HUEY LONG BODYGUARD SLAPS FORMER AUDITOR, EJECTS HIM FROM HOUSE

LOWE SENATOR OPPOSES MOVE OF 'KINGFISH'

OUSTER RESOLUTION IS ADOPTED 29 TO 1 IN BALLOT

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 7. (AP)—T. O. Harris, of Shreveport, La., former state auditor, and now publicly representative for W. B. Hatcher, director of federal education in Louisiana, was slapped by one of Senator Huey P. Long's body guards tonight and ejected from the house of representatives.

A lone senator, Joseph I. Boudreaux of Abbeville, objected, but the resolution was adopted by a vote of 29 to 1 with only Boudreaux opposing it.

Numerous recent vacancies in the senate have been filled by appointment of Governor Allen despite protest of anti-administrators that such action is unconstitutional.

The present senate met with apparently only one senator, Boudreaux, opposing Senator Huey P. Long's latest legislative program.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 7. (AP)—A bill to provide a mandatory jail penalty for any federal government representative conducting federal work in Louisiana held in the state courts to be violative of the national constitution was laid by Senator Huey P. Long before the legislature tonight for enactment in special session.

The bill, one of 31 drafted at Long's orders for passage by the obedient Louisiana law-makers, is one of the most sweeping of the series that the senator has had the legislature enact this year in his conflict with the Roosevelt administration.

At the same time Long announced that he would file suit in the United States supreme court to establish the right of the state of Louisiana to prevent operation of federal bureaus within the state if such operation violates the federal constitution.

As the legislature's special session—its seventh to carry out Long's statutory wishes in the past 13 months—got under way, it was

Full Agreement On Tournament's Finale Reached

The final series in the Junior chamber of commerce baseball tournament began last night with all details adjusted to the satisfaction of participants.

Questions of eligibility were ironed out at a meeting of business and playing managers and officials of the Jaycees Friday. There was a thorough discussion, in which everyone expressed his opinions fully. The result was an amicable agreement on all essential details.

The second of the possible three-game series will be played at 3 o'clock today. The team winning two of the three games will get first money.

Mrs. E. Nyle Franklin and son were dismissed from Pampa-Jarratt hospital yesterday.

Fall Buying Season Speeds Local Business

Good business is back again after a summer lull. Milling crowds and congested traffic, well-filled stores and theaters, and an eagerness to buy attested the fact Saturday night.

Merchants frankly stated that it was the best week for a long time and the best Saturday of the season. A generally optimistic spirit prevails. Rains have soaked the soil. Wheat planting has started. The oil and gas outlook is good.

Better business is reflected in The NEWS columns in the form of increased advertising budgets, many doubled. Fall has arrived earlier than expected. Schools are opening. A new and livelier season is here. Now is the time to buy.

Supt. R. B. Fisher will start his ninth year in the Pampa system. He was principal two years before becoming superintendent. Principal L. L. Sone is beginning his seventh year as head of the high school.

A change in enrollment plans for children who come to Pampa schools of buses was announced yesterday by Supt. Fisher. The buses will run Monday afternoon instead of in the morning, bringing the pupils to school by about 1:30 o'clock.

High school enrollment for regular students will start at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning, when seniors are to register. Juniors will enroll beginning at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon, and sophomores at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

City WPA Plans Call For Sewer And Water Mains

Fairground projects asked under WPA now total $111,000. City Manager C. L. Stine said yesterday.

In addition, he asked for three-fourths mile of 8-inch water main and two miles of sewer main, amounting to $17,000, a $9,000 bridge on Cook avenue just east of the Sam Houston school, five tennis courts totaling $4,000, and concrete markers for streets amounting to $1,500.

The intricate applications were completed in the district office at Amarillo yesterday. They will be forwarded to the state office at San Antonio.

Many earlier applications by other towns of this section have been turned down because of inadequate specifications or errors. The WPA offices are so congested that no time is being taken for corrections.

WOULD VOID CONTRACT

TORONTO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Oliva Dionne, father of the Callender quintuplets, revealed today he is anxious to sever his connection with his manager, Leo Kervin. He said he offered Kervin, Callender boat-builder, a lump sum to terminate a five-year contract.

DUGGAN RITES TO BE IN SENATE AND BURIAL IN STATE CEMETERY

AUSTIN, Sept. 7. (AP)—Honors reserved for the state's distinguished citizens will be accorded Senator Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield tomorrow by a funeral service in the senate chamber and burial in the state cemetery.

The body of Senator Duggan, 56, who died in Comales yesterday, will lie in state in the chamber where he served three years from 12 o'clock until services at 2:30 p. m.

The Rev. Lawrence Wharton, pastor of the University Presbyterian church, will conduct the service in the capitol and Littlefield Masonic Lodge No. 1611, of which he was a past master, will direct interment rites.

Members of the senate and Lieutenant Governor Walter Woodall will be honorary pallbearers. Governor Allred ordered flags at the capitol and state buildings flown at half-mast tomorrow "as a final tribute from the State of Texas to this character whose spirit and soul will ever be a beacon of hope and encouragement to those who know Senator Duggan."

A senatorial committee arranged for obsequies in the senate chamber and burial in the state cemetery, an honor paid only a few, as a manifestation of the esteem in which Senator Duggan was held.

LUTHER MAKES COMPLAINT TO STATE CHIEF

HULL AGAIN PROMISES TO ASK LEHMAN FOR REPORT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—A second protest from the German government grew today from the July riot in which the Nazi flag was ripped from the mast of the Bremen—this one because of remarks attributed to the New York City magistrate who freed five men involved in the melee.

Like the other, the state department promised to investigate. To day's protest was made by Ambassador Hans Luther under instructions from the German foreign office. He protested to the department orally against what German officials considered an unwarranted "insult."

The ambassador discussed the question with Secretary Hull for nearly an hour and declined any comment as he left the state department.

State department officials later let it be known that the secretary had assured the ambassador that Governor Herbert Lehman of New York would be asked for an immediate report. No answer is expected until sometime next week.

The understanding here was that Ambassador Luther objected to remarks about the Nazi flag that were attributed to Magistrate Louis B. Brodsky.

The magistrate spoke of opinions held by "the defendants and others of our citizenry" that the Nazi flag flying in American territory had been provocation for the riot.

He said some citizens appeared to have been provoked through "flourishing of an emblem which symbolizes all that is antithetical to American ideals of the God-given and inalienable right of all peoples to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Brodsky also was quoted as expressing views held by "others" that "the prominent display of this emblem even carried with it the same sinister implications as a pirate ship, sailing defiantly into the harbor of a nation, one whose ships it would be entitled, with the black flag of piracy proudly flying aloft."

LEE SIMMONS' RESIGNATION IS ACCEPTED AND DAVE NELSON IS APPOINTED WARDEN

Simmons tendered his resignation last Monday, asserting that he wanted to resume management of his holdings in Grayson county. Many of his friends in the legislature asserted, however, that his action resulted from opposition to his policies on the part of some of the members of the board. They requested the board to withhold acceptance of his resignation until after the lawmakers convened in special session September 16.

Nelson asked that he be given a week to consider whether he would accept the position and the board granted the request.

In connection with the acceptance of the resignation and the appointment of Nelson, the board issued the following statement: "With all due regard and respect for the request of certain members of the legislature and other citizens of the state, since we have every assurance that Mr. Simmons has no desire to reconsider or withdraw his resignation as general manager, which he presented at the regular meeting of the board September 2, we consider it of the utmost importance that his successor be chosen."

KENTUCKY CITY BALLOTS UNDER EYES OF ARMY

750 Guardsmen Keep The Peace at Harlan

HARLAN, Ky., Sept. 7. (AP)—Harlan citizens voted on national guard guns for the third time in two years as Kentuckians registered their verdict today between two battling democratic factions in the statewide runoff primary, nominating candidates for governor and other offices.

Leaving 40 men under orders to watch ballot boxes until the vote is counted, the rest of the 750 men ordered here by Gov. Ruby Laffoon withdrew tonight. The Harlan vote was heavier than in August, Sheriff Theodore B. Middleton and other officials attributing this to citizens' resentment at the military occupations. Many precincts used all the ballots of their allotment in a few hours.

The county—condemned by Governor Laffoon as the abode of "a reign of terror"—today had one of the quietest elections in its history. Only trivial disputes arose and no shots were heard.

There was no recurrence of the turbulence which has in the past spilled blood in Harlan elections.

ROAD RUNNERS BEAT COLTEXO 5 TO 3; WILL PLAY AGAIN TODAY

The Pampa Road Runners took the first game of the playoff series of the Junior chamber of commerce baseball tournament last night, 5 to 3, after a nip-and-tuck battle with Coltexo of LeFors. A walk and three hits in the eighth gave the margin of victory. The same teams will meet today at 3 p. m.

The Road Runners got away to a good start in the second inning. Summers, first batter, doubled. Horton was safe on Huffman's error. Clowers went out, catcher to first, both runners advancing. Brickell was safe at first and Summers scored when an attempt was made to cut him off at the plate. George forced Brickell, Horton scoring on the play. Scaling forced George.

Coltexo got a run back in the second when Huffman also opened with a double. Polvogt fanned. Poindexter popped out to Horton in front of the plate. Locke came through with a timely single to score Huffman, but was caught trying to steal second.

The Road Runners added another run in the third. Nell went out. Patton and Seitz singled. Summers walked to fill the bases. Horton

ALL CONSULS RECALLED TO ADDIS ABABA

POPE URGES PEACEFUL MEANS, CONDONES 'NEEDS'

(By The Associated Press.)
All Italian consuls in Ethiopia were recalled to Addis Ababa Saturday, as move many observers interpreted as predicting an ultimate war.

Other developments:
Rome—Pope Pius expressed the wish Italy's "needs" in Ethiopia might be achieved by peaceful means and said: "From our latest information, we seem to see forming on the horizon a rainbow of peace."

Geneva—A sub-committee of the League council asked Italy and Ethiopia not to resort to force pending attempts to settle the dispute.

ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 7. (AP)—Italy called all its consuls in Ethiopia to Addis Ababa today in a precautionary move and one which many regarded as an indication of ultimate war. The order, explained the great distances and lack of communications made it desirable to remove the consuls from possible danger zones, adding it would take some of them several weeks to reach the capital by horseback.

(A government spokesman in Rome said Vinci-Gigliucci acted on his own initiative in view of the unsettled conditions and not under orders of the foreign office.)
The recall, it was believed certain, would not only disturb Ethiopians but also foreigners in the interior. The Italian minister told the Ethiopian foreign minister he believed his action would prevent a recurrence of alleged incidents involving mistreatment of consuls.

A French suggestion of the possibility of an Italian protectorate over Ethiopia, similar to British position in Iraq, has been summarily rejected by Ethiopian official sources as beyond all discussion.

Gray County To Have Booth At Tri-State Fair

Gray county will have a booth at the Tri-State exposition in Amarillo, beginning today. County Agent Ralph Thomas is gathering entries, which for the most part will be by individual farmers, who will receive the prizes won by their products. Many excellent exhibits items will be taken. However, the fair is much too early to get the best exhibit of row crops.

Mr. Thomas went to Panhandle Friday to judge at the county fair there. It was an agricultural fair, with many creditable exhibits. Mr. Thomas said.

Road Workers To Seek Assistance Of Sooner Body

Assistance of the Oklahoma City chamber of commerce on Oil Field highway No. 41 will be asked yesterday. Pampa, Borger, Dalhart, and Dumas are particularly interested.

The road is part of a short-cut route from Oklahoma City to Denver. The Pampa-Borger-Dumas stretch is the most important in Texas, much of the rest having been hard-surfaced.

The federal government is assisting materially in improving part of the road in Oklahoma. Similar interest in the Texas division will be sought.

GAY FRIENDS ARE TOGETHER IN NEW FILM

GABLE, BERRY, AND HARLOW PALS FOR FIVE YEARS

Pals on the set—pals in real life—three of a kind! That, in a nutshell, tells the story of the outstanding three-way friendship of Hollywood. Clark Gable! Jean Harlow! Wallace Beery!

Though the studio first brought them together it was the gold threads of life and experience shared that actually wove the firm bond of loyalty and friendship which has endured among the three since they played together in "The Secret Six" almost five years ago.

When "The Secret Six" was made Jean Harlow was almost unknown, Clark Gable was a young man just off the stage, without any great screen experience, and Wallace Beery was turning back to serious drama after playing comedy for several years.

Together in that picture they began the march to fame which has made them leaders among the box-office stars of the world. Though great fame is now theirs, they have something they treasure outside the world's acclaim. Trained in the school of herd knocks, they share their gallant spirit of real sportsmanship. Their friendship is their most prized possession.

When they were in "China Seas" new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature opening today at La Nora theater, a feeling of gay comradeship existed among them. Anything in harmless fun was likely to happen on the set. A "rag" was always on.

Some scenes of their new picture are laid on a steamship on the waterfront of Hongkong reproduced on a lagoon on the back lot of the studio. It was a colorful set, teeming with coolies who mingled with well-dressed Occidentals. Junks and sampans drifted about in the water. And now then the squeal of pigs could be heard as they were lifted aboard the ship as cargo.

Gable played the hard-bitten young skipper of the passenger liner on the most dangerous run in the world. Jean was a wise-cracking, tender-hearted lady of the ports of the Orient, deeply in love with Gable and not afraid to show it. Beery was a genial Irish trader whose gruff affability masked his operations as the sinister "brains" of "half-wild" bands.

One day Clark arrived in a black coupe of popular make. Over his immaculate white captain's uniform he wore a battered brown and white check overcoat, with the collar turned up with about six ears. The rest of his head was concealed in a tropical sun hat.

Bob Benchley, the humorist, who plays in the picture, was sitting, half asleep, on an old trunk. Clark joined him for breakfast. That is, the coffee and doughnuts which he, Jean and Beery took turns supplying for the company each morning.

Beery was sitting next to Jean, who remembering her figure, slipped gingerly at black coffee. He dangled a huge doughnut before her wistful eyes, and remarked how sorry he was that she could not join him. But Jean got even. It was Beery's birthday.

Beery gasped with delight when Jean and Clark presented him with a huge cake. But his grin faded when he started to cut it and found it was made of wood.

As if sorry for the mean trick they sent him another. Wally, a little doubtful, cut it and found it made of cotton. He laughed it off, but when a third cake arrived, he wouldn't go near it. So Jean and Clark distributed it among the company. It was real!

Jean came in for her share of "ribbings," too. Beery was always "razing" her about the photograph she played between scenes, and got a tom-tom for competition. When she was wanted for a "take," he beat the tom-tom to summon her before the camera.

Here in "China Seas"

Embedded in conflicting passions of love, hate and sinister intrigue on a storm-tossed liner off the coast of Singapore, Clark Gable, Jean Harlow and Wallace Beery find themselves involved in situations of unparallelled dramatic intensity in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's smash hit "China Seas," currently at La Nora theater.

Directed by Tay Garnett, this red-blooded melodrama is one of the outstanding contenders for the year's prize photoplay award.

Hindman and children, Bobby Lynn and Jimmie Lee, have returned from Spur where they attended a family reunion celebrating the 75th birthday of Mr. Hindman's father.

Ancient Rooster Is Chosen Here: Melvin Atkins will receive the $10 offered by Pampa Hardware company for the "oldest and toughest" rooster brought to the store yesterday.

An ancient bird with cauliflower crest comb battered over his head was adjudged the oldest and toughest by Gaston Foote, E. C. McKenzie, and Olin E. Hinkle. This rooster was a 7-year-old silver laced Wyandotte with a droopy expression but ambling eyes. It had close competition.

The old bird will be "fattened" for a couple of weeks, but not for eating, said Rufe Thompson, who offered the prize.

KITTS ORDERS TEAM TO PLAY AS UNDERDOGS

YET NO CLUB HAS WON SOUTHWEST TITLE TWICE IN ROW

BY HARREL E. LEE
Associated Press Staff Writer
HOUSTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—On top of the football world, Rice Institute's Owls have a strange task to perform this season—play like underdogs.

Jimmy Kitts, youthful pilot of the team that started the nation in 1934, wants his club to employ the same determination of the underdog that carried them through last fall.

Rated as probably one of the outstanding teams of the country, there may be a tendency, Kitts thinks, for the Owls to depend on their reputation rather than their ability.

"Barring injuries or overconfidence," said Kitts, "the 1935 Rice team should be as strong as the Owls of 1934. In fact, we should be a little better because of more reserves. We don't intend to be caught napping. We will be prepared to match pass for pass and trick for trick."

Never in the history of the Southwest conference has a grid champion repeated. Opponents seem to rise to their greatest heights against the wearer of the crown. That's why Kitts feels that his conference schedule has few, if any, sore spots.

Lettermen are two deep at ten of the eleven positions. The 1934 freshmen team was undefeated. The Rice fan can see no weakness unless it be at center or in backfield, reserves. Swift sophomore backer are being counted upon to come through as reserves.

Returning letter wearers are Sylvester, Williams, Forbes and Sadler, ends; Captain Mays, MVP, Biting and Frankie, tackles; Brandon, Bale, Ard and Morris, guards; Nichols and Bollman, centers; McCauley, Wallace, Witt, Friedman, Royall, Smith and Atkins, backs.

"Big Jaw" McCauley, line-plunging demon and all-Southwest quarterback last year, looks husker and better than ever. The tried and proven Wallace-to-McCauley passing attack will function again, with Wallace, the all-American halfback, attending to the lengthy sprinting. Harry Witt and Buck Friedman, complete a backfield leaving little to be desired.

Rice fans believe the feathered tribe has the best pair of guards in the conference in the seniors, Carroll and G. Murphy in "After the Dance" comedy, "Romania" and "On the Water."

Friday and Saturday, Bob Steele in "Smoky Smith" comedy, "Buddy the G Man" and "Rustlers of Red Dog" No. 6.

STATE THEATER
Today, Monday, and Tuesday, James Cagney and Ann Dvorak in "Q Man" comedy, "Two Books in Billion" and "550 Bill."
Wednesday and Thursday, Jeanette MacDonald and Nelson Eddy in "Naughty Marietta" comedy, "Manhattan Rhythm" and "Pretty Polly."
Friday and Saturday, Buck Jones in "When a Man Sees Red" comedy, "Trip Through Hollywood" and "Finger Up!"

Road Runners to Play Davids in Wichita Sunday
The Pampa Road Runners have been selected by the Wichita, Kan., baseball promoter to oppose the House of David baseball team in an exhibition game next Sunday in Wichita. Efforts are being made to schedule a game in Ponca City on Saturday night.

The Road Runners and House of David will return to Pampa for games on Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday nights. The Pampa team hopes to pick up Joe Berry at Ponca City and bring him back to Pampa for the rest of the season. They also expect to have Lefty Flowers with them on the trip, and for future games.

The Fort Worth Cats of the Texas league, the Kansas City Blues of the American association, and the Kansas City Monarchs, negro team, are in touch with Road Runner officials asking to schedule games here.

Daredevils

COL. REG ROBBINS.

JEAN APPLETON.

When the crowd gathers, at Road Runner park Tuesday night for the auto rodeo, of Col. Reg Robbins' "hell riders," it will be entertained by one of the youngest, if not the only professional woman stunt and fancy motorcycle rider in the country.

She is Jean Appleton, Wichita co-ed, who joined Robbins' troupe of dare-devils recently. The program is not a factory demonstration, but is by a company of daring auto drivers and motorcycle riders that has been playing throughout the southwest for the last 12 weeks.

Miss Appleton is turning professional to acquire funds for financing her in her third year in college. She attends the University of Oklahoma, where she is majoring in physical culture.

The young woman has been riding a motorcycle for two years, performing in the past in only amateur events and around Wichita, where she has her home. Both of her parents passing on when she was 13 years old, Miss Appleton worked her way through high school and is hopeful of earning her way through college.

After Tuesday's performance here, she will attempt to ascend Pike's Peak and make the motorcycle in record time. She has attempted every stunt with her motorcycle that she has ever seen performed by a male rider, and has ambitions of eventually being allowed to perform the wall crashing trick originated by Juan Rius, who is with the Robbins' company, and who will drive his speeding motorcycle through a burning board wall for the edification of the crowd.

She rides her motorcycle standing up, on either side, backward and puts it over short jumps. Only five feet, two inches tall, the rugged little miss is courageous.

Besides the daring stunts of Rius, Miss Appleton, and Robbins, the show will feature a hand-on automobile exhibition, an attempt by Lucky Joe Fitzgerald to jump a 1935 model car 40 or more feet, an auto jump across a 10-foot opening between two ramps, fancy driving, an automobile loop-the-loop and other hair-raising stunts.

First event of the evening is scheduled for 8 o'clock and the others will follow in rapid succession. The entire performance will require two hours, Col. Robbins has announced.

LeFors, Miami Will Scrimmage Monday Evening

The LeFors Pirates will scrimmage the Miami Warriors under the lights at Shaw park in LeFors tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. The lights on the field will be focused preceding the scrimmage.

The Pirates will open the 1935 season on Friday night with the Sayre, Okla., team, champions of Oklahoma, providing the opposition. The Pirates have a much improved team this year. Coaches Bill Bronson and Francis Smith report.

Reserve seat tickets for the season are now on sale at Fatheree Drug.

CANADIAN'S FOOTBALL TEAM ROUTS WELLINGTON 27 TO 6

CANADIAN, Sept. 7. (Special)—Canadian's promising high school football team opened the season last night by trouncing the Wellington eleven by a score of 27 to 6. Coach Ward was mighty pleased with the showing of his team, which is bigger and faster than last season.

Lopez, letterman from last season, planned for two touchdowns. Owens added six points by the plunging method and ran the end for another touchdown. Two plunges and a pass accounted for three extra points.

William scored Wellington's lone touchdown when he went through the line after Wellington had made a determined march down the field.

Lopez and Owens played great games in the Canadian backfield with Thomas and Laughry showing up well in the line.

Canadian will go to McLean for an exhibition game on Friday night. The McLean team is said to be of championship caliber again.

ROAD RUNNERS AND COLTEXO GAS TO PLAY 2ND GAME OF PLAY-OFF TODAY

BORGANS DROP FROM TOURNEY IN 11-2 ROUT

COSTLY ERRORS GIVE PAMPANS SEMI-FINAL TILT

The Phillips Oilers of Borger, runners-up in the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce baseball tournament last year, collapsed Friday night before a Road Runner attack and left for the home camp with third money. Costly errors and solid base hits were numerous as the Pampa aggregation went to the finals with an 11 to 2 victory over the Borger nine.

The Road Runners and Coltexo Gas of LeFors meet in a schedule to determine the tournament champion. Coltexo placed fourth last year, being eliminated by Huber Blackfaces of Borger. Because of a great pitching staff, the best in the tournament, Coltexo ruled as slight favorites to copy the title and the $1,000 prize money. The Road Runners have the hitters but a questionable pitching staff. Game time this afternoon will be 8 o'clock.

Locals Hit Freely

Fred Brickell and his birds collected 14 bingles off Foy Haddock and Manager Mulrone. Aided by six errors, all of them costly, the Road Runners coasted to victory behind the eight hit pitching of Lee Daney, Indian righthander, who had sensational support.

Vic George, Rimmer, shortstop, took the most sensational play of the tournament away from his teammate, Al Summers, when he went behind third in the third inning to take Jackson's ground scooper and threw to Summers to force Lowrance at second. He also hit a single, double and triple.

Red Lowrance, Phillips shortstop, had a "hitting and booting" evening. The little redhead rapped out two singles and two doubles on his first four trips to the plate, and Dallas Patton had to make a great running catch to get Lowrance out in the ninth to end the game. Lowrance made two costly errors, had four assists, and three put-outs.

The Road Runners pulled a double steal to score in the sixth inning which turned into a comedy. With Scalling on third and Nell on first, with two down, a double steal was called. Francis, Phillips catcher, threw to Lowrance at second but he dropped the ball and Scalling scored. Nell started a dodging game between first and second and before he was finally trapped, the ball had been

Skelly Defeats Pampa Druggists; Local Girls Win

Bad weather failed to dampen the enthusiasm of playground fans of the west Pampa oilfield Friday night, when nearly 2,000 persons saw the Skelly-Schafer team defeat Pampa Drug 6 to 2 in a well played game.

In a preliminary, the Pampa Sluggers, girls' team, nosed out the Skelly team, 9 to 4. De Ann Heiskell hurled for the winners, with Gee behind the bat. De Long pitched for Skelly, Beagle receiving.

A home run by Hays, with two men on base, handed Skelly a lead which was never overcome.

Hays was on the mound and allowed the druggists only five scattered hits. Dyer was behind the bat. Davis held the slugging oilmen to six bingles. Sheridan caught the game.

The lights at the Skelly-Schafer plant, seven miles northwest of Pampa, are proving popular. Large crowds attend all games.

5 Ex-Harvesters Playing Football For Altus School

Five former Harvester football stars are wearing the colors of the Altus Junior college Tigers this year. They are Carl Smith, 1934 all state guard, Bill Haner, Buck Mundy, Miles Marbaugh, and Carmen Howard.

The Altus team will meet the Amarillo Junior college Badgers on Butler field Saturday afternoon. The Pampa boys write that they are going to be on hand to break the tradition of Butler field. Even though not wearing the green and gold of Pampa high, the boys say they will be thinking of past games on the turf of that field.

MANGIN CUTS DOWN MENZEL IN NET MEET

VICTOR TO CLASH WITH SIDNEY WOOD IN NEXT ROUND

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 7. (AP)—The sun shone today for everybody except Big Roderich Menzel. Close to 11,000 spectators all but filled the huge horseshoe stadium of the West Side club as the combined men's and women's national singles tennis championships were resumed after five days of postponements and curtailed programs.

Gregory S. Mangin of Newark, N. J. cut down the world-ranking Czechoslovakian 6-1, 9-7, 6-2.

This victory sent Mangin into the quarter-final round, where he will meet Sidney B. Wood Jr., and avenged the five-set defeat he suffered at the hands of Menzel in the same round and on the same court a year ago.

Eight matches were played to bring the men's and women's field up to the quarter-final round one round of eight matches was played in the women's tournament which saw the highly-favored Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Brookline, Mass., pressed hard to turn back the challenge by Freda James of England. The scores were 7-5, 5-7, 6-4.

The defending titleholder, Helen Jacobs, made short work of Evelyn Dearman of England, winning 6-2, 6-2.

The winners in the men's tournament besides Mangin were Don Budge, Wilmer Allison, Sidney Wood Jr., and Bryan M. (Bitsy) Grant Jr. Budge, as was expected, beat out his Davis cup teammate, John Van Ryn of Philadelphia in straight sets, 8-6, 6-4, 8-6.

Allison eliminated Gene Mako of Los Angeles, 6-2, 6-0, 7-5. Wood disposed of John McDiarmid of Fort Worth, Tex., 6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, while "Bitsy" Grant triumphed over the intercollegiate, Wilbur Hess, also from Fort Worth, 7-5, 5-7, 6-1, 6-4.

Tribe to Play Tulsa in First Play-off Game

DALLAS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Another season behind them, the four leading teams in the Texas league will start play Wednesday under the Shaughnessy play-off system.

The winner of the play-off will meet the Southern Association champions in the annual Dixie series.

First round pairings will send the Oklahoma City Indians against their home state rivals, the Tulsa Oilers, while two powerful South Texas teams, the Beaumont Exporters and the Galveston Buccaneers, contest for a place in the finals.

Oklahoma City headed the parade over the full season route. Beaumont was second, Galveston third and Tulsa fourth, all positions being clinched Friday night.

The first round games next week will be for the best three out of five games. The two surviving clubs then will fight it out over the four-out-of-seven games route for the title. Only these two finalists will share in the Texas league players' end of the Dixie series pool.

Harvesters Ineffective As Exes Deal Out 7-0 Beating

Walstad Intercepts Pass, Runs 90 Yard

The 1935 Harvesters lost a 7 to 0 decision to a bunch of ex-Harvesters in a sluggish scrimmage session Friday afternoon at Harvester field. Minus Red Manning, who usually calls the signals, the Harvesters failed to click as they did in a scrimmage against LeFors earlier in the week. Manning received a cracked rib in a tough workout Thursday afternoon.

One bright feature of the scrimmage was the work of the backfield, which was handicapped by a line that failed to get out of the way. The backfield boys did considerable fumbling but it could be attributed to the cold. A bad south wind was sweeping up the field with numbing effect. Time after time the backfield fell over its own line, which had the opposition outweighed many, many pounds to the man.

The lone touchdown came in the third quarter when Jack Walstad, center for the exes, intercepted a widely lobbing pass and ran about 90 yards for a touchdown, with his brother, Archie Lee Walstad, running interference. No Harvester "covered" the pass and as a result, Walstad had an almost clear path down the sideline. Most of the Harvesters quit the chase; however, Chubby Stewart raced across the field and had almost overtaken the ball carrier when "Brother Archie" took him out with a nice block.

The team showed up much better defensively, stopping nearly every thrust of the exes through the line. The work of Nolan, Eric Green, Gillis, and Stewart was particularly outstanding on the defense. Brown, Drake, Showers, Woolridge, and Stewart did most of the offensive work, with J. R. Green snatching a couple of nice passes.

Long hard practice sessions will continue unabated. Coaches Odus Mitchell and J. C. Prejan said after the scrimmage.

The Walstad brothers, Sam Tur-

THE LIVING WATER: John 4:7-9, 10.

There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus said unto her, Give me to drink. Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou, being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have no dealings with the Samaritans. Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knowest the gift of God, and who it is that said to them, Give me to drink; thou wouldest ask of him, and he would have given thee living water. Whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him shall never thirst.

A Gallant Army

Newspapermen delight in referring to Confederate veterans as the "gallant army of the south." To western readers—and West Texas is more western than southern—these words probably call up few mental pictures. But to those of the deeper south, and those who attended the convention or reunion of United Confederate Veterans in Amarillo, the phrase is peculiarly inspiring. The fine old men, of great personality, a lively pride, and a patriotism which clings as tenaciously to the Stars and Bars as to the Stars and Stripes, are possessed of a gallantry which was typical of the old south and its plantations.

Bowed, in many instances, by the years and the vicissitudes of life, they seem like other old men while crossing a street. But when another old veteran shakes their hand and reminiscing begins, the years are tossed away, eyes sparkle, campaigns are re-lived, the flaming spirit of the southern states is rekindled. Or at a ball, when the music smites the ear with familiar melodies, ancient feet begin to tap and many a jig is started, if only with one foot. Startlingly, a rebel yell will pierce the air occasionally, all the more impressive because of its quavering finish.

To thousands who saw Friday's parade, the Stars and Bars meant only that a strange flag was passing, that the old veterans were extraordinarily proud of it, that a mighty civil war was fought and is still vividly remembered by the participants. The writer saw National Guardsmen crowding close to the parade to get a glimpse—their first—of the flag of the Confederacy.

In a period when the new deal has meant the crushing of many states rights, the Reunion served well to call attention to the principle that states are individual, held together by bonds of their own making, with rights to be served and preserved as long as their identity as states and as sections is cherished. Yet it would be erroneous to assume that all the veterans, or any considerable portion of them, are opposed to the present administration. The issues of 1860-65 still live in their minds, but issues of 1935 are not parallel; conditions have changed, are still changing.

There are those who will believe to their grave that conditions would now be better had the Confederacy lived. There are those who only recently have learned to value their United States citizenship. The writer had one teacher who steadfastly and publicly refused to acknowledge affection for the Stars and Stripes until Woodrow Wilson laid down the principle that the United States should never wage a war of aggression. The idealism of Wilson made that man, who as a child knew the horrors of the civil war, proud of his country again.

The true spirit of the old south and the Confederacy will in large measure perish with the death of the last veteran. But the Confederate veterans should and will always be honored, and their flag—in which every southerner should feel a pride because of the gallant fight made for it and principles represented by it—should likewise be honored. Their rugged individuality made America great. We doubt that the Americans of today enough appreciate the value of that principle. It would be fortunate should the Confederate veterans and their proud doctrines continue to be with us through the crisis which lingers, although fading.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — No one will ever know how much of the agonized shriek here following the first cotton loan announcement which was due to concern for the cotton growers and how much of it was inspired by the brief of speculators.

But Roosevelt and the AAA chiefs had their suspicions, and rumors have reached epidemic proportions.

There's no law requiring politicians to reveal the extent to which they're in the cotton market or in any other market. And it's considered poor form to ask.

Nor are the close associations between some senators and cotton manufacturers and brokers a matter of public record, though it would be a darned interesting record if they were—especially now.

But's known that a lot of folks had to dig up margin money in a hurry when the market broke 83 points the morning after it was learned the loan rate was to be 9 cents instead of 12.

Whether or not any senators were in that position, some friends of senators certainly were long on cotton, paying believed senatorial assurances that the loan would stay at 12. Many cotton mill men had been here obaying for the 12-cent loan—which meant a pegged price—and either had unhedged stocks and inventories or were long on futures.

Southern senators and lobbyists yelled murder about the "blow to the farmer" and dire political consequences and held up Congress until the White House granted a compromise. But the AAA, knowing that very few farmers held any cotton at this time and having promised to subsidize growers up to a guaranteed return of 12 cents a pound, couldn't see how the farmer would be hurt.

The "compromise," providing a 10 cent loan, and a more equitable subsidy method as between growers, is still expected to achieve the AAA objective of a free cotton market and the unloading of some 1,500,000 more bales of surplus cotton on the world market than could have been done under the 12-cent loan policy.

Strangely enough, it left the speculators still holding the bag.

If that Albertan premier fails to keep his promise to pay $25 monthly to his constituents, they may sue him or impersonation. He gave them the impression he was rank and earnest.

Rare malady gradually making Kansas City man shorter. One of the first symptoms is the question, "How old are you?" encountered when buying cigarets.

HONOR FARM OF PRISON SYSTEM IS 'GOOD RISK'

175 Convicts Have 3 Supervisors to Watch Them

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 7 (AP)—Unlike the Neff honor farm which "went broke" shortly after it was established because its "honor" convicts persisted in "leaving in droves," the Texas prison system lists its present trusty farm, the Ferguson farm, located a few miles south of Midway in Madison county, as a "good risk."

This farm, which comprises 4,344 acres situated along the banks of the Texas river, is populated by 175 convicts, all state approved trusties, who have but three supervisors to watch them.

This year there have been five escapes, which is no greater than the number of former years, although Ferguson's population has increased by 50 men over the average of the past four years.

Captain L. A. Martin came to Ferguson in 1930, while it was under the same discipline as the other farms of the system and under his discipline and leadership the record of escaping convicts has dropped steadily.

In 1928, under Martin's predecessor, there were 28 escapes, and 35 in 1929. The first year Martin was on the job escapes dropped to 13 and in the next year, 1931, only two convicts were successful in going.

A. W. O. L. Martin had brought the flood of desperate criminals leaving from 17 per cent down to 1 per cent.

Prison officials say that "it was a fine accomplishment. While the Ferguson is largely a dairy unit, much farming is done there, with 800 acres in corn, 675 in feed, 400 in cotton, and 130 in garden farming."

NEW BOOSTER STATION NOW BEING BUILT

PHILLIPS COMPLETING A GAS PLANT AT KELLERVILLE

BY GEORGE L. GUTHRIE, Consulting Geologist, Coahuila-Warley Field.

There were 10 wells completed in the plains district last week, seven of this number in Gray county, two in Hutchinson, and one in Wheeler. There were only nine new starts made, but they were spread through all of the producing counties. Two were in Gray, one in Hutchinson, three in Wheeler, two in Carson, and one in Moore.

The Phillips Petroleum company's booster station being constructed in the Kellerville area is progressing rapidly with most of the ground work done. Actual construction is in progress, and it is estimated that it will not be long before operation of the plant will begin. The station will probably take much of the low pressure gas in the area which has heretofore not been able to buck the line pressure, and lower line pressure at the wells.

The gas situation remains the same with the Railroad commission working with operators to get all of the wells in line under the new gas-oil ratio order issued early in the week. Data on new connections will be available soon, all companies having been asked to furnish it at once.

MARKET BRIEFS

NEW YORK, Sept. 7. (AP)—In the most active Saturday turnover since February 10, 1934, the stock market churned irregularly ahead today, scoring gains of as much as 3 or more points in a few thinly traded issues.

Measured by the Associated Press average of 60 stocks the market advanced .5 of a point to 49.9 a new high for the year and the highest level reached since February 23, 1934.

At today's closing prices, the average of industrial shares stood at the highest point since the early autumn of 1931.

Two forces were at work in the market today, brokers said. Pushing shares up were the bullish sentiments generated in some quarters by the president's "breathing spell" statement, and a number of favorable reports on business.

Transactions totaled 1,289,960 shares for today's two-hour session, compared with 2,155,100 shares in the five hour trading on Friday.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 7. (AP)—Impetuous rushes to buy swept all wheat markets strongly upward today, Canadian farmers having been officially guaranteed a higher minimum price than was generally expected.

Some of the buying in Chicago was credited to Winnipeg interests that three locations on its prolific Keller lease, the south half of section 48, block 24, No. 17 is 900 feet from the south line and 900 feet from the east line of the lease. No. 18 is 900 feet from the north line and 1,650 feet from the east line of the lease. No. 19 is 900 feet from the north line and 1,650 feet from the west line of the lease.

CANNON WHICH FIRED FIRST SHOT OF REVOLUTION WILL USHER IN TEXAS CENTENNIAL AT GONZALES

Back To Work

Everett Willis, above, left yesterday for New York to resume his legal work after a three-week vacation with his parents, Judge and Mrs. Newton P. Willis. He was a guest at a number of social functions in the Panhandle. He also attended the Confederate reunion in Amarillo. He is connected with the law firm of Reed, Clark, Buckner, and Ballantine.

He was apparently unable to obtain necessary requirements in their own market, where values jumped 3 cents a bushel, the maximum permissible limit in Winnipeg for any one day. Topmost Chicago quotations, 2 1/2 cents up for the day, were reached just before trading ended.

Attention of speculators here focused sharply on the question whether European countries should now find themselves forced to go to Canadian wholesale for bread-stuff supplies.

Wheat in Chicago closed strong, 1 1/2-2 1/2 cents above yesterday's finish, Dec. 94 1/4, corn 1/4-3/4 advanced, Dec. 56 1/2, oats 1/4-1/2 up, and provisions 5 to 17 cents down.

KANSAS CITY LIVERPOOL

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 7. (AP)—U. S. D. A.—Livestock trade at mid-western markets this week was featured by sharp price uptick of 1.00-1.50 on fat lambs, while yearlings ruled 50-1.00 higher; sheep closed strong to 25 or more higher.

Chicago had a late top of 10.25 on choice natives and range lambs, the highest for this season since 1930.

Most killing classes of cattle were under pressure the fore part of the week with packers obtaining material price concessions on the in-between grades of steers, but otherwise the market was fairly stable. Chicago scored 13.50 on prime heavy steers and realized 12.75 on finish-long yearlings. Common to medium horned grass steers at the river markets bulked at 5.50-7.75. Bulk of stalker and feeder steers ranging from 6.00 to 8.50.

Hogs prices were up 25 to 50 cents the fore part of the week, but after Wednesday trade slowed down with most of the advance lost and some centers reporting a slight decline as compared with last Saturday. Chicago had a late top of 11.90 against 12.20.

C. G. Freeman of Hemphill county purchased 500 head of steer and heifer calves from various breeders located on McClellan creek in Gray county, north of McLean.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 7. (AP)—Cotton lost from 2 to 7 points in an active short session on the market here today.

Distant positions, features of strength in recent dealings as the government cotton pool switched its holdings to later months, showed the largest losses today as longs tried to take profits on the recent advance.

Week-end and pre-bureau liquidation brought about minor recessions in the closing minutes and Oct. ended at 10.32, Dec. at 10.33, May at 10.48 and July at 10.52.

The trade generally expects a slight decline in the government crop estimate on Monday. Crop deterioration has been reported from widely scattered areas of Texas, and with the Atlantic seaboard getting a lot of unwanted rain, a drop from the 11,798,000 bale figure of a month ago is expected.

Port receipts 28,439; season 604,426; last season 465,789. Exports 305; week 205; season 276,902; last season 345,532. Stocks at ports 1,330,166. Stocks on shipboard at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 22,106; last year 54,273. Spot sales at southern markets 22,339; year ago 27,261.

LOOK FOR THE FORD SIGN

THE Ford Motor Company very early decided that good service was as necessary as correct design and efficient manufacturing.

To give you service that measures up to factory requirements, Ford dealers' mechanics are factory trained. The modern, efficient equipment they use, such as the Ford Laboratory Test Set, saves you time and money. Charges are low, because uniform flat rates prevail. Perhaps one of the most noteworthy savings has been effected through the Ford Factory Engine Exchange Plan, which eliminates the old-fashioned costly overhaul.

Today we believe that Ford dealers and those garages which display the "Genuine Ford Parts" sign combine to provide the most complete, most satisfactory type of service available anywhere. Use these facilities and get the utmost in performance and economy from your Ford car or truck.

Your Ford dealer always lubricates your Ford in accordance with factory specifications. He has the modern equipment and skilled mechanics necessary to do good work.

Typical of the modern scientific equipment used by Ford service stations is the Laboratory Test Set, which quickly and accurately checks engine and electrical performance.

At less cost than an old-fashioned overhaul, you can exchange your present Ford engine for a factory-reconditioned cylinder assembly. Many other units are also included in this service.

"--AND SUDDEN DEATH"

working on a safety poster would dare depict that in full detail. That picture would have to include motion picture and sound effects, too—the flopping, pointless efforts of the injured to stand up; the queer, grunting noises; the steady, panting groaning of a human being with pain creeping up on him as the shock wears off. It should portray the slack expression on the face of a man, dragged with shock, starting at the Z-twist in his broken leg, the insane crumpled effect of a child's body after its bones are crushed inward, a realistic portrait of a hysterical woman with her screaming mouth opening a hole in the bloody drip that fills her eyes and runs off her chin. Minor details would include the raw ends of bones protruding through flesh in the compound fractures, and the dark red, coagulating surfaces where clothes and skin were flayed off at once.

Those are all standard, every-day sequels to the modern passion for going places in a hurry and taking a chance or two by the way. If ghosts could be put to a useful purpose, every bad stretch of road in the United States would greet the oncoming motorist with groans and screams and the educational spectacle of ten or a dozen corpses, all sizes, sexes and ages, lying horribly either a shattering dead stop or a crashing change of direction—and since the occupant—meaning you—continues in the old direction at the original speed, every surface and angle of the car's interior immediately become a deadly, tearing projectile, aimed squarely at you—inescapable. There is no bracing yourself against these imperative laws of momentum.

It's like going over Niagara Falls in a steel barrel full of railroad spikes. The best thing that can happen to you—and one of the rarer things—is to be thrown out as the doors spring open, so you have only the ground to reckon with. True, you strike with as much force as if you had been thrown from the Twentieth Century at top speed. But at least you are spared a lethal array of gleaming metal knobs and edges and glass inside the car.

Anything can happen in that split second of crash, even those lucky escapes you hear about. People have dived through windshields and come out with only superficial scratches. They have run cars together head on, reducing both to twisted junk, and been found unhurt and arguing bitterly two miles afterward. But death was there just the same—he was only exercising his privilege of being erratic. This spring a wrecking crew pried the car of a school bus which had overturned down an embankment and out stepped the driver with only a scratch on his cheek. But his mother was still inside, a splinter of wood from the top driven into her brain as a result of son's taking a greasy curve a little too fast. No blood—no horribly twisted bones—just a gray-haired corpse still clutching her pocket-book, her 40p as she had clutched when she felt the car leave the road.

On that same curve a month later, a light touring car crashed a tree. In the middle of the front seat they found a 9-month-old boy surrounded by broken glass and yet absolutely unhurt. A fine practical joke on death—but spoiled by the baby's parents, still sitting on each side of him, instantly killed by shattering their skulls on the dashboard.

If you customarily pass without clear vision a long way ahead, make sure that every member of the party carries identification papers—it's difficult to identify a body with its whole face bashed in or torn off. The driver is death's favorite target. If the steering wheel holds together it ruptures his liver or spleen so he reverts to death internally. Or, if the steering wheel breaks off, the matter is settled instantly by the steering column's plunging into his abdomen.

By no means do all head-on collisions occur on curves. The modern death-trap is likely to be a straight stretch with three lanes of traffic—like the notorious Astor Flats on the Albany Road. Road where there have been as many as 27 fatalities in one summer month. This sudden vision of broad, straight road tempts many an ordinarily sensible driver into passing the man ahead. Simultaneously a driver coming the other way swings out at high speed. At the last moment each tries to get into line again, but the gaps are closed. As the cars in line are forced into the ditch to capsize or crash fences, the passers meet, almost head-on, in a swirling, grinding smash that sends them caroming obliquely into the others.

A trooper described such an accident—five cars in one mess, seven killed on the spot, two dead on the way to the hospital, two more dead in the long run. He remembered it far more vividly than he wanted to—the quick way the doctor turned away from a dead man to check up on a woman with a broken back; the three bodies out of one car so soaked with oil from the crankcase that they looked like wet brown cigars and not human at all; a man, walking around and babbling to himself, oblivious of the dead and dying, even oblivious of the dagger-like silver of steel that stuck out of his streaming wrist; a pretty girl with her forehead laid open, trying hopelessly to crawl out of a ditch in spite of her smashed hip.

A first-class massacre of that sort is only a question of scale and numbers—seven corpses are no deader than one. Each shattered man, woman or child who went to make up the 36,000 corpses "chalked up" last year, had to die a personal death.

A car careening and rolling down a bank, battering and smashing its occupants every inch of the way can wrap itself so thoroughly around a tree that front and rear bumpers interlock, requiring an acetylene torch to cut them apart. In a recent case of that sort they found the old lady who had been sitting in back, lying across the lap of her daughter, who was in front, each soaked in her own and the other's blood indistinguishably, each so shattered and broken that there was point whatever in an autopsy to determine whether it was broken neck or ruptured heart that caused death.

Overtuning cars specialize in certain injuries. Cracked pelvis, for instance, guaranteeing agonizing months in bed, motionless, perhaps crippled for life—broken spine resulting from sheer sideways twist—the minor details of smashed knees and splintered shoulder blades caused by crashing into the side of the car as she goes over with the swirl of an insane roller coaster—and the lethal consequences of broken ribs, which puncture hearts and lungs with their sharp ends. The consequent internal hemorrhage is no less dangerous because it is the pleural instead of the abdominal cavity that is filling with blood.

Flying glass—safety glass is by no means universal yet—contributes much more than its share to the spectacular side of accidents. It doesn't merely cut—the fragments are driven in as if a cannon loaded with broken bottles had been fired in your face, and a silver in the eye, traveling with such force, means certain blindness. A leg or arm stuck through the windshield will cut clean to the bone through vein, artery and muscle like a piece of beef under the butcher's knife, and it takes little time to lose a fatal amount of blood under such circumstances. Even safety glass may not be wholly safe when the car dashes something at high speed. You hear picturesque tales of how a flying human body will make a neat hole in the stuff with its head—the shoulder stick—the glass holds—and the raw keen edge of the hole decapitates the body as neatly as a guillotine.

Or, to continue with the decapitation motif, going off the road into a post-and-rail fence can put you beyond worrying about other injuries immediately when a rail comes through the windshield and cars off your head with its splintered end—not as neat a job but thoroughly efficient. Bodies are often found with their shoes off and their feet all broken out of shape. The shoes are back on the floor of the car, empty and with their laces still neatly tied. That is the kind of impact produced by modern speeds.

But all that is routine in every American community. To be remembered individually by doctors and policemen, you have to do something as grotesque as the lady who burst the windshield with her head, splashing splinters all over the other occupants of the car, and then, as the car rolled over, filled with it down the edge of the windshield, frame and cut her throat from ear to ear. Or park on the pavement too near a curve at night, and wind in front of the tall light will take off a spare tire—which will impale you in somebody's forehead as the fellow who was mowed three feet broad and two inches thick by the impact of a heavy duty truck against the rear of his car. Or be as original as the pair of youths who were thrown out of an open roadster this spring—her in place—but each broke a wind-blind post with his head in casing and the whole top of each skull, down to the eyebrows, was missing. Or snap off a nine-inch iron and get yourself impaled by a ragged branch.

None of all that is scare-fiction; it is just the horrible raw material of the year's statistics as seen in the ordinary course of duty by policemen and doctors, picked at random. The surprising thing is that there is so little dissimilarity in the stories they tell.

It's hard to find a surviving accident victim who can bear to talk. After you come to the gnawing, searing pain throughout your body accounted for by learning that you have both collarbones smashed, both shoulder blades splintered, your right arm broken in three places and three ribs cracked, with every chance of bad internal ruptures, but the pain can't distract you as the check begins to wear off, from realizing that you are probably on your way out. You can't forget that even when they shift you from the ground to the stretcher and your broken rib bite into your lungs and the sharp ends of your collarbones slide over to stab deep into each side of your screaming throat. When you've stopped screaming, it all comes back—you're dying and you hate you self for it. That last fiction either. It's what it actually feels like to be one of that 36,000. And every time you pass on a blind curve, every time you hit it up on a slippery road, every time you step on it harder than your reflexes will safely take, every time you drive with your reactions slowed down by a drink or two, every time you follow the man ahead too closely, you're gambling a few seconds against this kind of blood and agony and sudden death.

Take a look at yourself as the man in the white jacket shakes his head over you, tells the boys with the stretcher not to bother and turns away to somebody else who isn't quite dead yet. And then take it easy.

W. A. Paddock, chairman of the prison board, said that 15 of the 31 members of the senate and 37 members of the house petitioned the board to withhold action of the resignation.

Representative C. C. Cannon of Honey Grove, chairman of the house education committee, has threatened an investigation of the cause of Simmons' resignation, asserting that he will press for an inquiry "if it blows the dome of the state capitol."

Board members who voted against immediate acceptance of Simmons' resignation were Earl Arnold of Greenville and R. W. Miller of Huntsville.

Connally Oil Act Upheld by Judge

SHERMAN, Sept. 7. (AP)—Judge Randolph Bryant in federal district court today upheld the constitutionality of the new Connally oil act.
The federal measure, enacted by congress last February, was designed to prevent the movement in interstate commerce of oil produced or withdrawn from storage in excess of the amount permitted by state laws.

Judge Bryant's decision was rendered against the East Texas Refining company, which was seeking tenders on 155,000 barrels of oil. The company named as defendant tendered board No. 1 and attempted to prove the Connally law was unconstitutional.

Harris was put out of the house, taken to the city court and charged with being drunk and disorderly, and using profane and obscene language. He was released on $15 bond.

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 7. (AP)—The Louisiana senate met in special session tonight and adopted a resolution declaring the seat of Charles A. Byrne, who was recently appointed district attorney of New Orleans, vacant, and providing for filling it by appointment of Governor O. K. Allen.

Veteran to Make 1,325th 'Chute Jump Here Today

Fercy Miller, maimed veteran, will make his 1,325th parachute jump at the local airport this afternoon. Miller lost a leg in the war, but it doesn't keep him from flying a ship, stunting and making jumps. The trick artist wears two chutes, an Irvin seat pack and an emergency Russell rap pack. Miller will make his jump from a height of 2,500 feet or more. Besides parachute jumping, Miller does stunts on the wings of a ship.

Phares cited an example of how the system would work.
Someone, he said, in a bank in a small town near Waco was robbed and the robbers got away. Waco district headquarters would be notified immediately. The district captain would know the route his men would be patrolling and their approximate location on the highway. Pharesmen along the road would be called in and would report to headquarters.

JUDGES VS. JAX

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Sept. 7. (AP)—The Pine Bluff judges' association of the East Dixie, and the Jax winners of the West Dixie tournament, marked time today as they awaited the call here tomorrow afternoon that will send them into the Little Dixie series.

TOURNAMENT

Clowers fanned.
Batting had, Coltexo added another run in the fourth when Clowers went wild. He walked three, hit a single, and a sacrifice batted. Sedbrook, Locke fanned and Seltz made a great catch of Dingman's line drive to retire the side.

Clowers won his own game in the eighth when he drove in the winning run. Seltz started the first work with a single to center. Summers walked. Horton fanned. Clowers came through with a single to left. Brickell forced Clowers. The third time he had hit into a forced play, George hit a single which scored Summers. Locke made a nice catch of Sealing's fly to retire the side.

A double play killed a Coltexo in the ninth as Polndexter had opened the inning with a single.
Both teams played great ball. The two shortstops, Dingman of Coltexo and George of the Road Runners, started a field day with man handling nine chances without an error and George getting three hard assists and an out. Dingman came up with two great stabs and throws. Polndexter gave the fans a thrill when he went into center field for Sealing's drive in the fourth. Patton had nice catches in right field for the Road Runners.

When the same two teams meet this afternoon in the second game of the playoff series, Lew Dancy will probably oppose Jim Parker in a mound duel. Game time will be 3 o'clock. If Coltexo wins the game, a third and last meeting will be staged at 8 o'clock Monday night.

CONVICTS TO PLAY
HOUSTON, Sept. 7. (AP)—The Texas prison fliers tomorrow will make their first, and possibly their last "road trip." The convict baseball team will come to the Texas league park here to play a doubleheader against the Brenham Sun Oilers, winners of the Houston Post semi-pro tournament which ended this week. A few armed guards will accompany the prisoners, just to make certain that they won't try to prolong their stay on the outside.

in effect an appeal to Italy and Ethiopia not to resort to force for the time being was dispatched today as a league sub-committee of five nations strove to find a way out of war.
The sub-committee after a brief morning session issued a communique stating that it: "Relies on the governments concerned to refrain from any act that might compromise efforts."
As the week ended, it appeared the league's machinery had made but small progress on the steep and slippery road toward an Italo-Ethiopian solution.

BACK-TO-COLLEGE DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB IS GAY EVENT
Stately Grand March Will Precede Lively Square Dances at The Pioneer Ball

HOSTESS CLUB MEMBERS WILL BE COSTUMED

PRIZES OFFERED FOR DANCERS AND MUSICIANS

The Grand March—symbol of stately magnificence in the last century—will open Pioneer ball and square dance to be held in the high school gymnasium, Tuesday evening Sept. 17. The gymnasium will be appropriately decorated in festive colors.

Leading the Grand March will be two leading citizens of the Panhandle, followed by a host of celebrities of the pampas. According to present plans, women in the Grand March will wear costumes that conform to the styles of eras gone by.

Dancing to Follow
The Grand March will be followed by stately, old-fashioned dances of by-gone days—the Virginia Reel, heel and toe polka, the schottische, and square dances. Cash prizes will be given to the four best fiddlers, and other prizes will be given to wearers of the best costumes, the best square dancers, the best fiddlers, and the best performers of the other dances. Judges of the various events are being chosen by Olin E. Hinkle, chairman of the judges and prizes committee.

At least four callers and four fiddlers have already consented to assist in the dance. Hostesses at the dance will be long-time residents of this section. The chairman of the hostess committee will be announced this week, according to Archer Fullington, general chairman.

Dress in Character
Members of the three music clubs, the Philharmonic chorus, the Treble Clef and the Junior Treble Clef, will take the lead in their attempt to make the dance an affair resembling the dances of early days in the Panhandle by wearing costumes that were fashionable then at the dance.

Club committees in session Friday night at the city hall decided to urge all members to obtain or make costumes for the occasion. Proceeds of the dance will be used to finance the convention of seventh district music clubs which will be held here in October. Several hundred out-of-town women will attend the convention.

Mrs. A. H. Doucette, chairman of the costume committee, last night urged all persons who expect to participate in the dance to come costumed, although wearing the old-fashioned garments will be optional and not mandatory, it was said. Ladies who will wear costumes or who will lend old-fashioned garments for other persons are asked to call Mrs. Doucette.

Ticket Sales Begun
Sale of the tickets began Saturday. Authorization of the Pampa Credit Association to sell the tickets was obtained, and the following statement "to whom it may concern" was issued by the credit body: "In order to finance the district meeting of the women federated music clubs, the local clubs are sponsoring an old-fashioned square dance for Sept. 17. From sources which we consider reliable, we are advised that all monies collected from the sale of tickets will be used to defray expenses of the above mentioned district meeting."

Walter J. Daugherty, manager of Mrs. Lloyd Roberts, chairman of the invitations committee, will mail invitations to more than 1,000 old timers who "square" and other square dancers by Tuesday night. Every one is invited to attend, but special invitations will be sent to persons who attended and participated in the Pre-Centennial square dance.

Full Crowd Expected
Members of the three clubs are selling the tickets. They have divided the town between them and will cover it this week. Price of one admission will be forty cents. It is estimated that the gym will accommodate 700 spectators who may or may not, according to choice, take part in the dances.

Posters advertising the dance will be made this week. Mrs. J. M. Dodson, chairman of the finance committee of the music clubs, will seek the cooperation of local art clubs, artists and school pupils.

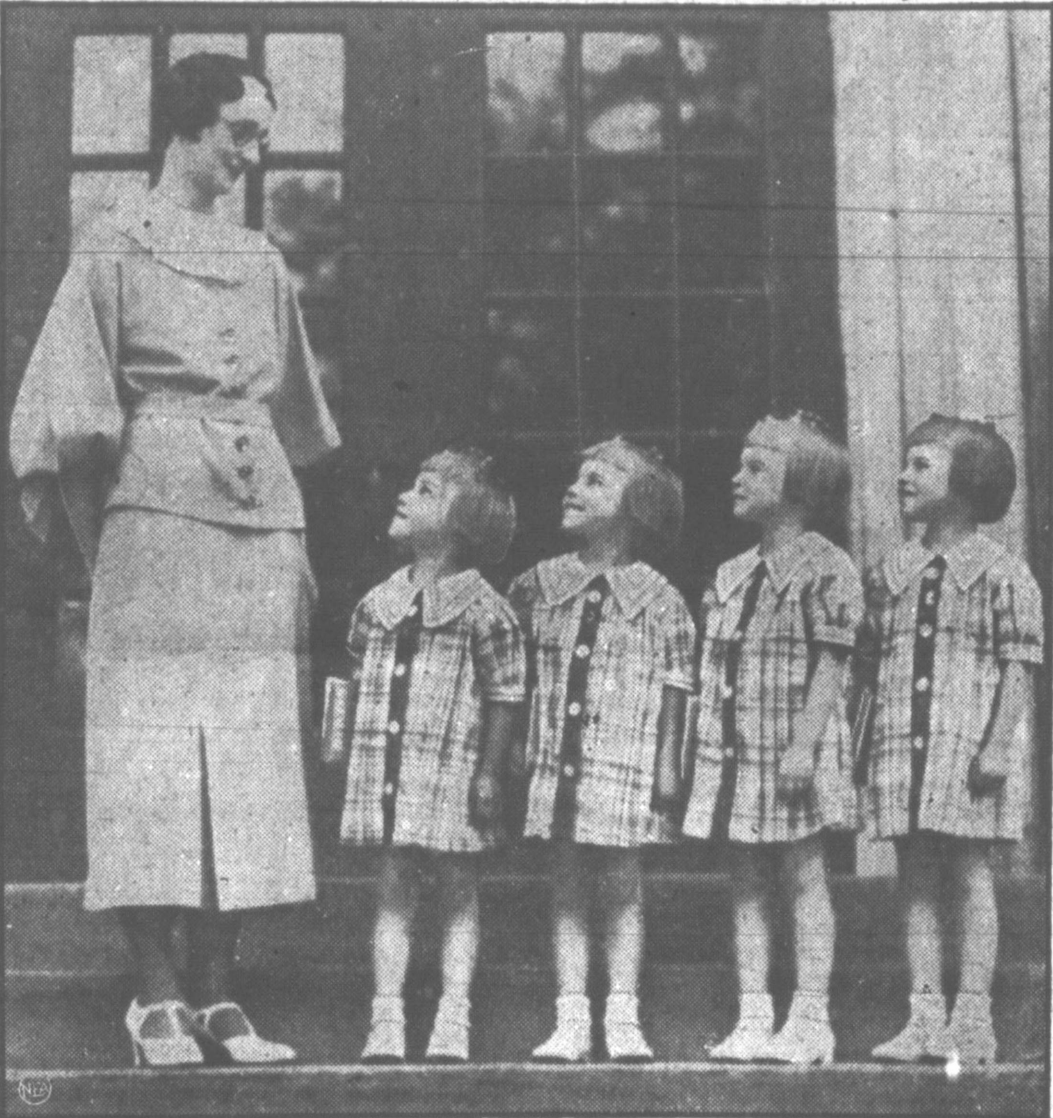

News stories announcing the dance appeared in at least a dozen newspapers serving this area last week.

The ticket chairman are Mrs. David Dodge of the Treble Clef, Mrs. Herman Jones of the Philharmonic, Miss Clotilde McCallister of the Treble Clef Junior.

Mrs. Ethel Powell, chairman of the decorations committee, will announce plans for decorating the gym during this week.

'Quads' Chorus First 'Good Morning, Teacher!'

It's not often a teacher has quad pupils in her class, so it's no wonder Pauline Austin, kindergarten instructor, was just as thrilled as the famed Morlok sisters of Lansing, Mich., when the winsome little girls, all dressed alike, greeted her for the first time as pictured here. At the age of five and a half, Helen, Wilma, Sarah, and Edna (left to right), daughters of Carl Morlok, Lansing, Mich., are starting in to learn their ABC's. They were born May 19, 1930.

CLUB ROUNDUP IN McLEAN HAS RANCH FLAVOR

Pioneer Study Club Gives Unusual Party
McLEAN, Sept. 7.—What was pronounced one of the most unique programs ever given by the Pioneer Study Club was led by Mrs. W. L. Campbell when members met on the lawn of the W. E. Bogan home Thursday evening for their fall roundup.

Members wore the club brand in club colors. With Mrs. Dama Shelbourne at the piano, Mrs. C. G. Goff sang Little Grey Home in the West, and Mrs. C. O. Greene, Home on the Range.

After a few informal minutes, when everyone admired the lovely lawn, rose garden, and lily pond, shouts from cowboys called members to attention. Mrs. Greene sang When It's Roundup Time for Pioneers.

Mrs. Jim Back supervised the roundup by reading a poem written especially for the occasion. She was assisted by the three cowboys, Morse Ivey, Billie Cooke, and Jack Bogan, who spurred their sickhorse mounts over the lawn to round up groups of "cattle" which they roped and brought into the corral made from chairs.

After all old members were roped, driven, or coaxed into the corral, two new members, Mrs. Roger Powers and Mrs. Creed Bogan, were brought in and "branded."

By a previous vote, Mrs. W. E. Bogan had been chosen as "Old Faithful." Members formed a circle about her as Mrs. Green sang Old Faithful.

A chuck-wagon supper of chili-flavored beans, roast beef, potatoes in jackets, onions, pickles, buns, apricots, and hot coffee was enjoyed around a campfire.

Club members present were Mrs. J. W. Butler, W. L. Campbell, C. A. Cryer, S. A. Cousins, Greene, C. G. Goff, J. B. Hembree, T. A. Massey, Roger Powers, John Harris, Willie Boyett, H. W. Brooks, Claude Brooks, Shelbourne, Mrs. E. C. Davis, W. E. Bogan, and Jim Back.

Visitors were Misses Frances Noel, Elizabeth Kennedy, Aline McCarty, Floyd Winn, Lola Ruth Stanfield, Mrs. A. R. McHenry, Mrs. R. C. Davidson, Mrs. Thurman Atkins, who favored with a reading, Out Where the West Begins.

After 11:30 a class song, Mrs. Anderson conducted the devotional. A solo, Perfect Day, was given by Mrs. Leonie Hunt.

Mrs. E. Hawkins spoke on the topic, Stewards of Time, and Mrs. Earl O'Keefe on Ship of Faith.

Poems, "A Certain Woman," and "Neighbors," were read by Mrs. Green and Mrs. Nelson. Mrs. Abbott reviewed current missionary events.

MASS SINGING FOR CHILDREN IS SPONSORED

PROGRAM WILL CLIMAX IN CENTENNIAL CHORUSES

Singing school-children of the entire state will present the outstanding spectacles of the Texas Centennial celebration, according to plans being launched by the state department of education with cooperation of federated women's clubs.

Participation of this county is assured as the Pampa Council of Women's clubs and public school systems announced last week their plans for sponsoring school choruses and county songfests.

Originated by Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction, the plan in its broader scope aims to teach every school child in the state a group of songs, encourage county and district songfests at which all will come together to sing, and reach a climax next spring when as many of the state's school children as possible will gather at Dallas, Central Centennial city, to join in mass singing.

Plan for District
Details are being worked out in schools and clubs. Mrs. George Hereford, music chairman for seventh district federated clubs, has devised a plan that was approved by the state board of education for this and other club districts.

It calls for every federated club to adopt one grade school, see that the pupils get records of the chosen songs that have been prepared under supervision of the state department of education, see that a machine for playing the records is made available so the children may learn the songs from memory.

In November or December children of the county would be brought together for the first songfest. Later, district songfests would be held, leading up to the state event. These meetings would not be in the nature of contests, as there would be no comparison of divisions. Rather, the entire groups would sing together.

Aims of Program
Leaders in the movement hope that every federated club in Texas will cooperate, that by March of 1936 songfests will be held in central places over the state, and that every school child will be able to sing at least 12 songs from memory.

Mrs. A. H. Doucette has been named chairman for Gray county. She will work through the schools, naming assistants in various school districts. Women's clubs in the local council voted last week to join in the plan; Supt. R. B. Fisher and school leaders here are enthusiastic over its possibilities.

Records of the selected songs will be provided at once, and training will begin to make singing pupils of all Gray county school children.

Mrs. E. Hawkins spoke on the topic, Stewards of Time, and Mrs. Earl O'Keefe on Ship of Faith.

Entertainment Is Feature in Fair

AMARILLO, Sept. 7.—Entertainment, of course, is a prominent feature of any exposition.

Men, women and children go to fairs to learn more about the country's greatest industry—the source, production and marketing of foods, agricultural and livestock, and to see the fine arts and other educational material.

But they also go to have a good time.

And so the Tri-State fair in Amarillo, Sept. 14-21, the largest exposition in Texas this year, will be a well-balanced combination of both education and entertainment.

Among the major attractions will be Harley Sadler's three-ring circus, which will give daily performances. Harley Sadler, long known in West Texas as the "emperor of entertainment," especially in the repertoire field, has purchased the entire equipment of Bailey Brothers circus.

Under the new management—he is the sole owner and manager—the circus will open August 29 at Tulsa, Okla., and will play 10 days in Oklahoma before coming into Texas and the Tri-State fair engagement.

Every other day during the fair the circus will stage a mile-long street parade.

On the midway will be the Beckmann & Gerety shows, which will come direct from Detroit. This attraction has the latest riding devices, seen for the first time at the Century of Progress in Chicago and the Pacific exposition in San Diego.

Daily horse racing on one of the finest tracks in the United States, also will be featured.

There will be other attractions, too, so the Tri-State fair will appeal to every amusement taste.

Prize exhibits and record crops are assured.

Gainesville's Cideus to Play Centennial Fete

DALLAS, Sept. 7.—Two Gainesville Community Cideus, the only show of its kind in the world, will play the Texas Centennial exposition here next year, according to present plans.

This three-ring show, which boasts everything in the circus line except elephants, is staged by the citizens of Gainesville in Cooke county. There are hundreds of performers, all amateurs and coming from every walk of life in the community. Business men are clowning, society matrons ride bareback and debutantes swing gracefully from the flying trapeze. When the circus is on the road, business activities in Gainesville practically cease owing to the absence of scores of its leading citizens.

ALL HOUSEWIVES ARE INVITED TO CITY HALL

Tomorrow is the opening day for the Kitchen Chautauqua at which the Pampa Daily News, local merchants, and Mrs. Beulah Mackey Yates, well-known lecturer, expect to meet old and new friends among the housewives of Pampa territory.

The first session will start at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in city hall auditorium. Interest in the school this year is heightened by announcement of cash prizes offered to Parent-Teacher associations which secure the most registration votes during the three days.

The prizes will be awarded just as associations start their seasons and are in need of added funds. Everyone who attends the Kitchen Chautauqua, whether or not a P-T-A member, will be asked to register for one of the contesting associations.

Good Cook Ambitions.
"A most worthy ambition for any housewife is a desire that her cookery, elegance, and happiness-giving. Her friends appreciate such an ambition, her husband is proud of it and her children take a double pride in it and love it truly well," says

Mrs. Yates, who will come to this city to conduct the Kitchen Chautauqua sponsored by this newspaper, in her plain, clear-cut, easy-to-understand language.

"The very pink of perfection demonstrated, in many portions of the art of cookery at each session of this cooking school of food thoughts and tested formulas," is the promise that precedes the coming of Mrs. Yates, the noted southern lecturer of the Kitchen Chautauqua. Her services are free.

There is no special invited list, as every housewife in the city and surrounding communities are most cordially invited, as are their husbands, any of whom are, or who desire to become experts in this art of cooking.

New Ways Exciting.
The daily habit and practice of giving expression to the best effort and knowledge in the preparation of things to be presented the family for their meals is made the more interesting, joyful, and exciting for the housewife as she learns of the new ways of food-fixing, appetite-whetting and common sense artfulness," says Mrs. Yates. She added further "It's just a natural and forward-looking desire of a housewife to want to succeed in cooking."

"Courage," she continued, "consists not only in blindly overlooking dangers in cooking happiness, but in taking advantage of opportunities that come along to us to conquer and overcome those things that retard that master art, cooking."

The Kitchen Chautauqua comes to this city tomorrow for three days. Sessions will start each afternoon at 2 o'clock. Plan to attend every session. You will enjoy it.

Council Praises Work of Leader

Appreciation to Mrs. T. F. Morrison for her work as president of the Council of Women's Clubs, a post she relinquished to Mrs. Raymond Harrah Thursday after serving a year, was expressed by members at the club roundup earlier this week.

A summary of the year shows that Mrs. Morrison led the club council in several worthy projects for the benefit of the city. Lightings of Central park, conducting a city-wide summer recreational program for children and young people, and cooperating with a county board of child welfare were outstanding in the accomplishments supported by the council, in cooperation with schools and civic bodies.

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

DECEIT
When she got back to her little flat, Laurie's anxious mind was suddenly illumined by memory, which put the finishing touch to her misery.

That odious anonymous letter had said that Gladys was going about with a "swell young man," and going to his rooms at night. That would fit young Dallas.

And another flash of memory—the first time Laurie had spoken to her about the old cigarette case, Glad had said the young man's name was Jimmy Smith. And later on she had said that the young man of the anonymous letter was the same one.

Then it must be Jimmy Dallas! It had been all the time. And now people were saying that he was carrying on with a chorus girl. His father had heard it. He would make enquiries, and Glad's name would be dragged in the mud.

It was intolerable. Gladys was still away. The troupe had gone further afield than Gullford. Next week they were going to rest, but the following week they were booked up again, and there was no chance of seeing Glad.

And then came the climax. Unable to put her mind to anything, wanting nothing to eat, Laurie walked about the little flat like a caged animal.

She tried to divert her thoughts. That arm-chair cover was getting very shabby. She must make it new. She examined the cover, and then began to pull it off. It was faded and beginning to tear at the arms, not worth mending.

A little handkerchief, rolled up in a ball, was between the seat and the back of the chair. Gladys, no doubt, she was terribly untidy and forgetful.

It cracked as Laurie shot it out, and a piece of paper fell out. A crumpled up envelope.

Laurie read an address with staring eyes.

and a manservant showed a lady out. Laurie did not stop to look. So she did not see that it was Wanda Steele who had come out of the other flat and heard Jimmy Dallas's words.

"Do you mean to marry her?" she asked.

"I haven't thought of marrying anybody," Mrs. Moore said. "I am making my way in my father's business. I have a whole lot to learn. I like your sister very much, and I admire her dancing tremendously. I hope I may say we are friends."

"No good, Laurie turned towards the door.

"I want you to leave my sister alone, or to meet her openly. Why won't she tell me of your meetings? Why does she deny that she was in the taxi with you when I saw you myself? I feel she is unhappy. In some way you are doing her wrong," Mrs. Dallas said.

"Oh no, Mrs. Moore, I assure you you are exaggerating a slight and very pleasant friendship. Your sister must have some reason for not telling you that we have met once or twice. And you have found it out and made too much of it. I think that must be the way of it, Mrs. Moore."

She looked at him wearily. He was too much for her.

"I hope you will not worry your sister about it," he added. "I should feel so badly, if you did."

Story of Noted Tabasco Sauce Is Romantic One

In 1847 the United States and Mexico were at war. Towards the close of that year General Scott led his victorious troops into the city of Mexico; thereby ending that unpleasantness. After peace was declared, and the soldiers from the north country had been ordered home, quite a few of the Sutters and Army followers remained in Mexico to seek their fortunes.

One of these men by the name of Gleason worked his way south from Mexico City and took up his residence in the State of Tabasco, where he found conditions to his liking. Later, he decided to come back to the States, and in 1852, took ship at one of the gulf ports, landing in New Orleans. While there, he was brought in contact with Mr. McIlhenny, a banker, and gave to him some pepper seeds which he stated would produce a pepper pod of especially fine flavor and color. These pepper seeds were planted by Mr. McIlhenny and, eventually, some of the plants were taken to Avery Island, La., near New Iberia, and there grown in the kitchen garden of Mr. McIlhenny's father-in-law, Judge Avery.

We now come to the War of the States, when the North and the South were engaged in a death struggle, which, fortunately, for the perpetuation of our great country, ended disastrously for the South. It was primarily due to the defeat of the southern cause that Tabasco came into being. Due to the fact that both Judge Avery and Mr. McIlhenny took prominent parts in the financing and administration of the southern cause, they were, when General Banks captured southern Louisiana, banished from the state and with their families went across country by wagon train from south central Louisiana to south central Texas, where they remained until peace was declared.

After the war these banished people returned to the old home from which they had been banished, salt works, and homes, had been burned; their slaves liberated; and themselves impoverished. With their families and such of their old slaves who had remained faithfully on the plantation, the work of building a new home and fortune was begun.

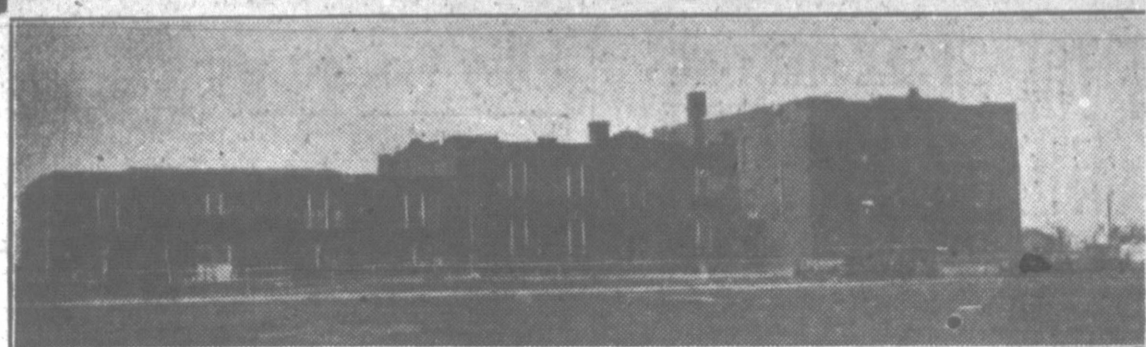

Both Mr. McIlhenny and Judge Avery had been fond of the highly seasoned foods, peculiar to southern Louisiana, and, as on their return to the plantation, the funds with which to purchase other than the barest necessities were unavailable, Mr. McIlhenny began experimenting with the making of condiments and seasonings for the family's use. Finding in the shrubbery growing about the place some bushes of pepper similar to those he had previously raised from seeds brought to him by Gleason, from Mexico, Mr. McIlhenny experimented in making a hot, pungent sauce from these peppers, which at once, due to its high flavor, met with the approval of his family and friends.

Among those who tried this sauce was General Hazard, who had been appointed Federal Administrator for South Louisiana. General Hazard became a warm friend of Mr. McIlhenny's and induced him to give to him a number of bottles of this sauce so that he could take it north with him.

In 1867, General Hazard showed this sauce to his brother, E. C. Hazard of New York, who—at that time—was head of the largest wholesale grocery house in the United States. E. C. Hazard thought the sauce had such fine qualities that he persuaded Mr. McIlhenny to make and pack a small quantity and send it to him by steamboat from New Orleans to New York, and to give him the agency for the distribution of the sauce in the north. All of this being accomplished, E. C. Hazard and Co., began the introduction of the McIlhenny Sauce. When a name to designate the sauce became necessary, Mr. McIlhenny called it TABASCO; that being the name of the state in Mexico from which the seed of the pepper originally came.

This pepper, at that time and for many years, thereafter, was not known as a distinct variety of pepper, but in 1866, Dr. Sturdevant, a botanist of Geneva, New York, described this pepper as a new variety, calling it Tabasco pepper, and stating in his description that he had received the specimen from which the variety was described from Mr. E. McIlhenny of New Iberia, Louisiana. Dr. Sturdevant's original herbarium specimens, with description attached, are now deposited with the St. Louis Botanical Gardens, and is part of their herbarium records.

From the small start in 1868, Tabasco rapidly met with popular favor, and in 1872, a demand having arisen in Europe from this sauce, Mr. McIlhenny established a Tabasco agency in London on Soho Square, immediately adjoining the famous firm of Cross and Blackwell.

The distribution of Tabasco soon became world-wide, and it was not long before it could be procured in every civilized country in the world, and some that were uncivilized. An instance proving its wide distribution is related in Lord Kitchener's report to the BRITISH Government of his conquest of Kartoum. In this report, the statement is made that TABASCO was found further in the desert, than any other modern food product.

A large part of the popularity of TABASCO lies in its pungent, highly aromatic flavor. While this flavor is contained in the crude state in the pepper itself, it is brought out in a peculiar manner. All table sauces, with the exception of TABASCO are cooked before being bottled. The peppers from which Tabasco is made are brought from the fields and macerated, then packed tightly into oaken casks. These casks have small holes bored through the tops—as they stand on one end—the tops are then covered with a thick layer of fine salt. The object of the salt is to form a seal which will be air-tight insofar as air getting into the casks, but which allows the gases formed by fermentation during curing to escape through the small holes and salt layers. These casks, filled with the mashed peppers stand untouched for 3 years, at which time the mash is thoroughly cured and has attained a rich, smooth flavor. As the demand for Tabasco sauce warrants, the cured mash is mixed with a suitable amount of high grade vinegar, run through a couple of sieves of the finest mesh, automatically bottled, labeled, and packed. No exposure in handling is allowed which might detract from the mellow delightful flavor of this sauce.

A large part of the success and reputation of the seasoning used in Creole cookery is due to TABASCO. It is especially valuable in giving the breakfast egg a fine flavor. As the English say, "It makes a good egg better and a bad egg good."

As an aid to digestion this sauce has no equal, for its penetrating, pungency stimulates the peptic glands, causing an increased flow of the digestive juices.

But it is in the kitchen where Tabasco is of the greatest value to the housewife. There is hardly a dish which cannot be improved by adding a few drops of this pungent sauce while cooking. Mrs. Yates even advises its use in ice cream to bring out the flavor.

OLDEST RESIDENT OF DALLAS IS VISITOR OF MRS. FINLEY HERE

A 91-year-old Confederate veteran who saw the population of Dallas increase from zero to 300,000, was a guest last week-end in the home of Mrs. B. E. Finley, a lifelong friend of his family.

He is Frank Jackson who was 91 years old last May 6. Mr. Jackson has lived in Dallas 37 years, and is at present the oldest resident of Dallas—having lived in the Texas Centennial city longer than any living person. He moved with his family to Dallas when that metropolis was Peter's colony which later became Dallas.

Mr. Jackson in spirit is still as young, as he was when he sailed from Liverpool to New Orleans on a voyage that required nine weeks and three days for passage. He attended the Confederate reunion in Amarillo, and made the first leg of the journey, from Dallas to Wichita Falls, in an airplane. He also claims to be the only man living who heard Sam Houston deliver an address in Dallas where he arrived in 1848. When he came to Texas he traveled to Shreveport by boat and from there to Dallas in an ox wagon.

He enlisted in 1862 in the company of his brother, W. N. Jackson in Dallas for service in the Confederate army. He was wounded July 17 in a battle at Honey Springs, Okla. near Fort Gibson. He was shot in the back of his head and his skull was shattered. They said he couldn't live, but he did. Doctors still marvel at the fact that pieces of his skull were removed and that he continued to live.

He was also a Texas Ranger in the early days, and at a battle at Cash Creek he slew seven Comanche Indians one of whom had an elk skin on which were 114 locks of hair, signifying so many white scalps.

Mr. Jackson has attended all the state Confederate conventions and eight national reunions. He is the only living survivor of the battle of Honey Springs.

Revival at M. E. Church Continues The Coming Week

The revival at Harrah Methodist chapel, which has been attended by good crowds since Wednesday night, continues Sunday and thru the coming week.

Rev. Aisle Carleton announces his subject for Sunday morning as "The God Who Forgives and Forgets" and for Sunday night as "The Awakened Sinner."

In speaking of the "High Way and the Low Way" Friday night, Mr. Carleton contrasted the two possible ways of life. "There is a way which seems to begin well, which has good promise, but which results in a road with a dead end. It leads nowhere, except to sorrow and darkness. We may kid ourselves into thinking we are happy on this way, but when our delusion is over, the tragedy of the way overwhelms us. It is a hard way, because it is a Christianless, Godless, guilty way.

"It's all right if you can get away it," he declared. "is the slogan of multitudes today. But the trouble is no one has ever gotten away with sin and selfishness. "But there is a highway of happiness which begins best, lives best, and ends best, because it is God's way. Along the way the desert places shall blossom like the rose, and water shall be for him in the wilderness. Only those shall pass over it whom God has cleaned."

The pastor announces that there will be no services at McCullough Memorial church Sunday except Sunday school, which meets at both churches at 9:45.

Interest in the young people's meetings, led by B. C. Wallace, is growing. They meet at 7:30 p. m. The pastor extends an invitation to all for these services.

Cooking School Uses Shortening Made of Cotton

Mrs. Tucker's Shortening was chosen for the cooking school primarily because it is a 100 per cent cottonseed oil product.

Being made exclusively from choice cottonseed oil, Mrs. Tucker's Shortening serves the southwestern housewives in two distinct ways. First, cottonseed oil has been proven by government and scientific tests to be the best and most digestible shortening agent known. Second, every pound of cottonseed oil consumed helps the market for cotton and cottonseed produced in the southwest.

As it takes the cottonseed from about one-tenth of an acre to produce a four-pound pail or carton of Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, housewives in this section can readily understand the importance of Mrs. Tucker's Shortening to the southwest which produces more cotton than any other section of the world its size.

The Interstate Cotton Oil Refining company at Sherman, Texas, buys the choicest cottonseed oil from all parts of the southwest; refines it and super-refines it; then creams and triple creams it into pure, white and fluffy Mrs. Tucker's Shortening, which is easy to use in the kitchen and easy to digest. The triple creaming process appeals to housewives because it delivers Mrs. Tucker's Shortening so finely textured and silky smooth that it does not have to be creamed unless the housewife desires.

Other qualities of this shortening which appeal to good cooks are the facts that its cartons are air tight inner sealed with cellophane; it will not pop nor spatter when used for frying; and it is economical because it goes farther.

Mrs. Tucker says that no matter how cheap inferior oils and fats may become, her shortening will never be adulterated—it will, always be pure cottonseed oil.

Beulah Yates Says Good Lighting Is Essential In The Modern Kitchen

"Electric kitchen appliances have speeded up operations necessary to good cooking and have greatly reduced the amount of work necessary for perfect results. But perfect results still depend on the attention given little details. Good, even, glareless light of the proper intensity makes it easy to see rapidly. The ability to see easily and rapidly reduces unnecessary steps in the cooking operation, increases the certainty of perfect results, and decreases breakage and spoilage. Accidents are less likely in the well lighted kitchen."

If you are not sure that your kitchen lighting is right, you should call us for proper tests, which can be made readily with the new sight meter. The sight meter is so simple that with it you can make the tests yourself.

Good lighting is now easily obtained.
