Presidential Mention Not Good Says 'Ike'

MIAMI, Fla., (AP)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower in an interview said today that the mention of his name as a presidential candidate was not good for the great organization with which he is associated.

Eisenhower, the Army's Chief of Staff, made it plain that he was thinking as a soldier of the national future security to prevent the United States from falling victim to such possible future "super-bombs."

"From the beginning of the war, when my name has been mentioned in connection with a possible future political career for me, I have consistently refused to consider such a contingency," said the general during an interview at an inspection of the Army's Pratt General Hospital in suburban Great Falls, Va.

"I have not changed my mind," he said.

"The Army is definitely non-partisan and national in character and any task that tends to cloud the soundness of that future is not to the best interest of the United States," he added.

Asked about his possible retirement, the chief of staff said he would have a job to do and he is going to do it as long as I am needed.

He looked forward to a future day when the United States might find itself alone against a hostile world as England was after the fall of France.

"I am convinced that the world has got to find a way to settle forced peace," he said.

Gen. Eisenhower said that he was not sure if he would be in the White House when the world is at peace. He said that he would be in the White House when the world is at peace.

Bill for Reducing Income Taxes Set

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) today completed work on his bill to reduce individual income taxes, with the biggest cuts going to the lower income brackets.

The widely-heralded Republican tax cutting measure was revised at the last minute before its scheduled introduction at the noon convening of Congress today, he said.

Knutson, who became chairman of the tax-framing House Ways and Means Committee, originally had announced plans for a 20 percent cut "across the board" for everyone.

In a statement today he said:

"The reduction of the tax attributable to that part of the income of taxpayers which is in excess of $300,000 is reduced by 10 percent."

In its broad form, the Republican bill would grant an added advantage to taxpayers over 65 years old, giving each person in that age group an additional exemption of $400, making a total of exemption of $1,600.

"Applicable to the entire calendar year 1947, the measure will provide a 20 percent reduction in the individual income tax payable under existing law on incomes up to and slightly in excess of $300,000."

"The group which receives the full 20 percent reduction includes the worker, the farmer, and those who utilize their incomes in production, expansion, and employment."

"Falling within this class will be the management groups and those who furnish risk or venture capital for new enterprises which would create more jobs in an expanded economy."

The statement added:

"Because of the necessity of reducing withholding tables, and the fact that individual taxes are now on a current pay-as-you-go basis, a percentage reduction in tax appears to be the most feasible method to apply retro to 1947 incomes, effective January 1."

"Since such a method can be put into effect almost immediately, it will mean quick relief to millions of workers by increasing their take-home pay without delay."

"I expect and expect that H. R. 1, the tax bill, will give the..."

Commander May Seek Authority For Offensive

LONDON—(AP)—British government and Jewish agency sources expressed belief today that Lt. Gen. Sir Alan Cunningham, Palestine high commissioner, would ask the cabinet for authority to launch an offensive to end Jewish resistance in the Holy Land.

The spokesman came as news of a Jewish attack in Jerusalem, an official announcement in Jerusalem said an underground threat had been made to kidnap British soldiers, and that all ranks had been ordered, for their personal safety, to carry arms at all times, and to venture out of barracks only in pairs.

Three British soldiers were injured near the coastal village of Kir Sultin early today when their jeep was blown up, evidently by an electrically detonated mine.

Searchers still hunting for the men who recently bogged four British soldiers found a quantity of dynamite in a house in Jerusalem on a route believed taken by underground forces who attempted a flame-thrower attack in the area.

It was one of the heaviest snail-shell mortar attacks ever launched in the Holy Land by the underground, which used mines, grenades, automatic weapons and home-made flame-throwers in at least 12 separate attacks in Jerusalem.

Political observers predicted the attacks, which began in earnest last week, were being cooperatively led by Yehonah Lurie and the so-called Stern gang—would disrupt the flow of goods from the British in the form of convoys, convoys and other measures in an effort to find the persons responsible.

"A British government source said the same time that Palestine was facing martial law or a state of emergency, adding that one more incident there might blow the lid off." Cunningham's attitude on the future of the stricken Holy Land, up to now boycotted by the Jews and Palestine Arabs.

Tojo Forced All POWs Into Work

TOKYO—(AP)—Former Premier Tojo insisted that officer prisoners of war be forced to work in violation of the Geneva convention, the International War Crimes Tribunal heard today.

Chubby Gen. Ryokichi Tanaka, who was the top ranking officer at Japanese prisoner headquarters, testified that he had ordered POWs to work to enhance the labor effort in Japan.

He said the chief of the POW information bureau protested that officers of warrant rank or higher could not be used at hard labor.

Sir St. Michael J. Robertson, 1315 Cartwright St., Beaumont, Texas, testified in an affidavit that he had been out of a 10-20 foot consciousness and was revived by a beating with rocks, sticks and fists by a Tokyo guard.

He said he was "struck approximately 25 times. The only explanation was that I was an enemy of the imperial government." He said he was put in a military police cell and required to sit at attention from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m.

Self-Styled 'Progressives' Meet; Seen as Possible Third Party Move

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Approximately 150 self-styled "Progressives" including two members of the Franklin D. Roosevelt family, gathered today for a conference in a hotel in a Washington suburb, to discuss the possibility of a new political party whose identity to our goals can be relied upon.

The conference will begin with a dinner tonight at which speakers will be Dr. Francis D. Roosevelt, Chester Bowles and Leon Henderson, former price administrators, and Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis.

Among those invited to join them in a closed meeting tomorrow are Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr.; Wilson W. Wyatt, recently resigned housing administrator; Elmer Davis, radio commentator; Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam, retiring president, Federal Council of Churches; Rep. Elmer A. Cunningham (D-Calif.); and former Reps. Jerry Voorhis of California and Mrs. Chase G. Woodhouse, Connecticut, both defeated in November.

HE HOPES TO CASH IN ON NEW CONGRESS—Undaunted by defeat in the last election and with an eye to the future, Rep. Victor Wickersham, right, established himself in the real estate business with hopes of cashing in on the Congressional turnover in Washington. Shown giving a sales talk to Judge Toby Morris, incoming Congressman from Oklahoma, Wickersham estimates there will be 1,000 Democrats who will leave their Washington homes and 2,000 Republicans who will want to buy homes.

Oath-Taking Blocked; Filibuster Threatens

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Theodore G. Bilbo (D-Miss.) walked up to the bar of the Senate to take his oath for a third term today and five minutes later returned to his seat without being sworn.

The oath-taking was blocked by Senator Taylor (D-Idaho) who opened a fight to oust Bilbo.

Threatened with a filibuster by Southern Democrats, the Senate became involved in a parliamentary tangle immediately after the convening of the new Republican-controlled Congress.

Bilbo got as far as the Senate rostrum in his effort to take office again despite charges by the Senate War Investigating Committee that he had used his position for his own personal gain.

With Senator Overton (D-La.), a supporter standing beside him, the brown-suited Bilbo listened without a word as Secretary Leslie L. Biffle presiding, ruled that Taylor's motion to keep the Mississippi from taking his seat had the right of way over any move to administer the oath.

Previously, Republicans, who had been fighting to keep Bilbo from officially taking his seat, blocked the usual swearing in of senators by quarts in the alphabetical order of their names.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) had offered a resolution to bar Bilbo now and take up his case in the Senate January 6. The effect of preventing the Mississippi from taking the oath was to prevent him from speaking in the Senate while his case is pending.

Ferguson's motion was lost in the shuffle when Taylor dramatically leaped to his feet and offered a resolution to bar Bilbo, charging that his actions were "tainted with fraud."

Fourteen Democratic senators organized today for "extended debate" against a Republican effort to bar Senator Bilbo (D-Miss) from taking his oath of office.

The showdown, which may tie up the Senate indefinitely, was set for 10 o'clock today.

Leader of the Democratic group is Senator Ellender (D-La.). Ellender was chairman of the special campaign investigating committee which looked into charges that Bilbo tried to intimidate Negroes from voting in Mississippi primary last summer.

Joining with Ellender were the...

'Camera' Victim Said Improving

Hospital authorities said her name had been removed from the critical list after amputation of her left leg yesterday, and that her condition was satisfactory.

Meanwhile, Miss Pearl Lusk, 18-year-old blonde who did the shooting, was held in $10,000 bail as a material witness in the case.

Immediately after the shooting, Miss Lusk told police that a man, whom she later identified from a picture as the victim's former husband, Alphonse Rocco, engaged her to take a picture of Mrs. Rocco and supplied a package which she said contained a camouflaged "X-ray camera." Instead it concealed a sawed-off shotgun and the full charge of the 12-gauge shell entered Mrs. Rocco's left hip.

Miss Lusk said the man represented himself as an insurance investigator on the trail of a jewel thief who carried stolen gems under her clothing and he needed a picture for evidence.

Rocco is the object of a nine-state...

Ed Bishop Sells Dalhart Texan

DALHART—(AP)—Management of the Dalhart Texan has been assumed by Albert Law, editor of the paper for 15 years.

The change follows sale of the newspaper by Publisher Ed Bishop to J. Kenneth Hogue, his brother, Mayor Harold Hogue, of Dalhart and Law.

Kenneth Hogue, Carnegie, Okla., attorney and former state representative, will become publisher of the Texan about April 1. Law will continue as editor.

Law served with the 50th AAA Brigade during World War II, entering the service as a lieutenant and being discharged as lieutenant colonel.

W. H. Flamm, advertising manager of the Texan, will continue at that position.

Bishop, publisher of the Texan to 1937, will continue to own and operate the office supply and printing department of the Texan, in partnership with Dan Engler.

Pampa-Phillips Cage Game Is Cancelled

Impossible roads between here and Phillips will prevent the Blackhawk squad from making the trip, according to Harvestor coach Ots Coffey.

Martin Is Named Speaker of House

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Triumphant Republicans quickly elected Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts speaker of the New House today but Senate organization for the 80th Congress stalled in debate over seating Theodore G. Bilbo of Mississippi. (See story Col. 5).

Martin, first Republican to take over the House gavel in 15 years, was elected 244 to 182. In a keynote speech he called upon Democrats to cooperate with his party in handling such postwar problems as labor laws, taxation and government economy.

The House was then ready for business with two major bills—a tax reduction measure and a comprehensive labor bill which would outlaw the closed shop and force arbitration of disputes in essential industries—already in the legislative hopper. (See story Col. 2).

But at the other end of the capitol, an exceptional and worthy wrangle over permitting Bilbo to serve a third term delayed organization of the Senate after only one new member—Haldwin of Connecticut—had taken the oath.

In the White House President Truman heard and saw the opening House proceedings by means of television.

The White House announced President Truman would deliver his state of the union message at a joint session of the House chamber Monday at 12 p. m. (EST), if both Houses are organized then.

Handcuffed jammed Capitol corridors hours before the opening gavel fell seeking admittance to Senate galleries to hear the scrap over Bilbo. Comparatively, calm reigned in the House galleries.

In the House, Ralph Roberts, retiring doorkeeper, rapped the gavel signaling the start of a potentially historic session. A prayer by the Rev. James Shera Montgomery was the first order of business.

Secretary Leslie L. Biffle banged the gavel in the Senate where the prayer was said by Chaplain Frederick Brown Harris.

Southern Democrats made it plain they would not talk the efforts of Republicans and some Democrats to prevent Bilbo, who was been accused by the Senate War Investigating Committee of using his office for personal gain in dealings with war contractors, from taking his seat today.

Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) told a reporter there will be "considerable debate."

Senator Tatt (R-Ohio), chairman of the Republican Steering committee, retorted "we have a way to beat that."

"Cloture," he explained to reporters, "is a rule limiting debate. It requires a two-thirds vote for adoption."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) had a resolution ready which would bar Bilbo and set his case for hearing January 6.

With only two holdover members reported absent, the Senate convened at 12:30 p. m.

Capitol Hill Is All Confusion as Congress Meets

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress goes to work today, and just in time, too. All is confusion on Capitol Hill.

For example:

Call the House Naval Affairs Committee, and what do you get? A fellow says "House Naval Affairs Committee."

Now this is very interesting because there isn't any such thing as a House Naval Affairs Committee. It went out of business, legally, yesterday. All military and naval matters now belong to the House Armed Services Committee.

But ask for the House Armed Services Committee, and what do you get? Nothing at all, that's what.

Things are messed up, because Congress is reorganizing. It is cutting the House committees from 48 to 19. The Senate committees will shrink from 33 to 15.

The cut became effective yesterday. But it's obvious the new committees can't be set up until Congress gets around to this chore, probably late today.

Even after Congress sets up its new committees, there will be headaches.

Each committee has its clerk, its room, its files. All these will have to be combined.

As one clerk gloomily put it to a reporter:

"We don't know what to do with our records. We don't know where to go. We don't know what our job is. Hey, maybe I don't even have a job!"

So welcome home, Congress. Bring your log lights with you?

'Meanest Thief' Drains Anti-Freeze From Car

Pampa's nominee for the "world's meanest thief" drained the anti-freeze from a 1942 Pontiac sedan belonging to Frances Green, Daily News circulation manager, last night.

Green said his car was parked in front of his home at 802 N. Russell when the anti-freeze was stolen.

The car "froze up" but was not badly damaged, Green reported.

Special TSCW Bus Reported Cancelled

A special bus, scheduled to carry Panhandle students at Texas State College for Women back to school Sunday, will not run as had been originally planned, it was learned here today.

The scheduled trip has been canceled and students will be required to arrange their own transportation, it was said.

Cancellation was due to highway conditions.

Expedition to Antarctic Set

BEAUMONT—(AP)—The Ronne Antarctic expedition headed by Commander Finn Ronne will sail from Beaumont between Jan. 15 and 20 in a reconconditioned navy seacraft which has been rechristened "Antarctic" and named "Port of Beaumont, Texas."

Twenty-one men will accompany Ronne on the privately sponsored expedition to carry out scientific research in the Palmer Peninsula area.

The ship, with approximately 1200 tons of equipment and food aboard, is being loaded to Commander Ronne by the Navy at the 15-month journey. It is now undergoing a complete reconconditioning at Pennsylvania shipyards where work is about half done.

Ronne, whose father accompanied Roald Amundsen on the trip which led to the discovery of the South Pole in 1911, first went to the Antarctic in 1933 as a ski expert under Adm. Richard E. Byrd. He was second in command to Admiral Byrd on the expedition to the United States at the outbreak of World War II.

The Ronne expedition's base will be considerably east of the site chosen by the Byrd expedition now en route to the Antarctic.

THE STORY: The Major is having a party and is looking for a girl to be his date. He asks the Major's approval before proposing to Rose.

XXII
ROSE was standing in River Park, a blistering noontide sun shining upon her and upon Richard Ewen—just standing there, and the narrow path between them was wide as the Grand Canyon. She was saying something which she had known for weeks must be said.

"I can't be like this, Rick. I can't. Because this isn't enough." "I'm willing to grant you it isn't enough, Rose. But it's the best I can do. So here we are, chewing the rag as usual." He got out his watch, looked at it. "My train leaves at twelve-thirty."

"If you just didn't have to go to Chicago, if we could ever discuss it all, every bit, without being angry..." "Well, I do have to go. Why don't you go with me, honey?" "You're joking, of course."

"Think so?" He reached for her hands. "No... It isn't enough," she said. "I'm not of the kind of person I am. Some day I might not meet you day after day at Labry's, skulking off into the park or any hidden spot we can think of. Some girls would be tickled to death to meet me here. There are plenty of girls, honey."

"Oh, yes! And I suppose you were with one of them yesterday and Monday and Saturday of last week—while I worried?" "Jealous, aren't you?" "She winked. She hadn't meant to say that, about the worrying. But she wouldn't retract."

"God deliver me from a jealous woman!" he exclaimed, and

THE WORD MADE FLESH
Scripture, John 1:1-18
By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
According to St. John, differs greatly from the first Gospel in that it is a story of the life of Jesus, not a collection of sayings and parables. It is the only Gospel which tells of the birth of Jesus, and of his baptism by John the Baptist. It is the only Gospel which tells of the wedding at Cana, and of the raising of Lazarus from the dead.

Advice Concerning Temperature Given By Health Officer
AUSTIN—With the advent of cold weather, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, has issued some temperature advice concerning room temperature and its relations to health. "It is very important that inside temperature be maintained at a temperature of 70 to 72 degrees," Dr. Cox said. "Thousands of homes are continually overheated in the winter, and a degree of heat is often demanded that would not be tolerated in the summertime."

TOPICS FOR SUNDAY, January 5, 1947:

IS CONSCIENCE A SAFE GUIDE?

No! The standard of righteousness is set by God. That standard is revealed to man through his word. Ps. 119:172; 2 Tim. 3:14-17. All who follow God's word are right. All people who follow their consciences, in violation to God's word, are wrong. If things were made right by man thinking them to be right; then there could be as many standards of right as there are men.

2—CAN MAN DIRECT HIS WAY?
No! "It is not in man that walketh to direct his steps." Jer. 10:23-25. There are two prevailing powers on earth! One is of God, the other of the Devil. One or the other of these powers is guiding every person. God exerts his power, to guide man, through the gospel of Christ. Mk. 16:15, 16; Rom. 1:16, 17; Gal. 1:6; Rev. 22:14, 15. All who know the gospel of Christ, and obey it, are being directed by God's power. All others are being directed by the Devil's power. The Devil has no written law. But all laws, and ways of men, that violate God's written law, are laws of the Devil. The Devil's "ministers fashion them as ministers of righteousness." 2 Cor. 11:14, 15. These ministers of the Devil teach error in the form of righteousness. Therefore, all who accept the error, can serve the Devil in all good conscience.

3—IS IT SAFE TO FOLLOW THE WAY THAT SEEMS RIGHT TO MAN,
No, not every time! "Every way of a man is right in his own eyes." There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death. "The way of a fool is right in his own eyes; But he that is wise harkeneth unto counsel." Prov. 21:2; 16:25; 12:15. Man's way seems right. God's way is right. Man has always wanted to have his way. God has shown him that it is not good for him to have his way. But if he persists, God allows him to go on and bring suffering upon himself. The wise harken to the counsel of God.

4—ARE NOT GOD'S AND MAN'S WAYS ALIKE?
No! Not at all! "For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, saith Jehovah. For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways, and my thoughts than your thoughts." Isa. 55:8, 9. Since God's thoughts and ways are so much higher than man's thoughts and ways, man should be willing to surrender his thoughts and ways and accept God's thoughts and ways. Every thought and way of man should be brought in obedience to Christ. 2 Cor. 10:3-6. Man should become reconciled to God.

5—HOW CAN MAN BECOME RECONCILED TO GOD?
Not by following the dictates of his own conscience. But by obedience to the gospel of Christ. 2 Cor. 5:17-20. The gospel of Christ is the only safe guide. All had better follow Christ instead of their conscience.

6—IS THERE ANY BIBLE CHARACTER THAT WENT WRONG BY FOLLOWING HIS CONSCIENCE?
Yes! Saul, the leader of the sect of the Pharisees, did all he could to destroy "The Church of Christ." He consented to Stephen's death. He laid waste of the church. He breathed out threats and slaughter against the disciples of the Lord. Acts 7:58; 8:1-3; 9:1-18. He did these evil deeds in all good conscience. Acts 23:1; 24:16. His conscience didn't hurt him one bit while he persecuted Christ by persecuting his Church. But did that mean that it was safe for him to follow his conscience? No! He would have been lost if he had not obeyed the gospel of Christ. So will all people be lost if they do not obey Christ. (Subject to be continued! Clip this and save it.)

The Central Church of Christ wishes for you the best of everything all through the New Year, and throughout life. ABOVE EVERYTHING ELSE, WE WISH YOU WOULD LEARN GOD'S WILL AND DO IT! "Blessed are they that do HIS COMMANDMENTS, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city. For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whatsoever loveth and maketh a lie." Rev. 22:14, 15. IF YOU SHOULD DIE NOW, WHICH PLACE WOULD BE YOURS? ARE YOU LOOKING FOR YOU SUNDAY!

The Fighting 36th Tells Its All-American Story

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—The "Lone Star" state of Texas, never bashful of its territorial claims, formally admitted the rest of America into its union in the last world war. It did it through its own dough-boy army—The Fighting 36th Infantry Division.

Everyone knows that Texas practically subsidized the Army Air Corps, but it may come as a surprise to some isolated outlanders to learn that there were still enough Texans left to climb out of their saddles and organize one of the best outfits of "walking soldiers" of the entire war.

They took in "doughboys" from every other state in the Union and taught them to be proud of the blue-and-gold "T" patch of Texas. Men like "Commando" Kelly of Pittsburgh, first soldier to win the Congressional Medal of Honor in Europe.

If you want to telescope the war life of 50,000 Americans of every creed, class and nationality, take an evening off and read "A Pictorial History of the 36th Division" published by the 36th Division Association of Austin, Texas. It is one of the best of many fine division histories being put out at their own expense by fighting men to keep alive the flame they fought for. It is a simple chronicle of words and pictures that tell the tale of supreme battle efforts by a "hard luck" outfit that won through disaster to whatever glory victory brings. To me the most impressive part of the book is the last half—a 150-page roll call of the men who wore the "T" patch, with no distinction between the dead and living. All alike served their country—and the 36th.

The 36th fought through four countries—Italy, France, Germany and Austria. In 336 days of combat it won fifteen Congressional Medals of Honor and ten presidential unit citations, and captured 17,896 prisoners, including Herman Goerring, Field Marshal Gerd von Rundstedt and Dr. Hans Frank.

Only two other American divisions suffered more than its 27,343 casualties—3,974 killed, 19,952 wounded and 4,317 missing in action. Field Marshal Albert Kesselring, Nazi defensive master who made a bitter mockery of Winston Churchill's "soft underbelly of the Axis" once termed the Third and Thirty-Sixth Infantry Divisions the finest he had faced.

"I've been continually amazed by their audacity, at their long flanking tactics and the way they turned up in so many different places," he said at war's end. "I've had to pit my best troops against them."

The nip-and-tuck fighting at Salerno, their battle debut, and the fiasco at the Rapido River—a name that resounds with blood—are probably the battles that hold the most memories for 36th veterans. The history doesn't renew directly the criticism made by a number of 36th Division officers and men against General Mark Clark for the controversial order which called for the fruitless Rapido attack that cost the division the better part of two regiments.

It merely says: "The physical odds were too great. This was apparent before the attack to all experienced soldiers." Summarizing the mountain fight-

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—I wonder whatever happened to Jerry. Jerry was the first little kid I ever met in the big city.

That was ten years ago. I was living in a one-and-a-half room shelf in Greenwich Village. Jerry was just about the age to start messing up the streets with bubble gum.

He was blond, blue-eyed and tough with the street toughness of pavement urchins. He lived with his mother and father—a dockworker—in a narrow dark railroad flat.

I met him first in one of the corner tobacco and candy stores which in lower New York serve as neighborhood clubs. As I remember I helped Jerry out of a financial difficulty. He was trying to arrange with the proprietor to buy a penny piece of licorice on the installment plan.

He liked me right away. Not because I extended him the loan of a Lincoln-head, but because of my funny accent. I had just moved in from Kansas City. I thought Jerry's accent was pretty funny, too. He called me "Mister Burl."

When I married, my wife became "Mrs. Burl" to Jerry. He called on us one morning and was given a sample of a strange delicious fluid hitherto unknown to him.

"What is it?" he asked. It was orange juice. And the next day at breakfast time there was Jerry at the door with two of his young pals to taste this mysterious new drink.

Jerry and I explored other worlds together. He told me many things about New York life—he was wise about neighborhood gossip he was much too young to know—and I told him about cows and horses. When I informed him about where his daily milk came from, he asked, "How many faucets are there on these cows?"

To impress me with what a little man he was Jerry would wait until I came down the street and then knock one of the neighbor girls on her ear—always one larger than himself.

To discourage him of this I had to buy a couple of gloves and a baseball and play catch with him at five paces. But I was working the "lobster trick"—from midnight until 8 a.m.—and had to sleep during the day wearing earplugs and a black mask to shut out the noise and light.

We had to set definite game hours after impatient Jerry began showing up under our window at noon and bellowing up plaintively: "Mrs. Burl! Oh, Mrs. Burl. Can Mr. Burl come out and play now?"

One morning Jerry came and drank his orange juice in silence. As he left, he said: "My pop and mom and us are moving away today. Away up to the Bronx."

He shut the door fast and ran downstairs. When I awoke that afternoon he and his family were gone. I wonder whatever has happened to Jerry? I guess I'm glad I never saw him grow up. He is the nicest memory I have of the Manhattan I came to a decade ago this month—a Manhattan that is now somehow lost.

Virtually all of France's railroads, more than half of which were destroyed during the war, have been reconstructed.

Lions to Assist With Salvation Army Drive

Miss Jean Pratt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Pratt, was introduced at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the club held in the Methodist Church yesterday.

The new sweetheart is 17 years old. She is an outstanding scholar, a member of the National Honor Society, and is also a member of the Little Harvester staff.

During the business session of the meeting 20 members of the Lions Club volunteered to help with the Salvation Army Campaign to raise $6,500 for work during 1947 and for the purpose of purchasing the local workers a car for use in their work.

The campaign will get under way at a big "Kickoff Breakfast" to be held in Wilma's Cafe at 8 a. m. next Tuesday morning. B. R. Nuckols, chairman of the campaign, announced at the meeting. Following the breakfast, the group will formulate plans to visit local business houses and solicit contributions to the fund.

During the entertainment program the club members helped each other by offering New Year's resolutions for one another to live up to in 1947.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
Well, the other morning I started to make some New Year's resolutions, but I couldn't think of anything that needed reforming.

George said I might make a resolution about my auto driving, but that's silly. How could I resolve to drive a car when I have a car?

Therefore, I very unselfishly devoted my time to drawing up a list of resolutions for George, but he stopped me when I had got only to the thirty-fourth item and was just warming up to the job.

Needless to say, he went right out and bought a cigar and once again I proved that a woman has superior will power. Also, all the hat stores were closed.

ONE REASON FOR PEACE

An atomic bomb one thousand times more powerful than the one which exploded at Hiroshima is now possible, writes Stephen White in an article entitled "Peace—Or Hell on Earth" in the Jan. 4, issue of Liberty.

Mr. White, who bases his conclusion on talks with most of the important nuclear physicists in this country, draws a terrifying word-picture of what would happen if such a super-A-bomb exploded 15 miles over Newark, New Jersey.

"There would be no noise worth mentioning," he writes, "... a super A-bomb makes almost no noise at all. The answer lies in the height at which the bomb is detonated. Noise is carried by air. Fifteen miles above the ground there is practically no air. Hence the bomb goes off almost soundlessly. It is the greatest explosion in the world, bursting in horrible silence.

"And if that is not fantastic enough, consider this: There is no blast. For blast, too, is carried by air, and when no air exists to carry the shock wave, there is simply no shock. On the ground below, nothing would be knocked over... not a leaf would stir (But this is foolish, for there would be no leaves, as shall see in a moment)."

According to Mr. White, there would be no radio-activity either—because of the height of detonation. "What, then," asks Mr. White, "does our super A-bomb have to make it so horrible?"

The answer is frightening. It has, in terrifying amounts, the most venomous weapon the world knows, and the oldest—heat... for the heat does not need air to carry it. There is little air between us and the sun and we feel the heat strongly enough, if we stay in it our skin burns. This is not the heat of the sun. This is three times hotter than the temperature in the center of the sun, and it is only a few miles away. From the center of the bomb this great heat comes pouring out, smashing through the air at the speed of light, doing its work as it reaches matter in its path. It passes in a fraction of a second, but in that time it has done its work.

Under this violent heat, Newark bursts into flames. It is not a fire; it is almost an explosion. Newark will be leveled. There will be no one alive. Clothes catch fire, exposed skin burns away, dying people are trapped in burning buildings. The heat of the bomb will not bring buildings to the ground but the heat of the fires started by the bomb will do that quickly. There will, of course, be no point in trying to fight such a fire. In any case, there will be no one to fight it...

Across the Hudson River in Manhattan there will be survivors... At the end of a few hours the fire will have done its worst in Manhattan and in Queens and Brooklyn. There will be no city left, only death and destruction... How many people will die in New York? Two million, three million, six million. Set your own figure. When it becomes that large, it has no real meaning. Add in those who will die in Patterson, Linden, and the other New Jersey cities that were on the periphery. Our bomb has destroyed, in a few unimaginable minutes, the great industrial heart of America.

All this, of course, may be mere conjecture on the part of the author—but there can be no doubt of the efficiency of the atomic bomb for killing people and for general destruction.

Faced with this picture, the peoples of the world will do well to consider the path to peace—a true world peace—and drive from their hearts the causes of war.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By GLENN BABB
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
(Subbing for Mackenzie)

With Poland's national elections little more than a fortnight off, evidence accumulates that they are highly unlikely to be the "free and unfettered elections" as promised by two of the Big Three at Potsdam. The four-party government bloc, with its communist core, appears to be taking no chances on a popular verdict that would mean the end of the opposition declares that many forms of intimidation and violence are being used to reduce its chances to a minimum.

All indications are that the voting, set for January 19, will just be one more in the series of elections with which Soviet-sponsored regimes in the Russian satellite states are being given the appearance of having been chosen by Democratic, legal methods. Such elections have placed or confirmed communist-dominated governments in power in Rumania, Bulgaria, and now the process is being repeated in the largest and most important of the satellites. The result will be further strain on the relations of Russia and the Atlantic powers.

As in the cases of Rumania and Bulgaria, the American and British governments have recorded their convictions that the Polish elections will not be all they should be. Britain and America base their interest on the Potsdam accord, which stated:

"The three powers (United States, Britain and Russia) note that the Polish provisional government in accordance with the decisions of the Crimean conference (Yalta) has agreed to the holding of free and unfettered elections as soon as possible on the basis of universal suffrage and secret ballot. In Poland the Democratic and anti-Nazi parties shall have the right to take part and put forward candidates, and that representatives of the Allied powers shall enjoy full freedom to report to the world upon developments in Poland before and during the elections."

The latter part of that pledge apparently is being followed, since foreign correspondents have been permitted to travel about Poland and send uncensored accounts abroad. But the latter part of the pledge has not gone so well. The Potsdam accord was announced Aug. 2, 1945. The elections which were to come "as soon as possible" have been deferred more than 17 months. And opponents of the government bloc say the voting will be anything but "free and unfettered."

The ancient Sumerians had a system of numbers based on sixties rather than on the tens used in modern arithmetic.

NEW-MODEL CONGRESS

WASHINGTON, (NEA) — There has been more than the usual amount of grief in high places, trying to make government budget estimates for the fiscal year beginning next July 1. Exact amounts requested for such federal agencies are still restricted information. They will be released only when the President's budget message goes to Congress.

It is safe to bet that no government department asked for less money than it is now getting. But there have been two pressures to pare these amounts down. First is the President's own desire for economy. Second is pressure from the new Republican majorities in Congress, who have been talking but vaguely about cutting the budget from this year's $41.5 billion to $25 or even $20 billion.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

Answering a Worker's Wife
A reader of this column takes exception to my article under the heading, "A Government Labor Board?" In this article I claimed there should be no such thing as a labor "dispute" and that we should define our terms when we talk about collective bargaining. I also claimed that no group of laborers had a moral right to combine by seniority or otherwise to keep other workers from competing.

I quote the housewife's letter: "To the Editor: "As far as when he compares the working man to the common burglar as he did in his column entitled 'A Government Labor Board?'"

"I quote you, Mr. Holles, one shouldn't use terms or phrases loosely. Would you not say it is his God-given right for a man to protect his seniority? In that he may have given years to get to the top. No man denies that another may be as capable as he. If an employer can hire a man for less it is only human nature he may wish to do so.

"Labor has been trampled upon in the past that they have the idea of 'together we stand, divided we fall.' Collective bargaining has come in for knocks recently but this doesn't mean it should be discarded as you seem to imply.

"Your column is frank, but for your freedom of the press means picturing on one side only, both sides, then let the people judge. We are an open minded public.

"When labor is oppressed there can be no harmony, whether from too much unionization, or lack of cooperation on the part of employer.

The Answer "A Worker's Wife." It is difficult to answer questions when terms, such as "oppressed," "harmony," "protect" and "trampled upon," are used so loosely.

The contributor asks whether I would not say it is the workers' God-given right to protect his seniority. That would all depend upon what one meant by "protect." It is certainly not the right of any man to hold a position by conspiracy and get more for doing a job than other men are able and willing to do the same job for. Such "protection" is simply the caste system. It is simply a method of plundering, robbing or exploiting another worker who has to buy the service at a high price because of higher costs due to seniority.

Will the worker who is presently being paid less be willing to do the same job for just because he got the job first is to deny the principle of equality of opportunity on which Christianity is based and on which this government is or should be based. It is a method of plundering, robbing or exploiting another worker who has to buy the service at a high price because of higher costs due to seniority.

To claim that one man is entitled to get more for a job than another man is willing to do the same job for just because he got the job first is to deny the principle of equality of opportunity on which Christianity is based and on which this government is or should be based. It is a method of plundering, robbing or exploiting another worker who has to buy the service at a high price because of higher costs due to seniority.

The reason collective bargaining has come in for knocks is recently that it is so enlarged that people can now begin to see the harm resulting from it. But it is just as wicked on a small scale as it is on a large scale. It is only easier to see the harm than the benefit.

The contributor says the column is frank but, for freedom of the press means picturing one side only. It does not mean anything of the kind. It means an attempt to show that the working man cannot improve his lot as a whole by combining to prevent competition. It is competition that is the cause of all progress. Any group that bargains with competition, whether it be laborers, employers or the government, keeps down the standard of living of the workers as a whole.

Will the worker's wife please define what she means by "oppressed," "trampled upon," "protect" and "cooperation"? There can be no cooperation unless all workers are considered. The only way collective bargaining knows of helping the worker is to deny other workers the right to compete.

There certainly can not be "too much" unionization by way of collective bargaining in principle. If it is sound in principle, the more we have the better off we will be. If it is unsound in principle, which it most certainly is, there should be no collective bargaining.

It is difficult to prove to anybody who does not believe in the competitive system that a newspaper gives both sides. The side that believes in the competitive system has a single idea in mind that believes in the collective bargaining theory has as many ideas as there are individuals. It is impossible to give all the different ideas of people who do not believe in the competitive system. There are trillions of different ideas against the competitive system, and they are all wrong because none of them respects the equality of all men before the law as they are before God.

There are other cushions which were not present in previous recessions, to wit: Billions still to be collected in unemployment insurance; a backlog of savings, including cashable government and veterans' bonds; the 52-20 "club" for veterans.

It is also estimated that several million of the temporarily unemployed in 1947 or early 1948 could find work by turning to school teaching (there is a shortage of 37,000 instructors); by enlisting or re-enlisting in the armed services; by going back to the farms; or by resuming their former positions as domestics.

These are the major reasons why President Truman's aides, including his Economic Advisory Council, believe that the 1947-1948 cycle will bring in such a way as to benefit him in 1948.

"CREDIT"—But the Republican Congress, which meets today can repeal or beautify the political picture. For the legislators, rather than President Truman, will have final say on disposition of the one problem which lies at the core of all hopes for continued prosperity—labor strife and disturbances that block full production.

If the Republican Congress can enact a new law which will prevent work without pay, there will be a fierce industrial war. These Truman expectations will be realized. If not, all bets for immediate or long-range prosperity are off.

Who will get the ballot-box credit for continuing or ending the cycle of good times—the GOP statesmen in Capitol Hill or the Democratic Administration at the downtown?

At Pennsylvania Avenue—will be up to the voters to decide at the polls in 1948!

First commercial citrus grove was planted in 1904 in Texas.

For national defense, you may have a pretty close estimate of what it will take to run the federal government next year. The Army and Navy, incidentally, can't be cut below their present strengths if present occupational commitments in Europe and the Pacific are to be carried out.

FACE THE FACTS
This is the kind of realistic thinking people must follow when talking about reducing government expenses. Most of the post-election economy talk by victorious Republicans has been strictly through the hat.

Economics can be made — yes. Some items in this year's budget won't recur next year. War agencies are disappearing. No more loans to Britain. Subsidies are over. So is UNRRA. But the public debt is still more than $260 billion—over $180 per capita—and the interest on it alone is $3 billion a year—eight-sixth of present government expenditures.

Government payrolls run about one-sixth of the total expense. Programs to cut federal employment to 500,000 are poppycock when it takes 440,000 to run the Post Office Department and half that number to run the Veterans' Administration.

In Hollywood

By FRANKIE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Lillian Russell is back on the screen again, this time in "My Wild Irish Rose," a flimsial of the mustache-cup era. Lillian's only living relative, a daughter in the East, must be making a small fortune giving Hollywood permission to have the 1900 glamor girl portrayed on the screen.

There's no accounting for Hollywood. When an acting neophyte of promise passes a film test and wins a contract, the first thing the studio biggies order is a new name. Something glamorous, exotic and heroic.

Bill Smith becomes Spencer Tryon or Errol Gable, and Sophie Schmeitz suddenly becomes Joan Carmen—or maybe even Tamara du Bois.

But what happens when Tamara du Bois arrives in Hollywood? Well, Hollywood signs her to a contract and then changes her name to Paula Drew.

"Things are different now," observed Kenny the other day.

Between chores as a radio actor and Columbia's Lone Wolf, Gerald Mohr is playing Treason, the Devil, opposite Bob Cummings' Archangel Mike in "Heaven Only Knows."

Before the war Mohr played only killers. Now casting directors have discovered him as a leading man.

In this first fling at the part, there was a reunion between the Lone Wolf and his long-time valet, Eric Blore, kith Blore saying: "You haven't changed a bit, sir." Audiences howled, and Columbia finally had to cut the line from the picture.

The Lone Wolf had changed a good deal—from Warren William to Gerald Mohr.

Lionel Barrymore has ordered a helicopter. But flying is nothing new to him. He's held a pilot's license since 1917. Now he'll have a pilot's style-setting Joan Crawford draws a "boo" from the Fashion Creators of America—she doesn't wear a single hat in "Humoresque."
