ATLANTA — (AP)—Herman Talmadge, in a pre-dawn coup backed by National Guard officers and State Highway patrolmen, seized Georgia's Executive Department today and denied Ellis Arnall admission to either the Governor's Office or the Official Residence.

Arnall arrived at the Executive Offices this morning to find Talmadge in the chambers Arnall had occupied all day yesterday. Later when Arnall went to the Executive Mansion for lunch, he was met by four State patrolmen, who blocked his entry.

State Patrolmen Keep Arnall Out Of State Mansion

ATLANTA.—(AP)—Ellis Arnall was denied access to the governor's mansion today by four state patrolmen today who acknowledged that they would "attempt to force" if he attempted to use his personal key to get in.

Arnall arrived at the mansion at 11:50 a. m. to keep a 12:30 p. m. luncheon engagement, and was stopped in the troopers as he walked toward a side door.

"Do you deny me the right to use my key to gain admission?" Arnall asked.

"I have orders to that effect," said Sergeant Frank Jones of the highway patrol.

"What would you do if I tried to get in anyway?" Arnall asked.

"I hate to think what would happen," Jones said.

"We'll see then," Arnall said and strode to the door.

Two state troopers leaped in front of him, and Arnall asked for some telegrams that were lying on the sill.

"The troopers handed them to him and Arnall asked:

"Will you resort to threats and violence to prevent me from entering?"

Sergeant Jones replied "If necessary."

Arnall asked for the names of the four troopers and then turned to members of the press who had followed him there, and said "These four state patrolmen would resort to threats and violence if I attempted to use my key."

"Turning back to Sergeant Jones, Arnall asked:

"Do you think you need four men to keep me out?"

Sergeant Jones replied "That number has been detailed, but let me say to you, we honestly hope there will be no violence in this issue."

Arnall then said "Inasmuch as I consider that you are well meaning men I shall not persist. I fear no man or any four men armed with revolvers, but merely through consideration to you I shall not persist. There will come a time when I will persist and you men will learn to respect law and order and the constitution."

Panhandle API Calls In Membership Books

An attempt is being made to compile a complete membership list of the Panhandle Chapter of the American Petroleum Institute, Clayton Husted, secretary, announced this morning.

To aid with this work Husted has requested that a membership list be turned in to Dan Gribbin, president, as soon as possible.

Parachutes Save Two Naval Fliers

CORPUS CHRISTI.—Two Navy men parachuted to safety near here yesterday when their training plane failed to come out of a spin. They suffered only parachute burns.

The men were identified as Lt. (jg) William J. Hasselt, USNR, of Brooklyn, an instructor at Cavanaugh Field, and Charles F. Evin, of Fredericktown, Mo., student pilot.

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Government officials today hailed the cut in Ford car prices as an "encouraging" start toward the general price reduction which President Truman has asked of all industry.

Edwin C. Nourse, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, termed the Ford action a "crucial" contribution to sustained high production and employment.

"Mr. Ford's statement was made in most careful and reasoned terms—it should appeal to a large business community," he said.

Members of Congress also were glad to apply manufacturers' follow-up, they will make a real contribution to stabilizing business."

President's Assistant John R. Steedman, former reconversion director, promptly wired Ford that he "wishes to see the country and I believe good business for your country."

Senate Minority Leader Charles McNary (D-Ind.), a member of the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report, described the Ford move as "a small business, but a patriotic one."

"Automobile prices, like most prices today, are so far beyond the reach of the average worker that unless industry leads its efforts not to reduce these prices substantially, I am afraid the huge reservoir of purchasing power we expected for a clear majority in a free election, is being bled to death."

British complaints also have been rejected, and Moscow has announced that it considers the charges against the Polish government unfounded.

This means that Sunday's voting will be held under conditions which this country has said publicly cannot result in a fair and free ballot.

Officials left no doubt privately that the results will not be regarded here as acceptable.

London Strikers Will Go Back to Work on Saturday

LONDON.—(AP)—A meeting of delegates representing striking London truck drivers whose walkout involves more than 50,000 men, broke up after 40 minutes today and the first strikers to emerge from the hall struck an agreement to go back to work Saturday morning.

From time to time during the closed meeting, bursts of applause could be heard.

Some delegates ran down the hall shouting "It's back to work" to strikers assembled in the street.

More than 100 ships were tied up in the Port of London today by a strike of 20,000 dockers and stevedores. They were idle in protest against use of troops to supplement striking truck drivers, whose 11-day old work stoppage now involves at least 50,000 men.

All along the Thames ships lay at anchor with their cargoes half unloaded.

In an attempt to settle the truck drivers' dispute, the rapidly spreading wave of sympathy walkouts—only 15,000 truck drivers were involved in the one against the government, negotiations and union leaders summoned strike leaders to two meetings today.

Because the strike is "unofficial," the government has specified settlement of the wages and hours dispute cannot be undertaken until the drivers have returned to work.

The truck drivers' demand a 44-hour week instead of 48, and eight-hour day, 14 days annual vacation with pay, half pay during illness and absence, and cumulative overtime pay.

Troops first employed last Monday to move food to shops during the then eight-day old strike, delivered about 700 tons of meat from Smithfield market yesterday.

Fog Halts Shipping At Two Texas Ports

BEAUMONT.—(AP)—Shipping here and at Galveston was at a standstill last night as a result of a heavy fog that has persisted for three days.

Seventeen ships were at anchor off Sabine Bar last night. Six ships got through the fog yesterday.

Eight more are due today.

Veteran shipping men called the fog here the worst since 1938 when shipping was held up for five days by bad weather.

Only a few ships have been able to sail from Galveston since the heavy fog moved in on Monday.

Vessels have been shifted from Galveston dock areas to Bolivar Roads, but some made the trip to Houston yesterday.

'Encouraging' Is Term Used By Government

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Government officials today hailed the cut in Ford car prices as an "encouraging" start toward the general price reduction which President Truman has asked of all industry.

Edwin C. Nourse, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, termed the Ford action a "crucial" contribution to sustained high production and employment.

"Mr. Ford's statement was made in most careful and reasoned terms—it should appeal to a large business community," he said.

Members of Congress also were glad to apply manufacturers' follow-up, they will make a real contribution to stabilizing business."

President's Assistant John R. Steedman, former reconversion director, promptly wired Ford that he "wishes to see the country and I believe good business for your country."

Senate Minority Leader Charles McNary (D-Ind.), a member of the Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report, described the Ford move as "a small business, but a patriotic one."

"Automobile prices, like most prices today, are so far beyond the reach of the average worker that unless industry leads its efforts not to reduce these prices substantially, I am afraid the huge reservoir of purchasing power we expected for a clear majority in a free election, is being bled to death."

British complaints also have been rejected, and Moscow has announced that it considers the charges against the Polish government unfounded.

This means that Sunday's voting will be held under conditions which this country has said publicly cannot result in a fair and free ballot.

Officials left no doubt privately that the results will not be regarded here as acceptable.

Patterson Studies Georgia Dispute

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—Secretary of War Patterson's office said today that the War and Justice Departments are consulting "on the whole matter of the Georgia governorship dispute."

It was not immediately explained what particular points were of concern. The War Department yesterday issued a statement that the dispute over who should be adjutant general of Georgia is purely a state affair.

At that time it was explained, however, that when an applicant for an adjutant general was a state matter, any request for the adjutant general to become an official in the National Guard would require federal recognition.

It was not disclosed whether such a request was made by either or both of the contesting forces in Georgia.

Ellis Arnall, Governor during the last four years who has refused to recognize Talmadge's claims to the office, called Patterson yesterday.

Arnall then named Col. R. W. Collins as adjutant general while Talmadge designated Marvin Griffin, who had been holding the post under Arnall.

White House officials disclaimed any information on the Georgia controversy.

Girl Scout Group To Elect Officers

New officers will be elected at the annual meeting of the Pampa Girl Scout Association tonight at eight o'clock in the City Club Rooms.

With Mrs. K. E. Thornton, association president, presiding, the group will hear reports of activities during the past year and a tentative work program for the coming year.

Scheduled to attend the meeting are adult leaders, committee workers and advisory board members.

A display of Girl Scout crafts is also being prepared. Members of various troops will provide musical entertainment.

Polish Situation Is Marshall's First Job

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—United States approval of the Polish national elections next Sunday became an evident certainty today.

Thus one of Gen. George C. Marshall's first problems as Secretary of State may be to decide what to do about it.

The Polish situation—which finds Russia lined up with the Communist controlled government at Warsaw against Britain and the United States—is one of three in Eastern Europe that threaten to prove troublesome for Marshall.

The other two:

1. An apparent effort by the Communist minority in Hungary to smash the power of the moderate Small Holders Party.

2. Moves by the Communist government of Marshal Tito in Yugoslavia to establish some kind of economic bloc in the Balkans.

What makes the political situation in Eastern Europe particularly delicate at the moment is the fact that the Balkan peace treaties are soon to be signed and, it is expected, quickly ratified.

These treaties provide for the withdrawal of Russian occupation troops from Romania, Bulgaria and Hungary. In addition they impose a number of other provisions designed to restore the independence of the countries and to guarantee equality of trade opportunities throughout the Balkans.

The men who will be advising General Marshall on such matters regard the Polish election as essentially a struggle between (1) the Communist-dominated coalition seeking election as the regular government and (2) the opposition Polish Peasant Party which United States diplomats contend could provide a clear majority in a free election.

Recently the United States sent a series of three notes listing charges of political oppression of the Peasant Party. Warsaw ignored them yesterday. Then the answer was made clear that Poland was rejecting completely the American demands for a change in the election system.

British complaints also have been rejected, and Moscow has announced that it considers the charges against the Polish government unfounded.

This means that Sunday's voting will be held under conditions which this country has said publicly cannot result in a fair and free ballot.

Officials left no doubt privately that the results will not be regarded here as acceptable.

Attendance Is Meeting Topic

Members of the Pampa Rotary Club yesterday devoted their program time to panel discussion on attendance. The program was led by Mayor Ferris Oden.

Two solo songs were given by Mrs. Mark Hlatt, Jr., accompanied by Mrs. Virgil Mott.

R. L. Edmondson displayed a silver cup to be presented to the owner of the grand champion ball at the coming Junior Livestock show. February 24, and also announced that the annual Farmers and Ranchers meeting will be held in February.

The Rev. H. Clyde Smith, pastor of the First Methodist Church, announced the opening of the year campaign.

An invitation to attend the 18th annual Adolph-Walks Area Council, Boy Scouts of America banquet on January 20 was extended to members by Hugo Olsen. A letter of invitation to the Rotary's intecity meeting to be held at Amarillo on January 21 was also read.

Club singing was in charge of Virgil Mott and Irvin Cole, president at the meeting.

Mexico Will Send Group To Inaugural

MEXICO CITY.—(AP)—The Mexican government has announced that Secretary of the Treasury Ramon Beteta will head Mexico's delegation to the inauguration of Beauford Jester, as Governor of Texas on Jan. 21.

Other members of the delegation include Senators Gabriel Ramos Milan and Fernando Magro Soto, and Deputy Jose Ricardo Tirado.

A government bulletin said the governors of Coahuila, Chihuahua and Nuevo Leon had accepted invitations to the ceremonies and that Mexican consular general at San Antonio, Gustavo Ortiz Hernan, had been named special representative for the Mexican foreign office.

Rumors Are Flyin'

Proof that there's power in a rumor came today in the form of a letter to The News, from a woman in St. Louis who would like to subscribe to The News.

"She had heard, she says, that oil may have been found in the Pampa area, and she is interested in the letter said."

"I have heard," she writes, "of some rumors of oil, and trust your paper in printing all the news it can find on the subject."

We may turn her over to the Chamber of Commerce for trial.

Ford Remarks, 'This Is Just A Beginning'

PETROIT.—(AP)—The Ford Motor Co. slashed car prices yesterday and touched off immediate speculation as to whether the action would be followed by its competitors in the big-priced field.

The competitors—General Motors for Chevrolet and Chrysler for Plymouth—withheld comment.

The 200, ranging from $15 to $50 for the company's Ford models only, were the first to be announced by any car maker since the war; they were made in the face of repeated statements elsewhere in the industry that prices probably would go still higher before they could be reduced.

Youngful Henry Ford II, president of the Ford Company, said they were "just the beginning of the 'shock treatment' needed to halt the insane spiral of mounting costs and rising prices and to restore a sound base for the postwar period of postwar production."

The 200-overhead of the big Ford-owned Ford Company said it had lost "millions of dollars" since World War II, even after all tax adjustments.

During the last three months of 1946, however, he said, a modest profit had been realized, "and we intend to continue to operate in the black."

Like most other automobile makers, Ford had increased prices several times since the war's end. While the newly announced reductions do not cut them back as much as the increase of last September Ford observed that "this is just a beginning."

Stevenson Sends Special Matters To Legislature

AUSTIN.—(AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson said he will send the Legislature today these matters for emergency legislation:

- 1. Redistricting.
2. Rural teacher salary raises.
3. Amendment of the aeronautics law.

4. Establishment of a Negro university.
5. Additional appropriations for state departments.

Stevenson said he would also send up for Senate approval all the appointments he has made since the Legislature last met.

He said only three departments have applied for deficiency appropriations; the Adjutant General's Department, the Industrial Accident Board, and the Board of Directors of A and M College.

The A and M directors finally got around to asking for that deficiency appropriation for the establishment of a Negro university this week, the Governor declared. "Of course, now it's too late for me to do anything about it. I can't make any change in the law when the Legislature is in session."

The Governor said the board asked for $10,000. He had been prepared to make an appropriation up to $50,000 before the Legislature met Tuesday.

Short sessions for both the House and Senate then a long weekend recess were in prospect today for the 50th Legislature.

The announcement of committee appointments in the Senate yesterday completed its organization in rapid-fire time. The outlook was that committee assignments in the House would not be completed until the end of the session.

The House completed action on its first two bills yesterday; one appropriating $300,000 for salaries and expenses of the session—the other authorizing judges of appellate courts to administer oaths of office.

The House also set for Monday the formal canvassing of the general election votes in the Governor's and Lieutenant Governor's races, and a concurrent resolution to this effect, and Senate agreement for the joint session was a foregone conclusion.

The nation's husbands haven't quarreled over the advice I gave you. But the ladies! When I have so many letters from outraged husbands that the station has had to take more or less notice of me.
I stand by what I said, but I did overlook one little qualification in helping you choose a perfect partner. I forgot to say "Don't be in a hurry to get married."
As you know, there are many things to be read when I told you in a moment of mental stress on how to select and live with a wife. She acted almost as strangely

Would you believe it, my boy, but one apparently unmarried lady in Chicago began her feverish note by flippantly asserting that I am "an A-I-sticker."
"So a man wants a woman who shrieks at a bottle!" continued this precious student of character. "Sure, over they go and find a blonde who gizzles and smirks at a mere student!"
"You think I'll bet you're willing to start by and let 3,000,000 young women become old maids?"
Other girls, Horace, wrote sulphurous remarks of a nature unsuited for one of your tender years. In fact, my boy, it seemed as if the ladies did "protest too much."

"This whole business, Horace, has convinced me that someone should help out those 3,000,000 frustrated bachelor girls who don't appear able to pin down a man alone. They need to be told how to catch and hold a husband. But I'll bet ahead of time they'll want to build the wrong kind of cage."

An honor guard from Jester's World War I 96th Division, the Corsicans High School band, the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy band from Abilene, the Texas A. & M. College 250-piece band, and the University of Texas Longhorn band.

Following the parade outgoing Governor Coke Stevenson will serve the Jester family the traditional first hot meal at the mansion.
Tuesday night there will be a public reception at the Capitol. Later on celebrants will dance at the five inaugural balls.
One ball for square dancers only will be held in the Senate chamber. Jester will lead the Grand March with his 71-year-old daughter, Joan, at Gregory Gymnasium. Other balls will be in downtown hotels.
Wednesday morning Jester will start his new job—Governor of Texas.

Georgia Fight

er of the State Guard, and Talmadge has Marvin Griffin, who resigned his commission under Arnall to accept Talmadge appointment.
While the scramble over the governorship was going on downstairs, the legislature on the floor above in the state capitol received a proposal from three anti-Talmadge members that it recess until the courts decide who is the legal governor.

The three sponsors of the movement, Representatives Charles Gowen, Adie Durden and Jake Joel said it was expected the State Supreme Court would decide the issue by March 31 under a declaratory judgment movement started yesterday by Attorney General Eugene Cook acting on Arnall's orders.
After a series of interviews with newsmen, Arnall got up from his desk in the capitol rotunda and announced to the crowd surrounding him "the governor of Georgia is now going to the barber shop, after which he probably will go up town and mingle with the people and then hold a luncheon at the mansion for the press and my friends. After that I will return to the capitol and be ready for business as usual."

Arnall was alone when he arrived at the capitol today. He had spent the night at his home in Newnan, 40 miles south of Atlanta. He was driven to Newnan by a state patrolman because he said his regular driver was "mauled and beaten" in fistfights when Talmadge supporters attempted to seize the executive chambers early yesterday shortly after his election by the legislature.
Arnall's entry to the capitol was blocked by Ben Odom, secretary to Talmadge.
Arnall set up temporary offices in the rotunda of state capitol.
Arnall strode across the floor of an auto-room to a door leading into the executive's private office where he was met by an aide of Talmadge who told him to have a seat when he said he desired to see Talmadge.

In a blunt question directed repeatedly at Odom, Arnall said dramatically: "Are you denying me the right to enter my office?"
Odom insisted each time he was not denying Arnall entrance to "your office" but that he would not permit Arnall to enter the office of the governor of the State of Georgia.

After continued futile demands to gain entrance, Arnall turned to the room which was crowded with photographers, newsmen and Talmadge supporters and said:
"Last night a perfect panzer movement was executed which resulted in the removal of the locks from these doors by a military force from the Talmadge organization. x x x. A still has been instituted in the courts of Georgia to sustain my position. x x x"
"I hereby place on order all department heads x x x and notify them that henceforth they act at their peril unless expressly under direction from Ellis Arnall."
Arnall, continuing, said that the attorney general had ruled that his successor is duly qualified and ready to assume the office. Arnall repeatedly referred to Talmadge as "that pretender," and added that "I propose to continue to act as governor of Georgia until Lieutenant-Governor M. E. Thompson is sworn in and can take over."

"The issue now involved transcends personalities and involves themselves into the question of whether the people of Georgia shall rule and democracy prevail or whether the state will give way to rule by force and barbarism."

ENDS CONSTIPATION AFTER 30 YEARS

Eating famous cereal daily brought lasting relief

Wouldn't you welcome a way to end constipation, without harsh laxatives? Then read this sincere, unsolicited letter:

"I was constipated for thirty years and during that time took many kinds of laxatives. About five weeks ago I decided to try KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN for breakfast every morning and since then I haven't had to take a single laxative. I can't tell you how glad I am that I heard of ALL-BRAN." Wilson Gibson, 307 West Valley St., Morrilton, Ark.

You, too, may never have to take another laxative if you suffer from constipation due to lack of bulk in the diet. Simply eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN every day—and drink plenty of water. Try it for ten days! If not completely satisfied with the results, send the empty carton to the Kellogg Company, Battle Creek, Michigan, and get double your money back!

KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative but a wholesome food made from the vital outer layers of wheat. For best results eat as a cereal, or in muffins. Get KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN at your grocer's today.

District Cage Play To Open Tomorrow

Scott's Scrap Book

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
Two basketball games, instead of one, will be played at the March if Dimes benefit card Tuesday night at the Junior High Gym. The Heiskells of Pampa will meet the Phillips Men's Club of Borger in the main event at eight o'clock, preceded by a game between the Pampa Boosters and the Terrell Hall cagers of Canyon at seven o'clock.

Advance tickets—only 25¢ of them—will go on sale at the Daily News office tomorrow morning and the remainder will be sold at the box office that night, so it's a question of first come, first served if fans want to avoid standing in line Tuesday night.

Tickets are priced at only 65 cents each with all proceeds, after Federal taxes and minor expenses have been deducted, to go to the Gray County March of Dimes Fund, so that some boy (maybe someone you know) might also be able to play basketball some day.

Ordinarily, much higher admission prices are asked for benefit games of this calibre. The Men's Club cagers are one of the outstanding independent teams of West Texas. The Heiskells have lost only two games. The Boosters and the Terrell Hall cagers have won 11 out of 12 starts.

All teams will, of course, pay their own expenses for the games. Terrell Hall will travel the 78 miles from Canyon on its own and the Phillips cagers readily agreed to play for such a good cause.

Our special thanks goes to Ray Webster of the Boosters for contacting the Terrell team for the game.

We'll also have two top-notch officials for the contest, both of them well-known and respected by cage fans and coaches throughout the Panhandle.

Boy Scout Executive Hugo Olsen has also promised to send some members of the emergency patrol over to help with seating and other items.

No "collection" for the Dimes campaign will be taken during the games so there's no need to come prepared to contribute, except for the price of the ticket.

Texas Retains Favorite's Spot With Win Over SMU

By The Associated Press
Texas Longhorns, with an impressive 56 to 36 victory over SMU under their belts, today stood as strong favorites to win the 1947 conference championship.

Their speed and rapid fire attack were too much for Southern Methodist last night at Austin as the Longhorns scored their fourth conference victory against no defeats and their thirteenth win in fourteen starts this season.

Ready to dispute Texas' championship hopes were the Arkansas Razorbacks, who chalked up their fifth conference victory to no defeats by beating Texas Christian, 63 to 53.

In the third game of the night Baylor's Bears, the defending champions, won their first conference game this season, defeating Texas A. and M., 59 to 51, at Col lege Station.

The Mustangs found John Hargis, who accounted for 30 points, Roy Cox, Al Madsen, Slater Martin and the rest of the Longhorns too much to handle. SMU now has won one and lost one conference game. In winning its second victory over TCU, Arkansas had to fight off a rally by the Horned Frogs that cut the Razorbacks' 21-point lead to nine in the fading minutes of the game. Each team scored 21 field goals. TCU still has to win its first game this season.

The victory enabled Baylor to get back in the race for the conference title with a 500 average. The Bears lost to Texas last week. The Aggies were playing their first conference game.

OUTSTANDING—Ernest Marvel Panhandle, Ernest Marvel, Billy Cunningham, and David M. Warren, Jr., were named outstanding players in the recent North Plains basketball tournament held at Claude. Panhandle won second place in the tilt, cropping the final game to Gruver, 38-27.

Texas Open Goes Into Top-Money Class This Year

SAN ANTONIO—(AP)—The Texas Open, which 26 years ago brought golf into the "big money" class, finally has boosted the prize to $10,000—one of the last tournaments to reach what has been established by the PGA as a minimum.

It was in 1922 that the Texas Open blossomed forth with a purse of $5,000, an amount unheard of for a golf meet until that time. It has a warm spot in the hearts of the professionals because it brought the game out of the "chicken-feed class" where several hundred dollars top money was considered good.

Thus the Open became the cradle of the winter links swing and that is why most of the big shots of golf show up here each year.

The twentieth annual Texas Open will be held Feb. 7-9 and 350 players are expected to be in the field, this counting those who will shoot qualifying scores Feb. 4. All former Texas Open, National Open, PGA championship and National Amateur championship winners automatically qualify, also the first 30 in the 1946 Texas Open and the first 30 in the 1946 National Open along with the first eight in the PGA, the present National Public Links champion and the Texas amateur champion. There will be 50 places open to pros and amateurs who are not exempt from qualifying.

San Antonio Must Vacate Ball Park

DALLAS—(AP)—President J. Alvin Gardner of the Texas League has called a special meeting of league members here Sunday to seek a solution of the problem of a ball park for the San Antonio Missions. Gardner said after a conference yesterday with President George Schepps and Treasurer Julius Schepps of the Dallas Rebels and D. Gordon Rupe, Jr., head of the San Antonio Transit Company, which bought Tech Field, that it was now certain that the property would not be available to the Missions this year.

The company plans to build a bus repair and maintenance depot shop on the site. Unless arrangements can be made to get some other site to which the present Tech Field franchise can be moved, the St. Louis Browns, owners of the San Antonio franchise, have indicated that they would move the franchise to some other city.

Gardner said Texas League Club owners would oppose this if there was any chance of keeping the Missions in San Antonio. He said that club owners had asked him to call the meeting Sunday to discuss the matter.

The San Antonio Club has already been denied priorities for materials to build a new park.

MIAMI—(AP)—Tropical Park ends a successful 40-day meeting today with the running of the second half of the $30,000 double event and Florida's racing scene shifts to Hialeah.

Westminster and Statesman ruled favorites in the field of 11 named for Tropical's closing feature. A closing day crowd of about 12,000 was anticipated, bringing the total attendance for the meet to about 50,000 more than last season. For the first 39 days, attendance was 328,085 compared with 289,989 last year.

Wagering for the first 99 days amount to $24,763,107, compared with last season's mazel handle of $26,273,471.

Outgoing Prexy Disagrees With NCAA Grid Code

LARAMIE, Wyo.—(AP)—One of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's new "purity" code is its outgoing president, Dr. Wilbur Smith of the University of Wyoming. He says the "hard-working college athlete" is just reward.

He says "the most honest" conferences are those which give the greatest amount of aid to athletes. Dr. Smith, who came to Wyoming as student health director by way of Tulane and Louisiana State, made public today a statement pleading for frankness in dealing with aid to athletes.

He said he read the statement before a closed session of the NCAA "purity" meeting last week in New York but was quietly ignored as the association adopted its code restricting such aid and approving schedule boycotts against non-conforming schools.

Dr. Smith declared development of the body must be emphasized as much as development of the mind, and he added:

"Why not honor the so-called physical side to some small degree at least? Do we who believe in and love athletics not have the courage to honor physical attainment? We do not hesitate to award scholarships for so-called mental attainment... and even to members of the debating team, Glee Club and band."

"From the standpoint of character, it is best to have some anonymous alumnus give a 'hand-out' to a star athlete who knows that such action is wrong and against the rules? or, is it best to grant this young man aid the same as it does for many other students."

Top Golfers Start Richmond Tourney

RICHMOND, Calif.—(AP)—Leading golfers of the nation, with few top-flight players missing, tee off today in the first round of the 72-hole $10,000 Richmond Open tournament.

Favorites as the 153 qualifiers took off in the chase for the top money prize of $1,500 included such big names as U. S. Open Champion Lloyd Mangrum, PGA title holder and leading money winner Ben Hogan and two former PGA National bosses, Vic Ghezzi and Bob Hamilton.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
 Associated Press Staff
 What Texas needs is a good five cent definition of "The Rio Grande Valley."

El Paso says "from here on down." Laredo says "we're in the Valley." Del Rio and Eagle Pass insist they're part of it. Brownsville, Harlingen and McAllen say "right here period."

They're all correct. But nine out of ten Texans agree with the Brownsville - Harlingen - McAllen definition.

To most Texans "The Valley" means the lush, semi-tropical citrus growing area dotted with palm trees and spattered with poinsettias and bougainvilleas.

Technically of course, the majority is wrong as usual. The Rio Grande Valley extends from above El Paso clear down to the mouth of the Rio Grande below Brownsville.

But there is as much difference between climate, crops and terrain in Brownsville and El Paso as there is between Miami and New York. Calling the whole works "The Valley" is confusing to everyone.

What to do? That's the problem. El Paso, Laredo and the others won't concede. El Paso, for example, has a firm claim staked to the title because the U. S. Weather Bureau refers to El Paso as "The Rio Grande Valley," the Brownsville area as "South Texas." Laredo has citrus, truck crops, and Bermuda onions to strengthen its claim. Geographically, the Valley is the Valley.

A person looking at a map, like an advertising man did not long ago, sees El Paso in the Valley. This particular man whipped up an attractive layout that appeared in most national magazines. It emphasized the heat. His picture showed mountains and a type of cactus not seen in the lower stretches of the Valley. It gave the impression the Valley was all like that.

And during the recent cold spell, a story was carried telling about a gas shortage in the Valley. People all over Texas asked relatives in the Lower Valley if they needed help. The Valley referred to in this case was in the Eagle Pass area.

It all goes to show that some common definition is needed. Should it be broken up into Lower Valley, Central Valley and Upper Valley? That would upset El Paso, where they have what they call both the Upper and Lower Valley right there. Should the Rio Grande area from Rio Grande City south be "The Valley" and the rest "The Border"? We can hear the howls from here.

Some time ago the Brownsville-Harlingen-McAllen area tried to solve the problem by calling itself

(1) The Delta, (2) The Magic Valley, or (3) The Garden of Golden Grapefruit.

The Delta title fell flat, although that portion of Texas is a delta, as rich as the Nile. It is not a valley as many picture a valley, with hills visible to the right and left.

The other two titles were both too long and sounded too much like Chamber of Commerce promotion—which they were.

Maybe the Texas Legislature should pass a law, or maybe it should be put to a vote of the people in a special election.

Or maybe we'd better just keep quiet.

Mrs. H. W. Waters New President of Civic Culture Club

A new slate of officers for the coming year, headed by Mrs. H. W. Waters as president, was elected by the Civic Culture Club at its meeting Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Emmett Osborne, south of Pampa. Others included: Mrs. W. C. Wilson, vice president; Mrs. John Brandon, secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Edgerton, treasurer; Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, corresponding secretary; Mrs. R. C. Keeler, reporter; and Mrs. Emmett Osborne, parliamentarian. The business meeting was opened with the Club Collect and was presided over by the retiring president, Mrs. F. W. Sweeney. A report from the Council of Clubs was given by Mrs. Willis White, the council representative, and collection was taken for the Musical Penny Fund Scholarship. Mrs. Shotwell was the principal speaker on the program which was the beginning of a series of lessons on "The Latin American Republic." She began her talk with an account of the early discovery of South America by the Spanish and traced the history and development to the time of its independence. One of the main things which retarded the growth of that country in its early days declared the speaker was the discouragement of immigrants. Mrs. H. H. Stull was welcomed as a new member and Mrs. R. E. Daver was introduced as a guest. Refreshments consisting of cheese wafers, fruit cake and coffee was served to: Mesdames Daver, Stull, Sweeney, White, Waters, Wilson, Edgerton, Shotwell, Brandon, Osborne, Keene, Meyers, Katie Vincent, J. B. Townsend, L. J. McCarty, A. D. Hills, Emmett Gee, and Irvin Cole.

El Progresso Club Elects Officers

Mrs. Knox Kinard was chosen president for the coming year when the El Progresso Club named its new officers at a meeting Tuesday with Mrs. W. R. Ewing. Others appointed were: vice president - Mrs. C. P. Buckler, secretary - Mrs. D. W. Burton, treasurer - Mrs. H. L. Ledrick, reporter - Mrs. C. T. Hightower, parliamentarian - Mrs. W. R. Ewing, and Council of Clubs delegate - Mrs. James Todd. The retiring president, Mrs. Todd, was in the chair, and after roll call and reading of the minutes a short business session was held during which the club voted to make a contribution to the Scholarship fund of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs. Mrs. Kinard, who was in charge of the program, reviewed the book "The Proud People" by Kyle Samuel Crichton. Besides being replete with both humor and humor the speaker said the book deals skillfully with race prejudice as practiced in the Southwest - between Anglo-Americans and Spanish-Americans. The hostess served a refreshment plate to the group during the social hour.

Pageant Presented At WSCS Meeting

A pageant on Stewardship Ceremonial was presented by Mrs. Kinard, secretary of Missionary Education, at the regular weekly meeting of the First Methodist WSCS held Wednesday afternoon in the Junior High department of the church. Assisting Mrs. Kinard on the program were Mrs. Raeburn Thompson, Emblem Builder; Mrs. F. W. Shotwell, reader; Mrs. Dan Wallace, soloist; and Mrs. H. H. Boynton, pianist. Mrs. W. R. Campbell, president of the society, presided over the meeting which was opened by singing "I Need Thee Every Hour," followed by prayer led by Mrs. Walter Purviance. Mrs. Campbell urged that the members have "spiritual enthusiasm" to further the missionary work. A short business session was held and pledge cards made available for each chairman. New members of the organization were recognized and also a number of visitors from the Harrah Methodist Church. Mrs. Clyde Smith presided over the tea table during the social hour.

Rebekahs Plan to Install Officers

Installation of elective and appointive officers will be made when the Rebekahs hold their regular weekly meeting at the IOOF Hall Thursday evening at 7:30. Mrs. H. M. Cone, district deputy president, who will be in charge of the installation ceremonies, requests that all members attend in formal attire.

Pampa Girl Civilian Instructor For Army Air Forces in Japan

Miss Billie Hollingshead, daughter of J. H. Hollingshead, 906 Twiford Street, Pampa, has arrived in Japan to participate in the Army Educational Program. She is assigned to the Itazuke Army Air Base School, near Fukuoka, headquarters for the 35th Composite Wing of the Fifth Air Force, the Occupational Air Force in Japan and Korea, Fukuoka is on the southernmost Japanese island of Kyushu.

The skyscraper silhouette for spring is achieved in this black and white scroll printed dress by spiralling tiers of finely pleated flounces.

From May, 1943, to March, 1945, she served with the U. S. Marine Corps in Washington, D. C. and she then served as a club director for the American Red Cross in the China-Burma-India theater from March, 1945, to June, 1946. Civilian Director of the Itazuke Army Air Base School, she also instructs classes in psychology. The school is housed in a two-story building with 14 classrooms and a large library. The Army educational program was originally organized to accommodate service men and women interested in continuing their schooling. Classes are on grade school, high school, and college levels and are now available to military personnel and War Department civilian employees. "The opportunity to teach in Japan," says Miss Hollingshead, "has already produced interesting phases. I am gaining firsthand knowledge of Army procedure in an occupied country. Many students disapproved with me the probability of inevitable arise when one lives in a foreign country. Contacts with the Japanese people provide an entirely new field of learning. Due to their insular, many Japanese customs have reflected little change throughout the centuries."

Miss Hollingshead plans to make trips to areas of Japan, famous for natural beauty or historical significance.

Hopkins H. D. Club Discusses Planning Homes at Meeting

"Include each member of a family when you are planning a home," Miss Ann Hastings, Gray County Home Demonstration Agent, told the Hopkins Home Demonstration Club when it met Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with Mrs. R. A. Irwin. Miss Hastings declared that the home expresses the personality of each individual living in it, and that now is the time to plan a home, even though material may not be plentiful for some time. She showed the club a model farm and stated that the outbuildings must be neat and well-arranged also. Mrs. Irwin, club president, was in charge of the business meeting while Mrs. R. W. Orr led in a "Jig Saw Puzzle" game, the prize going to Miss Hastings. Mrs. W. E. Melton presided over a "model business meeting." Those present were divided into two groups to demonstrate the correct and incorrect procedure of carrying out a business meeting. Refreshments of tiny open-face sandwiches, ice box cakes and coffee were served to the three guests: Mesdames C. F. Jones, J. W. Markle, and J. E. Schneider; and the following members: Mesdames George Reeve, Melton, Orr, George, Howe, Vern Savage, P. H. Rice, and C. H. Brickley. The next meeting will be held Jan. 28 with Mrs. C. H. Brickley.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all, and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your drugstore and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonful twice a day. That's all there is to it. If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloated disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearance and active.

WOMEN SHOULD HAVE EQUAL RIGHTS AND PAY, B & PW CLUB INFORMED

Tuesday evening members of the Business and Professional Women's Club were presented a very interesting and informative program concerning the "Equal Rights and Equal Pay" bills when they met in the City Club Room. These bills will come before the 80th Congress in the near future.

Mrs. Lillian McNutt and Mrs. Elsie Gee were in charge of the program which was presented as a radio broadcast and the station broadcasting was Station BWPC—Business and Professional Women's Pampa Club. Mrs. Gee was the announcer.

Mrs. McNutt first summarized the "Equal Rights Bill," saying that with the passing of the Suffrage Amendment in 1919 women for the first time became persons in the law of our land, but they did not become full partners with men in the State of Affairs. Those people against the passing of the bill are the same type of people who were against the passing of the Suffrage Amendment in 1919. Yet it is the women of America that hold 75 percent of the national wealth.

"The Equal Pay Bill" was discussed by Ione Shurley. The importance of this bill is simply to justify the right worker for the right job. Women should have the right to be employed on the same basis as men. There are seven states that have the equal pay laws.

Ruth Huff discussed the things to be avoided in these laws. One of the most important things to be avoided was the possibility of the bill covering only certain types of work; the bill must cover all types and kinds of jobs. If the bill is written in simple language then employers would have no basis for discrimination against women.

Mrs. Katherine Martin discussed the "Jury Service Amendment" which is to come before our State Legislature soon. There are only seventeen states now that do not allow women to sit on juries. It was pointed out that women are not allowed to sit on Federal juries unless the state allows them to. Of course, there are women who would like to sit on juries, but there are also men who do not sit on juries either. Women are capable of sitting on juries and should be allowed to do so. In many cases they are more satisfactory than men.

During 1945 there were 96 million meals served in U. S. railroad cars.

Varietas Study Club Names Mrs. Imel as President for 1947

Election of officers for the coming year and an interesting program on "Art and Artists of Texas" were highlights of the Varietas Study Club meeting which was held Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. H. T. Hampton as hostess.

During the business session the nominating committee presented the following names which were elected: president - Mrs. F. E. Imel, vice-president - Mrs. Quentin Williams, secretary - Mrs. J. C. Volmert, treasurer - Mrs. C. W. Andrews, parliamentarian - Mrs. Loy King, and librarian - Mrs. C. L. McKinney.

Mrs. Luther Pierson and Mrs. Ralph Thomas presented a program on "Art and Artists of Texas." Mrs. Pierson mentioned that Boyer Gonzales of the University of Texas is showing his new painting, "Chichibu Hills," at the Ft. Worth art exhibition Jan. 17. Mrs. Thomas discussed Tom Lea, of El Paso, who was selected by Life Magazine to paint pictures of different phases of the war. Many of these pictures have been seen in Life and they have achieved great distinction for Mr. Lea.

Mrs. Hampton served a delicious dessert plate to the following: Mesdames Andrews, J. G. Gargie, Lee Hurray, E. J. Haslam, Imel, J. E. Kretzmer, R. W. Lane, Horace McBe, Luther Pierson, Thomas, Sherman White, J. O. McWilliams, and Volmert.

'Baby' Is Married To 'Baby Sitter'
NEW KENSINGTON, Pa.—(AP)—The 13-year-old "baby," who liked her 30-year-old "baby sitter" so well that she married him, yesterday set about the business of housekeeping with every prospect of living happily ever after.

The "baby" is beautiful little, blue-eyed and blonde, Delores Loman Shuffert, still a bobby-soxer but now the wife of handsome James Schuffert, a glass worker.

Their romance, which began when Mrs. Elsie Loman hired James to "mind" her daughter, while Mrs. Loman worked nights as a charwoman, threatened to be blasted when the mother, who had sanctioned the marriage, objected to Delores' leaving home with her new husband.

Shuffert packed up and left. The bride filed a complaint before Justice of the Peace John Hunter of Arnold, charging desertion.

Shuffert, arraigned for trial, told his sad story, baby-sitting and all.

"You didn't think your daughter too young to be married," said Squire Hunter. "Why do you object to her leaving your home to live with her legal husband?"

On thinking it over, Mrs. Loman decided she didn't object.

Squire Hunter dismissed the charges and said "everybody went home happy."

So now child-bride Delores has dropped her eighth grade classes and is studying things like making beds, washing dishes and cooking meals.

Only three diseases cause more deaths in the world than do accidents of all kinds.

WE, THE WOMEN
Men Should Cook Dinner Once a Week

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"How much happier the average home would be if the men of the family, made himself responsible at least for daily dinners and weekend entertainment, leaving his wife free to devote herself to dish washing, cleaning, and the family mending."

That suggestion isn't an idea cooked up by feminist members of the Tuesday Club bent on freeing women from the kitchen stove.

It's an idea put forth by a man—Malcolm LePrade world traveler and amateur cook, whose book "That Man in the Kitchen" is a kind of road map by which a helpless male can find his way from ice box to sink to oven to dining-room table.

Maybe asking the man of the family to whip up dinner EVERY night is a little too much, but it might solve quite a few family problems if he would take on the job of getting a substantial dinner one evening a week.

Eating out is one matter on which most husbands and wives instinctively disagree.

Men can't understand why anybody with a home wants to eat out. Women can't think of anything much nicer than being taken out to dinner.

The reason for the disagreement, of course is that a man can sit down, relax and have his dinner served whether he eats in or out. Eut for the woman without a servant (and that takes in almost all women) the urge to eat out is simply a matter of wanting to have a meal put before her which she doesn't have to market for, prepare, and dishes after.

QUICK SOLUTION
So if the man of the house would one chosen day a week—take over the job of setting a tasty meal before his wife, with a minimum of calling her from the living room to fetchup and to explain why there isn't any garlic on hand, the old conflict of whether or not to have dinner out once a week could very soon satisfactorily be settled.

And, as Mr. LePrade assures the timid souls who have never handled an egg-beater or tossed a salad, "any intelligent man can learn to cook."

Dinner Is in Honor Of Training Union

CHICAGO GRAIN
 CHICAGO, Jan. 15.—Grains closed for small fractional losses on the Board of Trade today. Profit-taking entering the pits after the preceding session's bulge was the major reason for the decline.
 January corn showed relative firmness when compared with other deliveries of that grain. Traders said a small quantity of each corn was expected to be delivered on January contracts tomorrow.
 Corn trading followed the leadership of other grains. Counter offerings of main crops increased sharply with

Texas Legislature May Be Working Late Into Summer If Predictions Prove True

By BO BYERS
 AUSTIN.—If the predictions of some members of the House of Representatives are correct, they may be having a hot time in the Legislature as late as the middle of July this year.
 Asked their views as the 50th Legislature got underway, some representatives foresaw a rough, tough time for this first peacetime session since 1941.
 Others anticipated a harmonious session which might be wound up by the first of June, dependent on the number of bills submitted.
 Estimates on bills to be presented in the House ran as high as 2,000, as compared with 1,237 introduced during the previous session.
 "What legislation do you particularly favor or oppose?" the representatives were asked.
 Most plain spoken in his answer was Rep. Woodrow Wilson Bean of El Paso.
 "I see no need whatsoever for a veterans' board. There are politicians in both the House and Senate trying for veterans' votes in the future."
 "I oppose a bonus. A paltry bonus of $250 or $500 would be like giving a nickel to a waiter in the Waldorf-Astoria and at the same time would bankrupt the State of Texas."
 "The biggest job is taking care of our school teachers."
 Rep. N. J. Isaac of El Paso, now in his fifth consecutive term, said he is favorably impressed by the new speed in the House to a total at least 200 greater than that considered during the last Legislature.

 "In order to increase teachers' pay, raising the old age assistance program to its thirty-six million dollar limit and taking off that constitutional ceiling, and I will offer a bonus bill to pay $10 per month for domestic service and $15 for each month of foreign service," Evans said.
 The gravest question facing the Legislature, in the opinion of Rep. Jim Wright of Weatherford, will be that of raising the money to put into effect the commitments made by the legislators to their constituents.
 "We can either levy new taxes, tap the general fund, or effect a systematic reorganization of the government," Wright declared.
 He favors the idea of reorganization, will introduce such a proposal, and estimates it would be possible to save the state $50,000,000 each year if the reorganizing were done properly.

Writer Nominates Ty Power as Most Perfect Movie Star

By BOB THOMAS
 URUAPAN, Mexico.—After due consideration, I have come to the conclusion that Tyrone Power is the perfect movie star.
 Having perched so far out on a limb, I hasten to explain. I mean he is the perfect actor. I contend he is everything the public visualizes in a screen star. I concluded this on the "Captain from Castile" location here.
 In the first place, he is one of the two handsomest men on the screen. (Robert Taylor is the other.) His manner is on the grand tradition. He can charm any listener and yet you feel his sincerity. If there is any doubt as to his way with the women, I need only point out that Lena Turner recently deserted MGM and flew 1,600 miles just to see him.

In Mexico City there is a motion picture plant for which any Hollywood producer would give his eye teeth, and maybe his last year's salary. It is Churubusco Studios, the most modern in the world. Half owned by RKO, half by Mexican interests, the plant was begun two and a half years ago and will be completed in March at a cost of $4,000,000.

Charles Weram, who represents RKO and is vice-president and general manager of the studios, told me it will handle 39 films a year by Independent Producers here and from above the border. (Such as John Ford, who is now working here.) He showed me around the place, and its well organized plan contrasts the confusion of U. S. studios all of which "just grew." All equipment is new and technical brains have been imported from Hollywood. Look for more and more U. S. companies to be shooting down here.

I also visited RCA-Victor's plant which presses 100,000 records a month for music-hungry Mexicans. Most of these are native numbers, but I also detected such labels as "Trumpeteria" ("angle call rag") by Benny Goodman. Judging from the sides I heard, the U. S. should put more Mexican music on its list of imports. Some of the numbers sung by Pedro Vargas, the Mexican King, here accompanied which makes the Pseudo-Latin bands in north sound like Spike Jones. And Luis Arcaez plays swine as its northern practitioners used to in better days, these Amigos are here.

During the lunch hour, the plant workers all joined in a game of soccer in the street. Bet they don't do that at the Victor plant in Camden, N. J.
 John Hancock, first signer of the Declaration of Independence, was one of the wealthiest citizens of Boston.

Old Timer Finds New Boom Tame Compared to Old

By HAI BOYLE
 ASPEN, Colo.—(P)—They can't make old Harry Brown's pulse beat any faster over the new boom than they did over the old boom. The old boom was the pocketbook boom of winter ski enthusiasts. He was here sixty years ago during the great Colorado silver boom and he finds the present snow boom pretty tame in comparison. "This doesn't excite me at all," said the mining veteran who attributes his cheerful health at 78 to a judicious mixture of one part Bourbon whisky and three parts branch water. Harry is the last survivor of seven Brown brothers who came here during the 1890's from New Braunswick and found fortune in the metal-rich crags that rise above Fork river. From a "bang-bang" town of 12,000 people Aspen declined rapidly during the '90's after silver dropped from 85 cents an ounce to 43 cents. The miners took their tools and went to Cripple Creek to hunt gold, leaving behind them empty frame houses and tales of fabulous spending. Aspen declined until it was down to a population of 400—one fourth of them elderly citizens on state pension—and the Brown family was paying one-third of the town taxes. Expenditure of a million dollars by outside capitalists to build As-

Schoolboy Is Slow To Learn Honesty

BRITTON, Okla.—(P)—An Oklahoman's conscience almost outlasted the memory of man. The unidentified man mailed $3 to the school board to pay for a lamp and motor bicycle he said he took from "the Old Pops school" 40 years ago. The board finally found some old-timers who recalled that name was once used for Britton's Lone Star school-house.

Was the Army Rough On Your Dandruff?

DENVER—(P)—If a veteran can establish that his baldness is due to "combat, accident or illness while in the armed forces and not merely concurrent with his service" Uncle Sam will provide him with a toupee. The Veterans Administration says. And the government even will clean the wig.

Half a million cattle and horses were being destroyed annually by wolves in the Western states in the nineties.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their glides dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTERE, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly—so they feel more comfortable. Does not wear the plates or your denture breath. Get FASTERE at any drug store.

QUARTER HORSES and HEREFORDS

I will sell at public auction at my 11,000-acre ranch, 7 miles east and 4 miles north of Wheeler, Texas, 36 quarter horses, 100 white face cows and all my farming equipment.

Postponed Until Tuesday, Jan. 21st, 1947, 10:00 a. m.

40 HEAD HORSES

An outstanding group of High Bred Quarter Horses. The Foundation mares were all sired by Buster Brown. Buster Brown was sired by A. D. Reed, by Peter McQue. Buster Brown was raised by John Harold of Canute, Okla. 13 mares are sired by Buster Brown. There are bays, grays, and sorrels. All are eight years old. All these mares are bred to Palomino Quarter Horses. In the grouping are 12 head of 2 and 3 year old geldings and fillies and 7 sucking colts sired by Rivers, a Waggoner bred Palomino Quarter Horse.

100 HEREFORD COWS

100 good white face cows, 3 to 6 years old, bred to registered bulls. I have had nothing but registered bulls for the past 35 years. This is as good a bunch of grade cows as there is in the Panhandle of Texas. These cows will be sold 5 and 10 in a lot.

Great White Father Remembers Indians

WASHINGTON—(P)—Good news, Choctaw Indians. The Great White Father hasn't forgotten you. You're going to get the $600 for your blacksmith. President Truman sent his budget for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1948, to Congress last week. In 1628 figure-filled pages, weighing six pounds, 3 ounces, Truman explained how this country could spend $38,998,565.167. Naturally Choctaws everywhere have been on arrowheads and tomahawks, wondering whether his blacksmith would get a cut of that swag. He's supposed to collect $600 every year, you know, by a treaty with the Indians in 1820. Sure enough, on page 477 Mr. Truman remembered. He said he was setting aside $600 for the Choctaw smithy. Mr. Truman remembered several other things, including Mr. Truman. As heads of all households know, the cost of living has gone up. And that goes for the White House, too. Mr. Truman doubtless consulted with his housekeeper (3,397 a year), his chief usher ($6,440 a year) and his doorkeeper ($5,390 a year) before he reached any conclusion. His verdict is that while he hopes to run the White House on $283,650 this year, he will need $952,500 the next year for only $3.

WE NEED GOOD MEN TO RUN CITY GOVERNMENT

Perhaps, as someone said a few days ago in a local barber shop, the voters of Pampa cannot see the forest for the trees, but the statement by Mayor Farris Oden yesterday should wake them to the fact that there is another important election coming up.

In this matter of everybody's business is nobody's business—known as government—Pampa is being forced by growth in size and prestige to assume the part of a city, and with that the citizens fall heir to a real task, that of electing people to public office who are in some way fitted for the job.

Farris Oden, who the past city election was placed in nomination and elected against his own better wishes, this time is not running for office; and what he has said cannot be considered as personal publicity for the office of mayor.

Some of our citizens, we daresay, did not know that the city was being operated on a cash basis, nor that there was as much money available to the commissioners as there is. But, knowing it, they should seek conscientiously to find the man who is best able to steer the course of expenditure during the coming term. There is, as Oden said, a great deal that can be done in the way of improvement—such as paving and sewer construction—but good sound business judgment is a requisite for the man who does the steering. That goes for the commissioners too.

All this talk about one section of the city being pitted against another section in the race for city offices, in the race for the placement of the county general hospital—we aren't investing in this palaver. It's no good for this community. And those who carry stories, those who seek to divide one section from another aren't doing their city good, but a great deal of harm.

Discussion divides, makes cooperation difficult and often impossible. Consequently, some other city, striving, like Pampa should be, to progress in this relatively new country, gets what we lose.

We need good men to operate our city's affairs, and the voters should see that we get them. In that way, we will continue to thrive and grow here.

MAY TAKE YEARS FOR ALLIES TO AGREE ON GERMAN PEACE TERMS

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR., AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
(Subbing for MacKenzie)
The deputies of the Four Foreign Ministers meeting in London to do the preliminary work on a peace treaty for Germany are taking up a task which may require years for completion.
The stated objective is a self-supporting Germany which will ultimately return to her natural economic role in Europe without, at the same time, permitting resurrection of her war potential.

In addition, England and the United States oppose what Russia wants—a Germany which leans toward the Communist sphere. The French want to take over certain industrial areas in Germany and clamp the tightest restrictions on the rest. Russia wants reparations without too much regard for Germany's ability to support herself, and she will not cry too much if this requires continued Anglo-American contributions to the Germans.

Some of the questions to be decided include:
Whether to permit a central government or to establish a loose federation of German states with strong centralization prohibited.
How strictly to construe the term

★ THOUGHTS

And it shall come to pass, if ye shall hearken diligently unto my commandments which I command you this day, to love the Lord your God, and to serve Him with all your heart and with all your soul, and with all your mind, and with all your strength; for the Lord is one. In His due season, the first rain and the latter rain will move, rather than in thy corn, and thy vine, and thine oil.—Deuteronomy 10:12-13

POLITICAL THINKING

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Sixteen varieties of lesser-of-what-used-to-be loosely called "Liberals" are today running around the Washington political landscape. They are organizing societies and changing their names faster than you can keep up with them. The result is that there seem to be more Liberal parties at work in America today than there used to be in a pre-war French Chamber of Deputies.

The strangest thing about this new rash of Liberal cults is that none is on speaking terms with the others, and each is convinced that all the other are wrong. This probably was when all these elements were at rest within that great atomic pile of liberalism known as the New Deal. But somewhere in the proceedings—probably in the November elections—the darn thing must have reached a critical mass and exploded.

High-priced scientific interpreters of the election results all expected that the Liberal movement was therefore dead. It isn't dead; it has just disintegrated.

What the Workingman's Wife Does Not See

In this issue is published a letter from a working man's wife telling why she thinks the working man needs labor unions. I want to point out the end results of what this woman advocates that she evidently does not see.

She says, in effect, that if all employers were unselfish they would not hire the man who would do the most for the money. What she evidently does not see is that they paid more for morrow's services than some other worker would do the same job for, they would have to charge some other worker more for the service than they had hired the man who would do the most for the money. They are thus not unselfish when it comes to charging their customers, who are generally working men, more than they would have charged them if they were not for the man who produced one-tenth, one-fourth, one-third or one-half more received the same pay. The bigger producer would have a right to be distinguished and his production would go down, and everyone would thus suffer.

She says the union assures the man a fair wage and his place in a plant so long as he fulfills his duties properly. But the union is the final judge of what is fair and whether or not he fulfills his duties properly. And the union does not have to deal with the customers as the employer does. The employer has no means of paying his workers more than his customers are willing and able to do the same job for.

She says that unionism does not mean the employer must keep a man at all costs. It means that the employer must keep him at all costs, if he fails to keep his part of the bargain no one is forced to continue his pay.

All the worker asks is a livable wage. If the employer had taken it upon himself to adjust the wages to meet the cost of living, there would have been no disputes. The laborer sees the union as a means to this end. If the employer would keep pace with living costs, it seems to be the thought among a great number of people that the worker would not be so discontented with his living. He deserves more than bare essentials. A few more comforts for his home and a higher standard of living. He takes care of the juvenile problems. The juvenile question has arisen in his mind because the father has not found those things that are needed, and has gone to work himself.

The cost of living in 1946 rose 18 per cent, but the workers take home pay has remained the same or in some cases is much lower. Quotations from statistics of economists cover many figures, but the checks of the low income group are overshadowed by the higher paid when they are totaled. This is not a true average.

The worker realizes great strides have been made toward better working conditions and higher pay than he had in making before. He also knows some means of agreement must be maintained to keep him from falling back again.

WORKER'S WIFE
The best way to raise wage levels the fastest.

The United States more nearly adopted this policy than any other country. That is the reason the standard of living of workers in this country has risen faster than in any other country.

The worker's wife says that juvenile delinquency has come from women working. Not necessarily so, if the children are properly trained. The farmer's wife works and her children are not as delinquent as others. A lot of the delinquency comes from laws that prevent the children from helping earn a living. Juvenile delinquency comes from freedom from the schools and from the homes.

The worker's wife seems to think that the working man should not help pay for the war. Will she please tell how working men are helping pay for the war if their standard of living goes up as rapidly as the cost of living?

If the working man is not currently helping pay for the war and the capitalist has to pay for it, the worker will have to have less tools with which to work and will be unable to produce. In that way the workers will pay more for the war than if they were willing to pay their share and to work on the competitive basis.

The only thing that will keep the working man's wages from falling back again is for him to be willing to work on a competitive basis and receive pay exactly in proportion as other workers receive pay, not the same amount as other get, but in proportion.

And he should remember that under the competitive system other people getting more because they produce more does not hurt his standard of living, it helps it. If everybody in the world could produce more than I can produce and received larger income because of it, my standard of living would be raised, not lowered as the working man's wife says.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON

By RAY TUCKER
QUESTIONS — Americans have a healthy curiosity about what's going on in Washington, inside and out of the halls of Congress. That's this writer's conclusion after offering only week ago, to attempt to answer readers' questions in this column. Probably the current broad income-tax base has a lot to do with it. More people are conscious of the facts that they're paying for the show and they want to know what's going on behind the scenes as well as what's happening on the stage.

So this is another effort to answer readers' queries.
Question: Do you think that the appointment of General George C. Marshall as Secretary of State means that he will be President Truman's running mate in 1948?
Answer: No question about it. Although Mr. Truman's stock seems to have risen within recent months, or ever since he bowed to the voters' mandate last November, the Democrats realize that they will need a strong name ticket next year. So, it is safe to assume that they will name General Marshall for second place.

PARTY — Question: Is General Marshall a Democrat?
Answer: Yes; very much so, although military men do not make a fetish of partisan affiliations. But the fact is that as a youngster in a small Pennsylvania town George Marshall could not get a West Point appointment because his father was a Democrat. In those days Pennsylvania was completely controlled by Republicans.

The General wanted to go to West Point but his Republican Congressman refused to appoint him. The man who went to West Point in his place has never been heard of in a military way.
Therefore, General Marshall became the most distinguished graduate of the Virginia Military Institute. As Chief of Staff during World War II, General Marshall, naturally, had extremely close contacts with the late President Roosevelt and also with Mr. Truman. He developed a great admiration for both men during that period and so, it is understood, became a Democrat in a big way.

JUDGES — Question: Senator Wiley of Wisconsin, the new Republican chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, has stated that he intended to get rid of many members of the Federal bench because, according to him, it is overloaded with Democrats. What can the Senator do to remove the so-called "Roosevelt judges"?
Answer: Nothing. They can be removed only by impeachment and that is an extremely difficult process. The Senate rarely removes a judge unless he can be proved corrupt.

Senator Wiley, as are many of his Republican and Democratic colleagues, is upset over this question because, during his long tenure in the White House, the late F. D. R. named approximately ninety percent of the 283 members of the Federal bench. They also maintain a heavy in mind such men as Supreme Court Justices Black, Frankfurter and Murphy — that many were appointed for their political belief and not for their legal or judicial background.

Senator Wiley also thinks that F. D. R. made the Federal judiciary secondary and subservient to the White House. Mr. Roosevelt imposed executive duties on them and transformed them into presidential errand boys. He dragged them off from court to run errands for the executive branch of the government, as when he named Justice Jackson to be a Nuremberg prosecutor, and former Justice Owen J. Roberts to investigate the Pearl Harbor disaster.

Mr. Truman has agreed to quit this practice. He wants to restore the proper constitutional balance between the executive and the judiciary branches of the government. Meanwhile, although Senator Wiley and his committee cannot throw out the "Roosevelt judges," it is probable that they will refuse to confirm any Truman nominee between now and 1949, when the GOP hopes to put a Republican in the White House.

BOMBS — Question: Is the United States still making atom bombs?
Answer: Yes, and we will continue to make them until the United Nations Security Council approves the Baruch proposal for international control of this kind of weapon. Then, provided that an acceptable control system is set up, we shall destroy the fusable store of A-bombs in our possession, and of course, quit production.

VETERANS — Question: How does the Eightieth Congress compare with recent national legislatures? Are the new members better or worse than their predecessors?
Answer: That is a difficult question to answer. Furthermore, the present membership has not been on the job long enough for anyone to make a definite conclusion or comparison.

There are a few differences, however, which are noticeable. The new members are much younger, much more energetic and much more enthusiastic than the men they replaced.

They are out to make a record for themselves, with the Senate, a governorship or even the White House as an ambition to spur them on.

Perhaps the most striking thing is the presence of so many war veterans, including men who served in the first or the second world conflict. There are more than 200 in the House, which means a working majority, and 49 in the Senate.

Recent Congresses have treated the veterans rather generously, but the Eightieth will break the record in rewarding the old and young soldiers.

Any more questions? They may be sent directly to Ray Tucker at the National Press Club, Washington, D. C.

News Clearing House

"It is for you to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true, and his duty is to inform the public of it, and let the result be what it may. The contributors are urged to confine their articles to 800 words."

To the Editor:
When men compete for jobs the employer can take his choice of the one who will do it for less just as the man who puts up a building awards the contract to the lowest bidder.

All employers were unselfish this would not be true. There would be even distribution to each man in his field of work, in that men would be side on a certain job but receive a difference in pay there is dissatisfaction and lowered production.

There are always those workers due to circumstances, such as owning homes or for reasons of health are willing to work for a wage that others cannot afford to work for.

The union assures a man a fair wage and his place in a plant as long as he fulfills his duties properly. This does not mean the employer must keep him at all costs, if he fails to keep his part of the bargain no one is forced to continue his pay.

Blast Fatalities Reach Toll of Five
YERUSALEM—(AP)—The death of a wounded Arab constable today raised to five the fatalities from a bomb blast which wrecked the Haita Police Station on Jan. 12. More than 140 persons were injured in the bombing. Authorities today requisitioned Haita's largest hotel, the Savoy, three blocks from the blasted building, as a temporary headquarters.

Dobbin Moves Over For the Tractor

ITHACA, N. Y.—(AP)—There are only half as many horses and mules on New York state farms as in 1920, while the number of tractors increased more than 10 fold during this period. Authority for this comparison is Prof. C. A. Bratton, extension economist at Cornell University, who said figures for 1945 showed only 220,000 horses and mules on farms in the state, and 78,000 tractors compared with 7,000 tractors 20 years ago. Further economic research by Prof. Bratton reveals that the cost of plowing an acre of land with horses amounts to $498 against $142 for doing the same work with a tractor.

Gather Ye Rosebuds
 By JEANNETTE COVERT NOLAN

XXXV
 ACE had dropped down on the bed, watching her, grinning. "We're on the register as Mr. and Mrs. Breen," he said.
 "Yes. You'll have to change that and get yourself another room."
 "Why? I've got a room. This one. Can I help it if a lady comes to stay with me? You came of your own accord, you know. I didn't ask you. I asked Rose, but—"
 "You'll have to get a room for me."
 "And spoil everything? Oh, no. As I was saying, I asked Rose, but after all, now that we're here, you and I, so cozy—"
 "Cozy! I hate that word. One of your words, and one you probably can spell, you know!"
 "Well, well!" He laughed. "Quite the lady, aren't you? But you weren't in Henderson. I never thought then—"
 "Don't bring that up," Sidney said. "I'm not proud of it."
 "You remember the week of the fair, though, don't you? We had a good time. And we could again. Even better."
 "As we are better acquainted?"
 "Sidney," he said, getting to his feet, "why are you so stubborn? I feel about you just the way I did—"
 She glared. "Come one step nearer and I'll scream at the top of my lungs. I'll scream my head off, Ace Latschaw, you skunk!"
 He dropped back on the bed, laughing. "Are you going to sit in that chair all night? You'll get pretty tired."
 "I'll sit in a chair downstairs in the lobby."
 "No," he said, "it's against the house rules; and they put the lights out at nine. Must be almost nine now."
 She was silent. There seemed to be nothing more she could say. Or do. At least, she could think of nothing. She felt trapped and exhausted. She looked at Ace and

SHE walked home from the inter-urban terminals, and there was Hannah, in midday blouse and blue serge skirt, running toward her down Clark Street.
 "Sidney, you were out all night!"
 "Yes, I was. Did Mamma—"
 "She didn't know until this morning. I said you were perfectly safe somewhere. . . . You were safe, weren't you?"
 Sidney nodded. She was not giddy now. Nothing wrong with her that a hot meal wouldn't remedy. "Is Mamma having a fit?"
 "Yes. What will you tell her?"
 "Nothing. I can't tell the truth—for certain reasons; and I'll never tell Mamma another lie. Anyway, I can't think of a good one. . . . Hannah, did you tend to those errands?"
 "All of them," said Hannah proudly. "Basil and I. Jeff's going on the afternoon train. Mamma's packing his trunk."
 "That's fine. And Rose?"
 "She's snuffy, but not too much so. She just mailed a letter to Dixon."
 Sidney went into the house. Mamma was in Jeff's room, sorting his handkerchiefs, shirts and underwear.
 "Sidney," Sidney said, "I can't ever tell you where I was last night, or even why I was there."
 "But, Sidney, dear—"
 "The only thing I can do is guarantee that I acted like a lady the whole time. I did nothing either you or I would be ashamed of."
 Tears sprang to Mamma's eyes. She looked steadily at Sidney for a long moment. Then she smiled and said, "Well—"
 In their bedroom, Sidney confronted Rose.
 "I went to Ashron. It hasn't a church or a minister or anything else; and it isn't respectable, it's a joint. I saw Richard Breen, and that isn't his name at all; it's Ace Latschaw and he's a polecat."
 "Oh, Sidney!"
 "I spent the night with him."
 Rose paled. "You what?"
 "Yes."
 "Oh, Sidney! . . . Did he—did you—"
 "No," Sidney said. "But that wasn't his fault."

In Hollywood
 By ERSKINE JOHNSON
 NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)—For months Jimmy Durante drove producer Joe Pasternak half crazy with his radio and personal appearance commitments. When Joe objected to Jimmy's leaving the studio in the middle of a film scene to keep a date with a mike or an audience, Jimmy always had the same answer: "Joe, the show must go on."
 Finally, during filming of "Two Girls and a Sailor," Joe had an idea. In one sequence Jimmy had a line

College President Says Women Losing Power Over Men
BOSTON—(AP)—A man who should know said yesterday that American women are losing their power over men—and it's largely their own fault.
 Dr. Lynn T. White, Jr., president of Mills College for Women at Oakland, Calif., told the American Association of Colleges that he feared the opinion was increasing among men that "women are very expensive—they want a lot for what they give."
 "The result," said the college head, who admitted he was reasoning with a man's mind, "is that a woman's bargaining power, which means in the long run her self-respect and social status, is today less than it used to be."
 One of the things to blame for this, he added, was "the concept of romantic love. Untold numbers of women have been deluded by the romantic gaze into entering inherently unstable marriages."
 Dr. White, the father of two children, said:
 "The movies, the radio and the entirety of modern fiction today present marriage as the consummation of a courtship . . . based on sex attraction and nothing else . . . rather than a process by which a man and woman live together for a lifetime."
 Another reason women's hold is growing weaker, he added, is that women live longer than men.
 "Women are soft and tough," he said, "and men are in higher proportions than women, and now in America we have a surplus of women."

Goose That Lays Golden Transfers
ST LOUIS—(AP)—A portly woman, was indignant when a standing passenger on a crowded streetcar suggested that she remove to her lap a large goose riding in the seat beside her "so I can sit down."
 "That goose stays right there," she retorted. "I paid a dime for it to ride—see, I got two transfers."

Branching Family Tree
TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—Mrs. T. A. Bates gave birth to a girl just 22 hours after her daughter, Mrs. H. D. Martin, had borne a boy.
 Today the Bates and Martins, pondering new kinships, figured at the very simplest there was a new grandson, sister, brother, aunt, nephew and sister-in-law—all acquired in 22 hours.
 Mrs. Bates is 39. Mrs. Martin 22. The Bates have three additional children. And the Martins one.

Carloadings Total 26,012 for Week
Santa Fe System carloadings for week ending January 11, 1947, were 26,012 compared with 24,721 for same week in 1946. Cars received from connections totaled 9,355 compared with 8,952 for same week in 1946. Total cars moved were 35,360 compared with 33,673 for same week in 1946. Santa Fe handled a total of 30,064 cars in preceding week of this year.
