US Broadens Bombing Halt

SAIGON (AP) — The United States broadened on Monday its halt in the bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong heartland to include all of North Vietnam. U.S. officials indicated that the bombing cessation from the 20th parallel 200 miles southward to the demilitarized zone is one of short duration in connection with a 24-hour South Vietnamese cease-fire for the new year that ends at dusk Monday. A unilateral 24-hour Viet Cong cease-fire ended just after noon.

an immediate end to the war in Vietnam. Another Lt. Col. William Walter Conlee, was quoted as saying: "We observed a row of shops and living quarters which have been bombed and also a hospital which has been badly damaged, and we observed a school that has been bombed heavily." Hungary's MTI news agency said Jecofat was a lieutenant, however, and said he was from Mississippi. It gave Conlee's home state as Illinois. Other prisoners named were Lt. Paul Louis Granger and Lt. Col. John Harry Yuill, both B52 pilots. Their hometowns were not given.

Deputy Sheriff Killed

SHAMROCK—Wheeler County Deputy Sheriff Carroll Copeland, 36, died of a gun-shot wound in the head last night and two suspects are in custody. According to Sheriff Bus Dorman, two men filled up with gasoline at a local service station and drove off without paying.

Light Snow Forecast

Cloudy and continued cold with a 40 per cent chance of snow late today and tonight was forecast this morning by the Amarillo Weather Service. A 30 per cent chance of light snow also was predicted for tomorrow.

LOOKING FORWARD—Welcoming in the New Year with hopes for a better year, Nan Blanda, 19, is January's calendar girl, the first one for 1973. ### New Year Arrives One Second Later

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The New Year came one second late for revelers around the world this year as observatories adjusted their clocks to more precise alignment with the earth's rotation.

FOR GRAY COUNTY 'Prophets' Predict Profitable Year

By RAY BAXTER
Now on the threshold of 1973, he is even more optimistic. Pastures are good. We have an abundance of moisture. Whaley noted. And even though the moisture held 25 to 35 per cent of the current crops in the field unharvested, I see prosperity in the coming year. He went on to point out that wheat, milo and cattle prices were up and the local agriculture producers had come into their own income-wise, taking their place with others who have been enjoying the employment bounties of Gray County.

Clemente Feared Dead In Atlantic Plane Crash

SAJUAN, P.R. (AP) — A cargo plane carrying the Pittsburgh Pirates' star outfielder Roberto Clemente and four others on a relief flight to Nicaragua crashed into the Atlantic Sunday night, the U.S. Coast Guard reported.

Arrival Passes Quietly

New Year's Eve passed quietly in Pampa with one exception when police were called to investigate a shooting (see story, page 2). There was a New Year's Eve public dance in the M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium where merry-makers ushered the Old Year out and the New Year in.

Search efforts throughout the night yielded no survivors. A spokesman at San Juan International Airport said the four-engine DC7 went down seconds after taking off on a flight to Managua across the Caribbean. Clemente headed Puerto Rico's relief efforts for Nicaragua earthquake survivors.

Mrs. Clemente refused to talk to newsmen, but a sister of the Pirates' star said he had been due to leave Sunday evening for Nicaragua. The Coast Guard said two helicopters and two boats were searching the choppy waters of the Atlantic about one and a half miles north of the San Juan airport but no survivors had been found.

Clemente completed his 18th season with the Pirates in 1972. Last season, he became the 11th man in baseball history to reach 3,000 hits for a baseball career. Clemente had compiled a lifetime batting average of over .300. He won four National League batting titles and hit over 300 13 times.

AFTER A GOOD-YEAR City Officials Optimistic About Municipal Plans

By TEX DEWESE
City Manager Mack Wofford took time out during the weekend to look back into 1972 as a good year and forward to 1973 with optimism in relation to municipal plans and operation. He was joined by Mayor Milo Carlson and city commissioners in the appraisal of city accomplishments during the year just ended and the outlook for a new year just starting.

Completion of the M. K. Brown Memorial Auditorium and Civic Center was listed as the major accomplishment during 1972. The auditorium building was dedicated and opened to the public last April 23. Since then it has become the center of major attractions, conference and convention scenes from all across the Texas Panhandle.

Texas Water Quality Board standards. Drainage structure and paving of N. Sumner St from Coronado Dr. to Kentucky St was completed during the year. More than 30 abandoned and dilapidated buildings were removed during a continuing program to eliminate unsightly and hazardous structures.

Notified Copeland gave chase and stopped the car about 10 miles east of here on I-40. Witnesses to the shooting at a roadside park said the deputy was evidently shot in the arm as he approached the other car. He got off six shots from his own gun, wounding one of the suspects three times before being struck down by the fatal bullet from a .25 caliber automatic.

Childress Man Shot To Death

CHILDRESS—A Childress man was in county jail Sunday night in lieu of $10,000 bond in connection with the Saturday night shooting of Billy Klepper, 40, a Childress service station operator. Wade Bradford, 60, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace J. Paul Goodson on a charge of murder with malice. Childress County Sheriff's deputies said Bradford gave himself up about 3 a.m. Sunday.

1972 Provided Year Of Many Constant Changes

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent
Q You hear that 1972 was quite a year. How did humanity fare?
A Well, the Vietnamese were still fighting Vietnamese and Americans, the Irish were clobbering the Irish, Koreans snapped at Koreans, Arabs still fought with Israelis and quarreled with Arabs, Filipinos warred on Filipinos, Moslems glowered at Hindus, and so on. Things were pretty much the same as usual.

A Not at all. In 1972, President Nixon found so little menace in Moscow and Peking, and in his ham, that he visited both and was lionized by both.
Q Then President Nixon isn't resisting Communists any more?
A Of course he is. While he was in Peking, Americans and their allies were fighting a Communist offensive in Vietnam. While he was in Moscow, the Americans were blockading North Vietnamese ports to keep out Soviet, Chinese and other shipping.

A Of course they do! Leonid Brezhnev, the Soviet chief, is forever warning about creeping capitalism. Peking is always denouncing Americans as imperialists.
Q Doesn't that make it tough to talk business with them?
A Nope. Russians and Americans are talking about such things as the possibility of cutting back on nuclear arms, reducing forces in Europe and all-European security. Soviet trade officials act like Western industrialists, trying to make big deals with American industrialists. Peking has been talking about trade, cultural exchange and other pleasant things.

Q Then the outlook for the future is good?
A One must consider silver linings. The United States and the Soviet Union have built nuclear arsenals capable of blowing each other to bits. The silver lining is that Moscow and Washington are against pollution. They have decided to work together to protect people from it.
Q Things tend, then, to be a bit confusing?
A A bit. Just a few examples.
Near the end of October, peace was "at hand" in Vietnam. Two months later the U.S. air assault was at its fiercest ever.

Britain's Market Entry Brings Little Enthusiasm

LONDON (AP) — Britain surrendered a thousand years of economic independence to join Europe's Common Market today, but there were signs many in the island nation and on the mainland viewed it as just another historic milestone.

A survey showed British public opinion divided over the prospect of lost sovereignty and higher prices. The poll found 39 per cent opposed the move, 38 per cent liked it and 23 per cent had no opinion.

Not everyone on the continent marched to the tune of "Zukunftsmusik," German for "Music of the Future."

"The competition will be fierce and perhaps not very pleasant at first, but it's bound to be good for this country in the end," said George Dowling, 58, a North London businessman.

"Lots of people I know are worried that Britain is going to be bossed from Brussels," said Robert Wheatley, 22, a bank clerk from a London suburb.

"That's probably not true, but many of my friends don't like even the possibility."

Some centralized bossing is inevitable. All the Common Market countries—Britain, Ireland and Denmark, the new members, and France, West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg, the original six—have given up some of their independence.

The basic arrangement is that of a customs union. All members let in each other's goods without duty and charge the same import taxes on goods from outside the nine nations.

But Western Europe's cost of living soars faster than that of the United States, and there are complicating factors in the new accord.

In Denmark, Copenhagen restaurants sold bottles of New Year's champagne at two rates: as much as $22 before midnight and as little as $12 afterwards since taxes on champagne dropped from $6 to $1.

However, tax collectors are likely to point out that both bottles sold in Copenhagen at New Year's had to be imported in 1972. They will want to collect from the restaurants at the old rate.

Bobby buffs in Britain and Ireland got no such favors.

Food will cost more in Britain after Feb. 1 because Common Market prices for farm products are well above world levels. Meat, grain, sugar and dairy products will cost more.

But Britons could get some fruits and vegetables cheaper under the continental system.

The new arrangements add irritation to relations between Western Europe and the United States.

Manufacturing tariffs go down April 1, but the cuts are spread over five years, so the first ones will amount to only two or three per cent on most products.

The present rate of inflation in Britain could boost prices by that much between now and April.

Escapeses Returned To Prison

HOUSTON (AP) — Two men were back in jail today and a third was dead after they tried to break out of the Harris County Jail at knife-point.

Harry Lanham, 25, a convicted murderer, was fatally wounded by a deputy sheriff as he tried to stab the officer Saturday night.

The other two men, James Earl Arivette, 28, and James Winters, 18, were back in jail within an hour.

Sheriff's Capt. Larry Frazier said jailer Walter S. Corney was transporting the men on a jail elevator when Lanham whipped out a homemade knife and told the jailer to let them off at the jail entrance on the third floor.

The wounded prisoner died an hour later while undergoing surgery. He was shot in the chest.

According to statements given police by guests there, all were outside but the victim and his wife when the shooting incident occurred. The visitors said they were leaving because the Loves were angry at each other.

According to their statements, Mrs. Love came running from the house crying for help. One guest went inside and found Love wounded and took him to the hospital in his car.

Police said the gun apparently had been taken from its holster and loaded with only one shell. Other rounds were scattered about the floor.

Mrs. Love had not made a statement to police at press time.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Jerry Stokes, Albany, Ore.; and two sisters, Mrs. E. C. Schaffer and Mrs. Esther Allen, both of Tulsa, Okla.

The body will lie in state at the funeral home until service time.

OF JUMBO JET Extra Copilot Link To Crash

MIAMI (AP) — An extra copilot may be the last living link to what happened in the cockpit of an Eastern Air Lines jumbo jet moments before it crashed in the murky Everglades, killing at least 57 persons.

Federal officials say First Officer Warren Terry, 38, who was not a regular crewman on Flight 401 but was listed on the passenger list as an observer, may have been in the cockpit when the plane crash-landed in the swamp 17 miles northwest of Miami Friday night.

Terry, who joined Eastern Aug. 29, 1966, was listed in "poor condition" early today at Palmetto Hospital in Miami. His injuries were not disclosed, but officials said he was unable to talk.

"If he was in the cabin, he is the last living link to what happened there," said Ed Slattery, a National Transportation Safety Board official.

Terry was believed to be riding in the "jump seat" located behind the pilot seats on the flight deck of the Lockheed 1011. Slattery said NTSB investigators had not been able to establish where he was when the plane crashed, however.

Eastern spokesmen couldn't immediately say why Terry was on the plane, and federal officials said they didn't know either.

Meanwhile, Eastern Air Lines tentatively announced 97 of the 178 passengers and crewmen aboard were killed and 80 others survived.

One person was unaccounted for, an Eastern spokesman said. He said last-minute ticket changes made it difficult to determine who was on the plane when it left New York for Miami.

John H. Reed, chairman of the NTSB, said tapes of the conversations among crew members before the plane went down indicated there was no awareness of danger before impact.

"There is no evidence in what I have found on this tape or any other tape that an emergency situation existed," Reed said. He said no words of alarm were exchanged as the plane banked to make a second landing attempt at Miami International Airport.

The first landing approach was aborted when a control-panel light indicated incorrectly that the front landing gear had not gone down.

Capt. Robert A. Loft's last radio transmission said the gear was down and he wanted clearance to land.

Reed said one of the life-saving factors was the absence of a major fire and the cushioning effect of Everglades mud. Investigators said there was a minor fire which apparently was extinguished by swamp water.

Federal investigators said they examined the hydraulic, control and electrical systems at the crash site and were unable to find mechanical malfunctions.

'Momma's Boy' Dies In Fraternity Prank

NEWHALL, Calif. (AP) — A 21-year-old Southern California college student described by his father as "a Momma's boy" died at the base of a 500-foot wilderness cliff, the victim of a prank by fraternity brothers.

The dead man was identified by relatives as Fred Phillip Bronner, a student at Pierce College in the San Fernando Valley. His body was recovered Sunday in rugged terrain in Angeles National Forest.

Sheriff's deputies said he was last seen Dec. 22 by three Chi Chi Chi fraternity brothers who left him in the forest at 2 a.m. dressed in a sport coat and gym shorts.

"They said they considered the 5-foot-10, 270-pound Bronner 'obnoxious.'"

The victim's father, Leon Bronner, a 52-year-old Polish immigrant, said during the search for his son in the desolate mountainous area:

"I know it is not possible for this child to survive. My son, he was not an athlete. He was fat, and he was raised like a Momma's boy. He never walked. We always drove him."

Diane Bronner said she had opposed her son's decision to join a fraternity because of hazing practices.

"I hope all the fraternities will be closed down because of this," Mrs. Bronner said.

"How can they take my son from his bed at two in the morning and leave him in the mountains? They call themselves brothers but they are not."

Sheriff's deputies said they did not know what charges, if any, would be filed in the case.

"If Bronner went voluntarily, they (the fraternity members) are only guilty of stupidity," a sheriff's spokesman said.

A missing-persons report was filed by three fraternity members six days after Bronner was deserted. Gordon Gillespie, 19; John Bergess, 29, and John Morgan, 21, said they thought Bronner would hike along the Old Ridge Route back to Interstate 5, where he could hitch a ride.

Investigators said the three returned on Dec. 24 to search for Bronner but found only his jacket. Authorities speculated that Bronner could have seen automobile headlights and set out across the hills before he fell over the cliff.

Deputies said the young man probably died of massive head injuries suffered in the fall.

Oswald: "Actually, the only really bad rebid was South's five-diamond call. He really should have doubled four spades. Of course, North would not have left it in and

IT WAS A LANDSLIDE for the Republican ticket. President Nixon and Vice President Agnew took 61 per cent of the popular vote and 49 states for a landmark election triumph. But the GOP did not do so well elsewhere, losing ground to the Democrats in the Senate and in state governorships.

IT WAS ALSO A YEAR OF TRIUMPH ABROAD for President Nixon. The thaw in relations with Communist China culminated in the February journey to Peking and meetings with Mao Tse-tung, top, and Chou En-lai. A Kremlin summit in May with Leonid Brezhnev, below, followed.

BLOOD AGAIN STAINED a presidential campaign. Alabama Gov. George Wallace was shot while campaigning in Maryland. Mrs. Cornelia Wallace leans over her seriously wounded husband in a television camera's view of the shooting.

TERROR TOOK OVER THE OLYMPICS when masked Arab guerrillas seized Israeli hostages. Dead in Munich's Olympic Village and an airport shootout: 11 Israelis and five terrorists.

"PEACE IS AT HAND" Henry Kissinger announced in October. But finishing touches to the cease-fire formula worked out in secret meetings with North Vietnam's Le Duc Tho, above right, dragged on and on.

WAR CONTINUED TO RAVAGE VIETNAM despite intensive peace efforts ranging from Paris to Saigon. The United States ended its ground combat role, but continued bombing pressure on the North. Vividly illustrating their people's tragedy, children flee an accidental napalm attack by South Vietnamese aircraft.

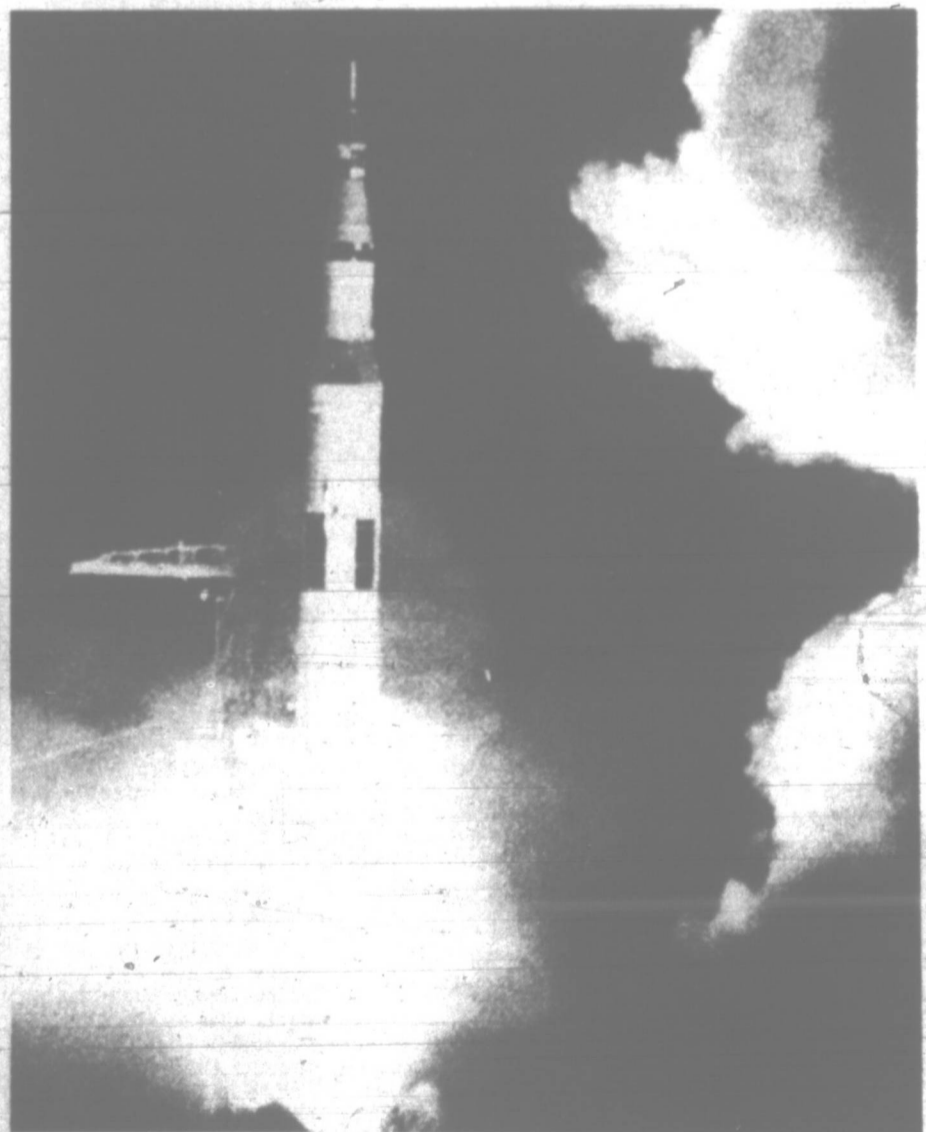

IT WAS ALSO A POLITICAL YEAR for three close allies, but with mixed results. In West Germany, Chancellor Willy Brandt's coalition government won a solid election victory. In Canada Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau lost his parliamentary majority. In Japan, Kakuei Tanaka took over as premier.

BILLION-DOLLAR GRAIN SALE to the Soviet Union was first hailed as a bonanza, but later became a political issue as an alleged windfall for exporters at the expense of farmers. At Wichita, Kans., Russia-bound grain is loaded for rail shipment to ports.

HURRICANE AGNES ravaged the eastern seaboard from Florida through Pennsylvania (above, Harrisburg) in a 19-day rampage at a cost of 118 lives and $2 billion in property damage. Two-thousand miles to the west, a flash flood devastated Rapid City, S.D., claiming more than 200 lives.

BLASTING OFF from Cape Kennedy Dec. 6, Apollo 17 wrapped up the manned moon flight program after 10 years and $25 billion. It followed the successful Apollo 16 April flight.

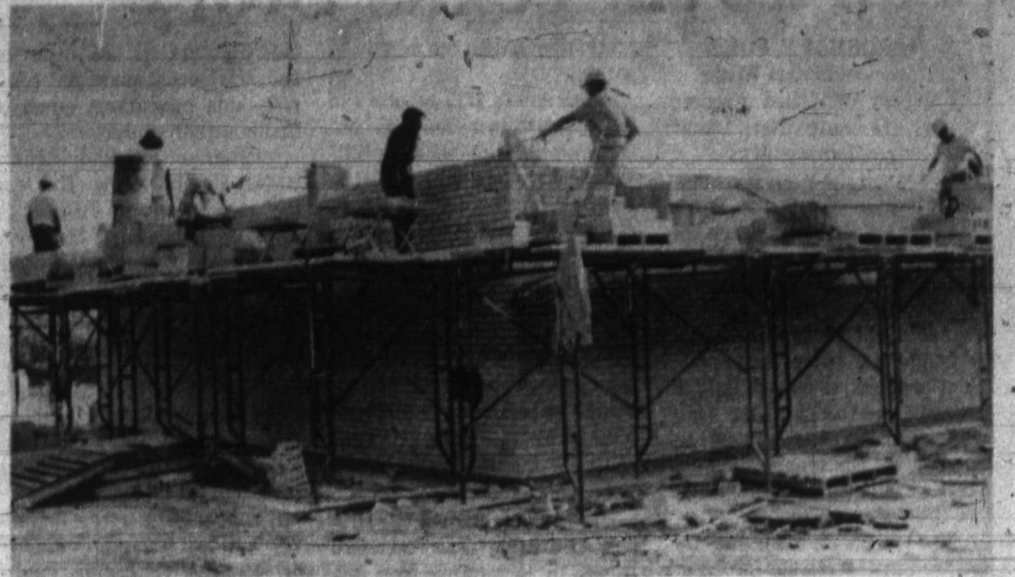

George McGovern, Nixon's opponent; Nguyen Van Thieu, South Vietnamese leader; George Meany, labor leader; Sammy Davis Jr., Party hopper; Thomas Eagleton, Nixon's pick for VP; Clifford Irving, author; J. Edgar Hoover, FBI director; Martha Mitchell, Nixon's wife; Sargent Shriver, Kennedy aide; Duke of Windsor, King's father-in-law; Dita Beard, memo writer; Hole Baggs, missing person.

Gus Mutscher's Decline Top 1972 Texas Story

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

The man's head swayed slightly as Judge Neil Daniel read the verdict of guilty.

And when the word was spoken, a whole new era in Texas politics appeared to sweep the state.

The site was the courthouse at Abilene, and the man convicted was Gus Mutscher, once a bright star in the Texas political heavens, a man of only 39 years expected to go far. Only his slight head movement revealed for the moment his disbelief that such a decision could be returned.

The jury's verdict and the subsequent five-year probation sentence was voted the No. 1 Texas story of 1972 in the annual Associated Press survey. Voting were the men and women who select the stories you read in your newspapers.

Convicted and sentenced with Mutscher, until then speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, were two sidekicks, Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and an aide, Rush McGinty.

They were found guilty of conspiracy to accept a bribe in the Sharpstown bank-stock scandals which broke the year before.

The scandals received credit or blame, too, for the situation that resulted in the No. 2 story of the year—the overturning of the top leadership in state government in the first primary election.

This election saw Gov. Preston Smith and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes defeated—beaten badly—as they sought the Democratic nomination for the governorship.

Smith split a $125,000 profit in the Sharpstown dealings but then vetoed the banking bills which were the heart of the scheme. Barnes was not a part of the deals but the bills passed while he was presiding officer of the Senate.

Shannon was defeated for reelection—as was Mutscher in the second primary. Even Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin lost, although he had nothing to do with Sharpstown. He was criticized for not playing a bigger part in the investigation.

The convictions and the first primary turnovers were well ahead in the voting over the general election in which the Republicans captured the presidential vote in Texas—for only the fourth time in history in this predominantly Democratic state.

The general election possibly took only the No. 3 spot because the outcome was so expected.

Yet ranking eighth in the survey was a related matter—the vote-attempting power of Hank Grover, a Republican unknown, against Democrat Dolph Briscoe, whose name was well established, for governor. Had Grover won the general election, he would have been the first Republican governor of Texas since the questionable election of Reconstruction years when E. J. Davis took the office.

Ranking fourth was the problem of the state in finding a new way to finance schools after a federal court said the ad valorem tax is an injustice because poor districts can't give kids educations equal to that in wealthier districts.

Another set of scandals ranked No. 5 in the voting. This was the revelation of misuse by some legislators of their expense accounts, and the practice of nepotism—the illegal hiring of relatives by members of the legislature.

The state was thrown into an uproar when federal judges ruled that redistricting for the U.S. House of Representatives following the 1970 census did not meet federal laws.

It appeared for a time that the whole districting plan would be scrapped. But higher courts delayed further redistricting until after the 1972 elections. The court decisions ranked No. 6 in the poll.

Revelations concerning John McKee, a high Masonic officer, were voted No. 7. The Dallas resident is a deserter from the Navy living under an assumed name. Dallas authorities said. And he was assessed a seven-year probation sentence for embezzling Masonic funds.

Ranking No. 9 in the poll was the flash flood in the New Braunfels area which took at least 11 lives.

Sports edged into the Top 10 in the voting with the Dallas Cowboys' 24-3 victory over the Miami Dolphins in Super Bowl VI.

The Top Ten

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Here was the way editors voting in the annual Associated Press poll ranked the Top 10 Texas stories of the year.

1. The conviction of House Speaker Gus Mutscher and others as an outgrowth of the Sharpstown loan-stock scandals.

2. The overturning of much of the state's political leadership in the first Democratic primary.

3. The general election in which President Nixon captured Texas.

4. Difficulty in finding a substitute for the ad valorem school tax after it was ruled unconstitutional.

5. Revelations of misuse of expense accounts and of nepotism among certain members of the legislature.

6. Federal court orders for another redistricting plan for the U.S. House.

7. Revelations of John McKee's past and his conviction of embezzling Masonic funds.

8. The unexpectedly strong showing of Republican Hank Grover in his race for the governorship.

9. The flash flood in New Braunfels and surrounding areas.

10. The Dallas Cowboys' victory in Super Bowl VI.

Other stories receiving votes: Plane hijacked from Houston to Dallas, ruling against assessment of costs for holding elections, the all-out crude oil production orders, the first special legislative session, ex-President Johnson's major heart attack, arrival of major league baseball in Dallas.

PERSONAL FINANCE Can't Read Reports Without a Program

By CARLTON SMITH

Knowing how to read a company's annual report is, in theory, an essential of intelligent investing. "Investigate before you invest," the stock exchange itself warns—and for all except a very few investors, the annual report offers the only possibility of making one's own judgment about the soundness of a company and its stock.

Yet it's well known to anyone who deals with investors that few are able to distill from a report the kind of information an investor ought to have before sinking his money in a company.

That's not because the average investor is stupid. The annual reports are a challenge to even the experts, and it's simply a myth to operate on the assumption that the average investor should be able to make decisions based on their reading.

One of the major brokerage firms, Burnham & Company, offers its clients help in trying to decipher annual reports, but cautions that it's impossible, "in a few pages, to turn anyone into an expert securities analyst. That requires much time and training."

What Burnham does, more realistically, is alert the non-professional to "a few danger signals to look for, on the theory that an investor should seek first of all to protect himself from loss." Most commonly, that means avoiding "companies which may be currently popular but lack fundamental soundness."

One notion that Burnham tries to shoot down is that all you have to look for is a company with impressive year-to-year growth in earnings. Emphasis on earnings growth, in the past several years, has "become so inflated in supposed importance that these numbers have tended to dominate the thinking of professional and nonprofessional investors alike." But the numbers can be deceptive.

"All too often," Burnham warns, "we have seen companies which had been reporting excellent earnings regressions suddenly reporting disastrous results, or even seeking the protection of bankruptcy court." What went wrong?

"Accounting regulations still allow corporations wide leeway in how they report their results. Thus, apparently excellent earnings can mask marked deterioration in a company's operations."

Investors would do well to remember those last two sentences—and learn to look behind the optimistic (and usually juggled) figures on the alert for danger signals. A few of the major ones in

• An auditor's certificate precedes the financial report. Does it give them a clean bill of health, or are there "exceptions?"

• Are there lengthy or numerous footnotes to the financial figures? Close attention should be given to "in a" regarding "says Burnham.

• Compare net sales (in the income statement) with receivables (the balance sheet). And look for a sizable deferred tax item. Together, these can indicate sales on which the company isn't collecting—trouble which, Burnham cautions, can lead to "a cash bind, requiring either debt or equity financing, and in some cases bankruptcy."

• These are a few of the more easily readable danger signals. Even just being able to recognize all the red flags requires fairly extensive instruction in the art of reading reports. So don't feel frustrated if you, along with several million others, can't make brilliant investment decisions on the basis of the annual reports.

Soaring Stock Market Expected To Continue

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market soared to new highs in 1972, as New York Stock Exchange volume topped the four-billion-share mark and the Dow Jones industrial average cracked the magic 1,000-point closing level.

Signs that the economic recovery was gathering momentum, and growing hopes for a Vietnam peace helped push the market to new peaks in the latter part of the year.

The year began in the throes of an intermediate rally which began in November 1971, with the Dow under 800.

That rally, spurred by 1971's Smithsonian agreements on monetary reform and expectations for an improving domestic economy, continued through April, when the Dow topped out at 970.

Then came a consolidation phase, during which on three occasions the Dow got back to the 970 level and each time fell back — in May, August and September.

The market then entered an intermediate "bear phase" from April through October, said Larry Wachtel, analyst at Bache & Co., triggered in part by the rising presidential star of George McGovern and his "somewhat radical economic stance." While the Dow was moving laterally, the market was going steadily lower in terms of advances and declines.

When the Dow broke through the 970-980 resistance level in early November, "everything else was icing on the cake," Wachtel said.

On Nov. 14, the Dow shot up 6.00 points to close at 1003.16, the first time ever above what always seemed to be the unimaginable 1,000 level.

"Breaking the 1,000 barrier was psychologically important to everyone," said Charles M. Lewis, managing partner of Winkler, Cantor, Pomboy.

About this time, the Vietnam peace talks began to heat up, adding new impetus to the market's upward momentum. Economic statistics were also strong, and President Nixon's landslide re-election reassured jittery Wall Street investors, Wachtel noted.

"Many of the worries and concerns that disturbed investors at the beginning of the year began to wear down," said Meale Gordon, research director at Dreyfus Corp. It became apparent, he said, that there would be no repetition of the credit crunch that plagued investors in 1969-70.

Meanwhile, corporate earnings reports showed that price controls and profit-margin restrictions were not unduly disrupting business profits.

So the market entered a new intermediate-term bull phase, Wachtel noted, "a phase which should continue well into 1973."

During this period, various market indicators touched all-time highs. On Dec. 11, the Dow Jones industrial average closed at a record 1036.27 and the Big Board index of more than 1,400 common stocks hit a record 65.14.

Analysts noted that the market's strength had spread out from the blue-chip sector to include virtually all segments of the Big Board and many of the secondary over-the-counter and American Stock Exchange issues.

Trading climbed to record levels on the Big Board, prodded in part by heavy institutional activity. On March 14, a 5,245,000-share block of American Motors was sold by Kaiser Industries, in line with its previously announced intention to get out of the auto business.

The sale represented the largest single block ever traded in terms of number of shares. The previous record had been a 3,248,000-share Allis Chalmers block traded Feb. 8, 1971.

Snags in the Vietnam peace talks caused the market to pull back somewhat in late December, but most analysts were still anticipating a bullish 1973.

"There is a strong feeling that next year will be a better year than 1972, and we expect the Dow to be in the 1,200 area by mid-1973," said Lewis.

"The biggest risk next year is the threat of possible restimulated inflationary pressures," declared Robert Johnson, analyst with Paine, Webber, Jackson & Curtis.

WORRY CLINIC By George W. Crane, Ph.D., M.D.

Gen. Hershey, at 79, runs circles around most of our clergymen in public speaking. For he watches his audience; mixes relevant humor adroitly with his serious pronouncements; then ends with a punchy terminal statement.

CASE V-584: Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, now aged 79, should really be called the world's foremost Personnel Psychologist.

For he helped devise and later directed our Selective Service system through World War II and later conflicts.

Like George Washington, he retired from active military service as a Major General in 1946.

But President Truman again made him Director of Selective Service in 1947.

Earlier this year we shared the platform for a splendid Flag Day celebration.

As a preliminary introduction for Gen. Hershey, I lauded his Hoosier "Horse Sense."

For he started life as a country school teacher in Northern Indiana, and then became a school principal.

He is still a dynamo of energy and a snappy public speaker who mixes humor and witticisms with his pungent oratory.

"I'd rather see a teen-ager trying to imitate those much older than his years," the General declaimed, "than witness an older man trying to act kiddish."

He delivered a punchy 18-minute address, well interspersed with appropriate jokes.

And he got a standing ovation for his abrupt conclusion, wherein he said:

"An awkward, inexperienced high school boy was dancing with a cute coed classmate.

"She winced several times when he would step on her toes. As the dance concluded, the boy told her, 'I want to have the last dance with you tonight!'"

"To which she replied, 'You've had it!'"

With a grin General Hershey told his vast crowd, "You've had it."

Then he left the microphone and sat down, amid vociferous applause.

Many laymen tend to think a General may deliver a dry, documentary address.

But Generals and Admirals, as well as college presidents, usually obtain a vast amount of public speaking experience.

For they are called upon to face literally hundreds of audiences.

So they usually become very adept in the use of public platform psychology.

For a man who becomes a top military officer, or church bishop, college president or eminent politician, must have a very high I.Q.

If he then fortifies his clever mind with practical experience ("Horse Sense"), he can hold an audience captivated.

For there are very definite rules of public speaking but, alas, many clergymen ignore them.

Any smart person, aspiring to reach the top in his field, whether that be athletics, business or oratory, should analyze the leaders in his specialty and imitate their technique.

Yet many clergymen are noted for their stodgy sermons, though they could soon become excellent orators if they'd just pattern after known topnotch public speakers.

But I've personally heard them sneer at Bishop Sheen, Billy Graham, Dr. Peale, Rabbi Samuel Silver and other superb orators.

So send for my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 25 cents.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 25 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Inflation Seen As Major Problem For Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy is expected to continue its fast-paced growth in 1973, but the rate of inflation lurks as a major problem for President Nixon's economic policymakers.

Publicly committed against raising taxes, Nixon faces some important economic decisions in the next 12 months centering around keeping federal spending under rein.

Congress also will play an important role. If it should pass a major tax reform bill or step up the pace of federal spending, the impact on the economy would be profound.

The economic outlook is for continued recovery. Both private and government economists forecast a rise of about 6 per cent in the market value of goods and services in terms of noninflated or "real dollars." Prices are expected to go up about 3.5 per cent.

The outlook is remarkably close to what is actually occurring in 1972, but with one major difference. The economy doesn't have as much slack as it did at this time last year. This means that the continuation of high growth must trigger new inflationary pressures.

The administration is considering the problem, realizing that there is always a tradeoff between unemployment and inflation. It must decide how fast it wants the economy to go to make further gains against unemployment without touching off a new round of inflation.

Forecasts for the jobless rate in 1973 vary among economists, but most bunch their outlooks in the 5 to 5.2 per cent range. The rate at the end of the year stood about midway between 5 and 6 per cent. Full employment is usually thought of as a 4 per cent unemployment rate.

There is evidence, however, that President Nixon's economists believe that it might be too risky to go all out to cut the jobless rate to 4 per cent through further stimulation of the economy. This might set off an inflationary boom that would take years to bring under control, the argument goes.

There is an additional complicating factor in 1973. It is a year in which many large labor contracts will be negotiated.

The administration is holding out hope that workers will demand moderate wage increases this year. Nixon's economic officials have been arguing that the demands for higher wages should be less in 1973 than in 1970 because of a slowing of the rate of inflation.

But holding wage boosts to 5.5 per cent, the standard adopted by the Pay Board, may be difficult in 1973, particularly if the Consumer Price Index keeps going up as sharply as it did in September and October.

Price Commission Chairman C. Jackson Grayson Jr. has urged employers to refrain from paying any more than 5.5 per cent. The commission doesn't allow companies to include wages over 5.5 per cent as part of the costs that must be used to justify price boosts.

Labor unions have a counter argument. They can point to the recent price indicators showing a possible renewing of inflationary pressures. The psychology will be important.

The Nixon administration set as its target for wage-price controls a slowing of the rate of inflation to the range of 2 to 3 per cent by the end of 1972. All the evidence won't be in until mid-January, but the figures released late in the year showed a rate closer to 3.5 per cent.

The effectiveness of wage-price controls probably will be debated for years. Grayson believes they have trimmed inflation by as much as 1.5 per cent from what the rate might have been without controls. The Brookings Institution agrees with this conclusion.

The Economic Stabilization Act under which Nixon imposed controls on Nov. 14, 1971 expires officially April 30, 1973. Congress must extend the law, or the controls must be dropped.

The President has committed himself to keeping them until relative price stability is achieved.

That phrase has never been defined. Nixon ended uncertainty about his attitude on continuing wage-price controls, announcing early in December he would ask Congress for an extension of the Economic Stabilization Act which expires April 30.

The President left in doubt how long an extension would be sought as well as any proposed changes. But he did relay through Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz word that a modified control system would be established before next April 30. This presumably will be long-awaited Phase III.

Not to be pushed into the background by the emphasis on controls is the administration's efforts to control federal spending. For the fiscal year that ends next June 30, the President wants to keep spending to $250 billion, but he must withhold several billion dollars voted by Congress to achieve this goal.

The fiscal 1974 budget that will be submitted to Congress in a few weeks will be an austere one, officials in the Office of Management and Budget indicate. Just the same, it will be difficult to keep the budget from being a tool for triggering inflation.

The budget deficit for fiscal 1973 is expected to approach $30 billion. In fiscal 1974, the administration will try to hold it under that amount.

But the important thing is whether the budget is in deficit on a "full-employment" basis, the guide Nixon has been using in his spending program.

As Nixon's officials describe it, this means holding spending to a theoretical limit: the amount of money the nation's tax system would produce if the economy were operating at 4 per cent unemployment. This means deficits in bad or slack economic times. It means surpluses in good or relatively good times.

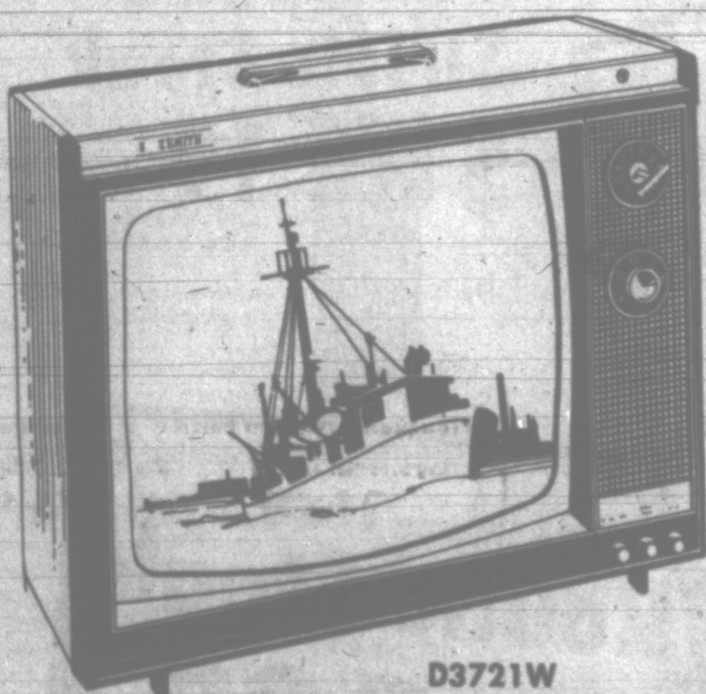

But if the budget ever goes beyond this theoretical ceiling, it is considered to be inflation-inviting fiscal policy.

Big Business Of Child Support Becoming Problem Headache

By RENA PEDERSON
Associated Press Writer

The burly man figured and looked embarrassed. He had just been reprimanded for leaving his children penniless and spending his child support payments on a motorcycle.

"Four children is an awful lot of children to go without child support for nearly a year. What kind of money can you offer them right now?" asked the judge.

"I haven't got any savings. $19 is all I have in the world," he said.

The wife, who had been standing aside with her head down, was asked if she had an emergency need for the money.

"I just want to get them some coats," she said. "They need coats."

The judge worked out a pay schedule with the husband and gave him a stern lecture. "Until you realize that the first thing that comes out of that paycheck is you money for your children, then we're not going to get anywhere and you'll go to jail," the judge chided.

A survey of child support divisions of the state welfare department shows an increasing number of fathers playing the artful dodger to avoid child support requirements after divorce.

Child support in Texas has become a legal headache for courts and a heartache for children and their mothers. It also is big business.

In Dallas, for instance, payments made through the courts this year will top $15 million and in Houston the figure is $20 million.

"The figures would actually be higher if you figured in those who pay directly to their ex-wives or not at all," said Tom Needam of the Harris County child support section.

"It goes up every year," he said. "It's a real tragedy the number of men who have children—and then abandon them and get away with it. It's making this country matriarchal. I've been in this business for 14 years and I can see it's a vicious circle. The tragedy is the children that are getting hurt. They see a father that is irresponsible and they learn responsibility as the norm. Neglect follows neglect. It just breaks your heart."

Most of the divorcees who can't afford a lawyer work through the county to serve papers on their husbands. There is little hope of collecting the larger arrears, but if the father starts paying current support and pays a little of the back payments, he will postpone jail. Last year hundreds defaulted a second time because they could not or would not pay and went to jail. The charge, however, is contempt of court, not failure to support.

"Court action is the only recourse these women have and often that is not effective. If the man wants to be elusive and dodge his payments he can get by while the children suffer. And if a man wants to hide out while starting a second or third family, Texas is big enough to do it in," said Miss Jean White.

a lawyer who defends Dallas cases involving less than $20.

Many of the women fight in court for child support for as little as $5 a week so they can hire a babysitter and get a job.

"Many of these women are forced onto welfare because they can't get child support to free them for a job," explained Miss White.

Ralph Waters, chief of the civil division of the Dallas County Sheriff's Office, said his office may handle 11,000 legal papers a month dealing with errant support payments.

Capt. Arthur Villarreal in Bexar County agrees that both the number and difficulty of the cases in San Antonio are overwhelming. "If they want to stay hid, they can. We can't enter his house unless invited and he can always deny his identification. Many times their parents hide their sons," Villarreal said.

"I imagine we have nearly 13,000 cases going right now," said Dist. Atty. James A. Bloomingdale in San Antonio. "Let's face it. Divorces have increased. That's what's starting the problem. Most of the divorces are started by financial problems and usually lead to a worse financial problem when it comes to supporting the children."

"It seems to be a social trend that you can pin on irresponsibility. The irresponsibility is destroying the family system and the decay is causing crime. Most of the juveniles I handle come from a scene of neglect," Bloomingdale said.

The whole child support scene appears to be a vision merry-go-round.

"It seems to be an irreversible trend with the divorce rate accelerating all over the state and people getting married two and three times," Miss White said. "I had 1,434 complaints last month."

Numerous lawyers who feel the trend can be reversed are working through the State Bar of Texas on a new family code that will be introduced in the next legislature. "The new code would propose other remedies besides contempt of court," explained Mrs. Louise Raggio, a Dallas lawyer. "It would add a remedy of money judgment or garnishment like they have in California. If a father—or mother—is remiss in their child support, then the court can claim property such as a cabin cruiser or motorcycle to help settle the debt."

"If this procedure becomes automatic, or if courts have the right to require employers to deduct support payments from payroll checks, then I suspect there would be fewer parents in default," she said.

Mrs. Raggio said that it should be in the state's interest to tighten child support regulations.

"The state should save enough money on welfare by helping mothers get their support payments to make up the cost of enforcement. The mothers could get babysitters and get jobs that would reduce the welfare rolls," she said.

"It also would help prevent some instances of juvenile crime and repeat generations of deprived children," Mrs. Raggio said.

Most persons who work with child support problems agree more time and money could be invested to improve the system.

Other than that, they shrug and say the problem is "human nature."

"The law can't do everything," said Needham, a veteran in support problems. "This irresponsibility has got to stop but we can't force everyone to be fair in treating their children."

"I think parents should educate their sons to accept the responsibilities they have to assume in adult life and educate their daughters to be more judicious when marrying. If these young girls could see some of the divorces and child support problems I've seen, they'd be more careful before they run off and get married."

The Best Of Dear Abbey

DEAR ABBY: Please, no names or cities on this. I am a 51-year-old widow. I'm considered attractive. I have no family responsibilities as my only child is married.

I have dated a number of eligible men, but there is one I care for above all the others. He's 57, but looks much younger. We've been dating for about six months, and I know he cares for me, too. He has been an absolute angel and a perfect gentleman. Last night he told me he loved me, but would not propose marriage because he had had surgery a few years ago, which terminated his sex life.

I told him it didn't matter to me because I never placed much importance on sex anyway, which is the God's honest truth!

He said I was only being "kind," and in a few years I would feel "cheated." I swore to him on a stack of Bibles that I meant what I said. How can I convince this wonderful man that I want to marry him?

WILLING WIDOW

DEAR WILLING: Get a higher stack of Bibles.

DEAR ABBY: Your comment to "Lady Dreamer" reminded me of a cute saying I'd like to share.

"The neurotic BUILDS dream castles. The psychotic LIVES in them, and the psychiatrist collects the rent."

MRS. L. P.

DEAR MRS. L. P.: A competent psychiatrist doesn't "collect the rent" for anyone's dream castles. Instead he helps his patient to find a dwelling he can actually LIVE in. And his fee is more appropriately the cost of moving.

DEAR ABBY: I have just returned from an interview for a secretarial position. The boss himself interviewed me, and I must say, I was surprised at some of the questions he asked me.

He wanted to know if I was on "the Pill." I had already told him I was recently divorced.

Then he asked, "Do you drink?" I told him I didn't. Then he smiled and added, "Not even a little social drinking once in a while?" I said "No. I just don't care for it." Then he looked at me like I was some kind of oddball.

He also asked me if I ever "turned on" with drugs. By that time I had had it, and replied, "Good grief, no!"

I doubt if that interview will result in a job offer. But if it does, I shall turn it down.

Not having sought employment for 10 years, perhaps I am out of touch with today's scene. But I'd like to know if these questions are routine in an interview today? Or did this particular man have something else in mind?

SHOCKED IN MANHATTAN

DEAR SHOCKED: The questions you were asked were not routine, and I suspect the man who interviewed you had fringe benefits in mind. For HIM—not you.

DEAR ABBY: Last weekend I was falsely accused of having an affair with the wife of a fellow worker. This fellow telephoned me at 7 a.m. and informed me that he had some good news and some bad news. The bad news was that I wouldn't be able to spend the weekend with his wife. The good news was that instead of doing me physical harm for having fooled around with his wife (which I never did), he had thrown a brick thru the windshield of my automobile!

I thought it was all a joke. Now comes the problem: Later that morning, I found a $100 check in my car and a note from this fellow stating, "After contemplating my rash behavior, I realized how foolishly I behaved, so this $100 will cover the damages to your car."

I replaced the windshield, which amounted to $30. What should I do with the remaining $70? "ON THE LEVEL"

DEAR ON: Buy yourself a bulletproof vest. You never know what a nut like that will do next.

DEAR ABBY: May I give your readers the benefit of my very valuable experience? I address this to any woman who is "in love" with a married man:

Never expect to see him on Sundays or holidays.

Never call him at home.

Don't ever expect him to take you out in public, but be prepared to entertain him at your place. He may bring a bottle or the steaks occasionally, but in actual dollars and cents you will spend more on him than he'll spend on you.

Never depend on him in times of personal crisis. Don't believe him when he tells you his wife is a shrew, cold, homely, too fat, or too thin, and she hasn't slept with him for 10 years.

Don't ever expect his wife to divorce him—even if she catches him. She knows that you are not his first and won't be his last. Also, she is not about to give up her social status, financial security and retirement income because of you. However, her discovery will probably terminate his affair with you, so be prepared to get some new clothes, circulate, and find another married man whose wife is a shrew, cold, homely, too fat (or too thin) and hasn't slept with him for 10 years. Sign me

HIS WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Bravo! Thanks for sharing.

DEAR ABBY: I hope you won't think this is too dumb to answer. Can a girl get pregnant from kissing? DALLAS

DEAR DALLAS: No. But it's a good beginning.

DEAR ABBY: My husband sleeps in his underwear. He wears the long woolen kind, and he sleeps in the same underwear he has worn all day. The problem is getting him to change it. Abby, there are four suits of clean underwear in his drawer, but he won't put on a clean pair without a fight. I can't even get his underwear away from him to put in the wash. Don't tell me to grab it when he's in the bathtub. He doesn't bathe much either. Please help me. He is getting pretty ripe.

FARGO, N. D.

DEAR FARGO: Look at it this way. You don't have to worry about another woman stealing him. And he's easy to find in the dark. But if you want action, try begging, bribing, nagging, and leaving! And in that order.

DEAR ABBY: I know a man who took his wife and recently widowed sister in law to a baseball game. No sooner had the three of them sat down in their reserved seats when in came a gentleman and his young son, and sat right beside them. The man who had brought the two ladies happened to know the late entry, so he introduced him to the women.

The gentleman, who happened to be a widower, had the seat right next to the widowed sister in law. The two of them hit it off very well. Six months later they were making wedding plans!

Not until then did the widow learn that her brother in law had bought ALL FIVE TICKETS, and seated her right next to his friend.

Wouldn't you say this was a lot better than trying to arrange a blind date? IT HAPPENED IN HOUSTON

DEAR HAPPENED: Much! Had the brother in law asked his friend if he wanted to meet a nice widow, the friend would probably have said, "No thanks, I know enough widows."

And if he had asked his sister in law if she wanted to go out with a nice gentleman, she probably would have asked, "How tall is he?"

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FROM THE OLD SCHOOL": Welcome to the club. Very few of us who had "old-world" parents were told "the facts of life" by our mothers. All my mother told me, God bless her, was never to put bananas in the refrigerator.

DEAR ABBY: What has happened to you? You used to encourage married couples to do everything within their power to save their marriages. Lately, you give the impression that divorce could be the answer for some couples. Why?

FAITHFUL READER

DEAR READER: Because I think it's more important to save people than marriages. And in some cases, in an effort to save the marriage, people have destroyed themselves.

DEAR ABBY: Please tell me, am I an old-fashioned, prissy, 52-year-old wife, mother, and grandmother because I don't enjoy going to X-rated movies? My husband thinks I am.

He asked me to go to one of those movies with him and I did, and I didn't care for it at all. To me sex is something beautiful between a husband and wife, and I don't like to see it exploited before my eyes on a movie screen.

My husband says it turns him on. Well, it turns me OFF! Do you think I should go to sexy movies with him just to keep him company? I find them humiliating.

OLD FASHIONED

DEAR OLD: If your husband needs an X-rated film to turn him on, let him go alone. And tell him to hurry straight home before you turn IN, or he's turned OFF!

DEAR ABBY: How do you feel about women using the title "Ms." in order to keep their marital status confidential? All men are called "Mr." which gives no one a clue as to whether they are married or single, which in some cases could be to their advantage. Don't you think women should demand equal privacy in their marital status? MS. SCHWARTZ

DEAR MS. SCHWARTZ: If it's equality women want, instead of adopting "Ms." to conceal their marital status, they should insist that all men be identified according to THEIR marital status. [After all, a woman has a right to know whether a man is a bachelor, married, divorced, a widower, or just swinging.]

Example: Joe Blow, M. M. [Married Man]; Moe Schmo, B.R. [Bachelor]; WR. for widower; AV for available, or T. O. L. for Temporarily on the Loose. Girls?

DEAR ABBY: Now that women have demanded equal rights, particularly in the area of employment, I wonder how many females will apply for jobs as ditch diggers, plumbers, coal miners, garbage collectors and slaughterhouse butchers?

I am aware that not all women in the world are pushing for equality, but those who are have made so much noise about it that I can no longer give up my seat on a bus to a lady. And I will never stand back and let a lady go first, unless, of course, she wants to jump out of a window, or off a bridge.

Sincerely Yours,
JOHN IN OREGON

DEAR JOHN: After you, sir!

DEAR ABBY: About four months ago, the house across the street was sold to a "father and son"—or so we thought. We later learned it was an older man about 50 and a young fellow about 34.

This was a respectable neighborhood before this "odd couple" moved in. They have all sorts of strange looking company. Men who look like women, and women who look like men; blacks, whites, Indians, and yesterday I even saw two nuns go by there.

They must be running some sort of business, or a club. There are motorcycles, expensive sports cars, and even bicycles parked in front and on the lawn. They keep their shades drawn so you can't see what's going on inside but they must be up to no good, or why the secrecy?

We called the police department and they asked if we wanted to press charges? They said unless the neighbors were breaking some law there was nothing they could do.

Abby, these weirdos are wrecking our property values! How can we improve the quality of this once-respectable neighborhood? UP IN ARMS

DEAR UP: You could move.

Fish rain from the sky? 'We saw it happen'

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: The man who told his wife he saw fish falling from the sky was not crazy; neither was he lying. In the summer of 1926, I caddied at a local golf course. There had been a long drought that summer and the fairways were brown and dried up.

One afternoon while I was caddying, a sudden storm came up and a terrific thundershower followed. Rain came down in torrents, and with it came a shower of tiny frogs about the size of nickels. They were alive and jumping all over thousands of them!

The golfers and I couldn't believe our eyes as we watched thousands of frogs come right down with the rain from the sky. We saw it happen.

WM. A. WALKER, EVANSVILLE, IND.

DEAR ABBY: Here I have gone all my 70 years without writing a letter to a columnist, but now Dear Abby has finally smoked me out. I can't sleep until I help out that poor devil whose wife thinks he needs to see a shrink because he said he saw it raining fish!

He may have. In some areas, summer storms are preceded by twisters which are in reality tornadoes that suck up an immense amount of water from a stream or pond, and with it all the life that is in it. It's converted into a "waterspout" and carried for miles before it's deposited in a shower of rain.

If anyone doubts this, write to me, and I'll spin some wonderful yarns about flying saucers.

F. C. MILLER, SAN DIEGO, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I was raised on a farm in Minnesota, and as a boy I remember a storm coming up. It looked serious so we all ran to the cellar. In 40 minutes it was all over.

Afterwards, we went outside and saw our chickens going wild, eating tiny fish and frogs. We were inland at least 10 miles, so the only explanation was that a tornado had sucked them up out of a stream and had dumped them on our farm. This is not a fish story. I saw it with my own eyes.

FLOYD J. McMANUS, LAGUNA BEACH, CAL.

DEAR ABBY: I lived on a farm three miles from Ashland, Wis. A storm came up suddenly and afterwards I saw little tiny fish in the cowtracks around our barn. I'm no fish story. I am 80 years old.

RICHARD HAGSTROM, ZIG ZAG, ORE.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine named Ed Brady heard something strike the roof of his home during a severe rainstorm, and the next day he found a big eel in his rainbarrel. He lived half a mile from the river. This occurred at Otaquaga, N. Y. Ed Brady still lives there and can verify it.

H. D. JOHNSON, WALTON, N. Y.

DEAR ABBY: I personally drove thru a "rainstorm" of tadpoles in western Missouri 14 years ago.

TADPOLES FALLING ON MY HEAD IN DODGE CITY, KAS.

DEAR ABBY: I learned about how fish could be sucked up by a funnel cloud and dropped miles inland when I was a lad in public school in Holland, 35 years ago.

Y. Y. OUDSHOORN, VICTORIA, B. C., CANADA

DEAR ABBY: Of course it could have rained fish. It rained HERRING in Scotland in March of 1817. The "herring rain" lasted about an hour, and this is no fish story.

KIM LONG, WHEELING, W. VA.

DEAR ABBY: About 35 years ago while I was driving thru a thunderstorm near Hershey, Pa., dozens of tiny frogs came down and pelted the hood of my automobile.

Barkley-Cloyd Vows Are Exchanged In Groom

MR. AND MRS. RAY CLOYD
...nee Cheryl Barkley

The first person to sail around the world alone was Joshua Slocum of New England, who made the trip between 1895-98.

More than half of the estimated six million flamingos in the world live on the alkaline lakes of the Great Rift valley in Africa.

The marriage of Cheryl Ann Barkley and Ray Glen Cloyd was solemnized at 2:30 p.m., Sunday, Dec. 17 in the home of the bride's parents, in Groom.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Barkley, of Groom, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Cloyd, 808 N. Dwight, Pampa.

Max Wade, Justice of Peace, officiated for the double-ring ceremony, before an archway decorated with red ribbons centered with white wedding bells.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white double knit, street-length dress of empire style. Lengths were enhanced the waistline of the dress which featured a bow at the back. Her shoulder-length veil of French illusion of seed pearls fell from a coil.

Mrs. Carol Ann Grady, of Brice, Tex., was matron of honor. She was attired in a white lace dress, a red headpiece and her flowers were a nosegay of red carnations. Dave Callison, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man.

For the reception, a red cloth with white lace overlay covered the serving table which held red candles and a red and white carnation centerpiece. Crystal, and silver appointments completed the setting.

The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with white bells centered among red roses.

Teresa Cloyd, sister of the bridegroom, served cake and Patricia Barkley, sister of the bride, assisted at the punch bowl.

The bride traveled in her wedding dress and lifted the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will reside at 1111 S. Banks, Pampa.

The bride is a 1972 graduate of Groom High School and is presently a student of Pampa College of Hairdressing.

The bridegroom is a 1972 graduate of Pampa High School and is employed by Cabot Corp., Hughes Bldg.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. John Grady, Brice, Tex., Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sanders, Jr., Wisner, La., Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Udles and Ron, Clarendon, Jody Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Simons and Gayle and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Tongan, all of Pampa.

Miami And Redskins Go To Super Bowl

Dolphins Beat Steelers 21-17 For AFC Crown

PITTSBURGH (AP) — It's wait until next year for the young Pittsburgh Steelers, but next year is now for the Miami Dolphins, pro football perfectionists.

The Dolphins earned the right to meet the Washington Redskins in Super Bowl VII Jan. 14 by defeating the Steelers 21-17 here Sunday in the American Football Conference title game.

Larry Seiple's daring dash on a fake punt and quarterback Bob Griese's off-the-bench heroics enabled Don Shula's Dolphins to boost their record to 16-0 and end the best season in Steeler history.

The frenzied chants of Gerela's Gorillas and Franco's Italian Army and the touch of magic that had been a Steeler trademark all season weren't enough against Miami.

Seiple's 37-yard run from punt formation set up the tying score, but the momentum really swung when Shula replaced veteran Earl Morrall with Griese, who had played just one game since breaking his leg five months ago.

The Steelers had taken a 10-3 lead in the third quarter on a field goal by Roy Gerela, but Griese engineered the two touchdown drives that meant the difference.

The Steelers, who finished with a 12-4 record after winning the first division title in their 40-year history, were in the game until the end.

However, Terry Bradshaw, hospitalized last week with the flu and bothered by headaches and a pinched nerve in his left shoulder, was intercepted twice in the closing moments.

The Dolphins, who lost to the Dallas Cowboys in last year's Super Bowl, came from behind to beat Pittsburgh, just as they did last week against the Cleveland Browns.

Morrall, who guided the Dolphins offense in Griese's absence, gave Pittsburgh its only big break of the game in the first period when he tossed a pass that John Rower intercepted at the Miami 48-yard line.

With rookie Franco Harris eating up yardage, the Steelers drove to the Miami two-where Bradshaw rolled to his left.

He was hit hard by Miami safety Jake Scott and fumbled into the endzone, where Pittsburgh tight end Gerry Mullins recovered for a Steeler touchdown.

"We got that first touchdown and I thought, 'Here we go,'" said Bradshaw, who predicted last week that the Steelers would win.

Early in the second quarter, however, Seiple was back to punt on fourth down at the Pittsburgh 49 when he elected to run and gained 37 yards to the Steeler 12. Two plays later Morrall passed nine yards to Larry Conka for the tying touchdown.

"We changed up a little bit on our punt rush for the first time this year," Steeler Coach Chuck Noll said.

"We opened this game by putting pressure on with one man instead of two," he added. "And the second time we did it he put the ball under his arm and ran. It was a very alert play."

Seiple, a 27-year-old Kentuckian who has one of the last short haircuts and clean-shaven faces in pro football, said he improvised on the play.

"I never thought of it until the situation opened up," he declared. "I saw everyone turn around and look for the ball, and it was a split second decision to run ... It has to be the most exciting thing in my career."

The game remained tied at 7-7 until the third quarter when Terry Hanratty led Pittsburgh on a 73-yard drive to the Miami seven, to set up a Gerela field goal.

Hanratty played the second and third quarters, while Bradshaw rested on the bench after complaining of grogginess and headaches.

"Bradshaw was having trouble out there, he was forgetting things," said Noll. "We wanted to give his head a chance to clear up."

It was in the third quarter that Griese entered the game and promptly hit Paul Warfield with a 32-yard pass to the Steeler 24-yard line.

With the help of an offside penalty that nullified a Jack Ham interception, Miami scored nine plays later on a two-yard run by Jim Kick and made the score 14-10 Dolphins.

"I was so sure we'd win," said defensive end Dwight White, offside on the Ham interception. "I knew what we had. I knew what they had. It's gonna be a long season."

The Dolphins extended their lead to 21-10 in the fourth quarter when Miami drove 49 yards for a touchdown after Maly Moore blocked a field goal try by Gerela.

Conka and Mercury Morris ate up yardage on the drive before Kick powered in from the three.

Bradshaw then came off the bench and it looked for a while like Pittsburgh was about to pull another miracle like the one that beat Oakland a week ago.

Bradshaw passed nine yards to Larry Brown, 25 to Al Young, 25 to Ron Shanklin and 12 to Young for the touchdown at 9:39. Young made a brilliant one-handed catch on the score and the crowd went wild.

The Steeler defense, spurred by the rabid home fans, then forced a Miami punt, but Bradshaw was intercepted by Nick Buoniconti.

Miami drove to the Pittsburgh nine where Conka was stacked up on fourth and one, but Mike Kolen intercepted another Bradshaw pass and the season was over for the Steelers and only beginning for Miami.

Rose Bowl

Southern Calif. (11-0)

Gunningham
The Trojans easily topped the national polls in outlasting to an undefeated season. They piled up a composite score of 425-117 and didn't let anybody get closer than nine points (30-21 win over Stanford). Soph tailback Anthony Davis scored 18 touchdowns, rushed for 1034 yards and ground game is bolstered by Rod McNeill, Sam Cunningham and quarterback Mike Roe. Roe and understudy Pat Haden also mounted substantial passing offense, using John McKay (coach's son), Charles Young, Lynn Swann and Davis as main receivers. Defense is led by linebacker Richard Wood and larcenous back Artimus Parker, who intercepted six passes during the season. Not a good team to bet against in the office pool.

(Jan. 1; television: 4:45 p.m. EST on NBC)

Ohio State (9-1)

Gradishor
Arch conservative Buckeyes lost only to Michigan State. (For those who thrive on chain matchups, Southern Cal beat Michigan State by 45 points, Spartans beat OSU by seven.) They rely as usual on methodical ground game, with both freshmen Archie Griffin, Harold Henson rushing for more than 700 yards, Henson scoring 20 touchdowns on ground. Quarterback Greg Hare is also strong runner. Defense adequate, holding opponents to average 290 total yards per game (USC's defense allowed 230-yard average). Linebacker Randy Gradishor is mainstay.

Prediction: USC 38, Ohio State 13

Washington Dominates Dallas Throughout Game

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins, whose last pro football championship came when Franklin D. Roosevelt was in his third term as President, ambushed the Dallas Cowboys Sunday to capture a Super Bowl berth.

Washington's 26-3 victory over Dallas gives the Redskins the National Conference championship and sends them against the Miami Dolphins, 21-17 winners over the Pittsburgh Steelers, for the National Football League's world championship on Jan. 14 in Los Angeles.

"We have a lot to be thankful for," Washington Coach George Allen said. "It was a great team win, a 40-man victory."

Later Sunday night, Allen received a telephone call from President Nixon, who invited the Washington coach and his family to the White House this morning.

"This was close to a perfect game," Allen said. Tom Landry, the Cowboys' coach, agreed.

"Washington deserved to win," Landry said. "They were playing excellent football in every phase."

Dallas never had a chance as the marauding Redskins excelled on offense, defense and the specialty teams. The Cowboys could run only six plays, not counting punts, in the first period, and didn't get a first down until nearly 25 minutes into the game. And that came on a personal-foul penalty against Washington.

Carl Knight, who redeemed himself handsomely in the playoffs after suffering a miserable season, broke the scoreless duel with an 18-yard field goal in the second period. He later added kicks of 39, 46 and 45 to set an NFL playoff record for most field goals in a game.

But the twin lightning bolts from quarterback Billy Kilmer to wide receiver Charley Taylor were the bombs that tore asunder Dallas' vaunted Doomday Defense.

"I think they thought I was going to try to go to (wide receiver) Roy Jefferson more and that could hurt them, so they covered him more," Kilmer said. "So I went to Taylor."

Just after nine minutes into the second quarter, Kilmer found Taylor streaking across the middle on a slant-in to connect on a 35-yard touchdown aerial. That made the score 10-0 before Toni Fritsch added three for Dallas with a 35-yard field goal that hit the left upright, then bounced across.

After that, it was all Washington as the Redskins' Crunch Buck kept quarterback Roger Staubach and his Cowboy cohorts surrounded.

Staubach, getting his first starting call since he was injured in preseason, failed to ignite the potentially explosive Cowboy attack. The former Heisman Trophy winner from Navy connected on only nine of 20 passes for 98 yards.

Kilmer, on the other hand, was nearly flawless, hitting 14 of 18 for 194 yards and the two scores.

"We had our opportunities," Landry said. "But we missed them and they didn't."

College Roundup

Associated Press Sports Writer
Memphis State, tabbed a college basketball powerhouse before the season, has bounced back from a disastrous start and regained its prestige.

The Tigers from the Missouri Valley Conference won their fifth in a row Saturday night, beating Vanderbilt for the first time ever 74-71.

Memphis State, 21-7 last season, was ranked No. 11 in the pre-season Associated Press poll, but the Tigers dropped out of the Top Twenty when they lost three of their first five games. Two of the defeats were dealt in a row by Marquette and Texas.

The Tigers started to click when they beat Navy 80-51. Then followed triumphs over UC-Santa Barbara, Arkansas, Cornell and the conquest of Vanderbilt, the 10th-ranked Commodores' first defeat of the season.

"This was a super win for us," said Coach Gene Bartow of the Tigers. "Playing in Nashville is about as tough as playing Marquette in the Milwaukee Arena," where Memphis State lost to the Warriors 72-69.

Vanderbilt, playing without injured Rod Freeman, wiped out a 14-point deficit and took the lead at 66-65 before Memphis State won on baskets by Larry Kenon and Ken Andrews in the last two minutes.

"This was the kind of game that will help us in our SEC conference play," said Roy Skinner, Vanderbilt coach. "I would rather lose a game like this against a great team like Memphis State than win an easy one against a poorer club."

The Memphis State triumph was one of the exciting games that marked the holiday weekend. No. 1 UCLA made it 53 victories in a row, beating Illinois 71-64 for the Sugar Bowl title, and No. 3 Marquette came from behind and took the Milwaukee Classic with a 75-73 double overtime victory over Wisconsin. It was the Warriors' 79th straight success at the Milwaukee Arena.

In other holiday tourney finals, it was North Carolina over Louisville 89-86 in the Rainbow Classic, Missouri 82-72 over Kansas State in the Big Eight, Davidson over Cincinnati 86-83 in the Charlotte Invitational, Minnesota 83-80 over Oregon State in the Far West Classic, Maryland 90-76 over Syracuse in the Maryland Invitational and Long Beach State 101-89 over Brigham Young in the All-Congress.

Other tourney winners included St. John's of New York in the Holiday Festival; St. Joseph's, Pa. in the Quaker City Classic; Michigan State in the Kodak Classic, Utah State in the Big Blue; Austin Peay in the Claxton Classic; Canisius in the Queen City; Ohio U. in the Razorback Classic; and New Mexico in the Lobo Classic.

Call "A Shame"

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Veteran referee Burns McKinney, retiring after 34 years of officiating in the Southwest Conference, said Sunday he had "never seen anything" like the unsportsmanlike conduct penalty that cost Texas Tech a vital touchdown on Saturday's 32-28 Sun Bowl loss to North Carolina.

Bill Davis, an Atlantic Coast Conference official, made the call that triggered an explosion of anger on the Red Raider bench.

"It (the call) was a shame and a new one on me," said McKinney.

It happened in the second quarter with North Carolina leading 9-0. Tech's Davis Corley blocked a Tar Heel punt and Donald Rives plucked the ball off the ground and ran 32 yards down the sidelines for an apparent touchdown.

However, Davis threw a flag toward Tech Coach Jim Carlen.

McKinney said "Bill told me that a coach was on the field and I (Davis) had to go around him."

"I asked him was it before or after the score," McKinney said. "Davis said it was before the score."

Former California Angel manager Del Rice calls Boston Red Sox rookie catcher Carlton Fisk "a solid hitter with a fine throwing arm." Rice caught 17 years in the major leagues.

Texas Meets Alabama In Cotton Bowl Clash

DALLAS (AP) — The year was 1937.

A rawboned Texan named Sammy Baugh guided Texas Christian to a 16-6 triumph over Marquette. L. D. Meyer, a nephew of the TCU coach scored both touchdowns, one on a 24-yard pass from Baugh.

That's how the Cotton Bowl football classic began 36 years ago.

The 37th, pitting Paul "Bear" Bryant's fourth-ranked Crimson Tide and Darrell Royal's seventh-ranked Texas Longhorns, went into the record books today, adding some new names. Perhaps the names will be those of Roosevelt Leaks and Alan Lowry, Texas' top backs, or All-American Jerry Sisemore.

Possibly the names will be those of Alabama quarterback Terry Davis, offensive lineman John Hannah or running back Steve Bisceglia.

But whoever they'll join the lists along with those of Doak Walker and Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist; Byron "Whizzer" White of Colorado, now a U.S. Supreme Court justice; Bobby Layne, Duke Carlisle, Bud McFadin, and Steve Wampler of Texas; John Kimbrough of Texas A&M; Y. A. Tittle of LSU; and Oregon's Norm Van Brocklin.

But the list goes on: North Carolina's Charlie "ChooChoo" Justice, Kentucky's Babe Parrelli, Rice's Dicky Maegle.

TCU's Baugh and Jim Swink, Arkansas' Lance Alworth, Navy's Roger Staubach, and Notre Dame's Joe Theismann are there along with those of Syracuse immortals Jim Brown and Ernie Davis.

One of the most memorable contests, coincidentally involved Alabama.

In 1954, the Tide's Tommy Lewis leaped off the bench to tackle Rice's Maegle as he headed downfield for one of his three touchdowns of the day. Officials awarded the touchdown to Maegle and Rice was a 28-6 winner.

Alabama also figured in one of the weirdest Cotton Bowl games—a 29-21 victory over Texas A&M in 1942. The Tide made only one first down, but seven interceptions and five Aggie fumbles made first downs irrelevant.

Layne was in the 1946 Cotton Bowl, hitting 11 of 12 passes for two touchdowns, scoring four more himself and kicking four extra points. Texas defeated Missouri 49-27.

Walker and Rote were the big guns in 1949, when SMU cut down Oregon and Van Brocklin 21-13.

Swink made two Cotton Bowl appearances, scoring twice as TCU dropped a 14-13 squeaker to Mississippi in 1956 and again the next year in a 28-27 verdict over Syracuse.

Brown scored three times in the latter game.

Syracuse got its revenge in 1960 when Davis led the unbeaten Orangemen past Texas 23-14 to cement their claim as national champions.

Texas which was making its 14th Cotton Bowl appearance today, chalked up one of its most celebrated victories in 1964, beating second-ranked Navy and Staubach 28-6. Texas was ranked No. 1.

Carlisle was the hero that day, passing for two touchdowns and running for a third.

The Cotton Bowl got its first look at the Wishbone in 1969 when Texas tripped Tennessee 36-13, the first of five straight appearances by the Steers.

Texas was the national champion the next year and Worcester helped prove it as the Steers scored late in the games to beat Notre Dame 21-17.

The Fighting Irish returned the next year to even the score 24-11, snapping a 38-game Texas winning streak.

And now it's 1973. The 37th Cotton Bowl, billed as the Battle of the Wishbones, is in the history books.

Lubbock Sportswriter Installed As President

DALLAS (AP) — Don Henry of the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal was installed as president of the Texas Sportswriters Association Sunday, succeeding Bob Galt of the Dallas Times Herald.

Dick Moore of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Three names were placed before the membership for vice president nominees. They included:

Jim Garner, sports information director at Texas Christian University.

Denne Freeman, Texas sports editor of The Associated Press.

Jim Trinkle, columnist, Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

The membership will vote on the vice presidential nominees by ballot.

Other matters conducted at the meeting included the raising of dues from $5 to $6 for the 227-member organization; discussion of the procedure for All-state schoolboy selections; and discussion of the progress of the planned Texas Sports Hall of Fame in Grand Prairie, Tex.

A press box committee praised facilities at Tally Stadium in Spring Branch, Emis High School, Lamar Consolidated, Texas High, Texasfarna, Chapel Hill, Pine Tree and W. T. Barrett Stadium in Odessa.

Censured by the committee for inadequate facilities were Quanah, Corsicana, Handley, and Pecos. Poor handling of press relations at the state schoolboy football playoff between Franklin and Schulenberg at Bryan High School was also brought to the attention of the membership.

Newcombe Wins

MELBOURNE (AP) — Number 11 was significant for Australian tennis stars John Newcombe and Margaret Court at the $53,300 Australian Open Tennis Championships Monday.

Newcombe won the men's singles title on his 11th attempt and Mrs. Court won the women's singles championship for the 11th time.

Newcombe, 29, who has won the Wimbledon crown three times, beat beanope New Zealander Onny Parun 6-3, 6-7, 7-5, 6-1, in the 144-minute final before a sweltering crowd of 11,500 at Kooyong.

Mrs. Court, 30, on the comeback trail after having a baby last March, beat 21-year-old Argentine, Evonne Collingwood 6-4, 7-5 in 63 minutes.

Southwest Conference Basketball

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Southwest Conference had best get with it this week or the loop's basketball ledger against non-conference foes is going to be on the minus side.

After a disastrous series of holiday tournaments over the weekend, the loop's record dropped to 33-30 against non-conference foes.

The Texas Aggies seized the consolation prize in the All-Congress Tournament with a 100-83 trouncing of Ole Miss Saturday night.

Houston and Rice won third places in the Sun Bowl Classic and the Milwaukee Classic, respectively. Texas took third in the Poinsettia Classic.

However, not one of the SWC's eight teams involved in tournament play brought back a first place trophy.

Houston and Texas A&M compete in the Bluebonnet Tournament in Houston this weekend while Rice participates in the Presidential Classic in Washington, D.C.

Houston boasts the best loop record 7-2 while Texas A&M and Texas Tech are 6-3 against non-conference opponents.

Orange Bowl

After two straight undefeated seasons, the Cornhuskers went into a relative slump this season, losing to UCLA and Oklahoma and tying Iowa State. But they still have a rosterful of All-Americans, including Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers and middle guard Rich Glover, voted the best lineman in the country. They outscored opponents, 461-91, averaged 440 net yards per game. On offense, Rodgers does everything except keep the statistics but quarterback Dave Humm, running back Gary Dixon are worth watching, too. End Willie Harper joins Glover as voracious defensive unit. This will mark Nebraska's third straight Orange-Bowl appearance. It will be final game for retiring coach Bob Devaney.

Notre Dame (8-2)

Marx
Irish lost to Missouri and were one of Southern Calif.'s victims. This year's Notre-Dame team lacks the great back of the Guglielmi-Lattner-Hornung-Huarte mold but does have a comer in soph quarterback Tom Clements and a talented receiver in split end Willie Townsend. Mainstay of defense that shut out three opponents is All-American tackle Greg Marx, with Townsend's younger brother, Mike, leading the pass defense. This is the school's first Orange Bowl appearance and their first meeting with Nebraska since 1948. The Irish also have an old grudge to settle against the Cornhuskers, Nebraska was only team to win three games against Kne Rockne.

Prediction: Nebraska 27, N.D. 10

Bowl Roundup

Associated Press Sports Writer
Southern California, an awesome scoring machine ranked No. 1 in the nation, is a hefty favorite to whip Ohio State in today's 58th Rose Bowl football game but Buckeye Coach Woody Hayes discounts the odds.

"There's not a team that can't be had," said the crusty Hayes. "Sure, Southern Cal is fast—faster than anybody. There's a way to stop speed before it gets started, but I'll be damned if I'm going to tell you."

"This oldest of the bowl games is one of three postseason gridiron classics today. No. 4 Alabama and No. 7 Texas battle in the Cotton Bowl while No. 9 Nebraska and No. 12 Notre Dame play tonight in the Orange Bowl.

Southern Cal, 11-0, seeking its third national title in the last 10 years under Coach John McKay, has averaged 430.1 yards and 38.6 points per game. The Trojans' offensive punch comes from fleet-footed 5-foot-9 tailback Anthony Davis and quarterback Mike Roe, who has a pass completion average of 53 per cent.

"They can run and pass, they have a good defense," Hayes said of Southern Cal, a 14-point favorite. "There is no weakness to their attack. They are No. 1 and rightfully so. We're No. 3, wanting to be No. 1."

Favored Nebraska, powered by Heisman Trophy winner Johnny Rodgers, will be attempting to regain some prominence after winning national championships the past two years. Rodgers has scored 17 touchdowns this season.

Notre Dame sophomore signal-caller Tom Clements has completed 51 per cent of his passes for 1830 yards and eight touchdowns while Eric Penick has rushed for 727 yards and an average of 5.3 yards carry.

Both Alabama and Texas will be winding the Wishbone-T offense—a creation of Longhorns Coach Darrell Royal. The Crimson Tide has averaged 38.4 yards rushing with the Wishbone while Texas has averaged 27.0 on the ground. "I tell you Alabama can't throw the ball off the Wishbone," says Texas offensive coordinator Mike Cochran. "But they really can't run the Wishbone either."

A 17-year-old member of the Alabama team said he was excited the event dropped off his face "only my new suit." Leonard sells meat outside in Rocky Mount, N.C.

touchdown and set up another as Oklahoma whipped Penn State 14-6 in the Sugar Bowl New Year's Eve. Owens scored in the first quarter after grabbing a 27-yard pass and caught a 17-yarder in the fourth that set up Leon Crosswhite's one-yard TD plunge.

In bowl games played Saturday.

No. 6 Auburn ripped No. 13 Colorado 4-3 in the Gator Bowl, North Carolina defeated Texas Tech 32-28 in the Sun Bowl, the East edged the West 9-3 in the Shrine game and Tennessee best Louisiana State 24-18 in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

Auburn capitalized on several Colorado mistakes as Mike Fuller hit Rob Spivey with a 22-yard scoring strike and Dave Beck fired a 16-yarder to Dan Nugent for another touchdown.

A 13-yard scoring pass from Nick Vidovic to Ted Levensky in the final minutes of the game carried the Tar Heels to victory and ruined the three touchdown performance of Texas Tech's George Smith. Tennessee manhandled LSU in the first half and built up a 24-3 halftime bulge but then had to weather a fierce second-half onslaught by the Tigers for the victory.

"Momentum is a crazy thing," said Tennessee Coach Bill Battle. "I can't explain what made it swing from Tennessee to LSU. Maybe we played a little too conservative in the second half."

LSU Coach Charlie McClendon said: "You saw two teams with pride and I can't express how proud I am of this LSU team."

Wit And Whimsy

Hard hats were designed to protect soft brains, a fact some have been known to overlook, in several ways. At long last, when one speaks of bowl games it's possible to refer to the one played on an alley with ten-pins.

Of course the New Year is pictured as a baby. No kid old enough to wear pants would be senseless enough to take on the job. Once they've learned to build a successful space station, they may build a profitable one for Amtrak.

It's nice to see that the video networks have "adjusted" their schedules in midseason. We thought our set was where the trouble was coming from.

Everyone here would like to wish each of you a Happy New Year, but we'll not be going out on the highway to do it. Your constructive criticism is the other fellow's nit-picking.

No, Gwendolyn, a "hangover" isn't a fellow clinging to the edge of a cliff. Putting the decorations away is a great method of finding the twenty-five dollars' worth you couldn't locate in storage before Christmas.

Anti-Busing Bill Early On 93rd Congress Agenda WASHINGTON — Filibustering by a Senate minority is not going to block enactment of anti-busing legislation in the new 93rd Congress...

That's what happened last October, and is the sole reason no anti-busing law was passed. With Congress under heavy pressure to wind up in order to rush home to reelection...

Three showdowns over a period of ten days to shut off debate by invoking cloture were unavailing. Each test produced a majority favoring cloture, but each was short of the necessary two-thirds...

In the incoming Congress, the crucial time factor will not be playing in the militants' hands. To avert that, anti-busing leaders are planning to seek early action on the explosive issue...

"This is top priority for us," says Sen. Robert Griffin, Mich. Republican Whip and anti-busing leader. "There is no need for new committee hearings, and the same goes for floor discussion..."

What It Proposed Anti-busing leaders indicate they will follow previous procedure—that is, let the House pass the act first and then have the Senate take it up.

With no time limitations, it's felt this format will lead to speedier action. Pending further study, the present intent is to push more or less the same bill passed decisively by the House last August...

(1) Prohibited the use of federal funds to bus students to attain racial balance. Students in the first six grades could be required to ride buses only to the "closest or next closest" appropriate school.

(2) Preserved the sanctity of existing school district boundaries unless they were "drawn" expressly for the purpose or had the effect of segregation. Aim of this provision was to put an end to busing across district lines...

(3) Permitted the reopening of scores of previously decided school desegregation cases to reduce busing requirements to the limits specified in the measure. This was vigorously urged by President Nixon...

(4) Earmarked for compensatory education programs $500 million of the $1 billion authorized for aid to desegregating school districts. States would have a major voice in allocating their respective shares...

Sen. James Allen, D-Ala., in the forefront of the fight against the filibuster, anticipates the opposition will again try to block a Senate vote.

"They know that's the only way they can prevent the enactment of anti-busing legislation," says Allen. "They know full well that if the Senate is permitted to vote directly on such a measure, it will be decisively approved..."

Nine Old Men Looming over the congressional battle is the possibility of a far-reaching decision by the Supreme Court on the supercharged busing issue.

Pending before the tribunal is a key school desegregation case involving busing. It was raised by eight Denver families contending their children were the "victims" of de facto segregation...

The 10th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled that de facto segregation is not unconstitutional. If the Supreme Court upholds that edict, it would have sweeping effect on the entire busing issue...

The Denver case, which the Supreme Court heard in October, involved alleged segregation in a heavily black section of Denver's inner city. In May 1970, Federal District Judge William Doyle held there was no evidence of "intentional segregation..."

At the same time, he ruled that de facto segregation is unconstitutional "because it leads to unequal educational opportunity. For that reason, he directed that busing be instituted to achieve integration."

Equal Distribution

Today, in one aspect, everyone in the world is the recipient of that desired state—equal distribution. For today everyone everywhere is bestowed with a New Year. No one gets more days in his year, no one, having visitation by the Grim Reaper, gets fewer days than the next person. All get the same.

What each does with his equal share will run gamut from waste to waste. Some will waste, "if I only had more time..." others will yearn, "I wish this week were over."
