

Senate Passes Heavily Revised Price Control Legislation on to House

CONGRESS APPROVES LOAN TO GREAT BRITAIN

World Leadership Is Leading Issue

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Congress gave final approval yesterday to a $3,750,000,000 loan to Great Britain, sending the legislation to President Truman by a house vote of 219 to 155.

The senate already had authorized the huge fund intended to rehabilitate England's war-disorganized international trade.

In closing debate, proponents shouted that the decision on aid for the wartime Washington or Moscow for leadership.

Russia loomed large in the long and bitter house arguments, which ended with Speaker Rayburn (D-Texas) appealing for approval of the credit, lest England and Western Europe "be pushed into an ideology I despise."

AMENDMENTS DOWNED
Sixty-one republicans joined 157 democrats and one minor party member in voting for ratification of the loan urged by President Truman. Opposed were 32 democrats, 122 republicans and one minor party member.

Final congressional approval occurred after the house had beaten back 219 to 154 an effort to require Britain to put up "merchandise collateral, beyond that government's pledge to pay."

Likewise, the house rejected all amendments seeking possession, in return for the loan, of British island bases now held by the United States on 99-year lease.

PUT UP RESOURCES
Rep. Dicker (R-Ind.), author of the collateral amendment suggested that as consideration for the credit, Britain might put up its Middle East oil resources, its wool, gold mines, insurance companies and "other security of a merchantable nature."

Moving swiftly toward the final vote, the house also:
1. Shouted down an amendment by Rep. E. J. Howard (R-Ohio) to reduce the loan to $1,250,000,000.
2. By a 180 to 19 standing vote, knocked down a motion by Rep. Clegg (R-Iowa) to reduce the loan to $1,250,000,000.

Unpleasant Facts Discussed as to Relief Situation

SAN FRANCISCO—(AP)—Unpleasant facts about the world's biggest relief job came to light this week in China.

These facts boil down to this: United Nations relief sent to China isn't reaching many starving Chinese who need it most, while some of it is sold to wealthy Chinese who can afford to pay for it.

Besides this the communists claim that the government has been withholding relief from communist areas for political purposes.

All this is very unpleasant, especially to Chinese, but it is to be hoped that airing the facts may help in the long run, as facts often do.

The central Chinese government, through its insistence on setting up a relief committee (UNRRA) to handle UNRRA relief, assumed the responsibility for doing a job. The job hasn't been done, partly because of well-nigh insuperable difficulties, but partly also because of the familiar corruption in high places.

Having all this discussed in public makes the government lose face, especially outside China. UNRRA cut off shipments to China this week.

Whether the government loses as much face in China itself is something as a necessary evil there, for long-standing reasons. UNRRA is trying to make political hay out of the relief crises, suddenly discovering publicly that they have been getting very little relief, which was supposed to be distributed without regard to politics.

In doing this they recognize that "Reorganization Plan No. 3."

The house already had rejected the plan, and two others President Truman sent to congress on May 16. Under the reorganization act, all three go into effect automatically at midnight Monday—60 days after submission—unless both senate and house turn them down.

Silver Price Issue Removed From Bill
WASHINGTON—(AP)—The senate late yesterday removed the silver price controversy from the treasury-pollio supply bill and passed a separate bill calling for sale of the treasury's surplus silver at 50.3 cents per ounce.

Eating Is Main Attraction at Annual Outing Held for Pampa News Carriers

By FRANK STALLINGS

The Pampa News route carriers were entertained Saturday with one of the biggest affairs of the season for them, the annual picnic for the carriers, held at Lake McClellan.

Eating was the main attraction of the outing with literally tons of food consumed by the boys. Each ate an average of four hot dogs, seven bottles of pop, and two paper cups full of ice cream. A total of nine cases of pop, 120 hot dogs and five gallons of ice cream was greedily eaten.

The 33 boys and their sponsors left the News for the lake at about 9:30 yesterday on a hired bus. After a half-hour of rather loud traveling and squinting, they arrived at the lake and immediately made a run for the docks and the free boat rides.

Each boy rode in the big inboard motor boat then those who wished to do so went swimming for about an hour and a half. Dripping and tired but willing to eat nevertheless, the boys climbed in the bus and went to the picnic grounds to dry off before the dinner was prepared.

A hot baseball game between teams captained by Bill Kribbas and James Harvey ensued, but the game was called on the account of food at the end of the first inning. No argument was raised to this.

The line formed quickly and it seemed to be perpetual because by the time the last boys in line got their first hot dogs and pop, the ones who were first in line were ready for the next one and so on. Finally after the depletion of the food supply, with the exception of the ice cream, the baseball game continued.

The team with Bill Kribbas as the captain walloped the others in four innings approximately 20-2. This was called to a halt when the ice cream was ready to serve.

After the boys were completely stuffed with food and pop, they re-

REV. J. E. HARRELL, above, of Tulia began a revival at the Harrah Methodist church Friday evening. It will run through July 21. Morning services start at 10 o'clock, and evening services begin at 8 o'clock. Rev. Will M. Cullwell will lead the singing. Rev. Grady Adcock is pastor of the church, which is located at 717 S. Barnes St. Public is invited to attend.

Fireman Father of Fourth Set of Twins

PITCAIRN, Pa.—(P)—Papa Arthur Griser, 38, gazed proudly at his fourth set of twins, yesterday, looked fondly upon his 31-year-old wife who now has born 13 children, and said:

"With her it's double or nothing." Mrs. Irma Griser had just returned from Bradock General hospital with twin boys, the first of identical sex in the family's multiple sets of children. Other Griser twins are Dolores and Johnny, 5; Dorothy and Robert, 3, and Mary Louise and David Paul, a year old last April 10. Twelve-year-old Agnes, Arthur, 10; Sarah, 8; Eddie, 6, and Harry, 4 complete the family.

Papa Griser is a twin himself, a discharged army veteran of European service and a boiler house fireman for the Westinghouse Airbrake Co. He admits cheerfully that he sometimes has difficulty making ends meet for his large brood but all the children are plump and rosy-cheeked and there's always "lots of milk on the table."

BUSINESS GAIN
Indication of greater spending is seen in a report received this past week by John Plantt and D. C. Ash, local representatives of the Southwestern Life Insurance company.

Plantt said there was a business gain of 43 percent in the first half of 1946 in the amount of paid-for business done by the concern.

GETS DISCHARGE
Frankie Walls, 19-year-old son of Mr. J. A. Walls, 600 East Kingsmill, has received his honorable discharge from the navy, according to word received here Saturday.

Walls, Seaman First Class, entered the navy in Nov. 1944.

An election in which the voters of the Wheeler Independent school district will decide on a proposal to raise school taxes from $1.00 to $1.35 per $100 valuation has been set for Saturday, Aug. 3.

Date of the election was decided upon by members of the board of trustees, at a special meeting last week.

Probably the largest real estate deal handled in Canadian since 1925, when D. F. Urschel bought the Johnson-McQuiddy ranch, was consummated last week with the purchase of the J. O. Wells ranch in Roberts county by Lawson Flowers and his son, James, of Ochiltree county.

The ranch is located on Indian creek and consists of the Hammon place and other property. It comprises 25 sections of land.

The property sold for $274,000 for the ranch.

Wellington people went to the polls last week to overwhelmingly approve four bond issues to be used in the post-war development of that city. The election had 534 voters.

One of the surprising things was the vote of elderly people in favor of the bond issue. Observers thought that a number of these have voted in favor of the bonds because of the proposal of the Council to use part of the water bond funds to pipe water to both cemeteries. But there may have been a greater number of the old people who voted for all bond issues because their grandchildren wanted a swimming pool.

West Texas State college at Canyon will receive 35 houses from the prisoner of war camp at Hereford. President J. A. Hill received notice Tuesday from Fort Worth that the project had been cleared, and a contract entered into for moving these housing units to the campus.

The houses will provide for about 100 families, and an equal number of single men who wish to enter college this fall.

Roberts county's high pressure wheat harvest activity has reached its climax. There are some combines in the fields working over small tracts of land, and considerable late wheat in west Roberts county is yet to be cut.

The latter part of harvest was marked by fair weather. Except in sections hard hit by hail, the yield this year was better than expected.

The State National bank of Groom published their quarterly statement last week. This showed at that time that the bank assets totaled $1,472,695.01. Total deposits amounted to $1,415,532.05. The bank, which has capital stock of $25,000.00, has a $11,090.00 surplus and undivided profits of $21,072.96.

Six months ago a statement published by the bank showed a total of $1,241,284.18 assets, with deposits amounting to $1,187,847.18, surplus $10,000.00 and undivided profits $18,447.00.

Plans to dismantle the Hereford Prisoner of War Camp and make the salvage lumber and critical building materials available for building under the Veterans Emergency Housing program are now underway, Harry L. Holliday, Dallas Regional Director of War Assets Administration, announced last week.

Plans are going forward for a gigantic celebration party commemorating Perryton's 27th birthday Aug. 21-22 under the sponsorship of the Perryton Junior chamber of commerce. Alton Boxwell, Jaycee president, and Jerome Woods, general chairman, stated last week. Highlighting that week of events will be Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys at dances given each evening. Other events planned include a rodeo, air show, carnival, a mammoth parade, barbecue and numerous free entertainment events.

A large crowd from all parts of the Panhandle turned out for the two day celebration in Clarendon July 3 and 4. The four rodeo events attracted the largest number of entrants in many years, if not the highest of all time there, and the rodeo itself was proclaimed as one of the best ever held in Clarendon.

Between three and a half million and four million bushels of wheat has been harvested in Hansford county this year if the preliminary survey made by County Agent Zach Jagers proves correct. Jagers estimates that a little more than 280,000 acres of wheat was harvested this year. A little more than 300,000 acres were planted to wheat; but perhaps 5 percent was plowed under early when the prospects looked dark.

A city-wide clean-up campaign was launched Tuesday in McLean by the Lions club in cooperation with the McLean authorities.

Plans to dismantle McLean Prisoner of War camp were also announced last week.

Mrs. Rector Dacus of White Deer is now awaiting orders from the government to go to Europe to live with her husband, a pilot stationed at Forsching, Austria. Her daughter, Judy K., age 2, will accompany her.

The case of Texas-New Mexico airlines, who are seeking to place Canadian on a scheduled airline from Garden City, Kan., to Amarillo is now in the hands of the Civil Aeronautics Board. In a letter to the Canadian Regard, C. P. Shropshire, president, states that he feels the plan will be approved shortly.

Wedgeworth Attends Meeting in Dallas

E. O. Wedgeworth, manager of the local chamber of commerce, left this morning for Dallas where he will attend the Southwestern Institute of chamber of commerce managers.

The Institute will convene in Dallas this afternoon with President E. J. Crampton, manager of the San Antonio chamber, presiding. D. Modson Lewis, Dallas, United States chamber of commerce, is secretary.

Wedgeworth said yesterday that a total of 225 managers were registered for the meet which covers all Southwestern states. The Institute is dedicated to educational betterment of chamber of commerce activity, he pointed out.

The local manager will be back in his office Tuesday.

A pall of water in a freshly painted room will help to remove the odor.

Canadian Firemen Taking Training

CANADIAN. (Special) — Roy L. Durham and Carl Zybach, members of the Canadian volunteer fire department, will attend the firemen's training school at College Station this week. Registration for the five days of intensive training begins at 1 p.m. Saturday, July 14 in the lobby of the YMCA at A. & M. college. Classes will be held from July 15 until July 19.

Canadian's fire department is all volunteer. The men who attend the school give their time, and the city pays their expenses. Satisfactory completion of one of the courses is the requirement of the Fire Insurance commission to qualify the city for a 3 percent credit on key rate.

180 Cans of Food Gathered in Drive

One hundred eighty cases of canned food was shipped from Pampa to Amarillo, central gathering point for emergency food collections of the Panhandle, it was announced Friday by Gullford Branson, who was in charge of a Kiwanis committee in charge of transportation.

The canned goods had been gathered from all parts of the county and sent to Pampa for shipment to Amarillo. Hugo Olsen, Boy Scout field executive, was in charge of cash donations. He could not be reached Saturday for figures on the amount of cash raised.

Degnan Suspect Is Also Linked With 'Lipstick Murder'

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation yesterday confirmed a fingerprint relationship between William Heirens and a partial print found by police in the apartment of Francis Brown, Chicago's "Lipstick Murder" victim.

Previously the FBI had said that a finger and palm print of Heirens, 17-year-old University of Chicago student, were "identical" to latent prints found on the $20,000 ransom note in the kidnap-slitting of Suzanne Degnan Jan. 7.

Miss Brown was shot and stabbed to death in her northside apartment last Dec. 11.

The latest FBI confirmation of print similarities found by the Chicago police was contained in a telegram sent by J. Edgar Hoover to Police Commissioner John C. Pendergast. The wire said:

Earlier yesterday Chief of Detectives Walter C. Storms announced that three separate finger or palm prints had been found on the Degnan note and added that all matched the prints of Heirens. The FBI has termed "identical" one finger and one palm print.

Announcement of the similarity between Heirens' print and a bloody print found on the door jamb of the 33-year-old former WAVE's apartment came yesterday from State's Attorney William J. Tuohy.

Heirens has denied any connection with the brutal killing of six-year-old Suzanne Degnan, whose body was butchered and disposed of in sewers and catch basins after she was kidnaped from her bedroom.

He remained silent when told of the police discovery that his prints were similar to the one in the Francis Brown case.

Police have not charged him in either of these killings.

Clayton Speaks on Approval of Loan

WASHINGTON—(AP)—William L. Clayton, U. S. assistant secretary of state, said last night congressional approval of the British loan means that Britain can cooperate with this country in carrying through the American program for expanding international trade.

Participate in a radio broadcast program, Clayton said in response to a question that if Britain had not gotten the loan, her trade policy would have been "the exact opposite of what we want it to be."

'Boxcar' on Maiden Flight to Europe

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The army sent its huge "flying boxcar" winging toward Europe yesterday for the first time.

Eight paratroopers were aboard. American and British occupation troops will be shown the newest wrinkles in parachute tactics and air cargo transport.

The two-engine plane, officially known as the C-82 "Flying Packet" is the army's latest standard air carrier.

A Republic Born in Poverty

AGRICULTURE—Slaughter of work animals for food puts 40 per cent of cultivated land into idleness. Critical shortage of rice must be augmented by importation. Estimated war losses or damages: Livestock, $40,000,000; rice, $70,000,000; sugar, $45,000,000; coconuts, $25,000,000; abaca, $20,000,000.

HOUSING—Once called "Pearl of the Orient," Manila now has hardly a building of any kind undamaged. Fashionable apartment houses, luxurious hotels are wrecks. Native homes burned down by retreating Japs. Replacement of lost and damaged property will cost at least $800,000,000.

INDUSTRY—Jap seizure of mining machinery paralyzed major industry of country. Coconut production and processing crippled by lack of labor, warehouses and mills smashed. Estimated war losses or damages: Lumber, $10,000,000; mining, $60,000,000; tobacco, $6,500,000; fishing, $10,000,000.

EDUCATION—Schools and colleges blasted to rubble. Books burned, many teachers dead. Art treasures gone forever. Public buildings and public records destroyed. Manila's cathedral and many churches are mere shells. Estimates of time needed for rebuilding range up to 20 years.

Freedom and sovereignty come to the Philippines at a time when the land's fields are devastated, its cities smashed and its industries shattered. It faces an enormous public debt, unless Uncle Sam lends a hand. Pictograph above shows some of the conditions prevailing after years of war and Jap occupation.

Central Government Official Released

PEIPING—(AP)—C. M. Chao, who was mayor of Changchun when the Manchurian capital was captured by the communist army April 18, was reported yesterday to have been released from internment by the communists at Harbin and returned to Changchun.

Five American correspondents who were in Changchun at the time of the capture were in Chao's home when the communists arrived. Chao was introduced as a correspondent from Shanghai and his identity kept from the communists until a government officer disclosed his whereabouts and the communists arrested him.

Supplementary Food Rations Go to Japs

TOKYO—(AP)—Allied headquarters announced yesterday the release of more than 67,500 tons of imported food to the Japanese government to supplement rations for the second 10-day period of July.

Wheat made up most of the release which is the largest so far made.

Headquarters also directed the Japanese to pick up 5,000 tons of excess U. S. army food in danger of spoilage at two Jims.

Amarillo Board Gets Surprise—No Gripes

AMARILLO—(AP)—The Amarillo real estate board prepared for a flash flood of landlord-tenant disputes with last week's termination of OPA—but they haven't had even a trickle.

The board set up a rental arbitration committee geared to handle 200 complaints.

After one week, it has not received a single communication from the city's 12,000 residential tenants or owners.

Sewer Money Given To City of Temple

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Federal Work administration yesterday announced an advance of $2,416 to Temple, Texas, for preparation of plans and specifications for sanitary sewer system improvements and extensions which will cost $85,615.

The funds are to be repaid without interest when construction is begun.

Robinson Kayoes Curcio in First

NEW YORK—(AP)—The fistful faithful didn't care much today about whether Sugar Ray Robinson knocked Southpaw Joe Curcio out in the first or second round at Madison Square Garden Friday night. They were wondering more about just what wallop, short of Joe Louis himself, could handle welterweight Sugar Ray in the approved manner.

The Sugar Man from Harlem took only one lump to stir up Joe last night.

This "lump" of a left hook landed just as the bell rang ending the first round of their scheduled ten-rounder. And inasmuch as Southpaw Joe was still flat on his back when the bell sounded to begin the second round, it didn't make much difference whether the folks figured the payoff should be for the first or second session.

In chalking up his 68th win in 70 pro starts, the Sugar Man not only showed that he's the class of welterweights—with all due respect to his forthcoming 147-pound title taffy pull with champion Marty Servo—but even the hardened Bash Boulevard boulevardiers were wondering who, except boss man Joe Louis himself, figured to do anything with Sugar Ray. That's how good he looked.

Milk Drivers Strike At Dallas Company

DALLAS—(AP)—Milk deliveries of a dairy which claims to supply 20 percent of the milk consumed in Dallas were almost completely stopped yesterday by a strike of the newly organized APL drivers employees of the company.

Union representatives said the 80 Tennessee dairy drivers who refused to take their trucks on routes this morning objected to a new policy on figuring $2.50 commissions. They said also that the company refused to recognize the union local, organized Wednesday.

Brooklyn Ends Losing Streak At Cubs' Lair

CHICAGO (AP)—Staving off a ninth inning assault, the Brooklyn Dodgers defeated the Chicago Cubs 4-3 yesterday before a paid attendance of 40,097 to end a five-game losing skid at Wrigley Field.

Hank Behrman, who started for the Dodgers, lasted until the ninth when he retired after Clyde McCullough doubled and Billy Burns drew a pass. Hugh Casey took over and was stung for a single by Stan Hack and a double by Eddie Waitkus, the wallop producing two runs to throw a scare into the Dodgers. A long outfield fly by Peanuts Lowrey with the bases loaded ended the game.

The Dodgers scored a run in the opening inning on successive singles by Cookie Lavagetto, Pete Reiser and Dixie Walker.

In the fifth they scored again when Stan Rokej doubled, Lavagetto drew a pass and Reiser tripled. With Emil Kush pitching for the Cubs in the seventh another Brooklyn tally came on Rokej's single, Behrman's sacrifice and Eddie Stanley's single.

Behrman held the Cubs scoreless until the seventh when Mark Rickert doubled and went over the plate on Judges' single.

Stanolind Surges To Deadlock With Montgomery Ward

An 11-1 victory over Skelly Kingsmill Friday night pulled the Stanolind Oil nine into a first-place tie with Montgomery Wards in the Industrial softball league.

Leders Jewelry, meanwhile, making its first start, edged the favored Heiskell nine 7-5 in a tight game that saw Junior Gage, ace hurler of the league in 1945, win his first start.

The loss knocked Heiskell into a fourth-place tie with Baash-Ross, McWilliams and Skelly Schaffer as the first week of the season closed.

The schedule for next week (The 6:30 games are at Phillips, south of the city, and 8:00 games are at the Schafer diamond, west of the city).

'Lefty' Fans 17, Hits Homer, 2 Doubles; Range's Single Wins

By SCOTT RAFFERTY News Sports Editor

BORGER—Any doubts that Lefty Bill Garland, ace of the Pampa Oiler mound staff, was not of all-star caliber were dispelled here Friday night and a fervent 11th-inning prayer by Oiler Manager Grover Seitz was miraculously answered as the Oilers took a 7-5 decision from the Borger Gassers.

Scott's Scrap Book

By SCOTT RAFFERTY
According to a recent, probably very accurate survey, Pampa had something over 17,700 persons within its cooperate limits and there is no real reason to believe that it will not continue to grow for many years to come.

What the survey didn't show, however, was that Pampa does not have a truly adequate playground system, especially to take care of 300 kids playing in the Kiwanis Sunday school softball league. That is reason enough in itself to convince somebody that something needs to be done and done quickly.

We have in mind several places where the city could step in and, for little money in comparison to value received, construct a softball diamond or two with a few inexpensive bleachers and some light that would solve most of the problems then and there.

Perhaps that suggestion is a little late for this year, but we think the city could get busy this fall and vastly improve its recreation facilities for kids right here in town.

Also, we'd like to say something in behalf of the Industrial League, composed of 10 teams representing some of the leading firms of this area. Enthusiasm is high in this league but there is one drawback that sticks out like a sore thumb.

These teams are having to play on two different diamonds and only then through the courtesy of private property owners. These diamonds are located at the Phillips plant, south of the city, and the other is at the Skelly Schaffer gasoline plant, west of town. Both diamonds are at least 10 miles from the city.

Methodists Win 2 to 1 Thriller

The First Methodist Junior boys team edged by the McCullough Methodists 2-1 Friday night to the lowest score recorded this season in the Kiwanis softball league. In another game the First Baptist Junior boys ran roughshod over the First Christian team 25 to 1 the same night.

These games ended the first week of play in the second half of the league. The Junior boys were the only teams that played in the league last week.

Due to the fact that three new diamonds west of the high school are incomplete, the games scheduled to be played on them will be moved to the diamonds used during the first half of the season. The Junior boys will continue to play at Woodrow Wilson school and Lion's Club park, the girls teams will play on the two diamonds at San Houston and the Senior boys will play on the old diamonds at high school.

The schedule for next week:
Monday, Presbyterian vs. Christian at Woodrow Wilson and Central Baptist vs. Harrah Methodist at Lion Park; Thursday, First Baptist vs. Presbyterian at Woodrow Wilson and First Methodist vs. Harrah Methodist at Lion Park; Friday, First Baptist vs. Presbyterian at Woodrow Wilson and First Methodist vs. Presbyterian at San Houston and Presbyterian vs. Central Baptist, day, Christian vs. Central Baptist, night.

The senior boys schedule: Tuesday, Christian vs. Central Baptist, East high school diamond and First Baptist vs. Presbyterian, west high school; Thursday, Christian vs. First Methodist, east and First Methodist vs. Presbyterian, east and First Baptist vs. Presbyterian, west. All games will begin at 6 p.m. according to Aubrey Jones, commissioner.

Bosox Strengthen Lead With Win

By BEN FUNK

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox stretched their lead over the Yankees to nine full games yesterday as they came from behind to score a 5-4 win over the Detroit Tigers, while Cleveland took the Yankees at New York 3-2.

It was a clean sweep of all nine home games with the Tigers for the Red Sox as Mickey Harris won his 12th victory.

Paul Trout drove in two Detroit runs in the second with a double off the left field wall after Pat Mullin beat out a bunt and Jimmy Outlaw was safe on Johnny Pesky's error.

The Sox picked up their first run in the sixth when Pesky walked, went to third on Dom DiMaggio's single to right and scored at Williams grounded out to Hank Greenberg.

Boston came from behind in the eighth when they piled up four runs.

Leon Culberson doubled on the first pitch. Pesky reached first on a fielder's choice and Culberson scored as Trout threw wild to third.

Williams drew an intentional walk and Pesky scored as Bobby Doerr bunted safely a short way down the first base line. After Rudy York was thrown out, Rip Russell beat out a grounder and Williams scored. Doerr came home with the four run as Greenberg let seven Bloodworth's throw get through him.

In the ninth, Bob Klingler replaced Harris after George Kell and Host Evers singled. Greenberg's double to left center scored Kell and Evers came home with the final run of the game after mullen filed out to Williams.

SENES 6-2, CHIXOS 5-9
WASHINGTON (AP)—Left-handed Frank Papius of the Chicago White Sox won his first victory of the season yesterday, beating Washington 6-2 in the second game of a double-header after the Senators won the opener, 6-5.

BROWNS 11, A's 7
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The St. Louis Browns slammed three Philadelphia Athletics pitchers for runs in the fourth inning yesterday and went on to win, 11 to 7. Allen Zarilla had two triples in the Browns' big inning.

TRIBE 3, YANKS 2
NEW YORK (AP)—Joe Gordon's error on Lou Boudreau's attempted steal enabled the Cleveland manager to reach second safely in the sixth inning from where he scored on Ken Keltner's single with the run that gave the Indians a 3-2 victory over the New York Yankees yesterday.

Dallas Youth Wins Junior Golf Crown With 41-Hole Final

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Gene Towry, 17-year-old Dallas youth who tips the scales at only 120 pounds, today held the state Junior golf championship.

Towry went 41 holes in the state finals here yesterday to defeat Joe Conrad of San Antonio.

Towry was even par for the 41 holes. He scored a 72, one over, on the morning 18, a 71 on the afternoon 18, and one-under on the extra holes.

Both Towry and Conrad will represent Texas in the William Randolph Hearst National Junior championships starting Aug. 19 at Detroit.

Refineries Without Own Oil Supply To Receive Priority

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Refineries not having their own source of crude oil will have priority in buying government royalty oil under a bill signed by President Truman yesterday.

The bill authorizes the secretary of the interior to release royalty oil reserved to the United States under leases to these refineries on a preference basis "when he determines that sufficient supplies of crude oil are not available in the open market."

They may buy at market prices but are prohibited from reselling the crude oil.

Smuggling Charge Made Against Yank

FRANKFURT, Germany—(AP)—The U. S. army announced yesterday that Col. Lester A. Webb of Macon, Ga., was held in Frankfurt in connection with an asserted attempt to smuggle $12,386 worth of gold bullion, Swiss coins and watches out of Switzerland.

The army's public relations division said charges had been preferred against Webb and that he would be tried soon. Webb had been in Switzerland arranging for U. S. military personnel to attend Swiss colleges.

Negro University Is Still Being Discussed

HOUSTON—(AP)—Dr. E. E. Oberholzer, president of the University of Houston, said Saturday that the board of regents of the university will be receptive to a proposition concerning expansion of the Houston college for Negroes to first class university size. The university regents control the Negro college.

Doctor Oberholzer's statement followed word received here Saturday that the boards of regents of the University of Texas and A. and M. college had recommended establishing a first class university for Negroes, preferably in Houston.

The university president said that he had met with a joint special committee, which was studying the Negro education question in Texas, and had been told that the Negro college was under consideration as the site of the university.

All members of the committee agreed that Houston was the logical site and that it was the center of the Negro population in Texas.

President Named for St. Edward's College

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(AP)—Appointment of Brother Edmund Hunt, C. S. C., Ph. D., as president of St. Edward's college, Austin, Texas, was announced by Brother Emphatic O'Dwyer, C. S. C., Provincial of the U. S. Province of the Congregation Society of Brothers.

The announcement said that Brother Hunt will be the first brother to head the school, which is operated by the Congregation of the Holy Cross.

He graduated from Notre Dame university in 1935 and after receiving his doctor's degree from the University of Chicago returned to Notre Dame as professor of classical languages and history.

Short Stocky Killer Being Sought in Slaying

BOSTON—(AP)—A short stocky killer, described by police sergeant Raymond A. L. Monahan as a Negro, strangled Mrs. Helen Cronin, 60, in her bedroom early yesterday and then allegedly tried to kill her 12 year old daughter by the same method.

Monahan said the stranger was interrupted while attacking Mrs. Cronin by her daughter Eleanor, and that after yanking tight a belt he threw around the mother's neck he tried to strangle Eleanor's cries for help by using a bathing suit strap.

The attacker left behind a necktie which Monahan said was identified later as having been worn by a man who accompanied Mrs. Cronin to various cafes Friday evening.

"That one, together with a description furnished by a taxi-cab driver who, Monahan reported, had taken Mrs. Cronin and a man to the Cronin home, gave police a definite lead in their search for the stranger, the sergeant said.

'Operation Crossroads' Pilot Becomes Father

TAMPA, Fla.—(AP)—The pilot of "Operation Crossroads" has scored again—this time in "Operation stork."

A seven pound nine ounce son was born Friday night to Maj. and Mrs. Woodrow Swancutt.

Major Swancutt was the pilot of the B-29 from which the fourth atomic bomb was dropped on Bikini Island early this month.

"The same plane—'Dave's Dream'—sped the major from Roswell, N. Mex., to Tampa 26 hours before the child was born.

The boy, as yet unnamed, is the Swancutt's third child. They have two daughters, aged four and two.

Wheeler
Smith Brothers, No. 2, Belew lease, section 50, blk. 24, H&GN survey, has set 5 1/8 inch casing at 2903 feet, with 50 sacks of cement. They are now waiting for cement to set.

Bomb-Damaged House Provides Real Adventure

By HAL BOYLE

BERLIN—(AP)—Living in a bomb-damaged German house under repair is a real adventure in Babel.

American wives waiting to come to Berlin have no idea what an agony of katzenjammer housecleaning their husbands are enduring to ready some kind of a home for them.

At present I am dwelling in a home in suburban Zehlendorf which Dick Kasichke, an Associated Press correspondent, is having fixed up for his wife and daughter.

It wasn't a bad foxhole at all when we moved in. The plumbing on opposite sides of the house worked on alternate days, the roof was okay. Although there weren't any window panes left in my room, the bed was comfortable and the rain didn't blow in very far.

Downstairs the dining room did look a little as if it had been used for a chicken coop, but this didn't matter because we were eating out anyway at an army mess. Besides, the icebox worked well enough to keep the beer cool and the Grand piano wasn't missing any important keys.

We are very comfortable. It was a nice house. I liked it because it was the only house I ever saw in Germany that didn't have a picture of Eisnarck on the wall. All we had was a statue of the first Kaiser Wilhelm.

Then the German housekeeper and the two elderly maids learned that "the American housewife"—Mrs. Kasichke—would be here from Detroit. The storm struck.

"Zis house—no American woman live in it," said the housekeeper.

Since then we have been enveloped in a domestic whirlwind of dust, ovens, paint, cement, floor shaving and teutonic arguments. Between the housekeeper and the battalion of German glaziers, plasterers, painters, gardeners, woodworkers, and plumbers supplied by the army for "operation makerready."

We wake up sneezing and go too bed coughing and the place smells like a hardware store. It looks like a cross between a carpenter's ball and a circus grounds with the biggest tent just going up.

After two weeks of steady sawing and hammering and brush-slapping the old homestead is beginning to glisten like an ad in a homeowner's magazine, but Kasichke is still wearing that haunted look common to husbands at housecleaning time.

"It ain't afraid," he says, looking around dubiously. "Mr. Wife will still want one or two changes made."

That, I guess, is my signal to change foxholes.

Three Locations in Panhandle Abandoned

Three locations in Panhandle field were abandoned according to a report this week. They are:

J. H. Huber Corp., No. 18, Mayfield lease, section 4, block R-2, D&P survey, was abandoned at location.

E. J. Dumigan, No. 2, Logan lease, section 1, A. B. Pedigo survey, was found dry and abandoned at a depth of 3281 feet.

Peerless Oil & Gas Co., No. 1, Claude Moore lease, section 2, township 4-N, range 17-E, was abandoned at location.

Love Their Work AP Newsmen

JOHANNESBURG—A recent drive for non-European maternity nurses resulted in 15 native girls volunteering for one hospital. The authorities were very satisfied with their intelligence and keenness. After some months of training they were transferred to a maternity hospital for practical work. Here they showed even more promise and the matron was delighted. After a few weeks the secret of their keenness was revealed. The native nurses liked their work so much that they had all decided to become mothers themselves.

Plans Made for Affair Honoring All Lipscomb Vets

CANADIAN, (Special)—Bill Cote of Higgins, publicity chairman for Lipscomb county's celebration Friday, July 19th, has announced in Canadian that arrangements are being made for a crowd of 3000 persons when Lipscomb county honors her ex-service men and women of World War II at an all-day celebration and old-fashioned barbecue at Lipscomb, the county seat.

All towns of the county are joining in preparations for the celebration, and the committee in charge of the arrangements requested business houses of the county to close for the occasion at a meeting Monday night at Lipscomb. Higgins business houses contacted Tuesday indicated that they would be closed for the celebration.

Festivities will open with an address at 10:30 in the morning by an outstanding speaker who has not yet been announced. Lt. John W. Oliver, special service officer at Amarillo army air base, indicated in a letter to Roy Sansing Tuesday that a band and other entertainment from army special service would be sent to Lipscomb for the occasion.

A baseball game between Darrout and Pollett is scheduled for the afternoon, and a dance is being arranged for the evening. John Snider, famous barbecue king from Amarillo will prepare and serve the barbecue at noon.

Citizens of Pampa and other towns in the area are cordially invited to enjoy this celebration with the Lipscomb county folks.

McYhem to Vinegar, And He Gets Relief

LOS ANGELES—(AP)—Medical science won another round from the home-cure school yesterday. Louis Rodstein stopped hiccupping.

Rodstein, 49, had been racked for 11 days by the attack. His own doctor, consulting frequently with other physicians, asked one of the latter to try his own method. Neither the method nor the physician's name was disclosed, but Mrs. Rodstein said the attacks ended and her husband was sleeping soundly for the first time in days.

Suggestions for a cure had poured in from all parts of the country. Mrs. Rodstein, harassed by telephone calls, special delivery letters and visitors, finally asked a halt.

The advice ranged from physical violence to a mixture of beer, honey and vinegar.

He Prefers Writing Truth to Gallows

POZNAN, Poland—(AP)—Arthur Greiser, the hard Nazi gaulster, appealed Friday to Pope Pius XII, Alfred Duff Cooper, British ambassador to France, and Anthony Eden, British conservative leader, to save him from the gallows.

Greiser, in an earlier appeal to Boleslaw Bierut, president of the Polish national council, which was denied, declared he would like to live long enough "to write a book to further the cause of truth and world peace."

NEA-Acme Photographer Catches 8-Picture Sequence of Atomic Fireball at Bikini Test

NEW YORK—NEA-Acme News-pictures Photographer Harry Lederhandler caught a sequence of eight pictures of the atomic fireball—before the characteristic smoke column even began to form over Bikini—but these amazing negatives have been sequestered by the navy and may never see publication.

Flying in a photographic B-29 over the perimeter of Bikini lagoon as pool photographer, Lederhandler made what was believed to be the first pictures in existence of the actual explosion of an atomic bomb. The pictures taken in New Mexico and over Japan were shot after the explosion.

The NEA-Acme veteran used a Fairchild K-25 aerial camera with electrically operated shutter. As the B-29 picked up the signal that the bomb was about to be dropped, he donned heavy black glasses and focused his lens on the red-painted battleship Nevada—aiming point in the Bikini test fleet.

When the first glow appeared through Lederhandler's glasses, he started his camera rolling. He had clicked off several negatives before the actual detonation of the bomb.

When the negatives were developed in navy laboratories at Kwajalein it was discovered that Lederhandler had a full series of eight pictures, telling in sequence the life and development of the atomic fireball as no one had ever been able to do before.

The fire ball negatives were bundled up by navy officers and rushed by plane to Anacostia naval air station, Md., where they will be scrutinized for security. It is not known at this time whether there is any chance that they will be released or held in naval archives for scientific study.

To the human eye, shaded by heavy dark lenses prescribed for all hands at Operation Crossroads, the fireball appeared to those in the plane as a great ball of flame more than a mile wide, covering the ships and with the island of Bikini in the foreground. Frank H. Bartholomew, United Press vice-president, who was an eye-witness aboard a press plane, reported that forked lightning seemed to reach for each ship in the lagoon.

Lederhandler was disconsolate over the fate of his fireball pictures. "Under existing directives my grandchildren may get to see the pictures, but I won't," he said.

Atomic 'fire ball' revealed—When the signal came on Able Day announcing the dropping of the atom bomb, electrically-operated K-25 aerial cameras began to click recording the first time the actual explosion of an atom bomb is seen. Top photo shows full burst of the bomb; and the formation of the gigantic fireball which precedes the mushroom smoke column; center photo shows formation of the gigantic "fire ball" visible for miles from Bikini; bottom photo shows advance stage in "fire ball" development. Latter two pictures were taken by Acme's Harry Lederhandler, flying in a B-29.

Texas League of Women Voters Working for Secret Ballot

By The Associated Press
Almost 2,000 women in 15 cities and towns of Texas with but a single purpose—to establish the secret ballot in the state.

That's the story of the Texas League of Women Voters this year. The league has joined the list of organizations sending out questionnaires to legislators only and asks one question only: How do you stand on the secret ballot?

The single purpose was adopted at a state convention in Galveston in April.

"We're not working on anything else until we see it through," said Mrs. Martin Row of Dallas, president.

"We've checked voting machines and found them secret, but only a few cities in Texas have them. We're trying to get the perforated ballot over."

The perforated ballot would have the voter's number in a corner which could be torn off. With the number in one box and the vote in another, no possible way of checking how a vote was cast could be made, she explained.

State headquarters of the League in a rose-covered cottage in Mrs. Row's backyard. To it, leagues in Austin, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Fort Worth, Galveston, Houston, Lamarque, Midland, Port Arthur, San Antonio, San Angelo, Taylor, Texas City and on the campuses of the University of Texas and Texas State College for Women send their plans. Their plan to get the secret ballot over simply is to get more women working on it.

"We've tried having local groups go down to Austin to lobby," Mrs. Row said, "and we've tried having them see their own senators and representatives in their home towns. But it's a funny thing—everywhere we have a league in the state, we find the state legislators from that place in favor of the secret ballot."

That's why we're putting on an organization campaign this summer—to get more women in more places behind their senators and representatives.

The secret ballot is the state aim of the group. It comes between the national and local levels of issues.

Nationally, the league agreed at a Kansas City convention in May to promote acceptance by the United States of its full share of responsibility for strengthening the United Nations, a reorganization of congress, government economic policies which will prevent inflation and deflation and promote maximum production and international control of atomic energy through the United Nations.

Locally, Mrs. Row said, the leagues can do as many things they have the woman power to do. As examples, she said some in Texas were interested in establishing a detention home for juveniles in custody of the law, merit systems for public officials and getting the people out to vote.

Local groups may bring their pet interests to the state convention for consideration as a state-wide project.

ect. "But we'll have no new project till the secret ballot is in," Mrs. Row added quickly.

The league tackles its problems by means of study groups. It's strictly non-partisan. Party politics, much less candidates, rarely are discussed. Our interest, Mrs. Row said, is in good candidates only.

The objective of the league, as stated in its national literature, is "to promote active interest and participation of citizens in government through education."

The Dallas league currently is sponsoring a "know your county" program, emphasizing the problems of juvenile delinquency and crime prevention.

All leagues throughout the county are studying means of relieving the famine in Europe. The national president, Miss Anna Lord Strauss, is on President Truman's famine emergency committee.

"We must feed the starving people even if it means eating less at home, because we have substitutes for certain food," Mrs. Row declared. "We're interested in food rationing to insure a fair distribution of the remaining supplies at home."

Mrs. Row became interested in the League of Women Voters through its international studies. As the daughter of Robert Newton Lynch, one of the founders of the Institute of Pacific Relations, she grew with international problems. She, herself, was one of the founders of the Student Institute of Pacific Relations.

She admitted she was a native of California, but added she'd lived in Texas 16 years and was "one of those strange Californians who prefer to live in Texas."

She leaves her housework and school-age son every morning from 9 to 1 to work with a secretary on the state league's plans.

Other state officers are Mrs. Ed Killman of Houston, first vice-president and legislative chairman; Mrs. William Brockhausen of San Antonio, second vice-president; Mrs. Raymond Gregory of Galveston, third vice-president; Mrs. David B. Trammell of Fort Worth, secretary, and Mrs. Chapin Marcus of Dallas, treasurer.

The officers make up the board of directors, along with Mrs. Elwood Street, Houston; Mrs. C. H. Gill, Lamarque; Miss Sarah Daniels, Dallas; Mrs. Victor Rodgers, Midland, and Mrs. L. L. Adkins, Houston.

English Vicar Refuses To Conduct Marriage

SALISBURY, England.—(AP)—An English vicar refused yesterday to conduct a transatlantic telephone marriage of an English girl and an American ex-serviceman because, he said, the ceremony "was not legal in England."

The Rev. F. W. White, the vicar, withdrew his services and use of the vicarage from 17-year-old Maureen Chamberlain, who said she was to have married James Crider of Hot Springs, N. M., Monday afternoon.

Now, Miss Chamberlain said, the marriage may have to be conducted by an American judge on the other end of the line.

Senator Signs Altered Pledge

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Senator Glen Taylor (D-Ida) signed the payroll yesterday after he said Coo Thompson, senate financial clerk, had altered the wording of "no strike against the government" pledge.

Earlier in the week Taylor told his colleagues it looked as though he would have to serve without pay because he declined to sign the "no strike" pledge now required of most government workers.

The Idaho senator said that as a member of the Sheet Metal Workers International association he could not adhere to any such pledge, explaining that while the organization doesn't claim the right to strike against the government, it has participated in walkouts.

But yesterday, Walker said, Thompson presented a revised form of the pledge under which the senator said he agreed that he was not a member of organizations of government employees who assert the right to strike.

"I still don't like it," Taylor told a reporter, "but it's the law. Since the pledge now complies with the wording of the law I signed it. But I think the law ought to be changed."

Man Given Death in Booby Trap Killing

MARTINSVILLE, Va.—(AP)—Amon J. Gusler, 52-year-old furniture plant mechanic, had a death sentence hanging over him today after being convicted Friday by a Henry county circuit court jury for the booby trap killing of J. Russell Smith.

After deliberation of an hour and one-half, the jury returned its verdict and fixed Gusler's punishment at death in the electric chair.

Gusler's attorneys filed motions to set aside the verdict, and Judge Joel W. Flood said he would hear the motions next Tuesday when Gusler will be sentenced.

Gusler testified at his trial he placed three sticks of dynamite under Smith's desk in an office adjoining a drying kiln at the furniture factory at nearby Bassett, Va., and that Smith died when the 38-year-old fellow workman pulled a seldom-used switch and thus touched off the charge. Gusler told the court his act was prompted by a fear that Smith would "get him" because of bad feeling growing out of a drinking party during which he kissed Smith's wife in the Smith home two years ago. Gusler said Smith once threatened to "kill you or run you out of town."

Q. Does it pay to feed a supplement to beef cattle when the grass gets dry in late summer?

A. Results at the U. S. Southern Great Plains Field Station showed that yearling steers produced an increased gain of 71 lbs. per head more when fed two lbs. of supplement on late summer range, and 51 lbs. more gain when fed one lb. of supplement, as compared to the check lot fed no supplement. On the basis of beef produced, the steers fed two lbs. of supplement showed a net return of $490 more and those fed 1 lb. showed a net return of $300 more than the steers fed no supplement.

Q. How can I keep turkey poulters from eating the litter?

A. Cover litter with rough paper or burlap sacks for the first four days. A smooth cover such as slick newspaper should not be used, as it has a tendency to contribute to slipped tendons.

Q. Is browse required for dairy goats?

A. No. According to an experiment conducted over a two year period at the Ralston Purina Company's Research Farm, browse does not supply any nutritive factors that may not be supplied by alfalfa hay and grasses fed with a properly balanced grain ration. Dairy goats relish browse but do not require it.

Q. In feeding lambs, how can critically scarce grains and concentrates be conserved in these times of feed shortage?

A. All available roughages, stalk fields, and pastures should be used to the fullest. Recent trials at the Kansas Experiment Station showed that lambs running in a combined mlo stalk field for 30 days before going into the feed lot made about the same gains at a lower cost than those fed the same ration in the feed lot.

Q. What is 2-4-D Weed Killer and what types of plants does it kill?

A. 2-4-D is an abbreviation for the new selective hormone weed killer, 2,4-Dichlorophenoxyacetic acid. It kills most plants but has very little effect on grasses. Some of the weeds it is most effective against are bindweed, burdock, cocklebur, dandelion, pigweed, plantain, ragweed, and thistles. 2-4-D should be used with caution, since it will also kill most vegetables, flowering plants, and shrubs.

RAINEY ON STAND—Homer P. Rainey, candidate for the Texas governorship, on the stand at a Federal Communications Commission hearing in Dallas, studies a photostatic copy of a page of the O'Daniel News, handed him by his attorney, James V. Allred (right). Page contained a speech by Sen. W. Lee O'Daniel. Rainey had protested to commission radio time allotted him by the Texas Quality Network. In his petition he charged discrimination and monopoly.

Testimony Ends in FCC Hearing Called on Protest of Homer Rainey

DALLAS—(AP)—A seven-hour session yesterday completed testimony in a federal communications hearing on charges by Dr. Homer P. Rainey, candidate for governor, that the four radio stations of the Texas Quality network "have not operated in the public interest" by rationing time to politicians.

Col. James D. Cunningham, examiner, adjourned the two-day hearing after former Gov. James V. Allred, one of Rainey's attorneys, revived the controversial issues of 1944 that resulted in Rainey's dismissal as president of the University of Texas.

Until introduction of the university question, the day's proceedings had been enlivened only by the unexpected appearance of Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith, also a candidate for governor, who said the stations should be reprimanded "if they've done anything wrong" but that his problem was "raising money for broadcasts and not obtaining radio time."

Soft-spoken Colonel Cunningham, liberal in admitting evidence and testimony from both factions but blunt and to the point after a decision was reached, ordered the abrupt halt in the hearing to permit attorneys and witnesses to meet train and plane schedules.

For a while, late in the afternoon, it looked as though Friday's 10-hour session, punctuated by testimony of three gubernatorial candidates, was to be repeated. At least one witness was not called to the stand at the last minute.

Records of the hearing will be forwarded to Washington for decision of the commission.

Cunningham said he did not know when the decision would be made.

"I talked with members of the commission before leaving Washington and was told to rush this testimony to them as quickly as possible," the former army judge advocate said. "I can't say a decision will be reached before the first primary, two weeks from today, but I know the commission is a hard working group and in constant session. So it is likely they will give it immediate attention."

Cunningham said the hearing, in so far as he knew, was unprecedented in commission history, that he knew of no other case "so closely involved in a political campaign."

Allred introduced the university question late in the afternoon while cross-examining Kern Tips, station manager of KPRC, Houston, one of the stations involved.

Tips was questioned with reference to a visit made by the former governor, accompanied by Major J. R. Parten of Houston, to KPRC in seeking radio time on TQN to present "Dr. Rainey's side" to the university controversy. The visit, Allred said, was made in early November, 1944, shortly after the dismissal of Rainey as university president.

The station manager said he recalled the visit but would have to consult records for details. Allred then began to read from telegrams and letters between KPRC and Major Parten's office with reference to the matter.

"Do you recall our visit to you and your telling us you wouldn't sell us time because it involved a controversial question," Allred asked.

"Yes."

"Didn't you offer us a 30-minute program to be split between the two sides of the issue?"

"I don't recall."

Col. Frank W. Wozencraft of Dallas, attorney for KPRC, objected on the grounds that Rainey was not a recognized candidate for governor at the time and that "there is no remote connection between the university controversy," and the pending hearing.

Paul M. Segal, representative for WCAP, Fort Worth, added his objections by recalling Friday's testimony by Rainey in criticizing Texas newspapers for trying to revive the university situation and making it an issue of the campaign.

"They have revived it very studiously and successfully," Allred retorted.

"Now we find counsel for the plaintiff is doing so," Segal said. "I hope they have no biased-anti-Rainey feelings."

Cunningham permitted the telegrams and letters to be entered in evidence but ordered continuation of cross examination on other subjects.

Smith, who has attacked many of his opponents in his campaign speeches, made little reference to him in his hearing testimony today. He was on the witness stand nearly an hour.

"My relations with the stations involved have been very agreeable," he said, "except for a few conflicts with commercials causing denials of my requests."

"If that is wrong, I want them (the stations) reprimanded," he continued. But I reiterate that it is my money and not radio time that is my problem."

The lieutenant governor said the interests of "freedom of speech" would be aided "if we can compel these powerful groups to lower rates."

On cross-examination, Everett L. Looney, attorney for Rainey, asked Smith if he considered stations of the TQN "more desirable" in presenting his platform than other stations.

"No," Smith replied. "Desirable but not more desirable. You can reach more of the public over other networks than TQN."

"Are the costs higher on other networks?"

"Yes, but your audience is greater."

"You were told that?"

"It is information given me by the stations of the Texas State network but of course that was their own advertisement."

"If all the radio time should be taken away from candidates, what would happen to the campaigns?"

"I recall some very vigorous campaigns in Texas before the day of radio."

"But isn't it true that crowds are smaller now?"

"My opponents haven't had as good audiences as I have."

"If I have the same opportunity as my opponents," Smith concluded, "I have no complaint. But, if otherwise, the people are being done injustice for being denied my rich prizes of governmental knowledge."

Garfield county, since 1928, the statistics showed, had paid $6 million in taxes; and yet only $2,779,843 had been spent on new construction and maintenance work in that length of time in the county.

Speaking to Oklahomans, he said: "We're on the black list, and we've got to get off it," on account of the failure to meet the promise made to the other states.

A drive for membership, at $2 a person, is being instituted by the association, it was announced. Membership cards have been distributed to persons in each of the main towns and cities along the route. The public is being urged to buy membership, proceeds from which are to be used in defraying expense of publicizing the story of what a completely paved Highway 60 would mean to the country.

The association, according to Glasser, has plans to print elaborate maps of the entire country, showing the route of 66, with reliable designations of good eating places, good lodging houses, and spots of interest to tourists. It is a cooperative plan, he explained, requiring the sympathy and understanding of people along the route.

Large delegations were present from Canadian and Pampa. Those attending from Canadian were Vincent Lockhart, secretary of the chamber of commerce; Charles R. Douglas, president of the chamber; T. D. Owens, County Judge H. M. Wood, and Malouf Abraham, who is president of the Texas section of the association.

Those attending from Higgins, Texas, were: Roy Sansing, W. C. Jenkins, Charles Boyd, R. E. Byrom, Roy Landers, A. Bissantz, and Ray Wilson.

Glasser named the following as members of the state executive committee:

Texas—Malouf Abraham, Canadian; C. H. Hyde, Higgins; Sherman White, Pampa; W. B. Sansing, Amarillo; and E. O. Wedgeworth, Pampa.

Oklahoma—W. D. McGinley, Bartlesville; L. S. Barnes, Ponca City; Fred Tillman, Pawhuska; Dave Johnson, Nowata; Shade Wallen, Vinita; Dr. B. F. Johnson, Fairview; Ralph Cain, Vici; A. V. Chesnut, Arnet; Paul Wilcox, Selling; Omer Kircher, Fairland; and Weldon Ford, Enid.

Ninety-two persons registered for the banquet held prior to the meeting.

then he thought it should be "reprimanded." Further, he said if it was found he had more time coming to him, he wanted it.

Then he left. He had a speech to make at Waco.

Jo Ed Winfree, Harris county candidate for lieutenant governor, said he had found one dominant note during his tour of Texas.

The people just want to be left alone, he said.

"The people of Texas are fed up with filling out forms and applications and answering yard-long questionnaires," he said in Richmond.

"The average Texan has become weary of regulations concerning his personal life and habits. He wants to be left alone to work and make a living without organized interference."

He said he had covered thousands of miles during his campaign.

"They want security, but they want the freedom to earn it their own way," he said. "Texans always have been free men and the spirit of freedom is still dominant in them."

He said the greatest fear he had found was fear of rising costs of living.

Price Control

senate's 82 to 15 vote for the modified price control bill was a notice to President Truman that congress does not like the "outrageous methods of the OPA."

The President, when he vetoed the previous OPA bill had singled out Taft for special criticism, contending that an amendment sponsored by Taft would have helped manufacturers reap "a bonanza."

Taft asserted that increases in food prices since OPA died "did little more than reflect consumer's subsidies which the OPA was paying."

The showdown Tuesday will be on a motion to revise the rules committee recommendation and send the bill to President Truman instead of to conference. That can be accomplished if a majority of the membership votes to concur in the amendment to a house measure extending the old price control law until July 20.

Rep. Halleck (R-Ind) said he believed the bill as passed by the senate "is just about as good a bill as you can get from the senate."

He based that opinion, he told the rules committee, on the heavy vote by which the senate wrote the decontrol amendments into the bill.

Before the house logically could even ask the senate to back down, Halleck explained, it should go on record for or against the decontrol provisions and it could do that only on a motion to accept the senate bill without change.

The fight centered around senate-voice decontrols on meat, poultry, eggs, butter, cheese, milk and other dairy products, cottonseed, soy-beans, grain, livestock, and poultry feed and tobacco, and removal of price curbs on petroleum as long as supplies meet domestic demands.

House leaders indicated they would fight to restore controls to all those items.

"If we can do that," one high-placed democrat told reporters, "I believe the bill will be in shape for the President to accept. It won't have the main things to which he objected in his last veto—the pricing formula requiring price levels equal to those of the first half of 1941, plus subsequent increases in production costs."

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), top minority member on the house banking committee, apparently held the key to the bill's fate. Other than to observe that the veto measure appeared "stronger" than the new bill, Wolcott wasn't commenting.

Wolcott will be one of the house conferees.

Days of Doubt

thought."

When he said America's achievements were not hers by the easy way, he was making a point in support of the idea that we in this land have nothing really to fear—unless it might be the "fear itself" about which President Roosevelt once spoke.

It was on July Fourth, he said, when he had nothing to do except look for something to do. He turned on the radio. The commentator was airing a rhetorical dirge for the dead OPA. The country would go to rot economically, the radio-ator opined.

Then there was a broadcast about the atomic bomb. The "expert" was analyzing what had happened, contrasting it with what most people thought would happen. In fact, said Mr. Lively, the world didn't split open at the seams. But plenty could still happen, the radio man ventured. (More fear.)

Another expert, on that holiday for a hardware man, rued the day that Russia's Molotov started his "No a thousand times no" chant to Secretaries Brynes and Bevin. There would be no peace, the analyst asserted, because Russia kept saying "No."

But these things had not dispirited our speaker. He cited the example of the 59 signers of the Declaration of Independence about 170 years ago. They were men, he continued, who were not afraid. "They were not even afraid of the British army."

Another American was not afraid. When this U. S. army officer stood in an open space in the pocket of Bastogne in December, 1944, and said "Nuts" to a German's demand for surrender, he was telling the German "Go to hell," and he wasn't afraid.

"I saw this nation exhibit its greatest quality on Dec. 8, 1941," he told his attentive audience. That, he explained, was its fearlessness, even in the face of grave danger.

"I read," he continued, "about the people up there in New Jersey trouble with OPA-less prices. Mr. Lively quoted them: 'I tell you what we're going to do about this price business. If these buzzards charge too much, we'll just not buy it.'"

"I think they were right," he added.

Yes, Mr. Lively said, he would stake his faith in America, an America made up of men from "all walks of life, from all states," like those who trained for the skies, at Pampa army air field.

"I'm not one who believes we are lost," he concluded. "I just believe in America and all that it can do."

5. Downed by voice vote an amendment by Rep. Woodruff (R-Mich) proposing that no payments be made unless Britain turned over to the United States for the duration of the loan such of its Atlantic and Pacific areas as the President deems useful to America's defense.

Rep. Monroney (D-Okla) told the house Woodruff's amendment proposed to seize land from a friend, "when we have not even seized lands from our enemies."

6. Also rejected by voice vote a proposal by Rep. Cole (R-NY) that as a loan condition, Britain sell to the United States for $1,000,000 the Atlantic island areas now leased by the United States as military bases.

7. The last rejected amendment by Rep. Smith (R-Ohio) would have stipulated that Britain could not draw on the loan until the United States balanced its budget.

Passage of any amendment would have wrecked the financial agreement, which was ratified by the British parliament last December.

the government's loss of face helps to restore a certain balance in China, to their advantage.

Unbalance has existed, as far as getting the government and the communists to make up is concerned. This was because of the flow of American aid to the government—and because of the concomitant fact that the communists figured their only insurance against the governmental force thus being built up as to consolidate themselves first by military action.

If the government can clean up the relief situation, it might thereby do much to reassure the communists—not only about relief, but about the whole possibility of peaceful unity. The alternative, as both sides know, is civil war.

Remember that the heat toughens the egg protein. So for all egg dishes—use low to moderate temperatures. The rule applies to hard cooked eggs too. Simmer, do not boil. They are at their best "simmered" for twenty-five to thirty minutes.

Letters Marked PERSONAL

Could this letter have been addressed to you? TO A MOTORIST: You remind me of Jack and Bill, two boys in my shop class when I was taking woodwork. One morning we heard a shriek of pain. Part of Jack's index finger had been cut off by the power-driven circular saw. "How did it happen?" someone asked. "Like this," replied Bill who, so help me, pushed his own index finger into the path of the saw, and utterly unbelieving watched his own finger being severed at the joint. You, like Bill, can't believe the evidence of your own eyes. You can't believe an automobile accident could ever happen to you. STALE EGGS PREFERRED: Fresh eggs are little relished in China where the taste runs to stale eggs. Some of these are stored in restaurant cellars for 50 years or more. Salt of liquefied petroleum gases for household use last year was 53 million gallons, an increase of 25 percent over 1944.

Tips for Teens

By ELINOR WILLIAMS Sunshine is nature's normalizer and germ-killer for your skin and hair. So if you have pimples, too-oily skin or oily hair make the most of summer sunshine. But you have to know just how to use sunshine to help improve the appearance of your complexion and hair. Like all good things, an over-dose of sun is dangerous, because sunburn, blisters and peeling coarsen the skin, making pores more noticeable, leaving permanent freckles and making the skin look older. But moderate doses of sunshine do exactly the opposite, helping to refine the skin texture, so pores are less conspicuous, making it look smoother, more flawless. If it's inclined to be too oily or too dry, moderate sunshine helps to normalize it, making it less so. If your face, shoulders and back are the sun as often as possible this summer, beginning with 10-minute sun baths, gradually increasing the number of minutes of exposure. The sun's rays, natural germ-killers, will help to halt the spread of infection and help heal blemishes that have already marred the skin. If you freckle and burn easily—probably do if your skin, hair and eyes are light or medium in color—never spend more than a few minutes in the blazing sun without extra protective clothing and a bottle of sun-greasy suntan lotion handy. Don't plan to spend a day at the beach, go fishing or play several sets of tennis without them. It's not wise; it's more sensible than spending a week flat on your face in bad with a painful burn. Remember, you can get the benefits of sunshine while you play tennis, mow the lawn or weed the garden. Or shouldn't I mention that? (For tips on the easy daily care of blemished skin send a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Elinor Williams at this paper.)

Wilkinson-Scott Vows Exchanged

Mary Dean Wilkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilkinson, 2012 Alcock, became the bride of James Floyd Scott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott, 609 S. Faulkner, June 8 at 2:15 in the First Christian church. Rev. B. A. Norris officiated in a single ring ceremony. The bride wore an aqua blue dress with white hat and gloves. Her shoes and bag were brown. For something old, the bride wore a pearl pen belonging to her grandmother; for something borrowed, she carried a handkerchief belonging to Mrs. F. N. Belsler; and the something blue was her dress. After the ceremony the couple left on a short wedding trip to Ada, Okla. They are at home at 614 W. Kingsmill here at the present. The bride traveled in a gray suit with black and orchid accessories. Mrs. Scott is a graduate of Pampa high school. At the time of her marriage she was employed at Levine's Dept. Store. The groom is a graduate of Ada, Okla. He served in the army air forces for five years. A part of this time was spent in the Pacific and Atlantic theater of war.

Just Ask Miss Gans

AWVS Official Aids Service Wives To Join Husbands Overseas By Adelaide Kerr AP Newfeatures Writer

The plump, pink-cheeked wife of the private, now serving with the American army of occupation in Germany, spoke calmly, but her heart was beating a nervous tattoo. "The children and I want to join my husband in Germany as soon as we can," she was saying. "We have four children from five to nine years old, including twins. We live on my husband's pay and dependents allowance—he keeps $28 a month and altogether I get $140. But I know we can manage the money part. It's a lot of other things that puzzle me. How much luggage are we allowed and what kind of clothing should be taken? Can we take our furniture and do the children have to have immunization shots? Could you help me?" She spoke to Miss Marjorie S. Gans, chairman of the rehabilitation programs of the American women's Voluntary Services in Greater New York, who founded recently a new type of "travel bureau" to help servicemen's wives who are going overseas to join their husbands.

Swiftly Miss Gans gave the wife the information she needed, coming from such sources as the Army Service Forces, Port of Embarkation, Second Service Command, and Army Personal Affairs. It covered a score of points such as transportation to the embarkation area, passports, personal baggage, household effects, clothing, laundry, postal information, pets and immunization shots which are required.

Miss Gans is a slender little woman with friendly grey eyes, to whom people just naturally tell their troubles. The service she founded for greater New York is known as Information Service for Army Dependents Proceeding Overseas and is authorized by the War Department. Mrs. Richard A. Pratel, good-looking, dark-eyed, dark-haired wife of a New York merchant, heads the Manhattan division. The demand for the service has increased so greatly since its launching that AWVS now operates in 27 other points, including Philadelphia, Washington, D. C., Atlantic City, Albany, Cleveland, St. Louis, Tulsa, New Orleans, San Francisco, Denver, Chicago, Indianapolis, Wichita, Omaha, Butte, Mont., Fairbanks, Alaska; Altoona, Pa.; Trenton, N. J.; Kearney, N. J.; Summit, N. J.; Harding Township, N. J.; Roslyn, N. Y.; East Rockaway, N. Y., and Kenia, Ohio. Both Miss Gans and Mrs. Pratel get many requests they cannot fulfill. The pretty blonde wife of a sergeant wanted the AWVS to get her a goat to take overseas because, she said, her baby could not take the canned milk which is supplied by the Army (since the American Army of Occupation does not live off its legs, or pin his clothes to his body, without pain or loss of blood).

Icebox Hats Teen Talk

AP Newsfeatures
BOSTON—Hotbox hats, which bloom at a predetermined date and are kept in the icebox with the milk at night, are the newest fancy in summer headgear.

The hats, which establish a new high in chapeau glamour, are designed for the wearer and are the origination of Eleanor O'Neill, a Boston florist with flair for the unusual.

Miss O'Neill has leaped upon science in the creation of her hats since she specializes in designing chapeaux for anniversaries and dates to be remembered, and to do this must be assured of blossoms that flower on the date the customer wants a hat. These flowers are brought into bloom with a new device which maintains constant heat-flow. Scientists who developed the mechanism conducted tests which showed that the flowers could be made to bloom at any predetermined day, thereby assuring Miss O'Neill of the fragrant materials she converts into hats.

The festive bonnets sell for $10 to $40 and will last for five days provided they are parked in a refrigerator at night.

"Flower hats provide a new and exciting way of expressing the wearer's personality," says Miss O'Neill. "If she is the glamorously fragile type I use such flowers as gardenias, camellias or carnations in the pale shades. If she is a girl with many different personality facets, I combine the flowers, using some that are exotic and others that are more simple—perhaps a white orchid as the central flower with two or three butterfly orchids and a spray or two of white buddleia for fragrance. For a South American brunette who reminded me of Carmen Miranda I made a tiger lily hat and the night she wore it she was a sensation."

Miss O'Neill says she rarely makes two hats alike. "Every girl's personality is different, I try to express her individuality," she explains.

Eskimos are said to bury a dog with a dead child. In the belief that the dog may guide the child in another world.

Hi, Sugar One!
Glad to hear you are having some fun paddlin' your new canoe. Personally, I'd rather stick to a rowboat. Or maybe you are a super swimmer!

Speaking of swimming, here are a few rules laid down by New York City's health commissioner and the kids out there might profit by 'em:
1. Don't use water wings or tire tubes if you can't swim. 2. Swim only at lifeguard beaches. 3. Don't go beyond your depth. 4. If you're trying for distance swimming, have a boat go along. 5. Don't play practical jokes. 6. Make sure the water is deep enough before diving. 7. Wait two hours after eating before swimming. 8. Stay out of the water if you have heart or sinus trouble. 9. Stay out of polluted water. 10. Learn first aid.

Swimming isn't the only thing that can be dangerous. If you plan to go camping, make sure your clothes are fireproofed before you get too close to the fire. Washable clothes such as your jeans and shirts can be dipped in a nonflammable solution. Here's a good solution you can make at home: Dissolve seven ounces of borax and three ounces of boric acid (dry) in two quarts of hot water. Stir until all the borax is dissolved and the water looks clear. Don't dip the clothes in this solution, however, until they are washed, rinsed and dried to remove any starch or soil that might prevent the fabric from absorbing the solution. The fire-protective finish will last only as long as garments are not washed or soaked with rain. After laundering it must be applied again.

And, mixn maid, if you happen to be so unfortunate as to get a dose of poison ivy on your camping trip here is what to do to relieve the itch: Take hot water and ordinary kitchen or laundry soap containing an excess of alkali and rinse the skin several times. Be sure not to use soap containing much oil for the poison is soluble in oil and will spread over other parts of the skin.

Do you know the Modern Missweaving magazine? Well, they had a contest to select the perfect cover girl. It was won by 15-year-old Jean Deibraugh of Woodside, Delaware (population 100). Jean is a student of Caesar-Rodney High School in Camden-Wyoming, Delaware. She was chosen by model agency man Harry Conover and a group of teen age models. The girls were judged on the basis of their attractiveness, plus grooming, naturalness, camera pose and the sincerity of a 50-word letter. What's the matter with Judy?

Latest calculations of scientists show that a rocket ship, to reach the moon and return safely to the earth, would require a load of 20,000 tons of fuel and would weigh not less than 40,000 tons.

Kids Are Best Art Critics Says Director

By ELEANOR GHIESEMER
(P) Newsfeatures
BALTIMORE — Mrs. Adelyn D. Breeskin, director of the Baltimore Museum of Art, says that for an ideal public, she'll take children. Her verdict, after 16 years in the museum business, is:
"They may traditionally thought of as conservatives, but when it comes to abstract art, nobody could be more appreciative. They like color and design and they don't have adult inhibitions against unconventional expressionism."

Her pet ambition for a children's wing for the museum is on paper and as soon as possible will be put down in stone and cement.

It will be the first city children's museum, complete with studios, exhibit rooms and art teachers. Walls will be lower and there won't be any adults crowding the younger generation from an open view of the pictures—figuratively and literally.

The children's wing, with its own entrance, will be set in the roomy gardens which surround let in plenty of daylight.
Mrs. Breeskin came to her native Baltimore in 1930, after working in the Boston Fine Arts Museum and the New York Metropolitan Museum. She saw the Baltimore museum — which broke precedent by getting its start on municipal funds—grow from a second floor "apartment" to a large, graceful building with a yearly attendance of 100,000.

She became director in 1942, when the former head of the museum was drafted. Her job makes a good career for women, she says, because it demands tact, housekeeping instincts, and an eye for detail and arrangement.

It is not all easy going, however. When there isn't some crusty art connoisseur to soothe, there is a whole line of trustees—"and most of them are men."

THE HEART OF THE DRUG STORE

★ Rooted deep in the recesses of time is the modern drug store. Through 4,000 years of recorded history the dispenser of drugs has stood high in the esteem of the community. As the sciences of medicine and merchandising have advanced, the outward form of the ancient apothecary shop has changed. But service to the sick is still the very heart of our business. Our complete stock of pharmaceuticals is the best that the markets of the world afford. When illness strikes and your doctor prescribes, we will consider it a privilege to serve you.

Frenchmen Holding Celebration Today

PARIS—(AP)—You couldn't find a shop open strictly for business or a man seriously working in all of France yesterday, as 40 million Frenchmen got ready to celebrate the 155th anniversary of the revolution that is best remembered for the storming of the Bastille on July 14, 1789.

The official celebration in the capital began last night with the placing of a wreath on the tomb of the unknown soldier at the Arc de Triomphe.

The city's several hundred fountains, most of them dating back for centuries, began flowing at noon. All the historic landmarks such as the Eiffel Tower, Cathedral of Notre Dame and Opera were flooded with light last night for one of the few times of the year a Frenchman is allowed to forget there's a coal shortage, and here may not be enough food left for a square to come Tuesday. Bastille Day falls on Sunday makes Monday an official holiday.

The traditional all night dancing will take place tonight in the Place de L'Hotel-de-Ville, place de La Bastille, Place de La Nation, Place Armand-Carrel, Place de La Porte D'Orleans and Place de Fetes.

The weather was warm.

Market Briefs

NEW YORK—(AP)—Financial markets presented somewhat of a paradox during the past week with major commodities hitting their worst for about 23 years while stocks generally were thrown for losses.
Cotton futures and grains developed further strength although running into some profit taking as the week ended. These were buoyed by widespread demand for the absence of OPA ceilings.
Shares, on the other hand, exhibited considerable nervousness and indecision as numerous customers trimmed accounts to await results of the congressional battle over price controls. Some specialists did fairly well at intervals but selling became more pronounced in the final Friday session with virtually all departments suffering casualties.

Steels were in front of the Friday stumble which brought the week's largest decline of 1,130,000 shares. A few favorites such as Lockheed and Transcontinental and Western Air weakened following the government's action in grounding all constellations transports pending investigation of a recent crash. Both stocks dropped some 4 points each at the close. The two companies were principally affected by the C. A. A. decree. They later halved their losses.
For the week the Associated Press 60-stock average showed a net loss of a point at 78.2 where it was 4.2 points over the 15-year high of last May 29 and 8 points above the 1946 low of Feb. 28.

Texas Tree Farm Movement Progresses

LONGVIEW—(AP)—The Texas tree farm movement is gaining an increasingly fast hold in the vast timbered belt of East Texas, the East Texas chamber of commerce reports. The movement which was started in 1941 now includes 100 operative tree farms with a combined total of about 1,700,000 acres.

The movement in Texas is under the sponsorship of the East Texas chamber of commerce, Texas Lumber Manufacturers' association and affiliated industries, the Texas Forestry association, and the Texas Forest Service.

Hubert M. Harrison, vice president and general manager of the East Texas chamber of commerce, declared that the purpose of the tree farm system is to perpetuate the state's supply of timber by encouraging good forestry practices on the 8,500,000 acres of commercial forests and farm woodlands of Texas.

Included in the tree farm program are fire prevention and fire protection, selective harvesting of standing timber, and reforestation of idle or barren land, especially that which is unsuited to other crops.

Take a Look at Your Map!

The reader is invited to envision, if he can, a highway that stretches from ocean to ocean. This highway, the only transcontinental highway that actually touches on both oceans, paved all the way. There are plain, reliable maps all the way along the route, leading the motorists to the best places to eat, to sleep, or to camp.

That is the picture conjured up by members of the National Highway 60 association, a meeting of which was held Friday night at Vici, Okla., a point along that road. But the picture has not yet been realized, and it will take a good deal of work and earnest cooperation and understanding by the people along that route, before it is realized. (Story on Page 1.)

Pampa is along that route. That is one of the salient features in favor of being a citizen of this city. We here have the chance to become one of the cities along what could be the most-traveled highway reaching from east to west. Some of the most scenic and certain some of the most varied country in the land is to be enjoyed along this route.

Highway 60 reaches into 10 states of the union. Over years' time, that road has been put into pretty good shape, with the outlay of many millions of dollars. But there is still work to do—even elementary work, like paving. There are stretches of this road in Oklahoma and New Mexico that must be paved. It is not enough for us in Texas to say that our job in this stretch is done; we should exert our sentiment in favor of the job's being completed in these two states. Then, the real work of making it the best highway in the land could really begin.

There is nothing organically wrong with the road now, but it has to be a GOOD road if it is to warrant the traffic those cities along it are asking.

This is a condition for every reader to consider, it being inveterately tied up with the future of his business, his school, his church, and, most importantly, his home.

Get out a map and take a look at what can be the greatest highway in America—Highway 60!

Common Ground

By R. C. HOILES
Editor of Christian Century

Has Strange Idea of Christianity

The more I read magazines that pose as representing Christianity, such as The Christian Century, the more I am convinced that men who are supposed to be preaching Christianity out of their mouths and refuse to do anything else. These men are worshipping false gods.

In a recent issue of The Christian Century there appears an editorial on "The Pope and Holy War." The whole article shows how the editor seems to be willing to stand in the road of peace rather than endorse anything advocated by the Pope which might add to the strength of the Catholic Church. He ends the editorial by saying:

"Or is Protestantism, in a day when the issue between religious faith and the strength of the Catholic Church, is a time of Constantine, doomed to the ignominious role of trailing along in a 'me too' acquiescence in the leadership of the papacy?"

But here is the part of the editorial that shows that the editorial writer (I presume it was Charles Clayton Morrison, the editor) is preaching false Christianity. He says:

"Protestants generally, both in Europe and in this country, find themselves in sympathy with the humanitarian aims favored by Communism. They would rejoice in a world order without class or race barriers, with an economy based on the Marxist precept. From each according to his ability; to each according to his need." They have tried hard to believe that the Russian brand of Communism represented steady progress toward this goal. But in recent months their faith in these plans and ideals of Moscow has been unmistakably on the increase."

It seems that the editor wants to put his will over and above God's will or order. He must live by the sweat of his brow; that one cannot reap gifts from thistles; that he who sows the wind will reap the whirlwind.

Of course the socialist statement, "from each according to his ability; to each according to his need," is a meaningless statement unless somebody is to use force to determine what each shall produce and what each shall receive.

And this is as far away from the Christian principle of freedom and voluntary transactions and reaping what we sow as it is possible to be. It is the very antithesis of Christianity.

It is little wonder that when leaders of a so-called Christian magazine preach this kind of doctrine to thousands of Christian

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

The breakdown of Chinese distribution of UNRRA food, resulting in Director-General LaGuardia ordering all but emergency supplies withheld from China, appears to have been due to grave "mishandling," but it still is a tragedy in view of the terrible famine conditions in that stricken country.

UNRRA staff members in China have accused Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek of government of failing to get materials to millions in the interior, and of using relief goods for political ends. It is said that supplies are reaching the black markets.

I have before me a letter from a well-informed American resident of China which takes the matter a good deal deeper. This letter deals with what is known as "squeeze" in China. "Squeeze" is the equivalent of what the butler gets when customer permits him to help himself to his lordship's whiskey and port.

"Squeeze" is a prerogative which is widely condoned in the Orient by tradition.

The letter at hand says that "squeeze" is an accepted fact in every negotiation even with the handling of UNRRA supplies by the Chinese.

"It would be interesting," continues the writer, "to know what a small percentage of the relief supplies ever reach the war devastated areas in China, for every person handling them gets his 'squeeze' and the starving people are inland so far that many workers handle the supplies."

In this connection Tung Pi-Wu, Chairman of the communist relief

More Regulations Clamped on Yanks

YOKOHAMA—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger, Eighth army commander, cracked down on Yank soldiers who mistreat Japanese civilians yesterday and threatened severe measures to halt serious crimes.

In a strong letter circulated last month and made public only yesterday Gen. Eichelberger said that he meant to stop serious breaches of discipline. He pointed out that there were isolated "but very serious" crimes to be reckoned with and added "bullying" actions of soldiers toward the Japanese would not be tolerated.

One American soldier already has been condemned to the gallows for crimes against the Japanese and others have received lighter sentences for minor crimes.

The general said that "our courts are empowered to mete out stiff penalties," if the order circulated in his June 22 letter fails to curb crime in the Japanese islands.

WASHINGTON

OIL—The first sharp break over such a vital policy as American oil conservation and development between Interior Secretary J. A. Krug and his predecessor, Harold L. Ickes, has developed on Capitol Hill. It is a consequence of Wyoming Senator Joseph O'Mahoney's persistent efforts to promote the discovery of new petroleum resources for prospective military and peacetime needs.

As Capitol Hill's expert on oil, Senator O'Mahoney is concerned over our loss of supremacy in this field because of our unparagoned sacrifices during World War II. His studies reveal that the center of oil production has shifted from the United States to the troubled Middle East and to Russia.

For eighty-five years this country was the greatest producer of the fuel which propels automobiles, planes, ships, tanks, armored vehicles and the units of transportation required in emergencies or normal times.

How the U. S., on the basis of known reserves, possesses only 32 percent of world supplies, while the Middle East has 53.9 percent, Moscow's share is huge but unknown because of the Kremlin's secrecy on such subjects.

"Iraq," comments Mr. O'Mahoney, "is not a geographical problem; it is an oil problem."

PROGRAM—Senator O'Mahoney has a three-point program designed to increase oil production. In fact, leadership it once enjoyed in the production of petroleum.

1. He has obtained appropriations for the Bureau of Mines that will enable this agency to make extensive tests in wringing oil from shale, coal and sand deposits. Many experts pooh-poohed this process as too expensive, in view of more accessible supplies, until Hitler demonstrated that synthetic fuel is a great military asset.

2. The Wyoming statesman has introduced a measure providing that any oil fields found on the continental shelf shall become federal property. The so-called continental shelf extends a hundred miles from American shores, and explorations indicate that it is rich in petroleum.

3. Mr. O'Mahoney has also advanced a revision of the mineral laws to provide greater incentive to prospectors in tapping the millions of acres in the public domain. He proposes higher royalties to prospectors, an increase of the acreage which they may explore and more generous option terms.

In giving his opinion on Mr. O'Mahoney's readjustment of prospecting perquisites and arrangements, Secretary Krug broke with the "Old Curmudgeon." And his statement on conservation of the nation's natural resources is a complete satisfaction to the western bloc on Capitol Hill, despite his insistence that the government's interests be protected.

GRASPING—The Krug-Ickes break over how to conserve and develop our national resources has domestic and international importance because of the losses of key minerals which the U. S. suffered during the war.

Peter Edson's Column: ABOUT THE BUREAUCRATS' CONCILIATOR

WASHINGTON. (NEA) — When President Truman named Doctor Philip Phillips, John Roy Steelman as director of the office of war mobilization and reconversion, a lot of people may have wondered, "How come?"

True, "Doc" Steelman had about 15,000 friends in labor and management leadership, scattered all over the country. And nobody—not even a congressman—had anything against him. He had been a good head of the U. S. conciliation service. But was he big enough to be qualified for this top job as "assistant president?"

If the appointment created little public stir, that fact may have been due to a general belief that OWMR was dead or dying. In such a case, the appointment of an underdog would make much difference.

Perhaps the President himself thought OWMR dead when he promoted John W. Snyder to secretary of the treasury and announced no one would take his place as director of OWMR. Ten days later, the President changed his mind and named Steelman.

What had happened in the meantime was that a number of cabinet officers, the heads of many independent agencies, and the OWMR advisory council of farm, labor, management, and public leaders had protested against giving the outfit the axe.

THE RECONVERSION JOB IS FAR FROM FINISHED

There were three reasons for the war of protest:

First, there was a realization that the reconversion job was by no means finished. The war plants may have been converted to civilian production, all right. But production of many scarce items was still very poor. Housing was worse.

Veterans' retraining was moving at a snail's pace. Surplus property disposal was under fire in congress, in spite of several top reorganization bills. Wage and price levels were by no means stabilized. And the real battle against inflation was still to be fought.

Second, OWMR had become a convenient place for government officials to bring their troubles. The director's office was over in the East Wing of the White House, Executive Ave., between this East Wing and the treasury, was closed to the public. The White House correspondents were a block away, over in the West Wing.

Top bureaucrats, and even congressmen, had, therefore, learned the trick of slipping unobserved by the OWMR office to cry on the director's shoulder, whisper into his ear, and make sure that their troubles and tales of woe would be relayed to the President.

The President, was of course, too busy to listen to all this stuff. The director of OWMR became, therefore, not only the President's good right-hand, but also his right shoulder and right ear, and sometimes his boot.

Third, when there were problems and conflicts affecting two or more departments of government, the boss of OWMR was empowered to coordinate and conduct the work. THE ROLE OF CONCILIATOR

It is in this last role—as a con-

In Hollywood

By ERKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
HOLLYWOOD, (NEA) — The Yawn yawned and gave us the low-down on why he always looks bored. He looks bored because he is bored, George Sanders said.

"I am bored with anything," he said, "that has anything to do with making money."

He looked up George after Norma, the fashion designer had whispered to us that George went to sleep on his feet while she fitted him for the fancy 1880 studs he wears in "Bel Ami" and "A Scandal in Paris."

"That men fascinates me," Norma said. "When I'm fitting him he goes to sleep on his feet just like a horse."

So we had a few words with him, and George explained everything. ACTING BORES GEORGE

"I am not an actor," he said. "I'm a person playing the role of an actor who plays parts in the movies. I really don't belong in Hollywood. Acting is just something I tried. Now I am bored with it. The challenge is to do something else."

"When did you first come to Hollywood?" we asked him.

"Ten years ago," (Yawn.)

"When did the challenge cease to be there?"

"About 10 years ago," (Yawn.)

George had to admit, though, that his role of an egotist with six beautiful women at his feet in "Bel Ami" was the best role he's ever had.

"I haven't had any other role since the set as much lately," he grinned. "But now what else can I do? I will never be another role like it. I'm bored thinking about it."

"What would Sanders like to do to keep from being bored?"

"Oh, maybe keep a harem in Tunisia, take a course in something at a university, do anything that wouldn't have anything to do with making money."

THE LADIES LOVE HIM

According to his press agents, George is in hot water with women all over the land because of his wisecracks about the sex in "The Moon and Sixpence," "The Picture of Dorian Gray," and his two current films.

We asked him if he received much fan-mail from women.

"I yawned and said: 'No. In their letters they just ask for autograph pictures.' So, just as we suspected, the ladies love George despite what he says about them on the set. Or, as we also suspect for it."

But, ladies, George feels the same way about you off the screen. A large number of his film remarks, he said, express his personal point of view.

"But," he said, "they are not intended as insults. They are merely statements of fact."

In "The Moon and Sixpence," George said that "women are strange little beasts. You can beat them till your arm aches, treat them like dogs, and they still love you."

Someone asked him the other day if he would like to be a dog.

"No," yawned George. "I have since come to love dogs."

BERLIN—(AP)—Narcotics addiction is less prevalent today in Berlin, a city of fear and frustration, than in New York or Hollywood, where life holds more security.

That is the opinion of Arthur Giuliani, U. S. military government narcotics control officer and former agent of the treasury department's bureau of narcotics.

"There has been a slight increase in the use of narcotics among professional men, but it hasn't reached the proportions of a major social evil," he said.

"There is no marijuana smoking here the chief types of addiction are morphine and cocaine and synthetic narcotics made from coal tar."

Powdered opium sells legally in Berlin's threadbare underworld for 11,200 a pound. So far no organized gangs have been found specializing in supplying the addicts. Narcotics are just another sideline to black market operators. Supplies are looted from German army dumps.

"The wehrmacht had literally tons of narcotics—enough to last Germany for at least ten years," said Giuliani. The supply was scattered throughout the four zones. The troops retreated they were told to blow up these narcotics dumps. But nine times of ten they failed to do so.

"Most of it has gotten back into our hands and is being distributed through German channels as the need arises. Our policy is to give captured medical supplies back to the Germans as soon as adequate control agencies are established.

"No epidemic of addiction has spread through German youth, but some are engaged in peddling it."

Addiction centers in the cities rather than in rural areas where distribution would be more difficult.

"There have been no cases of the sale of narcotics between American troops and Germans," said Giuliani, and there has been no indication that any supplies have gone from here to the United States."

So They Say

Liberty is on the bargain tables all over America today at a discount and exchange prices. We are trading it away for all kinds of social experiments, fathered by those who would change our form of government.—Potter N. Emerson, president Kiwanis International.

When they (government employees) get 52 Sundays and 52 Saturdays off, a month's vacation plus a lot of sick leave, they only work about half the 365 days of the year.—Rep. Earl Wilson (R) of Indiana.

We intend to secure a drastic improvement in living conditions all over the world and in every way.—Trygve Lie, UN secretary general.

Physical punishment in their (Eskimo) education is almost completely unknown, and as a result the average individual among them is better adjusted and more balanced than among us.—Dr. Margaret Lantis, Arctic Institute, Montreal, Canada.

The United States must fear communism because it is a foreign-controlled totalitarian movement whose leaders in the past have openly proclaimed that it advocates revolution.—House committee on un-American activities report.

ANGLER GETS BREAK

WORLDLAND, Wyo.—(AP)—Clyde Mileski of Worldland, despite trouble with his casting arm, stuck to his fishing all day and caught a trout. Later hospital examination disclosed a fracture of the arm near the shoulder. He received when Mileski was attempting to reach some fishing tackle in a truck.

An adult ordinarily has 28 pounds of blood, and at each pulsation of the heart sends 10 pounds through the veins and arteries.

Gracie Reports

By GRACE ALLEN

CHICAGO—(AP)—A visit to the famous fur-chandise mart here, which they said was holding its first showings since before the war. I saw iceboxes, electric irons and toasters with a novel feature that hasn't been seen for years. You can buy them.

Some of the furniture made of plastic had been flown here from New York. They said it was the first time furnishings had traveled by air, except for the magic carpet.

I ordered some blankets, whose temperature is electronically controlled, whatever that means. Now if someone will just invent an electrically controlled husband, you might pull the blankets off you at night, they'll have something.

The merchandise mart covers several city blocks and is really several stores in one. Naturally they don't have a lot of stock, but when he walked to his post in the morning his car would be wilted and he'd be unfit for service.

BRIDGE SPAN COLLAPSES

CYRUS, Ky.—(AP)—A span of 20-foot covered bridge at Lair collapsed and fell into South Licking river yesterday 30 minutes after it had been condemned by the state highway department. The bridge, built in 1878, has been in constant use until it was condemned.

Odds and ends department: The end of the OPA came just in time for the Lubbock rent control office. The government lease on its office had expired, and it had received notice to move.

In Fort Worth, the day the OPA officially ended some landlords sent a wreath of white gladioli to the district office. A card said "for the OPA bier."

District Director Holloway was incensed, says the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. He tossed flowers, card, ribbon and all under a desk.

An argument over an election got a couple of 80-year-old men in Edinburg overheated.

A fight between the octogenarians followed, one went to the hospital, the other faced an assault charge.

The argument took place on a main street, right in front of a construction job. Each of the elderly men carried large blocks of wood and began to pound one another with them.

Police have been asked to recover a lot of articles, but pension cops reported something new. A mother in North Kansas City, Mo., wrote that while passing through Denison, her daughter had lost a doll.

She wasn't sure where it had been lost, but thought it was in a cafe "with plenty of neon lighting on a street one from and parallel with Main, or in a large show repair shop near Main."

The police found the doll, wrapped it in a shoe box and mailed it.

Lubbock firemen made three runs in 49 hours—to the same building.

First fire was reported at 8:10 one night among piles of shredded paper. They got it out, and then remained several hours removing the paper. The second blaze was 4:30 the next morning, and was off to a good start before they arrived. The cause was unknown.

The third fire was on another floor, 49 hours after No. 1.

MARTIAN CANALS

On the planet Mars, telescopes show a canal network of straight lines crisscrossing the surface. Those who believe in life on Mars says the inhabitants have dug great irrigation canals to carry water from the melting polar ice caps, the planet's only source of water.

ENGINE-STOPPING GAS

A gaseous vapor which stops an airplane, if any enters the engine was invented in Germany as a device for use against aircraft during war.

Demand for aviation gas has declined since the end of the war as a result of decreased military demand.

General Duty Nurse

By LUCY AGNES HANCOCK

SALLY had drawn night duty on another special case and was still in bed one afternoon when Bess Hamilton dropped in to her room.

She sat up and reached for a robe and slippers. "Stay here, if you like, while I shower," she told her caller. "I won't be more than a minute. I want to take a long walk before I go back on duty. It seems good to have the sun shine again, doesn't it?"

"It's only 3 o'clock," Sally said. Bess pointed out when the girl returned. "Why not come over to the lake with me for a swim?"

"I'm on call tonight and we can be back in plenty of time to change."

"Okay," Sally nodded. "I'll come. I'll be ready in a jiffy."

A few minutes later the two nurses reached the bus stop at the foot of Main Street hill. The sun was warm on their bare heads and there was little or no shade on that corner.

A shabby coupe slipped down the hill and stopped for a red light. Sally tried to make herself invisible with little success for the car door opened and a voice called:

"Hi, there! Going somewhere, you two? Hop in and I'll take you."

"We're going to the lake, Doctor," Bess answered, and waved him on his way. But he lingered.

"Swell! That's where I'm bound. Hop in. That bus will be crowded to its doors and probably won't be along for an hour."

MUCH against her better judgment, Sally followed Bess

Hamilton into Jim Hallock's battered car.

The seat was wide but Miss Hamilton was plump and there was barely room for the three, but they reached the lake much more quickly than if they had waited for the bus. Doctor Hallock parked his car and the three walked the short distance to the beach.

"Why, there's Holden!" Bess exclaimed as she espied Norma in a brief bathing suit talking to a young man. "I hope she doesn't see us—in your company, Doctor," she laughed. "I just don't trust that baby."

"Let her do her worst," muttered Jim Hallock, casting an inquiring glance at Sally. "You're not afraid of her, are you, Sally?"

"I don't know why I should be," Sally told him not quite truthfully. "Oh, isn't that Doctor Bacon?"

"That's he doing here? I thought they had gone to the mountains for the summer."

Carolyn Bacon caught sight of them and hurried forward. "Jim, you're darling to bring them!" she cried enthusiastically. "This is wonderful! You know, Sally, Mother and I have taken the Sloane cabin for the season and just now we're all alone. I'm so glad you came. We have a fine beach and we can have a picnic supper later—we hot hamburgers and coffee or ice cold ginger ale— whichever you prefer. Sound attractive?"

"Wonderful!" Sally said.

The Sloane cabin proved to be rather large and rambling, tree shaded and with a private beach adjoining that of an exclusive club. Wide screened porches extended all round it while inside were all the comforts of home.

MIND if I join you?

Jim Hallock asked as he slid down beside her on the swaying float. "Gosh I'm tired! I've had only three hours' sleep since night before last. What a life!"

"And I was just thinking how wonderful it is," Sally laughed. She waved a comprehensive hand to include their surroundings. "All this—"

"—and Heaven too—with you here beside me," the young man murmured. "I should like to stay right here indefinitely. Why go back at all, Sally?"

"Not even for hamburgers and coffee, Doctor?" she teased.

"I like to hear you laugh, Sally," he told her, raising himself on one elbow to look into her face. "You're going to get a fine sun-burn."

Sally laughed again. Somehow she felt light and carefree. "How quickly you change from the ethereal to the practical, Doctor Hallock," she chided. Silence, blissful, satisfying, prevailed for some time. Then, "But I'm afraid we're not being very appreciative guests, are we, coming off here by ourselves like this? There's Bess waving to us. She hasn't even been in and it was she who suggested coming here."

"Why can't you always be like this, Sally?" he asked.

"Like what?" she countered and was away before he could answer. (To Be Continued)

About 80 Arrests Made During Investigation

CAIRO—(AP)—Police yesterday announced the arrest of about 80 persons, including the son of a Jewish banker of Italian origin, in an investigation of the Egyptian communist movement.

Hamby Eey, head of the police political section, identified the banker's son as Henry Curiel, 35, Hamby said that those held included many persons of foreign nationalities. The police official added that several young Egyptian women were involved in the movement, but were not arrested.

Aklar El Yom, influential independent weekly, said documents seized by police in recent raids indicated the communist program included such goals as disrupting British-Egyptian treaty revision negotiations and seizing land holdings of more than 50 acres.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat

It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barconate (formerly called Barcol Concentrate). Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill the bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

$1,500 Per Month Alimony Granted Theos Bernard

SANTA BARBARA, Calif.—(AP)—Handsome Theos Bernard, 33, self-styled reincarnation of a Buddhist saint, has agreed to leave the "penthouse of the gods," mountain home of his wife, Mme. Gaiwa Walska, 53, and accept a $1,500 a month temporary alimony.

Bernard, described by his wife as a "White Lama, Yogi and a lawyer," has sued the former Polish opera singer for separate maintenance. At a court hearing Friday a stipulation was entered providing him the support funds pending trial of the suit and requiring him to leave, within four days, the penthouse which is high atop the windswept Santa Ynez mountain.

It was also agreed that Mme. Walska pay him $2,500 for attorney fees. Bernard, clean-shaven and debonair in a blue serge business suit, said in giving a deposition that he has been unable to support himself and that he was classified as 4P in the recent war because of a rheumatic heart. He added, however, that Yogi exercises have improved his health and admitted under questioning of his wife's attorney that he is able to stand on his head for three hours at a time.

They were married in Las Vegas, Nev., four years ago and originally Bernard was provided with an estate at suburban Montecito known as "Tibetland." However he claimed the altitude was too low and later moved to the mountain penthouse.

Bernard said he was divorced in 1938 by his first wife, the former Miss Viola Wertneim, wealthy niece of Henry Morgenthau, Sr. She had financed his education and paid for a trip to India and Tibet where he studied Oriental philosophy. He was graduated from the University of Arizona in law and admitted to the bar in that state but abandoned his practice to study philosophy.

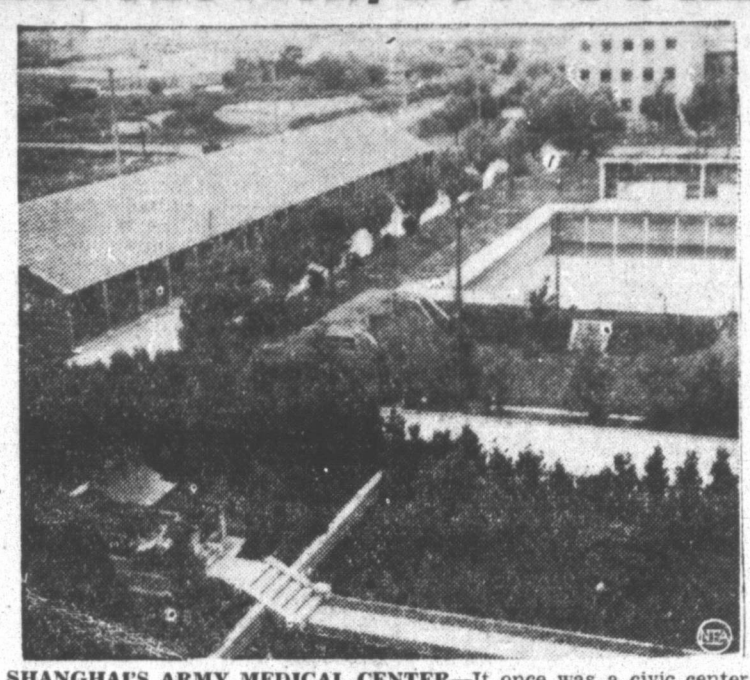

Petroleum Situation Reported as 'Critical'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark reported to superiors yesterday that a "critical situation" has resulted in the U. S. zone of Austria from failure and uncertainties of petroleum deliveries from the Soviet zone.

He said that since May, Austria has been dependent upon these petroleum products, except for gasoline. "Until June 28, the only Soviet supplied petroleum products received in the U. S. zone against May and June quantities were 600 tons of diesel oil," Clark said.

A summary of Clark's monthly report, containing the petroleum angle, was released by the war department.

THIS CHINESE 'ARMY' FIGHTS A NEW REVOLUTION, BUT IT'S ALL MEDICAL

SHANGHAI'S ARMY MEDICAL CENTER—It once was a civic center. The Japanese added the war shrine. Now Dr. Lim makes it headquarters for his modernized medical program.

By NEA Foreign Service SHANGHAI, (NEA)—A young looking Chinese army general with smiling eyes and a stern mouth is spearheading a revolution in China that has nothing to do with the civil war between Nationalist and Communist forces.

The general is a medical, rather than a military, genius who lacks the word "surgeon" in front of his army title. The revolution he hopes to accomplish is the modernization of China's medical and public health standards, which have lagged behind western countries by centuries. His "army" is a handful of young, western-trained doctors.

Right now, Dr. Robert K. S. Lim, surgeon general of the Chinese army, is concentrating his fight at the Shanghai army medical center, a half-hour's ride from Shanghai in Kiangwan. He hopes to make it a model center he can use as a pattern for similar centers at Peiping, Canton, Hankow, Chungking, and possibly Manchuria.

In a sense, the Japanese gave him a helping hand. When the invaders moved in to suburban Kiangwan, a civic center, which included a hospital, already had been started. The Nips added several new wings and buildings. Although they neglected the building and equipment, they left some usable equipment behind—X-ray machines, operating tables and laboratory fixtures.

They left also a shrine to Japanese war dead, the straw mats they used for beds, and the communal bath that are part and parcel of Jap life everywhere. They are designated for the scrap heap. On Dr. Lim's program is a composite unit that will include the Army Nursing school, already established; army medical and dental colleges, general hospital, medical institution, and allied services. American aid is helping him push his fight.

He does not, however, intend to confine his modernization of medicine to the military. His battle slogan—"keep as many soldiers fit as possible"—and his entire program is envisioned as a means to create similar civilian centers throughout China.

An early objective he has is the first blood bank in China, together with a pyrogen-free fluid plant producing intravenous fluids for glucose, saline and other infusions vi-

Better Salaries, More Teachers Set for Texas U.

AUSTIN—(AP)—More teachers and better salaries were provided yesterday in the University of Texas enlarged budget for the next long term.

The $5,495,844 budget for 1946-47, approved by the board of regents, is a 30 per cent increase over the budget originally approved for the current fiscal year.

The new budget, effective Sept. 1, provides:

A $400 increase in the base salaries of full-time teachers for the nine-month long session.

Addition of 116 full-time teaching positions to care for growing enrollment.

An upward adjustment of salaries for non-teaching personnel.

Addition of 54 new non-teaching full-time positions.

Expanded maintenance of the physical plant.

Extension, research and library expansion.

Income from all sources for the year was estimated at $5,618,994, an excess of $123,150 over budgeted expenditures.

Under the new increase, teachers' salary brackets beginning Sept. 1 will be:

Instructors, $2,200 to $2,700; assistant professors, $2,800 to $3,400; associate professors, $3,500 to $4,100; professors, $4,200 to $5,000.

Skelly Award Goes to 19-Year-Old Farmer

CHICAGO—(AP)—John Ward, 19-year-old farmer of Litchfield, Nebraska, was named to receive the W. G. Skelly award for superior achievement in agriculture July 20.

The award consists of a $100 savings bond, school and gold lapel button. He will receive the award at a breakfast in his honor next Saturday morning.

Since 1944, when his father died, Ward and his mother have managed the family 400-acre farm. In 1945, this mother-son undertaking made the farm turn out 20,640 pounds of beef, 20,435 pounds of pork, 800 pounds of butterfat, 3,000 dozen eggs, 1,150 bushels of wheat, 375 bushels of oats, 390 bushels of barley, 18 tons of alfalfa, 19 tons of prairie hay and 18 tons of sorgo.

Every South American country except Chile and Ecuador touches Brazil's borders.

Report Made on Five-Year Plan

LONDON—(AP)—Tass reported preliminary figures on the first six months of the new Soviet five-year plan yesterday, showing Russia is making a rapid recovery from four years of war.

Heavy industry and railway transport are making the quickest comeback the dispatch declared. It added that:

In the south, pig iron production increased 65 per cent and the steel output more than doubled.

Rolling metal production increased 82 per cent, coke 90 per cent and iron ore extraction 48 per cent.

In the non-ferrous field the production of aluminum, zinc, tin and lead alloys was well ahead of the government-fixed goals for the period and the oil industry was ahead of schedule.

The Moscow coal basin has been fully restored and returned to pre-war production, and in the western

Draft Hike Will Not Be Recommended

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The war department says it may be necessary in the future "to consider the induction of men through age 35," but it has "not recommended to the president that the top draft age be raised from 29 to 35 years."

This statement was issued last night after an official close to draft policy had told reporters he understood such a recommendation already had been made.

Advised of the war department's statement, this official, who asked not to be quoted by name, said all selective service plans are based on upping the age limit from 29 to 35, when induction calls are resumed in September.

The ruby is the birthstone for July.

Coal area output is ahead of schedule.

Output of food, clothing, footwear and textiles also is on the increase.

GENEVA, Switzerland—(AP)—The International Alliance of Tourists (AIT), which embraces 116 Automobile Touring clubs in the world, declared at its recent first postwar general assembly that the right of free travel should be recognized as one of the fundamental human rights outlined in the charter of the United Nations.

The delegates from 20 nations voted to resume relations with Touring Clubs in former Axis satellite states.

Noted Biographer, Ray Baker, Dies

AMHERST, Mass.—(AP)—Ray Stannard Baker, biographer of Woodrow Wilson, died Friday at his home. He was 76.

Baker had been suffering from a heart ailment for some time.

His brother, Dr. Hugh Baker, president of Massachusetts State College, said he died at 2 a. m. (EST).

The author, who began his writing career as a newspaperman in Chicago, had a wide following for his philosophic "adventures" written under the name of "David Grayson" and for magazine articles on sociological and economic problems.

After the first World War, he served as director of the press bureau of the American commission to negotiate peace in Paris, and thereafter devoted most of his time to volumes on Wilson.

Baker, who celebrated his 50th wedding anniversary in January, leaves his widow and four children, Dr. Roger Dennis Baker of the University of Alabama, Mrs. Rachel B. Natier of Larchmont, N. Y., and Mrs. Alice B. Hyde of Boston, and eight grandchildren.

Construction Workers In Houston Are Idled

HOUSTON—(AP)—Construction workers idled here because of the month-old AFL general contractors building tie-up are leaving the Houston area to work in other towns, union heads reported.

Many of the skilled workmen are taking jobs on residential building here or other projects not affected by the strike, but many are leaving town, D. W. Maxwell, secretary of the building and trades council, union party to the dispute, said after an unsuccessful conciliation meeting yesterday.

"No one is going hungry as a result of this dispute," he added.

George W. Glossom, vice president of the council, said that men finding work in other cities will not return to Houston when commercial construction is resumed.

It is estimated that 1,000,000 children in the U. S. have some form of defective hearing other than total deafness.

Tyler Kent Reported Wed to Clara Hyatt

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Tyler Kent, former state department clerk who was imprisoned by the British during the war, and Clara Hunter Hyatt, were married June 30 at Nuevo Laredo, Mexico, Kent's mother, Mrs. William P. Kent, said here yesterday.

The mother said she received a telegram from the couple Friday from Mexico City. They are spending a few weeks there.

The British charged Kent with violating an official British secrets act while he was a clerk in the United States embassy in London. He was freed by the British after the war. His mother said he plans to go into farming in southern Maryland.

His wife is the widow of Dana Hodgson, a former state department official, and has two children. She is the daughter of Mrs. Joseph Allen Coak of Leonardtown, Md.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE WITH MAJOR HOOPLE

Comic strip panels with dialogue:
GOSH, BUCK, WAIT! MRS. KANE HEARS ABOUT YOUR IDEAS FOR DRESSING UP HER DOUGHNUTS! THAT "HOOP-SCOOP" YOU MADE YESTERDAY IS SUPER!
HERE'S ANOTHER BUNCH OF ORDERS FOR HER--THEY AVERAGE ABOUT GO DOZEN EACH!
NOW I KNOW SHE'LL WANT YOU AS PARTNER!
I HOPE SO--BUT I REALLY WANT TO EARN MY SPURS BEFORE I MENTION IT!
YOU'VE ALREADY EARNED THEM, BUCK!
I DON'T KNOW--GETTING A BREAK LIKE THAT WOULD BE ALMOST TOO MUCH TO HOPE FOR!
POSWELL SAYS THE GUY'S JINX AND WE'RE CRAZY TO RISK OUR LIVES WORKING FOR IT!
HE MAY BE RIGHT--BUT JINX? CAREFUL WHO YOU SAY, RYDER!
WHAT ON EARTH ARE YOU DOIN', LITTLE BEAVER? FIX-UM CROOK TRAP!
DID YOU THINK THIS UP YOURSELF?
ALL BUT HOW TO GET-UM AND GLAD YOU COME ALONG!
A FINE THING--WELL, WHOEVER GOT 'EM DIDN'T GET THE FIVE HUNDRED? GUY CAN'T CARNAL TO A CARNIVAL LOSING WITH HIS FANTS!
AND WITH THAT KIND OF MONEY, YOU CERTAINLY CAN AFFORD ANOTHER PAIR!
IT'S NOT THE PAINTS THAT'S BURNIN' ME, IT'S THE PRINCIPLE OF THE THING!
LOOK, BOSS, THERE GOES THAT GANG WITH OUR FIVE HUNDRED!
YEH! OKAY, WE AIN'T LICKED YET--FOLLOW THEM!
NO HAYSHAKERS' GONNA BURY ANY OF US HERE IN TH' STICKS!
I FINALLY GOT MR. RUGGLES! WHEE-EW! WHAT A JOB!
HMPH!! ... MEN!!
DARN! I JUST CAN'T SLEEP! I'M DOIN' SOMETHING GOOD AND GOIN' 2 CELEBRATE, I BET!
WELL, IF WE AIN'T, HE'S A HEEL!
