Supplies Now Moving Over Alaskan Road

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The entire Alaskan highway now is open to traffic, Secretary of War Stimson announced today, weeks ahead of schedule.

Motor trucks started this week moving supplies and equipment to the garrisons in the north Pacific outpost, using the entire 1,071 miles of the roadway, the secretary told his press conference.

"Thousands of trucks will operate over the route all winter, carrying soldiers and supplies to Alaska," Stimson said. "Plans are under way to bring loads of strategic materials on their return."

The formal opening has been advanced tentatively to November 15, instead of December 1. Ceremonies are planned for a point on the Alaskan-Canadian border.

Stimson also announced: A second and larger training school for the WAACs will be opened December 1 at Daytona Beach, Fla.

Hotels and apartments to be taken over by the army will provide facilities for more than 4,000 trainees. In temporary command will be Colonel Don C. Faith, now commanding at the original center at Fort Des Moines, Ia.

Changes soon will be announced in the army specialist corps, set up shortly after the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. Major General Dwight F. Davis organized the corps to make use of the services of men

Lt. D. W. Love arrived in Pampa to take over duties as area engineer for the U. S. Army Engineers.

He will succeed Lt. J. B. Howard who has been in charge of the construction program of the Twin Engine Flying School, who is leaving for another project.

Lt. Love has been area engineer assigned to the Dalhart project since it was first put under construction. He will retain this position. He will live in Pampa and direct construction on both jobs.

Next in charge at the Pampa project will be R. N. Palmer, project engineer, who has been assistant to Lt. Love on the Dalhart job. Mr. Palmer is likewise here on the job at this time.

Lt. L. J. Burghart will serve as project engineer on the Dalhart job.

Price Law Hit By Farm Senators

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Angry farm state senators mobilized for an attack today on what they termed "high-handed and illegal" administration of the revised price control law.

They trained their guns on an interpretation of the law inspired in the congressional record by Senator Brown (D-Mich) under which prices of eggs, chickens, butter, cheese, potatoes and flour were frozen, and on a projected program of subsidies which Senator Reed (R-Kas) said the administration had in mind.

Senator Alken (R-Vt) told reporters Economic Director James F. Byrnes, Price Administrator Leon Henderson and Agriculture Secretary Claude Wickard had ignored a provision of the law prohibiting the fixing of farm price ceilings below parity.

Plausible Confidence Men Quick To Seize Chance In Emergency

By TOM WOLF

NEW YORK, Oct. 29.—An automobile was recently pushed into a Long Island filling station. "Guess I'm out of gas," the motorist told the proprietor. When an inspection of his tank proved it to be bone dry, he ordered it filled up.

The station owner asked for his gas ration book. The motorist had left it at home. The proprietor was sorry, but adamant. No tickets, no gas. The motorist then asked for some water.

As the astounded proprietor watched, the motorist filled his tank with water, took two pills from his vest pocket, dropped them in, climbed into his car and started the motor.

ONE BORN EVERY MINUTE The station owner could hardly believe his popping eyes. He ran up to the slowly departing motorist and begged for the secret. Five minutes later he had purchased two of the magic "gas pills" for $5 each—hereby joining the evergrowing list of suckers being taken in by an ever-growing list of new, war-born rackets.

The motorist's "empty" gas tank, needless to say, had a false bottom, full of gas. The water and magic capsules were merely the confidence man's equipment and had nothing whatsoever to do with making the "gasless" car run.

Boyles Announces Changes Made In Rent Regulations

Three amendments to rent regulations in the Pampa area were announced today by W. L. Boyles, area rent director.

Eviction of tenants from houses in this area comes under the scope of the amendments.

Before purchasers can obtain the right to occupy property that is now rented these conditions must be satisfied:

1. Payment of one-third of the purchase price must be made before a certificate authorizing eviction will be made by the area rent director.

2. Three months must pass after the issuance of the certificate before the present tenant can be forced to vacate. Money borrowed to make this one-third payment will not be considered as satisfying this requirement.

Heretofore, eviction actions could be brought without application to the area rent director if the owner wanted to recover possession for use of himself, family or dependents. Under the amendment "this family or dependents" is struck out.

When an eviction is permitted on this ground the owner must report to the area rent director if he rents

Pilots' Rendezvous In Clouds Blamed For Fatal Plane Crash

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 29 (AP)—The whim that led two fliers to arrange a meeting high over a rugged mountain pass is blamed by a congressional investigating committee for the mid-air collision of an army bomber and an airliner near Palm Springs last Friday, resulting in death for all 12 aboard the latter plane.

The aerial rendezvous, said Rep. Jack Nichols, Oklahoma, committee chairman, was disclosed yesterday by 2nd Lt. W. N. Wilson, 25, pilot of the bomber, who is held for court-martial on manslaughter charges.

Nichols said Lieutenant Wilson testified that he had encountered the co-pilot, L. F. Reppert, at a party in Los Angeles the night before the crash, and that Wilson had arranged to time his takeoff from the ferrying command base at Long Beach, Calif., so that he would meet the east-bound commercial

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The administration was reported reliably today to have decided to sidetrack indefinitely proposals for the compulsory mobilization of manpower.

Unity Seen As Biggest Need In Pacific War

By JOHN H. WIGGINS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Mounting protests against a divided command in the South Pacific appeared headed today for climactic action by what was regarded in some quarters as an appeal from Gen. Douglas MacArthur for unified direction over the entire embattled area.

Answering a newspaper report attributing the two separate commands in the Pacific chiefly to "political Washington" and a "MacArthur-for-President campaign," the 62-year-old leader of United Nations forces in Australia disavowed any "political ambitions whatsoever."

From his headquarters last night (Washington Time), MacArthur declared that any contrary suggestion "must be regarded as merely amiable gestures of goodwill dictated by friendship."

"I started as a soldier and I shall finish as one," he said. "The only hope and ambition I have in the world is for victory for our cause in the war."

This toppling louder and louder demands from Capitol Hill for better teamwork in the Pacific war theater, was interpreted by some sources here as at least an indirect appeal to eliminate any political considerations that might be hampering his direction of the war effort in that part of the world.

These sources pointed out that such a statement from a commanding officer in the field was highly unusual and was almost bound to provoke some decisive action.

The congressional protests became more vocal this week after Vice Admiral Robert H. Ghormley was replaced as commander of the Southern Pacific area embracing the Solomon Islands by Vice Admiral William H. Halsey.

There was no explanation for the change but it was recalled that United States naval operations in that area had cost three cruisers, the Aircraft Carrier Wasp, five destroyers and four other ships.

Panhandle Gets 23 Producing Days

AUSTIN, Oct. 29 (AP)—A November oil production order which will result in average daily flow of 1,413,512 barrels was announced today by the railroad commission.

This compares with purchase nominations for 1,414,017 barrels daily next month, an OPC certification for 1,381,000 barrels and average daily production of 1,461,150 barrels for the week ended last Saturday.

The commission order 21 general producing days, 23 for the Panhandle and 27 for high octane crude fields.

It departed from custom by permitting operators to select operating days of their choice. Heretofore the regulatory agency has stipulated holidays. The change was aimed, Commissioner Beauford Jester explained, at easing operating and personal problems of producers.

Another innovation was adoption of a 10 per cent daily allowable tolerance, balanced monthly, instead of a 5 per cent tolerance balanced weekly.

The commission itself instead of the OPC specified the high octane fields for November although these pools remained unchanged. Jester said production from mirando type crude fields was distributed equitably among the pools.

The East Texas allowable was

U. S. O. Unit Will Be Installed Here For Service Men

Preliminary plans for the opening of a U. S. O. unit in Pampa were made yesterday when Lt. Colonel William G. Gilks, U. S. O. regional supervisor of Dallas, came here to confer with city, county and chamber of commerce officials.

A building at 308 West Foster was leased from R. E. Johnson to house the unit.

Col. Gilks will return to Pampa within a week or ten days after an architect who will draft plans for remodeling the building.

In the meanwhile, Col. Gilks suggested that city, county and chamber of commerce officials set up a committee, with all organizations, clubs and groups represented which can help co-ordinate the efforts of all organized groups in the big job which lies ahead of Pampa citizens when troops arrive for the Pampa Army Flying school.

A smaller group will be set up later as an advisory council for the operation of the U. S. O., but the larger group will help all agencies do their bit in the recreation program.

Col. Gilks arrived at noon yesterday. He was guest at an informal luncheon at the Schneider hotel attended by the following: Lt. Col. Daniel S. Campbell, commanding officer, Pampa army flying school; Mayor Fred Thompson; County Judge Sherman White; Chamber of Commerce President Crawford Atkinson, E. J. Hanna, chairman of the U. S. O. fund raising campaign; A. M. Teed, board member and Capt. Frank White of the Salvation Army; and Garnet Reeves, secretary-manager of the chamber of commerce.

Hope Still Held For Rickenbacker Rescue

GENERAL MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS, AUSTRALIA, Oct. 29 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who has been mentioned as possible presidential timber in the United States, declared today "I have no political ambitions whatsoever" and said he planned to retire again if he survived the campaign.

that retirement from which this great struggle called me."

It was his first reference to various suggestions in the United States that he might be a likely candidate for the presidency in 1944 or later.

The general's disavowal of political ambition was prefaced by the observation:

"I have noted the statement quoted in morning newspapers from the Christian Science Monitor's Washington correspondent that 'political

Axis Showing New Power In Russia, Egypt

(By The Associated Press)

U. S. army troops and marines, hemmed in the corridor only six miles long by three miles deep, were officially credited with holding their own against the Japanese on Guadalcanal island, while elsewhere in the world's far-flung battlefronts the Axis showed new strength in Egypt and Russia.

Japanese forces in overwhelming numbers were reported crowding American defenders of the prize Guadalcanal air base on three sides, using heavy artillery and tanks.

Nevertheless, the Navy in Washington gave this heartening account of the struggle since the Japanese invaders began their all-out land offensive seven days ago:

"Enemy losses in men and equipment in troop actions on the islands since Oct. 23 have been very heavy as compared to our own."

Lately, the Navy said, the Japanese assault has tapered down to "small scale thrusts," indicating that the enemy was either waiting for reinforcements or had been stung to discouragement by the fierce American defense fire.

In other key theaters, these were the high spots:

Egypt—Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's six-day-old offensive to drive the Axis out of North Africa appeared to be hitting stiffer opposition after British shock troops had broken gaps in the enemy's forward defense wall on the El Alamein line, 80 miles west of Alexandria.

British headquarters failed to note any new gains and gave the following terse description of the desert battle:

"During the night of Oct. 27-28, the enemy counterattacked our positions and was beaten off."

"Yesterday there were some minor tank engagements in which damage was inflicted on the enemy."

"Fighting continues."

While the British communique indicated that Nazi Field Marshal Erwin Rommel was striking back, Italian field headquarters stressed the fury of the British 8th army's assault.

"The bitter struggle which for several days has been fought on the El Alamein front of Egypt continued yesterday with powerful enemy attacks against which Axis forces offered violent resistance," the Fascist command said.

"We destroyed several dozen more enemy tanks and have taken several hundred prisoners."

Dispatches from Cairo said the main test was yet to come and that Gen. Montgomery was apparently determined not to repeat the disastrous mistake of last June when the British surged ahead too rapidly and advanced into a deadly ambush of anti-tank guns.

Russia—Adolf Hitler's Caucasus armies, in a sudden shift to a new sector, were reported attacking heavily with troops, tanks, artillery and planes against Soviet defenses on the Nalchik plateau, 50 miles southwest of the old Moxdok battle sector.

A Berlin broadcast said the German

Emotional? Well, That May Be Your 'omach Undoing

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (AP)—Unusual evidence that emotions are a factor in the development of ulcers was reported today by two physicians who spied on a man's stomach during emotional disturbances.

The study was made on a 56 year old man who has to be fed through an artificial opening in his stomach—remarkably similar to the way an army doctor a century ago discovered the nature of digestion by looking into a man's stomach through a gunshot wound that failed to heal completely.

The new observations, confirming the medical belief that the state of one's mind affects the state of one's stomach, were described in the Journal of the American Medical Association by Dr. Stewart Wolf, U. S. Army captain, and Dr. Harold G. Wolff of New York.

"It appears likely," they concluded, "that the chain of events which begins with anxiety and conflict and their associated overactivity of the stomach and ends with hemorrhages or perforation is that which is involved in the natural history of peptic ulcer in human beings."

The physicians took a look at the man's stomach—24 times—and reported that fear, hate, anxiety and similar emotions produce a stomach condition making it possible for acid gastric juices to start an ulcer.

They noticed, for instance, that during such emotions the stomach becomes red from excess blood in the mucous membrane, acid production increases sharply and vigorous contractions begin.

They found also that the stomach's lining was protected from its own secretions by an efficient insulating layer of mucus, enabling most small erosions to heal promptly within a few hours.

The man upon whose stomach they spied had drunk scalding hot clam chowder at the age of nine, completely blocking his esophagus, and has been fed since through an opening cut by surgeons.

United Nation Air Superiority in S. W. Pacific Expected

LONDON, Oct. 29 (AP)—United States sources said that if the United Nations do not yet have air superiority in the Southwest Pacific there is no question that they will have it in a short time.

The United States navy at present is greatly outnumbered by the Japanese in that area, but it can be asserted confidently that the numbers will be equalized before long, said these sources, who insisted on remaining anonymous.

They added that the main fight in the Southwest Pacific is one of air power rather than naval, and United States air power is decidedly on the upgrade while Japanese air strength is diminishing rapidly. They asserted that all available information indicates that Japanese plane construction can not hope to keep pace with losses.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about a pint a day. When disorder of kidney function prevents poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, pain, leg pain, loss of sex and energy, swelling up night, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smacking and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 million of kidney troubles that poison waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Detroit Coach Holds Record Of 18 Years Service

DETROIT, Oct. 29 (AP)—Gus Dorais is the living refutation of not only the notion that football and politics don't mix but also that a Jack-of-all-trades is master of none. Gray-topped, 51-year-old Dorais, an old teammate and buddy of the late Knute Rockne, is among other things an athletic director, a lawyer, a city councilman in the nation's fourth largest municipality, a much-sought-after public speaker and a football coach. Maybe his coaching should be mentioned first, for currently his University of Detroit eleven is the undefeated and untied winner of four games. At Detroit Dorais has been on the job 18 years. Now that Bob Zuppke is gone, he probably has the longest continuous service record at any major football power in the nation. To date, Dorais' Detroit teams have won 112 and lost 44, which means that his club has a 3 to 1 chance every time it takes the field. His average is nearly seven victories a season.

Houston Gridsters Clash Today With Horace Mann Team

Sam Houston school of Pampa, winner over the Horace Mann football team by 13 to 6 in a game played at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Harvester park, will attempt to repeat its victory in the game with the Woodrow Wilson team, also at Harvester park, this afternoon.

Monday, on the same gridiron, Horace Mann and E. M. Baker school teams will meet in another of the ward school football series. In the game Tuesday, John Friauf made both of Sam Houston's touchdowns, scoring the first on the opening play with a long sweep around left end. Garnet Reeves plunged over the goal for the extra point. The second touchdown was made just before the first half ended with Friauf again making a long dash around left end. An attempt at conversion failed.

Horace Mann came back in the third quarter with a scoring threat they made good by a plunge through the center of the Houston line, good for a touchdown, but likewise failed to add the extra point.

Officials were Winston Savage, referee, and W. B. Weathered, headlinesman.

It was the first conference game for Horace Mann. BUY VICTORY STAMPS—Ted Lyons, veteran Chicago White Sox hurler, is retiring from the bowling business. He is enlisting in the marines and plans to sell his interest in the big southside establishment in Chicago which bears his name.

GRID-IRONIES

By BERNIE MOORE Head Coach of Louisiana State Louisiana State and Georgia were defeated. The result would have quite a bearing on the Southeastern Conference championship.

A slow drizzle was falling. The teams punted back and forth, trying to get a break. Safety men were fumbling punts and coaches' hair was turning gray. I substituted Junior Bowman as a new safety man as Georgia was about to kick.

Bowman is a major in the Marine Air Corps now and has made a wonderful record. "For goodness sake," I told him, "don't try to handle any punts. Let 'em hit and roll."

Bowman took his place about 50 yards back and waited for the kick. It happened to be short. He stood, watched for a moment, but it was too much for him.

He flew in just as hard as he could run, tried to catch the ball on the fly. It hit him on the chest, flew in front of him three or four feet, but he never slacked speed.

He came right on and got the ball in his hands by some means just as two men hit him. He went one way, the ball went the other.

Somehow he managed to get loose and recover the fumble. After it was over, he looked over at the bench and me, waved and hollered: "Relax, coach. Everything is under control."

Everything was—except the coach.

Tigers' Bob Steuber Tops All Scorers

By ARNOLD DELRITZKI CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (AP)—Collegiate football is streaking to new offensive heights this year on the backs of Missouri and Georgia.

Missouri, paced by Bob Steuber, the nation's leading scorer, has averaged 434 yards a game for six contests. Georgia, led by Frankie Sinkwich, has rolled along at a 431 clip in the same number of encounters.

The American football statistical bureau, in releasing today's figures, said that it believed it had some imposing figures three years ago when Cornell, six games averaged 409 yards before bumping into Dartmouth and Pennsylvania.

But today Missouri and Georgia not only are far ahead of that pace, but are being pushed by two other elevens. In five games, Tulsa has a 417 total offensive average and Ohio State, 414.

Missouri and Ohio State, incidentally, are the two top running teams of the nation, Missouri having gained 2,023 of its 2,605 total yardage by rushing and Ohio State 1,646 of its 2,070.

Georgia, 13th in rushing, is making up its difference in passing where it continues to run third behind Columbia and Tulsa. Columbia has averaged 212 yards a game, Tulsa 209, and Georgia 184, with Maryland right behind at 182.

All around honors, however, go to little Tulsa, undefeated in five games. In addition to being third in total offense and second in passing, the Golden Hurricane are first in total defense (allowing opponents an average of 84 yards a game), first in pass defense (permitting 25 yards a game), third in punting and 11th in rushing.

Tulsa's pass defense has been so good that the Hurricanes (11) than their foes have completed (10). Harvard, in the last six years probably the nation's most consistently strong team against forwards also has yielded only 25 yards, but the percentage of enemy pass completions has been greater (.314 to .167).

In total defense, Detroit trails Tulsa with a 95.5 average yield; Vanderbilt has given up 98.6 and Alabama and William and Mary, each 108.

Texas came all the way from 11th place to take over the punting leadership from Tulsa. Texas in six games has averaged 41.55 yards in 31 kicks; Tennessee 41.44 in 43; Tulsa 41.26 in 23; Rice 40.73 in 37, and North Carolina 40.68 in 50.

Boston College held its position as top defensive team against rushing with an average yield of 25.5 yards, with Hardin-Simmons second, with 32.3, followed by Vanderbilt's 36 and Detroit's 40.

Figures on the first seven total offense leaders: Missouri, 6 games, 2,023 yards by rushing, 582 by passing 2,605 total; Georgia 6-1480-1107-2587; Tulsa 5-1049-1048-2097; Ohio State 5-1646-424-2070; Texas 6-1739-590-2329; Vanderbilt 5-1347-559-1906; Boston college 4-1021-379-1400.

Sports Roundup

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Having tried to apply football predictions for several weeks, and having fallen somewhat short of perfection, this department is inaugurating a new system this week:

Duquesne vs. St. Vincent (Friday)—one of Duquesne's halfbacks is Goode. Kso is Duquesne—too good for St. Vincent.

Colgate vs. Holy Cross—We're always mistaking Colgate's Al Hanover for a trotting horse because of his name, but we understand he's a runner. Maybe Al will pace the Red Raiders to victory.

Oklahoma vs. Iowa State—Word from the Southwest is that the Sooners' prospects depend on whether Hamm is hot. Veteran Sandwicher enters left us cold ham is just as good. Anyway, we'll string along with Oklahoma whether Hamm is hot or roasted.

Pennsylvania vs. Army—The Penn is mightier than the sword. Texas Christian vs. Baylor—No selection. We can't tell which way the Frogs will jump.

TNE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE After last week's games the following undefeated teams remain: Amarillo, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Denison, Highland Park (Dallas), Amon Carter Riverside (Fort Worth), Sunset (Dallas), Lufkin and Sweetwater.

More than 30 conference games this week will narrow the title fight. Hottest outfit in always-torrid West Texas—the Wichita Falls Coyotes who have averaged more than 40 points a game in running up 243 points this season—is idle this week.

But the Amarillo at Berger, Brownfield at Plainview, Lubbock at Pampa, Vernon at Childress, Odessa at Lamesa games will afford plenty of fireworks. All are on Friday except the Lubbock-Pampa which is Saturday.

In North Texas, undefeated Highland Park (Dallas) will play a conference game with Denton Friday in Dallas. The same two other Dallas clubs, both big rivals, will meet—North Dallas and Adairson.

BUY VICTORY BONDS—In the Texas sector, four old rivals will slug it out. Corsicana goes to Temple Friday and the same day Waco journeys to Cleburne.

Fans in East Texas will watch the continued drive of unbeaten Lufkin which meets Marshall Friday in the latter city.

Possibly the top tilt of the week will be reeled off in San Antonio Friday when the tough Austin Maroons engage Brackenridge in an important District 15 game.

Tonight the most important game is in Houston—Reagan vs. Austin. Both are big rivals in the city, and Reagan is being touted as a possible state finalist from the southern half of Texas. Other games tonight, Masonic Home vs. Fort Worth Tech, Laredo vs. San Antonio Tech.

Texas Teams Maintain Record Of Intersectional Triumphs

By RICHARD WEST Associated Press Staff

True to Southwest tradition, Texas schoolboy football teams are making it tough on intersectional foes this fall.

Their record to date against teams from five states and Mexico—eleven wins and six losses. This compares favorably with the record by their big brothers in the Southwest Conference who are generally at their best when upholding the prestige of Texas football.

Crozier Tech of Dallas won the only international game played this year—a 7-5 victory over Polytechnic from Mexico City.

The record against teams from other states includes one win and three losses with Louisiana eleven; two wins and two losses against Arizona; three wins and one loss against New Mexico; three wins and no losses against Oklahoma and one win and no losses against Kansas.

Meanwhile, the district battles get tougher this week. After last week's games the following undefeated teams remain: Amarillo, Vernon, Wichita Falls, Denison, Highland Park (Dallas), Amon Carter Riverside (Fort Worth), Sunset (Dallas), Lufkin and Sweetwater.

More than 30 conference games this week will narrow the title fight. Hottest outfit in always-torrid West Texas—the Wichita Falls Coyotes who have averaged more than 40 points a game in running up 243 points this season—is idle this week.

Fight Czars Set 'Freeze' For Titles

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—Corporal Billy Conn and Bob Pastor are the "logical contenders" for Sergeant Joe Louis' heavyweight championship crown, the National Boxing association reported today in announcing that top-ranking fighters now in the armed services shortly would be placed in a special "honorary class."

Abe J. Greene, NBA president, said that in December the association would announce plans for listing "duration champions and contenders."

These ratings, Greene declared, will be based on a policy of "freezing" for the duration the titles of men in the service. He added that such a system would prevent "injustice" to champions now in uniform and would prevent appropriation of boxing crowns by self-declared champions or by detumescence of any individual athletic commission.

In again listing Conn as the No. 2 heavyweight, the NBA made no reference to the scheduled Louis-Conn scrap of three weeks ago, which Secretary of War Stimson cancelled.

The NBA ranked Pastor as the leading "out-of-the-service" heavyweight, ignoring both his recent defeat at the hands of Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland and Bob's announcement three days ago that he was retiring from the ring and planned to enter some branch of the armed forces.

The NBA explained that Bivins' win over Pastor was registered after Oct. 19 deadline for contests to figure in the rankings. Bivins was listed as the No. 2 light heavyweight.

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Branch Rickey today was named president and general manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Rickey was signed to a five-year contract, effective Nov. 1. He succeeds Larry MacPhail, who resigned the position to take a commission in the armed services.

The board of directors declined to name the salary terms, but as vice president and general manager of the St. Louis, Rickey's salary and commissions were believed to have run as high as $75,000 annually.

Why Didn't They Use Tricycles?

CHICAGO, Oct. 29 (AP)—There were several reasons why the St. Leonard Grade School football team didn't keep its engagement with the St. Joseph Academy eleven of Suburban La Grange.

The captain's mother was to take some of the players in her car, but the starter got stuck and the machine wouldn't start; their coach was called out of the city; the right tackle's father's car was in a garage for repairs; none of the other parents wanted to add any mileage to their tires, and the kids didn't have enough bikes to go around.

mans had already captured Nalchik, a mountain resort of 13,000 population on the northern slope of the Caucasus chain, only 60 miles from the important Georgian military highway to Tiflis.

Soviet dispatches acknowledged that the Germans were gaining in their new drive down the land bridge to the Middle East after they had been blocked in the Mozdok sector and thrown back in the battle for Taupse, on the Black sea coast, in the Northwest Caucasus.

Fighting in the primeval, snow-clad forests and on slopes threatened by avalanches, German and Russian ski troops met in sharp skirmishes high in the mountains while caravans of horses and donkeys floundered to the front with food and munitions.

Soviet reports said blizzards had been raging in the Caucasus mountains and that bitter cold had now set in. Many German soldiers were said to have been frozen to death in caves.

Difficulties of the campaign were emphasized by a Russian dispatch reporting that Red army artillerymen carried their heavy guns 10 miles forward across territory impassable for animals.

In the 66-day-old siege of Stalingrad, the Soviet command admitted that the Germans scored another 200-yard gain in the city's northwest factory sector yesterday, but declared the Nazis sacrificed 2,000 troops in this limited advance—100 dead men for each yard won.

At noon today, Red army headquarters said German infantrymen pressing the attack in the factory district had been repulsed and thrown back to their initial positions.

Soviet gains were reported on both flanks of the shattered Volga metropolis as Marshal Semeon Timoshenko sought to relieve the city's hard-pressed garrison.

In the north, Red army troops attacked a height along the 40-mile Corridor between the Don and Volga rivers and wiped out two enemy infantry companies; while on the southern flank the Russians were credited with destroying seven blockhouses and several dugouts in a trench raid.

Southwest Pacific — Dispatches from the South seas battle zone said the fight for the Solomon islands was spreading out over areas as a powerful Japanese armada of battleships, aircraft carriers, heavy cruisers and submarines was reported moving eastward to menace other American positions.

While U. S. troops and planes battled savagely to hold Guadalcanal air base, superior enemy sea-borne forces were mobilizing at the approaches to American bases in the New Hebrides and Fiji islands, threatening vital Allied communications between the Hawaiian is-

Stimson told an inquirer that that criticism of Davis and his staff was "wholly unjustified." He said the changes already had been initiated by the corps and were based on experience but did not disclose their nature.

Although the corps has received upwards of 300,000 applications, only approximately 1,300 appointments have been made thus far, Stimson said, and added that the organization "has been facing certain insuperable difficulties, but has done valuable work."

Japanese sea and air attacks have already been made on American positions in the New Hebrides, which lie immediately southeast of the Solomons.

Dispatches from Pearl Harbor said it was the first time since the Philippines campaign that the Japanese had massed such superiority in power and declared there was no doubt it was an all-out attempt to destroy American footholds in the South Pacific.

On the New Guinea front, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that Australian troops continued to press the Japanese back toward their north coast invasion base in a drive across the Owen Stanley mountains.

As the whole South seas campaign flamed toward a climax, Gen. MacArthur himself sounded an indirect appeal for a unified command over the uncharted area.

At his headquarters in Australia, Gen. MacArthur declared that he had "no political ambitions whatsoever" and planned to retire to private life once more if he survived the war, and then he added significantly:

"I have noted the statement . . . that 'political' Washington was largely responsible for the establishment of two separate commands in the Pacific, partly because of the conservative opposition which launched the MacArthur-for-President campaign."

General MacArthur said any suggestions that he was politically ambitious "must be regarded as merely amiable gestures of goodwill dictated by friendship."

A racket, which first appeared in New England, is based on the scarcity of consumer goods. The racketeer would turn up at the front door and announce that he was checking household appliances in connection with the government's "Make 'Em Last" campaign.

After tinkering with refrigerator or radio or vacuum cleaner, he would announce that a repair was needed which could not be made on the premises. If the housewife was unwary enough to let him "drive it down to the shop," she would find herself minus a refrigerator but plus some experience with crooks.

The third amendment covers situations wherein tenants enter into a lease with the option of buying the house. If such agreement has been made before October 30, the tenant may make application to the area rent director for authorization to permit rent payment in excess of the maximum rent.

Should such application not be made payments cannot exceed the maximum, even though the lease-option calls for higher payments.

Propaganda Peril Cited By Members Of 20th Century

"An outstanding example of propaganda" was given by each member of Twentieth Century club in answer to roll call at a meeting of the organization in the home of Mrs. Paul Kasishke Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. F. L. Stallings reviewed "Divide and Conquer," the story of Nazi terror, in which she stated that the basis for Hitler's reign of terror is the rumor that creates a feeling of disunity, fear, frustration, a loathing of war, and a certainty of defeat.

"The United States is still in tact but Hitler hopes to destroy that unity, physically and mentally. Our job today is one of individual awareness in order to avoid falling into Hitler's trap," Mrs. Stallings stated.

Mrs. Iry Duncan, who conducted a quiz on "Are You a Sucker of Propaganda?" also discussed "How to Recognize and Correctly Analyze Propaganda."

"What we need is an alert imagination to see the grain of truth at the core of propaganda and to reject all else about it. If we can do this, it will help us to be worthy of the command given to us more than 19 centuries ago. 'Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free.'" Mrs. Duncan pointed out.

In the business session conducted by Mrs. J. B. Hughey, president, the club voted to give eight comfort kits for the Red Cross. Also Twentieth Century members will be among those present to see the flag for the armed forces on November 4.

Mrs. Hughey was elected delegate to the state convention of Texas Federation of Women's clubs, and Mrs. Harrah was named alternate. Refreshments were served to 15 members.

Week Of Prayer Program Given At Methodist WSCS

Woman's Society of Christian Service of First Methodist church met in the church auditorium for a special Week of Prayer service Wednesday afternoon.

The auditorium was attractive with white chrysanthemums and white tapers burned on both sides of an electrically lighted cross. The church was draped in white burlap. Mrs. Grundy Morrison played soft music at the organ during the meditation period. Mrs. W. R. Campbell led the devotional and the responsive reading. The theme of the afternoon's program was "Blest Be the Tie That Binds."

Mrs. Hugh Anderson and Mrs. Clyde Brownlee displayed posters, showing the schools in the United States and South America that will be benefited by the Week of Prayer offering. Some of the members of the church, Mrs. Campbell directing the panel, told of the schools to be benefited.

Mrs. Grist spoke for Bennett college at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. Mrs. F. W. Shotwell impersonated Miss Irineu Guimares, principal of Granberry institute, located at Juiz de Fora, Brazil, and told of the need for a girls dormitory at the school. Mrs. Bob Campbell told of Cranston's need for another building at Cranston institute at Montevideo, Uruguay.

Mrs. Pat Lanham, who discussed the American school, Porto Alegre, Brazil, said that to educate is to teach, to live. She enumerated many of the needs of this school and told how the W.S.C.S. offering would benefit the school. Mrs. Shotwell concluded the discussion by telling of American school in Lima, Brazil. The service was concluded by all members kneeling at the chancel and leaving their offering at the foot of the lighted cross.

The week of prayer services will be concluded Friday at 2:30 o'clock in the church with Mrs. E. B. Bowen in charge. All members and especially those who have not attended any of the other week of prayer services are urged to attend.

The society will meet in circles next Wednesday.

No Witchery Needed To Make Halloween Party A Success

Halloween parties are more than ever in order this year. We need to relax once in a while, so let's celebrate on Halloween. Simply, of course, and within our budget. But with fun and frolic, and with something good to eat.

A few inexpensive chicken croquettes, with an egg sauce made yellow with chopped hard cooked egg yolk, served with hard rolls and hearts of celery, will brighten any party. Here's an easy recipe.

Chicken Croquettes (Makes 8)
Three tablespoons quick tapioca, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon paprika, 2 tablespoons minced green pepper, 2 tablespoons minced pimento, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup chicken stock, 11 cups chopped cooked chicken, sifted bread or cracker crumbs, egg beaten with 3 tablespoons milk and dash of salt.

Combine quick tapioca, salt, paprika, green pepper, pimento, milk, chicken stock in top of double boiler. Place over rapidly boiling water and cook 8 minutes after water boils again, stirring frequently. Add chicken and mix thoroughly. Chill. Shape into cones. Roll in bread crumbs, dip in egg mixture, fry in deep fat, 20 minutes. Drain on paper and serve.

Halloween Chocolate Tarts (Makes 6)
One recipe prepared chocolate pudding, 6 tart shells. Prepare chocolate pudding as directed on package, reducing milk to 1 1/2 cups. Cool; pour into tart shells. Decorate tops with pastry cut-out of pumpkin faces.

OPA Defines Oil To Be Transported East

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—The office of Petroleum Coordinator Ickes established today minimum specifications on four principal petroleum products which will be pooled and shipped into the east coast area.

The products are gasoline, kerosene, distillate, and residual fuel oils.

Richard K. Davies, deputy petroleum coordinator, said the minimum specifications were fixed with a view to causing "least hardship all around." He added that none of the specifications should cause any refiner or consumer undue hardship.

Minimum gasoline specifications call for 80 octane for premium and 72-octane for regular or house brand. The 80-octane gasoline is needed to meet army requirements.

The minimum specifications for kerosene and fuel oils are based on specifications of the treasury's procurement division, which buys for the army and navy.

YOUR AMERICAN MERCHANT IS MITCHEL'S

Today the American merchant—from the crossroads storekeeper to the downtown department store executive—finds himself in the front lines of a vital battle. More than any other single group, the merchant is fighting the struggle against the danger of rising prices; he is cooperating by making scarce goods go as far as possible; he is helping his customers adjust their shopping habits to wartime.

The American storekeeper has another wartime duty, too. That is cooperation with the government in seeing that shortages are distributed to the civilian population fairly and according to the actual needs of each individual. Rationing—be it sugar, gasoline, or anything else—finds the retailer ready to do his part.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

American War Planes

Evidence is accumulating that American-made bombers and fighters really are good, and that the violent criticism to which they were subjected for a time was erroneous.

It has been difficult to get at the truth because so many of the pertinent facts were held to be military secrets. Some of them unquestionably should not be disclosed. Others were held back, apparently, through that same excess of secretiveness which in other fields and on other occasions has proved unnecessary, unjustifiable and harmful to the national morale.

Now, stung by criticism, American brass hats have permitted publication of data comparable to what the British never held back. In the light of that information, experts are able to say that the later American planes are at least as good as their counterparts in England, Germany and Japan.

If our planes were as bad as rumor said, then we could not help wondering whether our pilots and their crews were being destroyed wholesale. But the fact is that on every front our planes have taken toll of the enemy two, three and four to one.

American pilots are good. None are better. We can be excused if we feel that none are quite so good. But man for man, American flyers are not three or four times as good as German and Japanese flyers. They are not enough better to inflict the damage they have unless their planes were substantially as good as the enemy's.

Then there was the unfortunate story—could it have originated with a psychological saboteur?—that the British were trying to divert us from the building of large, long-range planes so that after the war we should not be in position to dominate the air-lanes.

The facts, fortunately, dispel these wonders and rumors. They show that our planes were designed for protection of a country shut off from potential enemies by broad oceans, while the British were designed for a nation just over the board fence from international criminals.

They show, also, that our older models were being contrasted with the newest British and German adaptations, and did not show up well, but that model for model and use for use, we have planes at least as good as those of any other country, and in most instances better.

Apparently we did get away to a slow start, but now have more than caught up. Which is all to the good.

Communist Cooperation

The Daily Worker, official organ of the Communist party in the United States, complains that when Henry Kaiser went east for 20,000 shipyard workers, he left untapped a reservoir of 50,000 California Negroes looking for jobs.

By its treatment of the article, the Worker infers that Kaiser was discriminating against Negroes. The established fact that Kaiser is willing to use Negroes, but has been prevented by the union with which he has a contract, was not mentioned.

The Worker's approach gives a typical Communist picture of a big business man discriminating against a race. The truth is that it is not the big business man, but little unionizers who are keeping Negroes out of the better jobs in Kaiser shipyards.

Pennies Are Made Of Copper

Copper is probably our most critical metal. It is so vital that the mint has curtailed the coining of one-cent pieces by half. But business activity is making the available supply inadequate. Therefore Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, appeals for the unfreezing of millions of pennies now stuck away in American homes.

If every American family would release 10 pennies, this would make available as much copper as one-third of the 1941 record production.

The ideal would be investment of these hoarded coppers in war stamps. Alternatives would be their conversion into less rare coins, or, where there are enough, into paper money; or their deposit in savings accounts.

The Nation's Press

VOLUNTEER CAN'T SOLVE IT

(Daily Oklahoman)

Two examples of neighborly helpfulness are given by the President in his latest address to the country. A school was closed for several days while the pupils harvested a perishable crop. All the people of a given community turned out to gather a local fruit crop and send it to market. Thus a labor shortage in two communities was overcome by volunteer workers.

As examples of American helpfulness and cooperation these examples are striking and highly commendable. But as a means of relieving a nationwide shortage of farm help they are nearly meaningless. The needs of isolated communities may be met in that helpful way, but the needs of an entire country can be met in no such way. While it is possible for high school pupils to save the matured crop of a given community, the crop can not be made and matured by high school volunteers. That kind of help will never produce a crop that must be planted and then cultivated for something like 75 days. While local citizens can harvest a cotton crop in three or four days, they can hardly spare the 75 days that may be necessary to plant and cultivate the crop. And while volunteer labor of all sorts may harvest most of the crops in the country it never can bring those crops to any readiness for harvesting.

The President is speaking of saving crops that have been planted and cultivated and are ready for harvesting. He hardly mentions the labor required through the vastly longer period of planting and cultivation and it is that longer period that produces the acute problem. Unless sufficient

DOES DEISM DEVELOP GREAT MEN?

I read a statement made by a man, who says he believes in miracles, that Deism does not develop great men. He contends that 10 of the first 51 names in the Hall of Fame are the sons and daughters of Christian clergymen. He also writes, "In a recent issue of 'Who's Who' 2695 were listed as children of Protestant preachers, but I have been unable to find that the son of a pronounced Deist ever achieved distinction in any field of human endeavor."

Of course, there might be some confusion as to the meaning of Deism. If we take the definition given by Mathew Tindall in "Christianity as Old as the Creation", which the Encyclopedia Britannica says is the Bible of Deism, then there are a great many Deists who have become great men. Certainly people who believe in the Unitarian doctrines should be classified as Deists.

Here are some interesting statements as to whether or not Unitarians are great leaders, made by Ellsworth Huntington, Research Associate in Geography in Yale University, in his book "The Character of Races."

I quote from page 324 of the book: "Here is a list of a few of the many Unitarian leaders: Charles Francis Adams, father and son, diplomats and historians. Henry Adams, and his brother, Brooks Adams, historians. Louisa M. Alcott, author. James Freeman Clarke, historian. Richard H. Dana, author of 'Two Years Before the Mast.' Dorothy Dix, philanthropist and author. Charles W. Eliot, president of Harvard College. H. H. Furness, Shakespearean scholar. Edward Everett Hale, author and clergyman. Thomas W. Higginson, author, philanthropist, merchant. Helen Hunt Jackson, author. Sarah Orne Jewett, author. David Starr Jordan, college president. Henry C. Lodge, senator and author. Theodore Parker, theologian. John Randolph, statesman. Laura E. Richards, author. William H. Taft, President of the United States. As to the Unitarians contained in what is known as the Hall of Fame, the same book has the following to say:

"The sixty-three names thus far recorded there have been selected with great care by a jury of one hundred eminent people after prolonged and thoughtful study. They represent the matured judgment of a group of people from whose deliberations the question of religious affiliation was rigidly excluded."

"In reviewing the list of names in the Hall of Fame it may safely be said that twenty are the names of men and women who had a fairly definite allegiance to the Unitarian fellowship, and there are in addition the names of several persons whose sympathies were evidently with that fellowship though they were probably never actually or actively connected with a Unitarian Church. The names of the Unitarians are: John Adams, Oliver Wendell Holmes. John Quincy Adams, Henry Wadsworth Longfellow. Louis Agassiz, Henry Russell Lowell. George Bancroft, Horace Mann. William Ellery Channing, Daniel Webster. William Cullen Bryant, Francis Parkman. Peter Cooper, Joseph Story. Ralph Waldo Emerson, Daniel Webster. Benjamin Franklin, Charlotte Cushman. Nathaniel Hawthorne, Mark Twain. Mitchell.

"In addition the Unitarians may not unreasonably claim Thomas Jefferson (who lived where there was no Unitarian Church in which to worship but who wrote: 'I trust there is not a young man now in the United States who will not die a Unitarian')."

When it is considered that the Unitarians, at the time this book was printed in 1924, represented only about one per cent of the population, to have them furnish 20 out of 63 names in the Hall of Fame, or about 30 per cent, is certainly evidence that Deism does develop great men.

Another interesting table in the same book shows that out of every 100 clergymen who were fathers, we find the following number of eminent sons: Methodist1.0 Episcopalians11.7 Baptists2.3 Congregationalists12.5 Universalists7.0 Unitarians15.0 Presbyterians9.4

It seems to make quite a difference as to what authority one uses as to whether or not Deism produces great men.

labor is available to plant and cultivate the crops of 1943, harvesting time will present no problem at all. There will be mighty little to harvest.

Admitting that the problems of the farmers are quite serious the President suggests right solemnly that the farmer must employ ingenuity. He will have to be ingenious indeed if he produces as much without any help at all as he has been producing with all the help he needed. He will have to be more ingenious than man ever has when if he keeps production up to present standards and even increases production. The President tells him to produce as much as ever and to produce more if possible, but the farmer will need more than the occasional help of high school pupils and co-operative neighbors if he ever does what the president has asked him to do. Volunteer labor employed at rare intervals can no more solve the problem of a labor shortage on the farm than it can solve the problem of a labor shortage in a powder plant.

It is a problem that can be solved only by drastic national action. The President has promised national action if that is found to be necessary. It is necessary already. It has been necessary for some time. And unless the necessity is met right speedily with remedial action, street bread and even increased production. News Behind The News The National Whirligig

By RAY TUCKER DRAMA: The Halsey-Gormley shake-up in the southwestern Pacific may forecast more far-reaching shifts in the Army-Navy command which now directs operations ranging from the Arctic to the tropical zones. Congressional and departmental observers insist that both our successes and failures in this area demonstrate the need for a tightening up.

The present piecemeal arrangement, according to the opinion of this school, creates conflict of jurisdiction and division of responsibility. Admiral Nimitz, for instance, exercises authority over naval and military forces in Hawaii, the Aleutians and Andreanof, New Zealand, New Caledonia, the Hebrides and Solomons. That is a vast stretch which it is almost impossible for a single individual to administer effectively.

Lieutenant General John L. De Witt, with headquarters at San Francisco, heads units on the West Coast and Alaska, but he has no say with respect to the adjacent territory where we now battle Jap invaders. General MacArthur handles affairs in Australia, New Guinea, Timor, Java and nearby islands. Vice Admiral Halsey bosses—as did Chomley—the naval groups on the edge of MacArthur's domain with Nimitz as his immediate superior.

Proponents of change urge that Admiral Nimitz act merely as general director and liaison chief, with Pearl Harbor as his central station. They believe that MacArthur's dominion should be extended to include the Solomons and other Down Under sectors in the immediate vicinity. Then they advocate that Alaska, the Aleutians and the Andreanof be placed under a single leader of outstanding reputation and ability. As a prospective spearhead against Japan, they think the frozen and foggy terrain deserves a more important role in the war drama.

FOLD: Organized—or disorganized—Labor is heading for a series of chaotic conflicts which should warm the hearts of Axis dictators. Some high officials within the Administration blame the dark prospect on the tendency of certain groups in Washington to play off one workers' association against another for political purposes.

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Service Staff Correspondent On the sets: There are always things to see and things to hear on movie sets. So today let's go back-stage. Archie Mayo is about to direct a Commando raid on the 20th Century-Fox backlot for a scene in the picture, "Crash Dive."

For several days Tyrone Power, Dana Andrews, Jimmy Gleason and other members of the cast have been drilled in the business of sudden death. How to approach the enemy from the rear, how to crawl along the ground, how to use a tommy gun. The set is a bit of beach and the ground is mined with explosive charges to give the effect of bursting shells and bombs.

Even the movies a Commando raid is a ticklish affair. Power, Andrews and Gleason are in Commando dress—black pants, black sweater and knit caps. But there is the final touch—the bustiness of blacking their faces—just before the action starts. Tyrone and the rest fall to with a will but Ben Carter, the Negro actor, simply stands looking on with a big grin. "I guess," he tells Power, "I'm just a born Commando."

Correspondence from abroad is also causing trouble. When a misdeed arrives with the label, "Passed by the Censor," the innocent recipient immediately concludes that its contents can be disclosed. That is not the case. As Mr. Price will explain in his forthcoming memo, military examination abroad is not equivalent to an approval by the watch-dogs of domestic publications. Both the Army and Navy are bending backward to permit the boys to furnish detailed accounts of their daily trials and experiences. But they will have to crack down if fathers and mothers turn to the local city room with their sons' tales.

STABS: High British officials now in the District of Columbia throw frank but fresh light on the military value of the Dieppe raid. That engagement stirred terrific controversy in every Allied camp, particularly Ottawa, London and Washington, because of the fearful losses in what seemed a comparatively unimportant gesture.

Churchill's air and naval representatives here concede that the casualties were heavy, perhaps two-thirds of the invading expedition. Quantities of material were left behind on the European shore and the scrap which they provide for Hitler's furnaces and machines is an asset to the enemy.

But the information obtained had a tremendous although negative importance. The feeling-out stab revealed to United Nations commanders that Der Fuhrer has made meticulous preparations to repel any large-scale descent upon the Continental coast. It served to warn Allied strategists against a premature and foolhardy attempt to launch a second front in this area as a political move. It also convinced them that for the present their task is to move Germany down by all-out aerial attacks through the winter.

The late Tod Healy only had three stooges, but on the set of "Coney Island" Comedian Phil Silvers is working with 20 stooges. It's for a scene in Cesar Romero's saloon and Phil's act follows a song number by Betty Grable. As Betty sings, the 20 stooges gaze at her with mouths agape. Betty is dressed in long silk tights and the boys all know an artistic sign when they see one. When Betty's song is over and she makes her exit, Silvers looks at the 20 stooges and says, "Okay, boys, stop drooling—we're on."

This time restriction will please the masses. For wives will be cooking Sunday dinners again! A young man whose father had been hanged was faced with filling out a life insurance application form. New Sponge Iron Making Experts Look Bit Silly Today's War Analysis

By PETER EDSON Pampano News Washington Correspondent

The "Leave Everything to the Experts" school of thought in Washington has just received a rather rude sock on the jaw which should leave the school adjourned and its thoughts resting for some time to come. You may recall that a Certain High Party a short time ago intimated that congressmen, typewriter experts and other dumb citizens shouldn't concern themselves with technical things they couldn't possibly understand—problems of production, military strategy and the like. Instead, they were advised to leave everything to the experts. But get a load of this:

When the War Production Board announced it was authorizing the Republic Steel Company to operate a sponge iron furnace at Youngstown, O., to make artificial scrap, WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson made a figurative deep bow from the hips and admitted that much of the information which influenced the board in making this decision was based on findings of the Senate Special Committee Investigating National Defense.

This is the group of 10 senators—none of them experts—headed by Sen. Harry S. Truman of Independence, Mo., who gives the body its popular name of the Truman Committee. Not much has been heard from the Truman Committee in the last few months. But the senators and their staff of investigators under Chief Counsel Hugh S. Fulton have been digging quietly into all manner of things, including a three or four-months' investigation of the iron and steel industry and all ramifications, including the scrap situation and sponge iron.

WHY "SPONGE" IRON? First get a clear picture of what sponge iron is. The name comes from the fact that the material is porous. It isn't solid metal, like a pig iron ingot, but full of holes, like a sponge. Sponge iron is made by reducing iron ore as it comes from the mines to a spongy mass, by heating the ore to temperatures below the fusing point of iron. This oxygen in the iron ore or iron oxides is removed at the same time by mixing the iron ore with pulverized coal, which burns off the oxygen, or by passing through the heated ore a reducing gas which combines with the oxygen. The theory is that sponge iron can be used as substitute for scrap iron to mix with pig iron for the making of steel.

Now this sponge iron situation has been kicking around for some time. Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney of Cheyenne, Wyo., first kicked off on this subject last June. He was interested primarily in seeing some of the low-grade iron ore deposits of his state used in the war production program. O'Mahoney was tackled hard by practically every steel "expert" in the country. Hadn't Judge Gary of United States Steel spent millions of dollars back in the 1920s trying to develop sponge iron, and hadn't the big steel corporations abandoned sponge iron as impractical?

But that didn't stop the Truman Committee. The senators and their investigators followed their own noses. They went out into the field and looked things over for themselves. They talked to Republic and U. S. Steel and Ford and H. G. S. Anderson of Montgomery Ward, who had built and put in operation a sponge iron plant in Japan. They looked into the American Academy of Sciences reports on sponge iron, and the projects of Missouri and Texas groups interested in developing the low-grade iron ore deposits of those states.

Then the scrap situation became more and more critical. The War Production Board iron and steel experts called on the Truman Committee for their information on sponge iron. The experts finally had to come to the amateurs, the people who couldn't possibly understand one of these highly technical subjects.

The result is not only approval of Republic Steel's sponge iron project, but the creation within WPB of a high-ranking Steel Oiling Industry Advisory Committee to consider the scrap shortage and other sponge projects.

Now this should not be taken as any blanket indictment of all experts, nor a guarantee that every sponge iron project will work. But at least it has been demonstrated that you can't always leave everything to the experts. As General Knudsen says, "An expert is just a mechanic away from home."

By DeWITT MACKENZIE LONDON, Oct. 29.—Fiercely contested British offensive—in the Egyptian desert—has reached the point where one would expect it to develop into a battle of tanks. For the outcome of the conflict is likely to turn on these steel monsters.

Lieut. Gen. B. L. Montgomery's tactics against the Axis indicate that this is exactly the position which he is trying to bring about. The wedges which he has driven into Field Marshal Rommel's strongly fortified line are calculated to maneuver the German into flinging his panzer forces into the melee to prevent a complete breakthrough.

The development would bring Axis tanks up against destructive British artillery and anti-tank gun fire. Actually, this is what happened Tuesday, but Rommel withdrew his armored units after they had suffered considerable losses.

Thus far the British Eighth army has been up against the necessity of cracking Rommel's line with frontal assault by infantry, airplanes and artillery. It would be surprising disaster for the British tank corps to send them against such fortified positions at the outset.

Such frontal attack is one of the most difficult operations in war. It is likely to be one of the bloodiest and I believe we must be prepared to learn that the present offensive has been no exception to the rule. The attacking forces indeed would be fortunate if casualties were moderate.

The Allied road to victory thru the Axis fortified positions and minefields is a tough one. The fact that the advance has been slow does not necessarily mean that it has not been successful. Certainly, it has been moving steadily forward steadily through traps which the wily Rommel has laid among the ridges and dunes of this desolate region.

In trying to gauge the progress of such an offensive it must be borne in mind that the drive is laid out in stages and worked on a railway schedule. There are many times when one part of the attacking force could surge forward, but must be held back because another has been stalled.

For one section to race ahead while a neighboring section remained behind would break the line and lay it open to flank attacks by the enemy.

Of course any plan is alterable, even in the heat of the conflict, if an emergency arises. Rommel has achieved much of his success in past engagements by taking advantage of unusual situations. However, the first stages of an offensive like the present against fortified positions are likely to be a job of slow, hard slog.

General Montgomery's ultimate aim is to maneuver the enemy into such a position that he can make a flank attack. Both of Rommel's flanks are protected—the northern by the Mediterranean and the southern by the great Qattara depression.

Thus Montgomery is endeavoring to widen the wedges which are ready to draw out Rommel's tanks where they can be blasted with artillery and then to send British tank units swirling through gaps in the Axis defenses. If and when we reach the point where British armored units are able to execute a flank movement, we shall get what is likely to be one of the biggest tank battles of the war. Rommel's greatest strength apparently lies in his panzer divisions. So far as concerns air power, he is much inferior and he also probably has a mechanic away from home.

SABOTAGE CHAPTER XVII

THE news that Lincoln's great charging center, 210-pound Heavy Underwood, had suffered two broken ribs in a plane crack-up on Monday morning, was enough to upset the whole city and half the state.

The other half of the state, on the contrary, was elated. If Underwood was out of Thursday's game against State U., then State U. had a new cause to hope!

"The gambling gent," quoth Elmer Summers in his Journal column next morning, "are revising their bets all over town. Your scribe heard last midnight that an estimated hundred thousand— in ciphers, 100,000—dollars had already been wagered that State U. would win. That's a right well-rounded sum, lousy as it is.

"The whole thing is lousy, the Journal and all decent people hold, because a stadium is supposed to be a place for amateur sports, not a casino for slinky-eyed denizens too lazy or too dishonest to work for a living. Especially should a game be clean when it involves aviation cadets. Gambling on them in this way is a contemptible form of war profiteering. It is the lowest essence of—"

Summers was wound up about it and he let go in vehement style. Toward the end he hung crepe.

"The truth is," wrote he, "Heavy Underwood's absence will just about swing the balance. It was Heavy who, unsung, often made the holes for Norman Dana and Duane Hogan, Coach Miller's two great backs. It was this hefty trio who spiked so many blitz plays that the Aggies tried last Saturday. Loss of any one of the three at this late hour can well wreck the morale of the whole Lincoln team, especially with Pop Miller himself barely out of bed from an illness."

Blythe Miller read it Tuesday morning and almost cried. It was all too true! Yesterday afternoon she had stayed at the athletic field, in Pop's office with Nancy until practice time, and she had tried desperately to be cheerful and gay, hoping it would be contrarious. The players tried valiantly, too. "What of it?" they asked each other. "We can get along without Heavy. He can sit on the bench and watch the fun! Let's go out there and show him we don't need him!"

"Sure, sure!" somebody would steam back, overly hearty. "Who's Heavy Underwood? Been wanting to play center myself! Come on, let's go!"

THEY swarmed out to practice in that mood, their spirit as false as that of a forced Nazi rally. And the falsity of it began at once to show, Nick O'Day, the sub center, stamped the ball consistently over the backfield's heads. Teddy Kildare, guard, bawled out Big Duane-Hogan, who never in his life did anybody a wrong. Duane—bless him—just kept silent and pleaded, with his eyes, for the gang to carry on, Blythe noticed. It was like that all afternoon, no matter how much the players and the assistant coaches abused. Blythe, who knew football thoroughly, went home with her heart in her shoes.

And now, at breakfast Tuesday, even the papers were saying that Lincoln faced grave trouble indeed.

"I am going to work," Pop Miller announced flatly. "And don't you two women try to stop me! Two days is enough to nurse any blankety-blank cold!"

He didn't say blankety-blank, he said something quite a bit stronger. Strong enough to warn Mom Miller and Bly to let him have his way. Deliberately Bly went back into his bedroom with him after eating. She stood against the closed door, silent as he put on coat, tie, overcoat and hat. He glared at her in defiance when he pocketed Duane Hogan's gun.

"Pop," Bly began, gently. "You know you have a lot of friends." "I have that."

"If a man is in trouble, he—"

"You just mind your own—aw, honey, I don't want to be harsh with you, but don't go asking questions! Kiss me now. . . . Mind!"

She kissed him, and Pop held her close and patted her back. "I'm going with you," she said. "You belong in your own school."

"Not this week. I took off."

HE knew enough not to buck that. His daughter could be as willful as he. Together they rode a trolley to his office. Nancy Hale was not due until 10. Bly hung up her wraps and began opening his stack of mail, as she had done yesterday morning. She noted that Pop took the pistol from his overcoat and kept it on his person as he sat down. She decided to speak quite frankly.

"Pop, there's something you ought to know. Something I know."

"Yump? What?"

"This." She opened his center drawer. From concealment in a folder, she drew the unsigned mystery note: "You can't get by with that. Say nothing. And be ready."

"It came in yesterday's mail," she added. "And Pop—I didn't show it to Nancy. Or anybody else. I was waiting until you were out of bed. But I guess you understand it. You wanted a gun."

He stared at the paper a long time.

"Yes," he said then, quietly. "I understand it. And I understand now why you've been so worried. You knew more than I thought. But you stop fretting, honey. Your old Pop has been taking care of things for over 50 years. Just wait, and keep mum."

They heard sudden steps in the hall, then, and both started a little, involuntarily. Somebody knocked on the door. Pop glanced quickly at Blythe. "Open it," he breathed, "and stand back as you do, just in case."

Strangely confident of him and of herself as well, she obeyed. But then there was a letdown.

"Oh . . . Norman!" There stood Norman Dana, indeed. And for once he was not smiling. His countenance held no look of coquetry or pleasantry or play.

"Hello, Bly; good morning, Pop," he greeted audibly. "Come in, son, come in! Glad to see you. We got a week's work to do, and we need some extra planning. Sit down."

"Pop," Norman said, sliding into a chair, "I just came from Colonel Rutherford, at the field headquarters. The commandant—well, sir, to tell you the truth, they aren't telling it to everybody, but I was pretty close to Heavy Underwood and all. And, Pop, there's evidence that Heavy's plane was sabotaged. Somebody wanted to wreck him! Somebody wanted to get him off our football team!"

Blythe didn't need to hear any more of it. She knew now that the crooked gamblers this time were making doubly sure.

Special rations will be provided for motorists caught away from their homes on November 22, the day nation-wide gasoline rationing goes into effect, OPA announced. Allowances also will be made to permit an owner to move his car in the event of a bona fide change of residence. Gasoline will not be allowed, however, for motor travel from summer homes to winter residences used primarily for vacation purposes.

J. M. North, Jr., editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and Charles Manship, publisher of the Times & Advocate at Baton Rouge, La., have been named members of a newspaper industry advisory committee by WPA Chairman Donald M. Nelson.

WPA announces that substitution of non-metallic materials in the manufacture of reflectors for fluorescent lighting fixtures, as a means to conserve steel, will be required throughout the industry beginning October 31.

OPA officials today estimated that American motorists have had between five and ten million tires tucked away in attics, cellars and garages as insurance against a rainy day. These are the tires which automobile owners are directed to sell to the government, under the idle tire purchase plan which requires motorists to turn in all their new and used tires over five.

WPA today paved the way for a return to the "kraut barrel era" by freezing all stocks of canned sauerkraut held by any persons except retailers in excess of 50 or more cases. This move is intended

Under the circumstances it seems certain that Hitler will try to send air reinforcements to his desert army. Undoubtedly supplies and troops also are being moved across the Mediterranean by air transport and by boat.

British and American air forces and the British navy constantly are destroying Axis transports, but it would be foolish to believe that the Axis isn't getting considerable reinforcement across.

Rommel's lengthy supply communications are a great handicap for him and the Allied air forces are taking full advantage of his crawling transport trains along the military highway which skirts the sea. Montgomery, on the other hand, has the advantage of short lines at present.

This position will alter, however, if the British offensive forces are in Asia retreat. Rommel's communications will begin to shorten and Montgomery's will lengthen. Because of this and because Rommel is receiving reinforcements, the British commander may be expected to try to force a quick decision. Montgomery's game is to get Rommel quickly.

Pacific War Council Talks "Brass Tacks"

WASHINGTON, Oct. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt and the Pacific War council surveyed conditions in the southwest Pacific and Middle East at a White House meeting and Walter Nash, New Zealand's representative on the council, said the emphasis was on "realism, rather than optimism."

Dr. Wei Tao-Ming, the Chinese ambassador, said good deal of discussion centered on the Solomon Islands, but that there also was some talk of world-wide post-war reconstruction. He offered no supplementary details.

Adolf Wires Another Pep Talk To Slaves Duce and Vittorio

BERLIN (From German Broadcasts), Oct. 29 (AP)—Adolf Hitler greeted his Italian Axis partner on the 20th anniversary of the Fascist March on Rome with telegrams from his headquarters to King Vittorio Emanuele and Benito Mussolini recalling their ties with Germany.

To the king he telegraphed: "My sincerest wishes for the glorious future of Allied Italy and for your personal well-being."

To Mussolini: "Adolf Hitler" "On the 20th anniversary of the march to Rome I think of you and your unique historical achievements in firm friendship and devotion. With me the entire National Socialist German people are deeply moved on the occasion of the day of triumph of the Fascist revolution."

"What you, Duce, and your fighters have accomplished since that day has let the uprising at that time become a turning point of human history. Today both our popular revolutions are fighting together in the closest comradeship of arms against the same forces which once opposed Fascism in Italy and National Socialism in Germany."

"Jewry, plutocracy and Marxism will, therefore, lose this fight just as they lost it once before. In this firm conviction I greet you, Duce, most cordially and send you and your blackshirts my and the German people's greetings of comradeship."

"Adolf Hitler."

FORMER ARMY CAPTAIN RECRUITS MEN FOR NAVY

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Charles C. Head, who served in many parts of the world with the army before retiring as a captain, has closed his little neighborhood grocery and is carrying on a one-man volunteer recruiting service—for the navy.

Enlistment posters have replaced the stock in his place of business. He uses his own automobile to visit young men and their families in spreading the gospel of navy service.

He began by signing up his son, Charles, Jr., when he returned from a year of army duty. Two grandsons also are in the nation's sea service.

Gasoline And Oil Stocks Increased By 641,000 Barrels

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Total gasoline stores and all fuel oil supplies increased in the week ended Oct. 24, the American petroleum institute reported today.

Gas oil and distillates, or light fuel oils, increased 641,000 barrels during the week to a total of 47,567,000, while residual, or heavy, fuel oil supplies were up 536,000 barrels to 79,073,000.

Total finished and unfinished stocks of gasoline increased 589,000 barrels to 79,545,000 compared with 78,956,000 at the end of the previous week and 82,390,000 a year ago.

Refineries operating at 78.7 percent of potential capacity ran a daily average of 3,776,000 barrels of crude oil to stills, an increase of 67,000 barrels daily over last week. The percentage was 77.3 and capacity 3,709,000 barrels last week. A year ago the total was 4,071,000.

Daily average crude oil production in the United States increased 15,100 barrels during the week to a total of 3,917,350, compared with 4,098,800 a year ago.

Estimated gasoline production was 11,486,000 barrels against 11,227,000 last week.

Solon Backs Press Fight On Censorship

NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP)—Representative William T. Phelffer, (R-N.Y.), in "an open letter to the press," said today that the country needed "a change in publicity practice involving our navy."

The administration must put all the cards on the table face up.

"Washington has always been ready to criticize the newspapers and the press services for their handling of the news," he said. "On the other hand, if the newspapers attempt to criticize the handling of the news or the censorship they are immediately branded as 'defeatist,' 'fifth columnist,' or 'typewriter strategists.'"

"As a matter of fact, the mistakes that the newspapers have made have been due largely to the concealment of information and the peddling of false information by the government authorities who have shown an alarming distrust of the very agencies that can best promote the winning of the war."

If It Looks Like Dot, Better Scram!

BALTIMORE, Oct. 29 (AP)—Merchant Seaman J. C. Courson who has made the perilous convoy voyage to Russia, offers this formula to tell whether a bomb will hit your ship.

"All you have to do is watch it. If you can see any part of the tail and if the bomb looks oblong there's nothing to worry about. It'll miss."

"But if you see only the points and it looks like a perfectly round dot. . . Well. . . Then it's time to stand from under."

Courson should know. He saw hundreds of bombs loosed upon his and other liberty ships for five consecutive days during the trip to Russia. He saw more fall in Archangel.
