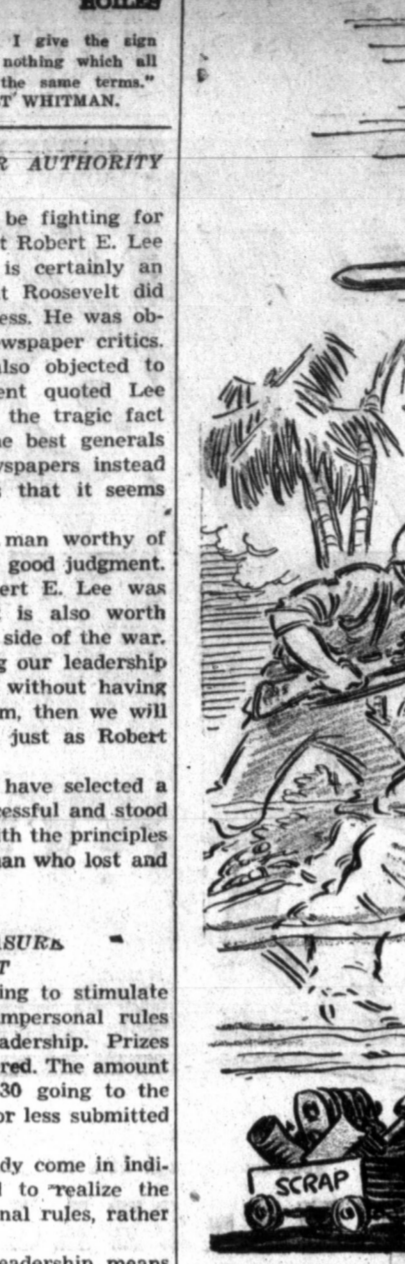

Three judges, who are not connected with any of the publications sponsoring the prizes, will be named to select the winning contributions. The contributions will be numbered and the judges will not even know the names of the contributors.

Those desiring further details of the offer can secure copies of the original offer from the editorial office of this publication.

As stated previously, the service which the winners will render to their fellowman will be of more real benefit to them than the money they receive. There is nothing that will do more to promote our general well-being than properly understanding the impersonal rules that measure great leadership.

Get your thinking caps on and write your impersonal rules of measuring leadership whether you submit them or not. Putting one's thoughts in writing and attempting to reduce them to impersonal rules will be beneficial to everyone.

INDEPENDENCE: The inside story of the appointment of James F. Byrnes as National Economic Stabilizer is that it was forced upon the administration by an angry crowd of influential Democrats on Capitol Hill, mostly committee chairmen.

AROUND HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

Off the sound track: Director Preston Sturges likes to tell people that he built a Hollywood night club, "The Players, especially for Harry Rosenthal." "I like his music and I wanted him where I could find him."

Harry Rosenthal is a Hollywood character, a sort of musical Alexander. Woodcock. Everyone in town knows Harry-actor, pianist, orchestra leader, music store owner and wit. And everyone talks music with Harry. Mention any star and Harry knows their musical preferences and dislikes.

Harry knows, for instance, why Gail Patrick can't listen to "My Buddy." It lies up with her first romance in high school. She and the boy danced to the song at parties, sang it, adopted it for their own. One night there was a motorcycle accident. The boy was killed. Gail's enjoyment of "My Buddy" was still forever.

Movie villains are finding a great change for regeneration in the war stories dominating the sound stages at most of the studios these days. Tough guys like Humphrey Bogart and George Raft are killing Japs and Nazis instead of rival big shots.

Bogart and Raft are just as deadly and menacing as they ever were in their toughest gangster roles of yore in two new films. It's Marine Sergeant Bogart vs. the Nazis in "Action in the North Atlantic" and Allied Agent Raft vs. axis agents in "Background to Danger."

Autograph quirk: Motion picture stars have to be different, even when they sign their names for autograph collectors. Mae West and Gail Patrick always use red ink. Claudette Colbert puts capital "Es" in both of her names. Dorothy Lamour uses "Dottie" and Tyrone Power prefers plain Ty.

Amateur psychologists will have a field day when they see Lana Turner pull her fake amnesia routine in her new film, "Nothing Ventured." After she decides to leave her job as a soda fountain clerk to pose as the long-lost daughter of Millionaire Walter Brennan, Lana's conduct will describe four different types of amnesia—inflated amnesia, verbal amnesia, par-amnesia and hyper-amnesia. I wonder what they call my type of affliction. I'm always dreaming I'm Lana's leading man and the director keeps saying, "Kiss her again."

"Cowboy" Tobias: George Tobias has an acre out in San Fernando Valley, and he really has gone for the role of a rancher in a big way. Also, he has become a great pal of the cowboy actors. Other day, between scenes of "Air Force," he took several of them to lunch at a new delicatessen shop across the street from the studio.

They all had pastrami sandwiches. The cowboys thought they were wonderful. They asked Tobias just what this delicacy, pastrami, was. "It's Jewish barbecue," said Tobias. This perfectly satisfied the boys. In fact, there is a sign in the window of the delicatessen now as a reminder for their repeat trade—"Jewish Barbecue."

Take It Easy, Private Willie, Take It Easy!

By PETER EDSON
Pampa News Washington Correspondent

(With apologies to Private, now Sergeant Hargrove) See here, Private Willie: You took things too literally when you were told to paint the town red for the rest of your civilian liberty. It wasn't intended you should set the world on fire.

Then there was that advice to "form no idea of what Army life is going to be like. Leave your mind open." You formed too many ideas and you left your mouth open. Two weeks from now, you will be thoroughly disgusted with the job you did. You have been flown from place to place in an Army plane. You have wandered in nakedness and bewilderment over miles of physical geography examination, but you must now look upon individuality and privacy as things left behind you in a golden civilian society.

Probably you have developed murderous hatred for one cabinet secretary, two congressmen and a hundred newspaper editors. You are writing and fuming over "the personalities and flippancies" of the people who differ with you, and you are wondering how an enlightened nation can permit such atrocity. Take it easy, Private Willie, take it easy.

Keep this one beam of radiant hope constantly before you: The next two years will be your hardest. The main things to remember are these: Watch your attitude, do your work, respect your superiors, do your work along with your fellow soldiers, keep your nose, your nose, your equipment clean at all times and behave yourself.

Do these things and you won't have any trouble. For what happens when you don't do them, let us now look at what NIGHT has happened to Private Willie. LOOK WHO'S LOOSE! Private Willie stuck his head through the door of the office of the Commander-in-Chief, who smokes the same brand as Private Willie.

"Great gobs and little paychecks," railed the Commander-in-Chief. "Look what's loose again! What's the latest, big boy, or aren't the reporters supposed to know?" "It has been, withal, a very busy trip," Private Willie said to the Commander-in-Chief.

"I sure wish you had," said the Commander-in-Chief. "What a trip! What a life. With your eyes wide open, you're dreaming." "It was a little hellish on this last lap," said Private Willie, "although it could have been worse. I actually saw a corporal who didn't close his eyes for a week twice, and except for the haphazard way the vodka was thrown toward the caviar, it wasn't too horrifying."

"But I'm broken and bleeding," moaned the Commander-in-Chief. "Oh, I get so discouraged sometimes. I try so hard to make something of you and what good does it do? Every time I give you a pass to get off the reservation you get in trouble. How many times have you been on kitchen police since November, 1940?"

"Only three times, boss," said Private Willie, avoiding the Commander-in-Chief's eyes. "I'm a light-mannered-in-Chief of a light-minded world in Paris, destroying more tanks than have been accounted for in all the Libyan fighting and depriving Hitler of great manufacturing power."

We applaud heartily but briefly and then forget. But if a hundred thousand Commandos batted their way ashore from the channel, fought their way to Paris and did the same job with the loss of half their number the world would go wild with adulation.

If an army marched against Cologne with a great expenditure in life, equipment and time did damage which the RAF did in a few hours and few casualties, history would ring with the deed.

Yes, it's bombers that can do this particular job for us expeditiously and with relatively tiny cost. Multiply Cologne by 100 and what have you? state by the end of the year was based on two thoughts: 1. Lacking fresh resources and strategic bases which would go with them, he would be unable to repair the colossal damage suffered in Russia.

Meanwhile, the United States and Britain would have been piling up strength and would be able to jump on him in his weakness. Well, the first condition seems fulfilled. Upon fulfillment of the second condition depends whether he may be able to beat the Nazi anti-Christ by, say, next fall or whether the 40 year drag on interminably. Everything depends on the speed with which we act and the manner in which we attack.

I have tried to make it clear in my last two articles that a concentrated Anglo-American air attack on Western Europe and Germany would turn the trick if undertaken at once. That is the consensus of many military observers.

We have a double mission to perform. We must hit Hitler immediately while he is still groggy from exertions in Russia. We must prepare the way for that second land front which will give the gallant Atlantic the relief they need.

Only by a devastating aerial preparation can the ground be cleared for invasion. To attempt to land an army without this would be mass murder. And this preparation will kill two birds with one stone for it not only would render invasion feasible but at the same time render Hitler's army vulnerable by depriving him of his main war industries and means of transport.

I have pointed out that there are less than 200 prime targets for our combined air forces to destroy in order to force the all highest close to impotency. Actually, the destruction of the RAF is the only way to knock his hopes into a cocked hat.

The thing needed to make this aerial assault possible is quick reinforcement of both British and American bomber fleets in Britain. By trebling the present forces at once the trick could be turned fairly quickly.

The RAF and our own ground airman have been giving concrete examples recently of how virtually whole military targets can be wiped out in a single raid. There is no unproven theory involved. Your Colognes and Rostocks and Lubecks and a host of other places clearly demonstrate the possibilities.

The beauty of this war weapon is that it can be used with comparatively few men. You don't need a great army for this spade work. And believe me, if the Allies try to land half a million boys on the shores of France without ample air preparation you are going to see a slaughter that will rock the world, but with Hitler's industrial resources and transport levelled by bombers, invasion would lose the most terrible of its dangers.

The bomber command works so quickly and with so little display that we are inclined to lose sight of the efficacy of the air arm.

For example, the RAF in a lightning sweep knocks out the great Renault works in Paris, destroying more tanks than have been accounted for in all the Libyan fighting and depriving Hitler of great manufacturing power.

We applaud heartily but briefly and then forget. But if a hundred thousand Commandos batted their way ashore from the channel, fought their way to Paris and did the same job with the loss of half their number the world would go wild with adulation.

AGAIN THE STRANGER

CHAPTER XI

BLYTHE thought that her new plan was tightening down to crystal clarity by the time she got off the bus at her home this Sunday evening. But her thinking was interrupted when she recognized two sports editors coming out her front door.

"Hi!" she greeted them. "Want any free advice or anything?" They teased back in kind; they liked Coach Miller's lovely daughter. Then they wanted to know more about coach.

"Just a cold," Blythe explained. "Sounds croupy, Miss Miller," Suppers of the Journal said that. "Keep him in bed. We don't want him getting the pneumonia!"

They made headlines out of it Monday. Coach Pop Miller in bed, and a game with the powerful State U. team scheduled for Thursday. With luck, the doc said he might be up for the game, but meanwhile assistant coaches would have to run things.

"Psychologically, this is a break for the Lincoln cadets," Summers wrote in his column of chili-chat. "There might have been a let-down after the sensational 7-0 win over the Aggies Saturday, due to overconfidence. But with Coach Pop missing, his 'lads' will now want to prove their ability to carry on for him. They'll probably work their heads off and try to stage the State game out of the stadium—which will be quite a feat if accomplished."

Pop felt better by Monday morning and wanted to get up. Mom and Blythe overruled him. Blythe cut her own school classes and biked out early to his athletic field office to handle the business case along before 10 a. m. Nancy Hale, Pop's secretary, worked from 10 till 7 each day.

First thing was a stack of Monday mail. Newspapers from other towns. Advertisements. Assorted business matter. Blythe opened the envelopes and stacked the letters neatly, glancing at each to see if any were urgent. One letter, which had come first class, arrested her at once. It had only a few words typed in the middle of a white sheet, and it was not signed. It read: You can't get by with that. Say nothing. And be ready.

BLYTHE'S eyes went wide and her mouth made a round red O. She picked up the envelope again. Sure enough, it had been marked "Personal." But even so, she had always opened everything in Pop's mail, even the frequent "Personal" letters which came usually from ambitious kids wanting to learn football.

On sudden impulse she opened his middle desk drawer. She probed far back in it. Yes, the fat envelope was still there! She didn't open that, nor even inspect it further. But something intuitive told her that this envelope was associated with this personal mail; also that Pop's obvious anger last week, when she had seen the furtive caller leaving his office and had found the envelope on his desk, were somehow all connected. It was not clear, not by any means. Moreover, it was none of her business. Or was it? After all, Pop belonged to her.

You can't get by with that. Say nothing. . . . Be ready. . . . Blythe read the words over and over. A vague sense of fright had tightened inside her. She wished she had someone to talk to. Pop was home, sick in bed. The big field house and gymnasium were empty at this hour, save for Mrs. Nancy Hale and baby Scooter who lived in the cute "loft" apartment on the far wing. And too, the papers had carried news of Pop's being in bed. Readers would know they couldn't call on him in person today. If—if this—this typed warning—

Blythe tried to think it through, and couldn't. She looked at her watch. Nine-twenty. Forty minutes before Nancy would come down, and anyway—did she want to take Nancy Hale into her confidence? She didn't feel any too cordial toward her!

"That's absolutely childish!" Blythe suddenly reprimanded herself. "Of course I must talk with Nancy. We are friends. She's Pop's right-hand helper now, she'll probably know all about it. It's just—just some silly message, I imagine. Some kid trick."

She put a weight on the stacked letters and got up to leave the office. She would just go talk to Nancy about it now. She shouldn't be regarded as intruding, this late in the morning. Outside she stopped suddenly,

West Of McAllen Working For Rio Grande Project

McALLEN, Oct. 22 (AP)—Congressman Milton H. West, visiting in McAllen briefly while recuperating from a recent operation in Washington, told newspapers here that he was urging that one section of the Lower Rio Grande valley's projected $65,000,000 gravity irrigation and flood control project be completed during wartime as a means of storing at least a part of the vast amount of water which wastes annually into the Gulf thru the Rio Grande.

Coke Met Roosevelt First In Typical Texas Manner In 1936

By WILLIAM E. KEYS AUSTIN, Oct. 22 (AP)—When President Roosevelt toured Texas army posts and war plants recently it was NOT his first visit to the Lone Star State nor his first meeting with Governor Coke R. Stevenson. The President came here in 1936 for the Texas Centennial celebration at which time he met Stevenson. The governor was a White House caller at the President's invitation—last November. At San Antonio where he joined the President on his recent tour, the governor was given instructions on who would introduce him to the President and where, when and how it would be done. The governor, who likes simplicity, knocked the plans away by announcing that he had met the President. So, he just walked over to the presidential car, received a hearty handshake and an invitation to ride with the President on an inspection tour. Score another hit for the governor's predicting proclivities. He picked the Cardinals in the World Series. What's more he said they would win in four straight after the Yankees took the opening tit. News, some of it big, is being made every day in many state departments but if you polled capital employes on the best current news chances are the new north wing elevator would win top honors. Promised for many weeks after apparently the installation was com-

France Enters Critical Days

BERN, Switzerland, Oct. 22 (AP)—France entered today her most critical period since she signed the 1940 armistice, the days remaining to Pierre Laval before he is expected to try compulsion to send protesting workers into German war factories.

The period to Nov. 1, private advice from unoccupied France said, represents the extension of time set by Berlin for fulfillment of its labor demands for 150,000 volunteer workers.

It also is the period, informed French observers said they believed, which will demonstrate whether Laval could hope to cling to his position as chief of government in the face of persistent, although thus far scattered, opposition.

Those observers, who would not permit their names to be used, said that popular resentment over work conscription, increasing agitation in Axis quarters over the question of whether Dakar would be involved in an African offensive and revival of discussions of the dangers of new Allied landings along the channel all combined to make Laval's position difficult. In his radio speech last night, in which he renewed his appeal for Frenchmen to go to work for the Germans, he announced an agreement for a levy upon each factory "which will be obliged to furnish a certain number of workmen."

This levy, he said, had been agreed upon by his government "out of apprehension lest measures of constraint be applied to France."

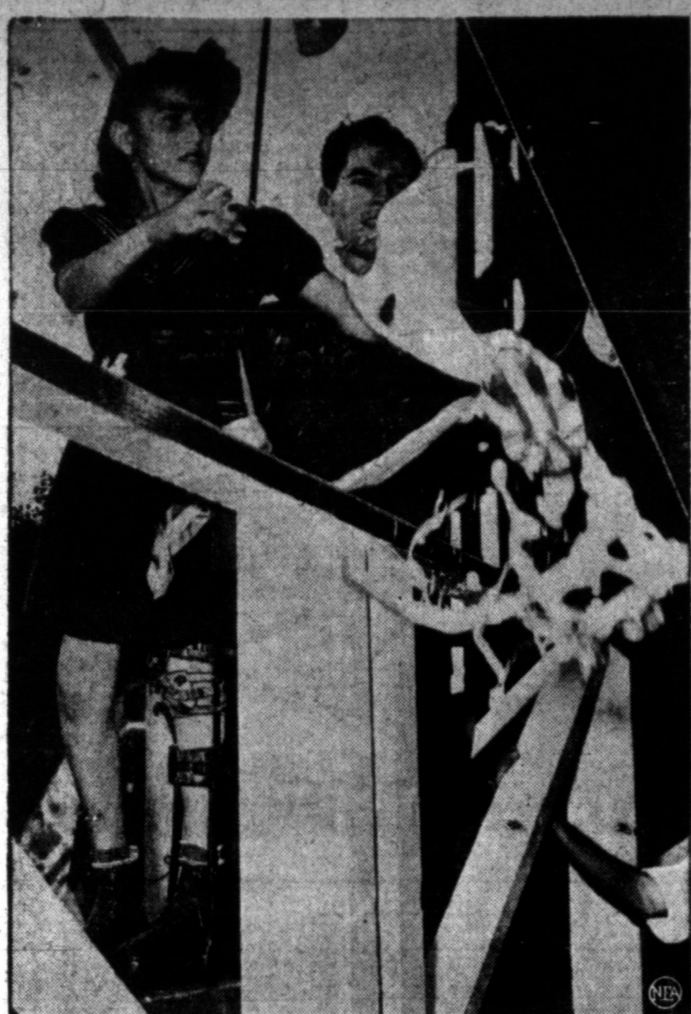

Super-Control War Board Recommended

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—A complete reshuffling of top war agencies under a new super control board was recommended today in a congressional report which said: "Those officials who have charge of the war production program including the mobilization of manpower have not yet grasped the meaning of modern war."

The report, bristling with criticism of the present setup, was issued by the special house committee on national defense migration, headed by Rep. Tolson (D-Calif.).

Although Texas is not primarily a metal-producing state, gold, silver, iron, copper, mercury, lead, manganese and tin are produced in Texas in varying quantities.

Too Many Agencies Hinder Oil Industry In War, IPA Complains

WICHITA, Kas., Oct. 22 (AP)—Elimination of "departmental and bureaucratic and jurisdictional disputes and jealousies now causing so much confusion, delay and waste" in functions relating to petroleum in the war effort was asked today by the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

"The confusion and delay thus created by the failure of the federal agencies to coordinate their activities in relation to petroleum and cooperate fully in the solution of petroleum war problems is seriously hampering and delaying much of the war program," said a resolution adopted by the IPAA's 13th annual convention.

Urging that federal agencies "operating directly under the executive branch of our government" be fully coordinated into an effective war program, the association commended Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes for his "sympathetic, energetic and understanding exercise of the functions of the office of petroleum coordinator."

The government also was called upon to make a "careful study of the nationwide situation" on gasoline rationing before it is made effective as to certain basic industries such as the petroleum industry. In a resolution, the operators said:

"We x x x suggest and urge that governmental rationing authorities allow operators, executives and workers engaged in the production, refining and distribution of petroleum and natural gas, rationing cards, permitting the consumption of 'all of' the gasoline reasonably needed to carry on their work," and that "those x x x engaged may have authority to use such gasoline and automobile tires as are essential to their activities."

any proposed changes in the present method of computing allowable depletion and the option to charge off intangible drilling costs was voted by the operators who termed "these allowances essential to the very existence of the independent oil operator."

The IPAA also decided to "vigorously oppose as unjustified and unfair, additional excise taxes which it may be proposed to assess against the products of the domestic petroleum industry without equitable distribution of said taxes to other commodities."

Texas In Urgent Need Of Dry Weather To Get In The Crops

An urgent need for dry harvest weather in much of Texas was noted by the United States Department of Agriculture in its crop report for the week ending Oct. 18.

Harvest of feed crops, peanuts, hay and cotton continued under favorable conditions until stopped by the general rains of last week everywhere except in parts of East, South and Southeast Texas, said the combined USDA - Extension Service bulletin. This adverse weather brought the harvest to a standstill.

The moisture was beneficial, however, to small grain that was in the ground. Volunteer and seeded grains were making good growth and promised to serve abundantly as pasturage when fields dried out enough to permit grazing. Rains averaging from two to five inches were reported from many stations, with temperatures slightly below normal in the extreme west and somewhat above elsewhere in the state.

In a supplementary report, the department took note of a decrease from 84,000 acres to 33,000 acres in harvestable Sudan grass, and said that the reduced acreage of alfalfa this year was more than offset by the larger yield per acre. Farmers who formerly planted Sudan have turned to grain sorghums. Cotton harvest progressed at a
