

Proposal to Keep Intact Military Funds Rejected

OVERALL BUDGET SLASH PROBABLE

WASHINGTON—AP—The 102 member House-Senate Budgetary Committee today rejected a proposal to keep Army and Navy funds intact and agreed to decide later whether to work toward an over-all federal budget slash of $1,000,000,000 or $4,150,000,000.

The compromise figure was offered by Senator Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services Committee, who was leading a drive to prevent cuts in military funds which he contends would jeopardize the nation's security.

The committee shouted down a proposal by Rep. Dingell (D-Mich) that would have prevented any slashes of Army-Navy funds.

Gurney said his compromise would allow only "token cuts" of the armed forces of about $200,000,000 for the Army and Navy.

A $6,000,000,000 slash as recommended by the subcommittee calls for a $1,750,000,000 cut in the armed services.

President Truman has asked for approximately $11,200,000,000 for the army and navy and a $37,000,000,000 for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

At the outset of the meeting, the Democratic-Republican bloc fighting the army-navy cuts lost an initial vote which the committee voted 42 to 27 to exclude the press and the public from its sessions.

Senate Democratic Leader Barkley (Ky) had moved to open the doors of the press and public, saying the people should know "what is going on."

Rep. Dirksen (R-Ill), leading the drive to slash the President's budget, was reported to have offered the motion to table Barkley's proposal.

A 20-man subcommittee of the 102-member Budgetary Committee then formally presented its resolution, proposing that the full committee ratify its recommendations for the $6,000,000,000 cut, approved Monday.

Those supporting the large cut charged that the budget slash was fighting the large budget slash was fighting the large budget slash was fighting the large budget slash.

A Republican-Democratic bloc fighting the large budget slash was ready to present a substitute proposal to restrict the reduction to $4,500,000,000 or less.

President Truman said yesterday he was "spending" Page 6

Marshall Reports World in 'Very Critical Condition'

WASHINGTON—AP—Secretary of State Marshall reported "the world is in a very critical condition" in his first meeting today with the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

The secretary of state gave this word to newsmen as he left the closed committee session.

Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) said that he found Marshall's report on world affairs "encouraging in many respects."

Marshall declined to elaborate on his hour and a half talk. He told reporters on leaving that the recall of Ambassador Arthur Bliss Lane to report on conditions in Poland does not mean a rupture in diplomatic relations. He declined to say, however, whether Lane later would return to his post in Warsaw.

Asked specifically whether he had made a "hopeful" or "encouraging" report to the senators on international conditions, Marshall replied:

"I told them the world is in a very critical condition."

Marshall said he talked about "most of the world's trouble spots."

FEBRUARY 14 1947

NANCY HUVAL, above, 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Huval, 436 North Ballard, contemplates what would happen to Texas' distinction as the largest state if Alaska is admitted to the Union. As a solution for the state's problem, she told the President in a letter that he could divide Alaska. "I ask this," she wrote, "because Texas just has to remain the largest in the Union." Her letter was acknowledged for the President; and the matter, it was said, is for the Congress.

Truman Slams Door On '48 Demo Rivalry

WASHINGTON—AP—President Truman, by the simple act of not taking himself out of the race, appeared today to have closed the door against a build-up for any possible rival for the 1948 Democratic presidential nomination.

Political Washington marked off as more or less expected the President's indirect refusal yesterday to commit himself on Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan's action in placing Mr. Truman's hat in the 1948 ring.

Political Play For Presidential Post Like Song

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—AP—The shy little tune you hear is the song of the possible Presidential candidates. It goes:

"I didn't say I wouldn't run. I didn't say I would. I mean I've only just begun to hope that, yes, I could. A lot of Republicans would like to get their mail at the White House for four years after 1948. But none of them yet has been caught saying so, except Harold E. Stassen, former Minnesota governor." (On the Democratic side President Truman isn't saying what he'll do in 1948 although it's been said for him.)

Stassen is the only Republican who so far has walked on the chilly, lonely land and said publicly "I'm a candidate." He said it Dec. 17.

The next day Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York had five words to say on the subject.

(He was Republican candidate in 1944 and there's no widespread feeling he's snubbed the chance again if he got it in 1948.)

A reporter asked him: "Governor, are you ready to announce your candidacy for President?"

"Certainly not," Dewey said. "Certainly not ready?" Dewey said: "Certainly not personally."

Dewey wasn't shuddering at the thought of being President. He may say a little more before 1948.

Quite a silence settled upon the Republicans after that. It was broken Feb. 8 by Senator Vandenberg of Michigan. He said:

"I am not a candidate for the Republican Presidential nomination. I don't expect to be and I have no wish to be."

"But a man would be entirely numb if he were insensible to the compliment the suggestion implies."

But a statement by Senator Taft of Ohio yesterday really set people to scratching their heads to see if two negatives make a positive.

He said: "I don't intend to deny that I'm not to be a candidate, but again I might not be a candidate."

Movie Maker Asks Abolition Of Closed Shop

WASHINGTON—AP—Movie Maker Cecil B. De Mille asked Congress today to prohibit a closed shop and "free" workers "from a serfdom unparalleled in American history since the abolition of slavery."

"Termining the power of the closed shop union absolutism," Hollywood producer declared it controls "the right to work" and thereby "the right to live."

It is "a grotesque departure from American democracy," De Mille said in a statement prepared for the Senate Labor Committee.

The witness said he was "deprived of the right to work" for refusing "to pay a political assessment" of one dollar levied by his union, the American Federation of Radio Artists.

Referring to an incident in the 1944 election, De Mille said his local made the assessment as part of its campaign against a state election proposal which he favored.

"For this advance to my political right, I was suspended by AFRA—and, under the provisions of the union shop, prevented from appearing on the radio program which I had produced for more than eight years," De Mille said.

"A worker in a closed shop can be stripped of his right to work if he dissents from a union majority," De Mille asserted.

Declaring that "UNION power" was at issue in the last election, De Mille added:

"The people had had 15 years of the policy which gave unlimited power to the unions. They were promised reform. They accepted it."

Referencing to a statement by Mr. Truman that he had pledged at that time to "cooperate in every proper manner with the Congress," Politicians generally reacted to this with the observation that while Mr. Truman was proceeding without regard to his own political fortunes, he wasn't leaving much room open for any Democrat to get a foot in the White House door.

Hannegan's assertion in New York last week that the party will call Mr. Truman for another term already had erected an early barrier to other possible aspirants. Hence Mr. Truman's continued silence on his availability would make that barrier really formidable.

Republicans, too, had their almost-but-not-quite candidate Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

Taft told a news conference at Columbus yesterday he is not denying that he may be a candidate for the 1948 GOP presidential nomination.

"But, again, I might not be," he added. Taft said it is too soon to discuss that kind of politics with the party's convention 16 months away.

Seven Killed in Georgia Crash

MACON, Ga.—(AP)—A search party which beat its way through a swamp today to reach the wreckage of an Army plane which crashed after a take off from Robins Field reported that the seven persons aboard were dead.

Capt. H. R. Daniels, public relations officer at the field, said all seven persons apparently were killed instantly. Army officials did not release the names of those aboard.

The plane crashed about a mile and a half from the field last night. Robins Field is located about 15 miles south of Macon.

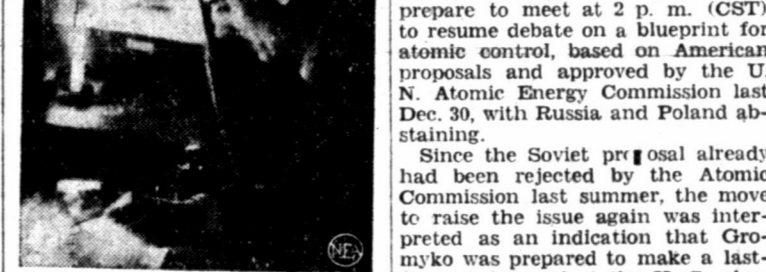

The search party, which had to cut a path through dense underbrush to reach the scene of the crash, reported wreckage was scattered over a wide area.

Col. R. V. Ignacio, commanding officer of Robins Field, said the plane apparently was on fire before it crashed. He said he would have to be widened through the swamp before the bodies could be removed. All bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Barber Shop Harmony Group Meets Tonight

Members of the recently "birthed," "invented," or what-have-you barber shop quartet singers will meet in the red building next to Junior High tonight for a session of "close harmony." Mac Eliaz, president, announced this morning.

The time has been set at 8, or as closely thereafter as members concerned can arrive from the Lions Minstrel Show rehearsal. Eliaz urged all members and other interested persons to be present.

DIM VIEW—London bank workers took a dim view of the fuel crisis when order shutting off industrial electric power and a twice-daily black-out of homes and offices forced them to work by candlelight, as pictured above.

Attlee Declines American Offer Of Aid In Crisis

WASHINGTON—AP—President Truman made public today a message from Prime Minister Attlee declining an American offer of aid in the British coal crisis.

Attlee's message to the President asserted that the need for coal in Europe is "too pressing" and that of the British Isles added "we could not ask that cargo should be diverted from Europe to the United Kingdom."

The atomic debate was opened late yesterday by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian member of the Atomic Commission, who had been invited to take part in the council's discussion. He immediately brought the issue into the open by calling on Russia and Poland for frank statements on any reservations they might have.

Those two were singled out since they are the only countries to which the atomic debate was referred yesterday by Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canadian member of the Atomic Commission, who had been invited to take part in the council's discussion. He immediately brought the issue into the open by calling on Russia and Poland for frank statements on any reservations they might have.

Local Agent for Liquor Control Is Transferred

Bill Money, State Liquor Control Board inspector in the Pampa area, is being transferred to the Amarillo district office, it was reported yesterday afternoon.

The appointment, made to fill a recently created vacancy at that office, came quite unexpectedly to residents of this area, as well as to Money.

Meanwhile, it was not clear whether or not there would be a replacement sent here for Money. He had no comment on that question.

Money's appointment followed—it could not be determined whether as a consequence—a controversy among local law enforcement agencies. His name was mentioned in connection with the questioning, recently, of a man hailed into court on a charge of transporting liquor illegally.

But there has never been any charge of law violation brought against him while he has been here. No agent to fill the vacancy there was named. However, one spokesman was of the opinion that Pampa would be without a Liquor Control Board Agent until "the people of the town wanted one bad enough to support him in carrying out his job."

Money, his wife and two children, Bill Marie and Claude, moved here in July, 1942. Money had worked here since that time, with the exception of 22 months, during which time he served in the Navy. Before leaving Money said that he sincerely appreciated the help that many of the residents of Pampa have extended to him.

Series Criminal Attacks Reported

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Deputy Sheriff J. Daley said today that Capt. Kay Summersby, who was a driver and secretary for General Dwight D. Eisenhower during the war, was the WAC officer whom a former Hamilton Field janitor attempted to criminally attack at the Army air base Wednesday morning.

The Marin County deputy sheriff said Capt. Summersby was shocked but escaped further mistreatment when the screams of another WAC frightened her Negro assailant away. The incident occurred in a report made by Deputy Sheriff Joseph Williams.

The former janitor is Marion Bryant, 21, of Marin City, who, Marin County Sheriff Walter B. Selmer says, signed a statement admitting he had raped two women and attempted to commit similar assaults on three others.

Bryant was arraigned yesterday on two charges of rape, two of attempted rape and four of breaking and entering. His bail was set at $20,000.

Grace Moore's Body Is En Route Home

PARIS—(AP)—A hearse started out over icy roads today bearing the body of Grace Moore, American opera singer, to the port of Cherbourg en route to the United States.

6,000 Miners Idle as 13 Stage Strike

LANSFORD, Pa.—(AP)—Six thousand miners today quit work in sympathy with 13 hard coal diggers on a sit-down strike 800 feet below the surface of the earth.

The Panther Valley Committee of the AFL United Mine Workers voted to halt work beginning with today's first shift in a sympathy move for coal diggers who are protesting docking of pay.

Meanwhile, miners went to work supplying the sit-down strikers with food, blankets, newspapers and other comforts.

Fifteen miners refused to leave the Lansford workings of the Lehigh Navigation Coal Company Wednesday night, but two emerged later, one because of illness and the other because he was a bridegroom and he had promised to help his wife set up a new home.

The 1,200 others working at the colliery refused to go to work yesterday and emptied their lunch pails, lowering food to the men to last for several days.

Today's shutdown brings a complete halt to the vast Lehigh Navigation operation at Lansford, Conditate, Nesquehoning and Tamaqua.

The 15 men protested what they said was company docking of pay for failure to work a full day.

Evans, vice president and general manager of the company, said "no formal grievance has been presented to the company by the group and when this action is taken we shall hear it with a sympathetic attitude."

Man Faces Numerous Charges As Four-Day Crime Wave Ends

BONHAM—(AP)—Charges alleging armed robbery and auto theft were filed in scattered sections of Texas today against Walter Gie Ransom, 23, whose four-day crime wave came to an end with his meek surrender to a posse near here yesterday.

Robbery charges were filed against him at Waco and Clarksville; auto theft charges at Greenville. Other charges were expected to be filed in towns where he was alleged to have committed other robberies and burglaries.

The latest charge was filed at Waco in connection with the robbery of the Clark Grocery Company last week. The complaint was signed by Detective Captain Wiley Stem and was filed with Justice of the Peace Mark Oliver by Assistant District Attorney Watson C. Arnold.

Nearly $1,000 was taken in the holdup which occurred about 10:45 p. m. just before closing time. A youth entered the store waving a .45 pistol. He took all the money from the store till and relieved several customers and employees of their billfolds. One man lost $200.

He also took a .38 pistol and smashed a shotgun against the wall before fleeing with his loot.

Victims of the hold-up identified a picture of Ransom as the man who committed the robbery.

At Greenville Sheriff Fayt Clifton of Hunt County filed two charges of auto theft against the youth and said he would come to Bonham today to return Ransom to Greenville.

The charges alleged that Ransom stole a Yellow Cab at Greenville in which he fled to nearby Commerce, and at Commerce he stole a car from Homer Clifton in which to continue his reckless flight from the law.

At Greenville the fugitive was almost captured after a wild chase through the downtown streets. Officers fired shots at the fugitive, and he admitted to reporters in Pampa County Jail last night that one bullet grazed his chin. The lower part of his face was torn.

When asked if he was scared while the shots were being fired, he replied "No, I was too busy running."

In his flight at Greenville the fugitive dropped two guns. A reporter asked if he would have liked to had them when a posse closed in on him near the Pampa-Lamar County line yesterday.

"Yes, I would have killed myself," he said.

Sheriff Dick Wait of Pampa County said that in addition to being taken to Greenville to face the auto theft charges, Ransom also would be taken today to Waco and Mt. Pleasant.

The sheriff said the youth denied that he kidnaped two brothers at Bogata and forced them to drive him to Paris. The brothers, owners of a filling station at Bogata, were released.

Wait also said the youth denied that he was implicated in any crime at Albuquerque, N. M. He was questioned about four bank bags bearing the name of an Albuquerque bank found lying on the floor.

Two Fires Result in Little Damage Today

Slight damage was caused late this morning when a curtain and wallpaper in the bathroom of 203 E. Browning St. caught fire from a nearby heater. Firemen received the alarm shortly before 10:45 a. m. and were back in the station in less than fifteen minutes.

A flash fire that was "practically a false alarm" extinguished itself at 7:30 p. m. last night before fire-

WE, THE WOMEN

Men Seek Admiration, Not Competition

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer
A Chicago wife suing her husband for divorce charged that he taught her to bowl and then walked out when she beat him.
Floor women in the bowling alleys, she evidently did not understand one important thing about men. They want to match their brains or skill against a worthy opponent, they choose another man.
When they of Ruth Millett's woman a game, they are looking for an appreciative audience.
The woman is supposed to learn the game of course—but not too well. And she is never supposed to progress to the point where she can beat her teacher, except perhaps now and then through some laughable fluke or unusual bit of luck.

Even when she comes dangerously close to being as good a shot or as skillful a fisherman as her masculine companion, she must remain in the pupil class, always willing to be shown, always ready to ask advice.
The minute that she gets to the place where she is the one who is offering suggestions, she has lost all of her companionableness, so far as a man is concerned.
THE MAN MUST WIN
Most women know instinctively how to be good pupils without being just enough competition to keep a game interesting and yet let him win by a satisfying score.
The ones who don't may not always lose as heavily as did the woman who lost her husband by beating him at bowling—but they do stand a good chance of losing a companion, even though they keep a husband.
A smart woman is never actually a man's opponent. She just pretends to be. In reality, she is a combination of awed student and admiring audience.

Robinson Will Explain Offer Not to Fight

By SID FEDER
NEW YORK—(AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, the welterweight champion, comes up before the State Athletic Commission today to explain a different kind of fight offer — $25,000 not to fight—While the district attorney and grand jury widened their probes of boxing in general to new and distant territory.
The Harlem singer was summoned to tell his story of a $25,000 bid he received last August not to make the 147-pound weight limit for his title tussle with the then champion, Marty Servo, as a means of causing cancellation of the bout.
The bout never came off because Servo abdicated the throne and retired from break-busting with an injured nose.
While the Athletic Commission conducted its inquiry into bribe offers the district attorney's office continued its hunt for undercover managers with criminal or gangster backgrounds who control fighters through "fronts."
It was reported a key figure is one such behind-the-scenes plot who steers the careers of a number of better-known boxers and who fled to Montreal, it is rumored, about three weeks ago after middleweight title contender Rocky Graziano revealed two $100,000 offers to throw fights. District Attorney Frank S. Hogan refused comment on the search for this man, but identities of some of the boxing folk Hogan questioned lately indicate he is much-wanted. Graziano's license was revoked by the commission last week for failure to report the bids.

Baseball Loop To Meet Here Sunday

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
With the opening of its second post-war season only a matter of weeks away, the West Texas-New Mexico baseball league will hold its annual league meeting here Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the City Hall Palm Room.
Presiding over the gathering of club owners and managers will be Milton Price, Dallas, secretary of the Texas League and president of the West Texas-New Mexico loop.
Contacted last week, Price said that a 140-game playing schedule would be approved and other matters would be taken up, but he did not reveal what these "matters" were.
It is believed, however, that one of the questions to be brought up is that of raising the salary limit in accordance with the minor league agreement made in Los Angeles last winter. The players limit has already been "raised" in a strict sense of the word. The league now allows 15 players and a playing manager, instead of including the playing manager in the 15, as was the case last year.
All of the 1946 clubs are expected to be back in the fold this year. They are:
The Amarillo Gold Sox, Abilene Blue Sox, Albuquerque Dukes, Borger Gassers, Lamesa Lobos, Clovis Pioneers, Lubbock Hubbers and the Pampa Oilers.
Abilene won first place in the regular playing season last year. The Blue Sox, however, lost to Lubbock in the first playoff while Amarillo was losing to Pampa. Pampa won the series from Lubbock for the playoff title and went on to defeat Hemphill of the East Texas League in four straight games to capture the Texas Class C championship.

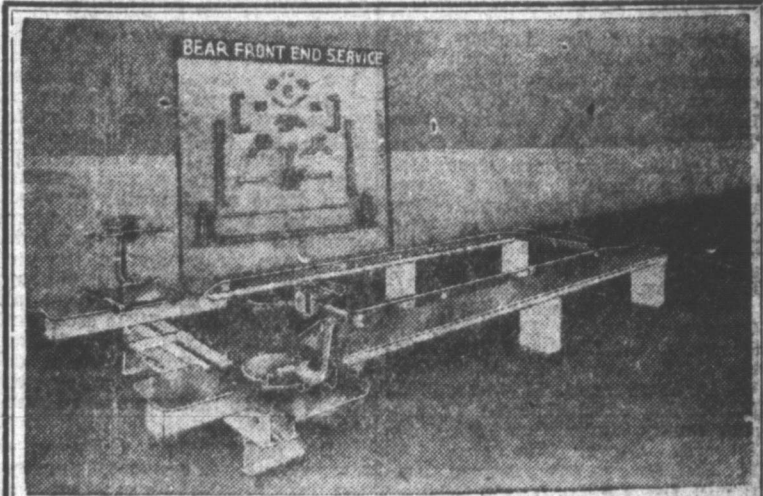

Reapers Defeat Ranchers, 29-19

Holding the lead all the way, the Pampa Junior High Reapers won their eleventh game of the season here yesterday, defeating Boys Ranch of Amarillo, 29-19, in a non-conference game.
Beaten only three times this year, the Reapers had trouble with the scrapping Ranchers, who fell to Pampa by only two points several weeks ago.
Pampa took a 4-2 lead at the end of the first period, increased it to 11-6 at the half and held a 20-9 lead at the end of the third period.
Allison of Pampa captured high-point honors with 11 points, trailed by Cherry of Boys Ranch with eight.
The box score:

Hunters Agree To Stalk Game; Search Begins

By BEN FUNK
RAWLINS, Wyo.—(AP)—Cries of "brutality" aimed at Wyoming's first one-shot buffalo hunt resulted today in a last-minute rule change which the Assembly Archers declared would guarantee "clean kills" of the three bulls slated for bow-and-arrow deaths.
Under the original rules, the archers, armed with 60-pound bows and standard broad-head arrows, would have lined up at 75 yards distance and fired one shot each until the bulls were brought down.
At a mass meeting last night, called in response to newspaper charges that the hunt would be "nothing short of murder," the archers voted to stalk the bulls and fire at point-blank range if possible to assure quick executions.
The vote was taken after Roy Hoff of Los Angeles, editor of "archery" magazine and 1945 national bow champion, asserted that "I cannot call my shots at 75 yards."
"Peppering these animals with arrows would cause a spectacle repulsive to the public," Hoff said. "Our idea is to stalk the wild buffalo in his natural habitat. We want to give the bull his chance and the archer the opportunity to make a clean kill."
Ed. M. Hunter of Denver, well-known Colorado sportsman, told the archers "I don't know if the killing of these buffaloes is sportsmanship to the soft-hearted sisters of the sports pages who have been yelling about it. I think it's just as humane as watching a couple of prize fighters beat each other's brains in the ring."
The hunters left this morning for the ranch of Isadore Bolten 25 miles southwest of here where the hunt was scheduled to be held. They will return tonight to divide the meat of the three bulls and auction the hides and heads for the benefit of the Shrine Hospital at Salt Lake City.

Big 3 With Little Purses Are Asked To 'Mind Own Business'

BOSTON—(AP)—Eddie Collins says "it's time Sam Breadon, Clark Griffith and Herb Pennock minded their own business," concerning the salaries paid ball players.
In a statement the Sox general manager asserted "I'm sick and tired of hearing the bleats of Pennock, Griffith and Breadon that salary boosts threaten to shake the financial structure of the major leagues."
He said that what the Red Sox pay Ted Williams and what Cleveland pays Bob Feller are no concern of anyone's except the clubs involved.

 They did not vote to destroy unions, but to restore equality and freedom in labor relations.
 Organized labor's big guns will begin barking in self-defense in Congress next week.
 Starting with AFL President William Green, who appears Tuesday, and CIO President Philip Murray, who testifies Wednesday, the Senate Labor Committee will hear a long list of union leaders plead against the enactment of "restrictive" legislation.

 John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers and the man Senate and House members appear most eager to hear from, is scheduled to talk February 26.

Bandit

 of a Waco Grocery Store he was alleged to have burglarized.
 The sheriff said the youth told him that he won the money in a poker game.
 County Attorney Robert Gooding of Red River County said a holding charge alleging theft of over $50 would be filed against Ransom at Clarksville today in connection with the Bogata kidnaping.
 Gooding said that another charge alleging armed robbery was being prepared and that a charge of kidnaping also might be filed.
 The wild game of hide and seek with officers "wasn't planned," Ransom told Texas Ranger Captain M. T. Gonzallus. "It just happened."

It started when the car he was driving crashed into the rear end of a new car being conveyed from Michigan, he stated. He related that after he got into an argument with the "driver," "I got mad, took out my gun and took the car."
 Since this incident Monday night, Ransom was the object of the most extensive man-hunt in Texas in recent years. He left a trail of abandoned and wrecked cars over nearly a score of counties.

In a statement to Gonzallus in the presence of other officers, Ransom admitted serving a sentence in the Federal Correctional School in Englewood, Colo., and said he was on parole from the Minnesota State Prison.

Minnesota records showed Walter Glen Ransom was sentenced on Dec. 5, 1942, to a five to 40 year sentence in the State Prison on a first degree robbery charge. He was paroled on Dec. 5, 1946, with time off for good behavior and Elmer Stovoren, Chief of the Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, said he was now sought for violation of that parole. (Failure to report).

The chase ended for the youthful desperado when he crawled from a creek to look into a State Patrolman's shotgun.
 Unarmed, wet and hungry, he surrendered meekly.

Spending

 his $37,500,000 estimate is essential for proper operation of the government. The budget is for the 1948 fiscal year, beginning July 1.
 The subcommittee in its resolution calling for the $6,000,000,000 cut said it arrived at this figure on the following considerations:
 "1. The elimination of those functions by the federal government which might be regarded as desirable but not imperative in the light of a huge estimate of expenditures for the fiscal year 1948 and in the light of the towering public debt.
 "2. A return wherever possible to prewar levels of appropriations.
 "3. The reduction of the number of civilian employees by not less than 500,000 below budget estimate in the next fiscal year. (There are now approximately 2,300,000 federal civilian workers).
 "4. The deferral, other than planning, of public works projects wherever this might be accomplished without substantial deterioration so that the benefits of such projects might be utilized in any subsequent period of unemployment.
 "5. The deferral, other than planning, of newly authorized public works projects and their retention on the shelf for utilization in a period of unemployment unless such projects were estimated vitally necessary.
 "6. The rescinding of appropri-tions made in prior years in a larger amount than that proposed by the President."

 The chief executive, who previously had termed his spending estimate tight and rockbottom, added the essential label at a news conference.

Mr. Truman endorsed flatly Secretary of War Patterson's assertion that a planned cut in military outlays would endanger national security and said the budget he sent Congress last month was absolutely necessary for the safe operation of the government.

Gromyko told Fernand van Langenhove of Belgium, council chairman, that he would be ready to state Russia's position at the opening of today's session.

Meanwhile, the machinery was set in motion to put the new U. N. Arms Reduction Commission into operation as a distinctly separate companion body to the Atomic Commission. Final approval of the resolution creating the new "Conventional Arms" Commission was given by the council yesterday.

TRAPPED
 LOS ANGELES — (AP) — Six police officers, answering a radio call of a burglar in a market, followed his trail inside through a high window and over three milk crates. They found their man, his arms loaded with liquor, but discovered they couldn't retreat the way they came because another policeman, left outside, had driven the combination patrol car and step-ladder out of shouting range. And all the doors were padlocked from the outside.
 They telephoned the owner, who gratefully came down and opened the door.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON
JESUS AT THE FEAST OF TABERNACLES
Scripture: The Gospel of John, chapters 7-9.
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.
The Jewish Feast of Tabernacles had an unusually interesting and unusual religious festival.
To commemorate the wandering tent-life of the Israelites in the wilderness, the Jews journeyed from Egypt to Canaan. Jews lived for the seven days of the feast in arbors or booths built of branches and boughs.
There is a good description of the feast, and of the spirit of the joyous occasion, in the eighth chapter of Nehemiah, with its admonition to the people: "Go your way, eat the bread and drink the sweet, and send portions to them for whom you are prepared." It must have been much like our Thanksgiving and Christmas celebrations.
Jerusalem was thronged at such a time, and Jesus accordingly did not intend to go up for the feast, despite the urging of His brethren that He should do so.
Light is thrown upon the words of Jesus: "My foot shall be as those of his own household," by the attitude of these brethren. We are told (John 7:5) that they did not believe in Him, and their urging that He should go to Jerusalem for the feast was in the nature of a temptation, similar to that which had been tested at the beginning of His ministry. "Show Thyself to the world," Jesus, conscious that "His hour had

'Soul' Is Christian Science Subject
"Soul" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read at all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, February 16.
The Golden Text is: "My soul shall be joyful in the Lord; it shall rejoice in his salvation" (Psalms 35:9).
Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "Then Jesus answering said unto them: Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard; how that the blind see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf hear, the dead are raised, to the poor the gospel is preached" (Luke 7:22).
The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Knowing that Soul and its attributes were forever manifested through man, the Master healed the sick, gave sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame, thus bringing to light the scientific action to the Divine Mind on human minds and bodies and giving a better understanding of Soul and salvation" (page 210).

"BY WHOSE AUTHORITY IS THE CHURCH OF CHRIST GOVERNED?"

- "THE CHURCH OF CHRIST" IS NOT GOVERNED BY MAN'S AUTHORITY:
1—Any church that is governed by man is man's church. 2—No church can claim to be "The Church of Christ" if it is governed by the authority of man. 3—When men begin to control any church by their authority, then it ceases to be "The Church of Christ" and becomes a church of men.
- "THE CHURCH OF CHRIST" IS GOVERNED BY THE AUTHORITY OF CHRIST.
1—Jesus said, "All authority hath been given unto me in heaven and on earth." Mt. 28:18. 2—"The Church of Christ" began by His authority. 3—It continues by His authority. 4—It is governed by His authority. 5—All denominational churches, as denominations, started by the authority of men. 6—They are continued, as denominations, by the authority of men. 7—They are governed, as denominations, by the authority of men. 8—Therefore, they are churches of men, and not "The Churches of Christ." Rom. 16:16.
- THERE ARE TWO KINDS, OR FORMS, OF GOVERNMENT ON EARTH.
1—MONARCHIAL. 1—in this form of government the rule is vested in one man. This man has 2—the legislative power—power to make the laws. 3—the judicial power—power to decide matters. 4—the executive power—power to enforce the laws or see that they are put into effect. 5—Under an absolute monarchial form of government the subjects have no say whatever. 6—They may submit to the laws and be blessed, or, they may reject the laws and be punished. 7—They may submit to the laws and be blessed, or, they may reject the laws and be punished. 8—THEY MAY SUBMIT TO THE LAWS AND BE BLESSED, OR, THEY MAY REJECT THE LAWS AND BE PUNISHED.
11—DEMOCRACY. 1—in this form of government the power is vested in the people. 2—I think you will find no absolute democracy. 3—if so, each person would have to sit on jury, wear brass buttons, etc. 4—Democracy, as we have it, only gives the people the right to select men to represent them. 5—We have our legislative body—Congress. 6—We have our judicial body—Supreme Court. 7—We have our Chief Executive—the President. All these are chosen by the people, hence, our form of democracy.
- DENOMINATIONAL CHURCHES ARE GOVERNED BY A FORM OF DEMOCRACY.
1—The basic trouble of the denominational world is their misconception of Church government. 2—The making of their laws is vested in delegates assembled in some kind of body. 3—Their judicial body is made up of men selected by men of different congregations. 4—Their executives are also chosen by members of their denomination. (These are general rules).
- LET US ILLUSTRATE BY SOME DENOMINATIONAL PROCEDURES:
1—The "Chairman" calls meeting of important leaders. 2—That body is something like our Supreme Court. 3—Some question is presented before that body. It may be in doctrine or policy. 4—They argue back and forth. Finally somebody calls for the question as they do in the legislative in our courts. 5—Then the "Chairman" demands a vote by roll call. Those in favor "Aye," and opposed, "No." If the "Ayes" have it, that doctrine or practice becomes a part of the doctrine or practice of that denomination. When it is announced by the proper authority in that denomination it becomes a part of its law by which it is governed.
- TO FURTHER ILLUSTRATE, LET US NOTE:
1—Most Bible scholars will admit that neither sprinkling nor pouring is the scriptural "mode" of baptism. But when the question arose about 1311, as to whether sprinkling or pouring would be recognized on a parallel with immersion, the decision in favor of sprinkling and pouring was made because there was a small majority that voted that way. 2—When question arose about 1662 about leaving instrumental music out of the worship of a denomination, 78 were present, 43 voted to leave it out and 35 voted to keep it in. Then they took a vote by proxy, 59 voted to keep it and 58 voted to put it out. So it stayed in by the vote of one and that one was not there to hear the arguments.

WE HOPE FOR GREATER PERFORMANCES AT PAMPA

There was quite a contrast in the order at this week's Community Concert and that of a few weeks ago when firecrackers reverberated with the rusticity of a Talmadge convention. It is gratifying that the directors saw to it that those seated there did not embarrass Pampa and the Association, as some did before. It lends one to the belief that money, after all, can't buy just anything. There is a rather refining quality in sitting quiet, listening to and watching the performance of an artist. It is a human experience that runs back to the days of Sparta and Athens, the two city-states. The Athenians leaned toward music and related art, and, therefore, were a peaceful, happy people as long as they were left alone. But not so the Spartans; they took pride in rude, garrulous warfare; and, subsequently, they were destroyed, taking the Athenians down with them. But these are the things that music and art will not reveal to the naked eye. They are things inculcated into the human understandings and appreciation, with time and study. We hope there will be bigger and greater performances like these in Pampa. They are good for our collective soul, as it were. But there is no place in the hall for the raucous, with no desire to understand nor appreciate. Whereas these performances will be good for our aesthetic soul, it does not necessarily follow that they will overnight effect upon us a complete metamorphosis. For it is as an editorial writer said the other day in the Baltimore Sun: "There is an assumption that great music, paintings and books are so extraordinarily magical that if only the merest sort of contact can be made with them, they will instantly weave an everlasting spell."

There is an "assumption" that great music, paintings and books are so extraordinarily magical that if only the merest sort of contact can be made with them, they will instantly weave an everlasting spell.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON
DEBT—Several of the more influential Republicans on the House Ways and Means Committee are nursing an undisclosed plan designed to permit a generous tax reduction on 1947 incomes and also a sizable reduction of the public debt. To their amazement, they have found a surprising number of people prefer amortization of the $399,000,000 national mortgage to immediate pocketbook relief. Their secret scheme consists of a two percent Federal sales levy on almost all consumer purchases, to yield at least $3,500,000,000 annually. They believe that this revenue, together with other savings, will warrant a tax easement and an annual drop of $5,000,000,000 in the public debt. All estimates, of course, are based on near-capacity production, employment and the present wage scale. PURPOSE—The Republicans did not intend to advance this novel idea until after they had rushed through Congress the Knutson proposal for a twenty percent reduction of personal income payments or some modification of the Minnesota program. They realize that imposition of national sales tax, in addition to those now levied by cities and states, will foment opposition inside and outside the halls of Congress. They believe, however, that they can sell it to the Congress and the nation, if not to the White House, on the basis that all revenue from any sales tax shall be applied to annual payments on the public debt, which now costs about $9,000,000,000 for carrying charges alone. It can be used for no other purpose, according to their present program, although they know that they cannot bind future Congressional bodies to the commitment. POLITICS—The truth is that both parties on Capitol Hill are thinking in terms of practical politics rather than realistic economics when they discuss Federal finances, the budget, the public debt and tax reduction. Their numerous conflicting blueprints do not make sense even to themselves without recognition of that fundamental and human fact. The Republicans, as well as the Democrats, recognize that the patchwork structure should be rebuilt from cellar to ceiling. It should be integrated with the taxation systems of cities, countries and states. It should be reexamined with respect to the unequal burdens which it imposes on individuals and corporations. The program and the power of the taxation weapon should be shaped with a view to its social as well as its economic implications. ELECTION—But such an organized revision of tax rates and schedules would require at least a two-year study before the legislative drafting system could begin to frame a bill. And the inescapable fact is that the GOP feels it must QUICKIES By Ken Reynolds

Our pioneer forefathers had it lucky, at that. When they crossed the plains in covered wagons, all they had to worry about was starvation, thirst, and torture by Indians. Well, if I know subways, they couldn't have suffered near as much torture as a subway passenger who has to stand up holding a strap all the way, say, from Newark, New Jersey, to Azusa, Calif.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
In this oncoming wonderful world of tomorrow, it seems that our relatives and in-laws, no matter in what part of the country they may live, will be just an hour's ride away. A professor at Johns Hopkins University predicts that a giant subway will be built that can carry you 3,000 miles within six minutes. The tunnel for the subway Gracie will be blasted out with a giant atomic gun. I'd suggest they keep that atomic gun handy at all times, especially when helping load passengers during rush hours.

BY R. C. HOLLES
Economic Blackmail
Now that the state and the various sub-divisions are interfering so much with our economic life, a description of the end results of bulk purchases by the state or monopoly political transactions between different nations in an article in The Free Trader, published in London, is timely. I quote from the last issue under the sub-heading of Economic Blackmail.

"What State trading sets out, consciously or unconsciously, to obtain are the illegitimate gains of monopoly dealing. The notion is to confront the foreign suppliers with a take-it-or-leave-it offer, and the assumption is that they are the weaker party in the bargaining. It is an assumption that must be kept tacit because this form of State intervention has to be advertised as bringing advantages to both sides. Thus on those grandiose international conferences on food and agriculture, and occasionally raw materials, the bait is always held out to the food and raw materials producing countries that the bulk buying arrangements will secure for them both stability and good prices. At the same time the consuming countries are given to understand that the schemes will ensure for them regular supplies at low prices. The self-same scheme is purporting both to keep up prices and to bring them down. Which story is true?"

"It is quite obvious that these schemes will develop into, if not start off as, political horse-trading. Imagine the situation: five million inhabitants of London, acting as a bloc under the joint auspices of the City Corporation and the London County Council, put monopolistic pressure on the small rural districts and the fishing ports of this country in order to secure special terms of trade. Imagine the process of browbeating the apple-growers of Worcestershire by playing them off against the apple-growers of Kent. How long would it be before the provinces began to stigmatize the London pressure as blackmail? How long before Lancashire combined to create an opposing bloc of ten millions? Obnoxious and fantastic as the procedure appears in the case of individual trade, this is precisely the process that is being set on foot in international trade. It substitutes arbitrary political bargaining for the open market and the price mechanism. It has vicious possibilities, especially against the well-being and even the existence of smaller countries. Here is an authentic extract from a document naively promulgated by an interest which we will here accord a merciful anonymity: 'The time has come when we must use our position as the world's largest exporter to make bargains to favour our exports. The test of our diplomacy of the future should not only be the conclusion of trade agreements, but the achievement by diplomatic means of certain trade understanding which need not necessarily be put on paper (our black face), for instance, to arrive at some agreement with any of these countries that she limits her exports of—to some reasonable figure.'"

HOLLYWOOD — The distinction of looking like Rita Hayworth from the rear may be rather dubious, but it is profitable. Actress Kathleen O'Malley, daughter of silent star Pat, got $2000 for the two-day job. And she didn't have to say a word. It was Orson Welles' idea, of course (He likes expensive ideas.) He used it for a mistaken-identity scene in "The Lady From Shanghai."

Orson sees a gal walking down the street, thinks she's Rita and runs after her. She turns around, and he discovers she's not Rita. "Get me a gal who looks like Rita from the rear," ordered Orson. The casting office sent him a dozen. Orson watched them walk from a good rear view. "The wiggle," he announced gleefully, "aren't right." Kathleen reported to addition, Orson watched her walk and her wiggle. "Perfect!" he said. Kathleen would have to cut her hair within a couple of inches of her scalp and bleach it, to match Rita's new blond tresses. Orson didn't want her to wear a wig. Kathleen was acceptable to the Unless something happens, the foreign ministers will meet in Moscow March 10 with even less hope of concrete results than when the conference was first scheduled. For one thing, they are going to have to do themselves a great part of the spade-work usually performed at lower levels. The expected recommendations on the German export from the four-power administrators in Berlin apparently will be no recommendations at all, consisting primarily of an innocuous report on the history of the occupation. Negotiations there have fallen to the stage where the lie is being passed, and instead of a real report to the council, each delegation will be reporting home blaming the others. The situation in the Deputy Foreign Ministers meeting at London is similar with regard to progress and only slight more polite. With one more week to run, the deputies haven't even been able to make up a good catalog of the points where they disagree. They started out with the idea of drawing up a peace for Austria and arriving at recommendations on Germany, but apparently will close without succeeding in either. While the Democrats have made much progress in Germany, Communism has received no welcome at all and the Russians can have some hope of success any time soon. This ideological conflict, however, is complicated by the fact that the Communists have not been able to make up a good catalog of the points where they disagree.

SENATOR McMAHON CHANGES HIS MIND

Senator Brian McMahon of Connecticut, who wrote the law which opened the way for Soviet Russia to obtain the atomic secrets, has now had a remarkable and commendable change of mind. Apparently Senator McMahon has had a most illuminative and disillusioning experience as a member of the Atomic Energy Commission, which was created by the law he wrote, for he now says: "Since writing the law which opened the way for Soviet Russia to obtain the atomic secrets, I have had a remarkable and commendable change of mind. Love Has Two Faces

THE STORY: Cassie is aware that Parker is unhappy in his new job and suggests that he should pay off. Parker takes affront. You don't think much of me without my money, do you, Cassie? he charges. "Too bad you didn't go ahead and marry Mike Cargill, the way things turned out!"

"I SHOULDN'T have told Parker he was childish," Cassie thought dreadfully. What tortured thoughts crept through his mind these days? His pride had been trampled in the dust.

Yet what did he expect of her? She had accepted their lowered station in life, if one wanted to call it that. Certainly that was the way Parker thought of it.

But to Parker, who had lived all his life on the hill, who had never known what it was to regard a dollar with wholesome respect for exactly what it would buy in the way of food and clothing and shelter, the world had fallen apart.

Cassie began to cry. The tears came in a rush. Not that crying would help. It was just that the luxury of feeling sorry for one's self could be indulged here for a few moments with no one to see.

And if he could only know how it had hurt to hear him say what he had about Mike! It was just as though he could see into the small dark circle of her heart where Mike dwelt, surrounded by a tiny ache, his face grown dim and unreal and blurred, and only his words left, ringing and desolate.

When Sid first came home he seemed greatly changed. His neatness, the way he carried himself was almost appalling in a 12-year-old, until they got used to it.

But after his sense of importance several years, then lost most of its gain. Biscow-Sanford was offered a boosted quarterly. Texas & Pacific Railroad was an individual strong spot, jumping better than 2 at one time.

Casualties included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, General Motors, Chrysler, Goodrich, Rubber, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Schenley, American Can, Dow Chemical, Du Pont, Eastman Kodak, U. S. Gypsum.

NEW STORE HERE
Has Surprise
Gilbert's shoppers received a surprise this morning when the new location at 209 North Cuyler was "unmasked," marking the opening of a completely re-done building, and new fixtures.

Leon Gilbert, owner who started his business here 16 years ago next March, at 102 South Cuyler, devised quite a "stunt" when he conceived the idea of making the changes in the building behind a wall that protected them from the eyes of passersby.

The formal opening was at 11 this morning and the front was readied prior to that time. He says there's nothing like the structure in the Panhandle that he knows about.

A shoe department and costume jewelry have been added to his clothing merchandise line. There is 1,750 square feet of selling space in the new building, which is but a few doors from the old location on North Cuyler.

The architect for the new structure is W. T. (Pete) Williamson.

Divorce Rate in Canada Climbing

NEW YORK, N. Y.—The divorce rate in Canada has been climbing much more rapidly than in the United States, and has risen to more than five times what it was about 20 years ago, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. Their figures show that the divorce rate in Canada increased from 9.2 per 1,000 marriages in 1925 to 48.6 in 1945, on the basis of the ratio of divorces each year to the average annual number of marriages in the decade immediately preceding.

Although the Canadian rate has been climbing at a faster pace, it still is far below that for the United States. The statisticians sum up the situation this way:

OUT OUR WAY

BY J. R. WILLIAMS

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — This is the last bulletin from the International Husband-Warning Service:

"Get that valentine for your wife before midnight."

Otherwise by tomorrow your husband will be singing you—over and over like a broken record—that little marital ditty entitled "Why did I ever give up Elmer to marry you?"

Don't make the mistake of a young husband who told his weeping bride the day after valentine:

"Of course I didn't get you anything for valentine. That's a single girl's racket."

This remark has bounced back at him annually like a tennis ball for ten years. The only thing a husband can do, worse than overlooking valentine is to excuse himself from his wedding reception in order to play golf with some bachelor friends.

We have done some research on the question of valentine presents and found that the girls are weary of what one called "those prat valentines"—a phrase that wasn't in the feminine vocabulary in our own youth.

This year, most said, they wanted something sentimental — "with hearts and roses and lace and satin, and maybe candy inside."

As to whether they should send valentines themselves, the girls were divided.

"We send cards, the boys give presents," said one.

Married men agreed the chances were three to one against getting a return valentine from their wives.

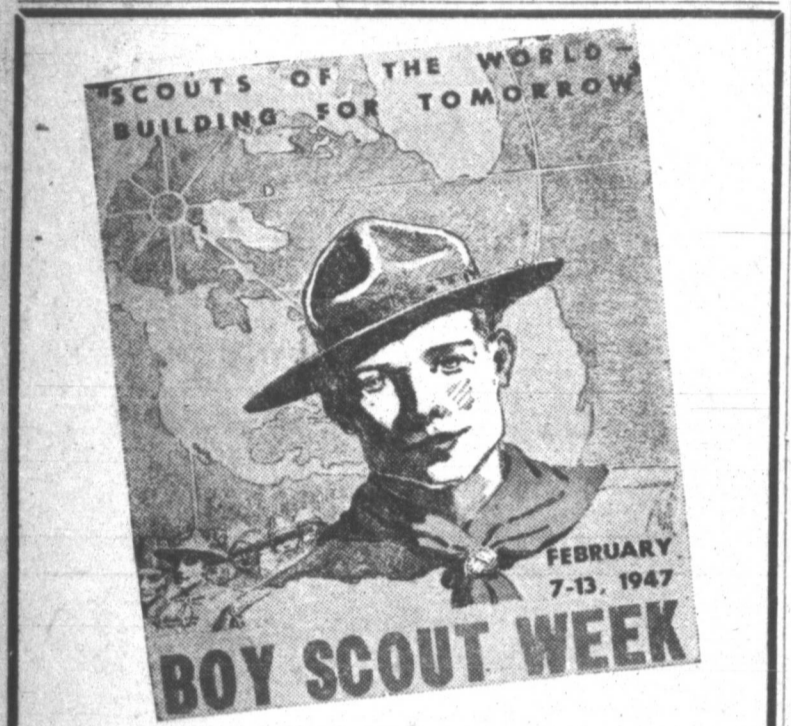

"I give mine a card. If I get a kind word back it's a lucky year."

There are some odd presents going around this valentine. One Uncle is paying the doctor bill for his niece who sprained her ankle skiing. A bachelor lady we know is giving her cat a beef heart. Another is giving her beau a book on birds—something the cat might like too.

"A husband who has a place in the country is presenting his wife with a load of manure. She has a garden, and he feels sure she won't misunderstand. He got a wheelbarrow for her last Christmas himself."

Everybody likes to get a valentine. It's a good time to remember the people you are grateful to.

ties is still much less frequent among Canadians than among us, the disparity between the countries is diminishing. The divorce rate in Canada in 1926 was about one seventeenth the rate in our country; by 1945 the fraction had increased to about one seventh.

Urbanization of the population, increased employment of women, and reduction in the average size of the family are the factors associated by the statisticians with the rise in Canada's divorce rate.

WORN OUT FROM GETTING UP NIGHTS?

If you get up nights—have frequent desire to pass your water—yes, and have backache, due to excess acidity in the urine, be glad you're reading this:

Three generations ago Dr. Kilmer, a famous doctor, found hundreds of his patients with this trouble. So he made a medicine of 14 herbs, roots, vegetables, balsams. He called it "Swamp-Root." Millions of men and women have taken it—often with amazing results.

Swamp-Root goes right to work to flush out kidneys... increases flow of urine, helping relieve excess acidity... so the irritated bladder gets a good flushing out, too. Many report getting a good night's sleep after the first few doses. Caution: take as directed.

SHE CAN SING, TOO — Jean Porter of Big Spring, Tex., has been assigned the top feminine lead in a new Hollywood musical. It's a long step from the days when she sang and danced in the Micky Mouse Club at Big Spring. Her father is Harry C. Porter, chief clerk for the Texas and Pacific freight division office in Big Spring. Jean has a flier's license, flies her own plane, frequently visits her dad and friends in Texas.

Open the door, Richard. Let the ladies in.

First, meet Sarah E. Jones of Denton. The next time your wife can't whip up supper because a spider upset her so badly she simply had to go to bed, remind her of Miss Jones.

Miss Jones is known as the spider woman. Spiders are her hobby. More than that, she's one of the country's ten top authorities on spiders.

She was born at Brenham and came to Dallas at the age of 3. Later she attended Southern Methodist University, and that's where the spider business started. A professor gave her a book on spiders. She decided to study spiders for a year, then never quite got around to giving them up.

Today she's assistant professor of biology at Texas State College for Women at Denton. She rates the title of doctor, but she's young and pretty and most people call her Sarah.

She's been studying spiders for 13 years. She has a large collection, and has even discovered 12 new spider species.

Her family thought she was nuts at first, but now, she says, she has won them over and they help her collect.

She says spiders bite, all right, "but the bite of most is no worse than a bee sting."

She says they're usually more frightened than you are. Even Black Widow spiders and tarantulas are "largely exaggerated," says Sarah.

No, don't close the door yet, Richard. Miss Jones keeps the spiders in glass cases.

And anyway, there's Miss Jean Porter of Big Spring. Miss Porter has come a long way since she sang and danced as a member of the Big Spring "Mickey House" Club 15 years ago.

She's a full grown movie star now.

Her father is Harry C. Porter, chief clerk for the Texas and Pacific Railway, she comes home often to visit him. Sometimes she flies, for aviation is her hobby.

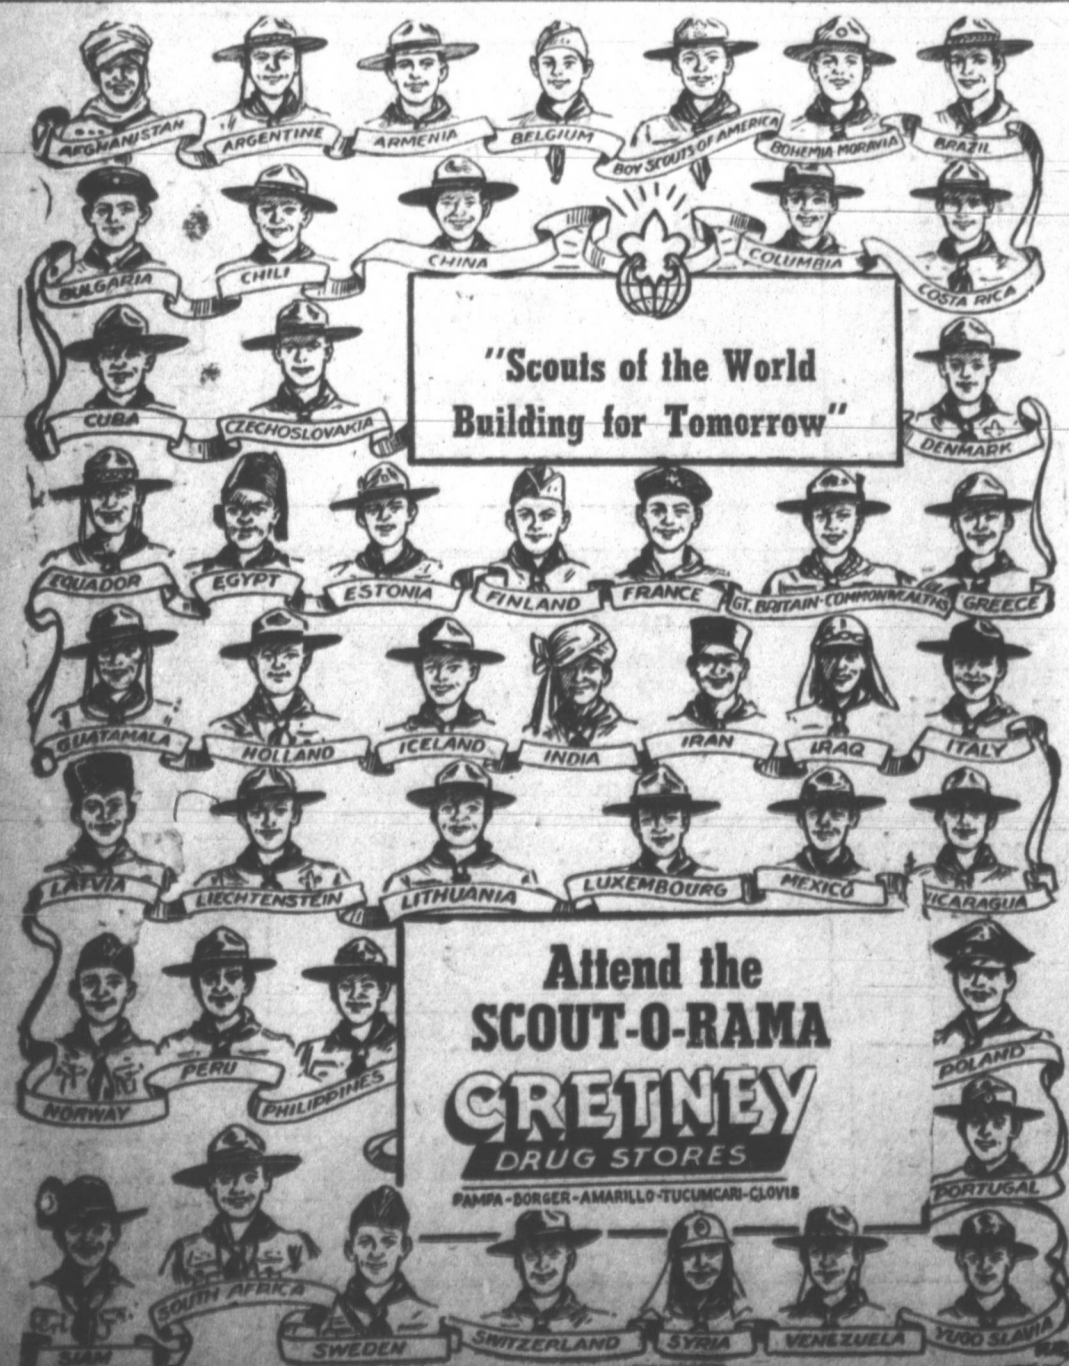

Her career started at the Ritz Theater, dancing and singing. Later she took part in school dramatics. She took lessons at the Bob Reigel Dance School, learning routines that later helped her in Hollywood. Her road was rocky at first, but after small parts in B productions and leads in shorts, she's now a Columbia star.

As soon as she finishes "Broadway Baby" she's planning to fly to Big Spring in her own coupe.

All right, now Richard—
