Reds Take Kursk, Push on Toward Rostov

Russian Coup Nets Capture Of Vital City

(By The Associated Press) A sudden and spectacular Russian coup which netted the capture of Kursk, one of the "big six" bastions of the German defense system, imperiled the whole Nazi line below Moscow today even as Red army siege guns thundered destruction upon the Axis citadel at Rostov-on-Don.

Kursk, which lies about midway between Moscow and Rostov, formed a major link in the German defense wall along with Smolensk, Bryansk, Orel, Kharkov and Rostov. The city, in the Black Earth region on the southern slope of the central Russian plateau, had been in Nazi hands since Nov. 11, 1941, four and a half months after the German invasion armies stormed into Russia.

Battle dispatches said the Red flag was raised over Kursk at 3 p. m. yesterday and described the city as "an enormous cemetery."

"The (German) Kursk army, as it called itself, does not exist any more," Soviet war correspondents said, reporting that Red army shock troops used bayonets and rifle butts to batter the Nazi garrison into submission.

The Russians said Gen. Schneider, the German commander, exhorted his troops to fight on, promising that "relief will come," and even threw wounded soldiers from hospitals into the battle.

The city itself was reported virtually destroyed by shelling and fires.

On the Rostov front, German troops were stubbornly counter-attacking in an attempt to stave off disaster, but the Russians declared they had captured at least a dozen more towns and railway stations below the city.

Latest Soviet dispatches said Red army troops pushing up through Bataisk, 10 miles south of Rostov, had moved their heavy artillery into range along the south bank of the Don river to bombard that German-held keystone.

Other Soviet columns, last reported 50 miles east of Rostov, were reported cleaning up German nests. A Russian communique said the fleeing Nazis were not only abandoning their wounded but killing them.

Soviet advisers declared approximately 250,000 German troops and their satellites were entrenched at Rostov—apparently determined to risk another Stalingrad—with another 200,000 Axis soldiers cut off in the western Caucasus below the city.

Cool Weather Delays Street Repairs Here

The weather and a broken crank shaft were first on the city trouble list today of W. C. deCordova, acting city manager. A mixture is ready to repair blacktop in the pavement at the intersection of Hobart and Foster and the intersection of Hobart and Francis, also at Charles and Mary Ellen, but until the weather is sufficiently warm, the mixture cannot be poured.

Condition of these intersections had brought some complaint from motorists, but the acting city manager assured drivers today that the repairs would be made as speedily as possible.

Due to a broken crank shaft, the city's lone street sweeper has been out of operation for a week. Repairs have been ordered but have not yet arrived.

As soon as the new part is received the sweeper will be again put in condition to clean up the streets.

For the first time in many months the city commission room at the city hall was again available for use for meetings of the city commission.

The gasoline panel of the Gray County War Price and Rationing board has been using the room. Before that it was used for the regular meetings of the rationing board.

Removal of the rationing board office to the court house was complete today and the board's office, formerly in the one-time office of the Adobe Walls council of the Boy Scouts of America, is now set up as a surgical dressing room for the Pampa chapter of the American Red Cross.

Red Cross offices are still maintained on the third floor of the municipal building. The surgical dressing room is on the second floor of the same building.

Location of the Gray County War Price and Rationing board office in the county court room located on the second floor of the court house.

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (AP)—The senate today confirmed appointment of Fred Knetsch of Seguin as a member of the state highway commission.

Jeffers, here to inspect a synthetic rubber plant, was asked whether there was any reason why motorists should be cut to a basic ration of less than four gallons a week outside the no-pleasure-driving region.

"Not so far as the rubber situation is concerned," he said.

Halt in Army Inductions Is Demanded

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—A demand for an immediate halt to military inductions was raised in the senate today as the house took up the Dies committee's plea for two-year extension of its investigation of un-American activities.

Senator Downey (D-Calif.) urged stopping inductions in order to put more men on farms. Downey is a member of the senate military committee which yesterday heard Agriculture Secretary Wickard testify that he could not guarantee 1943 food production quotas on the basis of available manpower.

Chairman Martin Dies (D-Tex.) predicted there would be fewer than 10 million votes in the house against a resolution to continue his committee until May 15, 1945, despite opposition from Rep. Marcanonio (Ann. Lab.-N.Y.) and Rep. Folger (D-N.C.).

Meanwhile, former President Hoover's proposal that the nation try for a knockout blow against Germany in 1944 instead of attempting "too much too fast" in 1943 brought quick criticism from Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) and an equally quick endorsement from Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.).

Pepper said he disagreed, adding: "I think most Americans believe that the way to get a nasty job done is to throw all of your strength into the fight and get it over with as soon as possible."

Vandenberg said he thought Hoover was aiming at a well-balanced program and that he did not believe "we can leave it to the generals to say how our whole war program shall be paced, else we will find that we have not our ultimate objective by putting too much emphasis on the purely military phases."

The house ways and means committee pressed its search for a payable pay-as-you-go plan for income tax collections as some members indicated they would ask the administration to say definitely how much, if any, of the 1942 taxes it See INDUCTIONS, Page 6

Uncle Sam Wants Your Shotgun

Uncle Sam is asking for shotguns. Pampa hardware stores have received a circular letter from the Browning Arms company, St. Louis, Mo., asking for shotguns.

An assignment from the government to procure all the good used 12 gauge automatic pump action repeaters and double barrel shotguns possible.

Browning has sold its entire stock of 12 and 16 gauge guns to the war department; hence, this appeal. Shotguns are to be used for guarding purposes and to train soldiers and sailors in the art of wing shooting.

Shotgun owners are not asked to give up their guns but to sell them to the government. Browning states it is authorized to offer dealers up to $30 for a double barrel and $42.50 for a pump or automatic.

These guns are needed immediately. Browning cannot accept guns for this purpose after April 1.

Guns needed are 12 gauge guns in shooting condition, double barrels, pump action repeaters, automatics. Single shot guns are not wanted.

Locally, no central place has been set up by hardware stores that are authorized Browning dealers to receive the guns.

Bill Calls For Five Ships Daily

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Carrying more than a billion dollars to speed the maritime commission to its goal of five merchant ships a day by next May, a $2,221,043,379 independent office supply bill was sent to the house today by its appropriations committee. House consideration tentatively was scheduled for next Monday.

Almost 90 per cent of the total was for what the committee described as strictly war purposes, including $87,017,000 for the veterans administration, $1,289,780,000 for the maritime commission, $88,000,000 for the public roads administration, and $19,454,500 for the national advisory committee on aeronautics.

Bob Gribbon Is Killed In Air Crash

Second Lieut. Robert Henry Gribbon, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan J. Gribbon, 1206 May Ellen, was killed at 9 p. m. last night when an army bomber from the Sioux City Army air field crashed on a short distance southeast of the Sioux City, Iowa, base.

Witnesses said the plane was afire after it crashed on a farm two miles east and two miles south of the base, according to an Associated Press dispatch.

Besides the Pampan, six other men were killed and three injured, one seriously.

Captain Francis Hettlinger, base public relations officer at Sioux City, said an investigation was being conducted as to the cause of the crash and that a board of inquiry would be set up within a day or two.

Names of the victims were not immediately announced. Information on the death of Lieutenant Gribbon was contained in a telegram received at his parents' home here.

Mr. Gribbon was out of town at the time the message was received, but was due to return here this afternoon from Wichita Falls. Lieutenant Gribbon was born in Coos, Ia. He graduated from Pampa High school in 1935, attended the University of Nebraska and the University of Texas, enlisted in the Army on January 19, 1942.

Before enlisting he had worked for the Kobe Hydraulic Pump company at Odessa and Pampa. He was assigned to a crowded London-bound passenger train.

The train was nearing a tunnel when one raider let loose with his rapid fire. The engineer put on steam and the train sped into the safety of the tunnel. No one was hurt.

Early last night, it was reported, one enemy plane was destroyed during activity off the southeast coast of England.

Teachers Go On Sit-Down Strike

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 9 (AP)—Fifty public school teachers went on a sit-down strike in suburban Rankin today, leaving about 1,500 pupils gazing perplexedly at them from their classroom seats.

The instructors struck in protest to the school board's rejection last night of their demands for a $250-a-year salary increase or bonus "to meet the increased cost of living."

When school opened, with officials nervously awaiting proceedings, the teachers passed out to fitgety pupils typewritten explanations of their wage demands.

An hour later School Superintendent D. J. Sullivan dismissed the pupils until this afternoon, with the idea of having them report twice daily until the strike is settled.

While the students cheered the start of the "sit-down," the teachers sat around talking. They said they would report daily for classes but would not teach them.

Allied Planes, Subs Destroy Axis Shipping

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Feb. 9 (AP)—Allied bombers hit two Axis ships in a new attack on the Tunisian port of Sousse and set parked aircraft afire in a raid on an air-drome at Gabes, a communique announced today.

"There is nothing to report from our land forces," the war bulletin said.

It reported that a British submarine operating off the Italian west coast sank four ships in a single day by torpedoes and gunfire.

Medium bombers carried out the attack on Gabes "causing fires among buildings and aircraft on the ground."

The communique said "This raid met strong opposition from enemy fighters, 18 of which were shot down."

In the attack on Sousse, where heavy bombers scored direct hits on two ships, bombs burst on quays and a seaplane base.

In all five allied planes were lost. Under States B-24 Liberators, striking again by daylight yesterday, battered the civilian ferry port of Messina with direct hits on oil storage tanks, the port power station and the waterfront, according to Cairo dispatch.

Once again the Liberators proved their fighting quality. An American communique said "a sizeable force of fighters attacked our formation without results. At least one Messerschmitt 109 was shot down and others were damaged. All our aircraft returned safely."

Seven Die In English Raid

LONDON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Replying feebly to destructive British and American raids over Europe in recent days, a small force of German planes swept in low over England early today to scatter bombs in outlying suburbs of London and to send the city's air-raid sirens screaming briefly.

No bombs were reported dropped in the capital itself, however, and there was no anti-aircraft fire.

Reports from outlying sections said the raiders killed at least seven persons.

The raiders bombed some localities on the southeast coast and machine-gunned a crowded London-bound passenger train.

The train was nearing a tunnel when one raider let loose with his rapid fire. The engineer put on steam and the train sped into the safety of the tunnel. No one was hurt.

Way Is Now Open For Added Blows Against Main Enemy Bases

By The Associated Press A Tokyo dispatch broadcast by the German radio reported today that Japan's armies had been evacuated from Guadalcanal Island in the Solomons, after a six-months battle against U. S. forces landed on the island in the first Allied counter-offensive in the south seas.

"It is officially announced that Buna on New Guinea and the island of Guadalcanal have been evacuated by the Japanese," the broadcast said.

Berlin quoted Imperial Tokyo headquarters as saying the Mikado's forces "after their missions had been fulfilled."

Japanese losses in the Guadalcanal and New Guinea theaters were listed at 16,734 dead, against 25,000 Allied troops declared wiped out.

A correspondent of Domei, official Japanese news agency, yesterday described the battles in the Solomons and New Guinea as marked by "most pathetic and tragic incidents" and said Japanese troops sometimes had gone for 20 days without even a grain of rice.

The Buna campaign ended less than three weeks ago with the annihilation of a 15,000-man Japanese army systematically tracked down in the Papuan peninsula jungles by American and Australian troops under Gen. Douglas MacArthur.

Approximately 15,000 other Japanese troops, whittled down to fewer than 4,000 in the final stages, were involved in the Guadalcanal campaign, which began last Aug. 7, when U. S. marines stormed the strategic island and captured built Henderson airfield. Regular U. S. army troops subsequently relieved the hard-fighting marines.

While the German broadcast lacked immediate confirmation, a U. S. navy communique Sunday hinted that the end was near, reporting that American troops had completely encircled a 40 to 50-mile flanking thrust which put them within five miles of the Japanese headquarters on Cape Esperance, where enemy resistance centered.

For the past week, both Tokyo and Washington have indicated in restrained terms that a great showdown battle between the American and Japanese fleets was in the preliminary phases of development in the Solomons.

One of the main thrusts by Japanese warships was reported against American surface forces off Rennell Island, 100 miles south of Guadalcanal, and this may have served See JAP ARMY, Page 6

Problems Ahead

Surely nobody can take issue with the idealism of those post-war planners typified by Vice President Wallace who are thinking out loud how the four freedoms can be made world-wide after we defeat the axis.

The trouble is, Mr. Wallace and others seem to be overlooking some very practical difficulties which are as deep-rooted as human nature and the principles of democracy.

It is not easy to determine from the attractive architects' drawings whether the planners expect their beneficiaries to welcome a ready-made suit of post-war rehabilitation. Of course we could try to hand the rest of the world what we think it ought to like, take it or leave it. Presumably Mr. Wallace, believing in democracy, does not have that alternative in mind.

Consider the intense factional difference among French men. We and the British are freeing North Africa from axis military domination, preparatory to liberating metropolitan France.

One would suppose that the French could forget their ideological differences long enough to help drive out the Germans—but they can't, or won't. They quarrel among themselves, with us, with the British, at a time when the only light should be against Germans and Italians.

The same is true in Yugoslavia, where a spontaneous native guerrilla opposition to the Nazis is forced to battle against a Soviet-inspired anti-German movement, the Partisans, although by co-operation these two forces might well prove strong enough to create an effective second front.

When we get around to applying the four freedoms to France and to Yugoslavia, with whom are we going to deal?

In Yugoslavia do we purpose to deal with General Mihailovich, whose adherents apparently are a minority, or with the Soviet-sponsored Partisans? If we select Mihailovich, with whom presently we are in accord, how shall we justify that with democratic principles—and what is going to be Russia's reaction?

Specifically we must make up our minds whether or we are going to help the world as good neighbors or whether we purpose to clean house for the liberated nations and take over control of their economic and political economies for reconstruction purposes?

Until we decide that, we cannot plan intelligently.

We Believe This

About many things said by highly placed Germans we are skeptical, but we cannot doubt the sincerity with which Grand Admiral Doenitz, the new Nazi naval chief, promises intensification of "inexorable U-boat warfare."

Even in the Atlantic, notwithstanding diversion of submarines by the African campaign, there has been a stepping up of ship sinkings. There are reports of new long-range underwater raiders capable of doing great damage.

We have most fronts under apparent control, but we cannot take heart about the shipping front. There is much bad news still to come from there.

Welcome as is the assurance given by Donald M. Nelson that the competing demands of synthetic rubber, aviation gasoline, merchant ships, escort vessels and airplanes will be met by improved scheduling in 1943, that assurance should not be taken to mean that all production problems are solved. According to the chairman of the War Production Board, synthetic rubber, aviation gasoline, merchant ships, escort vessels and airplanes are the "top five" production items for this year.

They do not merely compete for the raw materials required for production. If that were all, the answer might lie in improved scheduling of materials. There is another form of competition, however, which might be called intellectual. Synthetic rubber and aviation gasoline cannot speak for themselves; they cannot assert what they will do to win the war—or to win it more quickly. These two items and the others on the list do have able spokesmen, sometimes men of almost a single idea, who argue, for example, that it is useless to build a record-breaking number of merchant ships if many of them are to be sunk by U-boats which might be defeated by escort vessels or that it is more important to produce aviation gasoline now than to make certain of a minimum rubber reserve eight months from now.

These arguments and others which lie in the background of the conduct of the war as in the background of production make Mr. Nelson's job more difficult than it would be if it were a mere matter, for example, of providing enough steel plates for all war production and of making certain that all the required plates reached the right spot at the right time. He and his associates are also expected to see to it that the production schedules are attained to the schedule for the production of strategic ideas.

GRUDGING CONCESSION

(The Chicago Tribune)
 Joe Weiner, the Union Square farmer who is in charge of farm machinery allocations for the war production board, has lifted his sights a trifle. Mr. Weiner has increased the steel quota for the manufacture of agricultural machinery during the first quarter of the year by 36 per cent. The order was issued the same day that The Tribune had called attention to the failure of asking farmers to achieve record production when only 23 per cent as much new machinery was manufactured in 1940 as to be placed on the market.

A 36 per cent increase sounds like a good deal. In fact, it is negligible. It means that American farmers, who, under the previous order, were to be allowed to buy only 25 per cent of 1940 production of machinery, now will be granted 31 per cent during the first three months of the year. There is no assurance that the 8 per cent increase is to be maintained thru the remaining three quarters. Meanwhile export quotas of farm machinery...

RATIONING CARDS, A FORM OF TAXES

People will have to make up their minds whether they want ration cards and a complete totalitarian state with bungling bureaucrats making all decisions, or whether they want to pay more taxes. A ration card, in reality, is a form of tax. It prevents those receiving money from getting what they could expect to get when they get their dollars for work, done present or past.

But the politicians know that the people dislike taxes; that when they are taxed to pay government expenditures, they insist on government efficiency. So the politicians invariably fool the great majority by telling them they will postpone the day of payment and have the rich pay for it later.

They have to admit that the rich cannot pay all the costs at the present time, but they would have the public believe that the rich can pay for it later without reducing or depleting the tools which the workers are obliged to use.

They do not tell the voters that we cannot borrow a bit of human effort; that all the human effort has to be expended by somebody before the war can be won.

But this expanding credit in the United States in no way increases our ability to get things. We cannot buy from foreign nations. We ourselves have to produce the equipment to win the war.

Patriotic Stimulant Helps Collect Taxes
 Nor do the politicians say that it is easier to collect taxes when people are stimulated by war patriotism than it is after the war is over. They will not explain how the debt hanging over our heads after the war is over will continue to regiment us and be a millstone around our neck.

All history is evidence that people are better off when they keep a sound credit or money system and pay their debts as they go. All history is evidence that there cannot be a sound money system when the government becomes a great borrower of credit from the banks.

But little do the politicians care, if they can keep themselves in power and delay the day of reckoning for other politicians and workers to worry about.

Remember that after the war, when the patriotic stimulus is over, it will be much harder to get taxes than it is now.

Uniform Rule
 The only way to pay our debts and have economy is to tax every man by a uniform rule in proportion as he consumes wealth protected by our government. Any tax rule that is not uniform is tyrannical, dictatorial, arbitrary and unAmerican. It is foolish to fight a dictatorial form of government and be afraid of the tyranny of dictators, when we ourselves are doing the very thing in our discriminatory tax laws that leads to oppression and dictators.

HAPPINESS OF DAY DREAMERS

Never has Washington had as many day dreamers. In regard to Wallace's proposal for a quart of milk for every citizen, Senator Nye aptly described it, by saying: "It must be nice to be able to day dream so beautifully without having to be at all realistic."

All our social gains, all our class legislation to help reduce poverty, are, in the final analysis, simply beautiful day dreams without being obliged to realize the end results of poverty and misery that are bound to follow these wishful, beautiful dreams.

chinery under lend-lease remain at levels fixed as high as 118 per cent of 1940 shipment."

It is unnecessary to labor the point that Mr. Weiner's concession is grudging and insufficient. If, as has been said often enough, food will win the war, this is a backhanded way to go about the job, particularly when we are taking on the responsibility of feeding such lands as we may occupy, in addition to lend-lease recipients. It is unlikely that we can succeed in maintaining last year's crop levels, let alone increasing them, without substantial additions to the machinery now on farms.

It must be remembered that thru the depletion of the farm labor supply caused by unwise application of the draft and by the superior attraction of factory wages, the farmer is increasingly thrown upon mechanical helpers, which must supply the loss of farm hands. Mr. Weiner is risking a letdown in farm production when he assumes that machinery at present on the farms is going to stand up under the increased demands placed upon it. A shortage of replacement parts, as well as of skilled mechanics to effect repairs, could easily disrupt Mr. Weiner's plans.

But none of these possibilities seems to disturb him. That is the typical bureaucrat for you. All he is intended to raise is hell with the rest of the country.

BY HIS PEERS

(The Daily Oklahoman)
 Probably it matters little to certain senators whether Chairman Flynn paid for the paving job on his New York estate or whether the city material and city labor supplied the improvement as a downright gift to Flynn.

For at least two of the senators who must pass judgment upon Flynn have been favored with costly gifts within the past two years. A costly swimming pool has been constructed at the home of Senator Chandler at no cost at all to the happy statesman from Kentucky. And an equally costly swimming pool with all required accessories has been built free of charge to the beneficiary at the dream home of "The Man Bilbo" down at Juniper Grove.

Just how can these two voluble senators vote except for the confirmation of Flynn? He has received no more than each of those two senators has received. He has done nothing that the ambrosial twain have failed to do, unless he violated all the precedents by paying for what apparently was intended to be a downright gift. Possibly the two senators will resent the act of payment, for that would establish a precedent that might become quite embarrassing.

Of course the Republican minority will make a fight on Flynn. But after the battle is over and done with the Democratic majority will confirm the appointment. And in so far as two of the senators are concerned Flynn will be vindicated by a jury of his peers.

BETS: New Dealers and Democratic conservatives are waging a ding-dong scrap over the selection of the executive director of the national committee. He will be the party leader because Frank Walker accepted the chairmanship only on condition that he act as a between-campaigns figurehead.

The White House coterie is backing two lads with the cognomen of Casey. Owing to rebuffs suffered by a couple of men called Farley and Flynn, who have large followings in New England, New York and New Jersey, the administration thinks that Casey might be a grand old name now and two years hence. Joseph Edward Casey, former Massachusetts representative defeated by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge last November, has the official inside track. But the graybeards sniff at Joe's liberal views and doglike loyalty to F. D. R. Eugene Casey, the Rooseveltian's second choice, is a gentleman farmer from Maryland and western members dwindling in number and power, plantation politicians dominate the congressional scene as they have rarely controlled it before de waa—and we mean the Civil war.

Dickie is no longer the tail of the Democratic donkey. With northern and western members dwindling in number and power, plantation politicians dominate the congressional scene as they have rarely controlled it before de waa—and we mean the Civil war.

A third entry is J. R. Kinder of Lincoln, Nebraska. He heads the World War Veterans' division of the Walker organization. He is a lawyer with business and aristocratic interests. Although a Roosevelt adherent, he detests the left wing group which lingers in the shadows. Friends describe him as a "Pat Harrison" Democrat.

The chief executive's attitude in the controversy may throw further light on his 1944 plans. If he does not seek a fourth term he will keep hands off, for the next candidate will choose his manager after the nominating convention. But if he insists on picking a pal for the place, particularly when he does a familiar hat in the ring—again, NEGLICTED: The aircraft carrier still remains the problem child of the United States navy. Many marine designers question the wisdom of the new program which sacrifices battleships and cruisers for a flotilla of flat-tops.

In the first 12 months of our war with Japan the mobile airfield proved to be "quicker of the seas." Deck-based planes struck violent blows in raids and blue water engagements and prevented surface vessels from operating except under the handicap of darkness. But big blimps have shown themselves vulnerable to that awful horror of sailors—fire. The four carriers we have lost withstood the pounding of heavy guns and the ripping of bombs. All went down hours after they were attacked. The enemy's casualties had a similar origin.

American constructors have profited from these lessons. They have altered new models, and are installing more elaborate sprinkler systems and provided stronger protection for gas lines and powder storage spaces. Nevertheless naval critics fear that we are putting too many eggs in one basket in concentrating on this type.

Difference of opinion also centers on the conversion of the Princeton class of ten thousand-ton cruisers, four of which will be commissioned soon. It is argued that they will be too small and unstable and will not carry sufficient planes—only thirty or thirty-five against twice that number for the big fellows.

Meanwhile we must go ahead with the experiment. Tokyo will give us time to make up our engineering minds at leisure. It is the penalty we must pay for the two decades in which swivel chair generals neglected this arm of the service.

TALL: The full sweep and significance of the southern rebellion against Mr. Roosevelt is causing serious alarm among White House camp followers. Although frequently forecast here, presidential agents paid scant attention to pre-session reports. Now they admit they were mistaken.

Key men in at least 10 commonwealths below the historic line oppose F. D. R. as fiercely as they would a Harding, Coolidge or Hoover. Many of the party's mainstays are openly and boastfully aligned against him on such major issues as bureaucracy, extravagance, the $25,000 salary limitation, deflation of Congress, poll tax repeal, regimentation and centralization, farm policy and price-fixing methods.

Exclusively yours: Eddie Cantor, father of the tremendously successful March of Dimes which has raised millions for infantile paralysis sufferers, is about to launch a new campaign. With already received approval from the OWI, Eddie hopes to enlist all of the nation's 12 million war workers as "Five Minute Men." Here's the way it works.

"Twelve million war workers donate five minutes of their lunch break every day to their jobs. That's 60 million minutes a day, six million hours a week, 312 million hours a year. At the present production rate, the increase of ships and planes and tanks could be set at astronomical figures with an added six million man-hours a week. It's a short cut to victory," says Cantor.

"A march of patriotic, precious minutes."
 Rita Hayworth and Gene Kelly will be starred by Metro's "Broadway Melody of 1943." Ida Lupino is excited over a new original by Keith Waters who wrote "Devotion." The "I would eat slimy food in a chair" comedy role of a fat girl... It would happen only in Hollywood. One of the town's better known humor girls has three stars on her service flag—one for her husband, one for her son, and one for her ex-husband!

Proposal to Abolish Constables Opposed

DALLAS, Feb. 9 (AP)—Action of the county judges and commissioners association of Texas executive committee in approving passage of a law to abolish constables and justices of the peace and consolidate the offices of district clerk and county clerk, will be challenged at a special meeting of the association in Austin Feb. 15. County Judge Al Templeton said today.

Templeton was appointed a member of the association's legislative committee and has been asked by President A. S. Ware of Bryan, to take a prominent part in the meeting.

In calling the meeting President Ware said that since the executive committee voted approval of the measure by a 3 to 1 vote there had been a great deal of criticism of the committee's action and it was decided to place the matter before the whole membership.

LAZYBONES

Someone asked Scenarist Karl Tunberg how he happened to team with Darrell Ware. Explained Tunberg: "I discovered that we had one strong trait in common, we were both incurably lazy, and so we decided to become collaborators, thus making it possible for him to devote more time to fishing and for me to concentrate on being lazy."

Riding high on a wartime comedy wave, Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy are busier between films these days than when before the camera. They're working out a radio show, planning a Broadway play, and managing the affairs of a little business in Mexico. Fox studios has banned all banquet scenes from new films for the duration. Too much audience sneering at current films in which juicy steals and an over-abundance of food stuff scenes from the actor.

The nation's new all-time marriage record in 1942 had its effect in movietown, too. Out of 148 chorus girls in "Thank Your Lucky Stars," 34 became married or engaged before the film's completion. Nat Pendleton reports that one of the studios is planning a remake of the hit film, "If I Had a Million." Only this time the title will be, "If I Had a Pound of Butter."

Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard's refusal to take into his Food Administration organization some 50 or so dollar-a-year men transferred with various food industry branches from the War Production Board is in line with recommendations which the Truman and Tolson congressional committees have been making for over a year. Despite these recommendations, the number of dollar-a-year men in WPA has, if anything, been increasing instead of diminishing.

One thing is noticeable. The type of dollar-a-yearling is changing. Two years ago many of the appointees were chairmen of boards of directors, corporation presidents and top finance officers. Now the tendency is to name operations men, general managers and practical production experts.

Correct name for paratroopers is "The Airborne Command," but the "New Airborne" for the hundreds of thousands of "Army and Navy officers holding down desk jobs in Washington is "The Chairborne Command."

Mortgages on hundreds of college and university fraternity houses will be paid off at government expense as an unexpected result of the Army-Navy program of specialized education for uniformed personnel. There are Greek letter fraternities in only 12 of the 170 U. S. colleges, and practically all of the fraternity houses may be taken over for use as dormitories for the student soldiers and sailors.

The services will make prime contracts with the colleges for dormitory facilities, paying the colleges at the rate of approximately $120 per bed per year. Most of this money will be passed on to the fraternities as sub-contractors. In addition the armed services will pay costs of heating, light and water.

If a fraternity house has a dormitory capacity of 50 beds, that will mean that the fraternity will get up to $600 a year, and since here is no upkeep, all this money can be applied to reducing the mortgage.

HORRIBLE ECONOMY!

Government officials interested in checking inflation and the black market are pointing now to Puerto Rico as the horrible example of what happens when price and rationing controls get out of hand. A recent report to the Puerto Rican Chamber of Commerce lists these retail prices:

Cigarettes, 75 cents a pack; tomatoes, 40 cents a pound; potatoes, 35 cents a pound; beef, 100 cents a pound; ham and bacon, $1 to $1.50 a pound; goat meat (60 per cent bone), 75 cents a pound.

So short is the meat supply that old-fashioned roasting of livestock has broken out in some parts of the island and the authorities have been faced with a formidable black market.

A senatorial investigating committee under Dennis Chavez of New Mexico, on the island now, will return soon and report.

Acuteness of metal shortages is indicated by two recent Washington orders.

One, issued by WPA, reducing to 5 per cent the tin content of toothpaste tubes, will save only 100 tons of tin, but that saving is important. Another order, issued by the Army, replacing metal buttons on soldiers' uniforms with molded plastic, will save only 180 tons of brass, but that too is considered important.

NOW WE'RE SHORT OF UNSKILLED LABOR

Office of Defense Transportation officials in charge of bus transportation now say that the shortage of manpower is having more effect in curtailing operations than the shortages of gasoline and rubber. Difficulty in getting bus drivers is just a fourth of the problem. Finding competent mechanics to keep the aging equipment in operation is equally as difficult, and finding unskilled workers to service the buses is a problem as big as both skilled labor requirements combined.

There are many indications that another Axis peace offensive is in the making or already under way. In the few remaining neutral capitals of Europe there has been a revival of reports of Axis peace moves, especially of efforts to set up channels through which representatives of the United Nations could be approached.

Germans or Italian peace feelers, however, should not be taken as indications of impending Axis collapse, either collective or separate. Some of these gestures have been made by Benito Mussolini, but they are not to be taken too seriously.

In neutral Switzerland especially, Mussolini's appointment of his son-in-law, Count Galeazzo Ciano, as ambassador to the Vatican is regarded as an effort to establish contact with the Vatican and to ascertain her chances of coming to terms with her enemies. Both the United States and Britain, it is pointed out, maintain envoys in Vatican City well known to Ciano who has been little more than a messenger between Hitler and the Vatican. It is pointed out, maintain envoys in Vatican City well known to Ciano who has been little more than a messenger between Hitler and the Vatican.

One Swiss commentator asserts that Ciano, bereft of the title of foreign minister, actually is recovering some of the functions of the office. Whereas hitherto he has been little more than a messenger between Hitler and the Vatican, he will have the opportunity in the serene, neutral, Pacific atmosphere of Vatican City to establish relatively independent contacts with the envoys of nearly every land.

Of course this speculation leaves out of account the "unconditional surrender" declaration with which President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill closed their Casablanca meeting. There is no reason to believe, in the light of this statement, that either the American or the British envoys would entertain for a moment any approach from the suave Ciano.

One purpose of the current or imminent peace drive will be to divide the Allies, especially the Anglo-Saxon powers from Russia. The Bolshevik bogey, which Hitler is using on the one hand to whip up more help from his satellites, for his armies and his factories, direct or implied, to Russia's western allies to rally behind Germany in her role of protector of European civilization against the Red tide from the east. In fact one such call already has been sounded. On that black anniversary of Jan. 30 Goering had this to say: "Today Germany stands on guard for the whole of Europe. Whether they are allies, neutral, hostile or friendly, they (the nations) all must realize that if this Germany were to collapse the Russians would not stop out of sheer respect so as not to violate, let us say, Swedish or Swiss neutrality. At this very moment, Bolshevism would sweep across Europe to its tip."

That keynote will be repeated and elaborated many times in the next few months in the propaganda on which Hitler has relied almost as much as on his army and air force to divide and destroy his enemies.

Investigators have been out through the country, checking up on supplies, reserves, consumption by the armed services as well as civilians and lend-lease shipments. Idea of the report is to tell the people the facts of food, to allay fears of shortages and provide an understanding of rationing.

MAJORS FIELD, Greenville, Feb. 9 (AP)—This basic flying school is scheduled to introduce an all-girl basketball team to the southwest. Members are civilian employees of the 388th sub-depot stationed here.
Gosh Robert Radtiff says six former Texas state championship players are among those vying for positions and lists them as Juanita Mays and Ruby West, Celeste; Dorothy Clancy and Katherine Bagwell, Cooper; Inez Gibson, Lone Oak; and Marie Howell, Quinlan.
Games are being calendared this week and will be announced at a later date.

Cheers from Buddies

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 9 (AP)—Five thousand fight fans cheered Joe Louis as the world's champion climbed through the ropes, on the first night of golden gloves eliminations.
To be introduced as a new fighter, "Boy or girl?" yelled a ringside spectator.
"It's got a dress on," Louis replied with grave dignity.
(Mrs. Louis gave birth to a 7-pound, 5-ounce girl in Chicago yesterday morning.)
Wearing his sergeant's uniform, Louis seconded several of his Fort Riley army fighters, and referred to two other bouts.

Pampa Is To Play Football Next Season

Pampa High school will have football again next season, Suplt. L. Some told those attending the annual Harvester football banquet last night, when the 1942 squad was honored at the high school cafeteria.

Some schools have abandoned football for the duration but Pampa got ahead and made out its schedule for 1943, the superintendent said.

Keynoting the announcement by the superintendent was the reminder of Dr. H. H. Hicks, master of ceremonies, that "America is the only country in the world where athletes still enjoy it." Dr. Hicks told the students they should be proud of this fact.

Despite the losses to Amarillo, Lubbock and Sunset, the football season last year wasn't as disastrous as it appeared on the surface, Coach J. C. Frejman said in a brief speech.

He reviewed the season, telling how Dunham hurt his shoulder in the Sunset game, then at El Paso, how Boyles broke his arm, Edson and Bynum suffered injured shoulders.

More injuries plagued the Harvesters later as Robbins suffered a hurt ankle, Lard an injured leg. At the season's start two players, Halter and Snyder, were ineligible on account of age.

At the end of the 1942 schedule the Harvesters had six wins, three losses and one tie. The Harvesters won from Burklurnett, Childress, Brownfield, Berger, Plainview, Bowie of El Paso. They lost to Sunset of Dallas, Lubbock, and Amarillo. The Harvesters tied with El Paso high for the second time in three years.

Mirroring war's effect on schools over the nation was one part of the banquet program in which boys who were 18, the new draft age, were asked to stand. There were eight of this age. It was also pointed out that three Harvesters of 1942 were already in the armed forces—Halter, and Richard Casey, Bill Arthur, who have signed up, and Bob Edson, already in service.

A departure from the banquet program this year was the intro- duction of the Harvesters by their dates. The girls stood, introduced themselves and the boys, and each girl told what position on the team she boy played.

Thanks were expressed to Jean Ghisholin, Mary Cherry, Norma Jean Beagle, and Dorothy Wilms for their work in decorating the tables, and to Mrs. June Anderson, high school cafeteria manager.

On the banquet menu was steak, creamed Irish potatoes, hot rolls, string beans, celery, cherry pie, and coffee.

Opening the banquet was the invocation by Roy McMillen, business manager of the Pampa Independent School district. Singing of "Dear Old Pampa High School," led by Flint Berlin, was the concluding number.

Flint was one of the team's three captains in 1942. Others were Charlie Boyles, and Bobbie Dunham.

Attendance at the banquet totaled 75. School officials present were Superintendent Sone, and Mrs. Sone; Manager McMillen and Mrs. Sone; Dr. F. C. Coburn, high school principal; Coach Frejman, Mrs. Frejman, and son David; V. L. Boyles, president of the school board, and Mrs. Boyles; Dr. Hicks, and Mrs. Hicks; Tom Herod, assistant high school principal, and Mrs. Herod.

Race Track Uncertain

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 9 (AP)—Unless the state racing commission, reconvening today, has something powerful on tap as a reviver, Bay Meadows looks like a gone gosling.
Chairman Jerry Geisler abruptly adjourned yesterday's meeting after a telephone call to Washington, declaring the call pertained directly to the spring meeting, originally scheduled for 45 days beginning Feb. 28, at the track near San Francisco. But all Geisler would say was:
"We will know to morrow whether Bay Meadows can proceed as scheduled, or will have its meeting cancelled."
It was understood that Rubber Czar William Jeffers had withdrawn opposition to the meeting, provided automobile parking and special train service are barred. But last night in Pittsburg, Jeffers and the matter was "all settled" and no further comment was necessary. Which way the matter was settled did not appear clear to newsmen, or did Jeffers elucidate.

Whirlaway Of Harness World Cost But $3,500

W. Ellis Gilmour has Senator Abbe 1:58 3-4 take a bow.

By JOHNNY JONES
SARATOGA SPRINGS, Feb. 9.—It was W. Ellis Gilmour's lucky day last spring when Otte Lowen, Ohio breeder, trainer and driver of the one-horse stable, Senator Abbe, decided to part with his prize pacing gelding, give up the harness game and settle down to married life.

Frank Woodland, veteran handicapper of Bloomington, a whistle stop in Ohio, who made up the classified races for Saratoga's Jean-blooming dashes, grabbed an option on Senator Abbe, sold the muscular five-year-old son of Bert Abbe-Romola to Gilmour two days later. The price was $3,500.

Gilmour is president of the Saratoga Raceway.

THE TERRIBLE EYE

BY EDWIN RUTT

COPYRIGHT, 1943, NEA SERVICE, INC.

Jonah Logan has invented "The Terrible Eye," a device which will accurately televise scenes of the past. When he and his assistant, Hildy, were waiting in an effort to obtain an interview with Henry H. Channing, the camera king, they are discovered by a girl, who reveals her identity as Hildy, Channing's daughter, and promises to help. Since Hildy is an autocrat and is allergic to photographers in any form, it will be difficult to arrange a meeting.

want to be too hard on your father," he said at length. "Actually, I'd set a figure a trifle under that. I think my nuisance value ought to be worth a life annuity of 50 bucks a week."

"Well, I still think you're letting father off too cheaply," Hildy said. "But what if he won't buy it?"

"In that case," said Jonah, "I'll be reluctantly compelled to market the Terrible Eye myself, in my off-hours from the Navy, and break the Channing Camera Empire."

Suddenly Hildy snapped her fingers. "Jonah, I believe you've got something, unless you're the world's biggest liar. It would break father, wouldn't it?"

"In two," said Jonah.

"Then what are we waiting for?" Hildy cried. "Come on, I'll introduce you right now, and my father will kick you out on your tin ear because you're a photographer and then you'll have to ruin him. It's a natural."

"Okay," said Jonah, fired by her enthusiasm. "I'd rather have the 50 bucks a week than go to any trouble. But I'm prepared to ruin your governor if he wants it that way. In fact, I'd get a kick out of it. I've suffered various indignities at his hands. I've... Owee!"

And, as though he were a puppet twirled by unseen strings, Mr. Jonah Logan rose three feet in the air.

A TERRIBLE screaming sound, the kind made by a banshee from whom someone has just snatched an ice cream cone, and made Jonah whirl and jump. He came down to confront a small individual in a brown herringbone sports coat who had evidently materialized from the pine grove.

The individual had a queer sober face that peeped shyly from behind a luxuriant sorrel-colored mustache. He looked like the Little-Man-Who-Was-There.

"Here," said Jonah, irritated. The little man addressed Hildy. "Ah, Hildy," he said.

Hildy seized his arm. "Uncle Cal," she cried, shaking the arm vigorously, "what were you doing just now?"

"Why, listening," said the little man.

Jonah thought he'd better get into this. "Not only that," he said sternly, "you were screaming. Like an owl. Like a... He stopped suddenly and pointed. "Twenty feet down the grass path stood a horse. It was a large bay horse, with a flowing tawny mane, laway fetlocks and a magnificent tawny tail. But mane, fetlocks and tail, in fact, the entire horse, were sadly in need of clipping.

Uncle Cal followed Cal's finger. "I did not screech," he stated. "That was my horse, Bucephalus. He whinnied."

"Never mind the horse, Uncle Cal," Hildy said. "Were you eavesdropping?"

UNCLE CAL made a deprecatory gesture. "I dislike that word, my dear. Couldn't you put it that I was strolling through this peaceful pine grove when I heard a most extraordinary conversation?"

A wary look came into Hildy's dark-blue eyes. "Oh, you did? So what now?"

"Uncle Cal rubbed his hands. 'I shall have to have ten dollars.'"

"Ten dollars?" Hildy stamped her foot. "Things have got to a pretty pass when I can't entertain a guest without you popping up and demanding money. But we won't argue before strangers. I'll give you five dollars and not a penny more."

"Now, Hildy," said Uncle Cal dreamily. "Gentlewomen never haggle."

"Sometimes, Uncle Cal," Hildy said, "I could write your wretched neck."

"I looked at you, Hildy," said Uncle Cal. "I mean ten dollars for a little while, will you, Jonah?"

Wonderingly, Jonah produced a ten-spot. Uncle Cal took it politely, but with a gleam in his pale eyes.

"This is quite satisfactory, young man," he said. "We may now consider the transaction closed." He looked down the path toward the horse, who was surreptitiously poaching off a honey-suckle vine. "Come along, sweetheart," he called.

Bucephalus ambled forward, snagged another sprig of honey-suckle on the fly and halted beside the trio, breathing softly down Jonah's neck.

"Well, Hildy," said Uncle Cal beamed upon her. "This is capital. It means oats for Bucephalus."

"Oats to you," said Hildy.

"This generation," Uncle Cal observed vaguely, "seems singularly devoid of respect. But no matter. Come, Bucephalus!"

And humming a tuneless tune, Uncle Cal moved away. Bucephalus bestowed a parting breath upon Jonah's neck and followed.

Jonah, a touch dazed, looked after them. "Who was that?" he inquired faintly.

Clinic for Army Families Opens

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 9 (AP)—The nation's first army-operated medical clinic for wives and children of soldiers has been opened here.

Colonel George M. Palmer, commanding officer of the San Angelo Army Air field, said the clinic would be conducted on an experimental basis under the supervision of Colonel Robert K. Simpson, chief surgeon, AAF Gulf Coast Training center, Randolph Field. It may be extended to ease the burden now being carried by the depleted ranks of America's civilian doctors.

Lieut. Col. Hulon E. Calvert of San Antonio, head of the field hospital here, said:

"Often because of reduced incomes of families of enlisted men do not have the money to pay for needed medical attention. We expect the new clinic to not only relieve the congestion, but also relieve the minds of our fighting men, whose fighting efficiency may be impaired by worry over the care of their wives and children."

Colonel Calvert's plan calls for a similar clinic in every community under the training center command where two air fields are located. He anticipates its general adoption throughout the training center areas in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Kansas. In Texas this will include Waco, Lubbock, Fort Worth and Victoria.

"From these areas," Colonel Calvert said, "We hope and expect that it may be adopted throughout the country."

Moonshining Cut By Sugar Pack

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (AP)—Sugar rationing sharply curtailed Texas moonshining activity in 1942, the liquor control board's annual report to Governor Coke R. Stevenson revealed today.

Only 236 illicit stills were destroyed by inspectors compared with 378 the year before.

The report also showed fines assessed convicted violators jumped more than 100 per cent in two years, increasing from $181,877 in 1940 to $406,280.

Inspectors filed 5,001 criminal complaints last year and reported 3,739 convictions including 609 jail sentences.

Revenues totaled $10,505,287 compared with $9,036,200 in 1941, an increase of nearly a million and a half dollars.

With the stills, 27,331 gallons of mash and 756 gallons of moonshine liquor were destroyed. Still seizures prevented potential evasion of $248,732 in state taxes.

Inspectors also assisted federal agents in preparing 343 tax-evasion cases.

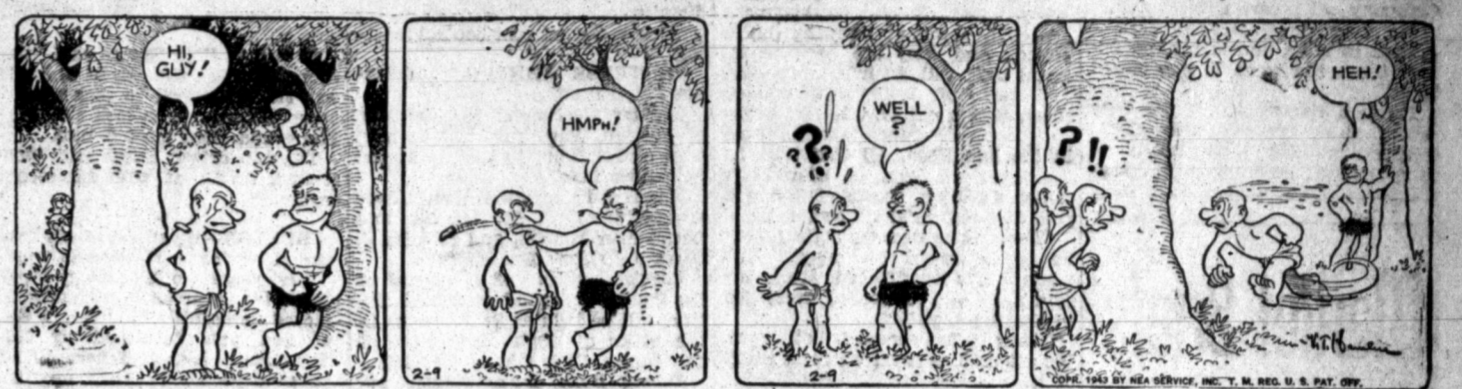

Hearings before liquor administrators for non-criminal complaints against licenses and permits numbered 3,449 and resulted in 538 cancellations for cause and 812 suspensions.

The report also showed 29 local option elections were held in 1942, which is added was the smallest number in any year since repeal (1935).

Dog Loses Life In Rescuing Another

BENTON HARBOR, Mich., Feb. 9 (AP)—Queenie, a small German Shepherd, tumbled into the ice-filled St. Joseph river.

A larger, male dog of the same breed on the opposite bank noticed her plight. Without hesitation, witnesses said, the larger dog leaped into the river, paddled to Queenie's side and guided her to an ice cake where she scrambled to safety. Her rescuer also tried to climb aboard but slipped back, exhausted.

Coast guardsmen were unable to reach the dog hero before he disappeared.

Today on the Home Front

By JAMES MARLOW and GEORGE ZIELKE

CLEVELAND, Feb. 9 (AP)—Does he wear his slave labor think he could ever overcome a country with workers like this? says a man, a production boss, standing in the stinging smoke of the foundry.

His voice is high and flat in the shrill roar of drills and hammers and high-pressure gas flames that never stops, day or night.

Men and women, white and negro, move steadily about their work in this pungent sector of the home front.

The foundry is small as foundries go, but it was the first one built here 14 years ago by the Aluminum Company of America. Now it has many times the number of workers it used to have, and is turning out four times the work it was meant to do.

Through the smoke in the busy center aisles negroes with cloths wrapped around their heads to carry molten magnesium in glowing palls that have the angry color of sunburn.

In endless relays they carry the pails and pour the metal into molds hand-packed with sand by the women.

A colony of men with cotton in their ears and pneumatic hammers in their hands knock the rough edges off the finished casting in a roar of metal banging on metal that kills all sound of speech at the lips' edge.

Smoke whirls around the great kettles of boiling magnesium heated to 1,600 degrees Fahrenheit. In and out of the hot range of the kettles the furnace men dart to top the metal into palls.

Through half-closed eyes these red-misted figures in the kettle smoke look like sorcerers brewing bitter poison. And they are brewing it; metal that will go into warplanes.

There's Cliff Williams, a molder, short, stocky and 40, who has worked here since it was opened in the late 1920s. All that time he has been a tenor in Cleveland's famed Orpheus chorus. He has a pale face and bright brown eyes.

"The smoke doesn't bother me," he says, "except on muggy days when it lies low. Then it stings my eyes a little. I've worked every job in the foundry.

"Then noise doesn't bother us. We get used to it till we don't think of it.

"In fact, the noise helps me a little because I'm a short-wave fan, and when I go home at night and turn on the radio the static may bother my wife but not me at all."

as a feint intended to mask the evacuation of Japanese soldiers in the north.

Latest censor-delayed dispatches from Guadalcanal, dated Feb. 5, said many of the Japanese survivors appeared sick and underfed and had even resorted to eating coffee grounds thrown away by Americans.

On the New Guinea front, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters reported that Allied troops driving toward the big enemy base at Salamaua wiped out a Japanese pocket east of the Wau airdrome, 35 miles southwest of Salamaua.

Dutch and Australian fliers, manning U. S. made bombers, virtually destroyed the Japanese-occupied town and harbor works of Dobo in the Aro Islands, 500 miles north of Australia, setting fires visible 40 miles.

Other Allied raiders pounded the Japanese airdrome at Ebin, in the northern Solomons, destroyed a 2,000-ton ship offshore and exploded an ammunition dump, and also blasted enemy-held positions at Babo, in Dutch New Guinea; Gasman, in British New Guinea; and Lae in northern New Guinea.

Dispatches from a Pacific base credited an American submarine with the "clean sweep" destruction of a Japanese convoy in the waters off New Guinea, including two warships and six auxiliaries. One of the sunken craft was a fully loaded transport carrying an estimated 1,500 to 2,000 enemy troops.

FLASHES OF LIFE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 3 (AP)—The Russians are winning the war because they are all good chess players," says Al Horowitz, international master of the game.

Both war and chess require logic, sound reasoning, imagination and daring, he insists.

And chess games in Moscow weren't even interrupted by the siege of that city last year, he said. "They played even though they had to do it practically underground."

CHICAGO—Jesse C. Stone of Oconomowoc, Wis., doesn't like the share-the-cab plan—it's too expensive.

Detective Roy Snow said that Stone told him the cab in which he was riding stopped to pick up another passenger who took $250 from Stone and then ejected him.

The cab driver, Snow said, Stone related, drove off with his second customer.

DENTON—Hossein Sorosh met the girl—after a 17,000 mile trip. Four years ago Miss Peggy Lipscomb, then a junior in high school, picked Sorosh's name from a list of pen pals furnished by the American college of Teheran. She never expected to keep up the correspondence, or to meet her prospective bridegroom in far off Iran—but she did.

Sorosh has arrived to take a course in radio engineering at the University of Texas in Austin. Said Miss Lipscomb, now a student at the Texas State College for Women here: "He's very nice."

GOLDSBORO, N. C., Feb. 3 (AP)—It had been a long time since Pvt. John Hann of Flemington, N. J., stationed at Seymour Field here, had seen his wife and small son, so, instead of writing his usual weekly letter, he obtained a five-day furlough and started home for a surprise visit.

About the time he arrived in Flemington, Mrs. Hann arrived here. They got together — after John came back.

Los Angeles, Feb. 3 (AP)—Mrs. Neil Carroll, 55, lived long enough to tell doctors at an emergency hospital here that she had opened her apartment window, breathed deeply——And lost her balance. She fell three stories.

TOPEKA, Kas., Feb. 6 (AP)—It was his idea, Sen. W. A. Kahrs said many of the Japanese survivors appeared sick and underfed and had even resorted to eating coffee grounds thrown away by Americans.

And the constituent who asked for the bill will be up soon to make a speech about it, Senator Kahrs added, "leaving the definition of psycho-physics to the constituent."

Playwright Burns To Death in Home

WILKES-BARRE, Pa., Feb. 8 (AP)—Louis Weitzenkorn, whose play, "The Star Final," glorified the newspaper business for thousands of stage and motion picture fans, burned to death Sunday in his apartment.

Deputy Coroner C. A. Miller said the 49-year-old New York newspaper man's clothes caught fire as he brewed coffee. His wife found him slumped in a chair near a lighted gas stove.

Nothing of the character of the owner is revealed by a weak chin or a strong jaw.

East Texans Seek Rise In Crude Prices

TYLER, Feb. 9 (AP)—The East Texas Oil association Monday adopted a resolution addressed to President Roosevelt asking for a "fair over-all increase in the current price of crude oil."

The resolution said that known reserves of crude were declining rapidly and that for several years the annual consumption had far exceeded new discoveries. It asserted that many small producing wells were being abandoned prematurely because recovery was not profitable under the present price.

Olin Culbertson, member of the Texas Railroad commission who has just returned from a Washington conference with Harold Ickes, petroleum administrator for war, and a petroleum industry subcommittee, told the oil men he was optimistic over the general petroleum outlook.

Culbertson said the subcommittee reported favorably on a 25 cent oil price increase and that Ickes also favored an increase.

Lend-Lease Sailings Revealed to House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—War Shipping Administrator Emory Land has disclosed that American-controlled vessels, in the year ending Oct. 31, 1942, had made 1,745 sailings loaded with lend-lease material—1,375 for Britain, 304 for Russia, and 66 for China.

"Unfortunately, not every vessel that sailed arrived at her destination, but by far the largest portion of them did," he said. The House Foreign Affairs committee in urging continuance of the lend-lease act for another year.

Land's figures gave the public its first some idea of the distribution of lend-lease shipments in terms of millions or billions of dollars.

Favors' Pension Bill Approved

AUSTIN, Feb. 9 (AP)—By a vote of 116 to 4 the house finally passed and sent to the senate a bill removing the present lid of $1,750,000 a month on state old age assistance spending and substituting a new and more liberal restriction.

The bill, by Rep. Ennis Favors of Pampa, would allot to each qualified applicant each month one half of the amount of assistance to which each was entitled. The remaining half would come from federal matching funds.

The bill is effective only until next Aug. 31.

The house also approved by unanimous vote a bill by Rep. Winfree of Houston doubling present pensions of $25 and $12.50 per month, respectively, to Confederate veterans and their widows.

Also finally passed was another house bill converting the Confederate veterans home in Austin into an institution for the senile insane.

Hospital Receives 6 Mattresses Made By Canadian Club

SPECIAL TO THE NEWS.

CANADIAN, Feb. 9.—Members of the Canadian Home Demonstration club made six mattresses for the Canadian hospital this week. They used ginned cotton, not the usual rolls to be purchased in stores. Mrs. B. Steele supervised the work. Mrs. Amos Smart is president of this club. There are 22 members. Proceeds were placed in fund towards buying a defense bond.

The club made a mattress as a gift for use in the Mary B. Isaacs school where there are only first and second grade pupils.
