CONGRESSIONAL WHO'S WHO: JONES

On its Who's Who of Congress page, the United States News (Washington, D. C.) carries a huge picture of Congressman Marvin Jones in a current issue, with a sub-title as follows: "Texas Lawyer, Specialist in Cotton, Wheat, and Cattle."

The article follows: Marvin Jones, member of congress since 1917 and chairman of the House Committee on Agriculture, is a specialist. He is a lawyer and has a degree of bachelor of arts; but the alma mater which he insists upon praising is the old farm.

Like most of his ancestors for generations Mr. Jones was born in the country. There he spent his early life and later, as a tenant farmer himself, he had a chance to learn the problems of the grower of wheat and cotton. His own district—the Eighteenth Texas—is one of the few in the country whose combined interests include three major branches of agriculture—cotton, wheat and cattle.

Entry Into the Bar

All of Mr. Jones' youthful hours were not on a farm, however, for he managed to acquire his degree from Southwestern University at Georgetown, Tex., in 1905, working his way through that institution and continuing his law work afterward at the University of Texas. He received his LL. B. in 1907 and the same year was admitted to the Texas bar. He proved an apt student and as one of the three with the highest standing was chosen to act as quiz-master. He enjoyed public speaking and won several prizes in the course of his collegiate career.

In Congress At Early Age

In 1913 he was appointed to the board of legal examiners for the seventh supreme judicial district of Texas. While he never ran for public office he took an active interest in politics and for 14 years was Texas member of the Democratic national congressional campaign committee. He served in the Tank Corps in the World War and later entered his first campaign for an elective office. He was elected to the 65th Congress and was the youngest member at the time of his election.

Early in his career in Congress Mr. Jones applied his naturally studious mind to some of the broader problems of agriculture as well as other specific questions which later were to awaken general concern and in which he had by that time done considerable pioneering.

He made what is said to be one of the first speeches on the abolition of profits of war, a topic that has had such a prominent place in Congressional hearings and debate during the current session. He also advocated restrictive legislation on immigration.

When, in the 72nd Congress the Democrats came into control Mr. Jones was chosen chairman of the Committee on Agriculture and there had the opportunity of seeing some of his earlier suggestions carried out.

Championed the AAA Act

Before the presidential election he worked with leaders on a program for agriculture and piloted the original AAA Act through the House. He is credited with the successful passage of that act and for much of the subsequent legislation which built up the Administration's farm program. His combination of legal experience and long familiarity with farm problems has made him a chief consultant on these matters in the shaping of the administration's policies.

The additional responsibility involved in reducing to law theories which he had evolved, has not interfered with Mr. Jones' penchant for research and he is one member of Congress who is a familiar sight in the Congressional Library and it is no uncommon thing to find him in his office burning the midnight kilowatts.

Farm Credit Bill

One of Mr. Jones' theories had to do with the necessity for a separate credit structure for agriculture. To that end he worked for the passage of a special credit measure and in the 73rd Congress saw its realization in the farm credit bill. This was his first milestone on the road to farm credit.

Not content with this step Mr. Jones introduced a second measure. This would establish an agricultural bank parallel to the Federal Reserve System. This bank would issue agricultural bank notes through the use of Treasury reserves. It would also provide for the financing of farm homes.

Natural Gas and Cotton

Phrases which appear frequently in the news these days in connection with the many measures which have been undertaken to lighten the burden of the farmer were a part of Mr. Jones' vocabulary for many years. And many of the ideas which they represented had their inspiration in his early experience in situation which came about in his district. For instance, his district is one of the largest natural gas fields in the world. Looking about for means of utilizing this gas in a way directly to benefit the surrounding communities he proposed its use for rural electrification.

Another home-grown product whose consumption he has attempted to extend is cotton. Several years ago he was the author of an act providing for special research to seek new uses for cotton and its by-products. Naturally it met with the whole-hearted support of all cotton-growers and he has now sponsored another act to extend this research which would likewise increase appropriations for land-grant colleges.

In another field he saw only recently successful culmination of his attempt to regulate commodity exchanges when such a bill passed the House.

People like Marvin Jones. He's affable and friendly and he wins his victories because of respect for his opinions rather than by pyrotechnics and oratory.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD C. MARSHALL

AUSTIN, Aug. 21 (AP)—The railroad commission dislikes delays in its hearings and invariably opposes postponements frequently asked.

When oil men and attorneys appeared recently for a pipeline hearing, ready with witnesses, Laton Stanberry, chief of the oil and gas division, faced the audience apologetically.

"I hate to admit it," he said, "but I forgot to summon our own witnesses."

The hearing was postponed for three days.

Ed Clark, Governor Allred's secretary is a native of San Augustine. He is proud of his birthplace and it was a great day for him recently when the governor visited San Augustine for a rodeo.

They flew in national guard planes from Austin to Center because the San Augustine landing field was reported to be slightly "out of repair," then continue 20 miles by automobile to the scene of the rodeo.

Back in Austin Clark described in glowing terms the beauties of the San Augustine country, hailing it as the "most wonderful in the world." "Gentlemen," he said, "when the Lord comes back to earth, it will be at San Augustine."

"Ed," someone asked, "will he land at Center?"

Governor Allred has endorsed a proposed new state courts building, which sponsors hope to build largely with federal funds. The cost has been estimated at $750,000.

It would be built on a state-owned lot, now a park, in front of the governor's mansion and across the street from the main capitol grounds.

The governor said poor office facilities were impairing the work of the supreme court, the court of criminal appeals, the Austin court of civil appeals and the attorney general's department.

The oil and gas division of the attorney general's department is housed in the old labor temple downtown.

Sister Mary's Kitchen

By MARY E. DAGUE NEA Service Staff Writer

I suppose more tea room and small restaurant owners have made money out of chicken well and specially prepared than from any other dish...

Few butchers understand how to clean a chicken properly or take the trouble to do it anyway, and housekeepers are too prone to take the whole thing on faith to avoid troublesome work.

Be sure your chicken is thoroughly cleaned inside and out and the dish will be good whether it is mousse, timbales, roll, loaf, Hawaiian chicken, chicken supreme, croquettes or the French mixture of chicken and noodles.

Broiled Style Is Least Economical Broiled chicken and old-fashioned country fried chicken are suitable, too, for dinners or formal luncheons.

Young chickens are so tender that the minute they are reheated the meat becomes cottony and tasteless.

with grilled tomatoes filled with buttered peas for luncheon or dinner. Choose a hearty dessert to make up the calories.

Chicken Cutlet, Hawaiian Three and one-half cups pineapple juice, 4 tablespoons butter, 1 cup rice, 1 small onion, 1-2 cubed cheese, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 2 cups finely chopped cooked chicken.

Wash rice through many waters. Combine pineapple juice, minced onion, salt, pepper and butter and bring to the boiling point.

Add rice and cook over hot water until rice is tender. Add chicken and shape into cutlets or croquettes. Roll in fine cracker crumbs, dip in egg slightly beaten with 1 tablespoon milk and roll again in crumbs.

Fry in deep hot fat heated to 375 degrees F. or hot enough to brown an inch cube of bread in forty seconds.

Since the croquettes are cooked before frying, as soon as they are brown they should be removed from the fat and drained. Serve with a brown cream sauce to which 1 tablespoon minced green pepper, 1-2 teaspoon minced chives and 1 chopped hard cooked egg has been added.

Shiphape Cabin for the Boys

This nautical-looking room is built to appeal to a very young man. The built-in double-decker bunk is a feature of the room. It saves floor space and is in keeping with the salty flavor of the general decorations.

ATTRACTIVE ROOM FOR BOYS ENCOURAGES PLAY AT HOME

The child who has attractive quarters of his own will spend more leisure time at home than the child whose quarters are makeshift and who feels he has no place which is his personal domain.

Under the terms of the modernization credit plan of the Federal Housing Administration it is easy to create such a room as the one pictured on this page to intrigue the fancy of the young gentleman of the house.

A room furnished as a ship's cabin with furniture that has a tang of salt air about it need not be expensive and is sure to appeal to a boy, whether he is 6 or 16.

The most important item, of course, is the double-decker bunk. This can be built in and has many advantages. If two boys are to occupy the room, each of them can have an ample bed without using up all the floor space for sleeping equipment.

The floor covering is an imitation tile. Venetian blinds at the window give privacy, at the same time allowing full ventilation.

FREE TEXTBOOKS TO ALL PUPILS IS ISSUE IN SATURDAY VOTING

AUSTIN, Aug. 20 (AP)—Permission for the state to provide free textbooks to all children of scholastic age and abolition of the fee system for compensating all district and certain local officers were proposed in constitutional amendments placed seventh and sixth on the August 24 ballot.

That dealing with schools would make two other changes not enumerated in the question as printed on the ballot: For or against "permitting the furnishing of free textbooks to every child of scholastic age attending any school within this state."

To achieve that, the amendment would broaden a stipulation that free texts should be provided, children "attending the public free schools of this state," to the term, children "within the scholastic age attending any school in this state."

Another change to complete elimination of prohibitions against distribution of state books to scholars in private or parochial schools in order to modify a constitutional injunction that none of the permanent or available school fund should be used "for support of any sectarian school" by adding, "provided that the state board of education may furnish state adopted textbooks free to every child of scholastic age, attending any school within the state."

A third change would insert the regulation "in such a manner as to be provided by law" to a section which directed the board of education to set aside sufficient school funds to provide free text books. An amendment adopted in 1926 did not stipulate the source of the statutory regulation of the board in that function.

The fee system amendment differed from one defeated in November, 1934, principally by correction of technical errors. Efforts to abolish the system were frustrated by findings of a senate investigating committee a few years past.

It would abolish the fee system as a basis for compensating all district officers, and those county officers in counties with a population of 20,000 or more according to the preceding federal census, and substitute fixed salaries.

Commissioners' courts would be authorized to determine whether county officers in counties with less than 20,000 population and precinct officers in all counties should be compensated by fees or salaries. Notaries public, county surveyors and public weighers would continue to be paid on the fee basis.

The amendment would direct the legislature, at its first session after adoption, to enact legislation "to adequately compensate, on a salary basis, the officers herein referred to in all counties having a population of 20,000 or more..." no method was prescribed for fixing salaries of precinct officers and those of counties placed by commissioners' courts on a salary basis.

If voters approved the amendment, it would become effective "from the first day of January and thereafter and subsequent to the first regular or special session of the legislature after adoption."

ENTIRE NATION TO SHOW LOVE FOR COMEDIAN

ALL CALIFORNIA STOPS TO PAY TRIBUTE TO ROGERS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 22 (AP)—It was time for Will Rogers' formal exit today from the earthly scene he ruled so long as master of philosophy and wit.

A few more than a hundred relatives and friends were bidden to private funeral services by the family. Among them were the personal representatives of President Roosevelt, Admiral William T. Tarrant and Commander Herbert A. Jones.

The huge Hollywood bowl, seating 35,000 and Community Presbyterian church of Beverly Hills were meeting places for the general public. At the motion picture studios, including the one at which Rogers was a star, fellow film players were called to pay him homage.

A proclamation of Governor Frank F. Merriam asking a minute of silence throughout California 2 p. m., the time of the services, was to be followed by city and federal offices, and most business houses here, with flags at half-staff throughout the day.

At Claremore, Okla., which Rogers called his "home town" menial services were set up at nearby Chelsea, the Rev. Argus J. Hamilton, classmate of the humorist, was to deliver a eulogy.

Motion picture producers and distributors of America announced more than 12,000 theaters over the country would be darkened for two minutes during the services.

At the request of the family the casket was unopened as Rogers' body lay in state from 7 a. m. until noon within the gates of Forest Lawn Memorial park in Glendale.

And at their wish the private funeral program at the Wee Kirk O' The Heather at the park was made brief and simple.

At these services the Rev. J. Whitcomb Brainerd, associate pastor of the Glendale Baptist church and intimate friend of Rogers, was to read the funeral oration and John Boles motion picture star and singer at the same studio where the comedian worked, was to sing.

The service, as Mrs. Rogers wished, was timed to last little more than 20 minutes.

A special detail of 400 officers was assigned to handle traffic at Glendale cemetery, where the body of the Alaskan crash victim lay in state until noon.

The vast motion picture industry was ordered to a complete standstill, and all executives, stars, extras and laborers—joined in ceremonies.

George Jessell, stage star and friend of Rogers for 25 years, was selected to deliver the eulogy at Twentieth Century-Fox, the Rogers "home lot."

Top-Notch Teams Will Open Tourney Here Friday Night

Amarillo Shamrocks Likely To Send Strong Club

Managers of teams entered in the Junior chamber of commerce baseball tournament will meet with the tournament committee tonight to discuss rules, map out the first round of play, and turn in rosters. The meeting will be at 7:30 o'clock in the B. C. D. rooms in the city hall. The tournament will open tomorrow evening.

It is the roster that is expected to cause trouble tonight. Managers have been "burning the wires" seeking new talent to throw into the fight for the $1,000 guaranteed the winner. Many new faces will appear in the lineups.

Coltaco of LeFors has been armng for months. The Road Runners didn't start strengthening until yesterday. Huber has been taking players from anywhere and everywhere with a determination to finish better than third place. Huber will be minus their manager. Lefty Claude Blair, who is in a hospital recovering from injuries received when struck on the head by a ball from the bat of Al Summers Monday night.

Blair was in the dugout when the foul ball hit him over the eye. Phillips has been making no fuss about the tournament. The team has just been plugging holes for weeks.

There is still some doubt whether the Amarillo Shamrocks will be here for the tourney. Manager Bob Winkler of the Shamrocks is getting no cooperation. It was the same story last year. Amarillo finally sent two teams, neither of them strong, however. A group of players was visited yesterday by a delegation of Pampa Jaycees, who returned optimistic that an Amarillo aggregation, stronger than at any time during the season, will be here.

Entry of the Two-I league All Stars, Coltaco of Carbon of LeFors, and Phillips from the South Pampa field, was still hanging fire this morning. At least one team will enter and maybe all three. Coltaco sent representatives far afield yesterday to secure players. They reported some success last night and asked to remain out until noon today.

Phillips expected to pick up several players released by the Borger team when it added strength. If the deal goes through, the Pampa 66 aggregation is likely to be a threat. The Two-I league sponsors are sitting back watching other managers. The leaguers had intended using several players from both Coltaco and Phillips in the All Star lineup.

Pampa-Dancier Road Runners will be defending champions. The Road Runners walked off with a check for $1,000 for first money last year. The Phillips 66 Oilers of Borger placed second and received $469.15. Third money went to Huber Carbon of Borger and amounted to $332.76.

Prize money this year is expected to be even more. The teams entered will be much stronger than last year and baseball interest is higher. Admission to games will be 15 cents for children, 25 cents for women, and 40 cents for men. Hundreds of reserve seat tickets will be available at 15 cents each. Season reserve and box seat tickets will be honored without additional charge.

Players this year will have some interesting figures to shoot at if they hope to set new records. Red Gaither, last year with Coltaco but this season with Amarillo, led the hitters with a batting average of .575, and stole the most bases—7. Gordon Wall, Road Runners hit the most home runs, 4, and batted in the most runs, 17. Joe Surface, with Phillips 66 of Borger, was voted the best outfielder. The infield honor went to Aaron Ward of the Road Runners. Freddy Brickell was the best "sport."

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

both the strong man and the heavy weight at the same time. He isn't interested in politics, but he likes any kind of a fight. He had been in Paris only six months when he found himself in the middle of a mob of rioting Frenchmen in February, 1934.

VAUGHT TO BE CHIEF UMPIRE IN BIG MEET

BURK MAN HAS CALLED MORE THAN 800 GAMES

Neeley R. Vaught of Burk Burnett, often called the most proficient umpire outside of professional baseball, will be umpire-in-chief at the second annual Pampa Junior chamber of commerce tournament which will open at Road Runner park tomorrow night.

The veteran has been calling balls and strikes in baseball since 1927. His experience as a referee is of much longer standing. His first game as umpire, he believes, was back in the days when he was a player. He handled a high school game between Burk Burnett and Reagan. Two members of the Reagan team were Tank Horton, star catcher for the Pampa Road Runners, and Jimmy Parker, ace of the Coltaco pitching staff. Since that time, he has officiated in more than 800 games.

NEELEY VAUGHT
Vaught believes that the nearest he ever came to being mobbed was in Amarillo in 1930 when the Pampa-Gulf Gunners were playing the Amarillo Texans for the title. Pampa, nursing a two-run lead, and Amarillo with runners on first and third, Amarillo pulled a squeeze play. The catcher stepped in front of the batter, took the throw from the pitcher, and tagged the runner. Vaught called the runner safe and sent the batter to first on interference. The Pampa players and fans almost started a riot. Pampa went ahead and won the game and Vaught was not mobbed. After the game he read the rule to the players and a group of fans and from then on, Vaught has been a favorite with Panhandle baseball players and fans.

Foreign Threats In Tourney Will Face Americans

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 22 (AP)—The field foreign threats in the men's section of the National Doubles Tennis tournament at Longview will play Frank Shields and Frank Parker today.

Man Rises From Sick Bed To Hurl A Perfect Game

LONGVIEW, Aug. 22 (AP)—Hugo Klierer, right-handed hurler for the Longview club of the West Dixie league, was sick yesterday, but he likely feels better today.
He crawled out of a sick bed last night to pitch the only perfect game in the history of the loop.
He shut out the Jacksonville Jax, 3 to 0, with no runs, no hits, and did not permit a man to set a foot on first base.
Tossing his best brand of ball, Klierer, son of the mayor of Fredericksburg, Texas, fanned ten batters. Furthermore, but two of his offerings were hit hard, and they fell into fielders' gloves.

Dairy Farmer Is Shooting King

VANDADIA, O., Aug. 22 (AP)—A New York dairy farmer, who quit playing baseball, because he "had to hit a home run to get to first base," and took up trapshooting, perched atop the "champion of champions" throne of the clay target sport today.
He is Elmer Torge of Wales Center, N. Y., former player with the Bay City, Mich., professional baseball club. He quit the diamond sport to take up dairy farming, turned to trapshooting for recreation seven years ago, and hit the top with a bang yesterday when he broke 300 targets in a row.

Buddy Myer Says Golf Raised His Batting To .344

CHICAGO, Aug. 22 (AP)—Up to this season, the lifetime batting average of Buddy Myer in the American league was .297.
Then he took up golf.
Today the Washington infielder is batting .344 and in the midst of a hot fight for the American league batting championship.

Managers and trainers, who shake their heads when their players suggest a round of golf on their days off, might have to do some explaining when this gets around. It's true that Buddy gives credit to other elements, such as pure luck and a better spot in the Senator batting order, but he regards golf as probably the biggest reason for the change.

Buddy Baer To Box Jack Doyle

NEW YORK, Aug. 22 (AP)—Jack Doyle, the crooning Irishman, and Buddy Baer, younger brother of the former champion who also can sing, will fight their fistic wares in Madison Square Garden tonight when they clash in the feature bout of a series of six rounds.
The Irishman, who arrived in this country to the tune of much ballyhoo, points to a knockout of Jack Pettifer in England as his greatest single achievement. He has fought only a few times here, winning usually by a knockout in the early rounds.
Baer, who tips the scales at 260 pounds and makes his brother, Max, look smaller by comparison, has been fighting about a year. Most of his bouts, against little known fighters, have ended via knockouts in the first round. He has been beaten only once and that in a four-round decision bout with Babe Hunt of Ponca City, Okla.

McLEAN TEAM STARTS GRID WORK MONDAY

New Coach, Bill Allen, is Holding Practice Sessions Daily For Tigers.
McLEAN, Aug. 22.—Eager and ready for a hard season, the McLean high school football team began practice Monday under Coach Bill Allen, successor to Garrison Rush, who went to Shamrock when J. C. Prejean of that city went to Pampa as assistant coach.
Ex-Tigers were out in force to assist in the workout, to help the new boys and also to get ready for college. Two practice sessions are being held daily.
Boys with experience out for practice include Stratton, McCarty, Laswell, Cupell, King, Overton, Nicholson, Roth, Cable, Cook, Hess, "Little Metzger" Christian, and Cunningham. Johnson and Kennedy will report in a few days.
New comers to the Tigers included Jess Finley, Graham, Price, Cash, Watson, Dyer, Pepper, McCoy, Wings, Floyd, Gossett, Sloan, Black, Slitter, Chilton, McMullan, Colleman, and W. Finley.
The 1935 Tigers and the ex-Tigers will meet in an exhibition game on the night of Sept. 2, as a finale to the McLean Trades Day. No admission will be charged.

Pewees To Play Season's Classic At Park Tonight

Children To Be Admitted For Ten Cents Each

Children will be admitted to the Pee-wee-Canadian baseball game tonight at Road Runner park for 10 cents each. Admission for adults will be 25 cents each.
Proceeds will be used for the benefit of underprivileged children by the Kiwanis club, and to buy a few balls and other equipment for the Pee-wees who have no easy time keeping enough balls on hand.
The game will start at 8:30 o'clock with "Lightnin'" O'Reilly on the mound for the revenge-hungry Canadian boys. Yesterday, the Pee-wees had a workout at Road Runner park. They put a lot of vinegar into the practice, and if any errors are made in their ranks tonight, the fellow that does it will likely get a booting, for the boys still like to take the shortcomings of their mates "out in hide."
The Pee-wees haven't had a fight among themselves in several weeks, and since Canadian promises to offer stiff competition there is small likelihood of a scrap. The boys are seldom in a mood to become peeved when the game is close. The Pee-wees appeared mighty cheery at noon today when they donned the uniforms of Busby's Indians. Their advisers hoped that the boys would not be so taken up with their uniforms tonight that the game would be of secondary importance.
It will be the big moment for the Pee-wees. They expect to play before their largest crowd of the season. They expect to show the fans that their fielding is down pat, and that they can make life interesting when the old stick is in their hands. Thus far they have routed all opposition. Their advisers believe they have about the best junior baseball team in the state, of the same age.
Amos Reed will pitch for the Pee-wees, with Doyle Auld behind the bat.
The rest of the lineup will probably be as follows: Claude Heiskell 1b, Junior Buckingham 2b, Billy Morrow ss, Dale Mills 3b, Speedy Foster if, Glen Dull cf, and Grover Heiskell rf.

Oklahoma Clubs In Texas League Win Three Tilts

By The Associated Press

The Oklahoma teams in the Texas league did all the winning last night. The Oklahoma City Indians jostled up to within six points of first place by beating Galveston, 2 to 1, and Tulsa took a twin bill, 16 to 10 and 6 to 5, from Houston.
San Antonio rested at Dallas and the league-leading Beaumont Exports were idle at Fort Worth because of rain.
Brilliant held the Galveston batsmen to three hits. Moore and Cole were touched for 10 licks by the Tribe.
The Tulsa Oilers, who returned home from a disastrous road trip, set about to improve their hold on fourth place by lacing the Buffs twice. The first game was wild and the second one came close to continuing all night. It went two innings over the scheduled seven before the Oilers managed to put across the pay counter.
The second encounter was a bang-up pitchers' battle between Bill McGee and Al Shealy. McGee struck out 10 Oilers and Shealy fanned seven Buffs.
Oriental drama is basically religious and social, authorities say.
Potato production in the Kaw valley of Kansas will be near 1,000 carloads this year.

NIGHT BASEBALL IS LIKELY TO BE EXTENDED NEXT YEAR

By ALAN GOULD Associated Press Sports Editor
NEW YORK, Aug. 22. (AP)—Major league club owners still are sharply divided over night baseball, tried successfully this year by the Cincinnati Reds, but latest indications point definitely to its extension in 1936, with the American league following the trail blazed by the National.
Previously confined to the minors and scorned for years by the major league magnates, night baseball now is being eagerly discussed and advocated by the owners. Several of them consider the Cincinnati test a turning point, and feel that the non-tariff sport's appeal, under certain limitations, will mean "financial salvation" for second-division clubs. Others, like Frank J. Navin, president of the Detroit Tigers, are outspoken in their opposition.
Navin recently expressed the opinion that baseball "would be the beginning of the end for the major leagues" but this viewpoint is not generally shared.
Here's the current line-up, based on a poll of club officials by the Associated Press:
Clubs operating or definitely planning night baseball: Cincinnati Reds, Boston Braves and Washington Senators.
Clubs "open-minded" but inclined favorably: St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cubs, Philadelphia Phillies, Chicago White Sox, Pittsburgh Pirates and St. Louis Browns.
Clubs definitely opposed: Detroit Tigers, Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox, New York Giants, New York Yankees and Brooklyn Dodgers.
Non-committal: Philadelphia Athletics.
Clark Griffith's plan to install a new lighting system in his Washington stadium is regarded as a significant development. Griffith is a member of the so-called "old guard" which still holds that baseball is essentially a daylight game and will risk favor, in the long run, by shifting from matinee to evening performances. "Griff's" decision may have much effect.

Tossing his best brand of ball, Klierer, son of the mayor of Fredericksburg, Texas, fanned ten batters. Furthermore, but two of his offerings were hit hard, and they fell into fielders' gloves.

Dairy Farmer Is Shooting King

VANDADIA, O., Aug. 22 (AP)—A New York dairy farmer, who quit playing baseball, because he "had to hit a home run to get to first base," and took up trapshooting, perched atop the "champion of champions" throne of the clay target sport today.
He is Elmer Torge of Wales Center, N. Y., former player with the Bay City, Mich., professional baseball club. He quit the diamond sport to take up dairy farming, turned to trapshooting for recreation seven years ago, and hit the top with a bang yesterday when he broke 300 targets in a row.

McLEAN TEAM STARTS GRID WORK MONDAY

New Coach, Bill Allen, is Holding Practice Sessions Daily For Tigers.
McLEAN, Aug. 22.—Eager and ready for a hard season, the McLean high school football team began practice Monday under Coach Bill Allen, successor to Garrison Rush, who went to Shamrock when J. C. Prejean of that city went to Pampa as assistant coach.
Ex-Tigers were out in force to assist in the workout, to help the new boys and also to get ready for college. Two practice sessions are being held daily.
Boys with experience out for practice include Stratton, McCarty, Laswell, Cupell, King, Overton, Nicholson, Roth, Cable, Cook, Hess, "Little Metzger" Christian, and Cunningham. Johnson and Kennedy will report in a few days.
New comers to the Tigers included Jess Finley, Graham, Price, Cash, Watson, Dyer, Pepper, McCoy, Wings, Floyd, Gossett, Sloan, Black, Slitter, Chilton, McMullan, Colleman, and W. Finley.
The 1935 Tigers and the ex-Tigers will meet in an exhibition game on the night of Sept. 2, as a finale to the McLean Trades Day. No admission will be charged.

POST HONORED BY BIG SHOTS OF OKLAHOMA

BODY LIES IN ROTUNDA OF STATE CAPITOL IN MORNING

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 22 (AP)—Wiley Post was paid final tribute today by Oklahoma—and the nation. A place of honor was prepared in the rotunda of the state capitol where the body of the little flier was to lie in state from 10 a. m. until noon, (CST).

When the sun is at its zenith, Governor Marland and other dignitaries will pay their respects. Amplifiers will carry their words to the audience assembled from all walks of life in respect to the globe-circling flier who fell to death with Will Rogers in Alaska a week ago today.

At 2 p. m. funeral services will be held at the First Baptist church. They will be brief and simple.

Post's fellow pilots will pay final tribute to him as his body is taken from the capitol to the church at noon. National guard planes will drone overhead in formation with one plane blank. Other military planes and commercial pilots will follow, dipping wings in salute and strewn blossoms at the south entrances of the capitol.

Then the pilots will return to their fields and proceed to the church for the funeral services.

The public will view the body for the last time at the state house. The flier's family wish to be alone with it after the church services.

The body will be placed in a crypt at Fairlawn cemetery, to remain until the aviator's widow decides whether its final resting place will be Arlington cemetery or Oklahoma City.

President Roosevelt directed that an officer of general's rank should represent him at the funeral. Brig. Gen. H. W. Butler, commandant of the field artillery school at Fort Sill, was selected.

Most downtown stores gave notice they would remain closed during the afternoon.

Post's body was returned here last night from Maysville, Okla., home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Post. Flanked by a military guard of honor, it lay there yesterday afternoon in the little landmark Missionary Baptist church.

Friends and acquaintances who live in the little farming community passed by the casket, gazing for the last time at the body of the adventurer who undertook his first flight ten years ago in a second-hand "jenny."

Accompanying the body was Joe Crosson, the "mercy flier of the arctic," who flew the remains of Post and Rogers from Point Barrow to Seattle.

Board Refuses Clemency For Condemned Man

AUSTIN, Aug. 22 (AP)—The governor's office announced today Gov. Allred left the city without granting clemency to Bernard Lacumme, 22-year-old Galveston sign painter, sentenced to electrocution early tomorrow.

The governor's office said the governor studied the board of pardons and paroles report until just before he left last night and indicated he would not interfere with the execution.

Lacumme was convicted in Angelina county of the murder of Charley E. Casler, 81, of Zavalla, February 7, 1934.

ITALY APPEALS FOR ENGLAND'S UNDERSTANDING

Pleading Note Seen In Editorial Of Writer

BY A. E. STUNTZ, Associated Press Foreign Staff.

ROME, Aug. 22 (AP)—The Italian government today, for the first time, allowed a pleading note to creep into the officially inspired press which has been engaged in a polemic against Great Britain.

The plea summed up by Virginia Gayda, political writer for the Giornale d'Italia, under the headline, "No Conflict but Collaboration."

The most rampant of recent articles regarding Britain's "obstructionism" to Mussolini's designs in Ethiopia, Gayda wrote today:

"It is above all things certain that no general hostility toward England and all its vast empire exists in Italy."

Pointing out the great distance between sectors of English opinion regarding Mussolini's aims in Ethiopias, Gayda pleaded for understanding of Italy's designs.

Those designs, he wrote, "signify a development of productive civilization in a territory confined by three British possessions and an augmentation of the reciprocal economic friendship for the mutual benefit of all."

Gayda warned, however, that "it is Italy's hour to provide for itself without in any way taking from those who have already taken." He based this statement upon the recognized Italian desire to provide itself with colonies much as England has provided for itself in the past. His editorial was the signal for the press at large to refrain from criticism of England.

Militarized to the last cabinet member young enough to be unformed, and daily accentuating the rhythm of its troops' departure to East Africa, the nation awaited today news concerning the decision of the British cabinet.

The press was editorially silent on the United States' announced neutrality resolution. It was admitted in informed circles that there was bitterness over some of the provisions of the resolution. At the same time it was acknowledged that Italy did not wish to become embroiled with the United States.

The first Greek letter sorority, Kappa Alpha Theta, was founded at De Pauw university in 1870.

FRANCE FEARS ENGLAND WILL IRK ITALIANS

BELIEVE SUEZ CANAL CANNOT BE CLOSED BY BRITISH

PARIS, Aug. 22 (AP)—The worries of Premier Pierre Laval over the possible wrecking of the League of Nations were increased today.

Fear was prevalent in France that hasty action by the British government would make Italy doubly determined to conquer the Ethiopian empire.

Following the frank admission of Baron Pompeo Olaisi, Italy's spokesman at the tri-power conference in Paris, that Italy was strongly considering quitting the league, the French hoped that the British cabinet's deliberations would result in a "friendly" decision.

Laval hoped that a conciliatory cabinet would permit diplomatic activity to continue with Il Duce in a receptive mood. Although Mussolini has refused to brook interference with his campaign in East Africa, Laval has been negotiating with him with a view to limiting war, if he cannot prevent it entirely.

French officials expressed belief it would be impossible for Great Britain to close the Suez canal to Italian troop ships, in enforcement of sanctions, without running the danger of Il Duce considering it a hostile act.

They said there was no precedent for such an act since the 1886 treaty which neutralized the waterway. No attempt has been made to deny its use to combantian ships.

Economic sanctions, officials said, would be equally dangerous for to cut off Italy's food supply and raw materials would also be taken by Mussolini as a hostile act calling for reprisals.

today that the humorist-actor's gifts to two favorite organizations amounted to thousands of dollars.

Carter said he was with Rogers when he made the first of a series of radio broadcasts for an oil company. The comedian, he said, received $50,000 for seven appearances on the air—and of the sum gave $25,000 to the American Red Cross and $25,000 to the Salvation Army.

"In 1930 alone," the publisher recalled, "he raised over $275,000 for the Red Cross, all of which went for the benefit of humanity. Will paying the expense of the tour, over $12,000, personally.

Youngest Lion Tamer To Appear In Jungle Movie

BROWNSVILLE, Aug. 22 (AP)—The envy of his Brownsville playmates, 11-year-old Manuel King, the youngest lion tamer in the world, is expanding his activities to participate in some rousing moving picture scenes in a section of "African Jungle."

Manuel, who at his tender age has done many of the "he-man" things all boys long and hope to do when they reach manhood, is a veteran showman and probably will take his coming movie performance in passing.

The "lion-bustin" work of the lad was started a few years ago under the tutelage of his father, W. A. King, a famed operator of "Snakeville," a wild animal and reptile farm near here.

Manuel now is headlining an entertainment bill at Atlantic City with his 12 lions, and the contract for his appearance, which has created something of a sensation at the resort, ends Sept. 6, his twelfth birthday anniversary.

He plans to tour the hinterland with his lion act, stopping for performances at several state fairs, and returning here about Nov. 20 to start work on the picture which will be centered about him.

King's father has announced a contract has been signed for the movie with a company which featured Clyde Beatty, most famous of lion tammers, in two pictures.

COLUMN

January 1. Counties, cities, and states will forget their states rights doctrines and cry for more U. S. aid, but it will be lacking. It is imperative that every able-bodied man have an opportunity to work. Any state or local effort to employ the jobless is unthinkable, despite the truth that no one must starve. Those who won't work, however, should not eat until they change their minds.

PACKING HOUSE explanations of high meat prices do not square with reasons given by Secretary Wallace. Prices are too high, as every housewife knows. The facts, Mr. Wallace says, include these: The AAA program has resulted in killing of 222,149 cows, the meat being conserved for consumption by the jobless. These cows and their offspring would have, if sold, depressed prices but in their lifetimes they would have eaten much of the limited supplies of feed. A feed shortage would have made reduction of the hog crop inevitable. There is the result. Mr. Wallace says, would be the same as that now existing. The principle seems to be that hog production is dependent upon feed. By killing a few hogs when they are plentiful, you save feed to fatten hogs you raise when they are needed. Mr. Wallace argues prices would be higher now had no pigs been killed two years ago. He says that feed now being grown will fatten a bumper pig crop, make bacon prices cheaper next spring.

temporary. The governor arrived this morning and left for Weatherford, where he addressed an old settlers reunion at Holland's lake.

"The Southwestern Bell Telephone company," he said, "and local officers have co-operated well on the drive against booties. I think this type of ransoming is at a minimum in Texas now, and with the continued co-operation of local officers, it can be kept that way.

"Merchants everywhere are behind the movement to close up the bookies, I have received a number of letters from legislators who said they are against repeal of the race track gambling law, but favor elimination of the booking offices."

Governor Alfred urged citizens to vote for the old age pension amendment at the election Saturday. He did not give advice about any other of the amendments.

In early Allic at, satyrs were represented as grotesque men with horses heads; later they approached the type of Pan.

If Mrs. G. W. Trawner will call at the Pampa Daily News office before 5 o'clock, she will receive a free ticket to see Chester Morris in "Public Hero No. 1," showing at the La Nora theater Friday.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

Moore stood in the doorway, looking down at his visitor. His stare was at first bewildered; then grew indignantly hostile and finally a cold light of recognition came into his grey eyes.

"I know you," he said. "But I can't remember your name. You came from Sydney. You are here on a holiday."

"That wasn't your name when I met you before," said the airman curtly, without asking him in "what do you want?"

"I don't give interviews." "But for the sake of old times" persisted the young man in that diffident manner that Laurie had at first found appealing, particularly in Sydney. He was touched by his empty stare.

But Rex Moore was not touched at all. "Come in," he said. "I know who you are now—you are Dunbar, of the Standard Insurance Company, aren't you? You cheated me out of all my savings on that wild-act aerodrome scheme in Warratara. It was you who got me to teach you to fly and then tried to become a stunt pilot, and crashed and lost your arm doing a fool trick I'd warned you against, and went about telling everybody it was my fault. And you were sacked by your company and would have been prosecuted for embezzlement if I'd told what I knew. Only, like a fool, I was sorry for you because you'd lost your arm."

The young man's face had turned a sickly grey for a few moments, but he soon recovered himself, knowing that he held a trump card. He did not inform Rex Moore that he had seen Mrs. Moore's wife. It was a fact that Mrs. Moore had not told her husband. She had got the wind up.

"They were in the living room. Moore did not ask the young man to sit down."

"What do you want?" he asked again.

"Only an interview, Moore. You needn't be so snooty. Possibly I can be of use to you. I've got a commission for the New Sydney Record while I'm over here, and I'd be obliged for a little story about your recent flight."

"I've given all I'm going to, thanks. You're too late."

"Then, a little personal story, Moore. About your romantic marriage. All Australia would be keen on that. Particularly the women."

"What facts do you want? You were married, who married you, why it was kept a secret. I may say that I cabled over a little copy, just a few casual remarks on 'spec. you' know. But it seems they can't find any record of your marriage and it would go down like hot cakes, a statement from you."

Rex Moore towered over the young man.

"Blackmail, is it?" he asked quietly. "It won't do, Dunbar. What do you mean—they can't find records of my marriage? Who wants to find any? Whose business is it when and where I was married."

"But my dear chap, of course it's frightfully interesting down there! And to an Australian girl. You must see—"

"You might have a heart and give me a leg up," put in Gavin Drake, with his most ingratiating smile. "Of course I don't want to do anything you wouldn't like, but I am in rather a bad way, and a good newspaper story would be the making of me. I wouldn't dream of doing it without your consent, of course, but"

Gavin Drake did not make an appointment. Instead, he went to Albery's flat in Chelsea rather late that evening.

He ascertained that Mark Albery was at home. He must have had an uncanny instinct, for he wrote on his card exactly the right message to procure him admission to the great man's presence. He wrote that he was from Sydney, Australia, a newspaper man, and that he would be very grateful if Mr. Albery would spare him a few moments. He had some important news concerning Mr. Rex Moore.

Albery's mind, insane with jealousy, responded automatically to Gavin Drake's mind, insane with hatred and revenge. He happened to be alone and he told his butler to convey the visitor into his study. As soon as he saw the young man, his knowledge of all sorts and conditions of men made him say to himself—"A blackmail!" He smiled and indicated an armchair near to his own.

Gavin Drake was full of nerve tonight. He had the unmistakable feeling that luck was with him. He was going with the tide. He did not trouble to choose his words. He said whatever came into his head.

"You are a newspaper man from Australia, Mr. Drake?" asked Albery in his toneless, commanding voice. "What paper do you represent?"

The young man hesitated about his raving commission from the "New Sydney Record."

"And you say you have news concerning Rex Moore, the airman? Are you a friend of his?"

"An acquaintance, sir. I knew him in Australia."

"Do you come here as a friend of his?"

"Not exactly. I have come to give you a piece of information that I think you ought to know. And, although he was not aware of it, his voice revealed all the venom and spite in his soul."

"I see. Then you would not like to come along? He lives quite close."

"No," the young man looked alarmed.

"All right!" Albery was not satisfied. "Tell me please, what you know and think I ought to know."

Drake makes, tomorrow, a little money.

Only 25 Days In Which To Apply For Fund Remain

FORT WORTH, Aug. 22 (AP)—Only 25 days remain in which applications for PWA allotments can be made, Julian Montgomery, acting state PWA director, explained today. No application will be received after September 16.

Many applicants will fail to get their requests filed in time if they are not careful, T. C. Mayo, state expeditor, said.

"We mailed out 2,200 sets of applications," he declared, "and so far have received approximately 400 requests for funds. I don't know what is delaying the other 1,800 applicants who received forms."

Sherman filed application for a $100,000 PWA loan and grant with which to build a municipal auditorium.

Other applications included: Wythe consolidated common school district No. 11, Taylor county $36,863, school building.

Contract for general construction on the Sweetwater hospital was awarded to W. S. Moss at $47,489.

An application was filed yesterday from Cameron county for a $200,000 loan and grant for an oyster shucking and a fish and shrimp packing plant.

RESTORE TEMPERANCE IN TEXAS

The way to do it is to vote the bootlegger OUT and law and order IN!

TEMPERANCE naturally is desired by all thinking men and women. But temperance is not promoted by the bootlegger...and never will be because crime is antagonistic to temperance. The one way to restore temperance to Texas is to vote the bootlegger OUT by voting law and order IN. Only when drinking is brought out into the open can it be controlled by the sensible, law-abiding citizens of our state.

The experience of most of the rest of the United States is that Prohibition does not solve the liquor problem. When legal drinking is forbidden, people turn to illegal liquor. They learn to hold the law in contempt. Boys and girls growing up in households where such a spirit prevails, naturally adopt their parents' attitude.

LET'S STOP KIDDING OURSELVES!

We must choose now whether our children shall grow up under the temperance forces of law and order or whether they shall continue to live in an atmosphere of deceit and hypocrisy. Every mother and father in Texas must answer this question on August 24th... Shall the bootlegger's franchise be extended or ended?

Your vote for repeal is a vote for free school books and the revenue with which to pay for them!

Millions of dollars in revenue are expected from taxes on legal liquor in Texas. These dollars will buy your children free school books... they will help to balance your state budget. Your vote for repeal takes these millions of dollars out of the bootlegger's pocket and puts them to work for the good of your state... and for you!

Remember, a vote for repeal is a vote for temperance! By voting for repeal you do not stamp your approval upon drinking as such...for your vote means only that drinking is to be brought out in the open where the force of public opinion can control it. Law and order will educate for temperance. Vote law and order IN and the bootlegger OUT!
