SMALL NATIONS ATTACK SECURITY COUNCIL

Efforts Fail to Block Criticism

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y.—P—Despite strenuous efforts of Soviet Russia to block criticism of the United Nations security council, Egypt and Argentina yesterday led a small-nations attack on the council for rejecting the applications of Ireland, Portugal, Transjordan, Albania and Outer Mongolia for U. N. membership.

The sharpest attack came from Argentine Delegate Jose Arce, who protested particularly against use of the veto on membership applications and declared that if this procedure is to be followed "it is better if the other 46 nations simply folded up our papers and turned over to the five great powers the solution of our problems."

Woman 'Tired of Playing Tag' Is Held for Robbery

DALLAS—P—Carl Booth, Alabama state solicitor, filed charges of robbery in Mobile late today against the pretty brunette who surrendered to Dallas police Friday because she said she was "tired of playing tag" with the law after a restaurant robbery in Mobile.

Booth said that a deputy sheriff and a jail matron would leave tonight for Dallas and that the restaurant owner was paying for the extradition.

Detective Capt. Will Fritz said she gave her name as Evelyn Cornish Clobaker, 26. He said she unraveled $21 in currency from her curls, and informed him that it was part of about $700 taken in a Mobile, Ala., restaurant robbery Thursday.

Capt. Fritz, who said he was convinced of her identity, said he believed she was the woman who disappeared from an Atlanta, Ga., tourist camp Oct. 19, leaving behind a tear-stained note and a marriage license torn to shreds.

At Cleveland today, William F. Clobaker, 29, a marine corps veteran, said he'd go to her help if he had the money. He said their had been a "quickie" marriage, and that he didn't know about her prison record in Louisiana.

Meanwhile, Capt. Fritz said he could hold her for a "reasonable length of time" for Alabama officers.

Mrs. Clobaker told Dallas officials she married a man who secured her discharge from the Angola prison farm in Louisiana last year.

Violence Erupts Anew in Palestine

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
JERUSALEM—P—A jeep hit a roadside Saturday night near Petah Tikva and a bomb exploded near a bridge over the Kishon river in the vicinity of Haifa as new violence erupted in the Holy Land at the end of a one-day strike of Palestinian Arabs against the Balfour declaration.

One soldier in the jeep was wounded seriously and another was cut and bruised, military sources said. The bridge was undamaged. The jeep was the fourth to be blasted by roadmines this week during which five British soldiers have been killed and 28 injured.

The traditional one-day Arab strike, coupled with the Jewish Sabbath, had placed the Holy Land in a virtual state of paralysis.

Only violence reported in connection with the Arab strike was the stoning of British military vehicles by groups of Arab children at Ramleh, Arab city between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv. No damage was done other than that by a few rocks which missed the vehicles and sailed into Arab homes.

Sunday the Jews have called a general strike in protest against the deportation of immigrants to Cyprus. Despite the quiet, police and military authorities maintained sharp vigil over the entire restive country.

Pampa Daily News Has Signed the 1947 Contract for All-American Soap Box Derby, New Rule Changes Are Listed

The Pampa Daily News yesterday signed a contract with All-American Soap Box Derby, Inc. for the 10th annual running of this boy classic, in 1947.

Already interest is beginning to be shown here in the prospects for next year's race. The contest here this year, with 19 entries in the actual running, created such interest that there was considerable congestion of traffic at the site of the race on the Old Miami highway north of Pampa.

Plans are to be worked out for better arrangement next year, so that the traffic will not be hampered by, nor will it hamper, the preparations for the race.

Important changes in the rules for the derby, which is sponsored annually by the Chevrolet division of General Motors, the local Chevrolet dealer, the city's newspaper and one civic group, have already been announced.

The rules pertain to construction for the car. The new rules permit several new types of construction, and ban other types. They generally emphasize safety in every feature of the racers.

The new rules will disqualify for the race, floor mats, all make cars, Lloyd's Magnolia Service Station, P. O. 99, 120 S. Cuyler. (Adv.)

Search for Bodies Of Flvers Pressed

WASHINGTON—P—Hostile waves and monsoons are hampering the search for bodies of 1,378 American flyers missing in Southeast Asian jungles, the war department reported last night, but efforts to find them are to be resumed on a larger scale.

An American search party escorted by a French military escort of six soldiers was ambushed in French Indo-China Aug. 16 by some 40 hostile Annamites and forced to turn back.

The group was seeking the remains of seven navy aviators who escaped to the hills after their plane crashed but subsequently were ambushed by Japanese and Annamites.

Other reports to Maj. Gen. Thomas B. Larner, chief of the American graves registration service and army quartermaster general, said natives in New Britain island in the Pacific theater are cooperating willingly and have directly aided in the remote scenes of many air crashes.

The war department announced that with the end of the monsoon season in Southeast Asia, ten search and recovery teams will take up the task of locating the bodies of 1,378 air force flyers in the India-Burma zone.

500 Parking Meters To Get New Clocks

All of Pampa's 500 parking meters are to be equipped with new clocks under the maintenance guarantee made by the Mi-Co Parking Meter corporation of Covington, Ky.

City Manager Garland Franks said Friday that the clocks now in use were not built to keep out dust. The new clocks are sealed to keep out all dust and other particles.

A company repairman is expected here within the next few days to begin the work.

The change will be made at no cost to the city.

Mobeetie Man Is Injured in Fall

C. F. Dawson, Mobeetie, was rushed to Pampa hospital Saturday afternoon after he had fallen on the pavement in the 500 block of S. Barnes St., according to a report from the Duengel-Carmichael ambulance service.

Attendants at the ambulance service said they had received the call around 1:35 p. m. and that they were told Dawson was walking along the pavement when he suddenly stumbled and fell.

Attendants at Pampa hospital stated that Dawson had sustained a fractured leg and was conscious upon arrival there.

More Miners Quitting Work By Hundreds

WASHINGTON—P—More 500-mining miners quit work by the hundreds yesterday in connection with John L. Lewis' new contract negotiations, while the operators protested that any further wage concessions would price coal right out of the fuel market.

William Blizard, president of the United Mine Workers District 17 in West Virginia, said the walkout "is spreading, but we are doing all we can to prevent it."

Reports from management and union sources indicated some 10,000 miners were idle in West Virginia and Pike county, Kentucky, with others idle in Tennessee.

With the wage talks between the administration and Lewis in recess until Monday, a national coal association statement said "our whole national economy trembles in jeopardy" while the government and the "big boss of the United Mine Workers play a game of checkers with a three-billion-dollar industry."

Both the union and the government said they expect the closed mines to reopen Monday. But John E. Baile, executive secretary of the coal association, declared there may be an epidemic of stoppages to block any accumulation of coal reserves.

Aides of Lewis said there will be no general mine strike for the time being. Lewis seeks new pay and other concessions for his 400,000 miners from the interior department, which has been operating the mines since last May under a White House seizure order.

So far, Coal Mines Administrator N. H. Collinson has merely listened while Lewis aides outlined the situation which they maintain justifies their demands. Lewis apparently is waiting until Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Smith returns from the West coast before he puts in a personal appearance at the negotiations.

The National Coal Association said that high coal prices already have caused the fuel to lose ground to oil and gas, and that further hikes in wages and prices will speed this trend.

30 Absentee Ballots Are Filed in County

With the general election absentee voting deadline passed County Clerk Charlie Tuck gathered a total of 30 ballots to be filed.

Absentee voters had until Nov. 1 to cast their ballot and place them in the county clerk's care until the day of general election, Tuesday, Nov. 5, when they will be counted along with the rest of the votes.

All absentee ballots are kept in sealed envelopes until after the polls close.

Invitation Issued To Visit Schools

All parents and patrons of Pampa public schools have been extended an invitation to visit the local schools during the week, Nov. 10-16, according to Superintendent Knox Kinard.

Visitation of local schools is a part of the program planned in the 26th annual observance of American Education Week. The general theme for the week's observance this year is "Education for the Atomic Age."

"An acquaintance with the teachers might be the most effective way for promoting the welfare of the children who attend the public schools," Superintendent Kinard said in extending the visitation invitation.

"The teachers and students will welcome you and it is my hope that everybody wants peace and tolerance" in formulating treaties for the five vanquished satellites of Nazi Germany.

Arriving aboard the Aquitania for the four-power foreign ministers session which opens at 4 p. m. Monday to settle the peace that the United Nations is pledged to keep, Bevin said.

"We will see if we can work the treaties into permanent documents and end the state of war. One thing is quite clear and that is that everybody wants peace and is tired of conflict and turmoil."

French Deputy Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, who also arrived on the Aquitania for the four-power meeting, said he thought the foreign ministers would first discuss a treaty with Germany "on about the 20th of November" after the treaties for Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland had been concluded.

In this connection, Bevin approved a request by Belgium and the Netherlands to participate in the four-power discussion on Germany.

Although Bevin did not mention that he intended to confer immediately with Secretary of State James F. Byrnes on Anglo-American strategy in the peace deliberations, an authorized source said he would probably see the American official within 36 hours on this matter.

Gov. Stevenson Asks All Texans to Vote

AUSTIN—P—Gov. Coke Stevenson Saturday urged Texans to vote next Tuesday.

"Every citizen should vote every time he gets a chance," Stevenson declared. "It makes a man more directly interested in his government and avoids possibility of any unrest."

The governor said a large vote was necessary where proposed amendments to the constitution are concerned.

"If an amendment fails or passes by only a slight margin in a light vote the legislature never knows if that the true sentiment of the majority of the citizens are not," he said. "I certainly want to urge Texans to turn out and vote."

Three amendments will be voted on at the general election Tuesday. The veterans land amendment will be voted on at a special election Thursday.

Meanwhile, proponents and opponents of the four constitutional amendments were lining up their closing appeals this week-end.

Stevenson earlier in the week had said he would vote for all four of them.

State Treasurer Jesse James also spoke for all four amendments to voters, predicting a passage of all of them "if we have a big turnout of voters."

Lining up behind the good roads amendment were numerous educational leaders.

"Let's provisions will be a direct benefit to our educational progress," he said.

Four Members of Anti-Negro Order Thrown in Jail

ATLANTA—P—Four members of Columbians, Inc., an anti-Negro secret order accused by police of trying to usurp their powers and by civic group spokesmen of being "hate-preaching" and "Hitler-like," landed in jail yesterday on charges of "inciting a riot."

Police swooped down on a demonstration against a Negro family moving into a house formerly occupied by white tenants and jailed the four on verbal-on-the-scene orders of Chief M. A. Hornsby.

"Captain, do your duty—lock them up."

The other was addressed to Capt. W. M. Weaver, who with other high ranking officers had jumped into a police car with the chief and accompanied him to a dirt road residential area where about 50 persons were carrying on the demonstration.

The four were booked on the formal charge of "disorderly conduct—inciting a riot and held in default of $5,000 bond each."

They were docketed as Homer L. Loomis, Jr., 32; James M. Akins, 18; Jack Price, 27, and R. L. Whitman, 33. All except Whitman, the police said, gave local headquarters of the order as their address.

Chief Hornsby wasted no words at the demonstration scene. Encountering the Columbians' leaders one after another he flatly accused them of "trying to stir up trouble" and ordered them jailed.

Loomis, local secretary of the order, arrived in the midst of the police activity. Hornsby turned to him and demanded:

"What are you doing out here?" "I came to help the people."

"Lock him up," the chief ordered. As Negroes and whites faced each other across the street, the police chief raised his voice and declared:

"See NEGRO RIOTS, Page 8"

Secretary Bevin 'Not Despondent'

NEW YORK—P—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared Saturday there is no need for despondency over Big Four efforts to write a final peace for Europe and called for "more patience and tolerance" in formulating treaties for the five vanquished satellites of Nazi Germany.

Arriving aboard the Aquitania for the four-power foreign ministers session which opens at 4 p. m. Monday to settle the peace that the United Nations is pledged to keep, Bevin said.

"We will see if we can work the treaties into permanent documents and end the state of war. One thing is quite clear and that is that everybody wants peace and is tired of conflict and turmoil."

French Deputy Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville, who also arrived on the Aquitania for the four-power meeting, said he thought the foreign ministers would first discuss a treaty with Germany "on about the 20th of November" after the treaties for Italy, Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary and Finland had been concluded.

"Old Skate"

with Dolores Jasinski. "I've too many girls," he says.

By MARIANNE PACHNER
NEA Staff Correspondent
CLEVELAND, O. (NEA) — Charles D. Pereira celebrated his 80th birthday this month by two-stepping, waltzing and figure-skating all evening with a dozen pretty girl partners at a Cleveland roller-skating rink.

"I'm practicing up for my second childhood," he says. "The management here has promised me a pair of gold-plated skates when I reach 100."

"Professor" Pereira, who used to be a magician and is apt to whip into a quick sleight-of-hand act in the middle of the rink, didn't start skating until he was 72. Now he skates three nights a week, clocks his mileage at 400 miles a month.

"My doctor tells me if I keep on skating, I'll never die," he chuckles. "I'll simply dry up and blow away."

The whimsy little professor stands a little better than five feet tall and weighs 100 pounds, both figures being computed when he's on skates. He also has a courtly manner and a way with the ladies.

The girls never turn him down, and some of the younger blades can't figure it out.

"All you have to do," explains Pereira, "is go up to a good-looking girl and ask her to skate with you. The trouble with me is that I've got too many girls."

The girls say his trouble is that he skates a lot better than most of the young fellows.

Pereira occasionally accepts an engagement for a magic show, which was his business when he toured the country as "The Great Pereira of Magic, Mirch and Mystery."

He claims he's the oldest magician in the country.

"It shouldn't be too long before I'm the oldest roller-skater, too," he says.

AN ESTIMATED 200,000 TEXAS CARS AND TRUCKS MAY GO OUT OF COMMISSION---BATTERY SHORTAGE

By The Associated Press
The first blue norther is expected to put an estimated 200,000 Texas cars and truck out of commission because of the inability of owners to replace electric storage batteries.

The acute national shortage of batteries is termed the worst in the automobile industry's history. It seems from a prolonged scarcity of lead. Manufacturers blame it on government control of imports and prices.

Texas will suffer as much if not more than other sections, a survey of 17 widely scattered cities reveals.

The shortage is so bad that many new automobiles arriving in Texas are without batteries, several points report.

A few dealers have batteries, but a black market has developed. One city said that a battery that formerly sold for $12 was offered for $100.

The consensus of battery men was that about 12 percent of cars and trucks in Texas would go dead with the first severe cold spell. There are 1,741,514 vehicles registered with the highway department.

A Texarkana battery man said that 90 percent of all batteries from one year to 18 months old would fail this winter.

Texas will suffer worse than some sections because few cities have facilities for repairing or rebuilding dead batteries.

The cold itself, actually, does not cause the batteries to fail. It is a major contributory cause for the failure. Oil and grease thicken and make motors harder to turn over; the low temperature of the gasoline retards its kick; a battery that is low may sustain freeze damage; weak batteries, overloaded with the extra pull, go dead. Also in winter there is the extra pull of heaters, defrosters, earlier nights and more lights.

PAGE 4 PAMPA NEWS Sunday, Nov. 3, 1946

OUT OUR WAY BY J. R. WILLIAMS

The only solution battery men offer is advice to car owners: Have batteries checked and charged, or repaired if possible. Jack Smith of Wichita Falls points out that unlike tires, you can't see the defects in a battery until it goes out.

Battery shortages were reported in Dallas, Perryton, San Angelo, Palestine, Beaumont, Port Worth, Houston, Lubbock, Plainview, Paris, Hillsboro, Sherman, McAllen, Wichita Falls, Texarkana, Abilene and Amarillo.

Plainview, McAllen and Wichita Falls reported the arrival of brand new automobiles without batteries.

McAllen said that battery failures in the Lower Rio Grande Valley were not as acute as in the colder parts of Texas.

These are some of the situations reported:

Plainview—Dealers unable to supply demand. One firm, averaging 100 sales per month, said one cold spell would bring ten or more car owners into the shop to buy batteries.

Lubbock—Shipments decreasing for months. Larger dealers with 35 batteries a month, have calls running from 150 to 500 requests—before the norther has hit? All dealers pessimistic, several said that "by January 1 at least one-third of the cars in Lubbock will be stored." Some are attempting to repair or rebuild old batteries; but are hampered by a shortage of materials.

The battery department of the Houston—E. H. Fox, manager of the battery department of the Zuber Tire Co., said they used to sell 500 batteries a month, now have only 100, could sell 1,000. Efforts to rebuild old batteries are termed futile, because essential parts are as hard to obtain as new batteries.

Marin—Lucien Nix, veteran car repairman and one of few in Central Texas with complete battery repair unit, pessimistic, says he has received just four batteries in past 90 days. George Langford, car dealer, said at least 100 cars will go dead with the first cold spell there. A black market in batteries

Girl Scouts and Adult Workers Meet Today At Camp Sullivan in National Observance

Over 200 Girl Scouts and adult workers will convene at Camp Sullivan, 18 miles south of Pampa, this afternoon for a session which will mark the observance of National Girl Scouts week in Pampa.

The meeting will open with the business session of the Pampa Girl Scouts association at 3:30, presided over by Mrs. K. E. Thornton, president of the association.

An outdoor supper is scheduled at 4:30 followed by an impressive camp fire at 8:00. The center of activity will be the awarding of awards, at which time 200 badges will be awarded and advancements made.

The awards include those earned since last March, were the last court of awards was held.

Two scouts will receive the highest award that is given by the organization—the Curved Bar rank while three are scheduled to be promoted to first class.

The program of the court of awards, as announced by Miss Marie Stedje, Girl Scout director, is:

Complete lighting ceremony by scouts of Troop 3; "Scouts Own," conducted by Miss Stedje; presentation of awards; troop singing, group singing; campers' prayer and Taps.

Visitors at the camp will have an opportunity to hear Mrs. Thornton report on the progress of the local and state organization.

Mrs. Thornton recently returned from San Antonio, where she attended a regional conference. Delegates from Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma attended.

A tour of the camp site will be held. One, large cement block building contains all of the camp's indoor facilities.

It houses a large recreation hall, a kitchen and a dormitory accommodating 20 girls. Improvements were made on the building this summer, including the repairing of the fire place and other improvements.

However, much work remains to be done on the camp. Water pipes carrying the camp's water supply must be laid underground.

The site for Camp Sullivan, located near Lefors, was deeded the organization by John Sullivan, who formerly owned the property on which the camp is located.

Tickets to the event will be presented to those who had a part in making improvements on the site this summer.

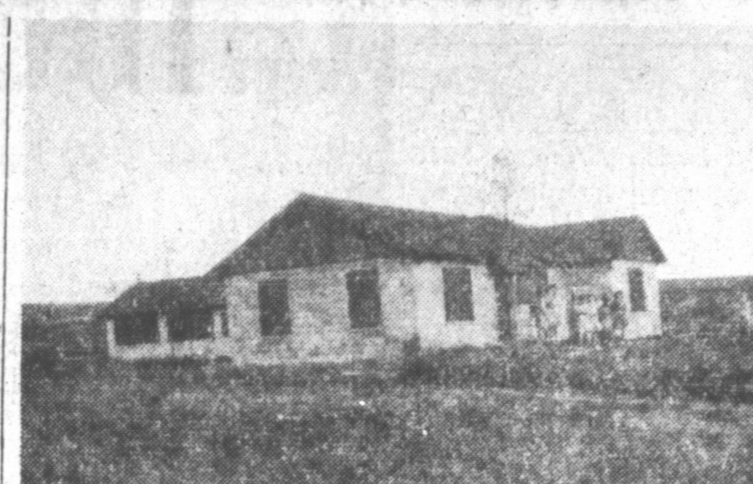

Summary of awards to be made:

Owls Trounce Raiders From Land and Air

HOUSTON.—(AP)—Rice's powerful Owls, sticking to the ground in the first half and turning to the air in the second, ran over the Texas Tech Raiders of the border conference, 41-6, yesterday afternoon before a crowd of 25,000 at a Rice homecoming game.

It was the first defeat in four starts this season by the Tech team against Southwest conference competition. The Raiders had previously defeated Texas A. and M., Southern Methodist and Baylor.

With the exception of the opening minutes of play when Tech launched a 46-yard drive to the Rice 30-yard line, Rice held the upper hand.

Jesse Neely's Owls ran up a total of 400 net yards from scrimmage to 139 for Tech.

Rice pushed across two touchdowns in the first period, followed up with another in the second, and closed out with three more in the final quarter.

After the initial Red Raider threat Rice took over on their own 17 and made short work of their first score. Speedy George Walmsley took a lateral from Virgil (Ike) Eikenberg and moved 51 yards to cross the Tech goal line untouched.

James (Froggie) Williams, freshman end from Waco, then made the first straight conversions for extra points.

Three minutes later, Huey Keener, 175-pound halfback, took a punt from Tech's Ralph Earhart and travelled 69 yards along the north sideline for the second marker.

After three minutes of play in the second period, a pass, Dick Hoerster, 12 before Roger Smith took a lateral from Vernon Ray and skirted left end for the touchdown. Smith's conversion attempt failed.

The Owls started strong again in the final quarter, sparked by passes of Eikenberg and Tobin Rote.

After driving to the Tech 17, Eikenberg hit Wendell Williams in the end zone for the fourth marker.

A short punt gave Rice the ball on the Tech 30, from where Rote passed to Billy Taylor on the 11. Rote hit center for pay dirt.

Barron Ellis made the final Owl touchdown by sweeping right end after Rice recovered a Tech fumble on the Tech 37. Vincent Buckley's attempted conversion hit the goal post and was no good.

Blue Devils—Blue, Duke Spirits Drop

DURHAM, N. C.—(AP)—Duke football under Wallace Wade dropped to its lowest ebb yesterday as the Blue Devils absorbed their fourth trimming of the season this time from Georgia Tech 14-0.

The Engineers put across two first half touchdowns and then halted Duke on the one-yard line in the fourth period in Duke's lone serious threat.

Holland-Scott Passes Beat Aggies 7 to 0

Phillips Defeats Perryton, 13-7

COLLEGE STATION.—(AP)—Fleury Ken Holland, the mite of the Ozarks, brought Arkansas a 7-0 victory over Texas A&M yesterday as the Razorbacks clung to a chance at the Southwest conference football championship.

The chunky little guy—he weighs only 148—passed, ran and kicked the Aggies into the ground, then helped ward off one desperate C-tee surge after another.

Aided by Clyde Scott, the ex-navy player, Holland engineered a 59-yard drive early in the third period for the game's only score. First the balling half-pint pounced on a fumble by Mann Scott, Aggie back, on the A&M 4-yard line. Then he pitched two bullet passes into the waiting arms of Scott. He tore down to the A&M 10-yard line on the second catch. It required just two plays to get the score. Holland faked a pass and then ripped right tackle to the four. Leon Campbell, Porker fullback, bumped over left tackle for a touchdown. Holland stepped back and kicked the extra point and that was the ball game.

Arkansas' victory left Rice the only undefeated team in the conference race, making the Arkansas-A&M meeting at Little Rock the feature game of next week. The Porkers have dropped only one decision.

A crowd of 17,000—largest ever to see an Arkansas-A&M contest—braved threatening weather for the battle.

A&M won in the statistics, slashing to 15 first downs against six for Arkansas, and netting 230 yards rushing and passing to 138 for the Razorbacks.

The Aggies tried 96 passes in their wild effort to puncture Arkansas but never really came close to scoring although getting deep into Razorback territory repeatedly.

Each time A&M neared the Porker goal, Arkansas threw up a rough, tough defense featuring the great line backing of Center Bill Thomas and Fullback Campbell and an alert set of backs who gathered in four Aggie passes.

The Aggies twice reached the Arkansas 12-yard line, another time they rolled to the 17 and there were two other deep penetrations—to the 21 and 23—but a 15-yard penalty stopped one drive, a fumble bogged down another, pass interceptions nipped the rest.

Leo Daniels of A&M was the top passer in the game with five completions out of 13 tries for 35 yards but they just didn't come at the right time. Mann Scott led the Aggies in ground-gaining with 37 yards. Campbell topped Arkansas with 30.

Pampa's Eleven Scores First, But Begins to Lag After Half

FARRINGTON FIELD, FORT WORTH.—North Side's undefeated Steers were behind for the first time this season when Pampa's Harvesters scored first period touchdown, but the Cowtown's gridiron king came back to edge out a 13 to 12 rain-soaked victory.

Early in the first period Pampa drove to the North Side one yard line but the Steers held, and Bob Easley kicked out to the 27. Phillip Anderson lost two and Charlie Lafoon lost one more. Lafoon passed to end Bill Speer who took the ball on the 18 and scored. Jim Wilson's kick for extra point was low.

FOOTBALL RESULTS

Late in the second period North Side took a punt with scrimmage starting on the Pampa 42. The Steers could not gain and Easley kicked out on the 37 yard line and Darrell Hooper, 15-year-old freshman recently promoted to the first string, returned to the 15. Bill Meith passed to Hooper for the touchdown and tackle Bob Vann kicked for the extra point to give North Side a 7 to 6 lead.

Wilson's second half kick off scooted to the North Side 49. Meith passed to Easley for 9 yards. Hooper lost 5 and Easley gained 19 yards on three plays. Hooper adds three for a first down on the 16 and Easley raced 15 yards to the 1 from where Hooper crashed over. Vann's kick was wide.

In the fourth period Pampa was in possession of the ball on the 50. Lafoon made 3, and Wilson added 8 for a first down. Anderson made 3 yards and followed with a 14-yard run to the 12. Lafoon went to the 4 but Pampa was penalized 15 yards for holding. Wilson made 7 yards and followed with a 14-yard run to the 4 for a first down. Wilson went to the 4 and Wilson went around end for the score but the kick for extra point was wide by inches. After the kick off North Side drove to the 4-yard line but Hooper tumbled and Gary Cooper recovered. Speer kicked out to the 38-yard line but Easley quick kicked out on the 2-yard line.

Lafoon passed to Speer for 9 yards but lost 9 on the next play. Wilson made 5 with 30 seconds to go. Lafoon passed to Speer for 27 yards and a first down on the 37-yard line as the game ended.

North Side was reportedly crippled by the absence of three regulars, including Yale Lary and Wallace Hooper, backfield stars, but had a tight defense slightly detracted from by an unimpressive offensive. Backfield play by Easley and "Corny" Cornelius, two converted ends, was outstanding. Center and Captain Maurice Lockhart, End Speer, and Guard Charles Thornborrow showed up well for Pampa in the line while Lafoon and Wilson accounted for practically all of the Harvesters yardage. The Harvesters were especially hard to distinguish due to the muddy white uniforms.

The victory was North Side's sixth straight of the season and Pampa's fourth loss in six games.

Cornell Victorious Over Columbia 12-0

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Cornell's rapidly-improving football team proved itself too big, too strong and too fast for Columbia yesterday but only in one period did it show enough offensive power to pull out a 12 to 0 victory in the 34th meeting between these Ivy League rivals.

The victory was North Side's sixth straight of the season and Pampa's fourth loss in six games.

Scarlets Beat Harvard In Terrific 2nd Half

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—(AP)—After waiting 77 years to gain some first-hand information about Rutgers' football, Harvard did so at a heart-breaking price yesterday before a stumped crowd of 25,000. The hard-hitting Scarlets from New Jersey, with a terrific second half lift, belted the Crimson out of the nation's slim undefeated ranks with a 13-0 triumph.

Once the third period got underway, Rutgers took over in the most emphatic fashion when the feet of Al Alekoff, its alternate fullback, intercepted a Harvard pass on his own 15-yard line and raced back 12 yards to Harvard's 11.

McLean Wins 3rd Conference Game

LEFORS, (Special)—The Lefors Pirates won their third conference game in five starts at McLean Friday night when they ran rough shod over the McLean Tigers to roll up a one-sided 40 to 6 tally.

After being scored on by Wade Stracener in the first quarter, Tiger hopes were somewhat raised when Stracener was taken from the game due to injuries, early in the second period.

Tiger dreams of victory were short lived, however, due to the running and passing of Harold Sims, 145 pound Pirate back, who led his team to score twice in the first, once in the third and twice more in the final period, over a fighting eleven that was outclassed, but not out-fought.

The Pirates shanked up 12 first downs to eight for the Tigers and gained 233 yards on the ground compared to 134 yards gained by the Tigers. The Pirates completed six of their eleven passes for a gain of 96 yards, while the Tigers completed six out of sixteen attempts for a passing gain of 27 yards.

Longhorns Mangle Mustangs 19 to 3

Price Suffers Broken Leg as Bulldogs Win

AUSTIN.—(AP)—The Texas Longhorns turned on the power spasmodically yesterday to knock the Southern Methodist Mustangs out of the Southwest conference race with a 19-3 victory.

Held by the booming kicks of SMU's Bill Richards, the Longhorns were unable to score until the second period, when Raymond Jones plowed over from the SMU 3-inch line. Frank Guess missed the kick.

SMU tried to keep in the game with a brilliant 35-yard field goal from the toe of Bo Campbell that left the score at 6-3 at half time, and it was still anybody's ball game when the final quarter got underway.

But Texas struck suddenly and surely as Bobby Layne, the blonde bomber, hit his favorite target, Jim Canady, with a touchdown pass that was good for 61 yards.

The Longhorns put on the clincher when speedster Perry Samuels whirled around right end, cut back sharply to the left and ran 39 yards to score. Guess made good on Texas' third conversion attempt.

The Longhorns made ten first downs to the Mustangs' four, made 142 yards rushing while holding their opponents to 43 and traveled their ways for 168 yards compared to SMU's 87.

Frank Payne sparked an SMU in the second period, when it appeared that Texas was suffering a let down, but the Longhorn line stiffened at the 25 and SMU was satisfied to try for a field goal on fourth down.

Layne completed nine of 20 passes for 160 yards and added another 15 on the ground to take individual honors with a total gain of 175 yards. Pete Kotlarich, SMU tackle, and Spot Collins, Texas guard, shared the limelight in line play.

With second-string fullback Byron Gully crippled, Layne's team entered a nifty runner in Samuels, the San Antonio track star. Using his tremendous speed to good advantage, he carried four times for 53 yards.

Payne was the top offensive man for SMU, collecting 38 yards passing and 20 yards rushing.

Most sensational play of the game was Canady's catch that resulted in Texas second touchdown. He got behind David Moon, the SMU defensive left halfback, and grabbed Layne's pass over his shoulder on the dead run down the right side line.

Borger's final tally came shortly after Jack Brown intercepted a Plainview pass on the Plainview 44. Seven line plays with Dalton and Dunn lugging the mail paid off when Dunn scored from the 1-yard line. Dunn kicked the extra point, making the total score Borger 28, Plainview 7.

Borger made 19 first downs to Plainview's 9, gained 311 yards rushing to Plainview's 87 and penetrated 5 times to Plainview's one.

Perryman—Average normal sales 200 a month, present supply 15 and dwindling. D. R. Gathier, auto accessory dealer, said "a person could always manage to get a tire of some condition, but a battery is something you can't borrow from your neighbor."
Texarkana—A dealer said that 90 percent of all batteries one year to 18 months old would fail "if it froze tonight." No effort is being made to repair or rebuild because materials are unavailable.
Paris—Car owners themselves blamed for battery failures because they don't take care of them. One dealer said some men don't check the water once a year, much less once a month as necessary. An acute shortage. Seen. A few used batteries have been repaired and are used as rental batteries.
Fort Worth—Shortage acute, no relief in sight. One dealer who sold 400 batteries in October, 1941, said he would sell 26 this month because of the shortage. Big increase in car breakdowns anticipated.
Dallas—Shortage, plus black markets. When one dealer heard of the impending shortage, he withdrew two dozen batteries he had for sale, said he planned to sell them later for as much as $35 and $50 each.
Beaumont—The shortage not acute yet, but shipments dwindling. Any battery a year old termed unreliable. Prewar batteries would last two years or more, dealers said, but wartime and postwar batteries won't. One firm salvaging parts from turned-in batteries, rebuilds new ones for rent.

Cub Fumble Gives Westerners Win

BROWNFIELD, (Special)—Capitalizing on a fumble midway in the last period the Lubbock Westerners defeated the Brownfield Cubs, 6 to 0, in a conference game here Friday night.
A crowd of 4500 fans, the largest number ever in attendance at a Brownfield football game in the history of the school, saw two teams so evenly matched that neither could score during the first three quarters, wage a punting duel and play for the breaks that eventually won the game.
The break came when Bobby Booker, Lubbock halfback kicked out on the Brownfield 33 yard line. On the next play J. Tangersly, Cub halfback, fumbled the ball and Dick S. Schmidt, Lubbock end, recovered on the Cub's 29 yard line. A few plays later Jackie Davis crashed over right tackle to score. The try for extra point failed leaving the score, Lubbock 6, Brownfield 0.

Tennessee Vols Stop Undeclared Tar Heels

KNOXVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—Tennessee's Volunteers bounced back into the victory column yesterday and in doing so toppled North Carolina from the nation's list of unbeaten football teams. 20 to 14, before a wildly cheering crowd of 35,000.
The Vols failed to bottle up completely the Tar Heels' sensational freshman halfback, Charley Justice, but he got loose only once and that was not enough to offset the slashing power of Tennessee.
Tennessee scored twice in the first period, mixing line plays and passes to tally the two touchdowns. The Tar Heels came back in the second stanza to register their two touchdowns.
Billy Myers plunged over from the one-yard-stripe for the second after—Justice raced 73 yards through the entire Vol team for the first.
The Vols' third and winning marker was tallied by Capt. Walter Slater on a brilliant 78-yard punt return midway the third stanza.

LEXINGTON, Ky.—(AP)—Kentucky, held on even terms in the first half, unleashed its big guns in the last two quarters to overwhelm Michigan State, 39-14, before 19,700 here today as Don (Dopey) Phelps, freshman speedster, contributed four touchdowns.
49ers Upset Bisons In Closing Minutes
SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—The San Francisco 49ers scored three touchdowns in the final quarter yesterday to upset Buffalo 27 to 14 and avenge their defeat two weeks ago by the Bisons. Both teams are in the All-America professional football conference.

They said the situation was "shocking." One dealer said for $100, one said a man came into his place waving a $50 bill and offered it for a battery—any kind, any size. Local hilltops to be popular, says Herald-Press, because motorists with weak batteries can roll them off and start them without batteries.
San Angelo—Dealers with 10 to 15 calls a day predict an increase to 50 or 75 percent when the first real norther hits. Dealers suggest car owners "neglect your baby, but pamper your battery."
Wichita Falls—Ten to 40 percent of over-age automobiles will be benched when the big norther hits, battery men estimate. One said at least three new automobiles were delivered recently without batteries. The shortage was estimated from 20 to 90 percent of the demand. Chap Smith, veteran battery man, suggested that car owners check generators, voltage, lights, wiring, other power-eating parts of the car as well as batteries.
McAllen—The semi-tropical valley is better off than most spots, but battery breakdowns are anticipated there, too. Some new cars are arriving without batteries, and dealers are forced to comb the country for fillers. Few rebuilders.

Army Gridders Make It No. 25

WEST POINT—(AP)—The Army football team made it No. 25 yesterday. Not a dazzling, scintillating 25th straight victory, but the 19 to 0 triumph over West Virginia was convincing enough and the opposition was spirited enough to keep the capacity crowd of 25,500 in Michie Stadium thoroughly interested, and just the thing to sharpen the Cadets for their classic with Notre Dame next week.
It was the final home appearance of Glenn Davis and Doc Blanchard, famed touchdown twins, and seven other Army starters.
The Cadets played in flashes, sputtering and wheezing and fumbling their way along and then bursting into an offensive roar like a balky engine.
Blanchard scored one touchdown on a 46-yard dash through left tackle in the second period, and Davis contributed one by taking a seven yard loss from Arnold Tucker in a corner of the end zone in the third. Otherwise their often brilliant offensive maneuvers failed to pay off. Hank Feldberg scored the first touchdown in the first period, taking an eight yard pass from Tucker in the end zone.
Army apparently started under the theory that it would try to win without Blanchard or Davis. They were in the lineup, but the ball carrying chores were left to Ug Fuson the first time the Cadets got the ball.

Politics

As the campaign started briskly down the stretch, efforts diminished on both sides to swing votes by oratorical outpourings. President Truman continued mum at his home in Independence, Mo.

The only formal explanation of his silence, from Mayor Roger T. Sermon of Independence, is that the President wishes to "uphold the dignity of his high office."

The democrats did get in a lick through Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late president. And former secretary of commerce Henry Wallace had a speech on tap in Detroit tonight.

In a transcribed ABC broadcast from New York Mrs. Roosevelt described the democratic party as the one "best able to set out feet on the way to peace."

She said election of a democratic congress will mean "much less chance of another war."

That was only one of the issues that have made this off-year election campaign one of the hottest in recent history.

Others have been the shortage of meat and other things consumers want, controls over prices, the possibility of another coal strike.

Republicans charge there is an alliance between the democrats and communists, as well as between the democrats and the CIO-Political Action Committee.

Democrats say they don't want and don't deserve communist backing. The GOP promises to cut expenses and lower taxes if it takes over congress.

The democrats accuse the republicans of trying to sabotage what they call a constructive program begun by President Roosevelt and continued by President Truman.

The republicans appeal to the people to put them in control to end "corruption" in government. The democrats cry it would be bad to erect in congress "a house divided against itself."

The outcome will be determined by an estimated 59,669,656 persons qualified to vote. Figures from state and political leaders indicate more than 35,000,000 actually will turn up at the polls.

To break the democratic hold on congress, the republicans need a net gain of 10 senate and 26 house seats.

Republican senate strength now stands at 39. The democrats have 56, progressive one. A majority is 49. Only 35 of the 96 senate seats are at stake Tuesday.

24 of them now democratic, 10 republican and one progressive.

In the house, the republicans now have 192 members and need 218 for a numerical majority.

The democrats have 235, minor parties two, and there are six vacancies previously filled by democrats.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, who could not down President Roosevelt in 1944, is trying now for another gubernatorial term.

An impressive victory over the democratic candidate, Senator James M. Mead, might put him back in line to break the GOP tradition against renominating an unsuccessful presidential candidate.

Former Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio, the republican vice-presidential choice in 1944, is trying to break the GOP tradition against renominating an unsuccessful presidential candidate.

Democratic senator James W. Huffman, Bricker is mentioned as 1948 presidential timber along with Lewis and Gov. Earl Warren of California.

State Politics (Continued From Page 1) said Sen. Pat Bullock of Snyder, chairman of the senate education committee.

Cris Lock, chairman of the house of representatives education committee, former teacher and school superintendent, saw the amendment as an assurance of funds for all-weather school bus routes, well-equipped school buildings and facilities.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction L. A. Woods also has voiced approval of the amendment. The American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and 36th Division Association are sponsoring statewide newspaper and radio appeals to voters to turn out in support of the veterans land amendment.

Girl Scouts (Continued From Page 1) for the four school districts are: Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. W. B. Franklin and Mrs. J. B. Ayers; Sam Houston, Mrs. J. V. Young; Baker, Mrs. E. M. Curberson; Horace Mann, Mrs. Ervin Purley.

U.N. Meeting

The criticism of the council, however, had been started earlier and committee chairman Dmitri Manuilsky, foreign minister of the Soviet Ukraine, ruled that other members should be allowed an opportunity to make declarations.

El Salvador and Australia both proposed that the assembly set up a definite yardstick to be used by the council in the future in determining whether or not applicants were eligible.

Australian delegate Paul Hasluck attempted to introduce a resolution embodying his proposals, but the chairman ruled he must submit it in writing at least one day before it could be discussed.

None of the five big powers indicated their position during today's discussions, although both the United States and Great Britain had previously criticized Russia for vetoing the applications of Portugal, Finland and Transjordan.

giving any reason except that Russia had no diplomatic relations with these countries. They held that this was not a sufficient reason for refusing admittance.

Derby Plans (Continued From Page 1) of wheels and axles. The price of the commercially made wheel-and-axle sets has not yet been announced.

Rubber companies making the wheels have agreed upon a standard set of specifications, thus assuring fairness to every contestant.

Many boys who built cars for the 1946 Derby may have to change them to conform to a new rule which provides that the back of the seat must be removable.

For easy inspection, the over-all height limitation has been increased to 32 inches, but this is a maximum allowable limitation, and it is not necessary to increase existing cars to this height.

In keeping with new-product developments, the 1947 rules permit the use of non-shatterable, transparent plastic for windshields.

One change in the rules that may force major alterations on a few cars is the provision that the "nose" must be the foremost part of the car.

The boys whose racers have the wheels mounted so that they protrude in front of the nose must change them to conform.

The allowable weight of the car was raised from 135 pounds to 150 pounds, but the combined weight of

Quota in USO Drive

The total population of Roberts county, 1,289 persons, raised 122 percent of their given quota in the current Texas USO fund campaign.

According to a report yesterday by Col. Carl L. Phinney, state campaign chairman.

The five-day campaign in Roberts county was headed by W. E. Foglesong, Miami, chairman of the Roberts county drive.

Reports from other counties making their quota are beginning to come into state campaign headquarters at Dallas.

Negro Riots (Continued From Page 1) "I want to tell you once and for all, you Columbians, the Atlanta police department is policing this town."

This statement was in reference to detective reports that members of the order had openly boasted that they would "patrol the streets" and do "guard" duty in carrying out their charter-expressed goal of working for a "progressive white community."

Women Teachers Win A Libery. BY BETTE MILLETT. THE STATE is desparately short of teachers right now and it is important for girls still in school to look on teaching as a good job. TOO MUCH DISCRIMINATION. But no girl of today is going to be very enthusiastic about a job in which women are often discriminated against in such ways as a school board voting no objection to its men teachers marrying, and at the same time having no married-women-teachers rule, or permitting men teachers to smoke but not women teachers, or paying men teachers more than women. The teachers in New Jersey won their fight if they never get to smoke on the school grounds. Because the ban now is a matter of safety, and it includes men as well as women. They got justice—which is a lot more important than being able to smoke—especially when students are supposed to learn something about democracy as school.

Within the next two weeks, the first installment of the Conner addition to campus living facilities will be ready for occupancy at West Texas State college, President J. A. Hill has announced.

Of the six 34-man houses contracted to be brought here from Camp Bartley, two will be finished in time to furnish immediate relief for the crowded conditions necessitating beds in the gymnasiums and in the locker room of the swimming pool.

Approximately 4,500 bales of Colingsworth county's short 1946 cotton crop had been ginned Wednesday morning and while ginning continued as usual, cotton market activities since Monday and the closing of the cotton exchanges of the country Wednesday morning left most growers of the area undecided as to the disposal of their crop.

The quality of this year's cotton varies widely over the county. The grade and staple in the Wellington area has fallen off during recent weeks from an average of middling 13-16 to strict low 7-8 for a considerable portion of that now being ginned.

County Agent H. M. Breedlove of Conley county thinks that the E. S. Bellew swine Hampshire herd is one of the best in the entire nation, and this opinion is carried out further by the winnings of Bellew and his son at the State Fair of Texas. Bellew exhibited swine in the breeding class and also in the fat barrow class. The highlight of the breeding class was the male hog exhibited by Bellew. The hog won first in the senior division and was also champ of the junior hogs.

Among the new blood in the Texas legislature, list the Willis brothers, both veterans.

Numerous veterans were elected this year, but the Willis team is unique in: They are brothers, Doyle Willis of Fort Worth, Philip Willis of Kaufman; both were elected to the house; both were in the army air corps; and both had combat records.

Doyle served in the Pacific Philip in Africa, Italy and Europe. Doyle, before the war, was a lawyer. Philip went into the air corps direct from school.

The last of the seven sons of the Lorenzo Ramirez family to serve in the armed forces has been discharged.

The Ramirez family of Hillsboro sent more sons to the armed forces than any other family in the Hill county area. Last to be discharged was Sgt. Vincente Ramirez, home now from Japan. All seven lived through the war.

Private First Class Clovis O. Kirby, 19, of Dallas, met Technician Fourth Grade Billy P. Dyer, 19, Chapel Hill, Texas, in the Pacific. Kirby served in New Caledonia. Dyer was in the air forces.

They met in Hawaii, sweated out four months together awaiting transportation home.

This month Kirby arrived at Fort Sam Houston for separation. Almost the first person he met was Dyer.

As could be expected, their greeting was enthusiastic.

But it was a little too enthusiastic for Kirby. He is now in Brooke general hospital with a broken left arm.

Two books important to Texas veterans have been published.

First is "The Fighting 368," an elaborately printed and illustrated history of the Texas division in combat. It has 412 pages, lists 50,000 members of the division.

The second is "Marines in Burma," 332 pages, by John Randolph of Houston. It is the story of the Mars task force which made history in the Oriental jungles.

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

It's time for us to put on our specs and long white beard and try to find the answer to problems in the mail. "Can you tell me," asks a high school girl, "why a certain boy is always very nice to me when we're alone, but never speaks to me when he's with other boys? Does it mean he's ashamed of knowing me, doesn't really like me or what?"

It means simply that he's too shy to speak to you when he's with other boys. Nearly every boy goes through this stage, usually in grade school or the first year or so in high school. . . . he likes a certain girl, but doesn't want the other boys to know it, because he's too bashful to face their kidding. But just wait a while. In another year, he'll be eager to speak to you in the presence of others, so the boys will see he knows a cute little number like you. Isn't human nature funny?"

Last year in school, a boy liked me and I liked him, but then we were separated in our classes and he seemed to feel different toward me. I did not have an argument with him. How can we be friends again?"

Why not ask him? Next time you see him, tell him you were wondering if you've said or done something to offend him. If so, it was unintentional and you're very sorry. If he says nothing's wrong, it's a safe guess that he is now more interested in other friendships. Many people are like that. Their friends are the ones who live around them at the moment and they quickly forget or lose interest in people they do not see regularly. Next time you have a party or choose a boy for a partner, invite him. This may help renew your friendship.

For help with personal problems, write to Elinor Williams at this paper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope for a reply.

Jaycees—Tues. Palm Room.
 Rotary—Wed. Palm Room.
 Lions—Thurs. Meth. Church.
 Kiwanis—Fri. Meth. Church.

Week's Activities

JAYCEES—The Junior chamber which has a number of projects in the "hopper," spent the program time this past week in discussion of those projects. The foremost at this time being the Girl Scout fund drive, Chairman Bob Morris reported on progress; and Beryl Hamilton, in charge of the business district, discussed plans for making the fund campaign this week—Christmas decorations for the city were also discussed. This club handles this each year—Extension of clubs was discussed.—It was announced ladies' night will be held on Oct. 12, with a dinner and dance at the Terrace Grill. The club will not hold its regular Tuesday meeting that week.

FOTARY—Fred Shryock, Danciger Refinery manager, discussed the Good Roads amendment (No. 3 on the ballot) which will be voted on Tuesday. Shryock, who endorsed passage of the bill, pointed out what he thought were its good points.—T. O'Brien, republican candidate for congress from this district, was introduced as a guest.—Mrs. Quentin Williams, civic worker here, spoke in support of the Girl Scout fund-raising campaign now being waged.—A vocal solo was given by Jim Underwood, who has been aiding by conducting the singing at the First Christian church revival.—Rotary guests were introduced by District Attorney Walter Rogers.

LIANS—The outstanding club feature of the week was the address given by Dr. Eugene Briggs, president of Phillips university, Enid, Okla. Dr. Briggs, who spoke to members and guests at a Halloween night luncheon at the Palm Room spoke quite seriously of the problems confronting the U. S. and the world in the post-war period. He appealed for clear thinking on all problems, with freedom of prejudice an important part of our efforts to work out problems.—Dr. Roy Webb was accorded a merit pin and plaque by Lions International, for outstanding service over a period of years in securing new club members.

KIWANIS—About 35 fifth grade girls and boys from the San Houston school, under the direction of their music instructor, Mrs. Roy Sullivan, presented a program of choral songs. The presentation included six selections, one of which was the school song. Another unusual number "Covered Wagon Days," a song composed by the fifth grade pupils of a Pasadena, Calif., school.

The group was dressed in the school colors, blue and gold. L. N. Aitchison introduced the program.—Dr. N. L. Nicholl appeared before the club to remind members to consider amendments which will appear on the ballot in Tuesday's election. The fact that voters will go to the polls again on Thursday to vote on another amendment was also introduced.—Pres. Clyde Carruth said club would be held next Friday at the Palm Room, instead of the Methodist church basement due to the fact that the Methodist Conference will be in session.—Out-of-town guests were Buck Blankenship and Cave Buck, of Amarillo; N. S. Daniel, of Lefors; Homer Salley, of Mobeetie; and E. D. Lamberth, of Clarendon.

Men are not sinners because they sin. They sin because they are sinners.—E. Bob Jones Sr., president Bob Jones College, Cleveland, Tenn.

Rehearsal Starts for First Of Orchestra's Offerings

Members of the West Texas Philharmonic orchestra, newly-formed organization of 30, are already in rehearsal for their maiden performance, which will be presented at the Junior high school auditorium, it was announced yesterday by Lewis Chamberlain, conductor. All-day rehearsal will be held here on the day of the concert, which is Dec. 2, 8 p. m.

Chamberlain, who is in the music department of the Pampa school system, said the members are working in small groups and at regularly scheduled rehearsals in Pampa Canyon and Amarillo. Seven towns will be represented in the orchestra, which will present a second concert in the spring. On the future list, also in the spring, will be a concert to feature local students as soloists, Chamberlain stated.

This is the first organization of this kind in this area, and there is a good deal of enthusiasm being shown in this endeavor.

Tickets are already on sale by students of Junior high school for the initial concert.

To be included on the program will be Robert Louis Barron, for six years director of the Amarillo Symphony, as violin soloist; Glen Truax, former director of band and now director of orchestra at West Texas State, as guest conductor; and Louise Dickens, Amarillo high school musician-instructor, who will also

After sympathetic neighbors severed the chain without a cutting torch, Patterson left on his hunting trip. But he didn't get his deer.

XXXV
GAYLE was disturbed. The campaign glorifying Bart was lasting too long. There was a purpose behind it, something subtler than she had realized. Then a letter came from Nate Kent, and she thought she had at last found the reason. Nate was in a California hospital with a shattered leg.

"I'm afraid I'm out of it for good," he wrote, "but I may hang on to my leg; so I'm not complaining. I don't feel sick, and I have all the time in the world on my hands. I've been planning this letter to you for weeks; now I'm going to write it."
"It gave me the shock of my life to get back here and discover that Bart had been made into a great hero. I've seen some of the stories they've published about him, and I tell you, they've made my blood boil. I guess there's nothing I can do about it; but I can tell you the truth, anyway, and I'm going to."

"Two fellows who were in the fight were with me on the boat coming home, and I got the whole story from them. They don't think Bruce Bartlett's a hero; I can tell you that."
"I think I wrote you once he wasn't a good soldier. He wasn't. He ought to have been in command of a bomber, a man his age and with his experience; but he wasn't considered fit to command. They wouldn't trust the lives of other men to him, but they had to hang on to a crack flyer in times like these; so he was given a fighter to fly where he couldn't endanger anybody's life but his own."
"Here's what the fellows told me actually happened. A big flight of Jap bombers came over escorted by Zeros. No, I've got to tell you about the howling out first. Bart was in wrong with pretty nearly everybody by then, and he was acting sullen as the devil. Then about half an hour before to help him out. They got him—and they got Bart. You haven't heard anything about that lad. He wasn't a hero. And two of the bombers got in. Three men were killed on the ground, and I don't know how many wounded. You haven't heard about them either."

Gayle sat still for a long time when she had finished the letter. So that's why Octavia Bartlett and Jocelyn Dwight were running their campaign. . . . Probably they knew the true story, too. They couldn't protect Bart in the South Pacific, but they could protect him at home. They could make him such a glorious hero that no one would believe the true story if the Army ever let it slip by its censorship.

ONE day when Gayle came home from work, Mrs. Mays told her a photographer had been there. "Kent and I came home from doing our shopping," she said, "and there this man was with a big camera on a tripod taking pictures."

"What of?" Gayle asked.
"The house. I asked him what he wanted them for, and he said he didn't know. His boss had sent him out to get half a dozen pictures of the house, but he didn't know what for. He said he guessed they were for the finance company."

"Whatever for?"
"I asked him, and he said they always had pictures of houses they held mortgages on. I don't think he really knew."
"Probably not," Gayle agreed and forgot the incident. It didn't seem to mean anything. But it came back to her mind two days later when she was leaving the plant. She saw two men looking at her and whispering to each other. Somehow, she felt sure they were reporters.

But for two full weeks nothing happened to her directly, though stories about Bart began to appear once more in the newspapers. One hinted that he was to receive posthumously the Distinguished Service Cross, and it was hinted further that the award would be made to Lieutenant Bartlett's small son. "Not if I know it," Gayle told herself. "Never!"

clubs in high school had booths. Bingo, cake walk, basketball throw, and chances on practically anything were only a few of the amusements to be found at the carnival, and it was no unusual sight in the halls Wednesday and Thursday to see someone laden down with crumpled paper and such to decorate the booths. Everyone enjoyed it and will be looking forward to next Halloween.

WHICH IS THE LORD'S DAY?

I KNOW IT IS NOT THE "SEVENTH-DAY SABBATH" or SATURDAY! BECAUSE:

- 1—THAT WAS GOD'S DAY; CREATED BY HIS RESTING ON THAT DAY! Gen. 2:2,3. It was his alone for about 2500 years when he gave it to fleshly Israel through Moses. Ezech. 20:12; Neh. 9:14.
- 2—IT WAS GIVEN TO FLESHLY ISRAEL, AND TO NO OTHER! "See, for that Jehovah hath given YOU the Sabbath." Ex. 16:23-29. The antecedent of the pronoun YOU in the above scripture is not the reader of today, but fleshly Israel, who lived before the cross.
- 3—THE SABBATH WAS TO BE KEPT BY FLESHLY ISRAEL AS LONG AS SHE WAS RECOGNIZED, BY GOD, AS A CHOSEN PEOPLE! Ex. 31:12-17. All who understand the scripture, know that God chose this nation only for a season.
- 4—JESUS MADE BOTH JEW AND GENTILE ONE IN HIS DEATH ON THE CROSS! Eph. 2:11-22. Since Jesus shed is blood for the remission of all sins there has been no fleshly distinction! Therefore, the Sabbath law given to fleshly Israel became null and void!
- 5—JESUS TOOK THE SABBATH LAW OUT OF THE WAY NAILING IT TO THE CROSS! Col. 2:13-15. He did NOT change it. He fulfilled it and took it out of the way! Since Jesus' death, no one has scripturally kept the "Seventh-day Sabbath!" All who have attempted to keep it, since Jesus died on the cross, have VIOLATED BOTH OLD AND NEW TESTAMENT TEACHING!
- 6—JESUS GAVE THE NEW LAW! "A BETTER COVENANT!" Heb. 8:6-13; 9:15-28, etc. The Sabbath day law, which was given to govern fleshly Israel has become null and void; so God's people must have a new law, to govern a new people, spiritual Israel! Jesus dedicated the new covenant with his blood!
- 7—AFTER JESUS' BLOOD WAS SHED; NEITHER JESUS NOR ANY OF HIS FOLLOWERS HAVE KEPT THE SABBATH! The apostles and early Christians entered the synagogues, and taught the new law on the Sabbath. Why? Because they could have a hearing. But did not go in to observe the Sabbath.
- 8—NO PERSON WHO ATTEMPTS TO KEEP THE SABBATH IS A FOLLOWER OF CHRIST!

School Notes From Canadian

By POLLY WARD

One of the most important events of the year, the Carnival, took place Thursday night at the city hall. The Carnival is an annual event in CIES on Halloween night, and at midnight the high school and junior high carnival queens, Frankie Donaldson and Tonja Ingwerson, were crowned.

In the preceding years the queens have been elected by money votes, but it was decided by a large majority of the students of high school and junior high to elect the queens this year by popular vote. Each person attending the carnival, regardless of age or rank, was allowed one vote for the high school queen and one for the junior high candidate of their choice.

The losing high school candidates were the high school queens' attendants, and the losing junior high candidates and two other chosen attendants attended the junior high queen.

Frankie Donaldson, high school carnival queen, of '47, was escorted by Bill Cross, who crowned her with a crown of white carnations, and Tonja Ingwerson, junior high queen, was escorted and crowned by George Arrington. Frankie was the senior candidate for queen, and Tonja represented the seventh grade.

The losing candidates from high school and their escorts were: Juniors: Ann Arrington and Bill Popham; sophomores: Alton Jean Rutherford and Dickie Hutton; freshmen: Betty Kemp and Ellis Owens. The losing junior high candidate and her escort was Frances Shaller and David Richardson from the eighth grade. The chosen attendants and their escorts from the seventh and eighth grades respectively were Mary Ellen Tepe and Bill Arrington, Patsy Mc-

Means and Franklin Tepe. Guards of honor holding streamers for the queens and their attendants to pass through were Raymond Crosier, Bill Karr, Bill Morris, and Doyle Lemons from high school, and Bobby Fry, W. H. Bryant, L. H. Webb, and Bobby Norvall from junior high.

The carnival helps each class add to their treasury, and also provides entertainment for the young people of the town as well as the old. Each class sponsored several booths, and a large majority of the

Waiting for a new motor car isn't exactly the easiest or most pleasant experience in the world. But the saying about patience having its own reward holds doubly true when your patience is rewarded by delivery of a gleaming, new Pontiac "Silver Streak".

Up to now Pontiac production has been limited for reasons beyond our control. Now production is increasing. As of today, it's still below anticipations. But the trend is definitely encouraging. Which means that your wait is being shortened every day.

And when you do become the proud owner of a new Pontiac, you'll be mighty glad you waited—and your feeling of gladness will grow with every passing month and mile. Because in every way, the new Pontiac measures up to the phrase, "Finest of the Famous Silver Streaks". In dependability and economy it lives up to its great war-won reputation. It looks, handles, rides and feels like the quality car it is. It's a value that will endure over the years—something well worth waiting for!

Market Briefs

WALL STREET STOCKS
 NEW YORK, Nov. 2—(AP)—Last-minute buying of utilities and calls of the stock market on the recovery track today after considerable profit cashing had been absorbed during the greater part of the brief proceedings. Brokers credited broadened demand partly to Wall Street's hesitating political opinion, dividends, earnings and belief that more of a technical revival was in the offing. Accounts were said to have been trimmed in a number of cases by those who intended to extend the weekend through Tuesday when markets will recess for the elections. The list displayed mild irregularity until bidding became a bit more urgent in the final quarter hour. While scattered losers persisted, closing gains of fractions to 2 points or so predominated. Transfers of around 600,000 shares were the largest for Saturday since early May.

Prominent on the advance were American Telephone, North American Electric Power & Light, American Water Works, Union Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Pennsylvania Railroad, Northern Pacific, Southern Pacific, Twin City Rapid Transit (on the first dividend since 1931), U. S. Steel, General Motors, S. Rubber, Woolworth, Douglas Aircraft, Kennecott, American Can, Johns-Manville, General Electric and Standard Oil (N.J.).

Increased Tariff On Crude Imports Is Recent Request

PORT WORTH—(AP)—Increased tariff on crude oil imported into the United States was requested by the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners association in a resolution adopted by the executive committee here recently.

In the same resolution, the Texas organization voiced opposition to a federal subsidy on production and sale of crude oil. The association held its meeting in advance of the annual session of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, which opened a three-day gathering here today.

In a resolution approved Sunday night, the Texas group asked the National Gas Act be amended by congress so as to deny the federal power commission authority to regulate production and gathering of natural gas, price of gas and its use.

In its resolution of crude, the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Association stated the body should "urge the national congress to raise the tariff on crude oil produced in foreign countries and sold or used in the United States, or to provide such other adequate protection to prevent the sale or use of any such oil from the domestic market at a price below that for which domestic crude oil can be profitably produced and sold, thereby insuring a price for crude oil to cover increased and increasing prices of material and labor cost, and thereby protecting domestic labor and domestic oil industry against cheap foreign wages and production."

This resolution urged "that the executive committee of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association place itself on record as opposing a federal subsidy on production and gathering of natural gas, and repressuring the executive committee also ask the IPAA to pass the same or a similar resolution."

In the gas resolution, the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association charged the FCC, as a result of recent orders issued and court decisions upholding "these orders, is indirectly controlling the production and gathering of gas despite the provisions of the statute exempting production and gathering from regulation by the commission."

Cities Service Oil Co., Employees Recently Presented Service Awards

BARTLESVILLE, Okla.—Thirty-five employees of the Cities Service Oil company were presented service awards in recognition of their many years of service with the company at a meeting here recently.

It takes a heap of man-hours to make a struggling little oil company into a nationally-known organization," Frank M. Perry, director of Cities Service Oil Co., and manager of its Natural Gasoline and Chemical division, said in paraphrasing a famous poet's philosophy that "it takes a heap of livin' in a house to make a home."

"Nobody would argue the point, for right here tonight we were 600 man-years of work represented. We all recognize the truth of this philosophy and that's why we're here tonight—to award a tangible symbol of recognition."

"It takes three main factors to make up any business: money, material and men. We pay a lot of attention to the first two, but we're inclined to take the last factor somewhat for granted, particularly when we evaluate our jobs. We think of ourselves as being small cogs in a large organization and are relatively unimportant to its well-being. It will be one of the happy functions of the service emblem that we will be wearing after tonight to remind us of the importance of the individual service record to the growth and development of our company. Without continuous and efficient manpower, money and material, client cannot produce. All three are equally dependent upon the other. But it is the manpower side of the triangle we want to talk about tonight, and especially those men who have given long, continuous service to the company. The best evidence of your service is the character and position of the company you have helped to build since the beginning back in 1912."

The congratulations and good wishes of A. W. Ambrose of Bartlesville, president of Cities Service Oil Co., were relayed to the group by Perry.

Presentation of the awards was made by C. E. Beecher of Bartlesville, general superintendent of Cities Service's Oil Production division.

One thirty-year service award, awarded to H. E. Debenber, was presented to C. P. Conover.

Twenty-five-year awards, with a diamond-studded gold bar, went to George L. Haynie, J. H. Knox and Roy McWhirter.

Greenbarred service awards, commemorating 20 years of service, were presented to Louis Roenfeldt, Earl Easton, Herbert Willis, E. E. Edgerston, Kirby Ragann, W. C. Hutchinson, Lee Coble, W. M. Murphy, D. Russell and Edwin Bishop.

Fifteen-year service awards, with white bars, were presented to Perry Carr, H. V. Turner, A. E. Myler, C. E. Powell, W. L. Oall, N. E. Dulaney, James G. Robinson, Clyde Batson, J. L. Faris, James Preston Wilson and C. R. Williams.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—Everybody who takes a trip abroad, brings forth a book, writes a book or crawls safely out of a train wreck, asks himself: "What did I gain from this experience?" So like any other tourist—for foreign correspondents, however they may dislike to think so, are basically just long-term tourists on an expense account—I took out my battered notebook to thumb back and see what four years of war and peace verses had taught me. The notebook had a few statistics: "I had gone around the world—by 1960 who won't have?"—and traveled about 102,000 miles. Some 50,000 were by jeep, 50,000 in sixteen different types of aircraft, and 2,000 on my own bunions and assorted ox-carts, burros and one flea-ravaged camel that spent twenty years learning the long way around a pyramid. I had visited fifty countries and six continents. That's a lot of moving for a fellow who use to argue with his wife over who would walk down to the corner stand to buy the first edition. The notebook held many memories. I had helped cover a world war, climbed the Eiffel tower single-handed and spent a nice afternoon conversing with a young lady in Ball who never saw a three-base hit or a brassiere. I saw a lot of battles, a few riots, a couple of revolutions, and many bread and rice lines. I talked to several thousand people, from General Eisenhower—he said, "hello"—to a Bombay fakir who could tie himself into a pretzel, but didn't serve beer. And what did it all do to the "me" that was?

Well, travel is still broadening, so I beamed up ten pounds, harvested another chin and lost enough hair to make me first cousin to a cue ball. And I learned a lot of odd and useless things, such as: That foxholes make more friends than cocktail parties; That Calcutta hotels have more rats than nests, and more servants than either; That the Chinese have lots of fun and children, while the Indians just have children. I also learned at least three fundamental things. (1) That men and women in all lands—from a Bronx taxicab driver to a lady hodgecarrier in Bombay—ache for peace, freedom and security for their children in a world better than they themselves have known; (2) That they all, deep in their hearts, are willing to accept any pattern that will lead them nearer that eternal goal; (3) And that, to gain it, peace must produce new heroes of compromise and tolerance in many countries to defeat fresh ambitious villains again piping the old Hitler tunes of distrust, prejudice, pride and greed.

On Nov. 4, OPA Closes Local Price Offices

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON—(AP)—On Nov. 4, OPA closes its 1,847 local price control boards. But—this does not mean the end of OPA now. There'll still be some price ceilings. To control them, OPA will keep 61 district offices running. And rent ceilings stand unchanged. OPA will keep its 630 area rent control offices running to sit on rent. But from now on keeping the lid on retail prices—the prices which you, the consumer, pay—is a lot tougher. By this action—scrapping 1,642 local price boards and dumping the whole load of retail price control on 61 district offices—OPA is greatly weakened.

Here's the score: 1. The items which remain under price control still are scarce. Some of them—like refrigerators and washing machines—are listed below. 2. If—after Nov. 4—you think ceilings are being violated, you'll have to complain to your nearest OPA district office. 3. You'll have to apply to that same district office for any information you want on OPA prices.

Shade of Sycamore

By PERCY MARKS Author of "The Plastic Age" "A Tree Grows Straight" Etc.

XXXVI THE newspaper stories about her appeared without any warning whatever. She received no telephone calls from editors; she was asked for no interviews; she talked to not a single reporter. Nevertheless, the stories about her were complete. They were adorned with a picture of the cottage; they explained Mrs. Mays' role in Gayle's life, and they told of Gayle's work in the war plant. Gayle shrank with shame as she read. She was being made into a heroine, a rich young woman who had given up a life of luxury and ease to labor day in and day out to make airplane parts so that her gallant husband might be avenged. Something was up, and Gayle made no easier in her mind when she received a letter from Christina Evans. "What I have to tell you isn't important now," Mrs. Evans wrote, "but if I were in your place, I'd want to know; so I'm going to tell you. Holly and the Kingstons are back in New York. They've been here ever since your husband died. I met Betty on the street more than a month ago, and she was as frank as could be. She said there wasn't any reason for secrecy any more. She and Tom were paid a big sum to get out of New York State and stay out. She doesn't know who the man was who paid the money. They've been in Indiana. Tom's in the Army, and she's modeling again. Holly isn't though. She has plenty of money. She was with your husband all the time he was in this country, Betty said, though she kept well out of sight. Betty says Holly was really heart-broken when Bruce died, and she's still terribly unhappy. "I hope this letter doesn't make you unhappy, too. I'm writing it because I know if I were in your place, I'd want to be sure—and now there just can't be any doubt at all." Gayle wrote a note of thanks at once and told Mrs. Evans she appreciated her thoughtfulness and understanding greatly, but the letter gave her far more concern than it gave her comfort. Under normal circumstances, it would have made no difference to her where Holly, Steele and Betty, Kingstons were, but their return to New York seemed to have some significance under the abnormal circumstances that existed at present. "I wish I knew what they're after," Gayle thought over and over again until she was weary of thinking. Mrs. Bartlett had made Bart into a hero; but that apparently was not enough. She had some further plan, and Gayle formed an important part of it. She rubbed her aching forehead. "What can she want of me? What can she want of me?" Or was it Kent? In some subtle way was she trying to get control of him? Gayle's blood turned cold, and her hands trembled. It might be. It was the only thing that seemed even half way reasonable. . . .

Driller's Log

(Continued From Page 17) are pumping it out of the ground, and "the job of exploring territorial U. S. is only about half finished." In the past the oil industry has not only disproven all of the many frightening predictions in regard to oil resources shortage or exhaustion, but has also been able to meet the many demands for production of additional oil. At the present time it is impossible for anyone to say whether or not U. S. oil resources will be adequate to meet the demands of future years. However, considering the fact that the first recorded oil shortage forecast in 1885 was to occur by 1909, and that the prediction at the present time sets the shortage to be acute in 20 years, and since our present oil production is at least six times as great now as it was in 1885, one might assume that the predicted shortage will increase about six times its present rate in the next 50 or 60 years. Certainly this assumption is ridiculous and unfounded but it has just as great a chance of being correct as the prediction that our oil supply will be halfway exhausted in 20 years. This is certainly one subject that no government official or anyone else can hazard any better guess on than you or I.

AUSTIN—(AP)—The railroad commission today set for Dec. 5 a hearing on the application of the Commercial Production Company for discovery allowable rights to apply to production from the 5,600 foot sand reservoir by its No. 2 Shelly Ryals well. The well is in the Refugio (Heard area) field at Refugio county. Production from the 5,600 sand reservoir hitherto had been natural gas, but it is now flowing 39 gravity crude, the company said. The commission set a hearing Dec. 10 on application for discovery allowable rights on Jones and Merriam's No. 1 well in the West Sinton field, San Patricio county.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
Well, it's certainly a relief to know that, with all the problems that confront us, research work along important lines is steadily going on. I read that unseen forces in the domain of agriculture are on the verge of an epoch-making discovery; how to produce more durable eggs! It seems that if the average egg is subjected to four pounds of pressure, it's only good for an omelet. Science is trying to more than double the pressure necessary to wreck an egg—and I can see a lot of cooks going out on strike in protest against the additional demand for their energy. Personally, I should think that about. I've been thinking, maybe I'm all wrong, but it seems to me you're doing a lot of useless worrying. "Useless?" Confused, Gayle stared at her. "Oh, no! Mr. Godfrey's just as worried as I am." "I know. That's why I haven't said anything. He's a lawyer and knows a lot; but do you know, I think clever people like him often make a bad mistake; they forget most people aren't clever." "You mean they overestimate their opponents?" "Yes; that's it. Of course, I don't know Mrs. Bartlett, but she doesn't sound like a clever woman to me. She doesn't sound one bit clever. She offered you money, and that was stupid. No woman with good sense would have done that. And she was awfully stupid about bringing up her boy." Gayle nodded thoughtfully. "Yes, of course. You're right, of course. She's not clever. I'm sure of that, but Joel Dwight's clever. Every body says he is—and I'll bet anything he's the one who's running things." "I'm sure Mr. Dwight's clever. I read an article in a magazine about him once. He must be very clever. But he must be honorable, too. He wouldn't represent all those important people if he was sneaky and underhand—now, would he? And the newspapers must find out. The article said they did. Maybe Mrs. Bartlett wants to harm you, but I don't see why Mr. Dwight would want to." "No," Gayle agreed, "no, maybe not; but he's acting as if he wanted to."

"Maybe and maybe not. Maybe he's just trying to protect you for the sake of the Bartlett family. He could be, you know. Anyway, you could find out. Besides, the right is on your side. They can't do anything if you just tell the truth. It's awfully hard to lick the truth. I know rich people have lots of power, but you haven't done anything wrong; so what can they do?" Gayle sat very still and looked at her a long time before speaking. Finally, she said, "You've given me a new idea. I think you're right. I'm going to see Mr. Godfrey." (Continued From Page 12)

IT'S UP TO THE VOTERS OF PANHANDLE ON TUESDAY

Instead of feeding at the trough of a tradition which has probably done some harm to the South, the people of that great section of the land will have the opportunity this week to vote the issues and not on labels.

At that time the people will have the chance to repudiate the collectivist and paternalistic policies which their democratic representatives in Washington have adopted piecemeal over the past 14 years. They will have the opportunity to vote on issues, and not for the political label which the candidates wear. Tradition, as we have said before, is strong; and, therefore, the South has voted almost solidly democratic for some 80 years.

But our prejudices against names, our recollection of times gone by won't help us build a future for our land and our children.

Without dealing in personalities, we would like to point out to the reader that our present representative in congress, the Honorable Eugene Worley, has pursued the path of political expediency—voting and endorsing those issues of the new deal, almost solidly down the line as dictated and admonished from those who pull the new deal string from Washington. The people blandly have gone along. If a congressman does not follow that dictation and admonition, he would be considered a recalcitrant democrat, subject to party leaders' wrath and subsequent 'purge.'

In case we had forgotten, it is a fact that Mr. Worley, in this area a few weeks ago, defended the continuity of OPA—even as businessmen, restaurant operators in particular, were howling their heads off for freedom from OPA restraints. But the pressure had been too strong in other areas of the nation, and the President removed the OPA lid. Mr. Worley forthwith, according to the newspapers of Amarillo, said, in effect, that the President had acted wisely. (Political expediency.) He hopped off the OPA wagon, for that is what the administration had done. Following the virtual demise of OPA, the cotton markets, seeking to resuscitate from governmental hand-feeding, started acting up. Supply and demand had begun to rise from a sluggish dormancy. In true paternalistic fashion, Mr. Worley wired the chairman of the agriculture committee that the government should do something to stabilize the price of cotton; that is, give the free market another slug in the head.

That's what OPA had been doing—'stabilizing.' In its effort, women spent hours lining up for half a pound of steak, which did not go around; storekeepers saved scores of scarce items under their counters for faithful customers; restaurateurs skimmed on the blue plate to make a little money and at the same time stay within the 'ceiling'; farmers ate their own livestock—what they could, anyhow—because they would lose money selling it to the new deal-doctored markets.

If the reader thinks these things are generally true and not the visionary creations of an editorial writer, he knows what course to take. If he 'hasn't enough,' why of course he will stick to tradition, voting by habit and not by sense of the real issues involved. It's up to him.

That will be Nov. 5—next Tuesday.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
LILY REMAINS LILY
The first time I came to Hollywood they said: Lily, you must have caps on your teeth.
"I said: I have beautiful teeth, I keep them."
"Then I got mad and said: If you want Lily Pons for a movie why do you ask Lily Pons to look like someone else?"
"So they let me look like Lily."

But the movie was all wrong—too much comedy.
Lily sings two songs in a new musical, "Carnegie Hall," playing herself.
"That was different," she said. "I like it because it was my debut at Carnegie Hall. There was no comedy—just singing."
HER ALL FOR HER ART
After all these years—she's been a big-time opera and concert star for 15 years—Lily confessed that she still gets nervous the day of performance. In fact she slays nervous or about five minutes even after making her entrance.
"I stay in bed all day and suffer," she said. "The agony is terrible. I've tried doctors and pills but nothing works."
"One of my doctor friends who knows how much I suffer said: 'Lily, you should be hypnotized 12 hours before you go on.'
"I thought it over, but I was afraid that the performance would not be so good. I can never disappoint my public, so I shall continue to suffer."

Lionel Barrymore— noted for his symphonic compositions, just wrote his first swing tune, "Plain Memories."
—Esther Williams will not make any more movies until March of 1947. She's retiring to her date with the story—Adela Rogers St. John's son, Dick, has enlisted in the army corps.

SILLY DEMANDS? WAIT FOR THE LATEST ONES

WASHINGTON, (NEA)—Last summer a big Eastern advertising agency put out a full-page piece of copy in the slick-paper magazines, to the effect that everybody should feel sorry for the boss. Most bosses, the argument ran, began at the bottom as simple workmen.
The president of this big steel company began at $8 a week. The head of that auto company started out as an office boy. But by dint of honest endeavor and application of his noodle he rose to the top, where he now had responsibilities and troubles for which he got no overtime pay—just a lot of free kicking-around by one and all.
What all this suggests is not the usual Horatio Alger line that in this golden land of opportunity anyone can rise to the noble responsibilities of a boss. To reduce it to a complete absurdity, what this suggests is that there should be a union of bosses.
It could have some dandy demands. It could recruit members on the slogan "Every Man a Boss."
It could seek two bathrooms for every office, the one-hour week, 52 weeks vacation a year—at double time, of course.
It could have a social security, it could have free education for all bosses up to age 30, retirement at full pay at age 31, with added old-age benefits at 62.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON
BY RAY TUCKER

STRAIGHT—President Truman's only contribution to the democratic last-minute fight to retain control of congress will consist of a still unscheduled radio talk from the White House and distribution of recording which has made it strictly regional use. In fact, national headquarters will probably use more recorded speeches by the late F. D. R. than it will of its living President.

Although it took some courage for them to impress upon the Chief Executive that he might harm rather than help democratic candidates for congress and gubernatorial offices, a few of his friendly advisers finally put the matter to him in rather straight talk.

He spluttered and objected at first, but he eventually agreed with their strategy. He recognizes that at the moment he is not particularly popular with the American people.
Thus, for the first time in many years, the President of the United States will not row his prestige and power into the political scales. The most recent parallel of such an abdication was in 1936 when Herbert Hoover, the President, had been booted and ridiculed in Detroit, canceled most of his campaign plans.

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES

The Nurnberg Convictions
In its participation in the ex post facto trials at Nurnberg which sentenced the eleven principal Nazis to death, the United States has shown moral disintegration.

Here we have a case of the victor judging the vanquished. Here we have a case of the victors establishing as a crime an act that was never recognized as a crime before international law. Here we have the crime of prosecuting a war.
It is true, of course, that these leaders were guilty of heinous crimes, and they should receive punishment for the great harm they had done. But in trying them under laws that were not in existence at the time the acts were committed, and not trying them under existing laws for their brutality, we are setting a dangerous precedent.
It will be remembered that a little over a hundred years ago when Napoleon was defeated, the conquerors did not execute him. Instead he was exiled to the Isle of Elba.

Nation's Press

DON'T FENCE ME IN
(The Chicago Tribune)
We have a secretary of labor, after all. This discovery was made in a curious way. For many months, while the unions have been striking in rotation, and their members in an excess of boyish enthusiasm have been beating up politicians and innocent citizens, it was thought that nobody occupied this particular post in the cabinet. Other things could happen under Truman.

There is a secretary, however. His name is Lewis B. Schwellenbach. He lives in the Wardman Park hotel in Washington. This fact was confirmed when the service employees of the hotel, along with about 5000 others at all of Washington's leading hotels, went on strike. A picket line was thrown around the Wardman Park, and Mr. Schwellenbach needed a place to lay his aching head. Of course, he wouldn't give them the picket line by crossing the picket line.
There was only one thing for the chivalrous unionists to do if Mr. Schwellenbach were not to sleep in the park. They would want to hurt him. So they withdrew the picket line for 15 minutes and studiously looked the other way while Mr. Schwellenbach crept in to his apartment. The same performance is to take place every time he goes in or out. This is the Lewis Schwellenbach, the man who saved the aspersions that he is a fink or scab. The only inconvenience he suffers is having to make up his own bed. When he does that, as he says, it is a new experience.

the Wynn living room the other day when Keenan walked in and, without saying a word to anyone, went upstairs to his room and slammed the door.
"How come," asked our friend, "that you are separated yet still living together?"
"Because," said Eve, "he says he won't move until I find him an apartment. And I haven't been able to find one yet."

THE GROUNDWORK HAS BEEN LAID

William Green and the American Federation of Labor convention just closed in Chicago went on record as favoring the six-hour day, the 30-hour week.
Think of it! Start at 9, take a half-hour—oh, what the heck, take an hour—for lunch, and be through at 4, just as the kiddies are being let out of school.
Children's hours for grown-ups. That's the stuff. Communism can't make any headway in the United States as long as working people have better working conditions than the capitalist bosses.
A good start on this "Every Man Better Than a Boss" movement has already been made. The foremen have organized for their protection. The supervisory employees, the coal mines are organizing. Ship captains and engine-room officers are organized, and, boy, when they strike the place says struck.
Airing aloft are striking for $14,000 a year. What's the use of being a mere boss when you can haul it in like that?
These are some of the things to keep in mind as the country goes into its second round of negotiations for higher wages. There are going to be some demands made which will be a lot siller than those of the negotiating rooms.

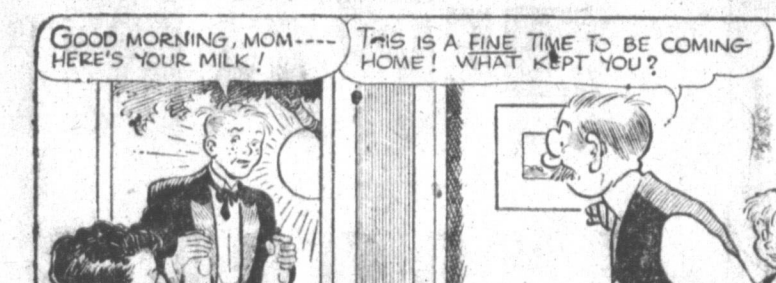

Truman came when he visited New York to deliver the address opening the United Nations meeting.
The Secret Service men, whose advance scouts had canvassed the metropolis for two weeks before the Presidential arrival, decided that it would be politically inadvisable for Mr. Truman to show himself too ostentatiously.

It is not generally understood, but the Secret Service men assume some significance because the major portion of his trip to Manhattan took him through districts populated by Tammany believers and through the garment-making area of the late Sidney Hillman's followers. It was here that F. D. R. used to get his greatest acclaim.

FURTIVE—Mr. Truman, however, rode through these New York wards in a closed car at a 40-mile-an-hour clip. Secret Service automobiles flanked his car, and kept him from the sight of populace. It was a hurried, furtive dash through democratic and C. I. O. districts.
The last few times that the President visited New York, he traveled in political state, in an open car at a speed of twelve miles an hour. But the great shortages, the Palestine problem and his "get tough" stand with Russia according to Secret Service investigators, led them to believe that Mr. Truman might be embarrassed politically if he showed himself prominently on the sidewalks of New York.

NEWS—Speaker Sam Rayburn slipped into the Capital a few days ago, and handed out the best and brightest news which the democrats have listened to in a long time. The Speaker, who is a shrewd customer, thinks he has good evidence that the democrats will retain control of the house and that he will continue in his present spot.
According to Sam, who will lose the Speakership and the perquisites which go with that office if the G. O. P. captures the lower body, he wired thirty democratic candidates who won by narrow margins in 1944 and asked them if they needed any money from national headquarters.
In view of his personal interest in democratic domination of the house, he explained that he could "fix things up" with National Treasurer George Killian.

ETALEMATE—Mr. Rayburn says that only four of the thirty members replied that they could use a little campaign cash. Among those who asked for money was Representative Andrew J. May of Kentucky, who is under grand jury investigation because of his alleged political and financial association with the Gopson brothers war munitions combine.
In view of Sam's political judgment and shrewdness, numerous Washington observers have begun to hedge on earlier bets that the G. O. P. would win the house. Mr. Rayburn believes that the democrats will have a three to five majority in the lower chamber, and a one or

Intend to Publish Reports and Germany

BERLIN—(AP)—The American, British and French military governments, with the cooperation of German scientists, are collecting for publication reports on significant developments during the war. It was announced today.

ALMOST
PAYETTE, Idaho—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Edwards took a 5,000-mile honeymoon trip to Arkansas without a trace of car trouble.
They drove into Payette, and just two blocks from home—their car burned out a connecting rod.

The task which confronts us is similar to that facing any householder moving into a dwelling in which the attic is full of bats, the living room full of cobwebs, and the timbers infested with termites. —Carroll Reece, Republican National Chairman.

Two margin in the senate. He admits, however, that an alliance of conservative southern democrats and republicans will result in a stalemate between congress and the White House.

Class Favorites Elected Wednesday Nose Junior Race Calls for Run-Off

Boy and girl favorite was selected from each class last Wednesday during home room period. The favorite elections are sponsored by the annual staff in an effort to give recognition to students outstanding in personality and ability to make friends. Scholarship and leadership are not stressed so much as being likeable.

The senior class selected Lawrence Baines and Mildred Groves as their favorites. Lawrence is head cheer leader and a nominee for student body president. A big grin and a ready laugh are his characteristics of recognition.

Dark haired, good looking Mildred Groves tallied the most votes as girl favorite. She may at any time be heard discussing "Charlie".

Marjorie Dixon added Junior girl favorite to a long list of achievements. She was a high scholastic average and has served as class secretary for two years in high school.

Runoff in home room will be necessary to determine the boy favorite from the Junior class because of the close race between E. Griffin and Richard Schlegel. Z. affectionately known as "Zee" is 6'5" of football, basketball, and track ability and is unopposed holder of the "biggest appetite" at Pampa High.

Richard is a quiet, blonde who has played Gorilla and Harvester football and has always been a favorite in his class.

Clayton Fike, the boy with a close cropped "G. I." haircut and a wonderful disposition, was selected by the Sophomores as their boy favorite. Clayton is homeroom president and was a member of the Harvesters last year.

The ability to make friends comes easy for Naneen Campbell and this is a big reason why she is Sophomore girl favorite. Naneen has been active in FHA work and is a member of the "Little Harvester" staff.

The Freshman chose a tall brown haired James Gallimore as their boy favorite. James was active in school politics in Junior High and at present is president of his class.

Martha Parks was recently elected class secretary and further proved her ability and popularity by leading a long list of Freshmen girls.

Three or four students were nominated for each favorite and deserve recognition. They are: Seniors: Bill Spear, Harold Anderson, Orin Allen, Elsie Wyatt, and Patsy Pearson; Juniors: Don Lane, Charlie Laffoon, Pat O'Rourke, and Nicki Frazer; Sophomores: Jack Williams, Don Thut, Patsy Scott, and Bea Adams; Freshman: Jimmy Campbell, Carroll Smith, Pat Price, Peggy Hukill, and Phyllis Scheig.

An All-School favorite will be nominated in the next home room.

Band Sells Decals For Ft. Worth Trip

Green, gold, white decals are being sold by the Harvester band members to help pay the expenses of the Fort Worth trip next Saturday.

These stickers are selling at 25 cents each, and all money will help pay for traveling expenses and hotel reservations.

They are decorated with a large B, the school building, a shield with Pampa Harvesters on it, two footballs, and two small pennants.

This is the longest trip the band will take this year.

cooperation needed . . .

Pampa High has now acquired a new principal and it must be ready to adapt its ways to those of its new leader. The Student Council, the band, the choirs, the language clubs, and other organizations of the school should be more than eager to co-operate and follow to the best of their ability. It is hard on the student body as a whole to have a change of leaders in the middle of the year, but it is also difficult for a new man to slip into the shoes of another at this time.

We, the students of Pampa High School, owe it to ourselves as well as our new leader to work just a little harder to run the school efficiently. We must, not as individuals alone, but in a group, strive to help overcome the handicaps set before our new principal, and make him feel that we welcome him in a true sense of the word.

Pampa High has proved that it is a friendly and welcoming student body before, and now we must uphold that proof and make it endure. N.F.

a word of thanks . . .

We, of this school, would like to compliment janitors and maids on the excellent job they have done. It is they who have kept a clean, polished look about our school. We owe them many thanks for the services which have rendered us. P.C.

Harvesters Meet Lubbock Nov. 9 In Conference Game

The Harvesters entertain Coach J. G. (Goober) Keyes's Lubbock Westerners here this coming Saturday afternoon at Hester Park. It will be the second conference game for both teams, each having lost to the mighty Borger Bulldogs. The Lubbock election made the better showing, however, holding the powerful Borger team to a 20 to 18 game, while the team before the Carbon City eleven trounced the Harvesters 24 to 7.

Lubbock will be fielding seven of last year's lettermen against Pampa, six of whom played against the Harvesters last year in their 0 to 0 tie game. The Westerners are captained by Don Jones, and Dick Schmidt. Sikes is considered one of the best open field runners in the district, second only to Amador. Harold Condon, Schmidt, who teams with his twin brother Bill, takes care of the end positions and both looked good against Borger. Elsewhere in the line, Wilson is a standout at center and is also a returning letterman.

Lubbock so far this season has made a comparatively good showing despite defeats at the hands of the Abilene Eagles 14 to 12 and Borger's last week's victory 20 to 18. The Westerners beat Lamesa in their first game 18 to 6, and edged the San Angelo Bobcats 7 to 6 two weeks ago. Coach Keyes's charges have shown all through the season their greatest weakness in not being able to convert after the touchdowns and this may make or break their chances here Friday.

Probable starters for Lubbock are:

Name	Pos	WT.	No.
D. Schmidt	LT	155	83
Waters	LT	164	67
Wall	LG	75	65
M. Wilson	G	151	51

B. Schmidt	RE	146	81

Lanham	FB	170	29

After having chosen sides, the Spanish I classes competed against each other in an old fashioned spelling bee. Miss Vaughan was in charge of the activity and words were flying to and from both sides in rapid succession. This project is being used as an aid to the learning of vocabularies so essential to a foreign language.

Barbara Condon and Jimmy Marx were captains of the second hour's heated contest. The words were called out and their spelling retorted in little or no time. After nearly an hour of such antics, Barbara's side won by having seven men standing to one on Marx's team. Among those left standing were Buddy Sawyer, Patsy Rutherford, Joan Clay, Julie Dawes and the captain. The sole contestant from the opposite side was Eric Morrison.

At the close of this project Miss Vaughan hopes to have enlightened for all the old and new members of this class in the course.

Essay Titles Provide Interesting Material

What's behind an essay title? Usually an essay, but let's forget that and put down a few titles.

Mrs. Mabel Torvie's English classes have completed writing a few essays—much to their pleasure. Some took the serious side, some the scientific, and others the humorous.

"Billiards—Vice or Versa?" written by a righteous boy, trying to explain the vice more than the versa, no doubt. "How To Tell a Junior from a Senior," "Skipping," "Crowding Up," "The Way Men Shave" (written by a girl) and "The Art of Dodging Cars" (written by a pedestrian) were a few on the lighter side.

"The Atomic Bomb" was written by a scientific genius, from the Junior class. "Visualize the Real Intent of Education" is a kind of title that shows real thought and concentration.

Various ideas were advanced in these essays. Many of them were on getting an art club for Pampa High, and clubs, pro and con.

Shakespeare Studied By English IV Classes

The Senior English classes under the direction of Miss A. L. Jones, have been studying Shakespeare, his life and works.

The study will extend for two or three weeks in order to complete the reading of "Macbeth," one of his greatest tragedies.

Each class has selected a cast of characters for Macbeth and will be reading it next week. A record of the play made by characters of these classes will be played to the class after they finish reading it.

Miss Ruth Stapleton will direct the making of a record of Macbeth by the best characters of each of the classes.

Nomination To Be Held For School Favorite

Attention all classes! Wednesday afternoon all students are asked to vote for an all school favorite. This person does not have to have any certain class or hold any special qualifications.

This may not seem important to some of you but to others it is very important. So be sure to nominate your favorite friend Wednesday.

Tennis Tourney Declares Champs

Miss Dorothy Hoyte's tennis classes this year have really been working. They have developed skill and grace on the tennis courts. The interest is so high that they decided to have a tournament to determine the champion tennis players in the different classes, Wednesday afternoon.

Three girls, Alice Jean Robinson, Dorothy Jones, and Clara Davis, representing the first, third and fifth periods respectively played off for singles champion. Alice Robinson won in the finals by defeating Clara Davis three out of five. Alice Jean showed exceptional skill on the courts.

The doubles were played off with Avis Kelly and Gwen MacAdams fifth hour, and Reba Bain and Patsy Williams, third hour, and Virginia Snyder and Norma Culverhouse from the first. Kelly and MacAdams won over Bain and Williams in the final playoff in a close set.

The games were officiated by members of the tennis class.

Frank Wilson Is Principal Here After Nine Years in Austin

Mr. Frank Wilson is replacing Mr. Winston Savage as the principal of Pampa High School and will take over his duties some time in the near future, although the exact date has not been set.

Mr. Wilson obtained his Bachelor and Master degrees at the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. He has attended the University of Texas also and lacks but one year's work on his Ph. D. degree.

Educational administration is his line of work. Mr. Wilson has been the principal of Fulmore Junior High School, located in Austin, Texas, for the nine years previous to his assignment here in Pampa.

Mr. Wilson is the immediate past president of Phi Beta Kappa, the outstanding scholarship society of the nation.

"I am looking forward with greatest anticipation to working with the fine students and the outstanding faculty of Pampa High School," said Mr. Wilson.

The new principal and his wife reside at 509 North Russell, the home of Mr. Savage, during his stay in Pampa. Mr. Wilson has one daughter, who is twelve years of age and will attend Pampa Junior High School, where she is classified in the seventh grade.

Party Given Seniors; Procedure Is Changed

"Aren't you going to open the door for me? Where's your money?" "I'll be a tea-bone steak, french fries and malt!" These were a few snatches of conversation heard from the boys' Wednesday evening at the Senior "Farewell" party.

Home room 217 was host to the 75 seniors present.

Screams and looks of horror followed by running trailed the "skel-ton" who rattled through the audience. A new and first dance step was created by the "skel-ton."

The floor show featured the Senior sextet—composed of Eleanor Carruth, Patsy Pierson, Billie Don Croswan, Eunice Shadlen, Alverna Miller and Barbara Morrison—singing "I I Were the Only Girl" and "Am I Blue." Gwen Weston arranged the music and accompanied the group. The lights went out and the "skel-ton" crept through the audience as Margie Lawrence thrilled them with a "ghost" story.

Madam Zodia was a special feature as she explained the future and the past. Mrs. Roy Cone served as the Madam.

Refreshments of ice cream, cookies, and cakes were served from the canteen bar to the girls who in turn served their dates.

Annual Sales Advance; Editor Thanks Pupils

The annual staff wishes to express their appreciation for the cooperation the students have given them in the past few weeks in having their pictures taken. The more pictures that are taken the better the annual will be.

The annual for the year 46-47 is being increased from 96 pages to 112. This is one reason for the increase in price. The other new addition to the annual is the art staff, who plan to have more art in the annual.

Annuals may be purchased before class each morning and during both lunch periods from the members of the annual staff.

Make-up days for all students who have not had pictures are November 6, 7, and 8. If any student for any reason has not been able to have his picture made on schedule, he is urged to take advantage of these three make-up days.

The faculty have been assigned the week from November 12 to November 15 for having their pictures made.

Teachers Give Savage Farewell Party at PHS

A going-away party was given Mr. Winston Savage in the high school cafeteria last Tuesday night by the members of the faculty. The program was in charge of Miss Virginia Vaughn and enacted by different teachers.

The first was one which endeavored to present the likeness of Mr. Savage's fifteen years in Pampa, and at the end of the program Mr. Dick Livingston presented Mr. Savage with a picnic suitcase, a gift from the faculty.

Nation Critically Needs Scientists

If you were asked to name the most serious shortage now facing you, would your answer be: Nylon, sugar, steaks, shirts, meat, rubber? These are not the right answers. A much more serious shortage menaces us today and threatens our future: A shortage of scientists.

Though we have a large enrollment in our science courses in Pampa High School, we find only a few who plan to continue the study of science and make that their profession. Our teachers of the science department are doing their utmost to stress to the students the facts that science controls our destinies.

Band Wins First At Canyon Meet

The Pampa High School band added another first division rating to the list of honors on October 26. The occasion was the marching contest in Canyon. The three classes that marched were Amarillo, Lubbock and Pampa. All three bands scored a first division.

Class C, B and A bands were well represented. The P. H. S. band having scored the highest last year is eagerly waiting for the score sheets this year.

A Cappella Choir Sings for Church

The A Cappella Choir sang for the First Methodist Church, Sunday, Oct. 27, and will sing at the First Christian Church, Sunday, November 3.

Some of the hymns the seventy members sang are: "Madame Jeanette," "Holy, Holy, Holy," "The girls sextet sang, "Green Cathedral," and the boys quartet sang "Now the Day is Over," "The Three Hiss and a Miss" quartet sang "Fairest Lord Jesus."

This was their first public appearance this year.

M. E. Lamb Joins PHS Science Dept.

Last Monday there appeared a new biology teacher in P. H. S. This teacher is Mrs. M. E. Lamb. Mrs. Lamb came to Pampa several years ago from Wichita, Kansas. She was born in Chicago, Illinois. She attended the University of Cincinnati and spent last year's year at the University of Wichita, where she received her B. S. degree. She has previously taught in schools at Miami, Florida, and Cincinnati, Ohio. She came to high school this year after starting the year at Junior High.

Students Show Day In Life Of "Windy" Savage

Last Wednesday in assembly Richard Hughes and John Pflauf gave an especially prepared assembly program pertaining to one day in the life of Winston Savage, our ex-principal.

The part of Mr. Savage was portrayed by Donald Thut, while Hansel Kennedy took over the duties of Mr. Edmondson, our assistant principal. The skit opened in the home of Mr. Savage with Mr. Savage engaged in sound asleep while his wife, played by Ida Ruth Taylor, feverishly tried to get him up in time for work. The second scene was Mr. Savage at work at the breakfast table with Mrs. Savage trying to get her husband to pay attention to her while he nonchalantly read the morning paper.

At work in this scene Mrs. Hamilton (Angela Duncan) brought her little boy (Zeke Griffin) in to see Mr. Savage about daily disappearance of little Zeke. After this occurrence Mr. Savage dictated a letter to Don Lane; and after Jean Pratt, playing Mrs. Roberts, came in, he was literally trampled in the noon day rush.

At the end of this program Bill Bain of the student council presented the real Mr. Savage with a letter portfolio which will be engraved with Mr. Savage's initials. The Senior Sextet sang "School Days" at the beginning of the program, and then at the end they were accompanied by the whole student body in the school song.

Senior Personalities

Dan Elson was born in Stenetta, Texas, December 16, 1929, and has attended schools in Alford and Pampa. He has majored in English and history. He has not decided as to which college he will attend. His hobbies are sports and he is a member of the Harvesters.

Little Rock is the birthplace of Doris Exline; June 16, 1929, the date. She has attended schools in Salina, Kansas, Tulsa, and Enid, Okla. Her hobby is collecting pennants and she has majored in history in high school. She plans to attend Business College at Enid, Oklahoma.

Sports is the hobby of Reba Jo Fagan, who was born February 6, 1929, in Abernathy, Texas. She has attended Pampa schools exclusively. Math science and commercial work have been her main subjects in school. Reba has been active in tennis and volleyball. She plans to attend West Texas State College.

Photography and stamp collecting are the hobbies of Richard Gee, who was born in Ringwood, Oklahoma, February 27, 1929. He has attended Pampa schools only. He has majored in math and history and is a member of the Spanish Club and is a Corporal in the Texas State Guard. Richard plans to attend Oklahoma University.

Wesley Geiger was born in Borger, Texas, October 25, 1928. While attending Pampa schools he has majored in math and history. He has been a member of the Student Council and is a member of the Band. Music and stamp collecting are his hobbies, and he intends to attend Texas Tech in Lubbock next year.

Fish Make Big Showing In First Honor Roll

The Freshmen class really came across and proved themselves worthy of the exalted position of being the freshmen of PHS. They outshone the upper classes in honor roll averages by a wide margin.

That one man affair pulling together for top honors every time speaking of banding together, they all hold hands and form an impenetrable barrier (we hope) through wall and dash madly down the hall knocking each and every one down that happens to be in their way—a habit definitely frowned on by upper classes and teachers. What's that? Oh, you thought some kick was bound to come in pretty soon; the praise was too good. Well, don't worry, the freshmen will do better.

Sagebrush—by the Sage

That muscle man Richard Sheig is either relaxed his vigilance or turned over a new leaf in his womanly having campaign during this past week because he eyes saw him apparently enjoying Margie Lawrence's company in the halls before school and between periods.

The ideal English class took place in Mrs. Mabel Torvie's Junior English class Wednesday when the second period class had some salt-water taffy, the courtesy of Carol Culberson.

Since studying about English lords and ladies, two prominent senior boys have acquired new names: William of Frost and Lonzo of Francis. Some class.

There were several lucky students that went to Ft. Worth over the week-end. Margie Taylor, Edith Morrow, Jean Pratt and Margie Lawrence had a grand time unless when ever it was mentioned.

We seem to have a certain red headed freshman in our midst who declares he would be willing to marry, if only marriage would bring him a "22". Bad, your not getting desperate are you?

The Home Ec girls served the office force coffee and cookies Wednesday. This was their way of expressing their appreciation of everything Mr. Winston Savage has done for us.

All students and teachers were downhearted last Wednesday. Why? Because Mr. Savage left Pampa High after accepting a position at the University of Texas as director of Intercollegiate League music. Everyone wishes him much happiness and success in his new work.

R. L. "Weasel" Edmondson was the outstanding player on the field. "Weasel" is the only ex-harvester who can leap high into the air and snag an opposing runner around the waist.

Art Club Holds Exhibit Of Work In Library

All during the past week the "Be-cause We Don't Have Art in Pampa High School Club" has been sponsoring an art exhibit in the high school library.

For those who did not see the pictures I shall try to describe some of the best ones.

Among the pictures of people is the "Sketch of Malcolm Douglas" by Roger Long. This is done in charcoal. Another is "Anoel," an oil portrait of a native girl, by Leona McClelland. This is said to be Leona's best picture. Other portraits by Leona are the picture of "Bill McNutt" and a sketch of Mr. J. N. Plaster.

There are many other paintings, an excellent work.

Some of the notable works in still life were the many pictures of different kinds of flowers by Mildred Spotts. The names of her pictures are "Roses," "Flowers," and "Lilies."

Roger Long seems to specialize in painting buildings. One that I must mention is a painting of a street scene from the City Library window. This painting is called "Side Street."

Another of his studies is still life. In this field he painted a mystery picture called "The Egg Beater." It is rumored that a prize is being offered to the person who can find the egg beater in the picture.

Leona McClelland has as her best landscape painting "Forever." The main idea of the picture is to bring to one's mind the symbols of forever by the industry, man and nature, and the landscape which is lost in a maze of eternity.

"Saturday Night" by Marjorie Goodard is a lovely picture of a pair of girls' heads drying after a bath.

One picture that is really different is one done with the fingers. Mary Edgington painted "The Cock" this way.

"Evel Vite" by Billy McClelland is an interesting picture to study. It has all vices represented in it. There are not the right answers, and all of them will be on display again when the Twentieth Century Club sponsors an art exhibit for the student artists.

Lubbock Party To Be Saturday, November 9

At their meeting last Tuesday morning the Student Council voted to have a party before the Pampa-Lubbock football game.

Tickets have already been purchased and will be taken to Lubbock next week by a delegation from the Student Council. The delegation will invite the students and explain all details. The party will start at 12:30 Saturday afternoon and last until game time.

The social committee will be in charge of refreshments and decorations. The poster committee will handle advertisement, and the finance committee will handle ticket sales. The public relations committee will handle the interschool relations.

Tickets will be perforated and one half will be taken at the door and the other half taken upon being served the refreshments. Tickets will cost thirty cents.

The Student Council anticipates even more students to this party than the successful party with the Borger students. A more complete program with floor show and a large roped area for dancing will be additions for this party.

Boys' Physical Ed Plan New Courses for Year

The Boys' Physical Education department has decided to divide the year into three different sections. Coach Livingston, head of the department, made known today.

The first section is touch football and football rules. No intramural competition between home rooms this year. Coach Livingston is working on such a plan for next year.

Section two will consist of boxing, wrestling, tumbling, volleyball, and softball.

Section three of the two physical education departments are discussing a plan where by square dancing and folk dancing may be combined with boys and girls making up a mixed class.

The Boys' P. E. Department may sponsor one or more contests consisting of boxing, the proceeds of which will be used to procure a transo-line to be used by the combined P. E. Departments of both Junior and Senior High Schools.

Considerable consideration is being given to taking up golf in the spring. Students taking golf will probably have to furnish their own equipment.

'I Was Robbed'—Lena; Gravel Gertie Silent

It seems as if many students of Pampa High School prefer Naneen Campbell to "Lena the Hyena," although no one knows why.

"Lena" was runner-up with five votes while "Gravel Gertie" received only three. Although "Lena" was happy to hear that she was in the top three, she was deeply hurt she wasn't elected unanimously.

Among the freshmen "Kilroy" was runner-up with two votes and appears as if the ballot box was too closely guarded for him to make a good showing along with James Gallimore.

Also remembered were "Elmo Chills" and "B. O. Plenty."

Mr. Frank Wilson is replacing M. Winston Savage as the principal of Pampa High School and will take over his duties some time in the near future, although the exact date has not been set.

Mr. Wilson obtained his Bachelor and Master degrees at the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. He has attended the University of Texas also and lacks but one year's work on his Ph. D. degree.

Educational administration is his line of work. Mr. Wilson has been the principal of Fulmore Junior High School, located in Austin, Texas, for the nine years previous to his assignment here in Pampa.

Mr. Wilson is the immediate past president of Phi Beta Kappa, the outstanding scholarship society of the nation.

"I am looking forward with greatest anticipation to working with the fine students and the outstanding faculty of Pampa High School," said Mr. Wilson.

The new principal and his wife reside at 509 North Russell, the home of Mr. Savage, during his stay in Pampa. Mr. Wilson has one daughter, who is twelve years of age and will attend Pampa Junior High School, where she is classified in the seventh grade.

Party Given Seniors; Procedure Is Changed

"Aren't you going to open the door for me? Where's your money?" "I'll be a tea-bone steak, french fries and malt!" These were a few snatches of conversation heard from the boys' Wednesday evening at the Senior "Farewell" party.

Home room 217 was host to the 75 seniors present.

Screams and looks of horror followed by running trailed the "skel-ton" who rattled through the audience. A new and first dance step was created by the "skel-ton."

The floor show featured the Senior sextet—composed of Eleanor Carruth, Patsy Pierson, Billie Don Croswan, Eunice Shadlen, Alverna Miller and Barbara Morrison—singing "I I Were the Only Girl" and "Am I Blue." Gwen Weston arranged the music and accompanied the group. The lights went out and the "skel-ton" crept through the audience as Margie Lawrence thrilled them with a "ghost" story.

Madam Zodia was a special feature as she explained the future and the past. Mrs. Roy Cone served as the Madam.

Refreshments of ice cream, cookies, and cakes were served from the canteen bar to the girls who in turn served their dates.

Annual Sales Advance; Editor Thanks Pupils

The annual staff wishes to express their appreciation for the cooperation the students have given them in the past few weeks in having their pictures taken. The more pictures that are taken the better the annual will be.

The annual for the year 46-47 is being increased from 96 pages to 112. This is one reason for the increase in price. The other new addition to the annual is the art staff, who plan to have more art in the annual.

Annuals may be purchased before class each morning and during both lunch periods from the members of the annual staff.

Make-up days for all students who have not had pictures are November 6, 7, and 8. If any student for any reason has not been able to have his picture made on schedule, he is urged to take advantage of these three make-up days.
