Battle Continuing On OPA Renewal

WASHINGTON—(AP)—OPA's opponents began a final drive in the house today to prevent a revival of price controls.

Rep. Brown (R-Ohio) told the chamber that such a revival would "be a step backward to scarcities and black markets."

There was talk in the cloakrooms of an effort to whittle down the compromise legislation to an authority over rents, with all other controls eliminated.

The Ohio member said he hoped the house would have "the courage" to vote down the compromise bill.

Administration leaders, meanwhile, voiced hope the OPA, dead for 23 days, would be reborn by midnight.

An effort by Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich.), opposing the bill, to extend the debate to three hours was blocked. The vote was after one hour of discussion of the revival plan worked out by a senate-house conference.

Brown said, amid jeers from the democratic side of the house, that the proposed price control board probably would include Chester Bowles, the resigned economic stabilizer, Leon Henderson, the original OPA administrator, and I suppose Philip Murray, head of the CIO.

Administration leaders drove hard to get the house and senate okay that would put the compromise legislation on President Truman's desk by nightfall. The President's signature then could restore trimmed down price controls and full rent authority immediately.

Capitol Hill felt certain Mr. Truman would sign the measure even though (1) he vetoed the first congressional attempt to trim OPA's. See OPA, Page 6

Roberts County Pioneer Resident Succumbs Here

John Lanson Lewis, 69, Panhandle pioneer and resident of Roberts county, died of a heart ailment in a local hospital last night at 7:40. Mr. Lewis was born in Des Moines, Iowa, in 1877. In 1888, with his father, M. A. Lewis, and the family, he moved to Kansas and thence to Miami where they settled.

After his marriage, Mr. Lewis worked on various farms and ranches and about 1914 bought a farm in Roberts county where he established his home. He was formerly an active member of Shriner's.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Lewis B. Cole of Langley Field, Va., Mrs. Harvey Ussery, Lubbock, and Miss Rosemary Hamilton of Pampa; one son, Cecil of Pampa; three brothers, Earl and Joe Lewis of Pampa and Will Lewis of Canadian; and three sisters, Mrs. M. G. Williams and Mrs. Frank Meers of Pampa, and Mrs. Nell McCarthy, of Amarillo.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 tomorrow afternoon at the First Christian church with Minister James Todd, Panhandle officiating. Burial will be in the Fairview cemetery.

The body will lie in state at the home of Mrs. M. G. Williams, 902 East Browning from 12 o'clock, noon tomorrow until burial.

Funeral bearers will be B. C. Rogers, Arch Chesher, Joe Messengale, Porter Pennington, C. E. Barnes and S. H. Nelson.

Warning Issued in Use of Rat Poison

Citizens were warned today against careless handling of Rat Exterminator 1080, which has been used extensively in Pampa the past weeks in the clean-up campaign.

Dr. R. A. Webb, county health officer, said today he had been notified that several dogs in this city had died of 1089 poisoning, and that apparently some one had thrown into the alley the paper containers in which the poison had been placed at various buildings.

"These cups should not be swept out of business places, because it is still poison, even to human beings. There is no known antidote," he added.

Prime Minister Denounces Palestine Bombing; 98 Persons Are Killed, Injured

20 Persons Queried By Police

JERUSALEM—AP—A police spokesman announced today the detention of about 20 Jews in connection with the terrorist bombing yesterday of the King David hotel which left 98 persons dead or missing.

The known dead mounted to 48.

Military rescue crews who toiled in the debris of the hotel, the seat of British army headquarters and the secretariat of the Palestine government, reported that 41 bodies had been recovered and seven others located. Fifty persons were unaccounted for.

The police spokesman said that although most of the party which planted milk cans of explosives wore Arab dress, all the evidence indicated they were young Jews. Eyewitnesses said the attackers spoke Hebrew. The spokesman said search was "going on right now in the old city of Jerusalem."

A truck and a taxi, both stolen, which were abandoned by the attackers, were searched for fingerprints and other possible clues.

Workers moved 200 tons of debris under floodlights during the night, and the officer in charge said the job was less than half completed.

Hospitals reported that 50 persons were still undergoing treatment for injuries and that dozens of others had been treated for minor wounds. The Palestine government said the missing included 12 senior British.

Tidelands Bill Critical Issue For Pres. Truman

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress appeared ready today to dump the politically explosive tidelands bill on President Truman's desk.

But even legislators who think they sometimes know the White House attitude in advance admit they are puzzled about its fate.

Granting the states clear title to oil-rich tidelands extending three miles or more into the ocean, the bill involves a long-standing controversy between Edwin W. Pauley, secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes.

Despite the vigorous opposition of Democratic Leader Barkley (Wyo) the senate passed the measure by a 44 to 34 vote yesterday and sent it back to the house for expected early agreement on its final form. Barkley said he hopes the President will veto it.

But any such action would be a stunner at Pauley, California oil man who favors state ownership. And it would be a feather in the cap of Ickes, who has been critical of the President since he resigned from the cabinet.

"Yes, they are," the saleswoman replied. "Why pretty soon we will be paying as much for a blouse as we go for a pound of butter."

Whiter Bread Now Possible

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Prospectful crop prospects of corn and wheat raised the possibility today of whiter bread, larger loaves and, perhaps, more beer, once the harvests are in.

At the same time the bumper crop outlook put pressure on government officials to decide whether to resume buying of grain for famine relief.

An agriculture department official close to policy-making told a reporter it is possible there may be some easing of domestic restrictions on consumption of grains if the excellent crop prospects are realized. He asked not to be quoted by name.

Former Combine Secretary Says She Was Asked by Defendant to Be 'Hazy'

WASHINGTON—AP—Red-haired Jean Bates, former secretary in the Washington office of a munitions combine, said today that Joseph Freeman and Henry Garsson had asked her to be "hazy" in testifying before the Senate War

JEAN BATES They'd have her "hazy."

Investigating committee. Investigating Committee Chairman Mead (D-N.Y.) demanded that the war department "discipline" high-ranking army officers in the case. He specified those shown to have travelled on official military orders during wartime to a gay wedding party (see photo on left) for the daughter of one of the munitions makers.

Mead's demand came as the committee received official war department records that travel orders, entitled them to ride at government expense with per diem allowance, had been issued for six officers to allow them to be in New York at the time of Natalie Garsson's wedding.

In her testifying Mrs. Bates said Freeman and Garsson, officials in the combine, had attempted to "play upon my sympathy" when she met their request with a refusal to "perjure myself."

They were particularly anxious, she said, to prevent her from telling the committee, under oath, that she had seen Albert Jacobson, $9,975-a-year war department consultant, in the combine's Washington office.

The convention with her former employers she related took place on July 12—the same day she appeared before an executive session of the committee to tell what she knew about the affairs of the combine.

She said that Mrs. Freeman had called her away from her brother's birthday party to the Freeman home where she met both Freeman and Garsson.

She asked her first what she had told the committee in private session, she said, and then quickly got to the point of Jacobson.

Judge Samuel Dickstein of the New York supreme court testified that it was possible that he had called the Washington office of the combine, but only on a social matter.

The committee, meanwhile, held out to Rep. May (D-Ky) an offer to meet "morning, noon or night" so he may testify without interference with his duties as a legislator.

Dischargees May Vote Tax-Free

Regulations for veterans' voting conditions with more requirements than just being 21 years old, Gray County Clerk Charlie Thut pointed out today. There has been some misunderstanding regarding the veteran vote, he said.

Men and women discharged from the service after May 5, 1945, can use their discharge papers just as others use poll receipts, according to Thut. Service men must not have been out of the service over 18 months to be exempt.

It was explained that the eligible veteran, being a legal resident of Texas one year and of the county six months, may obtain a ballot on election day by presenting his discharge to the precinct judge.

No registration is required, Thut stated.

Man Shoots Son, Kills Himself

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Walter T. Scott, Sr., 53, former acting secretary-treasurer of the Texas Electric Service company, critically wounded his 20-year-old son with a shotgun blast and then killed himself at his Fort Worth residence last night. Justice of the Peace Hurley said.

The son, Richard W. Scott, navy veteran discharged last Saturday, is in a critical condition from wounds in his chest and abdomen.

Hurley said the father fired one shot from the first floor of the residence as his son was coming down the stairs. Hurley rendered a verdict of suicide in the death of the father.

Scott resigned from the utility company several years ago because of ill health.

Crude Oil Price Boost Is Predicted

AUSTIN—(AP)—Another price increase is forecast by Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson.

He predicts a price boost of 25 cents per barrel on crude oil and one cent per gallon on gasoline. Both, he says, are justified.

Thompson said he had been informed by Congressman Wright Patman, chairman of the small business committee of the house, that a conference report just signed carries specific decontrol of petroleum and petroleum products.

"It appears the oil industry has won its long fight for freedom of action in its field of economics," Thompson said.

He declared the "slight increase" is needed to partly offset a 45 per cent increase in drilling costs.

Swimming Courses Resumed Tomorrow

Next in the series of swimming courses, sponsored by the local Red Cross chapter, will begin tomorrow, according to an announcement today from the Red Cross office.

Glenn C. Emorick will instruct the classes for beginning intermediate and advanced swimmers. Emorick urged young people who cannot swim to attend the classes. Primary instruction will be given them and to the more advanced swimmers. Strokes and diving demonstrations will be given.

The instruction, starting at 6 p. m., will be free, the representative said, but the city charges a fee to enter the pool.

NO COMMITMENT

AUSTIN—(AP)—Gov. Coke Stevenson said today he would not issue any formal pre-election statement.

Nourse was arrested in New Hampshire after abandoning his Texas bride in Oklahoma City on May 24.

Reasons Revealed For Censure of Texas University

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The American Association of University Professors, in its summer bulletin, issued today reviews proceedings which led to the recent placing of the University of Texas on the AAUP's list of "censured administrations."

While discussing the general question of "academic freedom and tenure" at Texas U., the report centers around the case of Dr. Homer R. Rainey, a candidate for the present Texas gubernatorial race, from the presidency of the university two years ago.

The report in the bulletin notes that the AAUP's council by unanimous vote had placed the administration of Texas U. on its censured list pursuant to the recommendation of the association's "committee on the case of Dr. Rainey," which met in Chicago June 8.

Commenting on the ousting of Dr. Rainey, the report says:

"In the opinion of committee A Dr. Rainey was not dismissed because of mistakes in administration, unless his opposition to dictation by members of the board of regents concerning matters relating to teaching and research be regarded as a mistake of administration. XXX"

"It is the considered judgment of committee A that Dr. Rainey was dismissed because he refused to yield to the political and administrative teaching and research and, also, because of his philosophy of freedom in education.

In the concluding remarks of the report in this observation, the faculty of the University of Texas is to be commended for its courage and tenacity in opposing systematic, persistent and continuous attempts by a politically dominant group to impose its social and educational views upon the university."

Rebs Challenge San Antonio for Second Position

The Dallas Rebels managed to make an early lead stand up for a 4-3 victory over San Antonio last night in their challenge for second place in the Texas league.

In the other league games, the league-leading Fort Worth Cats defeated Houston 4-2. Shreveport swept a doubleheader 7-4 and 13-2 from Oklahoma City and Tulsa took a six-inning 7-1 victory from Beaumont.

Bob Gillespie bolstered the Dallas Rebels from the mound as the Dallasites clung to an early lead for victory. Three Rebels were triumphed from the long contest by umpires.

Fort Worth's triumph started with a three-run rally in the second inning. Houston almost made a game of it in the seventh when Arnold Moser knocked Joe Nredson in and came home himself on Lou Oraz two-base hit.

Shreveport blasted out 25 base hits in two games to close out their home stand with Oklahoma City. Ted Sepkowski hit a home run with one aboard for the Indians in the first game and both Dick Skale and Chet Hajduk duplicated his feat for the Sports in the night-cap.

The Tulsa-Beaumont first game was called at the end of the sixth inning because of rain. The second game was postponed. The Oilers collected 10 hits, six of which came in the big sixth inning. Tommy Warren allowed the Beaumont Exporters only four hits.

Leiker Shelled From Mound; Olson Marks Up Six-Hitter

ABILENE—Pounding Starter Ed Leiker and Al Johnston, relief hurler, for 17 hits, Abilene's Blue Sox took the finale of a three-game series from the Pampa Oilers here last night, 12-4, for a 2 to 1 edge in the series.

The loss shoved the Oilers seven and one-half games out of first place and four games behind the Amarillo Gold Sox.

The Oilers could get only six safe hits off of Ken Olson, Abilene ace. One of these was a homer by Emmett Fulerwider and another a two base blow by Jack Riley.

Pampa failed to score in the first inning with the Blue Sox getting one run in their half. Pampa tied it up in the second with a single tally in the last half. The Oilers scored one in the third but the Sox putred it on Leiker for five in the third, added two in the fifth and three in the sixth to complete their scoring, while Pampa was getting one in the fourth and another in the eighth.

Leiker was charged with his eighth loss of the season against nine wins.

Oiler Catcher Al Zigelman left the game approximately midway through. He was replaced by Bob Johnston. Zigelman was also charged with his second passed ball of the season in as many days.

Pampa moves back home tonight to entertain the Berger Gassers, firmly entrenched in fifth place, in a three game series, the first game to start tonight at 8:30 at Oiler park.

Warren Hacker will probably be on the mound for the Oilers. The youthful righthander has an 11-3 won-lost record this year, tops on the Oiler staff.

Zale, Graziano Bout Postponed

NEW YORK—The middleweight title bout between champion Zale of Gary, Ind., and challenger Rocky Graziano of New York, scheduled for Thursday night at Yankee stadium, was postponed today because Zale had an attack of intercostal neuritis. A new date was expected to be set later this afternoon.

Left yesterday afternoon, at his training camp in Pompton Lakes, N. J., Zale had an attack of sharp pains in his back. Dr. John T. O'Connell of Chicago, a friend of the champion's managers, was summoned from New York. He diagnosed the ailment and gave Zale treatments, but when the pain still was intense this morning, suggested that the champion ask a postponement.

DALLAS—(AP)—Don't count on football players in the Southwest conference until you hear from Tulane. Freshman footballers, that is.

Jitter McKinney, the former Lufkin all-star, has enrolled at Baylor. Harmon Carswell, another ex-all-star from Lufkin and the greatest schoolboy passer ever to come along in Texas, has indicated a preference for Rice.

The conviction grows that the Southwest conference will have the nation's best football next fall. Certainly, the Southwest never had better prospects.

The schedule also gives this section the opportunity to claim a national championship. The inter-sectional card brings the conference into action every year except the Pacific Coast and the mid-west.

Kansas, Missouri, Temple, Oklahoma A. & M., Louisiana State, Colorado, Miami, Oklahoma, Tulane, Mississippi and Tulsa should offer a sufficient test.

Just two weeks away is the annual Texas coaching school at Corpus Christi. That's the real start of football in the Lone Star state. The faculty is large, the attendance is due to be the greatest in history and for the first time there will be an all-star basketball game.

Next year it's likely baseball will be included in the school's curricula. Already there is track and field.

But primarily it's football and at this school the schedules are all completed, coaching staffs are with us although it doesn't officially start until Sept. 1.

Without consulting the coaches we find, through other sources, that these teams should be rated highest at this time:

AMARILLO: Sweetwater, Waco, Marshall, Lufkin, Highland Park (Dallas), Orange, Austin and Brownsville.

Highland Park isn't going to be nearly so strong as last fall when it tied for the state championship with Waco. However, Highland Park, as usual, should win its district title with ease and be in top shape when it moves into state play. Waco shouldn't be as strong either but strong enough to sweep through its district.

We wouldn't be surprised if Paris, Amarillo, Marshall and Austin are the top four of the year.

World Series Cash Hangs In Front of Cubs, Cards and Bums

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

World series money will be dangling in front of the Cardinals, Dodgers and Cubs today as they open important engagements in the National league pennant race.

The Boston Red Sox are about "in" if they can play 500 ball the rest of the way in the American league, but the senior circuit still is wide open. St. Louis and Brooklyn come east in an exact tie for first place with identical 83-34 records, and the defending champs from Chicago are only five games back and coming strong.

Inability to beat the lowly New York Giants consistently has been as embarrassing to the Cards as failure to top St. Louis has been to Brooklyn. Mel Ott's gang has trimmed the Red Birds 8 out of 13 and the Brooks have copped only 3 of 12 from Eddie Dyer's crew.

St. Louis, fresh from a successful home stand in which it beat the eastern visitors in 10 of 13 starts to pick up five full games on the faltering Dodgers, opens its next-to-last long road tour in the polo grounds. Three dates there, followed by another trio when it beats the Boston leads directly to a July 30-31-Aug. 1 set at Ebbets field.

Despite the disastrous jaunt, on which they dropped 8 of 13, the Brooks came home with a four-game victory string. Durocher has juggled his lineup into some semblance of stability with Rookie Bob Ramzotti installed as the regular third baseman. The ex-GI is hitting .325 for 10 games.

Chicago, like the Dodgers, has been plagued by failure to down St. Louis but has managed to stay in the race by picking on the Giants in 11 of 14 meetings. They're all over with the Dodgers in games and can't afford to drop the series opening in Brooklyn tonight.

The supper was served from a white covered table centered with a cream pottery basket of a variety of flowers.

In addition to those mentioned above, other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. D. V. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ledrick, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Burton, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Taylor, Margie Taylor, Leon Taylor and Dorothy Barritt.

Miss Juanita Walker Is Wed in Dallas

SHAMROCK, (Special) — Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Juanita Walker, daughter of Mrs. J. D. Walker of Shamrock and the late Mr. Walker, and Floyd Donivan Baumgartner of Dallas last Friday evening.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. John B. Koelmay at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas W. Hall, 3341 Purdue, Dallas.

Miss Kathleen Wallace and James Hill, pianists, and Miss Edna Ven der Meer, vocalist, presented the wedding music.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, James R. Walker of Shamrock. She wore a gown of snow-white lace and net fashioned with an elongated bodice with a yoke of net. The long sleeves terminated in points at the wrists, and a full skirt swept into a chapel train. Her fingertip veil of imported bridek illusion fell from a halo of shirred net. She wore a single strand of pearls, and carried a white lace fan tied with an orchid and lilies of the valley.

Miss Carol Waldrop was the bride's only attendant and Walter Kassel served as best man.

A reception followed the ceremony. Mrs. Fred W. Perryan and Mrs. Frank Wooten served refreshments.

Miss Mildred Shugart registered the guests in the bride's book.

Others in the house party were Mesdames Millard Anderson, E. H. Linstender, Nona Gascon, O. W. Wilhite and Pat Swartz.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, Mr. and Mrs. Baumgartner will make their home in Abilene.

Toronto is an Indian word meaning place of meeting.

Boss of Saratoga Ready for First Races Since 1942

By HARRY O'DONNELL AP Newsfeatures

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y.—Convent-bred, merry-voiced Mrs. Anne Murphy Clare expects her diary to become "more interesting" this summer at stylish Saratoga.

It has been "comparatively dull" the past three years, she concedes. Now she again anticipates exciting entries similar to such pre-war passages as:

"Today, Whirlaway arrived . . . Or: 'Bimelech is coming to Saratoga . . ."

Mrs. Clare, a handsome Irishwoman, is superintendent of Saratoga's renowned race track, the only woman chief of a major racing plant in the country. She is directing a staff of 71 men getting the expensive layout primped and prettied for its 24-day meeting, August 5-August 31, the first since 1942, when war intervened.

"It will be wonderful to have racing again at Saratoga," she says. "It's the nicest place in the world for it."

She has been Saratoga superintendent since 1940, succeeding her late husband, Tom Clare, who had supervised the track 16 years before his death.

Anne Clare, born in New York City, has been interested in racing since I was a little girl and my father brought me to Saratoga. He had assisted her husband since their 1927 marriage and took over the entire burden when he died in Florida.

A year ago the mile-and-an-eighth oval was carpeted with clover and a grass-weed blanket almost three feet thick. Today it is a rich brown strip, ploughed up, harrowed and rolled over and over.

It consists of four inches of crushed loam on a "hardpan" of five or six inches of clay and loam. Mrs. Clare explains. "Under that is China."

The famous stands—built in the 1870's, assistant superintendent John Galligan says—have been repainted and decorated, the 360-odd parimutuel betting windows readied and the grounds landscaped.

Mrs. Clare lives with her 13-year-old nephew, Michael Mur-

Take Charm Cue From the French

By BETTY FRANK

If you want to be slimmer, trimmer and younger looking, take a cure from the French, says Helene Rubinstein, who has just returned from Paris. You'll have to eat less and walk more but it'll be worth it. She says:

"During the war, when there was very little to eat, French women learned to skip canapes and heavy foods. They had to walk to their daily marketing for what little food they could scare up and this helped trim their figures to sylphlike proportions."

Today the average Frenchwoman is prettier than she ever was except in respect to her skin. It is not as transparent as it used to be, because of the lack of soap and good creams during the war, Mme. Rubinstein says.

But generally she is getting her skin back to normal and there is a trend away from makeup for day-time wear. She is skipping the rouge pot and going in for the "pale look" with lighter powders, though lipstick is still dark but bright. For evening there are exotic green and heliotrope powders, however. The heavy bronze tan which was so popular during wartime is no longer the vogue and the safe au lait tan has replaced it.

The pompadour is still being worn in France, but though it is very high in front, the back hair is now worn down. Hair is every color of the rainbow because of the cheap dyes still being used.

The average French girl, however, is one up on the American girl in respect to fashion, says Mme. Rubinstein. The poorest French shop or factory girl is far better dressed than the American white collar girl because she calls upon her own ingenuity to whip up costumes out of pieces of materials that would be discarded here as rags.

A French girl can make her own shoes. She uses wooden platforms and fabric stops and fancy buttons to snap them closed. She tailors her own clothes and would rather not be seen than wear something unfashionable.

She may have one dark skirt in her wardrobe but she'll have several expertly tailored jackets to wear with it. This, too, says Mme. Rubinstein, is where the American girl could take a cue. There is no excuse for her not being able to sew, if she cannot afford to buy well-made clothes.

Brazil became a republic in 1889.

Literalist or Not, You're Told Now This Is a Joke, Joke, That Is

By JACK RUTLEDGE AP Staff Writer

I'd rather not hear any more about Jack rabbits for a while. I don't care how big they are, or how talented. To me they're just treacherous animals that go around getting honest, sincere reporters in trouble. This is a personal peeve and if you're not interested you can turn back to the comics and see how Lili Abner is getting along. Maybe he has Jack rabbit trouble, too. Not long ago I wrote about Texas Jack rabbits. It was supposed to be funny. Arizona, Wyoming, New Mexico and a few other western states were boasting that their Jack rabbits were larger than Texas Jack rabbits. So I had to butt in. Not only with words, but with art. The art is what caused most of the kick-back.

It was a faked picture of a tremendous jackrabbit. It was an old picture, taken in 1936. I said so. It appeared recently in the El Paso Times, and it fit in nicely with the current controversy, so I borrowed it, and used it.

The heading read "Proof Positive It Says Here." That was supposed to mean exactly the opposite of proof positive, but a lot of people, including some editors, didn't take it that way.

Letters began to come in. People wrote to their own papers. Then editors wrote my boss. My boss wrote me a note in that brilliant blue pencil of his: "Why," he asked, "did you get me into all this?" I said I was sorry. He said: "OK. Now write another Texas today bring out how dangerous it is to attempt to be funny. And how even some Texans have seemed to lose their traditional appreciation of the tall tale."

That very same day a gentleman named T. J. Aillet of Eden, Texas, sent a letter to the San Angelo Standard Times. The paper sent it to me. It proves that Texans have not—repeat not—lost their sense of humor. Says Mr. Aillet, bless him, "Jack rabbits on my place are so big they have stomped out all the cattle."

Letters Back Home from a GI Bride in Bavaria

$12 Monthly Pleases Nita's German Maid

(Editor's Note: Here's another letter from Nita Polasek, who's sharing the occupation of Germany with her soldier-husband and sharing her adventures with you in letters, made available through NEA Service, which appear each week.

Neubiberg

Dear Sis: Do I detect a note of envy in your questions about my maid? It IS wonderful to have one—I know how hard they are to find in the States and what big salaries they get there. Last month I paid Emmi (that's her name) $12—not 20 dollars as you guessed. It may not sound like much but don't forget she gets her room and three meals a day instead of the one meal she would have if she lived elsewhere. As a matter of fact, she seems very happy to have a chance to get good food and live in a nice room (we fixed up the nursery for her).

It may seem funny that I could like or trust a German after brother Eugene spent eight months in a prison camp near here and after all the other things I've said since I've been here but I do like Emmi. She is cheerful and seems trustworthy. Whenever I start to do something around the house, she'll stop me and say "NIX 'GUTE FOR YOU" and then she'll go ahead and do it. Emmi has rather a plain face with light brown hair and blue eyes. She's about my height—five feet two—but weighs 135 pounds. Her mother died two years ago and her father was killed by the Germans.

Today is Emmi's day off and just to prove to myself I'm not losing my grip on a skillet I invited two of Jack's friends at the post office, Pvt. Raymond Lorenzo of Kingston, Tenn, and Pfc. F. T. Conway of Pennsylvania, to come over for a fried chicken dinner. With the chicken I had green beans, mashed potatoes and jello. I have to brag a bit and tell you everything tasted good and I noticed there were no leftovers to worry about. Believe it or not, after dinner Jack put on an apron and helped me with the dishes.

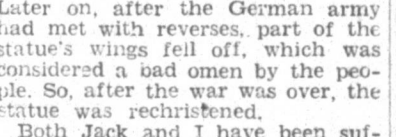

This afternoon, Mrs. Cannon, the wife of Capt. Bob Cannon of Texas, and Peggy, her ten-year-old daughter, came over for coffee and cake. I enjoyed the visit a great deal. Mrs. Cannon and the children, Peggy and two boys six and seven, arrived at the field a week ago. So far they like Germany fine and Peggy said she and her brothers don't care if school never comes. However, we have been told that there will be school, but opening day hasn't been announced yet.

The other day I went into Munich to sightsee. The guide told us an interesting anecdote about one of the city's most beautiful statues—the Angel of Peace. In the early part of the war when everything was going well for the Germans, the statue was called the Angel of Victory. Later on, after the German army had met with reverses, part of the statue's wings fell off, which was considered a bad omen by the people. So, after the war was over, the statue was rechristened.

Both Jack and I have been suffering from bad colds but they are better now. The weather has been cool and it has rained nearly every day. Today it is warming up and we have had only a couple of showers. I'm ready for some summer sunshine. Nita.

The heat released by fission of a pound of uranium 235 is about equal to that obtainable from 6,000 barrels of fuel oil.

Any congressional concern about another veto was virtually dispelled late yesterday when Paul Porter, OPA administrator, disclosed to newsmen that he had told the President the compromise is better than the bill Mr. Truman refused to sign in June.

If OPA is reborn, the agency must determine immediately at what levels prices are to be enforced pending full computation of the new and in many cases higher, prices called for under the bill. These need not be announced for 30 days.

Ideology Clash Seen by Speaker

CHICAGO—AP—Dr. Alfred P. Haake, Chicago business consultant, told the National Small Business Men's association today that "Russian communism and American constitutional government cannot live side by side in the same world."

In an address to the association's national membership meeting, Dr. Haake said "Soviet leaders have sent out to destroy our form of government and individual freedom everywhere else in the world," and that "we are faced with possible destruction as an independent nation."

The Soviet method "of overcoming capitalism and individual freedom," he added, "is to encourage inner strife within those countries, frequently under the guise of a labor movement, and sometimes under the cloak of humanitarianism programs in which teachers and preachers attack American institutions such as private property and the profit and loss system."

Asserting that American capitalism still works better than any other economic system, Dr. Haake called upon the association to show that "we can remedy and correct the ills of that system without destroying the system itself."

(Continued From Page 1) would total 2,487,976,000 bushels. The wheat crop is expected to hit a new top of 1,132,075,000 bushels compared with a record 1945 output of 1,123,143,000 bushels.

On the basis of prospects two weeks ago, the figures meant an indicated improvement in the corn crop of about 146,000,000 bushels and of 42,000,000 in wheat.

With OPA's future still uncertain, the agriculture department official said no decisions had been reached on relief buying.

Threat of Bubonic Plague in W. Texas

AUSTIN.—(AP)—The state department of health today is preparing to combat threat of bubonic plague in West Texas.

The disease has not yet struck a single victim, but discovery of the infection has been made in fleas taken from rodents over an area of 300 square miles near Norton in Cochran county, State Health Officer George W. Cox reports.

The infected fleas were found to be carried by ground squirrels, prairie dogs and mice in low-lying valley areas by United States health service research workers.

State laboratory findings here verified the diagnosis as bubonic or sylvatic plague. The two diseases were considered identical.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, (NEA)—Today it seems like a dream. But last night it was all very real.

Hollywood's animal stars were celebrating something or other at a cocktail party. They were all there—Lassie and Asta and Smoky and

How we got in we still don't know. (Maybe it was the cucumbers and ice cream we ate for dinner.) We were the only human there.

It was all very fancy, and later, after we had watched the swirling mob stop drinks and gossip over the orientals, we learned that Jim the Raven was our host.

HOST JIM WAS VERY BORED. Cocktail parties, Jim was cawing, were a snare, a delusion, and a darned bore. Especially so when you were working in a movie.

Nut Importation From Italy To Be Regulated

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The state department told Oregon, California and Texas congressmen Monday it will open negotiations with representatives of Italy, Spain and Turkey to determine whether an agreement to limit exportations of tree nuts to the United States can be negotiated.

The congressmen complained to Assistant Secretary Clayton that importations of almonds and filberts from those countries are 350 per cent greater than before the war.

The imports, they contend, are harmful to growers in their states.

Rep. Norblad (R-Ore.) said Clayton was sympathetic with the plight of the American growers and promised he will try to work out a voluntary agreement with the three countries to limit shipments to the United States.

ENLOE, TEX.—(AP)—Postmaster Alfred W. Enloe, 58, died at his home here yesterday. Funeral services will be held at Cooper tomorrow morning.

The town of Enloe was named for his father.

Gracie Reports

Well, a few reconversion problems are straightening out. People here in Hollywood with pre-war cars will be pleased to hear the Los Angeles county sheriff's department just bought a factory-fresh Black Maria. Now they can get rides in a brand-new car merely by robbing a bank or throwing bricks at their landlords.

And it's been announced that enough nails to build 30,000 houses are available. Of course, you can't get lumber or plumbing, but if your inability to get them makes you mad enough to bite nails, at least you can get the nails to bite.

I actually have a new electric toaster. I can't wait to see the look on George's face when he finds it on the breakfast table tomorrow morning. It'll be almost as happy as the look that would be on mine if I had some bread to put in it.

General Duty Nurse

By LUCY AGNES HANCOCK

XLII THE two girls entered Sally's room and Norma turned down the covers of her bed and lowered the shades, while Sally sat before her dressing table and thought what a spectacle she had been to make such a spectacle of herself.

"There," Norma said patting the pillow. "If you slip out of your uniform you'll rest better. It's terribly warm so I'll leave both windows up."

"You're being very kind, Norma," Sally murmured. "Why—why couldn't I have always been like this? Why have you hated me?"

And Norma slipped to the floor beside Sally's chair and buried her head in her lap. "I've never hated you," she sobbed. "I was just jealous. You had everything I—I wanted and—and—I—I had nothing."

"Everything, Norma?" Sally asked. "What do you mean?"

"You're beautiful—you're good and—and popular. Sunderlin favors you—Willoughby's crazy about you and so's the Chief. I—I'm a good nurse, Sally, and yet no one ever tells me, I don't get the private cases—the specials like you do. No one cares if I'm hurt or not. I—I'm so—so miserable!"

And then Sally laughed gently and her arms tightened around the weeping girl.

"Don't be a goose, Norma. You're a good nurse. I heard someone say that just the other day. You have let your imagination run away with you. If I'm popular—and I'm not sure that I ton room of the nurses' home.

"You're thin, Sally," he said, "and pale. Have you been worrying over Canfield's coming here?"

"What do you think?" Sally asked.

HE smiled into her troubled eyes.

"No sense in that," he said. "I've found out that he's been ordered back to the Pacific. Winning the war seems to be more important just now than acquiring medals, and I, for one, am glad. Now you look more like yourself, my dear," as Sally uttered a sigh of relief. "Color good, eyes bright and even a smile for me. Carolyn wrote me that you and that fine Doctor Jim Hallock had apparently come to your senses. Allow me to wish you every happiness, Sally. You deserve it."

"Oh, I don't, Dick," Sally whispered, her voice choked.

"Well, anyway, it's yours, my dear, and take my advice and guard it with your life. It's precious. 'Bye for now.'"

And Sally's heart sang as she went back to her duties in Women's Surgical, which, as usual, was filled to capacity.

"Has someone left you a fortune, Miss Maynard?" asked middle-aged Mrs. Carson, a Nurse's Aide, just now acting as floor nurse. "It must be a big one from the stars in your eyes."

"No fortune, Mrs. Carson," Sally caroled. "Just grand news—wonderful news and I'm terribly happy about it. Anything happen while I was gone?"

"Hardly," the other said dryly. "You have been gone just 20 minutes. What could happen in this ward in that length of time? No, everything has been quiet."

"Good!" Sally replied and turned as the elevator whirred to a stop. Doctor Hallock stepped out and came toward her. And while neither faces as their glances met and clung brought a glow to the heart of the nurse. "What it was to be young and beloved!"

Richard Gregory came to the Annex to see her on the afternoon of his arrival in Lintonville. He looked at her anxiously as they shook hands in the empty reception room of the nurses' home.

"You're thin, Sally," he said, "and pale. Have you been worrying over Canfield's coming here?"

"What do you think?" Sally asked.

HE smiled into her troubled eyes.

"No sense in that," he said. "I've found out that he's been ordered back to the Pacific. Winning the war seems to be more important just now than acquiring medals, and I, for one, am glad. Pampa Food Market Features Super Service at Low Prices

Motor Supply Is Growing Steadily With Southwest

A Panhandle institution that's growing with the Southwest—that's the Motor Supply company, Inc., located in Pampa at 314 West Foster. Owned and operated right in the Panhandle, the Motor Supply company has at your disposal one of the largest stocks of automotive replacement parts and accessories in the entire Southwest.

The firm began business in 1944 with Clyde Bassett as local manager. Early this year the firm was incorporated by Mr. Bassett, Carl J. King and Russell Jarrett, with Mr. Bassett remaining here as local manager.

One of the main advantages of the corporation has been the fact that it has been able to increase its buying power, in order to get hard-to-get items at a savings to the customers.

Among the well-known names in the auto industry that are featured by the store are A-C, Auto-Lite, Cates, McQuay-Norris, Thermoid, Bear and many others.

For the auto mechanic, Motor Supply is ready at any time to fill his needs for replacement parts in the quickest possible time. A regular delivery service on wholesale parts is made throughout a wide area.

Besides parts, the firm handles accessories of all types including a complete line of jacks for trucks and cars. Most motorists have gone through the experience of having a flat on some out-of-the-way road and being without a jack of any sort.

The owners of Motor Supply Co., Inc. are proud of their record of having so many satisfied customers—the kind that always come back. They would like to serve YOU, too.

Super market service combined with neighborhood grocery friendliness—that's the Pampa Food Market, 518 South Cuyler.

Although it was opened a comparatively short time ago—January 15—the Pampa Food Market, the city's sole Red & White distributor, has quickly established a reputation of quality at prices no higher than any other store.

B. A. Ricketts, operator of the establishment, says he started out stocking the most popular brands of foods available and will continue to do so in adhering to the wants of his customers, both old and new.

Among the well-known brands in stock are Del Monte, Brimful, Red and White and many others, in addition to a fine selection of small goods such as mustard, pickles, salad dressing and oils, sauces for meats and other food treats.

Then, too, there's the easy-to-shop, ready for your selection. The store's vegetable and fruit market is as complete as any in Pampa.

Then, for the one thing the wise shopper inquires about, the Pampa Food Market has a complete meat market that it kept spic and span at all times.

Dan Clancy, operator of the meat market, is always ready to show you the type of meat you wish. Meats are kept in a McCray walk-in refrigerator with a plain view from the outside of the types of meat kept there.

Mr. Clancy invites customer's inspection of the clean market and locker storage space.

For convenient shopping, the store owner has posted cards throughout the store so the shopper can tell at a glance the location of the commodity wanted. In addition, handy baskets, either mounted on carts or with strong handles for carrying, are available for the shopper.

For the best in foods at the lowest possible price, try the Pampa Food Market, 518 S. Cuyler.

H. Johnson Urges Support of Local Clean-up Drive

Urging support of the current clean-up and health campaign, Harry Johnson, owner of the Square Deal Paint company, 514 S. Cuyler, yesterday advised Pampans to look around their homes and see what could be cleaned up and made more attractive.

Although he has been in business at the present location only a few months, Harry Johnson is well-known by many Pampans as an expert consultant on painting and papering and practically everything in the way of remodeling.

In addition to making the home look much nicer, Mr. Johnson says, a new coat of paint will make it last many years longer, or will increase its value many times.

Getting back to the clean-up campaign, Mr. Johnson reminds his customers that he has a complete stock of DDT spray available in quart or gallon containers.

Many insecticides have been developed, but Mr. Johnson said he believes that DDT has been proved to be the most dependable of all and much safer and more economical in use.

The Square Deal Paint store is the sole distributing agency for Acme paints and varnishes in Pampa. Also stocked are the famous Anthony products, including paint and varnish for home, business or farm.

Besides its complete stock of paints, the store offers the latest designs in wallpaper at economical prices. Mr. Johnson will be glad to make free estimates on the amount of wallpaper that will be needed to paper a single room or an entire home.

Pampans with an idea toward re-painting or decorating, should contact the Square Deal Paint company, 514 South Cuyler, before they decide.

The store's telephone number is 1850.

THE REX COFFEE SHOP (next to the Rex Theatre) is getting to be quite a gathering place for her business neighbors (especially members of the Pampa News staff) and is earning a favorable reputation for the excellent coffee and other drinks served as well as sandwiches, lunches and just lots of "good to eat" things.

TRUMAN MIGHT LOSE ITALIAN VOTE IN U.S. DUE TO TRIESTE NEGOTIATIONS

Italians Regard Bidault-Molotov Compromise as Double-Cross; American Congress Shows Passionate Resentment Against Proposal.

The degree of Italian resentment against the United States over the loss of Trieste is greater than the public realize. Anger, which flared when Secretary Byrnes reluctantly accepted the Bidault-Molotov compromise, has increased as additional terms of the proposed peace treaty have been published.

The real menace to the Truman administration is that millions of Italo-Americans are as passionately worked up as their relatives overseas. If their indignation, which is being brought down a hornet's nest at home by the ears of the democratic party in the fall elections.

Trieste a Symbol to Italians. The peace treaty points to which they object were made at the Paris conference of Foreign Ministers.

Trieste is a symbol to Italians almost what Alsace-Lorraine meant to Frenchmen between 1871 and 1918.

Venezia Giulia was settled by the Romans; Trieste was later colonized by the Venetians. The Dalmatian area was part of Venice until Napoleon handed it over to Austria in the Treaty of Campo Formio in 1797.

In the days of Garibaldi, patriots insisted that Italy could never be considered truly united until "Trieste and Trieste" were brought back into the family.

Part of the bargain made by Home in World War I to quit the Triple Alliance and join Britain and France was that Italy should give up her claims to the Dalmatian coast, including Trieste, should be returned to Italy.

More For Newspaper. The paper mills in Canada are announcing an increase of some $6.50 a ton on newspaper. It is reported that other newspaper manufacturers are also raising their price.

As publisher I am glad to see this increase in price. I am glad for the reason that I believe the final consumer should be the boss as to what he wants to spend his money for.

The consumer should tell the public what he wants produced by what he is willing to pay for this and for that. If he cannot do this by price there is no other way.

Of course the only reason I am glad that we can pay more for newspaper is for the simple reason that I am not foolish enough to believe that we can get enough print paper to supply labor if things are set to do this there is absolutely no need of having a price ceiling.

It is strange how so many people have been hoodwinked into believing that they can keep the cost of living down by man-made laws setting prices. If that were true, we could reduce the price to nothing and have our wants satisfied without labor. If thing is set to do this there is absolutely no need of having a price ceiling.

Price Ceilings on Necessities. One invariably hears the advocates of price ceilings contend that we must at least have them on necessities. We must do this they say in order to protect the great mass of workers from being deprived of the necessities of life.

Quite often those people who quote price ceilings of any kind are accused of being a class of people who do not care whether children starve or not. They are accused of being more interested in people becoming millionaires than they are in preventing the starvation of children by being deprived of necessities. It is an emotional appeal.

But when these people who are advocating the continuance of price controls on necessities are asked to differentiate between necessities and non-necessities. For instance, if they are asked if a cow is a necessity, or if a railroad engine is a necessity, they will stammer around and change the subject or repeat that the questioners want children to starve.

Of course a child cannot eat a railroad engine or a machine that digs coal or one that drills for oil. Of course these things are necessities for the moment if we have a supply of what they produce. But how long would we have necessities if we did not have cows, or gas engines, or steam engines, or electric power, or the machines that produce the necessities of life? How long would we be able to defend our country against some other nation enslaving us if we did not have these instruments, these tools?

Peter Edson's Column: SHORTSIGHTING OUT OF FOREIGN TRADE

WASHINGTON. (NEA) — It sometimes takes a man away from home to sell a man at home what's going on in his own country. It is a matter of perspective. Fresh point of view. Seeing over the hills to enjoy the scenery.

Other countries don't fear atomic bomb. As for the news which the Australian publisher reads in U.S. newspapers, a few differences stand out. One is a greater awareness of the atomic bomb. Its dangers and its threat to future world peace have not registered in other countries.

Another difference is a greater suspicion of Soviet Russia. To a visitor from Australia that is considered alarming. This suspicion is analyzed as an American belief that Russia is unfamiliar with the way the western democracies conduct their affairs—again due to barriers against the free flow of information. Or it may be analyzed as a belief that Soviet Russia wants to dominate the world and therefore deliberately refuses to cooperate.

The latter is, of course, the more dangerous state of mind. The former may be overcome in time, but the latter is not so easily overcome.

INDEFINITELY — OPO promised to review the new price scale after three months of operation. But with the future of the OPA in doubt, there will be no review. The OPA will continue to supply the wants of blithesome coal continue to pay the $36,000,000 indefinitely, as the coal operators are not expected to reduce the price themselves.

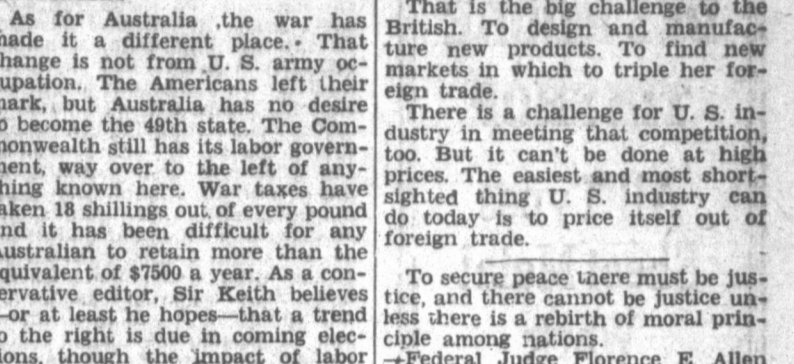

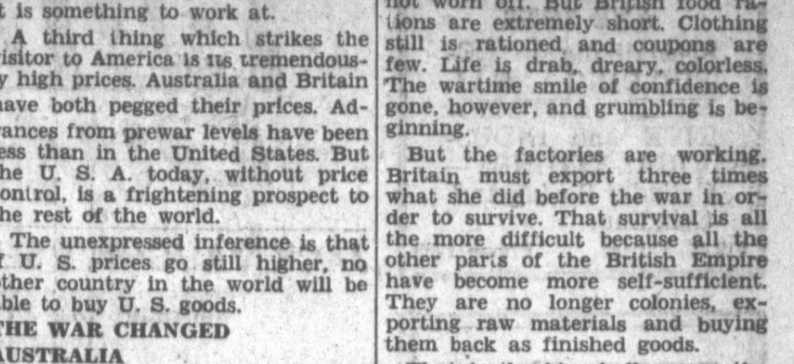

LABOR — Mr. Bolte also published a "statement of intention" which is a sort of basic charter for his proposed organization. It advocated homes and jobs for veterans, the "four freedoms" and full American participation in the United Nations. Membership was extended to those of all creeds, color and race.

LIBERAL — The A. V. C. staged its first convention at Des Moines several weeks ago, and promises to become a nation-wide organization. Observers reported that the speeches were extremely New Dealish in character, and that numerous individuals associated with the liberal and ideological allies took a prominent part.

Chief White Stresses Removal of Rubbish

In regard to the present city-wide clean-up campaign, Fire Chief Ben White stated today that work is progressing. Chief White, who has just returned from Texas A. & M. where he attended a fireman's school, said clean-up campaigns were stressed throughout the course, and that the Pampa fire department is 100 per cent behind the campaign now in progress. One thing in particular that Chief White wishes to stress, is the removal of waste paper, pieces of iron, broken chairs, and any other articles from all buildings which might be the cause of a fire or hamper firemen attempting to put out a blaze. Chief White is asking the cooperation of every home owner and every business house in Pampa.
