

Pampa Field Gives $5000 To Red Cross

Contributing more than $5,000 in cash, a large percentage of Gray county's quota, the officers, aviation cadets, enlisted men and civilian employees at Pampa Army Air Field more than doubled the amount of expected donations to the American Red Cross war fund drive, which began on March 1 at the air base and ended yesterday.

Stories from the war fronts and training centers, telling of an air field work and service being rendered to men in the armed forces, were credited in part today by Ray L. Ellis, Red Cross field director at Pampa, for the fine showing of the personnel at the local station.

They have seen the Red Cross at work and have heard stories from friends and other men in service as to its work and importance, he said, "and unhesitatingly came through with liberal donations when the drive was announced. We are very pleased with the showing made here, especially with the fact that a great many soldiers gave a day's pay or more. It'd also like to pay special tribute to the men and women who worked so diligently to make the drive a success."

Heading the fund committee at the field was Capt. John B. Logan. His committee was composed of Lt. Harold B. Smith who was in charge of the drive among the enlisted personnel; Capt. Arthur T. Ouseley, in charge of the officer's section; and Miss Orphaene Hays, who contacted the civilian personnel.

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Because of a slight cold, President Roosevelt today postponed his engagement with labor leaders protesting the war labor board's continued use of the Little Steel formula in passing on wage increases.

The labor "victory board" composed of representatives of the AFL, CIO and railway brotherhoods was asked to put off its call until early next week.

A presidential secretary said the chief executive had what the doctor called the beginnings of a little head cold and had been advised to remain away from his office and take things easy over the week-end.

Class of 43-E Becomes Upper Class Now That Second Group of Cadets Graduated

Members of yesterday's graduating class at Pampa's Army Air Base had barely packed their new uniforms and left the barracks when the new "lowerclassmen," known officially as the Class of 43-E, moved in and "went to work."

The newly-arrived cadets, who came here from several basic flying schools, will make Pampa their home for the next nine weeks as they go through intensive precision training in the piloting of twin-engine aircraft. This will be the first "crack" these cadets have had at ships with more than one motor. They've mastered the speedy, maneuverable single-engine ships in primary and basic and are now ready for advanced flight training.

A large number of the new cadets are married, with many of their wives preceding them to Pampa to seek out living quarters.

Now that 43-C has graduated and 43-E arrived at the base, the class of 43-D falls heir to the roll of "upperclass," with only a few short weeks left before they, too, will receive their wings.

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Vice President Henry Wallace of the United States was to conclude a three-day visit to Costa Rica today with an airplane tour of banana and coffee plantations and inspection of a model dairy farm on the slopes of Irazu volcano.

32 Officers Are Promoted

Thirty-two officers at Pampa Army Air Field were promoted to higher ranks last week.

Elevated to the rank of captain from first lieutenants: J. O. Winston, R. R. McHenry, W. T. Beasley, W. D. Cowan, O. R. Stiversen, J. T. McKinney, R. R. Johnston, C. H. Elkins, W. H. Evans, F. E. Daugherty, J. W. Jackson, Francis W. Humphrys, Nathan N. Shaw, Theodore F. Keller, Glendor M. Bjelland, John E. Selden, Frank L. Weatherbee, Fred E. Smale, George S. Crane.

New first lieutenants are: John B. Pugh, Robert T. Russ, Louis Todisco, Benjamin Bock, Jay M. Dickinson, Truman W. Camp, John E. Harding, R. B. Boyd, J. W. Branenberger, J. H. Brantley, D. L. Barnard, B. F. Kuehler, and Lloyd E. Augustine.

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Colonel William D. Tipton has assumed command of the Army Air Base at Dalhart. The 50-year-old colonel, who succeeds Lt. Col. R. T. Crowler is rated a command pilot and has 5500 hours in the air. With his home in Baltimore, Colonel Tipton received bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees, attending the West Maryland college and Johns Hopkins university.

SQUADRON CHATTER

328th AVIATION SQUADRON We wish Lt. Gilbert Green a successful stay and an enjoyable trip on his furlough.

Private James Green, Jr. is a former member of the U. S. Navy. When asked what factors motivated his change, Pvt. Green merely said he liked the Army better. His father, Lt. James Green, Sr., and a brother, Corporal Jimmy Green, are also serving in the Army.

The following men were promoted to Privates First Class: George L. Chambers, Clarence L. Smith, Alton Samuel L. Clalborne, Sterling L. Bland and Leonard Mann.

Pfc. Chambers was the first man in the squadron to sign the voluntary list to donate blood when the Corps Blood bank request came out.

Pfc. Smith, supply orderly absorbs his spare time writing L-O-N-G letters to his wife. He has two brothers in the service, 1st Sergeant Emerson R. Smith and Frank L. Smith, who is currently attending Officer Candidate School.

Private Herbert Wynn to Private Herbert Walker, "Do you know what my wife is using for sugar since sugar has been rationed?" When Walker replied with his usual answer, "No," Wynn gave the obvious answer, "Why, my letters, of course!"

Soldiers Can Continue With Their Schooling

Through the Army Institute, an educational program set up by Uncle Sam, the men stationed at Pampa Army Air Field now have an opportunity to continue their education.

Organized by the War Department and established at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wis., long a leader in the "extension" of government, the program is available only to the enlisted personnel of the United States Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

A soldier or other serviceman who takes advantage of the extension courses is given a certificate of award upon completion of each course, and, upon request, a transcript of credits will be sent to a school, college or prospective employer.

All of the courses have been selected and approved by the Army as studies which will add to military proficiency and help to improve a soldier's chances for promotion.

The Institute offers 64 subjects, and any one of the 76 colleges which are participating in the plan offer more than 600 college and high school courses.

The Institute plan's cost is slight, a flat fee of two dollars. On college courses, the government will pay half of the tuition fee, up to $20.

Archbishop Unhurt In Auto Collision

LONDON, March 20 (AP)—Archbishop Francis J. Spellman of New York, who has flown safely from the United States to Italy, to North Africa and to Britain, was involved in a minor motor car crash a few minutes after his arrival in London today from Algiers. He was not injured.

The limousine in which he was leaving Paddington station collided with a parked automobile on the station's exit runway. The archbishop, military vicar of U. S. armed forces, was jolted. A tire blew out and a wheel and a fender was damaged.

Elm Trees Set Out at Field

The outward appearance of the Pampa Army Air Field will be greatly changed in the near future as the result of the current planting at the base of several thousand Chinese Elms.

The saplings, donated by the city of Pampa through Park Supt. John V. Andrews, were brought to the field by army trucks recently and are being planted daily around the squadron areas. Originally planted as seedlings by the city at the fairgrounds east of town, the young trees are now about four feet high.

Men of the 1104th squadron have been detailed to the task of digging the numerous "fox holes" into which the trees are being set.

Common Ground

BY E. C. HOLES

I speak the pass-word universal, I give the sign of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which cannot have their counterpart of us the same terms."

IS PAYING OUR BILLS BY TAKING POSSESSION?
Most people think it is absurd and visionary to contend that the government could tax people enough to pay for our war as we go along. They argue that we are to spend $100,000,000,000 this year and that our income will be only $120,000,000,000 or $130,000,000,000. They contend that to do this would be impractical and impossible.

In the first place, if we actually spend $100,000,000,000 this year, not just appropriate it, our total income will be much over $430,000,000,000 or $140,000,000,000. If we taxed enough to pay our bills as we go and bought our stuff on a free competitive basis, the cost would be about half of what it is at present. Then we would not need to raise $100,000,000,000 in taxes. We would only have to raise $50,000,000,000. Other government expenses should not exceed $15,000,000,000. Even if we had only $100,000,000,000 income, this would leave $35,000,000,000 for consumable goods.

And if we had a tax so that people did not have the money left to buy luxuries which require labor to produce need in war production, then our energy could be concentrated on producing food and the necessities of life and war production.

It is a known fact that we cannot fire a bullet until the food is produced. There is no reason in the world why we can't pay for it when the government gets it, if the people really believed in paying their proportionate share of government expense on the basis of consumption.

Yes, if we had a Use Tax so that the man who was consuming wealth that was in his possession before the war started and he had to pay tax on the use of this property and he had to pay taxes on all the other things that he bought and consumed, either by a consumption tax or a property tax, we most certainly could pay all our government expenses as we went along.

If we did this, we could have a sound banking system and a sound money system. We cannot have a sound banking system or a sound money system to measure the value of the production of each worker, if we continue to create bank credit money by having the government borrow from the banks instead of taxing us for our consumption.

Yes, I know it will not be done. We are not discussing what will be done, we are only discussing what we should do if we want to have a truly, democratic, Christian government under which we would have the highest possible standard of living.

AFRAID OF THE EMPLOYER

If a worker is afraid to talk and explain things to his employer, there are usually only two reasons for it; one is that the employer does not understand what he wants to talk about or does not understand his job, and the other is that the employer is not the right kind of an employer. The employer who does not welcome opinions of employees is probably temporarily successful, or in his dotage, or has inherited his job or got it by an error in judgment of the stockholders.

If an employee has that kind of an employer, the best thing for him to do is to find another employer because a worker does not usually have much of a future under that kind of an employer who treats his employes in such a manner that he cannot learn from them.

Every real employer wants all the assistance and suggestions he can get from his employes. This does not mean of course that he will adopt them all, but because they are not all adopted, is no reason why the employes should cease pointing out to his employer things that he believes are not just or not efficient.

Somebody is crazy all right, but it is not the civilian who is supposed to feel "lucky to get one pound of meat a week in the future."

It is bureaucratic czars of America who are crazy.

Civilian economy will collapse with insufficient food, and war production will collapse, and the armed forces will suffer and even the idealistic lend-lease commitments will ultimately be unfulfilled. Bureaucracy has had many failures. It has, in fact had few, if any successes. But of all its failures, its reduction of both civilian and armed Americans toward starvation levels is the most unnecessary and stupid, the most unpatriotic and criminal.

HOOSIERS AGAINST THIRD TERM

(Indianapolis Star)

The Indiana general assembly has passed a concurrent resolution asking congress to submit a proposal to amend the national constitution to prohibit a President from serving more than two four-year terms. That action will have the effect of registering Hoosier sentiment. If there is enough interest in other commonwealths to influence congressmen, the proposed amendment may be put up to the states and disposed of for all time.

The suggested ban on a third term is significant in view of the agitation in some quarters for a fourth term. There is, of course, not anything excepting public sentiment to prevent seeking a fourth term. That was all the objection there was to the third term, and it was quite generally believed to be an insurmountable barrier backed by precedent and the advice of many among the foremost of our elder statesmen, past and present.

Moral Duty

The Reich is trying to convince Sweden of a moral duty to contribute actively to the war against Russia. Stockholm has received these hints with extreme coldness. The press of Sweden is frank in repudiating any such idea.

"It has always been clearly maintained on the Swedish side that Sweden can not accept any interference with her sovereignty," said the conservative Nya Dagligt Allehanda. "Sweden's neutrality policy implies that Sweden intends to meet with armed force every endeavor to push her into the war on either side. This, and nothing else, is Sweden's moral duty."

News Behind The News

BY RAY TUCKER

GLORY: General Douglas A. MacArthur was not sulking in his Australian tent when every toponch American military commander appeared on the recent radio program celebrating West Point's anniversary. Nor was he dog-housed by a Washington supposedly envious of the fame he acquired in the Philippines and in the southwestern Pacific lands and waters.

"Mac" is a cocksure and confident individual, as every good war leader should be. His foibles have frequently worried his friends, and given his enemies a chance to chuckle.

The fact is that he has been deeply grieved by stories that he resented his present assignment as tantamount to exile; that he thought he might become a political threat to F.D.R. or somebody else. So he determined to spike such suggestions as effectively as possible.

As Number One man in his class at the academy and subsequently commander of the Sixth Army in that area, he sent greetings from Down Under for the ceremonies. He declined for the reasons given above and delegated the task to Lieutenant General Walter Krueger, commander of the Sixth Army in that area.

"Mac" could have capitalized on his newly acquired glory in an even more spectacular manner had it not been for his self-imposed policy of keeping in the background. He wants more planes, ships and tanks to resist the Japs and to prepare for an aggressive summer campaign. But instead of coming to the United States to present these requests in person, and to be festooned down Fifth and Pennsylvania avenues, he sent Lieutenant General George C. Kenney, his chief air officer, and Major General Richard Sutherland, his chief of staff.

"Doug is a grand soldier and he is doing a swell job," bewails one of his best friends here. "So why in hell don't they let him alone?"

CARTS: The Roosevelt-Eden fire-works concerning postwar plans have not kindled a responsive flame in the hearts of the statesmen on Capitol Hill. Without regard to party allegiance or their recipes for remaking the future world, they fear that the conversations are premature. They appreciate and sympathize with a fourth term, distracted the American people from the job of winning the war. Letters from back home support this view. It is the general feeling that national unity can be undermined by too much speculation regarding "global police organizations" and "another four years of free rent for the Roosevelt family. Fathers and mothers with sons overseas are devoted to only one sacrifice at the moment.

A Greater Killer Than Even Hitler

AP Features
NEW YORK—The number of United States men reported to be in the war is less than the number of American lives saved by a decrease in traffic deaths due to the gas and tire shortage.

According to a compilation of the magazine Public Safety, there were 10,190 fewer automobile fatalities in the first 11 months of 1942 than in the corresponding period for 1941. The Office of War Information has recently announced a total of 9,531 U. S. fighters killed since Pearl Harbor in a period of 13 months.

Eden in Time To Fix Fences

By PETER EDSON
News Washington Correspondent

British Foreign Minister Anthony Eden's presence in the United States for "a general exchange of views on all aspects of the war situation" is nicely timed, for there are evidences that U. S. love for the British, which reached a passionate peak after Dunkirk and went on up from there during the blitzes, ain't what it used to be.

This found unofficial expression in Washington recently when a British attaché remarked facetiously and off the record that the best thing that could be done to improve American relations with Great Britain would be to have Hitler bomb London more frequently.

There is more truth than whimsy in that sly bit of typical British humor, for the fact does seem to be that the more the English suffer, the more we love them. When the going gets good, the American tendency is to assess the British war effort more critically and be just a little suspicious of every move the British make.

This international mistrust of the cousins across the sea has been boisterous in high places for some little time. Maybe the Eden visit is a result of this concern, maybe not. Either way, it is possible to reveal that American and British officials in Washington are having some very confidential conversations to see if they couldn't find the causes of this ill-will and then do something about them.

YANKS TOO RICH
While the U. S. Office of War Information makes much of the fact that there is now a greater British demand for news about the United States, not so much has been reported on the unkind things which are being said. A British subject is killed by an American soldier, and the word gets back to the United States that it is unsafe for British citizens to be out at night if there are American soldiers thereabout.

From British sources come complaints that the American soldiers scattered about the British Empire have too much money to spend. There being nothing in the stores to buy, the Yanks gambled away their pay and then came back with high living which causes prices to rise and reduces quantities of goods left to the British. Besides which, as our movies show, all Americans are rich gangsters, so it's only natural that the U. S. soldiers are in general drunk and disorderly all over the place. That kind of stuff, all such stories are of course base rumors which Dr. Goebbels and the Nazi propaganda machine love to have spread as widely as possible, but they do no good towards cementing any bond of friendship between the two English-speaking members of the United Nations.

MUTUAL CRITICISM
On this side of the picture, practically every one in the United States knows all the stock criticisms which Americans have of the British—the British are great at having other people fight their wars for them, the British didn't pay their war debts, the British are selling U. S. war supplies, the British won't free India, look what the British have done to Ireland, the British will double-cross us at the peace conference—all that.

To get at the bottom of this mutual mistrust, British and American information people some time ago decided to approach the question in a scientific manner. Each side would prepare a list of all the things which the people of one country held against the people of the other. They would conduct surveys, sample public opinion, write reports. The British had no exception in this public opinion poll business, so the Americans were to help them set up the machinery. The American s. o. b. list was ready first and it was presented to the British. They looked it over carefully, said "Humm!" and "Veddy interesting."

Then they came to the item about the U. S. fear that the British would desert us at the peace conference. "May we point out," said the British spokesman, "that after the last peace conference, it was you who deserted us? Now we're not offending you, are we?"

Kovacek, assistant city chamber of commerce secretary, and Miss Louise Brobeck, manager of the merchant-banking department.

They say they settle their differences in gentlemanly fashion and that there's no hair-pulling in the city government.

About this time, which was early in March, the U. S. Office of War Information was reorganized and the intelligence bureau which was conducting this survey was abolished.

This would seem to leave the Americans with red faces and the British up to their pink cheeks in a survey of British public opinion about America, and nobody to tell it to. But the problem remains what it was. Manpower? Mr. Eden can do something about it.

Today's War Analysis

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Writer

We have in Iran (Persia) a unique and rather startling illustration of that pressing need of Allied understanding which is occupying the anxious attention of United Nations statesmen in Washington and other capitals as the war swells to a climax.

Russia, Britain and the United States are strongly entrenched in the land of the Shahs and are carrying on a great war effort from that strategic base. Persians with pro-German leanings—and they are numerous—share their shoulders at the Allied troops and refer to the situation as the military occupation of a free state.

It's the only non-Allied country in which such a combination exists. Persia definitely is a hot-spot.

The British and Russians are self-invited guests at the Persian board. They invaded the country in August, 1941, when the Teheran government failed to oust thousands of Germans who were using Persia as a base for activities against the Allies. There was fighting, and the Persians changed their minds.

United States troops are in Persia to run one of the world's greatest transport jobs—that of transferring supplies to Russia from the head of the Persian gulf by rail and desert highways. We appear to be welcome, though it isn't quite clear whether this is because the Persians love us the more or our allies the less.

A good many Persians fear post-war rivalries among the Allies will result in their country falling under the domination of a foreign power or powers. To all intents, the post-war world already has arrived in Teheran. The Atlantic charter is in the Persian melting pot.

Today's situation is a repetition of very old history, so far as Russia and Britain are concerned, Russia and Britain partitioned Persia in 1907 into zones of influence.

Some years later, in an effort to gain strength to stand off the Russo-British influence, Persia appealed to the United States to send her an economic adviser. Upon the recommendation of President Taft, Teheran engaged W. Morgan Shuster, as-treasurer-general and adviser, but Russia objected so strongly, that in 1911 Shuster was allowed to go.

After 1921 Persia developed a strong autocracy. Russia was reorganizing and England was retrenching. During this period, however, Germany gained economic control of Persia by purchasing the agricultural products for which the latter had no alternative market, and selling the Persians the machinery they needed. This accounts for the pro-German leanings in Persia at the outbreak of the present war.

Persia fears that she will come under Russian and British domination again unless there is an agreement among the Allies which will preclude this. She is banking on America's disinterestedness to save the day.

Hundreds of Hungarian Partridges Released in Panhandle Area

Effort Made To Provide Game Birds

Several hundred Hungarian partridges are now being released in the Panhandle of Texas in cooperation with Eltinge Warner, publisher of Field & Stream, the Texas Game & Fish commission.

"It is an interesting experiment which will be carefully watched," stated Mr. Buckner. "I want to thank Mr. Warner for his interest."

"The Hungarian partridge, which is native to Europe, is so plentiful in Canada that in some places they have a three months open season and a bag limit of 25 birds."

Mr. Warner is a great booster for Texas and last fall he took Gene Howe, of Amarillo, a member of the Texas Game & Fish commission, to Alberta, in Canada, where they studied the habits of the Hungarian partridges.

Most Texas hunters will be surprised to learn that the Chinese ring-neck pheasant, so plentiful in the Dakotas and some states west of here, are being introduced to the Panhandle.

Will Tucker, executive secretary of the Texas Game & Fish commission has long believed that the Chinese ring-neck pheasant might obtain a foothold in Texas. In the last 10 years he has released nearly 1,000 of the birds in the Panhandle.

Trophy Is Donated To Cage Winner

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—Walter A. Blakford, a non-athlete in his undergraduate days at New York University, has donated a trophy which will go to the winner of the Red Cross basketball game between the NCAA and the national invitational tourney champions at Madison Square Garden April 1.

Angoff Beats Pep in Big Upset

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—A good pair of hands come in handy, as Sammy Angoff would be glad to tell you today. But now that Sammy's front and center in the lightweight picture again, his chances of getting crack at clearing up the 135-pound class are all clouded up in a dollar sign.

Shortly after warthy Sammy, with "recuperated" hands and looking like two other guys from the methodical Angoff of old, walked out and whipped Wee Willie Pep in 10 rounds in Madison Square Garden last night, Chick (Hercules) Wergeles, who has turned from football publicity to fight-managing of late, flatly announced that he and his gladiator, Beau Jack, want quite a bundle as much as 40 per cent to take on the "abdicated" boss of the 135-pounders.

Training Camp Briefs

ASBURY PARK, N. J., March 20 —With the weatherman something less than cooperative, the battery-men of the New York Yankees have played virtually every sport—except baseball—their first week here.

FRENCH LICK, Ind.—The weather handicapped the Chicago White Sox but couldn't stop them.

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo.—Manager Luke Sewell is so pleased with the performance of the Detroit Tigers, 10 miles away, to be played here as a "thank you."

MUNCIE, Ind.—The Pittsburgh Pirates reported for an outdoor drill today in contrast to their basketball workout yesterday in which pitcher Bill Brandt suffered a fractured left knee. He will be sidelined four or five days.

BEAR MOUNTAIN, N. Y.—Billy Herman, after being unable to touch Fitcher Ed Head's offerings in the Brooklyn batting drill complained to Manager Leo Durocher that the big hurler "had spent the winter throwing rocks across the Mississippi river" near his Louisiana home.

MEDFORD, Mass.—The moment Manager Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox was told that Bobby Doerr had agreed to terms he promptly resumed his own easy-going reducing methods. Now that Doerr, second baseman, is all the Detroit Tigers plans only a pinch-hitting role for himself.

LAKEWOOD, N. J.—Bobby Coombs, smallest man on the New York Giant roster, stands out as a possible addition to the mound staff. Equipped with a slider and a good change of pace, the former Duke Star has impressed Manager Mel Ott.

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—Trainer Gustav Nenzitz has expressed the conviction that not all the Detroit Tigers are doing their best at the indoor calisthenics so Manager Steve O'Neill scheduled the longest outdoor—weather permitting—drill of the spring for today.

LAFAYETTE, Ind.—Jim Bagby, big Cleveland Indian pitcher, says the indoor drills at Purdue have helped him so much he is ready to cut loose already. Manager Lou Boudreau, however, fears the change from the soft turf indoors to the hard packed ground may handicap his charges.

GREAT LAKES, March 20 (AP)—Rudy Mucha, University of Washington; Herman Schmeidman, Iowa, and Paul Anderson, Purdue, have been transferred from Great Lakes to other bases for advanced training, bringing to 15 the number of football men now on their way to the fighting front, navy officials said today.

The latest transfer completes the breakup of the entire starting Blue-jacket backfield of Schmeidman, Bruce Smith, Anderson and Bob Sweiger.

St. John Players Receive Honors

NEW YORK, March 20 (AP)—St. John's, which tangles with Rice in the opening round of the national invitation tournament at Madison Square Garden Monday night, was awarded two places on the all-New York City basketball team selected by the Metropolitan Basketball Writers Association.

Conn, Overweight, Learns Lot From Soldiers at Virginia Camp

CAMP LEE, Va. (AP)—The big, handsome gladiator by attracting all the attention doesn't mind if he's 15 pounds "overweight" because "I can use some extra poundage," and "I'm never too far from the peak of condition at any time."

Conn stays in shape by working out with his students—a constantly growing assortment of leather pushers that includes such former promising professionals as Francesco Montanari and Italo Colonello.

Pampa to Play Four League Grid Games

Pampa's Harvesters will play four instead of five conference football games this autumn as Borger has abandoned football for the duration of the war.

Coach J. C. (Buck) Prejean said today that the conference games of the Harvesters would be against Brownfield here on October 22; Lubbock, there, October 29; Plainview, here, November 12; Amarillo, here, November 26.

Shamrock Boxing Tournament Will Open Thursday

SHAMROCK, March 20 (AP)—Shamrock will hold the sports spotlight in this area next Thursday and Friday, March 25 and 26, when more than 50 of the best fighters in the Texas Panhandle and Western Oklahoma gather here for the Annual Invitation Boxing tournament.

Coaches of 10 Texas and Oklahoma schools, including the Irish crew of Coach Bob Clark, have already entered the two-day tourney, and at least two other teams are expected to enter before the deadline Tuesday, March 23. Teams officially entered to date are: LeFors, Miami, Childress, Wellington, Canadian, Folsom and Shamrock, in Texas; and Duke and Sayre, from Oklahoma. Coach J. C. Prejean of Pampa said individual boxers had entered from Pampa but he did not have a complete list.

More than $130 in team trophies and individual prizes will be awarded to winners following the final bouts Friday night, Coach Clark, director of the meet, announced this week.

Fighters will be classified into 19 weight divisions, starting with midweight leather slingers weighing less than 65 pounds, being bracketed in five-pound classes up to the regular A. A. U. weights, which will prevail in the other nine divisions. Each team will be allowed to have two fighters in each division.

First, second and third place trophies will be awarded winning teams and gold and bronze miniature boxing gloves will go to the two boys entering the meet in each class. In addition to these awards, the boy compiling the greatest number of points in the tourney will receive a satin robe, and the fighter who is judged the best sportsman will be named.

Out-of-town judges and referees will work the tourney, Clark said. All fighters must be weighed in by noon Thursday unless special arrangements are made with Coach Clark prior to that time. Names of all boxers should be sent in immediately so that an adequate number of rooms will be available for them Thursday night. Breakfast will be furnished Friday morning.

Bouts will be of three one and one-half minute rounds, with one minute rests. Coaches must furnish wraps and tape for their boxers, Clark stated.

Fights will be at a locker he had used 10 months ago and got his shoes and a ball. He shot one respectfully high game and then 12 strikes in a row and the first perfect game he ever rolled.

Garman Is Member Of Kemper Rifle Team

J. W. Garman, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Garman of Pampa, is a member of the 1943 rifle team at Kemper Military school, Booneville, Mo., which for the fourth consecutive year has won the seventh service command rifle championship.

The Kemper team was national intercollegiate champion in 1940 and 1942. Score of the Kemper team this year was 3,616, or 38 points higher than second-place Shattuck school team of Fairbault, Minn.

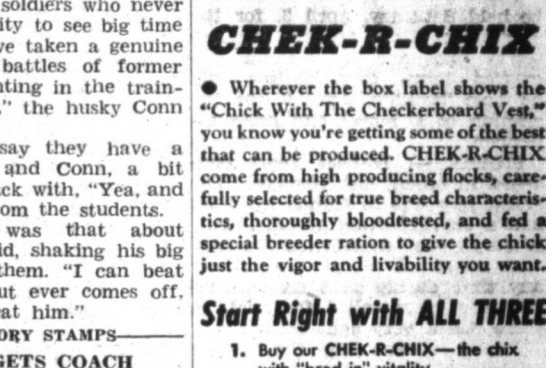

The win entitles Kemper to represent the service command in the 1943 national intercollegiate. S/Sgt. C.A. Barrack is coach of the Kemper rifle team.

Ex-TCU Player Hurt in Action

PHARR, March 20 (AP)—Lieut. Melville V. (Dutch) Ehlers, former football player at Texas Christian University, was "slightly wounded in action in the Southwest Pacific area on March 8," the war department notified his parents here this week.

Leut. Ehlers was three times decorated for heroic action as a Flying Fortress pilot in the South Pacific.

Good Lighting IS A WARTIME NECESSITY

Get the Most Efficiency From the Electricity You Use!

Keep shades, reflector bowls and especially bulbs clean. Dusting or washing them with a damp rag every month will give you approximately 25% more light. Silk shades should be brushed weekly.

Use light colored shades; also light colors on walls and ceilings, when decorating. Dark shades, walls and ceilings absorb as much as 50% light. When redecorating, select an especially light color for the ceiling.

Use the right size bulbs and proper kind of light. Wrong sizes may mean eyestrain for you or someone in your family.

Additional Things to Remember: Shade every light to eliminate glare.

Use indirect reflector lights wherever possible. Place lamps in positions where they will give the most light.

If your eyes feel strained or unduly tired, see a competent eyesight specialist.

V Notes RED CROSS VOLUNTEERS

This past week under the direction of Mrs. L. L. Davis, shipping chairman, 14 cartons of garments weighing 871 pounds were sent to the Red Cross depot at St. Louis. Assisting Mrs. Davis with the shipping were Mrs. J. B. Massa, Mrs. Frank Culbertson, and Mrs. W. A. Rankin. Because it takes time to tie up these huge cartons, Frank Smith, D. C. Hartman, Sgt. R. D. Short, and Pvt. T. G. Webb were pressed into service.

To the armed forces went: 22 navy turtle-neck sweaters, 13 army turtle-neck sweaters, 16 army V-neck sweaters, 14 navy helmets, 13 army muffers, 18 pairs of army wristlets, and 40 pairs of army socks.

Garments shipped for use in army and navy hospitals included: 155 men's night shirts, 90 ditty bags, 70 V-neck army sweaters, 97 pillows, 95 pillow covers, 270 bedpan covers, 15 bed shirts, 26 beanies, 7 toe socks, and 2 cotton quilts.

For foreign war relief we shipped: 49 men's shirts, 105 women's blouses, 1 women's slip, 2 girls' blouses, 1 cotton quilt, 3 children's sweaters, 3 men's sweaters, 9 pairs socks.

The shipment also included the 118 comfort kits packed last week by Mrs. R. R. Harrah.

Probably a great part of this shipment will go to Africa. Richard F. Allen, vice chairman of Red Cross insular and foreign operations, has just returned to the United States from a 10-week survey of Red Cross activities from Casablanca to Cairo. He says that American Red Cross operations extending literally across North Africa are meeting the needs of both United States military forces as well as the relief and food problems of civilians. There is a real need for free distribution of clothing and food until normal commercial channels can be restored, he explained.

The Red Cross services especially appreciated by servicemen Mr. Allen reported, are: the kit bags which supply the small personal items so easily lost in battle; service men's clubs; the "clubs on wheels" which reach the remote outposts; the first-rate vaudeville troupe organized among stranded French refugees and now touring military posts; and the hospital-visitor service through which American Red Cross workers visit American soldiers receiving medical care in hospitals.

The Social Calendar

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower from his field headquarters in North Africa has said: "I do hope that the Red Cross organization in this theater will be expanded many times. We have need of it every day everywhere and I have yet to meet an American soldier, and I've spoken to hundreds, who doesn't say with enthusiasm and vigor 'that Red Cross is certainly doing a fine job'."

The appreciation of the servicemen for kit bags mentioned above reminds me that Mrs. J. E. White says not all the Pampa pledges for these bags have been paid. Within the next month we must ship the last 276 of the 644 we agreed to send.

This money must be in immediately so that we can buy the comfort articles that are put into the kits. Pampa went over the top on pledging for comfort kits as she did in the war fund drive. Originally we accepted a quota of 400 but raised that as additional donations came in.

Two recent letters from the national office urge us to speed up our shipments of these kits because thousands of men are leaving our shores daily and it is the aim of the Red Cross to give each man a kit as he embarks for over-seas duty.

We are grateful to L. G. Runyon, for servicing three of our machines this past week. They are ready for use by those women who would like to sew but have no machine of their own. Mrs. Earl O'Brien, sewing chairman, suggests that such sewing be done in the morning because the cutters are busy in the afternoon and the production room is not large enough to accommodate both groups at the same time.

There is so much sewing to be done—men's hospital pajamas now, particularly—that Mrs. O'Brien hopes you will take advantage of this opportunity. If you have a machine of your own, do check out a garment right away. Our casualty list is growing fast and our hospitals are in great need of these pajamas.

Some women are not casting on loosely enough when knitting socks. Mrs. W. G. Kinzer, co-chairman of knitting, says that the tops of socks must give and the best way to assure that is to cast on with larger needles than those with which you intend to knit the rest of the sock.

The gun turrets on Flying Fortresses are sensitive enough to allow almost instinctive control and are equipped with the almost magic Sperry gunights which compensate for the 400-500-mile speed of diving enemy fighters.

U.S. Film Shows Yanks In Africa

War opens on nearly all fronts this week on Pampa screens with the navy, marines, and army, all coming in three films to be seen here.

It isn't all organized murder, however, for on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, Jack Benny, Priscilla Lane, with Rochester, appear in "The Nearest Man in the World." It all starts because Rochester tells his boss that kindness and success just don't mix and that he has to get tough. Benny tries it, in the film showing at the LaNora.

Booked for the same days at the same theater is "At the Front," an official technicolor picture produced by the army signal corps and showing our air corps, paratroops, tanks, and infantry, in action in North Africa.

A group of infantrymen move up to the front at Tebourdis in Tunisia in a heavy-half-truck. An neck-gun in front points skyward to repel any Nazi planes. Despite its stock title, "At the Front," is authentic and A-1 in motion pictures for it was shot on the spot by a crew of 42 U. S. cameramen. The picture is showing Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the La Nora as a part of a double-feature. "At the Front" was produced by the army signal corps, released by office of war information, distributed by Warner Brothers Pictures, Inc., under auspices of the war activities committee of the motion picture industry.

Old Timers Dance Held at Canadian

Special to THE NEWS. CANADIAN, March 20—The dance given by the old timers' group at the city auditorium Wednesday night was well attended, many men in uniform in the crowd.

The occasional dance sponsored by the old timers over a period of years created a fund for the annual get-together at rodeo time in July for a number of years. Last summer this gathering was not held and money was used for community service, PTA lunch room, playground equipment, Red Cross.

Musical for the St. Patrick's ball Wednesday night was furnished by Hetrick's Rhythm Clowns. St. Patrick favors were given to the dancers. No charge was made for ladies or for men in uniform. The old timers netted $61 from the evening's entertainment.

Parish Council Of Catholic Women Have Meeting

The Parish Council of Catholic Women met in the home of Mrs. Lynn Boyd Wednesday afternoon with twenty members and Father Stack present. The meeting date, being also the birthday of Mrs. Mary Conley, a special tribute was paid her by Father Stack and a spiritual bouquet presented her.

In the business session presided over by Mrs. M. P. Roche, plans were made to hold open house several times each month at the parochial school hall for the soldiers. Mrs. W. J. Haley reported the Libraries and Literature committee gather recent copies of magazines each week for the air field librarians. Members were urged to write their representatives in congress asking them to vote against the Equal Rights Resolution.

The National Council along with other large organizations such as the AAUW and the League of Women Voters, has consistently opposed this amendment on the grounds, that it would, among other things, nullify much protective legislation secured for women over a period of years.

Current events pertaining to Latin America were given following which Mrs. Jas R. Roberts reviewed two articles from Catholic Action magazine, "The Catholic Press" and "Lay Organizations."

Mrs. Roberts brought out that France, Belgium, Holland and possibly Poland make use of the press as a means of communication to maintain their spirit of freedom. However, these Nazi occupied countries carry on their press activities underground. The press is more effective for these people who are struggling to regain their lost liberties because the radio is controlled by the government and oral communication lacks exactness. A code method of conversation is used, though it is dangerous for a spy may upset its whole value.

Mrs. Roberts further pointed out since we enjoy freedom of the press in our wonderful country, it is our duty to preserve our democratic traditions and Christian heritage to the utmost by use of the press. The Lay Organizations in Post-War Reconstruction is being carried on by the National Councils of Catholic Men, Women and Youth, made up of over 6000 local affiliates. Mrs. Roberts in concluding her theme, quoted the warning of Monsignor John J. Burke that "powers of evil, as well as those of good, seize the opportunity of free organization in a democracy. Therefore, we must strive to organize the good organizations to overwhelm the evil ones."

Mrs. Chas. Hackworth Is Shower Honoree

Mrs. Jim Faris and Mrs. Olen L. Statton were hostesses to a bridal shower given in honor of Mrs. Charles Hackworth, the former Lois Beighle of Pampa, in the home of Mrs. Faris in Skellytown.

Easter theme was used for decoration in the house and in the guest book.

Mrs. John Beighle, mother of the honoree, played piano selections through the course of the evening. Gifts were presented to Mrs. Hackworth by little Miss Charlotte Faris.

Two Day Holiday Given Senior Kids

Rompers, short dresses, bow ties, and pig tails will turn the "dignified" senior class into "little kids" once more come Senior Kid Day, April 1.
The "little girls 'n boys" of the senior class will present an assembly program under the direction of Mary Jane Davis for the "big kids," sophomores and juniors, Thursday morning.
Then the class will take their hushes, suckers and all, to the park for a picnic. During the afternoon they will attend the show, after which all will be served "great big ice cream cones."
The next day, back in ordinary clothes, the class will have an all-day picnic at Lake McClellan. All seniors who intend to take their cars must obtain permission slips from Mrs. Russell Holloway, senior sponsor, some time after Tuesday to be signed by their parents. This will be done in order that there will be no mistake about the number of cars available, Mrs. Holloway said.
While the price of the Thursday show will come from the dollar senior class dues, the Friday picnic which takes the place of the annual Christmas trip, will not. Martha Francis Preece, chairman of the food committee, will announce the cost sometime next week. It will be payable either to Dorace Caldwell, class secretary-treasurer, or to Martha Francis.

High School to Launch Jeep Campaign in April

Pampa High School Jeeps

Jeepers! We're going to have a jeep campaign! Yes, the Pampa High school, as well as all the other high schools in the United States, is going on the warpath to obtain jeeps for the army.
The United States Treasury department is launching a special campaign with the schools at war with a goal of 10,000 jeeps by April 19, (anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord).
Thursday night at the Student Council's All School Dance and Skating Party, approximately $100 worth of stamps were sold. This was the first attempt of Pampa High school to sell stamps which would count on the Jeep Campaign cause.
"At present no permanent plans have been made as to how the high school will launch this campaign, but within the next few weeks plans should be completed," Dr. D. F. Osborne, principal stated Thursday.
The cost of one jeep is approximately $900. A plan will be put forth as to have each class, sophomore, junior, and senior, to buy at least one jeep for the campaign now in progress, John Tom McCoy, Student Council president, said.

1,800 Teachers Attend District Meet in Amarillo

A. M. Meyer Is President

Approximately 1,800 teachers from 26 counties forming District IX of the Texas State Teachers' association attended the Northwest Texas Conference for Education held in the Senior High school auditorium Friday in Amarillo, Texas.
The theme for the conference was "Education—An Essential for Democracy."
A. M. Meyer, president of the conference and dean of the graduate division at West Texas State College, Canyon, presided over the first general session. After music furnished by the Berger High School band, Joe Coley, assistant manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, gave the welcoming address.
"What will we offer youth when they come home from the war?" was the question raised in Dean Louis A. Pechstein's talk. Dean Pechstein is from the College of Education, University of Cincinnati, and is a member of the "Youth and the Future," Dean Pechstein pointed out that in the last war we did not count on the three main resources youth has. These are intelligence, belief in the righteousness of the democratic philosophy of life, and the belief in Christian philosophy.
Dr. Bernice M. Moore, consulting sociologist at the University of Texas, spoke on the subject of "Emotional Climate of Parents and Teachers of Our Times." Dr. Moore told of experiences she had had with students at the university.
The second general session convened at 1:45 p. m. with A. B. Lewis, vice-president of the conference and principal of Dwight Morrow school, Amarillo, presiding. "A Ballad for Americans" was sung by the Amarillo high school Capella choir directed by Miss Julia Deane.
Major N. C. Voshel, adjutant general of the Amarillo Field, gave a 20-minute discussion on "How the Schools Can Contribute to Military Success." That teachers are doing a patriotic service by staying in the school was pointed out in an address by Dr. Maycie Southall, office of defense health and welfare services.
After the second general session the delegates went to sectional meetings for discussion about specific subjects.

Junior Play Cast Chosen; Rehearsals Begin Monday

Jean Chisholm and Ernest Miller won the leading parts in the junior play "Tim in the Army Now," last Wednesday. The play is now definitely scheduled, but Miss Virginia Vaughan, director, believes that it will be held about the third week of April.
Jim Wanner, plays the part of Pa Robertson, thin, mustached man in his early fifties. He has a fine sense of humor, and firmly believes that "everything happens for the best."
Ma Robertson is enacted by Lillian Snow. Ma is inclined to stoutness, and is about 45 years of age. She has a worrisome nature but in spite of her brusque and sharp manner, she possesses a warm heart that is filled with a motherly tenderness.
Deanna Robertson is played by Jean Chisholm. She is 20 years old, and is an unusually pretty girl. Although she is inclined to be self-centered, she has an engaging personality that wins her many friends.
Bronson Robertson, Ernest Miller, is a tall, good looking boy, 22 years of age. However his shoulders are stooped and he walks with a bad slouch. He seems dull and dispirited and has an extremely nervous temperament.

Letty Ashbrook, played by Kathryn Robinson, is an attractive girl in her late teens. She is wealthy, as can be told at a glance, and is accustomed to dignified and refined surroundings.
Corinna Duffin, Jean Gregory, is a heavily set girl in her late twenties. She has a determined manner, is very definite in all her views and resents anyone who doesn't agree with her.
Prentiss Roper, Jimmy Berry, is a tall, well built chap in his early twenties. He is so immaculately groomed and so carefully dressed that he resembles a tailor's dummy.

Senior Caps, Gowns Are Ordered For Graduation Service

The order for caps and gowns for 65 senior girls and 31 senior boys was sent off Thursday afternoon, Miss Margaret Jones, senior sponsor, said.
Before the order is sent, seniors are measured for height, head size and weight.
A rental fee of $1.50 is charged by the Collegiate Cap and Gown company of Champlain, Illinois, for the week the gowns are used; however 31 seniors have already paid the fee entirely by selling tickets to the senior play, and most of the rest have sold amounts ranging from 17 cents to $1.47.
The grey poplin gowns must be turned in immediately after the graduation exercises which will be on May 25. The baccalaureate service will be Sunday, May 22. Summer school graduates, 19 girls and 7 boys, will not take part in the graduation exercises; however some of the mid-term graduates will take part.
Although they will not be able to take part in the graduation service, three boys, Flint Berlin, Calvin Skaggs, and Richard Dodson, have been issued diplomas since they have joined the armed forces.
Any senior who is passing in all subjects and is in line for graduation will receive his diploma if he goes into the armed services, Dr. D. F. Osborne, principal, said.

Texas Tech Director To Arrive This Week For Two-Day Clinic

D. O. Wiley, director of the Texas Tech band at Lubbock, will arrive in Pampa next week to conduct a two-day band clinic for the Pampa High school. Mr. Wiley, band director at Lubbock, announced Wednesday.
Ordinarily the band would attend the clinic before going to the contest, but since there is no contest this year, Mr. Wiley decided to have the clinic in order to give the band some activity to take special interest in.
Mr. Wiley, well-known bandsman, has been to Pampa for the last few years. His band at Lubbock is considered one of the best in the United States by eminent authorities. Both his sons are musically inclined and one of them has written several marches for bands.
The clinic will be held between 9 and 10 o'clock and 2 to 4 o'clock for the two days. The band will work on would-have-been contest numbers.

Health Will Be Topic For Next Home Room Program

Seniors to Discuss Jobs, Army; Juniors, Sophs Study Curriculum

Next Wednesday health will be the topic discussed by the 26 rooms of Pampa High school during home room period. Each student will be asked to analyze his general health and list the habits or activities which he should develop to improve his relations with people. A bulletin issued by the home room committee, contains background information for discussion such as the percentage of eye, ear, and teeth defects as the causes for rejection by the army.
April 7 Quill and Scroll, Journalism society, will sponsor a lecture. On April 14 the subject will be "How Can I Increase My Confidence in Myself?"
Following these programs the topics for the seniors will be different from the rest of the school.
April 21 seniors will discuss applying for a job while juniors and sophomores will discuss "Why Do I Go To School?"
Someone will talk to all the senior boys in one group April 28 concerning requirements for entering the different branches of the armed service. Girls will be given information about different vocations open to them; they will also be told the different requirements for entering the women's auxiliaries of the armed services. On the same day juniors and sophomores will talk about the traditions, policies, and regulations of Pampa High school.
Requirements and costs of attending different colleges will be the topic of discussion of seniors May 1 while juniors and sophomores will learn about what activities are offered in this school and how to get into them.
On May 12 Quill and Scroll will sponsor a lecture for the seniors, but juniors and sophomores will discuss requirements for graduation, both pre-college and vocational.
The seniors will be taking examinations May 19 while the juniors and sophomores plan their courses for next year.

Military Drill Girls Promoted to Corporals

Military drill for girls is moving along rapidly, and is a success so far, Miss Mary Smeiser, physical education teacher, said recently.
Girls from the various classes have been promoted to corporals. These girls are: Jean Bond, Barbara Davis, Geraldine Gebert; second period; Laneta Beasley, June Payne, Evelyn Kidwell, Joye Hale; third period; Norma Rae Allison, Mary Austin, Mary Ann Speed, Reva Jo Brewer, Beth Bailey, Faye Morehead, Tommy Woodard; fifth period; Janis Jones, Pauline McPhillips, Dorothy Bradford, Jo Ellen Castille; sixth period, Norma Jean Beagle, Billie Sackett, Mary Jo Gallemore, Shirley Stone.
The last meeting of the second period corporals drew K. P. duty for insubordination and had to clean up the girls dressing room. To those of you who are unfamiliar with military terms, K. P. means Kitchen Police, or clean-ups.

Miss Helen Martin Scrubs Pots, Pans As K. P. Duty in WAACS

Can you imagine Miss Helen Martin, former high school music instructor, scrubbing pots and pans? As a WAACS that is just what she has been doing, she related in a letter to Miss Margaret Jones, English teacher. As part of her K.P. duty she scrubbed pots and pans from 5 o'clock until 7 o'clock one day. Not only has she had to clean the barracks and classrooms, but march, march, and march.
After completing her four weeks basic training at Fort Chetworth, Georgia, she will be transferred to another post and begin administrative work.

Fred Brownlee Is Air Base Foreman

Fred Brownlee, having been an instructor of machine shop at Pampa High school for eighteen months, left Tuesday, March 16, to fill the position of general shop foreman at the Army Air Forces Advanced Flying School.
Mr. Brownlee received his Bachelor of Arts degree from John Tarlton College at Stephenville, Texas. This school is a branch of A.M. Before coming to Pampa Mr. Brownlee taught in a rural school out from Larissa, Texas. He also taught a year at John Tarlton, his alma mater.
Amateur photography and fishing are his pet hobbies, stated Mrs. Brownlee Thursday.

April 5 Is Deadline For Senior Pictures

The deadline for pictures for the annual senior edition of the Little Harvester was set at April 5 at the senior class meeting Wednesday afternoon. This includes both Juniors and Sophomores. Seniors who want individual prints should have the 50 cent size picture made at Smith's Studio.
"Any organization in high school may have its picture in the senior edition if they pay for the engraving," Miss Martin stated. "Seniors who will be in charge of the cuts, announced. Any student who would like to work on the senior edition is asked to see Miss Jones or any member of the Little Harvester staff."

ARE YOU A "BEST CITIZEN?"

Before this school year is over, a boy and girl of Pampa High school will walk proudly across the stage of their alma mater with honors of best boy and girl citizens, which will be chosen by the Student Council.
It is unnecessary to relate how great is this honor, as it has been the custom for many years to elect a senior boy and girl to this capacity.
Are you a good citizen? Qualities taken into consideration will be character, scholarship, fellowship, and service to the school.
To have a good character it has always been necessary to be kind and thoughtful of others and to know the right way from the wrong. Being honest is another very important quality. Of course, you are honest if you haven't robbed a bank or forged checks. But have you ever taken a souvenir from a cafe or hotel? Have you ever peeped into the other fellow's pocket when you had a chance? And of course, you have probably never copied a math problem from a chum? For most people, these answers would be yes, as many people do these things thoughtlessly. The next time you are prone to do these trivial things—stop and think! These are only some of the qualities of a respected citizen. I don't believe that you can truthfully say that you admire anyone who does not have these characteristics, for every little dishonest and under-handed deed will put you on the wrong side of the scale. When things come to a show-down, and in the long run, you will find it doesn't pay.
It isn't too late to begin, so start now in being a good citizen!

Hayseed Places Emphasis On Girls Over-Emphasizing

The primitive instincts of man have at last caught up with the female race at Pampa High school. You think I'm nuts? Let me explain.
Take a gander at the picture to the right (or the left or wherever it may be) of this story. Notice any resemblance? Look at the upswipe hair-do with the decoration on top of the "beautiful" coiffure. For a living example just notice a few of the girls around Pampa High.
Now for another point. Look at the over-emphasized eyes. A wee bit outstanding you say? Ahhh yes! Living example: the over-weighted-with-eye shadow eyes adorning the puellae around Pampa High.
Have you noticed the way the gigantic car-rings set off the large ears? (Incidentally, the uswept hair-do doesn't make them look small.) Nothing could be more noticeable (to the men) than a beautiful pair of lips. (P. S. This does not mean the well known kind of "made-up-too-much" lips.) Take one little glimpse at the picture and see how much the over-emphasized lips are over-emphasized. Get the point?
So, my little friends, the moral of this gruesome story is: be yourself (unless you are like me). Am I a devil

SENIOR WHO'S WHO

Tall, handsome Henry Virgil McCorkle, Jr., known as Mack to you, was born in Cisco, Texas. His ambition is to be an officer in the field artillery. He has been active in band and is only seventeen. He is majoring in mathematics and has attended school in Cisco, Odessa and Pampa. He plans to attend school at Texas A. & M. He is a member of the National Honor Society, and of being a Junior ROTarian. He stated that his hobbies are courting, swimming, tennis, and dancing.
H. V. McCorkle, Jr., (Mack) was born in Cisco, Texas. His ambition is to be an officer in the field artillery. He has been active in band and is only seventeen. He is majoring in mathematics and has attended school in Cisco, Odessa and Pampa. He plans to attend school at Texas A. & M. He is a member of the National Honor Society, and of being a Junior ROTarian. He stated that his hobbies are courting, swimming, playing tennis, and dancing.
Imogene Fair Sperry Miller was born in Bartlesville, Oklahoma, 18 years ago. Her ambition is to sing for Glenn Miller's orchestra. Imogene's activities are a Cappella choir and she was previously a charter member of the Tri-Hi-Y. Majoring in history she plans to attend Draughton's Business college. Imogene has attended school in Asher, Oklahoma, and Wevoda, Oklahoma. Honors that she has received are secretary of the path-momore class, vice-president of the Junior class, president of the senior class and vice-president of the band in 1941-1942. Collecting picture post cards and novelty pins are Imogene's hobbies.
Mary Loretta McCarty is born in Breckenridge, Texas, eighteen years ago. Her ambition is to be a bookkeeper. Loretta's activities are band and homeconomics. Majoring in home economics and English, she plans to attend a business school. Collecting pitchers is Loretta's hobby.
Intellectual Nita Rose McCarty is eighteen years old and was born in Dallas, Texas. Being good in science, her ambition is to have a medical career. Nita Rose's activities include being home-room reporter, office assistant, Tri-Hi-Y, and secretary of the Red Cross Council. Majoring in math, English, and science, she plans to attend Texas University. Nita Rose has attended no other schools except those in Pampa. In sports she is champion of girls' doubles in shuffleboard. Collecting novelty pins and necklaces is Nita Rose's hobby.
Eighteen-year-old Golda Mae Miller was born in Corsicana, Texas, and her ambition is to be a stenographer. She has been active in base ball and is majoring in mathematics, home economics and English. She has attended school in Pampa only. She plans to attend school after graduation from Mary-Hardin and Baylor university. She spends her hobby hours horse-back riding, skating, and playing baseball.
Quiet John V. Moseley, Jr., wants to work in business administration. He is eighteen years old and was born in Clarendon, Texas. He is majoring in commercial work and has gone to school in Amarillo, and Clarendon. He plans to attend a business college and school of pharmacy. His hobby hours are spent working in photography and coin collecting.
Several of the girls in Pampa High are Victory Belles. It seems that they really had a good time at an enlisted men's dance Tuesday night.
Some girls already have dates for the junior-senior banquet of which the date hasn't even been set. Some boys are really taking a lot of things for granted.
It is rumored that Harold Bailey is married to Lana Turner. Wishful thinking.
Doyle Lane wants to name his new little sister Frances. Could it be that Frances Crocker has influenced his frame of mind.
What intelligent, blond senior does Colleen O'Grady rave about constantly? As a hint, the initials are L. B.
Who is the attractive young lady in the town of Cisco, Texas, whose picture is found to be carried around in a certain billfold owned by a tall, blond young man? What is the girl in Odessa going to think?
Colleen Bergin seems to have a ne admirer—and an intelligent one at that. She is seen at the school dance with tall, lanky Frank Friant.
Dot Wilgus and Lewis Allen, Frances Crocker and Kenneth Lard, Kathryn Homer and Wilbur Wells were other couples at the dance.
Mary Gurley was seen at a local hospital visiting Jerry after having his tonsils removed over the week end. It seems they are still going strong. Why can't others last that long? (I mean romances.)
Vivian Lafferty was quite thrilled the other day as she received a long distance phone call at 2:30 in the morning from her one and only, "Ed."
Janice Wheatley made goodbye to a certain handsome blond the other day that she has been seeing quite often—the couple seemed to have been enjoying themselves thoroughly in front of her house one night last week. (As a hint, the young man's initials are P. D.)

Texas-Born Air Transport Head Is Kept Busy

By I. T. EASLEY
WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—It is with a comparable sense of distances as that with which the once surveyed the skyways of Texas as that Brigadier General Cyrus Rowlett Smith now looks over aerial maps of the world.

A few months after the outbreak of the war this 43-year-old native of Minerva, Tex., widely known around Capitol Hill and throughout Texas as "CR," left his job as head of American Airlines to accept a commission as colonel in the army. Last October he was promoted to Brigadier General and made chief of the air transport command.

He has just returned to Washington from a 35,000-mile trip that kept him out of town only 30 days. His responsibility is that of seeing that the adequate arrangements are made for the air movement of men and supplies for our armed forces all over the world.

After majoring in law and business administration at the University of Texas, Smith served as assistant treasurer of the Texas-Louisiana Power company. In 1928 his boss, A. P. Barrett, bought Texas air transport, an air mail line between Dallas and Houston, and that was the beginning of his aviation career. He went to work as treasurer of T.A.T.

With the development of the Southwestern airlines, Smith took an active part, and frequently came to Washington for conferences. He helped organize American airlines, and in October of 1934 was elected president of the company.

His big interest now is doing all he can to get man and materials soaring through the skies to where they're needed in the Allied cause, and he works seven days a week from about 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. He sees that the big transport planes keep moving, carrying loads which he says in peace years would have been considered weights extremely dangerous—if not impossible—to ship by air.

Million War Workers Trained

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Manpower Chief Paul V. McNutt has reported that government money had trained 1,516,043 men and women for war jobs in a six-month period.

Another half million or more are winding up courses that will equip them for technical jobs on the assembly lines turning out planes, tanks, ships, and other tools of war.

McNutt, in a report to congress, revealed that the retraining plan, started last July, required an outlay of $89,918,087 by the end of the year. Another $50,000,000 still is available for the work until June. The total allocation of $139,000,000 was for the fiscal year 1943.

McNutt reported that at the end of 1942 the program had trained or had in training a total of 1,939,401 persons.

For that period, numbers either trained or in training and amounts allocated for states included:
 Oklahoma, 39,858 persons and $3,637,181; Texas, 92,166 and $3,019,039.

Pampa Officers Will Speak At Press Meeting

Pampa will provide a major portion of the Saturday morning program at the annual Panhandle Press Association convention in Herring hotel, Amarillo, Friday and Saturday April 9 and 10.

Principal speakers at the Saturday morning session will be Lt. Col. Daniel S. Campbell, post commander at the Pampa air base; Maj. W. B. Marshner, post adjutant; and Lieut. Harold B. Smith, public relations officer at Pampa Field.

Lieutenant Smith will take to the convention a 30-minute entertainment program made up of talent from the local air base. The Pampa army base officials will be introduced to the convention delegates and visitors by Tex DeWeese, editor of The Pampa News, and immediate past president of the press association.

The convention will get under way Friday morning, April 9, with delegates expected to be registered from all sections of Texas and eastern New Mexico. The annual PPA banquet will be held Friday night after two business sessions during the day. Following the Pampa program Saturday morning the convention will close with the annual luncheon given by Gene Howe, publisher of The Amarillo Globe-News.

Wes Izard, of the Amarillo News, is president of the organization; Jimmy Gilentine, of The Heringford Brand, is vice president; and Clyde Warwick, of The Canyon News, is secretary-treasurer.

Theme of the business sessions this year will center around newspapers and their wartime problems, according to President Izard.

War Security Act Changes Are Studied

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—Fearful lest innocent citizens face prosecution unfairly, the House Rules committee held up for further study today legislation to tighten the anti-sabotage laws and to impose the death penalty for offenses against the national safety.

Recommended by the Justice department and approved by the Judiciary committee, the legislation known as "the war security act," grew largely out of the arrest and execution last year of eight Nazi agents who slipped into the United States by submarine.

At a preliminary hearing yesterday, some Rules committee members expressed their opposition to the legislation, which was so broadly drawn it could be used for persecution as well as for prosecution.

"This language is entirely too broad," Rep. Dies (D-Tex.) said. "It should be made more specific."

Concurring Rep. Fish (R-N.Y.) charged that in New York a military court of three colonels and two majors was "operating daily" and calling in citizens to question them about their beliefs and actions.

Challenging the authority of this court, Fish suggested that the Judiciary committee inquire into its activities.

The legislation, introduced by Chairman Sumners (D-Tex.) of the Judiciary committee, provides a maximum penalty of death for anyone who, with intent to aid the enemy, attempts to commit or commits these offenses:

- Injures, destroys or carries away property; acquires, compiles or transmits data calculated to aid the enemy; acquires or possesses money, weapons or other property with intent to aid the enemy; kills, injures or detains another with intent to aid the enemy; harbors anyone guilty of any of the proscribed offenses; intercepts, suppresses or transmits communications with intent to aid the enemy or travels with intent to aid the enemy.

Officials Running For Governor Would Have To Resign Under Bill

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Railroad and highway commissioners who want to run for office in 1944 have to resign their commission posts before becoming candidates under a bill sent to the floor of the house today.

Backed by Speaker Price Daniel, the measure was reported favorably for house action by its committee on privileges and elections. The measure was overwhelmingly approved, and committee members indicated further that they would press for its passage.

Daniel and Rep. Hugh Wood of Brownson are co-authors of the bill, which provides that persons elected or appointed to offices for a term of more than two years shall not be eligible for nomination or election to other offices "without first resigning from the original office."

Such candidacies would be legal, however, during the last year of tenure in the original office.

Daniel two years ago was instrumental in pushing through the house a similar bill, which later died in the senate.

Excepted under the bill are state senators and members of the judiciary. Neither would the bill prevent an attorney general—elected for a two-year term—from seeking the governorship.

Texan Falls Out Of Turret, But Shoots German

AT A U. S. BOMBER STATION IN BRITAIN, March 20 (AP)—Staff Sgt. Albert Carroll of Marshall, Tex., was one of a number of Texans who took part in the American bombing raid over Germany yesterday.

Sergeant Carroll, a turret gunner, almost landed on the sub base target himself. He fell out of his plane when the door of the ball turret opened accidentally but managed to grab hold by one hand.

For a time he dangled in the air. Then he managed to pull himself back into the turret. None the worse for the excitement, he got back to his gun just in time to fire a burst at a German fighter plane passing by.

Capt. Dexter Hodge of Pledger, Tex., was co-pilot of a Liberator bomber, "Fascinating Witch" which took part in the raid. The crew of the bomber bagged possibly two bombers, and Lt. Robert Miller of Pleasant Ridge, Mich., pilot of the craft said he had never seen Nazi planes come so close before.

"One came in upside down at me so close I had to tip up my wing to miss him," he said.

First Lt. C. L. Phillips of Greenville, Tex., pilot of the Liberator "Little Beaver," said: "It was one of our best raids.

"We plastered hell out of the target and not too many enemy aircraft were inclined to close with us. Visibility was good and we could see our bombs hitting the submarine slips."

The Little Beaver crew claimed three enemy planes destroyed.

Sgt. Edward Phillips of Fort Worth said he bagged a Focke Wulf 190. "I saw my tracers going into him," he said. "His motor stopped and he fell off going into two spins."

Second Lt. T. D. Tartness of Houston, who was manning the nose gun, said he saw the plane which Phillips claimed "collapsed."

Tartness and Phillips made a joint claim of a ME-110 which was seen by the top turret gunner flaming as it fell.

Nazi Battalion Trained to Loot

LONDON (AP)—The Germans have an entire army battalion in Russia whose business is not primarily that of fighting but to loot Nazi-occupied territory of art treasures and books. Many of its soldiers are said to be art connoisseurs and others with special knowledge.

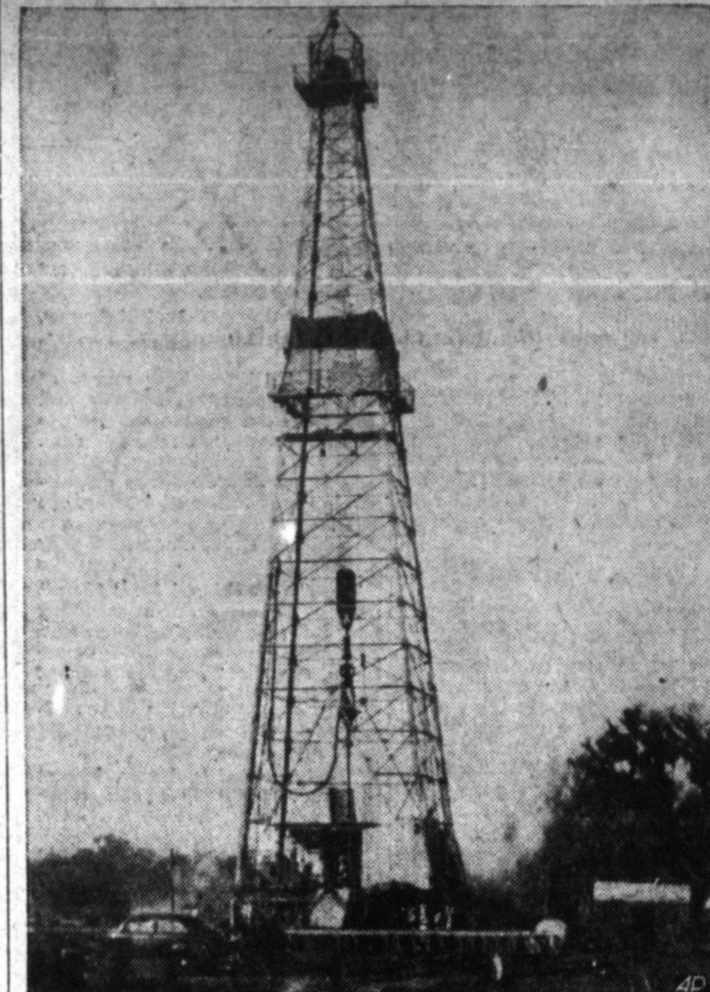

A London source said three companies of this battalion had systematically stripped the museums and universities of Kiev and Kharkov of all their old masters' pictures and rare books.

President Emerges from Talk with New York Politicians with Discourse on Coffee

WASHINGTON, March 20 (AP)—President Roosevelt conferred with three New York political figures this week—Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia, former Governor Al Smith and Tammany Chief Michael J. Kennedy—and a 1656 copy of the translated morals of epicurus.

Then he came out unequivocally in favor of saving your old coffee grounds.

It would be more honest to say he reasserted his stand, for Mr. Roosevelt has stood pat for some time on his recipe for drying out the slightly used grounds, adding a fresh spoonful and brewing anew.

The "Little Flower" on the other hand—until Mrs. LaGuardia reported the kibosh on hubby's coffee chatter—favored wet grounds, but otherwise he went right along with the president.

Epicurus, a more-or-less fastidious philosopher of former days, got dragged into the picture by LaGuardia who brought the copy of his book to the White House. In longhand, on the back page, was a recipe for "How to use copha"—which the president said meant coffee.

It recommended the marathon method of getting the most out of your old grounds—"boyle it" over each day, adding a quarter of an ounce of "fresh copha" every time you "sett it on the fier."

The president said this ancient recipe backed up his method for using old grounds to save coffee in the kitchen.

Soldiers in Army Must Quit One Or the Other

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—Service in the legislature by members who are serving concurrently in the army may come to an end, if they follow an order issued by Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States army.

A copy of the order dated Feb. 25 has been received by Governor Coke R. Stevenson.

It directs that any member of the military forces on active duty, whether on a duty status or on leave of absence or furlough, shall "not act in his official capacity as the holder of any public office or perform any of the duties thereof."

A further provision permits soldiers serving concurrently in public office to receive an honorable discharge from the army for the purpose of serving exclusively in the public office.

Thus, on the basis of the order, seven members of the house and four senators apparently must resign from the army or cease serving in the legislature. Two house members in this status have resigned.

Some members have been attending the general session of the legislature at intervals since January while on leave from military duties.

These rationed days.

According to the 1656 system, this "due for 4 days and the 5th begin anew."

It didn't say anything about politics, however, which was what reporters wondered about when the three New Yorkers appeared.

Neither did Mr. Roosevelt or LaGuardia, and of course, Epicurus couldn't—having been dead some 1200 years or so.

They have received pay as members of the legislature in addition to army pay.

Before the session began Governor Stevenson sought an expression from army officials regarding the possibility of soldier members attending and was told that furloughs would not be granted for this purpose.

The order from General Marshall was the first all inclusive directive on the subject received here.

Taxless Taxes Are Pondered

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—The legislature has come to grips with the problem of taxless taxes.

Take lightning rod salesmen and street car tracks.

The law books say the state can levy from $30 to $100 each on lightning rod peddlers, and $2 a mile for every mile of street car track.

There aren't any more lightning rod salesmen—they went out with bundles. What are street car tracks these days? Mostly scrap.

There was once a day, he explained, that a farm-to-farm peddler with a snappy line of churns, clocks and kitchen stoves could do a big business with rural wives, make enough money to fork over $250 a year to the state.

But no more. Their business has dropped off to the point where the comptroller feels that he had rather settle for $5 a year, than nothing.

The same holds for hundreds of old folks, some of them crowding 75, who hawk patent medicines, razor blades, and hairnets. The law gives the comptroller the legal right to bracket them with a $50 tax each year, but try and get it.

"Lots of them are just making a dollar a day," said Smith. "We just can't run them out of business."
