Tomorrow 'Big Day' for Second Class of Pampa Cadets

Flyers Will Get Their Silver Wings

Tomorrow is the "big day" in the lives of the cadets of 43-C, who will receive their wings and commissions as second lieutenants at Pampa Army Air Field's second graduation exercises.

The cadets, who have reached the end of 36 weeks of intensive pilot training, will be graduated as finished pilots in the Army Air Corps at ceremonies starting at 10 a. m., with Lt. Col. James W. White, commanding officer of the new Army Air Forces Bombardier School at Childress as principal speaker.

As announced previously, the program will include, in addition to the feature address by Colonel White, the invocation by Lt. Maurice P. Garner, post chaplain; the administration of the oath of office to the graduating cadets; Colonel Campbell's introduction of Colonel White; presentation of wings and diplomas to the wing commanders, honor guard student, and 43-C cadets; the singing of the Air Corps song and National Anthem.

One of the high spots of tomorrow's festivities will be the traditional "pinning on of wings" by the cadets' wives, parents, and sweethearts. This usually takes place in front of the post theatre, where the graduation will take place, immediately following the completion of the formal program in the building.

Tonight in the post recreation hall, the cadets held their gala graduation dance which features the distinctive dance music of one of America's top bands, Charlie Agnew and his orchestra.

Where the newly commissioned officers will go from Pampa, no one knows, or at least, is telling. Some will go into combat very shortly, others to instructor's schools.

Rag Donations Show Increase

Collection of rags for use at Pampa air base took a spurt yesterday, with more rags turned in Thursday than in all the rest of the days of this week preceding.

More are needed. Goal is to get at least 500 pounds of rags by Monday, so if you have any rags to donate, let's get them in now.

Some persons who donated rags failed to leave their names, but donors up to today included: Mrs. C. L. Hunter, Shell's Davis lease; Mrs. B. B. Altman, Jr., 523 S. Ballard; B. L. Adams, Box 214, Route 2; J. R. Bynum, Bill Cole, J. H. Wilson, 203 Sunset Drive; Mrs. Fred Vaughn, 135 S. Nelson; and Mrs. J. E. Bryan, whose son is a prisoner of war of the Japanese.

CADET GRADUATION SPEAKER

LT. COL. JOHN W. WHITE

Native of Texas, Colonel White Is Bombardier Pioneer

Lt. Col. John W. White, commanding officer of the Army Air Forces Bombardier School near Childress, who will be the main speaker at tomorrow's graduation exercises at Pampa Army Air Field, is a pioneer in the World War II type of bombing which has made America's "Hell from Heaven Men" the most accurate and most deadly bombardiers of the world's battlefronts.

Air Base Band Plays Saturday

The newly-organized Pampa Air Base band, less than two weeks after it was started, will make its first public appearance at the cadet graduation exercises Saturday morning.

Although the band's instruments, music and other equipment have not yet arrived at the field, it will be able to play for the program honoring the Class of 43-C, nevertheless. According to Warrant Officer Band Leader Ken Carpenter, who recently arrived at the field to take charge of the musical organization, the necessary instruments have been borrowed from the high school and Pampa citizens.

The post band making this initial appearance tomorrow will be in the nature of a ten-piece semi-pit aggregation, Director Carpenter indicates. Besides playing the National Anthem and accompanying the graduating aviators as they sing their Air Corps song, the band will play a popular music concert between 9:30 and 10 a. m. while the audience is arriving.

FDR Hopes To Avoid Civil Draft

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt told a press conference today he wanted to avoid national service legislation just as long as he possibly could.

No decision has been reached on the question of drafting of workers for war industries, Mr. Roosevelt said, and he added that it might eventually it would have to be put into effect.

Capitol Hill today Captain Rickenbacker of flying fame in war and peace, told a senate committee considering a civilian draft bill that he is "crusading to make the public conscience-stricken" to arouse the people back home to the point where they will work as our boys on the battlefields work.

Mr. Roosevelt, asked why he wanted to avoid civilian service legislation, said he thought it would create a lot more machinery, make things a lot more complicated in a lot of ways, and cause people to complain of regimentation.

A special committee headed by Economic Director James F. Byrnes has been studying all angles of the manpower problem and submitted a report to the President. Asked today for some of the general conclusions and findings of fact in the report, Mr. Roosevelt said there weren't any.

On Oct. 14, 1935, he was assigned to the 32nd bombardment squadron of the now famous 19th bombardment group, then stationed at March Field, Calif. As a member of the 19th group, White received his instruction in the development of modern aerial bombardment.

While serving at March Field in 1937, White was assigned to the communications school at Chanute Field, Rantoul, Ill., completed his work in June 1938. Having received his promotion to first lieutenant, he was assigned to Randolph Field, Texas, where he was assigned to the 52nd school squadron, department of training. Until 1940 he served at Randolph and Kelly fields as instructor of pilots.

In 1940 White was among several officers assigned to Lowry Field, Colorado, for temporary duty as instructors in the air corps technical school in connection with the training of student bombardier instructors. It was at Lowry that much of the foundation was prepared for the present West Texas Bombardier Quadrangle, the Mid-

Plans for Greater Use of West Texas Sour Crudes Are Rejected

HOUSTON, March 19 (AP)—An effort by the Texas railroad commission to secure authorization for increased use of West Texas sour crudes in refining aviation gasoline has been rejected by the Petroleum administration for war on the grounds of transportation and refining problems.

Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum administrator, wired the commission as it held its monthly production meeting here yesterday that "until the transportation and refining problems are overcome we cannot jeopardize the maximum production of critical war products by currently increasing the use of West Texas crude."

Oil men at the hearing were told by Beauford Jester, commission chairman, that Petroleum Administrator Harold Ickes had advised certification of 1,502,000 barrels of petroleum liquids daily in Texas for April, the same certification as for March.

Nominations by purchasers for April were 1,854,867 barrels compared with 1,594,477 in March. The commission was advised also by Ickes that it was "certified further that the 50,000 barrels daily increase as certified for March over February and continued for April shall be allocated to sweet crude oil fields other than the East Texas field which are tributary to the war emergency pipeline or the Houston-Beaumont refinery, centers."

Davies advised the commission that present stocks of Texas crude oil are approximately 104,000,000 barrels.

The hearing developed that the bottom hole pressure in the East Texas field dropped 441 pounds during February, showing a pressure of 10,250.55 pounds on Feb. 1

Army Private Is Hanged For Girl's Death

LEON SPRINGS MILITARY RESERVATION, Tex., March 19 (AP)—Private George Schubert, Knapp of St. Paul, Minn., was hanged here today for the slaying of eight-year-old Lucy Rivers Maynard of Bastrop last October 6.

Knapp, in civil life a gunsmith, once had been confined to a Minnesota hospital for the insane. Army investigation also disclosed he twice was convicted of larceny.

The crime for which he paid with his life occurred early last October, records of Knapp's military trial brought out.

The young girl disappeared Oct. 6 while she was on her way home from school. The next day Highway Patrolman Trenton Horton, one of the hundreds of soldiers and civilians seeking her, found the child unconscious in a ditch near Bastrop.

She died Oct. 8. Knapp, traced through tire tracks found near the place the girl was discovered, was arrested in Austin Oct. 7 and charged with murder under military law.

Swiftly a general courtmartial convened and heard the soldier's plea of innocent in an article of war covering murder, rape and theft. The trial recessed while medical officers studied the defendant's sanity. One doctor returned to a hospital, but the other two members of the board ruled he was sane enough to stand trial.

Knapp was sentenced, on Oct. 24, to hang. Maj. Gen. Harry Twaddle, 95th division commander, who approved the finding, was advised Feb. 25 that the sentence had been approved by the War Department.

Vegetable Price Ceiling Fixed—DALLAS, March 19 (AP)—The Office of Price Administration today set ceilings on prices payable to shippers of certain types of spinners, Kansas, Missouri, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas.

The new OPA order is effective tomorrow. Typical prices which shippers can charge at shipping points will be: for cabbage, $4.25 for 100-pound sack; spinach, $1.40 a bushel; carrots, crates of six dozen bunches, $3; snap beans, $4.50 for a 30-pound hamper. These prices are for first quality vegetables.

Prices are fixed in the order for all handlers of the vegetables, which means wholesalers and retailers will be assigned maximum limits they may charge on these vegetables.

OPA's regional office said the order was designed to relieve wholesalers and retailers of a price squeeze between buying and selling prices. No previous similar order on vegetables has been issued for the six-state region.

FDR Reveals Plans For United Nations Parleys

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—President Roosevelt disclosed today that perhaps half a dozen United Nations conferences might be called to consider various phases of post-war problems.

Plans are already under way for a conference on food production and distribution for all the populations of the world in the period following the close of the conflict.

In addition, the chief executive told a press conference, probably there would be a meeting on post-war relief.

Beyond that, he said, there might be two or three or four other conferences, mainly in the fields of economics and finance.

Meanwhile, a plea by Anthony Eden that the United States, England, Russia and China mould their war-time unity into the framework for a lasting peace encouraged congressional advocates of collective security to new efforts.

Mr. Roosevelt gave no indication as to when or where the conferences might be held, but he indicated that invitations already have gone out to the United Nations for a food parley.

Hap Arnold Named Four-Star General By President

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Lieutenant General Henry H. Arnold, commander of the Army air forces, was nominated by President Roosevelt today for promotion to the rank of full general.

Arnold holds the permanent rank of major general, but he will rank as a full general temporarily during the period of the war.

General Arnold is the fourth full general on active duty. Others are Generals Douglas MacArthur, George C. Marshall and Dwight Eisenhower. General John J. Pershing, although inactive, is a four-star general for life.

Compromise Tax Plan Rumored

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Congressional cloakrooms buzzed today with discussion of possible compromises that would abate a part but not all of one year's income taxes in arriving at a pay-as-you-go basis.

The search for a middle course was begun by some members unwilling to join either Republican leaders in support of the Ruml plan to skip a full year or the Democrats who oppose it.

House Republicans met yesterday to muster strength behind the full abatement plan and Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) predicted afterward that with the help of some Democrats, they would pass it.

Some Republicans speculated that 200 of their 209 members would back the Ruml plan. The Democrats have 222 house seats.

The possible compromise most discussed was that offered in committee by Rep. Robertson (D-Va.), which would abate the 6 per cent normal and 13 per cent first bracket surtax on 1942 incomes.

This would erase the 1942 obligation completely for more than 70 per cent of the taxpayers. A 20 per cent withholding levy would be applied, with small income groups comprising about 90 per cent of all taxpayers, being put on a pay-as-you-go basis and those with large incomes continuing to pay as usual each March 15 on the basis of the previous year's income.

Refrigerators To Be Made Again—WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—WVFB Chairman Donald M. Nelson said today some civilian items whose production has been halted "for the duration" would be brought back into production to supply essential civilian needs, including refrigerators.

Allies Drive Ahead In Tunisia

By The Associated Press—Allied headquarters announced today that American armored troops pushing toward the sea from newly recaptured Gafsa had seized the town of El Guetar after a 12-mile advance, while other allied columns rolled across the Central Tunisian hills in a drive aimed at cutting the 300-mile Axis coastal corridor.

Led by Dynamic Lieut.-Gen. George S. Patton, Jr., who once challenged Field Marshal Erwin Rommel to single tank combat, the Americans were reported making rapid progress despite treacherous mine fields planted by the Nazis.

Gafsa fell to U. S. troops Wednesday without the loss of a single soldier. In northern Tunisia, an Allied communiqué said, Lieut.-Gen. K. A. N. Anderson's British 1st army Withdrew slightly in the zig-zag struggle with Col. Gen. Jurgen von Arnim's Axis forces, falling back in the Famera sector some 42 miles west of Bizerte.

Heavy rains and floods hampered operations on the Central Tunisian front, dispatches said.

In the south, the British 8th army executed "slight local adjustments" whose nature was not specified—"with little interference by the enemy" in the Mareth line zone.

"Normal patrol activity has continued during the past 24 hours," the communiqué said.

In addition to the U. S. armored thrust to El Guetar, 73 miles from the port of Gabes, other American forces were reported moving northeast along a road leading to Mahares on the gulf coast.

French troops were also joining in the offensive, driving eastward See ALLIES, Page 3

Ring of Enemy Bases Attacked

(By The Associated Press)—A Tokyo broadcast declared today that the United States was preparing to "launch out in a counter-offensive in the Pacific," even as Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported the greatest Allied aerial sweep ever undertaken in the South Sea battle theater.

"At this very moment," the Tokyo radio said, "America, regardless of the serious blows dealt her, is planning to carry out her warfare in the air and on the sea. In a counter-offensive against Japan."

An Allied communiqué said United Nations airmen, virtually unopposed, eaggling Japan's ring of island bases above Australia, attacked 14 enemy strongholds and in one of the heaviest assaults dropped 38 tons of bombs on the Japanese camp at Madaya in New Guinea.

Allied bombers ranged across a 2,000-mile arc from Timor in the East Indies to New Ireland in the Bismarck sea, blasting airdromes, enemy-occupied towns, shipping and other targets.

Meat Is Set Aside for Use Of Government

CHICAGO, March 19.—(AP)—Representation of large meat packers today said that for the first time since the start of the war they were setting aside a specified percentage of their production for the government.

This procedure followed a recent government order, and its significance, packers said, was that it reversed the policy which had been maintained since lend-lease and the armed forces began buying meat. It could result in a reduction in civilian meat allowances, they added, depending upon the rate of livestock slaughter.

Formerly, the packers were restricted by the government in their retail shipments to a certain percentage of the meat they sent these civilian meat allowances, they added, depending upon the rate of livestock slaughter.

The latest ruling, however, set specific percentages of total production the government wants in the March 15-April 30 period. In effect, this abolished the 70 per cent quota to civilians. The civilian population will get its percentage of total production, and that may or may not be equal to 70 per cent of the 1942 supply.

Presumably the government acted, packers said, because it did not feel the armed forces and lend-lease were getting a sufficient proportion of total production.

Odd Luck Charms Are Carried By Pacific Flyers

By OLEN W. CLEMENTS
WITH THE ARMY AIR FORCE IN THE SOUTH PACIFIC, March 19.—Rabbit feet and four leaf clovers are scarce among the men who fly American planes in the south Pacific but there are plenty of luck charms to take their place.

One of the most unusual is that carried by Lieut. Albert Kinder, of San Antonio, Tex.—a pair of red socks in his hip pocket.

"They brought me good luck when I applied for a job teaching school five years ago," said Kinder, "and I have had them on me since."

Capt. Wayne H. Rathburn of Waterloo, Iowa, carries two buttons of a bartender's vest. He got them in Auckland, N. Z.

Capt. C. B. Smith, of Twin Falls, Idaho, refuses to wear a Mae West or parachute when he is flying. He said he didn't do it before the war and now that he is in combat he is afraid to start.

Lieut. Earl V. Stagner, of Hereford, Deaf Smith county, Tex., wears a battered old garrison cap and Lieut. C. H. McConnell, of Glendale, Calif., carries a lucky pen and pencil presented to him at a party in the states.

Capt. R. E. Stepp, of New York City, Capt. Robert E. Hawes of North Dartmouth, Mass., Capt. Robert M. Creech of Richmond, Ky., and Lieut. Torey Lyons of Stockton, Calif., all pin their luck on the same thing—four motors in the airplane.

Lieut. Leonard Edington, of Geneva, N. Y., puts his faith in his nose gun as does Lieut. Therwin S. Walters, of Houston, Tex.

Capt. Raphael Block, of Ringold, La., just trusts to luck itself. But not Lieut. Merton V. (Snuffy) Smith of San Bernardino, Calif. Said Lieut. tenant Smith:

"I always carry my camera with me. Everytime I ever went on a mission without it, we always ran into swarms of Zeros and heavy anti-aircraft fire. Now that I always carry it with me, we haven't run into anything."

Rationing Booms Huachuca Trade

REYNOSA, Mex., March 19.—(AP)—Shoe rationing has boomed the manufacture of Mexican huachucas, the sandal-type leather shoe beloved of U. S. tourists.

The supply is short, the cost rising. Reynosa dealers said that manufacturers in Guadalajara and Oaxaca, who have been supplying thousands of the sandals annually, are swamped with orders.

Huachucas for a time could be bought in Texas only with a ration coupon. That regulation has been lifted and sales have boomed.

Ag Juniors, Seniors Will Be Activated

COLLEGE STATION, March 19.—(AP)—Activation of Texas A. and M. college's 1,306 junior and senior ROTC students to duty in the enlisted reserve corps will be marked here today by a military review.

Col. M. D. Welty, commandant, disclosing plans for the review, explained that the advanced ROTC students would report at induction centers where they will be given physical examinations and government issue uniforms. They will be returned to Texas A. and M. to complete the present semester of study.

While completing their educational work they will receive regular enlisted men's pay, and then will be sent to officer candidate schools. Maintenance will be paid by the war department.

Col. Welty said that sophomore students over 18 years of age who are members of the enlisted reserve corps will not be called to active duty until the end of the current semester.

Sophomores now in school, not members of the ERC, are subject to selective service call unless the courses they are studying entitle their deferment. Freshmen students in the ERC will not be called until the end of the present semester.

Loss of Social Security Cards Costs Money

Lost social security cards cost money and the social security board would like to cut down on the expense of 2,000,000 duplicate account cards issued in 1942, according to Dewey Reed, manager of the Amarillo social security board field office.

Each lost, destroyed, or mutilated card represents enough money to buy 13 bullets for an American soldier, he claims.

"The money spent for printing, processing and mailing the 2,000,000 duplicate account cards could have purchased more than 500 desks for the army, or 25,000,000 rounds of ammunition," Reed said, to illustrate the wastefulness of failure to safeguard the original cards.

"If taken care of properly," he added, "the social security cards would last a lifetime," and gave the following tips:

"Don't carry your card with you unless you must. Put it in a drawer, safe, or other place where you keep valuable documents. Know where the card is. Before putting it away, place it in an envelope and mark it: 'My social security card.' Then you will be able to find it in a hurry, if necessary.

"If you change jobs frequently, and need to carry your card with you, don't just stuff it in a pocket. Try to duplicate it against loss, wear, or mutilation. Never keep your card in your overalls or shirt pockets. Many losses occur because the shirt or the overalls—together with the card—are tossed into the laundry tub."

Reed also warned against using the card for identification purposes. He said the card is not only valueless for identifying persons, but such use results in wear and tear and shortens the life of the card.

Kate Smith swaps stories with Mrs. A.L. Rusco of Los Angeles, Cal.

IN LOS ANGELES there's a family that makes 110 dozen cookies and 5 cakes each month to take to the boys at Camp Callan.

"We are repaid a million times by those boys' happy smiles and stuttering 'Thank you's,'" Mrs. Rusco writes to Kate Smith, "and we've started other women doing the same."

"We use Calumet Baking Powder with never a failure. Every time, it's foolish to take chances with any other product!"

"I THINK your idea's wonderful, Mrs. Rusco," Kate writes back.

"I've sung at camps so often I know how crazy the boys are for good home baking.

"Your thousands of cookies and cakes are a real test of a baking powder's reliability. And it's interesting to know that never once has Calumet's famous Double-Action failed you.

"Here's a recipe your soldiers will go for! It's Calumet Surprises—and makes up 3 different kinds of cookies!"

Try Kate's Recipe for Calumet Surprises

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup sugar

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, salt, and sugar, and sift together three times. Cream shortening. Add dry ingredients, egg, milk, and vanilla. Stir until flour is dampened, then beat vigorously 1 minute.

Divide mixture in halves and make the variations listed at right, using greased cup-cake or 8x2 1/2-inch pans. Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 18 to 20 minutes, or until done. Each half makes 12 medium cup cakes or bars.

Grape-Nuts Flakes Cakes.

Turn half of batter into pan. Blend 2 tablespoons melted butter and 2 tablespoons brown sugar, add 1 cup Grape-Nuts Flakes, crushed, and mix lightly; sprinkle over batter.

Spice Cakes.

Add 1 tablespoon molasses, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg to half of batter; blend. Top with 1/4 cup chopped raisins. (All measurements are level).

Lumber From Field Used By 4-H Club Boys

Lumber salvaged from the Pampa air base is helping in "food for freedom" in Gray county.

On display in the first floor corridor of the court house is a hog feeder constructed out of lumber donated to Gray county 4-H Club boys by Reinhart & Johnson contracting company.

County Farm Agent Glenn T. Hackney said that six boys had already built feeders from the lumber and that he expected 30 in all to be constructed, all by 4-H Club boys.

The model feeder, on display at the court house, was built by Agent Hackney and his assistant David P. Eaton. It is four feet high and 36 inches wide at the base.

Boys who have constructed feeders are Robert Saylor, Cecil Link, Earl Williams, Edwin Kelly, Leonard Husted, and James Galatin.

In May 1942, he was transferred to Big Spring as director of training and assumed command of the Childress School on Nov. 16, 1942.

Colonel White is a native of Uvalde, Texas, and attended St. Edwards' university and Texas A. & M. before enlisting in the Academy.

FBI Meeting Will Be Held In Amarillo

Auxiliary police officers, such as guards employed at defense plants, as well as police chiefs, patrolmen, and sheriffs and deputy sheriffs, are to attend the Panhandle peace officers conference conducted by the federal bureau of investigation at 2 p. m. March 26 at the federal court room in Amarillo.

Principal part of the conference program will be a study of how to combat sabotage and there will be an analysis made of the case involving the landing of eight Nazi agents on the Atlantic coast of the United States by means of a German U-boat.

Slides and actual demonstrations will be given depicting the sabotage devices smuggled into the country by the eight saboteurs, who carried T. N. T., blasting caps, detonators, and incendiary pencils.

Their efforts, however, were frustrated by the FBI and all eight were arrested within seven days of their landing.

All were tried by a military court. Six were executed, one received a life sentence, and one a 30-year sentence.

Engineers Develop New Chick Brooder
COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—A practical chick brooder which uses electric bulbs as a source of heat has been developed at the Ohio Experiment Station.

Few critical materials are required for its construction and it can be made at home at a moderate cost, thus helping to meet the poultry farm equipment shortage. I. P. Blauser, Ohio State University specialist in agricultural engineering, says.

The brooder, either 4 feet-square or 4x6 feet, will brood 250 or from 250 to 350 chicks. No thermostat is required, heat control being dependent upon manual manipulation by the operator. Plywood or pressed wood is employed in construction, and the top must be insulated. The device is both time and labor saving, Blauser says.

along the upper rim of the Chott Djerid salt marsh toward the coast. Meanwhile, a CBS broadcast reported that Gen. Sir Harold R. L. G. Alexander, Allied field commander under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, called war correspondents together a week ago and told them they would "benefit something interesting within a week."

Military analysts said Gen. Patton's drive was part of a two-way squeeze to compel Field Marshal Erwin Rommel to stand and fight—instead of rapidly shifting his armor from sector to sector—or withdraw from the North line into Northern Tunisia.

On the Russian front, Soviet dispatches said the Germans had thrown fresh masses of troops, tanks and planes into the bloody struggle for control of the upper Don river, 15 miles east of Khar'kov, but despite the tremendous pressure the Red armies yielded slightly in only one sector.

Hitler's high command said German troops had recaptured Belgorod, 50 miles northeast of Khar'kov and the successful attacks northwest of Kursk.

The Nazi command said heavy Russian attacks were beaten off south of Orel, which lies 80 miles north of Kursk, and asserted that Soviet troops encircled below Khar'kov were "annihilated."

On the central front, the Red armies driving along the old Napoleonic highway to Smolensk, vital German base 230 miles west of Moscow, captured more towns beyond newly retaken Izdeshkovo, 75 miles east of Smolensk, and widened their salient on the upper Dnieper river, the Russians said.

Further north, Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's forces reported the destruction of 800 Germans as Red Army shock troops seized more villages and approached the German bastion Staraya Russa, south of Lake Ilman.

In the western air war, bad weather apparently grounded RAP night raiders following yesterday's two-hour daylight assault by U. S. Flying Fortress bombers on the German U-boat base at Bordeaux, 15 miles northwest of Bremen.

The American bombers, making their deepest penetration of Germany in daylight, beat off nearly 100 fighters in delivering a heavy tonnage of Axis supplies to the submarine base and then found their way back across the North Sea with the loss of only two planes.

Other developments in the European conflict: Italy's U. S. headquarters in Cairo said American Liberator bombers twice attacked the Italian port of Naples yesterday, once in daylight and again after dark. Heavy clouds obscured the results.

Submarine warfare—the British navy announced that two British submarines sank six Axis supply ships, a tanker and a naval auxiliary in a 10-day sweep in the Mediterranean.

In the Atlantic, the German high command asserted that U-boats engaged in fierce fighting with convoys with no success, still in progress over a large area. The claim lacked any Allied confirmation.

Captain Parker Wins Ground School Award

In a race so close that it took fractions to determine the winner, Student Officer Capt. Van Robinson Parker won the coveted honor ground school student award to be presented at Saturday's graduation ceremonies when the Pampa Army Air field presents diplomas and wings to its second graduating class.

Lt. Col. Daniel S. Campbell said today.

Capt. Parker won out in a bitter battle with another student officer, Lt. Kenneth E. Proctor. Both had ground school averages for their work here at Pampa of 98.14. It then became necessary for Lt. Paul Daugherty, school secretary, to look up the over-all averages of the two men for their school work throughout the entire course of their aviation training.

Again the race was extremely close. Capt. Parker finally winning out with an average of 95.8 to one of 95.6 for Lt. Proctor.

Strangely enough, these rivals for scholastic honors are alumni of the same school, University of Illinois. Capt. Parker, who is 27 years old and married, earned his bachelor of science degree in 1938. He was a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and active in athletics.

Lieutenant Proctor, 24 years old, received his bachelor of science degree in 1940. He was a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

Capt. Parker will be presented his wings and his diploma by his commanding officer, Colonel Campbell, as part of the graduation ceremonies Saturday. Both Capt. Parker and Lt. Proctor hold commissions in the cavalry reserve, but after Saturday, will be commissioned officers in the air corps.

Paul McDermott of the Sinclair Prairie company urged the commission that the East Texas field be permitted to produce 22 days during April, saying that a bottom-hole pressure of 1016.14 was still a good figure.

P. Sayles Leach, vice president of the Texas company, advising the commission that his company was ready to yield any connections in West Texas, said the company's nominations for West Texas crude during April had been based on the 50 per cent pipeline promotion placed on March Allowables.

A request that producing days of the Panhandle field be increased from 24 to 28 days was made by E. H. Foster of Amarillo for Phillips Petroleum company, who said "our nomination of 49,000 barrels daily in the Panhandle is firm and we are getting only 44,000 barrels daily."

Rex Baker of the Humble company told the commission Humble's nominations for Gulf Coast crude was advanced 2,000 barrels daily to 112,360 barrels.

Baker also advise the commission that Southwest Texas pools will have a new outlet for an additional 1,000,000 barrels of oil during April.

Victory Garden Rate Must Be Applied For

You don't get the Victory garden water rate without some effort of your part.

The reduced rate, granted those who want to grow Victory gardens, won't be given you automatically regardless of what rate you are paying now.

If you want to take advantage of the Victory garden rate, you must come to the water department, make application for the lower rate, and state the size of your garden, City Manager W. C. deCordova said today.

The Victory garden rate is a minimum for 3,000 gallons, then 4 cents a thousand for each additional thousand up to 5,000 gallons.

Regular residential rate is $1.50 for the first 3,000 gallons, then 4 cents a thousand for each additional thousand up to 5,000 gallons.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—"I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all."

Now Is the Time

If the Gallup poll was correct, and 90 per cent of the people favor putting taxation onto a scientific basis by adopting the Ruml Plan, now is the time for them to tell Congress, particularly the House.

The Ways and Means committee has tossed a deformed tax offering into the lap of Congress, an alleged "compromise" that actually compromises with nothing except the economic soundness of the nation and its taxpayers.

There will be a fight on the floor of the House. Treasury strategists, who have befuddled the tax issue throughout, will try to rush the spineless committee "compromise" through before the public has opportunity to make its will felt.

It isn't important that the "Ruml Plan" be adopted. It isn't important who writes the tax bill or who takes credit for the reform.

All that matters is that a pay-as-you-earn tax be installed in such manner that taxpayers will not have to meet the heaviest two years' taxes in American history out of one year's income.

The pay-as-you-earn tax is vital now, because so many little fellows have been tapped, who cannot meet their obligations on any other basis.

It will be doubly vital when the war ends, and war-inflated incomes return to lower levels or disappear altogether. If Uncle Sam has not taken his cut as it was earned, he will not get it at all in the post-war slump.

We, the taxpayers, do not have to sit sadly and see Congress do us dirt. The congressmen were elected by us. They will lie down, roll over and jump through hoops all at the same time, if we tell them with sufficient unanimity that is what we want.

AMERICAN BEVERAGE PLAN

Washington can't solve the tax tangle, the manpower shortage, the food crisis, the submarine menace, the tangle of our relations with Russia. But don't let that get you down. We now have an American Beverage Report on how to deal with troubles that lie somewhere in the post-war future—so all is well.

THE NATION'S PRESS

Nothing impossible (The Daily Oklahoman). No longer can any one doubt that anything conceivable can happen in politics. Southern Democrats who have kept their party alive in more than one period of party disaster are turning to western Republicans for help in saving their section from the back fire of a so-called Democratic national administration.

THE OPA'S BITE

Federal Judge F. Dickinson Letts of the District of Columbia refused to grant an injunction sought by the office of price administration to restrain a Washington department store from what the OPA called further violations of the price code. Judge Letts said that the OPA action had no validity in that bad faith could not be charged to the defendant.

RUMORS SURROUND NEW ARRIVALS AT VATICAN

It is emphatically denied that any preliminary peace maneuvers are under way at the Vatican. Such denials are to be expected. But in the light of recent developments, speculation as to what is afoot inside the walls of the papal state can hardly be avoided.

Common Ground

"I speak the best word principal. I give the sign of democracy. By God, I will accept nothing which all cannot have their counterpart at on the same terms." —WALT WHITMAN.

THE CAUSE OF SCARCITY OF FOOD

The bureaucrats think they have those who oppose the government rationing food in a position that they dare not speak out against it. They want to leave the impression that it is unpatriotic to protest rationing of food.

It would be unpatriotic to protest rationing and scarcity of food if it were necessary, but when it is not necessary and when it is a result of incompetency or deliberate desire on the part of the Administration to dominate and control the lives of others, then to protest against the cause that brings about rationing is not only unpatriotic but it is a duty to do so.

And the causes of the scarcity of food we have now and the darker prospects for the future are due to the several errors made by the present administration. The primary cause of our scarcity of food is their advocacy of minimum wages in cities established by a policy to get votes and their policy of setting ceiling prices for farm products and farm labor because they had less votes than the city working man had.

In addition to this, the government has refused to tax the consumer so as to retard the consumption of luxuries and encourage the production of food and necessities. This extra borrowing of bank credit has so thrown prices out of line that the worker on the farm is getting about a fourth for the service he renders to humanity that the worker in the unionized, cost-plus job is getting in the city.

So with the prospects of undernourishment and eventually even deaths, due to food shortage, if the bureaucrats continue to show this discrimination against the man who is producing farm stuff, it is not unpatriotic to protest against this kind of mismanagement in Washington that has brought about the worst food situation that ever existed in our country, in spite of all the labor-saving tools we have to produce it with.

When the people understand the cause of bare pantries, they will not complacently put up with it under the guise of patriotism, but they will vote the bunglers out of office and put someone in who will permit production of necessities of life and not think primarily of votes to keep themselves in power.

WE OWE OURSELVES

Remember that the New Dealers told us, when they were bonoodging our national debt up to $63,000,000,000, that it really didn't make much difference because we owed the debt to ourselves.

Now, if it really does not make much difference, as they told us when they wanted to spend the money, then why do we need to pay taxes this year? Why not borrow this from ourselves and owe it to ourselves.

Of course, their statement was pure nonsense made either by demagogues or stupid people. It certainly does make a difference how much the government owes. The reason we pay taxes is because it is the only way the government has of getting money. If we borrow it from ourselves, as they claim we do, we do it by expanding our bank credit as we did to the extent of about $24,000,000,000 last year and increasing our money in circulation by $4,000,000,000.

The part that we actually borrow from ourselves is money owed to individuals, not to a cross section. It eventually has to be paid or repudiated. It is time we began to analyze statements made by the Administration and see if they are as inconsistent and as foolish as their statement that we need not worry about our debts because we only owe them to ourselves.

People who are paying their income tax this month for the first time, will begin to realize that it does make a difference how much we borrow; that government costs eventually have to be paid by the sweat of labor.

THEY NEED A LAW

It now appears that the British need a law forbidding the Speaker of Commons to die in office. Otherwise, they will have to make provision for extraordinary care of their speakers to avoid repetition of the quandary in which they now find themselves. They can't meet without a speaker, and they can't choose a speaker without meeting. They can't even pass a law providing for the succession until they meet, or meet until they have such a law.

WORTH TRYING

OPA Director Prentiss Brown believes that compulsion is necessary with criminals, but that patriotic men and women will co-operate in the war program if compulsion is put on an "honor basis." He is trying out his faith by removing harassment methods from enforcement of the ban against pleasure driving in the East.

RELATIVITY

The National Whirligig News Behind The News

By RAY TUCKER. CAMPAIGNS: James Aloysius Farley will open an anti-fourth term shop with all the modernistic trimmings on June 1st. On that date he will start aggressively to rally the Democrats who think that twelve years in the big house is enough for any man—well, not war. It will be one of the most significant musters in political history, in view of the part the next American Chief Executive will play in shaping world affairs.

Jim feels deeply and his pals say—unselfishly on the subject. No man knows the President more intimately than he does, regardless of their post-1940 alienation. No one else to hear him tell it, saw the transformation which national and foreign adaptation worked on F.D.R. This subtle effect on Mr. Roosevelt was partially responsible for the tragic break. Similar to a bush leaguer who has progressed to the status of a major baseball star, the White House occupant started to treat his trainer and promoter like a sub water boy.

So the former National Chairman is determined to spike his old church's reelection chances. He understands from personal experience that it is not too early to sow a few seeds of discontent. The Presidential route to the convention, incidentally, Jim is fully convinced that "the boss," as he once called his hero, wants to try again.

The June 1st organization will concentrate on distributing anti-fourth-nomination propaganda. Farley is now lining up public relations experts and politicians with wide contacts. And he apparently has plenty of funds for the project.

Jim will remain in the background, espousing no particular candidates, least of all himself. The campaign will be an anti-Roosevelt venture, pure and simple.

LET: Harry Woodring resigned as F.D.R.'s Secretary of War under pressure several years ago. The Kansas Democrat was politely ousted to make way for Henry L. Stimson on the eve of the Republican convention that took Wendell Willkie for better or for worse. He first learned of his "resignation" from the newspapers.

In addition to being a cornfield conservative, Harry has nursed a grievance against the White House ever since that time. While he is being neglected, his former feudist and Under Secretary, the affable Louis A. Johnson, has been sent on a mission to New Delhi and given a fifty thousand dollar job as manager of a corporation taken over by the Alien Property Custodian.

It was no surprise, therefore, when Woodring began to advocate the formation of a third political party. No one had to think twice before concluding that it would develop into an anti-Roosevelt movement. Almost simultaneously with his own switchings he received vague word from Washington that there was treasure in store for him. He can have, he was indirectly informed, a major generalship or the ambassadorship to Mexico, or probably both. Harry does not know whether he is being kidded or kidnaped and has written friends in the Capital for advice.

the wounded soldiers of this war, it does not seem to me that the "gentlemen's agreement" has been "scrupulously kept." I am convinced that no baser act of ingratitude can be found in all history than this refusal to work at the construction of shelter for the wounded soldiers of this war who had suffered in battle for these very strikers!

3. Has the plumbers' strike at Duncan field, San Antonio, been forgotten also? This strike involved the construction of a hospital for wounded soldiers of this war. It occurred in January, 1943.

4. Has the vicious practice of "absenteeism" been overlooked in connection with the keeping of terms of the original "gentlemen's agreement" or of the written pact executed with formally on March 2, 1943? "Absenteeism" is the clever device used in lieu of the strike to slow down production. I charge that this device both agreed to and some says there is no labor trouble in Texas!

Hitler's submarines are not the only ones that are destroying American ships. Think of the loss of these ships at our own port of Houston! I wonder what the galant jacks who went down on the cruiser Houston in the battle off the coast of Java would think of this? I know they would resent with terrible wrath the staining of a great city's name, which they have made glorious along with its original proud soldier father. Is this wholesale "absenteeism" keeping the solemn pact made with our government?

In this connection, let me solemnly ask if a union can be trusted to live up to an agreement which binds it not to strike, when that union permits 2000 of its men to be absent each day, and thus imperil production as much as if 2000 men had actually been on strike?

5. Moreover, have we forgotten the outrageous practice of "job-selling" which has been going on in a dozen or more construction plants in Texas during the past year, a practice in which thousands of unfortunate laborers have been compelled to buy "work permit cards" from the unions at from $50 to $100 each before being allowed to work? Was this reprehensible practice overlooked in the agreement?

6. I further charge that an organized effort is now on foot in Texas to repudiate the agreement between the governor and Rocky L. Davis, the C.I.O. legislative representative. A resolution was adopted on March 8, 1943, by the Houston branch of the National Maritime Union refusing to approve or sanction the agreement and calling on all other affiliated unions to do likewise. The resolution further charged that Governor Stevenson was anti-labor.

All the hue and cry by the labor lobbyist at this time about the so-called peace pact is simply a smoke screen to soften the demand for a union regulatory bill. The Manford bill is not an anti-strike bill, but a measure that seeks to enforce reasonable and proper regulation upon the unions. There is nothing in it that is hurtful to any union seeking to aid the laboring man. It does restrain labor racketeers from practices that are hurtful to the public, the unions, and the laborer. It is legislation designed to aid the war effort, protect the public interest, protect the honest laboring man from racketeers, and defend him in his right to work.

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON. Movie Meanie: Hollywood has rediscovered "the man you love to hate."

Not that the fabulous Erich von Stroheim ever was lost, or needed re-discovering. Until Hitler moved into France, he was making $1,000 a day in French pictures in Paris. For the last couple of years he's been starting on the American stage, notably in "Arsenic and Old Lace."

But now, after 20 years, and thanks to Adolf Hitler, Erich is back before the cameras playing diabolical German villains. It's just like old times.

As Field Marshal Erwin Rommel in Paramount's "Five Graves to Cairo," von Stroheim is showing a new generation of moviegoers how a uniform should be worn (he pours himself into them) and displaying once again the German military arrogance which is his "the man you love to hate" title of the silent screen.

WOMAN BEATER

As Field Marshal Rommel, bull-necked Erich slashes pretty Anne Baxter across the face with a riding crop. He was always one to beat up the ladies. In the silent days, he broke Constance Bennett's back in "Three Faces East" and slugged Betty Compson into unconsciousness in "The Sign of the Cross."

Modern censorship will not permit a duplication of such feats, although the riding crop slashing in "Five Graves" comes pretty close. Baxter's worry, Erich will be in there helling and heeling to the limit. In fact, as a Nazi surgeon in Producer Sam Goldwyn's "The North Star," Erich is such a heel that even the Nazis hate him.

REN PORTRAIT

Off screen, of course, von Stroheim is like the rest of the screen's merchants of menace. Happily married for 25 years, a father and a regular guy.

Hollywood has a lot of memories for Erich von Stroheim and vice versa. He gave up an army career in his native Vienna to come to the United States in 1909. He was a department store bundle wrapper, railroad section hand and riding master. In 1914, he was working as a horse match at the Tahoe when he agreed to herd a string of saddle horses 500 miles to Pasadena, Calif. When the owner of the horses refused to pay him, he took a street car from Pasadena to Hollywood and went to work as a film extra at $3 a day.

When World War broke out, Erich's career boomed because of his knowledge of military uniforms, his ability to wear them and his general knowledge of Europe. He played arrogant, monocle-wearing, heel-clicking German officers, and worked as assistant director and technical adviser.

For nine months after the armistice he was out of a job, and then he talked the late Carl Laemmle into letting him direct and star in "Blind Husbands." It was a hit. Next came "Greed," considered one of the greatest of the silent era, but a boxoffice flop, and two financial triumphs, "The Merry Widow," and "The Wedding March." In 1936, he left Hollywood and went to France.

As a director, von Stroheim won a reputation as a fanatic for detail, "to hell with the cost." He'd spend all day shooting one scene. Before starting "The Merry Widow," he hired 500 extras as soldiers and drilled them for two weeks.

erely observed in the future, even though it has not been so observed in the past, will be a fine example of the whole country, but it will not solve the serious problem created by irresponsible labor leaders who victimize the honest worker and at the same time hinder and hamper war production. Some regulatory measure is necessary to restrain those labor groups who would ruin or ruin—would direct or destroy. We have found it necessary to regulate organized labor. The last two tragic years have made it clear that we must regulate organized labor.

While directing "The Wedding March," he had the monogram of a fictitious country sewn on the unseen underwear of the palace guard.

He's still a stickler for detail. His contract for the role of Rommel specified he would have supervision of all his uniforms. For weeks he studied the history and habits of Rommel. The field marshal, he learned, always wears striped undershorts. He had Erich von Stroheim in wearing striped undershorts as Erwin Rommel in "Five Graves to Cairo."

Today's War Analysis

By DEWITT MACKENZIE. Associated Press Writer.

There's more than meets the eye in Commander-in-Chief Eisenhower's appointment of General "Blood and Guts" Patton to lead the American troops in western Tunisia as the Allies maneuver for positions in what may be the start of the big offensive.

It's a fair guess that Patton has been given the task of exploiting the greatest threat which now exists to the enemy's Tunisian defenses as a whole. That is the danger of a wedge being driven between General von Arnim in the north and Marshal Rommel in the south.

It looks to me as though Patton, with his central command, is expected to provide the wedge. The general inaugurated his new job by resupplying the oasis town of Gafsa, and drove on 12 miles to the southeast. He thus italicized the two-fisted part of his colorful if somewhat inelegant nickname but not the "blood," since the operation was carried out without loss of a single man.

Gafsa not only is the greenest and most fruitful little Garden of Eden in all Barbary, but it is the strategic point of the central Allied front. It was the anchor of American troops before they were forced to withdraw on February 16.

Long a military post, Gafsa is the hub of a network of strategic highways leading out of that mountainous region. It also lies on the railroad which runs to Sfax, one of Rommel's chief supply ports, 130 miles to the east.

One would expect Gafsa to play a highly important part in driving a wedge through the Axis defenses. Other Allied troops to the north-east would cooperate in this operation. The wedge would be thrust through to the coast, between Sfax and its sister port of Soussa directly north.

Much of the Axis strength is massed at the extreme end of Tunisia. Von Arnim is in the far north by Bizerte and Tunis, while Rommel is facing Montgomery with the British Eighth army way down near the southern border on the great Mareth line of fortification. In between is a stretch of close to 300 miles of coastal belt which is vulnerable.

The Allied strategy likely will aim at segregating the two main Axis forces at either end of the country, and then annihilating them. Rommel and von Arnim must make their last stand without hope of receiving much reinforcement. Comparatively few Axis ships are getting through the Allied naval and air blockade of the narrow waters between northern Tunisia and Sicily. As a matter of fact the German high command has little to spare either in men or materiel in view of the terrific battles going forward in Russia.

Meantime Allied resources are mounting. There is doubt as to how long the battle will rage, but there can be no question of the outcome.

It is for us to keep the faith with those we have selected for military service, we must do the all-important job that lies ahead in such a manner that every fighting man, giving everything he has to give on the battlefield, will know that we at home are doing everything we can to bring him back to us victorious.—Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey.

EDITORIAL ECHOES

LOOK! SOME EXTRA MONEY

Would you enjoy an extra dollar or two? Then why don't you try to win one of the eight prizes offered by the library in the poster and original play contests?

For the best poster which teaches care of library books in the Seventh and Eighth grades, the school will give a two-dollar prize. Second prizes will be one dollar. Each grade run a separate contest with first and second places in both the Sixth and in the Seventh.

Then in the two higher grades, the same prizes will be offered for one-act plays which may be acted out in assembly carrying this same theme: Care for Library Books.

Don't you need a new glove? Wouldn't you like to take your girl to the show? Do you have more money than you need? Then win this money, anyway, if you are good at art or writing. Give the prize money to War Bonds.

WHY BUY WAR BONDS?

Milton Nichols: We must keep our men in service supplied. It goes for food, ammunition, planes, guns (big and little), jeeps, trucks, housing materials, medicine, clothing.

What Would Happen if We Should Lose the War?

Milton Nichols: The people of the United Nations would be slaves of the aggressive Japs, Germans and Italians. Buy every Bond you can every time you can. One Bond too few might turn the tide the wrong way.

Why Are Traffic Officers in the Halls?

Milton Nichols: These students and members from Junior Council are trying to keep things on the up-and-up. Students with Courtesy Cards are not to ask to do anything unless they consider it necessary. The Courtesy Card does not give a person a pardon for misbehaving.

How Should I Behave in Assembly?

Milton Nichols: Go to assembly to sit quietly and listen attentively to the program. This is no place to meet your friends and wave and exchange confidences.

Who Are The United Nations and Why?

Thirty nations have asserted themselves to be Allies with our nation: Great Britain, China, Soviet Russia, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, Canada, Costa Rica, Cuba, Czechoslovakia, Dominican Republic, El Salvador, Ethiopia, Greece, Guatemala, Haiti, Honduras, India, Luxembourg, Mexico, Netherlands, New Zealand, Nicaragua, Norway, Panama, Philippines, Poland, South Africa, and Yugoslavia.

These nations are fighting for freedom of speech, freedom of press, freedom of the seas, and freedom of religions. The United Nations are putting up a hard struggle to win this war of aggression. In the South Pacific, in North Africa, in the British Isles — in many spots over this globe our American soldiers are stationed. Our country is already helping feed many weaker nations and helping furnish ammunition for Russia.

ROOSEVELT AND WASHINGTON

Recently our president attended one of the birthday dinners for our first president, George Washington. President Roosevelt closed his speech by quoting the beatitudes from the Bible.

In Washington's farewell address, he admonished the people against two dangers: "the rise of political parties which might threaten the peace of the nation and meddling in the affairs of other nations."

Eight Homeroom Teachers Solve New Shortage in Gym Instructors

Due to the fact that physical education teachers are scarce, homeroom teachers in the Sixth and Seventh grades will teach their homerooms physical education during their usual periods off.

The war has taken such physical education teachers as Dr. Dick Livingston, Mr. Dan Price, Mr. Robert Carter, Mr. C. P. McRight, Mr. Joe Christler, and Mr. Jack Davis. Openings come for the women teachers to better themselves and the shift has been great in Pampa women P. E. teachers also. Miss Mary Stueker left it all to Miss Nadine Wilson. Even the substitutes have recently resigned, so the change.

All classes had to be rearranged in order to make the off-periods for the individual teachers come when the students may have the gym and equipment. This rearrangement took place early this week and will begin Monday morning.

This change affected half the school. Ninth and eighth grade classes meet as usual with Miss Wilson and Coach Haskell Folsom.

PJH Accepts Jeep Challenge

Pampa Junior High school is accepting the challenge from the Treasury Department to enter the Jeep Campaign.

The Treasury Department is launching a special campaign for the Schools at War with a goal of 10,000 jeeps by April 15, anniversary of the battles of Lexington and Concord, on which day special Schools at War program will be held in many sections of the country.

When 90 per cent of the students pledge a given amount a month, the Minute Man Flag will be flown from the Junior High staff along with the American flag. This campaign will begin in earnest next week, states the principal, Mr. Winston Savage.

A "Jeep" Campaign, schools will receive a special certificate which will be similar to the Distinguished Service Certificate, but will feature a picture of a jeep and the following message:

"For service to the War Savings Program, through the successful completion of a Schools at War Jeep Campaign, this citation is awarded"

The rules for conducting a "Jeep" Campaign are as follows:

1. For these campaigns $900 will be considered the cost of a jeep.
2. Past jeep campaigns do not count for these certificates except that
3. Jeep campaigns already under way and scheduled to terminate after March 1, 1943, if they otherwise qualify under the rules, may be awarded this certificate.
4. Certificates will be awarded only to those schools which have successfully conducted a campaign to finance the construction of a jeep through the sale of War Bonds and Stamps in the amount of $900. The campaign must have definite opening and closing dates (preferably opening about March 1 and closing April 15, although any dates may be chosen). Schools must have succeeded in reaching their goal during the announced period. The goal must be higher than previous War Savings sales averages over similar periods, but in any case not less than $900.
5. Schools which qualify should send details of the campaign to the State War Savings office, properly certified by their superintendent or principal.

Mr. Frank Schofield is the War Bond Administrator for Texas. Mrs. J. W. Walker is director of Schools at War.

The consequences were "crazy" and had to come from New York. "Ask in the main office what room you can find Mickey Mouse." This one found the answer plenty fast. "His room is 65,000."

Students participating in the program were: Ernest Eads, Kathryn Crowley, Alpha Belle Sted, Ernest Farnster, Bob Oxend, Ward-Edna Mathis.

Suitors for the lovely Texas, played by brunette Bobbie Tucker in matching blue costume dress and hat, came and stated their claim for Texas. Long speeches of pointed and well interpreted lines with appropriate action and sound effect, which held the audience for full 40 minutes.

Jimmy Terrell, Bobbie Lou McClendon Students of Week

From a hall-going pool of students who passed a certain corner in Junior High a statistician from the "Reaper" staff found that Jimmie Terrell was considered the Boy of the Week by a majority in 75 counts.

For nine years Jimmie has attended Pampa schools. Horace Mann was his ward school. When in the Sixth, Seventh, and Ninth grades he has been homeroom president of his room.

Jimmie was runner-up for Intramural award last year for the Eighth grade.

He has been working consistently with journalism for his development and is still active since the Ninth grade development meets at off-periods for work on the paper. He is columnist of Chatter.

Fourteen years of age, Jimmie has science with Mr. Herman Jones; math with Mr. Claude Gallman, his homeroom teacher; history with Mr. Dan Busch; English with Miss Katherine Simmons; and works third hour on the paper. Twice a week when not in physical education, he writes in the Reaper office.

Jimmie was one of the first to receive a Courtesy Card.

Girl of the Week

From a vote of 120, Bobbie Louise McClendon was the choice for Girl of the Week.

Bobbie has attended Pampa schools eight and one-half years, spending five and one-half years in Horace Mann.

Each year since she has been in Junior High, Bobbie has chosen Choir for her development, beginning last year singing with Miss Winifred Wiseman.

In the Seventh grade Bobbie was in Mr. Carroll Killebrew's room where all the Irish names were so numerous, initials L and M including the Mc's.

Bobbie Lou schedule reads as follows: science, Mr. Herman Jones; English, Miss Katherine Simmons; math, Mr. Claude Gallman; and history, Mrs. Dan Busch. Her activity the last period is office help at with Miss Ollie Crossman in the main office.

Born December 19, 1927, Bobbie is 15.

She writes poetry and for two years has been a member of the Tri-Hi Club.

Both these students are from Room 211. Next week another room will be featured.

Room 207 and Guests Skate in Gymnasium

"Ups and downs; downs and ups!" A skinned knee, a torn pair of socks—all these remind me of homeroom skating parties.

Room 207, sponsored by the teacher, Miss Essie Mae Leaverton, invited guests and skated last Friday night in the gym.

Pop was served, and those who did not skate played pingpong and other games.

War Letter from English Woman Gives New Slant

A letter from England gives an idea of how the people respond at this stage of the war. The letter was written to the mother of Mr. C. T. Hightower's wife who lives in Pennsylvania. The letter is dated October 12, 1942. Mr. Hightower, a teacher, allows this printing of parts of a long letter written after Mrs. Hightower's brother was billeted to this home when he is in England on furlough.

"My dearest Charlotte,

"By this time you will have surely heard from Bruce, and I hope you got my Christmas card and letter with the snaps. We have been through the same fears—didn't have a word from Bruce or Frank for six weeks and thought the same as you. I think you will find it was due to no fault of theirs they didn't write. Security does count these days, and one whisper might have caused untold loss of life.

"RATIONING

"Can we imagine the people running around since your coffee rationing. It is marvelous what one can get used to. Private cars are something of the past here, and all we see now are delivery vans and the military. American food companies to help, and that is another marvel. I know one thing—general health is much better. The only thing we can not get now are currants, but the Christmas pudding and cakes will no doubt be just as good. I have saved all my sweet points to take up to Newcastle and help over the holidays. We can also get emergency ration cards as the boys also will and take odd things with us. Have sent off onions this week to Mother. The big cities don't get many, and as this is a big growing center I can buy plenty. Have also saved a tin of salmon, tin of pork, jar of jam, and will also scrape the butter on our bread to take all we can home. Every little scrap helps in a crowd. When we lack in food we deliberately come to laughter as the North Country people are famed for their good natures.

HOLIDAY

Willie Hoppe Plays
For Service Men
PHILADELPHIA, March 19 (AP)—
Billiard Ace Willie Hoppe is taking a little rest these days—by playing a gruelling, three-day, 300 point exhibition match with a former world champion.
He calls it "a vacation," and means it—because, he says, on his current exhibition tour of army camps "I've played more billiards in six months than I've ever played before in any three years."
The greatest cue-man of them all polished off ex-Champ Otto Riesel, always one of his toughest opponents, 50-31 and 50-32, in the first blocks of their three-cushion encounter yesterday.

Service Ball Loop Formed In Oklahoma

Ex-Cardinal Takes Lead In Plans

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 19 (AP)—Baseball fans can cheer up. The Texas League and Western Association, Oklahoma's professional leagues, may have suspended, but they'll have a potent substitute—one that will show the state some major leaguers in action, right at home.
Luet. Charles Gelbert, U. S. N., late shortstop for the St. Louis Cardinals, is sponsoring a six-team service league, manned almost entirely by professionals, many of them from the big leagues.
Gelbert will be trainer and play for his naval training base team at Norman, Okla. He's right happy over his prospects, too. His starting battery likely will consist of Al Benton, Detroit pitcher, and Benny Warren, Philadelphia catcher. Out in the field he has ex-Dodger John Rizzo, and with some promising minor leaguers around, he isn't much worried about filling out the spots in between.
When he takes on the naval air station team, also from Norman, he'll meet Pitcher Jim Winford, an old Cardinal teammate.
Other members of the league, which starts a 60-game schedule May 15, are the Bend Army Flying school; Will Rogers Air base, Oklahoma City; Naval Gunners school, Pampa; and Thacker field, Oklahoma City.

Serial Story Glider Girl

QUICK CHANGE CHAPTER XVII BEAUTIFUL Sky Harbor here at Phoenix had nearly 10,000 people out to welcome the man and girl flying across the nation in a sailplane.

"This valley around Phoenix," said, "is now the second largest aviation center in America. You Army fellows planned a big soaring carnival for Captain Carr. All right, we hometown folks can chime in. I'll furnish the meat if your Army cooks will make the barbecue. I'll get pickles, bread and music too."

All of this was as western as the sunset itself. Westerners will arrange a barbecue for the slightest or no reason! This time, they had a reason; distinguished flyers from all neighboring states were to be here, young men and women piloting the new field of soaring as a big-business and big-adventure enterprise.

Rev. Walter Tells 'How Christians Are Different'
The address delivered at 11 a. m. Sunday by the Rev. Henry G. Wolter, pastor of the Zion Lutheran church, will be based upon Holy Scriptures, John 10, 23. Using the terms "Christians Are Different," he emphasizes that there is a difference between Christians and non-Christians even tho they may buy their clothes at the same tailor or trade at the same grocery store. Christians accept Jesus as the Lamb of God who has taken away their sins, they hear the voice of Jesus and follow Him. Non-Christians hear other voices and follow them. At 7:45 Sunday evening the sermon theme will be "Behold, the Man," based upon the Word of God John 1, 1-5. This is the third in a series of eight Lenten meditations on the suffering and death of Christ.

Sunday School Lesson

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor, Advance
Text: John 20:19-31

The appearance of Jesus after the Resurrection, as recorded by John, are impressive and should add to them the remarkable story of the appearance of Jesus to the disciples on the way to Emmaus as recorded in the 24th chapter of Luke. As these records transcend everything in normal experience, there are questions that inevitably arise concerning them that cannot altogether be ignored; nor can they be satisfactorily answered. The skeptic dismisses these stories of the appearance of Jesus after the Resurrection as incredible and some who have had profound faith in Jesus as Lord and Master, but who have had an equally strong sense of the feign of natural law, have sought to explain away the miraculous appearances. But the miraculous appearance of Jesus cannot be so easily dismissed. The story of the Resurrection is not a mere legend, whose Jesus joined the two disciples, conversed with them on the way, and became known to them in the breaking of bread, transcends every normal experience and law. Yet, it bears inherently convincing elements. Its whole emphasis is spiritual, and one can hardly imagine so miraculous a circumstance being unfounded, or merely a matter of tradition. The skeptic who says that the skeptic are those who have a very strong, if sometimes an exaggerated, belief in spiritual phenomena. One need not accept all the teachings or assumptions of modern spiritualism to be impressed with remarkable experiences and appearances that have been recorded within our own time by spiritualists whose integrity cannot be doubted. The whole field of the miraculous, especially as it relates to the Resurrection and the appearance of Jesus after the Resurrection, is one in which there is certainly little place for dogmatic unbelief. We are living in a world in which science itself has revealed marvels which every one a generation or two ago would have regarded as incredible. Surely it is easy to believe that where these revelations in the scientific world have been so clear, there will be in future ages equally remarkable revelations in the world of spiritual phenomena. It is my own strong conviction that we are only on the fringe of possibilities of spiritual manifestations, like these appearances of Jesus, transcending known and material law, but in accordance with spiritual laws yet to be discovered.

At any rate, we have a strong conviction that Jesus lives and that He does manifest Himself to those who believe in Him and who follow His way of life. Paul, who evidently did not know Jesus in the flesh, was convinced that Jesus had appeared to him. Perhaps such an experience is possible for every one of us, in so far as we approach the complete union with Christ that was Paul's supreme experience.

Deferred Farmers Receive Insults
PARKER, S. D., March 19 (AP)—Yellow paint has been spread on or near several Turner county farms where farmers' sons or farm laborers deferred from military service are living. Sheriff R. F. Elliott reported today. Nearly a dozen cases have come to the sheriff's attention, he said. In some instances, yellow stripes were painted on fence posts leading from highways to farm yards. In others, large swastikas were painted on oiled roads in the vicinity of the homes of deferred men.

Mobeetie Pastor To Speak at Central Baptist Church

Coming to the Central Baptist Church Sunday in the absence of Pastor T. D. Sumrall, will be youthful, energetic Ted Ewing, pastor of the First Baptist church of Mobeetie, Texas. Rev. Ewing is well known in the Pampa area country for his great ministry during the four years at his present pastorate, and is well loved and commended by his people. All who hear his sermons Sunday will gather spiritual food for thought and meditation for these trying days.

The subject for the 11 o'clock hour will be along the line of Christian consecration, while the evening service will be evangelistic in nature. Main gospel preaching that will point the way to eternal life simply and forcefully. Male quartet and trio renditions will be blended into old time, spirit-filled congregational singing under the direction of James E. Frost.

Rev. T. D. Sumrall returns to the field Monday March 22nd to support plans going forward for the Baptist Training Union school beginning March 28th, and will fill his pulpit at both services on this date.

Michigan Professors Must Use Army Talk To Conduct Classes

ANN ARBOR, Mich., March 19 (AP)—Professors at the University of Michigan, long identified as casual independents with unbuttoned coats and chapeau on the west, are mending their classroom manners. Advice is out for the professors to learn a little something about military protocol, and what this is doing to campus behavior is a revelation. A new army air corps weather school opened here this week. The same instructors who for years have ambled into class to meet yawning Betty Coeds and Joe Colleges now must teach khaki-clad privates in an atmosphere of discipline. Army officers explained the whole thing in a long lecture on "procedure" and it was set down on paper for the benefit of professors. The professor must arrive at 10 minutes after every hour—exactly. Under civilian rules he came when he felt like it, except that after 20 minutes of waiting the students were privileged to go home. "All classes will be standing at attention at their seats," the new rules say. "The instructor should be at his desk." One of the privates will step forward and say, "Sector X reporting sir." The professor is instructed to acknowledge "with a nod," and say, "Seats, Gentlemen." "Recitation will be as usual," it was explained, "and you may address the students by surnames. Do not say 'Mister'. You may ask them to stand when reciting, or not, as you see fit. Promptly at the close of the hour give the order, 'Section leader take over' followed by 'class dismissed.'"

Infantry Troops Are Conditioned To Actual Fire

CAMP GORDON JOHNSTON, Fla., March 19 (AP)—Thousands of American soldiers training here for invasion are being conditioned both physically and mentally for rough, close fighting on beaches, in jungles and city streets of enemy territory. Ordinary infantrymen who heretofore have learned little more than conventional trench and open terrain fighting are getting brief intensive post-graduate instruction in the unorthodox tactics of the Commando.

Their principal training at this amphibious training center near Carrabelle in the pine woods area of the Florida gulf coast teaches them how to move from a friendly shore many miles by water to a hostile shore, storm a beach, and fight their way inland.

But they also learn the methods of special troops, a collection of simple tricks that might save their lives, and how to overcome the shock of coming for the first time against the crack of deadly fire over their heads.

They use real bullets, and every man from the commanding general to the back privates wiggles through barbed wire and water holes of an infiltration course with machine guns firing only 30 inches above the ground while planted charges a few feet from them blast great geysers of dirt and mud into the air in a simulated artillery barrage.

If they can't swim—and many can't when they come here—they learn how and go a little further by learning to swim through burning gasoline and oil.

They learn to knock out and cross barbed wire or collect obstacles, kill silently with knives and bare hands, and fire quickly and accurately from the hip or while

Rope-Soled Shoes Are Released

WASHINGTON, March 19 (AP)—Rope-soled and other shoes or sandals with soles made of non-strategic materials will be free of rationing, effective March 24.

The Office of Price Administration made this change in the shoe rationing program in an order issued today.

An Easy Way To Slice Budget

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Mayor Gordon Ambler found a new way to slice the city budget the other day. A 20-pound piece of glass from a lighting fixture above the mayor's desk crashed against the mahogany surface of the piece of furniture and slashed a hole into a leather binder holding the budget.

rolling on the ground to safety. They learn to handle the demolition explosives usually left to engineer troops, uncover and explode land mines, set booby traps which will mean death to unwary enemies long after houses have been abandoned, and to fire effectively from small boats tossing in the surf.

Brig. Gen. Frank A. Keating, commander of the amphibious training center, explained that live ammunition is used "to accustom the men to movement under fire. It is a mental conditioning process."

Large Aircraft Plants Merge

SAN DIEGO, Calif., March 19 (AP)—Merger of Consolidated Aircraft corporation and Vultee Aircraft company into a single firm ranking as one of the largest aircraft manufacturers in the world has been announced by Tom M. Girdler, chairman of the board of both companies.

The new concern will be known as Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation.

The merger was ratified at sessions of Consolidated stockholders here and of Vultee stockholders in Wilmington, Del. Girdler said votes favoring the merger were substantially above requirements.

"The merger will augment production and lower operating costs by combining the associated companies into one fully integrated company, so that all of its 11 plants, equipment, material and personnel can be utilized to best advantage," Girdler said.

DUST STEALS LIGHT---

Keep Your Lamps and Fixtures CLEAN

If someone were robbing your garage or stealing valuables, you'd take prompt measures to stop the thief. But there's a culprit that may be stealing electricity right in your own home—and perhaps you aren't even aware of it! Dust on your lamps and fixtures can prevent you from getting all the light you pay for. It can cut down the amount of light in your rooms, 10, 20, 30 per cent. Equivalent to wasting that much electricity. And it's easy to overlook because the bulbs are usually hidden under lamp shades or in semi-enclosed lighting fixtures.

Light bulb and reflector bowls should be cleaned frequently with a damp cloth, lamp shades dusted inside and out. Dark colored shades soak up light and should be replaced with light linings. This may give as much as 50 per cent more light. Use the RIGHT SIZE BULBS in your lamps and fixtures—not too large and not too small. Too large a lamp may cause glare, too small a light gives inadequate light. Move your lights closer to the point of use so that they shed their light more directly on your work. And finally, use adapter shades and linings to modernize your present equipment. They will help you get more light for the same amount of electricity, they cost little, and they are easily installed. They bring good lighting results while conserving materials—important to today's war economy.
