Allied Planes Smash Huge Jap Convoy In Pacific

Four Vessels Bombed, 13 Aircraft Hit

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA, March 3 (AP)—The crippled and widely scattered remnants of a 14-ship Japanese convoy, smashed by Allied bombers and fighters yesterday, staggered through the fog-shrouded Bismarck sea today toward the enemy base at Lae, New Guinea, with Gen. Douglas MacArthur's planes relentlessly on its trail.

At least four transports and cargo vessels of the original armada of seven Japanese warships and seven merchant ships have been sunk or damaged, and 13 Japanese fighter planes out of the umbrella of 30 or 40 that tried to provide protection to the convoy have been shot out of action, Allied headquarters announced.

"Our losses are light. The battle continues," a headquarters communique said.

The bulletin said a 10,000-ton transport had been hit five times and left awash and in flames; an 8,000-ton transport had been sunk after breaking in two; a 6,000-ton vessel was directly hit on the bow, and a smaller vessel was damaged and set on fire.

Allied Flying Fortresses and Liberator bombers, with a fleet escort of P-38 fighters, stabbed through murky haze, thick clouds and rain to deliver their blows in the face of heavy anti-aircraft fire and Japanese fighter planes.

"Other hits or near hits were scored against warships and cargo ships, results of which have so far been impossible to assess," the communique said.

General MacArthur's airmen also pounded Lae, bomber and attack planes punishing the airbase area. At the same time his bombers attacked airdromes on Somba and Sombava islands, northwest of Australia, destroyed an ammunition ship directly with a 500-pound bomb at Widy Bay, New Britain, and smashed at the Gasmeta, New Britain, airdrome in an after-dusk raid, the communique said.

Pampan's Old Age Bill Laid Aside

AUSTIN, March 3 (AP)—A House approved plan to remove the current ceiling from state old age assistance spending lay dormant—perhaps dead—in a Senate subcommittee today.

Following hearing on the bill, the Senate Civil Jurisprudence committee referred it to subcommittee for study to determine how much additional money it would cost the state.

By Rep. Ennis Favors of Pampa, the measure would require that the state pay one-half of the authorized grant for each eligible pension applicant. Federal funds would round out each grant.

The present ceiling on state spending for aged assistance is $1,750,000 a month. Because there are 183,000 persons on the rolls each benefit check for March will be $3 less than each pensioner is entitled to under the law's definition of need.

"The questions which most concerned committee members hearing the Favors bill was the possible maximum expenditure under the program proposed by Favors and estimates ranged from $1,841,000 to $2,300,000 monthly.

"The only lid on payments is the amount of money placed in the old age assistance fund," commented Senator R. A. Weinhart of Seguin during a discussion of how the bill would affect the present ceiling of $1,750,000 a month.

Store Bets Clothes Won't Be Rationed

NEW YORK, March 3 (AP)—A New York department store wagged $5,000 today that clothes would not be rationed this year.

"Our best information from Washington as well as our own sources of information brings us definitely to this conclusion," read an advertisement of Lord and Taylor. "We see and mind you we don't think we will be able to divide the above sum between Red Cross, U. S. O. Greater New York fund."

Soldiers Overseas Ask For Income Tax Blanks

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Guess what the Doughboys on the firing lines are demanding now. Income tax blanks. And lots of them.

They don't have to fool with the dang things. Congress passed a law saying those serving outside the country needn't pay a tax or file a return until they come marching—or sailing—home again. (Of course those stationed inside the United States must file and pay, although they have some special military status allowances.)

But apparently fussing with the old idea of March headche doesn't satisfy the fighting men any more—or maybe it reminds them that even a foxhole has its silver lining.

Gandhi Drinks Orange Juice, Ends Long Fast

NEW DELHI, March 3 (AP)—Mohandas K. Gandhi, 73-year-old Indian Nationalist leader, ended a 21-day hunger strike in protest against his internment by the British by sipping a glass of orange juice at 9:30 a. m. today (11 p. m. CWT Monday).

A communique announcing the end of the fast said that Gandhi was weak and showed signs of strain but was in good spirits.

In contrast to public ceremonies which have attended the termination of Gandhi's nine previous fasts, only members of his immediate family were present in the Aga Khan's palace at Pooni to take part in singing and prayers as his self-imposed ordeal was brought to a conclusion.

Six doctors who attended him throughout the fast will remain on hand to maintain a close watch over Gandhi during his convalescence.

With the end of the fast, Gandhi reverts to his status as a political prisoner, special concessions which permitted him to receive visitors being withdrawn.

American Subs Sink 191 Ships

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The sinking of five more Japanese supply ships and damaging of two others sent the Pacific and western Pacific score of American submarines today at 191 enemy vessels successfully attacked.

The new tolls of the undersea slashes at Japanese supply lines were listed yesterday in a navy communique which said three medium-sized cargo ships, one medium-sized tanker and a small schooner had been sunk. In addition, a medium-sized transport and medium-sized tanker were damaged, the communique said.

Pigs, Calves In Livestock Show Sold

Sale of pigs and calves entered in the fifth annual Gray County Junior Livestock show started at 2 p. m. today at Recreation park, following judging which was held at 10 this morning.

Because of the law, they are sent overseas only on request—and some of the requests are becoming insistent. An impatient Navy commander, irked at the delay in receiving his blanks, radioed for a batch to be sent by plane. They were. And a couple of Army commanders in foreign war zones requested and received authority to use their own resources to reproduce the tax forms for their men.

The general idea seems to be that the boys figure they'll have to pay sooner or later anyhow.

Meats, Cheese, Butter, Cooking Fats, Oils Rationing Due April 1

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Meats, cheese, butter, cooking fats and oil will be rationed beginning April 1, it was reported today, under current plans of food and rationing agencies.

The sources for this information, who withheld use of their names, said the red coupons of the No. 2 ration book would be used and that meat rations probably would run about 1 1/2 pounds per person a week.

Food Administration Wickard, however, has not yet transmitted to OPA the authorization necessary before cheese, butter and fats and oils can take their place in the food rationing program.

Butler and other fats will be rationed did not contemplate any period of "sales freeze" preliminary to rationing the new foodstuffs on a point basis similar to that begun this week for canned dried and frozen fruits and vegetables.

Axis Officials Reach Virginia

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Former German and Italian consuls general at Algiers, their staffs and members of their families captured by the United States armed forces in North Africa, have arrived in the United States where they are under guard in the Ingleside hotel near Staunton, Va.

The state department, in making this announcement today, said negotiations are under way for the exchange of these Axis officials. They would be exchanged for officers of the United States and other American Republics seized by the Germans in France and now held in Germany.

Meanwhile the Axis internees in Virginia are not permitted contact with the public.

Red Cross Drive in Residential Section Opens Tomorrow Morning

Originally scheduled to start their solicitation drive Tuesday, 250 women from the city's parent-teacher associations will begin a systematic combing of every block in Pampa.

The goal of the Gray County Red Cross chapter in the current financial campaign is to raise a national fund of $125,000,000 for services to men in the armed forces is $12,950.

Frank Smith, general drive chairman, announced at noon today that $6,100 has been turned in by volunteer workers who are contributing their time and money without pay. This includes approximately $5,000 raised by J. W. Garman's advanced gifts committee last week.

"We haven't reached the half way mark yet," Mr. Smith said, "and in order to hit the $12,950 goal every man and woman in Pampa will have to contribute. It is good to remember, too, that your contribution may be the one that will save the life of an American fighting man."

In spite of the cold weather the drive in the business section is under way and progressing fairly well, Mr. Smith said. First lists of the hundred per cent firms will be published in tomorrow's News.

Food for Europeans Cut Only Slightly

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—Continental Europe, exclusive of Russia, said by the Agriculture department today to have only two of three per cent less food this year than last and only 15 per cent less than the pre-war average.

This estimate was based on a roundup of all information available on 1942 crops.

The general reduction is less in Germany and Russia than elsewhere, the department said. The supply appears to vary from country to country and even between urban and rural areas within the same country. Most of the farm population is living at pre-war levels, while the supplies available to urban consumers are drastically curtailed.

News To Publish Air Base Souvenir Edition Sunday

The Pampa News will publish a souvenir edition next Sunday morning to mark the U. S. Army Air Force's formal dedication of Pampa Field.

This special edition of The News will be filled with detailed information about the officers, enlisted men and cadets at the air base. It will contain information about the various sections of the field and how they operate. There will be photographs, too.

For the convenience of those who wish to mail the paper to friends and relatives out of town the Sunday edition will be especially put up in a souvenir wrapper ready for mailing.

Soldiers may buy this ready-to-mail edition at the air base. Others wishing copies may obtain them at The News circulation department until 10:30 a. m. Sunday and again on Monday and Tuesday of next week.

The souvenir edition will sell at the usual price, five cents. Because the supply will be limited, it will be a good idea to get yours early.

Germans Run From Allies In Tunisia

By The Associated Press
MARSHAL SENON TIMOSHENKO'S new offensive finally has forced the Germans to withdraw from the tenaciously held hedgehog fortress of Rzhhev, 130 miles northwest of Moscow, the Nazis acknowledged today.

In Berlin, where fires still raged from the RAF's greatest raid of the war on the German capital, Nazi warlords had other worries, too.

The British air force struck at western Germany for a seventh consecutive night, though on a comparatively modest scale.

In northern Tunisia crack German armor and infantry units of Gen. Jurgen von Arnim yesterday

208 DAYS SINCE—
U. S. Marines, landing in southern Morocco, seized Tulagi and vital new airfield on Guadalcanal from Japs in surprise offensive strategy.

broke and ran under the stout resistance and terrific artillery barrages of the British First Army.

In central Tunisia, too, British, American and French forces were slowly winning back all they had lost to Marshal Erwin Rommel in his recent offensive.

The fall of Rzhhev was not claimed by the Russians, who did not so much as mention that front in either today's midday communique or the war bulletins of yesterday.

The German high command said the fortress had been cleared of German forces "according to plan."

This phraseology suggested the Germans might be engaged in a far-reaching retreat on the northern front, similar to that carried out through the past three months in the south where they had withdrawn 400 miles from Stalingrad.

Rzhhev was the advance strong point of the German line northwest of Moscow in the famous Veltke-Luki-Rzhhev-Vyaznia triangle.

For months it was the apex of an L-shaped salient, partially surrounded by Russian forces on three sides who already had captured Veltke-Luki, 140 miles to the west, and severed the railway communications with Vyaznia, 65 miles to the south.

Other Russian columns had cut deep into the triangle by laying siege to the town of Belev.

The town had been reported on the verge of falling more than two weeks ago.

FLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE—I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America and to the Republic for which it stands, one nation indivisible, with liberty and justice for all.

A Marxist Turns Realist

Post-War planners should not miss Arthur Koestler's article in a recent New York Times Magazine. They need not accept what he says merely because he has said it.

Koestler, a "leftist intellectual," has changed his mind about why the United Nations are fighting and what the now occupied countries want after the war.

Like others of his school, he had thought that we were fighting for a generality known as "democracy" and against a generality known as "fascism."

Says he now: "The nearer victory comes in sight, the clearer the character of the war reveals itself as what the Tories always said it was—a war for national survival, a war in defense of certain conservative 19th century ideals, and not what I and my friends of the Left said it was—a revolutionary civil war in Europe on the Spanish pattern."

Mr. Koestler is grieved about this. Already the barrage of dead cats has begun flying in his direction, the belittling charges that he is just a "tired liberal," a defeatist.

Another way of looking at the situation is that we are really fighting for democracy—not the intangible generality, but the specific benefits.

We are fighting for our countries. Even the Russians now concede that their magnificent struggle is for Russia, and not for the Red version of totalitarianism.

Yet when we of the United Nations win, we shall have enabled democracy and its child, the system of individual enterprise, to survive yet a while longer.

And why not? Democracy promises us what we want. The school of liberalism to which Mr. Koestler belonged would have given us what it thought to be best for us. We prefer democracy.

The Nation's Press

THE 48 HOUR WEEK (Chicago Tribune)

President Roosevelt has issued an executive order requiring a 48 hour minimum work week to be necessary for the successful prosecution of the war.

Whether the President has the power to issue such an order may be left for courts to decide if the issue is raised.

One of them is the threat of an inflationary rise in prices.

The purpose of the order is to squeeze men out of ordinary pursuits, such as clerking, and thus make men and women available for work in war factories.

More than that, it is not unlikely that there will be a widespread trend toward the 48 hour week even where the new order does not immediately apply.

It is not the first time in German history that such a breach of faith occurred.

One aim of the present war is to make it definitely unprofitable to break a solemn treaty.

A good deal has been told about the recent travels of the prime minister and the President, but two questions are still unanswered.

If we are to retain our liberty, we must cultivate in the largest possible number of our future citizens an appreciation of both the responsibilities and the benefits which come to them because they are Americans and are free.

Common Ground

"I speak the plain-worded truth, I give the plain word of democracy. By God! I will accept nothing which cannot have their counterpart of on the same terms."

THIRTY YEARS OF DAY DREAMING

The year 1943 makes the thirtieth year since the American people discarded a government of impersonal, universal laws and adopted a government of day dreams.

It is 30 years ago that we decided that people no more need to live by the sweat of their brows, to pay for what they consumed.

From this beginning, which was in a very small way, these day dreams expanded.

So it is no wonder now, in the thirtieth year of a government of men rather than a government of impersonal laws, that we find food getting scarce, houses getting scarce, doctors getting scarce.

Oh yes, we hear the apologists for a government of men saying that this scarcity is due to the war, but let us remember that things were mighty scarce for most people during the 30's before the war started.

It is a natural result of discarding God's universal laws and substituting for them a government of man-made laws rather than a government of God's laws of impersonal and impartial rules.

We should analyze the spiritual effect of disregarding these natural laws. It is not only hurting us materially, but it is weakening us spiritually.

CHANGING THE SUBJECT

It will be noted that no defender of collective bargaining and New Dealism will stick to the subject of collective bargaining or state socialism.

One of the arguments most often used in defense of labor unions is that they had to do it because of the crookedness, selfishness and the exploitation practiced by the employer.

But this line of reasoning is in reality saying that an honest employer who treats his co-workers fairly and justly cannot compete with a dishonest employer.

Of course, it is absurd for any Christian to make such a claim as that. The man who does, does not understand Christianity.

Around Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

Hollywood has never done quite right by Russia, so Producer Samuel Goldwyn has set out to correct the situation in a big way.

Not a single presidential candidate has appeared in house or senate corridors asking the boys to "lay off."

Until the Russian bear began chewing up Nazis like a corn shredder, Hollywood had always treated the Soviet citizens with something approaching levity.

Whether this lamentable affair of the past figured in Goldwyn's decision to do a picture on contemporary Russia, he isn't saying, but it is significant that shortly after a visit to Washington last summer the producer announced he had employed Lillian Hellman to write an original screen play.

For three months Miss Hellman and the late Alexander, head of the studio research department, dug out source material at the Russian consulate, the American Russian institute, Sovfoto agency and the Russian language daily, the Ukrainian Daily Press.

THE LOCAL selected was Kamenez Podolsk, on the Ukraine border, where the first break into Russia was made. There were many questions. Was there growing in Kamenez? What is the popular pastime of Ukrainians at that season?

As a result, a wave of fanaticism and racial hatred may engulf the entire South.

Trade Needed In Post-War World

(Second of two articles on the U. S. Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation.)

By PETER EDSON, The Pampa News Washington Correspondent

When the American expeditionary forces moved into North Africa, it was at first thought that it would be necessary to ship in large quantities of food for the native population.

Much to the surprise of American representatives of the State Department, Board of Economic Warfare, U. S. Commercial Co. and Lend-Lease Administration, when they began to explore and get a better line on the resources of the North African colonies, it was found that the farmers of the region had considerable quantities of wheat hidden away on their farms.

To remedy this situation some bright boys, who will probably forever remain unidentified, thought up an idea. Instead of shipping in shipload after shipload of wheat for the native bakers, it was proposed to ship in a relatively small quantity of merchandise to stock the native stores.

Farmers would then bring their wheat into town, sell it for cash and use the cash to buy the goods on shopkeepers' shelves, providing merchants with cash to buy more goods to sell to farmers who would bring in more wheat, and so on.

Permanent Relief Objective

This one simple little lesson is spelled out here in detail, because it is a perfect example of the basic problem which faces OFRRO, the alphabet abbreviation for the Office of Foreign Relief and Rehabilitation Operations set up in the State Department under the direction of ex-Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York.

The general assumption has probably been that the "relief" end of the business—feeding starving Europe after the war is over—would be the principal business which OFRRO would do.

Perhaps no one will begrudge one nickel spent on food for Europe's undernourished millions. But rehabilitation, going far beyond temporary relief, is something else again. When you pick a bum out of the gutter and fill his belly with hot soup, give him a bath and a shave and buy him a new suit of clothes, you can't expect him to be a new man the instant you turn him loose. He must be given a job as well, and that is rehabilitation. You rehabilitate the bum so that you don't have to keep on buying him meal tickets.

How Much and How Far?

The big question asked by OFRRO is how much money Congress will be willing to appropriate for foreign rehabilitation. Just now, Governor Lehman's operations are financed by other people's money—the President's emergency funds and Lend-Lease appropriations.

How far OFRRO goes in distributing rehabilitation depends upon its appropriation. Relief may encompass food, clothing, medicine, temporary shelter. Rehabilitation might mean more permanent shelter, seed, fertilizer, draft animals, new dairy stock and livestock herds, new stock for the empty shelves.

Today's War Analysis

By GLENN BABB, Associated Press Writer

The most encouraging comment on the China situation in weeks comes from General Chennault.

Chennault dates the turn for the better for the Casablanca conference. That dramatic war council and its sequel have produced encouraging promises of greater aid to China.

President Roosevelt said after his return from Casablanca that there are many roads which lead right to Tokyo; we shall neglect none of them.

The improvement of which General Chennault is confident probably will be limited to the reinforcement of his own command. This may mean more fighters or more bombers or both.

It may mean the addition of heavy bombers capable of carrying bomb loads from bases in central China to the industrial centers of southern and western Japan.

On first emphasis may be placed on fighter and fighter-bomber types which will deny air superiority over China battlefields to the Japanese and so greatly bolster China's morale.

General Chennault believes that the quality of the Japanese air force is deteriorating. This agrees with other opinions which have come out of the fighting in the south and southwest Pacific theaters.

There is much evidence that the Japanese are running into a shortage of well trained airmen. For that the veterans who swept the Oriental skies clear of opposition in the first few months are gone, victims of the heavy toll taken by the Americans and Australians in the Solomons and around Guadalcanal.

Woman's Club Studies South American Art

Special to The NEWS. CANADIAN. March 3—Sculptures, woodcuts, and oils done with the color and sensitivity of the South American artist were subjects for discussion at the meeting of the Woman's club in the home of Mrs. Charles Tubb yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Charles Callaway was presiding officer and Mrs. Lewis Merly secretary. The program on various forms of art in South America was the third of a series on Latin America. Previous programs have been on South American music and literature.

Mrs. R. M. Hobdy sent literature and pictures representing art in Brazil, which were presented to the club by Mrs. Callaway.

A sketch of the life and work of Gaudino Pontarini was given. Mrs. John H. Jones presented a paper on the art and artists of the twenty-one countries of our Latin neighbors. She pointed out that South American art has a religious background. Work of these artists shows impression of Spanish art and of the Incas.

In her discussion she spoke on Humbert Garavito of Guatemala, Carlos Marcond, painter of Indians; Diego Rivera and Jose Orocco, both Mexican artists, and told of their special works of art.

"All the artists of the Latin countries have a sensitivity to color," Mrs. Jones stated. "The art, music and literature of the Latin countries is much older than our own and, like our own, shows impressions of European art, mostly Spanish."

The corresponding secretary was instructed to invite the seventh district president, Mrs. Wes Ezzard, to visit the club next week.

Mrs. John C. Isaacs was a guest at yesterday's meeting.

Take a Tip, Lady, Save that Sponge!

To the women of Pampa comes a warning from the office of War Information—save that sponge! Sponges—animal, vegetable, and synthetic—are required by the armed services and industry in such quantities that comparatively few will be available for household use until the Axis is toppled.

Military needs for sponges range from use in surgical operations to cleaning the windshields of jeeps. Much industrial equipment requires the cleaning only a sponge can give.

So scarce are animal sponges that manufacturers are using synthetic sponge clippings—little scraps formerly thrown away or sold for as little as 50 cents per 100 pounds. Now 50 cents buys only a single pound.

Coral deposits and sand incrustations are removed from the clippings, and the cleaned, soft bits of sponge stuffed into little cotton mesh bags. They are about all civilians will have in the way of animal sponges for washing cars and windows while the war lasts.

Short, loop or loofa sponges—these masses of fiber from the inside of the gourd-like lufta plant, dried and freed of seeds—normally used for such widely varying purposes as pot cleaners by housewives, as inner soles for footwear, as hand mitts for bathers, and as filters.

In wartime the oil-filtering ability of loofa sponges has become so important that these sponges are obtainable only for the most urgent war needs. Coming originally from Africa, the lufta plant has been grown commercially almost exclusively in Japan.

Rubber sponges, which might normally be substituted for loofa or animal sponges in some cases, cannot be made any more—not even for the armed services or industry.

Celulose sponges, commonly substituted for animal sponges since 1936, are now being made in larger quantities. Unlike animal sponges, which have to be taken as they come, in all sizes, shapes, or qualities, these man-made sponges can be made to suit any given purpose.

At the next meeting, Mrs. Julia Kelley, county home demonstration agent, will officiate at a shrubbery demonstration at the home of Mrs. R. B. Nash, 713 N. Naida.

BUY VICTORY BONDS. Modern Menus. By Mrs. Gaynor Maddox. NEA Service Staff Writer. Ration-in-a-Blanket. (Serves 4-6)

One and one-half cups chopped cooked meat, two-thirds cup grated raw carrot, one teaspoon grated onion, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper, one and one-half cups meat gravy, two cups flour, three teaspoons phosphate baking powder, one-fourth cup shortening, three-fourths cup milk.

Combine meat, carrot, onion and Worcestershire sauce; season with salt and pepper. Moisten with about one-fourth cup gravy. Sift together flour, all-phosphate baking powder and one-half teaspoon salt; cut in shortening. Add milk, mixing to form soft dough.

Divide dough in half; pat out one-half into round eight inches in diameter on baking sheet. Spread meat mixture on biscuit round; pat out other round. Place on meat mixture. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees F.) 30 minutes, or until well browned. Cut in wedges and serve with hot gravy.

Here's another "extended" meat dish: Baked Kidney Beans and Round Steak. (Serves 5-6)

Government Gives Housewives Tips on Rationed Purchasing

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—The government suggested to housewives today that they make up a list showing how many of the familiar kitchen cup measurement can be procured from various can and packages of frozen or dried foods before they start shopping under the point rationing system.

The suggestion was one of several tips passed along by the Agriculture department in connection with the rationing program which started Monday after a week's ease on the sale of canned goods.

The Office of Price Administration contributed this advice: housewives: remember that March has three days in addition to four even-day weeks; budget the use of the 48 points per person to cover the 31-day period. To do this, OP recommended dividing the point pending into two eight-day periods, the start, then a seven-day period, winding up the budget with another eight-day program.

The agriculture economists suggested: Read the label to find out abundance, quality, ingredients and use. "You may learn facts—surprised—to guide buying."

Choose the size can most economical for your use. "It's hard to become proficient in doing such sums when buying... as a rule, 16 ounces, or one fluid pint, will fill two 8-ounce cups of the kitchen measuring size."

Grade A, or fancy, fruit is needed to cut up in a salad or put in processed foods where the fruit will keep best until needed. Stewed foods where it's dry to prevent rust; glass contained foods—dark, dry and cool place. Keep quick-frozen foods frozen; on hawed, don't try to refreeze them.

Cook all foods quickly to ho vitamin content. Use all good juices—waste no liquids in can or jar contain much of the vitamins and minerals of the food.

BUY VICTORY BONDS. Texans Seek More Grain, Cotton Use. ABILENE, March 3 (AP)—The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is sending a delegation to Washington to press for greater use of two of the area's raw materials, grains and cotton, in the war effort.

Glider Girl

By OREN ARNOLD
Copyright, 1943
NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Pat Friday, seeking a position that combines excitement and adventure, has convinced Jimmy Carr that she is just the girl he has been looking for to learn soaring. He explains to Pat, who knows nothing about gliders, that her duties will take her to Elmer, N. M., soaring capital of America. Pat Friday, who is a pilot, and she is carried away by the possibilities of her new job, until she is introduced to Pat as his fiancée.

FIRST CLASH
CHAPTER III
NOW in this world of women, there is hair and hair. Her own curls, for instance, could be accurately described as blond, or auburn, or whatever. But she could Lorraine's. The difference was not in color or in mess or in anything tangible; and yet to Pat it seemed very marked. Her own hair was forever prone to go berserk and look like a pencil drawing made by a boy. But Lorraine's was perfection right off a magazine page.

And another thing: Lorraine Stuart obviously didn't have to lie. Pat counted calories, ate extra slices of buttered bread, gorged potatoes. But her all-time high remained at 99 pounds. The streamlined Miss Stuart, Pat concluded, was 17 or 18 pounds heavier. All of her was applied in exactly the right places, in exactly the right way. Her walk, too, was a symphony, no less than her hair and her complexion and her voice. "She positively floats," Pat conceded, in admiration that was worrisome but genuine.

This appraisal was made on the train going to Elmer, but it was a one-sided appraisal. Lorraine had given no indication that Pat existed at all. Lorraine merely sat beside Jimmy in the Pullman and engaged in what Pat understood to be sophisticated smart talk. Pat had to ride alone and backwards, in the seat behind them.

That arrangement, in a way, was Pat's own; she had felt a sense of responsibility as Jimmy Carr's new secretary, and so she had carefully seen to it that his luggage got on the train. The porter had noted that. He favored her with a warm smile and cordial but ever-so-respectful manner which Pat liked, but at the same time she felt a bit flattened.

"I can make any servant in the world like me, but—" She didn't finish the thought, sitting there rocking in the car. But she was thinking of Lorraine and Jimmy.

THE little sense of gloom might have deepened if Jimmy Carr hadn't suddenly stood up, looking for her. Lorraine stood, too, and they moved into the aisle.

"Club car," Jimmy said, beckoning. "Okay?"

"Yes sir."

Jimmy grinned. "Listen, Private Friday! Maybe I ought to make you salute me, too."

Pat looked quickly up at him, caught his infectious grin.

"I never know when you're teasing," she murmured.

"What say?" The train roared had drowned her.

"I say, I never know when you're teasing."

"I never tease children."

"And you're just a little girl." He emphasized the little.

"What say?" She decided to let him have it back. "At least my ears are little, too."

Jimmy pretended to scowl. "Listen, private! Want me to fire you? My ears are my sore points."

"They aren't points. They are landing fields."

"Wow!" They had come between two cars, and he held her arm. They had to shout over the wheel clacking. "Okay, I won't pick on you, then. You can't help being little, and I can't help having mule ears."

"They aren't really muleish."

"What?"

Now they were in another Pullman, with passengers looking up. Unconsciously, Pat shouted louder. "I say your ears aren't really as big as a mule's, and anyway, I like 'em."

Fifteen or 20 people laughed, then, at the three young persons who had just entered. Jimmy turned a little pink behind his grin. So, too, did Pat's reddish hair feel horrified. "Oh, I—I'm sorry!" she managed but somehow that didn't help.

"How perfectly charming every one is!" cooed Lorraine Stuart.

Pat could have kicked her, and kicked herself as well. Why, darn it, was she so ill at ease around that Lorraine person? And so desperately anxious to please Jimmy Carr?

ON a curved seat in the club car they began talking business.

"Now soaring, Pat, is not only extremely important, but it's more fun than anything," he eyed her a second—"than a week on Coney

Gaily Dressed Border Folk to Celebrate Charro Days Friday

BROWNSVILLE, March 3 (AP)—The Texas-Mexican border folk were shined and polished today in readiness for their second international festival of the season—the Charro days celebration which gets along without speeches, kings or queens.

Already the first fines, maximum one peso, have been levied against menfolk who failed to raise beards decreed for the fete.

Five thousand children, a fifth of them from Matamoros across the Rio Grande, will parade Friday afternoon in costumes typical of different sections of Mexico. Costumes, street dancing, music and carnival frolic combine to make up the four-day program beginning Thursday. Strutting troubadors give it an added Latin touch.

Brownsville will be host for three days, then ancient Matamoros takes over Sunday, offering a bullfight and musical pageant.

The celebrations here follow by a few days Laredo's fiesta honoring George Washington.

Charros are men on horseback, gaily-costumed in the bold colors Mexicans love. Matching their bright dress will be the China poblanas, fiesta garb worn in some sections of Mexico. Legend says they were first designed by a young Chinese princess who came to that country a hundred years ago.

Charro days started six years ago. This celebration is bearing down on the good-neighbor aspect and an entertaining service men from nearby camps.

Canadian Methodists Note Dedication Week

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.
CANADIAN, March 3—Dedication week throughout Methodism opened Sunday. The pastor of the Canadian Methodist church, Rev. T. C. Willett, discussed the subject, "In a World of Love and Hate," the relation of the church to the world of today.

He used for his text the latter portion of the sixth verse of the first chapter of the Acts of the Apostles, "Lord, wilt thou at this time restore again the kingdom to Israel?" This was the last question asked by the apostles of Jesus and just prior to His ascension.

Dedication week offers a three-point program:

1. A mission study class during which the leader will answer the oft-asked question, "Why Missions?"
2. Attendance revival.
3. Dedication of substance pledge.

Mrs. W. W. Owens, herself a pioneer mother, placed a basket of beautiful red roses in the church Sunday morning honoring all pioneer mothers.

State Can Set Minimum Prices

WASHINGTON, March 3 (AP)—In a decision of far-reaching importance affecting the purchase of supplies for the armed forces, the supreme court has ruled that a state may fix minimum prices for milk sold to the federal government for use at any army camp on land belonging to the state.

In another decision, however, the court ruled that a state can not exercise this function on land under the exclusive control of the federal government.

Liberia and its neighboring state, Sierra Leone, have the heaviest rainfall on western Africa's coastal bulge.

Homemade Dyes Cause Weird Colored Hair

CHICAGO, March 3 (AP)—If a lady appears with purple, green or other weird colored tresses, don't get the idea she has been captivated by a new style—it's merely the fault of her homemade hair dyes.

Max Hofer, hair tinting specialist who has seen dozens of ladies with purple or even green hair, said today "homemade hair dyes and improper application of dyes will turn hair weird colors."

Hofer, who is president of the Chicago and Illinois Hairdressers' association which currently is holding its annual Midwest beauty trade show here, offered these cautions and warnings to amateur hair dyers:

Women who dunk their locks in a mixture of brewed walnut shells are liable to turn out mahogany headed.

Too much sage tea will turn blond hair or gray hair green and too much bluing will bring a purple tinge.

The lady who relies on metallic based dyes which virtually armor plate the hair instead of penetrating it will never be bored with her personal color scheme, for her hair will change color as strong sunlight.

All women who dye at home will look like sisters of Medusa, for homemade color concoctions are harsh on hair and impart a snaky effect.

Besides Clark, the captain of the plane was also killed when the plane crashed up here. The ship was particularly burned when found. Before joining the Cabot companies, Clark was an instructor at army primary flying fields at Enid, Okla., and Wichita, Kas. He was born and raised in Arnett, and learned to fly before the days of modern fields, landing and taking off from a cow pasture.

Reason for the meeting was explained by Roy S. Bourland, consumer relations counselor of the board, as a mass answering of the countless questions board members and employees ask during the day that the office does not have time to answer.

Before the Japs attacked us at Pearl Harbor," Worley said, "I introduced in this house a bill to eliminate strikes in war industries. Shortly thereafter the President by executive order adopted one provision of this bill, namely the creation of a board to settle disputes between management and labor. The board provided that the findings of this board should be final.

Second in a weekly series of building jobs by Gray County 4-H Club boys will be held Saturday at the county barn. Today while labor disputes shamefully threaten to stop the West Coast production of the bombing planes we must have, I re-introduce to the United States Senate a bill to amend the findings of the National War Labor Board are not adhered to by either management or labor and that if such lack of adherence might cause a stoppage or interruption in production, then the government of the United States shall be empowered to take over the operation of such plant. My bill would guarantee the continuous production of any war weapons regardless of how long labor and management might be involved in dangerous and delaying disputes.

For eight months I had the high honor and privilege of being on active duty with the United States navy. In many of the widely scattered areas of the Southwest Pacific I saw with my own eyes how badly planes were needed. I know that planes or the lack of them will mean the difference between life and death for multiplied thousands of our men.

It is clear that the fault in these disputes lies somewhere between management and labor. Now it seems strange to me that if a buck private or an officer fell down on the job he would be court-martialed; how then can the guilty parties who knowingly contrive to slow down or stop production be permitted to go scot free? Do they not realize that the boys on the battle fronts are fighting for our lives and for the very lives of those who by their actions render or deny badly needed weapons of war?
