Power Ban Extended to Whole of Fuel-Short England

Street Lighting Reductions Set

LONDON—P—The Ministry of Fuel and Power announced today that domestic electricity restrictions would be extended throughout the country tomorrow.

The daily cuts will be for five hours' duration—from 8:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., and from 1:30 p.m. to 3:30 p.m., except in the southwest, where they will be from 9 to noon and from 2 to 4 p.m.

Drastic street lighting reductions, amounting to black-out conditions, also will be imposed by night.

The Ministry simultaneously appealed to gas consumers to "get down to really serious economy" to assure supplies for essential industries, including bakeries.

Between 5,000,000 and 6,000,000 workers were estimated by a board of trade spokesmen to have been thrown out of jobs, many onto the dole, by Britain's coal crisis.

New blizzards and freezing gales, which the Labor Government said had blocked rail lines and disrupted shipping added to the hardship.

The spokesman for the Board of Trade, a Government Bureau comparable to the U. S. Department of Commerce, forecast an even greater "setback" next week, with unemployment spreading to all parts of the country.

"This is going to affect rationing, clothing, household appliances, shoes—everything," he said. "Most people don't realize the most serious personal effects this will have on everyone."

The Government drafted new conservation orders for coal from the nationalized generating plants, and for power, and possibly will announce them tonight.

Shipping centers reported it was too early to estimate the effects of the shutdown of export trade. The Chamber of Commerce at Liverpool, however, warned:

"Disaster is imminent. The present emergency has had an immediate effect on Great Britain's standard of living and powers of production and may develop into an economic crisis undermining the entire structure of the nation."

While Prime Minister Alee summoned his Cabinet to consider official reports that the drastic power shutdown affecting more than half of England's factories had failed thus far to help in building up coal stocks, at electricity generating plants, these were the principal developments in the desperate industrial crisis:

1. The Fuel Ministry officially warned power firms outside the 38-county "black-out" area last night that power restrictions may have to be extended to the whole country, except the North of Scotland.

2. Fresh snow falls and wintry gales immobilized millions of tons of coal loaded on 75,000 railroad cars and 125 ships. Snow drifts isolated dozens of villages in the Midlands and Northern England, and the Royal Air Force planned to drop 10 tons of food today in the Staffordshire area.

3. The Senate committee also heard Rep. Francis Case (R-SD), who is the author of a revised and expanded version of the Case bill President Truman vetoed last year. The new measure, which Case explained, would authorize the government to block serious strikes by court injunction, overhaul the Wagner Act, and impose a number of restrictions on labor unions.

Local Girl Wins Speakers' Contest

Alice Jean Ulrich, local member of the Salvation Army, is one of three contestants to qualify for the state finals in a youth speakers' contest sponsored by the Salvation Army.

The state contest, to be held February 21, is part of a contest being held throughout the entire Southern territory of the Army.

Miss Ulrich qualified for the state contest at a meet held in Abilene, with teams from San Angelo, Lubbock, Littlefield, Abilene and Pampa entered.

Topic of the contest is "Youth's opportunities in the Salvation Army as Kingdom Builders." Miss Ulrich placed first, Marjorie McPhillips, second, and Ruth McNust, third. Judges were B. R. Nuckols and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hill.

The Highways Committee of the Chamber is one of the busiest and reported progress in the campaign for a new bridge over the Canadian River to carry the increasing traffic on Highways 60 and 83.

New Palestine Riots Reported

MARTYR—Dov Bela Gruner, alleged Palestine terrorist condemned to hang, refused to appeal his sentence to the Privy Council in London. His conviction and sentence precipitated current crisis in the Holy Land.

JERUSALEM—P—RAF spotter planes roved the skies above the Eastern Mediterranean today amid unofficial reports that a Jewish refugee ship bearing the name "Eluz" with 600 uncertified immigrants aboard had left Algiers Sunday for Palestine. The ship has not yet been sighted in Palestine waters.

The British Navy declined to comment on whether the spotter planes were searching for the "Eluz."

It was reported previously that the ship was in Marseilles harbor, where port authorities were said to have refused her permission to sail on the grounds that she was not equipped with adequate safety devices. These reports said she later authorized to sail and made her way to Algiers where she was said to have weighed anchor Sunday.

Reliable sources said today that at least 12 persons were injured last night when Jewish extremists clashed with anti-terrorist Jews in Tel Aviv in the first struggle of Jew-against-Jew in Palestine since the British Army began its drive to stamp out underground violence.

The fight, which broke out as police and military forces poised themselves for operations, broke out between youths "presumed to be adherents of Irgun Zvai Leumi," Jewish underground group, attempted to storm the clubrooms of Hashomir Hatzair, Jewish political party openly opposed to terrorism.

Informants said the attackers hurled "Molotov cocktails" bombs—bottles filled with gasoline—and started several fires which were quickly extinguished. At least five of the attackers and seven occupants of the clubrooms were reported injured in the fracas.

The court sustained demurrers of Herman Talmadge and dismissed a suit of Lieut. Gov. M. E. Thompson which had asked a declaratory judgment ousting Talmadge from the governorship.

The judge said "it is clear that the General Assembly has the right to decide when there was no election by the people. It did decide that on account of the death of the Governor-Elect there had been no election by the people. In our opinion the constitution then put the duty and responsibility it decided as it saw fit. When it (the Legislature) acts within its authority, courts cannot interfere."

Judge Hendrix's decision, rendered before about 200 spectators in Henry County's rural courtroom, was in direct opposition to the finding of another Superior (Circuit) Judge last Friday at Rome, Ga. There, Judge Claude Porter took a conflicting view that the Legislature had unquestionably exceeded its authority, and ruled Talmadge's election was invalid.

Counsel for Thompson said Judge Hendrix's decision would be appealed "at once" to the Georgia Supreme Court.

Flash fire damages Canadian business. CANADIAN—(Special)—The plate glass front of the Tri-State Motor Company's show room was demolished yesterday afternoon by the vibration of a flash fire that occurred at the opposite end of the building. A container of inflammable cleaning fluid was spilled near a gas fire. The work bench and several expensive power tools were destroyed. Several persons were in the building but no one was injured, and some expressed amazement that so small an explosion could so completely demolish the three sections of plate glass 75 feet away from the flash.

The fire station is less than half a block away, and the fire was quickly brought under control.

Shall Alaska become a state? Well... 'Provided...' Pampa Girl Tells President

WASHINGTON—P—Thirteen-year-old Nancy Hval of Pampa, Texas, doesn't mind if Alaska becomes a state, but she would like to have it divided so that it can never become a larger state than Texas.

Miss Hval wrote President Truman: "We like our state and we are all proud of it. 'Lately I have been kind of worried because at school I have been reading some old newspaper clippings about Alaska becoming a state. Is it true? 'It don't mind this at all, but please, sir, if Alaska must come into the Union would you mind cutting it up into states? I ask this because Texas just has to remain the largest in the Union.'"

Nancy, eighth-grade at Holy Souls, posed for a picture this morning. She is quite proud of the letter she received from the Department of the Interior on the question. It reads in part: "Dear Nancy: President Truman has asked me to acknowledge and thank you for your letter relative to Alaska becoming a state. "We appreciate your interest in this matter and are glad to know that you are keeping current on world affairs. However, although the people of Alaska do favor statehood, the final action will be taken by the Congress and it is not definite at this time when such action will be taken. "We agree with you that Texas is a fine state, and it has many advantages besides being the largest. We are all proud of the state of Texas and the people in it, and shall continue to be proud of it whether Alaska becomes a state or not."

The letter, signed by the chief of the Alaska Bureau, Department of the Interior, contained a little pamphlet, entitled "Postwar Alaska," about which Nancy may be a little dubious.

It must have been a little difficult for her to admit it, but Nancy is larger than Texas; Alaska—586,400 square miles; Texas—297,539 square miles.

Britain May Ask Assurance Of Russians

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y. — (AP)—Great Britain intends to ask Russia for assurance that the Soviet Union has no intention of trying to use proposed United Nations armistice machinery to obtain atomic secrets, the British U. N. delegate said today.

Warren R. Austin, U.S. representative to the U.N. Security Council, intimated yesterday that he represented Russian opposition to an American proposal to prohibit invasion of the atomic energy field by an arms commission was motivated at least in part by such an intent.

In a reply to the U.S. delegate, Andrei A. Gromyko, the Russian representative, gave a definite answer to Austin's challenge. Sir Alexander Cadogan, British delegate, told the Associated Press he would ask Gromyko for a specific answer today when the Council meets on whether the proposed Arms Reduction Commission would have the power to encroach on the already functioning Atomic Energy Commission.

After a four-hour session yesterday, the United States and Russia still were deadlocked on the U.N. program for worldwide arms limitation.

Neither offered to budge from their previous stands.

The United States insists that the terms of reference of the proposed 11-nation Arms Reduction Commission should state specifically that a body should handle only conventional weapons and not infringe on the work or duties of the already functioning Atomic Energy Commission.

Russia insisted that it is unnecessary to write this into the Arms Commission's terms of reference.

Austin demanded yesterday that the terms of reference of the proposed Arms Commission be settled "now, once and for all" in a way that would prevent any possible attempt to open up the American atomic bomb secrets.

Dust in Gas Lines Results in Clogging

What was described as a "freak" occurrence of dust in residential and business gas lines cut off cooking stoves and heaters at several locations this morning.

Jack Garman, head of the Texas Gas and Power Corporation, said his company had opened a new well west of town last night and, for some reason, the gas was turned on at greater than normal pressure, causing dust particles to flow into stoves.

Garman said the matter was not serious, as burners and pilot lights could be easily lessened and allowed to clean out.

He added that it was his first experience with such an incident in this area.

Judge Declares Talmadge Legal Georgia Governor

MCDONOUGH, Ga. — (AP)—Superior Judge Walter C. Hendrix ruled today that Herman Talmadge is the legal Governor of Georgia.

In a 2,000 word decision Judge Hendrix said the Legislature was within its constitutional rights when it elected Talmadge Jan. 15 to the four-year term of the late Eugene Talmadge, his father.

Bandit Is Driving Fifth Stolen Car

A bandit sweeping through Northeast Texas like a tornado continues to make a sieve of the greatest police dragnet in years, and was last reported near Bonham in a Ford, the fifth stolen car he has used in 36 hours.

His crimes include kidnaping, armed holdups, robberies, car thefts, and burglaries. He has been seen in six and possibly seven towns.

His name is not known but his description has been widely broadcast by police radios—about 25 years old, 6 feet tall, 160 pounds, blonde, and is wearing a khaki shirt and an Army jacket.

His brief and violent career of crime is known to have touched Mt. Pleasant, Talco, Henrietta, Paris, Greenville, Commerce and possibly Waco.

The black Ford in which he is believed to be riding now was taken from Homer Clifton of Commerce. It is a 1941 model, black with red wheels, license number ES-7610.

Highways in Northeast Texas are being blockaded by Texas Rangers, State Highway Patrolmen and county and city officers of a dozen counties. In Dallas, a plane was sent aloft to aid in the search.

He was sought by scores of officers yesterday after two burglaries in Mt. Pleasant and two in Talco and after he held up a convoy of five cars. He took $800 from the drivers, and fled in one of their cars, an Oldsmobile which was later found abandoned near Mt. Vernon.

The manhunt centered in the woods there until this morning, when he appeared on foot at a service station in Bogata. He held up Edgar S. Stewart, 24, and his brother W. S. Stewart, 22. They operate a filling station. At gunpoint he forced them to drive him in their new 1947 Chevrolet to Paris. There he forced them out and continued in their car. They said he was armed with two guns, and boasted of eluding the manhunt last night.

They said he told them he had attempted to steal a farmer's car but fled when the farmer shot at him. During the ride from Bogata to Paris, the bandit asked the Stewarts if they had any money. They said they had about $13 in bills. He gave them an equal amount in wrapped coins, similar to those found near the farmer's home earlier in the day.

The labels on the coins bore the letters "Waco," and officers there said they had seen the same man who, in an armed robbery, got about $1,000 in cash and coins from the Clark Grocery last week.

The description tallied also with Prof. Paris, the man headed toward Greenville, where officers intercepted him and gave chase down the main street. The police car collided with a tank truck, and the driver was killed.

Chamber Okays New Senate Bill

Full approval of Senate Bill No. 39, which would authorize the wrapping of bonds to issue revenue bonds for the sum of $300,000, to be used to settle indebtedness against Palo Duro Park, was voted by the Board of Directors of the Chamber of Commerce at their final regular monthly meeting yesterday.

The bill, which was introduced by Sen. Grady Haselwood of Amarillo, proposes to pay the bonds off from funds that would be received from the operation of the park.

Members of the board, in their meeting, which was held at the Chamber, pointed out that if passed, the bill would not constitute any indebtedness against the state of Texas, nor would it raise taxes in any way.

GOP Leaders Blast Party In Budget Cut

WASHINGTON — (AP)—Republicans driving for a $6,000,000,000 slash in President Truman's $37,500,000,000 budget were accused by two of their own leaders today of imperiling the nation's security and world peace.

Proponents of the economy move insisted, however, that this is not the case.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD), of the Senate Armed Services Committee, declared the cut voted 82 to 2 by the Senate-House Budget Sub-committee would lop $1,750,000,000 off the $11,200,000,000 Truman asked for the army and navy.

"I cannot vote for anything that hamstringing national security," Gurney told reporters in announcing that he had abstained from the ballot. The vote followed a hurried trip to Capitol Hill late yesterday by Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower to plead against any impairment of funds for the nation's fighting forces.

Saying the committee action appeared to him to be one of "the same mistakes we made after the First World War," Gurney added: "We just got through spending $300,000,000 to win the war, and it looks like we could spend a few dimes now to win the peace."

Margaret O'Brien May Retire From Films At End of Contract
By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—Margaret O'Brien, who has been a movie actress as long as she can remember, may retire from the screen in October, 1949. That's when she and MGM have the option of renewing her current three-year contract.

As present plans shape up, Margaret will not attempt to bridge the "awkward age" of child stars. Dorothy Lamour, who has been traveling various roads with Hope and Crosby, will be traveling the road to RICO. A deal is being closed for one film a year at a fee hovering around $150,000. There's nothing wrong with that, so far.

Bob Hope's western, "Pale Face," has been moved from April to September so Rapid Robert can get a good rest after "Road to Rio." He'll take his radio show to Palm Springs and then to Tucson, Ariz., where he'll train with his Cleveland Indians. Then he'll take his family abroad for the summer.

It will be "shortin' bread" in horseback, if Nelson Eddy has his way. The booming baritone wants to do a western as his next at Republic with Iona Massey. "Just give me a good old boss o'ry," he says. The multitude of Eddy fans will be happy to know he'll be back on the air this fall with a new show. On it he'll display his talents as a comedian, which are considerable.

Max West is back in town with a wheezing bit of theatrical claptrap called "Come On Up." The Jane Russell of the '30s managed to squeeze a lot of laughs out of the first-nighters who included Evie and Van Johnson on their night out as husband and wife.

Concrete structures built by the ancient Romans are still in an excellent state of preservation.

Relative of Pampa Man Is Drowned
The bodies of Dan Cornell, 62, brother-in-law of John Brandon, Pampa, and four of Cornell's employees have been recovered from ill-starred Lake Chelan, Washington.

Cornell, apple-orchard owner near the lake, was driving on icy highways during a blizzard when his car jumped an 18-inch retaining wall and plunged into the lake. The car was recovered last Friday after it had been in the water over a week.

Lake Chelan was the spot where 16 perished when a school bus plunged off the highway in November, 1945. The bus left a highway on the opposite side of the lake from where Cornell's car plunged in.

CONSTIPATION Risky in BAD COLDS
Retained undigested food becomes putrefactive, causes toxins, which overload the liver and other vital organs of the body, lessening your resistance to colds and other winter ills and interfering with their treatment. Why take this chance when you can take Calotabs? Calotabs thoroughly yet pleasantly act on every foot of your intestines, sweeping out toxin-laden putrefactive foods and virus-laden mucus, enabling you to more effectively avoid or fight a cold. Nothing acts like good old Calotabs. Use as directed. 10c and 25c at all druggists.

In conjunction with the show, the Top o' Texas Junior Livestock judging Contest will bring together some 15 Panhandle Vocational Agriculture Departments. All trophies and ribbon awards in this event will be furnished by Frank Carter, local Hereford breeder.

Women Taking Men's Jobs? Advertising Helps Create Jobs for All!

Here's the Part Advertising Plays in Giving "The Right to a Steady Job" to Every American!

BOIL it all down—and the task of creating enough jobs for everyone—men and women, youngsters and oldsters—is the job of selling goods.

There's no shortage of "wants." People want all kinds of things. There's no shortage of American resources and inventive genius. The problem always is to bring "wants" and "goods" together—to "make a sale." Sales mean more business, more and better jobs.

One great low-cost, effective way to make those sales is through advertising. It's helped give us the highest standard of living in the world.

Advertising sells goods. And when goods are sold, factories, mills, farms, mines and businesses get busy. New businesses are created. This means more and better jobs for everyone. That's how advertising makes your job, your home, your income far more secure.

Courthouse Cafe Prepares Two New Menus Daily

Flowers speak a language all their own. Whatever the occasion, beautify it with flowers from Clayton's. We deliver.

CLAYTON FLORAL CO.

410 E. Foster Phone 80

Two complete menus are prepared daily at the Courthouse Cafe for the apparent purpose of pleasing customers with a tasty, tempting meal at both dinner and supper. This is just one of the outstanding new features of the business policy of the cafe.

During the war years all cafes found it next to impossible to prepare more than one menu a day. Cooks and bakers were scarce, and a wide variety of meats and many other food items were not available. Today these shortages are being rapidly remedied.

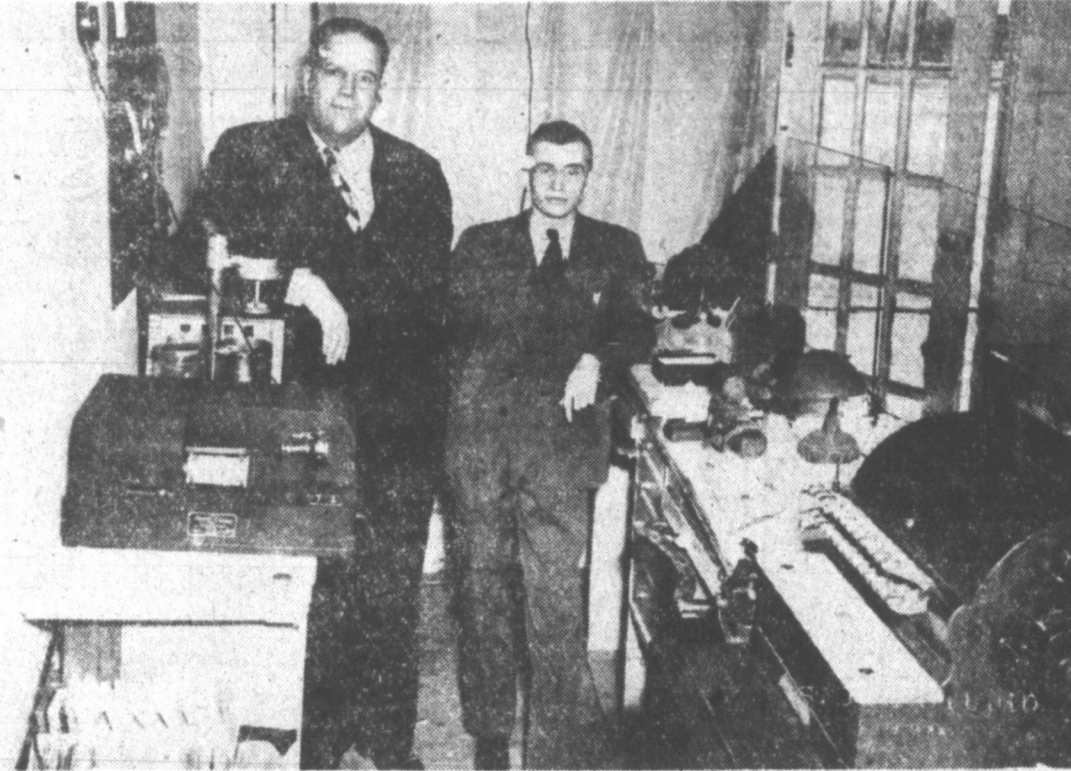

Since food is coming back on the market with more abundance each day and the personnel situation, though not solved, is improving, H. M. Munson, owner and operator of the Courthouse Cafe, has begun offering outstanding prewar service by preparing two complete, choice menus each day. This is just an added benefit for the many persons who eat all their meals "out" and appreciate having more foods to choose from.

In addition to its regular meals the cafe specializes in large, tender, K. C. Sirloin Steaks served with a crisp lettuce and tomato salad, French fried potatoes and delicious Folgers coffee. Drop in and try one of these steaks today. Your complete satisfaction is their guarantee.

Strict sanitation rules are observed at all times at the cafe. The first step in this direction was taken last December, at which time Munson bought and installed completely new sanitation and refrigeration equipment. Waitresses and cooks observe all rules in the sanitary technique of food handling and to assure you of faster service the cafe personnel has been increased.

Good coffee has for many years been an outstanding feature of the Courthouse Cafe because Folgers is always used. Then too, customers like the friendly atmosphere that "In these days of hard to find quality leather materials, it is sometimes almost impossible to do a job of repairing shoes that you are proud to turn out," Anderson admits, but he goes on to say, "we always strive to do the best work possible with the best materials that we can secure."

Shirley, owner and operator of the store, founds his firm's business on the firm's ability to plished stock of the latest popular recordings by such well known artists as Crosby, Sinatra, Hames, Shore the Andrews Sisters, Aury, Rogers, and many others. Many albums featuring your favorite dance bands are also available at the Pampa Music Store.

materials and superior craftsmanship make the difference. Service is prompt and satisfactory fitting and workmanship is your guarantee. And say, that offer doesn't just apply to the grown folks. It also applies to the kiddies who get just as much pleasure (and often more wear and tear) out of regular cowboy boots, like Dad wears.

Many other varieties of high quality, economically priced, leather goods are in stock at the City Shoe Shop. Among them are fine hand-tooled leather belts, excellent billfolds for both the man and woman, attractive hand made women's purses, and many other items too numerous to mention. For your convenience, any of the above mentioned articles or any others in the store that you wish to have carefully and expertly engraved, will be taken care of quickly in accordance with your requested design.

Remember—for outstanding quality leather goods or leather work, at prices that are not cheap, but fair, go to the City Shoe Shop at 319 West Foster Street.

Howton Leads Plainview Five To 46-33 Victory Over Pampa

Reapers Capture Win From Borger; Near Cane Crown

BORGER—Pampa Junior High's Reapers practically sewed up the Panhandle Junior High Conference championship here yesterday with a 35-28 victory over the Borger Junior High eagles.

The victory was Pampa's fifth conference win against two setbacks and was the 10th win of the season for Jack Davis' hustling five.

Pampa led all the way, holding a narrow 18-15 margin at the half but increasing it in the final two periods to win going away.

Robinson of Borger was high-point man in the game with 11 points as the Reapers divided their scoring among six players, with Carroll Smith and Jimmy Gallemore racking up eight points.

The Reapers will meet the Boys Ranch five of Amarillo here tomorrow afternoon at 2:45 in a non-conference outing.

Buffalo Will Be Target at Hunt Friday

RAWLINS, WYO.—Sounds once familiar in the West, the twang of heavy bowstring and the thud of arrow against the shaggy flanks of a buffalo, will be heard again near here Friday when some 60 archers compete in the nation's first one-shot buffalo hunt.

The archers, including men and women, champions and eager novices, will assemble here tomorrow from Colorado, Montana, Oregon, Washington, Wisconsin and Wyoming to receive final instructions. The hunt is being sponsored by the Rawlins Chamber of Commerce and will begin about 10 o'clock Friday morning on the 200,000-acre Leadore Bolton ranch 25 miles southwest of here.

Each hunter will be armed only with a bow having a minimum drawing weight of 60 pounds and with standard broadhead arrows one inch wide.

They'll be divided into three groups, each one assigned to a buffalo bull from a herd owned by Edden. An aerial reconnaissance has spotted the herd in an accessible valley and no great trouble is anticipated in locating the animals.

The archers will hunt on foot and each will shoot his single competitive arrow in a shooting order to be determined by lot. If the first shot fails to kill the buffalo the next will try and so on.

If the animals survive all the single shots, the archers will fire a volley at them. On the other hand, should the first few archers kill the three buffaloes, the rest of the bowmen will have no shots.

Should a bull buffalo break into a charge menacing the archers, the group captain then will order each archer to shoot at will and use as many arrows as are necessary to kill the animal. And just in case the broadheads aren't enough, skilled riflemen will be standing by to shoot the bison if he should prove dangerous.

TAUGHT HEALTHY LIVING

Five hundred years before the birth of Christ, Greek doctors began to teach healthy living, and some of the wealthy people gave almost their entire time to diet, exercise and other care of their bodies.

Music Hath Charms

PLAINVIEW—Thoroughly tired of one Bill Howton by the time the first half ended, Pampa's Harvesters dropped a 46-33 verdict to the Plainview Bulldogs here last night in the ninth District 1-A Conference tilt for both teams.

Howton, who can play two more years for the Bulldogs, flipped in only two points in the first period but bucketed 13 in the second quarter and five in the entire last half to make himself exceedingly obnoxious to a band of Harvesters who saw their 13-6 first-quarter lead melt away under the blistering point-making of the red-headed Bulldog star.

The loss, Pampa's sixth conference setback of the season, practically spoiled Harvesters hopes of anything better than fifth place in the district, although a not-likely victory over Amarillo's loop-leading Sandies here next Tuesday could change the picture.

Plainview trailed Amarillo, 3-9, at the half in their last outing but came back to lose by only a 44-35 margin.

Detred Davis, sophomore forward, bucketed six points to lead Harvesters scoring as Pampa jumped to the first-quarter lead. The Bulldogs couldn't seem to get their offense clicking against the hustling locals but the picture was vastly different in the second period when Howton started hitting them on shots from the free throw circle and on a slick fake play under the basket.

The Bulldogs led, 26-17, at the half-time intermission.

The teams battled on fairly even terms in the third period, which saw Plainview grab a 25 lead and the final period was of the same nature, with Pampa's taller reserves going into the game at intervals in an effort to combat the shooting accuracy of the winners.

Charlie Laffoon, Pampa guard, left the game on five personals in the early stages of the final period.

Trailing Howton in the individual scoring department was Pampa's Davis, who racked up 11 points, followed by Bill Speer of the losers with 10.

Experiencing little difficulty in the first three stanzas but having to stave off desperate Plainview rallies in the final period, the Pampa reserves won a 32-30 thriller from the well-stocked Plainview "B" team in the preliminary.

The Pampans took a 11-7 lead in the first, led by a 16-13 margin at the half and by 23-18 in the third.

Class AA Cage Titles on Line In Many Areas

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Staff Writer
District championships are on the line this week in several Class AA Schoolboy basketball areas.

By the end of the week approximately one half of the sixteen teams to compete in bi-district play probably will have to be determined. To date, the Crozier Tech Wolves of Dallas, defending state champions, are the only team to have clinched district honors.

Tech has one game to play in the Dallas district but holds a three-game lead over its nearest opposition.

Of the remaining districts, eleven have undisputed leaders while four others have first place ties or will determine their champions in tournament play.

Amarillo, El Paso High, Denton, Paschal of Fort Worth, Brownwood, Waco, Texarkana, Bryan, San Houston, Beaumont and Harlingen currently hold first place in their respective districts.

Yemen leads the Western Division of District 2, with Electra leading in the Eastern section. Big Spring is undefeated in District 3 but must go up against three other teams in a championship playoff tournament. Greenville and Gainesville are tied in District 5.

Thomas Jefferson's Mustangs of San Antonio can win the Northern Division crown in District 15 tonight by defeating the Brackenridge Eagles of San Antonio.

Regular play in the Northern Division ended in a three-way tie among Brackenridge, Jefferson and Austin. The playoff round began Monday night with Jefferson defeating Austin, 33-31, at Austin.

Should Brackenridge upset the favored Mustangs tonight, Austin and the Eagles range Saturday at San Antonio to continue the playoff.

The winner meets Corpus Christi, Southern Division title holder.

Amarillo has a 6-1 win-loss record in District 1, followed by Lubbock with a 6-2 rating. Electra is undefeated in three games, with Graham following at 2-1. In the Western Division Vernon's 3-1 record edges Children's 2-2.

The District 3 playoff probably will find Big Spring, undefeated in nine starts, meeting Abilene (6-3), San Angelo (5-3), and Lamesa (4-6). Abilene defeated Big Spring earlier in the season but forfeited the win because of an ineligible player.

El Paso can clinch the District 4 crown Saturday by defeating Bowie of El Paso, but a loss would necessitate a playoff between the two.

The return to competition of Marcus Freiburger, the 7-foot center, has stamped Greenville a definite favorite to repeat in District 5, while Denton, in District 6, holds a 6-1 record as compared with 5-2 for Sulphur Springs and 4-2 for Highland Park of Dallas.

Fort Worth's Paschal leads at 5-1, with Fort Worth Polytechnic in second spot at 5-4.

Brownwood holds a distinct advantage in District 9, as does Waco in District 10, the Tigers needing only two wins in their final four games to clinch the crown.

Texarkana (7-1), defeated Henderson (7-2), last week to break a District 11 deadlock, and Lufkin successfully protected its undefeated title by record (7-0) in District 12. Runners up Lufkin is Bryan with a 5-2 standing.

Sam Houston (7-1) holds a half game margin over San Jacinto of Houston (7-2), but Jefferson Davis (9-3) continues to threaten in District 13.

Beaumont (6-1) leads Goose Creek (7-2) in District 14.

Harlingen is far ahead in the Rio Grande Valley area of District 16.

What Sam didn't know

MacPhail made his offer was that the Yankees had influenced the Mexicans to cancel the travel permits for the three players. Larry believed he had a good chance of convincing Lanier, at least, to stay in the United States by using a liberal quantity of Yankee dollars.

When MacPhail assured him

no National League club would risk a waiver claim on a player who already was believed enroute to Mexico, "Salesman Sam" belied his nickname with an emphatic "no."

The Cardinal owner made it clear that Lanier, Martin and Kellin must play with St. Louis or not at all. It turned out to be not at all for they were playing in Mexico within a week.

Breadon considered the bid momentarily and asked MacPhail how the players could be sold to the Yankees when they were not National League property.

Hours after Max Lanier, Fred Martin and Lou Klein had been granted travel permits to "jump" to Mexico, May 23, Larry MacPhail of the New York Yankees offered $150,000 cash to Breadon for the three men.

There were no strings attached to the offer and Larry was filling to gamble on the players reporting to him although every paper in the country carried the story that Lanier and his mates were headed south of the border.

BOSTON—(AP)—Signed contracts of Tom Dean and Howard (Red) Maley, former Southern Methodist stars, were received today by the Boston Yanks who will have a strong Texas flavor next season in the National Football League.

Other Texans on the squad are Jim Wright, who signed several weeks ago and Harold (Spot) Collins who came to terms yesterday.

Fulks Reaches 1,000 Points in AAU Race

NEW YORK—(AP)—Joe Fulks, curly-haired Philadelphia court star, needed only 15 more points today to become the first player in the Basketball Association of America to net 1,000 points.

The flashy former Eastern Kentucky College pivot ace pumped in 25 points last night to lead the Warriors to a 75-59 victory over the Western Division Leading St. Louis Ambers.

Last season, Maley, used mostly last fall as a punter, is a fast, hard running back and a good passer.

AND TODAY WE NEED MALICE TOWARD NONE

Abraham Lincoln's birthday—February 12—is now a legal holiday in thirty-one states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, and Alaska.

Among those celebrating this date are Tennessee, Arkansas, and Texas. We are proud as a state to be numbered among those that recognize the real significance of the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Why? Perhaps there never was a more sincere president. If this man had lived, the period of reconstruction would have been much different from what history books tell us it was. Of course, his untimely death makes this an academic question, but there is basis for such belief, to be found in the history of his short, but stellar, life. None, theless, there are no sincere Southerners who believe that Lincoln was not sincere.

When he said he had but objective, to save the Union, he placed himself among the immortals and "with malice toward none" will always have a special meaning, because it was he who said it—with such simplicity and clarity.

The days that followed his death are deplorable, and would, no doubt, have been much different if he had lived. Carpetbaggers moved south, driven by a desire for vengeance, or greed, or a stupid, misguided zeal. A Lincoln would not have permitted that.

Today, we have a legacy from those unfortunate times. There is the one-party system in our South. And most of our people know what we mean when we say Bilboism, Talmadgeism, Klanism. We know what is meant by Columbians, Inc., and it is certainly no reference to the symbol of freedom.

These are the old cancerous sores still dogging the South; and they exist in principle because a fanatic killed a great man. What is needed, now, is a good Southern Lincoln, but he would represent the same thing as the Lincoln who was the president.

"With malice toward none," he said. And that is what is needed today, but we are a long way from having it.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

(Johnson on KPDN Monday thru Friday, 3 p. m.)

HOLLYWOOD—Pursued—Teresa Wright, who has been making a name for herself in Westerns, may start a new trend in Westerns. It's a psychological horse-opera. And they're even planning a psychological mystery for Margaret O'Brien. "There was a Little Girl," writes Herb Meadow is doing the script.

The heroes may change in those Western films, but the sheriff's posse goes riding on. Ninety percent of the cowboys working with "Tim Holt" in "Under the Tonto Rim" rode the cinematic ranges with his dad, Jack Holt.

Ann Sothern tells us she'll do no more Maizie pictures, that she wants to junk those sassy blonde roles for straight character comedy. She gets her first chance in years, with her hair back to brunette, as Alexander Knox's co-star in "Indian Summer," SUPER-COLOSSAL BOBBS.

Boris Moros, a chubby little bald-headed fellow, has two great passions in life: 1. Shirts that look like trout lures. He has 1500 of them, including a pink one with green stripes. 2. Producing super-colossal movies.

Hollywood said it couldn't be done, but Boris produced the first episode film, "Tales of Manhattan," with a cast of 18 big stars.

For a while it looked as if there would be a riot when Boris got around to the problem of how to bill his 18 stars. So, before the show even started, he invited all 18 of em to a "billings" party at his home.

Edward G. Robinson suggested that the names be pulled out of a hat. Charles Boyer spoke up: "Let's do it fair. Let's bill them alphabetically."

"He knew," Boris said, "that there were no A's in the cast." Finally Ginger Rogers suggested that the 18 stars be billed in order of appearance. And they finally agreed on that, after much haggling and a great deal of sipping of Boris' champagne.

THE "IMPOSSIBLE" IS EASY Boris has just accomplished another "impossible"—putting 15 top opera stars and five symphony orchestra conductors in the same movie, "Carnegie Hall."

"And," he says, "I didn't have as much trouble with people like Asbestos paper can be made which is fireproof, but no method has been found to make a fireproof ink."

MANY BILLS

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Shortest labor reform bill now before Congress is a three and one-half line job by Sen. "Pappy" O'Daniel of Texas.

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the National Labor Relations Act and all amendments thereto are hereby repealed."

Other bills to amend NLRA—the so-called Wagner Act—vary in size up to the 18-page bill introduced by Sen. Joe Ball of Minnesota and the 36-page bill introduced by Congressman Francis Case of South Dakota.

In more ways than one, the short and snappy O'Daniel bill may be considered the gentlest of the lot, because as that may seem, the O'Daniel bill merely takes away from labor unions the rights and protection in organizing they have enjoyed under the Wagner Act in the past 12 years.

The Ball, Ellender, Wherry, Hoffman, Case, Miller Wood, Landis, Smith and other bills merely to amend the Wagner Act are, on the other hand, full of jokers. Labor experts have not yet figured out all the angles. But in general they would restrict union powers for more than they were restricted before the Wagner Act was passed.

GOING TOO FAR?

Lily Pons and Heifetz as I did with those actors in "Tales of Manhattan." They just wanted to know what the others were going to sing or play, and after that they were happy."

But he did whisper that one famous opera star, who shall remain nameless, wrote him a letter casual by saying, "Of course, Boris, you will see that my applause is the loudest."

Boris thinks so much of "Carnegie Hall" that "The public has been educated to classical music, and I've got a great story, too—that he will stick his neck out with an advertising catchline, "Never Before, Never Again."

The critics could murder him and the picture with that one. "But I'm not worried," he said. "I showed the picture to 30 United Artists salesmen last week. And you know what happened? They all saluted, and they cried."

How did he bill his 15 opera stars and five conductors. "In order of appearance," he said. "I'm not crazy, even if I do wear shirts that make me look like a calypso."

Well, it looks like the machine age is being run into the coin-machine age. A Chicago man who makes those gadgets says that soon you can get any thing out of them.

Personally, I'm not going to buy hats from coin machines. I always have the salesgirl try on a few so I can see how they look.

And what hat would look good on a coin machine? I'd wind up not buying any hats. Or if I did buy one and didn't like it, I'd have the stuff dicked of a time trying to stuff it back in the machine and getting my coins back.

George points out that coin machines for married women are nothing new, anyway. Every husband is a coin machine, only he instead of vice versa, he says. And it does a husband absolutely no good to yell "tilt!"

They would provide heavy fines and imprisonment for newly-defined unfair labor practices by unions or their members. Similar penalties would not, however, be imposed on employers who might resort to union-busting tactics.

Union members would by some amendments be made outlaws and deprived of their rights to be re-hired to former jobs. Other amendments might promote strikes rather than prevent them. At the least, the bulk of the amendments would open up labor law to many court battles and open up another era of industrial turmoil such as first followed passage of the Wagner Act.

Members and counsel of the National Labor Relations Board are among the first to admit that the Wagner Act is not perfect. There are a number of revisions they would like to see made. They have been reluctant to offer a moderate bill incorporating these changes, because they feared it would merely be the vehicle on which would be loaded the two dozen or more crippling amendments now being offered by individual congressmen.

It is now generally believed that the Senate Labor Committee will not report out a bill as drastic as Senator Ball has introduced, nor will it report out O'Daniel's proposal to repeal outright. The story in the House is—quite different. There is bill to amend the Wagner Act are before the Labor Committee and they are to get first consideration. One new possibility is that the House will do the amending of the Wagner Act, while the Senate will confine itself to the milder Tatt-Ball-Smith bill, which centers its interest on improved conciliation and mediation machinery.

PRESIDENTIAL VETO AHEAD? In that event, the important question becomes what the President will sign, or what could be passed over his veto.

As a matter of record, it is known that the labor reform provisions in the President's State of the Union message were sent to the National Labor Relations Board for review before they were sent to Congress. The board and its counsel approved the President's suggestions. The President's message may therefore be considered the basis for maximum changes in the Wagner Act which the White House would approve. These changes include:

1. Legislation to prevent jurisdictional strikes and secondary boycotts which compel an employer to violate the Wagner Act.

2. Legislation to prevent the use of strikes or lockouts to settle disputes arising under existing contracts.

That's all.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON

By Ray Tucker

MERGE—Despite Philip Murray's coy reception of William Green's blueprint proposal that the C.I.O. and the A.F. of L. join forces to present a united front against anti-labor legislation on Capitol Hill, it is expected that these two union organizations will soon merge under the leadership of John L. Lewis of the United Mine Workers.

Under the arrangements which representatives of the three leaders have discussed in detail within the last few months, the elderly rivals, Mr. Murray and Mr. Green, would retire on fairly generous pensions. Mr. Lewis would then be permitted to realize his lifelong ambition of becoming the head of a labor group with a membership of approximately 13,500,000 men and women.

Since other labor organizations having an enrollment of approximately 2,000,000 normally cooperate with the American Federation of Labor, the combined labor forces would total almost 16,000,000 people, the greatest single aggregation of workers in world history.

Mr. Lewis who is 67 today, Feb. 12, will probably hold office only until he is seventy, and then retire under the same terms as Messrs. Green and Murray, that bill will give him a pension of approximately $15,000 annually.

GRACE—The inside story of the merger negotiations suggests that Mr. Green tried to out maneuver Mr. Murray when he made public his Miami invitation to the C.I.O. to return to the fold. It was a delicate attempt to force the Scot's hand.

Friends of the two men have been discussing a merger for several months at Washington, Pittsburgh and New York. Mr. Murray, however, objected to a hard-and-fast tie-up, for he figured that it would be interpreted as a reflection on his leadership.

He also wanted to obtain new wage agreements with such mass industries as steel, automobile and textiles while he remained as head of the C.I.O. He wanted to force the union up with better grace after these victories.

Mr. Green, however, knew that many key C.I.O. organizations were at odds with the A.F. of L. before Congress begins to write or rewrite any labor legislation at the present session. They believe that the opposition of one single union with membership of almost 14,000,000 would act as a deterrent to the G.O.P. high command.

It was with these facts in mind that the A.F. of L. president bluntly told the C.I.O. to get on with the timid and vacillating Mr. Murray to reach an immediate decision.

TRIM—The Army's new financial book on Capitol Hill, the initiative Albert J. Engel of Muskegon, Michigan—believes that he can trim about a billion dollars from the funds allocated to the military in 1947 and 1948 by a complete revision of contract arrangements. Although the "brass" resented his interference at the time, they grudgingly admit that his recommendations will save billions of dollars for the government.

Mr. Engel is a leading advocate of a strong national defense system, but he learned from his earlier inexperience that average citizens are not a thrifty or good businessman. The Muskegon Legislator puts it, "he figures that money grows on trees instead of coming from the pockets of the taxpayers."

PAD—The man from Michigan does not believe that Congress can make any appreciable cuts in the funds allocated to such basic items as food, clothing, transportation, training, although he notes a tendency on the part of the finance officers of the Army to pad these figures. But he does think that savings can be made in other fields.

His recent surveys convince him that the War Department maintains too many hospitals, barracks and scattered stations built during the conflict. Many of these buildings he finds are used to only one-third of their capacity. The military hangs on to them because they provide cash and his—right to roots for men who might otherwise be reduced from colonels to majors.

TAXES—Another field for economy in his opinion, is the Army Transport system. It is still operating routes in remote corners of the world, according to the Engel findings.

Any reduction of income taxes may depend on the Muskegon man's hatchet work, for it is admitted Army-Navy appropriations offer the best field for savings. President Truman has also allocated for the two services exceeds eleven billion dollars.

If Mr. Engel can slice about a billion from the Army's funds, it is almost certain that savings in other departments will boost the total of savings to the $3,500,000,000 required for a tax cut of approximately twenty percent.

When packing eggs, they should be placed with the large end up.

Warren Austin, United States representative on the Security Council, has made it plain that this country has no intention of bargaining away its atomic secrets without the ultimate in safety agreements, disarmament or no disarmament.

His latest statement to the Council, coupled with earlier factors pointing in the same direction, makes it appear that disagreement is a dead issue for the time-being, regardless of how much more talk may be expended in an effort to keep it alive.

The Russians have demanded establishment of a disarmament commission with full powers to investigate all armed forces and armaments.

The United States is adamant, will not permit this with regard to atomic weapons until air-tight controls have been established, including provisions for unrestricted international inspection and punishment of violators. The U. S. wants the atomic control commis-

THE STORY: Parker gets a job with the Cavendish Chemical Company and immediately arranges to have the farmhouse modernized.
But he can't get along with Carter
Cavendish and quits. He tells Cassie he has something else lined up at the Fair store.
PARKER, Cassie soon realized, was not satisfied with the job at the Fair store either. The first few days he had talked of it with a great show of enthusiasm, but after a while they heard nothing more about it.

at the Fair store, too? Well, I wouldn't be surprised, either. You don't think much of me without my money, do you, Cassie? I'm not much good without the plush to back me, am I?"
"Didn't mean—"

What's a
DOG PATCH
Did you ever get bit by a dog?
Did he get ahold of yah? Did he tear a piece out of your clothes, britches? If so, did you throw them away, or put a patch on your britches where the dog took a piece out? Well, now you know what a Dog Patch is... or do ya?
