

Health Enemies Varietas Topic

Health Enemies, a program emphasizing the recognizable symptoms and preventative measures for a number of the more dreaded diseases, was the subject for the meeting of Varietas Study club yesterday afternoon, when the group was entertained at the home of Mrs. Lee Harrah.

Mrs. R. E. McKernan, guest speaker, was introduced by the program chairman, Mrs. E. W. Lane. Mrs. McKernan described how to spot various diseases, including infantile paralysis, cancer, tuberculosis, and the causes of mental diseases and eye trouble.

Mrs. Harrah served a plate lunch to Mrs. H. T. Hampton, Mrs. E. J. Haslam, Mrs. Dow King, Mrs. R. W. Lane, Mrs. Horace McBe, Mrs. L. C. McKinney, Mrs. Luther Pierce, Mrs. Felix Stalls, Mrs. Sherman White, Mrs. Quentin Williams, and Mrs. McKernan.

Membership Is Theme of American Legion Inter-Post Meeting Tuesday

Nine American Legion posts and auxiliaries were represented at the monthly inter-post meeting, held in Pampa last night. Lew Fields, department commander, from Amarillo, was the principal speaker, discussing rehabilitation of the veterans and membership. He reported that Texas has 88,917 Legionnaires at the present time. Among the 125 Legionnaires and auxiliary members present were representatives from Amarillo, Borger, Canadian, Claude, McLean, Memphis, Shamrock and Spearman, as well as members of the local Legion.

Shamrock Auxiliary Starts Prayer Series

Program chairman, Dr. R. A. Webb, was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Mary Cusick, Amarillo, district auxiliary president, also gave a short talk on membership. The next meeting will be held in Claude in March, the date to be announced.

Le. Edwin Adkins sang "Danny Boy" and "The Road to Mandalay," accompanied by Miss Eloise Lane at the piano. Virgil Mott, also sang two solos, "Wagon Wheels" and "Old Man River." Lt. Adkins recited his dialect version of a Negro sermon.

The Pampa auxiliary served pie and coffee.

Church Group Mends Clothing for Europe

The Women's Missionary Society of the Church of the Brethren met yesterday afternoon and packed three boxes of mended clothing for relief in Europe.

During the last five months the W.M.S. has repaired and sent 700 pounds of old clothing and shoes to the regional relief center for the church in McPherson, Kans., to be forwarded overseas. For Greek relief the group has made a dozen baby gowns, 36 little-girls' dresses, and one comforter. Anyone having old, but usable, clothing may leave it at the church according to Mrs. J. R. Shelton, president.

Mrs. Vernon Alexander served refreshments to Mrs. Lottie Turotte, Mrs. Zeke Simpson, Mrs. Eva Whisler, Mrs. Charles Ellington, Mrs. Clyde Carruth, Mrs. Arthur Gillis, Mrs. Fendrick and Mrs. Shelton.

New Officers Take Up Duties Monday

New officers of the Pythian sisters took office at the meeting of the lodge Monday night. Mrs. Lucille Weathered, newly installed most excellent chief, called the meeting to order and appointed new investigating, flower, and visiting committees.

A contribution to the endowment fund for the Pythian home at Weatherford, Texas, was voted in memory of G. H. Ader, a prominent Pythian who died recently.

Applications for membership were presented for Mr. and Mrs. John Spink, Fred Tinsley and Mr. Harvey. Mrs. Lorraine Payne and Mrs. Agnes Manning were reported ill.

Members attending were: Mrs. Lucille Weathered, Mrs. Opal Downs, Mrs. Bernice Goodick, Mrs. Freda Heftner, Mrs. Lucille Wilson, Mrs. Dorothy Mangel, Mrs. Sibyl Dudley, Mrs. Kay Dudley, Mrs. Elizabeth Doggett, Mrs. Edwina Beck, Mrs. Norene Johnson, Mrs. Cora Lockhart, Mrs. Ina Niemeyer, Mrs. Martha Kennedy, Mrs. Dorothy Cox, Mrs. Verda Burnett and Mrs. Bertie Brown.

G.I. Ambassadors Topic at Dinner

Rev. Beauford A. Norris was the principle speaker at the Business and Professional Women's covered dish dinner in the Palm room last night. Rev. Norris, who has recently returned after three years service as army chaplain in the Southwest Pacific area, chose for his subject, "Our Ambassadors in Japan."

He named as our ambassadors: General Douglas MacArthur, 400,000

FORMAL DANCE TONIGHT
The formal dance being arranged by the Business and Professional Women's club, will be held in the Legion hall tonight. Proceeds of the dance go to the Teen Age Canteen. Ken Bennett's orchestra will play. Committee chairman arranging for the event are: Mrs. B. M. Behrman, decorations; Mrs. Jessie Stroup, hat and coat checking; Miss Neva Burgan, cashiers, and Miss Muriel Kitchens, invitations.

G. I.'s and 500,000 Christians. "These," he said, "are the best ambassadors."

He declared that chaos faces us unless we are able to assume our responsibilities as world citizens. Democracy, as set forth by our forefathers, is the only answer to the conditions which brought about the recent war, he emphasized.

He described the time spent by most soldiers overseas as 90 percent boredom and homesickness and 10 percent inspiration.

Mrs. Mildred Pickett, social chairman and in charge of the meeting, and Mrs. John Beverly, club hostess, gave the invocation. Warren Hohl entertained the group with three piano selections, "Frelude in C Minor," "Eidelweiss Glide," and "Some Sunday Morning," and Phil Harvey sang "The Belles of St. Mary's," and "On the Road to Mandalay."

Action Story Topic For Penhandlers

SHAMROCK, Feb. 27 (Special)—The Action Story topic was the subject under discussion at the meeting of the Panhandlers club, when they met in the home of Mrs. John B. Harvey Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Margie Fleener was hostess.

Mrs. G. H. Aldous presided over the business session, at which time, Mrs. Ed Chenette was received as a new member of the club.

Mrs. J. M. Porter of Wheeler, program leader, read a poem, "Faith," Mrs. O. R. Hugg read an original outline for an action story plot, "What Makes the Action Story Go" was discussed by Mrs. George Paroh.

Ester Club Has 'Squaw' Party

An Indian "Squaw" party was planned Monday evening for members of the Ester club, and each guest arrived dressed for the part. Mrs. H. M. Cone had arranged the party at her home.

The rooms were appropriately decorated with Indian pottery, blankets, corn, and Indian rugs. An Indian corn game, played during the evening, ended with Mrs. Roy Kretzmeier having the most corn. Prizes as the best squaws went to Mrs. O. E. Wylie, Mrs. L. D. Neighbors, and Mrs. W. G. Jameson, for their costumes.

Mrs. John Mitchell gave the devotional.

Place favors of colorful feathers carried out the party theme when the refreshments were served to: Mrs. Annie Sullivan, Mrs. W. G. XXXV
DINNER that night was a most uncomfortable affair. There was so much to be said; so little we could talk about. Sentences were left suspended in mid-air; questions went unanswered, indeed, unheard. Conversation turned by its own weight to the question of the twins and Mr. Willson finally counseled patience. He felt that the twins were in good hands and that if we waited, that angle might solve itself. Fletch agreed with him and while I don't think Miss Jenny did, she held her tongue. I fully agreed with Mr. Willson. With all her faults, and in spite of the fact that she was not very maternal, Philippa, I was sure, had done nothing that would harm the twins. Mr. Willson at that point voiced the same opinion, and Uncle Andrew said, "Why would she? They were money in the bank for her."
The district attorney's office called shortly after dinner to ask Fletch and Mr. Willson to come down there. It was something about releasing Philippa's body. When they came back, they had a copy of the Sun, Daniel Corliss had gathered up his staff and gotten out a paper. "A special Willson edition," Fletch said bitterly.
The whole story was there down the last detail of Dru's accompanying Fletch on a nocturnal automobile ride. And side by side with the current event was practically a reprint of the old newspaper stories of May 18, 1917.
I was glad that Miss Jenny and Betsy and Dru had gone upstairs to write letters and do some of the other necessary things. I was going to burn the paper but Mr. Willson stopped me. "Might as well let them see it some time, Nana. Everybody else has seen it, and it's better that we tell them what to expect."

It wasn't until that moment that I wondered how a man like Stephen Willson faced telling his children the story he had had to tell them, or that I remembered his diffidence at dinner. If indeed we are punished on this earth for those things we are taught are wrong, then Stephen Willson had indeed been scourged that day.
I WENT up to the little sitting room off my bedroom. I was very weary, but I didn't want to go to bed. I think I was reluctant to have the day whose troubles I knew passed on to be replaced by the tomorrow about whose worries and problems I knew nothing. So I got out my knitting and the horrible thought of the morning returned. Were we knitting while someone rode to meet death? I was glad when Betsy came in and I could lay it aside.
She fiddled around with the small figures on the bookshelves in the corner and made a lot of remarks. "It's hot." "I always liked this shepherd boy, Nana." It took her some time to ask the question she had come to ask.
She put a little bisque figurine down carefully and with her back still toward me said, "Am I very much like my mother, Nana, when she was young?"
"No," I answered. "You look more like your father's people."
"I don't mean that, Nana. Do I look like her? Do I think like her?"
"Yes," I said hesitatingly, "to some extent. She was livelier, and I think more determined. But otherwise, I think, you're like her."
"I'm glad," she answered, "I hoped I was."

Wizard's Test

“How do you feel about making charges against your own people?”
“It isn't my wish, Sahib, but when my officer gives the order I must move forward. Someone must stop the riots or every shop and home would be looted.”
“Well,” said the British officer, “do you think you will be treated any better when we British pull out?”
“I don't know, Sahib,” replied the policeman. “Perhaps not. But I still will have my job—and my duty.”

Turhan Bey Will Organize Groups For Camp Shows

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 27.—(AP)—At a time when most Hollywood stars in the service are returning to their jobs, Pvt. Turhan Bey is leaving for a long stretch overseas.
I interrupted the actor's packing yesterday on his last day in Hollywood. Between sips of Turkish coffee which his mother pressed upon him he said, “I'm keeping it quiet 'hat I am leaving. The last time I was set to leave for overseas I was sick in town before the parking cars were dry on my friends' shoulders.”
Classified as an entertainment “recluse,” Bey is scheduled to leave an ornate field for parts west where he will help organize much-needed entertainment for occupation troops.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE
BOMBAY, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Three tired little figures sat on the curbstone in the shadow of that cast arch of Grandeur on Apollo pier known as the “Gateway to India.”
These men or three days had been fighting off street mobs and this was their first real period of rest. They were Indian policemen—upon whose wry little frames rests Britain's rule of law and order.
These Indian policemen are the hated and quiet heroes of India. I admire them more than “New York's finest.”
They are like fox terriers. They take on any odds. A dozen of them with bamboo sticks—in dextrous hands a very punishing weapon—will charge in a thin blue line straight into a howling crowd of hundreds of rioters through a storm of bricks, clubs and stones, and keep forcing forward until they break the mob to pieces.
With the help of a young British captain who spoke their dialect, I talked to one of the droopy little policemen on the curbstone. He was intelligent and frank.
“Why do the people riot?” asked the British captain.
“Because of you British, Sahib,” said the policeman, matter-of-factly. “You have been over us too long. They want you to leave India.”
“Are those riots organized by Indian political parties?”
“No, openly, Sahib, but the leaders say things to excite the people. Then when they riot, the leaders are there.”
“You haven't done so badly.”
“No,” he said, looking down at a neat blue suit. “I've got some nice clothes. I've been lucky.”
The term collective bargaining was first used in London in 1891 at Beatrice Webb.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Don't make any slightest remarks about luck if you're around G. M. Cottingham, editor of the Houston Chronicle.
He says lady luck has done all right by him. He's quick to defend her.
For some reason he came to Houston in 1915.
“I was fresh out of college,” he said. “I was a hotshot. I got a job for $10 a week.”
Two years later he went to Chicago. He got a position on a paper there. Then came the war and Cottingham was busy defending the country until 1919.
He returned to Houston where his mother lived. He wanted to go back to the big city of Chicago.
“It's so nice and comfortable here,” his mother said.
“So I stayed,” Cottingham grins. “I didn't give my future any more serious thought than that. There was no weighty reasons for staying.”
A few years later the Chicago paper he had worked on, and to which he had planned to return, folded.
“I probably be making about $30 a week somewhere now,” he says. “As it is, look at the Chronicle. Look at Houston—the place has almost outgrown Chicago.”
“You must have had some sort of hunch Houston would grow,” he was asked.
He moved his wily frame into a more comfortable position and smiled infectiouslly.
“Did I know this was going to be a major oil center? Could I have gone to town with real estate? Did I guess this was going to be a major port?”
“You haven't done so badly.”
“No,” he said, looking down at a neat blue suit. “I've got some nice clothes. I've been lucky.”
The term collective bargaining was first used in London in 1891 at Beatrice Webb.

NO. 9—FILING LONG-FORM:

WHAT, WHY AND HOW OF INCOME TAX EXPLAINED

(Editor's Note: This is the ninth of 12 stories explaining who has to do what about his income taxes.)

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27.—(AP)—In figuring your 1945 income tax return on the 1040 long-form you'll need—in addition to the form—the separate instruction sheet which goes with it.
If your income was $5,000 or over, take the standard deduction of $500 for expenses, whether they were that much or nil. Itemize nothing. If you claim more than $500, itemize all on page 3.
You're hit with two kinds of taxes: a 3 per cent normal tax, which is the same on all incomes; and a surtax on the highest incomes.

Turn to page 3 of the long form. Where it says “tax computation,” follow the example given here, step by step. Later use your own figures.
Line 1. Write your total income. Say it was $7,400. Line 2. Write the $500 standard deduction under the $7,400. Line 3. Subtracting $500 from $7,400, write the answer: $6,900. This is called your net income.
Line 4. Write $500 under your $6,900 net income. This $500 is your normal tax exemption. Everyone filing a return gets a $500 normal exemption. You get no normal exemption for your dependents and none for your wife unless she, having income, files a joint return with you.
Line 5. Subtracting the $500 normal exemption from the $6,900 net income, write the answer: $6,400. That's your normal net income.
Line 6. Here you apply the normal 3 per cent tax. Take 3 per cent of $6,400 and write the answer, $192.
Line 7. Write here again the $6,900 net income you wrote on line 3.
Line 8. Write here your total surtax exemptions. You get a $500 surtax exemption for yourself, $500 for your wife (if she's not filing a separate return), and $500 for each dependent. You, married, one child, claim three surtax exemptions for a total of $1,500. Write that on line 8.
Line 9. Subtracting the $1,500 on line 8 from the $6,900 on line 7, write the answer, $5,400, on line 9.

Home Economics Department at School Improved

SHAMROCK, Feb. 27.—(Special) In continuing the Shamrock public schools improvement program, the homemaking department has been altered to make it more convenient and modern, Supp. Elmer J. Moore stated this week.
A balcony on the third floor of the high school building, adjoining the homemaking room has been floored and a sewing room has been added adjoining the kitchen. In the cooking department, a partition has been built so as to make a dining room and a practice room. The room can also be used for a sick room.
The department is now arranged so that teas can be served and doors have been cut so that banquets can be served directly from the kitchen to the banquet hall. The banquet hall has a capacity of approximately 200.
Other improvements of the school buildings just completed include plastering of both the high school and junior high and the addition of more lights.
DOUBLE DUCKING
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Mrs. Allen J. Carey's prindle bulldog, Chuck, really got her in cold water. Check lost his footing while scampering along a Delaware river pier and fell in so the 31-year-old Mrs. Carey donned her coat in 32-degree weather and plunged to the rescue.
Her husband grabbed a rope and hauled the dripping pair to safety.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Don't make any slightest remarks about luck if you're around G. M. Cottingham, editor of the Houston Chronicle.
He says lady luck has done all right by him. He's quick to defend her.
For some reason he came to Houston in 1915.
“I was fresh out of college,” he said. “I was a hotshot. I got a job for $10 a week.”
Two years later he went to Chicago. He got a position on a paper there. Then came the war and Cottingham was busy defending the country until 1919.
He returned to Houston where his mother lived. He wanted to go back to the big city of Chicago.
“It's so nice and comfortable here,” his mother said.
“So I stayed,” Cottingham grins. “I didn't give my future any more serious thought than that. There was no weighty reasons for staying.”
A few years later the Chicago paper he had worked on, and to which he had planned to return, folded.
“I probably be making about $30 a week somewhere now,” he says. “As it is, look at the Chronicle. Look at Houston—the place has almost outgrown Chicago.”
“You must have had some sort of hunch Houston would grow,” he was asked.
He moved his wily frame into a more comfortable position and smiled infectiouslly.
“Did I know this was going to be a major oil center? Could I have gone to town with real estate? Did I guess this was going to be a major port?”
“You haven't done so badly.”
“No,” he said, looking down at a neat blue suit. “I've got some nice clothes. I've been lucky.”
The term collective bargaining was first used in London in 1891 at Beatrice Webb.

Strange Concert By Mad Pianist Thrills Musicians

DETROIT, Feb. 27.—(AP)—A strange concert, staged here Saturday by a mad pianist for a conference of the music teachers association, was still drawing acclaim today from some of the nation's top-flight musicians.
Some 300 delegates to the conference heard the pianist, an inmate of the Wayne county general hospital's psychiatric ward, execute complicated works of Chopin, Mozart, and Beethoven in a manner that one critic termed “beautiful and exquisite.”
The pianist, a 45-year-old man whose name hospital physicians say is Ira M. Altschuler withheld, was a well-known musician nine years ago, the doctor said.
He is still “a genius,” in the opinion of Dr. Howard Hanson, noted conductor and composer of the Eastman school of music at Rochester, N. Y.
“The man plays astonishingly well,” Dr. Hanson said. “He is an extraordinary case. He would play long periods with perfect phrasing and quality and then would begin a curious series of erratic passes and as a result extra time. This made the whole thing seem strange and spooky. Then he would return to normal playing.”
A hospital aide stood at the pianist's side to turn pages as he played. Otherwise, the musicians were told, he would have played the same page over and over. After the performance, the pianist, his face expressionless, bowed stiffly to his audience and left the stage amid roaring applause.
Dr. Altschuler said he staged the performance to demonstrate the value of music in aiding the mentally ill.

Lombardi Ready To Endure Pain Of Spring Work

But when he gets to the camps he always suffers in pine-woods silence through the training ordeal. His feet might be killing him...

If he had temporary physical disability he would devise his own system for overcoming it so he could carry on...

There never has been any criticism of his method of handling pitchers, and testimony to his ability in this respect is provided by the fact that whereas Johnny Vander Meer is the only hurler ever to pitch two successive no-hit games...

The Giants, whom Lombardi joined in 1943, are deeply appreciative of the job Big Lom has done for them, catching double headers on steaming days, playing when he had aches and pains and every move was tortuous.

Even with the club's acquisition of the classy Walker Cooper, Big Lom figures to do plenty of catching, and even more pinch hitting.

Noted Speedboaters Gather in Brownsville

BROWNSVILLE, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Noted speedboat drivers from a half-dozen states will be here Saturday, Sunday and Monday for the Chorro Days Regatta at Port Brownsville.

The Regatta is scheduled Saturday and Sunday with the speedboat trials on Monday. A representative of the American power boat association will be here to see that all racing is official.

Among other noted speedboat drivers who will compete in the races and time trials are H. Goodlett of Nashville, Tenn., J. C. Riley of Shreveport and many drivers from Texas and Oklahoma.

Suttee, abolished by the British in 1826, was an Indian custom of a widow burning herself on the funeral pyre of her husband.

Greenville Advances To State Tournament

Major Leaguers Not Bothered by Any 'Staleness'

By GAYLE TALBOT MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Those who have been worrying about whether ball players returning from the service would be able to resume their diamond careers without great loss of efficiency can begin to relax.

The observation is a considered one, arrived at after a fortnight of watching the veterans perspire under the Florida and Panama suns and talking with many of them and their managers. The latter, especially Joe McCarthy of the Yankees and Mel Ott of the Giants, both of whom got exceptionally early starts, are about ready to concede that their fears were groundless.

For one thing, the men who were carrying guns and flipping planes about this time a year ago have thrown themselves into training with a studied seriousness that no other spring ever witnessed. They have worked harder than any other men in the camps. Many of them began preliminary training months ago.

Some of them—a specific example is being Joe Mauer of the Giants—are in as good or better physical shape already than they were when they entered the service. Little Phil Rizzuto, the Yank shortstop, already is doing such a dervish act that he will be made an honorary citizen of Panama any day now.

"If anything, the war experience is likely to add several years to a lot of big league careers," observed Buddy Hassett of the Yankees, himself a returnee. "While they were in uniform they had plenty of time to realize how nice it was to play ball for a living and how important it was to keep themselves in shape. From now on watch them obey the rules."

Manager Ott of the Giants fully agreed, saying he already had detected a difference. He mentioned a player or two who before the war had been known to color the Florida nights, but who had suddenly become an ardent drinker of orange juice and devotee of the simple life.

New Mexico Star Holds Cage Lead

By TED MEIER NEW YORK, Feb. 27.—(AP)—Bang-in home 62 points in two games, Elmore Morganhaler, the seven-foot center for New Mexico Mines, last week regained the lead at 547 points in the nation's collegiate individual high scoring basketball scramble.

The Associated Press weekly tabulation showed today that Morganhaler, ousted from the top the previous week by Marshall's Bill Hall, now boasts an edge of 18 points over Hall who has accumulated 529 points. Hall led previously, 505 to 487.

Fred Lewis, who sparked Eastern Kentucky to the Kentucky athletic conference title, retained third place at 516. He rimmed 45 points in three tourney games.

The week's top scores as reported to the Associated Press: Name School G Fg Ft Pp Morganhaler, N. M. Mines 25 242 99 547 Lewis, Eastern Ky. 24 288 140 516 Mikan, DePaul 21 179 129 478 Tipton, Marshall 22 182 94 458

Authorities representing every major state and federal agency concerned with these problems have accepted invitations to speak at the first meeting of the revised Federal Wildlife Federation here next Friday and Saturday.

The facts and the remedies as presented by leaders of the state game department, the forest and wildlife service, and by such agencies with incidental wildlife interests such as the soil conservation service, army engineers, the bureau of reclamation, state parks board, the national park service and schools and other institutions will be presented along with the interests and desires of the sportsmen themselves," said Grady Hill of San Angelo, former president of the West Texas game and fish association.

The sportsman will receive a report on constitution and by-laws Friday afternoon. They are booked to elect officers and directors of a revitalized postwar organization Saturday.

'Blind Bogey' Winners Announced by Baker Frank Baker, Pampa country club pro, announced winners in the recent "blind bogey" tournament held at the course and asked the winners to call for their prizes.

The participating players shoot for the low or high score on any two holes. The local affair was held for low score on No. 4 and high on No. 9, with the winners receiving the same prizes.

Frank Mitchell and Marvin Harris, shooting one-under-par fours on No. 4 were winners on that hole. W. Webb, W. J. Brown and Bill Speed tied for the honors on No. 9, getting an eight.

The club tournament committee is drawing up a list of meets to be held this year. It will be released soon.

BATTING HONORS ANAHEIM, Calif., Feb. 27.—(AP)—Chuck Stevens, lively first baseman, carried off batting honors in an intra-squad practice game at the St. Louis Browns' training camp yesterday, getting three singles in four trips to the plate.
