promise to abide by a court decision in the controversy. Thompson then set up an acting governor's office in the suite on the floor above normally occupied by the President of the State Senate.

Meanwhile there were these other developments in the dual control of the state's government:

1. Students of five Atlanta colleges and the University of Georgia at Athens, 70 miles away, planned a march on the Capitol tomorrow to protest Talmadge's assumption of the Executive Offiue.

2. The House of Representatives, by an 88 to 64 yote, decided to invite Talmadge to address a joint session of the Legislature tomorrow as governor The Senate must act on the resolution.

SHE'S BUSIER THAN EVER

...with more calls from more telephones

Telephone operators are busier than ever during these days of more telephone calls from more telephones than ever before. But they still take pride in doing their job with the same characteristic skill, patience, and courtesy that have caused them to be known as "The Voice With a Smile."

Despite the heavy increase in calls, operators are handling most of them quickly and accurately. Sometimes, during midmorning and late afternoon (the busiest times at the switchboard) there may be a brief wait for "Number, please," but you may be sure your call will be answered as promptly as possible.

WE GIVE FLOUR, WHILE RUSSIA GIVES 'INFLUENCE'

As a group of sincere Pampans, along with Americans in other parts of the nation, were asking their neighbors and fellow-townsmen for flour to give to the starving people of Poland the Polish voters were making certain that the world could not suspect them of being democratic in any sense of the word.

At least, the Communists in that land were active, but it is doubtful that the common people, the ones who are probably starving and for whom the flour is being collected, took any part except under duress.

Of course, in saying these things we don't mean to imply that we should not send flour to those people (we should), but the matter is brought up only to show one of the ironies in the lives of men. Here, we take a humanitarian interest in men just like we; white, over there, a group of opportunists take advantage of economic straits -and the helpful hand of Russia, who is laying the groundwork for another of her well-known buffer states. We're talking about the election held yesterday. We understood that loudspeakers and the radio were used to "solicit" the votes of the people. They were told, we gressed the agreement and takes are told, that Candidate List No. 3 was the right one to ote for; political police ferreted out the voters, who went to the polls with a rather distinct understanding of what they were to do. No. 3 had Soviet inspiration.

That's the way the Communists have come to power in Poland, another Russian frontier like Yugoslavia—and Bulgaria-and Hungary.

Meantime, we gather flour. We'll give flour, and the Russians, a very non-Christian nation, will give "influence." The kind of influence that will net lucrative dividends is a virtue, and its exercise by the United States, as a member of the United Nations, may turn out to be exemplary. Rousseal said "Patience is bitter, but its fruit is

By R. C. HOILES Why Government Labor

Courts Must Fail Many people think that the abor problem can be solved by government labor courts. If the word compulsory were used in discussing these labor courts, most eople would not believe in them, But government labor court's would either have to have authority to enforce their decisions. thus be compulsory, or else be only advisory. In either case, hat is not the solution.

If a labor court is to be simply advisory it invariably will side with the party that has 'he most votes in order to keep its job as advisor. The consumer is the best voluntary counsel for labor disputes.

But let's consider what it would be if it were compulsory. Because we have courts to settle disagree ment, many people think we can have courts to settle labor disputes. But the case is not at all parallel. At present, courts attempt only to interpret agreements that have already been made. They never attempt to tell two people they must make an agreement.

dividual has a written agreement with his automobile dealer. He deems that the dealer has transto court. The court interprets the agreement and tells what each party must do to comply with the Hitler, Mussolini and Tojo advancagreement.

But the judge does not and would not attempt to say, in the absence of any prior commitment, what the automobile dealer should do in the absence of any agreement. The judge would not say that the individual must continue to patronize the automobile dealer or that the dealer must continue to do business with the individual, if there had been I or a World War II. no agreement.

We Are Reducing Prices of All Ford Cars

"As Much as $50 on Some Models"

Effective Immediately

A Statement by Henry Ford II

ALTHOUGH more than one million of our A customers are waiting for delivery of their cars at present prices, we are immediately reducing the price of every Ford car-some models as much as $50. "This is our 'down payment' toward a continued high level of production and employment in the months ahead. We believe that the 'shock treatment' of prompt action is needed to halt the insane spiral of mounting costs and rising prices and to restore a sound base for the hopeful period of post-war production we are

"Let me review briefly the considerations which have led us to take this important step. "The Ford Motor Company is in the mass production business. Mass production depends upon large markets. It will continue to succeed only if it can produce more and more at lower and lower cost so that more and more people can buy. Large markets begin to disappear when prices rise.

"The un-American spiral of mounting costs and rising prices has hurt everybody-some groups more than others. Many have not benefited from post-war wage increases, but have had to share the burden of resulting higher prices. Already, millions of American families are unable to buy the things which, in normal times, make up their standard of living. In the short view, we can see inflation. In the long view, there is danger of depression.

"The period since V-J day has been an unhappy and costly period of reconversion to peacetime production. Ford Motor Company has lost millions of dollars since V-J day, even after all tax adjustments.

"But the crisis of this wild aftermath of war seems to have been passed. Our own production, though still limited by material shortages, is now steadier. Productivity of our employes, which hit a new low during the period, seems to have started its return to normal. Ford Motor Company made a modest profit for the last three months of 1946, and we intend to continue to operate in the black.

"The American economy now stands at a turning point. Mounting costs and rising prices have warranted caution and hesitancy. There is even general fear that this dangerous, un-American cycle cannot be corrected without an economic recession. We think this fear can be dispelled by common sense and action. And among free men that becomes an individual respon-

"The Ford Motor Company therefore proposes to accept its losses since V-J day as an item of the cost of a great and victorious war. We are closing our books on that phase of our production history. We have decided that now is the time for us to make an investment in the future.

"Because they must build up depleted cash reserves or because they are still losing money, many businesses may not be able to follow suit. But we hope that our suppliers, our employes, and our other economic partners will back, each to his own ability, our attempt to return to the economic pattern which has helped to make America great—the principle that higher wages and a higher standard of living for all depend upon lower costs and lower prices through increasingly efficient large-scale production.

"We hope, as we move forward, that we will be able to reduce prices further, and that we will not be forced to raise them again to compensate for cost increases."
