GENERAL RAINS SOAK MUCH OF PLAINS AREAS

RAINFALL STILL FAR BEHIND 1934 FIGURES

QUEEN ASTRID OF BELGIUM IS KILLED

(By The Associated Press.) Rains varying from light showers to two inches fell over a goodly portion of West Texas last night and today.

Old Jude Pluvius, far behind schedule this year on the plains, has staged a grand comeback this month with a total precipitation of 5.61 inches to date.

The total for the year to date is 14.57 inches in Pampa, compared with a 1934 total of 20.14 inches for the entire year.

Pampa's this morning looked out upon a "misty, misty morning," and cloudy with the weather—The low-hanging, dripping sort of clouds associated with long, cool rainy spells on the plains.

Merchants, remarking that customers were fewer than usual, took the long look, hoped for a good wheat season, expected the usual crowds Friday and Saturday.

MOTHER OF 3 DIES 5 MINUTES AFTER TRAGEDY

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.) KUSSNACHT, Switzerland, Aug. 29 (AP)—Astrid, 29-year-old Queen of the Belgians, was fatally injured today when the automobile her husband, King Leopold, was driving, swerved off a country road and hit a tree.

The king was slightly injured. Attendants who followed in another car said they saw their monarch turn his head for an instant, apparently admiring the mountain scenery, as he drove at a rate of between 50 and 55 miles an hour along the sunny road beside the lake called "Vier Waldstatter See."

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy to cloudy, probably showers in northern part.

EDITORIAL

THOSE DOUBLE-BARRELED AMENDMENTS

A desirable apportionment feature for schools was lost because of the undesired free textbook provision of the amendment.

Texas legislators seem to delight in including two separate ideas in the same amendment. The prohibition repeal amendment is another example. It repealed prohibition and voided the Dean law—two very wet steps—then included prohibition of the "open saloons." Wets apparently are inclined to overlook the second idea and to claim that Texas people thought they were voting wet. Drys seize upon the "open saloon" taboo as proof that the people were not as wet as they seemed.

There is no doubt that barring of the "open saloon" was a factor in the final result. Many personal drys, tired of making a mockery of prohibition, voted for a change on the theory that the well-remembered saloon evils would be voided.

Senator Clint C. Small would limit liquor to package sales. This will be vigorously opposed by the ultra-wets and those who would sell liquors with food or at bars. Package sales could be limited to state stores, which would eliminate city and county licenses, or to private, licensed stores which could be taxed by local political units.

The fee abolition amendment necessarily passed back to the legislature the duty of fixing salaries of fee officers. Here is trouble again. It will add to expenses of small counties, despite a graduated salary scale. It will lead to political maneuvering through local bills pushed through the legislature. If population is made the salary basis, the Gray county scale will be much lower than if the scale were based on property values. A combination of the two factors would be complicated.

The relation of amendments submitted by special legislative sessions to relief evidently was not appreciated by the voters who seemed so eager for old age pensions. The federal government is preparing to turn much of the relief burden back to the states and counties. The people declined to give themselves the right to vote relief bonds sooner than nearly two years. Counties are still under restrictions laid down many years before the depression. There is trouble ahead for unemployables.

CAPITOL CHATTER

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—State tax officials were surprised at complaints after the setting of the ad valorem tax rate from school teachers and others interested in schools. The board reduced the tax levy for school purposes from the maximum constitutional limit of 35 cents per $100 to 20 cents. The rate for general revenue and Confederate pensions was kept at the constitutional limit.

Some school teachers apparently believed the reduction discriminated against the schools and challenged the action. Apparently they were not aware that under the law it was mandatory upon the tax board to cut the rate.

The fact that the school fund now is in a more healthy condition than for a decade may not have been generally known among the teachers. The board of education has paid all of last year's per capita apportionment, other outstanding obligations and has approximately $2,500,000 in cash to apply upon next year's demands.

The tax board is charged with the duty of calculating revenues for the respective funds from all sources other than the ad valorem tax. This is checked against the estimated requirements and the balance made up from the ad valorem tax. Thus, taxpayers received a 15-cent cut in their state tax rate due to the favorable school fund balance, but fiscal officers were unable to transfer the saving to the general revenue fund, which faces a prospective deficit at the end of the next fiscal year of approximately $13,000,000.

The task of keeping the huge capital building in repair never ends. A squad of workmen is on the job constantly maintaining it. The board of control is preparing to replace the worn and broken tile flooring on the first floor and repaint the towering dome inside and out.

It is likely the legislature will be asked for an appropriation for additional repairs aimed at removing fire hazards. The most serious threat is the haphazard method in which wires have been strung throughout the building. There is hardly an office that does not have a string of wires running around the wooden baseboard or molding.

OUT OUR WAY

WHY MOTHERS GET GRAY

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON.—The Washington telephone directory shows that there's a lobby here for nearly everybody, beginning with the automobilists and ending — after you wade through 10 columns listing "associations"—with the Zionists.

There are lobbies for the deaf, for pedestrians, for trees, for birth control, for calf tanners, for Indians, for enemies of chain stores, for mayors, for vegetarians and for preservation of wild flowers. And for nearly all industries.

Outstanding among farmers' lobbyists are Chester Gray of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Fred Breckman of the National Grange, E. E. Kennedy of the Farmers' Union, G. E. Moser of the American Cotton Co-operative Association, Robin Hood of the Co-operative Council, William Thatcher of the Farmers' National Grain Corporation, and Charles Holman of the National Co-operative Milk Producers' Federation.

Successes of the veteran's lobby, headed by American Legion's Col. John Thomas Taylor, are proverbial.

The veterans' lobby, in which the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the United Spanish War Veterans are also important, has now succeeded in wiping out the expected $460,000,000 in economies on veteran payments which Roosevelt drove through Congress in the spring of 1933.

Ed McGrady, who went with the New Deal as NRA official, assistant secretary for labor and strike mediator, built up a reputation during years as the A. F. of L.'s chief lobbyist. His successor is S. P. Meadows.

In addition to the A. F. of L., the railroad unions, federal employes, the American Newspaper Guild and the postal employes all maintain effective lobbies here.

Th most effective lobbyist for peace here is Miss Dorothy Detzer of the W men's International League. The big Navy and American Legion lobbyists, with whom she frequently crosses swords, call her a "dangerous woman." Her lobbying was chiefly responsible for the sensational Senate Munitions investigation under Senator Nye, and she is a frequent visitor in important offices of the State Department.

Against the labor lobby—and often against the farmers—are pitted the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, the National Association of Manufacturers and the American Liberty League.

The Chamber, as do the other groups, goes on the theory that the government should take its instructions from business—which is one reason why it's now at hot odds with the White House.

Three or four years ago, one would have had to give the Anti-Saloon League and the Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals a great deal of space, not to mention the W. C. T. U. Repeal wrecked their power here, however.

The women's lobbies include the National League of Women Voters—usually supporting progressive legislation, the National Woman's Party—which feels its old women's suffrage fight won't be won until its constitutional amendment to give women full equal rights with men is adopted, and the Women's Joint Congressional Committee, representing 21 women's organizations and fighting for such things as the maternity act, child labor laws and pure food and drug legislation.

About the best thing that can be said for the great game of lobbying is that anybody can play.

TWIN BILL IS SCHEDULED FOR TOMORROW NIGHT IN JAYCEE TOURNAMENT

RAIN BREAKS UP GAME BUT BOB GANS WIN

HUBER TAKES 9 TO 2 VICTORY IN 7TH INNING

An already well-soaked Road Runner park was unfit for play today, following last night's down-pour, hence no games will be offered tonight. The schedule will be resumed with a double-header Friday night, weather permitting. The field was muddy back of home plate and third base last night.

Heavy rains almost forgotten in the Panhandle until the Junior chamber of commerce baseball tournament got under way, started falling last night during the eighth inning of the first game and necessitated sudden termination of the battle between Huber and Phillips of Pampa, giving the game to Huber, 9 to 2, the score at the close of the seventh inning. The Road Runner-Coltexo Carbon game was postponed.

Huber had added four more runs in the eighth, with two men out and three on base, when Empire Neely Vaughn signaled the players from the field. Despite the lopsided score, Huber considered a considerable trouble. Errors paved the way for most of the Huber scores.

Winkler, little lefthander for Phillips, again was sent to the mound. His work was marred by several bases on balls at critical times. He fanned nine batters to bring his strikeouts in two games to 18. Pete Stegman, formerly of the Road Runners and later of Coltexo of LeFors, was on the mound for Huber. The veteran fanned nine and walked only one.

Huber received an upstart run on the opening stanza when Spencer walked, went to third on Pulliam's wild throw to second, and scored when Newsome threw the ball over third. Winkler retired the side in order in the second but allowed a run in the third on two singles, a sacrifice, and a fielder's choice.

Four errors, nice juicy ones, a walk, and one single gave Huber three more scores in the fifth after Winkler had fanned two in a row in the fourth. The little lefthander developed a wild streak in the seventh, walking three and allowing two hits. Hawkins replaced Winkler with the bases loaded and two out. The first man up singled. The next batter went out. Hawkins was hit in difficulty in the eighth when the game was called.

Only 21 batters faced Stegman in the first six innings. He allowed one hit, a single by Newsome in the fourth, and one walk, in the same frame. Phillips got his two runs in the seventh when Pulliam opened with a single. Cahill hit into a double play. Romine was safe on an error. Cox singled. Bradley singled scoring Romine. Hawkins singled scoring Cox. Baldwin fanned.

Sullivan was the only player on the field to get two hits. Warren collected the only extra base hit, a double. Moore, who had a perfect day at bat opening night, was credited with only one trip to the plate. He walked twice and hit once, and fanned on his other attempt.

Bears Will Try To Beat Greats Of 1934 Grids

CHICAGO, Aug. 28. (P)—It's up to the Chicago Bears tonight. Once more they will attempt to prove—something they couldn't do a year ago—that a good professional football team can whip a prize band of college stars. Last year they tried to prove it at the expense of a select aggregation of 1933's greats. To their great surprise and greater chagrin they had to settle for a scoreless tie.

Tonight at 7:30 (central Standard Time) they will tackle the college all stars picked by the fans as the senior standouts of the 1934 campaign before a throng of 85,000 on the scene of their failure of last year, Soldier Field, and their task figures to be no easier than it was a year ago.

Arrayed against the professionals will be everything in the way of college football which a coach could ask. All parts of the country have sent their greatest stars.

The announcement of the probable battlefronts gave the Bears a large physical edge. The line named by Coach George Halas averages 210 pounds. The backs, Bernie Masterson, Beattie Feathers, Johnny Sisk and Jack Manders, average 204.

GLENNA LOOMS BIG AS RIVAL BITE THE DUST

DALLAS WOMAN PLAYS IN MINNEAPOLIS TOURNAMENT

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 28. (P)—Upsets were strewn all over historic intercollegiate today—the medalist and half of the tournament's "big six" were on the sidelines—but the familiar figure of Mrs. Glenna Collett Vane loomed bigger than ever on the National Women's golf championship horizon.

Definitely back on her game, Glenna had plenty of work ahead of her in two veterans, Mrs. Opal S. Hill of Kansas City and Charlotte Glutting of West Orange, N. J.

Mrs. Vane, who has been in the finals seven times since 1922, semi-finals three times and medalist twice, faced Elizabeth Abbott of Los Angeles, in the quarter finals.

Miss Abbott, never before an important contender, had a chance and even won some backers on the strength of her game yesterday when she shot a 25, two under par, on the front nine to score an ultimate 6 and 5 victory over Mrs. Austin Pardue of Minneapolis.

Glenna had the second largest edge by defeating Fritzie Stifel, Wheeling, W. Va., 4 and 3.

In the three other matches, all over 18 holes and starting in the afternoon, sizzling duels were anticipated.

Marion McDougall, 21-year-old Portland, Ore. girl, who defeated Mrs. Maureen Orcutt, Crews, 1 up, faced Betty Barrett of Minneapolis. Miss Barrett eliminated Mrs. Charles Newbold, 2 up.

Topping the lower bracket were Charlotte Glutting, conqueror of Miss Marion Milroy of Lexington, Ky., 3 and 1, and Mrs. Hill.

In the final match of the lower bracket were Mrs. Dan Chandler of Dallas, Tex., and Pattee Berg, 17-year-old freckled faced darling from the home Interlachen Country club.

IT WAS A HOLE-IN-ONE. LANCASTER, Pa.—George Dan-dre, 34, of Brooklyn, N. Y., suffered a fractured leg in a race track accident and discovered on his way to a hospital that he had lost his pocket-book. Sympathetic friends searched the track without success. The wallet was found, with cash intact, in the pan beneath the engine of the racer which struck him.

Born in Austria in 1856, Anton Salvagno of nation City, Calif., served in the bands of the Austrian and United States armies; 10 straight enlistments in the latter before being retired.

RACE PROGRAM WILL BE HELD RAIN OR SHINE

SEVEN-DAY MEET WILL BEGIN ON SATURDAY AND LAST WEEK

PANHANDLE, Aug. 28.—Rain or shine, mud or dry dirt, the advertised program of the Panhandle race meet will be followed to the letter, according to Supt. M. E. Davidson.

With a 7-day meet beginning Saturday, August 31, and continuing through the next Saturday, September 7, there is a possibility of wet grounds, but fans can be assured that the races will be held as scheduled.

Panhandle has been most fortunate in picking dates with good weather. Although the track has been slow two or three days in past meets, no program has been postponed because of inclement weather. More than 50 days of racing have been held in Panhandle, the past four years and fans have been assured of entertainment when they entered the grounds.

In reserve strength the collegians appear to have the better of it. Thomas has 15 great backs, in addition to four of his prospective starters, four and three men for every line position. The Bear squad numbers ten less.

WALLY MOSES IS CHOSEN AS FINEST ROOKIE

TEXAS LEAGUE RECRUIT IS SUFFERING FROM ARM FRACTURE

Associated Press Sports Editor. NEW YORK, Aug. 28. (P)—The cheerful bit of news today for Wally Moses, sensational young outfielder of the Philadelphia Athletics whose career was abruptly checked by an arm fracture, is that the baseball experts consider him the outstanding major league rookie of the 1935 season.

This distinction goes to the Texas league recruit, not as any consolation prize, but on the merits of his freshman performance in rivalry with one of the greatest crops of first-year regulars developed in a century.

Exactly 28 players are playing regularly in the major leagues. It is planned to take a number of rookies to the race meet and to take them back following the races.

Berger brought a large caravan to the races last spring, and it is understood that another delegation will come through the business section before going to the grounds.

Fred Perry To Play Tomorrow At Forest Hills. FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 28. (P)—The leading racquet wielders from nine nations converged on Forest Hills today in quest of the United States men's and women's singles championships.

England's Fred Perry, world's No. 1 ranking player, will not get into action in defense of the title he has won the last two years until tomorrow but Helen Jacobs, champion of the women for three years, was scheduled to play the second match on the famous stadium turf.

Sixty-six matches were listed for the opening day. Thirty-four in the men's division will cut the field to 64 players for the second round exactly in half.

Wilmer Allison, veteran Austin, Tex., player and ranked at the top of the U. S. seeded list, drew as his first opponent Henry C. Brantle, New York Gene Marko, Los Angeles, and Berkeley Bell, New York, also playing their opening matches on the stadium turf, the former meeting Jacques Brugnon, France, and the latter, Manuel Alonzo, Spanish veteran from New York.

Jax Hold An Edge In Dixie Playoff (By The Associated Press.) The Jacksonville Jax held an edge in the West Dixie league Shaughnessy play-off today. The Jax defeated the Palmetto Pals 3-1, at Jacksonville yesterday for their second straight win in a five-game series. The Tyler Trojans, playing in a similar series with Longview, failed to make it two in a row, Longview defeating the Trojans, 4-3, to even the series. Winners of the two series will meet to determine the loop title.

DALLAS TAKES SECOND GAME FROM HOUSTON

MISSIONS AND TULSA PLAY 12-INNING BATTLE

San Antonio Missions and Tulsa Oilers battled 12 innings last night before San Antonio put across two runs to win, 5-3. The night before the clubs played 11 innings before the Oilers won, 6-3.

Dallas beat Houston, 3-2, making it two victories in a row for the Skeets over the Buffs. Manager Alex Gaston took credit for winning the game. He picked Padgett off second base to break up a rally in the ninth inning, which for a time threatened to change the tide of the game.

Jack Janucki spoiled Lee Grissom's farewell appearance with the young southpaw by out-pitching the decision for Galveston. Grissom, recalled by Cincinnati, plans to leave today.

Jakucki became a little wild in the third, walking three men in a row with only one out, but he then fanned two to keep the Cats away from the plate.

Rain prevented Oklahoma City and Beaumont from fighting over the league lead, which the Indians hold by one percentage point.

PEEWEEES TO PLAY TOGETHER AGAIN DURING NEXT SEASON

The Peeewe baseball team will play together again next season if all the boys are living here and enjoying as good health as they exhibited last night when they ate a chicken dinner arranged by C. E. (Dan) McGrew.

Plans for continuing the team next year were announced by their coach, Howard Buckingham, who said that it was the plan of several legal men to organize a boys' league. The Peeewees were promised suits for next year. By next season, the youngest of the Peeewees will be 14 and the oldest 17; their average age is 14½.

It is possible that the boys will play another game this season. Mage Kiser believe he can collect a team of local boys, all 16 or under, which might give the Peeewees stiff competition. It was to confer with the Peeewees today.

The dinner was served at the McCConnell dining room. Mr. McGrew presided. Short talks were made by W. B. Weathered, Archer Fullington and Amos Reed, captain of the team. Mr. McGrew thanked the boys for playing Canadian in a recent game the proceeds of which, about $50, will be used by the Kl-

Cards Win Doubleheader As Giants Are Defeated Twice

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press.) Jim Collins, Terry Moore and Pepper Martin, Cardinals; Collins and Moore made six hits each and Martin clouted two homers as the Cards took doubleheader from Phillips.

Thornton Lee and Joe Vosmik, Indians; Lee blanked Red Sox with four hits in one game; Vosmik made five hits in two games.

Ben Cantwell, Braves; and Lon Warneke, Cubs; Cantwell pitched shut-out ball, Warneke gave seven hits as club split twin bill.

Jack Saltzger, Yankees; Pound-ed Chicago pitching for five hits, including homer, in double victory.

Cy Blanton and Earl Grace, Pirates; Blanton limited Giants to five hits in first game, Grace clouted homer with bases full in second.

Roxie Lawson, Tigers; Shut out Athletics with four hits and fanned four.

Ray Benge, Dodgers; Scattered 8 Cincinnati hits and drove in one run to gain 4-2 decision.

Ed Lunke, Senators, and Ivy Andrews, Browns; Pitched brilliantly to break even in doubleheader.

St. Louis Is Two And One-Half Games Ahead

By HUGH S. FULLETON Jr. The recent performances of a couple of young pitchers strengthen the impression that the Cardinals and Tigers again will meet in the world series this fall.

The Cards have Ed Heusser, who was almost relegated to the minors this season but stayed to become an important factor in their drive to first place. The Tigers have Roxie Lawson, who was farmed out to Toledo and came back a few days ago to give the regulars a hand.

Heusser checked the Phillies 5-1 yesterday to help the Cards along to a double triumph that put them 2½ games ahead of New York.

Giving the Phils eight hits, Heusser would have had a shutout if George Watkins hadn't belted a homer in the first inning. The Cards next hammered out a 13-5 decision, coming from behind with a great nine-run rally in the sixth.

Pepper Martin, who hit for the circuit in the opener, did the trick again with the bases loaded and Jim Collins followed with a homer with two on.

Meanwhile the second-place Giants took a double drubbing from Pittsburgh's Pirates, losing 6 to 1 to City Blanton's five-hit tossing, then going down 9-5 when Earl Grace slammed a boundary belt with three on base to overcome an early New York lead.

Lawson blanked the Athletics with four blows. The Tigers won 11-0. Detroit's lopsided triumph didn't increase the Tiger lead, because the Yankees trimmed the Chicago White Sox in both ends of a bargain bill, 9-1 and 5-2. Johnny Allen and Charley Ruffing turned in a pair of fine mound performances and Lou Gehrig clouted his 27th homer.

The Cubs lost a great chance to overhaul the Giants in the National league when they divided a twin bill with the Braves Wally Berger's 28th homer and Ben Cantwell's four-hit flinging gave Boston a 2-1 decision in the opener, but Chicago came back behind Lon Warneke to win 5-2.

Brooklyn won the other National league clash, beating the Reds 4-2. Only 50¢ cash customers were there to see it.

The Indians took a firmer hold on third place in the junior circuit, beating the Red Sox 2-0 as Thornton Lee outpitched Bob Grove, then winning 3-1 behind Mel Harder.

Washington and St. Louis divided their twin bill, the Senators batting out a 10-2 triumph behind Linke and the Browns winning a speedy second game 2-1 as Ivy Andrews and Jack Russell both pitched six-hit ball.

macher of Dallas, continued his easy march through the early rounds by beating Wilton of Temple, 6 and 5.

Jackson Named As Favorite To Beat Pine Bluff

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Aug. 28. (P)—Jackson was held a trifle better than even favorite to win the East Dixie championship today as Manager Lena Styles, revealed that Pine Bluff will send a seriously crippled team against the Senators in the series opener here tonight.

The first half winners, depending on their superior batting strength to offset the Mississippi club's admittedly stronger pitching staff, were minus the services of their ace slugger, L. L. "Cowboy" Jones.

Jones, veteran center fielder who has batted in more runs against Jackson this season than any other hitter in the league, sprained his ankle in practice yesterday.

PUBLIC PROGRAM TO LAUNCH HOPKINS SCHOOL TERM MONDAY MORNING AT 9 IS ANNOUNCED

FACULTY IS COMPLETE WITH MANY NEW TEACHERS

Hopkins school will open Monday morning, with exercises for both schools in the community hall at Hopkins No. 2, beginning at 9 o'clock. All patrons in the district are invited for that hour.

Faculties are complete as the term starts. Robert Brown will be principal of Hopkins No. 1, with Misses Ruth Wells and Velma Padgett as assistants.

Walter Parker is principal at Hopkins No. 2. Mrs. Irene Beckett has been selected to direct public school art, and Miss Lorraine Quattlebaum music. Both hold degrees from West Texas Teachers college. Mrs. Beckett with a major in art and Miss Quattlebaum in music.

D. V. Biggers, Misses Margaret Hamrick and Wilma Jarrell are the other teachers.

During this summer Mr. Parker, Misses Jarrell, Padgett, Hamrick, and Wells attended state teachers colleges working toward their degrees.

Mr. Parker has requested that children entering school for the first time present a birth certificate. The state law requires that a child six years of age by Sept 1 before he may attend public school.

Bargain in Fruit Helps Club Girl's Record for Canning

"Keep a watch for a bargain even while on vacation," advised Margaret Finor of Sunshine 4-H club as she handed to the county home demonstration agent a report on canning two bushels of peaches purchased on a trip for 75 cents a bushel.

After using all the fresh peaches the family wanted, Margaret canned 12 pints of peach preserves, three quarts of peach pickles, and five quarts of unsweetened peaches, a total of 20 containers valued at $4.30.

"Besides clearing a profit of $2.80 and eating all I wanted of my favorite fruit, I had a lot of fun with my bargain," Margaret concluded.

U. S. Treasury Has Difficulty In Selling Bonds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP).—The treasury today reported its first difficulty during this administration in floating a government bond issue when only $85,592,000 of tenders were received for an offering of $100,000,000.

The offering consisted of four-year 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ per cent bonds for the federal farm mortgage corporation, made last Monday. They were sold on a competitive, or auction basis, to the highest bidder.

Treasury officials could not recall a similar instance in the memory of career men. The closest approach was said to have occurred last August when an issue of $150,000,000 of home owners' loan corporation bonds was floated in three series. While two of the series were over-subscribed, an offering of the three-year series fell $2,000,000 shy of the requested total of $50,000,000.

The average price of the farm mortgage corporation bonds to be issued at this time is approximately 99. Based on the average price at which the bonds are to be issued, they will return about 1.762 per cent to maturity.

Of the submitted tenders, $85,262,000 was accepted.

The bonds bore the unconditional guarantee of the government both as to principal and interest.

FOOD FASHIONS ARE DISCUSSED 'BY MRS. YATES

Visits to Cooking School to Give New Ones

The Daily News, which is bringing Mrs. Beulah Mackey Yates to this city under its auspices, to start the Kitchen Chautauqua dealing with subjects of cooking school, home economics, food fashions and parade of foods, has just received a letter from the lecturer in answer to a question asked her recently: "Is there really fashion in foods?"

Mrs. Yates starts her letter with an emphatic statement "Sure and most surely indeed, there is fashion in foods. Fashion the same as their is in dresses, hats, shoes, and other wearing apparel. The Daniel Webster meaning of the word 'fashion' is: 'to make according to rule, to form, give outward appearance, shape, pattern, to lend prevailing mode, custom, usage, common practice, style, manner, mode, sort, well bred, polished. Anything capable of being shaped, etc.'"

"And the self same book of common reference gives the definition for 'fashion' as follows: 'An article of food, consisting of suitably prepared meat; fruit, or seasoned and sweetened composition; baked with an undercrust, as a pumpkin pie; with an uppercrust, as a meat pie; or with two crusts, as an apple pie.'"

For many of our information comes to us through the eyes. Why not appease the sight of mankind and womankind, and maybe that of childhood, with a few new changes in the old regime of doing just for happy-kitchen and happier home-life, and friendly attention's sake? That is no crime, is it?

"Sure there is fashion in foods. The greatest form of fashion in this land of ours, and it is made with the simplest kinds of foods, many times tactfully and artfully done, and the plan of it and the new information of it is fully understood by a wide-awake housewife. Just you pay my cooking school a visit and let me prove my facts to you."

Admission to the Kitchen Chautauqua will be free—no obligations of any sort. The dates are Sept. 9, 10 and 11. The place, City Hall auditorium.

Visits Are Made To End Meeting Of Central WMS

Prayer services were conducted by women of Central Baptist Mission society yesterday afternoon at the church, in preparation for a revival to begin the first Sunday in October with the Rev. Mr. Sizemore, pastor of Tabernacle Baptist church in Amarillo, as the evangelist.

After this service, the group spent the remainder of the afternoon visiting absent members and prospective members.

Higher Goal Set In Sunday School

The Sunday school of the First Christian church will work to reach the highest goal it has ever had for attendance on Roundup day. The goal was set at 566 which is 40 more than any previous goal. Roundup day will come the first Sunday in October according to the decision of the workers' conference.

It was also decided to have Homecoming day on Sunday, Sept. 8, Promotion day on Sunday, Sept. 29, and Fathers' day on Sunday, Sept. 3.

On Homecoming day the school will try to have all of its old members, Bobby McChristian and Don Winton sang a duet, and a picture of the group was taken before refreshments of ice cream, cake and punch were served. Mrs. Winton assisted the hostess.

CHOIR IS HOST AT PARTY FOR MAY F. CARR

A final parting courtesy to Mrs. May Foreman Carr, who left Pampa this week to direct the music department of Martin college in Pulaszki, Tenn., was a party given by First Methodist choir Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Philip Wolfe.

Mrs. Carr has been organist at the church for several years, and has directed a number of church musical programs.

Amusing games and contests were followed by a sing-song. Another game was started, the honoree designated as 'it' and blindfolded to receive a shower of lovely gifts. W. V. Jarratt, choir director, presented for the members a leather portfolio.

After refreshments of chocolate cake and frozen fruit cream, Mrs. Carr delighted the guests by playing requested piano solos until each had heard his favorite.

Mrs. Sam Irwin assisted Mrs. Wolfe as hostess. Guests were Mrs. Carr, the Rev. Gaston Foote, Mrs. Foote, Mr. and Mrs. Jarratt, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd B. Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. M. E. DeTar, Mrs. Walter Stein, Mrs. Beene, Mrs. Sowell, Miss Audru Noel, Mrs. J. G. Noel, Mrs. Arthur Teed, Mrs. F. L. Stallings, Mrs. Frances Phillips, Mrs. Frances Sturgeon, Mrs. H. O. Roberta.

SISTER MARY'S KITCHEN

By MARY E. DAGUE
NEA Service Staff Writer

Did you ever hear a bunch of American city folks get started talking about food? It's positively pathetic that's what it is. Every one of them seems to have a nostalgia for a childhood favorite which, try as he may, he can't get in the city.

It was at a famous opera star's that I recently heard a talk-fest like this start and it ended in the singer's inviting everybody to an Ohio dinner which she promised to cook herself. She said she would have stewed chicken with dumplings, what she called sure enough mashed potatoes, done with plenty of butter and cream and beaten until they were lumpless, sweet potatoes candied with maple syrup and cinnamon, buttery sugary apple pie, also served with maple syrup.

Fruit Mayonnaise
Two-thirds cup sweetened condensed milk, 1-3 cup vinegar or lemon juice, 4 tablespoons salad oil or melted butter, 1 egg yolk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1-2 teaspoon powdered mustard, few grains pepper, 1-2 cup orange juice.

Put all the ingredients except the orange juice in a mixing bowl and beat with a rotary beater until mixture thickens. Put in refrigerator to chill for an hour before serving. When ready to serve beat in orange juice.

Special Fruit Dressing
One orange, 1 lemon, 3 table-spoons sugar, 4 tablespoons sherry, 3 egg yolks, 1 tablespoon butter, 1-2 cup whipping cream.

Squeeze juice from orange and lemon. Melt butter in top of double boiler. Add fruit juice, sugar, sherry and slightly beaten egg yolks and fold in whipped cream when ready to serve. The sherry may of course be omitted. In this case use only 2 egg yolks.

Macaroni Pudding
Two cups milk, 1-2 cup sugar, 3 eggs, 1 tablespoon granulated gelatin, 1-2 pound macaroni, few grains salt.

Separate whites from yolks of

Delegate Gives Resume of Talk On Family Life

In her home Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Robert Brown gave Hopkins Home Demonstration club a few of the valuable things she learned at the farmers short course at A. & M. college last month.

One thing of interest to her was Mrs. Virginia Scarborough's lecture on The Keynotes of Family Life. Every family should have a definite goal for which to work, and each member should be developed to his finest and very best, Mrs. Scarborough said in the talk.

The speaker stressed that a housewife should not be content to 'settle down,' but should continue to study and keep up with her children. A mother should take time to read and see beautiful things, she said.

The importance of family night once a week, when the whole family goes to the movies, picnics, hikes, or plays games at home, spending the evening together, was another point made by Mrs. Scarborough.

A picnic lunch was served to Mrs. E. P. Vanderburg, Jim Hopkins, Leo Day, Onal Franklin, R. I. Davis, Grady Enoch, Marion Houston, Ralph Manley, Mary Mackie, Brown, Miss Fay Davis, members, and a visitor.

The club will meet on Sept. 10 with Mrs. J. O. Campbell.

Study Gas Plan

While not yet alarmed by the outlook, the B. C. D. is making a study of new gas legislation and proposed Railroad Commission orders. George Briggs, manager, will do to Shamrock and McLean tomorrow to discuss the question with civic leaders.

Dinner Given on Double Birthday

The fifteenth birthday of both Catherine Barrett and Theresa Campbell was celebrated with a dinner at the N. P. Brown home last evening. After the chicken dinner, ice cream was served with the decorated birthday cake out by the honorees.

Places were laid for Catherine Barrett, Theresa Campbell, Betty Brown, Mrs. Lawrence Barrett and daughter, Irene, of Edna, Mrs. E. C. Barrett, Mrs. Dee Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Brown.

Picnic Is Enjoyed By Junior Pupils

Mrs. W. E. Noblitt and Mrs. J. L. Lester entertained the junior department of First Christian Sunday school with a picnic yesterday afternoon.

A delicious lunch was served, and games made a pleasant afternoon for the girls and boys. All were invited to be present at Sunday school Sunday morning. In the future a picnic is planned for each month in the department.

Body Of Hamilton, Last Of Dillinger Mob, Found Buried

Three Bullets Taken From Body Of Bandit

OSWEGO, Ill., Aug. 29. (AP)—The law called its last inquest today over the remains of the Dillinger gang. Last of the gang was John "Three Fingers" Hamilton. His body was found by G-men late yesterday in an ignominious grave, a shallow hole scooped from a weed-grown hillock near an abandoned gravel pit, some 50 miles southwest of Chicago.

Months of diligent search by department of justice agents finally laid low the ghost stories recurring at intervals, that Hamilton was still alive.

All that was left of Hamilton, a badly decomposed body, partly destroyed by lice, was identified by the three agents who discovered it, thru the teeth and the absence of the right index and middle fingers. A preliminary examination of the remains disclosed three bullets in the body.

Agents threw a striped orange and white sack over the remains as a shroud and after reporting to their chief, J. Edgar Hoover, of the bureau of investigation in Washington, notified Coroner F. M. Groner of Kendall county.

He ordered the body removed to an undertaking establishment and called the inquest for today. Hamilton, who would have been 35 years of age, fared slightly better in death than his comrade George "Baby Face" Nelson. Dillinger and his aides at least attempted to bury Hamilton, although federal agents believed their main purpose was to throw the authorities off the trail rather than to provide a final resting place.

Nelson, slain Nov. 27, 1934, by federal agents in "the battle of Barrington," was found the next day in suburban Niles Center, lying in a muddy ditch where it apparently had been tossed from an automobile.

That Hamilton was slain by federal agents during a hot chase after the Dillinger gang on April 23, 1934, near South St. Paul, Minn., was the theory of federal men.

Hamilton died approximately 3 months before his chief, John Dillinger, slain by G-men near a small movie theater on Chicago's Northside July 22, 1934.

Acting on a tip, Daniel H. Ladd, chief of the federal agents in Chicago, ordered the three agents here Tuesday. Telling local authorities only that they were looking for a body, the agents dug in numerous places near the gravel pit for two days before they were successful.

The grave was near a picket fence, skirting a gravel pit on the property of Mrs. Augusta Shoger, about 100 yards off a highway leading to Aurora.

The body had been clothed and lay on its side. A gray felt hat with

WPA ADMINISTRATOR CITES HOW COUNTIES AND TOWNS CAN MAKE USE OF WORK RELIEF PROJECTS

By E. E. BAUGH, Project Director, Works Progress Administration

Possibly the greatest opportunity that Texas counties and towns have ever enjoyed for the development of their public facilities is offered today by Works Progress Administration.

That hardly a city or county in the state is not in need of some type of public improvement is a statement which cannot well be denied. Work Progress Administration is prepared to provide funds for the employment of labor on scores of different types of projects. Equipped to handle thousands of project proposals promptly, the state and district W. P. A. offices are at the service of every section of the state.

It is upon their own speed in submitting proposals and upon the care of design and planning exercised by Texas sponsors that each section of the state must depend for its participation in the benefits of WPA. Unfortunately, many sponsors failed to plan carefully the early projects which were submitted to the state office, consequently impeding their own progress and that of the entire program. It is hoped and believed that this type of delay will be avoided in the future.

With the Texas relief load composed of unskilled and semi-skilled laborers, projects offering work for this type of employe will find much favor. Road-work, for example, is most easily adaptable to our available supply of man-power.

Replacement of rickety, worn-out bridges, erosion work on roads, removal of sharp blind curves, establishment of roadside parking places on scenic drives, and building of rock retaining walls on hill country roads may be considered as typical road projects which will be welcomed by our examiners.

Possibly the best example of careful planning which has been presented for consideration is a Fort Worth school ground project which, although remaining well within the $600 per man-year expenditure restriction, anticipates a cost of a million and a quarter dollars. Replacement of gravel grounds and well-kept, planted campuses and playgrounds is contemplated. Installation of side walks, retaining walls, drinking fountains, out-door theater, seating arrangements for spectators, and fencing of 21 school grounds in that city reflect the results of intelligent planning.

School houses in many smaller Texas towns are sadly in need of Texas walks, especially in rainy weather. Numerous proposals for side walks, gutters and curbs are expected from small towns.

Although our $600 per man-year expenditure restriction prohibits the construction of large buildings, WPA can do much improvement and modernization work on public buildings, county recreational projects, roadside parks, and similar projects may also be undertaken.

Water plant and water supply projects, both new and in many small Texas communities, are expected to form a considerable item in our list of project approvals.

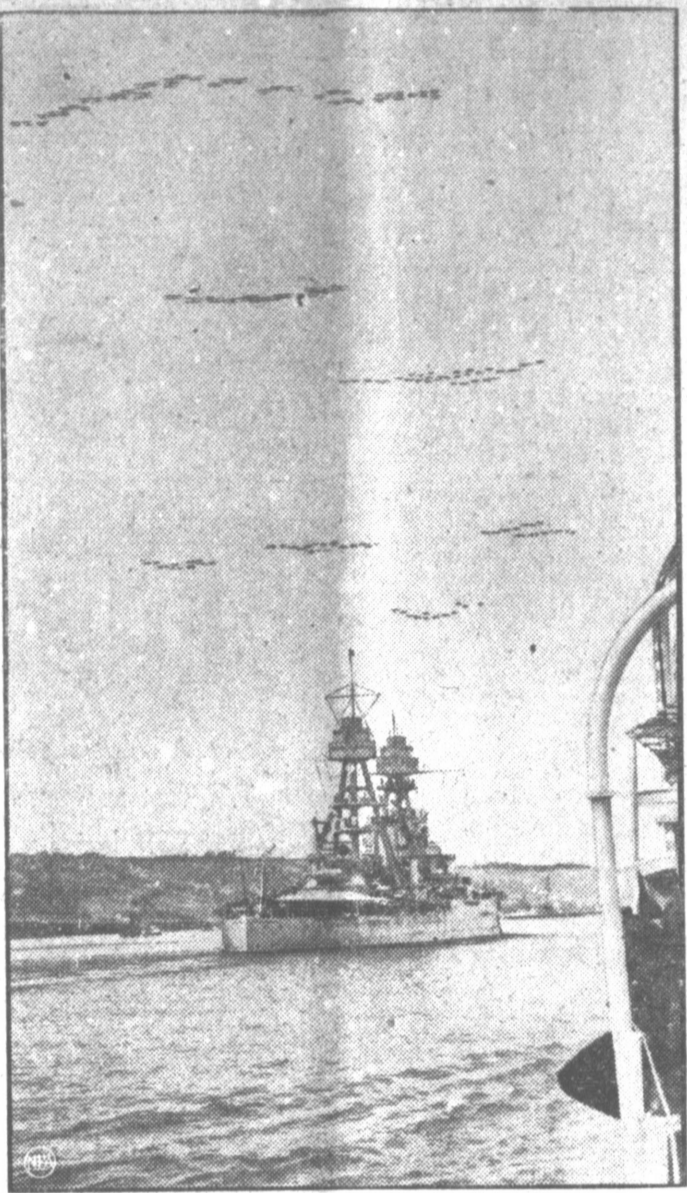

Often a neglected, stagnant pool or creek can be transformed into a parkway, encircled by a smooth, pleasant drive with small amount of labor. Civic-minded persons should study the potentialities of their own communities for projects such as this. Swimming and wading pools for children certainly can be assets to any town.

Useful surveys and research work providing jobs for white collar workers are acceptable but sponsors must offer proper management and supervision in order to secure state approval. Women's work under the direction of Mrs. M. K. Taylor, will encompass such enterprises as sewing rooms, libraries, home hygiene, visiting housekeepers, and certain types of white collar work.

THE HARD WAY
PITTSBURGH, Pa.—A. J. Diebold, local industrialist, sent his tie from the 180-yard No. 14 at the Pittsburgh Field club flying toward the Shadyside academy grounds, flanking the fairway. Halfway, the ball hooked sharply, curved into "fair" territory and dropped on the green hole-high. Then it trickled down a marcel wave.

Although neighboring towns all around long had been in the hands of British soldiers during the American revolution, Augusta, Ga., did not fall until 1779.

Uncle Sam Parades Might in Sky

In the great massed pageant off Point Loma, San Diego, Calif., 98 combatant ships and 416 fighting planes took part, with thousands of spectators, including 20,000 school children, lining the shores.

100TH ANNIVERSARY OF BATTLE OF GONZALES WILL BE OBSERVED

GONZALES, Aug. 28 (AP)—A seven-day celebration, commemorative of the battle of Gonzales, Oct. 2, 1835, and designed to be the "opening gun" of the Texas Centennial, has been planned by the Gonzales Centennial planning board.

It will begin with an historical parade on the one hundredth anniversary of the first battle of the Mexican revolution. The parade will pass through the streets and squares of the city, originally laid out in the form of a huge Spanish cross, and terminate at the 100-acre Gonzales county fair grounds where the first clash between Texas and the Mexicans will be re-enacted even to slaves from a reproduction of the old Gonzales cannon.

The mock battle will be climaxed by an aerial salute with airplanes forming the word "Texas" as they soar above the century old battle scene near the Guadalupe river.

The parade will portray the history of Texas from the coming of Alonzo de Pinedo through the attainment of independence. The planning committee has assigned a float representing the ship of de Pinedo to head the procession, which will include others depicting the arrival of colonists at Gonzales; the first settlement destroyed by Indians; bringing the Gonzales cannon to the settlement; the Ayuntamiento in session; Lieut. Casteneda and his dragons demanding the cannon; making of the "come and take it" flag; the 18 defenders of Gonzales; arrival of volunteers; Stephen F. Austin takes command; the messenger from the Alamo; and "inter Texas" answer Travis' call.

It is planned to have the daughters of the republic of Texas assemble here the third day of the celebration to pay tribute to the women of Texas whose husbands and sons died in the Alamo. During the day a wreath is to be placed on the grave of Sarah Seelye De Witt, wife of the founder of Gonzales.

Sunday, Oct. 6, will be dedicated to Thomas J. Pilgrim, who organized the first Sunday school in Texas in 1829.

LESE MAJESTE CULPRIT CAUGHT AFTER 2 YEARS
TOKYO (AP)—Japanese law has a long arm and memory when it comes to offenses against the sacred person and belongings of the emperor.

Nine years ago someone made his way into a small building attached to the emperor's seaside villa 40 miles southwest of Tokyo and wrote on the wall a disrespectful inscription. The offense was kept from the press, have just announced that they have arrested a man who will be tried for lese majeste, for which a long prison term may be given.

Lee's Last Order Owned At Amarillo
AMARILLO, Aug. 28 (AP)—The last order penned by General Robert E. Lee to his troops of Northern Virginia during the war between the states is owned by W. S. Savage of Amarillo.

Hand written on both sides of a sheet of notebook paper, the order advised the troops of the terms of surrender, assured them that it was due to no lack of faith in them, and commended both the officers and the privates.

Savage's father, Lieut. Jeff Savage, was a junior aide at Lee's headquarters.

The Amarillo chapter of the Sons of Confederate Veterans has borrowed the order and will exhibit it during the forty-fifth annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans here September 2-6.

A model of the Mauretania has been presented to Winchester cathedral in England.

LET KIDNEYS FLUSH OUT 3 LBS. A DAY

Clean Out 15 Miles of Kidney Tubes
Nature put over 15 miles of tiny tubes and filters in your kidneys to strain the waste matter out of the blood. Kidneys should pass 3 pints a day and so get rid of more than 3 pounds of waste matter.

When the passing of water is scanty, with smarting and burning, the 15 miles of kidney tubes may need flushing. This is done by the use of the famous Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, which have been used successfully by millions of people for over 40 years. They give happy relief and help the kidneys to flush out 3 pounds a day. Insist on Doan's Pills.

Belgium Now Grieving for Queen Astrid

SHE WAS POPULAR IN HER ADOPTED COUNTRY

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 29 (AP)—Tiny Belgium was plunged into deepest grief for the second time in less than two years by reports of the tragic death of Queen Astrid near Lucerne, Switzerland, where she had gone with the king for a holiday.

King Albert, the beloved ruler who had heroically led the nation through the darkest days of the world war, was killed while mountain climbing at Marché Le Dames, February 17, 1934.

Queen Astrid, beautiful Swedish princess who was barely past 21 when she married Leopold, then the Belgian crown prince, Duke of Brabant, quickly won her way into the hearts of the Belgians.

Her home life and her solicitude for the nation's poor and distressed brought her the admiration from high and low of the little nation.

Court attaches recounted recently how she spent many hours with her own hands speeding distribution of relief supplies to economic sufferers, especially among the distressed of the mining areas.

Taken As Model

The Belgian housewives and mothers had taken Astrid as their national model. She was especially adept with the needle and enjoyed cooking.

Brussels mothers on a number of occasions have seen the queen pushing a perambulator through the public park airing the royal baby just like any commoner mother in the capital.

Queen Astrid was the second member of the Belgian royal family to die a violent death within little more than a year and a half.

She took the oath as Queen February 23, 1934, after King Albert, her father-in-law, had fallen to death while climbing a mountain near Namur, Belgium.

The queen was Princess Astrid of Sweden before she married Leopold, then crown prince, on November 10, 1926.

When the time came for her participation in the ceremony because she was expecting her third child.

She is survived by this baby, a son, who was named for King Albert, and by Princess Josephine Charlotte and Crown Prince Baudouin.

The queen was 29 years of age, having been born in Stockholm November 17, 1905.

King Leopold and Queen Astrid were touring in the Alps at the time King Albert's tragic death occurred. They hastened to Brussels and, taking their thrones after the funeral, were widely acclaimed by a populace which had loved them.

Leopold had been trained from birth to reign, and Astrid, regally raised in Sweden, took a sincere interest in the activities of her adopted land.

True Love Match

Their marriage was acclaimed as a true love match.

Princess Astrid, as she was then known, told after her betrothal how she had refused the Crown Prince Leopold three times in three weeks.

"I love him," said the princess, "but I was just afraid to become a queen."

Visiting an American home for Belgian children near Ostend, she went on discussing all that America had done for Belgium during the world war and afterward. Albert, whose death left the throne vacant for her husband, was the world-honored war-time king of the Belgians.

King Leopold is 33, four years older than was his queen.

The king was enthusiastic about mechanics. Like his father and younger brother, Prince Charles, Leopold could and did drive railroad locomotives. As youths, he and Prince Charles had a penchant for racing each other on motorcycles.

Courted in Disguise

Queen Astrid was the daughter of the Duke of Vastergoetland. Before her engagement to Leopold was announced in October, 1926, she had repeatedly been reported as about to become betrothed to the Prince of Wales and Prince Olaf of Norway.

Leopold courted her in the guise of a servant.

Belgium greeted her with the

Belgium Now Grieving for Queen Astrid

SHE WAS POPULAR IN HER ADOPTED COUNTRY

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 29 (AP)—Tiny Belgium was plunged into deepest grief for the second time in less than two years by reports of the tragic death of Queen Astrid near Lucerne, Switzerland, where she had gone with the king for a holiday.

King Albert, the beloved ruler who had heroically led the nation through the darkest days of the world war, was killed while mountain climbing at Marché Le Dames, February 17, 1934.

Queen Astrid, beautiful Swedish princess who was barely past 21 when she married Leopold, then the Belgian crown prince, Duke of Brabant, quickly won her way into the hearts of the Belgians.

Her home life and her solicitude for the nation's poor and distressed brought her the admiration from high and low of the little nation.

Court attaches recounted recently how she spent many hours with her own hands speeding distribution of relief supplies to economic sufferers, especially among the distressed of the mining areas.

Taken As Model

The Belgian housewives and mothers had taken Astrid as their national model. She was especially adept with the needle and enjoyed cooking.

Brussels mothers on a number of occasions have seen the queen pushing a perambulator through the public park airing the royal baby just like any commoner mother in the capital.

Queen Astrid was the second member of the Belgian royal family to die a violent death within little more than a year and a half.

She took the oath as Queen February 23, 1934, after King Albert, her father-in-law, had fallen to death while climbing a mountain near Namur, Belgium.

The queen was Princess Astrid of Sweden before she married Leopold, then crown prince, on November 10, 1926.

When the time came for her participation in the ceremony because she was expecting her third child.

She is survived by this baby, a son, who was named for King Albert, and by Princess Josephine Charlotte and Crown Prince Baudouin.

The queen was 29 years of age, having been born in Stockholm November 17, 1905.

King Leopold and Queen Astrid were touring in the Alps at the time King Albert's tragic death occurred. They hastened to Brussels and, taking their thrones after the funeral, were widely acclaimed by a populace which had loved them.

Leopold had been trained from birth to reign, and Astrid, regally raised in Sweden, took a sincere interest in the activities of her adopted land.

True Love Match

Their marriage was acclaimed as a true love match.

Princess Astrid, as she was then known, told after her betrothal how she had refused the Crown Prince Leopold three times in three weeks.

"I love him," said the princess, "but I was just afraid to become a queen."

Visiting an American home for Belgian children near Ostend, she went on discussing all that America had done for Belgium during the world war and afterward. Albert, whose death left the throne vacant for her husband, was the world-honored war-time king of the Belgians.

King Leopold is 33, four years older than was his queen.

The king was enthusiastic about mechanics. Like his father and younger brother, Prince Charles, Leopold could and did drive railroad locomotives. As youths, he and Prince Charles had a penchant for racing each other on motorcycles.

Courted in Disguise

Queen Astrid was the daughter of the Duke of Vastergoetland. Before her engagement to Leopold was announced in October, 1926, she had repeatedly been reported as about to become betrothed to the Prince of Wales and Prince Olaf of Norway.

Leopold courted her in the guise of a servant.

Belgium greeted her with the

QUEEN ASTRID WAS POPULAR IN STOCKHOLM

CITIZENS WEEP OPENLY IN STREETS FOR QUEEN

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 29 (AP)—Citizens of Stockholm wept openly in the streets of the capital today as they learned of the death of their beloved Astrid in an automobile accident near Lucerne.

The Belgian queen had the undisputed reputation in this, her native land, as the most beloved of Swedish princesses.

No single event in years has so stunned Sweden.

Men and women wept unashamed tears as they read first accounts of the death in hurriedly prepared newspaper extras.

Astrid's aging parents, Prince Karl and Princess Ingeborg, were reported under a doctor's care, with the mother prostrated.

Other members of the Swedish royal family were hurriedly summoned.

Business in Stockholm was momentarily halted as word of the accident first spread about. Workmen dropped their tools to read the newspaper accounts. Many openly declared that Astrid's marriage to Leopold was the most perfect love match in the history of Swedish royalty.

Memories were recalled of the days when the handsome young Belgian prince, courting the dark-haired Astrid, traveled incognito in a third class railway carriage from Brussels to Stockholm that he might spend a few hours alone with the girl of his choice.

Many anecdotes were retold. One of the favorite stories was that of Leopold and Astrid strolling together with other couples in a Stockholm park in the evening hours.

The tremendous popularity of Astrid here had its last expression during the marriage of Princess Ingrid to Crown Prince Frederic of Denmark, when crowds cheered wildly the sight of the Belgian queen who twice ventured into a drizzling rain that she might wave greetings to her admirers.

No princess had a more democratic training than Astrid. Her education, a classical one, included a course in housekeeping and cooking.

Many visitors to Prince Karl's home in days gone by had tea served by the young princess.

Last Rites For Mrs. Connally Will Be Today

MARLIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Funeral services were set for 9 p. m. today for Mrs. Tom Connally, wife of Senator Connally of Texas.

The Rev. H. S. Minger, pastor of the First Methodist church here; the Rev. S. D. Dollahite of the First Baptist church, and the Rev. J. W. Bergin of Georgetown were selected to officiate at the service at the Methodist church.

Mrs. Connally died of a heart attack in the office of her husband Monday at Washington.

Several friends of the Connally family accompanied the senator and the body of his wife from Washington.

On the train were Congressmen Luther Johnson of Corsicana and Edgar Witt of Texas, chairman of the United States-Mexican Claims Commission.

Ben Connally of Houston joined his father at St. Louis as did Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Burkhead and Walton Taylor. Mrs. Burkhead is a sister of Mrs. Connally. Other relatives and friends joined the party along the way.

Roosevelt Faces Stack Of Bills

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—President Roosevelt stuck close to his desk today studying a towering pile of bills congress left for him to approve or veto.

The measures included some of the important "must" bills the president asked congress to pass before it adjourned. Among them are the Guffey bituminous coal stabilization and the $250,000,000 tax bills.

Until he has acted upon them, Mr. Roosevelt must defer vacation plans. He indicated yesterday some all-night work would be necessary if he is to be able to leave for Hyde Park N. Y. before Saturday night.

Yesterday the president announced the signing of more than 50 bills, including one prohibiting holders of government gold clause bonds from suing for damages after January 1, legislation raising the interstate oil compact and a measure to accelerate railroad reorganizations.

DREAM TREASURE HUNT RUINS RICH HUNGARIAN

BUDAPEST (AP)—Discovery of the grave of Attila the Hun, with rich treasures, believed to have been buried with him, is the goal of 30 years of excavations which have brought the financial ruin of a prosperous family.

Mrs. Emma Forgacs, widow of the man who began the digging on Prod Hill, near Hajdusobosny, finally has found a large corridor which experts say may lead to the grave.

She carried on the work for 20 years after the death of her husband, who spent most of his fortune on the work because he dreamed that the grave was in the hill. The same dream came to the widow, she says.

He'll Be Loretta's First Mate

Ready to embark on the matrimonial sea, Loretta Turnbull, world's champion woman speedboat pilot, isn't worried about any troubles she may encounter en route. Her fiancé, with whom she is shown above, is also her chief mechanic. He's Thomas H. Richert, 26, senior medical student at McGill University in Canada.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

Chapter 33
PAWING PLAN
"Of course, I don't want to see you found out!" Laurie's eyes blazed. "I made a bargain, and I'm prepared to stick to it. Besides, I'm in it, too! And, as you've so often pointed out, I've made a good thing out of it!"

"You're a sport," said Rex. "Well, it's like this. I want to do the Pacific flight as soon as possible. At once. And I must have a free mind. This mock divorce business will take time. It's got to be a fool-proof plan, or we shall look like a couple of idiots, as well as crooks. There's not a soul who would understand our position."

"But I can't think it out, with the Pacific flight before me. Will you agree that we let it stand over until I come back?"

"His voice had the eagerness of a boy's. He loved her, but he was a man, and love could not be everything in his life, and for the moment he was in the grip of a fixed idea."

"I don't want to interfere with the Pacific flight before me. Will you agree that we let it stand over until I come back?"

"I leave that to you. Perhaps a hint would be wise. Always remember, when you're playing the end of this game, that it is all my fault!"

"And you will tell Mrs. Steele," he suggested. "I would like you to do that. And it would be a good way of getting it about."

"The man gave a twisted smile at this piece of sheer femininity but he said coldly:

"Yes, I will tell Mrs. Steele when I have an opportunity. But I shall be grateful if you don't make it out an absolute break, Laurie."

"All right, then," said Laurie, and added quite gaily, "I'll be a great relief to get back to normal life."

"Thank you," retorted Rex grimly. "You've been a brick. I'll get on to Albery and fix things up. You'll stay here tonight?"

"Oh, yes, I'll have to get back from the show. And tomorrow is Saturday and Mr. Albery won't be up, so I shall have all day to move."

"Laurie went into the kitchen. She was sure she would like some tea. It still looked grey and exhausted and in a queer way, different. She had dispensed with Mrs. Budd after the early morning while he was away."

"It's all right," he said, coming into the kitchen a few minutes later. "Albery was pretty heavily at first, because I'd not ung him up from Ireland. But of course, he's glad that I did the flight. I'm to have the bungalow and start getting ready at once. So now the stage is set again, Laurie. This time for the final curtain!"

"He went into his bedroom to pack his meager belongings in his shabby suitcase, while Laurie got the tea."

"He drank two cups, as if he were thirsty, but would not say anything. "Well, I'll be off, Laurie. I suppose we can both be trusted not to make idiotic mistakes. I'll write to you at your place, then?"

with her, seeming to be absorbed in business.

"But today, when they had finished, and she was just getting up from her chair, he came swiftly towards her, with his graceful, cat-like steps, and laid his hand on her arm."

"Don't go! I want to talk to you. I have been thinking of you, night and day. I can't sleep for thinking of you. Why wouldn't you come down to Gretton on Sunday?"

"I had an appointment that I couldn't break, Mr. Albery. It was very kind of you to ask me."

"Why won't you come down and stay at the bungalow? You could do your work there just as well. In fact, last week you would have been very useful to me. And when I'm up here, any of the man can take my correspondence."

"You did not say I would be useful, Mr. Albery. If I had known you wanted me, of course I would have come."

"Don't you want to be with your husband?"

Laurie felt herself coloring. The moment had come. It was the first opportunity to do what she and Rex had discussed.

"Is there anything wrong between you?" he went on. His voice was more toneless than usual; his face more impassive. But his eyes gleamed between his half-closed lips with a watchful fire.

"Moore never mentions you. I've seen quite a bit of him. He gives me the impression that he doesn't want to talk so I haven't asked him anything."

"We are not sure that we are getting on very well, Mr. Albery. We don't know why Rex didn't tell you. Of course, he is very busy. We have decided not to do anything definite until he comes back from his flight."

"You can't expect me to be sorry," he said. "Moore doesn't understand women. I have seen all the time that he make you unhappy. And now I suppose he is carrying on with that old friend of his, Mrs. Steele?"

Laurie shook her head dumbly. She could not find words to answer that. The very thought was like a knife in her heart.

"Laurie is made a strange offer tomorrow."

Inhalator Value Is Described By Gold To Lions

How the inhalator feeds oxygen to victims of drowning, electric shock, and being overcome by gas was demonstrated before Pampa Lions today by Fire Chief Clyde Gold and members of his department.

The members participating were George Christopher, C. A. McMurry, and Sammie Turner.

The inhalator, given to the department by the Cabot Co., has saved five lives to date. Chief Gold emphasized that it is not a pump-motor and must be accompanied by artificial respiration. If the artificial respiration is started within three minutes after natural action stops, the chances are good in 79 per cent of the cases. If four minutes have elapsed, only 14 per cent of the attempts to revive victims are successful.

Today's program was in charge of Joe Burrow, chairman of the safety committee of the club. Hugh McKimmin played piano solos. Safety posters were displayed on the walls. Other visitors included William Finley, John Tom McCoy, and Lon L. Blansett.

ASTRID

none presumed to question him further.

Was Seemingly Man.
Later, however, he was able to think. He told himself that his entourage that he had taken to the off the road to glance at a map of the queen was holding. He said she was sitting in the front seat beside him with the chauffeur in the rear.

"I leaned over to look at the map," the members of the party said the king told them. "It lasted only a second, and when I looked again at the road, the car was almost on top of the tree."

The king said both he and the queen were thrown out of the car at the first shock and that the queen's head struck a tree, fracturing her skull.

The royal attendants said the king's automobile rebounded, struck a second time, then hurtled into the lake with the chauffeur still inside.

The latter climbed out and waded ashore with only minor cuts.

The attendants, whose car was about one minute behind the royal couple, found the king and queen lying by the side of the road. Apparently there were no eye-witnesses to the accident.

Peasants nearby immediately telephoned to Kussnacht for help. A doctor arrived within five minutes after the queen had died.

Leopold kissed the dead Astrid once more, then was taken away in the doctor's car to have his wounds dressed. Afterwards he was taken to the Villa Haslhorn.

Watched For Hour.
After her ring had gone, Astrid's body lay beside the fatal tree. Still covered with the coats, it was watched for a full hour by the bereaved members of the household, peasants, villagers, and gardeners. Then it was removed by an undertaker.

Kussnacht is a popular resort which stands at the head of a small bay of the lake "Vier Waldstatter See" near the spot where the legendary William Tell was reputed to have shot the tyrant Gessler.

At the villa, the reception room was cleared and the queen's body, in its casket, was placed on black-draped trestles. Candles were arranged and the members of the household took up the death watch.

The king, suffering not only emotional shock but also and bruise, was ordered by Dr. Stenecker, the physician who had rendered him first aid, to go to bed.

A further investigation at the scene of the accident showed that a large stone at the roadside may have been the cause. When the king leaped up at the scenery, the car turned to the edge of the road, striking the stone. It was believed probable that the impact was so violent the occupants were thrown out.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON
NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 29 (AP)—The distant positions were bought during the morning and managed to work up to small net gains ranging from 2 to 4 points.

Oct. was still subjected to pressure and held around 10.53, off 3 points during the morning. Dec. was unchanged at 10.46. March was up 4 points at 10.53 and May up 2 points at 10.53.

As the end of August was drawing to a close the trade was paying more and more attention to the present yield, with private crop estimates already mentioning the figure of 12,000,000 bales.

Hedge selling of the new crop which customarily appears as it begins to move to market was not showing up yet in volume.

A bright spot was furnished today when reports from Worth street and other cloth markets stated that business was showing a good volume with prices holding up well.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP)—Stock market prices rallied today in trading that was exceptionally quiet.

Gains of fractions to a point or so were registered by virtually all groups except the oils. The latter were somewhat backward. The close was firm. Transfers approximated 7,000 shares.

LEAF WORM
tofore. Many farmers reported 50 to 90 per cent of their crop had died and that they were beginning to turn in their government cotton certificates.

The Wichita Falls area planned extensive dusting to prevent severe damage after recent showers.

The cotton crop near Pittsburg, in Como county, was described as "a critical situation" after a second army of worms moved over the section.

County agricultural agents in Travis county estimated a 25 per cent damage from the worms, along with fleas and weevils. The damage in Gray county was heavy, but spotted farmers said. Until two weeks ago the crop prospect equaled any in the past decade. A shortage of person delayed extermination work and today's rain washed off that sprayed yesterday.

Many Lamar county cotton fields were stripped of all foliage. Farmers held little hope for the late crop. The infestation had covered the entire county.

EARHART POISED AGAIN
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 29 (AP)—Amelia Earhart, famed trans-Pacific flier, today entered the transcontinental air derby and will take off early tomorrow for Cleveland in the plane in which she flew solo from Fenoluitza to Oakland, Calif. Miss Earhart will be accompanied on the speed dash for the Vincent Bendix trophy and $12,500 cash prizes by Paul Mantz, her technical adviser.

Astrid's Parents Off For Belgium

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 29 (AP)—Aging Prince Carl and Princess Ingeborg mournfully chartered an airplane today to fly to Lucerne, Switzerland, to join the grief-stricken husband of their daughter, Queen Astrid of the Belgians.

They were almost prostrated by the word of the automobile accident in which their daughter was killed. They regained their composure quickly, however, and it was Prince's Ingeborg, herself, who asked the plane be chartered. They expected to take off for the south after a rest of a few hours.

The news had been broken to them at their country home at Fridham, the scene of many happy family reunions of former years. Princess Astrid used to romp there with her sisters. Since her marriage to Leopold she has brought her children there for an annual visit with their grandparents.

BRITAIN

officials agree, means only peace in Europe.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY.
BOLZANO, Italy, Aug. 29 (AP)—Warning to Great Britain to join the League of Nations council session for consideration of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict was issued Wednesday by political circles today in the committee of the Italian cabinet.

"We forth its case against Ethiopia. After an extraordinary meeting here near the mimic battle field, Duce's cabinet stood before the world with: (1) An admission to Great Britain that sanctions mean serious trouble; (2) a determination to attack Ethiopia at the council session, and (3) fundamental economic decrees to finance a war with the African empire.

The cabinet gave assurance that British imperial rights would not be touched by the Italian program, but political circles fear that great importance a paragraph in a communique which disclosed that Italy had already decided upon the military measures it would take in case of sanctions.

"In any event," said the communique, "the fascist government will take its precise duty by making known to the Italian people that the problem of sanctions has been examined by the highest military authorities of the regime under all aspects and that as regards eventual actions of a warlike nature, decisions and measures necessary to face them have been taken some time ago."

ARE RELIEF WORKERS unwilling to work when offered jobs? The poorly supervised weed-cutting jobs, etc., used early in the relief program produced many pictures which could hardly be described as inspiring. Leaning on hoe-handles became a fine art. The impression given the public then has since become a national fallacy. . . . It is true that many persons on relief are the same ones who roamed the country of who were no-goods before relief. But in the main, we believe, it is possible to obtain faithful and competent employees from the relief rolls. Intelligence is needed in picking employees. One would not choose a drygoods clerk to pick cotton, or a cotton picker to keep books. . . . To assume that relief clients—the millions of them—will not work is tantamount to adopting them as permanent relief charges, a condition which certainly is to be combated with every resource.

Lrought's approval of the applications was announced by John A. Norris, chairman of the board of water engineers, who said "it is another step."

He cautioned that "it does not mean we have the money yet," but added that "Washington officials have a lot of confidence in Mr. Drought and would look a long time before they declined a project he recommended."

Senator Morris Sheppard will sponsor the project in Washington, Norris said, while he prepared to go there if presentation of additional engineering data was deemed necessary.

Plane Carrier Reinforces Britain's Warning to Italy

Heavy reinforcement of Britain's stern warning to Italy was the dispatch of the airplane carrier, H. M. S. Glorious (above) to join the Mediterranean fleet at Malta. A converted cruiser of 22,500 tons, the Glorious carries three airplane squadrons and a flying personnel of about 350.

Stepfather Kills 19-Year Old Son

HOUSTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Harvey E. Jenkins, 19-year-old high school student, died today of wounds suffered last night when his stepfather, W. R. Young, 52, opened fire on him with a shotgun.

Young, a cafe operator, claimed he fired in self-defense. He was charged with murder.

"Mrs. Young and I were married last February and the boy has been extremely jealous," he said. "We have had trouble off and on and not long ago I made him leave home after an argument."

Jenkins was wounded in the abdomen and arm. The arm was mangled so badly that amputation was necessary.

Another Trial Of Huey Is In Making
BORGER, Aug. 29 (AP)—Prospective jurors were served today in preparation for the trial of a case of the Hutchinson county commissioners vs. Arthur Huey, tax assessor and collector.

The commissioners, in their capacity as the tax equalization board, seek to compel Huey to turn over to them the tax rendition lists. Huey claims certain oil property valuations are too low by millions of dollars.

3 Children Of Dead Queen Not Told Of Death

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 29 (AP)—Premier Paul van Zeeland left this afternoon by airplane for Basel, Switzerland, to meet the special train on which King Leopold is bringing his queen's body back to his grief-stricken people.

Another special train was to leave tonight for the Luxembourg frontier there to await the Swiss train, which was due early tomorrow morning. The body will be brought on to Brussels on the Belgian special train.

The premier left immediately after a cabinet meeting at which the cabinet meeting was called for Saturday morning.

Van Zeeland's final act in the cabinet meeting today was to sign a proclamation to the public expressing the consternation of the people at the tragic event.

The three royal children, Josephine Charlotte, aged 7, Baudouin 3, and Albert, 14 months, arrived in Brussels this morning by train. They had left their parents last night, before the accident, and were not told of their mother's death.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO, Aug. 29 (AP)—The downward trend of the wheat market was halted at least temporarily today as fresh advices from the Canadian prairie provinces indicated grain losses from rust, hail and frost damage might exceed expectations.

Wheat closed 3/4 cent lower to 3/4 higher, December 88-89 1/2, and corn was 1/4 off to 3/4 up, December 86 1/2-3/4. Oats were 3/4 down to 3/4 up, 1/2 off, barley unchanged to 1/2 cents higher, and provisions were higher.
