By OTHER WRITERS
TOM BEASLEY in Big Spring Herald—Jo-Jo White is getting a wrinkled brow. For the life of him, he can't figure out why entertainment committees insist on serving chicken at banquets. He attended one recently. "And I was hungry," he said. "But when I saw that chicken a comin' I wish with all my body I'd went and eat some hamburgers 'fore I came to the banquet. Nobody can get any good out of chicken with a knife and fork. It's a two-fisted attack that makes it good."

MACK STANTON in Clovis News Journal—I met a fellow by the name of Frank Curry the other day. H farms nine miles southeast of Clovis. He came here in 1905. He has farmed every year since. He says he never has had a crop failure in all those years. He admitted that slightly by saying that he came nearer to it last year than ever before. But his crops are fine this year. "Sub-marginal lands," "Dustbowl," just to get ten cents per acre soil erosion! Certainly a fine bunch of "constructive" hoey, now, wasn't it?

THE LITTLE ARGUS in Carlsbad Current-Argus—Vitamin E has just been found.
 So long as they have letters in the alphabet, so long as the government doesn't use them all up, we'll probably have more vitamins.
 Vitamin E is found chiefly in whole wheat bread, scientists say. It's quantities are such that bakeries can advertise, eat more whole wheat bread and grow hair on your chest.

HAROLD V. RATLIF in Cleburne Times Review—Too many folks think every dime they drop in the collection plate at church is payment on a harp in heaven.

JOHN L. MCARTY in Dalhart Texan—The Dalhart Wolves look pretty impressive in their football togs. Isn't it surprising how a young man who doesn't look so hefty in civilian clothes, will look like a giant when he is togged out in a gridiron suit?

HOMER STEEN in Floydada Hesperian—The date of the first frost, with thousands of acres of late cotton and late feed in the fields is the most important date in the fall calendar for farmers and business men in this part of the world. The earliest frost ever known was a few days before Christmas, an October 9 frost would cost the country a lot of money but a frost at the end of that month wouldn't be so bad.

THE APOSTLE in Donley County Leader—Down near Red Top in Dickens county, women are making buttons out of muscadine roots. Mrs. Harold, we are informed, dug the roots, sawed them out in chunks and did the carving herself. Each button showed two shades, the only trimming needed on the linen crash dress. Not to be outdone, Jim Daniel of the same neighborhood saved out a bunch of buttons from Walnut roots using such colors as would harmonize with his wife's pink lace dress. Dickens county may be rough topographically, but not socially.

FRED L. WILLIAMS in Clarendon News—In spite of wars and rumors of wars some folks keep on playing golf, and that's a happy fact. If it were not for folks who keep on playing while other folks fight, this would be a hard world.

J. M. NOBLE in Canadian Record—There is nothing monotonous about the scenery around Canadian. We go up one hill and down into a valley. We have some low spots, but many high ones. We surely live in Canadian, mostly on the heights.

T. A. LANDERS in McLean News—McLean may well be proud of the highway entrance parks, in that they did not cost the taxpayers anything and at the same time furnished a project for workers that was badly needed at the time. Of course, the Lions club was out some money but this was gladly given.

G. G. MILLER in Wheeler Times—It is generally true that we best serve our own interests when we serve those of the citizens of our community, the business firms and the individuals with whom we deal and who have common interests with us. Homemade dollars have the delightful habit of circulating more speedily in the locality when they know their way round.

2 Negroes Cause Disturbance Here

In one of the quietest week-ends in months, negroes caused most of the disturbances which required attention of county officers.
 Two negroes were held for disturbing the peace and another for drunkenness.
 City officers also had an unusual quiet week-end, making only two arrests on charges of intoxication.
 Hank Brething of LeFors transacted business here this morning.

September Cotton Crop Estimate Is 309,000 Bales Under August's Huey Long Takes Turn For Worse

TEXAS STANDS MOST OF LOSS IN REDUCTION

DAMAGE DUE LARGELY TO DRY WEATHER AND INSECTS
 WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—An 11,489,000-bale cotton crop this year was predicted today by the department of agriculture, representing a reduction of 309,000 bales from the estimate a month ago.
 The department said the drop was due largely to insect damage and continued dry weather.
 Most of the reduction was predicted for Texas, where the forecast was 384,000 bales less than a month ago. A deadline of 59,000 bales was shown for Oklahoma, only moderate changes were indicated for other states.
 Declining to comment for publication, high farm officials apparently were pleased with the indicated smaller crop.
 The price dropped somewhat since the August 1 estimate exceeded most private reports by several hundred thousand bales.
 The Bankhead allotment for the nation this year is 10,500,000 bales. Producers must pay a ginning tax of six cents a pound on all cotton ginned in excess of the Bankhead crop-production control allotment.
 The indicated crop this year is 1,833,000 bales more than the 1934 production. However, it is 3,177,000 bales less than the average production in the five year period, 1928-1932.
 A month ago a crop of 11,798,000 bales was indicated. Last year's production was 9,836,559 bales and the 1933 crop totaled 13,047,262 bales.
 Ginnings of this year's crop to September 1 was reported by the census bureau as 1,132,739 running bales, counting round as half bales. To that date last year ginnings were 1,402,845 and two years ago 1,396,139 bales.
 The condition of the crop Sept. 1 was 64 per cent of normal, compared with 73.8 a month ago, 53.8 a year ago, and 59.2, the 1924-33 average.
 Indicated yield per acre is 192.0 pounds, compared with 198.3 a month ago, 179.9 a year ago and 177.1, the 1924-33 average.
 The indicated abandonment of acreage after July 1 was reported as 1.8 per cent, compared with 2.4 per cent, the 1924-33 average. Cotton acreage, and the area remaining September 5 for harvest is 28,652,000 acres. The area picked last year was 28,987,000 acres.

Rain Drenches Most of Texas
 (By The Associated Press.)
 Rains drenched most of Texas over the week-end, providing moisture badly needed in many sections. Tyler, with a rose festival impending, was jubilant over the 3.72 inches of rain which fell there. East Texas rose gardens and crops in general were benefitted greatly. Hard rains in the Palestine area continued today, amounting to more than 2.5 inches.
 A few points reported open cotton slightly damaged by the rain, including Corsicana, where precipitation totalled 3.72 inches.
 At San Angelo, rainfall was only .22 of an inch but the fall was much heavier to the south and southeast. Devil's river and the Llano both were on big rises and traffic in some places was halted.
 Lubbock had .08 of an inch rain, Amarillo .48, Austin .68, and Sherman 1.42.
 Plainview reported rainfall spotted the south plains. It amounted to .38 of an inch at Plainview.
 Mrs. Clint Spivey was admitted to Pampa-Jarrat hospital this morning.

I Heard...

V. E. Fatheree telling one on himself this morning. It was too good to keep, he declared. Mr. and Mrs. Fatheree drove to Amarillo yesterday, taking the company light coach instead of their large car. Mrs. Fatheree was unable to get more than 50 miles out of the car until reaching White Deer, when he found that he was driving in second gear.
 Neesley Vaught, just before leaving for his home in Burk Burnett, telling friends that any time rain was needed in this section to put on a baseball tournament and call him to umpire the event.

Doheny Dies

EDWARD DOHENY OF HARDING ERA SCANDALS DIES
 He Was Key Figure In Teapot Dome Probe

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 9. (AP)—Edward L. Doheny, multi-millionaire oilman of the oil industry, is dead.
 The 69-year-old ruler of an oil empire which once spread over portions of the entire western hemisphere, died at his Beverly Hills townhouse last night.
 A chronic invalid for many months, his death was the result of a complication of ailments accentuated by his advanced age.
 As a man who left a fortune in excess of $100,000,000, and whose philanthropies rolled into the hundreds of thousands, Doheny was one of the most picturesque figures in the history of oil.
 Members of the immediate Doheny family—his widow, a daughter, Mrs. Leigh Battson, and his five grandchildren—were at the bedside when the end came.
 While virtually in retirement, Doheny was president of the Petroleum Securities corporation, his major holding, at the time of his death.
 The story of Doheny is studied with peak accomplishments and not a few marked disappointments. He won fame as the discoverer of vast oil resources, and notoriety as one of the key figures in oil reserve

ITALY STARTS MOVEMENT OF AFRICAN ARMY

EARLY OFFENSIVE ON ETHIOPIA SEEN BY EMPEROR
 ADDIS ABABA, Sept. 9. (AP)—An Ethiopian government communique today said "Telegrams from the northern frontier show that the Italians are making important troop movements on the Ethiopian and Eritrean frontier, indicating an early offensive against Ethiopia."
 Emperor Haile Selassie, it was learned on the highest authority today, has instructed the Ethiopian delegation at Geneva to reject outright all solutions thus far proposed by the powers for the settlement of the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.
 These formulas include a tri-partite mandate over Ethiopia, as suggested by France, with League of Nations guaranteeing Ethiopia's independence and territorial integrity. The delegates that Ethiopia will regard as further indicating the British in Iraq, and an international police force similar to the one that occupied the Saar before its restoration to Germany.
 The emperor made it clear to the delegates that Ethiopia will go down fighting rather than accept any of the conditions now proposed, even if the league is dragged down with it.
 The emperor's decision followed a consultation with his "brain trust," including Everett Andrews Colson, his American financial adviser, who urged him to maintain an iron front against the various peace schemes emanating from Geneva.

SENIORS ENROL ON OPENING DAY OF SCHOOL; SOPHOMORES TUESDAY

School re-opened today with the evident approval of the students. Seniors registered this morning and juniors this afternoon in the high school. Sophomores will enroll tomorrow morning. Town pupils reported to the ward schools this morning, with bus pupils not scheduled to arrive until this afternoon. Junior high school was registering its students under the direction of Principal R. A. Selby. Saturday, 23 students registered.
 For most of the students, school means rising interest in the many activities, including football. The vacation holiday in appeal as vacation trips were completed and the usual holiday activities became monotonous. There appeared to be a desire, among high school students, to pick studies likely to be of value in later life. Talk of signing for "snap" courses was seldom heard.
 Ward schools will bring a regular routine tomorrow, although several days will be required to place all pupils, issue books, assign duties, and prepare records.
 Beginning tomorrow, school buses will arrive at 8:30 a. m. and leave at 3 p. m. Seventeen buses are necessary. Two are new vehicles of 75 seating capacity. Old buses were traded in on these.
 The buses, drivers, and routes are as follows:
 1. Weldon Stewart, east run to Heaton.
 2. Bill Green, north run by Operators camp.
 3. Pete Cole, Hoover run.
 4. Frank Hollis, Maness run, northwest.
 5. Sam Kleth, the Taylor-McKamy run north.
 6. Dick Benton, east run by the Bill Benton place.
 7. Bill Jarvis, northeast run by the Gulf camp.
 8. Emmitt Osborne, south run by the Osborne farm.
 9. Floyd Young, Merten run.
 10. Joe Brown, West route by Burleson farm.
 11. Chas. Morris, Kingsmill and Cabot route.
 12. Carl Smith, run by Kingsmill to Empire plant.
 13. Emory Nobilt, Wilcox run.
 14. Roy Kretzmeier, north run by Western Carbon company.
 15. Carl Baer, route by W. H. Harrah farm.
 16. Joe Shelton, south oil field.
 17. Albert Baer, by north Phillips gasoline plant.
 Figures on enrollments will not be available before tomorrow. Increases were expected at all schools.

Story Of Attempt To Kill Huey Long Told At Inquest

At the left is a photograph of Senator Huey P. Long, seriously wounded by the son of a political foe in the state capital in Baton Rouge last night, and at the right is a picture of the senator engaged in his favorite pastime—lambasting President Roosevelt.

Witness Talks With Long After He Was Wounded
 BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9. (AP)—The dramatic story of the attempt to assassinate Senator Huey P. Long in the $5,000,000 state-house and the killing of his assailant, Dr. Carl A. Weiss, was related today by eye witnesses at a coroner's inquest.
 The coroner stated that an examination of Dr. Weiss' body showed that it had 30 bullet holes in the front and 29 in the back, and two in the head.
 C. E. Frampson, statistician for the state attorney general's office and a reporter for the New Orleans Item Tribune, told how he emerged from an office after hearing a shot and saw the senator walking down the corridor, clapping his side.
 He said he saw Murphy Roden, one of Long's bodyguards, and Dr. Weiss struggling. Then he told how Weiss was killed.
 John D. Armood, who was near the shooting, said the second witness called. After he had given testimony the inquest was continued.
 Personal possessions taken from the body of Dr. Weiss included a .32 caliber pistol bearing serial number 219-438, a pocket knife, a medical society card, one discharged cartridge shell, seven pistol cartridges, some keys and a fountain pen.
 Frampson, the first witness, under questioning by the district attorney, said:
 "Immediately preceding the shooting I talked with Senator Long and then went to the governor's office and telephoned my office in New Orleans."

Long Wonders Why Doctor Shot Him

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9. (AP)—Senator Huey P. Long, gravely wounded by an assassin, had only this remark as he was being carried to the hospital last night:
 "I wonder why he shot me."
 Aides who assisted Long into an automobile said he made the brief comment after entering the car and remained silent, holding his hand against the bullet holes in his side, enroute to the hospital.

Victim Losing Strength and Passing Blood

PULSE BEATS QUICKER AND CONCERN IS FELT

(Copyright, 1935, by The Associated Press.)
 BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9.—With a political empire in Louisiana hanging in the balance, Senator Huey P. Long, lost strength today in his fight to recover from an abdominal bullet wound inflicted last night in the state capital by a son-in-law of one of Long's opponents.
 Attending physicians kept their silence. A bulletin from the senator's hospital room was overdue. But over the Our Lady of the Lake hospital general concern was felt.
 Reliable reports from the hospital said the senator was passing blood, that his pulse was quickening and that a second blood transfusion was given. Callers left his hospital quarters with grave faces.
 As the senator fought to gain strength, the house of representatives—in a special session opened Saturday night under Long's personal direction—pushed through passage the bills aimed to strengthen his "dictatorship" and a coroner's jury heard the dramatic story of the attempt on his life.
 One of the first actions, a "gerrymandering" bill, was aimed at Dr. Weiss' father-in-law, Judge B. H. Pavy, of Poedusias, a political foe of Senator Long.
 By a vote of 73 to 14, the house of representatives passed a measure drawn up several days ago—which shifted the 11th district in Judge Pavy's jurisdiction and threatens his reelection.
 The bill places St. Landry parish, where Judge Pavy has always enrolled a large bloc of anti-Long voters, in the same district with Lafayette parish. But they (the bodyguards) didn't have to kill him in the way they did. They didn't have to kill him at all.
 "The only thing I am grateful for in this terrible thing is this: Thank God, Senator Long was not traiting. I thank God for that. My boy is dead but I would never want him to have that on his soul."
 Dr. Thomas Bird, the corner, said Weiss body was found to have 30 bullet holes in the front and 29 in the back; two in the head, one penetrating the left eye and the other the tip of the nose.
 Two bullets were recovered from the body.
 Peritonitis is the dread of the physicians attending Long. They believe the crisis will be reached by Thursday.
 It is up to the senator's constitution whether he dies or lives to build further the political empire he has created in the south. In the senator's favor are the careful habits of the past year. He has watched his diet, reduced his weight and was in excellent physical condition.

 BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9.—Senator Huey P. Long, seriously wounded by a political foe after a session of the special legislature called to further strengthen his "dictatorship" over Louisiana, was resting satisfactorily today in a Baton Rouge hospital.
 The assailant, 30-year-old Dr. C. A. Weiss, Jr., of Baton Rouge, was shot to death by Long's bodyguards immediately after firing at the senator last night.
 While attending physicians said "no important information will be available for about 72 hours," the hospital reported the senator was gaining strength after a blood transfusion and operation.
 While the senator fought against death, the state capital was in a furor.

Thug Accused Of 8 Killings Hangs Himself In Cell

Double-cross Victim Ends 'His Life'
 NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP)—Anthony Gugno, Philadelphia gangster known as Tony the Stinger and accused of eight killings, hanged himself in his cell shortly before midnight to "end this life of hell."
 A suicide note left for his pretty wife, Frances, tended to confirm the story of his life. He was brought about by a tip from a girl he flitted.
 "P. S. Forgive Sally," was the end of the note on which he signed himself "Jim."
 Gugno had been questioned for 15 hours. He killed seven of the slayers of which he was accused, but admitted the killing of Patrolman Charles Stockberger in a payroll holdup of a Philadelphia glove factory on July 14, 1933.
 Gugno was reputed to be the real leader of the tri-state gang ostensibly led by Robert Mals and Walter Legenza, both of whom have been electrocuted.
 He was accused along with Salvatore Serps of killing Edward Wallace and John Zukowsky, associates in the Philadelphia payroll robbery, to avoid betrayal.
 Wallace and Zukowsky, taken for a ride, were left for dead 12 miles out of Camden, N. J. Zukowsky recovered consciousness, hailed a motorist and was taken to a hospital. There he begged detectives to hurry to a rooming house and

Inch Rain Falls In Pampa Section

Rainfall amounting to .67 of an inch in Pampa and varying amounts in nearby communities fell yesterday afternoon.
 North of the city the downpour was noticeably greater. Visibility was zero-zero for the duration of the heaviest fall. About three-quarters of an inch fell east and south of the city. McLean received only a good shower.
 Wheat planting was temporarily halted. With the rain came a cool wind which changed to the north and resembled a norther until noon today. The dawn was cloudless.

Cameramen Caught Taking Pictures Are Ordered Shot

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9. (AP)—State highway police were ordered today by their commander, Col. E. P. Roy, to shoot down any photographers caught making pictures in or around the state capital or hospital, where Huey Long is fighting for his life against an attempted assassination.

British Grip Guns As Italy Makes Overtures To Hitler

By JOSEPH E. SHARKEY Associated Press Foreign Staff GENEVA, Sept. 9. (AP)—A German spokesman said tonight that Reichsfuehrer Hitler "doubtless will raise the issue of Germany's need for colonies before the Reich officially quits the League of Nations Oct. 14."
 This announcement was made shortly after an Italian spokesman said that Italy would not assure the league committee that she will do nothing to complicate the Italo-Ethiopian situation.
 Premier Mussolini repeatedly has stated that Italy needs to expand her colonies. Reichsfuehrer Hitler has frequently been referred with sorrow to Germany's loss of her colonial possessions under the Versailles treaty.
 The Italian spokesman explained that Italy already has announced she must maintain complete liberty of action concerning Ethiopia and that, consequently, Italy does not wish to make a promise which circumstances beyond her control may make it impossible for her to keep.

 This statement was made after the committee in question—the Italo-Ethiopian sub-committee—held an afternoon session at which a program of work was decided upon.
 By ROGER D. GREENE Associated Press Foreign Staff LONDON, Sept. 9. (AP)—Authoritative sources today confirmed the belief that Great Britain has concentrated and prepared her Mediterranean and home fleets for any eventuality.
 This confirmation came close behind the report of Italian naval exercises in south Sicily and as the conviction increased in official quarters that Premier Mussolini would not forego military action in Ethiopia regardless of what happens at Geneva.

 Great Britain, since the king's jubilee review in mid-July at Portsmouth, has acted in a series of naval, troop and aviation movements to bring her Mediterranean defenses to fighting strength.
 Movements regarded as significant have brought a great gathering of war ships around the entrances to the Suez canal, the reorganization of the defenses of the Isle of Malta, and the concentration at Portland of upward of 60 ships of the British home fleet, fully equipped for a long, fast

Baking Powder Use Explained

Because of the increased efficiency of K C and some other baking powders in use today, representing about 80 per cent of the baking powder consumed, they should be used properly to produce best results.

Knowing that baking powder leavens cakes it is natural to assume that adding an extra half teaspoon to the amount specified in a recipe will give a cake greater lightness. The fact is that too much baking powder may cause sinking in the center, tough, gummy crust, coarse dry crumb, or cake that runs over the pan.

For best results it is a good plan to follow two simple rules: First, always use the amount recommended on your baking powder can. With K C one level teaspoonful to a cup of flour is sufficient. This proportion has been worked out as best for that particular type baking powder. Second, measure carefully—an excess amount of any baking powder does not produce best results. A level teaspoonful means that you must level off with a knife.

K C baking powder, which is used by Mrs. Beulah Mackey Yates in the Daily NEWS cooking school, is manufactured by baking powder specialists who make nothing but baking powder under supervision of chemists of national reputation. The quality is always uniform—K C is dependable.

Used according to directions it will produce the finest of baked goods. K C is one of the most economical and efficient of products entering the kitchen. You will be convinced of this by giving it a trial and observing the results obtained.

The manufacturers will mail, postage paid, a copy of the K C cook's book if you will send them your name and address with the slip taken from a can of K C baking powder. Send your request to Jacques Mfg. Co., Chicago, Illinois.

scandals of the Harding administration.

Involved in Scandal. Attention centered on Doheny in connection with a senate probe of leases involving the Elk Hills and Teapot Dome naval reserves, which had been granted by Albert B. Fall, secretary of the interior.

Doheny and Fall were indicted on charges of conspiracy to defraud the government in the transfer of the Elk Hills lease. Fall allegedly received $100,000 from his old friend, Doheny, whereby operation of the Elk Hills field was turned over to the Doheny-controlled Pan-American Petroleum company.

Doheny contended the money was merely a loan and not to be connected with the lease transaction. Fall was convicted and Doheny was acquitted.

Born Edward Laurence Doheny at Fond Du Lac, Wis., August 10, 1886, the future Croesus was graduated from his school and then began grubstaking for gold and silver in the Black Hills of North Dakota.

The gold quest brought him to California in 1890, and in partnership with C. A. Canfield, he eventually turned to prospecting for oil in the area around Los Angeles.

He brought in his first well in 1892, the forerunner of strikes up and down California, New Mexico, Mexico, Peru, and British Guiana. Opened Tampico Field. About 1910 Doheny hit the famous deposit near Tampico, Mexico, which brought into being the huge Mexican Petroleum company.

Horses Responding To Treatment for Sleeping Sickness

Additional reports of sleeping sickness of horses are being received here by Dr. T. J. Worrell.

Most of the cases are near White Deer. Good results are being obtained by using a serum on sick animals and a vaccine on others.

The disease is believed to be spread by mosquitoes.

COLTEXO AND ROAD RUNNERS WILL PLAY SECOND GAME OF FINALS TONIGHT

POSSIBLE FOR PAMPA TO END LONG TOURNEY

LEE DANNEY TO OPPOSE JIM PARKER ON MOUND

Rain won its way into the finals of the Pampa Junior chamber of commerce baseball tournament, which was to have lasted 13 days and which has been in progress, intermittently, for 18 days and is not over yet. The tourney has reached its last stages, however, with Coltexo of LeFors meeting the Pampa Road Runners, last year's champions, in a final series.

The Road Runners took the opening game Saturday night, 5 to 3, but only after one of the best battles of the year. The two teams will meet again tonight at 8 o'clock, after being rained out yesterday afternoon. A win for Coltexo would send the tournament into overtime with the third and deciding game set for Wednesday night at 8 o'clock. Road Runner park has been leased for tomorrow night.

Lee Danney, little Road Runner ace, will take the mound, probably opposed by Jim Parker, secured by Coltexo from the Kansas City Blues several weeks ago. Parker is a big right-hander with a fast ball and a nice assortment of curves. He is also dangerous at bat. Gene Ledford, portside, will be Manager Sammy Hale's second choice, it is believed.

Season statistics show that the Road Runners now hold a two-game margin over Coltexo. The LeFors team lost the first meeting of the season and then stepped to the front by winning four in a row. Ledford was the big noise in the victory march. Road Runners then put on a spurt to take the lead for the season.

Determined to put everything into the game tonight, Manager Hale and his boys are expected to give fans of this section some of the most daring baseball of the season. Orders have gone out to get on base, regardless of the consequences, and to run the sacks like jackrabbits. There will be no standing at the plate with bat on shoulder guessing with the Indian tonight, Manager Hale has announced.

Nesley Vaught, umpire-in-charge, returned to Burk Burnett yesterday afternoon. A new umpire must be selected for the rest of the tournament. The two managers and the tournament committee were to meet this afternoon to agree on the man to call balls and strikes until the last man is out.

No Grid Title For Longhorns Says Chevigny

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS, Associated Press Staff Writer.

AUSTIN, Sept. 9 (AP)—Chances for the University of Texas to rank with the leaders in the Southwest conference football campaign depend almost entirely on untied sophomore and 1934 second-stringers.

Texas in the opinion of head Coach Jack Chevigny, will not win the championship but will:

1. Give all opponents plenty of competition.
2. Win six or seven of ten games.
3. Have one of the smartest backfields, regular and reserve in years.
4. Prove of strong contender for the title if reserve linemen come through.

With a flock of more than ordinary passers and fleet backs, Texas will run an open type game. It will rely principally on a tricky overhead offense. The schedule is much more favorably arranged than last year.

Texas was hard hit by graduation, losing such stars as Bohn Hilliard, Jack Gray, Phil Sanger, and Charley Coates. Only 15-lettermen are returning, but they will be available for all positions.

"I don't see a championship for Texas but I do see some pretty tough games for our opponents," Chevigny predicted. "We lost heavily through graduation and ineligibility. If the line comes through we will place well up in the field."

Return of Charley Johnston of Kerrville after being out a year bolstered the quarterback position. He is a clever field leader, a consistently good runner and kicker and more than just fair at passing.

The rest of the first string backfield will show Bill Pitzer of Brickendridge at fullback; Jimmie Hadlock of Marshall, Duke Gilbreath of Wellington, Hubert Jurecka of Robstown and Jay Arnold of Greenville. Hadlock is slippery and a first class passer. Jurecka is swift and shifty. Gilbreath is the best blocking back since the days of Harrison Stafford. Arnold, big and fast, is the line-rammer.

An El Paso youngster, Sid Strout, is being hailed as the probable successor to Bohn Hilliard. Other backfield bright lights are Ney Sheridan of Sweetwater, John Morrow of South Bend, Ind., John O'Rourke of El Paso and Morris Sands of Chaffield.

Two outstanding prospects are Judson Atchison of Baird, fullback, and Tiny Tardion of Vernon, tackle.

Nick Wheeler of Longview and Henry Mittermayer of South Bend, Ind., are good timber for fullback. The starting front wall will be: Letterman Harold Griffin at center; Moreland Chapman and Joe Smart, captain, of Austin, and Woody Weir of Georgetown, guards; Clint Small Jr. of Amarillo and James Tubert of Farmersville, tackles; Jack Collins of Denton and Harris Van Zandt of Dallas, ends.

Best line prospects are Bill Dunne of El Paso and William Hughes of Van Alstyne, centers; Alvin Eggleston of Austin and John King of Vincent, Vallone of Houston, guards; Nick Frankovic of Chicago; Raymond Keeling of Dallas and Hagan McMahon of Tyler, tackles; James Voss and Warren Wiggins of San Antonio, ends.

GRID TRAINING IN SOUTHWEST BEGINS TODAY

SEASON TO START ON SEPT. 21—TWO WEEKS AWAY

DALLAS, Sept. 9 (AP)—Several hundred young men, whose coaches devoutly hope they will turn out to be very husky indeed, will start preparation at the seven Southwest conference schools this week for a football campaign that promised on pre-season reports tonight to rival in thrills any gridiron war ever fought in the circuit.

Conference rules forbidding the start of practice before Tuesday left members a tremendous task—the assembly of smooth-working football machines in less than two weeks. In the majority of cases the season will start Sept. 21.

To conserve precious time, most athletic officials planned to issue equipment and complete other formalities Monday, with double-day workouts for the squads scheduled from Tuesday until registration for classes starts Sept. 18.

Rice Institute of Houston drew this year's tough assignment of defending a championship. So far no Southwest conference titleholder has ever repeated, but Coach Jimmy Eklis' Owls, with most of the regulars back, were conceded a better than ordinary change to break the tradition.

Rice looked upon Texas Christian university at Fort Worth and Southern Methodist university here as promising the toughest competition. Games were scheduled with both of those teams and the Owls faced the handicap of playing them both at their homes. Both the Fort Worth and Dallas aggregations will have a strong framework of veterans.

Forested Hills, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—With one exception the 54th men's national singles tennis championship was an all-American affair today.

The exception was Fred J. Perry of England, the defending titleholder and though surviving American numbered Great Britain's star by five players to one it was generally felt that these figures grossly exaggerated the odds against the invader gaining his third straight United States title.

Arrayed against Perry were four Davis cup players—Wilmer Allison, Don Budge, Sidney Wood, Jr., and Bitzy Grant—along with Gregory Mangin, the national indoor champion. Perry's opponent in the semi-final will be Allison. They are scheduled to meet tomorrow. As for the others, they're in the opposite bracket and will have to kill each other off to rate the final.

If anybody had any misgivings about Perry and his almost consistently flawless game, he can cast them to the winds after the way he disposed of big Frank Shields in four sets yesterday. The scores were 6-4, 4-6, 8-6, 6-0.

Shields is a hard man for anybody to beat. He was even tougher against Perry. The towering New Yorker displayed a newly-found useful backhand that plucked up the one weak spot in his game. He wasn't expected to beat Perry but he did furnish the champion with the stiffest test so far in the tournament.

Today's program calls for quarter-final matches in the upper bracket in the men's tournament and the semi-finals in the women's. In the men's, Grant will meet Budge and Wood will take on Mangin.

The women's semi-finalists are the defending champion Helen Hull Jacobs and Mrs. Phyllis Mudgett King of England; and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabryan of Brookline, Mass., and Kay Stammers of England. Miss Jacobs advanced yesterday at the expense of Nancy Lye of England, 6-0, 6-4; Miss Stammers put out Carolin Babcock in three sets, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, and Mrs. King eliminated Mrs. John Van Ryn, 6-2, 6-0.

Texas Prison's 'Thieves' Sweep Houston Battles

Largest Crowd Since 1931 Sees Two Games

HOUSTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—The "Thieves" as the convicts at the Texas penitentiary call their baseball players, were semi-pro baseball champions of this section today.

In their first appearance away from the "Walls," the prison team yesterday swept a doubleheader with the Brenham Sun Oilers, considered the fastest semi-pro nine in this area. The convicts captured the first game 5 to 4 in ten innings, then won the second 1 to 0 behind the masterful pitching of Carl Littlejohn.

The largest crowd at a baseball game here since 1931 saw the twinning, there being 6,483 paid admissions. The games appeared little different from any others except that big-hatted, armed men sat in the prisoners' dugout, and near Bob Silver's nine-piece convict orchestra.

A play-by-play account of the games was telephoned to the prison for announcement to the prisoners.

Spike Rockwell And Grover Austin Qualify in Tourney

Only two of Pampa's members in the Panhandle senior golf association qualified for the first annual tournament over the Amarillo Country club yesterday. They were Spike Rockwell and Grover Austin Sr.

Shooting a 90, Rockwell gained the championship flight and was to meet A. N. Wood, 77, in the opening round today. Austin, carding a 102, drew a bye in the second flight.

The grass greens proved the downfall of the Pampa golfers who played excellent games on the fairways.

Fred Perry To Play Texan In Meet Tuesday

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—

With one exception the 54th men's national singles tennis championship was an all-American affair today.

The exception was Fred J. Perry of England, the defending titleholder and though surviving American numbered Great Britain's star by five players to one it was generally felt that these figures grossly exaggerated the odds against the invader gaining his third straight United States title.

Arrayed against Perry were four Davis cup players—Wilmer Allison, Don Budge, Sidney Wood, Jr., and Bitzy Grant—along with Gregory Mangin, the national indoor champion. Perry's opponent in the semi-final will be Allison. They are scheduled to meet tomorrow. As for the others, they're in the opposite bracket and will have to kill each other off to rate the final.

If anybody had any misgivings about Perry and his almost consistently flawless game, he can cast them to the winds after the way

Perry disposed of big Frank Shields in four sets yesterday. The scores were 6-4, 4-6, 8-6, 6-0.

Shields is a hard man for anybody to beat. He was even tougher against Perry. The towering New Yorker displayed a newly-found useful backhand that plucked up the one weak spot in his game. He wasn't expected to beat Perry but he did furnish the champion with the stiffest test so far in the tournament.

Today's program calls for quarter-final matches in the upper bracket in the men's tournament and the semi-finals in the women's. In the men's, Grant will meet Budge and Wood will take on Mangin.

The women's semi-finalists are the defending champion Helen Hull Jacobs and Mrs. Phyllis Mudgett King of England; and Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabryan of Brookline, Mass., and Kay Stammers of England. Miss Jacobs advanced yesterday at the expense of Nancy Lye of England, 6-0, 6-4; Miss Stammers put out Carolin Babcock in three sets, 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, and Mrs. King eliminated Mrs. John Van Ryn, 6-2, 6-0.

HOPES OF LONG'S UNIVERSITY ARE CENTERED ON ABE MICKAL

BY QUINCY EWING.
Associated Press Staff Writer.
BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 9 (AP)—Ask anybody you meet around the Louisiana State University football practice field how good the team's going to be this fall and he'll probably say, "well, it depends on how good Abe Mickal will be."
There's not much doubt about that, but L. S. U. has the makings of a powerful team even if Mickal doesn't play at all.
If Mickal, after being plagued by physical mishaps, is able to turn in the brilliant passing, booting and punting he has the past two years, Louisiana state ought to be one of the greatest teams in the nation.
Mickal is just that important in the scheme of things. He and Bernie Moore, new L. S. U. head coach and successor to Capt. L. M. Giff Jones, now at Oklahoma, are the key men in the Tiger grid situation.
Abe, product of McComb, Miss., injured his knee badly in the 1934 mid-season. Then he underwent an operation. Later he was operated upon for his knee, and last July broke his ankle playing baseball.

He has apparently recovered from the ailments, but it will take the stress of play to tell definitely.
Losing only one real first-stringer, Walter Sullivan, a back, Moore has a heart-warming squad of seasoned men and promising sophomores to mould into a smooth and heavy machine.
Without going in too strongly for beef, Moore is expected to put a team averaging 180 pounds or heavier on the field.
He'll use the Warner system, established by his predecessor, with slight modifications.
The likely "A" team lineup looks like Barrett and Tinsley, ends; Rukkas and Baldwin, tackles; Brown and Helms, guards; Stewart, center; Mickal, Patheer, Lawrie, and Reed, backs.
"Hard work faces us, but we ac-

In Line to Head U. S. Army

Maj.-Gen. Malin Craig Pondering his choice for a new U. S. army chief of staff, to succeed Gen. Douglas MacArthur, President Roosevelt is said to have two major generals under consideration. Both long regarded as likely selections, they are Maj.-Gen. Malin Craig, head of the army war college in Washington and former army cavalry chief, and Maj.-Gen. George S. Simonds, now deputy chief of staff.

Fall Is Grieved By Doheny Death

THREE RIVERS, N. M., Sept. 9 (AP)—Shocked and grieved in his own words, Albert B. Fall today said of the death of Edward L. Doheny "I regret that he did not live to repair some of the wrongs being perpetrated at the present time."
Speaking from his bed, the aging Fall obviously referred to new steps being taken by Doheny interests to evict him from his celebrated ranch.
"In good health and soundness of mind," continued Fall, "he (Doheny) would not permit some of the things that are going on."
Doheny's subordinates recently insisted he was aware of their course of action.
Doheny's division of the famed friendship of Fall and Doheny, youthful prospectors together and later key figures in the oil scandals, however, found Fall calm.
Informed specifically that attorneys for the Doheny controlled Petroleum Securities company had completed an ejection suit petition for filing today at Alamosordo, Fall said:
"Let the law take its course. I am certain they can never remove me, whether the case be heard today or in January or any other time. This is my home. It is not in the mortgage as claimed and they can't remove us from this place."

NAVY TO USE SAME TYPE OF FOOTBALL AGAIN THIS FALL

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Sept. 9 (AP)—The deceptive, open style of play that brought the Naval Academy astonishing success last season will be used by the Sailors again this fall with a few added touches, if plans of the coaches work out.
Some adjustments probably will be necessary because of the loss by graduation of the sensational Buzz Borles and Bill Clark, backs, around whom the Navy 1935 attack hinged.
"Our strategy will depend upon the material available," said Lieut. Thomas J. Hamilton, head coach, as his stalwarts launched upon the training grind. "We were successful last year with open play and we may bring in something new this season."
"We all believe in the forward pass and also were successful with in the country." The schedule: Sept. 28—William and Mary at Annapolis; Oct. 5—Mercer at Annapolis; Oct. 19—Virginia at Annapolis; Oct. 19—Yale at New Haven; Oct. 26—Notre Dame at Baltimore; Nov. 2—Princeton at Princeton; Nov. 9—Pennsylvania at Philadelphia; Nov. 15—Columbia at Annapolis; Nov. 30—Army at Philadelphia.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE

Without Calumet—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Ready to Go
The liver should pour out two pounds of bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks pink.
Lectures are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, quick, yet astonishingly effective. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. 25c.

'WELL, WELL,' THAT'S WAY ONE SHOULD SAY ETHIOPIAN OASIS

LONDON, Sept. 9 (AP)—How's your amharic (pronounced alm-hair-ick)?
With names and places in Ethiopia becoming more important daily, language experts at the Ethiopian legation today gave Associated Press reporters a short course in how to handle tongue-twisters, for the benefit of readers at home.
It was chiefly revealed as a matter of confidence in one's own ability, plus the faculty of developing sharp hissing sounds.
In some cases, furthermore, it appeared to be only the spelling that frightened. To pronounce Ualual, the frontier casts, for example, it is only necessary to look casual and repeat, "well, well," without fear or hesitation.
The Ethiopian capital becomes: Ah dees (accent second syllable). Ah bah bah (accent first syllable). The first part is pronounced leisurely, the second as though you were going some place in a hurry.
The emperor's name to be pronounced correctly, must be: "High lee See-la-see (accent first syllable).
The hissing sounds characteristic of amharic are at their best in such names as Lake Tana, which begins like a sharp, explosive hiss and merges quickly into a concluding "Sah nah" accent first syllable).
To pronounce Jijjiga it is only necessary to attain the proper mental balance and say: "Gee gee gab" (accent second syllable).
Gondar province can be achieved by saying "Gone durr" with tragic emphasis on the "gone."
Gerigubi Oasis, near Ualual, is soothing as "Fair low goo bee."
Adowa is "Ah duwah" with affectionate emphasis on the first syllable.

FDR 'Regrets' Injury to Long

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 9 (AP)—President Roosevelt deplored the "spirit of violence" today in expressing in "regret" at the attempt upon the life of Senator Long, of Louisiana.
Mr. Roosevelt issued the following statement:
"I deeply regret the attempt made upon the life of Senator Long, of Louisiana. The spirit of violence is un-American and has no place in a consideration of public affairs, least of all at a time when calm and dispassionate approach to the difficult problems of the day is so essential."
Senator Long has been one of the severest critics of the administration and had indicated an intention to run for president next year against Mr. Roosevelt.
The president was sleeping last night when word of the shooting reached here. He dictated a statement today after reading the morning newspapers.

Eaton Sets Pace In Golf Tourney

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 9 (AP)—Playing in a driving rain storm that turned the scene of the United States amateur golf championship into a soggy, treacherous battle ground, Zell Eaton of Oklahoma City, former western champion, set the first round pace today by defeating Frankie Strafaci of Brooklyn, the national public links titleholder, 6 and 4.
Favorites proved good—"mud horses" in the early stages of the first round as upwards of 150 players in the aggregate field of 200 began the battle for the title held by William Lawson Little Jr. of San Francisco. Little was among the first day's late starters, paired with 19-year-old Rufus King of Wichita Falls.
Albert (Scotty) Campbell of Seattle, former holder of the Canadian amateur crown for two years, overcame the rain-soaked hazards to post the first sub-par performance, an outgoing 35, and eliminate a former national champion, S. Davidson Herron, of Pittsburgh, 5 and 4. Campbell is one of the tournament favorites.
Walter Emery of Oklahoma City, former college champion, defeated Charles Whitehead of Jamesburg, N. J., 5 and 4.
Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Estes of San Angelo, former Pampans, left yesterday for their home after visiting their daughters, Mrs. Bertha Sills and Mrs. Enri Wolf.

Missouri Mules 'Enlist' With Italy

The U. S. is determined to be neutral, but Missouri mules will be in the thick of the expected fighting in Ethiopia. Here is a truckload of them being started on their way from an Italian port to the East African front. Motorization and mechanization may be the new order of the day in conflict, but there still is a place for the mule, on difficult terrain where mechanized equipment can scarcely travel. Italian commanders plan to use thousands of them in Ethiopia if war comes.

at him again. That beautiful dream day was not to be. Moore shrugged his impatient shoulders, as if throwing from him all the bothers and complications that infest the earth, and climbed into his plane. Albery stood still to watch him take off. It was a perfect performance; the plane rose, after a short skim, birdlike into the air. The next instant Albery turned to her, impassive, smoothly courteous, inviting her back to the house. "I am glad I was in time to prevent you from making a fool of yourself, Laurie," he said. Albery drove straight back to London, taking Laurie with him. They set to work in the office as soon as they got there, although it was already four o'clock. Albery had a great many letters to get off. He was going to Berlin tonight, instead of yesterday. He had been held up by the unexpected arrival of his chief business colleague in Australia, the very man who had discovered Laurie in Sydney and sent her to England. Now, he was the business man, concentrated on his work. Laurie was the perfect secretary. Not a personal word passed between them. When she brought him the letters to sign and he had finished them and handed them back to her, he said in his smooth voice: "Laurie, have I your promise that you will not repeat this folly? Will you please give me your word that you will not see Rex Moore again?" "Yes, I give you my word," she answered quietly. "You can get off now," he added. "I will call for you at your place to take you out for a late meal before I leave for the station. I am going by the night service. If I could only take you with me!" he added, fixing glowing, ardent eyes on her. She went cold and stiff, expecting him to take her in his arms, but just then one of the departmental managers came into the room, and she escaped. A little later, as he was leaving the office, Albery's telephone rang. He heard Rex Moore's voice. "The receiver dropped from his hand. He went as white as a sheet. His lips curved into a ghastly grin of horror. As he picked up the receiver again, he shook so that it rattled against the table. It was several seconds before he could find his voice, and then it boomed in his own ears like thunder, although only a whisper went over the wire. "Is that Mr. Albery?" Moore was asking. "Please put me through to Mr. Albery's private phone! Mr. Albery? Rex Moore speaking!" "Albery speaking! Rex—how did it go?" His left hand clutched at his throat. "A devil of a mess," came the answer. "It might have done for me. A fool of a new mechanic filled my tank with the new fuel. Where

READY MADE WIFE

Chapter 42
CAUGHT
The next afternoon, Laurie was in her office in London when the private telephone line from Pen Gieffon rang through to her. She expected to hear Mark Albery's voice. He was not in London. But it was Rex Moore speaking. "Laurie, do you still want me to take you up in the air?" he asked. His voice rang in her ears. She had not heard it for days. She trembled with a joy that was half fear and switched off the connection to Albery's private room. If she must not see him, at least she could speak to him. "Why?" she asked. "Because there's a good chance tomorrow. I'm going to do a rather interesting little flight, with an altitude test. Quite safe. It was a sort of bargain, wasn't it?" "Mr. Albery has told me I must not see you any more," she said in a flummoxed voice. "He said it would be dangerous. I mean to your plans." Rex's voice came over in a rough laugh. "Albery won't be here tomorrow. He need never know. He's off to Berlin tonight. You're not a slave Laurie—yet? Or a prisoner, are you?" She choked down a little sob. He didn't understand. "Never mind, if you don't want to," he said angrily. "Again she was seized with one of those inexplicable, irresistible impulses. "Yes, I'll come," she said. "I'd love to." He gave her quick directions where and when to meet him. As she listened, her heart leaped in her breast like a live thing. It was the most beautiful early morning Laurie had seen in her life. She was up with the dawn and caught the first train of the day to Cambridge. Already, in the train, she felt that she was flying—that she had left the earth and would never come down again. The car was there, outside the station. It was nearly an hour's drive to Albery's private air field. Rex Moore was there, waiting for her at the entrance to one of the great hangars. But he told her once he was not going up for another half hour or so, and insisted on taking her to the canteen to have a cup of coffee and something to eat. "I can't find my usual mechanic anywhere," he said, as they left the canteen. "He seems to have entirely disappeared and nobody knows where he is. Quite a new man is on duty. I found him filling my tank when I got here." "Does that matter?" she said. "Of course not. Only I can't think where Brown can have got to. I was used to him. Now we may as well push off. It's a two control machine. Perhaps I'll let you take the controls when we're up—if you're very good! He gave one of his rare boyish laughs. "That will be grand!" said Laurie excitedly. "In you get." And then a voice came from the ground behind her. She heard Rex Moore give a sharp exclamation of surprise and anger. She almost fell back, and Rex lifted her to the ground. Mark Albery had just come up, hurrying, with his swift, light, graceful strides. His face was as impassive as ever, but his voice was like a whip. "What can this mean? What are you doing here, Laurie?" She said weakly: "I thought you were in Berlin." He gave a low laugh that made her tremble. "Obviously, I was prevented from going at the last moment." He paused, as if trying to control himself. When he spoke again, his voice was silky. "Have you forgotten my warning about being seen with Moore? Or did you deliberately take advantage of my absence?" The girl's spirit rose. "I did not think this once could matter," she said. "Some time ago Rex promised to take me up in the air with him. I didn't suppose anybody would know anything about it," she added recklessly. Albery turned to the airman. "Are you quite out of your mind, Moore?" "As Laurie has told you, it was an old bargain. This seemed a good chance, in perfect conditions." "Is there any reason why I shouldn't go, now I'm here?" the girl put in warmly. She had forgotten her fear of Albery in her bitter disappointment. "I absolutely forbid you to go," Albery said. He spoke with inexplicable violence. "You will come back with me to the house at once. You seem to have forgotten how much depends on this." She met his eyes, so cold, so vengeful, so full of something like hatred, that all the spirit went out of her. He was her master; she could do nothing. She turned away from Rex Moore, not daring to look could he have got it from? Brown was nowhere to be found. He isn't here now. I tried altitude first. That went. I was just getting speed when I noticed something queer. Bang it went—same as before. I was four thousand feet up. But I'd taken a parachute, so I'm still alive. The plane is burnt out in a field. That stuff is impossible. I thought I'd let you know at once." Moore's voice was ordinary enough. But was it just a little too casual? Did Rex Moore guess at something? Did he suspect the new mechanic. The new fuel—by mistake? With the greatest effort of his life Albery recovered himself. (Copyright, 1935, Coralie Stanton)

Conscience Strikes PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP)—Earl D. Ciccone has been released from prison where he was serving a four year term for conviction of auto theft. William Wallace, a friend who said he was conscience-stricken, confessed the theft.

Three years ago, the youngster won the national junior trapshooting championship, after which he decided to concentrate on golf. Since then he has become one of the finest young players in the west, winning the Colorado state amateur title two weeks ago from a field that included Dave "Spec" Goldman of Dallas, 1934 runner-up to Little. As a final pre-battle salute yesterday, Little shot one eagle, three birds, and five pars over the front nine of the championship layout for a smashing 31 that broke par by five blows. With that final bit of target practice, he turned in his clubs to await the challenger. "I guess I'm ready," he grinned. "Should Little fall this week—and don't forget they all fall sometime—there will be a host of the nation's finest sharpshooters ready to replace him on the throne. Among them are the former champions—

Beulah Yates Says Good Food Deserves Good Lighting

The modern merchant buys good serviceable merchandise, attractively styled, and then displays it under good light in order that its value and beauty may be seen. The appeal of good food is greatly increased when it is so arranged that it is pleasing to the eye.

Good, even, shadowless light has its place at the dining table. Without light no vision would be possible. With proper light, the chinaware, the silver, flowers, and other decorations appear to their best advantage. And all of the rich colors, natural in good foods are easily intensified under good lighting. Designs, and general arrangement of the food may be subtly emphasized. The beauty of the food and the whole table assembly depends directly on lighting.

Good lighting decreases eyestrain, nervousness and vertigo. It is an aid to good digestion.

DRINKING DRIVERS

(An Editorial in the Dallas Journal)

The reformers of prohibition have disappeared from our midst. Their promises re-echoed throughout the land a few short months ago. But now that performance and responsibility might logically be demanded there are no reformers of prohibition left to demand of it. They folded their tents, turned in their headquarter typewriters and departed. If any of the old letterheads are left, they are used for scratch paper now.

But it will be remembered that the reformers hoped to put down traffic accidents by ruting down drunken driving. The theory being that beer and light wines would displace boot-leg liquor. Alas, that is not so. Liquor is still with us and so is drunken driving. The accident roll mounts to astonishing totals and the death toll is greater than ever.

Sober common sense, however, indicates that drunken driving is not the explanation. Perhaps drinking driving is. Nobody has said much about it, but it is scientifically established that the alcohol equivalent of three high-balls will mar the judgment, decrease the perceptive powers and slow down the muscular reactions of an automobile driver by percentages ranging from 15 to 50 per cent. In traffic at forty miles an hour and faster any material impairment of alertness and efficiency is bound to be dangerous and apt to be fatal.

THE NEW DEAL IN WASHINGTON

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—AAA has come in for plenty of criticism for its past callousness toward consumers, all of which your correspondent has reported faithfully and zealously.

But it must be said for Secretary Wallace and Administrator Chester Davis that, even though at times they may have succumbed to pressure of combinations of food industry lobbyists, farm group lobbyists, and politicians who figured the consumer could go hang, they have persisted in appointing able, honest, and aggressive men to represent consumer interests in AAA councils.

Anyone who has watched this government operate for a few years must be surprised that they haven't appointed incompetent, easy-going job-holders who would be depended on not to annoy them.

Montgomery will follow Hoover's policy of constantly nudging AAA chiefs and reminding them of the consumer. If you happen to be one of those consumer persons, you can well afford to take a bow to the departing Hoover, who urged Montgomery as his successor and is now going back to his professional job at Duke University.

Hoover finally persuaded the administration that it should maintain a policy of refusing to cut down supplies of food below those normally available for domestic consumption.

Nobody paid much attention to his words, but Wallace recently enunciated the Hoover policy—a milestone for AAA—as follows:

"Two things we want to be sure of. One is that there will be the same quantity of food per capita available to the American people as during the decade of the '20s; that is, that we take care of the consumer. The second is that quantities available in excess of that, for which foreign purchasing power is no longer available, should not be produced."

Appointment of Democratic National Committeeman Vincent Miles to the Social Security Board is an obvious political appointment and a Roosevelt favor to Senator Joe Robinson, who faces re-election, complicated by probable Huey Long troubles, next year.

You didn't hear about it, but the name of Miles popped up once before. Roosevelt suggested him to Secretary Ickes as a candidate for the new job of undersecretary of interior.

Ickes was urging his personal assistant, Harry Slattery—probably the best man in Washington for the job, but not great favorite with professional politicians. Ickes hollered in pain when Miles was suggested.

Then Roosevelt and the interior secretary "compromised" with the appointment of ex-Congressman Charles West of Ohio, White House liaison man in Capitol Hill.

The point of this story is that Roosevelt never seriously considered Miles for the job, but was advancing him to Ickes for trading purposes. Ickes could hardly refuse to bow to the White House will twice.

Don't overlook the possibility that the spreading of the Italo-Ethiopian war may first involve Europe through a German attack on Russia, aided by Poland, International experts here aren't.

The common idea that Hitler is likely to leap into Austria when Italy's back is turned and her strength is in Abyssinia overlooks the fact that Italy's mobilization has, temporarily at least, strengthened rather than weakened her military position in Europe.

The assumption of suspicious observers who take this line of thought is that Japan would simultaneously attack the Soviet from the other end.

A film magnat admits he makes more money than a banker, but points out that "bankers can't make movies." Haven't they already enough to answer for?

After that tragic Italian flood and waterspout, Il Duce continues to be held up by Ethiopian rains. It's a wonder he washes in the treacherous stuff.

Nudists hold congress in New Jersey. It probably was difficult to gauge the popularity of various proposals, mosquitoes undoubtedly being responsible for much of the applause.

Now that the other senator from Idaho has introduced himself to the public by means of a European trip, we may even learn the identity of the other Louisiana senator.

CAPITOL JIGSAW

By HOWARD G. MARSHALL.

AUSTIN, Sept. 4. (AP)—A colored janitor stalked into the press room election day.

"Going to do something I never did before," he remarked.

"What's that?" someone queried.

"Going to vote, for repeal."

"How come?"

"We pros run things so bad I want to see what weets can do."

Interest in the modernization of the Texas Rangers, nationally as well as within the state, continues unabated.

When a legislative crime investigating committee proposed last fall to overhaul the famous marshallers, northern and eastern newspapers evinced interest.

The major steps in the process, the passage of the public safety department bill and the actual effectiveness of the creative law were told again and again by correspondents. There has been no letup in the demand.

Out-of-state interest, of course, is due to the glamor of the name, second only, perhaps, to that of the Canadian Northwest Mounted. Both have been immortalized in song and story.

The "westerns" regularly carry stories on the hard-riding straight-shooting Rangers. Good features, illustrated with plenty of dashing horses, wild-eyed steers and hurtling riatas, sell right along to newspapers. Not a great while ago the season's most popular musical comedy in New York featured a Ranger theme.

The fact the Rangers in recent years have been shot to pieces by political interference and hamstringed by lack of money, modern equipment and methods, hasn't meant a thing to the avid reader of "thrill" fiction and features.

To him the Rangers still are the steel-muscled, film-chinned officers who always get their men.

Election day was the most complete holiday in the capital since last Christmas. Everything was shut tight except the secretary of state's office, which allowed some out-of-town tax experts to work among its franchise records.

Some officials did a little work behind closed doors, one being Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the railroad commission.

BROWNS CLIMB FROM CELLAR IN TWIN BILL

DIZZY WINS HIS 25TH BUT CARDS LOSE 2ND GAME

By HUGH S. FULLERTON Jr., Associated Press Sports Writer

The National league pennant battle was as keen as ever today with the Cardinals and Cubs setting a pace that the Giants were finding hard to follow: the Tigers, despite setback, still had a clear path to the American league flag; but the real news of the day was that the Browns were out of the cellar.

Few teams have had more dismal prospects than Rogers Hornsby's team did early this season, but by dint of persistent trading on the manager's part and hard work by the players the Browns have been built up into a quite formidable organization. They stepped out yesterday to belt over the fading Athletics in a doubleheader, 9 to 4 and 7 to 5 to move a half game ahead of Philadelphia into seventh place.

Washington conquered Detroit's league leaders 4-3, attacking Roxie Lawson, clever Tiger rookie, in the late innings and getting the winning run on a ninth-inning walk.

The New York Giants, safely out of Cincinnati, began a new effort to get out of third place in the National league by trimming Pittsburgh 3 to 1 on the combination of Carl Hubbell's six-hit hurling and four straight hits by Manager Bill Terry.

The victory enabled the Giants to pick up a half game on both their rivals, and place one game behind the Cubs; whose game with Boston was rained out, and 2 1/2 games behind the Cards.

St. Louis divided an odd doubleheader with the Phillies. Dizzy Dean pitched a four hit shutout in the opener for his 25th victory of the season, winning 11 to 0. Then five more hurlers combined on another four-hit job only to have the Phils win it 4 to 2 by bunching two of the blows with a walk and two errors in the second inning.

The Boston Red Sox regained fourth place in the American league by taking a bargain bill from Chicago's White Sox, 6 to 2 and 5 to 2.

The Yankees managed to reduce Detroit's lead to 8 1/2 games by taking two last-minute decisions from Cleveland. They won the opener in the ninth 3 to 2 and the afterpiece in the ninth 5 to 4.

Brooklyn protected fifth place in the National from Cincinnati's threats with a double victory over the Reds 8 to 4 and 6 to 4.

Dusting The Covers Of Texas History For THE TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION OF 1936

AUSTIN, Sept. 9.—Ferdinand readily agreed to the Treaty of Valency that he drive the English from the Peninsula; and, as soon as he was released, he started for home. Nevertheless he had many obstacles to overcome before he reascended the throne. First, the Cortes, fearing treachery, refused to accept the treaty; next it refused the returning exile entry until he could show that he brought no Frenchmen in his train. To this Ferdinand readily agreed and he re-entered the country from which he had been absent since 1308. The joy of the royalists is described in a letter found in the Bexar archives in the library of the University of Texas, written on August 12, 1314. In this letter, Felix Calleja thus describes conditions in Mexico City:

"The important and longed for news that our beloved sovereign, Ferdinand VII, is seated on the throne of Spain amid the universal applause, joy and contentment of all his vassals has been received in this capital. I made this known by means of a proclamation on the 10th of the present month. I ordered it published throughout the kingdom. This gives me great satisfaction because I believe that this will be an end to the suffering of the Spanish people in both hemispheres, since their happiness can be founded only upon the most perfect union. It is likewise dependent upon the most unchanging loyalty and unflinching submission and obedience to the sovereign will of His Majesty.

"To uphold his sovereign and inalienable rights in those dominions, I am counting upon your loyalty, your gratitude and your devotion to him as well as that of all military leaders and civil magistrates in this kingdom. I am likewise counting upon the courage of his brave troops and the clear-thinking members of society. I flatter myself that my hopes will be met on every point. Confident of this, I have not hesitated to declare in the said proclamation my own firm determination to obey all royal and sovereign decrees and orders of His Majesty as soon as I receive them and to see that they are explicitly obeyed throughout the entire jurisdiction of this vicereignty.

"However, there may be some who, through a desire for change or being led astray by a mistaken idea of liberalism that is now causing so much trouble, will under specious pretenses try to carry forward ideas contrary to the royal desires of our king and argue in favor of constitutional principles and democracy. I am depending upon your zeal and tact in the matter. I charge you particularly to endeavor to discourage ideas of this kind and, so far

INDIANS LEAD TEXAS LEAGUE AS PLAY ENDS

By The Associated Press

Four pennant contenders ended the straight season of the Texas league yesterday with a taste of victory and prepared to enter the Shaughnessy playoff Wednesday loaded for bear.

Oklahoma City's amazing Indians, in an about-face from last year's performance, wound up perched on top of the league standing after a 3-0 victory over the last place Fort Worth Panthers.

The Indians will meet the fourth-place Tulsa Oilers at Oklahoma City in the initial Shaughnessy game, while the Beaumont Exporters and the Galveston Buccaneers contest at the island city.

The second-place Exporters and third-place Buccaneers rehearsed for their game yesterday at Galveston. Their final straight season game was a pitching duel between Joe Gibbs of the Bucs and Cottor Ware of the Exporters. It ended 2 to 1 for Galveston.

The four leading teams had their places "in the bag" as long ago as last Friday, so the Tulsa Oilers clowned through their final game yesterday with the seventh-place Dallas Steers as if they were a bunch of school children. At that, they won 11-3.

The fifth-place Houston Buffs and sixth-place San Antonio Missions played the day's only doubleheader. Houston took both games, and both by the score of 5 to 1.

The first round games of the play-off will be for the best three out of five games. The two surviving teams then will contest for the pennant and the right to meet the Southern association champions in the Dixie series. The finals will be over the four-out-of-seven games routine.

Only the two finalists will share in the Texas league players' end of the Dixie series pool.

After the opener Wednesday night at Oklahoma City, the Indians and Oilers will move to Tulsa for Thursday and Friday night games. Saturday will be an off-day, and the fourth game, if necessary, will be played Sunday at Oklahoma City.

Beaumont and Galveston will play both Wednesday and Thursday nights at the island city, rest Friday and move to Beaumont for day games on Saturday and Sunday.

Artists' Fund Is Provided in McCarl's Okay

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—President Roosevelt placed $27,315,217 at Harry L. Hopkins' disposal today for one of the most extensive programs for subsidizing literature and the arts in the history of governments.

Approval of Comptroller General J. R. McCarl for the work relief allotment was given after a month's delay. The project, intended to provide six months' employment for more than 30,000 writers, painters, musicians and actors, is to get under way next week.

The public works administration announced, coincidentally that with 5,500 applications on hand calling for allotment of a billion dollars, it had closed its books to further requests.

Informed circles saw virtually no hope for the great majority of these applications. Hopkins already has rejected 2,000 PWA proposals involving $335,000,000 on the ground that material costs were too high or that there wasn't a sufficient supply of local relief labor.

Post-Season Grid Battle Is Planned

DALLAS, Sept. 9 (AP)—Joe Utay, Dallas attorney and football official, announced today the incorporation of the Blue Bonnet Bowl to stage a post-season, inter-sectional football game annually in Texas.

Utay, president of the corporation, said he would call upon Texas sport writers to name a team they deem best as an opponent for the outstanding Southwestern team.

Utay said he believed the game could be built up almost to equal the Rose Bowl contest at Pasadena, Calif., and by conducting an early advance ticket sale, he expected to obtain a pool sufficient to warrant guarantees of such proportions as to attract the best teams in the land.

The game will be played the last Saturday before New Year's day. Utay said, probably but not necessarily in Dallas at the Fair park stadium.
