Bomb Over Germany

If all the RAF bombs dropped on Germany since the war began were rolled into one, the ex-trial areas since September, 1939. Some cities hit by relatively few raids have experienced greater destruction than others with larger numbers of attacks because of the great forces of bombers used by the RAF in recent months.

Woman And Maid Slain In Chicago Mystery Killings

EVANSTON, Ill., Oct. 23 (AP)—Cook County state's attorney joined Evanston authorities today in the investigation of the slaying of a wealthy radio manufacturer's wife and her maid, whose bodies were found last night in the living room of their home in the exclusive residential section of this Chicago suburb.

The slain women were Mrs. Lillian Galvin, 45, wife of Paul V. Galvin, who was reported enroute home from Washington where he had been on government business, and Miss Edna Sibilski, 30-year-old farmer's daughter.

Capt. Daniel Gilbert of the state's attorney's office, said that although robbery might have been the motive for the slaying—jewels were reported missing—he was not satisfied this was the only motive.

Capt. Peter J. Geishecker of the Evanston police said the bodies of Mrs. Galvin and Miss Sibilski were found about 6:45 p. m., yesterday by the Galvins' 20-year-old son, Robert, upon his return home from school.

Dr. Thomas Carter, coroner's physician, said that each woman had been shot once beneath the heart with a .45 caliber automatic pistol, and each had been bludgeoned over the head, apparently with the gun. He said Mrs. Galvin had been shot

BRITISH BATTLE FLEET SENT TO INDIAN OCEAN

Allies May Be Ready For Rush Against Burma

By The Associated Press
Great Britain has sent a powerful battle squadron into the Indian ocean, it was disclosed today, amid increasing signs that the zero hour may be near for an Allied offensive against Japanese-conquered Burma.

Authoritative London quarters said the big sea armada included at least three battleships, the Aircraft Carrier Illustrious and a large force of cruisers and destroyers, all under the command of Admiral Sir James Somerville.

No explanation was forthcoming British commander in chief, for the frank disclosure of British fleet movements, heretofore always shrouded in the deepest secrecy, but observers interpreted it as a move to draw Japanese forces from other theaters of the Far Pacific war.

Outspoken hints of an impending Allied drive into Burma have been coming from United Nations headquarters at New Delhi, India, all this past week, following the return of Sir Archibald P. Wavell, British commander in chief, from an inspection tour of the India-Burma frontier.

Gen. Wavell himself has declared that Burma must be retaken. Two other high-ranking Allied military chiefs, Lieut.-Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell, U. S. A., and Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck, have been reported conferring with Gen. Wavell at New Delhi within the past week.

Steady Bombing Of Invasion Fleet Messes Up Jap Plans

By The Associated Press
Japan's big new drive in the Solomon Islands appeared today to have been thrown off schedule as the invaders still withheld their main forces and Allied bombers continued to keep them off balance with heavy blows.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that United Nations airmen dumped 10 tons of bombs on Japanese ships at Buin, in the Northern Solomons, where the enemy has been massing for an all-out assault on the prize American-held Guadalcanal air base in the Lower Solomons.

A communiqué said all the planes found their targets, weathered a storm of anti-aircraft fire, and returned safely to their bases. So far, the navy declared, U. S. planes and warships have sunk or damaged four Japanese cruisers, nine destroyers and six transports since Oct. 13.

In ground fighting, the navy reported that American beat off a "feeler" thrust by Japanese forces in the heavy jungle on Northern Guadalcanal, Oct. 20, and said there was no material change in the military situation.

On the New Guinea front, Allied troops driving through heavy tropical rains and over slippery mountain trails were reported to have advanced within nine miles of the Japanese base at Kokoda, at the foot of the Owen Stanley range.

Dispatches said the Allied troops had now fought their way across the most difficult sectors of the mile-high mountains and were pressing their month-old advance with combined flanking and frontal attacks.

It's Colder, But That Snow Really Is Rain

Rain was substituted for snow today in the weather forecast for the Pampa area, as a light rain started falling here early this afternoon. While snow squalls had been predicted last night, no snow fell here but the temperature did drop to an overnight low of 42 degrees.

Early this afternoon the thermometer had risen only one point above that mark, and today's forecast for the Pampa area was for considerably quite colder this afternoon and tonight with intermittent rain.

Italy Is Hit By Raiders

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Britain's giant bombers spread air-raid alarms across Europe before dawn today as they soared 1,500 miles round trip over the Alps to blast the Italian war foundries city of Genoa and the big Royal arsenal center of Turin.

The Italian high command said the RAF inflicted heavy damage to buildings at Genoa in a raid of "notable dimensions" and set fires in Turin.

First reports indicated that the attack was executed by the RAF's newest four-motored Lancasters and Stirlings, each capable of carrying up to four tons of bombs on long-range forays.

Genoa is the home of the big Ansaldo munitions and airplane

Accused Man Says Can't Help Grabbing Women By Throat

BASTROP, Oct. 23 (AP)—"I'm all right with men, but with women I just want to grab them by the throat. I can't resist it—I don't know why."

So said Private George S. Knapp's signed statement, introduced as evidence at his trial on a murder charge in connection with the death of Lucy Rivers Maynard, 8, Bastrop school girl.

Two statements by Knapp, drafted from St. Paul, Minn., were read yesterday at his trial. They were similar.

In the first, he admitted that he left the girl lying unconscious in a pasture three miles from her home. In the second, he declared that he had picked the child up near the school, taken her for a ride in an army truck and then choked her into unconsciousness when she began screaming.

Knapp's statement said he dragged the child into the field near where she was found the next day by a searching party, but he denied mutilating her in any way.

"I didn't put the scratches on the girl's body. I didn't hit her on the head," he said in the statement.

He second statement was read to the court by Col. Marlin C. Martin, investigating officer who reviewed the charges against Knapp before the court martial was called.

The earlier statement was presented by Lieut. Col. Haney Ikenfeldt, 96th division inspector-general, who interviewed Knapp a few hours after the girl died on Oct. 8.

Skellytown Mother Gets Word From Son In Jap Prison Camp

For the first time since January 17 of this year, Mrs. Essie Ruth of Skellytown has received a letter from her son, Pfc. Albert C. Curlee, U. S. Marine corps, who was islanded when it was captured by the Japanese on December 11, 1941, and who now is in a Jap prison camp in Shanghai.

"The navy informed me that Albert had been on a radio program broadcast from Tokyo on September 14, but I did not hear the program," Mrs. Ruth said. "The last time I heard from him was on January 17 when I received a Christmas card."

In the same prison camp barracks with Albert is another Skellytown man, Kenneth Melton, who was also on Wake Island when the Japs seized it. Kenneth and Albert enlisted in the marine corps at the same time, in 1941. A brother of Kenneth's, Sidney L., has enlisted in the marines and is at the San Diego base.

Address of Albert is Pfc. Albert C. Curlee, BRS-2, Shanghai War Prisoners Camp, Japanese Field

Defeat Of Draft Delay Is Sought

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Having gently nudged aside the prohibition issue, administration leaders trained their fire today on a series of other amendments that threatened to delay enactment of the lower draft age bill.

Chief among these was a demand that 18 and 19 year old men be kept out of combat troops until they had undergone six months or a year's military training.

The wet-dry issue evaporated for the time being yesterday when the senate voted 49 to 25 to send back to its military committee an amendment by Senator Lee (D-Okla.) which would have banned the sale of alcoholic drinks from military areas.

Lee, 50 year old ordained Baptist minister once known as the "boy orator" from Oklahoma, was disappointed but undismayed by this parliamentary maneuver which probably will keep his proposal bottled up in committee for some time.

"There would have been less discussion if the bill had been less

Silent Dawns Come As Mainsprings Pop In All 48 States

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 23 (AP)—"So I look all over town and I can't buy an alarm clock anywhere, see?"

"I've been sleeping in a hotel so the clerk can call me in time to go to work."

Jeweler Francis P. Lepage was not even surprised at his customer's story, what with mainsprings popping in all 48 states, and all the war workers screaming because:

- (1) It costs $1.50 or more to get the old 89-center fixed—if they're lucky enough to find repair parts.
- "And I would like to point out," says Mr. Lepage, "that what good is an automobile and four tires to carry factory people to work, if the driver is home asleep?"

A score of retailers and a dozen repair firms confirmed Lepage's forecast of silent dawns across the nation.

German Prisoners Resist Shackling In Canadian Camp

OTTAWA, Oct. 23 (AP)—German war prisoners at Bowmanville, Ont., attempted to resist reprisal shacklings on Oct. 19 and submitted only after serious disorders in which both prisoners and guards were injured, the Canadian government announced last night.

Some of the prisoners, a statement by Defense Minister J. L. Ralston disclosed, barricaded themselves in their barracks and refused to obey orders until guards chopped a hole in the roof and sprayed them with a fire hose.

One prisoner was wounded in the leg by a rifle bullet, and two suffered light bayonet wounds, Ralston said. He described other injuries as mostly of a minor character.

"Mild resistance" to the shackling order was shown at one other

U. S. Fliers May Have Been Forced Down In Japan

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today it was possible that some of the American fliers who took part in the Doolittle raid on Tokyo had been forced down after leaving Japan and had been captured by the Japanese.

Discussing the planes which raided Japan, Stimson said: "One was interned in Russia. Several others were involved in forced landings in China. A very few of these planes are carried as missing."

Stimson said the names in Japanese propaganda broadcasts "fairly well correspond" with those of army air men long carried on army records as "missing."

Stimson told his press conference that the war department had no reports other than those by the Japanese radio that the men had been subjected to trial.

"Our fliers who attacked Tokyo were instructed to attack only military objectives, and our reports are that they did so with remarkable accuracy," Stimson said.

"We abide by the Geneva convention governing the conduct of war and we expect our enemies to do the same."

"We are very loathe to believe Japan is going to violate those rules."

"We have allowed the Red Cross to inspect the condition of all Japanese prisoners held by us and are making every effort to see that the rules of the Geneva convention and the rules of humanity are carried out."

Yesterday the Tokyo radio, as picked up in New York, named four airmen it said had fallen into Japanese hands after the April 18 raid on Tokyo, led by Brig Gen. James H. Doolittle.

Monday the Tokyo radio said that airmen captured after the raid had been convicted of "inhuman acts" because, it was charged, they bombed civilians and machine-gunned school children. It was said they "would be severely punished in accordance with international law."

Speedy Tests Of Cotton Cord Tires Ordered By Ellender

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Senator Ellender (D-La.) said he would insist on speedy tests of cotton cord in combat tires so that this could be used by the army instead of rayon, if cotton proved practical.

As chairman of a subcommittee investigating an order by Rubber Director William M. Jeffers that facilities be provided for the manufacture of 50,000,000 pounds of tire rayon annually, Ellender said he did not want to impede that war program.

But he did want to see the senator told reporters, a "switch back to cotton" if the tests showed high density low gauge cord of that material was "just as good." And he said he would try to get the tests completed sooner than the three to six months given in estimates before his subcommittee.

Gen. Brehon Somervell, chief of the services of supply, had informed Jeffers that the army found high tenacity rayon necessary in airplanes because of its lightness and strength and in thick combat tires to withstand the high temperatures they generate.

Only In West Texas Will More Cotton Pickers Be Needed

AUSTIN, Oct. 23 (AP)—Only in extreme West Texas and in the High Plains will there be a need for more cotton pickers during the next 10 days, Dr. A. B. Cox, University of Texas cotton expert, reported.

There will be a general need for 50,000 fewer pickers in that period than there was during the Oct. 1-10 period, he said, basing his estimate on county ginning totals. Bulk of the cotton now ready for picking is in the High Plains, the Abilene Haskell plains, and the northern black prairie.

Tubeless Auto Tire Test Is Successful

BALTIMORE, Oct. 23 (AP)—Initial experiments with tubeless automobile tires have proved successful in the District of Columbia.

N. E. Emmons, superintendent of the district's municipal garage and shops, told The Evening Sun today that "apparently we have solved the tube-shortage problem. Our tests of tubeless operation have been completely successful."

In the last 10 days, he explained, an official car has operated 350 miles, with tires mounted directly on the rims, made airtight with puncture-proof fluid, and inflated through a metal valve, inserted where a tube's rubber valve normally appears.

Emmons said this metal valve, because of security, is the only possible stumbling block he could see toward conversion of automobiles.

Senate Approves $15,000,000 Bill For Navy

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—The senate has completed congressional action on a $6,341,998,887 war appropriations bill which also authorizes the navy to enter contracts for $9,510,000 worth of new vessels.

Accepting a conference committee agreement, which the house adopted yesterday, the senate gained the power to control the appointment of war manpower commission employees receiving $4,500 or more a year, over Chairman Paul V. McNutt's protest that it would impede a vast industrial recruitment program.

The senate accepted a reduction of $1,000,000 in the manpower commission's appropriation it approved for the plan to set up 320 rural services for placing workers on the farms.

The senate also accepted a restriction on the use of unexpended divers and harbor funds, barring their use to start work on the Florida barge canal but permitting $6,485,000 to be used on the intra-coastal waterway from Florida to Corpus Christi.

The bill carried $2,662,000,000 for the construction of new housing facilities near army posts, naval stations, waractories and shipyards.

He also said he would agree to any reduction made by the legislature which will not handicap the efficiency of the office.

Movement Of Oil On Upgrade Again

WASHINGTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Reserving a recent downward trend, railroads moved 838,163 barrels of petroleum daily into the oil-short east during the week ended October 17, or 71,753 more barrels daily than in the preceding week, Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes announced.

"We're on the upgrade again," Ickes told a press conference. Attributing the halt in the downward trend of the last three weeks to the pooling of oil industry facilities and supplies and to greater movement of oil in solid train lots.

The record movement, attained in September, was 856,000 barrels daily, Ickes said.

Annual Charro Fiesta Will Be All-Foot Affair

BROWNSVILLE, Oct. 23 (AP)—Brownsville will hold its annual Charro Days fiesta in 1942 but the picturesque border carnival will be strictly a foot affair.

Charro Days directors have turned over to the war effort all equipment containing steel, wire and rubber.

Brownsville men still will grow beards, however, and townspeople will don colorful Mexican costumes for the traditional pre-lenten event, March 4-6.

TEXAS, IRISH, AND DUKE SELECTED AMONG WEEK'S WINNERS

Notre Dame Rolling Now, Barker Says

By HERB BARKER
NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—Taking the usual scatter-shot at the weekly football program: Notre Dame-Illinois: The renaissance of Illinois football under Ray Eliot has been one of the season's chief high-spots. Notre Dame, after a disappointing start reached a peak against Iowa pre-flight and seems ready to move on. This looks like an even proposition from any angle and the coin spins... Notre Dame, Georgia Tech-Navy: Tech, unbeaten so far, numbers Notre Dame among its victims. Navy has done nothing this season to warrant this vote going any where but to Georgia Tech.

Army-Harvard: Harvard hasn't won one yet and this hardly seems the spot for the Crimson to begin Army.

Michigan-Minnesota: The Wolverines have a scoring punch against top-flight, competition. Minnesota has been a far cry from the machines Bernie Bierman sent to the football wars. Michigan.

Ohio State-Northwestern: In which the nation's current No. 1 ranking team meets a Stangerous rival. Ohio State but the Buckeyes will need to watch Otto Graham.

Duke-Pitt: The astonishing rout of Colgate indicated the Dukes have gotten themselves organized. Duke.

Alabama-Kentucky: On the face of the records, Alabama should be a sure thing. They don't pay off on the records but just the same, Alabama.

Texas-Rice: The Owls have had plenty of time to get ready for this one. But Texas seems to be rolling again after a brief slump. At any rate, Texas.

Southern California-Stanford: Maybe the Trojans can roll two Saturdays in a row. Southern California.

Santa Clara-U. C. L. A.: One of the toughest games of the day to figure. The Broncos, a stout defensive outfit, wins the close ones but this corner is going to take a flier on U. C. L. A. which has piled up 51 points in two weeks against Oregon State and California.

Villanova-Auburn: Taking the home team, Auburn.

Wake Forest-Boston College: Danger ahead for unbeaten Eagles but the nod, just the same, goes to Boston College.

North Carolina State-Holy Cross: The Crusaders have shown nothing against a major foe. N. C. State.

Duquesne-Manhattan: Duquesne should get back on the winning track here.

Columbia-Penn: The Lions appear over-matched. Penn.

Colgate-Penn State: State always is tougher on its home grounds. But that doesn't seem sufficient reason to drop off the Colgate bandwagon. Colgate.

Brown-Princeton: The Tigers have been responsible for two big surprises in beating Navy and tying Penn. This vote for Brown merely expresses doubt that Princeton can do it three weeks in a row.

Cornell-Syracuse: No possible pick but Syracuse.

Dartmouth-Yale: Probably close. Dartmouth.

Iowa-Indiana: Very tough indeed. Out of the hat, Indiana.

Wisconsin-Purdue: Purdue battered. Wisconsin.

Great Lakes-Michigan State: Taking Great Lakes.

Georgetown-Detroit: Ditto Detroit. Mississippi State-Florida: Could be very close. Mississippi State.

Georgia Naval-Louisiana State: Probably from sheer force of habit, Georgia Naval.

North Carolina Naval-Temple: Ditto N. C. Naval.

Arkansas-Mississippi: Both well beaten. On the toss of a coin, Mississippi.

North Carolina-Tulane: This is the week Tulane should be "up."

100-Mile Trip Now Major Grid Problem

DALLAS, Oct. 23 (AP)—It's not so much a question these days of winning the football game but of getting there to play it. Business managers who worried over whether there'd be 20,000 in the stands now spend their time at the railroad station trying to get 20 boys 100 miles so their college can at least be represented.

The Southwest conference has found this wartime transportation problem more than invigorating—in fact, it's a nightmare. When Texas Christian's squad pulled out the other night for Pensacola the boys were scattered through several sleeping cars because they had lost their claim on a separate pullman because of wartime transportation calls. But this was better than the trip to Los Angeles to play UCLA.

With 36 persons all crowded into one pullman, Coach Dutch Meyer observed upon arrival in Los Angeles: "I now am ready to offer expert advice to the sardine canners."

At San Antonio the Southern Methodist squad couldn't get a bus or taxicab so Coach Stewart loaded all of the in a cattle truck and away they went to the field to play Hardin-Simmons.

The Texas team couldn't get buses at Chicago to go to the Evanston stadium so they obtained cabs for the six-mile journey. One of the cabs got lost and arrived while the others were leaving. Stan Mauldin, Zuehl Conoly, Walton Roberts and Max Minor had a private workout in the park.

The day of the game with Northwestern Texas had to be transported to the field by hotel employees in private cars and in return gave the employees sideline passes so they could sit on benches back of the players.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, Oct. 23 (AP)—One of the biggest boosts for football were seen in a long time was a letter that Harvard's Dick Harlow read to the Boston sportswriters the other day. . . . It came from Lieut. Harry Kopp, one of Dick's former Western Maryland players and later a coach, who is in England with the army. . . . Can't quote it all, but here are a few of his remarks: "We play about twice a week. We haven't any padding at all, but that doesn't stop the soldiers. Injuries are nil. . . . No one can ever tell me the American youth is not as tough as anything that walks. . . . It's the best morale builder I have found yet. . . . We have a real tough one coming up so on and no one is afraid. In fact we are ready for the kick-off. I hope it isn't a forward pass zua a real double off-tackle play."

DRAWING A CONCLUSION
When Colgate plays Penn State tomorrow, two of the east's oldest coaches in point of service, Andy (14 years Kerr and Bob (13 years) Higgins, will be on the benches. . . . And if the stories we've heard about the difficulties of travel haven't been exaggerated too much, travel teams may find themselves on the benches in some of the oldest coaches in service.

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE
Contributions to be thoroughbred club's war auction at Keeneland tonight include a dozen or so well-worn colts and fillies, and several War Admiral and Blue Larkspur, a set of Man O'War's racing plates, a registered bud and eleven country hams. . . . The army has taken over Starlight Park in the Bronx, leaving two soccer teams temporarily homeless as well as the stadium where Joe and Jimmy are training. . . . Joe Gould and Jimmy Braddock already have picked up a fighter in the army. They're lending their expert advice to Welterweight Joe De Martino, a private at Fort Benning where Joe and Jimmy are training. . . . Southwest colleges are showing a lot of interest in Len Heath, a Chandler, Okla., high school back whose scoring runs have averaged 75 yards in the past two seasons.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR
Leroy Atkinson, Worcester (Mass.) Telegram: "War is Hell Dept: A terrible result of the conflict has just come to light. . . . Man Mountain Dean has just been released from the army on the grounds that he is unfit for military service and he has announced he is once more going to inflict himself upon the wrestling public."

SERVICE DEPT.
Sam Lo Presti won't be tending goal for the Curtis Bay (Md.) Coast Guard hockey team this winter. He was transferred to the navy and is going to Great Lakes. . . . New Orleans is planning a ten-team basketball league for service men this winter. . . . Hank "Honey" Melody, the Chicago lightweight boxer, was finalist in Port Sherman's badminton tournament recently. . . . Burrell Bell, leading hitter of the Norfolk Naval Training station baseball team in 1941. B. F. (Before Feller), was aboard the Quincy when the ship Corp. Mike Becker, former Duquesne basketball star, drew a 12-day furlough from the Aberdeen, Md., proving ground, he went right back to Pittsburgh—and worked out with the Duquesne court squad.

White Deer Seeks Fourth Win Tonight

Special To The NEWS
WHITE DEER, Oct. 23—The Bucks will go to Perryton tonight for their first conference game of the season.

The Rangers began their conference play last week by defeating Canadiana, 6 to 0.

Cancellation of last week's game with the Hereford Whitefaces, because of rain, deprived the Bucks of some much needed experience and the bad weather has hindered practice, but the boys are in good condition and will be spurred on by a desire to continue the record set in their last three games in which they have defeated McLean, 13 to 7; LeFors, 13 to 0; and Wheeler, 28 to 6.

Rice Donates Game Receipts
HOUSTON, Oct. 23 (AP)—Coach Jess Neely and his football players voted today to request that Rice institute give charity its share of the receipts of a recent game between Rice and the naval flying base at Corpus Christi.

The community chest will be $4,022.24 richer.

Fur Sure To Fly When Owls Battle Longhorns

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Associated Press Sports Editor

The Rice Owls catch Texas under circumstances similar to 1940 at Houston tomorrow and the fur is due to fly in this top battle of Southwest conference football.

Then Texas was winding up a real trip that carried the Longhorn's into the midwest and back to Fayetteville. Championship hopes were beating high but the Owls rose up to stop Jack Cram and shatter Texas' chances.

Saturday the Longhorns will be finishing up a grid tour that reached the midwest and Fayetteville while Rice is all rested and ready, having had an open date last week.

Forecasts do not say Rice will again upset the Longhorns but if ever there was a spot for such a thing that carried the Longhorn's into the midwest and back to Fayetteville.

Conference teams will be playing on far-flung fronts Saturday with unbeaten Texas Christian engaging Pensacola Naval Air station at Pensacola, Fla., and Arkansas battling Mississippi at Memphis, while at home Baylor tackles Texas A. and M. at Waco and Southern Methodist meets Corpus Christi Naval Air station at Dallas.

The signs point to another losing day for this section against outside opposition. Texas Christian is due to try to beat Arkansas as being picked to lose to Mississippi and Southern Methodist to Corpus Christi Naval Air station.

The Baylor-Texas A. and M. game is hardest to figure. On the basis of comparison with a common foe of low averages, Texas is better.

The Aggies didn't have much trouble beating Tech. Baylor didn't find the sailing too easy against the Red Raiders.

But the Bears are stretch-runners. They showed that even in the game they lost to Hardin-Simmons. They almost nipped the Cowboys, they came from behind to bounce Oklahoma A. and M.

Southern Methodist is being picked to lose for a change so they should win this one—that is, on the basis of low averages. The general ability of Corpus Christi NAS, however, doesn't say so. The Comets are moving now—moving along with All-America George Franck and one of the classiest arrays of former college stars in America.

T. C. U. Frogs are making a long trip and meeting a squad that could be a world-beater with a little coordination that hasn't been forthcoming because of lack of time for practice. Anyway, T. C. U. isn't worrying much about this one and can take the reserves a workout. Thus far about 20 players have done all the tussling.

This corner hit three and got one tie last week. Not knowing enough to let well-enough alone we give you our selections for Saturday: Texas vs. Rice at Houston—Texas will win but not feeling any too well at the finish.

Baylor vs. Texas A. and M. at Waco—a weak vote for Baylor.

Texas Christian vs. Pensacola Naval Air station at Pensacola—a lousy vote for the Frogs to remain undefeated and tied.

Corpus Christi Naval Air station vs. Southern Methodist at Dallas—Coach Jimmie Stewart of the Mustangs thinks the critics should pick his team to lose for a change. Well, this is it.

Arkansas vs. Mississippi at Memphis—Mississippi rates a slight edge, it appears from here, but an Arkansas victory would be no upset.

Baker Beats Wilson 13-0 To Open Ward School Tournament

Opening the round-robin gridiron series in Pampa elementary schools, B. M. Baker's eleven whipped Woodrow Wilson 13 to 0 in a game played yesterday at Harvesters park.

Baker and Horace Mann are scheduled to play sometime next week. The exact date has not been set but will likely be Wednesday or Thursday.

In the tilt yesterday, Baker scored in the first and third quarters. Jimmy Hyatt, Baker right halfback, scored the first touchdown with a 35-yard run.

Distance of the run for the second marker was nearly the same and the touchdown play was from nearly the same position as in the first period.

D. Compton, Baker left halfback, was the receiver of a 20-yard pass from Clinton (Pinky) Allen, and ran for the second touchdown.

Allen, quarterback, then plunged across for the extra point. The same method of extra point try was made after the first touchdown, but the attempt failed.

Masons Cut Out Of District Play-Off

(By The Associated Press)

Masonic Home took its third defeat of the season last night and it's the first time in years for the mighty mites to have that many beatings with the Texas schoolboy football campaign just half finished.

North Side downed the Masons 18-14 virtually to eliminate them from the Fort Worth district race.

Three other games were played in the state last night, Sherman surprising Gainesville 7-0 in district 5, San Jacinto beating Milby 21-7 in the Houston district and Bowie (El Paso) downing class A Kermit 38-0.

Forty-seven tilts are scheduled tonight and tomorrow, the feature being between Paris and Denison at Denison. It will just about decide the district 5 championship and also eliminate one of the state's twelve undefeated, untied teams.

FDR Changes Place Of Army-Navy Game

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Oct. 23 (AP)—The Army-Navy football game, a victim of its own popularity, has been shunted from Philadelphia's mammoth stadium to the naval academy's 22,000-seat arena as a war economic measure by President Roosevelt.

In a season during which other gridiron contests have shown a drastic falling off in attendance, the battle of the two service elevens was expected to draw its customary 100,000 spectators. The president last night ordered the transfer to save tires and gasoline and to keep the railroads open for more important travel.

The White House statement which accompanied the announcement warned that tickets for the classic be sold "only to residents of Annapolis—not to outsiders" and hinted that the game might be the last meeting of the two for the duration of the war by saying that "the game was scheduled before war was declared and its cancellation at this late date undoubtedly would cause great disappointment."

Annapolis, capital of Maryland, had a population of slightly more than 13,000 in 1940 and is believed near 16,000 now. Last year at Philadelphia 98,924 persons watched Navy defeat the Army, 14 to 6.

The White House statement warned specifically against persons living in Baltimore and Washington obtaining pasteboards for the game and said that only such members of the student body and officials of the U. S. Military academy as were needed for the contest would be permitted to travel to Annapolis.

Last year 42 special trains were needed to move the civilian spectators to Philadelphia and 14 additional trains brought the Cadets from the two competing institutions.

Last week one of our rumb guards kept pulling out the wrong way, conking heads with the other guard.

So from then on whenever the signal was given for him to pull out, the center would call: "Depot, toot! toot! Depot, toot! toot!"

This meant that it was time for him to pull out, like a train.

From then on he went the right way, and no more heads rolled.

SERIAL STORY

PLAY BY PLAY

BY PAUL DAVID PRESTON

COPYRIGHT, 1942, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: Blythe Miller, a young widow of a soldier, was brought to the field with her young son, homeless and penniless, after being hurt in an auto accident. She falls in love with Blythe's father, Pop Miller. Blythe also loves Pop and is jealous. But her jealousy in fact is in favor of curiosity when, because from the doorway, she hears the stranger offer Nancy $1000.

FRIGHTENED EAVESDROPPER

CHAPTER XII

IT was strictly 100 per cent of Blythe's business. Her own conscience told her that. Her sense of guilt jebbed at her like an angry Jimmy Cricket. She was more than butting in, she was downright snooping. And yet— Girls and women have a peculiar sixth sense which the scientists don't explain, and which men (when they experience it) call masculine brains. Pop had often wisecracked about it, Blythe remembered; teased her about it, when she complimented his astuteness at dishing out football games. Right now, she didn't try to analyze it. She just stood still and listened to the conversation up there at the head of the stairs.

"What in the world are you talking about?" Nancy Hale was obviously astounded. The overcast man kept oil in his voice. "Now, now, sister! Take it easy, and understand. A thousand bucks don't grow on bushes. But you got it here right in your hand. See?" "But—but—" "How much pay you get being a sten, huh? Maybe one hundred. Say one fifty. That's a lousy 1800 bucks a year! But here's pretty near a year's pay, and you can earn it for working on the quiet just one hour. Easy!" There was a pause. Perhaps to let his temptation sink in.

Blythe's curiosity, like a steam valve, is nearing the point of explosive pressure. Curiosity and intuitive fear combined. Fear for what? For Nancy. For Pop. For the Lincoln field and the Lincoln team. For herself. Or—for some thing! She couldn't have pinned it down.

THE voice became lower, more ingratiatingly intimate. "I body seen me come here. Nobody'll see me go away. Understand? Now look, you got a little tid to support. Cute little boy—yea-a-a-ah!" The last was disgustingly unctuous in tone. Unctuous and brassy. "You ain't got no luck to speak of. No husband. No future, eh? Unless—look, not even a drop of danger in this. Ain't like we was asking you to do a big job with the mob or something, or even work downtown. What you do is right here in your living room. Home work, yea-a-a-ah!" He tacked on a throaty chuckle.

"Please—what is it all about?" Nancy pleaded that. "You want take up the proposition?" "If it's a chance to earn a thousand dollars, of course I do. Do you want to come in and sit down?" "Not me, sis!" He spoke warily. "I don't need to. But okay—look. I represent the boys, see? The boys downtown."

"What boys?" "Oh, some of the boys. Buncha fellows. Good jobs, see? You'd like 'em, yea-a-ah. They'd like you. They said so. You might wanta get acquainted later. Be worth your while, see? Girl with your looks. Your brains. Yea-a-a-ah! Like you myself!" He added that last as if it were the ultimate compliment he could pay Nancy. Blythe peeked up around the stairway L again, cautiously. Sure enough, he wore the silly grin that predatory men use when approaching a woman. Blythe herself had seen it. It added to her apprehension now. Apprehension for Nancy and everything else.

"Are you—is that what you mean?" Nancy emphasized the "that" hard tone. "No, no—wait! Don't get me wrong! I was just telling you; I like you, see? Like you myself. You got what it takes. But I ain't—" "All right for that part. I suppose I feel honored, having a man tell me he likes me. But what has he to do with the money, may I ask?" Blythe felt surprised that Nancy would have been jittery under such circumstances, she knew. But then—Nancy Hale was a few days older. Older and far more experienced. Nancy's husband had been slain at Pearl Harbor. Nancy had had a baby, had fought the hunger wolf for months, had been in the automobile wreck that might have killed her, had swung high and swung low in the scale of human emotions. It all made Blythe regard the other girl with a kind of awe. She strained again to hear how Nancy would handle this acute situation.

"Here's what you gotta do and you're gonna do it for the grand," the stranger was saying. Blythe heard every word. "The boys downtown like to have their own little games, see. Don't harm nobody. Matter of fact, don't make a damn in the long run who wins a football game. Forget in a week anyhow, ain't it? You know that? He was being oily again. "Whole thing's done in fun out here. . . . Just kids playin', see. Not important, see. Game might's well go one way's another. Cadets, from all over. This school, and that. See what I mean? Now look—" Blythe strained, her pulse thumping like an ack-ack there in the dark hall.

"Look, what you gotta do is see to it the right side in only one day. The game. We can fix it easy. You got them two Joes on your string, Hogan and Dana. They're the main aces, you know that, sister. All you gotta do is invite 'em both up here the night before, feed 'em a little quiet dinner, and drop a little rest pill in their tea! . . . Yeah-a-a-ah! Easy, see? Nobody ever know it. Do 'em no harm. Just slow 'em down for about a day, see? And one thousand bucks!" (To Be Continued)

"Now listen," the man said, still oily. "You know my name and I don't know yours," Nancy pointed out. "My name don't matter. Just say I'm a friend. Maybe later, we can get acquainted—like to take you out sometimes—yea-a-a-ah! But right now it's business, see."

"Will you please come to the point?" "How's about it? You want the dough?" "Of course I want money. I need it."

"This voice took on a cutting tone. "No monkey business! The boys—they ain't fooling. They're mad as hell!" That stumped Nancy, and Blythe felt a tinge of nervous excitement, too. "What do you mean?" Nancy demanded. "I don't like—" "Okay, okay, I'm just warning you. We got ripped last week, and we're getting that cared for, in due time. That Miller—but look. Here's what you gotta do!"

THE word Miller froze Blythe. He must mean Pop! He must, truly, be associated some way with that fat envelope in Pop's desk, and with the rare anger she had discovered in Pop that day almost a week ago. Pop was home sick in bed today. This stranger had made an unmistakable threat against her Pop!

"Here's what you gotta do and you're gonna do it for the grand," the stranger was saying. Blythe heard every word. "The boys downtown like to have their own little games, see. Don't harm nobody. Matter of fact, don't make a damn in the long run who wins a football game. Forget in a week anyhow, ain't it? You know that? He was being oily again. "Whole thing's done in fun out here. . . . Senator Demands Oil Coordination

WASHINGTON, Oct. 22 (AP)—Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) viewing depletion of the nation's petroleum reserves as a "threat of the utmost gravity," called today for greater co-ordination of federal efforts to avert an oil crisis in the midst of war.

Chairman of a public lands committee which reported the army and navy were dependent for tremendous oil supplies upon "the un-coordinated activity" of five agencies, O'Mahoney told reporters new wells must be drilled without delay.

Despite civilian curtailment, he said, crude oil consumption is keeping up with a production of slightly more than 4,000,000 barrels a day. Yesterday's committee report disclosed that tests showed the army needed 15,000,000 gallons of gasoline a day for a ground force of 7,500,000 contemplated by war officials.

"Add to that, fuel oil for the navy and fuel oil for the merchant marine," the report continued. "Add again, gasoline for the air armadas, toluene for explosives and butadiene for rubber. Then, at last a comprehension of the huge quantities of petroleum that are needed begins to dawn upon the mind."

Commending Harold L. Ickes for his organization of the petroleum industry as petroleum co-ordinator and secretary of interior, the report asserted however that he lacked authority over the war production board, the office of defense transportation and the price administration, all dealing with some aspects of the oil problem.

It said "there should at least be an understanding" between Ickes and the war production board "whereby adequate priorities could be guaranteed for the drilling of necessary wells and the construction of necessary pipelines."

BUY VICTORY BONDS Community Sing To Be Held Here Nov. 1 Quartets and soloists are especially invited to attend the program of the Community singers, to be held Sunday, November 1, at the Assembly of God church, 500 S. Cuyler. The program will begin at 2:30 p. m.

Members of the organization, of which Wesley Bruce, Pampa, is president, are pointing out the benefits derived from community singing, citing it as an excellent Sunday diversion, especially more so now than ever, in view of gasoline and the rationing cutting down on travel.

HOLD EVERYTHING passenger line recapping quota regulation. MPR No. 185 will be in effect about November 1, to hold such fees to the highest prices charged in March, 1942.

Manufacturers' and wholesalers' prices on electric storage batteries will be subjected to OPA price regulation on November 1, OPA announced that ceilings will be established under MPR No. 136 (machines and parts and machinery services). Automotive replacement batteries at the retail level are under the general maximum price regulation.

The Southwest WPB region is nearing the half-way mark in its drive to obtain 12,000 standard model typewriters for sale to the armed forces. R. Eugene Risser, region director, announced. A total of 7785 typewriters have been released for military use by business firms, schools, non-military government agencies and local government offices, and private owners. WPB offices are asking that 25 per cent of the machines owned by such firms and institutions be released for use by the armed services. The drive will continue until the goal is reached.

An increase in the amount of scrap iron and steel obtained from structures where the cost of demolition exceeds the volume of the metals today was assured with the announcement of a working relationship between the Conservation Division's special projects salvage section, and War Materials, Inc., newly organized at the instance of the Metals Reserve company, a subsidiary of the RFC. War Materials, Inc., will engage and pay contractors to demolish structures which have been located by the special projects salvage section.

The Office of Defense Transportation has issued an urgent request that owners of commercial vehicles put their inquiries regarding certificates of war necessity in writing and refrain from making long-distance calls to the ODT central mailing office in Detroit, Mich. Operators who do not receive application blanks in the general mailing should apply to their ODT motor transport division office for Form ODN-4 and use this form in requesting application blanks. Forms have been mailed to 93 additional counties in Texas. John C. Masenburgh, Dallas, region manager of the motor transport division, announced.

After Nov. 15, 1942, anyone leasing a commercial motor vehicle from another person "for a period of seven or more consecutive days" (a "lessee") must obtain a certificate of war necessity to operate the leased vehicle, ODT announces.

In answering questions concerning tire mileage on applications for certificates of war necessity, carriers should be careful to report only the mileage of recapped or re-treated tires that was run after the recapping or re-treading, ODT points out.

Price Administrator Leon Henderson today assured bowlers and billiard and pool players that fees charged for their pastimes will not be allowed to advance. An amend-

Operators who do not receive application blanks in the general mailing should apply to their ODT motor transport division office for Form ODN-4 and use this form in requesting application blanks. Forms have been mailed to 93 additional counties in Texas. John C. Masenburgh, Dallas, region manager of the motor transport division, announced.

In answering questions concerning tire mileage on applications for certificates of war necessity, carriers should be careful to report only the mileage of recapped or re-treated tires that was run after the recapping or re-treading, ODT points out.

turbance over it now," he told reporters, "than there will be by postponing it, because the longer it is postponed the bigger it will get."

Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) told reporters he hoped all other amendments could be passed and the bill passed by nightfall. The house approved a similar measure, without any restrictions, last Saturday.

Barkley conceded there was likely to be much discussion and probably a close vote on the question of requiring a specified pre-combat training period.

The Lee amendment was shuffled aside after debate had brought charges from Senators Lucas (D-Ill) and Tydings (D-Md) that it was the opening gun in a campaign to bring back national prohibition.

Lee argued, on the other hand, that if the senate rejected the amendment it might be fanning the flames for a new national prohibition.

"Not one of our aircraft is missing," the British announced.

Flying through bright moonlight, the raiders touched off a chain of alarms on the continent and sent anti-aircraft guns into action at Vichy and Lyons, France, Geneva, Switzerland, had two air alerts.

It was the first raid on Italy by British-based bombers in more than six months and underscored Air Minister Sir Archibald Sinclair's statement two days ago that "we have been hitting Italy from the air and we shall go on doing so."

RAF planes based in the Mediterranean area have struck repeatedly at Sicily and points in southern Italy.

An Italian communique said the RAF attacked Genoa in several waves, dropping incendiary and high-explosive bombs.

"Casualties are still being counted," the communique said, indicating that the loss of life was heavy.

HITLER

a battle in the same general vicinity, southeast of Novososik, and killed 150 others in the successful defense of a height.

The Russians further reported they had smashed a Nazi wedge which briefly imperiled their first-line defenses in the Mozdok sector, gateway to the Grozny oil fields, in the central Caucasus.

By all accounts, the picture was brightening rapidly for the defenders of Stalingrad as winter's first snowstorm swirled across the steppe.

Dispatches to Red Star said the Germans were now feverishly attempting to fortify positions amid the skeleton ruins of the city, building pillboxes and dugouts and converting wrecked buildings into a defense line.

Red Star declared that Soviet troops had sprung to the attack in several quarters of the city, throwing the enemy back on the defense despite the fact that the Germans were using 22 divisions totalling about 250,000 men in the siege—including 15 infantry divisions, four tank divisions and three motorized divisions—as well as more than 500 tanks, 1,200 field guns and 1,000 mortars.

But the out-numbered Russians fought back with mounting violence, and Soviet pleasure steamers marshaled from ports along 1,800 miles of the Volga still bore food and munitions to the Stalingrad garrison under incessant attack by German planes.

Soviet headquarters and military dispatches gave this account of new Red army gains:

1. Capture of another key position along the 40-mile corridor between the Don and Volga rivers, where Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's relief armies have been conducting a series of large-scale trench raids against the vital German left flank.

2. Defeat of a tank-led German infantry assault in Stalingrad's northwest industrial section, where the defenders improved their positions in several streets after crushing the Nazi drive.

3. Seizure of two lines of enemy trenches on the northwest steppe, now haggard in mud and snow.

The Russians said about 500 Axis troops were killed in a two-day fight above the city during which Soviet forces recaptured a sentinel hill and held it against counter-attacks.

Berlin dispatches reported "mud and water everywhere" along the central and northern sectors of the long battlefield and declared that all except the largest trucks equipped with caterpillar tread were mired.

Winter was reported already gripping the Balkans.

Barnett said that this section of the nation was geared to automobile transport, with many local passenger lines long discontinued and the rails pulled up for use elsewhere.

"Gasoline rationing thus prevents officials here with a greater problem than in other sections. It is like telling Wisconsin and Michigan people along the shore of Lake Michigan that fish are rationed. Many still would drop lines unseen along the banks."

"Making usable gasoline is not much more difficult than fishing. So, enforcement of the law becomes a problem immediately."
