Pearl Harbor Investigators Confronted With 'Lost' Navy Warning Message

Head of Navy Was 'Positive' Message Sent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The Pearl Harbor investigating committee today ran up against the question whether there was a "lost" navy warning message intended to go to the Pacific fleet the night before Japan's Dec. 7, 1941, attack.

Admiral Husband E. Kimmel related that the late Secretary of the Navy Knox, talking with him at Pearl Harbor five days after the attack, was "positive" a message was sent. Kimmel, fleet commander at the time, said that if such a dispatch was prepared it must have gotten "bogged down in the navy department" for he never received it.

Army Shapes Up New Inducements For Enlistment

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—With the future of the draft law clouded, the army today sought to make re-enlistments more attractive so as to assure itself a minimum force of 1,500,000 for its occupation and war liquidation roles.

The latest re-enlistment inducement, it was disclosed, will give soldiers returning to civil life 90 days more pay prior to July 1, in which to decide whether to re-enlist in the regular army with the privilege of retaining their present grade and pay. The present deadline is Feb. 1.

With talk on Capitol Hill of letting the selective service law expire without renewal after May 15, the size of the army by mid-summer and continuation of the present occupation missions hinge largely on the success of the recruiting drive, officials said.

By Feb. 1 it is expected that more than 500,000 volunteers will have joined the regulars as a result of an intensified drive that has broken all recruiting records.

Under estimates given by congress Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, chief of staff, the army is counting on 650,000 volunteers by July 1. But no such liquidation is accepted by Maj. Gen. Harold N. Gilbert, who has directed army manpower procurement drives since prewar days.

"Maybe we will get a million," he said.

Current manpower difficulties are the army's alone. The navy expects to reach its reduced goal of 500,000 enlisted men and 50,000 officers by

Plans for General Hospital Progress

Plans for a general hospital, to be financed by Gray county bonds, had moved along this past week, with the official announcement that the directors of the Pampa chamber of commerce would throw their support and assistance to calling a bond election.

This action was taken following the report of a chamber committee and a committee from the medical society, in which those two groups had reported the needs for and the probabilities of securing a general hospital at Pampa.

No figures on the probable cost of the 150-bed institution were available, since, it was explained, research work in determining the cost had not been completed and finally ironed out. The delay was explained to be due to the present unpredictable status of production costs.

Tribunal for Nippon Trials Is Chartered

TOKYO, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The long-awaited trials of ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and other high Japanese war leaders for "crimes against peace and crimes against humanity" were ordered by General MacArthur today in chartering an international tribunal tentatively scheduled to begin operations March 1.

MacArthur made clear that the court of five to nine members "will not be bound by technical rules of evidence" and will not recognize official position or obedience to orders as justification for a defendant's acts.

Members of the court will be appointed by MacArthur from nominations submitted by nations signatory to the Japanese surrender. Russia has not yet indicated whether she will participate.

THE CHARTER UNDER WHICH THE tribunal will operate lists three categories of crimes for which the defendants will be tried:

1. Crimes against peace — "the planning, preparation, initiation, or waging of declared or undeclared war of aggression, or war in violation of international law."

2. Crimes against humanity — "atrocities committed against civilians of any nation whatsoever."

3. Crimes against peace, war, or humanity — "atrocities committed against civilians of any nation whatsoever."

Navy Reveals Sea Rescue System

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Development of an underwater sound system enabling the location of air and ship survivors at sea as far as 2,000 miles from shore stations was announced today by the navy.

It was developed jointly by the navy and the Oceanographic Institution, Woods Hole, Mass.

Workings of the sea-rescue aid system, given the name of "Sofar" from the initial letters of the phrase "sounds fixing and ranging," were explained as follows:

Survivors in a life raft drop a five-pound TNT bomb developed by navy ordnance, and increasing pressure explodes it at a depth of 3,000 to 4,000 feet.

The sound is picked up by operators of three widely-spaced shore stations, using hydrophones fixed at the 3,000-4,000 foot depth.

The operators, by comparing the times when the signal is received and referring to special charts, are able to plot the position of the explosion.

This they can locate a square mile or sea survivors who are as far as 2,000 miles from shore stations, the navy said, adding that installations to cover the general area between the West coast and Hawaii are expected to be completed by summer.

Minister Speaks Against What He Calls 'the Spirit of Fear'

Dr. Douglas Nelson, pastor of the Presbyterian church here, Friday spoke against what he called "the spirit of fear" into which the people of America and of the world is falling.

Speaking of the United Nations assembly which is currently in session in London, he said the peoples of the world should not be thinking in terms of what would happen to them if the conferences should bog down.

Conceding the world had much to fear in view of the latest discoveries, he said he would prefer less talk about what could happen to us if the conferences among the leading nations should fail, and more talk about what each of us could do to help achieve lasting peace.

He spoke before the Kiwanis club at its luncheon meeting at the Methodist church basement hall. See SPIRIT OF FEAR, Page 8

Quiet Restored in Capital of Korea

SEOUL, KOREA, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Two Koreans were killed, many were injured and 120 were arrested today in rioting that raged through Seoul after demonstrators' ostentatious protest against the proposed Allied trusteeship erupted into a conflict between parties of the left and right.

34 HOURS OF UPROAR Quiet was restored in the capital tonight after 24 hours of uproar and violence that spread to the back door of the governor general's palace, headquarters of Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, U. S. occupation commander.

The installation of a radio address called for an end to the parades and demonstrations, which at times took place in full view of Russian and American delegations at work on a temporary control plan for Korea.

At the present time, the local club is engaged in a campaign to encourage residents of Gray county to pay their poll taxes before Jan. 31.

The Pampa group is also taking an active part in the current March of Dimes campaign and the drive for collection of old clothes to be sent to war-devastated countries of Europe and Asia.

The installation of new officers will highlight Jaycee activities during the coming week. The banquet and dance for the new officers and club members is to be held Wednesday night in the Palm Room of the city hall.

Mayor Farris C. Oden has issued a proclamation proclaiming the week to be the week of the newspaper.

The proclamation read: To whom these present shall come.

Kaiser's West Coast Plant Continues Steel Production

With a paralyzing strike due to hit the nation's steel industry at 12:01 a. m. Monday, Henry J. Kaiser's West Coast steel plant will continue turning out steel.

Kaiser announced yesterday (Saturday) he had accepted a presidential proposal granting an 18 1/2 cent hourly wage increase to his steel plant employees, and had signed a contract with the CIO United Steelworkers, whose 750,000 members have set Monday as the deadline for a strike in other steel plants throughout the nation.

Kaiser accepted the presidential proposal. Earlier the proposal was accepted by the CIO but was turned down by U. S. Steel.

"I can not conceive that a sum of three and a half cents (the difference between U. S. Steel's offer and the President's 18 1/2 cents proposal) should be permitted to retard or destroy the possibility of real peace and prosperity for the nation," Kaiser said.

PLANTS SHUTTING DOWN Kaiser's CIO contract covers the operation of the largest steel plant on the Pacific coast, he said, estimating that his Fontana, Calif., operations employ approximately 3,000 to 4,000 persons.

Many steel plants began shutting down Saturday hours ahead of the CIO's official starting time. In Detroit, 7,118 workers walked out at three mills of the Great Lakes Steel Corp., at Pittsburgh, Jones & Laughlin Steel corporation's big plant was closed, and at Chicago, Joseph Germano, CIO district director, estimated 50,000 workers in the Chicago-Gary area would strike at midnight Saturday because of advance preparations for

Jerusalem Riots Break Out Anew

JERUSALEM, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Rioting, explosions and gunfire spread throughout Jerusalem tonight in a bloody outbreak by terrorists in which at least three persons were killed and five wounded, with casualties among both police and attackers.

The Palestine radio station went off the air after attacks on its building and bombing of an electric power station nearby in St. Paul's road.

The military radio station JCPA said police opened fire and attackers fired back after the bombing.

Part of the Jerusalem prison wall was wrecked in a subsequent explosion, in which the military radio said one British police officer was killed and another wounded.

A British army officer was killed later, the broadcast added, and other casualties included a dead Jew. The broadcast said three wounded Jews were arrested immediately.

The outbreak was the third in a month in Palestine. Terrorists rioted in late December.

Reports from Tel Aviv said explosions and gunfire occurred there also. Both at Tel Aviv and the nearby village of Ramatgan leaflets spread by terrorists, proclaimed: "We will fight to the last drop of blood."

Texas 36th Division Adopts Resolution Calling For Investigation of Rapido River Engagement

BROWNWOOD, Jan. 19.—(AP)—With yeas of approval an estimated 2,000 members of the 36th division reunion here, adopted a resolution today calling for a congressional investigation of the division's tragic Rapido river engagement Jan. 20 and 21, 1944.

The resolution declared almost 2,000 casualties were suffered by the unit in two ill-fated crossings of the treacherous Italian stream in the vicinity of San Angelo.

Only two "noes" were heard when a vote was called for. RESOLUTION BY ATTORNEY The resolution was read by Carl Phinney, Dallas attorney and former transportation officer of the division, and seconded by Maj. Gen. Claude C. Birkhead of San Antonio, former commander of the group.

"Be it resolved," the resolution concluded, "that the men of the 36th division association XXX petition the congress of the United States to investigate the Rapido river fiasco and take the necessary steps to correct a military system that will permit an inefficient and inexperienced officer, such as General Mark W. Troubles in Oil Industry Reported Better in Texas

The refining companies represented the industry to pour oil in the troubled waters of Texas labor yesterday (Saturday).

Not so fortunate were steel, meat and paper industries. A serious steel strike looms tomorrow (Monday) as a major threat.

Shell Oil company and members of the Oil Workers International Union (OIU) reached an agreement in Houston on the wage dispute Friday night, it was announced yesterday.

Earlier the Texas company's Galena Park refinery at Houston had signed a contract with the union, and the navy turned the refinery back to its owners.

Both agreements call for an 18 per cent wage increase with shift differentials. The Shell agreement still must be ratified by the OIU Local 367.

NAVY PEACEMAKERS Three navy peacemakers sent to Texas to aid in negotiations between refineries and CIO workers continued from Houston to Port Arthur where they are consulting with oil company and union officials.

The Texas company at Port Arthur signed a contract with the OIU covering all points of the district except a refinery.

Many Texas refineries are still being controlled the result of naval seizures of plants last year when 26,000 of workers struck.

Frank A. Hardesty, district 37 director of United Steelworkers of America (CIO) said in Houston yesterday this rejection of President Truman's wage compromise proposal by the United States Steel Corp. means that some 15,000 members in 11 Houston plants will strike shortly after midnight tonight.

Arrests Reported By Pampa Police

A man who gave his name as Jack Tackett was fined $10 in county court yesterday on charges of carrying a concealed weapon.

Chief of Police Louie Allen said Tackett, when arrested by local officers, was carrying a pair of brass knuckles, which under Texas law, are classified as a deadly weapon.

A Pampa woman was fined $10 and court costs for the theft of a watch.

Greatest Steel Industry Stoppage Is Now Under Way

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The greatest shut-down in the history of the steel industry was under way tonight with thousands of workers already off the job at four plants.

Approximately 2,000 went on strike at a few scattered plants after the collapse of eleven-hour negotiations for higher wages, swelling to 35,000 the number of steel strikers in various parts of the country, some of them over local grievances.

Workers generally, however, were waiting the official strike date, which the CIO-United Steelworkers estimated will touch 750,000 workers from their jobs at 12:01 a. m. on Jan. 20.

Large steel companies went ahead with the mill closing program. Spokesmen for the U. S. Steel corporation in the Chicago and Pittsburgh areas declared the curtailment program was going ahead as planned and in order fashion.

NAZI CRUISER COMING BOSTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The German heavy cruiser Prinz Eugen, which furnished the Allied forces with plenty of headaches as she tried to reach Boston, was sighted today, navy officials said.

She was spotted by the United States under the Potsdam treaty.

Jim Terrell, left tackle and team captain, and Randall Clay, right halfback and the team's leading scorer, are members of the Pampa team who will attend the banquet.

Terrell was a unanimous choice for the all-district team. Clay missed being unanimous by only one vote.

Other players who will attend the banquet are:

AMARILLO, Jan. 20—A flashy field of 75 boxers will fire the opening salvo of the Tenth Annual Amarillo Golden Gloves tournament at the Municipal auditorium here Monday night. The opening bout is at 8:15 p.m.

It will be a four night event this year, the extra session having been added by popular demand of the fans and contestants. The programs will average about 15 bouts per night which means that the necessity for finalists appearing twice in the final night of the tournament will be eliminated.

For the second successive year, the Gloves event features two separate brackets of competition, conducted concurrently with the field divided into school and Golden Gloves divisions.

In the school division, teams awaiting the bell Monday night will be the defending champion squad of LeFors plus Shamrock, Clearendon, Memphis, PETERSBURG and Lockney.

Amarillo will also be represented in the school competition with a team of school boys competing under the banner of the Amarillo Boxing club.

The balance of the field will swing for bona-fide Golden Gloves titles and to the state Golden Gloves tournament, Feb. 13-18, at Fort Worth.

The east for the 1946 mitt carnival embraces five defending champions from the school division of last year, although two of them are moving into the Golden Gloves section.

The returning monarchs are Eugene Cooper, 147 pounds and Wade Struener, heavyweight LeFors; Roy Perrier, Shamrock, 112 pounds; Buddy Wilkinson, 160 pounds, and Curley Dickson, 147 pounds, Wilkinson and Dickson, Amarillo's two most celebrated ring stars, are the Golden Gloves.

One of Wilkinson's chief rivals will be W. C. Pendleton, former Pampa footballer who reportedly throws enough leather to give anybody a very rugged evening, the Amarillo Invader.

Others expected to be tournament standouts are L. B. Romero, Dalhart lightweight on furlough from the navy, and Jack Monzingo, 126 pounder from Memphis high school who is passing on school commitments for the Golden Gloves.

Soldier fighters who have dominated the Gloves bracket in other years, will be conspicuously absent, although several will be in the tournament.

The only one boasting any previous ring background is Chuck Perkins, a light heavyweight who had a couple of years of amateur experience at Syracuse, N. Y. before entering the service. Perkins hails from Amarillo field.

Two former standouts are returning to this tournament in new roles. They are Earl Brown of Adrian, veteran middleweight who competed in the Amarillo tournament from 1937 through 1942, and Curtis Kelley, heavyweight champion in 1943, Brown is one of the referees, while Kelley is coaching the Memphis high school team.

Other officials working the tournament are Judge F. C. McGrew of Pampa, Bill Sheek of Amarillo, and J. W. Jimmy Mode, Amarillo, Duke Nally, amateur athletic union commissioner for West Texas, is tournament director.

McCall, Oklahoma, McCall left Shamrock in 1941 to become coach at Wellington and entered the navy in 1942, one year after taking over at Wellington. He was succeeded there by Al Duncan.

Duncan, whose post at Wellington was only temporary pending McCall's return, will remain there. McCall is a graduate of Texas Christian university.

Bob Clark Leaves Shamrock Schools

SHAMROCK, Jan. 19—Bob Clark has resigned as coach at Shamrock high school and is to be replaced by Scott McCall, former Wellington mentor who recently received his navy coaching position to become secretary-manager of the Shamrock chamber of commerce.

McCall, who will be the school's athletic director, will assume his new duties Monday.

He first came to Shamrock in 1939 after a year's coaching at Com-

Big Days Await Williams In Golden Era of Sports

BY AL VERMEER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Jan. 19—(NEA)—Boston's ambitions for an American League championship—first in 28 years—take on a new glow this spring when long and rubbery Ted Williams returns to the baseball battlefields following three years as a flying marlin.

Thumping Ted cannot do it alone. In 1941 he blasted 406, first American Leaguer to reach those heights since Harry Heilmann's 403 in 1923, and a year later he again led with 356, and still no pennant flew over Fenway Park. But 1946 finds the Red Sox a serious contender and the explosive bat of Williams is the backbone of their threat.

Veterans claim he ranks with Joe Jackson and Babe Ruth when it comes to born hitting ability, that he would scramble Ruth's 60-home run record if he played at Yankee Stadium instead of Fenway Park, where the right field stands are 380 feet away.

Because of his free and natural swing, Williams is expected to be just as good as he was in 1942, although he spent the interim in actual service, not as a ball-playing soldier or sailor.

Indeed, there is reason to believe he may even be better than his pre-war standards—for the marines must have done something to subdue the peculiar Williams temperament.

Williams was susceptible to taunts from the stands and rival players. The trade calls it rabbit ears. More than once he fell into a fit of rage because his skin was too thin to ward off barbed remarks. Once in a weak moment, he expressed a wish to become a fireman. The White Sox drove him to distraction by parading in front of their dugout, in firemen's hats and rubber coats, and screaming like sirens.

SWINGING IN THE OUTFIELD

Williams always loved to hit. In his freshman days with the San Diego Coasters, Williams stood in right field, swinging an imaginary bat, as he anxiously awaited his lick.

Until the importance of defense was pointedly explained to him, he thought playing the outfield was just something to do in between times at bat.

Fatherless and with his mother a Salvation Army woman, Williams spent his boyhood afternoons with his most cherished companion—a baseball bat.

In 1935, when he was only 17, the home-town San Diego club was attracted by his fluid swing. He hit only 27, but old-timers gaped at his well-oiled action at the plate. It seemed he had no elbows—that his arms were made of rubber. The next summer he went up to .291, hit 23 home runs. It was easy to see he was on the way to greatness. The Red Sox purchased him for 1938 delivery.

Greeting manager Joe Cronin at the Sarasota camp one morning, young Ted said "How ya, sport?" He flatly refused to wear a necktie in the dining rooms of fancy hotels. Se he was sent to Minneapolis, with which outfit he led the American Association with 366.

There was no holding a boy like that. He returned to Boston in 1939, compiling a four-year batting average of .356, manufacturing 127 homers, and batting in 545 runs.

Williams hounded Harry Heilmann to learn how the old Detroit led the league in hitting four times. He paid scant attention to Hughie Duffy until he heard the venerable Red Sox coach hit 438 in 1894. From that day he followed little Hughie about like an adoring colt.

Williams amazed 55,000 spectators in the 1941 All-Star Game in Detroit by smacking one of Claude Passeau's deliveries for a ninth-inning home run which bounced off the 90-foot roof of the right field stands at Briggs Stadium and thumped into Trumbull avenue, beating the National Leagueers, 7-5.

That was one of his big days.

Only 27, many more big days await Ted Williams.

AMARILLO, Jan. 19—(AP)—The victory was the eighth of the season for the local cagers, who face the toughest District 1-AA competition in history this year, beginning with a game with Borger there Jan. 9.

Scoring their fifth straight victory, the Harvesters "B" cagers also came through in winning style, taking the Wildcat reserves 30-15.

Next week holds a full schedule of games for the Harvesters, three contests with top class A teams being booked by Coach Otis Coffey.

Monday night, the Harvesters will go to Phillips for a match with the Blackhaws. The two teams have met twice this year, Phillips winning the first 30-21 and Pampa taking the second 40-25.

Tuesday night, the locals will entertain Perryton's classy Rangers, a team that whipped the Harvesters 42-38 last week.

The first game Tuesday, between the two squads, will start at 7:30.

Friday, the local five plays hosts to the Spearman Lynx in a game that will be a renewal of the rivalry started between the two schools last year.

Pampa Is Rated Among Top Cage Teams in State

(By The Associated Press)

More than 10,000 youngsters trod the maple leaves today as another Texas schoolboy basketball championship rolls toward its first elimination round.

Better than 1,000 teams are lined up for the race which will name state champions—class AA, class A and class B.

District championships are to be determined by Feb. 23, bi-district athletes of class AA and regional champions of class A and class B by March 2 and eight teams from each division will go to Austin March 7 to play for the state crowns.

Only one of the defending champions appears likely to repeat. Prairie Lea, which took the title in class B, has two members of the 1945 team and some promising material from a squad of 14 aiming at a repetition of last year's triumph.

Faschel of Fort Worth, class AA champion, is not due to win its district title. Most of the boys who made up the 1945 championship squad are gone.

Sidney Lanier of San Antonio has a green team that does not appear to measure up to the squad that took the class A championship last year.

Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio, which won over a classy field in the recent invitation tournament at the South Texas city, is one of the top-rated teams in class AA. Other schools getting attention are John Reagan (Houston), Lufkin, Goose Creek, Pampa, El Paso high, Waco, Brownwood and Abilene.

There are 102 teams in the class AA division this year, with 27 in class A and 645 in class B.

James Tatum Is Sooner Mentor

NORMAN, Okla., Jan. 19—(AP)—President George L. Cross announced today the selection of James M. Tatum, 32, as University of Oklahoma football coach.

Tatum was football coach of the Jacksonville, Fla., naval air station last year.

He succeeds Dovey (Shorter) Luster who resigned after last season because of ill health.

A discharged navy lieutenant, Tatum was hired for three years on a sliding salary scale of $8,000, $9,000 and $10,000.

Charles (Bud) Wilkinson, an assistant on the Syracuse and Minnesota staffs prior to his enlistment in the navy, will be Tatum's assistant.

Tatum will select two more new assistants to be announced later. President Cross said members of the present Sooner staff not to be permanently retained would stay on salary at the university for the present until they place themselves elsewhere.

Texas League Votes To Maintain Playoff

DALLAS, Jan. 19—(AP)—It will be under a new name but the Texas league will hold a Shaughnessy playoff as usual when it reactivates its baseball campaign this year after being idle for three seasons.

Abandonment of the Shaughnessy playoff was voted down today as the club owners met and drafted a 154-game schedule covering 146 days opening April 16.

Houston and Dallas offered a resolution to change the plan for determining a champion, asking that the league declare the club winning the highest percentage over the entire season be awarded the pennant but in the vote only Dallas, Houston and Fort Worth were for it, thus the Shaughnessy—to be known in the future as the Texas league playoff—will be continued. It first was adopted in 1933 and was in vogue in 1942 when the league suspended operations.

Under the present plan the first place team over the regular season gets $1,200, second place $800 and third $500 but a committee was named to consider some other system of awarding the teams finishing highest in the percentage.

There was discussion of a plan of allowing the full-season leader to represent the league in the Dixie series against the Southern association champion but with a play-off between the top four clubs for the Texas league pennant. Also projected was a plan of awarding the president's cup to the leader or some sort of trophy that would better satisfy the fans.

Reasons for abandonment of the term "Shaughnessy" were that this really originated in ice hockey, that it was difficult for the fans to understand that a term more applicable to the Texas league should be used.

It was voted that there could be a maximum of two ladies days weekly or that there could be one ladies day and one service men's day, with a special rate for enlisted personnel.

The rate of pay for official scorers was raised from $5.00 to $7.50 per game.

There will be no all-star game this year. This question was not even put to a vote.

Optimism over the coming season was unbounded. Attendance at at least 300,000 was generally forecast, and Dallas, President George Schrepps predicted the million mark would be reached. Only once in history has there been such an attendance. That was in 1926.

Bonnaville Peters, Shreveport president, is forecasting unprecedented interest said he felt the league had been wise in suspending baseball operations during the war. "This was a very sick league at the time," he said. "The territory needed a rest."

Peters also took the view that all clubs should either be independent or owned by major league clubs. "That's the only way for the clubs to have an even break in playing material," he declared.

At this time three clubs are major-league owned—Fort Worth by Brooklyn, Houston by the St. Louis Cardinals and San Antonio by the St. Louis Browns. All other clubs except Beaumont, have working agreements with big league clubs and Beaumont, recently bought by Guy Arey, is expected to announce material.

Shamrock School Superintendent Signs Contract

SHAMROCK, Jan. 19 (Special)—In addition to the employing of Scott McCall as athletic director of Shamrock schools, members of the school board transacted other important business at a called meeting Monday night.

Elmer J. Moore was offered, and accepted, a three-year contract as superintendent of schools, a position which he has held on a one-year contract since the beginning of the 1945 term. Moore, a graduate of Texas Tech, Lubbock, succeeded Supt. W. O. Morrow.

"We have been very pleased with Mr. Moore's work in our school and I am glad that he has accepted the contract for three more years of service," Sol Bloustein, president of the school board, stated.

At the meeting, contracts were let for the re-roofing of the high school and junior high school buildings. The roof of the high school building will receive an additional layer of felt and asphalt, while the project on the junior high building will include re-roofing of the present roof and the application of three layers of roofing felt and four coats of mopping materials.

Wellknown Cafe Operator Retires

Mrs. Mickey Conley, pictured above, last Sunday spent her last day in her little cafe at 107 N. Frost, after running it for 15 years.

Mickey sold her cafe because of poor health. This week she was feeling a bit better. Mickey continues to go to church every morning, now going at 8 rather than at 8 a. m., with transportation provided by Fathers Stack, Moore or McWilliams.

Twice during the past week Mickey's cafe has changed hands. Mrs. Amy Ringham of Borger first purchased it from Mickey. She sold to Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Waters of Pampa who operate the cafe themselves.

Waters has been employed at Montgomery Ward's during the past four months in the hardware, sporting goods and light fixture departments. Before then he was employed in a shipyard on the West coast for several years.

Waters has worked in restaurants and cafes before, he said, but this is his and Mrs. Waters' first individually-operated cafe.

Mrs. Agnes Nesselroed is helping out at the cafe for the time being. She assisted Mickey for a month or so when she first heard Mickey was ill.

One of the most noticeable changes in management from when Mickey operated her cafe is the appearance of a cash register. Mickey gave change from a cigar box. The bill was "put on the cuff" if the right change couldn't be located.

"Red" commented that he has met a "couple of nice girls" in Pampa, adding "reducing it to a minimum."

The 18-year-old marine stated that buildings are in general better than those of Australia and that the standard of living and wages are lower there than here. He was particularly impressed by the senior high school building.

This week "Red" met Ed McCormick, Pampa merchant seaman, who served several months ago, who was stationed for 18 months in Brisbane. The two knew several of the same people in Brisbane and both were well-acquainted with the same parts of the city. Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEGE
 Credit for unveiling General George Patton as a poet is claimed by a Texas newspaper—The Brownsville Herald.

Patton's former commander lives in Brownsville. He had several of the poems, but Patton insisted his poetry not be published until he died.

Shortly after his recent death, the Herald published a poem which worked its way through news services, was published widely, even in Time Magazine.

It was very timely, too, beginning:

"Yet should future war exact of me the final debt."

Border towns have more problems than inland towns.

Take for example parking meters. You'd think they were almost problem-proof.

But on the border they have Mexican coins. A five centavo piece is about the right size for a parking meter—but it's worth only one cent.

Mrs. J. D. Powell of Denison took her first airplane ride at the age of 80.

"It was the most fun I ever had," she said.

She went up with her grandson, Tom Trotter.

Her gray hair tucked into a pilot's helmet, her eyes shining with excitement, she flew over her old home, the house in which she had given birth to most of her 15 children. She flew over the church where she had worshipped most of her life.

When they landed, she said, "when can we go again?"

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Notebook

By HAL BOYLE

MANILA.—(AP)—From down the road floats a lovely soprano voice shouting: "Woe, woe, Little Joe!" The die game is underway again in the USO staging area. It usually operates on a 24-hour basis, and Gracie, a brunette dancer, is the star performer. She may never tear down the rafters on Broadway, but she sure can put on a good show in a crap game. The boys like to watch her as she bends over and chants to the wandering dominoes like a voodoo medicine lady. But they don't like the way she builds up that pile of pesos in front of her.

Since Barnum's museum on a rainy holiday, there has been nothing to compare with the USO staging area. Here groups of entertainers are assembled and dispatched to Japan, Korea and other troop centers.

They spend a week or ten days here before starting out on their circuits.

The staging area is a small palm thatched community on the outskirts of Manila, and it is about as quiet as the Bronx Park zoo just before feeding time.

From dawn to dusk it presents this picture:

On the wooden floored mess hall a row of chorus girls in slacks soft shoe through their routine to keep the tinkling pianist straight on his rhythm. Across the way comes the thrump of drums and the moan of clarinets as a small band joggles lazily through its numbers.

Over by the post exchange Gracie and the boys bang dice against

Economist Describes What Has Happened to Butter

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 19—Consumers cannot have more milk, cream, ice cream, evaporated milk and cheese and at the same time have more butter too.

That is the way W. E. Morgan, economist with the Texas A. and M. college extension service, has summed up the butter situation.

Morgan explained that butter production has gone down steadily since 1942. Before that time almost half of the milk sold by farmers was separated on the farm or dairy for sale as cream, which was used largely for butter, while the skimmed milk remained on the farm. To increase the wartime food supply, the government urged farmers to deliver whole milk. Part of the whole milk was made into evaporated milk, Cheddar cheese, dried ice cream mix and dried whole milk. Much of this went to the armed forces and lend-lease. Meanwhile fluid milk consumption in this country jumped 25 per cent during the war years, and butter production in 1945 was the lowest in twenty years.

During the war, Morgan pointed out, the army and other governmental agencies bought butter during the spring and early summer, when production is highest, so that all of the winter months production would be available for civilians. Last summer the armed services had to assume that the war would continue, and so butter stocks were bought to meet this winter's needs. With the sudden surrender of Japan all of the butter stocks were not needed. In December, for example, 70 million pounds were released for civilian use so consumers actually had more butter in the last two months of 1945 than during any other two months of the year.

The armed services will continue to need butter and milk products and cheese, while evaporated milk and dried milk are still being sent abroad. Meanwhile, with the end of rationing, demand for butter has increased. Although whole milk production is expected to continue high, Morgan sees little hope that the butter situation will be brighter in 1946.

What do you do if you drop them like that when somebody is looking?" someone asks. He silently licks one finger and acts as if he were marking score on the wall.

"I know a better one," replies his critic. "When you miff one you just say 'that was just part of the act—the part I can't do.' That gets them in the belly."

A disgruntled magician, having more trouble opening a beer bottle than he does palming a deck of cards, cries out in sudden disgust: "Two weeks we have been stuck here just because that roller skater hasn't got his skates yet. The whole show held up. Is that economical? Why didn't they put us in with a trained seal instead of a roller skater?"

Colorado Oil Field May Develop Into Nation's Largest Producer

Rangely
COLORADO

MARIANNE PACHNER
NEA Staff Correspondent

RANGELY, Colo., Jan. 19 (NEA) — Oil-fever has hit this back-in-the-hills cow-country of Northwestern Colorado and the thermometer has gone sky-high. Millions of dollars are being sunk in oil-well construction, and 3,000 tons of equipment a month are being trucked in over mountain roads. This newest oil-strike is in the bonanza Rangely basin. The borders of the field are still undefined and no dry wells have been struck. Oilmen feel it may be the largest producing field in the country. Twenty-four wells are now in operation and 40 more are underway. If transportation difficulties ease up, there should be 800 wells within two years. Wells cost in the neighborhood of $100,000 each.

RANCHER FOUND OIL

The 10-inch pipeline of the Utah Refining company, planned as a war measure a year ago and recently completed at a cost of $1,250,000, is responsible for the sudden and rapid development of the field. A second pipeline has recently been authorized. Topographically Rangely basin presents the perfect picture of what a rich oilfield should look like, but it was a rancher, not a geologist, who first discovered its hidden wealth. In 1902, J. W. Rector, a rancher in the vicinity, found oil on the surface of a river that ran through his property. Shallow well drilling

News of Interest To Oil Men

Pure Oil Co. Strikes 585-Barrel Producer, Leads Field Development

The Pure Oil Co. hit with a 585-barrel producer. First test ran 525 barrels in 24 hours and did not pump off. The well was drilled to 5,010 feet, plugged back to 4,800 feet, with production with basic sediment and water from the base of the Pennsylvania. It was not shot nor acidized.

Location of the strike, the No. 1 Johnson, is in the southeast quarter of section 12, range 5N, township 7E, Cimarron county, Okla., on a 90-000-acre block on which the Pure Oil Co. has four other wells and three drilling.

Two were 20-million-foot producers, one a 150-barrel oil well and one on the west edge was dry and abandoned.

API Membership Books Requested

Members of the Panhandle chapter of the American Petroleum Institute having membership books are requested to turn them in to either D. Bousher or C. A. Husted.

Total oil production from six producers added in the Panhandle oil and gas field this week other than the Pure Oil Co. well was 805 barrels. Two gassers with combined open flow potential of 9,650,000 feet were brought in. One hole was abandoned, another temporarily abandoned.

HUBER CORP. ADDS 177-BARREL WELL

J. M. Huber Corp. No. 19 Mayfield section 4, block R-2, D&P survey, Sisseton 32, block V, H. O. Jameson survey, ran 116 barrels of oil in 24 hours on a railroad commission test. The well was drilled to 2805 feet and treated with 6000 gallons of acid. Lime pay was from 2775 to a total depth.

MAGNOLIA CO. GETS 75-BARREL PRODUCER

In Wheeler county the Magnolia Petroleum Co. No. 9 J. P. Koons, section 43, block 24, H&GN survey, tested 75 barrels pumping after drilling 2439 feet. Operators acidized with 500 gallons. Lime pay was from 2375-2405 feet.

Two Additional Locations Made

Two additional notices of intention to drill, both in Hutchinson county by the J. M. Huber Corp., were filed with the office of the railroad commission during the week ending January 17. No additional locations were reported from the field.

Huber No. 20 Mayfield is to be located 330 feet from the south and east lines of section 4, block R-2, G&P survey, about six miles west of Pringle.

Huber No. 1 Stevens located 330 feet from the north and east lines of section 4, block R-2, D&P survey, eight miles west of Pringle.

Hazard Eliminated With Rope Starter

When coming out of the hole with a heavy load of drill pipe there often is danger that the engine may stall, endangering the hole and string of pipe due to cuttings in the mud settling back around the string and freezing it. To insure the quick starting of the gas-powered draw-works engine in the event of such a failure occurring, the driller for one company provided a 10-foot length of rope with which the engine could be cranked over quickly and easily by two members of the crew. On a large, high-compression engine it is all a man can do to turn it over by hand, and the process of attempting to start it often involves too great a period of time, to say nothing of the risk entailed in having the engine kick and injuring the man. These problems are done away with, however, through use of the rope attached to the crank handle as shown. Two men can turn over the engine, engage the crank, and, using the rope, give the crank a rapid snap-over, this type of crank action being the most likely to succeed as compared with the slow barring over by hand as well as eliminating all hazard to crewmen.

Pipeline Co. Uses Plane to Spot Leaks

HAYS, Kas., Jan. 19.—(AP)—Use of an airplane to spot leaks in crude oil pipelines has supplanted the old method of laborious inspection on foot, the Kaw Pipeline company has announced.

Formerly eight men spent their full working time walking the main line between Logan and Lyons, Kas. Now Fred A. Thompson, flying a Cub cruiser plane, covers the entire thousand-mile route of main and feeder lines in a maximum of three days.

Vets Announce for State Political Posts

DALLAS, Jan. 19.—(AP)—Two World War II veterans, Mike F. McKool and Jesse Kirby, both students of law at Southern Methodist university here, today announced their candidacy as state representatives for Dallas county.

McKool, 27, was a fall gunner on a B-24 heavy bomber. Kirby piloted a B-17 four-engine bomber with the Eighth air force.

Our public schools equipped with capable teachers and compulsory attendance laws could do much to correct delinquency among all races. Gov. A. Gregg Cherry of North Carolina.

Haliburton No. 1 River-Bed Well Swabs Half Barrel

Swabbing one-half barrel of oil at 2635 feet, the E. P. Haliburton No. 1 Huber-State "B", Lulu Kermis survey, (river-bed) in Hutchinson county, drilled to 2660 feet and set casing at 2635 feet with 200 sacks of cement.

The Carl Smith No. 1 Inez Durham, section 154, block 3, I&GN survey, Gray county, drilled to 2890 feet with first show of gas at 2535 feet and a slight increase at 2585 feet. Seven-inch casing was set at 2501 feet with 200 sacks of cement.

The Shamrock Oil and Gas Co. No. 1 Otis Phillips, section 6, block 1-1PD, set 1 3/8-inch casing at 428 feet with 250 sacks of cement and was drilling at 1017 feet in red rock and gypsum.

Phillips Petroleum Co. No. 1 Helt, section 1, block 2, G&M survey, was drilling ahead in shale at 2193 feet after setting 10 3/4-inch casing at 513 feet with 275 sacks of cement.

Now being treated, the J. M. Huber No. 1 Sanford "H", section 13,

Collingsworth Co. Wildcats Drilling

The John B. Earber No. 1 L. D. Aldous, located in wildcat territory section 84, block 16, H&GN survey, was drilling in blue shale after setting 12-inch casing at 124 feet and 10 3/4-inch at 425 feet. Casing was not cemented.

The Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 1 Mrs. N. R. Cetrus, also in wildcat territory section 58, block 19, H&GN survey, was moving in material preparatory to drilling.

Pampa Contractor Completes Skelly 47-Mile Gas Line

J. C. Carlson and son of Pampa was the contractor for the recently completed Skelly Oil Co. 47-mile natural gas lines ranging from four to 22-inch in size as a gathering system in the Hugoton gas field near Guymon, Texas county, Okla. The gathering system will ultimately deliver natural gas at the rate of approximately 80 million cubic feet per day. However, the system is not operating at capacity at this time since more wells are to be drilled and tied in sometime in the future.

Lessee Applies for Repressuring Permit

AUSTIN, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The oil and gas division of the railroad commission announced a hearing on March 5 to consider application of Mills Bennett, to repressure under his leases located in the Lopez field, Webb county.

Pearl Harbor

"war warning" was a Dec. 3 message advising that the Japanese here and in London were destroying their code machines.

MORE INFORMATION
Kimmel made no reference to the nature of the reported Dec. 6 message but Senator Brewster (R-Maine), who had asked him about it, told reporters he was informed it was supposedly a warning.

At one point in his questioning, Brewster commented that top war and navy department officials had more information on Japan's plans than Kimmel did and they had testified they were surprised by Japan's attack. He suggested that there was more reason for Kimmel to be surprised.

Brewster then picked up a clipping he said was from the New York Times of Oct. 8, 1944, which quoted Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt as saying that at the White House the attack was "far from the shock" it was to the rest of the country.

"We had expected something of the sort for a long time," Mrs. Roosevelt was quoted as saying. Brewster asked Kimmel whether "that expectation was conveyed to you."

Saying it had not, Kimmel added that Knox told him "no one in Washington" expected the attack. In a double-barreled question, Brewster asked whether Kimmel knew any reason why copies of decoded Japanese messages were not sent to him and were sent to the British admiralty.

"I know of no reason why they should not have been sent to the commander of the Pacific fleet," Kimmel replied. "And I think he was as much entitled to them as the British admiralty."

Kimmel has expressed belief that if he had seen the messages he would have perceived the time and place of the attack and would have ambushed the Japanese raiders at sea.

Steel Strike

The strike, with 77 plants in the area, has been shut down.

BIGGEST IN HISTORY
"The strike will last until we have won," Germano said. Both he and U. S. Steel representatives at Chicago said curtailment of operations was "going ahead as planned and in a quiet fashion."

The steel walkout, if fully effective, would be one of the biggest in the nation's history. The strike was originally set to begin Jan. 14, but was postponed for a week to permit last-minute conferences aimed at averting it. Hope of a settlement, however, faded when President Truman's proposal, accepted by the CIO, was rejected by Benjamin F. Fairless, U. S. Steel Corp. president.

'UNJUSTIFIED SCALE'
Fairless said he had turned down the proposal because "such a high and unjustified scale might well spell financial disaster for many of the smaller steel companies and for a large number of steel fabricators and professors."

At Harrisburg, Pa., George Medrick, district CIO director, said the union and two Reading, Pa., steel plants were negotiating—at the company's request—on the union's wage demands.

Two other top-ranking disputes continued as the steel strike deadline neared. The nationwide strike of approximately 263,000 CIO and AFL meat industry workers continued for the fifth day, and there was no indication of a break in the strike of 200,000 CIO electrical workers against General Electric, Westinghouse and General Motors.

As a result of the meat strike, also stemming from a wage dispute, housewives across the country raided butchers' shelves, and New York City reported supplies of fresh meat were exhausted. A return to wartime shortages appeared in prospect. A fact-finding board was to open public hearings in Chicago Tuesday.

The electrical workers' walkout began last Tuesday after a breakdown in wage negotiations. Another union which moderated its original demands was the striking independent Western Electric Employees association, which telegraphed President Truman and other government officials it would settle the 16-day-old walkout of 17,000 workers in the New York City area for a 17 1/2 per cent wage increase. It had originally asked 30 per cent.

The union said Western Electric had offered a 15 per cent wage boost.

Oil Industry
Carried out in an orderly manner. Hardesty said meetings were held this afternoon by members of unions holding bargaining contracts at Reed, Hughes, American Can and Continental Can.

Hughes Tool company, largest of the plants facing a strike, has about 6,000 employees. It has indicated its intention to continue operation and the Independent Metalworkers union, made up of Hughes employees, called upon its members to report for work as usual.

Hardesty said that many of the Texas steel plants outside Houston will not be struck. However, U. S. steel products plants at Port Arthur and Beaumont, and the Texas Nail and Wire company at Galveston, will strike.

Arthur Hajacate, chairman of a workmen's committee for Sinclair Rubber, Inc., plant at Houston, said the situation there "is fast becoming acute."

He said the rubber plant's workers were disappointed in the 18 per cent wage increase accepted by other Sinclair employees but had "reconciled themselves" to it. Now, he said, the management is refusing to apply the increase to them.

Meanwhile at Fort Smith, stockyards were empty as the strike continues by United Packerhouse Workers (CIO). Picket lines were on duty.

In Houston, M. M. Moore, branch manager for Swift and company, said the AFL amalgamated meat cutters and butcher workmen had notified him they would not guarantee to make deliveries after tomorrow morning.

The paper industry entered the strike scene at Dallas, where United Paper Workers (CIO) served ultimatums on two Dallas firms. They were the Longhorn Roofing Products, Inc., and American Paper Stock company.

"Sofar" may also become a navigational aid for ships, but the navy said it probably is too slow for use in air navigation since as long as 40 minutes may pass between dropping the bomb and obtaining the position fix.

Sound travels through water at about 5,000 feet—a little less than a mile a second and takes 20 minutes to 1,000 nautical miles.

"Sofar" was made possible by existence of a zone at the 2,000-to-6,000-foot level where sound travels vast distances because the sound waves are bent back above and below that depth, and thus are confined in the equivalent of a "speaking tube."

Hospital Plan

board of directors said: "All possible leads have been followed to interest private capital for building a hospital for the Pampa area. This has been unsuccessful. It is the opinion of this committee that it would likely have to be a county project, supported by a bond issue X X X."

In regard to production costs, an estimate of which must be arrived at before the petition can be submitted to the property-owner-voters for calling an election, Corgan said: "It is extremely difficult, in view of today's fluctuating labor conditions and unstable material market, to estimate building costs."

However, it was stated that some figure would be arrived at within a few days and announced to the people of the county.

A petition calling for an election must by law carry the names of 10 percent of the property owners who were eligible, and voted, in the last election.

In view of the fact that a vote on the hospital bond issue is due to come some time this year, county officials have urged that all eligible voters pay their poll taxes before this month is out. Jan. 31 is the deadline.

The college issue is expected to be brought up again at the regular chamber of commerce directors meeting next Tuesday.

A location for the hospital, it is understood, has not been recommended.

The architect's plan for the 150-bed hospital call for sound-proof rooms, a nurses' quarters, air-conditioning, lecture rooms for nurse training purposes, as well as other modern equipment and devices.

Corgan recommended these features as necessary adjuncts of the modern hospital. The building would be so erected as to make extension possible.

Members of the chamber who worked on the special committee were Reno Stinson, chairman, E. J. Dunigan, C. P. Buckler, W. R. Weathered, Carl Benefiel, E. J. Hanna, and Joe Key.

Physicians representing the medical society who worked with the committee were Drs. Roy A. Webb, R. Malcolm Brown, and Paul Christian.

Committeemen to handle the petition were: Doc Pursley, chairman, Joe Key, Crawford Atkinson, L. H. Johnson, and Carl Benefiel. Work will be rushed through on drawing up the petitions, it was announced.

from the community up, not from Washington down. Civil efforts to solve these problems, he declared, should be coordinated in some local organization. That organization, he held, is the local chamber of commerce.

"That community which finds itself without organized leadership will find itself lost," he declared. He said every community should consider its chamber of commerce as a business, and should be supported financially and spiritually in that sense.

There were about 125 persons present at the meeting, at which new officers were installed. Representatives were present from Spearman, Berger, Follett, Beaver, Okla.; Canadian, Amarillo and Pampa.

The Pampa chamber of commerce was represented by D. V. Burton and J. I. Swindle.

New directors, who will serve for two years, were installed: Otis Burk, Claude Allen and T. R. Murray, officers for 1946 are Van W. Stewart, president, and Vance Apple, vice president. Ovie L. Doane is the new secretary-manager. Holdover directors, with one more year to serve, are Apple, Stewart, Glen McGibbon, and Max Boyer.

Other retiring directors are Virgil Castle, Wesley Bryan, and Sam Hergert, who was president.

ed and desks were pitched out windows. Korean police moved in and during the fighting that ensued a Korean man was shot and a woman was injured.

The Korean police struck again this morning, this time at headquarters of the leftist "preparatory army" in the rear of the governor general's palace.

American military police estimated that more than 200 leftists were in the headquarters. Two Koreans were killed and many were arrested in a short but hot battle.

The Soviet-American conference is grappling with plans "for the alleviation of Korea's immediate problems," Hoegse said in his radio address.

"The eyes of the world are on Korea," he added. "The world already knows Korea does not want trusteeship. There is no reason for further demonstrations. Continuation of demonstrations and disorders can only hurt the Korean cause."

Spirit of Fear

Although he did not mention cynicism, Dr. Nelson asserted that it is dangerous for us to think that this meeting in London is just "shadow-boxing" that all the big decisions have already been made behind the scene. He spoke a few weeks ago before a local group on the danger of cynicism in international thinking.

Top 'o' Texas Musical Will Be Presented Here

A musical review, the "Top 'o' Texas" show, will be presented in Pampa the 29th and 30th of this month in the auditorium of the Junior high school. Local members of Beta Gamma Kappa will sponsor the musical, which enthusiastic members describe as the tops in entertainment with all the zip and glamour of a Rogers and Hammerstein show direct from Broadway.

A cast of 70, including a chorus of 40 voices, will participate in the five scenes, which will include a cowboy review, a style show and numerous original songs and dance numbers.

Ken Bennett, program director of KPND, wrote the script and music and is directing the production. While Mr. Bennett was attached to a special service unit overseas, entertaining servicemen from the Normandy beaches on, he wrote much of the script for this show with the express desire of putting it on in Pampa. He has written two other original "Top 'o' Texas" reviews which have been presented here.

In the past, Mr. Bennett has also authored the local Lions' minstrel shows. While overseas, he played with a three-piece soldier orchestra which he directed.

Assisting the Beta Gamma Kappa members in producing the show will be: Bill Crawford, who is supervising the hair dressing, costumes and the style show. Cecil Hudson is preparing the stage settings. Mrs. Lenora McCurtry is arranging the dance numbers.

Lawrence McBee, who will present his well known skit with "Sally Ann," is in charge of the skits between the acts. Orchestra direction will be under the supervision of Miss Evelyn Thoma. Bunny Schultz, a newcomer to Pampa but well known to the stock companies, will be master of ceremonies. Tarpley's music store is furnishing a piano.

Reserved seat tickets will go on sale Friday in the lobby of the Combs-Worley building.

There is nothing inflationary in the policy that materials and labor should flow freely into residential construction. Competition among builders in any quantity building program will of itself defeat runaway prices.—Boyd T. Barnard, president-elect, National Association of Real Estate Boards.

Pampa Women Asked to Aid in Clothing Drive

The first Victory clothing drive starts in Pampa Monday, and women of the city have been asked to empty their closets of old and slightly worn clothing for the destitute people of Europe. Clothing donations may be accompanied with good-will notes to the recipients to make the gifts more personal.

The four ward schools, the Junior and Senior high schools and the parochial schools have been designated as collection points for the drive and will be open Monday through Friday for the purpose. In addition the Junior high school will be open Saturday.

Mr. B. R. Nuckols, chairman of the drive here, has asked that all donations be brought to one of these points as early in the week as possible.

Special feature of this year's collection is the goodwill letters which will be packed and shipped with the clothing. Miss Josephine Thomas and Rev. R. G. West are co-chairmen of this part of the project. Miss Thomas has announced that mimeographed sample letters will be distributed in the schools to help those persons who have trouble thinking of something to say in the letters.

The Parent-Teacher associations of the city schools will be in charge of sorting and packing the garments collected. No clothing needs to be dry cleaned but washable clothing should be clean. Belts should be securely fastened to the garments and shoes tied together.

Several women's organizations have planned collection parties during the week to increase interest in the drive. Such a collection party will be featured at the country club dance Saturday evening. The Girl Scout groups have already begun such parties.

Among the articles of clothing wanted are: shoes, overshoes, bedding, piece goods, suits, shirts, skirts, coats and any other usable garments for all ages.

Members of the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce will make a house to house collection Friday to reach residents who are unable to take their donations to the schools. Such bundles may be left on the porch or sidewalk.

Victory stamps were given as prizes to the winners in the costume parade and for the contest games played.

Prizes for being the most "originally dressed," "funniest dressed," and "cutest dressed" went to Patricia Faye Franklin, Carol Rankin, Patsy Sue Steller, Lynn Cornelius, and Barbara Grossman. Game prizes were won by Betty Ann Williams and Patricia Faye Franklin.

Rationing End Brings New Dishes

Corn cob salad forms unusual supper.

V-J Day released the home-maker's imagination, gave her time and more food. So celebrate with a few new ideas and put more fun in your menus.

Corn Cob Salad (6 servings)

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
1 1/4 cup cold water
1 10 1/2-oz. can cream of asparagus soup
1 2 cup real mayonnaise
1 4 teaspoon celery salt
1 4 teaspoon pepper
1 4 teaspoon paprika
2 cups cooked corn kernels
1 1/2 teaspoon onion, grated
2 tablespoons green pepper, chopped
1 1 1/2 tablespoons pimiento, chopped
2 dozen cooked asparagus tips
Green pepper strips
Salted greens
- Parsley

Soak gelatin in cold water. Combine asparagus soup, milk, real mayonnaise, seasonings. Heat. Pour over gelatin and stir until dissolved. Cool. Arrange a few corn kernels in bottom of a 1 to 1 1/2 quart, deep mold to resemble an ear of corn. Pour in gelatin mixture very gently by spoonfuls to depth of 3/4 inch. Chill until firm. Add remaining corn, onion, chopped green pepper and pimiento to remaining gelatin mixture. Stand asparagus tips against side of mold. Pour in gelatin mixture gently. Chill until very firm. Unmold on platter. Arrange pepper strips on ear of corn to resemble corn husks. Serve with salad greens and additional real mayonnaise garnished with parsley.

Chestnut and Sweet Potato Cakes

2 cups whole chestnuts
1 lb. sweet potatoes
1 1/8 teaspoon salt
1 1/8 teaspoon powdered ginger
1 cup corn syrup

Boil the sweet potatoes until soft; drain, skin and mash. In the meantime, shell the chestnuts, add 1/2 cup water and cook until tender. Drain, saving the liquid. Add salt, ginger and corn syrup to liquid and simmer gently until thickened. Chop the chestnuts very fine; add to potatoes. Add thick syrup. Mix. Cool. Shape into small balls or cylinders. Reheat just before serving.

In the Orient this is a dessert. For American tastes it might well be served as the special potato dish with the main part of the meal. Note, too, a lack of richness so desired by American palates; 2 tablespoons fortified margarine may be added during mixing. The balls or cylinders, too, are especially delightful rolled in grated orange rind or coconut before reheating.

Women Look and Feel Spruce in Dresses Termed 'Infallible'

By EPSIE KINARD

NEW YORK — More women want — and are getting, thanks to obliging designers — what style experts call "infallible clothes." These are clothes in which you couldn't go wrong, even if you tried. They fit right, make you feel spruced up, and have a soignée look which inspires pride of ownership as long as they last.

Eta, Budapest-born New Yorker, is among the foremost of American designers to insist that the test of a fashion is its infallibility. To make her designs quality, she backs up distinctive styling or quality fabrics with proportionate fit. Proof that U. S. women applaud is her American climb in a few years to the ranks of topflight designers. She is a partner of a dress firm which underwrites infallible styling with the "Eta" label.

Typical of her ideas — many of which Eta delves into museums to dig up — is a series of black and navy blue smoothies featured in her current collection. Pictured left is one of her simply styled black dresses with distinctive styling or quality fabrics with proportionate fit. Proof that U. S. women applaud is her American climb in a few years to the ranks of topflight designers. She is a partner of a dress firm which underwrites infallible styling with the "Eta" label.

Also typifying Eta's style theories is the navy blue outfit, center, made of top quality crepe. Bagpipe sleeves, a detachable, eyelet-trimmed organza blouse and a crushed comberbund of strawberry pink wool spell style for a bolero suit which is also designed to fit the vagaries of a figure.

Infallible print dresses can only be called such, according to Eta, when the print motif is distinctive and the styling is kept subordinate to the fabric. The dress, right, made of pure silk printed in a lucky match motif, owes its first appeal to fabric and its second to styling, which depends upon a novel keyhole neckline and push-up melon sleeves for fashion excitement.

'Abilene Town' Shows Here One Day After Premiere; Others Also Tops

John Emery and Paul Henreid are rivals for the love of Maureen O'Hara in "The Spanish Main," in Technicolor, co-starring Walter Slezak.

By SCOTT RAFFERTY

Two pictures that are rated as the "tops" in movie fare and one that had its world premiere only yesterday make up the theater entertainment in Pampa, starting today.

The La Nora features RKO's "The Spanish Main," the Rex sports United Artists' "Abilene Town" and Metro's "Valley of Decision" is at the Crown.

Strating with the La Nora, Paul Henreid, Maureen O'Hara and Walter Slezak are starring in the Technicolor thriller "The Spanish Main," showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Few better pictures of down-to-earth piracy have been made. Bloody battles, thrilling romance and stupendous all-around production make it really worthwhile.

Henreid is more than creditable as a Dutch privateer captain, Moss O'Hara is beautiful as a Viceroy's daughter, and Walter Slezak is outstanding as the Spanish Governor of Tortuga.

Besides the stars, there's Binnie Barnes in an unforgettable role as a lady pirate, John Emery as a traitorous aid to Slezak, Barton MacLane is an all-around bad guy and last, but far from least, Mike Mazurki remembers him in "Behind the Rising Sun" as Paul Henreid's mute companion.

Randolph Scott, guns blazing and fists flying, crashes onto the Rex screen Sunday, Monday and Tuesday in a wild and woolly epic called "Abilene Town." The picture had its world premiere yesterday in Abilene, Kansas.

The year is 1870 and the locale is Abilene, a tough town that doesn't like anybody who hasn't murdered at least three innocent bystanders.

Scott, naturally, is the marshall who cleans the town up and manages to get his shins kicked every other scene. Ann Dvorak is the object of his affections and everything turns out OK.

A strictly better type of Western this one is good entertainment for the whole family. Don't miss it.

Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer did the best job of picture-making last year and "Valley of Decision" is one of the main reasons.

Greer Garson won the Film Daily Award for the outstanding performance of the year and Gregory Peck came in very close to the top for his work in the same picture.

Metro assembled a top cast for this one, with such fine actors and actresses as Donald Crisp, Dan Duryea, Lionel Barrymore, Preston Foster, Marsha Hunt, Reginald Owen and others.

The story concerns a rich steel magnate, Donald Crisp, who hires Greer Garson as a servant. This strange Lionel Barrymore, who plays Miss Garson's father, because he was permanently injured in one of the steel mills.

Fine acting and a well-written story make it an engrossing picture all the way through.

We, the Women

By RUTH MILLET

The British government, head in hands over the problem of why Britons don't have more babies, has decided to call on 1,500,000 married women and ask them frankly why they aren't producing enough children to keep the birthrate from declining.

It's a safe bet they will discover that women have been sold short on motherhood by the modern notion that all women must follow a set pattern; that the only worthwhile course for a woman in these times is to devote herself to being as glamorous as the next woman.

Today it is assumed by both men and women—because they have been carefully sold on the theory—that if a woman doesn't keep her looks and her figure and find time to be a companion to her husband he has every right to ditch her for a new model.

There are no credits chalked up to a woman for staying at home to have babies. The mother of four or six is much more likely today to be pitied or looked on with condescension than admired.

"Poor thing" is the way the mother of more than the conventional one or two children is generally regarded. And as long as that is the accepted attitude, most women are going to follow the herd.

They have pretty unselfish-sounding reasons for limiting their families to one or two. But the real reason they do is fear.

Fear that they'll be tied down. Fear that they'll lose their husbands' interest. Fear that while they are having and caring for babies the world will pass them by.

It's just isn't glamorous to be the mother of a large family—and the majority of the feminine population has been so sold on glamor they are afraid to risk losing it.

What they don't realize is that the kind of glamor they have been sold off of fades with age—whether a woman has six children or none.

Former Officers May Reenlist in Regular Army as Master Sergeants

Colonel Robert L. Hardy, West Texas district recruiting officer, has received a war department communication which stated that former officers, warrant officers, and flight officers who have been discharged from active service on or after the 12th of May 1945 and prior to November 2, 1945, may reenlist on or before the 31 January 1946.

The communication further stated that those officers, warrant officers, and flight officers who have enlisted in the army since May 12, 1945 in a grade lower than master sergeant will be immediately promoted to the first grade (master sergeant).

The grades in which men are enlisted under the provisions of the above communication or to which they are promoted as prescribed in the above are permanent regular army grades and warrants will be issued accordingly by the commanding officer having appointing authority for the unit of station of the former officer's first assigned station.

If the applicant for enlistment was discharged from enlisted status in the first grade (master sergeant) to serve on active duty as a reserve officer or to accept a commission or appointment as warrant officer or flight officer in the army of the United States, his date of rank will be the date of rank established by his permanent warrant in the first grade whichever is applicable.

'Three Cornered Moon' Is Success With Audience

By FRANK STALLINGS

Two audiences of approximately 900 people each, Thursday and Friday nights showed their liking for the senior play, "Three Cornered Moon," by their almost constant laughter and hearty applause at the end of each act.

Pat King, who played the part of Ed Rimpiegar, had the audience in an uproar when he put on an hysterical act. Mary Rutherford portrayed her part as Mrs. Rimpiegar very well and she also sent the crowd into gales of laughter in a lowel around her head. Kenneth Rimpiegar, played by Bob Parkinson, was the eldest in the family and had graduated from Harvard with an affected accent. Jenny, the maid, enacted by Betty Stapp, had a scene all her own when she took the attention of the audience in a first act scene. Nellie whose acting talent was seen in last year's junior play played the part of Dr. Alan Stevens. Possibly the hardest part in the play was that of Elizabeth Rimpiegar who was played by Phyllis Ann Parker. Lonnie Williams played the part of Donald, a sentimental lover of Elizabeth. Douglas, as played by James Harrah possibly had the most varied of all the costumes. In the first act he appeared in a sport outfit, in the second he wore a pair of loud pajamas. The part of Kitty, a beauty in a tight dress, was portrayed by Colleen Voyles.

This play was not the usual type put on by high school students as it is considered high comedy and none of it was sheer slapstick as seen in so many high school and junior high productions. Both are fine but a person gets tired of the same old thing every year.

Since the Rimpiegars were quite the old-fashioned kind of people, the furniture selections were of the heavy-duty variety. The set was in every detail. Ancient tables, chairs, and the plain decorated dishes used showed how much they lacked of being up to the minute family. A masterpiece in stage building a high school play was the set of stairs built by the stage managers. These were erected and painted by the boys with no professional advice.

The first night of the play the prompters were kept busy but Friday the players had improved on their lines and gave the prompters some rest.

Stage managers were Russell Neef, in charge of the stairs and curtains; Frank Stallings, in charge of sound effects and lights; Bob Troop and Erma Lee Kennedy.

Property managers were Alberta Williams, Joyce Pratt and Barbara Norris.

Prompters were Pat Ann King and Betty Jo Coffey.

Miss Ruth Stapleton directed the play.

Enrolling Causes Grief To Students, Teachers

Long lines reaching far into the halls, milling people and sad faces were just a few of the sights in PHS when the students re-enrolled Monday for the second semester of the 1945-46 school year.

Students received their first shock when they were given their reports during the re-enrollment. Many of the reports were not so good as they had hoped for. Some of the reports were so bad that they had to be re-enrolled.

Next Assembly To Be On World Cooperation

The theme of this week's assembly will be Future World Cooperation, with a student panel discussing the subject.

Dick McCune will speak on Science in World Cooperation. Don Lane on Languages in World Cooperation. Elva Jean Anderson on Literature in World Cooperation. Beverly Baker on Music in World Cooperation. and Pat King on the part Journalism will play in world cooperation.

Approximately 20 men are now training for the track meets to be held in March and April. Coach D. V. Biggers announced last week.

Mrs. Sanford Resigns

The Home Ec students were looking longfaced last week after hearing that Mrs. Robert Sanford had resigned her teaching position.

Mrs. Sanford, who has been in the Homemaking department for 18 1/2 years, has taught many of the present students' older sisters. She is now going to be a housewife for her husband, who has recently received his discharge from the Army.

The students of PHS desire to wish Mrs. Sanford all the happiness and success in the world.

Harvesters Win Another With Canadian; Lose To Perryton

The Harvester basketballers, with one loss, to Perryton 42-38 and a win from Canadian Friday night 38-31, brought their season's record to eight wins and three losses.

The Pampa Harvester five was downed by the Perryton Rangers at Perryton Tuesday night by the tune of 42-38. From the moment the whistle blew beginning the hardcourt contest, it was nip and tuck all the way. At any moment anything could have happened.

Even though the Harvesters had a slow start and found themselves on the short end of a 5-0 score before very few minutes of play had elapsed, they began to gradually cut down the margin between them and victory. Flowers of Perryton could not be stopped and repeatedly sank long shots from the side of the court.

At the half-time the score stood 20-13 in the Rangers favor and they still held their seven-point lead at the end of the third quarter 30-23.

Leon Gooch was outstanding offensive player for the Harvesters—leading his team with 15 points. Randall Clay was close behind with 10 points. Leading scorer for the game was Flowers from Perryton with a total of 21 points to his credit.

The starting lineup for the Harvesters was: Randall Clay, Bill Spear, Leon Gooch, Don Humphries and Leon Crump. Bernie Brown, Charlie Laffoon and A. Z. Griffin also saw action.

Starting lineup for Perryton was Miller, Flowers, Jones, Scheil and Fuller.

The 'B' team gained an easy victory over little competition—swamping the Rangers second team 49-19. The Harvester second team's score was never threatened and they led at half-time 29-8.

Bobby Boyles led his teammates as high point man with 16 points, but A. Z. Griffin was close at his heels with 11. Miller of the Rangers was the high scorer of his team with eight.

Bobby Boyles, A. Z. Griffin, Bernie Brown, Charles Laffoon, Richard Hughes, Kelly Anderson, and Calvin McAdams all got playing time in the 'B' game. Hummer, Pletcher, Erumback, Slaughter, and Powell comprised Perryton's starting five with Miller and L. Slaughter also seeing some action.

In the Canadian game, Bill Spear turned on the heat to score 12 points and top high point honors. The game, played at Canadian was fairly close with the score standing 15-11 in Canadian's favor at the half.

Even after the half the Harvesters found their mark and outscored them 38-31.

Bernie Brown and Charles Laffoon did a lot of the ball handling. This week's games include a tilt with Phillips here Monday; Perryton here Tuesday; and Spearman here Friday.

Associated Press Names Randy Clay As Nominee for 'Texas' Top Athlete

Randall Clay, Pampa High's all-star athlete, was pointed out by the Associated Press last week as being a nominee for Texas' Top Athlete of 1945.

"Randy," as he is called by everyone in PHS, is the newly elected captain of the basketball team. He scored 368 points on the 1945 team and has scored over 100 points already this season. He won the state championship for the discus throw in 1944 with a 135 foot toss and fifth in 1944.

In football, Randall was co-captain on the 1945 team and played on the '44 eleven. In 1945 he scored 16 touchdowns, 18 extra points, and one field goal to bring to 117 his total points. He was on the second all-district team in 1944 and was elected to the first team this year and was on the all-state second team.

Beside being an athlete, he is on the honor roll. His average is 90 or above in all his subjects.

Randall is a nominee for the pin-up boy this year as he was last year. He was also a nominee for all-school favorite this year.

Faculty Honors Home Ec Teacher

Mrs. Angela Sanford, homemaking teacher in PHS for the past 18 years, was honored with a breakfast by the faculty Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Sanford resigned at the end of the first semester so that she could spend more time with her husband, who has recently been discharged from the Army.

Decorations which followed a homecoming theme—were kitchen utensils tied with big bows. Plate favors were small wooden rolling pins made by the shop boys, fashioned with green handles and tied with gold ribbon.

Miss Virginia Vaughan presented the faculty gift to Mrs. Sanford, and Miss LaNelle Scheibagen led the group in singing.

Following the breakfast, Principal F. W. Savage presided over the regular faculty meeting.

Quill and Scroll Sponsor Of National Contest

Interesting personalities will be the subject of a nation-wide feature writing contest sponsored by Quill and Scroll, International, honor society for high school journalists.

Any student in PHS may enter the contest, but no more than three selected entries can be submitted from this school.

These entries, which must have from 800 to 1,500 words must be submitted to the Little Harvester office on or before Jan. 28, 1946, for elimination. The three selected entries will be sent sometime before the deadline which will be Feb. 1, 1946.

Entries may be submitted in published form if they appeared in the Harvester between Jan. 21 and the deadline.

The person featured in the sketch need not be a celebrity, but should be a person interesting for himself or for what he has done. He (or she) may be a student, a teacher, doctor, lawyer, business man, or a watchman, who is interesting because of a hobby, a rich background of adventure, an unusual occupation, a sense of humor, or who, through a twist of fate, has some connection with an historical event or personage.

The story should not be an interview, although quoted material should be used judiciously to support statements and assertions. It should be a portrait of an individual as well as a story rich in detail and colorful in facts.

The national winners will receive the Quill and Scroll creative writing award, and if seniors, are eligible to apply for the 500 Quill and Scroll president's scholarship. Sectional winners and those receiving honorable mention are not awarded prizes but their standing is published in the announcement of contest winners.

Ray Boyles Stars In Bamboo Bowl

Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Boyles received a letter from Sgt. Ernest W. Cabe, Jr., who is stationed in Manila telling them that he had seen their son Ray, Sgt. Cabe, who is on leave of absence from the Pampa school system, saw Ray, a former student and football player, playing in the Bamboo Bowl football game New Year's Day.

A portion of Sgt. Cabe's letter follows:

"Lots of memories flooded back to me today as I watched the big athletic event of the year in the Pacific, the Bamboo Bowl football game between Leyte and Manila. As the Leyte team came on the field, I thought there was something familiar about the gait of the big fullback. To be sure I stood up in the stands and yelled 'Yes, Pampa' at the top of my lungs, and I got an immediate response. Of course it was none other than Ray. He recognized me, and we made motions signifying that we would meet after the game.

"It was a jam-up good game. You would enjoy it thoroughly. I was just like the good old days when we sat below the press box in Pampa stadium and yelled our heads off on the one-inch line. Ray scored ball right on the goal line—one time both touchdowns with typical Boyles power plays through the line. He also did some fine punting and beautiful passing.

"After the game I intercepted Ray on his way to the dressing room, and we had a good talk. He is looking great and must be in excellent condition from the game he played. Standing there in his sweaty football togs it was hard to think of him as a captain. He is staying here in Manila a few days before he goes back to Leyte. I'll do my best to see him again before he leaves.

"I have been in the Philippines since July, coming directly here from Marseilles, France, after seven months in the European theatre. I am connected with the Information and Education section of the Army. Since I came to Manila I have been working as instructional supervisor in the Philippine Institute for the Armed Forces. We occupy all the buildings of one of Manila's colleges and operate the largest army school in the world. Last term we enrolled over 12,000 soldiers and sailors in regular high school and college classes. We have our pick of teachers who are in the Army, and our faculty is a school man's dream, with college pros and Ph.D.'s all over the place. I have enjoyed my work as much as possible for a man away from home and loved ones.

"I know I am more fortunate than most in that I have had the opportunity of doing something in my line—which I hope has kept me from 'rusting'.

"Unless all signs fail I should be on my way home in March. Of course I live for that happy day."

Six New Courses To Be Offered This Semester

New courses offered during the spring semester will be trigonometry, commercial law, economics, civics, commercial geography and radio speech.

Other courses which give half credit and will be taught again are drama and Speech I and III, advanced arithmetic, sophomore math and Bible. All other courses are full year courses, and a student cannot receive credit unless he completes both semesters.

Sagebrush--by the Sage

After the brief vacation and torture of re-enrolling, school is running along as normally as could be expected.

From the sounds of chatter in the halls, Jerry Barber is quite a popular dream man with the girls. What we would like to know is why Jerry can't get around and make more happy?

Cute Joan Hawkins has started back to school again this semester. She states that there is no special boy friend. Does that make any of you boys especially happy?

Bertie McDowell and Orin Allen are still going steady. Keep it up kids, you are the kind of couples we like to see.

Students Present First Radio Program Friday

The first radio program of the year was given Friday at 4:45 p. m. These programs will be heard at this same time each week until the end of the school year.

Jimmy Terrell, master of ceremonies, took the listening audience on a tour of the class and department on the first floor. He visited first the English department. Phyllis Ann Parker explained her individual project with a song.

Frank Stallings and Anna Merle Cox told Jimmy about the intricate duties of putting out the Little Harvester. Next came Bill Nellis and Quebel Nelson, who explained the procedure of the physical education classes.

Last came the Wilson twins—Margaret and Marjorie—making a dress in the Home Economics department. They said they had saved approximately $14 on one dress they fixed from an idea they took from the "Mademoiselle."

The program for this week will be a panel discussion held by the students of the radio speech class.

Edna Poe To Teach In Place of Hammet

Because of the delayed arrival of Mr. E. L. Hammet, Miss Edna Poe will teach biology, Mr. Knox Kinard, superintendent, has announced.

Miss Poe is from Fairfield, Okla., and is a graduate of Central State college, Owla.

She will arrive Monday to begin work.

Cute Joan Hawkins has started back to school again this semester. She states that there is no special boy friend. Does that make any of you boys especially happy?

Bertie McDowell and Orin Allen are still going steady. Keep it up kids, you are the kind of couples we like to see.

It is the general opinion that boys are just plain dumb. It takes them forever to take a hint. Come on, boys, get on the ball.

Gene Shaw and Warren Jones are the typical old hermits. They like a large variety of women, but nothing for permanent lease.

Jim Wilson was seen with Donna Ruth Beagle last week. We would like to see more of this.

Sue Jordan and Jimmy Withrow have been seen together several times lately. Nice catch Jimmy!

Commission Will Discuss Education

AUSTIN, Jan. 19.—(AP)—The good neighbor commission will discuss proposals for education of children of migratory Latin-American farm workers in Texas at a meeting here Jan. 28. Chairman R. E. Smith of Houston has announced.

Proposals include education facilities at each of more than 40 reception centers throughout the state which have been established for migratory workers, and off-season class periods in school districts where children are unenumerated on the school census. Mrs. Pauline R. Kibbe, commission executive secretary, said.

She said the state department of education has already given considerable study to the problems and the commission hopes to cooperate by working out a solution to assure children of migratory laborers a well-rounded education.

whole family, the coverage costs from $3.50 to $5 a month.

Pre-payment medical plans in the United States had their origin, the survey reported, in services developed first for employees of certain hazardous industries, such as lumbering, railroading and mining. Development of the movement also was influenced by the enactment of state workmen's compensation laws.

Washington state and Oregon pioneered in medical society-sponsored plans, and now have approximately 954,100 of the 2,594,356 persons covered by medical society programs. Membership in the medical society plans in other states are largely concentrated in California, Massachusetts, Michigan, New York and North Carolina.

Facts FOR THE VETERAN

RED CROSS IN VAN OF ORGANIZATIONS SERVING VETERANS
World War II veterans returning home with service-incurred problems are finding four national organizations, each represented in 54 Veterans Administration regional offices, which are preparing to handle their queries regarding claims and benefits. The situation for the millions now being discharged is in contrast to the aftermath of the first World War when veterans could turn for counsel and advice to only one organization, the American Red Cross.

Since that time, during a period when Red Cross continued and amplified its obligations to veterans, three other major groups have entered the field—the American Legion, Disabled American Veterans, and Veterans of Foreign Wars. Each is staffed with specialists to handle the veterans' problems.

Supplementing the Red Cross and the three major service organizations who have representatives in most of 54 Veterans Administration regional offices, are five other groups authorized to represent veterans—Catholic War Veterans, Jewish War Veterans of the United States, National Jewish Welfare Board, Regular Veterans association, and Military Order of the Purple Heart. These five organizations have representation in some of the 54 Veterans Administration regional offices.

To insure discharges being aware of the groups working in their behalf, men and women being released from active service are supplied with the names of the nine service organizations mentioned and also advised by the military that "advice and assistance in connection with claims and benefits handled by the Veterans Administration" is available from all those authorized to perform the service to veterans.

The fact that no veteran need go without competent counsel in claims and benefits is further proved by the existence of approximately 50 other organizations recognized by the Veterans Administration as authorized to handle veterans' affairs.

In addition to the high standards of service offered by the organizations now operating in the veterans' field, the discharged serviceman has available in many states the assistance of state service officers.

The history of services to veterans closely parallels the social thinking of the American public in regard to the nation's obligation to uniformed men. The service began on a national basis when, early in 1917, the American Red Cross provided a program of claims service in camps and hospitals, a work predicted upon the needs for help of hospitalized veterans and servicemen.

With the passage on October 6, 1917, of a law making provision for pensions to dependents of deceased war veterans and to veterans having service-connected disabilities, Red Cross chapters began giving case work service to disabled veterans and the dependents of deceased veterans. The work of chapters included help in processing claims through what was then known as the Bureau of War Risk Insurance.

Meanwhile, the American Legion, organized to assist in offering not only fellowship but claims counsel as well, began in 1920, its work of employing service officers who worked in 14 regional offices of the veterans bureau, forerunner of the veterans administration.

The biggest step forward, both for veterans' rights and in the responsibility of service organizations connected with those rights, came in June, 1924, when the World War veterans act was created by congress. Greatly broadening the scope of benefits available, the act also gave to congress the right to appropriate huge sums for the construction of badly needed veterans administration facilities.

In due course of time the work originally begun on services to veterans by the Red Cross, closely followed by the American Legion's organization and subsequent service work, was augmented by other groups.

While the services they perform for veterans are similar in many respects, Aubrey L. Steele, chairman of the Pampa chapter, pointed out, the activities of the Red Cross and other agencies in the field of veterans service do not conflict.

"Any accredited organization can represent a veteran who wishes to file a claim before the veterans administration rating boards," Steele explained. "The veteran may select an organization of his own choice."

Steele added that there now are Red Cross workers at every general and station hospital in the country as well as at all of the army and navy separation and redistribution centers. Other agencies are represented in separation centers along with Red Cross workers. Although the Red Cross worker explains the benefits to which the separation is entitled, he gives him a list of every recognized veterans organization so that he can freely choose his own representative.

"There is plenty of work for every organization wishing to give aid and counsel to veterans," Steele said. "It is reliably estimated that there may be as many as two million veterans disabled as a result of service, all of whom will need competent counsel as to government benefits. Now will the job diminish in size. 'In World War I we had five million veterans; we now have more than ten million veterans of World War II to serve—a job that will tax the resources of all organizations.'"

Magnolia Wins Oil Rights Case

DINEBURG, Jan. 16.—(AP)—Oil rights on 165 acres of Hidalgo county land have been assigned by J. N. Abel to the Magnolia Petroleum company, county clerk records show.

Abel blocked up the tract near Pharr and Edinburg.

The five-year leases carry a rental of a dollar an acre per year and cash considerations were $10 in each lease from seven owners.

Similar terms were specified in leases of small tracts by H. M. Alexander and Almira W. Wells to H. W. Brewer of Pharr.

A half interest in oil and gas on 19.7 acres in Shadyland has been assigned by Helen L. Palmer of McAllen to M. M. Walden at an unannounced sum.

Money Value of Truman's Health Plan Discussed

(Editor's Note: This is the last in a series of five articles on President Truman's proposal for a national system of compulsory pre-paid "health insurance" to cover the costs of medical, dental, surgical and hospital care.)

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—(AP)—What would the proposed national compulsory pre-paid "health insurance" program mean to your pocketbook?

An exact answer to that question cannot be given at this time for pending legislative bills introduced by Senators Wagner (D-N. Y.) and Murray (D-Mont.) and by Rep. Dingell (D-Mich.) do not specify the manner in which funds are for such an insurance system would be raised. Their legislation was introduced immediately after President Truman had recommended such a system.

Wagner told congress $3,000,000,000 (3Q) a year would provide the pre-paid medical care proposed in his bill. In addition, he told this reporter that between $1,500,000 and $3,000,000 a year also would be required for the administration of the health insurance system.

Wagner declared to congress that the program he proposes could be financed "through income or general taxes or through payroll contributions, or both."

President Truman in a message to congress on Nov. 19 recommended that a pre-payment program be financed through additional social security taxes plus funds from general government revenues.

The Wagner bill proposes that insurance benefits be extended to dependents of an insured person.

While Senator Wagner did not specify any such amount in his present proposal, he says that in the past he has suggested a three per cent tax—1 1/2 per cent from the worker and 1 1/2 per cent from his employer.

On such a basis, says the senator, a $30,000-a-year man would contribute $4.50 a month from his earnings and his boss would contribute another $4.50.

In addition—to get the total of four per cent recommended by President Truman—another $3 a month would come out of general tax funds.

The American Medical association, principal opponent of the Truman and Wagner proposals, says a compulsory system would be "enormously expensive."

Dr. Edward J. McCormick of Toledo, chairman of the AMA's council on medical service and public relations, said recently:

"I estimate that if any government plan is put in effect, there will be more than 600,000 employed and an expense account of over $2,000,000,000 (2Q) a year before any medical care is given."

The bureau of research and statistics of the social security board, last year made a survey of 235 pre-paid medical care plans which are now in operation in this country, covering an estimated 6,000,000 persons, according to the bureau's figures.

It said plans sponsored by medical societies in the states of Washington and Oregon were among the plans that offered "relatively comprehensive care."

In the state of Washington, charges to a single subscriber range from $1.50 to $2.50 a month; for a
