

Criminal Career of Student Unfolds

William Heirens

CHICAGO—(AP)—The state moved today to wrap up its case against William Heirens by obtaining an indictment charging the 17-year-old possessor of a dual personality with the murder of Mrs. Josephine Ross, one of the three killings he confessed.

In unfolding a detailed story of his incredible criminal career yesterday, he set forth how he killed Mrs. Ross, a 43-year-old widow, in her apartment in June of 1943, although he had not been indicted for this murder.

His confession solved the fiendish kidnapping, strangling and dismemberment of Suzanne Degnan, 6, on Jan. 7, and the shooting and stabbing of Miss Frances Brown, 33, a former WAVE, on Dec. 19, 1945.

Pig 311 Unworthy Of All Publicity Says Adm. Nimitz

HARLINGEN—(AP)—Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz said in a letter to Texas air day officials that pig 311, who has been hogging headlines for being a survivor of the first atom bomb, actually was far from the big boom and didn't deserve such publicity.

Complete returns from the Fifth Missouri congressional district gave Enos A. Axtell, 37-year-old former navy lieutenant, the democratic nomination by 2,301 votes over the two-term of whom Mr. Truman had said:

If he's right, I'm wrong. Jerome Walsh, former OPA enforcement attorney, ran a distant third. Axtell's November opponent will be Albert L. Reeves, Jr., ex-lieutenant colonel of the army engineers. He was unopposed for the republican nomination.

'Miscalculations' Termed Cause of Costly Stumbles

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Allied miscalculations were blamed in part today by British Field Marshal Lord Wilson for the costly stumbles at Anzio and Cassino on the long road to Rome in early 1944.

Wilson, then Gen. Sir Henry Maitland Wilson, the Allied supreme commander in the Mediterranean, contended that once the Anzio adventure had been undertaken "it was absolutely essential that we concentrate our efforts on the battle in Italy" until the beachhead and main front before Cassino were linked.

Unearned Runs Determine Most League Contests

By The Associated Press
With only Fort Worth and Tulsa playing errorless ball, unearned runs were deciding factors in three of last night's Texas league games. Biggest miscue came at Dallas as Oklahoma City's Bill Nagel dropped a fly and then threw wildly, the play being responsible for four runs as Dallas won, 9-6.

An infield error by Houston set up a two-run rally for Beaumont as the Exporters defeated the Buffs, 2-0.

At San Antonio, the Missions headed the Shreveport Sports a 5-4 defeat as Pete Kraus went to second base with two out in the last of the ninth when J. P. Wood threw low to first. Kraus scored the winning run when the ball got away from First Baseman Earl York.

The Fort Worth Cats came from behind to push across two runs in the eighth to defeat Tulsa, 2-1. The late Fort Worth rally resulted from a two-run single by Bobby Corbould. Tulsa took a slim lead in the sixth on a home run by Roy Easterwood. George Dorkins, whose single started the winning rally for the Cats, gave up six hits, one more than yielded by Mack Stewart of the Oilers.

Today's schedule:
Dallas at Houston.
Oklahoma City at Beaumont (doubleheader).
Fort Worth at San Antonio.
Tulsa at Shreveport.
(All night games).

Softball League Teams Fighting for Berths in Playoffs

With time before the playoffs growing short, teams in the Kiwanis softball league are fighting hard for first or second place and a chance in the playoffs.

Central Baptist and McCullough Methodist junior boys played a first game last night which McCullough won 5-4, breaking a 4-4 tie.

Presbyterian and Harrah Methodist junior boys also seem to be fighting for top berths as they both scored in every inning of last night's game. Presbyterian won 23-19.

The two girls games were again high scoring affairs as 106 points were scored in the two games. First Methodist trounced Central Baptist 35-8 in the first game and the undefeated First Baptist snowed under the Presbyterians 47-16.

A rejuvenated First Christian senior boys team came up with their first win of the second half as they romped over First Baptist 30-6 in a four inning tilt. Costly errors helped beat First Methodist at Central Baptist outscored them 12-7.

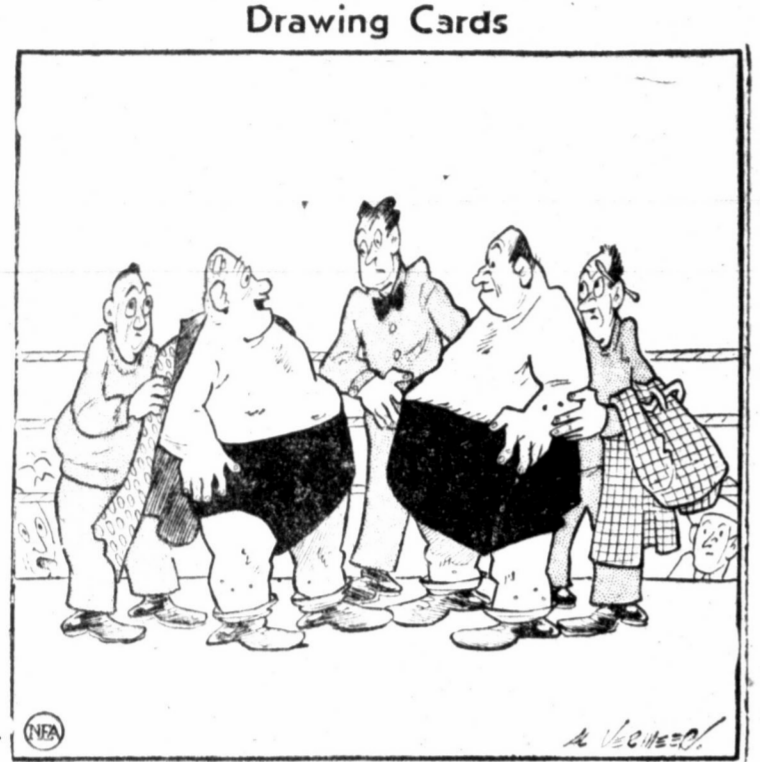

Homer Doggett, sponsor of the First Baptist girls team, has announced that he is getting a girls team made up of players from all the churches to play a team from Skellytown Thursday evening at 6 on the regular girls diamond.

Hambletonian, Postponed by Rain, Is Set for Tomorrow

GOSHEN, N. Y.—(AP)—The 21st running of the Hambletonian, America's top trotting event, was postponed today until tomorrow because of rain.

The decision to delay the event was made by William H. (Bill) Carne, owner of Good Time park. He said that a heavy pre-dawn rain had turned the strip into mud.

Today's entire grand circuit card was wiped off the books with the Hambletonian and one other race being carried over, weather permitting, the nation's best trotters now will start at 3 p.m. (EDT) tomorrow in the first heat, with the remaining brushes at 11 hour intervals.

A field of 11 will be going after the $28,047 jackpot. Two of the fanciest-priced sappers in trotting horse history rule as favorites.

These two are Chestertown, the California choice who cost Walter Smith of Los Angeles $43,000 only a week ago in trotting's biggest money transaction in 35 years, and Victory Song, who became the top-riced yearling of all time when he was bid in for $37,000 two years ago by Mrs. James B. Johnson, Jr., of Richeser, Mich.

These two, along with Deanna, the two-year old champion of last season, and Westfield Girl, a $25,000 filly from the barn of E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill., are generally regarded as most likely to divide the largest part of the $51,845 for the first six three-year olds to get home quickest.

Otey, Harriman Lead Attack; Garland To Take Hill Tonight

LUBBOCK—(Special)—Although collecting 11 safe blows to Pampa's 10, Lubbock's Hubbers were unable to hit Warren Hacker in the pinches and succumbed to the second-place Pampa Oilers, 4-2, here last night in the first of a three-game series.

Hacker registered his 14th victory of the season as R. C. Otey and Earl Harriman led the Oilers' 10-hit attack on Starter John Gray, who was with the Oilers a short time, and relief hurler Ernie Nelson.

Harriman collected two singles, a double and triple in five times up while Otey had a double and a triple.

Pampa took a 2-0 lead in the fourth when Gray got the bases loaded and then walked Joe Fortin and Al Johnston, forcing in two runs.

Otey reached first on an error in the fifth and scored on Harriman's double for the Oilers' third run. In the seventh, Otey tripled and scored on Harriman's single.

Lubbock left a dozen men stranded on the bases but managed to push in runs in the sixth and eighth, the only inning in which the Hubbers bunched their hits off Hacker.

A double by Cola and singles by Wilemon and Kuykendall produced the run in the sixth while singles by Wilemon and Kuykendall and an error on Nelson's grounder produced the final tally.

Lefty Bill Garland will be seeking his 18th win of the season tonight when he takes the hill against Lubbock in the second of the series.

The win last night pulled the Oilers into a spot only eight games behind the Abilene Blue Sox, who were losing to Borger, 3-2, on Tommy West's eight-hit hurling. Amarillo beat their case two games behind Pampa by blasting Clovis, 13-0. Albuquerque dropped a 7-6 contest to the lowly Lamesa outfit.

Koslo Hurls Giants To Victory Over Bums; Chicago Beats Reds

By JACK HAND (Associated Press Sports Writer)
Mel Ott's lowly Giants, 15 games behind the leader with 52 to go, are in a hopeless position in the National League. The Cardinals and Dodgers.

When the Brooks really needed to take one with a chance to stretch their lead to a full three games, last night they couldn't bump off their rivals from Manhattan.

Lefty Dave Koslo, touched for five hits in three innings, tightened up and held the Dodgers hitless the rest of the way in recording his 12th victory of the season, 5-2. The result reduced Brooklyn's first place margin to two games. The Cardinals were rained out of their game at Pittsburgh.

Chicago pulled out of a three-game losing spin to another Cincinnati, 3-0, on Claude Passeau's four-hit pitching at Crosley field. The Bruins trail the Dodgers by 7 1/2 lengths.

The hustling Boston Braves provided they still can beat the Phillies although out by a 10 to 5 margin when they rushed over two runs in the 12th inning to earn a 3-1 edge for Johnny Sain.

In the American league, the Boston Red Sox marched another step closer to clinching the pennant with a 9-0 romp over Philadelphia behind Tex Hughson's five-hit pitching.

Bobby Doerr blasted his 15th homer of the season with Wally Moses on base in the first inning to start Hughson off to his 12th triumph. It was Dick Fowler's 11th setback.

Two unearned runs on three St. Louis errors helped Detroit record a 3-1 victory over the Browns despite a four-hit pitching job by Jack Kramer. Al Benton's fourth win enabled the Tigers to climb to within a single game of the second place New York Yankees when scheduled night game at Washington was postponed by rain.

Chicago's White Sox enjoyed one of their best hitting days of the season, bowling over Cleveland, 11-1 on 1 1/2 blows good for 24 bases.

Quarter Horse Sells At Price of $10,000
I ARADO—(AP)—Zantanon, Jr., a quarter horse and champion stallion of his class, bred and reared on the ranch of Manuel Benavides Volpe of Webb county, has been sold to Leonard Milligan and associates of Nash, Okla., for $10,000, according to Volpe. Several other quarter horses and mares involved in the deal brought the total cash consideration to $165,000.

The champion quarter horse sold by Volpe is of the Little Joe strain of quarter horses popular throughout the country and has attracted much attention from race horse fanciers.

Owen Heads for Ohio; May Seek Reinstatement

BROWNSVILLE—(AP)—Mickey Owen, the ex-Brooklyn Dodger who on Monday called it quits with the Mexican baseball league, was en route to Cincinnati today after changing his mind about visiting relatives at Springfield, Mo.

When boarding a Missouri-Pacific train here last night, Owen refused to comment on his plans at Cincinnati. It is believed, however, that he may seek immediate reinstatement with the big leagues. The offices of Baseball Commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler are in the Ohio city.

The colorful catcher yesterday said he was through with Jorge Pasquel's Mexican baseball setup and would like to return to the Dodgers and help them win the world series.

When questioned about possible problems of reinstatement, Owen said, "as far as I have been able to learn, I was never put on a suspended list in the States."

He added that he had not discussed the matter with either Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn club, or Chandler. In Cincinnati, a spokesman at Chandler's office said no request had been received from Owen for an appointment.

Records in the commissioner's office revealed, however, that Chandler, on May 9, had handed down a ruling that barred Owen from organizing baseball for five years for jumping his National league contract and going to the Mexican league.

Owen's name topped a list of 12 National leaguers and one American leaguer, Murray Franklin of the Detroit Tigers, who were suspended by the May order. On June 13, Lou Klein, Max Lanier and Fred Martin of the St. Louis Cardinals were added to the list.

Lanier, in St. Petersburg, Fla., for treatment of an ailment to the elbow which he had no intention of following Owen's action of bolting the Mexican circuit. He said he had received good treatment by the Mexican officials.

SHAMROCK (Special).—Mrs. Dusan Pakan, formerly Miss Minnie Lee Phillips, was honored with a tea and miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. John Hrcniar, Jr., 605 South Main, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Edward Pakan was a co-hostess with Mrs. Hrcniar.

An all-white theme was carried out in decorations, featuring white snapdragons, white carnations and small daisies.

Mrs. Paul Ptak greeted the guests as they arrived. In the receiving line were Mrs. Hrcniar, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. C. M. Phillips and Mrs. Kristina Pakan, mother of the bridegroom.

Miss Ellen Hrcniar was at the guest register. Mrs. Ptak directed the guests to the gift room where gifts were displayed.

In the dining room the white theme was repeated in decorations. The refreshment table was laid with a cloth of lace, with a centerpiece of white carnations, was placed on a mirror, which reflected a miniature bride and bridegroom. On the buffet table tall white tapers tied with white satin bows were placed on either side of a low bowl of white snapdragons.

Mrs. Edward Pakan presided at the punch bowl.

During the receiving hours recorded music was played with Misses Helen Hrcniar and Miss Faith Macina in charge of the program.

Those attending and sending gifts were: Mesdames Anna Ptak, Paul Ptak, Paul Macina, Katherine Pavaska of Chicago, Ill., P. A. Anderson, Paul Ristlan, Carl Phillips, W. L. Walker, Miro Pakan, Ludovit Valda, John Cadra, A. N. Williams, Caleb Smith, Floyd Lee, Paul Stauffer, Bryan Franks, A. L. Eller, Michael Mertel, Julian Holder and Suler McKinney.

Misses Christine Macina, Louise Ristlan, Dixie Louise Williams, and Mae Ruth Stauffer.

Beach Suits Can Preserve Curves

The illusion of a graceful, up-curving bosom, which almost every woman preserves by means of regular exercise, is often shattered when she steps out on the beach.

The reason, of course, is that she hasn't searched for the swim suit or play duds that give her the needed figure flattery.

If you need it, there are play togs that will oblige. Regularly made all the others, no matter how fetching the style. Settle, instead, for swim suits which have lined tops designed like brassieres for uplift, or which have discreet fullness released above the fitted midriff band.

When choosing a halter, search to find one which is shirred or pleated or has tied-in fullness—each a device for giving the illusion of needed curves.

A cover-up, back-buttoned bolero, always a good choice for teaming with shorts, will permit you to wear your regular bra underneath.

Gracie Reports
By GRACIE ALLEN
Well, I see that Representative Clare Booth Luce has decided not to run for re-election, which means that congress will just have to get along with that much less glamor. Her record as a maker of laws may not go down in the history books, but she will be remembered as the politician who was first in charm, first in chic and first in the chair at the beauty shop.

Her presence had a good effect on congressional males, too. Elastic-sided congress garters gave way to sporty oxfords and men of the people discarded their baggy suits in favor of neatly pressed pinstripes. And never before had Washington barbers trained so many scant locks of hair over so many senatorial bald spots.

Speaking of barbers, while she was in office Mrs. Luce singled quite a few people herself. In fact, she burned some of them up completely.

High Heels May Age You Quickly
By ALICIA HART
NEA Staff Writer
Unless you have well-turned ankles and shapely legs, pass up the ankle-strap shoes. They'll only advertise less-than-lovely underpinnings which otherwise might skip along as beauties.

This warning comes from a beauty critic — Hollywood's Percy Westmore — who also points his guns at short and stocky girls who simply love to wear shoes mounted on exaggerated platform soles or wedge heels.

They shouldn't, he says, unless they want an effect that looks almost like demerol. Admitting that the short gal should add all the inches she can, Westmore thinks a better way to do it would be with conventional high-heel shoes.

He warns both the little miss and her taller sister, however, against the practice of wearing high heels on a job that calls for much walking or standing. Guess what fate he says will befall those who do? Premature old age.

"There is so much high fashion in walking shoes today — shoes with low and medium heels," insists Westmore, "that women shouldn't have to be coaxed to wear them as a safeguard of health."

Nylons Induce Women To Invade Ball Park

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer
When the new owner of the Cleveland Indians invited the women of Cleveland to be his guests at an afternoon baseball game recently, promising to raffie off 500 pairs of nylons by way of further inducement, he proved himself a smart promoter.

The girls came, over 20,000 strong — clubwomen, businesswomen, housewives, and baby-sitters. They pushed, jostled, and tangled with each other to get in; they applauded wildly when the winning nylon numbers were announced.

But, more important from the ball club's point of view, the shrieked, squealed, and yelled like veteran baseball fans at every exciting play. The combined bargain of free seats and the possibility of free nylons was undoubtedly what brought a lot of the ladies to the game in the first place. But, once there, they found it was the game itself that held their interest. And owner Bill Veck's audience potential has gone up by 20,000.

Time was when ball games, wrestling, and boxing matches, horse aces, etc., were considered purely masculine privileges. The feminine side of the family had to content itself with sewing circles, coffee klatches, bridge games, and other lady-like forms of amusement.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Masculine and feminine tastes once were supposed to differ, and if a husband had little patience in listening to the gossip his wife brought home from her ladies-aid meeting, his wife was not much concerned with the batting average of his favorite player.

How much more fun for everyone at the dinner table now that the whole family is interested in two-base hits, bunts, and triple plays — or is it?

Spokane, Wash., has two great waterfalls in the very heart of the city.

SALTY LINGO FOR THE AIR AGE

The future of navies may be threatened by the atomic bomb. The airplane may have muscled in on the ship's once-exclusive job of carrying goods and persons across the sea. But at least in the matter of abstract measurement, the mariners seem to have won a round. For the army air forces reportedly have come around to the navy's way of thinking, and will henceforth chart their courses and speeds in nautical miles and knots. Apparently this is the result of trans-oceanic flying by maps which measure in nautical miles. At any rate, the time may not be far distant when the landubber will finally learn that a knot is 1.152 miles an hour. But we fear that it will take a long time before he learns to express an airplane's speed as so many knots and not, as is the common, erroneous custom, as so many knots an hour.

MORE ATOMIC EVILS

Speaking of lingo, the atomic age, besides scaring the human race half out of its wits, has sown a crop of corny catchwords which in itself is a dreadfully wearisome though minor, menace. First it was the puns on atom and atomic, and the pictures of young women in bathing suits labeled "An-atomic Blonde." Then there were the business establishments with new nuclear names—the Atomic Sportswear, Atomic Exterminator, Atomic This-and-That companies. And now Operation Crossroads has started a new fad. To some caption writers and head writers of our own noble profession, the preface Operation is apparently considered the final word in cleverness. The other day, for instance, we saw a picture of some girls starting off to help somebody pick his berry crop. The caption, of course, was "Operation Raspberry."

Now this thing has gone about far enough. We keep hoping that the fad will wear itself out. But perhaps the safe thing would be for Mr. Baruch to attach some sort of a prohibitive rider on his plan for safe disposition of the atom. That much of an abridgment of press freedom we'll be happy to support.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By GLENN BABBS
(Formerly Foreign Affairs Analyst
Subbing for MacKenzie)

Overshadowed by the noisy peace conference at Paris, another international gathering in Geneva is grappling with the vast dislocations and sufferings left by the war. In the home of the defunct League of Nations the United Nations is preparing for its own passing but with the hope that other agencies will embody its spirit and mission. The chief of the United Nations general council of UNRRA and its last. The three nations which have borne most of the financial burden—the United States, which has furnished nearly three-quarters of the funds, and the United Kingdom and Canada, from which has come 80 per cent of the other quarter—have decided that UNRRA's work in Europe shall end December 31 and in the Orient next March 31. By that time UNRRA will have expended nearly $4,000,000,000.

Both the Americans who have served as UNRRA's directors, general—Herbert H. Lehman and Florentino H. LaGuardia, have declared that great suffering will result if there is a hiatus between the end of UNRRA and the time new United Nations agencies are ready to function. But the outlook for bridging this gap smoothly is not bright. Most important of the new agencies is the international refugee organization (IRO), whose charter was approved recently by the United Nations economic and social council but still awaits ratification by the U. N. General assembly and member nations.

IRO is designed to care for the refugee families who are to find new homes overseas and not to feed and shelter a majority of the 850,000 displaced persons now under Allied care in Europe.

Also in the formative stage is world health organization (WHO), but this agency has neither the funds nor the operating plans to take over any real share of UNRRA's functions next year.

The economic and social council has set up a subcommittee on devastated areas, intended to help rebuild and rehabilitate the regions which suffered most from the war. It is a long range program. The tremendous task of feeding the hundreds of millions who still will be hungry in 1947 and 1948 must, according to present prospects, go back to the governments of the suffering populations or to the armies of occupation. The United Nations has a planning agency, the food and agricultural organization (FAO).

But FAO is a long term proposition. Hunger is one of the vital political elements of our troubled times. The supporters of UNRRA believe that the chaos which raged in Europe and China would have been many degrees more tragic and dangerous without its efforts to fend off starvation. The current discussions at Geneva and those at the United Nations agencies in New York in the coming weeks may have much to do with determining the political complexion of Europe and Asia in 1947 and after.

Bridge Across Rio Grande Authorized

RIO GRANDE CITY (AP)—Sheriff Gus A. Guerra of Starr county, authorized last week by congressional action to construct a toll bridge across the Rio Grande here, said today he would not plan construction details until the project has been approved by Mexican authorities and by the international boundary commission. Approvals by these groups was required in the bill signed last week by President Truman.

Cornwall, England, was one of the world's earliest sources of tin.

Nation's Press

CONSUMER CREDIT RULE

(Chicago Journal of Commerce) Heing, tested consumer credit regulation during most of the war, a majority of the Federal Reserve Board snatches its lips and asks for more of the same. The board's annual report calls upon Congress to grant permanent authority to regular terms and conditions of this credit, as a means of softening the impact of cynical swindlers. The report has been a disappointment to the press and pending study of the section dealing with consumer credit only the views of those favoring permanent regulation are available in detail. The committee's report, however, has been summarized in general. The board's minority position will square pretty much with that of businessmen who believe that there is no right or economic reason for Government to dictate the conditions under which consumers shall acquire goods through the installment method. These businessmen are in the great majority, though there are a few who can work with such controls existing.

Regulation W, which was imposed in wartime to supplement the controls, was a virtually all business as unavoidable in the emergency. Most of them would like to see it liberalized immediately and dropped altogether in, say, a year. The committee's Regulation W was to impose restraints on inflation but, as anyone can observe these days, it is not doing that. Its effect is to handicap the person who can buy only on time and favor the cash buyer. On the purchase of a new car, for example, Regulation W requires a third down and the balance in 12 months, as compared with 18, 24 and even 30 months in the past. This means that the installment buyer of the lowest-priced auto mobile today must pay $85 or so a month, a sum beyond the ability of the masses to pay out of earnings.

While the regulation remains in effect, a more reasonable arrangement would be 25 per cent down and the balance in 18 months. This would be a fair compromise. The sale of such goods as radios which currently are moving slowly because the customer must put up $33 or more on console sets in prewar times a $10 down payment.

The effect of Regulation W now is to encourage the buying public to withdraw savings and cash "E" bonds. That procedure is helping the inflation spiral. It can be doubted, therefore, whether permanent regulation of consumer credit, by which the Reserve Board would tighten the rules in boom times and relax them when a depression is in the offing, would accomplish the purpose of controlling cycles. The proposal is especially ludicrous when it is suggested that there might have to be Government subsidization of financing sales of automobiles to the unemployed.

Truman Invited to Hospital Opening

HOUSTON (AP)—Invitations are to be sent to more than 400 national, state and military officials, including President Truman, to attend the Sept. 4 commission opening of the navy's $10,000,000 hospital here, Congressman Albert Thomas and Capt. Clyde W. Brunson, commanding officer of the hospital, have announced.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON
CANDIDATE—Controller General Lindsey V. Warren's courageous and penetrating analysis of congressional army-navy mishandling of billions in wartime finances may well be the demerits' quest for a 1948 running mate for Harry S. Truman. The rugged North Carolinian's fearless nonpartisanship in his sensational appearance before the head committee seems to have caught the political and popular fancy. Until he came along, the Hannegan forces were short of vice presidential prospects. Having no governors of such prominence as Dewey of New York or Warren of California, they were without a second-place candidate.

ISSUE—The nomination of Mr. Warren for the No. Two spot might also strip the republicans of a prize issue. With Senator Homer A. Ferguson of Michigan as his prosecutor—he has been a member of both the Pease Harbor and the Mead investigating committees—the G. O. P. aims to establish a record of administration extravagance and mismanagement of the war from its outbreak to its liquidation. The opposition believes that such an expose would dynamite the democrats off Capitol Hill next November, and lay the fuse for a more devastating explosion in the presidential year of 1948.

SHIVERS—The sudden and electric change in the nation's political atmosphere within the last month has shivered down the spine of Capitol Hill politicians as they quit Washington expose their breasts and their wartime performances to a restless and strange electorate. Incombent figures that they will be "dancing in the dark" between now and November.

RETIRED—But within the last few weeks ten more members, including sturdy veterans, have been retired to private life and they still cannot decide what hit them. Shrewd political analysts, however, believe that explanation for these defeats is as plain as handwriting on the wall.

INSPIRATION—Controller General Warren rendered the democrats another service by giving new direction and fresh inspiration to the Mead investigation. He lifted it from the status of a mediocre nickname show to that of a brilliant Broadway extravaganza.

PROAID—Mr. Warren, however, ripped the lid from a strong-bottle of secret records of graft, libelate waste and possible graft involving billions of dollars in taxpayers' contributions. He hit at the easygoing system of swapping favors which has existed under almost every administration.

He roared, whereas previous witnesses had whispered. He indicted the lawmakers for passing a por-

● Peter Edson's Column: JUGGLING THE TREASURY'S MILLIONS

WASHINGTON (NEA)—By dint of many hours of labor from January through July, consumed partly in recording and studying millions of words and miles of figures, congress managed to cut federal expenses by over a billion dollars for fiscal 1947. Then, in the last week of the session, congress slapped through a supplemental appropriation act for nearly two and one-half billion dollars, and there went your savings right out of the window.

The bureau of the budget's original estimates for this year's expenditures had been $3.3 billion dollars. Congress pared it down to $3.3 billion, but now it's back up to $5.5 billion. That's the record on economy for your first postwar year.

The whole difference, and then some, can be accounted for in the passage of just one bill, the one fixing terminal-leave pay to non-commissioner personnel of the armed services. The best estimates are that it will give an average of $165 to each of 15 million vets. That $2.5 billion and the money has to come from somewhere.

In addition to that, the reconstructed OPA had to have another $2 billion dollars that had previously been charged off to savings, and 20 million more had to be appropriated for increased overtime and holiday pay for federal employees.

WHAT CONGRESS CUTS HERE, IT ADDS THERE. Congress's annual race with it-

HOLD THE LINE
The Office of Price Administration did officially on June 30. Before it had been inoperative two weeks, everybody whose life and work have sustained no serious loss. Calamities that were supposed to fall upon the consumers of America did not happen. Some prices rose a little; others fell. The law of supply and demand had not been on vacation.

CHANCE TO REVIVE
The dead bureau may be resurrected by political pressure. In advance might be brought suddenly to life after this paper is printed and before it is delivered to its readers, but this seems most unlikely now. The longer we live without OPA the more useless it appears. It really comes to life, if at all, in the face of the influence of thousands of bureaucrats whose easy jobs are at stake.

LOOK FOR ADVANCES
Even in subsidized industries, where sharp advances were expected, operators have practiced moderation in making all upward revisions. While industrial leaders "held the price line," channels of trade have been filling steadily with new production and growing supplies. Prices are down, at least in an exchange, for many commodities to market. Steaks and chops are on the menu again.

GOOD CITIZENSHIP
We, the American people, are heirs of a clearly bought liberty. It is our opportunity now to prove that we are worthy of it. We can do this, if the OPA stays dead, by holding prices steady. Whether we are manufacturers, marketers or consumers, we have a part to play. We can do without anyone to take the role of dictator. Actually no price was ever fixed successfully by statutory law.

Reconsideration had been asked by the Texas railroad commission and by another Mexican corporation.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—We have just taken a lesson in crooning from one of the maharajas of the swoon department, Andy Russell. Andy was running over a new song about moon and June and wail'd I get my arms around you when we confessed our secret desire to be able to hit a few mournful notes that would have every Thelma, Della and Harriet drooling at our feet.

ALL-IMPORTANT TECHNIQUE
We took his advice and started on "Laughing On the Outside." Andy held up a silencing forefinger. "Your eyelids," he cautioned. "They ought to droop a little. And your shoulders don't shrug for sympathy." We tried it again with half-closed eyes and shrugged shoulders. Andy smiled.

DAUGHTER OF MINE

THE STORY: Della is determined to marry Cecily off to Stevie Ralston and is furious when she learns that Cecily has accepted Stevie's fraternal plan, that she is friendly with Val.

DELTA sized up Cecily's appearance and was assailed by positive terror. "Where's your sorority pin?" she demanded. "Have you given it to that Jackanapes?"

"I don't know who you're talking about," Cecily flared. "I threw it away. I didn't join a sorority so that some drippy senior could outline my love life for me. I'll do as I please!"

"Cecily Halliday! You threw away that expensive pin! Resigned run black-markets when restrictions are in force. Maybe there actually was an unhappy couple in California whose sandwiches in supply were priced down, at least to 40 cents a slice, they were being toasted. Anyway it was a good story."

"At least I'm relieved it wasn't for love of that creature Mavis has picked for you! The very idea of your even being associated with him! People will think you're hard up for boy friends if you have to go glumming to get one! Now you call Stevie Ralston and tell him you want his pin back!"

DELLA was nearly beside herself with frustration as the Ralston household receded further and further from her range.

Daughter Of Mine

THE STORY: Cecily quits her sorority because the girls object to her dating Val and threatens to start one of her own. Ralston's parents send her back to school but she and Cecily make up their quarters by mail.

"ANYHOW, what I wanted on about—" Della went on. "I've lost another maid and the gardener. Cecily has so much to do she can't even wash out a pair of stockings and I have most of the house on my hands—I can't get my cleaning woman more than once a week—"

"Well," I asked suspiciously. "What do you need?" Della said, "I'm a maid for Cecily. Her underthings can't go into the regular laundry and she has so many delicate blouses—her clothes need pressing and her room gets into a mess, naturally, so that she can't have the girls in as much as she'd like."

"Corinna manages to keep her room neat," I insisted on it. Della's voice brightened. "I know you've trained Corinna beautifully for housework. And I know she needs the money for school. So—"

"I couldn't believe what I was hearing. "You thought I'd allow Corinna to hire out as Cecily's personal maid? Are you insane?" "You let her hire out in that grey spoon?" Della said. "I said, 'It's not quite the same,' I said. "That's a job the younger girls all want. It's fun for them."

really a microphone. It's a beautiful and bewitching woman. Your right hand presses lightly against the curve of her chin. Your left hand makes fleeting contact with her flowing blonde tresses. You look longingly into her eyes, and you long to sing to her lips.

Together we devised a brand new method of investment. Cecily and Johnson, the Amorous Amphion, was hit upon that tag when we remembered that in Greek mythology there was a guy named Amphion who moved stones with his music.

"But the telephone prevented her intended pursuit," Cecily answered, her small chin still squared for battle. She turned a triumphant face toward Della before she said into the mouthpiece, "I guess that will teach you to use a little more self-control!"

"Poor kid!" Robert commented at dinner. "If his mother were deliberately trying to defeat her purpose she couldn't have chosen a surer way!"

"Della gave her very little alternative," I said. "But Della is going to win out sure as shooting now," Robert said. "Cecily will get over her huff in a few days. Then what?"

"Yes, and what about Val?" My voice had grown strained. Robert shrugged. "I doubt that Cecily could ever really be serious over a boy of Val's station. Della's work started too early and it's been too thorough."

MY hands were clenched in my lap. "Don't say things like that," My words came in jerks. "Cecily isn't like Della. You know she's not. She loves Corinna—"

Brooklynite Joins 'Wornout' Actors

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—Most of the acting folk out here suffer the delusion that they work too hard. Latest to advance this nonsense is Danny Kaye.

"After this picture I'm going to take a long rest," he reiterated. "Yes, I'd like to sit on my derriere and play golf all day." A novel way to play the game, but then...

"How did you come out about that Rasbo girl?" she asked Cecily. "Did she get voted in this afternoon?"

"Cecily buttered a cracker lavishly," she certainly did not. I laid the law down to Ella May and Janine. We all dinged her and the rest of them couldn't do a thing about it!

Robert turned to his daughter quickly. "You know how we feel about sororities." "I don't want to join one," Corinna said. "But if Cecily wasn't a big snob she'd get me asked."

"I don't want to join one," Corinna said. "But if Cecily wasn't a big snob she'd get me asked."

Market Briefs

WALL STREET NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market extended its general retreat today although a handful of favorites managed to post good advances. Steels and motors limped after a slightly higher start. Dailies expanded at intervals but slowdowns were plentiful. The market was notably "thin" with several issues rising or falling a point or so between sales. Extreme losses running to 2 or more points were reduced in most cases near the close. Transfers held to the neighborhood of 750,000 shares.

Man Wanted Here Held in Las Vegas

District Attorney Walter E. Rogers revealed today that Gray county authorities have received notice of the arrest in Las Vegas, Nev., of a 21-year-old youth alleged to have cashed what investigation disclosed as one forged and two "hot" checks in Pampa, July 27.

The youth was identified by Rogers as Robert A. Ralston, of Independence, Kans.

Rogers said Las Vegas authorities reported uncovering a trail of bad and forged checks allegedly cashed in seven states by Ralston on his route from Independence to the Nevada city.

Gray county authorities will ask for extradition of the youth unless he is convicted and set to the penitentiary in Nevada, Rogers stated. He described the case as "typical of the way illegal checks are now being passed off on unsuspecting cashiers."

The Pampa checks, he said, were cashed by local department stores.

A route has been established by air between Lima, Peru, and Iquitos, a Peruvian city on the Amazon, 650 miles away, which is covered in four hours. At one time it took a person three months and 22,000 to make the trip, traveling by boat.

Confession

apartment, his name was linked with the three murders. But until yesterday there never was any confirmation to the published reports that Heirens had admitted to his attorneys and to his parents that he was the slayer. Police and state attorney's officials in possession of circumstantial evidence connecting the students with the Degnan and Brown murders, went before the grand jury last month and he was indicted on murder charges.

But in his statements yesterday Heirens apparently cleared the way for the state to set in motion legal machinery which is expected to send the youth to prison for the rest of his life, with no possibility of parole. Reports, unverified, have been that the state attorney's office would, in exchange for the confessions of the three killings, recommend life sentences, to be made consecutively and not currently, to place the youth beyond the reach of possible parole.

In relating his crimes, Heirens said that he obtained sexual satisfaction from committing the three slayings, although he denied any sexual relation with any of his victims. He said further that abnormal sexual impulses had impelled him to commit a score of burglaries beginning when he was 13 years old.

Holloway Services Set Here Tomorrow

Funeral services for Charles Ross Holloway, 5, will be conducted here tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Duenkel-Carmichael funeral home chapel.

The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. R. Holloway, formerly of Skellytown, died in an Oklahoma City hospital yesterday morning. His parents now live in Elgin, Okla.

Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

Voting Plan

plenary session, but acceptance is assured since all 21 nations voted in the rules committee.

The wind-up of the two-day debate came at 2:30 a.m., today after the tired, irritable delegates finally ran out of arguments and voted on a series of four amendments and sub-amendments.

The bitter debate not only was a set-back for the small powers which had fought stubbornly for a simple majority on all matters, but also was a solid victory for the western powers over Soviet Russia and the Eastern European nations.

Truans Man

structor of administration legislative aims in the powerful House Rules committee.

Slaughter questioned propriety of the President's intervention and asserted that the CIO-PAC, under communist influence, hoped to dominate the democratic party.

The intra-party battle had much in common with one in 1938 when the late President Roosevelt took aim at Rep. John J. O'Connor, New York democrat who was chairman of the House Rules committee. Mr. Roosevelt prevailed over O'Connor, but failed in attempts that year to unseat four other congress democrats whose voting records he disliked.

Each of three senators up for re-nomination yesterday won handily. All democrats, they were:

Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, whom the CIO-PAC hoped to oust; Frank P. Briggs of Missouri, endorsed by Mr. Truman; and Harley M. Kilgore of West Virginia, backed by the CIO-PAC.

New Hampshire's governor, Charles M. Dale, won republican re-nomination by only 500 votes over U. S. Rep. Sherman Adams.

In Kansas Harry H. Woodring, former governor of the state and secretary of war early in the Roosevelt administration, returned to political prominence as democratic nominee for governor.

The day's results in brief:

Missouri—Senator Briggs overwhelmed two opponents to win the democratic nomination for the seat to which he was appointed as Mr. Truman's Senate successor in 1945. Also one-sided was the victory of James P. Kemp, Kansas City attorney, in the five-man race for the republican senatorial nomination. Rep. Slaughter was the only loser among 13 incumbent representatives who ran for re-nomination.

Virginia—a record-breaking democratic primary turnout of around 220,000 gave Senator Byrd, who has served since 1933, a 60,000 vote victory over Martin A. Hutchinsan, Richmond lawyer. One incumbent congressman was eliminated when Porter Hardy, Jr., 45 year old farmer, ran up a 2 to 1 margin over Rep. Ralph H. Daughton of Norfolk.

West Virginia—Senator Kilgore ran far ahead of J. Buhl Shahan, former state purchasing agent, for democratic re-nomination. Republicans nominated Thomas Sweeney of Wheeling, former state senator who lost to Kilgore in 1940.

Kansas—Woodring, who advocated repeal of the state prohibition law, snowed under three opponents for the democratic gubernatorial nomination. His opponent will be Frank Carlson, sixth district congress member, who won easily from two others.

New Hampshire—Gov. Dale forged ahead in late returns for re-nomination over Rep. Adams, who left his house seat to make the race. The democrats nominated Mayor F. Clyde Keefe of Dover over Harry Carlson, former assistant to secretary of commerce Wallace.

Arkansas—Rep. Fadge Cravens came from behind to hold a small lead for re-nomination over Lee Whittaker, former army air forces sergeant, in the only contested congressional primary.

Union Is Advised To Continue Work

GALVESTON—(AP)—William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has advised operating personnel of the tin processing corporation at Texas City to remain on the job despite a strike called at the plant by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, chauffeurs, warehousemen and helpers of America (AFL), local 940.

In a telegram to N. E. Oliver, agent for the local unit of the tin smelter workers union, Green said, "I sincerely advise that you carry out the terms of the contract which is in effect between your union and employer."

G. C. Rickett, business agent of the striking local said operating employees of the plant had been crossing the picket lines but that AFL craft union members are refusing to do so.

S. F. Lowe, vice president and assistant manager of the smelter, said yesterday that production is "nearly normal."

Rickett called the strike of 14 warehouse employees to back up a demand that the local 940 be given bargaining recognition on behalf of the workers.

Peace Parley

in. Foreign Minister Molotov and all around them think of America as a potential enemy whom they might some day have to fight.

These officials ask how specific issues—such as Trieste—can be settled by two parties in such fundamental distrust. For much of American policy seems now clearly based on high suspicion of the Kremlin.

This state of affairs is behind the fireworks of the Paris peace conference.

The major conflict first developed two days ago when Molotov made a slashing attack on Byrnes, accusing him of inconsistency.

Molotov, Byrnes, Bevin of Britain and Bidault of France—had recommended a two-thirds vote, but Byrnes had reserved his right to support some other plan if he chose. He did support a modified two-thirds vote as the peace conference got underway, and that made Molotov sore. So he attacked Byrnes.

Yesterday Byrnes struck back. He accused Molotov of inconsistency on various occasions.

There were other sharp words by Byrnes obviously resenting Molotov digs at the conduct of the American delegation. Byrnes delivered his own final punch in a manner that perhaps only a diplomat would clearly understand—by making a distinction between the Russian government and the Russian people and implying he might get on well with the people if it were not for their government.

This incident in Paris, and the whole tone of the peace conference may have ominous meaning for the future. For instance:

1. The voting issue may really be a struggle for control of the conference machinery, foreshadowing a split between Russian and Anglo-American blocs on all big issues.
2. Even when they are already supposed to have ironed out all major differences, the big-powers cannot stick together to put over their program.
3. Hence the whole technique of trying to evolve big-power agreements prior to full-scale international conferences is being called into question and some officials here say it may have to be sharply modified or scrapped altogether.
4. What chances are there for workable solutions of the future of Germany—and the more immediate future of Austria—if the relatively secondary fates of the satellite states produce conflict every step of the way?

Report Is Made on City Bank Balance

The city of Pampa cash bank balance as of August 1 was $108,712.45, according to a report made to the city commission yesterday.

This balance does not include over one-half million dollars in bonds.

The balance is divided as follows:

General fund, $10,455.63; water and sewer fund, $47,201.54; library, $611.47; general interest and sinking fund, $27,730.06; trust fund, $411.48; traffic fund, $5,239.27; water and sewer revenue interest and sinking fund, $11,002.08; storm sewer interest and sinking fund, $782.50; and sewer construction fund, $6,689.90.

The sewer construction fund does not include nearly $400,000 in bonds, voted for the purpose of reconstructing Pampa's sewer system.

claiming Batavia and a subsidiary, the Challenge Co., owed them more than $1,000,000 asked that a receiver be appointed immediately.

U. S. District Judge William J. Campbell appointed Referr Ward to hear the case, and at preliminary hearings Ward declared he had not found sufficient evidence to recommend that a receiver be named.

Baxter Service Held At Fairview Today

Graveside services were to be conducted at 2 o'clock this afternoon for the infant child of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Baxter, 811 E. Locust. The child died in a local hospital this morning at 7:30.

Besides its parents, the infant is survived by the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Baxter and Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Barnett, all of Pampa.

Burial will be in Fairview cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael.

DILEMMA
HOUSTON—(AP)—Mrs. A. P. Lurie is caught in a legal dilemma.

A building she owns was recently condemned by the city as a fire hazard, and Mrs. Lurie was ordered to tear it down within 30 days.

Then Judge Ewing Boyd issued an order restraining her from ripping off the roof on petition of a renter who sublets rooms to 30 other tenants.

Nature's Forces Release the Energy of the Atom... and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

THE Atomic bomb's awesome demonstration promises the release of new and useful energy for the benefit of all mankind.

Studying the molecular structure of matter and the mighty forces of attraction existing between liquids and solids, Conoco scientists are able to bring motorists new and better oils. In fact, the force of molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together), will bond a special ingredient of Conoco Nth motor oil to your engine's working surfaces. Thus they'll be OIL-PLATED!

And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs . . . prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight . . . you'll get these benefits:

- added protection when your engine starts
- added protection from corrosive action
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

That's why to OIL-PLATE now . . . at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Company
